City of Cross Plains may not be going into the gas distribution business after all. At least the interim stay since Flame Gas, Inc. filed bankruptcy may be short.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

With Election Day barely two months away, Gov. Bill Clements surprised many by recalling the Legislature for a special session to keep the state's unemployment fund from going broke.

State officials predict a 2,700 per cent increase in unemployment taxes paid by employers. In addition, employers face an estimated 33 per cent hike in the federal unemployment tax, which was approved recently as part of President Reagan's $99 billion tax package.

Clements earlier had said he would wait until after the Nov. 2 general election to call legislators back to Austin, and experienced politicians agreed it was not wise to mix state business with political campaigns.

But with a neck-and-neck governor's race at hand, the special session has the earmarks of a political powder keg.

Raising the unemployment tax would surely alienate many of the state's employers, especially mom and pop operations, while ignoring the unemployed voters is political suicide.

Calling the session is perhaps the first real risk that Clements has had to take since becoming governor.

However, postponing the session was also just as risky for Clements, who is running against Texas Atty. Gen. Mark White.

White and Clements have been accusing each other of every incompetency their public records can yield, and the unemployment trust fund is an embarrassment to Clements.

Roughly speaking, the Legislature can consider three basic solutions for replenishing the Unemployment Compensation Fund: 1) raising the tax paid by employers, 2) borrowing money from the Federal Unemployment Compensation Fund, or 3) use money from the state's general revenues.

Why Another Session?
The Governor's staff was informed earlier this year of the impending crisis by Texas Employment Commission officials, but the warning apparently fell through the cracks.

Now the Legislature must find emergency means to replenish the unemployment fund described as "dangerously small."

In recent months, unemployment in Texas dramatically increased and has depleted the fund. A legislative failsafe built into the trust fund allows for an automatic increase in unemployment taxes paid by Texas employers, if the fund drains below $225 million.

On Oct. 1, the tax on employers will automatically increase from a minimum $6 per worker a year to approximately $126, unless the Legislature forestalls the increase.

The increase would become effective Jan. 1, 1983, and Clements was inclined to let the Legislature resolve the problem sometime between November and January.

But the 2700 per cent rate would already have been set in October — one month before Election Day — and the ensuing publicity would be more than Clements would want to take. Most observers agree that Clements and White will run very close, and the tax increase could possibly shift the advantage and victory to White the Democrat.

So, knowing that it's going to hurt sooner or later, Clements apparently is hoping for "sooner," hoping to fade the political heat and let the issue blow itself out.

Besides, by shifting the burden of responsibility to the Legislature, Clements can hope for a real solution, or at least a stop-gap measure and after adjournment he can go back to pointing out White's deficiencies.

But why Sept. 7 — the day after Labor Day?

The Democrats will hold their State Convention on Sept. 10, and many legislators are delegates to that convention. The Democrat-controlled Legislature might be eager to approve the Governor's temporary solution and adjourn early.

That's okay with Clements, because the longer they remain in session, the more heated the issue becomes, producing publicity that would most likely be counter to Clements' campaign.

Savings and Loans

A Texas Savings and Loans Commissioner last week predicted that unless economic trends reverse, some 100 Texas thrift institutions, including over 30 on the brink of insolvency, will merge out of existence by next fall.

So far this year, 15 S&Ls have merged out of existence, Commissioner Alvis Vandygriff told the State Finance Commission.

Campaign Lawsuit

Republican attorney general candidate Bill Meier filed suit against his Democrat opponent Jim Mattox for so-called fraudulent advertising. Meier charged Mattox with misleading voters into thinking he was an incumbent attorney general. Mattox called the lawsuit "political rot."

Changes In Student S.S. Benefits Told

Recent legislation made a number of changes in Social Security benefits. One change affects college and other post-secondary students between the ages of 18 and 22 who are receiving benefits on the record of a retired, deceased or disabled parent. A post-secondary school is a college, university, or approved vocational school.

Under the old law, these students could receive Social Security benefits as long as they were full-time students, unmarried, and under age 22. The new law is gradually phasing out these benefits. By April 1985, the only students eligible for benefits will be those under age 19 in a high school, junior high school or elementary school. Children under age 18 will continue to receive benefits regardless of their student status.

Those student beneficiaries who were entitled to a check for August 1981 and who were in full-time attendance. However, beginning in 1982, no benefits will be paid for May, June, July or August and these students will not receive any cost-of-living increase. In addition, these students' benefits will be reduced by 25 per cent each September when the checks resume.

A student 18 or over who did not receive a Social Security check for August 1981 or who was not in full-time attendance at a college or other post-secondary school before May 1982 will not be entitled to student benefits after July 1982 unless that student is under age 19 and in full-time attendance at a high school, junior high or elementary school. These students will be paid under the old law through July 1982.

If there are questions regarding students' benefits or any other Social Security matter, please call the Abilene office at (915) 698-1360.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson (Jo Veda) of Pampa, their daughter, Mrs. Darwin Floyd (Julie) now of Brady, along with Mrs. Joe Fleming and her grandsons, Alan and Jason of Pioneer visited the John Watsons here Saturday.

Strake Talk

TWO TERMS IS ENOUGH

Texas has a healthy skepticism of their elected officials, a wariness of entrenched power that they have embodied in the state constitution. They have historically refused to keep top state officeholders more than a few terms. Now my opponent comes along, having spent nearly ten years in the Lt. Governor's office, one of the top state policy-making offices. Mr. Hobby wants yet another term to make it 14 years in that crucial job. That is unprecedented. Never in Texas' history has any Lt. Governor served that long — or wanted to. His desire, frankly, puzzles me. You would think he would have other goals, other challenges he might want to tackle. As his primary opponent this year said, "If he had anything to get done, you'd think he would have done it by now." My opponent will tell you that experience is what counts. I think voters need to look at the experience they have had with him. After ten years, our highways are in bad shape, the quality of education has declined, we still do not have a new, statewide water plan and he has refused to tackle the growing crime problem. We can't afford more of that kind of experience. I have a long-held belief in what I call the citizen-politician: someone who holds a job serves his country or state for a reasonable time, then returns to that job and private life. For that reason, the first order of business after I am elected will be to have a constitutional amendment introduced in the legislature limiting the Lt. Governor to two terms—eight years. That is enough time for anyone. Too great a concentration of power for too long is bad. That is a principle of democracy. If you have any thoughts on this subject, please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

HINTS FOR ADVERTISERS

When you next call The Review, 725-6111, to place a classified ad, remember that words are your business. Words properly put together in an ad mean more phone calls and more sales for you. Follow the rules below and get more and faster results.

- Put in the address
Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.
- Put in the phone number
Many readers will call you but will not find it convenient to come to your home or business.
- Avoid use of blind boxes
Avoid them if possible. They are difficult to answer and people prefer to deal directly.
- Put in the price, by all means
Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price is given.
- Keep the readers from guessing
On important details it is better to include them if they are relevant to a sale.
- Be available
If you advertise your phone and address, be sure you are not absent when the ad appears so as to accommodate the reader.

CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS

A Boulder APPROACH: OR how Hoover Gave a DAM.

In the early 1900's, a concrete solution was needed to prevent flooding along the Colorado River. The Hoover administration provided it. 4,400,000 cubic yards' worth. Enough concrete to pave a two-lane highway between New York and San Francisco. It was the Hoover Dam at Boulder City, Nevada. And it not only controlled flooding and irrigation, but today it generates power for Southern California, Arizona and Nevada.

The cost: $385 million.

And one of the ways money was generated was by Americans buying government securities and taking stock in America.

Today, you can take stock in America by buying United States Savings Bonds. It's easy when you join the Payroll Savings Plan.

That way, a little is automatically set aside from each paycheck to buy Bonds. Before you know it, you'll build up a nice reservoir of savings.

So buy Bonds. It's one savings plan that holds water.

Take stock in America.

United States Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Pioneer News Items

By Mabel Halsell

Before getting down to the business of writing the news of the people of the community, I like to sound off with something that is of interest to me, hoping it will be of interest to my readers.

Today, I had empathy for Phillip Swan, Washington, D. C.'s reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News, when he wrote, in the current Sunday issue. After explaining that Congress is in recess for the Labor Day week end, he wrote "The town is closed . . . My back is to the wall. What is a reporter to do?" After turning to the press secretary for help and still no incentive to write, he concluded, "I might be forced to write . . . about how there's nothing going on in Washington during Labor Day week end." That was an example of how I felt when I was ready to write.

But on second thought, there has been much going on in the Halsell household. People coming and going to buy tomatoes (there are more tomatoes for sale) etc. Seemingly, our house has become "the house beside the road" as the American writer wrote. Children, grandchildren, even the first visit of little Jon-Marc Wilcox, his sister Valerie, and brother, Jimmy and their parents, Mark and Kathy Wilcox, en route to Abilene where they visited Kathy's parents, Charles and Lou Rodenberger, Rev. Robert Doom of Baird visited on the same day.

Mark and Kathy Rodenberger had lunch and visited on Monday. They were en route home to Carrollton after visiting his parents, Lou and Charles Rodenberger, in Abilene.

Several times during the week we heard a three-wheeler drive up. Then we would have a visit with Tommy and/or James Ames. Three times they brought friend from school. They were Devin Coenig, Tye Flippin and Terrell Smith.

On Sunday P. C. and Edythe Carr of Lafayette, La., and Rising star were guests in the Halsell home. The occasion was a birthday dinner for Mr. Halsell. Sunday a week ago, Mr. and Mrs. Halsell and daughter, Sue Taylor, had lunch with Lou and Charles Rodenberger in Abilene.

Pardon so much news about the writer and family. Had I not included, I could have written only about nothing to write, as Mr. Phillip Swan wrote.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mitchell, of near the Pioneer community, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beggs on Thursday.

Their son, Rex, is a daily visitor. He comes to help with the irrigation.

What is more helpful to start the day than to talk to Mrs. Ethel Brown? She said, "I am not quilting this week. I am going to rest." We'll see. Her visitors were Lou Grider, Ardella McMillan, Mrs. Halsell, Mabel Burchfield, Lois Garrett, Velma Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Dean brought lunch which they shared with Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Grace Eakin Hierholzer is glad to be back to her home at Pioneer, where she and her husband plan to live. Their visitors were her sister, Mrs. Ruby McCowen, Mr. E. M. Curry, Rev. John Miller, Paul Marshall of Cisco, her son Ben Akin of Shreveport, his sons, Tommy and David Hierholzer of Fort Worth and Kilgore.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watson and sons Alton and Billy and Miss Jodette Swaner of Pampa, spent a week vacationing at Brownwood Lake and visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleming, Charlene and Jim Fleming. During the time Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Floyd of Brady visited her parents, the Watsons and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming and Jim and Charlene.

Visitors with Alma and Josie Morris were Gail Flippin and Winnie Flippin, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Frankie Smith.

Vernon and Glenda Phillips visited Mr. Pat Morgan, who is in a hospital in Brownwood.

Rev. and Mrs. Clay Vaughn and son Jim, of Cross Plains, and Raymond Parrish of Cross Plains, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parrish recently.

Pamela Martin of Brownwood visited her grandmother, Velma Brown during the week end. Another visitor was Mrs. Lois Brown.

Mrs. Roddy's visitors this week were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roddy, Cindy and Charlie of the commu-

Don Helberg Buried At Burkett Thursday

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Walker Funeral Home at Coleman for D. R. (Don) Helberg, 70, of Burkett Route, Coleman, and well known in Cross Plains.

A retired contract oil field pumpjack, Mr. Helberg died at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 24, at his home. The Rev. Paul Smith of Coleman Community Baptist Church officiated. Burial was at Burkett Cemetery.

Born Jan. 22, 1912, in Bowling Green, Ohio, he graduated from Brownwood High School and married Mosell Swafford Dec. 16, 1935, in Brownwood. He had lived in the Burkett area since the early 1930s. An Army Air Corps veteran of World War II, he was a Baptist.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Don L. of Santa Fe, N. M., and Ray G. of Pecos; a sister, Mrs. Raymond (Valeta) Smith of Coleman; a brother, L. V. "Crip" of Pecos; and five grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Groom Shepard of Lufkin, formerly of Pioneer, visited Mrs. Eula Foster here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Roady, and Art Roady, Jr., and Calvin of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Martin and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Freeman.

Mrs. Roddy and daughter, Billie Freeman, visited Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Roady in Anson.

Mrs. Roddy and Mrs. Barton attended the Co-Op supper in Rising Star.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sessums were Mr. and Mrs. Danny Sessums, Mike and David of Burleson and Mn. and Mrs. Fred Zedlitz of the community.

I wish to make a correction in my last column, in which I referred to James and Jeannette Brown. It should have been James and Virginia Brown.

REMEMBERING A TRUE GENTLEMAN

A GENTLEMAN walked the streets of my town,
Gracious and kind to all around him:
A friend to the rich;
A friend to the poor;
A smile to the young;
An aid to the old;
A help to the feeble;
A buffer to the bold!

Assisting his Mom,
Assisting his Dad;
A Knight of Our Age
though in cloth
He was clad.

Honoring God!
Honoring family!
Honoring Country!
Honoring Man!

A GENTLEMAN walked the streets of my town,
and I was privileged to know him.

(As his father before)
Elliott Bryant was a true GENTLEMAN in every sense of the word.

Respectfully,

Lakewood Center Given Top Rating By F.H.A.

Editor's Note: The following article concerning Lakewood Recreation Center was authored by a representative of the Board of Directors of the center.

Visitors and golfers from our entire Big Country area say nothing but praise for all the facilities at our Lakewood Recreation Center.

Volunteer members of the club have kept the golf course in excellent condition all summer. Players from Abilene, Stamford, Comanche, Brownwood and other surrounding towns have visited and played on our course all during the season and are telling others of the beautiful course.

The swimming pool has been excellent. Miniature golf still lacks 9 holes of new carpet but this has already been approved for completion by the board of directors just as soon as carpet is available from the factory.

A special commendation by the Abilene Regional FHA Office was a highlight of our summer season. A representative of FHA even made a special trip to Lakewood to see first hand the improvements and management of the club that had brought it to the attention of so many people in our area.

All members and the Board of Directors of the center cordially invite everyone to come and take advantage of all facilities offered to our area. You'll be very pleased and delighted to be a part of the center. Dues are only $20 per month for the entire family.
