"CLUCK, CLUCK"

By VANDA ANDERSON
CREECH

One day at lunch we were discussing how complicated preparing a chicken once was. Mother recalled the chicken down, wringing their necks, either boiling them to pluck their feathers or skinning them. I remember Granny Ethel singed the pin feathers on a chicken before cutting it up. Boy did that smell!

Cutting up a chicken is almost a lost art these days. Sometimes I arrive with parts that are not quite recognizable.

Mother shocked my children when she said she remembered her grandmother, Rosa Paralee Irvin, cooking the head and the feet. The men were served first and the children last. Sometimes only the feet were available, but there was plenty of gravy and biscuits.

We have changed the order of serving over the years, or at least our family has. The children now take precedence. Maybe that wasn't a good change.

Everyone who recalls this process notes that chicken tasted better back then. By the time you went through all this you would be hungry.

Our family still uses Granny Loma's method of preparing fried chicken. She salted and peppered the chicken and put a whole egg or two over the meat thoroughly. Flour was generously sprinkled over the pieces until it was covered with a thick pasty batter and then it was cooked in hot oil until crisp and brown.

Now the gravy -- sometimes this throws cooks. I have had my daughters and son-in-law call and ask how to prepare gravy over the telephone. I always let the oil where the chicken was cooked cover the bottom of the skillet slightly, get it warm, and add two tablespoons of flour. Salt and pepper the mixture and stir while it browns. When it is good and brown pour in approximately 2 1/2 cups of sweet milk and a cup of water mixed. Then just bring to a boil and keep stirring till it thickens.

Now if you put too much flour it will be lumpy and if you didn't put quite enough, it will not thicken. I still have flops but trying to correct the problem results in bigger problems, believe me!

Well, I am hungry for fried chicken now. That was usually Sunday dinner when I was growing up. What kind of stories will we leave our children? Taking the frozen chicken parts out of the freezer, maybe already battered doesn't create much interest. Now faster is considered better.

Don't you feel like we are in such a rush to accomplish each day's chores that we wish every day without treasuring any precious moments. People from the large cities find life in Cross Plains to move at a slower pace and love it. However, it feels like the weeks race by and the years are flying.

Try to capture at least one great memory this week that can be passed on to your children or grandchildren.

Organizational Meeting for First Cross Plains Barbarian Trade Festival & Cook-off Set

By SHERI BENNETT

As a result of the Strategic Planning session sponsored by WTU, five priorities aimed to enhance life in Cross Plains were set by attending citizens. One of these priorities is to organize an annual trades day festival promoting our town as the home of Robert E. Howard, author of Conan, the Barbarian. An informal committee was formed at this meeting to lay the groundwork for achieving this goal.

The first Cross Plains Barbarian Trade Festival and Wild Game Cook-off is scheduled for the fall of 1999, merging with the Old Settlers Reunion. The committee has already met with the DeLeech and Melon Festival Organization which offered some very helpful advice and ideas how to properly plan, organize, and host an affair such as this. Festival activities may include a rodeo game cook-off, a dance and wild events in coordination with the Cross Plains Roping Club, arts and crafts booths, games, and recreation, Barbarian costume contest, yarn-spinners contest, food vendors, community displays, and so much more.

Through the course of committee meetings, it has become evident that a successful event will require the joint effort and support of local businesses, clubs, organizations and individuals. An organizational meeting has been set for Monday, August 3, 6:30 p.m. at Country Kin to elect officers, recruit new members, select subcommittees and exchange ideas. All interested citizens are encouraged to attend this very important meeting. Area clubs, businesses and organizations are invited to send representatives to participate in this endeavor.

We greatly appreciate those who have already pledged or donated funds in support of the festival: Chamber of Commerce, Cross Plains Garden Club, Project Pride, Kiwanis, Old Settlers Reunion, Coyote Flat General Store, Jones Real Estate, and Scott and Keeka Byrd. Funds will be used for promotional advertisement and miscellaneous start-up expenses. Donations may be taken or mailed to the Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 235, Cross Plains 76443. We hope to eventually be self-supportive.

Our long-term goal is to make the festival a widely-known annual event for families in our own community, surrounding cities, and across Texas. We strive to promote Cross Plains as a great place to be, making every tourist's visit a memorable event.

Commissioners Decline Haskell Regional Jail Proposal in July 27 Meeting

By BILLY HARRIS
Special Writer

Callahan County Commissioners declined to sign on with the Haskell Regional Jail Proposal and decided to sell some county property in the City of Baird at their Monday, July 27th meeting.

Commissioners unanimously agreed to turn down an offer to sign a three year contract with the Haskell Regional Jail.

Monty Montgomery, Director of the Haskell Montgomery Development Corporation, met with commissioners at their last meeting and requested that Callahan county commit to be involved in the regional jail. He said several other counties had already approved the contract that set costs at $40.50 per prisoner per day.

Commissioners had delayed their decision until they could speak with Eddie Curtis, he was gone on business at the earlier meeting.

Curtis told commissioners Monday that the Callahan County Jail, one of the oldest certified jails in Texas, had passed inspection in April of this year as it had for the past 6 years.

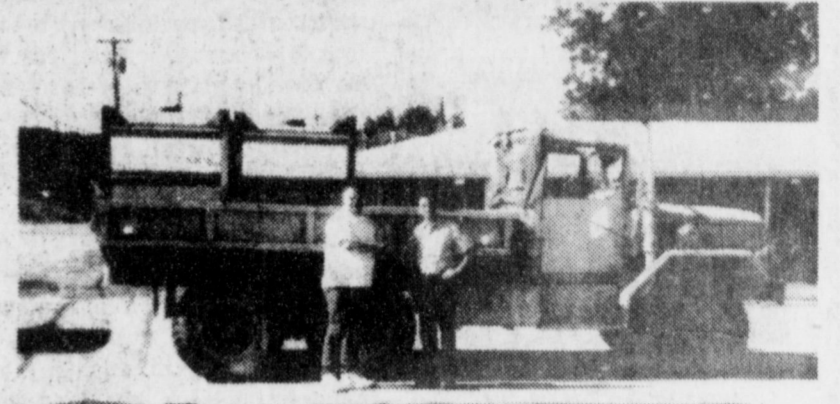

Curtis also told the court that it cost the county an estimated $34 to $36 dollars per day to house prisoners at the Baird facility and had not experienced a problem with overcrowding recently. The jail is certified to keep up to ten prisoners

FIRE TRUCK DELIVERED TO CROSS PLAINS VFD — Don Chndler (left), truck captain for the local fire department thanks Mike Stacey, fire reserve and delivery personnel for the Texas Forestry Service, for the Army truck which was donated.

CP Volunteer Fire Department Receives Donated Truck

The Texas Forestry Service delivered a 2 1/2 ton 6X6 1979 Army truck to the Cross Plains Fire Department Friday, July 24. A request for the vehicle was made in March.

The truck is a multi-fuel burner and can utilize diesel, gasoline or kerosene. It is in good working condition and equipped with four 250 gallon water tanks.

Don Chandler, truck captain for the local fire department, stated that they will be painting the truck red and will replace the canvas cab with a hardtop.

The truck will be used for fighting grass fires. Since July 10th the volunteers have fought two to three grass fires nearly every day. With the existing drought conditions, the additional vehicle will prove serviceable.

The Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department is appreciative of the generous donation from the Texas Forestry Service.

Cross Timbers Summit to Examine Competitive Decline, Cost/Price Squeeze on Farmers

Cross Timbers Agriculture in Transition, a 5-county area economic summit workshop, has been scheduled for August 13 in Rising Star at the First Baptist Church from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The focus will be on Eastland, Comanche, Callahan, Brown and Erath counties.

"Farmers in the Cross Timber face some difficult times and we want to bring together all parties who have a stake in the agricultural economy in the area, especially focusing on peanuts," said Representative Jim Keffer, state legislator from the area. Keffer has taken the lead with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to sponsor this workshop. "We hope to develop strategies for citizen stakeholder involvement that will result in private/public resource teams," he said.

Congressman Charles Stenholm (17th Congressional District) will lead a policy section with his perspective on government policy and how it may impact Cross Timbers producers.

"Peanut producers in the Cross Timbers have seen deeply declining agricultural income," said Ron Wooley, District Extension Director based on Stephenville and Co-Chair of the Summit Workshop. "Acreages have shifted dramatically, moving to West Texas."

The transition has been so rapid that farmers, especially those in peanuts, are looking for effective alternative strategies. They are taking a hard look at the best use of their land and how to survive in the face of 64 percent of spring peanut quotas transferring out of the region in 1997.

"Peanut production and profitability has changed so fast that growers and related agribusiness need to respond immediately to preserve their competitive edge. Participants will hear from a variety of experts--then break out into concurrent groups to design ways to maintain stability and preserve economic viability to the region.

"It's not just individual peanut producers who are affected. The cost/price squeeze threatens related agribusiness and the surrounding rural economy."

The workshop is a continuation of a Summit Initiative begun in 1993 with the first-ever Texas Agricultural Summit held in College Station. Smaller summits have followed among commodity stakeholders interested in a specific aspect of Texas agriculture. This summit workshop concentrates on the Cross Timbers region.

We hope that you will join us for this critical event that will make a difference in the agricultural economy in the area. Lunch will be free of charge. We do ask that you call the Extension Office at (915) 854-1518 by Monday, August 10, to RSVP so that we have an accurate head count for lunch.

Expert: Tap water as good as bottled water

AMARILLO—As temperatures begin to heat up and Texans reach for something refreshing to cool them off, consumers are reminded that bottled water isn't any better than tap water.

Just because a bottled water might taste better, doesn't make it safer to drink, says Extension nutrition specialist Dr. Mickey Bielamowicz.

Bielamowicz said public system waters must meet two standards. First, water must be safe for drinking and it is tested for 80 or more specific chemicals. The secondary standard applies to its taste.

According to Dr. John Sweeten, an Extension irrigation and water management engineer from Amarillo, much of the water in Texas has an undesirable taste but is not bad for us.

"If someone is on a restricted sodium diet, they'd be better off with bottled water or reverse osmosis," he said.

Area man builds Styrofoam, concrete home for the ages

By KEN ELLSWORTH
Ablene Reporter-News

COTTONWOOD — People are coming out to the Childress farm and ranch near here out of mere curiosity like they did 20 years ago. They want to see Bob Childress' unique new home just like they did when his dad, Dan, now 83, built his thick-walled, adobe house across the road.

While you may have seen homes similar to Dan's adobe house, you've probably never seen a home like the one Bob is building.

In the first place, it is made out of Styrofoam.

"I've never seen anything like it," Dan said Wednesday morning when I visited.

In the second place, Bob's home is octagon-shaped and stuck halfway down into a wide, 13-foot deep hole that he dug in the top of a hill on the Childress farm. The first floor is underground. The second floor is above ground. The house has cone-shaped roof and a two-car garage. Looking down through the home's big window frames, Bob can see 10 miles in any direction. Included is a bird's eye view of Dan's adobe home with its red roof and his brother Scott's home, which is just a little nearer. Bob can also look down and see pastures, peanut fields, grain sorghum fields and some of the 700 peach trees and 1,800 pecan trees that his dad planted almost 30 years ago. He can also see East Caddo Peak directly to the south and West Caddo Peak to the west.

The view is awfully pretty, and it was very quiet when I met Bob while he was working on his place. But I think when the weather gets wild and windy, it will not be so quiet.

Bob is not worried about that, though, and is not even worried about tornadoes. He said the Styrofoam house is so strong, he is confident it will withstand even powerful tornadoes.

He is confident it will last, too. "This is a 600-year house," he said as he patted the Styrofoam walls.

The Styrofoam walls are not really just plastic, of course. The Styrofoam is a form, so to speak, for concrete. Bob bought the Styrofoam forms from a New Mexico company. Each form is about three feet in length and about one foot high. The forms are almost a foot thick and hollow. You stack them on top of each other and glue them together. Then you pour concrete down into them and insert vertical steel support rods every foot or so down through the cement.

When you have done all that, Bob said, you have created a very sturdy concrete wall that is covered in several inches of Styrofoam for insulation.

"Good homes that are being built now have an insulation factor of R-17 or 19," Bob said. "This one is R-57."

He will brick the outer walls and cover the interior Styrofoam with wall board.

Dan graduated years ago from Oklahoma A&M with a degree in animal husbandry, then worked for the U.S. Forestry service for more than 30 years. Bob graduated from Colorado State University with a degree in forestry and range management and also worked more than 30 years for the U.S. Forestry Service. He retired last year.

Despite their career overseeing forests, neither seems to think much of wood as a building material.

Dan preferred adobe. Bob prefers plastic, steel and concrete. There is a minimum of wood in his new home.

"Yes, I know about trees and I know they rot and burn," Bob said.

Bob is supremely confident in the durability of his plastic and concrete home and cannot think of a natural force in these parts that could seriously harm his 2,800-square-foot home, not even fire because of the lack of wood.

"In fact," he said, "I am considering not even insuring it."

In addition to its construction, the home will feature other innovative ideas.

It will have a geothermal heating and cooling system that takes heat from water pipes buried in the ground during the winter, and uses the relative coolness of the water for cooling in the summer. With the Styrofoam insulation and the geothermal system, it will be inexpensive to stay comfortable.

"They tell me it should cost about $600 a year, including hot water," Bob said.

In addition, Bob plans on free water. He will construct gutters around the cone-shaped roof and channel the rain water to a big steel tank behind the house.

He figures an inch of rain on his roof will provide 1,000 gallons of water, and annual rainfall in this part of Callahan County is about 24 inches. Bob believes he and his wife Lavonne can easily get along with 24,000 gallons a year.

I asked Bob if his motive for constructing such an energy-sufficient house was motivated by his years of working as a conservationist.

"That, or I'm just chintzy," he said and laughed.

Bob said the construction cost of this home would not be any more than the average new home, but the savings in energy and maintenance costs would make his home more economical in the long run.

Construction began last September with the digging of the hole on top of the hill. Bob expects to finish by December.

His father Dan, however, was skeptical about the December deadline.

"He's in no hurry," Dan said of his son. "He's having too much fun just building it."

"Cool"

Remember the lines of that long ago song? It went something like this. Heat Wave, A Tropical Heat Wave??

According to the news reports, Texas is currently experiencing a heat wave, a "Major" heat wave. Of course (with tongue in cheek) none of us would have known we're having a heat wave, if we didn't hear it on the network news. Right? Seems to me, the majority of us know a heat wave when we "FEEL" one. Recently, it's been reported that consideration is being given to declaring the whole state of Texas a disaster area. Why? Because of the afore-mentioned heat wave. Right? Right!!

I have a nine year old, excuse me; a 9 1/2 year old great nephew, who is not only "cool" but knows how to truly feel and experience "cool." His name is Drew Maddox, he lives in Lubbock. He has the proverbial soul of a poet. Not only is he a poet but also is a veteran actor, having performed in the saga, "God's Country" for about three years. This is performed annually in Crosbyton, in Blanco Canyon, in July.

Drew wrote the following poem as classwork at Lubbock's Cooper Schools and received an excellent grade for it. So here's to a truly "cool" dude, Andrew Rian Maddox.

So, if you want to experience and really feel cool, and you have the soul of a poet, just lean back, relax, think of "cool" breezes and read on.

"The Snow Sorceress"
By A.R. MADDOX

The snow sorceress casts a spell.
And rain comes down along with hail.

She runs along the prairie wild.
The weatherman says the thunders mild.

She jumps to each mountain top.
The avalanche will fall and drop.
When she smiles the sun will shine.
When she cries rain falls in lines.

Linda Brady, secretary-treasurer of the Burkett-Adams Cemetery Association reports more donations were received. Those sending donations were:

Lavada Young $25; Laverne Lindsey $40; Helen Hounshell $10; Bruce and Marsha Adams $25; Tommie and Charlyne Connelly $25; Roger Watson $30; Cleo Porter $20; Danny and Linda Woodruff $25; Mrs. Clyde Sims, in memory of Sarah McCowen $10; Royce Young, in memory of A.R. The cemetery board would like to thank everyone for their continued support and generosity.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Bill Hunter. Bill passed away Sunday morning.

Sunday night Burkett received a lot of lightning, thunder, wind, and about 1/2 inches of rain. We really needed the rain.

Jon and Matt Turney of Whon spent the weekend with Jack and Lovera Strickland, Jacob and Jeremy. Marsha Turney picked them up Sunday evening.

Darryl Tinney of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, spent several days visiting Jack and Lovera Strickland, Jackie Strickland of Somerville visited them Monday night and Tuesday.

Mike, Janice and Cliff Turner of Blanket and Keith Turner of Gainsville spent a few days with their parents and grandparents, D.J.

and Lois Turner.

Carolyn Adams recently attended a birthday luau party for Mahala and Amanda Johnson, given by her daughter, Brandi and the girls dad, James.

The girls gave leis and Hawaiian tie-on skirts and goody bags after taking a dip in the pool. Guests were treated to chocolate cake, mixed fruit slush, and a watermelon basket filled with watermelon and canteloupe.

A slumber party for the girls only followed the luau. Their brother Kanon spent the night with his cousin, Kenneth since no boys were allowed, except for dad.

Mahala, Amanda, and Kanon Johnson spent two nights, last week with Rickey and Carolyn Adams. The kids played with all of Doug and Brandi's old games. They even invented new tunes on the piano. They spent Friday afternoon with Zoe and Zeke Adams at Doug and Dana's in Coleman. Four month old Zeke took a real liking to Mahala, he gave her a hug and a drool. Kanon turned out to be a good baby-sitter, he put Zeke's pacifier back in his mouth. He came and told Doug he was watching over the baby. When the music stopped he couldn't reach it and asked Doug to rewind it. Doug would rewind it and both the boys were happy. Amanda and Zoe played with lots of Barbie's and had a load of fun. Grandma Carolyn returned the Johnson kids to Abilene safe and sound. After spending sometime with Brandi and kids, Grandma Carolyn drove away with a sigh of relief. Whew!!

MA & PA

By JAMES NICHOLS

The Harryman farm was north of Anderson, Missouri and the home was a large two story colonial type structure painted white. The house was on a hill overlooking the railroad that ran between Anderson and Joplin.

The private road from the residence down to the public road was planted on each side with tall slim evergreen trees.

It was a magnificent home and it was apparent that the Harryman family resented their daughter Rose Ellen (Ma) marrying below her position in life.

Mr. and Mrs. Harryman were tall, large framed and apparently were progressive type farm folk. The Harryman farm had a large orchard with lots of apple and peach trees.

Mrs. Harryman wore the typical long ankle length dress (usually black) with an apron with large patch pockets. Her long hair was done into a bun, covered with a bonnet that stuck out over her face about twelve inches.

When one talked to her, they felt he was talking and looking at her through a stove pipe.

She carried loose tobacco in her apron pockets which she smoked in a clay pipe.

She was a religious woman and was firm with her own children as well as the grandchildren.

Laverne went with Cowan to DeLeon Monday afternoon to get some irrigation pipe repaired. They have started watering some of their Coastal grass and are so thankful that they have the water to irrigate. All blessings come from our Lord.

Payton Young received an injury from a rodeo accident in Oklahoma last week. His leg was broken in two places. Surgery was done at Abilene and he returned home last Monday afternoon. Due to swelling he did not have a cast put on until Monday.

Those dropping by to wish Laverne Hutton a Happy Birthday were Trisha Hutton, Robbie Fortune on Friday. Friday night Sandy Hutton came by. Saturday Lynn Hutton and son Scott came for a visit. She also received a lot of pretty cards and some phone calls. Anthony comes by most every day. Tuesday evening Laverne visited with her daughter Wanetta Parson. Wednesday Cowan and Laverne traveled to Fort Worth for Cowan to see his eye doctor.

May Jones has been so thoughtful and willing to keep the club house grounds mowed for us. To show our appreciation for her kind deeds, we had a surprise Birthday Party for her Friday morning at Jean Alexander's home. May, being the Quilting Club's secretary, came with pencil and note pad in hand. It had been told we were having a called meeting to discuss the quilt being made for the Rehab Center, which we did discuss before presenting May with a gift certificate from all of us. Jean served delicious refreshments in hand painted China from a table covered with a tacked quilt table cloth. Jean is a gracious "Hostess with the Mostess." Those attending were Jean Fore, Lotie Sooter, Billie Freeman, Lou Grider, Earlene Burge, Frankie Smith, Laverne Hutton, Jean Alexander, and May Jones.

Vernon and Glenda Philips son, Glenn Dale of Alpine, visited them recently.

The Cottonwood Quilting Club ladies are gearing up for their annual Rehab Night benefit on August 21. The group has sponsored their annual benefit since 1953, in conjunction with the monthly Cottonwood Musical. They will be serving a barbecue plate of brisket or sausage, potato salad, pinto beans, and dessert. They will also have the country store. Items are needed for the country store and your support for this worthy cause will be greatly appreciated.

Maybe you could spare an hour or so to help the ladies during the serving time. Volunteers will be welcomed. Please contact Mary St. Peter at 725-6267 or Isla Stroud at 725-6263 for further information. Congratulations to the many ladies past and present of Cottonwood for their dedicated services to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center's on going work. Many friends, neighbors, and relatives have received and continue to receive therapy at the center. Help support the Rehab!!

Glynn Nickerson, Terri, Chase, Matthew, and Blake of San Antonio was here over the weekend visiting with family members in the community and to attend the wedding of his nephew Porcius and Kara Potter Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Bill and Dena Nickerson, Sr.

Clara McInnis had her granddaughters Kathy Ross of Dallas and Janie Groening of Godly and their children spend from last Monday through Thursday visiting, doing yard work and related chores, the great-grandchildren washed and cleaned her car and did other helpful chores for her. They all had a great time even though it was so hot outside. Grandmother did the cooking.

My daughter, Teri, has me busy going through family albums collecting family photos, contacting family members in the east and western parts of the country of her great aunts, great grandparents, etc. for our family history photo album she is working on. It is amazing of what she has accomplished on her scanner photo remake of pictures taken back in the late 1800's etc. The greatest fun of locating these pictures is the trip back into the mind of related incidences that occurred during the time. Old school pictures of the country school attended. This year our class will celebrate it's 50th graduation reunion from Sharpville High School in Pennsylvania. Our class still remains close knit. They have a breakfast get-together once a month, an annual picnic in August and every five years a class reunion. Other classes of the school are picking up on this tradition and following suit. Another first for Sharpville High School from past graduating classes, will be given to the school in memory of the graduating class of 1948. Presently we are working towards a scholarship fund.

Colds

If you get a cold, over-the-counter remedies can ease your symptoms, but they won't make your cold go away any faster. Most colds last seven to ten days. Colds can develop into something more serious. If you have chills, 102 degrees or higher temperature for a couple of days, shortness of breath, or if it is painful to breathe, see your doctor.

Your better health is our concern.

It's enough to make you want to throw up your hands and quit! I'm talking about the direction our nation is headed, in so many areas. On the one hand, to be aware of the facts and truth of the matter is good -- but then it has a tendency to be very discouraging and cause one to say "What's the use trying anyhow?" and just "live and let live" and try not to worry about it!

I'm talking about such things as the steady increase of unmarried couples (living together), finally topping 4 million in the U.S. -- while fewer than a half million did in 1960. The only reason why the number of divorces has leveled off is because when those couples split, it's not counted as one since they weren't married in the first place. I suppose we should take encouragement that nearly 110 million adult Americans are married -- but I wonder if that number is on the increase.

Then there's the spread of humanistic philosophy (which is another way to refer to atheism), new age philosophy, homosexuality, etc. -- and the acceptance of these without realizing and admitting the wrong involved in them. Let's face it, these are all tools and devices of Satan, along with all other forms of immortality, some of them awfully inviting and even harmless looking. It makes us wonder if the tide can't even be turned!

Well, it can! It won't happen overnight, nor without a lot of "blood, sweat and tears" -- and money and prayer. James, the brother of the master of teachers, Jesus, said, "Be subject unto God and resist the devil and he will flee from you Draw near unto God and He will draw near to you," James 4:7-8a. It's another instance of a promise of God, yet with an impending condition (which is always the case). He says, "I've made a move; now it's your turn, then I'll move again."

One of the moves we need to make is back to God's Word for the truth of all matters, and the teaching of it to young and old alike. More next week in regard to this.

Come share with us in times of Bible study and worship. We'll get to the truth of the matters.

Retail Sales Are Up Here

John Sharp, State Comptroller for Texas, reported retail sales in the City of Cross Plains are 0.05% higher in 1998 compared to 1997.

The state comptroller released the city sales tax rebates to the Texas cities Monday, July 13, including those for Cross Plains.

Sharp said the City of Cross Plains is reporting 1998 one and one-half percent city sales tax payments running 0.05% above the 1997 payments of the tax. Cross Plains 1998 sales tax payments have amounted to $48,569.64, while the 1997 sales tax rebates were $48,541.29.

The city's monthly sales tax check for July 1998 was $5,878.95, an increase of 1.52% from the $5,790.83 payment made in July of last year.

Other Callahan County towns reporting sales tax payments include: —The City of Baird reported that sales tax payments in 1998 are 2.76% higher than the 1997 payments. The city had received $42,112.47 so far in 1998, while the 1997 tax payments to the city totaled $40,978.19.

The town's monthly payment for July 1998 was $4,208.87, a decrease of 4.04% from the $4,385.39 payment made in July of last year.

—The 1998 sales tax payments in the City of Clyde are 9.69% above tax payments made to the city in 1997. The sales tax rebates for the City of Clyde have amounted to $84,735.08 so far in 1998. The 1997 payments to the city during the same payment period were $77,246.99.

The city's monthly payment for July 1998 was $10,437.85, an increase of 19.48% from the $98,735.45 payment made in July of 1997.

—The City of Putnam is reporting the 1998 payments to the town totaled $6,034.93, up 9.92% from the 1997 payments to the city in the amount of $5,489.96.

Putnam's tax payment for the month of July 1998 was $705.07, which was 5.91% lower than the $749.43 payment made in July 1997.

County-wide, sales tax payments for 1998 in Callahan County are running 5.33% above the 1997 payments in the county. Callahan County towns have received sales tax payments in 1998 amounting to $181,452.12, while the 1997 payments to the county towns totaled $172,256.43.

The tax rebates in Callahan County for the month of July were $21,229.74, which was 7.97% higher than the $19,661.10 collected and paid to the communities in July 1997.

Some area towns reporting sales tax payments for 1998 year-to-date and whether it's an increase or decrease over 1997 sales include:

Albany, $114,828.90 in 1998, 14.59% decrease; Anson, $89,524.34 in 1998, 10.01% increase; Stamford, $306,716.59, 5.45% increase; Cisco, $136,738.01 in 1998, 4.31% increase; Eastland, $363,657.91 in 1998, 5.65% increase; Merkel, $90,535.33 in 1998, 15.02% decrease; Ballinger, $332,396.33 in 1998, 9.59% increase; Coleman, $292,095.28 in 1998, 3.50% increase.

State-wide, sales tax payments in 1998 are 11.51% ahead of 1997 rebates, according to Sharp's figures. The state comptroller has sent out checks totalling $1,250,354,321.07 so far in 1998, while the 1997 payments to the state's cities amounted to $1,121,281,590.38.

Merchants collect the state and local sales tax and send it to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns the local one percent sales tax each month to local governments. Cities and counties may levy a combined tax of up to two percent above the state's sales tax.

Clyde and Cross Plains all collect 1.50% in local sales tax. This month's payments include monthly filers on May sales and reported to the comptroller in June. Businesses file sales tax payments either monthly, quarterly or annually depending on the amount of sales tax they collect.

All local sales taxes must be approved by local voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the money in their General Fund and use it for normal operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement, Sharp said. Some cities use up to an additional one percent city sales tax to help fund local economic development and to reduce property taxes.

Cross Plains I.S.D. Transfer Policy

Effective since the fall of 1997, Cross Plains I.S.D. does not accept new transfer students who live outside the district boundaries.

Power or Attorney for Students Who Do Not Live with Parents or Legal Guardian

The Cross Plains I.S.D. Board of Education recently adopted a policy stating "any student who does not live with a parent or legal guardian (court appointed) must have a Power of Attorney filed with the County Clerk's Office and the Cross Plains Schools." The form must state the student's name and with whom the student is residing. This must be signed by the student, a parent and the person with whom the student will be living.

This form will give the person with whom the student is living the authority to sign all school forms and to give permission to participate in school activities and functions. The designated person will be responsible to the school for this student's actions.

A copy of the Power of Attorney forms may be picked up at the Cross Plains High School and Elementary School offices. This form or another acceptable special permission form must be on file before a student in this situation may attend Cross Plain I.S.D.
