

FRENCH PRESERVE SPECIAL ALLIANCES IN PEACE PACT.

Geneva—A view of the members of the League of Nations Disarmament Conference in session here where they are struggling with the problems of peace enforcement as outlined in the Benes program. Regional accords continue to form one of the essential features of the draft, which also grants to France the privilege of preserving special alliances.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST

For The Journal.
 WASHINGTON, October 4.—This date is near the first of two severe storm periods of October and will be of greatest interest to farmers of the corn belt as it is expected to carry killing frosts far south. Much corn was planted late on account of backward spring and some of it will surely get caught. The very severe storm wave centering on October 6th is expected to bring very cold weather to all of Canada and section 3 of my weather map. Not so severe west of Rockies or east of Meridian 90. The storms of week centering on October 6th are not expected to be so severe or dangerous as those of week centering on October 23. Warm waves of October will reach the Eastern States about October 5-11-17-25; cool waves 2-7-14-20. Warm waves will reach east of Rockies October 7-13-19-28; cool waves October 4-8-16-22. Warm waves will reach the Eastern States October 13-19-25-30; cool waves October 7-16-23-27. Coldest weather of October is expected near the 7th and 23. This will be a very favorable month to winter grain in most parts of North America and farmers in general will be encouraged. October is expected to be a very wet month east of the Rockies' crest. About normal precipitation west of the Rockies' crest.

Bulletin of April 12 read: "I have not missed foretelling the greatest droughts of the world for seven years. All Northern Europe will get a drought September 1 to January 31, 1924-25. All the northern half of Asia and Europe will get a great drought October 1 to February 28, 1924-25. A very disastrous drought will occur in Canada and the United States March 1 to July 31, 1925."

Bulletin of May 10th read: "The general crops of North America for 1925 will be considerably short, with good crops in some localities. Everyone should carry over a little wheat for latter part of 1925."

I want to keep these forecasts in the minds of the followers of my work, therefore the repetition. In answering private correspondence I may overlook the fact that some advice given months ago may be forgotten. The quotation in last above paragraph should be particularly remembered. A forecast that is only recalled to mind when some particular part of it has been verified as correct is of no great value to the public.

Dr. T. F. Wall, a Sheffield University professor, issues a statement from London dated September 25th, 1924, that he has perfected a machine that will break up the atom and extract the energy. Many scientists have experimented along this line with no commercial results; yet the advancement to science derived from such experiments is too great to be estimated. These experiments coincide so closely with theories I have advanced many years that I am more than interested. Scientists are arriving very close to the basic analysis of the laws of nature. It is claimed by some scientists that enough energy is stored in or carried on one atomic sun to destroy the universe if this energy could all be released at one time. This would be beyond the imagination unless the atoms of space be considered at one mass of powder grains and the explosion of one atom should explode others. I do not think that the creator of a universe would leave a way for man to destroy it.

HOGS ARE TATTOOED BY U. S. TO TRACE CATTLE PLAGUE.

Detective work in tracing the source of tubercular cattle has been resorted to by the department of agriculture and packing house officials. The method is based on the belief that swine become infected through contact with other animals. In order to keep a record of the farm from which the hogs come, an instrument for tattooing them has been developed, consisting of a handle in which needles are arranged to form letters and words. This device is dipped into indelible ink and the hog punched on the shoulder with it, making marks which are apparent even after the carcass has gone through scalding tank, scraping machine and other processes. Swine which are found to have tuberculosis can then be easily traced to the farm from which they came. In one case the method resulted in finding that the disease was being spread by the chickens.

LYCEUM, OCTOBER 13th.

Bessie Banks Entertainers, Violin, Cornet, Piano, Vocal Readings.

Each member of the Trio is an artist of musical attainment and each has plenty of that rather indefinable thing called "personality." A happy combination, this, which has enabled the three young women to prepare a program of wide popular appeal and they present it in a manner which immediately places them in the front rank of popular concert organizations. The repertoire embraces semi-classical and popular numbers, giving the young musicians ample opportunity to prove their abilities to the satisfaction of the most exacting audiences. The ensemble of cornet, violin and piano is especially well done. Their program is one of dignity and charm, highly artistic and most enjoyable. This is the second number of our course for the 1924-25 season. If you have your tickets bought, all you have to think about is reaching the theatre about 8:25, just five minutes before starting time of the program. If you have not bought tickets now is the best time to do so—there are a few season tickets unsold. The date of this program is October 13th, on a Monday night. The show starts promptly at 8:30. You can secure tickets from John Lacy at the bank, any time, but would suggest that you see him before he starts selling S-R-O tickets.

Except in the Movies.

On the screen a husky at a lumber camp mess table had just pinched the new waitress on the cheek, and she had retorted by breaking a plate over his head.

"Why, mama!" A child's voice penetrated the darkness of the theatre. "That's no way to act at the dinner table, is it?"—Country Gentleman.

"Pop, what is political economy?"

"Political economy, my son, is—well, I suppose it's not buying any more votes than are actually needed."

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Bailey County, GREETINGS:

You are hereby commanded to summons S. H. Hunter, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives, Mrs. D. L. Askew McDonald, a widow, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives, Sarah B. Brown, a single woman, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives; L. M. Brothers, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; J. D. Cameron, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; Josie M. Maas, a single woman, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives; George Koerner, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; G. W. McMillion, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; J. D. Berry, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; and W. L. Thayer, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Bailey County, to be held at the court house door in Muleshoe, on the fifth Monday in December, 1924, the same being the 29th day of December, 1924, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 26th day of September, A. D. 1924, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 80, wherein F. A. Paul and J. H. Paul, in his individual capacity and as qualified survivor of the community estate of himself and his deceased wife, Maggie Paul, are plaintiffs, and S. H. Hunter, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; Mrs. D. L. Askew McDonald, a widow, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives; Sarah B. Brown, a single woman, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives; L. M. Brothers, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; J. D. Cameron, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; Josie M. Maas, a single woman, her unknown heirs and their legal representatives; George Koerner, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; G. W. McMillion, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; J. D. Berry, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives; and W. L. Thayer, his unknown heirs and their legal representatives, are defendants, said petition alleging that on September 1st, 1924, plaintiffs were lawfully seized and possessed of all of Labors 11, 12, 13, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 in League 194, patented to Foad county on the 28th day of September, 1891, by patent No. 182, and all of Labors 11, 12, 16, 17, 18, 19, 22, 23, 24 and 25 in League 195, patented to Foad County on the same date by patent No. 178, all of said land located in Bailey county, Texas; and that on September 1st, 1924, the defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom and unlawfully withheld from them possession of the same; that on the 12th day of December, 1917, Foad county sold to one J. C. Paul all of the lands described herein, and thereafter on January 3rd, 1921, the said J. C. Paul sold and conveyed the same to these plaintiffs; but that prior to the sale of the land by Foad county as aforesaid, and on September 10th, 1909, the county sold these lands with other lands to one G. T. Oliver, retaining a vendor's lien on the same to secure the purchase price obligated to be paid by Oliver for said lands, and that later Oliver old different labors of said lands to different parties including the defendants, the respective purchasers assumed the Foad county indebtedness, and that thereafter Oliver and his grantees, immediate and remote, defaulted in the payment of the purchase price of said lands and Foad county, at the maturity of the indebtedness, instituted eight different suits in the District Court of Briscoe county and prosecuted the same to final judgment, wherein it recovered all of said lands, extinguishing the rights of the said Oliver and his grantees in and to the same, and that the suits were prosecuted to final judgment and the lands recovered by Foad County before it again sold the same to the said J. C. Paul, and that any right being asserted by any and all of the defendants herein were acquired under and through the said G. T. Oliver, and any rights ever had by any and all of the defendants in and to said lands were foreclosed in said eight different suits by Foad county, and if not all of said defendants are barred from asserting the same at this time by reason of the three and five year statutes of limitation which plaintiffs specially plead, and by reason of their laches in the premises; and plaintiffs seek recovery of the land, the quieting of their title in the same from any and all clouds now being cast by reason of any rights or interests that the defendants or any of them, are asserting in said lands or any portion thereof.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have before said court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WITNESS C. C. Mardis, Clerk of the District Court of Bailey County, Texas.
 Given under my hand and the seal of said court, in the town of Muleshoe, Bailey County, Texas, this 30th day of September, A. D. 1924.

Our Lands Grow Cotton!

From one-fourth to one bale per acre grown here, with an average of a half bale confidently counted on. No boll weevil, and a farmer is able under our climatic and soil conditions to tend twice the acreage he is accustomed to in the older cotton county to the Southeast.

This section of Texas is rapidly developing into a dependable cotton producing district. Rising land values and permanent prosperity to our farmers ought naturally to follow.
