Little Vickie Illingworth, third-grader, is a child commonly interested in bird affairs.

The planned orbital flight of Astronaut Gordon Cooper captured her fancy and she asked her parents — and Mrs. Bobby Illingworth — to be sure and taken her in time to see the televised blast-off.

The little girl jumped out of bed and sat before the television set in the middle of the night. Her main fear was that the necessary departure for the pool would cause her to miss the climactic moment. She went well, though, and the countdown neared when she cried aloud to her younger brother, still asleep in a nearby bed, "Come quickly, James, they're about to shoot him."

The lad, more accustomed to gun-slinging Westerns, probes into outer space, raised himself on an elbow, eyed the television, and said: "Shoot him? What's he done?"

The Jack Smiths have more than their share of leg trouble.

He entered Hendricks Memorial Hospital Monday of last week with phlebitis, a blood clot in the left leg, and a recurrent attack of gout. His good wife, Jessie, was having to keep chores tending home North of Cottonwood and still be with her husband as much as possible. On Friday night she fell and broke her right ankle. She was rushed to Abilene and now her husband's room.

Whereas Jack has his trouble with the gout to accompany the phlebitis ailment, helpmate developed a rash on the ankle cast and it had to be removed and a cast utilized. Both now have double ailment, but friends say it's a joy to visit them in room 341 at Hendricks and for the wisecracks about each intends to do to the other's crutches when they're released, probably next week end.

A good sense of humor is a long health tonic and both Smith patients are well-pleased.

Briefs:

Cross Plains' new bakery is off to a spectacular start. So much construction and repair is underway here that shortage of craftsmen has developed.

Two new homes are being planned, one for Mrs. S. O. Montgomery on North Main street and the other for the late Kelley family along the eastern edge of the city on Highway 36.

Sentiment is keen here for publishing a municipal library. Cost of a part-time librarian would be split between the city and county.

A bill is before the Legislature which, if passed, would require the redistricting of Texas Counties, of which Callahan is one.

A lot of people have worked hard in raising funds for livestock exhibition building in Cross Plains. Particularly outstanding thus far, though, have been: Fred Tunnell, Edwin Baum, Nathan Sterling Odom and Ed Edgington.

Increased gas rates to begin in July will cost the average householder about $5.00 per year than at present.

Gene Rhodes Made Band Booster Head

Gene Rhodes was elected president of the Band Boosters Club at final meeting of the season Monday night.

Other officers chosen for the ensuing year are: Dan Johnston, vice-president; Mrs. Pat McNeel, Jr., secretary and Mrs. R. E. (Hick) Edgington, treasurer.

Next meeting of the organization will be Aug. 19.

WORK AT REST HOME TO RESUME SHORTLY

Mayor Ted Souder was told in a telephone conversation with Garner Karnes of Ranger one night last week that work would be resumed shortly on the rest home being built in Cross Plains.

At present walls are up to roof level and windows installed.

NEW BUFF TUTOR — James Ray Farmer is the new Cross Plains High School football coach. He and his family are expected to move here soon from Waxahachie.

Heavy Rains, Hail And Wind Hit Cottonwood

Spotted showers, accompanied by damaging wind in some localities, swept over the Cross Plains area Sunday night.

In Cross Plains the fall amounted to only .60. At the Cottonwood store, though, it was two inches and at the V. I. Spivey place, one mile east of Cottonwood, precipitation measured three inches. Further west at Emmett Price's place five inches fell.

Additional rain Tuesday night and to 9 a.m. Wednesday dumped 3.27 inches of moisture in Cross Plains. Hail damage was extensive.

Damaging winds ripped through the Cottonwood community, unroofing outbuildings at the Claude Joy, K. B. Robbins and Bob Joy places. A garage at the home of Mrs. Rosa Lovell was blown down and a shed roof ripped down at Coffey's Store. A small outbuilding belonging to Harvey Wilcoxon was blown away. Some hail also fell in the Cottonwood sector, damaging vegetable gardens and fruit trees.

Rising Star reported two inches of rain and destructive wind.

Reports from Cross Cut indicate the showers were spotted in that vicinity. At the Gerge Wright and Elvie Byrd places it measured three inches. Les Byrd, however, received only an inch and one half and at the August Garlitz place only .60 fell. No damaging wind or hail fell near Cross Cut.

Only a trace fell at Rowden Store.

At the W. E. Lusk place at Sabanno one inch was reported with no damage of any type. Mrs. W. P. Armstrong in the same vicinity received .60.

At Fore's Store in Pioneer the fall was the same as in Cross Plains, also .60 with no bad wind or hail.

Outbuildings were damaged at the N. L. Long farm at Dressy and hail fell at the Ed Koenig place between here and Burkett. Crops in the vicinity of Fred Stacey's farm suffered some hail damage.

Rainfall here this month has totaled 1.07 inches, bringing the aggregate for the year to 4.41 inches in Cross Plains.

Screwworm Hot Spots In Eastland And Callahan Counties

New outbreaks of screwworms are now being labeled "hot spots" and are receiving immediate attention by teams of scientists and technicians. Isolated cases have been found in Callahan, Eastland and Comanche Counties within the past two weeks. Infestation was discovered in Coleman County nearly a month ago. Dr. James B. Henderson, who is coordinating the fight on screwworms over a wide area of West and Central Texas, said in Cross Plains last week end that Brown County thus far appears completely clean.

First case this year for Eastland County, according to Oscar Schaefer of Sabanno, was in the Gorman locale. Callahan's first verified case showed up on the Windham ranch near Oplin. Both were discovered last week, as also was the initial infestation in Comanche County.

Each of the hot spots brought a team of technicians to spray all livestock nearby. The workers, dispatched by Texas Animal Health Commission and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, also marked off at the spot of contamination a 70-foot cross made with lime. Airplanes were sent from San Antonio to release 100,000 sterile flies at the site of infestation to breed with females and thereby control new birth. Similar releases will be made twice weekly for a period of four weeks, ultimately releasing 800,000 cobalt-treated male flies at each spot, said to be enough to serve four square miles.

Henderson asked yesterday that farmers and ranchers of Eastland, Callahan, Brown and Coleman Counties examine their herds and flocks carefully and more often than usual. Any wound believed to contain screwworms, he said, should have samples taken from it immediately and sent to Screwworm Eradication Program, Survey Data Center, P. O. Box 969, Mission, Tex.

Henderson reminded that all County Agents have special containers for shipment of the suspected screwworm samples. These are available free and no postage is required for mailing. "Any type of bottle, however, will do," Henderson said. "It should contain enough alcohol or water to preserve the worms."

Any Eastland County farmer needing information may telephone Schaefer on the local system by dialing 643-4321.

With close cooperation between livestock owners and scientists, Henderson believes that the expensive pest may be completely eradicated in Texas this year.

Every case here this year has originated near some dry stream and Henderson believes that the worms have resulted from flies overwintering. If this is the case, he opines, the problem is near solution.

"We'll one day conquer the screwworm problem in Texas just as it was done in Florida," Henderson concluded.

Callahan Farmers Reject Control On Wheat Crops

Callahan County farmers voiced a resounding no Tuesday in a nationwide referendum on stronger controls of wheat acreage and allowables.

Only one of five polling places in this county favored the Department of Agriculture's plan for rigid regulation. The single plurality was tallied at Cross Plains, and here the number of proponents fell short of the necessary two-thirds which is required for passage over the nation.

Vote by boxes in this county:

	For	Against
Baird	36	37
Oplin	13	40
Eula	23	77
Putnam	30	44
Cross Plains	37	20
Absentee	4	2
Totals	143	220

A strong fight against the administration's proposal was waged by the Farm Bureau, which is reported to have a membership of about 250 in this county.

The proposal called for a reduction of about 10 per cent in wheat acreage, offering $2 a bushel price support for 80 per cent of production and the remainder at $1.30 a bushel.

J. C. Earp of the Callahan County ASC office in Baird said Tuesday night that if the proposal fails to carry by a two-thirds vote over the nation, supports and controls would remain with support price at 50 per cent of parity or about $1.20 a bushel. A farmer could plant all the wheat he desired but without price supports.

Officials holding the referendum in this county Tuesday were:

Baird: Spencer Price, E. A. Franke and Ernest Higgins.

Oplin: Oren Baines, Lowell Johnson and Robert T. Wills.

Eula: Hilton Tarrant, Robert Hicks and W. C. Morris.

Putnam: John McIntyre, Mark Burnam and John Petty.

Cross Plains: Vernon Spencer, Fred Stacy and Glenn Payne.

$4,000 Paid For Street Maintainer

A new street maintainer was bought by the City of Cross Plains Tuesday night at a cost of $4,000 and the old maintainer.

The equipment was purchased from Patton Equipment Co. of Abilene on a $400 down payment and 12 monthly installments of $300 each plus interest.

The equipment has been used here the past week on a trial basis by city employees. It is a larger machine than that which the city traded in.

Memorial Service Set Sunday For Burkett And Adams Cemeteries

The dead of Burkett and Adams Cemeteries will be honored with special memorial services Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

William Curtis Henderson of Junction will be speaker for the program which is to be held in the picturesque Burkett Cemetery.

Following the formal program a business meeting will be held for the ensuing year.

Everyone interested in the maintenance of the two well-known cemeteries, where hundreds of pioneer settlers in this section are buried, is invited to be present. Particularly urged to attend are those who have friends and kinsmen interred in either of the two burial plots.

$4,119 Needed To Build Exhibit Barn

An areawide financial campaign to raise funds to construct an exhibition building in Cross Plains, to house Callahan County Junior Livestock Shows, stood at $10,881 Wednesday morning. An additional $4,119 will be required to reach the necessary $15,000.

The barn, to be built of colored sheet metal — the same type as may be seen on the West Texas Fair Grounds in Abilene — will be 80 by 100 feet and located on seven acres of land, donated by Mrs. E. I. Vestal and members of her family, in memory of the late Mr. Vestal, a long-time school trustee and staunch booster of upgrading local livestock. The site is one mile north of town and fronts on State Highway 206. It is in the shape of a triangle and has county roads on the other two sides, offering desirable access.

Original plans were to try to complete the fund raising before the end of May, however, Edwin Baum, general chairman of the financial drive, reported yesterday that several areas are yet unworked.

"We have the promise of solicitors that this will be done in a few days," he said.

Thus far 92 contributions have been made to the project. Donors are listed hereunder.

Clyde Man Writes Of Atwell Pioneer

Noel Black of Clyde, an early settler in the Atwell area who is conversant with the history of that locality, contributes a brief biographical sketch of one of the pioneer settlers who resided in that community.

Mr. Black's reminiscences follow.

In the early 90's a quiet, industrious widow known as Mammy Stephens brought her family of three sons and two daughters to Atwell. They moved into a double-log house on the farm of her father, Uncle Bucky Houston.

Diphtheria claimed the life of one of the little girls shortly after the family's arrival.

The hard-working Stephens family rented a farm, owned by John Heyser. It was there that the children, under Mammy's watchcare, developed into fine, upstanding citizens. Mammy eventually became the owner of two tracts of land and she and her brood prospered.

The eldest of Mammy's daughters married Gus Black, himself a member of an early-settling family in the Atwell area. Others of the Stephens children moved to California and in later years Mammy joined them there. She was badly burned in an accidental fire, which eventually claimed her life.

It was rugged pioneers like Mammy Stephens, dedicated to the principles of Christianity that won the west and made this country great.

Mrs. Ashby White of Clyde was a business visitor in Cross Plains Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thate and daughter of Abilene visited relatives here and at Burkett Mother's Day.

Higher Gas Rates Start Here In July

Beginning July 1, increased rates will become effective

Councilmen in regular Tuesday night voted to raise the minimum charge from 45 cents to $2, however, the new schedule under the allotment for the price is now 1,000 cents

The new rate will be 50 cents through 8,000 feet and 45 cents per 1,000 feet above that. Rates are 45 cent per 1,000 and 40 cents per 1,000.

The increased cost of gas to the city under the recently negotiated contract for the next seven years demanded this raise in the rate, said Mayor Underwood, Tuesday night.

The vote to raise rates was by a 5-2 margin, said Mayor Underwood, Tuesday night.

County Agent Asks Care With Samples

Livestockmen sending larvae specimens to screwworm eradication headquarters at Mission are urged by County Agent Pat C. Garner to be sure the information sheet that should accompany the sample is filled out completely and accurately.
Eradication officials have reported that numerous samples are received with no information included. Some have been identified as screwworms.
Garner stated that prompt action is taken whenever an infestation is confirmed. In most instances, additional sterile flies are dispersed over the infested farm or ranch and livestock near the infested premises are sprayed at program expense.
Mrs. C. R. Cook and Mrs. George B. Scott were in Brown- wood Monday.

Local Riflemen Third At Match

Cross Plains Explorer Post 81 took third place at the first annual rifle meet of the North Central District of the Chisholm Trail Boy Scouts Council held Sunday at Abilene. Competition was at the old Camp Berkeley Rifle Range.

The Cross Plains team was composed of Bobby McMillan, Mack Ingram, Donnie Needham and Ronnie Rhodes. The local shooters compiled 111 points out of a possible 200 and were bested by only two groups from Abilene. The winning team scored 129 points.

Each team was composed of four Explorers firing from prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions.

The meet was conducted under the auspices of the North Central District camping and activities with James Bowers as range officer and Dr. Tholbert Smith Jr. as scorer.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Burchfield were in Fort Worth over the week end where they visited his father, R. Burchfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Welty and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bowlin and family.

SENIORS MAKE $97.45 WITH DOG SHOW CONCESSIONS

Cross Plains High School seniors netted $97.45 from operation of a concession stand at the Fox Hunter's Dog Show held here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ray, former local residents, have recently bought a farm near Hammond, Mo., and moved there from Farmington, N. M. Mr. Ray is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Bibbs of Cross Plains.

Mrs. Myrtle Bibbs had as her her guests this week her daughter, Mrs. E. V. Elam of Corpus Christi, and her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Walker, Jr., of Farmington, N. M. The Walkers formerly lived here and enjoyed visiting with old friends.

First Wheat Sold; Brings $2 Bushel

First new crop wheat this year was sold in Cross Plains Thursday by Raymond DeBusk. It was bought by Gary Mill & Elevator Company and brought $2 per bushel.

DeBusk reaped 694 bushels from a 40 acre field near Cross Cut, for a 17.33 bushel per acre average. The grain tested 64.

Fewer than normal oat crops will be harvested here this year. Late freezes and dry weather are said to have killed much of that crop. Wheat, a hardier plant, will be gathered by most farmers but yields are expected to be below average, particularly on the latter harvests.

Others selling wheat in Cross Plains before combining was stopped by showers included: O. B. Byrd, Cross Cut, 1,540 bushels of wheat; Rob Walker, Admiral, 124 bushels of wheat; J. R. Nichols, Bangs, 458 bushels of wheat; L. M. Baum, Cross Plains, 425 bushels of wheat and Charlie Sowell, Cross Cut, 300 bushels of wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robbins of Anson visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Robbins, Sunday.

The rain which was much appreciated came between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. More than two inches fell. Wind was very strong and blew several barn roofs off and blew down several mesquite trees.

The Workers' Conference met at the Cottonwood Baptist Church Monday night with a nice crowd attending and an inspiring program.

Mrs. Jack Smith had the misfortune of injuring her ankle, possibly a fracture, recently. She is in the hospital at Hendrick Memorial at Abilene.

5 Local Students Show Scholarship

Five Cross Plains High School students were announced Monday among high scorers for freshmen and sophomores throughout Texas, in a recent National Educational Development Testing Program.

The local five were declared among the top 25 per cent of their educational level in this state and each received a certificate of recognition.

Four local freshmen — all boys — were included in the high scorers. They are: Rick Latson, Skipper Nichols, Charles McCowen and Gene Thomas.

Only sophomore to win the high rating was Mary Louise Wise.

The National Educational Development Tests are only for those students who volunteer to participate. A $1 fee is assessed for those taking the examination, reports Billy Mac Coppinger, high school principal.
