$202,000 Bid Wins Job Here

A bid of $202,000 by BFW Construction Co. of Temple has been tentatively accepted by Cross Plains Housing Authority for construction of a 20-unit, low-rent development here.

Mrs. Gene Rhodes, executive secretary of the local board, explained that final approval of the bid rests with the Housing Assistance Administration district office in Fort Worth. She continued, "Paper work is now in the district office awaiting approval, and as soon as it is okayed the contractor will begin clearing sites for the project."

Three other bids were rendered, but the Temple firm submitted the lowest. Highest was a bid of just over $224,000. The sealed bids were opened Thursday night of last week by the local board and the architect on the project in the City Hall here.

Mrs. Rhodes said that the $202,000 tender was approximately $8,000 below the estimated budget allowed for the development here.

No date for finishing the job had been revealed Tuesday at noon, nor had details of the contract been told except that one provision specified that the contractor would be responsible for clearing building sites.

It was thought that first stages of building would begin soon after the final okay because an official of the company submitting the accepted bid expressed a desire to have all concrete poured before the first freeze. Mrs. Rhodes added that all the 20 units, 14 designated for occupancy by elderly and 6 for general occupancy, would be finished at the same time if specifications by the architect are followed. Site for the 14 units is downtown, and six others will be built in the northeast part of town.

Final plans and specifications will be formulated at a pre-construction conference in Fort Worth on Sept. 28. The local executive secretary said that Cross Plains officers would meet with district officials in the conference to iron out any remaining difficulties.

Housing Authority members here other than Mrs. Rhodes are Jimmie Lee Payne, R. C. Gilmore, Elvis B. Scott, Claude Foster and Mayor Doyle Burchfield, all of whom were present at the Thursday meeting.

First places were won in: red oats, grain sorghum, rye, milo, hegari, Spanish peanuts, perennial sweet sudan, Blue Panic grass, Sideoats Gramma, Indian grass, cottonseed, Irish potatoes, onions, large tomatoes, watermelons, peppers, okra, pinto beans, apples and mammoth watermelons.

The chapter's education booth, built around the importance of grass in the agriculture and livestock economy, was rated first by Dr. Earl S. Webb, associate professor of agriculture education at Texas A&M University, which was worth $100 to the local organization.

Cross Plains FFA was expecting to add to its laurels in the sheep division of the show, results of which were to be published Wednesday morning. Joe Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pope, had eight head in competition, all said by Edmondson to be of exceptional quality and potential ribbon winners.

Buffaloes Try Hamilton In Home Debut Friday

Cross Plains High School Buffaloes will play before home fans Friday night taking on another District 7-AA foe, a strong crew of Hamilton Bulldogs.

The 8 p.m. game will be the first meeting ever between the Buffaloes and Bulldogs.

Comparison scores of last week's game puts the visitors in a heavy favored role. The Bulldogs dumped De Leon of District 10-A 46-0, while the Buffs lost to another 7-AA opponent, Eastland, 5-0.

Hamilton, coached by Bobby Anderson and assisted by Ken Selph, Rusty McCollum and Eddy LaDuke, have been predicted to finish second only to Granbury, a perennial power, in the league race. However, some grid observers have given the Bulldogs a good chance to unseat the favorites.

Although Hamilton compiled a 5-5 season last year, the Bulldogs posted a 4-1 season mark and allowed only eight points against them in the five conference games. Nine 1965 regulars return to the experienced laden squad.

A fast and powerful backfield is paced by fullback Larry Newton, a senior who weighs 188 pounds. He is assisted by tailback Butch Williams, scoring star of last week's triumph, wingback Dan Raiborne, and Ricky Gromatzky.

The forward wall is also well stocked with veterans. End positions are anchored by experienced players in Les Culbertson, 155 pound senior, and Randy Jones, 180 pound senior. Interior lettermen back are tackle Rick Stephens, 215, guard Tal-made Blansit, 195, and senior center Bill Craig.

Cross Plains, however, moved the ball well against an experienced and heavy line last week end, and will go into Friday's affair in good condition barring injuries in practice.

Hick Edington To Head Riding Club

R. E. (Hick) Edington was chosen president of Cross Plains Riding Club for the ensuing year when 33 members of the organization met in regular monthly session at the City Hall here Monday night.

Roby, arena director; Terry Edington, barrel racing; Bobby Golson, bareback bronc riding; Edwin Schaefer, bull riding; Jim Roby, calf roping, and E. G. Roby, cutting horses.

A sweetheart for the organization will be selected at the December meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Eulus Parker and children, Jackie and Trey, are moving to Greenville where he has accepted a position with Ling Tempo Vaught, airplane manufacturers. He began work there Monday morning and the family will move within a few days.

Putnam Plays Novice 6-Man Game Here Saturday Night

Callahan County's six-man grid contingent, the Putnam Panthers, will take on the Novice Hornets at Buffalo Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17, seeking win number two of the young season.

Wins First Game

Putnam, who dumped Lingleville 37-26 last week end, has an experienced and promising team, and according to Coach Warren Townley, who is in his second year as Panther mentor, "Prospects for this year's football season looks real good." He continued, "We have four of our starting six back from last year, and the boys are showing a great deal of interest and have been working hard since Aug. 15." Although only nine players are listed on the roster, quality seems to insure a successful season.

Experience Trump

Two seniors and a junior comprise the Putnam backfield while two juniors and a senior make up the forward wall.

The four starters Townley mentioned as back from last year are: Johnny Isenhower, Terry Johnson, Ted McCulloch and Ricky Sherman. Isenhower was an all-district selection on both offense and defense in 1965 and is holding the quarterback position this year. He is a 170 pound senior. Johnson, 155 pound senior, and Sherman, a 195 pound junior who runs the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds, run at the halfback slots, and share the duties with Scott Fall, 135 pound freshman, who according to Townley, "has shown a lot of promise." McCulloch, senior three-year letterman who weighs 150, and Regan Shackelford, 150 pound junior, two-year numerical winner, are slated for starting positions at end. A defensive standout, junior Jim Feely, 150 pounds, is the center. Completing the roster are ends Darrell Jones, 140 pound junior, and Tracy Wagley, 150 pound sophomore.

Probable starters for the Panthers in the backfield are Isenhower, Sherman and Johnson, and in the trenches are Feely, McCulloch and Shackelford.

Seek Winning Mark

Twice before Putnam has played before Cross Plains fans, winning one and losing one. In their first appearance the Panthers trounced Mozelle Mustangs, 44-0, but last year the Novice Hornets nipped Putnam 15-6. In Putnam's first year of six-man football the team claimed the district title.

Tickets are available at several Cross Plains businesses for the Saturday night affair at $1 for adults and 50¢ for students.

Vastly Different

The six-man variety of football is usually a wide open brand of grid action. Several differences are incorporated in the game such as the field being both shorter and narrower. A six-man playing surface is 30 yards long instead of 100, and is about 40 yards wide as compared to 53 on an 11-man team field. Fifteen yards is required for a first down and the game is frequently a free-scoring affair on both sides.

Different Scoring

The game is scored somewhat differently too. A touchdown, made either by passing or running over the goal line, is six points, the same as in 11-man games. Extra point conversions, however, are just reversed. When the pigskin is kicked between the uprights it counts two points, and if the conversion is made by passing or running it counts only one point.

No Bowling League Now; Maybe Later

No bowling club will be formed in Cross Plains for the Winter season this year unless more people show interest, according to Jim Dewbre, president of the Cross Plains Mixed League.

He said Tuesday that only a handful of persons had expressed interest in forming a club, and many more were required to make up a league. The door, however, was left open for organizing a club here later in the year if enough local klegers become interested, it was said.

Andrew Sawyer, foreman of the Green Acre Ranch near Cisco, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Pauline Region, and his grandfather, Floyd Lee.

25 SENIOR CITIZENS NOW LIVING AT NURSING HOME

Twenty-five senior citizens are presently making their home at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home in Cross Plains, Col. Raymond Lee, owner and operator of the home, said that three vacancies now exist.

A religious service is now being held each Sunday afternoon there by eight area church congregations. An ad elsewhere in this issue announces this week's sponsor.

News Of Former Residents

An interesting note is received from Jess and Nellie Arrowood at Bangs.

They write: "We receive two daily and two weekly newspapers and we enjoy the home town Review most of all. We look forward to receiving it each week and hearing about all those friends whom we have known at Dressy and Cross Plains. We hope we never miss a copy."

Miss Estelle Freeland, who was reared between Cross Plains and Cottonwood and who has been a missionary in Africa for a number of years, is presently in Tours, France, where she is studying the French language preparatory to being assigned to the Ivory Coast.

Winnie Smith, 542 Peach St., Abilene, includes a little note with her Review subscription renewal. "You have the best small town paper; it's like a letter from home," she says.

Tommy Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Porter of this city, who has worked as a writer for the Amarillo News-Globe the past two years, has been named editor of the Hereford Brand and will move to his new assignment within the near future.

Eastland's Late Touchdown Nixes Buffaloes In Opener

Cross Plains Buffaloes began the 1966 football season Friday just as last year's Thundering Herd finished the 1965 season. The Bison lost a 6 point decision to the Eastland Mavericks on a late touchdown scored in an unusual manner.

Although the Buffs trailed on the scoreboard 6-0, it was the only statistic of the game in which the Bison team held the short end. Cross Plains led in first downs nine to four, and penetrated Eastland's 20 yard line three times to the hosts' single scoring thrust. The Buffaloes topped the Mavericks by 99 yards total offense, 195 to 96, and held an 80-yard advantage in rushing yardage, 157 to 79. Under adverse conditions, the Buffs played superior ball control in the first and third quarters.

Waterlogged Field
Three inches of rain had soaked the Mavericks' playing surface in two days prior to the contest making the ball extremely slippery which resulted in eight fumbles, five by the Buffs and three by Eastland. Both teams lost two of the bobbles. Two junior high games the previous night had the field already churned-up and added to the footing difficulty.

Buff Threaten
Within the first few seconds of the game Cross Plains had penetrated to the Maverick 16. Senior Buffalo quarterback Joe Pierce took the opening kickoff and behind adequate blocking and personal drive scrambled the pigskin 40 yards to the hosts' 40. On first play Pierce found left end Mike Bright in the open and fired the oval for a 24-yard gainer and a first on the 16. Two line smashes, a fumble and an incomplete pass nixed the Buff scoring thrust.

Drive To 6
Late in the first period Cross Plains gained possession of the pigskin on the Buff 47, and put together three first downs in a 47 yard drive before Eastland defense cemented to block the threat. Pierce sparked the attack with 25 yards on five carries, and added another 12 yards with an aerial to Bright which netted a first down on the Maverick 13. Two line plunges netted three yards, but an incomplete pass left the Bison facing fourth and needing seven at the 10. Pierce rolled to his left but was tackled at the five two yards short of the first down yardage.

Maverick Spurt
After exchanging punts, Eastland mounted a brief offensive attack moving from their own 20 to Cross Plains' 43, but Buff center Gregg Williams pounced on a loose ball returning possession to the locals.

The third quarter was all Cross Plains with Eastland running only five plays from scrimmage.

Cross Plains again took the kickoff and blitzed from the Bison 24 to the Mav 42 primarily on right halfback Jerry Strickland's 39-yard scamper. The drive was stymied by a lost fumble, but Williams again returned possession to the Buffs on the second play picking up his second fumble recovery at the hosts' 45.

Third Penetration
From that point Fullback Vern Webb gained 12 yards in two carries and combined with Strickland for another first at the 23. Webb, Pierce and Strickland got just nine yards in four plays and relinquished the pigskin at the 14. Early in the final stanza Cross Plains lost its field position via the fumble route at the Maverick 29.

Winning Tally
After Cross Plains had gambled in own territory and lost, and Eastland had succumbed to the Buffalo defense, Cross Plains punted. The waiting Maverick, left halfback Wade Thomas, gathered in the pigskin on his 40 and angled right down the sideline 40 yards to the Buff 20 before Pierce tripped him up.

Two line plunges netted three yards then Eastland quarterback Steve Lund completed his only aerial of the night for the touchdown. Lund lofted the oval 17 yards to waiting left end Jim Herridge in the end zone. Two Buff defenders tipped the ball but only deflected it into the arms of Herridge. Gene Wilson fell incomplete on the two point conversion try.

The Herd made one last stab at scoring moving the ball to the Maverick 35 on the strength of Pierce's 16 yard scamper. There the Mavericks held and then the hosts ran out the clock.

Ben's Grid Picks

By Benny Glover

In the season's first effort this column managed a respectable five of seven correct picks on outcomes of football games in this area. The five right projections gave Ben's Grid Picks a .714 percentage to begin the 10-week campaign.

Last week all Callahan County school games resulted as predicted with two winning and two dropping tilts. Clyde battered Merkel 18-7 and Putnam out-scored Lingleville 37-26, but Santa Anna buried Baird 28-6 and Eastland nipped Cross Plains 6-0. Early High School obliged with a 12-0 blanking of Jim Ned. Rising Star gummed up the works with a late safety and a 2-0 win over Wylie, and San Saba's Armadillos blasted Goldthwaite, rated in the top 10 in Class A over the state, 23-6. Although no scores were posted exactly corresponding to those projected, tally differences were close in several contests.

Since the crystal ball and computer are still in the repair shop, again this week predictions will have to come from the human factor. A doubting local was heard to say that it was beginners' luck. No comment will be made now, but a "wait and see" policy has been adopted.

This week eight games, involving Callahan teams and District 9-A squads, are on tap. Predicted winners in bold faced type.

Putnam vs. Novice at Cross Plains: The Panthers looked impressive in initial outing and showed promise of fine scoring punch. We'll take Putnam in gaining revenge of a defeat last year in the Saturday night tilt, 26-14.

Clyde at Haskell: The Indians whipped Childress in high fashion and Callahan's Bulldogs ran past Merkel. Haskell supposedly a bit better offensively and defensively plus playing at home, 20-14.

Merkel at Baird: Both Badgers and Bears are tough in home environment, and both looking for first win. Merkel gets nod on good showing against Class AA Clyde last week, 19-7.

Santa Anna at Jim Ned: Mountaineers displayed a potent scoring punch while Indians bowed to another 9-A foe, Early, last week end. On strength of pre-season polls Santa Anna holds edge, 14-0.

Goldthwaite at Clifton: Absolutely nothing is decided here as yet. Both are rated as heavy favorites to take conference crowns, Goldthwaite in 9-A and Clifton in 13-A. Flip of coin says Clifton, 12-7.

Early at Bangs: Class A and B B grudge battle with class B coming out on top on strength of returning lettermen. Size about the same, but Dragons have experienced backfield, 16-0.

Gorman at Rising Star: Another A and B battle with Panthers coming on strong last week, and Wildcats just inching into win column. Home field gives Class A Rising Star a narrow edge, 20-16.

Hamilton at Cross Plains: Class 7-AA opponent again for Buffs, but one of more strength. Thundering herd must wait for first victory as Bulldogs take win in first meeting between the two teams in convincing fashion, 28-6.

Jero! Price of Putnam was a business visitor in Cross Plains Saturday.
