BURNETT HAS BOTH LEGS KEN, BODY BADLY MANGLED EN HIT BY AUTO MON. NIGHT

Apparently Dazed Condition Victimanders In Front of Approaching Car And Is Struck.

met, local tailor, suffered broken legs and was otherwise badly injured when struck by an automobile about midnight last Monday while on State Highway No. 28 about a half-mile north of town. It is stated by citizens that Burnett had been in a mentally unsound condition that evening, several notices of his unbalanced condition. About a half hour before the accident he was at the court house looking for some unknown party and it is supposed he had started on his heavy and becoming confused as to his directions, lost his way on the highway. A car driven by "Shorty" Brewer also containing two other young men and three young women, is said to have struck Burnett inflicting the damages. From reports given by members of the driving party the car was not traveling over 15 or 20 miles per hour, as only a few moments before the collision it had slowed down to investigate a supposed flat casing on one of the wheels, but which was found non-punctured. As the car approached Burnett and seeing him in the headlight stream, the driver turned the steering wheel to throw the car out of the pathway of the approaching man; but it is said Burnett also turned into the front of the approaching car and was struck before the vehicle could be sufficiently slowed to obviate the disaster. Both of Burnett's legs were broken below the knees, there were a number of bruised and skinned places on his body, especially about the head, and his clothing was badly torn. The body, struck by the car bumper, was thrown up on the front of the auto, one lamp smashed before it was cast beside the road as the momentum of the vehicle decreased. As quickly as possible the car was brought to a stop and such assistance as possible rendered the unconscious man. A runner came into town and a call was placed for the Steed ambulance at Clovis, N. M., which took the unfortunate victim to a Clovis hospital, being accompanied by Sheriff Jim Cook, Lloyd Garrett, Lowell Wiggins and J. B. Burkhead. The accident, while greatly regretted by occupants of the car and by Burnett's friends, is generally considered that of unavoidable type and no blame is being attached to the driver. Burnett is known to have been in bad health for sometime past, and it is said was planning going to the Veterans hospital at Albuquerque, N. M., the following morning. It is now said he will be taken to that hospital for recovery as soon as he is able to be moved from the Clovis hospital.

FIVE MEN TO GO FROM BAILEY COUNTY TO CCC

Five young men, between the ages of 18 and 22 years, will be selected at the Bailey county court house in Muleshoe, Saturday, January 5 for service in the Government CCC service, according to announcement made by Pat R. Bobo, director. The meeting and selection will be promptly at three p. m. Those selected will be immediately taken to the Government recruiting office at Lubbock for examination and final acceptance.

TEXAS GETS $7,277,504 FOR HIGHWAYS THE COMING YEAR

Of a total Federal apportionment to aid states in highway construction during the fiscal year, beginning next July 1 and amounting to $125,000,000, the State of Texas received the largest amount, totaling $7,277,504.00. This fund, made available this fiscal year, will be used under the Hayden-Cartwright act for joint co-operation by states and the Federal Government, to states matching federal funds with like amounts.

FEDERAL AGRICULTURE CENSUS BEGAN WEDNESDAY; VALUABLE WORK TO CLOSE BY FEBRUARY 1

Important For Farmers That They Answer Accurately All 100 Questions Contained On Blank.

That the new farm census will be very beneficial to the farmers of Bailey county is the opinion of J. B. Waide, Jr., Bailey county farm agent. All county quotas under the crop control programs are checked against the census figures. If the census figures are not correct, then the quotas will probably be incorrect. Mr. Waide went on to say that due to the rapid expansion of farming in Bailey county and the changes in the types of farming that the new farm census would be of much benefit. W. R. Carter and Homer Mardis have been appointed census takers for Bailey county. EL PASO, Jan. 2.—Approximately 450 persons in West Texas and New Mexico began the task of enumerating farmer d ranches in this territory Jan. 2. Nearly 25,000 Federal Census employees will be engaged in this huge task of enumerating the six million farms and ranches of the United States in what is probably the most important agricultural census in the nation's history, according to a statement released by Director William L. Austin, Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. Plans call for completion of the canvass before the end of January. "The Fifteenth Decennial Census Act, approved June 18, 1929, directed that a mid-decennial Census of Agriculture be taken on January 1, 1935, for the calendar year 1934," Director Austin said. "Because of the tremendous upheaval in the great basic industry of agriculture, due to the depression, drought and other factors new farm statistics are urgently needed in connection with the Government's vast relief program. "The earnest cooperation of the farmer is necessary to the success of this census, for it is one of the federal activities designed primarily for his benefit. However, the welfare of agriculture affects all other industries, directly or indirectly, and the public generally. The statistics are necessary not only for the ordinary transaction of governmental business, but also for allotment programs. The programs range from the allocations of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to the Federal Emergency Relief and Farm Credit Administrations. Indeed, the benefits expected to be derived from this Census are incalculable and will have a marked influence on the future welfare of agriculture throughout the country as a whole. At the completion of the canvass every effort will be put forth to make preliminary tabulation reports available at the earliest possible moment. "Due to the splendid cooperation of (Continued Back Page)

Foot- And Basket Ball Teams Get New "M" Sweaters

December 27 the Muleshoe football boys received their new football sweaters that had been ordered about three or four weeks ago. The sweaters are different from any Muleshoe has ever had before, being heavy black slip-overs, with the "M" gold with the white edge, and white stripes just above the collar. The players receiving sweaters and the number of stripes each received are as follows: Tony Ivy, three; Francis Gilbreath, four; Olin Shirley, one; Neil Prescott, one; Kenneth Jennings, one; L. S. Barron, two; Frank Actkinson, four; Jim Elder, one; Junior Winn, two; Otto Smith, one; Woodie Glascock, two; Roy Elrod, one; Jim Alsop, four; Lester Garth, one; Walter Moeller, four; Bill Faulkner, one; Ben Beatty, one; Ralph Border, two. The football team members chipped in and presented their Coach, C. R. Stevens, with one of the new sweaters. The High school girls' basketball team ordered black coat sweaters, with the "M" gold with white edge and the white stripes above the elbow. The players that got them and the number of stripes received are as follows: Twiss Farrell, three; Hazel Nelson, four; Crystal Kennedy, two; Ruby Sterling, two; Melzine Roock, four; Dora Nell McCarty, one; Eunice Griffiths and Sibyl Hunter ordered sweaters without stripes.

A SMALL SALES TAX IS URGED BY SENATE COM.

Tax Reform Body In Desire To Hold Off New Taxes. A constitutional amendment to provide for a two per cent sales tax for retirement of all bonded indebtedness of the state's political subdivisions will be recommended by the senate tax program committee. Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, chairman, said the committee chose that method as one which would give "real relief for property taxpayers." He said it would lift a $30,000,000 annual burden from property, while 900 annual burden from the state ad valorem tax would remove only $20,000,000. "That decision, he said, would preclude the committee's recommendation of a sales tax to raise revenue for current state operations. Likewise, it would not conflict with the incoming administration's opposition to a sales tax in that the issue would be submitted to the people. Senator Duggan said the committee's recommendations to the Legislature would not call for any new tax of a substantial amount. Collection of delinquent taxes, together with a general tightening of existing taxes, he said, will be relied upon to eliminate the current $15,000,000 deficit and to provide funds for operating expenses. A joint resolution proposing the sales tax constitutional amendment, he said, will be prepared by the committee. It would allocate 5 per cent of the revenue to the State for liquidation of a $20,000,000 state relief bond issue and return the remainder to counties for apportionment to the various political subdivisions. Their aggregate bonded debt, he said, approached $750,000,000. The yield from a two per cent sales tax was forecast at $30,000,000 annually, which he termed adequate to meet service costs on the outstanding bonds. The proposal encompassed, he said, a plan for obtaining interest rate reductions and state supervision to prevent excessive issuance of bonds in the future. Plans of the committee for a method of collecting delinquent taxes, he said, were incomplete although several features of the bills would anticipate a sufficient amount of nearly $60,000,000 in unpaid ad valorem assessments could be collected to reduce the deficit without levying additional taxes. Twenty bills designed to stop leaks, Senator Duggan estimated, would increase the State's revenue from occupation taxes by $2,000,000 annually. Most of the bills would transfer the duty of collecting the taxes from local authorities to the Comptroller's department. Other changes the committee will recommend include an increase from 2 1/2 per cent to 6 1/2 per cent in the tax on horse race betting and an increase from $25 to $100 in the annual license for dealers of medicinal liquor, plus a tax of 10 per cent on their liquor sales. Other major recommendations agreed upon include calling a constitutional convention to modernize the State Constitution, written in 1876, and expansion of the powers, duties, and term of the State Tax Commissioner.

CONSTITUTION IS ADVISED BY COM.

Living In Airplane Days Instead Of The Oxcart. The Senate tax program committee has agreed to recommend to the Legislature calling of a constitutional convention to modernize the state's fundamental law. Revision of the Constitution was necessary, the committee decided before the committee's modern state system could be developed. It noted that its current efforts were impeded by constitutional inhibitions. "We have found it impossible," explained Chairman Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, "to write highly desired bills because of impediments and handicaps. Our only recourse is to ask the Legislature to give the people of Texas an opportunity to discard the present antiquated document and adopt an organic law to meet the needs of modern and developed Texas. "Our present Constitution is a patchwork that was the product of oxcart days. We are now living in the airplane age. "The present Constitution was written by a convention in 1876, but many amendments approved subsequently have altered it. Another recommendation agreed upon by the committee would expand the powers and responsibilities of the state tax commissioner. Under the plan approved, the duties of the ex-officio tax collector would be transferred to the commissioner, who would be appointed for a term of six years instead of two years as at present. Another recommendation developed by the committee would obligate the commissioner to participate with the House Revenue and Taxation Committee in formulation of all tax measures. He would be required to study various tax systems and submit recommendations to the Legislature. The tax board, composed of the Comptroller, Secretary of State and Tax Commissioner, has jurisdiction over intangible valuation of railroads, ferries and pipelines. Representative J. P. C. Petch of Fredericksburg, co-operating with the Senate committee said he would introduce the bill.

Old Age Pension Idea Is Passed Back To States

Supporters of the Townsend Old Age Pension bill received their first setback of enthusiastic action Friday of last week when a demand for immediate enactment of an old age pension legislation echoed from the administration's announcement that the job of caring for old and unemployed would be returned to the states by the federal government. The President Roosevelt shaped with his cabinet plans for a broad scale work relief unit, designed to set the "unemployables" now on relief rolls to doing jobs that would result in permanent public improvements. Senator Borah, Idaho's Republican Independent, was the first to raise the argument that the return of the care of "unemployables" to the states would make necessary the prompt passage of old age pension legislation. Pension advocates have been conducting for such a measure with renewed vigor during the last few weeks. The President already has promised to recommend passage of unemployment insurance measures and has set his economic security council to studying whether this was the proper time for old age pensions. The council recommended three old age pension plans, either one or all of which might be adopted. Under two of them, to which both employer and employee would contribute, the federal government would give grants to states when necessary to conform to standards laid down by Congress.

New Co. Officers Sworn In, Holding First Session Tues.

New Years day there was a quiet upheaval at the Bailey county court house, occasioned by the will of the majority voters as expressed in the two Democratic primaries. Last summary and finally confirmed in the November election. However, the changes of officials occurring in this county are not so great as those in many surrounding counties. Bailey county, generally speaking, being graced with a high quality of efficient officers, some of whom have been re-elected several times. Officers holding over for another term by virtue of re-election were: J. E. Adams, county judge and ex-officio county school superintendent; J. B. Burkhead, district and county clerk; Jim Cook, sheriff and tax collector, also, tax assessor, by virtue of a recently passed law; Cecil Tate, county attorney; J. E. Voth, Justice of the Peace; W. E. Renfro, county commissioner, precinct 3; Miss Elizabeth Harden, who will also remain as deputy in the county clerk's office. New officers in their position are: Miss Helen Jones, county treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Virgie Mae Clark; H. E. Schuster, county commissioner, precinct 1; J. C. Coleman, Justice of the Peace; W. Williams, commissioner, precinct 2, succeeding D. W. Danielson; J. W. Alford, commissioner precinct 4, succeeding W. R. Carter. New officers were administered Tuesday morning by Pat R. Bobo, notary public, bonds were duly signed and approved and the first session of the new commissioners' court was held the same day. NEW PLATES NOT NEEDED IN STATE UNTIL APRIL 1

Mrs. Nellie Dean Gets 1,000 Gallon Well For Irrigation

Mrs. Nellie Dean last week finished drilling an irrigation well on her 160 acre farm about six miles W. of Muleshoe, in which she installed a 10-inch tip centrifugal pump, operating it now with a 15-30 h. p. motor, will later install a 25 h. p. stationery engine. The well was made by Tom L. Smith local driller, and is only 50 feet deep, the pump being installed at 21 feet, and is estimated now to be producing between 1,000 and 1,200 gallons of water per minute. Mrs. Dean is this winter irrigating 80 acres of wheat and next spring will have 60 acres of various kinds of row crop under irrigation.

SANTA FE TRAIN CHANGES

Shift changes in schedule of Santa Fe trains will be effective at Muleshoe and other points up and down this line next Sunday morning, according to H. A. Eckler, local agent. Train No. 91, southbound, arriving now at 10:10 a. m., will arrive at 10:00 a. m. Train No. 62, northbound, arriving now at 4:43 p. m., will arrive at 4:25 p. m. Connections at Farwell will remain the same. The townsite of Monument, oldest in Lea county, N. M., last Saturday sold under the hammer for delinquent taxes bringing $84.00.

BASKETBALL GAMES SCHEDULED

Tuesday night, January 8, the Muleshoe High school basketball team of boys have a match game with the Earth Sunday school basketball team of boys to be played here at the local gymnasium. Friday and Saturday, January 11, the boys and girls basketball teams of this county will meet in Muleshoe to play match games. Friday and Saturday, January 18, the boys and girls basketball teams will play match games at Sudan. Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26, the boys and girls teams have match games to be played with Littlefield. MORE COTTON CHECKS RECEIVED J. B. Waide Jr., last Tuesday received another consignment of 108 Federal checks, totaling $5,799.67, on the second payment of government cotton contracts, leaving about $30,412 of the total $31,246.31 being held up because of checks still being held up because of contract changes, and which are soon expected. Fairly warm days are also expected soon, Mr. Waide said.

Start Unit 1 Work On State Highway 28 Tuesday A. M.

Following the building of about 10 miles of fence on State Highway No. 28 in Bailey county, Engineer H. N. Roberts, assistants and crew of workers Tuesday morning began Unit 1 construction on that highway, it consisting of throwing up the grade to specification and installation of necessary bridges and culverts for drainage. About 40 men are now being used on this improvement project. After about two miles of grading had been done, work of spreading the first coat of caliche, preparatory to receiving the top paving coat will be started, when about 60 men will be given employment, Roberts said. The first coat of caliche will be five inches thick, to be rolled down hard and then another coat of four inches will be applied before the asphalt topping goes on. There are six and one-half miles of this highway in Bailey county to be so improved. Several culverts will have to be constructed, and because of the freezing weather at this time of the year, such work will naturally be more difficult, as extra precautions will have to be observed that the concrete does not freeze before setting. Work on the $100,000 dam project at Ft. Sumner, N. M., has begun.

CHURCHES GIVE A PLAY

"Who Is To Blame," is the title of a play to be given by members of the Methodist and Baptist churches in Muleshoe at the High school auditorium, next Monday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The play, of a dramatic nature, was written by Dr. Atticus Wood, well known Texas prohibitionist leader, and embodies 45 characters. The public generally is urged to attend, no charge for admission.

CATTLE BUYING UNTIL JAN. 15 The Federal cattle buying relief extension in the Panhandle area has ended until January 15, according to J. B. Waide, county farm agent. The number has been purchased in this county is at Enoch; Jan. 3 and 10 in 200 weddings took place during 1934.

1935 Model V-8 Here Attracting Many Prospectors

Henry Ford brought out his latest successor to the old Model-T last Saturday in the Ford V-8 for 1935, with semi-streamlined body, engine improvements and numerous refinements and passenger accommodations, which have excited the admiration of numerous visitors and prospective buyers who have had the privilege of seeing the demonstration sample on display at the Muleshoe Motor Co., salesroom, this city.

The most striking feature of the new car, given a private showing at the Dearborn plant, is in the body lines which are distinctly modern and a definite departure from any previous Ford design.

The body is wider, wheels smaller, tires larger, front and rear seats roomier and new engineering developments incorporated for a "center-poise" ride. Safety glass has been made standard equipment in windshield, doors and windows of all models.

In appearance, the 1935 V-8 is one of flowing curves on the modern motif and approximately eight inches longer. The radiator grill and windshield slant back, with the rear quarter panel flowing off in a single line. The fenders are much deeper and highly crowned, with sweeping skirts.

Passenger weight is distributed to the center by locating the front spring four inches in front of the axle, and moving the engine ahead eight inches to center its weight on the axle.

The major engine improvements are a new system of directed flow crank case ventilation, and use of aircraft type copper-lead floating connecting rod bearings similar to those used in high speed racing car and airplane engines.

1935 GREETED BY CITIZENS

At Methodist Church
Monday night a watch party was given at the Methodist church, for those attending to watch the old year being ushered out and the new year brought in.

The crowd met at about eight o'clock. The devotional service was held, then songs were sung. Rev. J. Frank Luker gave a very interesting talk on "Consecration." The intermediates sang a special song number. Some business matters of the church were discussed, and Wanda Farrell gave a reading entitled "Dawn of the New Year."

The crowd assembled in the church annex where refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies, cocoa, coffee and cake were served.

Just as the clock struck 12, Rev. Luker dismissed with prayer, and then the church bell rang for several minutes.

Between 50 and 75 people were present.

At Baptist Church
New Year's Eve a watch party was given at the Baptist church in Muleshoe for those attending to watch the old year be ushered out and the new year brought in.

Games were played and a general good time had by all.

Delicious refreshments consisting of pumpkin pie with whipped cream, sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served to the 35 or 40 people who attended.

Government Tree Shelter Belt Will Include Most Of The Panhandle Area East of Bailey, South Into Hockley

The western boundary of the Plains Shelterbelt Project of the United States government, approximately 100 miles wide and 1,000 miles long, has been extended to a north-south line along the western border of Potter county, taking in more than two-thirds of the Panhandle. This announcement was made last Friday by S. W. Dillingham, Lincoln, Neb., assistant field agent for the project, who will spend the next month in this area.

The agreement to extend the western border line, which formerly did not reach Potter county, was reached recently after a group of government authorities visited the Panhandle.

The western border line slashes down through the Panhandle, taking in Sherman, Moore, Potter, Randall, the eastern edge of Deaf Smith, Castro and Lamb counties, with Lovell as the southern edge. From there it extends east through Lubbock into Crosby county, north to the south edge of Breckenridge, then east through Itaska county, taking in most of Childress and then northeast through Oklahoma. All land within these boundaries in the Panhandle is in the shelterbelts. This tree belt will run east of Bailey county.

Buy or Lease Land.
The government plans to either buy the land outright or take a lease on it, Mr. Dillingham said.

"It is a project the government is going to put over," he continued. "In fact, it has already started, for several spots in Nebraska are ready for tree planting now."

Dense Plantation.
In explaining the project, Mr. Dillingham said that the purpose was to establish a large number of shelterbelts in a zone 100 miles wide along the eastern margin of the great plains region. A shelterbelt, as considered in connection with this project, is a dense plantation of trees about 100 to 120 feet wide and of undetermined length, so located as to provide protection from wind.

In general, Mr. Dillingham said, the shelterbelts will be planted at intervals of about one mile and will consist of about 10 rows of trees. There will be frequent interruptions, and every considerable variation in form, direction and arrangement. All of these variations will be determined in accordance with topography, soil, the direction of the prevailing winds, and the needs of the local conditions that are encountered, to which the basic plan must conform if the project is to accomplish its purpose.

Public Improvement.
"The entire project," Mr. Dillingham continued, "is based upon the provision that the government shall own, or control by lease, the land on which the trees are planted, the lessor in the latter case having no vested interest in the trees as long as the lease is in effect."

"This provision is well justified by the fact that, under private control, trees are seldom given the protection necessary to insure long life even though they may be given much care and cultivation while young. The other reason is that the entire undertaking should be a public improvement, and not a subsidy to a certain portion of the residents."

Not Relief Project.
Although the project was launched last July, it is not a relief project, Mr. Dillingham pointed out.

The only relief from stressed conditions will be provided by the employment of residents of the area, he said.

"The shelterbelts will provide windbreaks, snow traps, and shade in a region where these are largely lacking," he continued. "The Forest Service inaugurated this project in the belief that trees would mitigate the effects of future droughts as by preventing the quick drying and subsequent blowing of soils, similarly protecting growing crops from excessive drying, slightly modifying extremes of temperature in the same way that green fields cool the air and through other local effects modify their immediate environment and the living conditions of man, beast, bird and vegetation."

Must Prepare Land.
For protective purposes, Mr. Dillingham pointed out, the three essentials of a shelterbelt are height, length and density.

"The greatest height is to be obtained by putting the tallest-growing trees in the center of the belt, and to some extent forcing them to shoot upwards. These are to be flanked by shorter trees and at the extreme edges by shrubby growth, so that the outside conformation of a good belt is somewhat what the shape of a big roof."

Another reason for the slow completion of the belt as given by Mr. Dillingham is that it will in some places take years to prepare the land.

Star Soil Deeply.
"Before planting, the ground to be used must be plowed and fallow at least one summer to aerate the moisture," he said. "Provision also be made for obtaining penetration of moisture deep-rooted trees are to be planted."

"After planting is done, must be kept down by cult several years or until the trees fully shade the ground's surface growth. Thereafter, if formed, it can be kept away, will serve the same moisture conservation."

200 Million Trees Yearly

A big job of the project will be to grow the trees. About 200 million trees will be planted yearly in 1,000-mile "protective zone."

Government nurseries will be staked as needed, in strategic spots, where good soil and water are expected also that it will make satisfactory contrast with existing trees with existing nurseries, or to lease for the same purpose.

The plains shelterbelt only a beginning for tree-planting in the Plains will undoubtedly stimulate planting by the owner of the land. The knowledge and experience here and more successful conditions which may now be seen.

Hog Corn Payments Will Be Higher In 1935 Says Report

The farm administration last Friday made public the 1935 corn-hog contract in its final form—billed into half the size of the 1934 agreement.

The new contract changes the minimum reduction in acreage from 20 to 10 per cent below the average annual acreage in 1932 and 1933 but again limits the reduction to 30 per cent. The minimum reduction in hog production for market is fixed at 10 per cent compared with the minimum of 25 per cent below the 1932-1933 base provided in the 1934 contract.

Payments to the farmer will be allowed 35 cents a bushel on the estimated corn yield of the acres retired from production compared with 30 cents this year and the contracted acreage may be used for any purpose except growing field corn. Under the 1934 contract, acres withdrawn from corn production could be used only in limited ways, but because of the drought the administration modified the limitations.

Under the new contract, $15 a head will be paid on 10 per cent of the hog base, that is, the average number of hogs produced for market from litters farrowed in 1932 and 1933. In the old contract, $5 a head was paid on 75 per cent of the hog base.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.
2. New location of seats by which the rear seat is moved forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.
3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the springbase to 123 inches.

The result is Center-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive. New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal.

A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle. New, wider, roomier seats.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements, but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour. All Ford V-8 cars for 1935 come equipped with Safety Glass throughout at no additional cost.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 for 1935 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

Increase In Winter Wheat Seen In The Government Report

Production of Winter wheat was estimated Tuesday of last week at 475,000,000 bushels by the Department of Agriculture on the basis of seeding and condition of crop on Dec. 1. This would be approximately 70,000,000 bushels above the 1933 crop but considerably below the five-year average of 632,061,000 bushels.

Rice on Terraced Land In many parts of Oceania rice planting is done on terraced land, flooded by means of a sluice. This method is employed particularly in the highlands, where the soil is not always fertile and planting on the slopes is difficult. The irrigation and terracing overcome both conditions, converting much otherwise useless soil into rice beds.

Subscription Rates: In Bailey County, one year, $1.50; Outside of County one year, $2.00.

Published every Thursday at Muleshoe, Texas. Advertising rates given upon application. Telephone No. 54.

Subscribers who change their address, or fail to get their paper, should immediately notify this office, giving both new and old addresses. Communications of local interest are solicited. They should be briefly written, on only one side of the paper, and must reach this office no later than Wednesday morning of each week. The right of revision or rejection is reserved by the publisher.

Advertising that does not show in its text or typography that it is paid for must be marked as an advertisement. All local advertisements remain in this paper for the time specified or until ordered out. All notices, it matters not by whom nor for what purpose, if the object to raise money by admission fee or otherwise, is an advertisement and when sent in for publication must be paid for at the regular advertising rate per line for each issue printed.

Obituaries, cards of thanks and resolutions of respect will also be charged for at the same rate. Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Muleshoe Journal will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

In case of errors or omissions in local or other advertisements, the publisher does not hold himself liable for damage further than the amount received by him for such advertisements.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Therefore I tell you, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and yet shall have them.—St. Mark, 11:34.

A wise man will desire no more than he may get justly, and will distribute cheerfully, and leave contentedly.—Burton.

ALRIGHT, LET'S GO!!!

Alright, Muleshoe business men, 1935 is now on tap—let's go.

There's nothing hindering, you business men in Muleshoe all had better business last year than you did the year before. Business increase all over the country last year was from 12 to 24 per cent, the average of Texas being 15 per cent, and in all probabilities the Plains area was a little above that.

The depression has its back broken. New governmental plans are in the offing which are going to be better than those of last year. Congress will soon be fixing them up in proper shape—then its going to go up to every business man in every town in every state to buckle in and do his bit for himself, his home town and the country in general.

Of course, we don't yet know what the crops are going to be like this year, nor do we know exactly how much money the Government is going to pay for retired crop and go after it. We're not looking for any more drought in 1935 and Uncle Sam will doubtless cross the farmers' palms in reasonable manner.

Muleshoe business concerns need to do more business in the future than they have been doing in the past—and they can expect that if they will get up, dust themselves, and go after it. There is a big trade territory around this town that should be drawn in closer. Folks living in it have to have dry goods and clothing, groceries, hardware, furniture and all the other essential commodities of life—and they should buy it in Muleshoe.

Muleshoe should be able and can furnish the people of this territory with the essentials as cheap and cheaper than any other surrounding town. Too many people are buying in Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo and Clovis, with the idea they are getting stuff cheaper than it can be bought in Muleshoe. Business men in those larger towns are keen—right up on their toes for Muleshoe business men—worth thousands of dollars a year to them—and to Muleshoe business men—and they should plan to retain all of it possible during the coming year.

Every business man who knows the Journal is being published for his benefit. It's a darn good paper, and we don't have to be egotistical to say it ourselves, we are merely echoing the statement of hundreds of readers here and elsewhere. It carries appreciation and confidence on its pages into every home with its weekly visits. It has a good circulation—far better than the average weekly newspapers of this section. It gets results for advertisers, and advertising is one of the BIG leverage for increasing business.

Right now, while January is still young, is the proper time for Muleshoe business men to lay their plans for bigger and better business during 1935. This newspaper and its editor are at your service in any possible way they can assist you.

Issue your commands, and LET'S GO!!!

ABOLISHING WAR PROFITS

As most Muleshoe citizens view it, no greater blessing could come to the nation in 1935 than the passage of laws that will take the profit out of war. Those who have fought in past wars, and those who have sacrificed sons in those wars, are silently praying that at last a way seems open to prevent such conflicts.

The congressional investigation into the sale of armaments ammunition developed some horrible examples of greed, though for a long time the average American has known that almost every war is brought about by those who reap millions of dollars in profits from them. This investigation has shown that they will stop at nothing to promote their own selfish interests; that they would throw their own country into war if they could profit by it through the sale of arms and ammunition.

Now it is promised that all that is going to be changed, just what laws will be passed looking toward that change, no one is able to forecast. Possibly there will be new laws whereby the government can take over and operate all arms and munitions factories in the event of war. That certainly would put a "wet blanket" on the munitions "racket," for if they know they are not going to profit, and will not even be allowed to operate their own plants during wartime, there will be no incentive for encouraging war talk among nations. Let us hope the legislation to take the profit out of war will come quickly. It will be welcomed as the greatest step toward permanent peace this nation has yet taken.

CURB THE HITCH-HIKER

Seven states and the District of Columbia now have laws with more or less severe penalties for "hitchhikers" who stand by the roadside and indicate the direction in which they desire to be taken without cost. The practice has become so common to the annoyance of motorists, and they are now slow to take in strangers, recalling the experience of drivers and passengers who have been robbed frequently in return for their kindness.

Virginia provides the severest penalty for "hitching"—a fine of $50, or a sentence of 30 days in jail, or both. In Connecticut a fine of $10 is provided for soliciting a ride in a privately owned automobile, and it must be paid in money or time behind the bars if the "humber" is caught.

The fact that three states have outlawed the hitch-hiker should be sufficient warning to Texas motorists that they are taking chances when they offer a stranger a ride.

HARD WORDS

Something to chew on between meals was offered recently in a conference given over to a discussion of the cause of crime. It was in Pittsburgh, Austin J. Roche, former police commissioner of Buffalo, suddenly decided to "speak his piece." And here is what he said.

"We are all dinking the issue. I've heard a great deal about the causes of crime. First, it was the war; then it was prohibition, and lately it's poverty. It is not these things at all. Politics is the foundation of all crime. There are no many good politicians."

Those are hard, crisp words. But they hit and fit every community in the country that is of any considerable size. Only through honest, determined efforts to purge politics of its corruption and graft can crime be reduced in this country. But so far that is one remedy that hasn't yet been tried out to any very considerable extent.

EARLY TO BED

Men's sleeping habits are changing rapidly. The old advice Muleshoe grandfathers gave about "early to bed and early to rise" making you a lot healthier and a lot wiser doesn't work out today. Our grandparents used to go to bed soon after dark and get up before day light. Now if the present generation goes to bed before midnight they call it "going to bed with the chickens," and if they rise before daylight they are considered a little queer in the head. The sleep before midnight used to be called "beauty sleep." In those good old early-to-bed days we were all naturally beautiful. No one ever heard of beauty parlors. All we had to do was go to bed early and rise early and nature did the rest.

It seems, after all that, that the chief trouble with the rising generation is that it doesn't rise early enough. He seldom loses his job who loses himself in his job.

His Winter Chores by A. B. Chapin

Jaunty Journalettes

One can tell from a Muleshoe girl has found the right man. She no longer cares what her girl friends think of him.

One good way for Muleshoe folks to keep from losing their memory and disappearing the first few days of each month is to keep their bills paid up.

If Nature is so smart, then there are some Muleshoe people who would like to know how it comes that the hair they need falls out and the teeth they want have to be pulled out.

Perhaps many Muleshoe men would be willing to talk over money matters with their wives if said wives were not always reminding them of new things their neighbors have just bought.

There are still men in Muleshoe who are not too old to remember when the owner of a horse with the heaves proudly claimed him "as sound as a dollar."

We heard a Muleshoe old-timer say the other day that the whiskey now on sale tastes like the kind you once could put up with after the fifth drink.

Some day an unemployment card will be found, then you'll see a bunch of people in and around Muleshoe running to find a hiding place.

So often we notice the difference between men and women in Muleshoe. For instance, when a man has a birthday, at the most he only takes a day off, but there are plenty of women here who take a year off.

A magazine article says "the people of the United States are carrying around 200,000,000 pounds of waste fat," and it isn't near all around the waist, they sit on belts of it. However, it's up to Muleshoe folks to keep quiet for Uncle Sam might start another processing tax to pay for reducing this heavy surplus.

Pavement Pickups

Walter Moeller, section of the local picture magazine, has taken up scenario writing. He was telling a group of young men the other day he was writing one entitled, "Walking in the Moonlight With an Arm Full." Whereupon, it is reported Clay Wilemon had had recently been thinking of writing one, entitled, "Walking in the Moonlight With Both Arms Full."

A fellow came into Arnold Morris' auto clinic the other day with a wheezy car. "What will it cost to get my car fixed," he asked of Dr. Buford Butts. "What's the matter with it?" replied the auto surgeon. "I don't know." "Then I'll be $49.65," replied the M. D.

J. B. Waide said that men used to get into trouble by sowing wild oats, but now they may get into trouble by sowing more wheat than the government says they can.

"If Christopher Columbus should happen along right now," declares Mrs. L. B. Lambourn, "he'd sure be surprised the way tax rates have gone up since his last visit."

Clay Beavers was in the Journal office the other day, and during the course of his conversation asked, "Who'd get up and get breakfast while the others snored until 10 a. m., if everybody was rich?" We give up, Clay.

C. F. Moeller, local movie magnate, says the quickest way to increase the birth rate would be to advertise for baby movie stars. Pat Bobo has been having a time during the past month to keep folks on his relief rolls busy. Somehow he just can't make that darn stubborn State Highway commission see things the way he and a bunch of other Bailey county citizens see it. Pat heard the other day that the devil always finds work for idle hands to do, so he has suggested turning the unemployment business over to that forked tail gentleman.

Walter Witte moved to the farm last year, and on the basis of his past experience thinks he has been doing some things just backward to what he should have done them. Next year when he makes garden he is going to reverse the usual process by planting weed seeds to see if vegetables won't come up instead.

Someone has said that "the Almighty made this country, Washington gave it freedom, Lincoln preserved it, Edison lighted it, Ford put it on wheels, Roosevelt is feeding it," but they forgot to say that R. L. Brown is telling the world about its wonderful virtues.

Jess Mitchell, having been duly and constitutionally re-elected county editor of Bailey county in the general election of November last year, along with other elected officers, was sworn in at the court house last Tuesday morning by Notary Public Pat R. Bobo, placed under bond of $10,000, and administered the following oath, "I, being a citizen of this state, have not fought a duel with deadly weapons within this State nor out of it, nor have I sent or accepted a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, nor have I acted as second in carrying a challenge, or aided, advised or assisted any person thus offending."

SNAP SHOTS

After all, what's the good of success, if one don't change their way of living, they're no better off, and if they lose a lot of old friends.

Nothing is certain, this old world except death and taxes and a cramped fender every now and then, yet death and taxes are nothing alike, because one can die only once for their country, but one has to keep paying it taxes as long as they live.

Brother Methusalem missed a great deal of living when he did. He stayed on terra firm for 969 years and never heard about vitamins and calories, and we'll bet our last nickel his wife never heard of any of the modern body reduction systems.

The assertion that men are superior to women would be more convincing if you couldn't see the men that do the assorting.

We opine to think if people really hated wars as much as they hate paying for them afterwards, there would be perpetual peace on earth.

Pioneers were queer people. When a savage scalped one settler they never even thought about paroling him to see if he would do it again. We have no idea how many pardons and paroles have been granted in Texas during recent years.

Ours is a very peculiar country. We strain every resource to obtain wages for unemployed men so they can strike for higher one.

A "specialist" is a doctor who got tired of being waked up in the middle of the night.

Any man is past middle-age if he looks upon a public celebration as just another traffic jam.

GALL

An Editorial

GALL is inherently and fundamentally a bitter subject, and I have no intention of wasting perfectly good sugar in any attempt to sweeten it. Physicians report a rapidly increasing number of gall bladder operations being made in hospitals, and present indications are aye that miners, plumbers, gas-fitters and all other wielders of tools may soon have to be called in to help these medical-surgeons in extracting galls from the majority of American citizens if the trend of the New Deal continues much longer.

My personal vocabulary is somewhat polysyllabic and sesquipedalian; but it does not run to saccharine—rather to bile. I have never offered to lease my mouth for a candy factory and a quarter's worth of sugar would adequately satisfy my physical anatomy for a year.

I have not consulted Noah Webster as to his official definition of Gall, nor is it necessary to do so. Plenty of evidence exists in the world today as to its meaning without spreading the lids of a dictionary. Gall is, in some instances, pure unadulterated impudence and irremediable idocy. It is generally a double-distilled, triple plated quinesence of simon pure sublimated audacity, unmodified immaculate nerve, and a little get ability of sagacious transcendence impudience 100 proof, unmitigated and super-refined brass in solid slugs.

Gall is that human mental equation which causes a man to borrow $10 from you, promptly forget to pay it, and, after the passage of a few weeks, attempt to touch you for another saw-buck. It's what makes a self-conceited citizen aspire to some state legislative office or to the gubernatorial chair, or else desire to air his assymetry in the National Congress when he ought to be tickling the bosom of these prairies with a Georgia stock and meekly following the rear end of a top-eared mule.

Gall is what makes a half nit-wit young squirt who hasn't internal energy sufficient to win his own bread think he can win the hand of a charming young damsel raised in the lap of luxury and imagine she will enjoy his plain plans, perverted passions and puerile poverty. It is what spoils so many good ditch-diggers, grave-diggers, sand-sifters, prairie-plowers, chicken-chambermaids, mule-maulers, Jersey-juicers, kaffir-collectors and cotton-croppers, makes pulpitters of potato planters, literatures of laundresses, poets of passion out of planners of pumpkin pie by changing them into penitent politicians putty-headed professionals and pituitous personal-ities.

Gall has always existed in more or less super-sufficient quantities but in these later years it is becoming paramount—a quite common and chronic cerebral caricature circumscribing the country and copiously contributing to the circumscription of the carking arange of the country's economic condition. During the past three or four years, its attacks have become as pointed and pernicious as appendicitis, it has grown as rapidly as a sty on the eye, and become as swollen and inflamed as a carbuncle on the nasal appendage of one's physiognomy, likewise as touchy. Still there has been no suggestion emanating from Washington that every third row of this bilious crop be plowed under along with that of cotton and corn, piggies and sheepsies, tobacco and tadpoles.

Gall used to be the basis of social dynamics that made humanity arise and dust itself in achievement. It used to be the favorite factor in causing folk to fearlessly fight for social and figures represented by commodities and dollars, but today it is becoming the dominating feature for fulfillment of fun, fancy, ferial fadfulness, fanatical fetishism, food furtherance and fertile ferventness of financial ferrets.

Gall has the world grabbed by the gizzard so it can't empty its cornucopia crop of collected comely comforts of commercial commodities for the commonwealth. It can't grind its grist of goodness and distribute them for general human digestion and assimilation because this modern type of gall has perverted the idea and ideals of its numerous people with an economic splanchnic neurosthenia that makes them see brown instead of blue, minimizes that of "take" undermining munitizes that of "take," undermining their inherent moral fibre, weakened their god-given powers of resistance and making them a set of softies, void of thrift or initiative, minus the grit of their fore-fathers, and, in many instances unfit to even be classed as members of that proud race of Aryans who in past history have always been physical prowess.

Gall has made a monarch of politics, using power and plunder as its pawns on the chessboard of public peace and prosperity. It has turned many of our mighty men into methodical maulers, set social satellites ministering before the altars of mammon, standing on the pedestal of public peace and integrity, and in many instances, using power and plunder as its pawns on the chessboard of public peace and prosperity. It has turned many of our mighty men into methodical maulers, set social satellites ministering before the altars of mammon, standing on the pedestal of public peace and integrity, and in many instances, using power and plunder as its pawns on the chessboard of public peace and prosperity.

It's appalling how many of the so-called great men of today are but squawking ganders, occupying their places of prestige and power for a time by the unmitigated use of gall, riding like upon the crest of driftwood waves knowing not what snag their career may hit when the next election rolls round. We often speak of the fickleness of politics, when in reality it is merely a matter of folks finding a politician out and then taking another try at it. Good men often get trampled under foot and lose their opportunity of real statesmanlike service because they cannot "play to the galleries" as did their opponent.

It has been proven daily now there are plenty of self-important personages in America who know no more about political economy than a parrot does of Episcopal prayer, they couldn't tell a fundamental principal from a funny-bone, nor an economic thesis from an enchilada. Strange but true, it is often the case that the less a man knows of the science of government the more anxious he is to go to Congress, and if his display of gall is gorgeous enough, he'll get there.

But, as previously hinted at, the manifestation of gall which is today nationally attractive is that which gets a man on the Federal relief roll whether or not he is entitled to such favors. Many are, and we have all sympathetic appreciation for such instances; but on the other hand, the severest condemnation for those not so entitled.

There are plenty of naturally lazy folk today who, falling back upon the declaration that the Government owes them a living, presume to obtain that living in the easiest possible way and are content with a bare existence if it costs nothing in coin or exertion. Some of this class are publicly known; most of them are not; but each person's own conscience classifies him.

Gover Cleveland, a Democratic president, years ago declared it was the duty of citizens to support the State, rather than for the State to support the citizens; but the opposite idea prevails today. True, the government owes it to its citizens to furnish liberty of pursuit and equality of opportunity in achievement, citizens are entitled to governmental protection of their lives, business and homes; but in a nation whose government is of a democratic nature, such as is that of the United States, that government can never be any better than its citizens make it, and, in the final analysis, such government is exactly what its people will it to be. A democratic government must necessarily rely upon its people to be what it is rather than for the people to rely upon the government to make them what they would like to be.

Not so many years ago this country was populated with a hardy race of people who dared to do, to go forth amid privations innumerable, and to conquer and control. The blood coursing through the veins of those pioneers knew no defeat; but in numerous instances, such is not the case today. It used to be "where there is a will, there is a way"; but today it seems to be a case of "where there is a will, there is a will to take advantage of it. No doubt, the bowl of charity the Federal government is today setting before multiplied thousands of its citizens, many of whom are becoming voluntary dependents, is rapidly taking from them the pioneering spirit of their forefathers, afflicting them with enlargement of the liver and increasing their quantity of gall—and for demands in the future which even the most sanguine and loyal citizens can't possibly now diagnose.

Government expenditure of all kinds is financed by money taken from the earnings and reserves of industry, agriculture and business in general, and with no earnings to be taxed it is but a matter of time until any government will go bankrupt. The great fear of every loyal American citizen and property holder today is radical legislation. Much confidence has been lost in politicians and the manifest gall represented in the demands of many throws a cloud across the future horizon difficult to interpret.

Social service—relief forms of any governmental kind—is dangerous and debilitating, and yet more and stronger pressure is being brought to bear on state and national governments for enlarged distributions and for other distributions of different kinds.

Statisticians tell us there are 10,000,000 people out of work; that there are 5,000,000 young men and women between the ages of 18 and 25 out of school, unmarried and unemployed, while there are a total of many millions more on the government relief rolls of today—with others either wishing they were on or else planning by some ledgerman to get on. It is a tragic situation and not a delightful outlook.

It is not contemplated that this situation will result in revolution of any kind, but it is generally conceded that all such people so situated will degenerate emotionally, stagnate spiritually and lose their general morale as American citizens to the point of becoming wards of society. There is an inevitable limit to governmental doles, because there is an inevitable limit to the ability of property owners and business concerns, industry and agriculture to pay taxes. Clearly, it will soon be forced upon those citizens who are not on relief rolls and who have no desire for the government to furnish them with a living to generate and manifest their own GALL!

Steel Revolutionizes Springing on 1935 Automobiles

FOR the first time in the history of the automobile industry a short, leaf spring has been developed that is strong but resilient. Combined with other notable developments it provides a new method of springing which with weight redistribution affords better riding qualities. It has been made possible by the development of a revolutionary new type of steel.

In the past the great difference between the higher priced cars and those of lower price was always in the matter of ride. Wheelbase was considered the explanation, but the real reason was the fact that the front springs, being shorter, were stiff. An unusual characteristic of this spring made of the new type steel, known as "Mola," which was recently developed in the engineering laboratories of Chrysler Motors, is that it uses two main leaves, each of which is wrapped around the shackle bolt. The lower leaf is segmented at the center to allow for elongation. Another feature of this spring is that the leaves are thinner at the ends than at the center. The front springs have approximately the same frequency as the rear spring. This, and a redistribution of the car weight, places approximately the same load on the front and rear springs and results in equalized spring action. With this new system all parts of the car ride the same.

The first car in the low priced field to be equipped with the new type spring will be the 1935 Plymouth, a Chrysler Motors product. An important feature of the new steel spring is that not only is it soft and resilient, but it is also long-lived.

Further control of front and bounce is achieved by use of double-acting shock absorbers. They definitely add to the comfort of the passengers in the back seat. More positive measures have been taken in the 1935 Plymouth to eliminate side-sway by means of the torsion bar (side-sway eliminator) which acts as a third spring, to reinforce either spring when needed. It keeps the car on an even keel.

$10,140,000 Cotton Pool To Be Divided Immediately, Advice

Immediate payment of $10,140,000 to cotton producers who sold Bankhead Act certificates to the national pool has been promised by the AAA.

The sum, to be paid at the rate of $10 per bale on the certificates, will represent a partial payment with the remainder to be distributed following closing of the pool after demand for the tax-exemption certificates has ceased.

E. L. Deal, manager of the pool, said, "There still is a considerable demand for certificates and we do not want to close the pool for sales at this time. However, we are anxious to pay producers a portion of their interest in the pool without delay and have decided on the partial payment plan as the best means of expediting the movement of this money to interested producers."

Under the pool arrangement cotton growers holding tax-exemption certificates which they were unable to use because their production of cotton was not as high as their Bankhead Act allotments, were allowed to submit them to the AAA. Other producers who raised cotton in excess of quotas were sold the certificates at about $20 each.

In liquidating the pool the farmers selling certificates will receive their pro-rata share of money obtained in the disposal arrangement, and will receive a pro-rata share of all unused certificates for use next year. Operating expenses, estimated at 1 per cent, will be deducted from the total funds.

Up to the present time $12,194,662 has been received in Washington from sale of certificates with some yet to be sold. The $10,140,000 share of this total will be distributed to about 500,000 farmers in 17 of the 18 cotton growing states.

It costs more to be proud than to be generous.

THREE ONE HUNDRED THOUSANDTHS OF A CENT

That's all it costs per reader to put a two-line reader ad in the Journal. Total cost would be 12 cents for all readers, and you'd probably get it cheaper than that because there are several subscribers who report to us their personally paid for paper is read by from three to eight of their friends per week. Just think how much money the Journal is losing and how cheap you can get advertising in it!

School Lunches That Ring the Bell

SUPPOSE mothers were graded on their school lunch boxes—would you have made all A's last term? Would you have been promoted into a higher grade? Well, it's a new term, and like Johnny who is starting out with his new necktie and his new lunch-box, we have a chance to begin all over again.

If it's true, as tiresome teachers used to tell us, that we never get through learning and we go to school all through life, certainly dietetics is a course which mothers must specialize in from the time youngsters begin to eat until the time they begin to eat away from home. But it's not as easy as mere dietetics. They must major in dietetics and minor in psychology. For not only must the child be offered the correct foods for body building, but he must be led to like these correct foods. And that's not so easy.

Hot Lunch Preferable
For children who come home for lunch or buy a warm lunch in the school lunchroom—and these are the best conditions for the noon-day meal—the problem is simpler. For, at home, you have already worked out a way to make the proper foods most attractive and the atmosphere conducive to enjoying the meal. You no doubt save some gay little lunch-dishes —different from the dinner sort—and some cheerful china, which is not necessarily expensive china, but the kind that children enjoy eating from. You have flowers on the table, just as if you were serving Daddy at dinnertime, and you have some interesting things to talk about so that the moments fly merrily along until time to dash back to school. Or if there is a good school lunch-room, you no doubt see that Johnnie gets to eat there often. It is his club. The other fellows eat there—there's lots to talk over; the food is dietetically right and it tastes good because it's a change from home food.

Pack-and-Carry Lunch
But for the child who must carry his lunch to school, we want to make these suggestions which we hope will prove helpful:

First, plan the lunch so that it will be interesting and appetizing in appearance. Include foods which vary in shape, color and texture. An example of this would be two generous-sized sandwiches wrapped each separately in waxed paper—one red salmon and lettuce, one white bread cut in triangles, and the other a cream cheese and pimiento sandwich on whole wheat bread, cut with a circular cookie cutter; a fruit salad with a lid containing a fruit jar—fresh pineapple, canned pitted cherries and orange slices; a thermos containing a cold malted milk drink, which can be shaken again before drinking, with straw included; and some gay colored cellophane wrapped cookies, or tiny frosted cup cakes.

Second, vary the lunches so that no two days in the week are duplicates in any food on the school-menu. The way to do this is to make out the weekly menu on Saturday before you send in your grocery order. Or better, still, into the grocery store on Saturday and look around. You will find all sorts of new and intriguing foods for children—new cookies in tins to keep them fresh, new sandwich spreads in cans, new canned fruit juices, a variety of chocolate malted drinks, and new accessories such as paper napkins, waxed papers, etc., to make the lunch box neat and attractive.

Here are two suggestions for dietetic, delicious lunch-box menus:

Salmon or Tuna Fish Sandwich
Lettuce and Cream Cheese Sandwich
Chocolate Blanc Mange
Daisies or Figs
Milk

Deviled Ham Sandwich
Bacon and Tomato Sandwich
Chocolate Milk Shake
Baked Custard
Apple

'Mid Turmoil and Shouting—Happy New Year

EVERYWHERE... Here he is folks, the first picture of young Mr. Byrns, scheduled to make his appearance on the streets of Muleshoe next Tuesday evening... He will be startled, as all young new years have been, at the turmoil and shouting, wishing all things good from him, by all. Scenes; dancers gay and a New York New Year street crowd of yesterday.

Byrns—McCormack—Bankhead

WASHINGTON... "In the bag," say political experts here regarding the election of Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee (right) to the Speakership of the House at the opening of Congress. Interest is now centered in the battle for the floor leadership, said to be between Rep. John W. McCormack (D.) of Mass. (Top left) and Rep. Wm. Bankhead (D.) Ala. (bottom left).

Most Photographed Model

NEW YORK... Six years ago Miss Grace Moore (above), came down to New York from a Canadian Girls' School and started in modeling. Now she ranks first as New York's most photographed model.

Buddy Also Wallops

CHICAGO... Buddy Barr (above), 240 pound kid brother of world champion Max Baer, would rather be a crooner than a fighter. It is reported that some of Frank Ketter's seconds "kidded" Buddy about his vocal aspirations... so Buddy knocked Frankie out in 29 seconds in the first of four scheduled rounds.

Empire of the Inca

The empire of the Inca extended through the Andean region from northern Ecuador south to what is now Central Chile, and reached up toward the crest of the Andes, on the Chilean side. It did not extend into the present territory of the Argentine republic.

We are living in a period of revolutionary change, and ideas which have been accepted or taken for granted for centuries are now being called into question.

Government Tax On Checks Was Stopped On New Years Day

This is a happy New Year in at least one sense—to many business men who are habitual check-writers, as well as to the numerous bankers who are vocational check-handlers, for the Federal excise tax on checks automatically died January 1 and the two-cent bank check charge consequently went with it, according to Jess Osborn, cashier of the Muleshoe State Bank, which handled about $1,600 annually of this excise tax for Uncle Sam. It is estimated that this tax on approximately 2,250,000,000 written checks produced the Federal government the sum of $45,000,000 annually. The tax never has been in favor, and it has been defeated in numerous ways by both individuals and firms. Originally it was estimated to yield $100,000,000; but never approached half that amount. It will not likely be re-popularity as a tax measure.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON THE NEW YEAR

Washington, Dec. 24—Looking ahead to the New Year is the principal pastime in Washington just now. Everybody is asking, "What comes next?" The new Congress is beginning to shape up. The efforts of Vice-President Garner to make Sam Rayburn Speaker have failed. The President preferred Joe Byrns of Tennessee, but didn't say so loud enough, so Joe gets it. The big fight in the House Democratic caucus will be a three-cornered one, between Representative James M. Meade of Buffalo, N. Y., William B. Bankhead of Jasper, Ala., and John W. McCormack of Dorchester, Mass., for the floor leadership. Senator Wright Patman of Texas, the big bonus man, has been counting noses and reports enough votes for the immediate cashing of the adjusted compensation certificates to pass the bonus appropriation over a Presidential veto. Administration has thrown up its hands and is trying to work out some method of distinguishing veterans who are in actual need from those who are not. The hope is to get Congress to accept some bonus scheme that will only cost the taxpayers about five hundred million dollars, instead of the two thousand million the full payment would cost.

Those War Profits "Smart politics" is what the folks on Capitol Hill call the President's proposal to submit a law prohibiting profits from war. It is pointed out that the senators who have been getting the most credit out of the "exposures" of war profits made by the Senate investigating committee are both Republicans. Nye of North Dakota and Vandenberg of Michigan. This is a Democratic administration, so why is it Republicans are allowed to get away with anything? What the President has done is to haul out the blue-prints of a plan that has been kicking around Washington since the Wilson administration, providing that in time of war everything, not only soldiers, must be subject to the nation's activities. Martial law in effect, for the entire populace if we ever get into another scrap. Bernard M. Baruch, head of the War Industrial Control Administration, originated the plan. Presidents Wilson, Harding and Coolidge warmly endorsed it and President Hoover actually had the bills drawn ready to offer to Congress, just about the time his Congress ran out on him. How much farther the present plan will go nobody knows yet. The biggest profits made by American industry in the last year have come from selling supplies to the Allies before we got into it.

Housecleaning Coming to the front is a gigantic project based on the report of the National Resources Board, for spending upward of 100 billion dollars over a period of years in such things as straightening and cleaning up rivers, eliminating soil erosion, developing horsepower of all the nation's waterways, taking over all so-called "marginal" and sub-marginal land, conserving mineral resources and in general giving the entire United States a thorough housecleaning.

Another important subject which will call for Congressional attention is the proposed extension of the Federal government's powers in the war on crime. Something like a Federal training school for detectives and a national Scotland Yard are being talked about. The purpose is to eliminate not only ordinary crime but to clean up the drug traffic situation, which is becoming serious all over the nation.

Administration officials are jubilant over the overwhelming majority of votes given by the cotton planters in favor of continued restriction of cotton production. It is much more pleasing than the results of the corn-hog plebiscite. It is taken as assurance that what the people want is to be regulated. Look for more regulatory legislation at the coming session. Among other things, there will be presented to Congress, proposals for the modification and continuance in a modified form of NEA. It is to be noted that a remark of Chief Justice Hughes from the bench the other day has disturbed many officials here. The case in court was one of violation of an executive order under the NEA, and the Chief Justice asked where that law was to be found in any Act of Congress. The executive orders which have, it is contended, the force of law, are being compiled. They will make a book of about 10,000 pages. Congress is pretty sure to be asked to give its sanction to many of the more important ones so as to avert further embarrassing questions from the Supreme bench.

FEDERAL AGRICULTURAL CENSUS BEGINS WEDNESDAY, VALUABLE WORK TO CLOSE BY FEBRUARY

(Continued from page 1) newspapers, farm publications, radio broadcasting stations, state and county farm agencies and organizations and educational institutions in disseminating information concerning the importance of this farm census, more than a million copies of the sample schedules have been distributed to farmers. Those who do not have sample schedules are urged to write, phone or call at the farm census headquarters in their districts, procure a copy, study the questions and have their records ready when the enumerators call. "The headquarters for the First District of Texas is in the Federal building at Amarillo; the Second District is in the Federal building at Lubbock. "The bureau desires to call attention to the law which provides that the individual return made by each farmer is an absolutely confidential government report and to emphasize the fact that no individual figures will be used for taxation purposes nor given to any tax official. All enumerators, as well as all Census employees, are sworn to secrecy and are required to read the law and the severe penalties established for any disclosure of information. Only sworn employees of the Census Bureau have access to the files. Section 9 of the Fifteenth Decennial Census Act provides penalties for failure to answer questions asked by enumerators or for giving false information. "Enumerators are legal residents of the districts which they canvass. Some, if not all, of the farmers residing in an enumeration district will know the enumerator personally and they will do well to see that an accurate report is made for that district. With the program carried on by the government to assist agriculture inaccurate reports might very readily reflect to the disadvantage of the farmers in that particular district.

TAX EATS LAND REVENUES Tax obligations last year almost entirely consumed the obligations of real estate, according to report of the National Committee on Real Estate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Information brought before the Texas Senate Tax Investigation board last week during its session revealed that real property in Texas produces only eight per cent of the total net annual income, yet bears 64.2 per cent of all tax revenues collected by state and local governments. Last year the total income from real estate, net, was $4,754,000,000, and its tax bill was $4,563,000,000, there being only 95-100ths of one per cent net income earned after taxes were paid.
