

ACCORDING TO THE CALENDAR the first day of winter is still 21 days away, but you would have a hard time convincing several farmers we know that this is a fact.

Winter may still be three weeks away from officially arriving, but the fact remains that we have already had a pretty good dose of bad weather.

In fact, even though we are not into December as yet, we have already received more snow than the Friona area has received during many winter seasons.

A fellow out at one of the feed yards was decrying the weather the other day while we were there. "People told us all about your mild winters. Is this what they meant by mild?" he wanted to know.

Sort of makes you wonder if perhaps we are in for one of those long, hard winters that come along every so often. Guess we would be about due one, since the last few have been fairly mild winters.

But, we still don't have to like

BEFORE WE PACK the political races into mothballs, we thought we'd pass along this little bit.

A political candidate in Arkansas published this advertisement after losing his race:

"In my campaigning I lost four months and 20 days due to canvassing; I lost 1360 hours of sleep thinking about the election; I lost 40 acres of corn and a whole lot of sweet potatoes; I lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent.

"I donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to barbecues; gave away two pairs of suspenders and five calico dresses; five dolls and 15 baby rattles; kissed 126 babies; kindled 14 kitchen fires; put up eight stoves; cut 495 bundles of fodder; walked 4,065 miles; shook hands 9,080 times; told 10,000 lies and talked enough to make 10,000 volumes; attended 27 revivals; was baptized four times by immersion and twice by sprinkling; contributed $15 to foreign missions, got dog bit 39 times, and still lost the election.

Also on the subject of politics, our newspaper friend at Bovina, Dolph Moten, pointed out that things haven't changed too much out in the Rhea community.

He cited the recent presidential election, in which the Nixon-Agnew ticket carried by the vote of 66-1 at Rhea.

However, Moten brought up the fact that there was one feller out there who must feel a little left out of things. "He's sure not able to discuss politics with his neighbors," Moten predicts.

The all-district 3-AA football team was announced this week (see separate story), and Friona fared quite well, thank you.

There is one thing of particular interest, however. On the first team offense were ends Ted King of Friona and Dale Parsons of Olton.

Parsons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Parsons, will be moving to Friona with his folks at mid-term. That means that next season, the Chieftains will have, hopefully, the two 1972 all-district ends back as candidates for the team.

Both boys are juniors this fall, and both were in the District 3-AA's top ten in pass receiving. King caught 14 passes for 249 yards and three touchdowns. Parsons caught 12 passes for 184 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Gee, we can hardly wait for the season to start. Our first bit of advice to the 1973 team will be to throw more passes. We've seen both of these guys latch onto some nice catches.

Here is a new bumper-sticker slogan we noticed the other day: "God Isn't Dead-I Talked With Him This Morning!"

And another: "Warning Driving May Be Hazardous To

Your Health. And finally: (You have to be a rancher to appreciate this one) "Eat More Lamb. Ten Million Coyotes Can't Be Wrong.

CHAMBER SPONSORS

Lighting Contest To Be Held Locally

The Friona Chamber of Commerce this week announced its annual Christmas Lighting Contest, with three cash prizes totaling $125.00.

The contest will be open to all residents of the Friona trade territory, and will not be limited to city residents, states Dale Cary, Chamber president.

First prize in the contest will be $60.00 cash. Second prize will be $40.00, and third prize will be $25.00. All entries must be ready by December 15, as judging will take place following that date. Those wishing to enter the contest should fill in the entry blank on Page 2 of this issue and mail to the Chamber of Commerce, Box 905. If they wish, residents may call the Chamber office at 247-3491 with their entries.

The Chamber points out that Tackles-Randy Cook, Littlefield all decorated houses will be considered as entries, but residents are urged to either fill out a form or call the Chamber office in order to make sure their home is entered. This is particularly important for rural residents, or those on the fringe of the city, off the beaten path. This is the fourth straight year for the Chamber to actively push a local lighting contest. The Chamber of Commerce officials feel that the contest has added to the number and quality of Christmas decorations in past years.

very well accepted, particularly at this time but I just had a real fine frolic in some snow and a very enjoyable time by all, that I must share with you.

I should explain here that this was not a "paid trip as a foreign correspondent" for the STAR but a few days with some young people over the holidays at the ski slopes in Red River. What actually took place was that a bunch of people who hardly knew which end to put on-went skiing.

That was my very first experience and it was only right that it should be in Red River and with so many of our local friends. The great thing-other than that we all came back with our bones and joints still in proper relationships was that we all learned to ski. O, to be sure, we aren't ready for the Olympics yet, but I can almost guarantee that I have made some trips down the mountain side-none the like of which has ever been done before.

I became very proficient in one category-the art of getting up on a pair of skis. I had more practice-I had to get up more than most of the others.

Yes, it is true. The younger set had less trouble and probably were more proper in their form but then we had our specialty also-who do you think cleared away the snow-drifts, smoothed off the rough spots, softened the hard places and in general, gave them something to laugh at-right! The adults.

I'm very hopeful that I don't forget all that I learned-not so much from the lessons we all took but more from the hard old experience that I endured for the two days. . . and really, that kind of experience I'm not sure I will ever forget.

I am very grateful for a God who can clothe the same mountains in the lovely spring flowers and beautiful trees, also with the soft, sparkling, white beauty of snow in the winter-and who also provided some wonderful friends with whom to enjoy it all.

I never cease to be amazed at his great plans and I appreciate my ability to participate. I know that "THINK SNOW" isn't popular for us right now the crops are in-but I do hope that you get a chance to see the other side of a snow covered country side when you are not so concerned about what it is covering. Its beau'.y will somehow cause you to return at various times in your imagination to "THINK SNOW" with all of its beauty.

I somehow feel we widened that valley just a little, bumping

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE for the beauty of a natural Christmas tree if it's wisely purchased and safely used.

Texas imports nearly five million Christmas trees annually. ome as far away as Western Canada. As a result, the trees are stored in boxcars that undergo temperature extremes.

Those exposed to warm temperatures for a period of several weeks may already have dried out by the time they are put on our Texas markets.

To keep a Christmas tree fresh and green, follow these

1. Buy your tree early. This will enable you to be selective in purchasing a reasonably fresh tree. Check for signs of needle shedding and brittleness which indicate excessive dryness. 2. Store the tree outdoors in the shade until ready for use.

3. Once the tree is brought indoors, make a diagonal cut, removing one to two inches of the base. Stand the tree in water and keep it there until it is discarded. Check the water level

Spray it frequently with water.

NEW BRAKE AND LIGHTING REQUIREMENTS FOR COTTON TRAILERS

New lighting and brake requirements for cotton trailers hav been enacted by the special session of the Texas Legislature, replacing a law passed in August, 1971.

Parmer County conservationists are very interested in the opening of pheasant season December 9th. Farmers have been developing pheasant cover and food supplies thus the number of pheasants has slowly increased in the county.

It is common knowledge that good conservation helps the wildlife and game birds. Some of the good conservation practices in Parmer County that help our pheasants are:

Managing crop residue on the soil surface (this one practice furnishes both food and cover) Windbreaks

Tailwater pits Odd areas that are impractical This means more intensified to farm grassed waterways If several rows of feed grain or corn are left at the edge of a field, food and cover are both increased. Starvation kills more pheasants each year than

Modern Study Club Hosts Annual Project Christmas Card

For the third year in a row Modern Study Club of Friona has adopted an objective to work for in its annual "Project Christmas Card" drive. The 1972 funds will be used to purchase automatic beds for Parmer County Community Hospital. These beds will cost about $600 each.

The 1970 goal was $3600 for a heart monitoring unit. This goal was exceeded. Then in 1971 the sponsoring club was made aware of the need for a new emergency and delivery rooms. This project needed about $3000 and this goal was again

HISTORY GIVEN

"Feedlots Have Helped Trucking"--Tannahill

JOHNNY TANNAHILL has been in the cattle hauling business since he was a junior in high school.

he was a junior in high school.

Already, in his short career as a businessman, he has seen the trucking business change radically, due mostly to the mushrooming of cattle feeding in the local area.

"The feedlots have made the trucking business what it is today," Tannahill says.

He recalls that when he first got started, there would be short busy seasons in the fall and spring, and the rest of the year was pretty slow from a hauling standpoint. SEASON IS LONGER

Now, the fall "rush" runs from the first of September until after Thanksgiving, and last spring, the busy season ran from March 1 through most of June.

The nature of hauling cattle for the local area has changed considerably, too, Tannahill points out. To begin with, the average haul was from here to Clovis.

"Probably half of our hauling this fall has been to points as far as 400 miles from Friona. We go into Arizona quite a bit," Tannahill says.

"We used to think that 250 miles was a long way to haul. However, last year we had a chance to go to Marion, Kentucky, and we made a run to Florida," he continued.

Tannahill got into the trucking business after he and his father, the late G.E. Tannahill, bought a truck to do their own hauling.

WAS FEEDYARD DIRECTOR
The elder Tannahill had been active in cattle feeding at Lockney, and continued in the business after the family moved to Friona in June of 1961. He also was one of the original stockholders and founders of the Friona area's first major feeding enterprise—Friona Feed Yard. G.E. Tannahill passed away in

From hauling strictly their own cattle, Tannahill next began to do some hauling for neighbors, and finally extended the hauling into a full-time commercial business.

Tannahili's sole cargo is cattle, although once in a great while he has hauled a load of sheep.

"When I first started, there was practically no hauling in the summer. Then in the fall, we would haul a load or two for various ones. Now, these same people will have us haul several loads each season," Tannahill continues.

Tannahill's wife, the former Gaye Jennings, serves as bookkeeper for Tannahill Trucking. Malcolm Carthel works as a driver for the company.

PLAN NEW OFFICE

The Tannahill's are planning a new office for the firm, hopefully by January 1, to be located adjacent to Benger Air Park.

A tribute to the growth of the company, Tannahill says he could run 50 per cent more miles this year than he did last year. Tannahill points out that along with the increase in cattle hauling has come inflation, affecting the cost of equipment, parts, repair, etc. "The cost of tractors and trailers has practically doubled since I've been in business," he says. Tannahill does all of the Tannahill does all of the mechanical work he possibly can. "But I realize my limitations," he points out.

Cattle hauling keeps him "on call" all the time, as the telephone is apt to ring anytime during the day or night in the busy season.

ALWAYS ON CALL

"You never know where you're going to wind up when you leave home." Tannahill points out. He related a recent trip to Clovis that found him eventually going to Lockney and Lampassas before he got home.

The current season, with the weather hampering the harvesting of maize, has also stretched out the cattle hauling. "Some are needing to get their maize harvested, so they can fence their fields and turn the cattle onto the stalks," Johnny says.

In addition to his cattle hauling business, he also looks after the Tannahill farming operations, which is a 500-acre dryland farm about 25 miles north of Friona, which grows mostly maize and wheat.

PROVEN PERFORMANCE DURING 1972

SX 520 This is a NEW medium maturing yellow corn that was number one in yield tests conducted by Ronnie Gfeller, agronomist, on the Dan Heard Farm, 1 mile south of Dimmitt during 1972. With a yield of 221.5 bushels per acre P.A.G SX 520 stood well (0% lodged stalks) and still out-yielded the late varieties of corn. This P-A-G single cross is another of the fast germinating, vigorous, high yielding "new breed" of P-A-G custom hybrids. SX 520 is an excellent dual purpose corn for high grain yield - high quality,

First Entry

Bedford Forrest, veteran agricultural broadcaster, will be seen on KVII-TV, Channel 7, Amarillo, twice daily beginning Monday, December 4.

Forrest, a graduate of West Texas State University, has been active in television farm broadcasting since 1961, and has been seen daily in the Panhandle for over five years.

Bedford grew up on a farm in the Hereford area, and is currently involved in farming, ranching and cattle feeding in the Panhandle

With his own involvement in agriculture, and his farming background, Bedford plans to produce a daily schedule of farm information programs weekdays at 6:50 a.m. and in the noon Pro News.

Bedford has won many awards for his professional coverage of agriculture problems and farm news. His latest award was given to him on December 7, 1971, when the Texas Farmers Union named him "Broadcaster of the Year."

"Pro News is proud to add another professional to their team," states Jim Pratt, news director for station KVII-TV.
