Raymond DeBusk Pays $175,000 For Calf Crop

Raymond DeBusk, Cross Plains cattle buyer, has contracted for one of West Texas' larger calf crops. It was from the Jim Nail Ranch in Shackelford County and included a total of 1,400 calves.

Total consideration of the deal is expected to approach $175,000.

DeBusk bought the cattle for deliveries beginning in July and continuing until Aug. 19. The steers, which were contracted at 30 cents per pound, will go to Weil Land & Cattle Company of Lexington, Ky. DeBusk has bought the Nail steers for the same amount the past seven years. Heifers from the ranch will go to M. & M. Cattle Company of Henderson, Colo. They brought 27 cents per pound. The purchase is the second straight for the Colorado firm.

Purchase of the Nail calves brought to about 3,000 the total number of head handled by the Cross Plains buyer thus far this season.

$100 Reward Offered In Poisoning Of Dogs

Sixteen persons have pledged $100 for the arrest and conviction of party or parties responsible for poisoning dogs in Cross Plains.

An estimated 14 dogs, according to Bill Pancake who is leading the quest for the animal killer, have died in Cross Plains within the past few days due to poisoning.

Primary reason the reward is being offered, according to one donor to the fund, is not the killing of family pets, although it is a shame that it has happened, is the danger to small children who might pick up some of the poisoned meat and eat it.

Tuesday, July 4, will be a holiday in Cross Plains.

Most all concerns will remain shut for the entire day in observance of Independence Day.

A few establishments will observe Sunday schedules, however, these are mainly businesses which customarily remain open on Sunday.

All downtown grocery stores, the bank, Higginbothams, utility offices, post office and most other Main Street business houses will take the full holiday.

Shop Early

Merchants are urging that customers keep in mind the closing schedule and arrange shopping accordingly, in the hope that no one will be inconvenienced by observance of the holiday.

No Independence Day celebration is scheduled here. Some local residents will attend festivities at Brady and annual Cowboys Reunion at Stamford. Brownwood Lake appeared to be the destination of most Cross Plains people.

Caution Urged

Three Cross Plains officers, Highway Patrolman H. D. Welch, Deputy Sheriff Howard Cox and Police Chief Marvin Cade have issued words of caution in the hope of curtailing holiday traffic accidents. The trio will be on duty longer than usual hoping to hold down the accident rate.

Contracts Let On 2 New Flood Dams In Callahan

Ford Allen of Coleman submitted the low bid to build two flood control dams in Callahan County. His tender was received at a bid opening at the Soil Conservation Service's state office in Temple last week, James Herring, work unit conservationist at Baird reports.

Allen submitted a low bid of $158,248.46 to build sites 9 and 21, Upper Pecan Bayou Watershed. Site 9 is on lands owned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Farmer, Betty Gay Wilson and Miss E. M. (Curley) Seale. Site 21 is on land owned by Walton Baum, J. Browne Baum and Hudson Smart.

Second low bidder on the projects was O. M. Baker of Concho County with a tender of $160,781.30.

Site 9 is located some eight miles south of Baird and would impound 11 surface acres of permanent water and calls for a dam 56 feet high. Specifications require 138,500 cubic yards of dirt for the structure.

Site 21 is located about five miles west of Cross Plains and would impound 11 acres of permanent water utilizing 88,059 cubic yards of dirt and surface material.

Allen will be given 20 days to begin construction and is allowed 225 days for completion.

REVIEW IS THIRD IN STATEWIDE CONTEST

The Cross Plains Review took third place in column writing in a contest sponsored by Texas Press Association. Winners were announced in annual convention of the organization at Galveston last week end.

The Home Town column in the Review competed in a category for newspapers published in towns of less than 3,500 population.

Shortage of space prevented the Town column being published in today's edition. It will be back in its regular place next week.

COL. BILL PAYNE AND FAMILY VISITORS HERE

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Bill Payne and son, Jimmy, of Springfield, Va., a suburb of Washington, D. C., visited here the past several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Payne, and other relatives and friends.

Col. Payne is stationed at the Pentagon in the nation's capital, where he is a staff officer.

The Paynes departed Tuesday.

VIETNAM BOUND — Airman 3c James Switzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Switzer and a 1966 graduate of Cross Plains High School, left Midland Sunday bound for South Vietnam. He will be stationed near Saigon as a munitions expert. The local airman will be in the Southeast Asian country until August 1968. Switzer will be remembered as an outstanding football player and kicking specialist. He had spent a 30-day leave with his parents here just prior to departing for his Vietnam assignment.

Noah Johnson Opens Barber Shop On Main

Noah Johnson has opened a barber shop on Main Street in the building he purchased from Mrs. J. M. McMillan.

The new business, Johnson's Barber Shop, opened in the completely remodeled quarters Tuesday.

Johnson has invited all his regular customers to visit him in the new location, and in a display advertisement elsewhere in this edition of the Review, invites the general public to drop by and visit him.

A large line of leather goods will also be featured in the shop.

Wayne Ford Sees Gain In Enrollment

With tentative opening day for Cross Plains school set Aug. 28, Supt. Wayne Ford was looking forward Tuesday to beginning of the new term and predicted an increased enrollment.

Ford estimated that between 490 and 495 students would heed the first bell on the last Monday morning in August. He explained that a census taken in February revealed 479 scholars and that since that time families with a number of school-age children, including some of next year's faculty members, have moved into the district.

Enrollment at the close of the term was 485. Of this number 331 were in elementary grades and 154 in high school.

3 Local Teachers Attend Workshop

Three Cross Plains teachers are attending a Title One Workshop at McMurry College in Abilene. Classes, which began Monday, will continue five days weekly through July 14.

Title One concerns the federal government's program which offers remedial help to underprivileged children, who are deficient in basic learning skills.

Bufs Crowned L. L. Champs Last Week

Bufs claimed the 1967 Cross Plains Little League championship last week.

The champions cinched at least a tie for the coveted crown Tuesday of last week with a 9-5 victory over the Cats, nearest rival. Scouts handed the title to the Bufs in the opening game Thursday by trimming the Cats 10-9. After the Cat's loss, Bufs owned a three-game lead with only two tilts remaining to be played. Bufs were not yet satisfied and continued the stretch drive by vanquishing the Kilowatts 13-5 in the Thursday nightcap.

The Bufs' broke a three-year grip the Cats had on the first-place diadem.

Battle For Second

A triangular battle looms in the final week of play for the number two and three spots. Cats took a one-game lead into Tuesday night's action over both the Kilowatts and Scouts who were tied. Scouts are defending runners-up.

In other game Tuesday of last week, Kilowatts temporarily regained sole possession of third place with a 12-7 victory over the Scouts in a scoring duel.

Scouts, however, reclaimed a share of the number three spot by upsetting the Cats Thursday which was combined with the Bufs triumph over the Kilowatts.

Many Homers

One-run circuit blasts were the order of the night Tuesday. Four batters hit the long ball. Two Kilowatts, Brad Bowden and Lynn Koenig, accomplished the feat in lead-off roles. Cat Buddy Dillard and Buff Jerry Fortune countered each other with solo clouts in the Buff-Cat squabble Tuesday.

Roger Crawford connected on two four baggers Thursday, and both were of the three-run variety which accounted for six of the Cats nine tallies in a losing cause.

The rained postponed game will not be played because of the Bufs having already won the championship. Ties for second or third place will not be decided by a playoff.

Pioneer Business Is Target Of Burglars

Thieves hit Fore's Grocery & Station at Pioneer late Wednesday night or early Thursday of last week and made off with an undetermined amount of loot.

Primary loss was eight to 10 cartons of cigarettes, although the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fore, said that some foodstuffs were stolen. Entrance was gained by pushing in a boarded window on the east side of the store.

Twice before in recent years nighttime thieves have hit the station on Highway 36.

Tuesday noon is deadline for news and advertising.

LL All-Star Team Chosen Monday

Cross Plains Little League All-Star team was selected Monday night in a meeting of team managers and officials.

Members of the elite squad will not, however, be announced until after the final game of the season Thursday night, usually about 10 p.m., according to N. L. Dillard, local program president.

More Streets Get Pavement

A paving project of additional city streets which started slow has ballooned into a major improvement for Cross Plains.

At the outset, about two weeks ago, only four or five blocks were designated for asphalt. But first of this week five and one-half blocks had already been completed, and eight more blocks were under construction. Contacting property owners in three or four more blocks was being done Monday and Tuesday with the hope of adding those to the project this year.

Councilman Raymond DeBusk is heading the paving program, although he holds the title of sanitation commissioner. T. T. Nichols, road commissioner, was joined by other aldermen recently in asking DeBusk to oversee the paving. Nichols stated that due to business restrictions he could not possibly devote the time which is required to successfully plan and carry the program out.

DeBusk said that only 15 or 20 blocks were planned in the current project. "One reason for stopping there," he explained, "was cost to the city."

Although cost to the city is estimated to be only about $100 to $125 cash per block, other expenses raise the cost. Three city employees are assisting the contractors, and county precinct four employees are helping load and haul base material. Duke Mitchell, county commissioner, has agreed to provide the assistance on a cost basis.

DeBusk said that a similar project can be carried on each year for the next two or three years.

Actual cost to each property owner, paying for one-half of the roadway, while city stands cost of surface intersections, is five and one-half cents per square foot.

Oil Continues As Dominant Factor In Economy Of Callahan County

More than $6.8 million a year of economic stimulation for Callahan County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association showed.

"As one of the 206 petroleum producing counties in Texas, Callahan County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president.

"Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Callahan County in 1965 produced 2.2 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $6.6 million, and 1.5 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $199,400. Callahan ranks 110th among Texas counties in production.

Petroleum By-Products
In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquids such as natural gasoline, butane and propane in 1965 produced more than 3.2 million gallons of liquids valued at $152,000.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $847,100.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 124 wells in Callahan County. Of these 28 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $2.7 million in drilling last year, of which $1.5 million was lost in dry holes.

Local Yield Huge
Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $316,518 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $302,560 and natural gas production, $13,958.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show that some 74 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $233,764 in this county.

Makes Many Jobs
Additional value is given oil and gas from the operation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists one natural gasoline plant in the county with a capacity of 5 million cubic feet per day.

C. W. WYATT SAID TO BE IMPROVING
C. W. Wyatt is reported to be continuing to improve at his home here after suffering a stroke Monday of last week. Darrell Wyatt, son of the couple who is stationed at Oklahoma City with the Air Force, spent last week with his parents.

Howard Shanks of Big Spring visited friends in Cross Plains during the week end.

HARVEST OF DIVERTED ACREAGE NOT ALLOWED
Callahan ASCS office has notified county farmers that diverted acres under the 1967 cotton and feed grain programs cannot be harvested in any manner other than grazing. Grazing will not be allowed until after Oct. 31, but Fall seeded small grain crops may be planted for harvest next year.

Drillers Blank Rebels 11-0 On Friday Night

Drillers rolled to a 11-0 victory over the Rebels Friday night in the battle pitting the two Cross Plains junior teenage baseball teams.

The victors raised their season record to 3-1, but the losers are still looking for a triumph after four outings.

Drillers claimed a two-run lead in the home half of the second inning and added four in the third. Three more in the fourth frame increased the Drillers lead to 9-0 before two in the sixth capped scoring. Rebel defensive lapses helped the winners scoring efforts, although losing pitcher Larry Bishop, who struck out 11 Drillers, gave up only five hits. David Merryman, was credited with the mound win, and he fanned a like number of Rebs.

Richard Pope was the star hitter for the Drillers with three hits, a double and two singles, and Ronnie Pancake and Joe Dodds collected two base hits for the Drillers. Larry Bishop, Tony Geye and Richard Wilson hit safely for the Rebels.

Drillers were scheduled to travel to De Leon to take on the Colts Tuesday while the Rebels will host the Comanche Hot Rods Friday at Illingworth Field beginning at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Williams had as their recent guests Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hopson and daughters, Beverly and Julia Nell, of Dumas; Miss Ida Nell Williams of Austin; Mr and Mrs. H. E. Galloway, Dickie and Robert, of Brownwood.

Husband Of Ex-Local Girl Invents Unique Carrousel

Phillip Geringer of Texas City, husband of the former Ruth (Coke) McAnally of Cross Plains, was the subject of a

"DOC" GAMBILL AND LBJ RESPOND ALIKE

Dr. Calvin Gambill of Seymour, former Cross Plains chiropractor, and President Lyndon B. Johnson became grandfathers for the first time only one minute apart last week. The oddity, though, does not end there.

Their daughters were both married Aug. 6, 1966.

The former Linda Gambill, now Mrs. R. D. White of Kelso, Wash., went to the maternity ward at 1 a.m. June 21, 1967, and the president's daughter arrived at her hospital just minutes later. Each gave birth to a baby boy only five ounces apart in weight and exactly the same length, 21 inches.

Dr. Gambill and LBJ are reported to have responded exactly alike, beaming proudly just as grandfathers should.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Smith and girls of Houston visited last week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith.

lengthy feature article, illustrated with pictures, published in a Houston newspaper June 18.

It was occasioned by Geringer's invention of a unique merry-go-round, built and installed in the back yard for amusement of the couple's five-year-old daughter, Stacey. The device has been patented and eventually Geringer hopes to manufacture the equipment for sale to private homes, municipal playgrounds and other places where children congregate.

Geringer, former welder and mechanic by trade who plans to teach auto mechanics in high school, invested an estimated 40 hours labor in constructing the carrousel which is singular in appearance and has become an attraction in his town. Total cost to the builder, other than labor, was said to be about $20.

As it exists in Geringer's yard, the machine is a refined replica of the similar but crude pioneer merry-go-round in the same order built by Geringer's father back in Colorado, and it is the father whom he credits with the basic rudimentary idea and conception.

The inventor and his family often visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude McAnally, who live 10 miles west of Cross Plains.

Salute To Dairy Farmers

Milk production is a major factor in the economy of Callahan and adjoining counties.

When you shop the dairy section of your favorite grocery store, you are not only availing your family of an inexpensive, health-giving food but contributing to the prosperity and well-being of a home industry. Fast, refrigerated, trucks — meeting most meticulous sanitation standards — move local milk from farms to central processing plants and back to retail outlets.

When you buy milk or any of its byproducts there should be consolation in the fact that you have provided for your family's table a food surpassed nowhere in the world.

We're proud of the role we play in working with milk producers who work around-the-clock to supply you and your household.

Central West Texas Milk Producers Assn., Inc.

ABILENE, TEXAS

DAIRY PRODUCTS MERIT YOUR CONFIDENCE AND YOUR FRIENDS ON THE FARMS APPRECIATE YOUR DAY-TO-DAY SUPPORT.

This is a note written to you — not for the purpose of gaining anyone's sympathy, and of course, we know you have none to give — but in the hopes that it will stop what you are doing to the people's property you have made it your business to destroy — and also to warn you that in the ruthless, reckless way you go about your work (nine dogs killed in our neighborhood in two days) you might hurt a child. This is just a little note to give you a glimpse into the lives of the people you hurt, so please read it carefully.

I don't suppose it takes much effort to poison a dog ... you walk out your door, and you set out the poison in a hidden place, and then you walk into your house and close the door ... and it's over for you.

But then, there is us ... the people who love the dog. We are the ones who have to open the door and find what you have done. That's when the work and the horror and the fight to save a beloved dog begins. This happened to us last night. Queenie Jay was a big, beautiful, valiant German Shepherd. She never barked, she never offended a soul, she never hurt anyone in her life. That night ... the night we lost her, she was only out of the yard for a second before we caught her and put her back into the fence. Somehow, standing there in my kitchen, I had a feeling that something was wrong, and so I walked out into the yard to see about her. She was just sitting there looking at me. Just normal. Just looking at me. But something in her eyes said, "I'm in trouble." So I called my family, Bill, my husband; Bob, my brother; Faye, my mother; and our five children who loved her with all their hearts, and whom she loved with all hers. When Bill called out to her and saw her stiffen and fall trying to get to him, he looked up and said, "She's got it!" That's when it began — the long night of horror for us and our dog while trying to save her life. For four hours, the whole Pancake family (Oh, yes! They were all there by then.) worked, and cried, and prayed, and fought to save her life. She almost died, but we brought her back. We willed her to live, and oh, she wanted to live. We poured the life-saving substances into her, and walked her, and talked to her and begged! We gave her artificial respiration, massaged her stomach, and worked over her trying to get her to throw-up your sly, sneaking moment's work. She tried to die again, and we jerked her up by the hind legs and slapped her across the head, and she started breathing again. We tried to pump out her stomach, but her eyes told us, "Thank you ... it's too late now." A few minutes later, when the final convulsions began (oh, they are horrible — you should watch them sometime), we sent our children into the house and I went too, because I didn't want to see her that way.

Oh, how I wish you had been in my kitchen at that moment — five children with their heads buried in their arms were sitting at my table crying — the things we had used trying to save her life were strewn everywhere, and everywhere I turned, I heard my children sobbing and I saw her eyes begging me for help.

Of course, there in your silent room, you knew she was beyond help and that Queenie Jay was dead. They said she just suddenly grew very still and gave one, small, final kick, and then was gone.

This was not the only tragedy in our family that night, though. Johnny and Mary Pancake and their two small children, along with "Prof" and Mr. and Mrs. Pancake, Sr., were fighting too, to save the life of their little dog, who was just as dear and precious to them as Queenie was to us. Well, somehow, things worked against you that time. He lived, and although he is still very sick; two small children and Mary and Johnny, and all their family, are hoping beyond hope that he'll make it.

However, this is not only the story of Queenie Jay, as much as we grieve for her. Neither is it the story of the little dog of Johnny and Mary's who somehow managed to escape the night of death. This is also the story of "Teensie", the other little dog you killed on that night. I think that you, who gave her, her death, should know a little about her life. We were only keeping her for one week — one short week. We were taking care of her for a lonely old lady who loved her and who had just lost her husband. "Teensie" was all she had left. Do you realize the loneliness of her home after her husband died? But, of course, she had "Teensie" and that helped a great deal. If only you had given us three more days. Three more days and Teensie could have gone home and never bothered you again. But no, you in your haste to rid us of the dogs we loved, had no time to give us, and so on Sunday, I'll have to meet this lady at the bus and tell her that this time, she'll be going home alone.

Mrs. William L. Pancake, Jr.

ASCS Asks Return Of Two Data Cards

County agricultural officials have asked that Callahan farmers return two information cards.

The first, recently mailed, concerns all known wheat producers who did not sign to participate in the 1967 wheat program. J. C. Earp, Jr., ASCS manager, said, "It is very important that the card be answered and returned, because of failure to do so could result in reduction of future wheat allotment in that planted acreage will be considered in establishing 1969 and later allotments."

He continued that in the near future cards will be mailed to persons having expired contracts with Conservation Reserve, soil bank.

Two purposes are served, according to Earp, to ascertain if acreage maintained in a vegetative cover is being continued and to protect and maintain acreage of allotment crops not planted this year. History protection will be lost if cards are not returned, he stated.

SS Claimant Can Get Third Hearing

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of six articles, telling of safeguards against wrong decisions in the social security program, prepared for the Cross Plains Review by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Social Security district manager.

Last week's article told how a dissatisfied claimant could disagree with the denial action taken on his claim and request and receive formal reconsideration of his claim by a different set of people from the ones who turned him down at first. But if his application is still denied, there are more possibilities to suggest.

If the claim is again denied after such reconsideration, the claimant still doesn't have to give up and accept the decision if he feels it is wrong. He has six more months in which to request a hearing, in or near his community, by a Hearing Examiner. There he may bring witnesses and or new evidence if he wishes.

The areas of disagreement are talked out in a semi-judicial atmosphere, after which the Hearing Examiner studies the file, consults precedents, and in disability claims may consult the opinions of medical consultants and vocational experts. He then issues a decision upholding the previous denials, or reversing them and awarding the claim.

If he denies the claim, it's still not the end of the road. Next week's article will explain further actions possible.

ASCS Crop Payments Adjustment Possible

J. C. Earp, Jr., office manager for Callahan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in the courthouse in Baird, has announced that producers who were prevented from timely planting crops due to droughty conditions, may still earn program payments.

The farmer must, however, file an application for adjustment in acreage due to natural disaster, forms of which are available in the county office. "In order to be eligible under the provision, the acreage set aside must have been kept in a state of readiness to plant the crop until the final planting date," according to Earp.

If application is approved by the ASCS County committee, the diverted acreage can be devoted to other use, but must be designated to an approved conservation use.

Tuesday noon is deadline for news and advertising.

Lakewood Medal Golf Tourney Play Sunday

An 18-hole, medal golf tournament is to be staged Sunday at Lakewood Recreation Center. It is open to both members and non-members of the Center, and men and women alike.

Entry fee is $1.50 per person which is in addition to regular green fees.

Winner and runner-up in each flight will receive golf merchandise as prizes, and the amount of prizes will be governed by the number of entries in each flight.

Chiefs Revitalize Title Hopes With Two Wins

Cross Plains Chiefs have again fought back into at least a tie for first place in the senior division of the Inner-City Baseball League.

Bangs fell into second place Monday after Chiefs clipped the former leaders 4-3. Cross Plains sports a 7-3 record, and Bangs is 6-4. Comanche, who carried a 6-3 mark into Monday's tilt with De Leon, 0-9, could share the lead with the Chiefs.

Two games remain on the schedule and if a tie results, a playoff will be held in Brownwood. Winner of the league will participate in a tournament in the same city with dates to be announced later.

Chiefs blew a four-run lead Saturday night then rallied to down visiting De Leon 7-4. Chiefs pushed three runs across in the sixth inning. Bo Barr began the inning with a single, his third hit, and Sammy Balkum doubled him home. Joe Pope singled Balkum across the plate, he scored on a throwing error.

Rick Jones was the winning pitcher in three relief frames. He came in in the fifth with bases loaded and no outs. After giving up back to back singles, Jones fanned the next three hitters. Barr started and went two scoreless frames, then Pope relieved and ran into trouble in the fifth after two scoreless innings.

Jim Freeman and Joe Pierce scored all Cross Plains runs Monday as the Chiefs nipped Bangs 4-3. Bangs got two in the first, but Chiefs' Freeman, who singled and stole second, went to third as Pierce got aboard on an error. Pope then singled both home.

Bangs again gained the advantage with a single run in the fourth. With two outs, Freeman got on base by an error, Pierce then hit a line shot two-bagger. Bangs elected to walk clean-up hitter Pope, to get to Randy Walker who promptly doubled down the right field line scoring Freeman and Pierce.

Pope was the winning pitcher in going the distance.

Chiefs go to Comanche for a showdown Saturday night.

Righthander Injured
Ace Chief pitcher Ricky Jones missed action Monday because of an accident at his home that afternoon. Nine stitches were required to close a scalp wound. It was not known if he would be able to see duty Saturday.
