Cisco's Trades Day Campaign Has Auspicious Beginning

PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED EVERY SAT.

Featuring the Cisco Lobo band a concert in front of the city hall and the fall Trade Extension campaign had an auspicious beginning with a program at 7 o'clock yesterday evening.

The band concert occupied an hour with intermissions for announcements to the large crowd of programs planned for the future. These programs will include Trades Day entertainments each Saturday evening with a master program every first Monday. These first Monday programs will be planned for gala days and efforts to attract people from all over the Cisco section will be made through extensive advertising. Saturday evening programs will begin at 7 o'clock but the first Monday entertainment will be placed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Little time was permitted for advertising the program yesterday, since the campaign was undertaken only a few days previously, but the merchants participating expressed confidence with the interest that was aroused and predicted that the results of the campaign will be great.

Merchants Participating

Fifty-six business concerns have enrolled in the Trades Day campaign. There are still others who have not been seen by Ted R. Smith who has been employed to coordinate the campaign. Mr. Smith says that he will likely overlook some merchants despite every effort, and he requests that they telephone him at the chamber of commerce so that he may call and explain how they may become members and so forth.

Those already enrolled as members are as follows:

ITALIAN FINDS HUMAN BLOOD RADIO-ACTIVE

ROME, Sept. 19.—Dr. Giocondo Potti believes that the blood is radio-active and capable, when taken from one person and injected in small quantities into another, of stimulating the cells of a sick body with healthy hormones and re-establishing normal conditions.

Dr. Potti, who has been engaged in experiments over a number of years, and has published a book on the possibility of enlarging the field of therapeutics by radiations from blood injections, follows, in a measure, the line of research taken by Sir Albert Abrams and the German, Guericke.

The transfusion of blood as ordinarily practiced is quite a different process to that recommended by Dr. Potti. It is a substitution, whereas the very small quantity of blood taken from the veins of one person and injected into the muscles of another acts as a stimulant.

According to Dr. Potti, the blood emits radiations capable of creating in the body a flow of electrons. The radiations of the blood vary according to the type and state of health of the person. They have wavelengths of their own, which can vary with varying conditions.

In the course of his experiments, Dr. Potti has discovered that human blood is not equally radio-active in all people. In some cases, the radio-activity may be designated by the figure 90; in other cases it runs as low as 25 or 30. In cases of ill health it may be non-existent. The blood of even perfectly healthy young people differs greatly in its radio-active potentialities, Dr. Potti said.

TWO ARRESTS ARE MADE IN BETTING TEST

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Sept. 19.—Sheriff J. R. Wright today arrested Dr. Leslie Coulter, of Arlington, and O. O. Franklin, of Vernon, at the track here today for a test of California roulette betting under Texas anti-race track gambling laws. They were released on $1,000 bonds for a hearing at Fort Worth.

A crowd of 10,000 saw Lady De Zer waltz with J. A. Blackwell and H. H. Fausett, win the Texas Futurity. Feature race of the one-day meet and a purse of $1,500.

Three horses from the stables of Dan Dearing, finished second, third and fourth in the event which was limited to Texas bred two-year-olds.

Col. W. T. Waggoner, builder of the plant, said future track programs here depend upon the outcome of the charges against Coulter and Franklin. As it will be several weeks before a ruling can be obtained no meet is likely before spring, he said.

Suspension May Be Penalty for Hazing

DALLAS, Sept. 19.—Three students faced possible suspension from Southern Methodist university tonight because of the hazing of Pascal Tatum, Dallas engineering freshman, while class mates of Tatum expressed indignation that he had reported the incident to university officials.

A formal complaint of the hazing was made to officials by the student's mother, Mrs. Blanche A. Tatum. An inquiry was launched by the university. Tatum said he was attacked in a room of the men's dormitory and beaten with an angle iron.

Indignant at his exposure of the affair, freshmen classmates declared their intention of buying back his freshman cap and banning him from all interstudent activity.

NEGRO SIGNS CONFESSION TO ATTACKS

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 19.—A gruesome story was told in a written confession late today by Johnny Brown, negro, of how he and Robert Pope, another negro, had slain Aubrey Nodurt, of Fort Worth, and they attacked his fiancée the night of September 9.

Brown placed the blame for leadership in the crime on Pope who is held in Fort Worth for safe keeping. A charge of murder was filed against Brown after he signed the written confession. A similar charge had been filed against Pope previously.

In order to avoid any show of violence that might be made against Brown following his confession, the negro was spirited out of town. Officers did not make known where he was being taken, but those was a possibility he would be removed to Fort Worth where Pope is being held.

BLOODY SHIRT IS HELD

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 19.—A blood-stained shirt, covered with ashes, was held by police today as the strongest evidence against one of two negroes captured here in connection with the murder of Aubrey Nodurt, of Fort Worth, and attack on his fiancée, Sept. 9.

The spot where Nodurt was slain at his fiancée, Miss Vera Smith, 23, attacked, had been burned over, leaving a charred weed stubble. This may have accounted for the ashes on the shirt officers said.

More than 50 persons, mostly negroes, were questioned today as police sought to build up a case against the two suspects, Robert Pope and an unnamed man, the second to be arrested. Pope is held in Fort Worth for safe keeping.

MAKES ORAL STATEMENT

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 19.—In an oral statement to officers this afternoon Johnny Brown, confessed that he and Robert Pope, another negro held at Fort Worth, killed Aubrey Nodurt, of Fort Worth, and then attacked his fiancée, Miss Vera Smith, a stenographer, September 9.

The statement was made to Warren Belcher, former deputy sheriff, and Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, and he promised a written confession later in the afternoon.

JAPS OCCUPY SEVERAL CITIES IN MANCHURIA

PEIPING, China, Sept. 19.—The cities of New-Chwang, Mukden, An-tung, Chang Chun and Kuan Chang Pui have been occupied by Japanese troops the American consul at Mukden advised today as Chinese authorities emphasized they had been seeking to prevent difficulties.

Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, in an interview today said he had disbanded his troops at north camp, Mukden several days ago, suspecting the Japanese intended to provoke an incident. Subsequently attacked unarmed men, he claimed.

At Tokio, however, the Japanese premier said that the garrison commander at Mukden had exceeded his authority in attacking.

Ten Japanese were killed at Mukden, 19 at Kuan Chang Pui and many Chinese at the various posts.

Libel Suits At Lubbock Settled

LUBBOCK, Sept. 19.—A long legal battle which produced many tales of alleged early cattle rustling was ended today by settlement out of court of seven libel suits filed by members of the Spikes family against J. V. Haley and the Capitol Reservation land.

A book that Haley, a member of the University of Texas history department had written on life in the southwest, was basis of the suit as members of the Spike family declared were defamatory. The book was published by the Capitol Reservation Land, owners of the XIT ranch.

Wheat Buys College Tuition

Money being scarce and wheat plentiful, Park Region Luther College, Fergus Falls, Minn., is accepting wheat in lieu of cash for tuition. Here is Miss Berghild Asleson, at the right, delivering a load at the college door as her payment. The school disposes of it through local elevators, but stipulates it will accept wheat only from families that grow it.

"BABY GOLFER" TO VIE FOR COUNTRY CLUB TITLE TODAY

ABILENE, Sept. 19.—Abilene's city administration carried its war on existing gas rates to a new front Friday with passage of an ordinance fixing the domestic schedule at 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the first 30,000 feet.

The ordinance, passed under an emergency clause, becomes effective immediately and provides the new rate shall apply beginning October 1. It represents a reduction of one-third, from the present gross of 75 cents per 1,000.

The ordinance applied to domestic rates only, and made no provision for a discount for prompt payment.

Officials of the West Texas Utilities company, gas distributor here, Friday night had no statement as to what policy the company will pursue under the new measure. Mayor Lee R. York said he would formally notify the company Saturday of the board's action, and would issue a public statement instructing customers to pay not more than 50 cents per thousand, on bills beginning the first of next month.

Note of the commission was unanimous of those present, the mayor adding his ballot. Commissioner J. F. Morrison was not at the meeting. Suggestion that the ordinance be drawn and passed immediately was made by C. L. Johnson, and there was little discussion.

ABILENE CITY COMM'N CUTS RATE ON GAS

These two are left of a field of 52, the largest number of contestants that have ever taken part in an annual tournament at the club. They are battling for the title held for three successive years by Jeff Duncan who was eliminated early in the matches by F. D. McMahon, thus clearing the road for his 15-year-old son, who will oppose a clever shot-maker in Mr. Hicks for the club title today.

The public is cordially invited to attend the final, and particularly the last 18 holes of the championship match at 2 p. m.

Championships in other flights will be played as follows:

Second flight: Norman Finley versus Ford Hubbard, 36 holes beginning at 8:30 a. m.

Second Consolation Flight: Barton Philpott versus J. A. (Aaron) Robinson, at 2:30 p. m.

Third Consolation Flight: A. E. Willis versus E. H. Varnell at 2:30 p. m.

Interest in the tournament this year was the best that any tournament has attracted. More golfers were entered and less time was required to play the matches. Three flights of 16 players each were played with five players left over.

The entire tournament will have been completed in two weeks with the final matches this afternoon, whereas last year's tournament ran for six weeks. Only three matches were defaulted this year.

Following the tournament at a date to be announced shortly, a basketball lunch will be served for all participants at which time the various prizes will be distributed.

36th Anniversary Is Celebrated

BRENNAM, Tex., Sept. 19.—Three peace officers accused of killing a negro they believed was trying to make dates with a white girl, stood cleared of charges today.

Without leaving his box a district court jury here returned a verdict of not guilty in the cases of Sheriff H. L. Reece, City Marshal Neve Humphreys and Constable E. O. Reutt.

They were accused of slaying Mose Burrell, young negro, they found waiting at a designated point for the young woman. He allegedly drew a gun when the officers approached him.

Officers Acquitted In Killing Negro

The Charles Crawford chapter of the D. A. R., Cisco unit, will cooperate with the American Tree association in planting trees this fall and next winter in observance of the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington, it was announced Saturday.

The association is planning to plant 10,000,000 trees, it was said. The local chapter of the D. A. R. will have charge of the work in Cisco.

The chapter has not determined on what species of trees will be planted these decisions to depend upon the finances.

COMPROMISE AFFECTED BY COMMITTEE

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—A bill restricting cotton planting in 1932 to 30 per cent of the tilled soil of this year and holding the 1933 crop to 30 per cent of the cultivated land in 1932 was the answer tonight to the concerted cries of cotton farmers of Texas for relief.

Ten members of the Texas legislature, sitting as a conference committee to iron out differences between house and senate bills, compromised tonight on the measure. Its speedy passage Monday by the Texas legislature convened in a farmer's session was promised.

APPROPRIATION TOPIC

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—Revision of state appropriations with salary cuts will be submitted to the legislature Monday, Ren. A. P. Patsch, who has been in frequent conference with Governor Ross Sterling on the topic, announced today.

"The governor has only been insisting that a sufficient sentiment for prompt revision could be crystallized," Patsch said.

The proposed reduction will enable the state automatic tax board to keep the present 69-cent ad valorem rate. Unrevised appropriations would require 79.2 cents.

Abilene Chosen by Circulation Men

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—Abilene was chosen the 1932 convention city of the Texas Christian Managers association at a business session of the newspapermen here late today.

New officers elected were George W. McDonald, Jr., of the Abilene Reporter, president; Louis Breneau, of the Houston Post-Dispatch, vice-president; and H. E. Murphree, of the Houston Chronicle, secretary.

BULLET MEANT FOR ANOTHER HITS LAWYER

SHERMAN, Sept. 19.—J. Q. Adamson, assistant criminal district attorney, was felled by a bullet tonight when he walked across the court house square and directly into a line of fire as a farmer blazed away at his enemy.

Adamson was taken to a hospital where attendants said he had a serious abdominal wound.

Wiley Green, farmer living near Dorchester, was in jail. Witnesses said Adamson was wounded while Green was firing at A. L. Gooding, an ancient enemy.

The wounded man is a brother of W. D. Adamson, Dallas school principal. J. W. Adamson, of Denison, a member of the legislature, and J. T. Adamson, army officer and secretary to Gen. John J. Pershing in France.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

HE REDEEMS AND CROWNS:—Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.—Psalm 103: 1, 4.

AN UNFAVORABLE PROSPECT.

Three representatives of the New York group which is claimed to hold power over a pool of more than $3,000,000 of Cisco's municipal bonds left for New York Friday with less of the aplomb with which they had come. The committee which they represented does not own the bonds it is said to control but has simply collected them on the theory that it could effect a settlement. Powers of wide latitude have been surrendered to the committee with the bonds. Naturally the group is eager to effect a settlement in the shortest possible time, the inference being that its expenses and commissions must come from the proceeds of such a settlement.

Sitting in New York is no way to appraise a situation in Cisco and the committee cannot be blamed for having unfounded conceptions with respect to Cisco's ability to pay. The visit to Cisco was therefore an enlightening event for them. It no doubt brought home quite forcibly the fact that Cisco's attitude is not to blame. There is a possibility, in view of this fact, that a definite change in the committee's policy in dealing with the "white elephant" it has acquired will be seen, and Cisco may be permitted to look askance at the litigation now pending in the federal court at Abilene.

What was significant in the visit of three men was the fact that the committee was at a loss for a workable idea for the solution of the question. The city commission was made to realize quite clearly that it cannot depend upon an outside organization, particularly one that can be charged with mercenary motives, to provide a road out of the municipal dilemma. What it can deduct from the present facts is the probability that the committee will demand drastic curtailments in directions that Cisco's future development can ill afford to permit. That is a logical consequence, since the committee has a limited period in which to operate, and it is but human nature to place one's own interests first. The visitors kept their cards pretty well hidden here, but rumors to the effect that considerable expense has been incurred in the pooling of the bonds substantiate a prospect that looks embarrassing and may develop into a serious handicap unless Cisco takes steps to properly protect its interests.

A PERMANENT CAMPAIGN.

Cisco's Trades Extension campaign was initiated last evening with a very successful program on the streets. Because of the limited time in which to prepare and advertise the event it was not expected to attain any great dimensions. Succeeding trades days should increase in magnitude and interest as the good work goes on.

A certain amount of ballyhoo is necessary to put over any program that is aimed at arousing the public enthusiasm. It is first necessary to attract attention. Cisco is entitled to make as much noise as possible, and the methods are dictated largely by what is going on in its competing trade centers.

But the greatest volume of ballyhoo in the world cannot provide a remedy for depressed trade conditions. There must be stabilizing factors behind, and these factors must be those which convince the visitors that the ballyhoo is justified. Bringing crowds to town is one thing; keeping them coming is quite another.

If behind this campaign of interest-getting is found quality and service there is reason to expect that the results of the movement will be permanent and far-reaching. If the visitors feel they have been disappointed our efforts to attract them will prove fruitless.

It is up to the business interests to give satisfaction. They must be able to meet commodity demands as well as their competitors in neighboring cities and to give a character of service that will induce continued visits without the necessity of high sounding round-up campaigns.

In the present instance the real motive behind our trades extension campaign should not look merely for seasonal fall improvement. It should be planned and executed with the idea of permanently tying to Cisco a large section of adjacent territory which it may rightly claim as its own and which by reason of neglect has been allowed to attach itself to other centers. Prosecution of the campaign should eventually be placed in the hands of a permanent organization, perhaps the Retail Merchants association, which should be lifted from the position of a mere indexing agency into an organization charged with promoting business and extending trade influence throughout the section.

Such an arrangement would enable the movement to be carried on indefinitely with cooperation upon a sustained and definite program.

OTHER OPINIONS

THEY TALK TOO MUCH

In the old-fashioned Friends' religious meeting the audience might sit in silence the whole hour. If the Spirit moved no one to make remarks, Gandhi has Monday as his "silence day" so as to find time for quiet meditation. An echo of this came for thought rather than words in the report of the Associated Press that Gandhi recently chided the Indian conference because it talks interminably without getting anywhere. Can it be that India's saint put his finger on one of the noise evils of western civilization? Members of Parliaments, Congresses and Legislatures talk entirely too much, especially when stenographers record their speeches for publication. A famous political writer of Cromwell's time urged him to bar out clergymen and lawyers from Parliament, and to allow no discussion of measures except in committee, the main body

THE COUNCIL IN JERUSALEM

tions and problems gave significance to an early council in Jerusalem. Paul and Barnabas had returned to Antioch in Syria from their missionary journey. The church there had heard them tell the story of all that had been accomplished through them, and especially of the conquest of the Gospel among the Gentiles. It was under these circumstances that certain men from Judea began to teach that there could be no salvation without the fulfillment of certain requirements of the Jewish law. Dispute at once arose as Paul and Barnabas opposed such teachings, and it was this that led to their going up to Jerusalem to discuss with the apostles and elders these questions. At Jerusalem, however, the contentious issues were not easily settled. The whole controversy broke out afresh. Peter took a good stand, pointing out that he had himself ministered to the Gentiles and that as the Gospel had brought a vital experience of religion to them, they should not bring the Gentile Christians under a yoke which, as he said, "neither they nor their fathers were able to bear." With a clearness to which he did not always adhere in further controversy, he put the matter of salvation upon the basis of the grace of God in Christ Jesus. Paul told the story of the miracles and wonders that he had seen wrought among the Gentiles in his missionary journey, and James declared that they should not trouble those Gentiles who were turning to the Christian faith by requiring of them ritual observance of the law, but should call upon them only for moral conduct in accordance with Christian faith and profession. So the result of the council was that chosen men were sent back to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. Letters were sent giving greetings to the Gentiles in Antioch and in Asia assuring them that there was no purpose on the part of the church to demand observance of Jewish ritual. This message to the new converts laid stress upon their obligations to keep their lives pure and unspotted from their licentious environment.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 20, The Council in Jerusalem. Acts 15:22-29; Gal. 2:1, 2, 9, 10.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

The very success of any ministry or mission brings its inevitable problems. The spreading of new truth and its effects upon many conditions and many types of people quickly produces problems through differences of opinion and through misunderstandings. This was particularly true of the new and vital religion associated with Jesus of Nazareth.

The variety of experiences in the early church, as well as the variety of types, led inevitably to controversies and conflicts. Many contended that the form in which the new religion had come to them was the only form in which it could be rightly and properly held.

Apparently, also, there arose problems of authority in the church. Jerusalem was the place of origin of the new religion, and evidently the group of disciples there thought of it as an authoritative center. It would seem, also, that in the churches generally there was a looking to the mother church at Jerusalem.

The converging of all these ques-

TAX DOLLARS . . . Paid for You by the West Texas Utilities Company

YOUR business is not the only one which has been faced with the serious problem of ever-mounting tax expenses. Since 1923, the year of this company's organization, taxes paid by the West Texas Utilities Company have increased over 1,200 per cent! In making these tax payments, the West Texas Utilities Company is contributing substantially to the cost of government . . . and relieving you of a considerable burden which otherwise would fall on your shoulders.

If the taxes paid annually by the West Texas Utilities Company could be applied by governmental agencies as efficiently as funds are handled by private enterprises, they would build for you each year: two large city high schools; three completely equipped ward schools; fifteen modern rural schools; a complete water system for a city of 12,000 population, or seven and one-half miles of standard concrete highway.

While this company has had to meet an ever-mounting tax bill and increased cost of equipment and materials . . . you, as a customer, have benefited by rate reductions which make this modern necessity available to you at an average cost sixty per cent lower than was charged before the organization of the West Texas Utilities Company!

Electric service will do your domestic, industrial or farm tasks more efficiently than they can be accomplished by any other method, and the entire cost of such splendid service can be figured in terms of pennies!

Out of every dollar you spend for service, approximately 10 cents is returned to the various governing bodies in the form of tax payments.

Do You Know?

... that the average cost of government per family in 1913 was six times the average family's electric bill — but that through increased political activities the cost of government to the average family is today fifteen times greater than the cost of household electricity.

... that a reduction of 10% in the average family's household electric bill would amount to but $3.00 a year; whereas a reduction of the political racketeering activities alone connected with the cost of government should decrease taxes at least 75% — a reduction sufficient to pay all the nation's household electric bills! Let's work on the political racketeers. There is the easiest place to save.

The Outline of Oscar

TIM

It's a strange tale of th' sea that I'm goin' to tell you this time. With my animal pals, Kangy and Singoot, I was cruisin' with an old shipmate of mine, Tops'l Barney. One mornin' th' lookout aloft yelled that a derelict was in sight off th' starb'd bow. She was low in th' water, partly dismantled, and seemed to be abandoned. To make sure that there was nobody aboard I hopped into a boat with my pals and pulled over to her. When we hove alongside I made th' painter of th' boat fast to th' main chains and we climbed aboard. Not a livin' soul was in sight. I hailed good and loud but there was no answer.

Meanwhile, Kangy and Singoot disappeared into a deck-house, but came leaping out with eyes as big as saucers, and right after them, with a big pistol spittin' fire, and with a swearin' parrot perched on his shoulder, was a ragged little kid. I was settin' on th' deck, where I had been knocked by Kangy, and I looked with goggle eyes at that fire-eatin' youngster chasin' my pals about th' deck. When they finally headed in my direction I yelled. I thought for a minute that th' kid was goin' to plug me, but when he saw I was just a harmless sailor he almost cried he was that glad to see me. He told me his name was Tim, and that th' derelict was th' Lady Lou. When we were back aboard th' Lanui he told Barney and me how he came to be aboard an abandoned ship.

The next yarn will be a thriller, told by Tim himself.

 CISCO AMERICAN and

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 19.—Huckleberry plants, each believed to be at least 5,000 years old, are being carefully nurtured by Pennsylvania forestry officials in the Pennsylvania Forest District in Perry county.

The plants are the only ones of their kind in the world, according to W. Keller, Deputy Secretary of Forestry in Pennsylvania.

There is no means of propagating them, he said, because the seeds produced by the plants are not fertile.

Unlike the common huckleberry, these native to Pennsylvania hills, are four plants in the Perry county forest are evergreen known to botanists as Gaylussacia brachycera. They grow in four neighboring ranges, with one entire plant extending in all directions on the north slope of each range and covering about one hundred acres each.

A botanist recently estimated annual growth to be about six inches. From this estimate the foresters computed the ages of the plants to be from 5,000 to 12,000 years and ages of the preglacial periods of the state.

The plants were discovered in 1898. Prior to that Michaux, famed French botanist, reported finding them in Virginia, but the discovery was never verified, Kelley said.

Sunday Services at The Churches

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A class for every age. A work for every worker. Dr. Stuart Pearce of El Paso will preach at 11 a. m. and also at 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to hear Dr. Pearce, who is recognized as an able and genial preacher.

HOLY ROSARY CHURCH
 Mass will be at 10 a. m. by Rev. Runno. This is the seventeenth Sunday after Pentecost and the subject is from St. Matthew XXII, 37-46. We are told that the two great commandments are to love God and our neighbor. We must love our neighbor as ourself. This pastor said than done. Some try to defraud and steal from the federal, state, county or city government without apparently thinking that they are defrauding or stealing from their neighbors because the government means every man, woman and child in the country. So then we act thus we are acting unrightly towards our fellowman. Want of love of our fellow man is the legal cause of the present depression. There is enough for all in this world but many are not satisfied with enough.—REV. M. COLLINS.

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH
 Corner Sixteenth street and F avenue street. Sunday school and Bible class at 9:30 a. m. Morning service at 10:30 a. m. Evening service at 8 p. m. Topic for morning service: Jesus Teaching the Sadducees Concerning the Resurrection; for evening service: "The Good Angels." We welcome you to these services.—ARTHUR RATHJEN, pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
 The subject of the lesson sermon "Matter" in all Churches of Christ Scientists, Sunday, September 20, Matthew 24:35 furnishes the golden text: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." The following passages from the Bible (Psalms 39:6-7) are included in the lesson sermon: "Surely every man walketh in a vain show; surely they are disquieted in vain; he heareth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them. And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH
 706 West Fifth street. Evening prayer and sermon at 7:30 p. m., the Rev. C. A. Beasley, priest in charge.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
 Broadway and H avenue. Sunday Sept. 20th Sunday school 9:30 a. m. classes for everybody. The pastor, Rev. H. D. Tucker will preach as follows: 10:50 a. m. "A Heartbreaking Look" and 7:30 p. m. "Fence Straddlers." Leagues meet at 6:30. You are invited to worship with us.—H. D. TUCKER, pastor.

Locked the Stable After the Horse Was Stolen

We are all familiar with the above saying which means, Action came too late. Now, that is the way with many people about their insurance—they think about it when it is too late—they lock the stable too late.

When your car perhaps has been stolen or you are faced with a liability suit, then it is too late to insure—

Let us protect you now.

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—The highway commission, meeting here the early part of the week will start about $4,500,000 more of new construction work in many counties, added to the heavy list of work already under way. This will provide employment for several thousand persons through the winter months and contribute materially to better economic conditions.

The people who get the benefits by using the roads are paying the greater part of highway building costs, and this is one form of public improvements at which those concerned have little kick.

The commission likely at this meeting also will order bids on erecting its new highway building in Austin, on the site of the historic half-century-old Travis county jail.

Waco, Beaumont, Austin, have announced municipal budget-cutting. The state is at under a program of official salary-pruning. Official jobs have multiplied, and salaries have climbed up until in many cases they are out of line with the average income of those who pay the bill in taxes. They can be cut in many cases without crippling the service, and still leave the employees receiving a greater commodity value than represented by more

LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "MAD MARRIAGE"

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Norma Kent, 20-year-old pretty, marries Mark Travers, of F. M. Travers, millionaire estate dealer, in spite of the her opposition and threats to abort the marriage.

The story opens in Marlboro, the western metropolis. Mark is his expensive roadster to get away for the honeymoon and he Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. There Norma meets Hol- Stone, and it is evident from her girl's manner that she has met him before and for some reason she is to fear him.

Their money is soon gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With the horror from Stone the couple return to Marlboro. Mark sets on a round of pleasure seeking instead of hunting a job. He induces Norma to Natalie Price, a woman who has long hoped to marry Mark. When the two girls see again Mark and Norma go to a cheap apartment. Mark goes to hunt work seriously. He is one job and loses it. Then he comes a floorwalker in Blossdale's department store. Norma practices rigid economies at work. When Mark's mother comes, she calls on the girls to see reconciliation with his father Mark refuses. He Norma spend a happy Thanksgiving Day together. Next morning, Norma, on a shopping trip, she a familiar voice beside her.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVII

The two girls had almost reached Norma. One of them was talk- eagerly. It was the shrill, high- ed voice that caught her at- tion. Where had she heard that voice before?

Norma glanced from one face to the other. The taller girl, the whose voice seemed familiar, was a green suit with luxurious trim and trimming bands of dark. Her companion was in brown, rather instant and they were be- her. The girl in green looked sety at Norma. A fleeting glance of expression crossed her face in that instant Norma recog- Natalie Price.

"Oh—how do you do?" Natalie's she dropped to a cooing sweet- ness. Her dark brows arched with her subtle hint of aloofness.

Norma, startled, said, "How do you do?"

The girls passed. Norma stood the edge of the sidewalk, about they down when the traffic light turned from red to green. She and Natalie Price's quick, high- ed voice floating backward. "That, my dear, was Mark Travers' wife!" She heard the other, "his incredulous, "No—but, Nat, it's funny clothes!"

The rest of the words were lost, words spoken by a stranger— they should Norma feel those six words to search their way to her brain and remain for- get? Six words! But it wasn't the words that brought quick, hot cir- cles to Norma's cheeks. It was the the words were spoken. As though Norma to be Mark Travers' wife was something beyond belief. She dare they sneer at her "funny clothes"? Because she was trying to help Mark to save his money— that something for these girls had everything to laugh at! "Funny clothes!" Her coat and they were not funny! They were plain and cheap and the sort that hundreds of girls who worked in downtown offices wore. Norma was suddenly bitterly angry. Her small gloved hands dug into her pockets. Oh, what could she do to show Natalie Price and those others how little she cared for what they said or did? What could she do to let them know that if she wore cheap clothing it was their thoughts that were cheap, their ill- manners and discourtesy that were?

The street signal flashed red but Norma was so preoccupied she did not notice it for several moments. Then she realized the others about her had gone on. She crossed the street hurriedly.

"Funny clothes" that girl had heard. Norma caught the reflec- tion of herself in a plate glass win- dow. Well, she probably looked "funny" to Natalie Price's crowd because her coat wasn't an exclu- sive creation from Fanchon's or some one's. Her hat too—that was "funny" because it had been bought from a bargain table and reshaped according to Norma's own taste.

She forgot her morning's errands and walked a block past the five-and-ten store where she was to begin her purchases. That night his Natalie Price to set her self up as a judge of other peo- ple's. Norma regarded inwardly. "What has she ever done to make herself better than anyone else?"

She knew without need to hesi- tate the answers to those ques- tions. Natalie's father, was rich. Natalie was "in society," her name and pictures in newspaper society columns frequently. But those were not the things that mattered. What gave Natalie Price her tre- mendous advantage was the fact she belonged to the life Mark had always known before his marriage. Always known before his bride meant others would do so.

Was she so pitifully a failure? Was she a hindrance to Mark? "But he married me!" Norma told herself defensively. "He knew Natalie first and instead he mar- ried me."

The mood burned only a little less fiercely when later she stood at a counter piled high with dishes and selected a blue-flowered sau- cer to take the place of the one she had broken. Lucky to find the same pattern in stock. Well, the blue cloth was next on the list.

Norma moved across the store. She was buying five and 10-cent supplies for Mark's kitchen while Natalie Price and her friends might be trying on gowns that cost hundreds of dollars, fur coats worth fabulous sums.

"Oh, what do I care?" Norma wants to see you about an important matter. What that may be I wasn't informed. I judged, though, that it might be about business. He—he seemed very anxious about this matter."

"Listen, Johnson, this is on the level, is it?"

"Oh, absolutely! You know me better than to doubt me. You know I wouldn't interfere in your private affairs nor those of your father. I'm carrying out instructions, Mark."

"But I've got a job, I don't have time to go down there."

"Any time you set I'm sure will suit Mr. Travers. If you could stop at the office when you've finished this afternoon he'll be waiting for you."

"I couldn't make it until 5:30. Might be after that."

"Then I'll tell him you'll be there at that time? He'll be pleased. I'll tell him to expect you at 5:30."

Johnson had risen. He seemed delighted that his mission had been a success. Before Mark could interrupt the man was gone. The food Johnson had ordered remained untouched on the counter.

Mark frowned. Here was a situation indeed! Johnson had rushed away assuming Mark was committing himself when in actuality he had done nothing of the sort. "I don't have to go," Mark told himself. "I don't have to go just because Johnson thinks I will. Now, what in the world is Dad up to? Does he really mean it, I wonder?"

Complete surrender on the part of F. M. Travers seemed too much to expect. Yet his father had sent for him. There was consolation in that thought. If Mark went it would be because his father had made the first move toward reconciliation. That was indeed a triumph!

"And if I don't go," came the afterthought, "old Johnson will probably get Hades!"

Mark lunched with the problem still unsettled. He thought of it repeatedly throughout the afternoon. At 5:45 he was standing in his father's luxuriously carpeted private office.

"You mean," Mark said, slowly, "that you'll do all that? You really mean it?"

The older Travers leaned back in his desk chair. "I will. That and more! I'm only asking you to meet my terms and here they are—"

LOANS DEFINED

Webster defines "loans" as follows: "Anything furnished for temporary use.

When we pay what we borrow we make progress . . . we build up . . . we acquire.

When we merely pay interest on what we borrow we mark time. We all have a certain unspoken feeling about a loan that runs on and on—never getting any smaller.

Obviously a loan is something that should be repaid . . . otherwise its usefulness has been destroyed.
