Highway Projects For Area Given Approval

The State Highway Department has approved plans for widening and straightening Highway 36 from the Lakewood Country Club, east of Pioneer to Rising Star. The plan calls for widening of the present right-of-way 20 feet, flattening the curve two miles west of Rising Star where the Katy railroad formerly ran and constructing a new roadway 26 feet wide, with eight-foot paved shoulders, making a total paved width of 42 feet. The project is scheduled to begin next fall.
Another project approved in this area, was the rerouting of Highway 80 from the Callahan County line to Cisco.

Contracts have also been signed between the State Highway Department and Coleman County for work on the highway from Coleman to Burkett.
It is understood that the route will follow fairly close to the present roadway, except at Echo, and there the new roadbed will take off across the pasture just after coming down the steep hill and will cut directly across to Echo, some distance west of the present road as it crosses the Jim Ned Creek. A new bridge will be built over the creek.

PHILOSOPHER TACKLES FARM PRICE SET-UP WITHOUT REACHING SUITABLE ANSWER

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou takes up the farm price situation this week, but never does make clear what his ideas are.

Dear editor:
Like a bunch of Congressmen, me and my neighbors have been arguing the pros and cons of the farm price situation lately, which was brought on by President Eisenhower's vetoing a bill Congress passed to keep price supports on farm and dairy products at the same level this year they were last year.

Personally, the problem is too big from a long-range standpoint for me to figure out, but you can get some pretty hot statements on the matter from other farmers.

For example, when Ike vetoed the bill, he said what the farm situation needs is not a freeze but a thawing out.

One of my neighbors said: "The trouble with a thawing out is that generally what it amounts to is that prices don't just thaw out, they melt and run down to practically nothing."
Another neighbor said he understood a lot of Congressmen admitted that maybe from a long-range viewpoint it would be ideal to have no acreage restrictions and no fixed prices, but that a lot of farmers don't see it that way and when a Congressman faces a choice of taking a long-range view and getting beat, or a short-range view and staying in, it doesn't take much mental razzing to come to a conclusion.

Another neighbor said it's a lot easier for a farmer with a job in town to take a long-range view of low prices than it is for a man living altogether off the land. That is, he said, "maybe I could wait for the situation to right itself over the next few years and tough out low prices a while, but my wife and kids don't see it that way. There never was a woman satisfied with being in style five years from now, and very few kids who postponed their education and ever went back to it." He also added that you've got to remember Ike is a farmer who has a job in town.

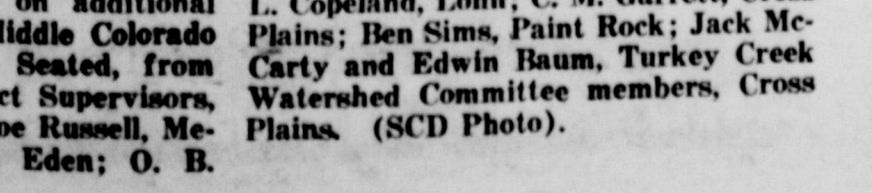

Personally, the problem is too big for me, and I hereby turn it over to you. Give it some thought, and I hope you'll solve it before the month is out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Managing crop residue and keeping it at or near the surface is becoming more and more important. Many cooperators with the Central Colorado, Lower Clear Fork and Middle Clear Fork Soil Conservation Districts have found that keeping previous crop residues on the surface have increased yields of crops following this treatment.

Stubble mulching or crop residue utilization reduces wind and water erosion, conserves moisture and serves to cushion extreme soil temperatures. Crop residue management will also improve the physical condition of the soil, reduce surface crusting and add organic matter.

Indications are that this will be a good year to practice crop residue management due to an unusually wet spring.

The types of equipment that should be used for crop residue management are chisel plows, sweep cultivators, shredders or flat sweeps. All types of equipment should be used so that stubble is left on or near the surface.

Cost-sharing for stubble mulching will be allowed through the Callahan County ASC office for 1958. The cost-share rate of payment will be one dollar per acre.

Sew and So Club Meets April 3, In Bailey Home

The Sew and So Club met Thursday, April 3, in the home of Mrs. O. M. Bailey with Mrs. Pat McNeel, Sr., serving as co-hostess. Mrs. Mack Campbell was in charge of the meeting which opened with the group singing the club song. After a brief business discussion, Mrs. Jess Dunlap gave a reading.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in visiting and all reported an enjoyable time. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the following 11 members present: Mmes. Craig McNeel, W. B. Williams, Luke Westerman, Mack Campbell, Jess Dunlap, Howard Coburn, W. J. Carpenter, Marvin Smith, Henry McCoy, I. N. Eiley.

TAX TIPS FOR CAR OWNERS

Certain expenses in connection with operating an auto are deductible on that 1947 Federal income tax return, according to A. E. Fogie, Jr. of Internal Revenue Service, Abilene, Tex.

Salesmen and women and other business people who use their cars exclusively for work may deduct the full cost of upkeep, including gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance and depreciation. If the car is used for both work and pleasure, only the percentage of business used may be claimed. Remember, however, that expenses of driving an automobile to and from work are not deductible.

Personal use: Some expenses incurred in operating an automobile for personal use are also deductible. (But be careful not to duplicate amounts claimed as business expenses above.) If you plan to itemize your deductions on the long form (Form 1040), you may claim:

1. License tags.
2. State gasoline taxes. Determine the total number of miles driven last year, divide by your car's average mileage per gallon, and then multiply this figure by state tax per gallon.
3. State or local taxes on the total purchase price of a car purchased during 1947. Federal excise taxes on new cars for personal use are not deductible.
4. Interest on automobile loans. If you are financing your car on the installment plan, you may deduct the interest portion paid on your contract. (See your Income Tax Instruction booklet for computation.)
5. Casualty and theft losses not compensated for by insurance. You can claim any loss resulting from an accident not caused by your willful negligence. Damage to your car from fire, lightning, storms, hail or flood is also deductible.

Mr. Fogie urges taxpayers to file their returns as far before the April 15 deadline as possible. "It may save you some money because last minute filers often make costly errors in their returns."

Mrs. George Jowers accompanied her sister, Mrs. Bob Potter of Roscoe, to Austin Friday of last week where they visited Mrs. Potter's daughter who is attending school there. She accompanied them home and spent the Easter holidays with the Potter family.

Safety Experts Says Watch Careless Drivers

AUSTIN—"The careful driver is always on the lookout for the careless driver." This statement was made today, by J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he urged motorists to cooperate with the defensive driving program of TSA.

This program is part of the Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents campaign designed to cut down the 1946 traffic toll. The spring phase of Back the Attack places emphasis on the responsibility of the driver for his own and others safety.

"Many accidents need never have happened," Musick said, "if the innocent party had foreseen the danger in time and would have known what to do." Musick pointed out that the driver's responsibility goes further than driving safely himself, knowing and obeying traffic laws, keeping his car in good mechanical condition and driving only when he is in good physical condition.

"A driver might do all these things and still be involved in an accident through the unsafe behavior of a pedestrian or another motorist."

"But the defensive driver goes a step further. He is always on the alert to the accident potential of other drivers, stray pedestrians, heavy traffic and weather conditions," Musick said. "And is always expecting the unexpected."

In Memory of Mrs. Mary Bond

Last rites for Mrs. Mary E. Bond who passed from this life at the Rising Star Hospital April 6, at the age of 77 years, two months, and 16 days, were conducted from the Methodist Church in Cross Plains at 3 p.m. Sunday, April 6, with the Rev. Dennis and Rev. Prentice officiating under the direction of Higginbotham Bros. Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bond was born Mary Elizabeth Baum Jan. 19, 1869 and married H. H. Bond Sept. 27, 1899. She gave her heart to God at an early age.

Mrs. Bond had been in failing health for several months but bore her suffering without complaint. She had lived in our community for some 60 years. Her husband preceded her in death 12 years.

Our loss is her gain for she died as she lived, a Christian ready to meet her Saviour when the summons came and ushered her through the pearly gates, where we will meet her in that sweet forever where we will exchange our cross for a crown.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE . . .

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Fundamentally, people are the same all over the world. In accordance with his knowledge, experience and ability to react, the emotions in Africa, New Zealand or China are seemingly the same as ours.

When the Soviets announced their intention to suspend testing of nuclear weapons, the world reacted. It seemed natural that man wishes to hear and believe that which he wishes to hear and believe, hence the propaganda value of the Russian announcement.

Our nation, whose every act is based on the moral concept, could not make such a promise unless it intended to keep it. It is the purpose of this nation to continue to test nuclear weapons. Russia says that if we continue to explode atomic and hydrogen tests that they will be released from their promise to suspend their testing.

It is wrong to assume that all people of the world trust the United States. Millions or multiplied millions know us as little or less than they know the Russians. They are conscious of the meaning of the explosion of hydrogen bombs and fear it.

The purpose of our Government in further testing is to develop the "clean bomb," to control its effects and reduce its size for both military and peaceful purposes. But many people will not listen to this reasoning. Rather, they want to hear that all tests are suspended. It is the call of the sirens.

CITY WATER SERVICE
It's a dream come-true with GOULDS amazing

GOULDS Balanced-Flow Water System needs no tank. Just like "city water service" . . . delivers fresh water instantly—as much as you want, at all taps at the same time, up to 520 gals. per hour. Fully automatic—never needs priming. You save—fewer fittings; no tank to buy or replace. Compact, quiet, trouble-free—only one moving part. See it before you buy any ordinary pump.

Hornsby Electric Co.

Some years ago Philip Wylie told the story of the "Fifth Horseman." He rode ahead of his brothers, warning the people of their coming. The people laughed and refused to believe. So when Conquest, Slaughter, Famine and Death ravished the land, the people were caught unprepared. Then when the Fifth Horseman rode back sadly over the devastated land, the people reviled him and shouted, "Why didn't you warn us?" In-furiated by such ingratitude, he rode with his brothers and was more terrible than any—his name—Reality.

From long, sad experience, we know that the men in the Kremlin can not be trusted. In fact, since the days even before Lenin, they have told us of their intent to communize the world by deceit, treachery and all other means necessary to accomplish their ends.

Which of these promises should we believe? Should we believe that they are honest in suspending nuclear weapons tests that they are ments—in your town. Answers they get and commitments they make now will, in large measure, determine how the close votes go this time next year.

SMALL TURNOVER POSSIBLE—Prospect now is mostly for familiar faces at the legislative desks next January.

Barring a sudden rash of announcements, at least two-thirds of house members and nearly 90 per cent of senators will be old hands.

Latest statewide survey by the Texas Legislative Service shows only three senators — Ottis Lock, Searcy Bracewell and Carlos Ashley—bowing out of politics. There'll be a scramble by House members for those seats.

Of the other 12 senators up for re-election only one, at last count, had an opponent. Remaining 16 in the upper house are having a "breather," since only half of the senate runs each two years.

House of Representatives generally has a large-scale assault on incumbents every election, and about a 30 per cent turnover.

Less upheaval seems likely this year. Only about 20 representatives are not seeking re-election, including those running for the senate. Of those running for the house again, or still undecided, only about 30 have announced opponents. A question mark enters into race decisions this year. Whether or not legislators will have annual sessions and annual salaries will not be decided until the constitutional amendment is voted on next November—after the primaries. For some the prospect of $7,500 yearly is a lure. Others don't like the idea of being away from homes and businesses a good part of every year.

AT LAST—Spring has finally sprung in Texas employment, bringing the long-awaited seasonal pick-up in jobs.

Texas Employment Commission's latest report, for the first time since Dec. 20, showed a significant decline in the number of unemployment compensation claims. Drop was from 92,435 to 89,326.

TEC said some 14,874 claimants had exhausted their benefits during January and February. Maximum allowed is $28 a week for 26 weeks.

GROW WITH US—Some 3,000 major new factories will locate somewhere in the South within the next 10 years.

In reporting this prediction, Gov. Price Daniel urged the state's new Industrial Commission to get in and pitch for a Texas-sized share of the incoming wealth and job-making industries.

Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas said the commission would accept the challenge. He said the commission would study industry-attracting techniques of other states and prepare a brochure toward industry.

Commission members serve without salary and without state funds to pay for projects. Several hundred dollars in donations have been received.

If voters next November approve an amendment removing the ban on state-financed advertising, the legislature can appropriate money for this purpose.

"MAKE IT PAINLESS" — Tax talk towers over other topics in the build-up for the 1959 legislative session.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce has added a new idea to the stacks of proposals and counter-proposals being presented to the State Tax Study Commission. It suggests making available for general use some of the unused balances tied up in the state's more than 100 special funds.

AFL-CIO says stricter application of present property tax laws might solve the problem without enacting new levies. "Proper enforcement," said a labor spokesman, would tax, not only real estate, but bank deposits, boats, bank shares, stocks, etc. AFL-CIO had previously suggested a corporation income tax to meet the state treasury's expected need for more than $100,000,000 in additional revenue.

Business groups, generally, have opposed the corporation tax, saying it will hamper Texas' industrial development. Some have proposed a general sales tax.

Tax Study Commission already has issued two of a series of 8 to 10 research reports to lawmakers for tax decisions. A third report, on how tax money is used and what future needs will likely be, is due later this month.

Though taxes are a prime campaign issue, legislative candidates are treading delicately around the subject. One said in his announcement that he opposed a general sales tax and a state income tax and that "if additional taxes have to be levied, let's make it as painless as possible."

GOOD ROADS AHEAD—State Highway Commission has given approval to final phase of a 1959-60 state highway building program to cost $319,000,000.

It calls for immediate spending of $9,200,000 for right-of-way buying under the new 50-50 cost-sharing plan between state and local governments.

First phase of the advanced planning program was approved in February. Second phase covers 1,636 miles of roadway in 13 districts at a cost of $140,000,000. This does not include future work on farm to market roads and interstate highways.

SHORT SNORTS—State Selective Service Headquarters has asked local draft boards to send up 4,247 men for pre-induction physical exams during May. It will be second successive month of high
