'OPERATION SHOW YOUR COLORS'

Many people have perhaps of the American flag being worn here this week, and have perhaps asked the question, "what do they mean?"

It's all part of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary's "Operation Show Your Colors," being sponsored by those two organizations in support of the United State's efforts in Viet Niem in protest to the various demonstrations being conducted over the U.S.

A card which goes with the flag replica bears the inscription, "Americans are serving the cause of freedom in Viet Nam. I wear my country's colors to show that I support their efforts."
