METHODIST YOUTH TO COLLECT FUNDS FOR UNICEF HERE HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

Your doorbell is going to be kept busy tonight, and we hope you'll be home. This year our children are trotting around in masks and sheets as usual, but they have volunteered to donate the pennies and nickels you give them to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

There is enough to supply penicillin to cure a child of yaws. Many of the diseases afflicting millions of children all over the world debilitate, cripple, or kill. Thanks to UNICEF programs of control and prevention these same children will grow to be productive adults, able to contribute to the welfare and progress of their country, rather than becoming a burden to humanity.

Buffs Win Over Santa Anna Mountaineers By Score of 13-6

The Cross Plains Buffaloes braved the cold weather and stopped the Santa Anna Mountaineers to grab their first conference victory by defeating the Mountaineers 13-6.

Last Friday's gridiron contest played in Santa Anna was played under the handicap of cold weather and a strong icy wind which hampered the passing attack of both teams.

The first quarter saw neither team threaten to score. The Buffs took the opening kickoff on their own four yard line and drove to the mid-field stripe before the Santa Anna eleven forced the locals to punt.

The second quarter saw the Buffs take the lead as Buff fullback, Joe Gary crossed the double stripe from 11 yards out. In the third quarter the fighting Mountaineers scored to tie up the game at 6-6.

The second period saw the Mountaineers lose the ball on a fumble to alert Perry Jennings on the Santa Anna 30. A penalty against the Buffs moved the ball back to the Santa Anna 45 and on a fourth down gamble that failed the Mountaineers took possession of the pigskin on their own 40.

The Mountaineers found the Buffaloes too strong to move against and tried to punt. The kick was partially blocked and was kicked into the wind which forced the ball out on the host's 26.

Late Dr. Eli Powell Is Honored By Tennessees U.

The late Dr. Eli Powell, local medical doctor for many years, was honored posthumously at commencement exercises held at the University of Tennessee, in Memphis, Tenn., recently and his widow, here, was sent a copy of the program and his Golden "T" Award, given for 50 years of unselfish service to the care and treatment of the sick and afflicted.

Dr. Powell graduated from the school in 1907, at which time it was known as the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

After practicing in his native state of Mississippi for a number of years, he moved to Cross Plains, and was known far and wide over this area as an outstanding physician and friend.

He was honored as one of the community's outstanding citizens at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held here last July.

Early Freeze In Area Sunday Kills Cotton And Peanuts

Baptist Youth Revival Starts Here Tonight; Closes Sunday Night

A week end youth revival will begin Thursday (tonight) at the First Baptist Church. It will continue through Sunday night.

A youth team from Hardin-Simmons University will direct the meeting. The team is composed of David Philpot, youth evangelist, Leo Thames as song leader, Miss Nancy Hower as organist, and Miss Sammie McClellan as pianist.

The services will begin Thursday night at 7:15, but on Friday night they will start one hour earlier, with only a 45 minute program so as to allow the youth time to attend the services and still be out in time for the local football game, it was stated.

Residents of the Cross Plains area arose early Sunday morning to find the countryside glistening under a heavy coating of frost and by mid-morning the area was taking on the look of winter as farm crops and yards began to turn brown and black from the severe freeze which saw temperatures here tumble to 28 degrees during the early morning hours.

The frigid weather remained in this locality for the week end and warm weather did not make its return until Tuesday of this week.

Cotton and peanut growers had been wishing for a late frost this fall so that their growing crops might have additional time to grow and mature after getting off to a late start last spring after the exceedingly wet weather during the planting season.

On Sunday, there will be "dinner on the ground" at the church. The pastor extends a cordial invitation to all young people and intermediates interested in hearing these dedicated college students, it was said.

Buffaloes Meet Llano Here Friday Night

The Cross Plains Buffaloes will be hosts to the Llano Yellowjackets in their third conference game of the season and the game bids fair to be one of the best of the season. Both teams are tied with Goldthwaite for second place in the conference standing.

After suffering a stinging defeat, 43 to 13 at the hands of the Buffs in their home nest last year, the Yellowjackets will be out for revenge here Friday night and if the flu or additional injuries do not hamper the locals, a good game is in prospect for fans.

The Yellowjackets are big, averaging 178 pounds in the backfield and 174 pounds in the line. They lost their first conference game to the Mason Cowpunchers.

Coach James Alexander stated Wednesday morning of this week that the following boys would probably start the game for the Buffs:

- No. Player P W
80 Bobby Golsen E 128
50 Don Watkins T 175
82 Doyle Oliver G 150
52 James Merrill C 140
60 Johnny Pancake G 170
76 Perry Jennings T 200
81 Jim Fleming E 150
20 Granvel Scott B 152
25 Darvel Hutchins B 165
63 Joe Gary B 182
24 Norman Vaughn B 163

Alexander stated that John Baum, first string center, who has been sidelined for several weeks because of a badly sprained ankle, may see some action in the game against Llano.

Llano Roster.

All-District Band To Meet At Cisco Soon

The All-District Band will hold its semi-annual clinic and concert at Cisco, Saturday, Nov. 16, according to an announcement made this week by Byron Gray, Cisco High School band director, who is serving as chairman of the organization this year.

The Cross Plains Buffalo Band is a member of the All-District organization, and chosen members of the local band will join members of approximately 20 area cities in the clinic, it was said. The clinic will get underway at 9:30 a.m. and the bands will rehearse from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and will render concerts that night.

Chairman Gray stated that the clinic will be held at Cisco Junior College, and R. B. Coleman of the college will assist in the arrangements.

James Kendrick of Hamilton will direct the first band and Sam Houston of Stephenville will lead the second band, it was stated.

Members to Hold Sale Saturday

Members of the Buffalo Band will bake sale Saturday morning beginning at 7 o'clock in front of Citizens State Bank on Main and invite the public to call and pick up a cake, pie or other which will be on sale.

Monday is Election Day When Voters Decide Fate of Three Amendments

Tuesday, Nov. 5, is Election Day in Texas, when qualified voters will have an opportunity to vote on three proposed Constitutional amendments, and officials are expecting a very light vote as this is the only issue to be settled by the voters.

Constitutional Amendment Subsection (a) of Section XVI of the State Constitution, relating to establishment of retirement, disability and compensation fund for officers and employees of the State. Constitutional Amendment relating to the limit on the maximum monthly payment to needy persons from state funds from $25 to $200.

PHILOSOPHER ASKS IF RUSSIAN FARMERS ARE HAPPY OVER SPUTNIK SATELLITE

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou reviews the satellite situation once more, with a different slant, his letter this week reveals.

You may think I'm in a rut, writing about the Russian satellite for the third week in a row, and I may be, although if I am I got there on my own without the help of the Russians and anyway I don't mind, being in a rut is a lot safer than being on most highways I know about, but I have been thinking some more and have come to the conclusion the reason the Russians were in a hurry to get that satellite up into space was to take the Russian farmers minds off their share of the earth.

Now I don't know anything about the Russian farmers personally, but I have an idea the average farmer over there, working the land for the government and being told how many hours a day he has to work and how much of his crop he can keep, had just as soon believe the earth is flat and own some of it, than to work for the state and conquer space.

Khrushchev may chortle when that satellite goes hurtling around the globe, but I imagine a Russian farmer, looking up in the twilight

State Capitol NEWS

AUSTIN—It's time for a show-down, says the Senate investigating committee.

Our Texas Legislature has gotten a black eye, the committee feels, and it wants to find out why. Said the committee's chairman, Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, "There's been a tendency on the part of the public to blame the Legislature for everything that happens."

He attributed this to: (1) Acts of a few lawmakers who discredited the entire branch, (2) loose and irresponsible talk and (3) a tendency of other agencies to blame the Legislature in an attempt to cover up their own shortcomings.

and "even dereliction of duty."

Herring promised a three-pronged attack against these sources of discredit. Grand juries and the legislators themselves have already done "able work" in the first area, said Herring.

In its "loose talk" attack the committee called on the carpet Riggs Shepperd of Honogo, manager of the Medina Electric Cooperatives, Inc. Riggs said The Texas Co-Op magazine misquoted him in saying he's been "told to see old so-and-so and he'll get your bill introduced for $500." He said a national magazine article on alleged corruption in Texas triggered his remark.

In the third phase of its operation, presumably designed to show that state agencies have fallen down on their jobs, the committee began by subpoenaing three insurance executives.

First on the stand was Largent Parks, president of Preferred Life of Dallas. Parks was closely questioned about State Insurance Board charges that he owes the insurance firm some $194,000. Senate committee questioning emphasized that Parks' firm had been given a routine examination last March and another special examination in June, but that the report had never been made public.

Also subpoenaed were Piece Brooks and Lester Hall of National Bankers Life in Dallas.

FEDERAL FORCE DENOUNCED—Despite difficulties among themselves, pro-segregation representatives pushed through a strongly-worded resolution against enforced integration.

By a vote of 112 to 24, House members criticized President Eisenhower's action at Little Rock. It did not, said the resolution, "reflect constitutional government deriving its powers from the consent of the governed."

Further, it asked the President not to send troops to Texas to enforce "modern sociological concepts" or interfere with "the constitutional right of the State of Texas to provide, operate, and discipline the public schools of Texas."

Difficulty came with Rep. Joe Pool's efforts to push through a demand-to-the-governor resolution. Pool's proposal would call on Gov. Price Daniel to say at once when he will open the legislature for segregation bills. It was shunted aside for a week.

Many East Texans joined in the postponement move, thus indicating they had faith in the governor's intentions.

MARRIAGE OF MANY—Lobby control proposals are going through the "agonizing reappraisal" stage. Eight widely varying bills—four in the House, four in the Senate, were sent off to subcommittees. Each sub-group is to make a four-way marriage of the proposed bills in the hope of arriving at something that will be acceptable to all.

Some points of difference: whether "controls" should apply only during sessions or year-round, only in Austin or anywhere in state, whether public officials should be exempted church spokesmen, etc. Each author contends the rival bills have "loopholes."

A new proposal by Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio is that the law should provide for a special enforcement agency. It would be a "disclosure board" to which information on who is lobbying for whom and how much is being spent would be filed.

MUDDY ROAD—Proponents of a statewide water planning bill are having slow going too.

They're having to slog through waters muddied by scores of amendments and objections from various area groups who fear an overall state plan might short-change them.

House members have to struggle with two different bills and 35 proposed amendments. Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo introduced a substitute which cuts out the provision for the state to buy storage space in federal reservoirs. It also would require the water planners to report to the Legislature in 1959 and would not allow the Water Board to have final say on a state plan.

Balleting in next Tuesday's constitutional amendment election may have an effect on legislative efforts. In their vote on the proposed $200,000,000 water bond issue, Texans will indicate just how strong they are on statewide water programs.

Governor Daniel told the Senate committee he would not want to see the whole water planning bill ditched because of the storage buying feature. But he didn't want to "suggest you drop it."

"MURDER CAPITAL" CITED—Crime study and state practice act—the two other items in the governor's special session call—are generating less legislative static.

A House hearing on the crime study bill brought strong pleas for better law enforcement from Houston civic leaders. Houston (109 murders last year) has been called the "murder capital of the world," they said. Worse than Chicago's gangland days. "It's time we face up to some of these things," said a Jaycee spokesman.

Sen. A. M. Alkin has introduced in the Senate the bill to regulate legal practice before state agencies. A similar bill already is in the House mill.

NARY A DIME—Don't expect to collect from the state for damages you suffer from a state employe. Again the State Supreme Court has held the state is not liable.

Even guarantees in the Texas constitution that your property shall not be damaged or applied to public use without compensation are not sufficient to overturn this principle.

This latest decision denied damages to C. C. Benson whose cotton crop was ruined by drift of weed killer sprayed by an employe of the Dallas County Flood Control District. Similar decision was handed down in 1949.

LOCAL CONTROL URGED—Local control and integration were front and center issues at the state convention of the Texas Association of School Boards in Austin.

Sen. A. M. Aiken Jr. urged the solving of education problems without federal aid and federal control. Integration was discussed mostly off-stage.

Eulus A. Parker visited in Houston during the week end with friends.

Mrs. Neal Dillard and Mrs. N. L. Dillard were Brownwood visitors Tuesday.

School Commissioner Urges Safety Education

An average of three out of every 100 Texas school children were injured at school, en route to and from school, or at a school sponsored activity during the 1955-56 school year, reports J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education. Of 1,745,347 school children, 49,273 were injured.

The figures were compiled from data supplied by local school superintendents in their annual reports to the Commissioner of Education. Figures for 1956-57 are not available.

Most of the injuries occurred in athletic or recreational activities. Thirty-seven per cent of them occurred in organized baseball, football, and basketball. Another 21 per cent resulted from scurrying about, scuffling, and running together. Falling off swings, slides and playground apparatus accounted for 9 per cent of the injuries.

Seven pupils lost their lives due to accidents, 1 in vocational shops, 5 in connection with school transportation, and 1 in "other types." Only 1.4 per cent of all accidents occurred on stairs; however, one school employee had a fatal accident on a stairway.

A part of each school's responsibility is safety education, Edgar says. Each child needs to become aware of the dangers that confront him.

The Texas Education Agency, in cooperation with school officials, teachers, and interested groups, prepares and distributes materials which suggest procedures for teaching safety.

"The Elementary Teacher and Safety Education," "Safety Education in Secondary Schools," and "Your Pupils: Their Safety Lies in Your Hands," are three teaching aids available from the Agency. These publications suggest procedures for each area of safety for each age group.

Children's attitudes toward safety precautions are developed over a long period of time. These attitudes are begun before the child reaches school age. The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers have prepared a bulletin, "Happy Journey" which contains helpful material on developing safety consciousness in pre-school children.

Cottonwood 4-H Club Has Masquerade Party Oct. 21

The rain Monday night, Oct. 21, didn't keep the Cottonwood 4-H Club from having a very successful masquerade party. Between bolts of lightning and claps of thunder came black cats, gypsies, bums, mechanics, majorettes, skeletons, señoritas, fairies, Little Red Riding Hood and Daniel Boone.

Things started off with a costume contest. In the girls division, Judy Albrecht won first place as a black cat. A gypsie and a bum in big overalls, Sharon Gilmore and Darla Bates, won second and third place.

The boy's first place winner was Claude Champion, a tramp with a dirty face and a black cigar. Second and third place winners were Jimmy Robinson and Wesley Price, starring as a skeleton and Daniel Boone complete with a coonskin cap.

There were apples to be bobbed for with everyone getting an apple and a soaked head. Numerous other games were played in which everyone had barrels of fun. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served afterwards.

Those present were: Glen Green, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht, and Emmitt Price, Claude Champion, Darla and Tommy Bates, Eddie, Margaret, Susan, Jeannie, Lydia and Judy Albrecht, Filly Lynn, Karen and Sharon Gilmore, Mary and Billie Weaver, Frances and Ruby Wilson, Larry Spivey, Marilyn and Jimmy Robinson, Darwin Breeding, Wesley Price, R. L. Goble, Virginia Gary and Sandra Foster.

optional equipment, the comditionally pioneers in its new "Level Air" suspension, ing for the first time rubber at all four wheels. Through er-connected air supply and system with leveling valves, suspension assures precisely

the same resistance to shock regardless of car load.
Another distinct contribution to comfort is an X-shaped, waspwaist frame. The frame is 30 percent more rigid. Frame brackets permit the mounting of shock absorbers to the frame rather than to the underbody. It makes possible added leg room without sacrifice in road clearance. As a fourth advantage, the design lends itself to greater integration with the body design.

The new Turbo-Thrust engine is still another highspot that illustrates the magnitude of the engineering job behind the 1958 Chevrolets. Predominant is a completely new combustion chamber design which assures uniform combustion.
The shape of the chamber, located entirely in the cylinder block, permits positioning of the larger valves for high volumetric efficiency.

The new engine is one of five V8's and a six-cylinder carried in the new line. Ramjet fuel injection which Chevrolet introduced last year, is again offered as an option on the 283-cubic inch V8.

Automatic Turboglide, Powerglide,
an improved three-speed Synchro-Mesh and the overdrive are again available. Totaled, Chevrolet gives the buyer his pick of 18 power trains.

More than ever before in its price area, Chevrolet has fitted body interiors in accord with the exterior distinction of each series. For example, each series has its own steering wheel. Each has exclusive upholstery fabrics and paneling, with special luxury reserved for the Im-palas.

The basic instrument panel is new, extending rearward into the sides of the body. Major instruments are grouped in separate housing. The speedometer is oblong and spans the entire cluster.
Cow-vented ventilation is increased 10 per cent in capacity over the earlier plenum chamber design. Rearward slanting wind-shields give more visibility. The center pillars of standard sedans are similar, adding a sporty touch.
Tailgates of station wagons are hinged higher in the roofs, affording easier loading. Windshield wipers on all V8's are electrical and the mechanism is mounted in the cool plenum chamber for added quietness.

Like the design of the cars, the twin headlamps have utility in addition to appearance value. City and county driving light reflectors and beams can be focused for their specific responsibilities. The result is up to 100 feet more illumination on low beam and safer night-time driving.

Faster steering is the result of mounting the Ball-Race steering knives in front of the wheels. All cars have foot-operated parking brakes. A new tube-on-center radiator of superior quality has been installed. Engine mountings at three vibration-absorbing points are new.

Clutches have profited from exhaustive research and a new design. Generator capacities have been boosted 20 per cent to compensate for dual headlights. Interesting is a two-piece propeller shaft design which allows the front section to assume a specific angularity with the transmission while the rear section is free to follow rear axle movements.

Here is the body lineup of 1958
Chevrolet cars:
Station Wagons—Nomad 4-door, six passenger; Brookwood (4-door six and nine-passengers), Yeoman
(2 and 4-door six passengers).
Bel Air—Impala (convertible and sport coupe), 2-door sport coupe, 4-door sedan, 2-door sedan.
Delray—2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, 2-door utility sedan.

Director Makes Change In Vehicle Inspection Rules

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a change in motor vehicle inspection regulations so as to no longer require the removal of a wheel in order to inspect the brakes of vehicles.

In an effort to prevent accidents which might occur due to brake failures, the Department's earlier regulation had required that the wheel be removed for the principal purpose of determining the percentage of lining. Inspection stations found difficulty in making these inspections due to the fact that there was no accurate way of determining the original thickness and the decision in each case was left to the inspecting mechanic who had no satisfactory guide to follow.

The change in regulations, which resulted from action of the Public Safety Commission, does not affect the remainder of the inspection of brakes, which will still be required to have the performance ability required by statute.

Col. Garrison announced that this change in the regulations was made in the interest of fairness to the inspection stations and to the motoring public.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dallas of Abilene visited relatives and friends in Cross Plains Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Glazier and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Glazier of De Leon visited relatives here Sunday.
