New Egg Labeling Act Now In Effect In State

AUSTIN—Texas' new egg law went into effect Monday.

The new statute requires labeling of eggs sold in the state.

The state agriculture commissioner, John White, said 40 inspectors will investigate all levels of trade to see that eggs meet provisions of the new legislation.

Passed by the last session of the State Legislature, the new law primarily is a labeling act. All eggs sold must be clearly labeled as to grade or quality or if not graded they should be so labeled.

White emphasized that the act does not outlaw ungraded eggs. If ungraded, he said, they must be so labeled.

Egg handlers and retailers also will be checked, White said, to see that they have been licensed by his department.

Exempt from the law are eggs sold by a producer from his flock unless the producer wishes to claim a grade for the product.

Callahan Farm Bureau Kicks Off Big Member Drive At Last Meeting

ROWDEN, Feb. 17.—The Callahan County Farm Bureau kicked off a membership drive here Monday night at the Rowden Community Center with a barbecue supper.

The meeting, attended by almost 100 persons, had J. D. Jordan, fieldman for the Farm Bureau, as the principal speaker.

Jordan pointed out to those attending the purpose of an organization such as the Farm Bureau and what goals could be achieved by an increasing membership.

According to Jordan, the three main services provided by such an organization are legislation, assisting farmers with local problems, and insurance available at lower rates.

W. E. Box of Baird, president of the Callahan Farm Bureau, estimated that their membership had grown to around 150 members during the two years the bureau has been operating.

When the bureau was first organized in March, 1956, only 13 members were listed in the official records of the state office, pointed out Jimmy Lee Payne, chairman of the membership committee.

Callahan County was broken down into different communities and men in those communities were given the responsibility of carrying out the drive in their localities. Men appointed as community chairmen included Nathan Dyer, Hilton Tarrant, Junior Dyer, Willie Wood, Sterling Odom, R. L. Hicks, and Ernest Higgins.

W. L. Lawrence, secretary and service agent for the bureau, said a meeting will be held March 15, to see what progress has been made toward increasing the membership. He added that a goal of 300 has been established for the county.

Dallas Doctor to Locate Here in Near Future

Word has been received here recently that Dr. J. E. Mikeska, M. D., who is presently serving on the house staff at Methodist Hospital in Dallas, plans to locate in Cross Plains around July 1, of this year, for the general practice of medicine and surgery.

Dr. Mikeska is 33 years of age, is married and has one five-year-old daughter. He has had 5 1/2 years active duty with the U. S. Army and is a graduate of Southwestern School of Medicine, Dallas. Both he and his wife are native West Texans, having been reared near San Angelo. She is a niece of Rev. C. Y. Butler, former pastor of the First Methodist Church, here.

Dr. Mikeska and family were here for a week end visit with friends and businessmen about a month ago and left with a very favorable impression of the town and people of Cross Plains. His decision to locate here was motivated by the needs of the community for a medical doctor and the desire of he and his wife to make their home in a small town where they can have the opportunity to be active in church and civic affairs.

He is making plans to secure clinical and office facilities here in the near future.

February 22, March 1 is Official FFA Week

Thirty years of outstanding progress by Future Farmers of Texas were acknowledged by Governor Price Daniel recently as he designated February 22-March 1 as official FFA Week.

In presenting the proclamation to Billy Penn, State FFA President, and George Hurt, Estate Director of Vocational Agriculture, the Governor praised the work of the Future Farmers who are studying the science of agriculture and who are striving to continuously improve the agricultural economy of the State.

The Texas Future Farmers have been extremely successful in developing leadership, promoting good citizenship, and inspiring patriotism among its members, the Governor said.

Billy Penn, State FFA President from Lufkin, received the proclamation in behalf of the 36,000 active members in 904 FFA Chapters in the State.

George Hurt pointed out that the Future Farmer organization is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the public high schools as preparation for careers in farming, ranching and related occupations. Hurt credited the teachers of vocational agriculture, the school administration, and the lay people where vocational agriculture is taught, for the success of the FFA program in the State.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Tenneson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pancke and sons of Odessa were visiting with relatives here the first of the week and attended the funeral of J. A. Havner at Coleman, Wednesday afternoon.

PHILOSOPHER ADVISES WASHINGTON THAT FEELINGS ARE NO INDICATION FOR UPSWING

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou reviews the economic situation this week, without any noticeable change in it.

I don't know anything about the economic situation, I know when hard times are here and when they have left, but me and the economic experts have never been able to figure out exactly when they're coming or when they're fixing to leave, at least not to the point where we could make any money with our inside dope, so all this talk about a "readjustment" or a "minor recession" leaves me on the outside.

However, there is pretty general admission at the top level in Washington that a mild recession has hit the country in some spots at least, although I've seen times so hard a mild recession like this one would look like a prosperity boom, but what has me puzzled is a statement I read in a copy of a frozen newspaper which a north wind blew in during the cold spell last week and which I read just before I started a fire with it.

According to it, "the feeling of the administration is that business will pick up in the mid-year period and be booming again before the end of the year."

Now I'll tell you. Maybe Washington can depend on its feelings to tell how the year is going to turn out, but the system won't work on this farm out here on the Bayou.

I've never started a crop year yet that I didn't feel that this year I'm really going to make something, but after years of experience I've found that a man's feelings in January and February are mighty sorry barometers about what's going to take place at selling time later on in the year.

Understand, there's nothing wrong with these first-of-the-year feelings, they're necessary if a farmer is ever going to get any planting done, but they don't have any more bearing on the outcome than wishing for rain if it's dry or for dry weather if it's raining. What I mean is, now a man feels about his crop prospects before he gets his seed in the ground has mighty little loan value at the bank.

I'm like Washington, if we have got a mild recession, I feel like it'll end by mid-year, but it's pretty hard to feel your way into better times or into outer space or a good crop year. Sometimes you can't even work your way into it, although this is hearsay with me. Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WHY SOME DRUGS ARE SOLD ONLY ON Rx

Perhaps at some time you have gone to the drug store for medicine only to be told: "I'm sorry, but I can't sell you that without a doctor's prescription."

You may have wondered why the druggist was being so fussy; you may even have felt a little bit annoyed. But did you know that the pharmacist was doing you a favor?

Many of today's powerful drugs can do great good when used properly — or great harm when taken incorrectly. Others, while highly effective, may have possible side-effects that a doctor has to watch for carefully. And still others, while safe in themselves, are meant for diseases so serious that you should not attempt to treat them by yourself. Whatever the reason, such drugs should be taken only on a doctor's recommendation and under his close observation.

That's why we, like other druggists, will sell these medications to you only on prescription. It's another example of the fact that your pharmacist is primarily a professional . . . your doctor's partner in protecting your health.

So, if at any time we say to you, "Sorry, but you have to have a prescription," remember that we're doing it with your benefit in mind.

State Capital NEWS

AUSTIN, Tex.—Money is making the biggest news in Austin at the moment.

Discussion swirls around such topics as campaign funds, unemployment, recession, taxation, re-employment and credit insurance rates—all pocket-prodding issues.

Gov. Price Daniel publicly deplored the money-raising efforts of Texas Republican National Committeeman H. J. (Jack) Porter. Porter staged a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston to raise money for Republican congressional campaign. His widely publicized letter asking contributions pointed out the need to gain support for the national gas bill now before Congress.

A hard-fought issue for many years, the bill is generally favored in Texas and other gas-producing states, but bitterly opposed in gas-consuming Eastern and Northern cities. Opponents were quick to label Porter's approach as "mass bribery" and "selling legislation for campaign contributions." Proponents of the bill groaned. They contended that Porter had heaved a huge monkey wrench into plans for passage this session.

Governor Daniel said the incident "should convince all Texans that the Republican leadership in this state has nothing to offer but embarrassment, discord and division."

WHY NO JOBS?—Viewing the soaring unemployment figures, Governor Daniel took more jobs at the GOP.

Loss of jobs reportedly increased more in the past month than at any time since World War II.

As far as Texas is concerned, said the governor, much of the blame can be laid to the Republican administration's ineffectiveness in controlling oil imports. Competition of foreign oil, he asserted, has caused Texas production to slip steadily, bringing loss of jobs and revenue to the state. National farm policies also were criticized by the governor.

Texas Employment Commission says its January unemployment compensation payments hit $537,800, an increase of almost 70 per cent from last September.

MORE TAXES?—Governor Daniel has slightly and very cautiously amended his determinedly cheerful stand about possible need for new state taxes.

He still doesn't agree with Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's chilly predictions. These are for a $12,000,000 deficit by the end of this biennium (in 1959) and need for the next Legislature to scratch up $100,000,000 in new revenue.

Governor Daniel said he felt the state would just about break even by 1959. But he conceded that needs of a growing state might call for more money by then. He still favors a gas gathering tax, which he proposed last year, but emphasized he isn't recommending that or any other new tax for the time being.

LET'S FACE IT—It's a recession, all right, but a minor one. This is the answer Dr. John R. Stockton, one of the state's top business analysts, is giving many groups these days. Dr. Stockton is director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Ebbing of prosperity and fear of another Depression have put the spotlight on BBR's studies. Dr. Stockton minces no words about there being a recession, but contends that the cures for this one are in plain sight. He cites increased federal spending and easier credit regulations.

A "minor" recession, says the BBR director, usually lasts about six to eight months.

RATE ORDER DELAYED—State Board of Insurance is re-studying an order that would cut in half the rate for insurance on people who get small loans.

Order brought a storm of protest from credit insurers who said the regulation would put them out of business. After a hearing, the Board postponed effective date of the order from March 1 to April 1. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has said he would head a drive to crack down on "loan sharks" if the Insurance Board would tighten up credit insurance regulations.

US TRUST PAYMENT FORSEEN—Partial repayment to investors in the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. may be possible within a couple of months. Texas Supreme Court rules that all creditors must share alike in the distribution. Payment has been held up by a suit in which holders of "trust certificates" sought preference.

Depositors can make one last move by asking the court for a re-hearing. But unless the court completely reverses its view, this will be denied, making it possible for the state liquidator to begin paying out some $4,000,000 in recovered funds.

ANTI-GIFT LAW TOPPLES—The Attorney General has declared invalid a section of a new law prohibiting insurance company officials from making gifts to State Insurance Department employees.

His reason: the bill's caption or title did not mention the subject. Texas constitution requires that a bill's caption must state specifically what is in the bill. In this case, the caption did mention that Insurance Department employees could not accept gifts from industry people. But it did not say that industry people could not give them.

Each year a number of newly-passed laws are thrown out by the attorney general, or by courts, as being improperly written. Governor Daniel has suggested a bill-drafting division in the attorney general's department to help legislators avoid such errors.

HOUSE CLEANING—"I can't help but think that just about all of those rotten apples are out of the barrel," said State Insurance Liquidator J. D. Wheeler, in predicting that the period of insurance company failures might be over.

Our job with the insurance industry is like that of a traffic policeman, said State Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson. "If directors and stockholders will discharge their responsibilities, we will have less tickets to issue."

SHORT SNORTS—Robert E. Wallace has been appointed superintendent of the Abilene State School (for mentally retarded children) by the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools. Wallace, currently heading a similar institution in Illinois, will begin his new duties April 1. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has announced the annual conference on law enforcement to be held March 9-11 in Austin. Meeting of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas has been set to coincide with the conference. Prices paid for Texas farm products were relatively steady during the past month, reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Most marked change was in meat prices—up 42 per cent from a year ago, seven per cent from December. More than 6,000 men of draft age registered last month, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. Law requires 18-year-old boys to register on their birthdays or five days thereafter. All the various gimmicks and gadgets used in a radio, television or hi-fi set, if bought separately and assembled on a do-it-yourself basis, are not subject to the state sales tax on radio and television sets, ruled Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. Single exception is a "tuner" regarded as a radio set and, hence, taxable.

Harve Vestal is here visiting his brother, E. I. Vestal, who is critically ill.

Ralph Yarborough's Washington Report

Working with other Texas Congressional delegates, I am trying to find the best and most workable solution to the cotton acreage allotment problems.

Since the session opened I have received more than a hundred letters and telegrams from individual farmers and whole farm organizations on this subject. This is in addition to the many dozens who have contacted me about this matter during my fact-finding trips across the state.

Here's an example of the situation as written to me by a Shelby County farmer:

"I try to farm and have 61 acres. The United States Department of Agriculture and the county committee only gives me 3 1/2 acres of cotton, and they want to limit my peanuts to just one acre. The time has come for each tub to stand on its own bottom. It's disgusting the way things are going and something must be done. I'm fed up with it and about ready to rebel."

This man's reported allotment of 4.3 acres for cotton and peanuts out of 61, is the most extreme we have had called to our attention. But his comment that "it is disgusting and I'm about ready to rebel" is little different from letters of many small property owners.

With quality cotton in short supply in the United States, it seems obvious that there should be substantial increases in cotton acreage allotments. While these adjustments are being made, I think special attention must be paid to improving the plight of the small family farm operator who has been hurt by the acreage allotment system.

There are a number of bills before the House and Senate. I'm working to increase the acreage of cotton allotments in Texas this year.

This cotton acreage question is extremely complex, and I would appreciate having the views of anyone who cares to make a recommendation about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Renfro of Abilene visited with relatives here Sunday. Mrs. J. H. McElroy returned home with the Renfros' for a few days visit.
