a statement of policy adopted by the Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau at a meeting of directors and officers at Baird Tuesday night of last week. It opposes recentiy enacted legislation to impose controls on exports of agricultural products and supports continued trading and exporting of farm products with friendly nations in advantageous trade. The statement follows.

The president of the Callahan-Shackelford County Farm said today that if controls are ence to legislation currently pending in Congress that would impose export restrictions.

The U. S. House of Repreentatives passed a bill (H. The U. S. Senate is holding hearings on similar bills S. 2053 and S. 2411).

Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau solidly upports the expansion of exorts of agricultural commodiies and the development of autually advantageous trade ith other friendly nations. The egislation aimed at limiting xports are much like price controls in that they divert at ention from the need for a direct attack on our economic problems through effective as-

The Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau believes the "supply and demand" type of economy. When the demand is restricted or cut off the farming and ranching industry would suffer immediately; but the end result would be that all Americans would suffer from this needless legslation

Everybody, especially Farm Bureau members, are urged to write to Senator Lloyd Bentson. Senator John G. Tower, and President Richard Nixon, asking them to oppose passage of the export controls legislation.
