Morris Odoms Are Round-Up Chairmen

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Odom of this city have been named Cross Plains area co-chairmen for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children to be held in Abilene September 25.

This is the 12th year that this round-up has been conducted and the proceeds from sale of the donated livestock goes entirely to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene to help finance this wonderful organization.

The Center has served almost 20,000 handicapped — regardless of age, race, creed, color, geographical residence or financial circumstance — during its 19 years of existence. A private, nonprofit institution, with an annual budget of nearly $500,000, it is a tribute to the compassionate concern of people of this sector of Texas, who contribute the major portion in free-will gifts of money and livestock.

The Odoms ask livestock producers of this area to join in this worthy endeavor by cutting out a calf or calves, horses, sheep, goats or hogs. Simply call the chairmen and they will see that your contributions are picked up and taken to the sales.

Complete details of the annual Round-Up can be obtained by calling Morris or Dorothy Odom, at Odom's Restaurant here.

Bufs Open Grid Wars At Blanket Friday Night

Cross Plains Buffaloes will open the 1972 football campaign by taking on the Blanket Tigers in Blanket Friday at 8 p.m.

The hosts are members of District 6-B, a strong Class B conference. The Tigers were rated sixth in the eight-team league in one pre-season poll.

Experience is a trump both the Tigers and Bisons possess this season.

Seventeen lettermen return to the Blanket unit from last year's 1-9 team while eighteen monogram winners are back with the Buffaloes.

Top running threat for the Tigers is thought to be Ronnie Schuze, a 155 pound fast, elusive ball carrier.

Twenty-one Bisons earned varsity position, according to a roster released this week by Head Coach Don Lee and Jim Birkhimer, assistant.

Possible starters on offense were named this week by Lee as follows: Roger Crawford, Ricky Kirkham, Jerry Fortune and Rodney Renfro, backs; Donny Dillard and Glen Phillips, ends; Chuck Pennell, center; Jackie Thomas and C. B. Hutchins, guards; Lynn Koenig and Bruce Lawrence, tackles.

Defensive possible starters were listed as follow: Rex

Mayes, Kirkham, Terry Fortune and Renfro, backs; others Dillard, Pennell, Thomas, Hutchins, L. Koenig, Johnny Joy and Lawrence.

Complete varsity roster follows:
10 Rex Mayes B 130
12 Roger Crawford B 151
16 Ricky Kirkham B 151
18 Tony Winfrey B 150

20 Donny Dillard E 166
22 Jerry Fortune B 160
30 Randy Hunter B 140
33 Rodney Renfro B 163
40 Terry Fortune B 155
55 Chuck Pennell C 166
57 Jackie Thomas G 155
65 C. B. Hutchins G 162
68 Leon Nixon G 155
70 Lynn Koenig T 166
75 Bruce Johnson T 198

76 Johnny Joy T 180
77 Larry Tatom T 175
78 Eddie Wyatt G 145
79 Bruce Lawrence T 182
86 Eddie Koenig E 160
88 Glen Phillips E 155

The 21 varsity Buffaloes are composed of a dozen seniors, eight juniors and one sophomore.

Bisons tangled with Merkel here last Friday in scrimmage sessions. Lee said that he was pleased with the overall performance of his charges.

The defense is still ahead of the offense, but the team was improved overall from its first outing against Dublin a week earlier," he stated.

Bufs and Merkel fought to a four-four draw. It was pointed out that during the regular scrimmage the visiting Badgers tallied one touchdown while holding the Herd scoreless. In the goalline sessions Cross Plains counted four times and Merkel tallied three times.

B teams of the two schools fought to scoreless draw. The local interning Herdmen will begin season on Sept. 14 by hosting Bangs. Complete roster and schedule for that unit will be published in next week's Review.

Earp Outlines A.S.C.S. 1973 Wheat Program

J. C. Earp, executive director of Callahan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, has supplied the following information concerning the 1973 wheat program.

"Notices of domestic wheat allotments, required set-aside acreage and conserving base, along with information on the program have been mailed to wheat producers in the county. Those who participate in the 1973 wheat program will set-aside the acreage entered on the notice.

"This year additional acreage may be set-aside but it will limit the acreage of wheat that may be harvested. The amount of additional set-aside will depend on last year's wheat acreage for harvest plus additional set-aside, if any, up to 150% of this year's domestic allotment. Generally speaking, if a producer did not harvest wheat acreage substantially above the 1972 allotment he will not be interested in designating additional set-aside and limiting this year's acreage.

"A.S.C.S. records indicate most producers in Callahan County will sign-up, set-aside the required acreage, observe his conserving base requirement and plant the remainder of the farm to wheat or other nonconserving crops. If you think you may be interested in designating additional acreage you should check with this office for full details.

"If the farm does not have a record of planted wheat or feed grain in the past two years, the allotment or base will be lost if acreage is not planted for 1973. To protect wheat at least 90 per cent of the allotment must be planted and for feed grain 45% of the base. Wheat and feed grain may be substituted for each other, provided the seeded acreage is in excess of the wheat allotment and or one-half the feed grain base."

2 More Persons Are Charged In Burglaries

Two other persons have been charged since last week in area burglaries which local and area lawmen have been investigating for the past few weeks.

Latest charges filed are for burglary in Coleman County against James Wilson of Cross Plains and Ricky Adams of near Burkett. Coleman County Sheriff Corky Chapman confirmed charges being filed against the pair Tuesday. He said that warrants had been issued for both, but neither had been arrested at mid-afternoon that day.

Wilson is also charged in Brown County with felony theft. He is free on $1,000 bond in that case. Reportedly taken in that county where radial arm saw and eight blades, air tank, gauge and hose, water can and 40 to 50 pounds of nails.

Wilson and Adams are accused of burglarizing the barn of Byron McAnally near Burkett in Coleman County. Supposedly taken in that burglary were an electric welder, Stiner saddle, bridle, reins, bits and head stall, box of tools and other assorted tools, cutting head and holder, among other items.

Most of the property in both cases has been recovered.

Cross Plains City Marshal Chuck Thomas said that charges are pending against several other persons, but will await grand jury investigations before additional action is taken. Eleven persons were recently filed on in 15 cases in district courts in Callahan, Coleman and Comanche counties.

Orders Bring Rangers Here In 1850

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles written for the Review by Dr. T. R. Havins of Brownwood. Dr. Havins is a foremost authority on history of this section of Texas, and has authored many articles of historic nature as well as books concerning early days in this area. He will soon have another book out about Belle Plain, old township in Callahan County.

By T. R. Havins
A special order of the United States Army in late 1850 brought Captain Randolph B. Marcy and a company of soldiers into Callahan County in January, 1851.

which resulted in the establishment of a new line of forts on the northwestern frontier. Included in the new posts were federal army to take action, need for an intermediate post was the reason for Marcy's examination of the area in January, 1851.

The soldiers under Captain Marcy left Fort Belknap near modern Graham and entered Callahan County at its northeast corner. Veering southwestward from the point, the group reached Turkey Creek, about two miles south of modern Cottonwood, on the fifth day out of Belknap.

Fort Belknap, Fort Phantom Hill, and Fort Mason. The distance between Belknap and Mason was more than 150 miles. This long stretch of territory was unprotected. The

From the Cottonwood section they headed southward down Turkey Creek and established a temporary base in Brown County at the convergence of Turkey Creek and Pecan Bayou some 15 miles south of modern Cross Plains.

With this base as headquarters, Marcy and his men examined the area in all directions. One group traversed Pecan Bayou southward to its mouth on the Colorado River. Another scouting party examined the Jim Ned Valley as far westward as modern Lawn, in Taylor County.

Captain Marcy himself made a careful survey of Pecan Bayou Valley to the source of the stream. Among numerous details included in the report, Marcy noted that many Comanche Indian campsites existed along the small river. Another detail mentioned by the observant army man related to the head of the stream. He reported that a number of springs furnished water at its source.

Although the report is silent concerning any observations beyond the springs, we are certain that he reached a point a couple of miles northeast of the present village of Eula in the western section of the county.

In his final report Marcy recommended that a permanent fort be established at the site of his temporary base near the mouth of Turkey Creek. The War Department waited several years without implementing the captain's recommendation and finally established Camp Colorado on Jim Ned Creek in 1857.

Showers Fall Over Area But Rain Is Sub-Normal

Showers have fallen over this area twice this week and measured .41 of an inch here. The fall has been heavier in some sections of the area and has been lighter in others.

Records kept here by F. C. (Slim) Newton, official observer for the National Weather Service, reveal that rainfall in August totalled 3.13 inches, to give Cross Plains an eight-month total of 13.93 inches. This coupled with this week's total gives the community a total of 14.34 inches, to date. Rainfall through the first eight months of last year totalled 16.07 inches, exceeding this year by 2.14 inches.

With peanut harvesting getting underway, growers with nuts ready to combine are asking for some dry weather, while growers with late peanuts and ranchers are looking askance at the skies and praying for a good rain.

Some residents living in the area west of town are hauling drinking water and wondering how long their stock water will last.

Burkett 'Pot' Trial Slated Thursday

Trial of Clifford Moore, 33, formerly of the Burkett area, for possession of marijuana is scheduled for 35th District Court at Coleman on Thursday, Sept. 7.

The charge was filed in August 1971 after a three-quarters of an acre field of the weed was discovered on the ranch of E. B. (Sweetie) Webb, just inside Coleman County. The crop was destroyed by Coleman County Sheriff Corky Chapman under the directives of narcotics agents of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

At the time of the find and arrest, it was noted that a portion of the crop had apparently been harvested because leaves from some of the stalks ranging in height of from six to 10 feet, had evidently been picked.

It was estimated last year that the marijuana had a harvested value of approximately $275,000, and if it had been processed and rolled would have approached $1 million.

The accused was employed on the ranch as a cowboy at the time of the discovery.

A panel of 75 jurors have been called in Coleman County for the trial which is expected to draw wide interest over the area and state.

Local Firms Participate In Peanut Competition

Cross Plains Grain & Peanut Co. and the Pioneer Farmers Co-Op are participating with southwest peanut industry organizations and a chemical company in sponsoring peanut quality contests again this year.

All peanut growers in Texas and Oklahoma may automatically become participants in the statewide quality contests, as the buyer needs simply to check the Form MQ 94 in order to determine its eligibility for entry into the contest.

Here are the rules for the state contest:

1. The grower's copy of the Form MQ-94, Inspection Certificate and Sales Memorandum, will be the official contest entry document.

2. The Form MQ-94 must represent a single load of peanuts weighing not less than 8,000 pounds net (Line E of the MQ-94).

3. The peanuts must be eligible for price support.

4. The peanuts shall not exceed the following grade tolerances:

- (a) 1 per cent sound splits
- (b) 1 per cent loose shelled kernels
- (c) 2 per cent foreign material
- (d) 0 per cent damage
- 5. Segregations 2 and 3 peanuts are not eligible.

6. Peanuts found to have mold are not eligible.

7. Winners shall be determined by the highest support value per ton.

8. The number of individual awards shall be set by the local sponsoring organization and determined by placings computed under item 7 above.

9. All previous winners and runners-up in state contests will not be eligible for this or future contests.

It was pointed out that if no state winners are from a local sponsor rules and regulations of the contest may be somewhat eased to award sponsors prizes.

Visitors in the Edgar Jones home during the week end were their son, Weston Jones, of Mokena, Ill. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Nichols and family of Coleman.

SNAKES ALIVE OR DEAD; THEY GROW BIG HERE

Rolan Jones, local teacher, thought for an instant last Saturday while driving to a dove hunting spot, that Boa Constructors had invaded this area.

He found a Bullsnake in the roadway about midway between Cross Plains and Cottonwood of gigantic proportions. The reptile had already been killed, apparently by a vehicle.

The snake measured seven feet and four inches in length. That was with a portion of the tail missing.

At first glance Jones thought it to be a rattlesnake. Rattlesnake or bullsnake, it's still a lot of snake.

The Ruth Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church recently had its social in the home of Mrs. Opal Gattis. There were 13 present who enjoyed a good program and fine fellowship.

Bell Plain Book Penned By Dr. Havins Printed

Collectors of Texas history who are interested in this section of Texas will be interested in a new book, "Bell Plain, Texas, Ghost Town in Callahan," published this week by The Brown Press of Brownwood.

Written by a distinguished historian, Dr. T. R. Havins, retired history professor at Howard Payne College, a Callahan County native, the book will also be a handy reference for genealogists and others who have had family connections in Callahan County.

The book is published in a limited edition of 500 copies, each numbered.

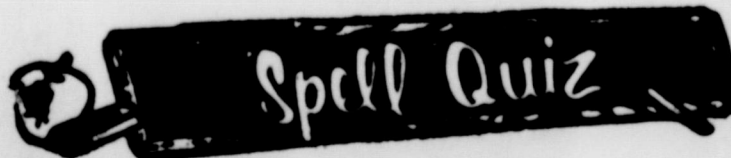

While the book treats the historical aspects of the subject in detail, with numerous footnotes at the end of the book, it is written in a very readable style.

Obviously the result of years of research, the book has many

FROM HIGGINBOTHAMS

Mrs. Williams
The word brings efficiency, and of a job. Of course, of a knob, a hinge, a nail is to do its job. But after that the decorative attributes of the servants enter into the picture. It has a long and history as a major part of plain furniture, and is more attractive than the hardware for like choosing but- tress. They can make a difference in the world of look.

or bone, as a change from brass; or bronze; or gilt-bronze. Gold-plated hardware, reminiscent of the reign of Louis XVI is back in demand, especially for bath- room fixtures.

One of the most beautiful collections of hardware I have seen lately is right in your Higginbothams store. It is the Carriage House Collection by Amerock. Each piece, from chain latch to towel bar, is beautifully designed in the traditional styl- ing that reflects the skill of mas- ter craftsmen. The line is hand finished and comes in Antique Silver and Antique English fin- shes.

Whatever style and finish of hardware you choose, remember that it is the jewelry, the finish- ing touch, for your cabinet, door, or furniture piece. Like jewelry, it is used to adorn and enhance the beauty of the piece on which it is used.

For all your hardware needs, check with Higginbothams first.

Mrs. Williams, Higginbothams Staff Home Economist, may be contacted through your local Higginbothams store or by calling (915) 356-2545. She will be happy to assist individuals or groups with problems in home economics. (Pd. Adv.)
