HOUSE CENSURES MRS. HOOVER'S TEA

ONLY G. O. P. MEMBER VOTES AFFIRMATIVE

Entertainment of Negro Called a Political Move

AUSTIN, June 18.—With Reno Eichenroth, sole Republican member of the house of representatives voting affirmatively, the Texas house this morning adopted a resolution condemning the white house tea with a negro congressman's wife in attendance.

Eichenroth was cheered when he said that a native born resident of his district, the son and grandson of Confederate veterans, "I am going to vote for this resolution."

Ten members cast their votes against it and 59 for the resolution refused to vote. Opponents declared they favored the first part of the resolution condemning Mrs. Hoover's tea. They opposed additional endorsing Texas Democrats who voted for Hoover. Efforts to obtain a division of the resolution were defeated.

Mrs. Helen More of Texas City, woman member of the house, declared that in her opinion Mrs. Hoover was to further a political plot of Republican leaders. "I sympathize with her but she should be re-elected," said Mrs. Moore, who added that the tea was the most unscrupulous political move since reconstruction days.

Rev. B. J. Forbes, minister-member from Weatherford gained the floor on personal privilege. He opposed the criticisms of Hoover voters and declared it "political propaganda gotten up by the wets."

FLORIDA SOLONS CONDEMN TEA

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 18.—The Florida house of representatives stood on record today, 71 to 13, against "certain social policies of the administration in entertaining negroes in the white house on a parity with white ladies."

Governor "Stood Up" but Not Peeved

AUSTIN, June 18.—Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown "stood up" to the governor yesterday. He was to have driven Governor Moody to Mason for the Hill county chamber of commerce meeting. The governor waited. Finally he telephoned Graves' office. He was gone.

But the governor is not offended. He and Graves have been friends since the governor was a youngster. "He just forgot it," said Governor Moody.

BRECK EDITOR ENDORSED FOR WTCC MANAGER

BRECKENRIDGE, June 18.—The Breckenridge chamber of commerce directors today endorsed A. Garland Adair, editor of the Breckenridge American and widely known Texas newspaper man, for the management of the West Texas chamber of commerce, left vacant by the resignation of Homer D. Wade, who became secretary-manager of the Dallas chamber of commerce.

Adair is being endorsed for the position by hundreds of West Texas business men and many West Texas City chamber of commerce organizations.

J. E. Thompson, Breckenridge banker and a director of the West Texas body, is one of Adair's most ardent supporters. Wade's successor will be selected at Abilene Thursday.

Man and Woman Are Found Dead in Camp

AUSTIN, June 18.—The dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders were found this morning at a camp where they had been living on the Fredericksburg road near here. Both were shot in the breast with a shotgun.

Sanders, a man of 32, had been in ill health. Arrangements had been made for him to be taken to a hospital this morning. A friend was sent to Austin to make arrangements for the hospital room. When he returned to get them about 8 o'clock he found them dead.

Possibilities for Location of Cheese Plant in Cisco Will Be Talked at Meeting Here July 9

Possibilities in the location of a cheese plant in Cisco will be taken up at a meeting to be held in Cisco July 9 when C. A. Voigt, of Austin, state representative of the Damron Brothers company, of Pin du Lac, Wisconsin, will be here. Mr. Voigt was in Cisco today acquainting himself with conditions.

To the meeting July 9 will be called bankers, merchants, professional men from all over the Cisco Country in addition to dairymen and farmers.

"Honk" Former Lobo Is Back for Visit With Friends Here

Cecil (Honk) Irvin, formerly a Big Dam Lobo, with emphasis on the first word in Cisco and the second elsewhere in the Oil Belt, is visiting friends here today. Honk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Irvin, once of this city, now of De Leon. He arrived at De Leon Saturday from Elkins, West Virginia.

After collecting about all the glory that high school gradirons in Texas could afford Honk packed up his toes and travelled to Davis-Elkins college, bent on inspiring respect for Texas manhood in distant fields. He did it, too, much to the confusion of the Middles from Annapolis and certain other formidable elevens. For one instance, anyway, the East Star state on the football field than they did pursuing the didactic pages of a geography, judging from the section of Texas that travelled their way they found the state a whopper, if we would believe the sports writers.

But athletic glory was not all that Honk collected. He returns with academic marks that prove he employed his time with profit. He has two more years in the college.

SALESMAN LOSES CAR AT RANGER

RANGER, June 18.—At 11:45 this morning Ed Hargrain, salesman out of Dallas, parked his new Oakland salesman's car on Main street near the Gholson hotel and went around the corner presumably to call on a customer.

Hardly had he gone from sight when a man coming from the direction in which Hargrain had gone entered the car and nonchalantly drove off in the direction of Breckenridge. Now Hargrain is offering a $200 reward for the return of the car and merchandise undamaged.

The car and contents are valued at $2,000.

Miss Lillian Shertzer, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shertzer, of 818 West Sixth street, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Graham sanitarium at 7 o'clock last night. She was reported to be recovering nicely from the effects of the operation this morning.

OFF FOR RECORD

PARIS, June 18.—The French fliers, De Marmier and Savreau took off at 5:19 a. m. today from Le Bourget field in an attempt to break the world records for speed and endurance over a closed circuit, which was laid out between Paris and Cape Griz Nez.

Representatives of a number of cheese plants already successfully operating in the state will also be present.

The date for the meeting was announced at the chamber of commerce this afternoon.

CONGRESS TO RECESS FOR TWO MONTHS

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Hoover's special farm relief and tariff revision session of congress probably will recess tomorrow for two months, the senate returning August 19 to work on the tariff bill.

The summer recess is being taken in an atmosphere heavy with doubt as to what form the new tariff law will take. The way for the vacations was cleared late yesterday when Floor Leader James E. Watson defeated by the majority of a single vote, 39, to 38, the Borah resolution which sought to wipe out half the house tariff bill and confine senate action to agricultural schedules only.

Sustains Crushed Skull in Accident

A message was received here yesterday stating that Bill Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davenport of Eastland and well known in Cisco, sustained a crushed skull in a motor accident in El Paso and is critically ill. An operation was performed yesterday afternoon but word has not reached here as to its outcome.

Davenport, who has been visiting his mother in Bangs left immediately with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ward, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ward, of El Paso.

MacDonald Says He Will Visit U. S.

LONDON, June 18.—Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald officially confirmed a press interview today his intention of visiting Washington, if arrangements can be made. "I believe a tremendous amount of good could be done by such a visit," MacDonald said. "The question is, when it can be made, and that will have to be the subject of an exchange of opinion."

McMurry College to Start Drive

ABILENE, June 18.—Date for the commencement of the $500,000 endowment fund drive for McMurry College, the only Methodist educational institution in the north-west Texas conference, has been set for July 23. More than $1,000,000 in the north-west Texas conference will be solicited for funds. In addition to the $500,000 endowment, the college supporters hope to secure an additional $65,000 during the campaign to be used to enlarge one of the dormitories on the college campus.

CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN SUMMER

New Law Will Be Principal Topic for Discussion

Cisco was selected by the Heart of Texas Mutual Insurance Secretaries' association for its next convention, the meeting to be subject to the call of President W. N. Ellis, of Brady. Brady and Brownwood were competitors of Cisco for this session which will be held sometime between now and August 15.

The last convention was held at Brady and ended Thursday.

Cisco was chosen by the secretaries due to the efforts of C. R. West, W. F. Evans and Joel Kinnannon, secretaries of the local mutuals. The rare advantages for convention visitors and the attractions at Lake Cisco were inducements that impelled the insurance men to pass up other cities for the location of their next meeting.

The gathering will bring between 35 and 40 visitors to this city. These men will come from a territory that extends from Mason to Lubbock and from Fort Worth west.

At the meeting here the association will consider the new law passed by the present legislature to govern the operation of mutuals.

MRS. LEE IS DOING WELL, MESSAGE SAYS

The condition of Mrs. R. Q. Lee, wife of Congressman R. Q. Lee, of this city, is very favorable following a serious operation which she underwent yesterday at Washington, D. C., according to a telegram from Congressman Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Simon and Quincy Lee here.

Mrs. Lee was on the operating table for two hours yesterday morning. She stood the effects of the operation remarkably well, according to the message, but will be confined in the hospital for quite a while.

Par-rack, pastor of the Advanced Standard Sunday school, of Mer-cel; Rev. Chas. T. Whaley, Sweet-water; Rev. G. F. Brown, of Mid-land; Rev. E. M. Azee, of Wichita Falls; Rev. W. C. Provision has been made to take care of the children, the leaders of the athletic features are hard at work, and people all over this section are planning to be on hand.

A cafeteria will be on the ground, amply equipped to take care of the situation.

P. O. NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Hoover today sent the following postmaster nominations to the senate: Bernice H. Trammell, Breckenridge, Texas; Theodore M. Horring, San Angelo, Texas.

EXPRESSES SELF TO MOVIE LOT

Charles Loeb of Chicago wanted to express himself in the talks. Hoping to reach the casting director of the Pathe studio at Culver City, Calif., swiftly and surely, he literally expressed himself by mailing himself up in a box marked "Statuary" and went to the coast. Charles said the only annoyance was when the expressmen here and there failed to notice the "This Side Up" sign and stood him on his head. And then, just as his destination was reached, police found him at Culver City.

Shallow Well Is Good for 15 Barrels

H. G. Bailey, et al, drilled in their R. D. Williams estate No. 4 well northwest of Putnam yesterday. This well at a total depth of 450 feet with the drill 4 1/2 feet in the sand, looks good for 10 or 15 barrels daily. It offsets the Fenley well to the east.

PLYE RACERS ARE DEMANDING THEIR MONEY

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—From his expensive suite in a leading downtown hotel, C. C. Pyle today reiterated that he was prepared to pay out the promised $50,000 to winners of his just completed transcontinental footrace.

Simultaneously he considered two more or less unpleasant incidents brought about by disgruntled participants in the cross country trek — by racers and by chorus girls who appeared in his "Follies" road show.

The chorus girls said they hadn't received their pay and told City Prosecutor Mix they would appeal to the state labor bureau here.

Three racers claimed that in addition to their $300 entrance fee each, they entrusted Pyle with personal funds which they were to draw upon for meals at the race progressed. They naided him before the city prosecutor late yesterday and said that even after, dropping out of the race in the east he had withheld their money.

Pyle denied the charge. When he said his attorney had the money to pay the trio, the investigation was dropped.

Meanwhile, Pyle announced the 15 prize winners in the footrace would be paid late this week, probably Thursday, when his accountants finish checking elapsed time.

HOOVER SIGNS BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Hoover today signed the census and reapportionment bill.

MAKES EFFORT STOP MISUSE OF FIREARMS

Seeks Cooperation to End Violation of Prohibition Laws

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Taking of human life was strongly deplored by President Hoover today in commenting on recent prohibition enforcement shootings.

"I deeply deplore the killing of any persons," the president said.

The white house simultaneously announced the treasury department was making a constant effort to prevent the misuse of arms by border patrol officers. The determination as to what constituted misuse, the president said, would be determined by "the orderly processes of the treasury department and the courts."

At the same time the president called upon residents of border cities to cooperate with the government in an effort to prevent violation of American laws by international criminals.

"I hope communities along the border will do their best to end the systematic violation of laws of the United States by international criminals," the president said.

Suggestions that prohibition and customs agents be disbanded to prevent further killings growing out of enforcement activities were emphatically rejected by Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman today.

Forbid Rifles.

He issued orders yesterday forbidding enforcement and customs agents to use shotguns and rifles and restricting them to service pistols but today he said this was as far as he could go in that direction.

"For us to send customs patrolmen or prohibition agents out unarmed to combat desperate smugglers and bootleggers would mean almost certain death for the government men," Lowman said.

He was still standing behind federal officers accused in three recent enforcement killings and expressed confidence in the courts which will handle the cases.

Lowman revealed that about 150 telegrams concerning the killings at International Falls, Minn., have reached him, averaging about two to one in condemning the shooting.

President Hoover's law enforcement commission resumed its meetings today but indicated it was considering general law enforcement problems. No one would comment on the possibility of the commission sending investigators to the scenes of recent killings, for first hand information of law enforcement conditions in those trouble centers.

At Newport, Ark., Prosecuting Attorney Williams announced he will seek the death penalty for the deputy sheriff who shot Glen Quay, a young alleged bootlegger who was trying to escape.

Snake Bite Cited as Cause of Death

EDINBURGH, June 18.—Death from rattlesnake poisoning was the verdict of a coroner here following the finding of the body of Laura Davis in the brush near her home 25 miles from here Monday. The girl left home Sunday for a walk and when she failed to return a search was started.

Miss Davis, 19 years old, was a student in Edinburg college.

That advertising is mighty; it controls business. But as great and mighty as it is—with all its powers—it cannot bring bigger and better business to those who use its aid unless it is truthful and backed by quality.

Continuous newspaper advertising of quality brings wonderful results. Continuous advertising of substitutes of quality and untruthful advertising will make any business wither like the fragrant petals of the rose after a frost.

Continuous advertising of quality wins not only steady business, but makes new customers, goodwill and friendship. Too much care cannot be taken in selecting places in which to spend your money. It is always best to trade with continuous advertisers. They can always serve you best, for what you really want is the best at the price you can afford to pay.

No person wants to buy something from a concern and then get something other than what they thought they were purchasing. Newspaper advertisements are guaranteed by the dealers that the goods are as advertised.

Continuous newspaper advertising is an acid test of reliability. Continuous advertising could not get away with selling not-so-good merchandise. Caution should prompt people not to swallow every "cock and bull" story in the hand-bills that they find on the front steps.

"OLD ARIZONA" BETTER THAN EXPECTATIONS

Ceasationally a motion picture production comes to town preceded by glowing advance notices as to its entertainment worth. Semi-occasionally many such widely-exploited pictures do not live up to all that is promised for them.

"In Old Arizona," which appears today for the first time in this city at the Palace theater, has its best

NEVER SAW ITS EQUAL SHE SAYS

"I believe I had about the worst case of stomach trouble in Texas, but after taking two bottles of Sargon Soft Mass Pills, I am in the very pink of condition.

W. H. NEWBY

"Right after every meal I would have sour stomach. I suffered day and night. I was at dinner one day and a sharp pain hit me right under my liver and extended through to the pit of my stomach and almost 'knocked me out.' I was dizzy for hours afterwards and the pain just stayed in my side.

"My kidneys were acting so freely I had to be up four or five times every night. Loss of sleep made me weak and nervous and my whole system was badly run down. My liver was out of order. I was badly constipated, and was continually taking laxatives.

"Since taking the wonderful Sargon treatment my only trouble is to keep from eating too much, and I never have a sign of indigestion. All the pain is gone from my side, my nerves are in fine shape, and I sleep fine. I'm no longer constipated. Sargon Soft Mass Pills certainly are wonderful for they do their work thoroughly without griping like other laxatives.

"I had read a lot about Sargon, but I never had the slightest idea I would get such remarkable results from it in so short a time."

The above statement was made by W. H. Newby, well known resident of Dallas. He owns the Live and Let Live Barber Shop at 5906-A Holmes St.

Sargon may be obtained in Cisco at Elliott Drug Store and Corner Drug Store.—Adv.

"Right after every meal I would have sour stomach. I suffered day and night. I was at dinner one day and a sharp pain hit me right under my liver and extended through to the pit of my stomach and almost 'knocked me out.' I was dizzy for hours afterwards and the pain just stayed in my side.

"My kidneys were acting so freely I had to be up four or five times every night. Loss of sleep made me weak and nervous and my whole system was badly run down. My liver was out of order. I was badly constipated, and was continually taking laxatives.

"Since taking the wonderful Sargon treatment my only trouble is to keep from eating too much, and I never have a sign of indigestion. All the pain is gone from my side, my nerves are in fine shape, and I sleep fine. I'm no longer constipated. Sargon Soft Mass Pills certainly are wonderful for they do their work thoroughly without griping like other laxatives.

"I had read a lot about Sargon, but I never had the slightest idea I would get such remarkable results from it in so short a time."

CISCO WOMAN IS GLAD SHE TOOK FRIEND'S WORD

Another Texas House Wife Gains After Taking Orgatone—Suffered Twelve Years.

"After failing for twelve long years to find a medicine or treatment that would relieve my suffering, I tried Orgatone and the result is my troubles are being overcome and I am gaining daily in strength," said Mrs. L. B. Coleman, who lived at 408 West Eleventh St., Cisco, Texas, the other day.

"I was so completely run down when I commenced taking Orgatone," continued Mrs. Coleman. "I hardly felt able to do my own house work. My nerves were in terrible condition and I never got a good night's sleep. I also suffered from stomach trouble so bad that the doctors said I had an ulcer of the stomach. Almost everything I ate would sour and cause me to be perfectly miserable for hours at a time. I was bilious nearly all the time and would often have headaches. The different medicines and treatments didn't do me any good at all, and I just had to suffer from year to year, without getting any relief."

"I was very much discouraged over my condition for I really thought that I never would find anything to overcome my troubles. Just when I was feeling my worst a relative of mine came to see me and told me about Orgatone, and advised me to give it a trial. I finally decided to take my kinsmen's advice, and it was the best move I ever made in my life. For I commenced to improve in a short time after I began taking this wonderful medicine. I can truthfully say that it is doing me more real, genuine good than anything else I have ever tried. My nervousness is leaving me, and I sleep fine every night. There was a time when I actually dreaded to see meal time come, but I can hardly wait for it now, for I have a splendid appetite and every thing I eat agrees with me alright. Those headaches have left me, and I am getting back my strength and energy. I am glad to have this opportunity to recommend this medicine to everybody."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy and is sold in Cisco exclusively by Dean Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents.—Adv.

2 FOREIGNERS ARE SEEKING FISTIC CROWN

Schmeling and Uzcundun Meet in 15-Round Bout

By GEORGE KIRKSEY.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, June 18.—Two foreign fighters are getting themselves in shape to battle for the position of leading contender for the vacated heavyweight boxing championship at Yankee Stadium June 27.

When Max Schmeling of Germany meets Paulino Uzcundun of Spain in a 15-round bout on the milk fund program, the outcome should help to solve the muddled heavyweight situation.

It has been almost a year since Gene Tunney quit the ring and little progress has been made towards selecting his successor.

The five leading heavyweights, without any attempt to rank them, are Schmeling, Paulino, Jack Sharkey, George Godfrey and Jack Dempsey.

Godfrey ruled out because of racial barriers. Dempsey can be set aside until he definitely makes up his mind to fight again.

So the winner of the Schmeling-Paulino bout against Jack Sharkey in September would just about settle the first leg of the Tunney-Muldoon championship trophy.

Sharkey hardly has the qualifications to wear the heavyweight crown, but he's the man the next champion has got to lick.

In four fights in this country Schmeling has elevated himself into a favorable position from which he may go on to win the title.

After watching Schmeling in action, Harry Erie, New Jersey referee who was the third man in the ring for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, compared Schmeling to the Dempsey of Toledo.

Great heavyweight Schmeling is the greatest heavyweight since the Dempsey of Toledo," Erie said. "He's built a device but has everything a real fighter needs including strength and punching power. His left hand was a surprise to me and his right hand is the best I've seen in a long time."

In his training sessions at Lakewood, N. J., Schmeling has been laughing his sparring partners. Wearing 16-ounce gloves instead of the regulation 8-ounce mitts, Schmeling frequently has his sparring mates groggy after a 2-round session. Like Dempsey, the German finds it hard to pull his punches.

Paulino's workout at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., has revealed nothing that has not been known about the barque since his first fight in this country. He's a clumsy, rough, rugged heavyweight—nothing more but certainly that to the very last ditch.

He has long Jack Delaney, George Godfrey, Johnny Risko, Otto Von Porat, Tom Heeney, Jack Remond and Knute Hansen and none of them could tip him over.

If Schmeling can K. O. the big basque, he will be on the road to the heavyweight title.

CHICAGO, June 18.—After 10 rounds of clever boxing, Les Mariner, Chicago heavyweight, was awarded a decision last night over Jack Dorval, Emporium Pa. Mariner's aggressive tactics entitled him to eight rounds, despite the fact that Dorval outwished him 17 pounds.

Long Engaged but Never a Bride

CARLISLE, Eng., June 18.—Miss Isabella Starkie thinks that 19 years of engagement to the same man without marriage is too long. She took her thoughts to court and has just collected $1,750 for breach of promise.

She told the court she became engaged to Mr. Jacob Glaister, contractor, when she was 22. Now she is 41, and for the past seven years the furniture for their proposed home had been bought and in storage. She said her fiancée often came to her home and just sat and read.

She went back into the house, Estelle, the maid, stopped her in the hall. "I was just wondering, Miss Carroll, what to do with Mrs. Morgan's clothes and things. If she's going to be gone several months, oughtn't they to be . . . well, packed up, or something?" She floundered to an embarrassing stop, but her meaning lay plainly between the two girls; if Mrs. Morgan was not coming back, should a hundred reminders of her beautiful body continue to stab John Curtis Morgan's heart every time he entered his home?

Nan ascended the stairs slowly, sick with distaste for the job that lay ahead of her.

CHAPTER XXIII
As soon as Nan Carroll switched on the lights in the chamber which had been shared by John Curtis Morgan and his wife, she saw why the deserted husband had fled from it to the sanctuary of the small room which had been dedicated to male guests of the famous lawyer.

For this room was of and for Iris. It had been created solely as a setting for Iris Morgan's exotic beauty.

Iris had daringly chosen a color scheme of amethyst and vivid green, almost the same blue as her remarkable eyes. Shades of taffeta were combined in the window drapes, with gold gaudy between, to flash into more flattering light. The top of the dress-stand, with its triple mirrors, was crowded with scent bottles, jars and boxes, all of clear amethyst crystal. Nan wondered how Iris could have left such treasure behind, but undoubtedly the woman who had abandoned husband and child for another man had depended upon Bert Crawford to give her newer, richer treasure, as well as a newer, more thrilling love than that which she was leaving.

"Do you need any help, Miss Carroll?" Estelle, the maid, startled the interloper by calling softly from the doorway.

Nan was grateful. It was not pleasant to be alone with the ghost of a living woman. "Yes, thank you, Estelle, I haven't looked into the closet yet, but if there is much packing to be done I shall need your help—also a wardrobe trunk or two."

"I told Pat O'Brien to bring up trunks from the basement," Estelle admitted. "It will take all the trunks we can find to hold her clothes. Here's Mrs. Morgan's dressing room, and I reckon there is enough clothes here to stock a shop."

Nan agreed with her silently when she stepped into the large dressing room. Afternoon frocks, evening gowns, street costumes—dresses, dresses and more dresses—crowded the hanger-pole from one end of the room to the other. No wonder John Curtis Morgan had not been able to endure the room he had shared with his wife! Had he stood here lonely and despairing, breathing in the perfume that floated delicately from his wife's garments, remembering her beauty clothed in this frock and that, crushing the exquisite fabrics against his lips.

But Estelle, as if she read Nan's thoughts, dispelled that picture. "Mr. Morgan hasn't been in here since Friday morning. He slept in the gentlemen's guest room Friday night, and had me move his things in there Saturday morning."

Nan was guiltily glad that Big Pat had not arrived a moment sooner with the three wardrobe trunks. It was strangely comforting to know that Morgan had not spent tragic minutes in this dressing room, recreating images of his wife in these dresses she had not considered worthy to be taken on her wicked adventure.

"In here, Big Pat," she called to the man. "And thank you, I wonder if there's going to be half enough room? There seems to be dozens of pairs of shoes, as well as stacks of hats. Will you begin packing the dresses, please Estelle? Big Pat has opened the trunks."

As the maid obeyed, Nan went grudgingly about the luxurious bedroom, collecting every article that had been dedicated to Iris's personal use. In the small teakwood desk she found a mass of correspondence—invitations, announcements from shops, a sheaf of unpaid bills of which Morgan would ultimately receive duplicates with an indignant "Please remit," and letters. There was one envelope addressed in Bert Crawford's hold, dashing hand, and this Nan slipped into the pocket of the little brown velveteen suit she was wearing. She would burn it, unread, grateful that it was she and not John Curtis Morgan who had found this probably incriminating bit of evidence of his wife's illicit love affair.

It was almost dinner time when Nan and the maid had finished their attempt to banish Iris Morgan's ghost from her husband's home.

"I don't believe I'll dress," Nan reflected with the unaccustomed work and strain of suppressed conflicting emotions.

Then she remembered, with a grin at her own susceptibility to flattery, Curtis's naive compliment the night before: "Oh, I didn't know you were so pretty!" and determined to gratify again his very masculine eye for feminine beauty. There was no reason at all why she should not use a generous handful of the violet bath salts that Iris had so thoughtfully provided for her guests, never dreaming that it would be her husband's secretary and her own successor as a housekeeper—however "long-distance"—for that same husband, who would eventually use them.

So Nan bathed luxuriously, even giving her bright-brown hair a vigorous shampoo and rubbing it dry with one of Iris's extravagant bath towels. The only dinner dress she had brought with her besides the amber chiffon she had worn the night before was a demurely sophisticated little frock of sapphire transparent velvet, with rhinestone buckles where her hips would have been if she had been built like a schoolboy. Above the rich, deep blue, her brown eyes, wide as an excited child's, looked almost black, but her new-washed hair glistened like fine-spun copper.

"I do like my legs," she commented to herself with pardonable satisfaction as she paraded before the full length mirror in her closet door. "If only these super-sheer gun metal stockings didn't cost three whole dollars! And $15 for black antilope pumps! There ain't no justice!—Iris with her 21 pairs of shoes! Ah, well! Poor but honest! That's me!"

She was giving her flushed cheeks—"Don't need any rouge tonight!"—another careful dusting of rutilated powder when Curtis hatched breathlessly into the room.

"Hey, Nana! Guess what! My FATHER'S come home! And I'm telling him all about school and Big Pat and Little Pat and everything! And he said, 'Where is that incred-ible girl? What's incredible, Nana? Are you incredible?'"

Nan gasped, then suddenly went down on her knees and swept Curtis into her arms, holding him close against her wildly beating heart. "Listen, Curtis! Stop painting! Tell me—was he angry when he called me 'that incredible girl?'"

"Why?" Curtis was plainly amazed. "Is incred-ible a cuss word, Nana? He didn't say it like he was cussing. He—he said it like—like—the child groped for descriptive words beyond his vocabulary—'like he could kiss you if you was there right then!'"

"Oh!" Nan sprang to her feet, her face flaming. Of course Curtis didn't mean that as she would have liked him to mean it. He was merely trying to tell her that his father had looked tenderly amused and grateful, but . . . "Let's go down, honey. Dinner must be ready, and Maude has something very special tonight. Guess what! . . . No, you'd never! It's—Hidden Treasure! I just hope there'll be one for your father, too."

Curtis's wild speculations as to what "Hidden Treasure" might be carried them down to the living room and to where John Curtis Morgan stood before the merrily burning fire, his eyes—which were not merry at all—fixed on the life-size portrait of the wife who had so recently deserted him.

"Father, we've got Hidden Treasure for dinner, and Nana made up the recipe just for me, and—"

"Hello, Nan! Has this young hellion been blabbing like this ever since you came? If so, it's a good thing I hurried back to rescue you. You seem to be bearing up under the strain pretty well, though, I never saw you look so pretty."

Was she glad then that she had dressed for dinner? But she wondered if he could see her heart pounding beneath the allegedly transparent velvet, as his two hands folded over the cold little hand she thrust out at him.

"Aren't you back sooner than you expected? Of course we're awfully glad—"

"The governor and I had our heart-to-heart talk about poor Brownlee last night, and around midnight he gave me his word that if Dr. Ashley's privately stated opinion corroborated his expert testimony on the witness stand, he would have the boy committed to the state hospital for the criminally insane. I'm glad—for his mother's sake. Personally, I think the poor boy would be better off dead, but I don't fancy the noose as a way to put him out of his misery—all things considered. . . . Hello! Here's Estelle, with the good news that dinner's ready. I'm finished. I hope we don't have to hunt for this Hidden Treasure of Nan's, Sonny-boy!"

"Hidden Treasure" proved to be something delightfully odoriferous in individual casseroles, something with a brown, crisp crust of cracker crumbs and cheese.

"There's an egg in a nest of spinach!" Curtis shouted, when he had lifted the crust with an impatient fork and disclosed a perfectly poached egg. "I don't like spinach. . . . Um-m-m! That's forkful of the spinach, which had flying accusingly to Nan. 'It tastes good!' He took another been chopped into white cause. Then, 'Say, Father! Taste this crust! Oh, boy!'"

BAPTISTS IN PREPARATION FOR REVIVAL

The First Baptist church is designating this week as a week of prayer in preparation for the series of revival services to begin Sunday, June 23, with Rev. O. L. Powers, of Wichita Falls, assisting the pastor, Rev. Acker C. Miller.

At a conference of deacons and workers, it was decided to divide the church into three groups, namely: men, women and young people, with leader for the different groups changing each night of the week, beginning Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Since this is a time designated as a sort of preparation spiritually for all church members, it is the desire of the pastor that the attendance be full each evening so that all may become attuned to the one great aim of the revival. The central theme for the week will be "The Workings of the Holy Spirit." Various phases of this theme will be discussed along with a season of prayer for special objects and persons. Christians are especially invited to turn into the leaders the names of those who are recommended for these special prayers.

The leaders and subjects for the week are as follows:

Tuesday, Subject—"Promise and Coming of the Holy Spirit;" Young People's department, W. H. LaRoque; Women's department, Mrs. J. L. Kennedy; Men's department, W. F. Walker.
