If you would be interested in this program, notify Chief Hall and members of the department will be happy to serve you.

Kent Home Destroyed By Storm Saturday

The C. A. Kent home, 1 1/4 miles north of Cross Plains on Farm Road 880, to Cottonwood, was completely destroyed about 4:15 a.m. Saturday by tornado-like winds, injuring Mrs. Kent.

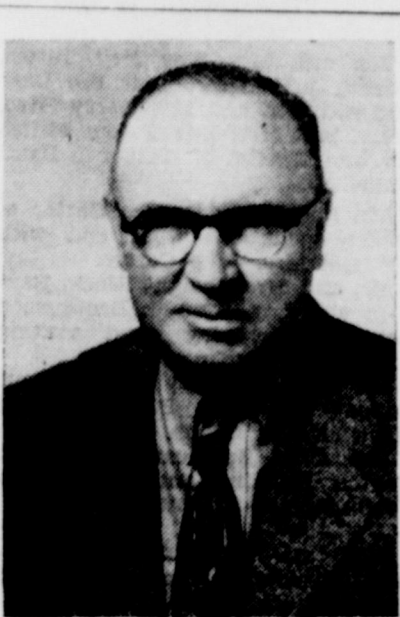

Mrs. Kent, 71, was hospitalized in Rising Star and according to hospital authorities, she suffered from painful bruises and cuts over most of her body. Mr. Kent, 83, was not injured.

The winds struck the Kent frame home and ripped it apart leaving only a portion of the room in which they were sleeping intact, approximately 90 feet away from its original site. Mr. Kent was hurled about 60 feet from the house site, completely clear of the wreckage and escaped without even a scratch.

Immediately following the destruction of their home, Kent could hear his wife's cries for help but could not find her in the darkness. He then made his way through the blinding rain which accompanied the rain, losing his way once, to the E. K. Coppinger home, about 75 yards from the Kent place.

Coppinger, with the aid of a light, found Mrs. Kent still in the bedroom trapped under a bed and trunk with only her head free. He freed her from the debris and returned to his home and telephoned for an ambulance. A Higginbotham ambulance took Mrs. Kent to the Rising Star Hospital.

BUFFS ROUT SANTA ANNA, 34-0 FRIDAY; TANGLE WITH GORMAN THERE THIS WEEK

By BENNY GLOVER

The Cross Plains Buffaloes grabbed their first win of the season last Friday as they routed the host Santa Anna Mountaineers, 34-0.

The Buffs scored late in the first quarter, and held on to the eight-point lead through the first half. But after intermission the Buffs came back with a 26-point outburst.

Cross Plains completely outplayed their hosts, rolling up 332 yards rushing and holding the Mountaineers to only 33 yards on the ground. The Buffs amassed 16 first downs while Santa Anna could manage only two. Via the airwaves, the Buffs completed six of 13 passes for 69 yards and the Mountaineers connected six times on 11 attempts for 33 yards.

Three Cross Plains counters came on the ground. Left Halfback Alvin Hutchins got two TDs on runs of 39 and 40 yards, and Fullback James Merrill got one on a five-yard slant. Two more Buff tallies came via the air. In the third quarter, Fullback James Merrill passed to Left End Grady Scott for a 46-yard pass and run touchdown, and late in the final period, Right Half and Quarterback Claude Beeler passed to Right Half John Baird for the final tally.

The picture was grim for Santa Anna throughout the contest. The Mountaineers penetrated Buffalo territory only once and that came in the first quarter and carried to the Buff 33. But the drive was brought to a close when Buff Odean Smoot covered a Santa Anna fumble at that point.

Fullback Merrill got his first score of the season and Buff's first Friday night as he slanted off the left side from five yards out. Baird passed to Scott in the left flat for the two points after TD. The drive carried 45 yards in seven plays. Halfback Hutchins set up the TD with a 13-yard sprint on a quick-opener off the weakside for a first and five.

Cross Plains drove to the Mountaineer 21 earlier in the first only to lose the pigskin on downs. In the second period, the Buffs penetrated to the hosts' 21 but a 15-yard penalty got the ball for Santa Anna on downs.

Santa Anna Routed

Cross Plains led the game away with a 26-point rally in the second half. In the third quarter the Buffs got 12 points and 14 in the final quarter.

The Buffaloes took the kick off opening the second half and marched 66 yards in seven plays, for the touchdown. A 46-yard pass and run play terminated the drive, as Merrill found Scott behind the Santa Anna defenders with an aerial about the Mountaineer 35. Scott then outleaped the defenders for the tally. Beeler was bounced out of bounds just inches short of the goal line as he attempted to run for the two points. Late in the third stanza, Hutchins unreeled the first of his two touchdown scampers. He rambled 40 yards through the middle behind good line blocks and outran two defenders for the TD. A pass from Baird to Scott was complete but a five-yard penalty wiped out the play, and on the next try, a pass was intercepted to leave the score, Buffs 20 and Santa Anna 0. Midway through the final quarter, Hutchins broke loose for his second touchdown run. On the first play following a short Santa Anna punt, Hutchins raced 39 yards for six more points. Beeler was stopped short on the two-point attempt. With only six seconds remaining in the game, Cross Plains wrapped up their scoring. Beeler, at the quarterback slot, passed to Baird in the left flat for four yards and the score. Beeler then fired a pass into the left flat with End Jerry Fleming finally snagging the elusive pig skin for the two points. The touchdown was set up as Santa Anna failed on a fourth down gamble on their 36. Cross Plains covered the distance in seven plays. Gorman Next After evening their record with 9-A opponents, the Buffs will try to do the same thing with their 7-B foes Friday as they journey to Gorman to tangle with the Panthers in the final non-conference tilt of the season. Cross Plains defeated the Panthers last year, 32-14. The game will be played at Gorman with starting time set for 8:00 p.m.

PHILOSOPHER WANTS WORLD TO BETTER AIM WITH ROCKETS BEFORE FIRING

Philosopher's note: The Bayou philosopher on his Johnsons' farm on the Bayou has some ideas on his mind, his letter reveals.

For a long time now, instead of my time starting off into the air between bites when I'm been thinking about missiles and rockets in the sky, and the more I fish about it, the more I'm convinced that I ought to either go for it or abandon it altogether.

I don't know anymore about a rocket program than you do, all the Russians have been pretty good, but I know that the United States people seem to be having trouble.

To tell the truth, their aim is good. When they blast off the things, they don't know like a wet firecracker, or zig-zag halfheartedly, or zig-zag in an accurate rocket, I mean the worst thing is an inaccurate one.

You take my farm out here. Nobody's going to waste a million-dollar rocket shooting at it, nobody would ever classify this patch of Johnsons as a military target, but it sure makes a man nervous to think he might be the victim of an accident. I just won't feel completely relaxed until those boys improve their aim a little.

Or you take Canada for example. Canada's sitting up there not shooting rockets at anything, but those Canadians may get a little jittery wondering when some other country's practice shot may land in their lap.

You multiply this by all the other countries in the world, and you can see the amount of nervousness it can create. Any time two big countries get in a rocket war with each other, there's going to be a lot of innocent bystanders getting hit.

Until the world improves its rocket aim, it's just not ready for that kind of shooting. Pin-point accuracy with rockets would be terrible enough, but blind firing would be worse.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

County Agent's Notes

By GLEN W. GREEN
Callahan County Agent

Rains measuring a total of 7 1/2 to 8 inches fell Wednesday evening and Saturday of last week. It seems that the rains were pretty general over the county. Early planted oats and wheat and range land will be greatly benefitted, but cotton and peanuts will suffer some damage. Stock tanks and ponds are filled again.

The Callahan County ASC Committee election was held last week. Tommy Harris of Cross Plains was reelected as chairman of the committee, Arno Rogenstein of Putnam was named vice-chairman, and Harold Holden of Clyde was named the third member of the county committee. He replaces Roy Armor of Dudley who has been a member for the past two years. Mr. Armor had asked not to be considered for the post this year. Albert Betcher, Jr. of Oplin was named first alternate and Gene Finley was named second alternate.

The 1959 Agricultural Census is scheduled to begin in Callahan County Nov. 18. The foot-work of census taking will be done by "Enumerators" who will be hired locally. Each enumerator will work in his own district. A group of the enumerators will be supervised by a crew leader who will be responsible for training the enumerators. Each farmer and ranchman will be mailed a questionnaire which should be filled out accurately before the enumerator calls on him. The information furnished by the farmer about his farm and himself will be kept confidential and will be used for obtaining totals for Counties and States. If you need help in completing the questionnaire the enumerator who calls will help you.

Now is a critical time in the life of range grasses as many are producing seed. Deferment of pastures until after frost will insure the development of a seed crop to aid in revegetation of rangelands with the better native grasses.

CARD OF THANKS

I am deeply grateful to the many friends in Cross Plains who have remembered me in so many ways since I entered the hospital in Hobbs, N. M., and also after I was moved to Baylor Hospital in Dallas. I will always treasure your friendship.

HEALTH NOTES

The most widely anticipated hour on Texas' sporting calendar arrived last Tuesday precisely at high noon. It marked the opening of the fall hunting season.

Before it ends in mid-January, an estimated 400,000 hopeful hunters—including young and old of both sexes, skilled and unskilled—will have taken to the field in eager expectation.

Wily mourning doves are present targets of a thousand guns by virtue of a 50-day north zone season that began Sept. 1. The south zone opens Oct. 1.

Duck season runs from Nov. 13 to Jan. 1. For deer and turkey it begins Nov. 16 and lasts until Dec. 31, with date variations depending on county law. Quail shooting becomes legal Dec. 1 until Jan. 16.

It's a satisfying time, with man in quiet communion with a bountiful nature. But all too often an ominous note creeps into the happy symphony.

Thirty-seven hunting enthusiasts ranging in age from 12 to 65 won't be going out this year. And for the very best reasons: They're dead... killed by their own hand or by others during last year's season.

Four hunters killed themselves in attempting to clean or repair loaded guns. Six other virtually committed suicide by crawling through fences with gun in hand.

In other deaths the victims were mistaken for game, or made errors in judgement while unloading guns, or stalking game or otherwise mis-handling weapons.

A 12-year-old lad, a novice deer hunter, was killed instantly when his dotting father—carrying a "ready" rifle—tripped over a log and accidentally discharged the weapon. And in another incident the situation was almost exactly reversed. A boy tripped on a wooded trail. His father was felled with a bullet in his back.

Be smart this year and follow these basic rules of gun safety:

Never mix fire water with fire power, and never point a gun at anything you don't intend to shoot. Remember that only a knucklehead would pull a gun through a fence. The safe way is to put it over first, making sure it is standing steady before you climb through.

Keep the safety catch ON until you get ready to shoot, and be positive you actually see what you're shooting at.

Remember, too, that guns are death traps for curious children. Unload yours before you get home.
