

EASTLAND CO. — Area 925 square miles; population, 125,000; cotton, fruit, poultry, dairying, natural gas and oil; Cisco is headquarters for operators of great shallow oil field; churches of all denominations.

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO—Pop. 13,000; 1,614 feet above the sea; 5 lakes water; 5 rail exits; 6 paved highway exits; 127 blocks of brick streets; good hotels; A-1 public schools and Randolph College; no mosquitoes; no malaria or typhoid.

VOLUME X. ON "BROADWAY OF AMERICA" CISCO, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930. SIX PAGES TODAY NUMBER 259.

BIDS ON CISCO OVERPASS CALLED

Validity of Stream Bed Act Upheld by Appeals Court

BRADY JURY IS STILL DEADLOCKED

PANEL OUT 20 HOURS AT ONE O'CLOCK

No Indication of Possible Agreement Made

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—The John W. Brady murder trial jury delayed its lunch 35 minutes from the accustomed 12 o'clock noon today, but went out with no indication that an agreement is possible.

Earlier in the morning the jury had told Sheriff Coley White that they were deadlocked hopelessly.

At 12:55 p. m. the jury had been out 20 hours.

If one man is preventing an agreement it is a safe assumption that the man is R. P. Burke, 27, a sign painter and the fifth juror selected.

Lunch apparently was delayed today while others tried to convince Burke. He was seated on a bed at the southernmost window of three which overlook Congress avenue from the third floor jury room.

He was still in his pajamas at noon.

A. A. Mobley, 51, laborer and the third juror selected, moved over to a seat next to Burke shortly after 12 o'clock and a heated argument between the two ensued. Burke was especially vigorous as he answered Mobley.

He had a knife in his hand and punched at the window as he talked. All of which may mean much or nothing.

Finally Mobley handed Burke court's charge and apparently pointed out to him passages on page two of the charge. Page two of the court's written charge is devoted to possible punishment for murder with malice and murder without malice, as distinguished under the

CONTINUED ON PAGE SIX

WHAT WILL BE HIS FATE?

Judge John W. Brady, on trial at Austin for the murder of 28-year-old Leilia Highsmith, whom he is alleged to have slain with a knife in front of her boarding house last November. At noon today the jury was reported to be deadlocked.

Chapman Returns as Coach of Lobos

W. B. Chapman, for eight years, including the present term, athletic director of the Cisco high school and coach of the Lobo football team, has been signed for his ninth year of service at this post.

Coach Chapman, affectionately known as "Chap" last night put his name to the contract offered by the Cisco school board which ties him to Cisco and the scene of many past triumphs for the school year of 1930 and 1931. The terms of the new contract are understood to be similar to those of previous contracts.

In view of his acceptance of the local proposition, which is greeted with gratification by the followers of the Lobos, it is not speaking out of school to state that Coach Chapman was one of three or four outstanding high school football coaches in the state who were being considered for the potentially attractive coaching job at Amarillo high school. He accepted the Cisco position again without awaiting the determination of the Amarillo position.

In coming to Cisco for next year Coach Chapman is faced with what appears now to be the best prospect that Cisco has had since the days of 1924 and 1925. Whether or not these prospects will materialize when school opens next fall, is of course, a matter for conjecture.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Instruction to restore motor bus schedules as they were in effect January 31, was issued today for West Texas motor bus lines by Mark Marshall, director of the motor bus division of the state railroad commission.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

Complaint has been received that schedule changes have caused great inconvenience to the public between Fort Worth and El Paso via Cisco. Abilene, Sweetwater and Midland.

LANDOWNERS GET STREAM BED TITLES

Legislature Held to Have Right of Adjustment

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—The third court of civil appeals today upheld the validity of the small land act giving title in stream beds to the owners of property through which the streams flow.

The act, named for State Senator Clint Small, its author, was passed by the legislature over the veto of Governor Dan Moody who agreed with Former Attorney General Polard that the act would be unconstitutional.

The titles affected include valuable oil holdings developed in dry stream beds in West Texas.

The decision was rendered in the suit of the state vs. G. W. Bradford, Bradford et al. in the litigation the state sought to regain as public school land valuable oil tracks in the bed of the north fork of the Red river in Gray and Wheeler counties. The state claimed that by statute any stream bed thirty feet wide between banks, is a navigable stream regardless of practical navigability. The statute also provided that no survey lines should cross navigable streams.

Had the right. The legislature certainly had the right to make an adjustment with those too whom it had sold land and collected taxes upon the land. It would be chargeable with unfairness and dishonesty for not doing so. The decision held and added that such an adjustment was not all that could be done but that the land could be relinquished to those to whom it had been sold.

The state's interest was only indirect in the litigation. Other prospectors had filed claim for oil permits on the land as stream bed land, so in either event the state receives only the oil royalty.

Discovery that many West Texas surveys actually crossed stream beds of more than 30 feet width made the litigation an issue before the legislature. Threats of formation of a new state were made during the furor but declared unauthorized by leaders of the fight for the Small act.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, physician and promoter, who is serving a 14-year sentence at Leavenworth for using the mails to defraud, has been recommended for parole by the United States Parole board, the justice department announced today.

The parole recommendation must now be approved by Pardon Attorney Finch and Attorney General Mitchell before Cook can be released.

Cook will be eligible for parole March 5 when one-third of his sentence will have been served. He was convicted of mail fraud in 1916, before Judge Killitts, who had come from Ohio to preside at the trial. It was alleged Cook received $375,000 from the sale of petroleum stock.

Judge Killitts sentenced the promoter to 14 years and nine months in Leavenworth penitentiary and imposed a fine of $12,000. Cook had already served one year and two months before he began the sentence which formally started April 6, 1925. Last March President Hoover denied a petition for executive clemency for Mr. Cook and then friends had him make application for parole.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, physician and promoter, who is serving a 14-year sentence at Leavenworth for using the mails to defraud, has been recommended for parole by the United States Parole board, the justice department announced today.

The parole recommendation must now be approved by Pardon Attorney Finch and Attorney General Mitchell before Cook can be released.

Cook will be eligible for parole March 5 when one-third of his sentence will have been served. He was convicted of mail fraud in 1916, before Judge Killitts, who had come from Ohio to preside at the trial. It was alleged Cook received $375,000 from the sale of petroleum stock.

Judge Killitts sentenced the promoter to 14 years and nine months in Leavenworth penitentiary and imposed a fine of $12,000. Cook had already served one year and two months before he began the sentence which formally started April 6, 1925. Last March President Hoover denied a petition for executive clemency for Mr. Cook and then friends had him make application for parole.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, physician and promoter, who is serving a 14-year sentence at Leavenworth for using the mails to defraud, has been recommended for parole by the United States Parole board, the justice department announced today.

The parole recommendation must now be approved by Pardon Attorney Finch and Attorney General Mitchell before Cook can be released.

Cook will be eligible for parole March 5 when one-third of his sentence will have been served. He was convicted of mail fraud in 1916, before Judge Killitts, who had come from Ohio to preside at the trial. It was alleged Cook received $375,000 from the sale of petroleum stock.

Judge Killitts sentenced the promoter to 14 years and nine months in Leavenworth penitentiary and imposed a fine of $12,000. Cook had already served one year and two months before he began the sentence which formally started April 6, 1925. Last March President Hoover denied a petition for executive clemency for Mr. Cook and then friends had him make application for parole.

Ice Floe Carries Two Boys to the Brink of Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Hurried preparations were made today to halt the progress of a large ice floe carrying two boys, from going over the falls.

The floe was reported by the state reservation police to be about four miles above the American falls and traveling steadily.

The Niagara Power company reported trying to get a tug out into the river to reach the youths.

Reservation authorities were frantically working against time to arrange lines at Goat Island to stop the huge cake of ice.

It was believed the boys were fishing from the ice on the river and the strong current broke it in sections, carrying the pair down the stream.

Vallé Confirmed by Senate Committee

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—The state senate today confirmed the appointment of John A. Vallé of Laredo as district attorney for the 49th district including Webb, Zapata, Dimmit and Jim Hogg counties.

The vote was 29 for and none against.

Appointments of Clem Calhoun as district attorney at Borger and appointment of Moore Lynn of Dallas as state auditor also were confirmed together with all other governor's appointments except one pilot at Orange. His appointment was held up for additional information.

RUBIO BECOMES PRESIDENT OF MEXICO TODAY

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, constitutionally-elected president of Mexico for the next six years, took the oath of office before a vast crowd in the great national stadium today.

The successor to Plutarco Elias Calles and General Alvaro Obregón, who was assassinated before he took office, swore to enforce the constitution and fulfill his duties faithfully, adding "should I not do so, let the nation condemn me."

CORDIAL U. S.-MEXICO RELATIONS STRESSED.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—Emphasis was placed on the cordial relations existing between Mexico and the United States by President Pascual Ortiz Rubio in his inaugural address today.

In his entire speech, the president mentioned no foreign nation by name other than the United States. He refrained from mentioning the recent severance of Mexico's diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

"Our country lives at this moment," he said, "on the most cordial relations with all nations of the world, particularly with the United States."

The president, with the exception of his brief reference to foreign affairs, devoted himself to an exposition of the national revolutionary party's ideals and a general discussion of Mexico's domestic problems.

"The government over which I

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

Taft Comfortable Today Say Doctors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—William Howard Taft spent a quiet night and was more comfortable this morning, a bulletin issued at 11 a. m. today by his physicians said.

The bulletin signed by Dr. Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Clayton, reads as follows:

Mr. Taft is slightly better than yesterday. He spent a quiet night and was comfortable this morning.

FUNDS ASKED FOR BRAZOS CONSERVATION

Preliminary Work Must Be Completed Sept. 1, 1931

F. E. Harrell, of Cisco, member of the board of directors of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district, returned yesterday from Austin following a meeting of this board at which a specific plan for financing the preliminary, or organizational, work of the district was determined upon and a request made Governor Moody that the matter be submitted as a topic for the special session of the legislature.

"We are in a position of having been appointed to do certain task and given a limited period in which to do it without having the funds to work with," said Mr. Harrell, who is a member of the finance committee. "What we are asking of the legislature, if Moody submit the matter to the legislature as he is being asked to do, is a direct appropriation of $35,000 to be matched with an equal amount from the federal government, together with a 12 mills tax upon the district as it is now outlined by the state board of water engineers. The direct appropriation will provide funds for carrying on the preliminary research work and planning until returns from the tax are available.

Preliminary work must be completed under terms of the bill, by September 1, 1931, and there is a tremendous amount of work to be done before a final and definite plan for conserving the waters of the Brazos can be made. For instance the district must be outlined to include only such land as is actually drained by the Brazos and not as the case is now, roughly the coun-

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

Breckenridge Oil Drillers Robbed

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 5.—Four oil well drillers were forced at the point of guns to lie on a wet rug floor in freezing weather more than an hour last night while two hijackers robbed them of $23 and a gold watch. The robbers also took a car belonging to one of the oil workers but abandoned it a few miles from the well.

Only in Security of Death Did Sarah Mead Become Mrs. Wm. Clarke Quantrill

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 5.—When Kate King, 13, looked from her home at Blue Springs, Mo., one morning in 1848 and saw a handsome young man standing by his horse and talking to her father, a romance began which led her into a strange life.

She married the boy the same year against her father's wishes. He was only 25 but he was loved, hated and feared throughout Missouri which then was torn by civil war strife. He was William Clarke Quantrill whose name came to have a terrible significance to Missouri freestaters whom he hated.

Kate said this hatred which ruled Quantrill's life was caused by the murder of his brother, which he blamed on the freestaters. His deprecations were widely heralded. Freestaters were found with bullet holes through their foreheads and the name Quantrill came to be whispered in terror.

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

Play Bridge at Your Own Risk

CLAYTON, Mo., Feb. 5.—Bridge players indulge in the pastime at their own risk, a circuit court jury decided here today.

Mrs. Belle Weissman attended bridge parties at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Goldsticker the afternoon of Oct. 27, 1927. During the course of the game Mrs. Weissman left one of the tables, slipped on the floor and fell. She sued Mrs. Goldsticker for $20,000, alleging the floor should have been covered with rugs for the safety of the guests.

Mrs. Weissman told the jury she was in the hospital for three months with a sprained back and other injuries. A verdict denying damages was required.

SCOUTS PLAN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Plans have been completed by the Oilbelt council of Boy Scouts of America for the appropriate observance of the anniversary of the origin of Boy Scouts in America. The celebrations are scheduled to last for one week February 7 to 14, throughout the United States. The Oilbelt programs will begin Monday, February 10 and will last throughout the week.

Monday night's program will consist of a parent's and son's (Boy Scouts) banquet to be held at Ring Star. This meeting also will be used as a recruiting time for men who will take Boy Scout leaders' training course which begins the following week. Boy Scouts will put on a stunt program and demonstration at that time.

Tuesday night's ceremonies will take place in Eastland in the form of a Boy Scout "pow wow," which will also be attended by parents of the boys. Approximate anniversary ceremonies also will be conducted.

The scene of activities will shift to Breckenridge for Wednesday night at which time there will be a parent and son's banquet, also a recruiting of men who will take the Boy Scout leader training course.

Thursday night's activities will be held at Ranger in the form of the Boy Scout "pow wow" and in addition, anniversary week ceremonies will be held similar to the program to be conducted in Eastland.

What will be possibly the only outdoor celebration in the Oilbelt district, the weather permitting, will be a camp fire meeting here, on Friday night. In case of inclement weather, the meeting will be held indoors. In addition to the camp fire program, a court of honor will be held, then appropriate anniversary ceremonies.

Friday night's activities will be held at Ranger in the form of the Boy Scout "pow wow" and in addition, anniversary week ceremonies will be held similar to the program to be conducted in Eastland.

What will be possibly the only outdoor celebration in the Oilbelt district, the weather permitting, will be a camp fire meeting here, on Friday night. In case of inclement weather, the meeting will be held indoors. In addition to the camp fire program, a court of honor will be held, then appropriate anniversary ceremonies.

WEST TEXAS — Fair, warmer north and east portions tonight. Thursday fair.

EAST TEXAS — Fair, somewhat warmer tonight. Thursday fair.

Flying weather Texas and Oklahoma — Clear, except cloudy in East Texas. Light to moderate winds at surface. Strong northerly to westerly winds up to 5,000 feet and fresh to strong northerly winds aloft.

CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED FEBRUARY 20

$100,000 Highway Project Will Be Inaugurated

The state highway commission at Austin, today called bids upon the overpass and bridge to be built on the Bankhead highway over the Texas and Pacific railroad at Harrell's crossing, three miles west of Cisco. The structure, will carry the highway over both the Texas and Pacific railroad at this point. Contract will be awarded on February 20, it was announced.

The construction of the overpass includes eliminating curves in the highway existing at this point, involving the expenditure of approximately $100,000.

Span R. R. Diagonally.

The overpass will span the railroad diagonally at a point some distance east of the present crossing where small hills on either side of the track will help to raise the structure over the railroad. The overpass will be 27 feet higher than the tracks. 312 feet in length with approaches 800 feet long. It will be built of concrete and steel. On either side of the overpass proper will be erected three steel spans connecting the concrete structure with the long earthen dumps that must be thrown up to bring the highway up to the level of the overpass.

With the building of this project the curves existing in the highway at the point will be eliminated by the building of a new road leaving the present highway to the right at the foot of Harrell hill, shooting straight across the overpass and joining the old highway at the termination of the curve on the north side of the railroad. The longer curve that exists in the highway from this point west will also be eliminated as well as the grade crossing where tragedy has already stalked once within the past few months.

The cost of the overpass will be borne by the state, the federal government and the Texas and Pacific railroad, the latter contributing $10,000.

Sources of Poison Liquor Are Sought

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Federal, state and city authorities today sought the sources of poison liquor that has taken the lives of three persons within a week.

While officers trailed salp, of liquor to Mr. and Mrs. David A. Jordan, the husband lay critically ill in a sanitarium from effects of the liquor, and the coroner awaited report of a chemist as to the exact cause of the death of Mrs. Jordan, 33, a former oversea war nurse.

WEST TEXAS — Fair, warmer north and east portions tonight. Thursday fair.

EAST TEXAS — Fair, somewhat warmer tonight. Thursday fair.

Flying weather Texas and Oklahoma — Clear, except cloudy in East Texas. Light to moderate winds at surface. Strong northerly to westerly winds up to 5,000 feet and fresh to strong northerly winds aloft.

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

CONTINUED ON PAGE TWO

YATES LEADS PROGRAM AT LIONS CLUB

The program for the Lions club today was in charge of C. E. Yates. The song was led by Acker C. Miller; the Lions roar by P. B. Glenn, and the invocation by W. H. LaRoque.

Three-minute word pictures of fellowmembers, the identities of whom were guessed at by the club, were made by Lions Miller, L. W. Hartsfield and LaRoque.

Lion Dr. C. C. Jones, made a talk on the value of optimism in business that was exceptionally interesting.

The club endorsed the action of the school board in re-employing Coach W. B. Chapman as coach of the Lobos.

Oil and Gas Supervisor Ill

Omar Burkett, deputy oil and gas supervisor for the Cisco district has been unable to be at his office for two days on account of illness. He is at his home.

RADIO

Wednesday's Five Best Radio Features

Wright 1930 by United Press) NBC network—7:30 (CST) 8:00 (MST)

BC network—8:00 (CST) 8:30 (MST)

WEAF NBC network—8:00 (CST) 8:30 (MST)

ABC CBS network—8:30 (CST) 9:00 (MST)

WABC CBS network—9:30 (CST) 10:00 (MST)

Columbia Grand opera.

THE Cisco Daily News

Published By THE CISCO PRINTING & PUBLISHING CO. 304-306 D Avenue, Cisco, Texas.

MEMBER UNITED PRESS MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE

W. H. LA ROQUE Business Manager B. A. BUTLER Editor

Entered at the Postoffice in Cisco, Texas, as second class mail matter.

Publication Days: Afternoons (except Saturday) and Sunday morning.

Subscription Rates: Per month (delivered in Cisco) 75c. If paid in advance: Three months, $2.00; six months, $4.00; twelve months, $7.50.

Obituaries and Cards of Thanks. No per line. Classified, 2c per word.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

Any error made in advertisements will be gladly corrected upon being brought to attention of the publishers and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of the space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

HOOVER AND THE CENTURY CLUB.

Brookhart of Iowa, when he isn't on the trail of Rene B. Creager of Texas, is on the trail of President Herbert Hoover. His latest is that the president is a member of the Century club of New York and that under the roof of the club gin parties are held and rum punches served on festive occasions.

Brookhart is the best rifle shot in America. His colleagues who do not admire him insist that he is the organizer of the National Pooleat club of America.

It is better than a thousand to one shot that President Hoover never attended a gin function or a rum punch celebration under the roof of the Century club.

By the way, what is a National Pooleat club? What does it represent? There an excuse for its having an existence?

VIEWPOINT OF A REAL FARMER.

Lee Simmons, of Grayson county, is a member of the state prison board. He is one of the signers of the majority report. He is one of the most successful farmers under the skies of Texas. He ranks among the most successful business men.

His fellow members sought to draft him for general manager of the Texas prison system. He declined to accept the position. He realized that with conditions as they are his most brilliant efforts would be a failure.

Lee Simmons appeared before the lawmakers. He is a blunt man. He speaks his convictions as a practical man of affairs usually speaks his convictions. He defended the majority report. He defended the recommendations of the governor. He appealed to the lawmakers to get together and do something constructive for their state.

Now Lee Simmons is friendly to the governor, but he is not a "me-too" man anywhere or at any time. He insisted that the parole member of the prison pardon board should have been named long ago.

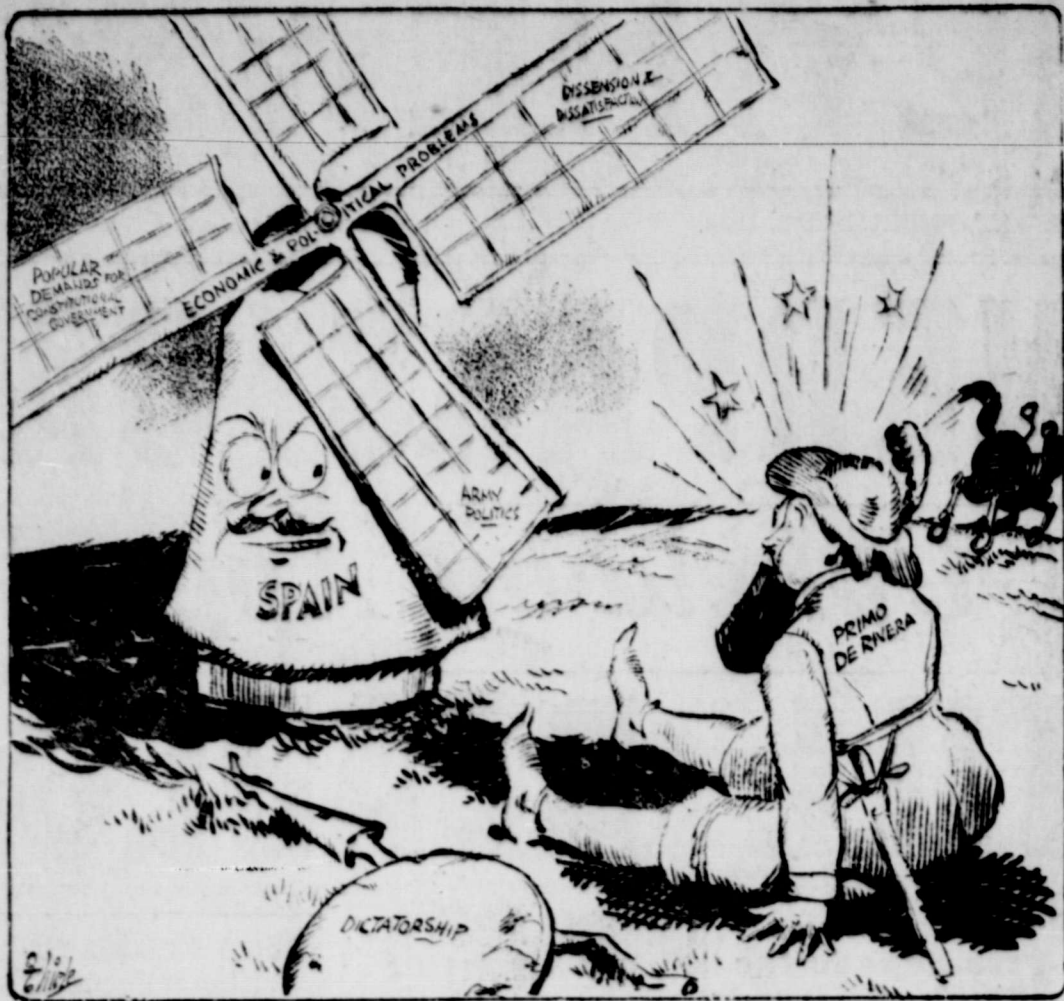

This plain farmer man from Grayson is not a political farmer. There are many political farmers in the Texas picture. They are gentlemen who farm the real farmers, so to speak.

There are lawmakers and laymen behind the scene who ventured the opinion that the address of Simmons clarified the atmosphere under the big dome and perhaps added many recruits to the cause of immediate prison reform and the substitution of a modern system for the antiquated system we have today and conditions so deplorable that not a champion has been found to defend them.

Fords With Same Numbers Meet

A curious meeting of two model A Fords bearing the same engine numbers occurred recently in the McCoy Motor company garage. In Pratt, Kansas, near Wichita, Kansas bore the same motor number, 524, but it was not an error because one of the model A's was built in 1923 and the other was of the present model A vintage—twenty-five years later. After the 1923 model was built, more than 15,000,000 model T's and model A's bearing the Ford name were produced before the other car in that strange meeting was born.

A MODERN DON QUIXOTE FAWS DOWN AND GOES—!!

"Death Valley" Scotty en Route Back to Mines to Recoup Damaged Fortunes

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma.

That thrifty buyers are always guided by the ads, because it is a well known fact that advertised merchandise is always outstanding. You can find goods of quality in the stores that advertise. These stores are extremely popular with the people that appreciate good merchandise.

Buyers are quick to notice the superiority of advertised goods. Advertised goods are tremendously popular because they prove their quality. It always pays to read the ads!

NEW SPECIAL SESSION WILL BE REQUIRED

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Three developments of legislative import came out of Governor Dan Moody's conferences with public officials pressing emergency money and other legislation early this week.

One is that Governor Moody told officials that that another special session will be required immediately after this one ends Feb. 18, to dispose of matters now pending.

Another is that Governor Moody said the $1,770,000 emergency aid asked by the University of Texas and higher educational institutions can be met only by a new tax measure, and that the officials present themselves to support a new production tax on natural gas and sulphur, at one of the two sessions.

A Texas official said he was among those who promised to support and sponsor the sulphur and gas taxes. This tax bill was forecast as a result of Governor Moody's discussions with legislators during their prison survey tour 10 days ago.

A third disclosure was that the urban public utilities commission bill has died without seeing the light of day, and will not be before the legislature any more during Governor Moody's administration.

This indicated the committee of senators and representatives to which it had been committed decided there was no hope of passing it at these sessions. Governor Moody was reported by those in the conference to have told legislators and heads of the higher educational institutions that the only hope of more money for summer school and for contingent salary items lies in passing the gas and sulphur tax.

The rate of the tax was not discussed. The present sulphur tax will be replaced under the proposed bill by a higher levy, and a brand new tax will be proposed for the first time on the billions of cubic feet of natural gas not being taken out of Texas wells every year.

LOOK. The cheapest and best high test gas starts your car easy. E. F. Bender's Station, formerly Wayside Garage, east Sixth street. News want ads bring results.

FUNDS ASKED— CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 5.—Tattered ends of Wall street ticker tape are flaunted over the sun-baked sands of Death Valley these days.

"Death Valley" Scotty, reputed millionaire, is en route back to pick up the loose ends, recoup his fortune and attempt to save his said swept castle thereafter. A week ago Scotty, otherwise known as Walter Scott, potent prospector who found wealth in nuggets of the desert, passed through here announcing he had to see Paris and other European points — one gets lonesome even in a $4,500,000 castle on the desert, he confided.

Today he passed through in an opposite direction, asserting he turned back at Chicago where he learned he had lost all his "ready money" in the stock market.

Scotty said he was going back to Death Valley to do "some dirty work" in a mine to retrieve lost fortunes. He feared he might have to give up his castle he built in Death Valley.

"You know, the taxes on it are $150,000," Scotty confided, "and it costs me about $200,000 a year just to look at it."

Despite his poor straits, Scotty had difficulty in finding a small enough bill with which to tip the porter here. He finally procured the tip after searching through a $10,000 roll he carried with him.

Annual Dairy Course Held in February

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 5.—Numerous leaders in the commercial dairy industry of Texas, as well as specialists of the college, are scheduled to lecture for the fourth annual dairy manufacturing short course to be held at A. & M. college on Feb. 10-14.

The lecture course includes such subjects as handling milk and cream on the farm, milk and cream grading, churning and refrigeration problems, plant sanitation, composition of the ice cream mix, sherbets and ices, cottage cheese and other topics.

Among the speakers will be J. P. Snyder, Waco; R. L. Post, Dallas; D. B. Short, Marshall; K. V. Lipscomb, Dallas; J. W. Ridgeway, Fort Worth; E. E. Waters, Waco; W. H. Martin, Kansas State Agricultural college, Penn. Rettig, Houston; Sam Mills, Dallas; M. C. Oelchman, Houston.

DALLAS, Feb. 5.—Dallas has been selected as disbursing headquarters for federal census work in the southwest. Dr. W. M. Stewart, director of the division, has announced. Texas and New Mexico have been assigned to the district.

Train Schedule RAILROAD TIME TABLE

Table with columns for Train No., Direction, and Departure/Arrival times. Includes Texas and Pacific, East, West, and M-K-T routes.

that does so much damage on the coast can be stored on the upper reaches of the Brazos, this country will blossom like a rose," he said. The Brazos is the largest and one of the most violent streams in Texas. It actually rises in eastern New Mexico, but its headwaters originate for the most part in the plains region and it flows from this region, in a southeasterly direction to the Gulf, a distance of about 800 miles, draining an area of 41,700 square miles, or about 26,700,000 acres.

Conservation Benefits These floods are more disastrous in the lower regions, the upper territory to benefit from the control scheme mainly through the conservation of water that is now being lost. The far reaching effect of the Brazos project cannot be appreciated through superficial study. The importance of water to this section is well known and the benefits to be derived from the conservation of the potential supply will be gauged only by the energy of the people taking advantage of the opportunities for development that exist.

FUNDS ASKED— CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

ties which are in whole or in part so drained. At the very outset when it was found that there was not enough available for the beginning of work on the project and four members of the finance committee of the directors signed a note for $1,000 which to establish an office and a beginning point.

When the survey has been completed and a feasible plan for control of the Brazos floodwaters prepared, the plan for financing the project is the voting of bonds by the district he said. It is estimated that $50,000,000 will be required to complete the project of which $32,000,000 will be used on 13 major projects, or dams located at strategic points to control the bulk of the flood waters, and $18,000,000 on smaller projects.

No Interest It is the plan that these bonds will be taken up by the federal government and carried, without interest, to be paid off at the rate of $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 annually. The enormous savings to the district will be apparent when ordinarily it is computed that $3,000,000 annually is required to pay off $50,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds over the same period. On the other hand the federal government finds justification for carrying the bonds without interest in the fact that the district will receive more money in taxes than it would receive from interest charges.

There are 65 counties in the district as outlined by the State Board of Water Engineers. Some time ago P. Snyder, Waco, Dallas, Texas, divided this district into six zones, and asked each county commissioners court to contribute to district for organization expenses, a prospective benefit that the county would receive from the control work. These sums ranged from $500 in the counties near the Gulf, which are affected most severely, to much less in counties against the New Mexico line in which the river rises.

Eastland Comes Across The Eastland county commissioners court Monday of last week, unanimously voted its appropriation of $250. Stephens county commissioners, although the chamber of commerce of Breckenridge declared that it has spent in the neighborhood of $15,000 on Brazos control work, its donation of $400. Other counties are responding right along.

The Brazos river conservation program is undertaken under the terms and authority of a bill passed by the state legislature last year. Its purpose, under section 3 of the bill is to provide, through the only practical and legal means, for the control and the coordination of the regulation of the waters of the watershed of the Brazos river and its tributary streams as a unit; to protect the rights of the people of the watershed area in the beneficial use of the water; to store, control and conserve flood waters of the stream, preventing overflows and other devastation; to conserve waters essential for the domestic use of the people, including all necessary water supplies for cities and towns, irrigation of lands in the watershed where required; equitable distribution of the waters to the potential requirements for all uses; better drainage; soil conservation; development of commercial and industrial power; development and distribution of hydro-electric power; encouragement of navigation and harbor improvements, and so forth.

Unit Control It will be seen from this that the purpose of the project is the first effort at unit stream control, headwaters to mouth, ever made in the United States, — is not simply to control floodwaters, but to conserve and distribute the waters in such a way that the greatest possible industrial, commercial and agricultural development may be fostered. As pointed out by Mr. Harrell in his interview, the only way to control a stream is to control it from the headwaters down. "If the water shall preside," he said, "assumes the responsibility of entering fully into the constructive phase of the revolution." In appealing for the assistance of Mexico at home and abroad, the president warned the anti-revolutionists that "the Mexican social movement is a consummated fact." "The only way of serving our country in the future," he said, "lies in productive labor, worthy behavior and the elevation of our views." He declared that Mexico's area was sufficient to support six times its present population and attributed the existing poverty to the old concept of private property, class distinctions, inefficient exploitation of resources and political factions. The new revolutionary ideology, the president observed, had rectified the property concept (in reference to the expropriation of private lands for communal tracts) and was diminishing class prejudices. In touching on farm relief measures, he said the government would be more active in future in encouraging modern methods of cultivation through the proposed bureau of agricultural control. "The government inaugurated today believes we should effect the complete co-ordination of social activities," the new executive continued. "The various official organs will be active agents for all who shun egotism and forget personal force. "Rather than follow the passive role of pre-revolutionary regimes, the state will initiate and promote several projects best calculated to national improvements. The government will further promote a new technique for the creation and development of new sources for labor and productivity. "The president promised to investigate the causes of Mexico's high infant mortality. He said the government would promote a program for the fusion of the various races comprising the country's population. The government's construction program, he predicted, will alleviate unemployment. He insisted on the immediate "dignification" of electrical practices.

CLASSIFIED ADS Quick Reference, Inexpensive Ads That Are a "Clearing House" for Your Needs.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES AND REGULATIONS ALL CLASSIFIED advertising is payable in advance, but copy MAY be telephoned to the Cisco Daily News office and paid for as soon as collector calls. RATES: Two cents per word for one time; four cents per word for three times; eight cents per word for six times. CLOSING HOUR: Copy received up to 10:00 a. m. will be published the same day. TELEPHONE 80 and place your copy with understanding that payment will be made at once, collector will call the same day or day following. Copy is received any hour from 8:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.

POLITICAL

The Cisco Daily News is authorized to announce the following candidates for office, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election in July:

- Tax Collector T. L. COOPER County Treasurer JOE DONAWAY MRS. W. L. (SUE) SPENCER For County Superintendent MISS BEULAH SPEER For County Clerk WALTER GRAY For Constable, Precinct No. 6 G. T. PARRACK

OBSERVE OLD CUSTOM.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—On the twelfth night after Christmas, the entire company appearing in the pantomime "The Sleeping Beauty" at the Drury Lane theater assembled for the cutting of the Baddley cake, a custom observed since 1794 when the Drury Lane actor, Richard Baddley, left 100 pounds for the purchase of cake, wine and punch.

Contract let for construction of free bridge across Red river, connecting Denison, Texas and Durant, Oklahoma.

CLOSING OUT

We are closing out our stock of Dresses and Hats. Prices are being made that will insure quick sales. Come in before the choicest ones are gone.

Dresses will go at $1.00 Hats will go at $1.00

Sale will last until all are sold. MRS. H. B. PAULETTE 1101 D Avenue Cisco, Texas.

Advertisement for DRY CLEANING for all your nice things. Expensive or inexpensive, your nice things have a right to their niceness. A regular Dry Cleaning at DeLuxe Cleaners where scientific methods and personal interest guarantee perfection, will keep your clothes in their original state of spotless beauty. It will make them live much longer and much more usefully. -Dyers- -Pressing- -Cleaners- PHONE 60 DeLuxe

FEMALE HELP WANTED WANTED—Efficient middle-aged lady to care for baby. Apply in person, 902 Front street.

ADDRESSING ENVELOPES AT HOME—Share time $15-$25 weekly. Experience unnecessary. Dignified work. Send 2c stamp for particulars. Brown Co., Dept. K-139, Paducah, Ky.

SUNDAY School Teacher or active church worker to visit mothers; position two months, salary $110; state church connection and telephone. Box "C," c-o of Daily News.

MAN WANTED—The Fuller Brush company has created an opening for a reliable man with car; for interview see Mr. Holly 204, Daniels Hotel, 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red eggs for setting, 610 West Tenth street.

FOR SALE—New Quilts, 1708 D Avenue.

RENTALS

APARTMENTS FOR RENT—FOR RENT—Some nice furnished apartments. See John Guide at 505 west second street or phone 291.

FOR RENT—Nicely furnished two room apartment, 1508 D Avenue.

FOR RENT—Exceptionally nice furnished apartment at 612 West Fourth street, priced low. Phone 119.

The gasoline tank capacity on all the new Buick models has been increased. On the series 40 models the capacity is increased from 16 to 19 gallons and on the 50 and 60 series from 19 to 22 gallons.

Zonite For Cuts and Wounds Prevent infection! Treat every cut, wound or scratch with this powerful non-poisonous antiseptic. Zonite actually kills germs. Helps to heal, too.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT—Upstairs bedroom, with hot and cold water. 510 west fifth street. Phone 716V.

HOUSES FOR RENT FOR RENT—Nice 6-room home, well furnished, 610 West 4th street, 240 to right party. See C. M. Nichols, 394 Avenue J.

FOR RENT—Modern residence, close in. Phone 305.

SMALL COTTAGE FOR RENT—Well equipped for poultry; one and one-half mile southeast of Cisco. See E. S. Townsend.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR RENT PASTURAGE FOR RENT—Will take a limited number of cows for pasture; plenty of grass and water. Apply L. F. Threlk, 1000 N Avenue, or phone 196J—dhf.

HOUSES FOR SALE FOR SALE OR RENT—New five room brick residence, double garage. Phone 610.

NEW CHARTERS

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Climas Sprayer & Duster corp., Wichita Falls; capital stock 100,000 non-par shares. J. W. Duncan, D. G. Gray, F. E. McConnell. National Realty company, Abilene; capital stock $3,000. Incorporators, W. S. Bagley, W. H. Free, J. W. Turner. City National company, Wichita Falls; capital stock $50,000. Incorporators, A. H. Britain, C. E. Basham, Orville Blanton.

A stock inventory, taken at the close of business last year, showed that the Buick Motor company parts department carried on hand, ready for immediate shipment, some 20,000 separate and distinct items.

Business Directory

Lawyers BLANTON BLANTON & BLANTON LAWYERS Suite 710 Alton Building Abilene. Albany Office: Albany National Bank Building. Practice in All Courts. Thom. L. Blanton, Matthew Blanton, Thomas L. Blanton, Jr.

Plumbing

JACK WINSTON Guarantee Plumbing and Gas Fitting at a reasonable price. Let us figure your work. We job for small and we have the capacity for the largest. Phone 112. 711 West Ninth St.

J. G. REAGAN Civil Engineer and Surveyor Waterworks, Sewer Highways, Street Paving, Etc. City Hall—P. O. Box 12. CISCO, TEXAS

Real Estate CONNIE DAVIS Real Estate RENTS, LOANS AND INSURANCE 700 1-2 D., Gray Building

Insurance J. M. WILLIAMSON & CO. General Insurance. Tel. 111 City Hall Bldg.

Announcements

The Rotary club meets every Thursday at Laguna Hotel Private Dining Room at 12:15. Visiting Rotarians always welcome. President, BRUCE C. BONEY; secretary, DUDLEY LEE.

Lions club meets every Wednesday at Laguna Hotel roof garden at 12:15. CLAYTON L. CRN, President; C. E. YATES, Secretary.

Cisco Chapter No. 199, F. A. M., meets on first Thursday evening of each month at 7 p. m. Visiting Companions are cordially invited. I. N. NICHOLSON, H. P.; JOHN F. PATTERSON, Secretary.

Cisco Lodge No. 556, A. F. & A. M., meets fourth Thursday, 8 p. m. J. M. WITTEN, W. M.; JOHN F. PATTERSON, Secretary.

Cisco Commandery, K. T., meets every third Thursday of each month at Masonic Hall. NICHOLSON, E. C.; JOHN F. PATTERSON, Recorder.

Cisco Chapter No. 461, Order of Eastern Star, meets first and third Tuesday nights of each month. Visiting members cordially invited. MAYE WESTERFELDT, M. E.; BEULAH WITTEN, Secretary.

Cisco I. O. O. F. meets first and third Monday at 8 p. m. Judia Bldg. Visiting Elks cordially invited. HUGH WHITE, Exalted Master; CHARLES FLEMING, Secretary.

DECREASE IS SHOWN IN U. S. DAILY AVERAGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Estimate of the daily average gross crude oil production in this country for the week ended February 1, is placed at 2,395,000 barrels, against 2,615,000 barrels daily in the preceding week according to the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,884,000 barrels, a decrease of 29,000 barrels.

The estimated gross production for the Mid-Continent field for the week was 1,472,050 barrels daily, compared with 1,511,150 for the preceding week.

The following are estimates of daily gross production of the different districts, with comparisons for the preceding week.

	Feb. 1.	Jan. 25.
Oklahoma	612,000	655,550
Kansas	11,400	110,400
Panhandle, Texas	87,300	88,150
North Texas	81,050	80,850
West Cent. Texas	55,950	56,250
West Texas	342,800	337,850
East Cent. Texas	21,250	21,150
Southwest Texas	67,050	67,450
North Louisiana	36,500	37,150
Arkansas	37,250	36,850
Coastal Texas	174,000	169,150
Coastal Louisiana	21,050	21,250
Eastern not including
Michigan	123,900	124,600
Michigan	14,750	15,100
Wyoming	54,950	47,000
Montana	19,350	9,900
Colorado	4,900	4,600
New Mexico	10,400	10,650
California	710,600	702,200

GOLDSTONE IS AWARDED NEW THEFT TRIAL

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 — A jury's discussion of the defendant's failure to testify and fixing of a six year verdict by lot won a new trial today for Archie Goldstone alias Archie Goldstein, convicted in Tarrant county on a $25,000 jewel theft charge.

Goldstone was convicted of stealing a sample truck belonging to Joe Optican on February 18, 1928.

The new trial was ordered by the court of criminal appeals. A motion by the state for rehearing of the appeal of Mauro Guajardo from Williamson county was refused. Guajardo was given a death verdict as the slayer of Arthur Bonnell, farmer for whom he worked. A new trial was ordered recently.

Proceedings of the court today were:

Affirmed: Robert Tucker, Harrison; Leonard Thiedford, McLennan; A. S. Lewallen, Taylor; Tom Hogge, El Paso; Eli Wingfield, Harrison; Ex Parte Pompey Garland, Hunt; Alton Cooper, Newton; R. C. Harper, Jefferson.

Reversed and remanded: Morris Antner, alias Jew Morriw, Tarrant; Burkett Autrey, Palo Pinto; Archie Goldstone, alias Archie Goldstein, Tarrant; Jack Cavthon, Bell; James Cooper, Newton.

Porter Eubank, Cameron. Appellant's motion for rehearing overruled:

W. H. Stroud, Wilbarger; Tom Cooke, McLennan; Norman Wilkerson, Runnels.

Application for leave to file second motion for rehearing overruled: Eugene Walker, Callahan.

State's motion for rehearing overruled: Mauro Guajardo, Williamson.

To Address 4-H Club Demonstrators

EASTLAND, Feb. 5 — Mrs. Dora R. Barnes from the Extension department of Texas A. & M. college, College Station, will address county 4H Wardrobe demonstrators at the offices of the county agents at the courthouse tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Barnes will explain plans and methods of keeping records for the contests for the year. She also was to appear on a Civic League program here this afternoon.

Perryton — Work to start in very near future on improvement of telephone service.

ANNOUNCING

A BRAND-NEW ANTI-KNOCK GAS-400° END POINT NO EXTRA COST

THAT GOOD

GULF

GASOLINE

MADE BETTER

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE is now Anti-Knock quality — 400° F. end point — at no extra cost. This Anti-Knock quality stops the knocks in the new high compression motors and greatly improves motor efficiency. The 400° F. End Point gives instant and complete vaporization to the last drop — many motorists may not know what 400° F. End Point means but every motorist can tell the difference in his car between the new Good Gulf Gasoline and the ordinary gasoline with 437° F. End Point.

Ordinary motor gasoline may be loaded with Anti-Knock Chemicals, but the heavy non-burning ends remains to retard engine performance...

This combination of high anti-knock properties and volatility (the 400° F. End Point) makes the new Good Gulf Gasoline the equal of many premium gasolines and far superior to all non-premium fuels. There is but one better gas — GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL AVIATION GRADE (374° F. End Point.)

Remember there is no extra cost for this new Good Gulf Gasoline.

TRY IT TODAY

GULF REFINING COMPANY

You Save. in buying

KC
Baking Powder

Same Price
for over
38 years

25 ounces for 25¢

You save in using it. Use less than of high priced brands.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT.

County Basket Ball Semi-Finals to Be Played Tonight

TWO GAMES ON CARD AT HIGH GYM

Finals to Take Place Thursday and Friday

Semi-finals of the county basket ball race will be played this evening at the Cisco high school gym with the Seranton Class B champions and the Nimrod Class B titlists playing at 7 o'clock and the Cisco Indians, Class A-1 champions, and the Rising Star Wildcats, Class A-2 titleholders, playing at 8 o'clock.

The teams which emerge winners from tonight's melee will then engage in a "best two out of three" series to determine the county titlists. The first of this series will be played Thursday evening and the second Friday evening. In case a third is necessary it will be played Saturday evening.

The tournament this week will be a prelude to the inter-county and district games through which a representative team will progress to the state tournament at A and M college. Last year the Lobes won third place in the state, Athens, national champions, and Denton, ranking above the Cisco team. This record was made in spite of predictions that the Lobes would never get out of their own district. In that year, also, the Lobes placed one player, George Van Horn, on the all-state team as captain of that team.

The team this year has a good start on the road to repeat or better the record that the 1929 edition of the Lobo team made.

Small admission charges will be made during the tournament to defray expenses incurred.

National Leagues to Close Season Early

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 — National league baseball teams will close their 1930 season on Sunday Sept. 28, one week earlier than in 1929, according to the official league schedule, released today.

Games are scheduled for Oct. 1 with Philadelphia at Brooklyn, Boston at New York, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati and Chicago at St. Louis.

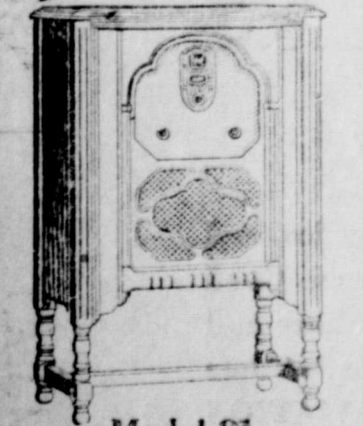

Center — Building program to be sponsored by local Rotary club.

Quiet! The NEW and Startling Majestic

RADIO Has no A-C Hum!

It Offers You Exclusively POWER DETECTION

With the New 45 Tubes

Model 91 $137.50 Complete

Power detection and the new 45 tubes and four tuned stages of radio frequency enable Majestic to produce the most powerful and sensitive radio set ever built. Absolutely no hum and no oscillation at any wave length. Automatic sensitivity control gives maximum sensitivity and amplification in both high and low wave lengths. Improved Majestic Super-Dynamic Speaker. Extra heavy, sturdy, durable power-pack, with positive voltage regulation. Insures long life and safety. Early 20th century design cabinet of American Walnut. Instrument panel overlaid with genuine imported Australian Lacquer. Exceptional plastic and knobs finished in genuine silver.

Get a FREE Home Demonstration Ford-Green Music Company

OUT OUR WAY

DISSENSION IN BROOKLYN CLUB AT END TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 — Dissension among the owners of the Brooklyn baseball club, which has played the Robbins for several seasons, was at an end today.

An armistice was signed yesterday at the mid-winter meeting of the national league, with the following provisions:

Wilbert Robinson will remain as manager under a new two-year contract, but will relinquish the presidency and resign from the board of directors.

Frank B. York will assume the presidency under a two-year contract.

Joseph A. Gillean, secretary, will appoint a director to replace Robinson.

President John Heydler of the national league will appoint a fifth director and call a directors meeting at an early date.

Under the terms of the settlement, the new board of directors will be composed of five members, instead of four. The three old members will be Judge Steve McKeever, York and Bileaudan.

The Brooklyn internal war was prolonged because each meeting of the board resulted in two against two, with Judge McKeever and York opposed to Robinson and Gillean.

Freeze Cuts Citrus Yield

EDINBURG, Feb. 5 — Damage done to citrus trees and fruit in the lower Rio Grande valley by the last freeze cannot be determined with any degree of accuracy until at least three months have passed, according to John W. Kirkpatrick, county farm agent.

Two periods of extremely low temperatures preceding the last freeze drove the sap down in the trees and thereby prevented them from being damaged as greatly as they would have been had the last freeze struck this section without any previous cold weather, he declared.

Young two-year-old trees and large acreage of seedlings have been hurt immeasurably by the cold wave. Bark has been split from the younger trees and is now hanging from the boles. Some orchards suffered worse than others. Fruit in a few orchards was not damaged at all.

While growers from various parts of the county declared that all fruit remaining on their trees had been frozen to varying extents.

Approximately 25 farmers each day come to the office of the farm agent asking for advice as how they should care for their trees. Kirkpatrick says that the only aid that they may be given trees is to bind the splintered bark with cloth and then let nature take its course.

SECONO BOUND K. O. — HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 5 — "Fearless" Bravo, Mexico City, scored a second round knockout over Jimmy Moran, New Orleans, in a Bantham bout here last night. Tommy Davenport, Little Rock, knocked out Roy Catcher, Pinebluff, in the fourth round of a heavyweight event.

SPORT SHOTS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 — It's not the Brazos river water or climatic conditions that has held the Baylor university basketball team of Waco to low standing in the southwest conference flag chase. That was demonstrated when they emulated recent examples on their home court by losing to the T. C. U. Cascers here last night by 33 to 22.

Although the game was hard fought at times and the outcome uncertain, the Frogs nosed ahead in the latter stages to clinch the affair.

WACO — The Waco high school Tigers took a listless basketball game from the Temple squad here last night by 23 to 16.

ITALY — Arthur Shires, dubbed by some scribe the baseball all-talker, has been foiled by the elements. A banquet in his honor planned by the local chamber of commerce, scheduled for tonight, was indefinitely postponed because heavy rains have largely tied up traffic in the gummy black land.

DALLAS — Gus Sonnenberg, world champion heavyweight wrestler, is scheduled to arrive here Saturday for the tilt with Freddy Myers of Chicago on Monday. Advance ticket sales indicate widespread interest in the bout.

DALLAS — Oak Cliff high school retained second place in the city basketball race by defeating North Dallas 19 to 12 yesterday.

SAN MARCOS, Feb. 5 — Out in the hill country north of San Marcos a judge gives retort courteous to legends of Texas law by six-shooter and iron hand. He is the law, traditional, inevitable, and has been in his little judicial district for 20 years.

Judge Eli Hill — 38 years old, former Texas ranger, soldier of civil war days, patroller when the south was in the grip of reconstruction — is the pincup of his domain.

He is the law, but he hasn't collected a fine in 20 years. Nor has he opened court to try a case in the same period of time.

Judge Hill is author of the expression, "Court stands adjourned for two more years." Old nestors

No More Court for Two Years

Sanitary Food Store Specials in Each Thursday's Paper Watch for Them

ACREAGE

Beautiful home-sites, just out of the City limits, and within reach of water, gas and electricity.

Why not own two or three, or even ten, acres at the cost of one lot in the congested section. Seeing is believing. Let us show you.

E. P. CRAWFORD REAL ESTATE—LOANS—INSURANCE Phone 453. 610 D avenue.

JOE ROEBUCK IS CHOSEN TO MEET CARNERA

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5 — Joe "Tiny" Roebuck, Kansas City, former Haskell Indian football star, has been selected as the opponent to meet Primo Carnera here in the giant Italian's fourth American fight February 11, according to word received from promoter Mique Malloy who is in Hot Springs, Ark.

No midget himself, Roebuck extends 6 feet four inches and weighs 220 pounds. A murderous right-hand wallop has put away such scrappers as Ray Peterson and Walker Rich, the latter a promising Kansas City heavyweight until "Tiny" put one on his chin.

say that this has been his favorite retort these 20 years.

"We're civilized here," Judge Hill commented. "We like to see the boys settle their troubles out of court and save their money. Some state officer wrote me asking what I was doing with the fins I collected."

The venerable jurist studied the ground in front of him. "Why, we don't take the boys' money that way. We like to see them keep it. They need it."

HANDBALL CHAMPION

DALLAS, Feb. 5 — The Junior National handball championship was held today by Charles Hahn, entrant from the pastime club of New York City. Hahn won the title yesterday by defeating a club-mate, John Dunwoody, in the finals. The scores were 14-21, 21-9, and 21-10. The doubles championship will be decided today.

MORE BODIES FOUND

ARKAS, Feb. 5 — Twelve years after the war, the battlefields are still giving up their secrets. On Hill 119, near Souchez, the scene of much fighting constantly during four years, excavators today upturned the bodies of eight British, four German and five French soldiers.

FIRST SHOWING OF "NANETTE" SATURDAY P. M.

"No, No, Nanette" will be shown in Cisco at the Palace theatre Saturday evening for the first time in Texas. In other words the show will have its Texas premier at Cisco, a fact of which Ciscoans should take pride and be proud in that they have here a theatre capable of looking such picture under such conditions.

Manager K. N. Greer announces the first showing at 10:45 Saturday night.

Coballos, formerly with Charlie's Revues in London and the Greenwich Village Follies in New York, created and staged all the dance numbers with his chorus of 125 girls and 25 men. Like all the Coballos stage effects, these dances have the qualities of speed and vivacity. Coballos is considered the supreme authority on modern stage dancing.

Michio Ito, internationally famous dancer and one of the outstanding actors of Japan, assisted Coballos in staging ensembles for the Japanese ballet, which is one of the huge scenes in "No, No, Nanette." The chorus dances the age-old steps of Ito's native country, which have been handed down through generations.

This scene and a number of other highlights in the picture are made in Technicolor.

Bonnie Claire and Alexander Gray have the leading roles in "No, No, Nanette," which is the screen version of the famous New York stage success. Miss Claire is making her first film appearance in this picture, while Gray is playing his second film role, his first having been opposite Marilyn Miller in "Sally." Miss Claire and Gray sang and danced together on the stage when they were prima donna and leading man in "The Desert Song."

"I Want To Be Happy" and "Tea For Two," the big song hits of the stage production, are sung by Gray, Miss Claire and the big beauty chorus. Other song numbers are "King of the Air," "The Dance of the Wooden Shoes" and "Japanese Ballet." The latter three songs are becoming widely popular as were the two original hits.

The comedy is upheld merely by the clever Louise Fazenda and Lucien Littlefield, Lilyan Tashman and Bert Roach are also prominent in the fun-making. Other well known players are Zasu Pitts, Mildred Harris, Henry Stockbridge and Jocelyn Lee. The acting throughout is excellent.

The bulk line for 1930 is composed of fifteen models, distributed through three wheelbase lengths—113, 124 and 132 inches. The two larger series are powered with a 99 horsepower motor, and the 113 inch wheelbase models with an 87.5 horsepower motor.

WIDE COMMENT ON THIS NEW PIECE

Exhibition of "Inspiration" at the National Academy of Design in New York and later in the reference room of California's state library in Sacramento occasioned much comment. "Is she naughty or is she nice?" was one question frequently heard.

"Flatteringly daring" and "nobly done" were other comments, but most critics were agreed that statuary in metal rarely lends itself to indecency, and that this is true of this piece was attested by a large demand for small bronze replicas. Edward Field Sanford, Jr., one of America's foremost architectural sculptors, is shown beside the original.

Plans Being Made for Dairy Show

TYLER, Feb. 5 — Extensive plans are being made for the second annual East Texas Dairy show, to be held here March 3-6 inclusive, under the auspices of the East Texas Chamber of commerce.

Stress is being placed on the county herd department of the show. Total awards in this division have been increased to $200. Awards in all divisions amount to more than $3,000, of which more than $1,600 is on the Jersey breed. The remainder of the premium list will be devoted to Holstein, Guernseys and Ayrshires.

Five counties have already signified intention of sending county herds. They are Harrison, Gregg, Titus, Lamar and Grayson. Gus F. Taylor is president of the exposition.

GREENKEEPERS MEET

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 5 — The annual four day convention of the National association of Greenkeepers of America—an organization of men who keep golf courses bright and green—opened here today. An address by President John Morley of Youngstown, Ohio, was the feature event.

WILCOX SCORES STATEMENT BY SENATOR LOVE

GEORGETOWN, Feb. 5 — Senator Thomas B. Love's statement concerning his disbarment from the primary ticket by the state democratic executive committee had met a sharp challenge today at the hands of D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the committee.

Wilcox flatly denied the committee had invited negroes to participate in this year's primaries. He admitted the invitation to those who voted for the Republicans electors in 1928 to vote the Democratic ticket this year might be construed in that way, but the exclusion ever intended that negroes should be included and he declared they never would be.

The chairman also denied the resolution disbarring "Hoovercraft" included candidates for all offices. Only candidates for state offices were disqualified, he said.

Whether or not the committee had the legal right to disbar Senator Love is a question to be decided in the courts and not in the newspapers, Wilcox said.

FISHERMEN MAROONED

QUIMPER, France Feb. 5 — Marooned on a tiny rock in the Velle, where they tend the lighthouse, two fishermen have received their first food supplies in four weeks. For a week they flew the black flag, indicating they were starving, before a pinnace smashed through mountainous seas with foodstuffs.

ONCE UPON A TIME

Mrs. Robert Dollar, wife of the multimillionaire master mariner, lived in a $245,000 week house, did her own housework and spent her $50 dowry on fur trim, when she became Captain Dollar's bride.

THROAT-EASE put them over the top...OVERNIGHT

BE CAREFUL OF YOUR THROAT

There's only one problem in selling OLD GOLDS . . . how to get you to smoke the first few packages. After that, everything is easy. For OLD GOLD is so obviously smoother . . . so much better . . . so superior in its clean, ripe tobacco . . . that it wins you over without a struggle. This isn't boasting. This is just the selling history of OLD GOLD. BETTER TOBACCOS . . . that's what swept it to national favor in three years.

BETTER TOBACCOS . . . make the difference " . . . not a cough in a carload "

On your Radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR, Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra . . . every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time

Rash Romance

© 1930 NEA Service Inc. BY LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Judith Cameron, typist in a New York publishing house, marries Arthur Knight, her employer. Knight is a widower with a daughter, Tony, and a son, Junior.

The girl ignores her stepmother. Later she tells Judith she must leave the house. Knight overhears and compels Tony to apologize.

The girl spends much of her time with Mickey Mortimer, a blasé amuseur, whom she met in Paris. He is separated from his wife and deep in a flirtation with Tony. As days pass a state of armed neutrality exists between Tony and Judith.

Andy Craig, a young man Knight has helped through college, calls on Tony. He has been in love with her—rather hopelessly—for a long time. Craig comes to the house frequently and Tony, in a mood of spite, tries to convince her father the young man is carrying on an affair with Judith. When Knight denies this angrily Tony tricks Judith and Andy Craig into a luncheon engagement and brings her father upon the scene.

Tony and Mortimer are arrested for reckless driving. Knight brings his daughter home. For days the girl is sulky and rebellious. Affairs reach such a pitch that Judith appeals to Andy Craig. Knight sees the pair together but later Judith denies that she spent the afternoon in town.

Knight tries to overcome his suspicions. Craig calls to see Tony. Her father goes to tell the girl of his arrival and she refuses to see Craig, but father and daughter are reconciled. Knight promises Tony a trip to Miami with Judith, unaware that Mickey Mortimer has gone to the Florida resort.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

From the very start Judith opposed making the trip south. "But I don't want to go, Arthur," she objected. "I'd much rather stay here."

Knight explained patiently. "It's going to do you good," he told her. "And then think of Tony! She needs to get away and you know I can't send her alone. I wish you could have heard the child talk tonight, Judith. Everything's changed. Why, she admitted she's been foolish, said she was ashamed of the way she's been acting, want to make a new start."

"I'm glad," Judith answered. "But I'd so much rather stay here with you!" Her husband shook his head. "You aren't going to feel that way any longer, dear. Why, I believe these four weeks will bring you and Tony together in a way nothing else could! I tell you the girl's repentant. She sees her mistakes. Judith, this is the very time for you to use your influence to cure her of her nonsense."

Knight's speech ended abruptly. Judith felt he had protested too much. Judith was silent. Suddenly she looked up. "Well, if the trip must be made why can't you come, too? Please do, Arthur!"

He said that was completely out of the question. "I can't leave town," he assured her. "There's this trouble getting the western branch reorganized. Henderson's in South America. Hunter expects me to have the fall schedules ready next month. You know I couldn't away just now, Judith. If it could be managed I'd be glad to go."

"Then it's all settled," Judith said quietly after a pause. "You want me to go?" "I wish you wouldn't put it just that way!" Judith Knight smiled up at her husband from beneath lowered lashes. The smile held reservation but it was affectionate. "I'll do it if you want me to," she agreed. "I'd—oh, I'd stay away three times as long if I knew it would persuade Tony to be friendly."

"And that's just what you're going to find will happen. What will you bet that at the end of one month sunning yourself on the sand and sitting under palm trees while New York's 10 degrees below zero you won't be telling me you've postponed your return another two weeks? What'll you bet?"

"I'll bet a quarter that I won't!" "Put up your money."

The conversation ended jokingly. It was just another of those things, Judith Knight told herself, which must be seen through to the end. There was no way, apparently, to avoid this unwelcome pilgrimage with Arthur's daughter.

She could not deny to herself the following morning that Tony's behavior was exemplary. Still Judith was wary. There had been other times when the girl's manner seemed dove-like and have followed close in the wake.

At 10 o'clock Tony had breakfasted and was downstairs, dressed for the day. She looked pale and considerably subdued.

"Father says we're going to Florida," she said to Judith. "Yes, Palm Beach. Do you like it there?"

"Oh, I guess so. Anything's better than New York. I like swimming."

"Good," said Judith. "So do I." "I haven't a rag that's wearable. Can't go until I get together some clothes."

This was a phase of the expedition which had escaped Judith completely. She had the wardrobe collected so hastily for the trip to Bermuda. Few of those things, she was to learn, would do for Palm Beach.

Tony's purchases enlightened Judith. Sweetly, the younger girl asked her stepmother to accompany her upon shopping trips. The date of departure had been finally set as March 3. This gave six days to rush through preliminaries.

With admirable generalship Tony Knight began buying finery. She led the way to shops of which Judith had never heard. They were small, out-of-way places in the realm of upper Madison avenue.

French—or English with such a French accent that Judith could scarcely understand it—was the language spoken. In such saloons Tony Knight was draped and fitted in soft white woolen and cotton suits, trailing frocks for evening which made her really beautiful.

Judith bought several costumes. It was impossible to travel as Tony's companion and not look the part. The price of these trifles appalled her. Furthermore, it all seemed so silly. Why should she spend time and money trying to look like a fashionplate merely to impress men and women unknown to her and in whom she had not the slightest interest? In this Judith Knight's viewpoint was thoroughly feminine. Had Arthur been making the trip, if he were to be there to see her, lovely gowns would suddenly become paramount.

The day that Tony quite casually ordered three dozen pair of silk hose Judith felt she must renounce. She said nothing to the girl but confided in Knight.

"Don't you think, Arthur," she said cautiously, "that you really should say something to Tony about her extravagance? Just tactfully I mean?"

Knight shook his head, smiling indulgently. "You let me worry about the financial part of this trip," he told Judith. "Just having Tony as quiet and well-behaved as she's been the past few days is almost worth the price of the thing. The kid's had her lesson. Now I want to show her it pays to behave. What's the price of a few dresses and silk stockings and one thing and another compared with peace in the family?"

There was certainly no answer for Judith to make to that statement.

Quietly the days slipped by. Four days before their departure, Judith went in town alone on an errand. Tony had pleaded a headache and remained behind.

It was nearly four o'clock in the afternoon. There was no sun and a chill March wind was blowing. Judith held her fur wrap closely about her as she hurried up the avenue.

"Why—if it isn't Judith!" The girl turned. For an instant she was incredulous. Then swiftly she recognized the woman who had spoken. She was barely three feet away, smiling and waiting.

"Mrs. West—I didn't recognize you! Why, how do you do, Mrs. West?"

"And I almost passed you. What a coincidence! My dear Judith, how well you're looking. What have you been doing all this time? So often we've thought of you."

"Oh, I've been rather busy. Doing some of the rooms of our home over. Just now I've been shopping. We're going to Florida—"

"How very nice. My dear, do let's go somewhere and have tea. I'm pining for it. And I must hear the news about you and Arthur!"

That "Arthur" very nearly decided the issue. Judith had never presumed to call Mrs. Franklin West's husband by his given name. She had never, when it was avoidable, called him anything. Hearing Mrs. West refer so intimately to Arthur Knight aroused resentment.

Still, Mrs. West looked the picture of eager friendliness, and Judith did not have many friends.

"Why, yes," she agreed. "Let's have tea."

They found a place on the second floor above a popular eating place. It was a room paneled in dark wood and hung with blue draperies. Neat waitresses in black and white glided silently between the tables. Here and there about the large room groups of fashionably dressed women lingered over tea and wafers of curling cigarette smoke floated ceiling-ward.

Judith and Mrs. West took a table at the side of the room. The older woman had been chatting volubly during the lift in the elevator. She looked very attractive. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

"But the night after that?" It was almost too much but Judith answered gamely: "Yes, the night after that—unless I find that Arthur has made other plans."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"But the night after that?" It was almost too much but Judith answered gamely: "Yes, the night after that—unless I find that Arthur has made other plans."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"But the night after that?" It was almost too much but Judith answered gamely: "Yes, the night after that—unless I find that Arthur has made other plans."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful!" he declared heatedly. "Go to her dinner party? I certainly will not. You'll have her coming here the very next thing. She's the kind you don't dare encourage. Tell her it's impossible."

"Then I'll count on you. And tell Arthur I'm especially looking forward to seeing him again."

Fully aware of how her husband regarded Mrs. Franklin Monroe West, Judith felt that mention of this would hardly be tactful. She did assure Mrs. West, however, before departing, that she would let her know definitely in the morning about the dinner engagement.

Driving home later Judith Knight was irritated by the thought that she had let herself in for a tiresome evening. But, grudgingly, how could she escape? And, after all, Mrs. West meant to be kind. It had been a long while since Judith had been greeted so enthusiastically by a woman friend.

"She has her faults," Judith mused, "but so do other people. If I only met her earlier I wouldn't have been nearly so lonely. No, I really believe I'm glad I said we'd come to dinner."

Husbands who are kind and indulgent are not always manageable. Judith was to discover this fact that very evening. When she told Arthur Knight about the proposed visit to the Franklin Monroe West home he refused flatly to go.

"That woman is awful

About Cisco Today

LOUISE TRAMMELL, Society Editor Phone 535 or 89

The First Industrial Arts club will meet Thursday at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. J. Youngblood, 1212 West Ninth street.

The Pivot club will meet with Mrs. D. C. Sivalis 908 West 14th street, Thursday at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. T. J. Dean will entertain the Thursday "42" club Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Merry Wives "42" club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. B. Kelly.

The Cisco Mother's club will have a bridge tournament Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. W. W. Wallace, cottage 14, Hambletown.

Circle 1 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary will have a bake sale Saturday morning at the M system.

John Culley of Dallas was a business visitor in Cisco yesterday.

Mrs. Turner Perry of Belton, J. H. Perry of Brownwood, Mrs. Aubrey Henry of Brownwood, R. B.

Be sure you get the genuine EAU DE QUININE made by Pinaud—the world's most famous hair tonic. Checks dandruff—keeps hair thick and strong. At your favorite store—see this advertisement and mail to Pinaud, Dept. M, 220 East 21st Street, New York, for free sample.

returned to their home in Dallas after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kickman.

Mrs. C. E. Hickman and Mrs. H. K. Taylor of Fort Worth spent Monday with friends in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parish have returned to their home in Abilene after a visit in Cisco.

E. W. Patterson is attending the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin this week.

Mrs. O. C. Peavy attended a bridge party in Ranger yesterday given by Mrs. Al M. Heck at Acorn Acres.

E. J. Krough is transacting business in Fort Worth this week.

M. L. McGannon was a visitor in Fort Worth yesterday.

Miss Bertie Stallings is a visitor in Fort Worth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrell and son, Wesley, have returned from a trip to Austin.

J. M. Hickey is transacting business in Olney and Wichita Falls today.

L. A. Warren is spending today in Abilene on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hickey have returned from a visit with Mrs. Hickey's mother, Mrs. Hall, in Dallas.

Refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dyer, Fred Yonkers, Miss Verdine Bell, Miss Billie Marks, all of Ranger; S. R. Nebitt of Waco, W. D. Keys of Dallas, Miss Leona Thompson, Mrs. Alice Cunningham, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Simpson.

Delphians Study French Fiction

"French Fiction Before the Nineteenth Century" was the subject for study at the meeting Monday of the Delphian club.

Mrs. S. E. Hilson presided, with Mrs. J. V. Heyser leader of the program, which was as follows: "Gil Blas," Mrs. O. T. Maxwell; Manon Lescaut, Mrs. Baby Miller; Jeannot Colin, Mrs. A. J. Olson; "Zadig's N'se," Mrs. J. V. Heyser; Rousseau Madame Dastie's, Mrs. H. I. Stock; "The Periwinkle," Mrs. Eugene Lanford; "Story of the Blue Jar," Mrs. J. V. Heyser.

Nine members were in attendance.

BRADY JURY—

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

comparatively new Texas murder statute.

But Burke was adamant.

Earlier in the morning, as a crowd of curious began to gather beneath the windows and watch the punch and jury show above, C. C. Miles, 22 hardware clerk and eleventh juror seated, peered down from his chair to read the glaring headlines of an Austin paper with the announcement: "Jury is deadlocked."

Miles leaned back in his chair and smiled broadly.

"HOPELESSLY DEADLOCKED" JURY SAYS

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—The jury trying Judge John W. Brady for murder sent word to Sheriff Coley White at 10:15 a. m. that they were "hopelessly deadlocked."

At that time the jury had been out a little more than 17 hours.

No other word came from the jury room and Sheriff White was waiting for Judge J. D. Moore to finish calling his civil docket before he reported the jury's message.

Meanwhile, up in the third floor jury room, where there had been strife last night there was comparative peace and quiet today.

No crowd stood across the street today, as was the case last night, to watch the jurors in action.

At 11 through this three-window playhouse opened with jurors R. V. Burke, 27, a sign painter, lying on his bed reading the court's charge then he slumped it down on a pillow and was at ease.

The remaining scenes were all the same—three windows—two jurors at each—gazing down on wide Congress avenue.

Fidelis Class Holds Monthly Meeting

Members of the Fidelis class of the First Baptist church met Monday night at the home of their teacher, Mrs. C. H. Van Eman.

After the business meeting during which plans were laid for future meetings, refreshments were served to ten girls: Misses Cora Lee McCall, Louise Karakits, Leta Deel Surles, Quozee McClung, Wilma Mason, Pearl Bryant, Letha Eager, Nan Hale, Daisy Caldwell and Mona Skidmore.

Mrs. O'Brian Hostess to Contract Club

Mrs. B. S. Huey won high score at the meeting of the 1929 Contract club which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. F. O'Brian, 701 West Seventh street.

Other players were—Mesdames Alex Spears, Norman Smith, W. B. Chapman, J. H. Moyer, J. A. Bearman, Jack Cabaness, and R. L. Ponsler.

Ranger Guest Honored Monday

Mrs. W. H. Dyer of Ranger was honored Monday evening with a surprise birthday party given by Mrs. Eddie McNeal at the home of Mrs. A. E. Simpson.

Tall vases and baskets of gladioli were artistically used in decorating

Two Workmen Are Killed at Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5.—Two workmen were killed instantly today when they fell 22 stories from the Alamo National Bank building to the street below.

The victims were A. J. Smith, foreman of the tile laying crew, and Milton Sadler, helper. Workmen who saw the accident said the cable which supported the platform on which Smith and Sadler had been standing broke.

PROBAK
DOUBLE-EDGE BLADES

The best shave you ever had—or your money back.

If your dealer cannot supply you, write direct.

50c for 5—$1 for 10
Sample blade—10c

PROBAK CORPORATION
656 FIRST AVENUE NEW YORK

BOYD INSURANCE AGENCY

Insurance Specialists.

Mancil Building. Phone 49.

$3.45 = $3.45

THREE FORTY-FIVE

SALE!

Begins Thursday, Feb. 6

We have just purchased the entire stock of the Edwin's Slipper Shop of Fort Worth, which had to be sold on account of loss of lease. These shoes were bought at a bargain—YES, LESS THAN A BARGAIN. We have brought the entire stock of 2,160 pairs to Cisco and for TEN DAYS we are offering your choice at

$3.45

These shoes are all standard makes that sell from $6.00 to $10.00—high heels, box heels, low heels—patents, satins, black and colored kids, brocades and crepes, pumps, step-ins, ties, straps and oxfords.

New Spring Shoes

Fully 75 per cent of this stock are new spring shoes—bought for this spring trade. You will find them just what you will want to wear and will meet your every requirement.

HOSIERY

To complete the foot ensemble at economy prices, we are offering our new line of spring hose at the following drastic reductions:

Regular $1.95 values for .....$1.59 Regular $1.45 values for .....$1.29
Regular $1.00 values for .....89c

The Date, February 6. The Price, $3.45

Herron-Owen Slipper Shop
CISCO, TEXAS

$3.45 = $3.45

PALACE

— NOW SHOWING —

Its the talk of Fort Worth and it will be the talk of Cisco

HEAR
talking, singing, dancing, musical comedy

JANET GAYNOR
SUNNY SIDE UP

Stand up on your legs, be like two fried eggs—Keep your SUNNY SIDE UP!

JANET GAYNOR
CHARLES PARRELL

All Singing, Talking and Dancing

Opens Next Saturday Night at 10:00 p. m. Special
MIDNIGHT PREVIEW
TEXAS PREMIER
First Time Shown in State.

No, No, Nanette

NEW YORK IS WILD ABOUT IT. CISCO WILL RAVE ABOUT IT. EVERYBODY WILL LOVE "NO, NO, NANETTE"

Nothing like it on the screen before. All scenes in natural color.

DON'T COUGH YOUR ENERGY AWAY

SWING INTO STEP—Work hard. Play hard. Carry your zest all through the year. Don't let that yearly cough "take hold"—wear you down—sap your vitality. At the first sign of a cough or throat tickling, take Pertussin. It soothes the throat and clears away phlegm. Pleasant to take, free from dope, and recommended by physicians everywhere. Sold at all druggists.

Pertussin

"It's better to have it and not need it than to need it and not have it."

Helen of Troy
ACCEPTED AN ORDER AND HASTENED FAR FROM HOME with DISASTROUS RESULTS

Sometimes mail and packages in the hands of Uncle Sam start out right, then go astray. Your best protection is Parcel Post and Registered Mail Insurance... through this agency.

J. M. WILLIAMSON & CO.
CITY HALL GENERAL INSURANCE PHONE 111

"Pleasant Dealings—A Feature We Like to Advertise"

NO, NO, NANETTE

First Time Shown in Texas
Gala Midnight Show Saturday Night at 10:00
Feature 10:45 P. M.
Then Sunday, Monday and Tuesday
See the Greatest Show on Earth
PALACE THEATER