GAR FISHING-It won't be too long before gar fishing will be coming along again. Over near Madisonville they are catching some of these big tackle busters already. Recently two were taken in Blue Lake on the east side of the Trinity, about 25 miles north-east of Madisonville.

ICE FISHING-We don't have ice fishing in this part of the country, but occasionally we do have some real chilly weather. Fishermen on Lake Texoma have found a way to help overcome some of the chill. They are using charcoal heaters in their boats.

Others use gasoline stoves for the same results.

While be believe in comfort, we hesitate to recommend a stove for a small boat. It's taking a lot of chance, especially in a boat where there is a gasoline tank or extra can of fuel.

Rocking of the boat, a gust of wind or even excitement while boating a fish could cause a terrible tragedy. If you've never seen a boat on fire in the middle of the lake, with its passengers struggling in the water, we can tell you it's not a pleasant sight.

AUSTIN. - Unemployment or no unemployment, most people this side of the Rio Grande aren't willing to bend their backs to pull onions at 50 cents an hour.

So say Texas farmers. Their crops are going to rot in the fields, they add, if the U. S. Labor Department deesn't relax restrictions on importing Mexican nationals.

spokesmen for organized labor have demanded a ban on importing labor because of climbing unemployment. But farmers say that idle aircraft mechanics, no matter how numerous, are no help in getting the crops in. According to the farmers, abundant rainfall gives promise of the best harvests in years-if they can field hands.

Labor Department has put a limit of 26,500 braceros to be used in Texas during April and May. It's about one-fifth the number used this time last year. Rio Grande Valley growers say they could use the whole bunch in their area.

Texas Employment Commission says there are already about 26,500 here; hence, no more imports. Under Labor Department regula

It landed in the courts when one group of optometrists (Texas State Optical) brought suit to prevent another group (Lee Optical) from advertising prices. Defendants said the law was invalid because its caption did not specifically mention things the law covered.

But the high court ruled the caption was clear enough.
