P. T. A. MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

AUDITORIUM OF BAPTIST CHURCH OPENED SUNDAY

Methodists and Others Give Congratulations At Service

Every seat was taken and many were standing in the rear at the inaugural service held in the new auditorium of the Baptist church last Sunday night...

The evening program was one of appreciation and thankfulness through out, appreciation for the handsome new structure and thankfulness to all who had a part in its construction...

A very appropriate solo, "I Found the Model Church," was rendered by Mrs. Jim Cook, a duet by Miss Sibyl Coker and Miss Ida Lou Glaze...

Harold Morgan Was Severely Burned As Oven Gas Exploded

Thursday night of last week Harold Morgan, local baker, was severely burned when a gas explosion occurred in the Muleshoe bakery.

The blaze had accidentally gone out in the large baking oven and when Mr. Morgan opened the door the explosion knocked him down, his head striking on a shelf of a bread rack...

The jar of the explosion loosened the roof on the building and raised a six by six post about three inches from a concrete floor, also turning on the compression at the Texaco service station two doors north of the bakery.

Mr. Morgan managed to get to the telephone but was unable to hold the receiver to call for assistance. Mrs. Morgan was in the back of the bakery at the time of the explosion...

At the last report Mr. Morgan is at his home here and is doing as well as could be expected from such a severe accident.

Farmers May Get Loans For Putting In Irrigation Wells

Congressman George Mahon has advised that it will be possible for West Texas farmers to secure loans under Title 1 of the Federal Housing act to put down irrigation wells on their farms...

The act provides that the Federal Housing administration may insure loans made by local banks to home owners for the purpose of making improvements up to $2,000. A farmer may apply to his local banker for funds to put down a well and provide equipment...

Of course, the local banks would be the judges of the soundness and desirability of this type of loan. The future policy of the Federal Housing administration in regard to these loans can not be predicted with certainty.

P. T. A. MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers association will be held Monday evening, April 22, at the Muleshoe High school auditorium at eight o'clock. A very interesting program is being arranged...

$500,000 OF $150,000,000, ASKED TO COMBAT WIND EROSION IN THE PANHANDLE AREA HAS BEEN GIVEN

Strip Listing and Planting To Begin Soon As Possible; Government May Withdraw Land From Agriculture.

The sum of $500,000 has been allocated to the Texas Panhandle area by the Federal government to combat wind erosion, according to announcement made by Lawrence Westbrook, of the relief department at Washington. Following the visitation of delegates from states adversely affected by recent dust storms, President Roosevelt stated as much money as was reasonably needed would be earmarked for that battle. The sum of $150,000,000 was asked for by the committee.

New Mexico has been given an allotment of $400,000, and similar allotments as noted, has been made other western states affected by dust blowing. Listing of the wind-swept farm land has been suggested as the first step in the emergency program with planting of certain crops to follow as soon as possible after good rains.

Congress already has laid the foundation for soil erosion work. The Senate agriculture committee today approved an erosion bill and the House already has passed a measure drafted by Jones and Dempsey to make the soil erosion service a permanent organization in the Department of Agriculture. Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace said today, it would take 10 years to solve the problem of wind erosion on the western plains.

Wallace said much could be done effectively to check the damage this year if the region gets normal April and May rains, but that it will take years to get a real solution by returning the area to grass. Buffalo grass, he said, is adapted to that district, starts slowly. He said it would be a matter of starting strips of sod and letting the other areas take care of themselves.

It also provides for the control of marginal and sub-marginal land, and such temporarily abandoned farms as may prove a menace to adjacent farmlands. Lands not suited to agricultural purposes would be retired from production and returned to native sod as possible. Planting of stoloniferous grain sorghums and other emergency programs, developed by the Dalhart erosion station, directed by H. F. Patton, would be put into immediate practice.

PROCLAMATION Spring Fire Prevention Clean-Up Week

The week of April 22 to 27 inclusive, is designated as Spring Fire Prevention Clean-Up Week.

Every citizen should have a wholesome pride in his home city, its streets playgrounds, parks and buildings. Homes and surrounding buildings freshly painted with well kept lawns and gardens increases property values and intelligently cleans up the community increases cheer, courage and confidence, and removes fire hazards.

I, therefore proclaim April 22 to 27 inclusive, as Clean-Up Week, and respectfully ask for the co-operation of every citizen of Muleshoe.

TOM H. DAVIS, Mayor City of Muleshoe, Texas.

SAND SILT ADDS FERTILITY TO THE MISS STEWART DEMONSTRATES TILING RICH GARDEN PLOTS OF BAILEY COUNTY

Miss Alma Stewart, recently appointed home demonstration agent for Bailey county hasn't been on the job very long, yet long enough to discover that Bailey county folks are substituting pasture pool for garden soil, and that many new and enlarged gardens are going in during the coming spring weeks.

Despite the spring sandstorms, several women already have hot beds in action, plenty of onions and other early hardy plants have already been stuck in the soil and are reaching upward toward the air and sunlight with their little cotyledonous hands for additional strength to support the growing stems, and, as the days become warmer more and more varieties of plants will be finding their way into the rich loamy soil for summer meals or for planting to be used during the coming fall and winter.

Indeed, some of the women are planning especially good gardens this year. They are counting big on the new soil they are getting via the sandstorm route, some claiming from an eighth to a quarter of an inch of new dirt beneath their garden plots. No matter that they specially need it, for most South Plains gardens are already extremely fertile, but this fine clay from the hills of Western Nebraska and black loam from the valleys of Kansas that has been visiting here this spring and forgetting to return, is just like living in the famous valley of the River Nile when it has one of its periodical overflows which leaves that rich alluvial deposit that always results in bumper crops being grown.

Flour and meat, as well as some other articles of diet, are now rapidly advancing in prices; but Bailey county women are not worrying, because they are planning serving plenty of vegetables on their tables this spring and summer. Every farm home that has a windmill and most of them have, also has a garden lot beside it. Hardware men are already selling lengths of iron pipe and garden hose for piping the water from the tank into the garden, and Miss Stewart is giving demonstrations of how to make tile for subirrigating these gardens as rapidly as she can meet with the various clubs in this county.

TO GIVE MAY FESTIVAL

Juveniles, members of the third, fourth and fifth grades, Muleshoe public schools, will celebrate May Day in typical Springtime form, frolicking on Court house lawn from 9:30 to 7:30 p. m., of May 1.

Indications For Light Docket and Small Jury Probe.

The Spring term of Bailey County District court will convene here Monday, May 6, Judge R. C. Joiner, presiding, it being his first session of court to be held here since his election last year.

Present indications are that both civil and criminal dockets will be rather light this term, very few new cases having been filed and not many cases holding over from the Fall term, according to County Attorney Cecil H. Tate, who also states that indication now are the Grand jury will not be called upon for much investigation of a criminal nature.

Following are the citizens summoned to appear at the court house May 6th for Grand Jury service: J. E. Embry, Mervin Witterding, E. T. Brayer, Clarence Whitte, Roy Sheriff, N. R. Harding, M. E. JOE MARRY DIED IN LUBBOCK HOSPITAL FROM RECENT FALL

Joe Mary, 30, Plainview motorcycle policeman, who piloted the booster visitors to Muleshoe early last week, died Friday night of last week in a Lubbock hospital from injuries received between here and Littlefield after the delegation had left Muleshoe.

It is said that Mary's motorcycle either hit a bad place in the detour road or else skidded, throwing him off, severely lacerating his head and face and fracturing his skull. Following discovery of the unfortunate man, made by Editor Hunsucker of Amherst, he only had momentary flashes of consciousness.

TEXAS GETS $2,721,075 FOR RELIEF WORK DURING MONTH

Harry L. Hophens, Washington relief administrator, last Saturday allotted $2,721,075 for relief work in Texas during the month of April, explaining this allotment also included funds previously advanced the state for relief purposes of all kinds. New Mexico received $760,895 relief funds.

KIWANIANS IN FAVOR OF GOVT 40 ACRE FARMS

Princess Selected, R. L. Brown Is Director W. T. C. C.

At the Kiwanis meeting held Friday noon of last week, C. F. Moeller, Muleshoe city commissioner, chairman of the Bailey County Relief committee, and all round boosting citizen, unfolded a dream of Utopian paradise before the attending members whereby, exceptions and realizing the virtues of this particular valley, he was anxious to have some of that money spent here in northern Bailey county where exist the greatest opportunities for obtaining wealth, health and happiness.

Therefore, he envisioned several hundred acres of land cut up into 40 acre tracts each, a row of shade trees planted around the outside, within a circle a row of fruit trees, then another row of grapes—for wind erosion protection as well as enjoying the salubriousness of the deep shade beneath their umbrageous bows and obtaining fruit therefrom. Each tract would be cut into four quarters, upon one of them being the residential location, another quarter devoted to raising alfalfa, still another for pasture and yet another for truck crops of a diversified kind—all of which would be freely irrigated by a well of shallow lift, and for which this area is already noted.

(Turn to page eight please) Business Conditions Continue Favorable Regardless of Dust Business and favorable business sentiment are both holding up well in Muleshoe regardless of the all too frequent dust storms prevailing over this southwest area, and Easter trade is swinging along in fine style. Friday of last week was reported an exceptionally good buying day in Muleshoe, while the following day, Saturday, witnessed more auto parked on the streets of this county seat than for some time past. Dust storms may obscure Easter window displays in mercantile establishments, but folks know that period is just around the corner, and they do not hesitate to step inside and make appraisal and purchases of desired dresses, bonnets, etc. Auto dealers continue selling numerous cars, and dealers also report tractors running full time and those with irrigation plants on their places using them now, all of which calls for big quantities of liquid fuel. Optimism throughout the nation seems to be paramount. Hogs have jumped on the market at a top price of $9.40 per cwt. wheat has touched the $1.00 per bushel price; silver has soared from 64.64 cents to 71.11 cents per ounce under presidential order, the big $4,880,000,000 relief bill has been passed and signed, and Congress is going ahead in jubilant manner toward other rectifications of the economic condition. Hines Succeeds Ely On St. Hi-way Commission Named A S Chairman. Harry Hines, a citizen and a strong personal friend of Governor James V. Alred while a resident of Wichita Falls, was last Friday appointed as member and chairman of the State Highway commission, a member of the U. S. Highway commission, and a member of the U. S. Highway committee on international relations soon to be held in England. Ely will continue to serve on the commission until Hines qualifies for the position. Application has been made to the Department of Interior for establishing a national park in the Chisos mountains of the Big Bend country; along the Rio Grande river.

FINE COATING OF SILT ADDED TO SOUTH PLAINS LAND BY THE SAND STORMS PROMISE ABUNDANT CROPS

Reading that Secretary Wallace recently said it took about 400 years of average weather to deposit one inch of soil on the land, several farmers around Muleshoe are wondering if the recent sandstorms are not a blessing in disguise, since most of them claim they are getting more dirt than they are losing.

At any rate, many of the irrigation farmers of this section are now taking advantage of this rich new plant food that is being deposited on their land and are wetting it down from their pumps so as to hold it for future crop service.

While no one has even estimated the approximate amount of rich alluvial silt that has been deposited over the Plains area this spring, since sandstorms came in vogue, yet it is generally conceded this already rich territory has been made richer. Some farmers insist they have at least an inch of new dirt on their farms, but the depth of new soil gained by these spring blows is more generally placed at one-eighth inch.

Agriculture experts claim this silt is exceptionally rich in plant food value and if farmers will seek to hold it by proper listing, contouring and terracing, when liquidified by rain, it will add its nutritious value to the soil content and become of inestimable value toward growing larger and more luxurious crops in this section.

It seems to be the general opinion of experts who are assiduously studying these sandstorms that more soil is being blown into this area than is blowing out. Placed under a microscope, the grains of this silt is found to be infinitesimally small, most of them measuring only about one sixty-fourth of a millimeter in diameter, some of it being analyzed as blowing in here from the glacial period, rich in sodium salts, and because of the extreme smallness of the silt grains, will be readily soluble in water, quickly giving out its nutritious elements to the tiny rootlets of plants which suck it up for the coming crops.

Other measurements officially taken also indicate that these sandstorms average a travel rate of from 10 to 15 miles per hour, reaching upward from 1,000 to 5,000 feet, tho an increase of the velocity to 35 miles per hour will also lift the sand up from 10 to 16 thousand feet into the upper strata of atmosphere.

Dean A. H. Leidigh, of Tech college, Lubbock, in commenting upon the benefit of recent sandstorms, said: "Most of the dust, or silt, apparently comes from eastern and southeastern Colorado, central western Kansas and the great plains area to the north. Part may have come from as far north as Wyoming.

However, most of those in touch with soil values agree that the deposits will enrich to some extent, at least, this area. The question seems to be one of depth and conservation, rather than the value of the soil.

"In my opinion, this silt is worth from five to fifteen wagon loads of barnyard fertilizer," Dean Leidigh said in a discussion of the value of the soil. A thousand pounds of fertilizer per acre is a fair wagon load. That is, if we are getting a sixteenth of an inch, the soil is enriched as much as if five wagon loads of fertilizer per acre were spread; if an eighth of an inch, up to fifteen wagon loads.

The silt is lighter than sand and is easier to slough off. Sand has more silica in it. The dust is very fine. Dean Leidigh gave figures on the nitrate phosphoric acid (not phosphorus) and potash contents, in percentage, of the several types of soil. One is known as the Colby, Kansas, silt loam, the analysis being made by W. B. Pope. The analysis of the Cheyenne Wells, Colo. loam was made by C. J. Hough.

Type	Nitrate	P. Acid	Potash
Colby silt	.16	.15	2.23
Wellington	.09	.09	2.23
Cheyenne	.146	.012	2.59
Average	.13	.085	2.42

In comparison, Dean Leidigh explained that: "A bale of cotton contains about the following: 75.1 pounds of nitrogen, 26.9 pounds of phosphoric acid and 60 pounds of potash. Leaves, stems, and roots removed, the seed and burrs represent about 44 pounds of nitrogen, 18.5 pounds of phosphoric acid and 23 pounds of potash."

"A cubic foot of water weighs 60 pounds; dry muck, 25 pounds; clay, 80 to 90 pounds; sand, 100 to 110 pounds. The silt probably weighs around 50 to 70 pounds."

"While the high winds of the past several weeks have swept off some of the silt blown here, yet a large amount has been caught by native grasses, wheat stubble, growing wheat, grain sorghum stubble, corn stubble, weeds and cotton. Farmers who have not been able to get into their fields and prepare their ground have a good chance of saving a good amount."

"Proper cultivation has saved a considerable amount of the silt. Dean Leidigh said that farmers who have been in this section for several years and who keep up with agricultural methods cultivate their ground on sound, approved methods. They are more likely to have prepared their land in such a way that the added silt has been largely conserved."

"There has been some blowing of local sand over the area. The extent of this is problematical, but likely not as great as in the North Plains area."

330,000 Patients Are Admitted To U. S. Hospitals Each Day

While more than 7,000,000 patients were admitted to the hospitals of the nation last year, records also show that the Lubbock sanitarium, of Lubbock, was first among privately owned hospitals and eleventh among the 289 hospitals of all kinds in Texas. The number of patients admitted in 1934, that number being 3,433, according to C. E. Hunt, superintendent.

Indications are that hospitals are becoming more and more popular with the public every day, realizing not only better and more satisfactory treatment is received in such institutions, but also, in many cases it is money saved to visit them when afflicted with some physical ailment, to say nothing of the greatly lessened hazard of long illness or death that might come through neglect or improper treatment outside a hospital.

Recent reports show that one of every 18 persons visited some hospital sometime during the past year, of the 7,174,116 entrants, there was an average of one every four and one-half seconds, or an average daily census of 830,096 patients.

Is Your Car over 70 horsepower?

If it is, you must have motor oil of extra high film strength to get SAFE LUBRICATION

YOUR car today has twice the horsepower and speed of the car you drove ten years ago! The average of 22 leading cars in 1934 was 108 horsepower.

Bearing pressures and temperature have increased correspondingly—so greatly that motor parts are now made of new alloy metals of extra strength and durability to stand the load!

To protect such a motor you need an oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to withstand the extreme pressures and temperature!

Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these refining processes have lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength—the very qualities on which depends an oil's lubricating value!

There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles. But, more important, the new Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil—puts into this oil 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil, as tests on Timken and other machines have proved! That extra film strength gives safe lubrication under the most extreme pressures!

Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Its penetrative film, the "Hidden Quat," stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear.

Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as the Indianapolis Destruction Test proved.

Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

IRRIGATION WARNING

As drought conditions in the Southwest continue, more and more counties of the Panhandle area are urging irrigation as a guarantee of crops. Such urging is good advice to a certain degree.

Reports from water engineers, geologists and other experts of this kind indicate that the underground water of the Plains area is there through a storing process of many years past, very little of it coming in via porous strata from the mountain areas north and west of here.

There is such a thing as over-irrigation in any given section. No area of this kind is "inexhaustible," rather there is a limit. Some sections have already found or approximated that limit, now being entirely out of irrigation water or else pumping several feet deeper.

The Journal does not make these observations because its editor happens to own a 20 acre farm tract with an irrigation well located on it—Such tract is merely a homestead and not connected with the idea of making an agricultural profit therefrom, but it does call attention to the fact from the standpoint of numerous other farmers all over this Plains area who are entitled to have their investment protected from too many wells being put down within a given radius, thus limiting, or in time, eliminating entirely the water supply for all irrigators.

Texas now has a law governing the location of wells; but not being enforced. New Mexico has a similar law and it is being enforced. If the drought continues and an unreasonable number of irrigation wells are sunk, it is but a matter of time until Texas irrigators in this Plains country will be setting up a howl for similar law enforcement.

FOOD PRICES

Those Muleshoe citizens who are complaining of rising food prices will find no solace in the statement of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture that by July 1 they will be fully 11 percent higher than they are now. Meats and meat products, they add, may advance as high as 30 percent.

This may be good news for the farmers and stockmen, as Sec. Wallace points out, but not to housewives who have to pay the food bills.

The increase in the cost of living hits industrial workers, especially hard since wages have not shown any increase whatever. Food prices have outstripped the workers' pay.

The result is that food buying is beginning to show evidences of reduced volume. Consumers can't buy food if they haven't the money to pay for it, so they will naturally curtail their purchases.

When this is done it means a decline in consumption. So it goes right back to where it started from. High prices won't help the farmers if the consumers quit buying the things they produce.

THE GREATEST NEED

Too many state and federal relief employees, and too many of those who are forced to dig into their pockets to finance relief work, apparently have lost sight of the real objective. Getting millions of people fed and clothed is not the only important thing in America today. Of equal importance is the work of getting the idle, empty-pocketed workmen back on the job.

From now on every public and private plan should be made with that end in view. Every argument comes around eventually to mean but one thing in words of a solution—jobs. Public jobs, whatever the wages are, are mere stop-gaps, and the dole is a sure road to the ruin of human morale, public credit and the American system of independence.

There are, doubtless, a few people on relief around Muleshoe who would stay there forever if they were left to their own devices, but the majority would rather be earning their own way. They will welcome any plan that will provide them with work, and this same spirit prevails all over the country. One doesn't have to study the situation to realize that there can be but one solution—and that is jobs for those who actually want them. When that condition is met it will be easy enough to let those who will not work return to the old "root hog or die" method.

REAL PATRIOTISM

Some people apparently have the wrong idea of patriotism. They seem to think a patriot is one who offers to defend the country when it is at war or one who dons his hat when the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner." That is all right as far as it goes, but the real patriot is one who obeys the laws of his country and who shapes his life by that greatest of all measurements—the Golden Rule.

Our forefathers believed in helping themselves. They obeyed the law because in doing so they respected the rights of others. They honored their nation's institutions, and they turned a deaf ear to all who sought to interfere with those institutions. All of which was just as patriotic, just as helpful as carrying a gun in time of war.

Find the Muleshoe citizen who sticks pretty close to the beliefs and customs of his forefathers and you'll find a man entitled to be classed as a real patriot.

RESTORING THE RANGERS

Country-wide acclaim has greeted the announcement of Gov. Allred of Texas that he intends restoring the famous Texas Rangers to something like their old power and prestige. The Rangers fell upon evil days under the preceding state executive, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. The old-fashioned "men," who put the fear of God into the lawless, became a mere milk-and-water aggregation as "special commissions" issued by "Ma" Ferguson honeycombed the organization with small-fry politics.

So it is possible that the Texas Rangers will again become an organization to be feared and respected. And, incidentally, the present situation would seem to be further proof that politicians can run just about anything into which they dip their itchy fingers.

Jaunty Journalettes

Occasionally we run across a Muleshoe man who can start an argument with his wife—but that doesn't mean he can stop it.

Some Muleshoe drivers can stay ahead with their car, but are invariably behind with the payments. It takes as little to make some Muleshoe people laugh as it does to make some other people worry.

Muleshoe women, we are informed, are a snare and a delusion. That's probably the reason why men are so fond of hugging a delusion.

In the days when knights were bold and barons held their sway, they took their orders from their wives—just as they do in Muleshoe today.

We wonder what has become of the Muleshoe boy who was always willing to run to the grocery store for a penny.

What has become of the old-fashioned Muleshoe man whose ambition in life was to uphold the government instead of holding it up?

The quickest way for a Muleshoe doctor to lose a favorite patient is to tell her that it was only a "minor operation."

The Muleshoe man who is seen rushing along the street may be rushing home to help his wife clean up after a sandwich—but the chances are 100 to 1 he isn't.

A tip to the prospective groom: Short engagements are best, for then the bride hasn't time to wear out her finery showing it to guests.

Pavement Pickups

The last act of Mrs. B. W. Carles, retiring postmaster, before surrendering the helm to A. J. Gardner, was to get a "permanent" guarantee to last until the Republicans come in power again.

Chicken thieves take warning: It is reported Leonard West has ripe fryers for the table.

C. F. Moeller, worrying about getting started to work on the North and South highway, remarked the other day that "Noah was lucky in that he got go ahead and build the ark with out waiting for an appropriation from Congress."

Several new members of the local band are reported to have made sound investments—buying horns and saxophones.

Since it has generally become known among the male sex that skirts are to be shorter this summer, Dr. Sparks says he has been selling lots of spectacles, most of them with highly magnified lens.

J. C. Weaver says about the best example of wasted energy he knows of is someone telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man.

"Prices Soar" makes a headline in a recent issue of the Amarillo News. And so are Muleshoe folks.

It is being told of a Muleshoe preacher who hasn't been here more than eight or ten years, that when he sermon. If it is a big collection, the sermon will be short. If it is small—well, my dear parishioners, you haven't yet heard a long sermon." Several people haven't been to church since. We wonder why!

SNAP SHOTS

It seems unfair to call a hog a hog, for he never eats more than he wants just because he is eating away from home.

Electricity now does everything in the home, except turn itself off when it isn't being used.

It sometimes seems that respect for law ends when you begin making laws to regulate people who "don't need it."

The boys in Congress are showing a growing disposition to cut up, when they really should be intent on cutting down.

The genius who finally discovers the way to take the profits out of war may next try his hand at taking them out of politics.

One can tell a fellow who is going to climb. He neither fears nor hates those who are already up.

DOBSON CASE IS REVERSED

The case of Mrs. Dodson, charged with a statutory offense on a Muleshoe week reversed and remanded to Hale girl below the age of consent, was last County District court for a new trial.

Following Dodson's arrest here and the indictment sworn out in Hale county, where he was tried on the charge in the District court of that county, being sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary. Appeal was taken to the State Criminal Appeals court. It will probably come up for hearing at the next term of court in Hale county.

BLASTS OF SAND And Grit Chunks

They've had a rain in Kansas which means West Texas will not have so many sand storms.

Julian Lenuu insists his vitality has increased 300 per cent since the sandstorms began, that he now has enough sand in his crop and enough grit in his disposition to spit in a rattlesnake's open countenance or whet off the teeth of a buzz saw with a manicure file.

Clap Beavers is anxious for the dust storms to desist so he will be able to sand in his front yard.

Bob Canfield insists that these sandstorms are the New Deal's best ally toward making Republicans.

Ozell Tate has an idea the Big Wind from Louisiana has been stirring up some of these duststorms coming from the south.

The cold sandstorms of last Friday did away with most of the B. O. from sweaty men and at the least temporarily removed the halitosis from some of the open cesspools here.

I. W. Harden, local dairyman, who is a good Methodist and never exaggerates the truth yet talks rather dry humor sometimes, insists if it don't rain pretty soon he'll be delivering milk in paper sacks instead of glass bottles, as the lactical fluid he jerks from his bovines is gradually getting more powdery.

Dad Fry says he has been chewing tobacco for 37 years and this is the first year it was so dry that he ran out of spit.

Several Muleshoe people have discovered there are two or three things hand to have around during a sandstorm, and on of them is a sweet disposition.

After all other reasons for dust storms have been advanced, folks of this area are not forgetting that the Federal government order to leave so many acres of farm land idle instead of planting them in grain or pasture, is partly responsible for them.

If these tempestuous storms continue, the annual precipitation will be measured by inches of sand instead of rain.

Doctrinally speaking, it would have been much more appropriate if the opening of the Baptist new auditorium last Sunday night had been visited with a deluge of rain instead of sand as was the case. Anyway, it was a complete immersion, effecting Methodist and Baptists alike.

Plenty of excuses were offered Monday morning for people who were caught in the big sandstorm Sunday night and lost their direction. One man found himself heading for a chicken house in another citizen's yard; another located himself clear across town from where he wanted to be, while plenty more were completely turned around. At least one county official who claims Indian blood found his native sense deserting him—too much civilization, probably the reason.

Many pioneers of this section began housekeeping with dirt floors in their homes, and the custom seems to still be the style today. Verily, progress goes in circles.

It is reported E. R. Hart Co., has ordered two IHC tractors with wings for farmers of this section who plan cultivating their farms up in the air.

Talk about the advance in education! A few years ago only the agricultural experts knew the meaning of the word "erosion," now every farmer is fully acquainted with it.

It's got to be the custom around Muleshoe that when a young man wants to make a date with his sweetie he says, "May I spend the sandstorm with you this evening?"

Average temperature in 1934 was normal despite records.

Bailey Co. Common Schools Get $1,878 State Fund Payment

Bailey county common school districts Thursday last week received another $2 per capita payment of state money, totaling $1,878 for the various districts, and making $11 having been paid this year by the State.

The money was apportioned to the districts on the basis of their scholastic enrollment, follow:

Progress, $184; Circleback, $240; Liberty, $162; West Camp, $190; Goodland, $144; Baileyboro, $254; Stegall, $147; Watson, $104; Longview, $184; Wilson, $218.

Most of the money received last week goes to the local bank to reimburse that institution for loans previously made to carry on the schools, however, it is stated some of the districts have now entirely liquidated their loans.

West Camp News

The Bailey county Singing convention held here Sunday was well attended by a number of out of the county singers, as well as by Bailey county folks. There was a number of quartets, and special singing, also class songs, which everyone seemed to enjoy.

The sand and dust storm which visited this section early Sunday evening was the most severe one to have come our way. All the house keepers were very busy Monday getting ready and cleaning room for the next to follow.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gurley had their niece and family Mr. and Mrs. Preston Brown and children, Jo Ann and Jackie, of Amarillo, visiting them Sunday and Sunday night. Mr. Brown is one of the well known barbers in Amarillo and Mrs. Brown is a beauty specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Blakely and Mrs. Blakely's mother, Mrs. Harding, of Rogers, N. M., visited in the Asa Smith home Monday.

D. B. Knight is quite ill with what the sheriff call "dust flu."

This community certainly extends a hearty welcome to Miss Alma Stewart, our county demonstration agent, and assure her of our cooperation. The men as well as the women are very anxious to have the work begin, which we expect to do in the near future.

The play "The Old Maid's Club," will be presented Friday night by the W. M. S. ladies. Everyone has a hearty welcome to attend.

The spring revival meeting will begin Saturday night at the West Camp Baptist church. Everybody come.—Reporter.

We were glad to have Mrs. Bob Kennedy and children with us last Sunday. We regret so much to see them move away.

HOPPING ON THE PLAN BOARD

Judge R. C. Hopping, Lubbock, former judge of Farmer county, later county judge of Lamb county, now in charge of the Spade ranch properties, and well known by many older settlers of Bailey county, was last week appointed by Gov. WHEAT DAMAGED 50 PER CENT

Reports from over the Plains area indicate that recent dust storms have damaged wheat approximately 50 per cent.

New Federal Loans Have Interest Rate Reduced After 10th

A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, announced today that new loans made by the Federal Land bank on and after April 10, 1935, through National Farm Loan associations will bear interest at the rate of four and one quarter per cent per annum. Mr. Williams pointed out that this is the lowest rate at which the Federal Land bank has ever made loans.

For about two years, the bank has been making loans through National Farm Loan associations at five per cent with a temporary reduction to four and one half per cent until July 12, 1933, as provided by the Emergency Farm Mortgage act of 1933. After July 12, 1933, such loans again will bear interest at the rate of five per cent. The four and one quarter per cent rate on new loans made on or after April 10, 1935, will be effective for the entire period of the loans, which will be made on an amortization basis ranging from 20 to 30 odd years, as in the past. Federal Land bank loans are made on the basis of first mortgage security on farms and ranches for amounts that may not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised normal value of the land mortgaged and twenty per cent of the normal value of the permanent insured improvements thereon.

No change has been made, Mr. Williams said, in the interest rate on new loans by the Land Bank commissioner, which rate is five per cent per annum.

THIRD OF A SERIES OF STATEMENTS ON THE NEW "ULTIMATE" RATE FOR RESIDENTIAL SERVICE

Larger Use of Electricity (In Kilowatt Hours) at No Increased Cost (In Your Monthly Service Bill)

The new "ultimate" rate for residential users and its application enables small users of electric current to enjoy additional benefits at no extra cost, depending entirely on your use of the service. Get what's coming to you. Like benefits are available to larger users. Our suggestion is that you get in touch with our local representative and find out for yourself how you can increase your home lighting and other user. There's plenty in store for you.

The present trend in the country is to bring about the wider use of electricity. It is our candid opinion that every room in the average home has noticeable opportunities for freer use of the present appliances. One of the most outstanding opportunities is in lighting—so often ignored. We cannot emphasize too strongly the values possible under rates now applicable.

KIWANIANS IN FAVOR OF GOV. 40 ACRE FARMS

Mr. Moeller was of the opinion, according to available information, that such a proposition of development, population and wealth producing nature was not only feasible but entirely probable under the set-up of the new relief program and a committee of seven Kiwanians was appointed to make further investigation of the subject and take such necessary steps required to set the plan before the proper authorities for favorable action.

At this meeting, R. L. Brown, who has served as a director of West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the past three years, was again unanimously re-elected for another year in that important office.

It was announced that Miss Crystal Kennedy had been selected as the Muleshoe princess to become a member of the regal party and to participate in the queenly honors of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview this week.

J. B. Waide, jr., county agriculture agent, expressed his appreciation for the fine spirit of co-operation in behalf of the county 4-H club boys during their recent fat stock show held here, also commented at some length upon Federal propositions of improvement which might be participated in by this county.

Miss Alma Stewart, recently appointed home demonstration agent for Bailey county, made her first bow to Kiwanians, and in a brief speech sparkling with wit and keen intelligence expressed her appreciation of the opportunity of association with "brains of this burg" and of prosecuting her laudable work among the women of this county.

L. N. Ingram, assistant state highway engineer, located here and in charge of state highway improvement in this section, expressed his appreciation and desire to serve this community in an acceptable manner and to be numbered among the desirable citizens of this section.

A. J. Gardner, recently appointed postmaster in Muleshoe, taking office last week, displayed his federal shoulder-straps and elucidated somewhat upon his desire to co-operate with the citizens through his internal revenue office.

Rev. J. Frank Luker, Methodist minister, called upon for the latest figures regarding eschatology, and apostasy, and in a happy, veined in scintillating humor, advised if some of his members who were also Kiwanians did not quit practicing apostasy so much in church attendance and theological future was liable to become rather warm. The credulity of some of the members was somewhat aroused in the preacher boasted of picking 205 pounds of cotton in one half-day he admitted he didn't pick any more that week.

R. Brown was elected official delegate to represent the local club to the International meeting to be held this spring at San Antonio, and it was stated other members were planning at tending that important function.

Numerous Factors Affect Prices of Butter in U. S.

Farmers around Muleshoe have been wondering recently why butter prices are not in keeping with butterfat prices, which are said to now be higher at this period of the year than for several years past, local buyers now paying 20 cents per pound for butter fat.

However, it is being pointed out that even butterfat prices are not on a proportionate level with feed prices.

Butterfat dealers insist that the foreign situation has an important bearing on American butterfat prices; that when such prices get sufficiently high to warrant it, foreign butter begins pouring into America over the 14 cent tariff wall, and that is what has been happening during the past few months.

From January 1 until March 15 approximately 7,500,000 pounds of butter were imported into this country, 5,000,000 pounds of this amount coming to these shores during the first 15 days of March.

Another fact affecting butter prices is that when butter gets high many people turn to butter substitutes, which has been especially true during the depression period.

Preachers Prepare To Give Battle On Coming Saloon Fight

The Ministerial Alliance of Lamb and Ballew sought to meet in the Methodist church at Olton last Monday morning. The meeting doubtless was one of the best sessions of the Alliance since its organization nearly a year ago, the attendance was good, both ministers and laymen being present.

The Olton Methodist church being in the second week of their revival the Alliance had the happy privilege of hearing Rev. C. H. Williams at ten o'clock, after which they were called to order and the business of the day taken up.

Among the items discussed was our prohibition laws and the attempt to be made this year to have them repealed. It is a certainty that every attempt to be made to lead the public to believe that prohibition has failed, but no such propaganda can be truthfully established. Men may have failed, prohibition may have been overruled and ignored by some; but it has never failed, neither can it fail.

The Alliance will be in the field during the days before the attempt at the polls is made and with all their power try to save our state from the return of the saloon.

Other matters came up for discussion and interesting talks were heard from both preacher and layman.

We are always glad to have the layman to attend our meetings. We hold no secret meetings and our doors are always open to any one wishing to attend.

Our next meeting will be in the Baptist church, Olton, Monday morning, April 29.—Reporter.

SAND SILT ADDS FERTILITY TO THE RICH GARDEN PLOTS
(Turn to page eight please)

planting truck in such quantities that they will have plenty of "garden sass" for canning this winter, thus insuring a balanced diet for friend hubby and the youngsters until garden time comes again next year.

Last year there were multiplied thousands of cans of garden vegetables of various kinds canned by the housewives of Bailey county. Numerous bushels of sweet and Irish potatoes, turnips, carrots, beet, pea melons, pumpkins, etc., were "holed away" for winter consumption, while other bushels of beans and peas of various kinds were dried, shelled and sacked away for winter sustenance and enjoyment.

A large number of hogs, calves and yearlings met sudden contact with 22 bullet or the business end of an axe and found their way processing through the cook stove and pressure cooker until they were finally sealed in tin or glass cans for winter use at the dinner and supper table.

Many Bailey county folks are beginning to feel that the New Deal is now becoming an old deal. It's helping the corn, cotton and wheat growers somewhat in raising prices through the ad-ded government processing tax; but out here peanuts, sorghum and grains and other field crops are not much effected by governmental dictation are being grown and the prices are not so attractive, so Bailey county women are planning to "cure at home" and eat at the same place as much as possible during the coming months in depression has really and truly been broken.

Miss Stewart's work as home demonstration agent, is going to be of incalculable value to the women of this county, (and that includes the home women too, if they will take advantage of it) not only in teaching them better methods of cooking, housekeeping, gardening, but a hundred, and one other items of interesting value which will mean the lessening of hard work, giving more leisure and materially contributing toward conserving the family bank account and furnishing funds for other family needs. Every woman in Bailey county should align herself with this work by enrolling in one of the dozen home demonstration club now being formed.
