WHAT A DRY AGENT'S BUCKSHOT DID

Shown above is the bullet-riddled auto in which Henry Virkula, a confectioner, was slain by a charge of buckshot fired by Emmett White, a 24-year-old U. S. customs patrolman, on a dark road near International Falls, Minn. Virkula died at the wheel, the position of the car indicating that he was trying to stop after customs officers had halted him, believing the auto contained liquor from Canada. His two small children on the back seat escaped death because they were asleep and were lying down, the buckshot passing over them. Arrows indicate the bullet holes which are being pointed out to County Prosecutor David Hurlbut, left, by Sheriff Hugh Reddy. No liquor was found in the car by the officers, who say White was aiming at the tires. Virkula's widow and orphans are shown in the lower picture.

ANNIVERSARY OF G. O. P. IS AGAIN HONORED

JACKSON, Mich., July 6.—Today was Jackson's turn to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Republican party.

A few days ago Ripon, Wis., one of several cities to claim the honor of being the party's birthplace, held its celebration. But Jackson "knows different."

The citizenry has gone back into history and, citing Prof. T. C. Smith in his book on "Parties and Slavery," recalls that the effects of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, passed by the congress in the winter of 1854, were the direct cause of a radical alteration of political feeling which led to the destruction of both national parties before the civil war.

While congress was struggling over the legislation of that bill and before the leaders of the old party organizations were ready to join any movement for a new organization, the people began to fuse together.

The effect of the passage of the bill was to amalgamate the various elements of the Whig party with the Democrats or free-soil elements through the north to form a party that would be in opposition to the Jackson-Democratic organization.

Not Accomplished at Once This amalgamation was successfully accomplished, not all at once, but through a simultaneous rising at many places in many widely separated parts of the United States.

The first step taken in this direction, according to Smith and other historians, was the Democratic Free-Soil convention at Jackson, Mich., Feb. 22, 1854. The Free Democratic State committee in December, 1853, issued the call for the convention to be held at this Michigan city, and invited all opposed to the repeal of the Missouri compromise, which it was claimed the Kansas-Nebraska bill was, and the surrender of free territory to slavery to participate.

The meeting at Jackson, Mich., was held at the Marion House where a proposition was formulated for the calling of a convention for the fusion of the anti-slavery Whigs, Free Soil Democrats and all opposed to pro-slavery legislation.

The Free-Soil convention that same day, Feb. 22, 1854, nominated a full state ticket and authorized the state central committee to call a subsequent mass meeting to act upon any proposition for fusion and, if necessary, to draw the ticket then named an act with any new organization.

Kalamazoo was the scene of the mass meeting May 21, 1854, when resolutions against slavery were adopted and the state ticket named at Jackson in February withdrawn. A committee met at Detroit two days later, continued the work of fusion and called for state convention at Jackson July 6, 1854.

Resolution Adopted The Jackson convention was attended by hundreds of leading and influential citizens from all parts of Michigan, men who represented all varieties of anti-slavery and progressive opinion.

Austin A. Blair, Michigan's war governor, called the convention to order, and Judge Levi Baxter, of Hillsdale, was made temporary chairman. A committee on resolutions, headed by Joseph M. Howard, of Detroit, was appointed.

Among other resolutions, the committee adopted the following: "Postponing and suspending all differences with regard to political economy or administrative policy, in view of the imminent danger that Kansas and Nebraska will be grasped by slavery, and a thousand miles of slave soil be thus interposed between the free states of the Atlantic and those of the Pacific, we will act cordially and faithfully in unison to avert and repeal this gigantic wrong and shame.

"In view of the necessity of battling for the first principles of Republican government, and against the schemes of an aristocracy, the most revolting and oppressive with which the earth was ever cursed, or man debased, we will co-operate and be known as Republicans until the contest is terminated."

Jackson claims that the use of the word "Republicans" settles all dispute as to the rightful birthplace of the G. O. P. It is declared here that at no other meeting for the purpose of forming a new political party, no matter where it was held in the United States, was the name "Republicans" given to the attendants.

EARTHQUAKES IN ARGENTINE TUMBLE HOUSES

By DAVID A. CHEAVENS, United Press Staff Correspondent.

BUENOS AIRES, July 6.—Only the paucity of the population prevented what would undoubtedly have been a major disaster in the Argentine zone which was recently victimized by violent and continued earthquakes; in a more thickly populated district the death toll and the amount of damage could have been nothing short of appalling.

A section of the nation embracing half a dozen desert provinces, situated mostly in the foothills and in the Andes in the general vicinity of the city of Mendoza suffered the major portion of the damage. Mendoza itself is the most important city in Western Argentina and has a population of 70,000. It escaped practically undamaged whereas smaller places in the vicinity, Villa Autuel, San Rafael and other smaller towns and villages, were reduced to piles of rubbish and the loss of life was great.

The terror of the inhabitants of the entire district and especially in the outlying sections where many are ignorant and superstitious, not understanding the physical significance of the disaster, was described by relief workers returning to Buenos Aires as most pitious. The appearance about June 5 of a star of extraordinary brilliance in close proximity to the moon was taken by many as some supernatural sign of woe, whereas scientists explained as best they could that the heavenly body was none other than the periodic appearance in that position of the planet Venus.

But scientific explanations to a people whose homes were flung about their ears by repeated and violent earth shocks did little to assuage the pall of dread in many places wholesale migrations were reported by relief workers, the inhabitants fearing to re-build their homes in constant fear that another undulation would destroy their work and endanger their lives.

Loosely Built Houses The very architecture of most of the houses in the district contributed to the death toll for they are built mostly of rather loosely mortared stone. Most of the dead and injured were found to have suffered contusions; while relief workers declared that in many instances, dozens of people suffered fractured feet and legs, sustained while fleeing from tottering structures.

Andean cold with bitter winds added much to the discomfort of the stricken district. The principal demand on relief workers was for blankets and shelter. Buenos Aires newspapers joined with the federal government, which devoted considerable of the national lottery fund, in providing relief. The work was made most difficult because of the meager communications, there being less than mule trails to many of the isolated ranches and villages which were hardest hit. The violence of the earthquake all too often opened crevasses of such width that what roads there were, were mostly rendered impassable. The district of El Nevado, nearest to the newly erupted volcanoes, has suffered most intensely because of its lack of population and vented great loss of life. Explanations of the causes of the continuity of the tremors are being studied by a special commission sent by the federal government.

WASHINGTON BACHELORS TELLS IDEALS

WASHINGTON, July 6. — Less smoking and drinking, and prudence and modesty are improvements desired of the bachelors here, according to answers received to a questionnaire distributed recently by association.

A division of opinion was sharp on the subject of a girl "with a past," it revealed. Fifteen were against a girl disclose any "mistake" had made before marriage. "I thought everything should be told," many indicated if they were of the girl's past they would not go through with the ceremony. Some said she had reformed. Some said she would rather she told about "mistake" than someone else. "I thought she was naturally so ended, she should 'make the most' of her looks."

Only one dissented from the notion a woman's love was essential to man's happiness, while all three believed children necessary to domestic bliss. The number of children per family varied, the majority, however, declared two or three to be sufficient.

Answers on family finances differed greatly. Seventeen said they could handle all the cash. Eleven favored such action, and 7 favored saving their wives on "allowances." Five thought a 50-50 agreement ethical.

The wife should not work after marriage, so stated a majority of bachelors-to-be, but many argued for years of work after the honeymoon was O. K.

Marriage by the fair sex was favored by all. But one reflected that he loved a girl enough, "nothing to stop me."

The information was sought by the M. C. A. officials in connection with its study of the ideals of the youth of today.

CREAGER SAYS PATRONAGE PROBE FAILURE

BROWNSVILLE, July 6. — Contempt, indignation and defiance expresses the attitude of the Republican organization of Texas toward Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, chairman of the senate committee which investigated federal patronage in Texas. R. B. Creager, Republican national committee man, said in a statement issued here last night.

Creager said Brookhart had "raked the gutters of Texas" for witnesses and that not "one scintilla of evidence was heard to substantiate charges of improper handling of federal patronage." Brookhart's witnesses, Creager said, were "disappointed office seekers, jail birds, confessed bootleggers and discharged federal employees."

Testifying to the high standing and reputation of the Republican organization of Texas and that of its responsible leaders, Creager added, were outstanding citizens in every walk of life: an Episcopal bishop, the president of a college, an ex-justice of the supreme court, presidents of the chambers of commerce of Texas' largest cities, bankers, ministers and many others, all Democrats.

The comparison, Creager said, does not reflect credit upon the senator from Iowa.

Resolutions Condemning Action of Dry Raiders Speeds Criminal Proceedings Against Four Agents

TECUMSEH, Ok., July 6.—Pottawatomie county authorities today moved to prosecute members of a federal prohibition raiding squad who shot down two farmers spending their independence day at home.

First degree murder charges were filed today against Jeff Harris, member of the squad, in the death of Oscar Lowery, 35, who died late yesterday from wounds during the raid.

W. W. Thomason, veteran Pottawatomie county prohibition director, and two other members of the squad have been charged with first degree murder in the death of Lowery's brother-in-law, James Harris, 34, who died from wounds Thursday night.

Thomason arrived here shortly before noon today to lay his report before County Attorney Randall Pittman. He had spent the night at the division offices of Bee De Mondrum, director of prohibition for the western Oklahoma district, drawing up his report.

Jeff Harris, Tom Little and John Williams, the three men who accompanied Thomason on the raid, were in the county jail. It was definitely established that these men were not nor ever had been federal agents, but had usually accompanied Thomason on his many raids in the oil field towns and in this county. The citizens regarded them as federal agents.

TECUMSEH, Okla., July 6.—Criminal action against four "dry" agents who killed Oscar Lowery and James Harris in a raid on a farm house near here Thursday, was spurred today by numerous resolutions condemning that action of the raiders.

The Oklahoma City American Legion post and groups of Tecumseh citizens and farmers refused to accept the statements of the prohibition agents that the shootings were committed in self defense and passed resolutions upholding the slain men as innocent of prohibition violation and condemning the killings as "unjust."

The four members of the raiding party, W. W. Thomason, veteran federal agent, Jeff Harris, John D. Williams and Tom Little, were charged with first degree murder by County Attorney Randall Pittman. Thomason was released to submit his report of the incident but the others were held in cells at the Pottawatomie county jail. The murder charges were based on the deathbed statement of James Harris, who told officers that he and Lowery, believing the raiders were robbers, had appeared with a gun to defend themselves but had obeyed orders to drop it when they were fired upon by Jeff Harris.

The latter denied the statement and declared the farmer had rushed at him with the weapon and that he had fired in self defense.

Bee De Mondrum, federal prohibition director for western Oklahoma, was in Shawnee today conducting an investigation of the shootings. He refused to comment pending filing of the complete report of Thomason, who was the leader of the raiding party.

County Attorney Pittman claimed that Thomason was without authority to deputize the three men who accompanied him and were said to have been without official credentials. Pittman also asserted no warrant had been issued for the raid. No liquor was found in the farm house, he said. He cited statements of neighbors of the men that both were respected and law-abiding farmers.

The two victims were brothers-in-law. Harris died a few hours after the shooting. Lowery lived until last night but was never able to make any statement concerning the raid.

Thomason was a veteran in the prohibition enforcement service, and had been prominent in recent activities to break up a heavy liquor traffic through this district in the heart of the rich Seminole oil region. His life frequently had been threatened because of his activities, agents said.

Has Not Laid Down on the Job, Says At- torney

Report that an insanity plea would be filed in the case of Henry Helms, sentenced to death after his conviction on a charge of robbing the Cisco First National bank on September 23, 1927, was denied by Lee Gearley, of Cisco, Helms' defense counsel. Helms received sentence Friday afternoon in the 91st district court at Eastland. Judge George L. Davenport pronouncing.

Mr. Gearley, in a statement issued here Saturday, said that he considers his duty as a lawyer to his client fully discharged and that there is no "further contract of services" he will have no further action to take.

Mr. Gearley said that he has devoted his best efforts and time to the case without stint and that he has not laid down on the job. He said that he has even gone beyond the limits of service that a client properly require of his attorney, conscientiously discharging his obligation he had undertaken.

Helms is due to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary at Huntsville before sunrise on the morning of Friday, September 6. Sentence was pronounced by Judge George L. Davenport of the 91st district court at Eastland Friday at 3 o'clock, and Helms has been taken to Huntsville to be confined in the death house until the chair set for his death.

18-YEAR-OLD SLAYER ACTS AS IF INSANE

Second Trial Set For First Monday in September

DALLAS, July 6.—Clyde Thompson, 18-year-old Eastland county murderer, is now occupying the cell in death row of the Dallas county jail which, for the last 18 months has been occupied by Henry Helms until his removal to Huntsville.

Thompson, together with Thomas Davis, was given the death penalty at Eastland several months ago in connection with the slaying of A. L. and Leon Shook, brothers. His case was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals at Austin two weeks ago. A second trial is set for the first Monday in September in Judge E. L. Bean's 88th district court at Eastland.

Ranked as a desperate character by Eastland county officials, Thompson was brought here yesterday afternoon for safe keeping. Testimony at the trials of both Thompson and Davis disclosed that the Shook brothers were lured from their home on a "wolf hunt" and were brutally beaten and shot.

Upon his arrival here Thompson persistently walked back and forth in his cell uttering incoherent sentences—feigning insanity, according to jail officials and according to District Attorney Joe Jones at Eastland, who has declared that the state will fight an insanity plea if it is entered at the second trial.

ACTED PECULIARLY IN EASTLAND JAIL.

Thompson followed the same procedure in the jail at Eastland before he was removed to Dallas, according to county officials, sometimes screaming and continually pacing his cell. The destination of Sheriff Foster when he left Eastland Friday with his prisoner was not disclosed at the time.

"Buddy" was found asleep and when found showed signs of fatigue and exhaustion and was suffering somewhat from exposure, but this morning showed no ill effects.

Eight-Inch Gas Line Being Built From Chesley Well North of Cisco to Gasoline Plant Near Eastland

Construction of an eight-inch gas line, 17 miles in length, from the Chesley well, almost 10 miles north of Cisco, to the Chestnut and Smith plant at the Gulf crossing, Eastland, is under way. A crew of between 40 and 50 men are now working out of Cisco on this project. The line will cost about $125,000.

This line, with a capacity of 19,990,000 cubic feet of gas daily, will carry wet gas to the Chestnut-Smith plant under comparatively low pressure. At the plant the gas will be stripped of gasoline and the residue taken to the Leon plant of the Oil Belt Power company for use there as fuel.

The low pressure on the line will enable many wells, in which the rock pressure has decreased to a point below which they may tie into high pressure gas lines, to dispose of their gas.

Right of way for the line has been secured.

FORMER CHIEF OF NAVY DIES AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Admiral E. W. Eberle, former chief of navy operations, died in a hospital here today.

The admiral's death resulted from an infection in his right ear of many years standing. He was born in Denton, Tex., but his family later moved to Fort Smith, Ark., from which state he was appointed to the U. S. naval academy in 1881.

At the time of his retirement last August, Eberle had served 47 years in the navy. By virtue of seniority, he was the ranking officer on the navy list.

During the World War Admiral Eberle was superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis. Subsequently he served as commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, as chief of naval operations, and as chairman of the executive committee of the navy general board.

Eberle sailed on all types of ships, both sail and steam, on all the seven seas. He was a lieutenant on board the historic battleship Oregon in 1898 on her dash around the Horn and had charge of her forward turret at the battle of Santiago.

CAR STRIKE IN NEW ORLEANS IS CONTINUED

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 6.—Threats of sympathetic walkouts by several trades and crafts were made late today as the street car strike which has caused two deaths continued.

More than 100 persons had been injured and six street cars burned in clashes between strikers on the one hand, and strike-breakers and police on the other. Tear gas bombs were used early today to halt brick throwers and other violence and martial law seemed probable.

THREATS OF MARTIAL LAW SEEN.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 6.—With the threat of martial law hanging over the city, the street car strike that has cost two lives continued today.

Although the violent mobs of strikers and strike sympathizers that rioted around the car barn of the New Orleans Public Service company last night had dwindled to a few hundred, determined pickets still patrolled the streets to prevent any attempt to resume service.

Meanwhile the city council met with officials of the Public Service company, in an effort to prevent further rioting. The strikers are determined no cars shall be run by non-union men.

More than a hundred persons have been injured and six street cars burned since the strike was declared Monday.

Want to 'Chute Into Penitentiary

McKINNEY, July 6.—From balloon to prison by parachute jump was the plan of C. D. (Rowdy) McCowan, professional ballconist, today as he prepared to serve a seven years term in Huntsville penitentiary for liquor law violation.

McCowan today visited a sister in San Antonio, from where he plans to fly to Huntsville. He has asked permission to drop to the prison grounds by 'chute, which would give the state penitentiary its first "prisoner by air."

MEETING WILL TAKE PLACE AT LAGUNA HOTEL

Impressive Group of Experts Are to Be Present

An event of much moment in Cisco, one that will in a big way determine the development of one of the largest potential industries of this section, will be the meeting scheduled to take place on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel under the auspices of the chamber of commerce. The purpose of this meeting, to be attended by milk and cheese plant experts, by business men, professional men and bankers from Cisco and from other towns in the western section of the county, and by representative farmers, the agricultural and industrial agents of two railroads, and others, will be to determine the best market for whole milk suitable to Cisco and this section.

The time for the meeting is 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

For the past two years Cisco has been working upon the problem of securing a market for whole milk and developing the dairy industry to an important status here. This meeting, in effect, will decide whether or not a definite plan for carrying that effort to fruition will be feasible. It is the purpose of the session to go into the possibilities for a milk or cheese plant in Cisco in an utterly detached and impartial manner and to sound out with the assistance of expert advice just what may be expected of the industry here.

Must Act At Once.

If Cisco intends to do anything toward securing a plant it is essential that action be taken immediately so that the farmers may know just what to plan for next year, and if a plant is secured it will mean the purchase of much young dairy stock so that the available milk supply may be increased.

It is unlikely that any other meeting of the character of the one planned here will be held in Cisco. This fact alone demonstrates the interest which is being aroused in the milk industry elsewhere.

Among those who will be present is Arthur E. Gilman, of Pittsburgh, Pa., recently appointed industrial commissioner for the entire Missouri-Kansas and Texas railroad system, with headquarters in Saint Louis. Mr. Gilman is making a trip to Texas, especially for the Cisco meeting.

C. A. Voigt, cheese expert of Wisconsin, will also be present.

F. H. Doufint of Chicago, president of the Douthat Engineering company which is installing practically all powdered milk plants in the state, including those at Tyler and Marshall will be another figure in the industry to be present.

Kraft Man.

C. L. Teissler, southwestern representative of the Kraft Cheese company, will be here unless prevented by unforeseen conditions. He is in charge of the company's operations from the state of Missouri south.

Mr. Teissler says that the cheese made in the Kraft plant at Wichita Falls is bringing a premium over Wisconsin cheese.

Bryan Blalock, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Milk Products company at Marshall will also be present.

OF COURSE IT PAYS.

In this day and time it would seem that about the most foolish question anyone could ask is "Does Advertising Pay?" But a great many local business men, if they do not actually ask the question give a negative answer by their actions. There is a reason for their belief that advertising would not pay them, in many cases. Perhaps they have used a small advertisement now and then and because their business was not doubled over night were disappointed and concluded that it did not pay. In other cases the failure of advertising was due to a poor uninteresting copy, or an inferior medium. Again, it might be because the general reputation of the firm was not such as to give the public confidence in its merchandise.

Advertising will not make an unattractive, slipshod, or unreliable store prosperous. But if the merchant has the right goods at the right prices, displays them attractively and gives his customers attentive service, judicious advertising will be the very best investment he can make.

One tobacco company is spending $12,000,000 this year in advertising a single brand of cigars, and declares that its increased business has far more than justified the expenditure already.

Of course advertising pays, if properly done and provided the advertiser has the goods and prices to back it up.

THE USEFUL HOBBO.

In the minds of most people, the hobo, tramp and bum have practically the same meaning. But this idea is wrong, according to M. Laque, agent for a large New York employment company, who declares that he has hired as many as 133,000 hobo workers for railroad work in a single year, and says they were "a fine bunch of men."

Mr. Laque describes the difference between the three classes mentioned somewhat as follows: A hobo is a traveling worker; a tramp is a traveling non-worker; a bum is a stationary non-worker. While the three intermingled in the large cities during the winter, and the classes are not strictly defined, when the opportunity comes the hobo is willing to work, while the others are not.

Hobos travel from place to place seeking reasonable enjoyment, such as harvesting, railroad and other construction work, as common laborers, so they fill a real place in the country's economic system. While they are not always exemplary in morals and conduct, they are honest and industrious, as a rule.

And they have a sense of pride as well. The hobo wants to be known as a hobo, and he is insulted to be called a tramp or a bum.

SUGAR INDUSTRY THREATENED.

And now the American sugar refining industry is threatened. John H. McCarthy, president of a big Pennsylvania sugar refining company and said to be the spokesman for sugar refiners in New York, Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Massachusetts and California appeared before the senate tariff committee and declared 254,000 tons of refined sugar was imported into the United States last year.

He ventured the prediction if refining of sugar in the West Indies and Cuba is allowed to develop, American sugar refining industries will suffer unless adequate protection is provided.

One South American republic ships 109,000,000 barrels of oil to the United States each 12 months. Crude is on the free list. If American sugar industries are entitled to high tariffs for protection purposes, why not the American producers of petroleum?

Texas is a petroleum producing state—indeed, it promises to rank first in the near future.

If Texas sugar refiners are to be given adequate protection, why not Texas producers of the crude?

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

E. Lansing Ray, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, says: "Did you ever stop to think of the close relationship which is developed between a newspaper and its readers?"

"Can you for instance, name any other public service institution which enjoys such an intimate relationship with the public which it serves?"

"Into the heart of the home goes the newspaper as a regular visitor and friend—to inform, to advise, to guide. Into offices and into factories it goes—to carry the information upon which business depends for its planning.

"Nor is this service which binds the newspaper to its readers confined solely to its news and editorial columns. Through the messages of the advertisers, it keeps its public informed as to the next desirable merchandise and service available in the markets of the world.

It makes people more efficient, makes dollars stretch farther, makes modern life more enjoyable.

"And then did you ever stop to think what this close contact, this intimate relationship between the newspaper and its community, means to the man who uses advertising to reach and to sell to many markets?"

"Advertisers have stopped to think of it. And they have come to realize that, from the newspaper themselves, close to the thought and the pulse of their readers, they can secure sincere co-operation in planning their sales campaigns."

"Through honest analysis of the community markets which they serve, newspapers are helping guide advertisers to efficient and productive effort.

"And thus are communities being served, through the sound building of business within their borders."

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 6.—Henri Cochet of France won the men's tennis championship of England today when he defeated his fellow countryman, Jean Borotra, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, in the final. Cochet succeeds to the title held last year by Rene La Coste. La Coste did not compete this year.

INDICTMENTS.

FORT WORTH, July 6.—The United States grand jury here late Friday returned 13 indictments charging mail fraud and a special term of court to hear the cases will be called preceding the regular term opening in November.

OUT OUR WAY

Attractive Cisco Homes

At the side of their native stone bungalow, two miles west on the Bankhead highway, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harrell have the most delightful home. A white arbor leads through the wide bed of scarlet verbenas, dusty miller, geraniums and lespedeza which separates the garden from the terraced front lawn. Within, beneath the shade of a large oak tree is a lily pond of native stone with the surface of its water covered with gold and white lilies and parrot feathers. At the side is an iron bench with a large seat made from a ten foot slab of rock at the back of the enclosure. On the east side are violets and cape jasmine with ivy covering the walls of the house. Surrounding the garden is a hedge of amovier acid cedar shrubbery.

A cobblestone walk leads from the arbor to the entrance of the house enclosing a bed of geraniums, phlox, periwinkles, moss, larkspur, nasturtiums, budlia, and cedar shrubs. Square boxes on the low pillars of the porch hold verbenas and red geraniums hang from the baskets.

In the center of the lawn is a bird bath of yellow crockery, shaded by many native oaks.

"Bridge Widower" Is World's Most Patient Husband

CHICAGO, July 6.—James Breen, "bridge widower," is the "world's most patient husband," Judge William N. Gemmill believes.

"My wife is bridge crazy," said James when Mrs. Marie Breen demanded alimony. "In the seven years we were married, we separated eleven times—always over a bridge argument."

He had to mind our two children every night while she played. To make matters worse, her partner, Mrs. Jeanette Pond, finally brought over her two youngsters and I had to look after them, too. Both women stayed out until 4 and 5 in the morning. When I protested, my wife told me I was only a husband, but that bridge was bridge.

"Enough," declared the court. "I wish I could give you a medal as the world's most patient husband."

"LOVE PIRACY" CHARGES ARE DENIED BY TWO

FORT WORTH, July 6.—Minnie G. Martin, alias Ruth Killian and A. C. Killian, of Oklahoma City, will deny "love piracy" charges on which they were indicted by a United States grand jury here Friday.

The pair is charged with swindling Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, wealthy Gray county ranch woman, out of $35,000 in 1927.

Killian was said to have made love to Mrs. Hopkins, a widow, and to have obtained $10,000 from her. Later, "Mrs. Killian," filed an alienation suit for $100,000 damages and is said to have purchased several letters of the widow's. Before they had finished they were charged with obtaining $35,000 in settlement.

Mrs. Hopkins settled on the Panhandle ranch forty-five years ago, and since her husband was killed by lightning while harvesting in 1917, has operated the ranch. Oil was discovered several years ago.

The discovery has made her a rich seven children wealthy. September, she will go to St. Francisco to contest for a share in the fabulous $350,000,000 fortune left by Mark Hopkins, 49, who died interstate in 1872.

Her husband's father and the miner were said to be brothers.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Woodson and Coleman Polo Teams Play Here at 4:30

CONTEST WILL TAKE PLACE AT AIR PORT

Will Be Second Time Teams Have Met on Local Ground

It appears to be gaining in popularity in the city. The two games that were played here so far have drawn crowds, which considered the newness of the sport in promise that the equestrian game will command a wide popular following.

The second game between the Woodson and Coleman teams will be played here this afternoon at 4:30 p. m. at the aviation field, it was announced by H. H. Betts. These teams met on the same field in the morning of July 4 in a game which was a part of the July Fourth celebration and Coleman won by a score of 6 to 2. The Woodson team is confident that it will be able to come back this afternoon, especially the same lineup used in the first game.

It is expected that the game will be a fast game in prospect, and men will be in good condition for the contest after a rest Thursday.

MCCLAIR 53 YEARS OF AGE ON SATURDAY

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Harry McClair, multimillionaire oil magnate, observed his 53rd birthday in the city last today.

McClair, a wealthy prisoner serving two years for conspiracy in the Teapot scandal, is being investigated by a committee of the senate. McClair is in court in connection with a jury tampering case, following his arrest at the jail, it is reported. Jail attaches refused to admit whether McClair had received any greetings from friends or family.

CONDUCTOR IS BLAMED WITH TRAIN WRECK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 6.—Frank Chumley, Frisco railroad conductor, was blamed today for the train wreck in the union station yards here in which 13 commuters were injured. Chumley allowed his train to pass a stop signal, according to a statement of P. W. Conley, Frisco superintendent.

One car of the Frisco commuters' train from Valley Park was overturned and another derailed when struck by the steel observation car of a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy limited from Denver. Both trains were backing into the station.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS By Laufer

Along the baseball grapevine comes the word that Walter "Rabbit" Maranville will soon be announced as the successor to Judge Emil Fuchs as manager of the Boston Braves.

Coming up with the Boston Braves, he helped them win their only pennant and world championship in 1914. His fielding skill and timely hitting paved the way to stardom. But after several seasons the patience of the Braves management finally crumbled. He was sold to Pittsburgh.

With the Pirates he gave the same high class service on the field, but ran wild in the hotel lobbies. Blame for losing a pennant was laid to Maranville and some of his roistering companions and he was traded to the Chicago Cubs. Here came his chance as manager, but the Rabbit muffed it by putting on wrestling matches with cab drivers and other bits of nocturnal comedy.

The Cubs sent him to Brooklyn on waivers. But the Rabbit was still a nightmare to morale and he was shipped to the minors. There he saw the error of his ways and within one season forced his way back into the majors, filling in the shortstop breach of the pennant winning St. Louis Cardinals.

He gave the Cards a great shortstop defense until last year when they decided to develop a younger man at that position. Back to his first big league club, the Braves, went the Rabbit. This summer he has been one of the few bright spots of the stumbling Bostons.

NEW RECORD IN ENDURANCE FLYING SET

Cleveland Fliers Exceed 'Fort Worth's' Time Alott

By CLAIRE M. BURCKY
United Press Staff Correspondent.
CLEVELAND, O., July 6.—A new world's refueling endurance flight record today crowned the efforts of Byron K. Newcomb and Roy L. Mitchell, co-pilots of the endurance ship "City of Cleveland."

They established a sustained flying time of 174 hours and 59 seconds, eclipsing the former mark of 172 hours and 32 minutes made by Reg Robbins and Jim Kelly.

ENDURANCE FLIGHT STATISTICS.
Time in air: 174 hours, 59 seconds.
Previous record: 172 hours, 32 minutes.
Plane: Stinson - Detroit, single motor, monoplane (same plane in which Eddie Stinson and George W. Haldeman established non-fueling endurance flight record of 53 hours, 26 minutes).
Refueling crew: Ernie E. Basham, pilot; Jim Hayden, Dale Dryer.
Number of refuelings: 24.
Fuel consumed: 1,093 gallons gasoline; 87 gallons oil.

Texas cowboys. The "City of Cleveland" landed at 12:39:50 a. m. today, after having been aloft since 6:38:51 p. m., Friday, June 23.

As the tired aviators stepped to the ground they were raised up on staidward shoulders. Police cleared a way to the hangar entrance. Through it sped Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Newcomb.

"Billie!" shouted Newcomb, crushing his wife in his arms and smothering her with kisses.

Too hoarse to utter a sound, Mitchell just folded his wife to him and kissed her.

The wives were speechless. Tears of happiness streamed through their smiles.

Police literally dragged the fliers into the hangar and over to a small office crowded with well-wishers. A window was smashed in by the anxious crowd.

From out of the swarm that hemmed the fliers in the little room a small boy pushed his way.

"Glad to see you dad," the youngster said to Mitchell, his step-father. "Gee, but I'm proud of you."

The boy ran his hand over Mitchell's face, grown, stubbled with whiskers during eight days in the air.

A radio microphone was set in front of Newcomb. He was asked to say something to his invisible audience.

"Glad to get back, folks, after breaking the record," Newcomb said. "Our motor worked perfectly to the end. It wore us out, and not we the motor. Good night."

Teachers Demand Personal Liberty

CHICAGO, July 6.—If the "schoolmarms" want to smoke, that's their business, the American Federation of Teachers, decided in the closing session of its annual convention.

Bobbed hair, dancing, card-playing and getting married also are permissible, the delegates insisted.

"There is no reason," said resolutions they adopted, "why teachers should be subjected to restrictions in their personal lives, not imposed upon women in other professions. They should not be kept in constant fear of losing their jobs because school boards frowned upon their modes of dress and living."

Efforts Find Body in Glacier Halted

PARADISE INN, Rainer National Park, Wash., July 6.—Attempts to find the body of Forrest Great-house, buried in a glacier on Mount Rainer, were at a standstill today while the great snow covered peak was shrouded in fog and while new men were recruited to take up the hunt.

To Investigate Gas Refrigerators

CHICAGO, July 6.—An investigation into use of refrigerators that operate with gas was under way today by a city council committee with a view to determining best means to safeguard the public from illness and death resulting from leakages.

The action came as a result of the death last week of Mrs. Viola Clark. A coroner's jury of scientists found she died from effects of methyl chloride gas which escaped from a mechanical refrigerator in the apartment building in which she lived.

An ordinance regulating the installation of mechanical ice boxes is being drafted by councilmen and its provisions will be based on results of the investigation started today.

He believed his wife's parents had sent the officer, Miller testified, so he attempted to out-distance the motorcycle. Judge Barison who is married said "speeding charge dismissed."

Air Subdivided Like Land Now

Merchandise Mart, World's Biggest Business Building, Pioneer in Solving Problems

Chicago's air is being subdivided now just as the real estate men of the city have laid out big subdivisions of land and millions of dollars are represented in the development of air rights for the construction of great buildings over the right of way of railroad tracks in the downtown district and in some of the territory adjacent to it.

It is estimated that there are around 200 acres available for air right development. On the South side from Van Buren street to Sixteenth street about 110 acres could be used for this purpose. Over the Illinois Central tracks the estimate places the number of acres that could be used in this way at 50, and on the West side there are around 20 acres, according to engineers who have made a study of air rights in Chicago. The estimated value of these rights puts about $100,000,000 "in the air," say the experts.

There is a vast stretch of tracks belonging to the Illinois Central running for more than five miles along the lake front in the heart of the most valuable real estate section. Just north of the Chicago river, less than a mile from the center of Chicago's shopping district, is a long stretch of railroad tracks belonging to the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. Just west of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, also less than a mile from the heart of the city, is another long stretch of tracks belonging to various railroads, such as the Pennsylvania, Burlington, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Union Station company.

Subdivide Air First Time

It was in the biggest single air right development in Chicago—the $35,000,000 Merchandise Mart, the world's largest business building—that for the first time a sub-division was made of both land and air. This was over the tracks of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. There was no precedent for the method to be adopted in this subdivision, and the purchasers were pioneering in this field. It required the combined efforts of lawyers, engineers, surveyors and architects to coin the descriptions, the words and phrases necessary to convey to the mind the idea of what was being subdivided and sold. The purchaser required certain portions of the ground below O-O city datum to plant caissons and certain portions of space to put columns on the caissons between O-O datum and 23 feet above O-O to support the building. The air lot begins at 23 feet above datum and covers the entire area of the property. By the deed the purchaser obtained a fee simple title to the caisson lots—the foundation of the building. Nothing can deprive the purchaser of the right to keep the caissons in the ground, the steel columns on the caissons and the building in the air.

Clear Way to Rights

Many legal complications had to be cleared before the first development of air rights was completed. For instance, all railroads have mortgages covering their tracks and other property, which in the case of each railroad run into hundreds of millions of dollars. No one would purchase air rights and foundation rights and invest large sums of money in erecting a building on these air rights unless he could first obtain a title to his foundation and air clear of the railroad mortgages.

Great Buildings Over Tracks

The construction of commercial buildings over railway tracks and yards was unthought of a generation or two ago. As late as the beginning of the present century the term "air rights" had never been heard of. Even in such congested centers as New York and Chicago, no railroad had ever sought to create a commercial asset out of its unoccupied air space.

Today, however, some of the finest hotels and office and apartment buildings in New York City are located above what was formerly unsightly railway yards in the vicinity of the Grand Central terminal. These include such notable buildings as the Biltmore hotel, the Roosevelt hotel, the Graybar office building, the Grand Central palace and the New York Central office building. In Cleveland, a great $150,000,000 terminal project, involving the development of air rights, is under way.

The above sketch shows what an air lot looks like; the air is now being subdivided in Chicago just the same as land and in the plans for construction of the Merchandise Mart land and air was subdivided for the first time. The shaded portions of the map show the available Chicago air rights, approximately 200 acres, the value of which is estimated at $100,000,000. The Merchandise Mart (upper right), world's biggest business building now under construction, is the largest single air right development in the middle west and was the pioneer in this new method of constructing buildings over railroad tracks. The other big air development is that of the new building of the Chicago Daily News (lower right) now completed.

In Chicago the field is very extensive, but scarcely touched as yet. Only two air rights developments have been perfected here so far, the site of the new building of the Chicago Daily News and that of the Merchandise Mart. The Daily News structure, on the west bank of the Chicago river at Madison street, is completed, while the Merchandise Mart, which will house 2,000 manufacturers, wholesalers and importers, will be ready for occupancy next May. Both buildings are located on the Chicago river and with tracks underneath make it of extraordinary convenience. Under the Merchandise Mart, the Chicago & Northwestern railroad will have an immense incoming and outgoing freight station, bringing the merchandise of the world right in the Mart building. Both structures utilize the air rights over the Chicago & Northwestern tracks. Another project to use extensive air rights is the proposed Crane Tower, which will use these rights over the Illinois Central on Randolph street facing Grant Park.

Message of the Mart

The intensive commercial development of air rights over railway terminals and yards has the distinct advantage of involving property that for the most part is singly owned. Because of this single ownership, the development of the entire area can be restricted and regulated to insure the best possible results with reference to width of streets, size of blocks, type and character of buildings, uniformity of architecture, desirability of tenants and so on.

The movement embodied in the Merchandise Mart is much more than a big building project and the utilization of air rights. It sounds a message of economy and efficiency in distribution that will give the mercantile world a new conception of cooperation, competition and efficiency. It represents a culminating point in the effort to eliminate two distinct distribution evils:

- 1—The excessive cost of taking merchandise to the merchant instead of the economical method of having merchants come to the merchandise.
- 2—The waste of the merchant's time after he comes to the market by enabling him to do all his buying conveniently under one roof.

and located and capable of conveyance by lot numbers and reference to a recorded plat. The pioneers had to be careful to insure their legal rights. The use of the word "air" by itself was feared. So the phrase "land property and space" was utilized in the deed, which left no room for doubt as to what was conveyed.

It sounds a message of economy and efficiency in distribution that will give the mercantile world a new conception of cooperation, competition and efficiency. It represents a culminating point in the effort to eliminate two distinct distribution evils:

- 1—The excessive cost of taking merchandise to the merchant instead of the economical method of having merchants come to the merchandise.
- 2—The waste of the merchant's time after he comes to the market by enabling him to do all his buying conveniently under one roof.

Youth, Tired of Nine Months of Readin', Writin', 'Rithmetic, Sets Fire to School

BELVEDERE Gardens, Cal., July 6.—Nine months of reading, writing and arithmetic were enough for 10-year-old Morrell Prieman. When his teacher told him he would have to attend summer classes, he set fire to the school house. Then he turned in the alarm. Firemen arrived to find Morrell running about the blazing building shouting, "fire." A fire captain, questioning the boy, obtained the admission that Morrell, in the hope of dodging summer school, had climbed into the attic and touched off some old papers. Morrell was turned over to his parents while authorities scratched their heads figuring just what they could do about it.

The school house was only slightly damaged. It will be repaired in time for the summer session. Morrell's dad says he will see that his son is on hand when the first bell rings.

Churches

GRACE LUTHERAN
"Blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it." These are the words of Christ as they are recorded in the 11th chapter of Luke. You are cordially invited to hear the word of God at the Lutheran church today. In the morning the word of God will be searched for an answer to these questions: Does the Bible teach witchcraft, or does it rest merely on the superstition and ignorance of ancient people? What are the claims of the Christian Scientists and the Spiritualists? Are they all humbug? Are they accomplished by the power of God or by the power of the devil? At the night service, "Crossing the Jordan," many practical and timely lessons will be from this ancient historian. The morning service begins at 10:30, and the night service at 8:00. Sunday school at 10:00. H. F. PEIMAN, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL
Services at the Church of the Savior, Episcopal, at 708 N. Main, will be held Sunday at 11:00 with the celebration of Communion on Monday morning.

STOCKS MOVE IRREGULARLY ON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 6.—Eastman Kodak crossed the 200 mark for the first time for the present stock today and a few other issues like Western Union Underwood Elliott Fisher and leading rails were strong on the market, but the remainder of the list moved irregularly.

Trading quieted down considerably partly because of the absence of traders over the week end and because of a widespread tendency to remain out of the market pending readjustment of the technical position.

An increase of $227,000,000 in brokerage loans together with an unpaired federal reserve condition were temporary factors in the unsettledness of the list.

A fair number of small gains were registered, although many of the leaders were under considerable pressure. These included United States Steel, General Motors, American Can, Radio, Chrysler and United States Improvement.

Western Union moved up to a new high on the movement, while Eastman Kodak at 200 was up four points. Several of the better grade rails held firm and fairly active.

Union Pacific sold at the highest price of its history above 246 while Canadian Pacific displayed outstanding strength. Missouri-Kansas-Texas was a strong spot in

One Marriage in Twenty-Five Days

SNYDER, July 6.—One marriage in twenty-five days is the record in Scurry county since the new marriage license law went into effect June 13.

The law, requiring the filing of "intentions" three days in advance accompanied by a health certificate of the bridegroom, has been made applicable to only two couples and only one of these has obtained the certificate.

During the first twelve days of June, under the old law, the county clerk issued nine licenses. It is believed that now most prospective newlyweds in this section cross over into New Mexico to avoid the three day wait.
