Tigers Kick Off District Play Friday

Hico will take a break-even 3-3 record into district action this Friday night, when the Tigers entertain an always tough Gorman Panther team in a 7:30 encounter at the local stadium.

The Panthers kicked off district play last week with a resounding 47-0 win over Blanket and will be trying to keep their slate clean against the Tigers.

The two teams have played one common foe, Santa Anna, with Gorman losing 31-12, and the Tigers taking a 35-12 beating from the same team.

Hico coaching staff said that the Tigers would not be at full strength for the Gorman game, with Gary White, Joe Tooley, and Dennis Polk hampered with minor injuries.

The annual pre-district bon fire has been set for this Thursday night behind the stadium, beginning at 6:30, and all town people are invited to attend.

Names of Servicemen Needed By Local Sunday School Class

The Couple's Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church desires the names and addresses of all servicemen in this area, particularly those overseas, that will not be able to come home for Christmas. The class will mail gifts to all of these men, whether they are overseas or in the States.

Gifts must be in the mail by November 10, and area residents are asked to turn in names and addresses to either Mrs. Harlon Koonsman or Mrs. E. L. Putty as soon as possible.

Mountaineers Pin 35-12 Loss On Gun-Shy Tigers

The inability to make tackles "stick" turned what could have been a close game into a rout last Friday night as Santa Anna bounced the Tigers 35-12 in a game that was just about as one-sided as the score might indicate.

Time after time, the visitors were allowed great chunks of yardage after initial contact had been made, and in so doing were able to keep the ball in play and dominate the game from every standpoint.

The visitors took the opening kickoff and marched 60 yards in 11 plays for a seven point lead. Longest play in the drive was for 13 yards and gave the Mountaineers new life at the Tiger 23. A hard-running fullback, Eddie Jones, got the marker from five yards out.

The Tigers bounced back as if to make a game of it, using only three plays to march 78 yards to get on the scoreboard. Dwain Gray started the march with a 40-yard scamper to the Mountie 38, Barry Polk banged for two, and then hit quick off right tackle for 36 yards and the touchdown. Electing to go for two, the Tigers were thrown back and Santa Anna clung to a 7-5 margin, which held up through the first quarter.

Santa Anna dominated the second period, posting two more TD's for a 21-6 halftime lead. Their first touchdown in the period came after taking over on Hico's 48. Five plays and a 15-yard personal foul against the Tigers got the marker, with Butch Makuta getting the call from three yards out.

A blocked punt set the Mounties up for their other scoring chance in the second period. The visitors took over on Hico's 18 and used four plays, with Jones tallying his second TD from the 6-yard line.

The Mountaineers made it 28-6 in the third quarter before Hico was able to generate another scoring drive. The visitors intercepted a pass at their own 23, and used 14 plays to get the distance, with Jones again getting the marker.

Hico took the following kickoff and marched 65 yards to make the score 28-12. Howard Srader got good blocking in the line and scooted through a gaping hole for the last 10 yards, to end Hico's scoring for the night.

Santa Anna's Makuta scored the final TD of the night, going five yards early in the fourth quarter to climax a 57-yard drive.

Subscription Price Increase Effective November 1st

Newspaper, like other businesses, have felt the pinch of rising costs of all products used from week to week, and with this continuing rise, they are forced—like other merchants—to pass on a portion of this increase to the customer.

After careful study of all phases of the News Review's operations, the publisher decided that an increase in part of the subscription was necessary to help meet these rising costs. Due not only to increase in production costs, but to the demands of the postal department to zone, route and keep Zip Codes current on all 1590 papers mailed each week.

No increase in price of local subscriptions is being made at this time, but those outside Hamilton, Erath and Bosque counties will advance fifty cents beginning November 1. At the same time single copy sales will be increased from five cents to ten cents.

New subscription rate schedules are as follows:

Hico Area, $2.50 per year. Outside Hamilton, Bosque and Erath Counties, $3.50.

Out of State, $4.00 per year. Counter sales, or single copies, 10c each.

It is the desire of the News Review to continue serving everyone who wants the hometown paper, but the increases are regrettably necessary. Understanding will be appreciated.

3 Counties Will Issue Hunt Books

Tom Abbott, Hamilton County Game Warden, said this week that he would issue Shooting Preserve Books on Friday, October 28, and Monday, October 31, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the office of the County Judge at Hamilton.

Abbott said there would be no antlerless deer season in Hamilton County this year.

Mr. Abbott reminded landowners that if they leased their property for hunting of any type—deer, turkey, quail, etc.—they must purchase the preserve book.

The warden urged all landowners to come in either of the two days listed above.

Bosque County

Warden Bob Rhudy of Meridian has set October 31 and November 1, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., as dates for issuance of antlerless deer permits in Bosque County. Shooting Preserve Books will also be sold on those two days, as well as each Monday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Erath County

Doe permits will be issued at the courthouse in Stephenville for Erath County landowners, on November 1 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Jay Pemberton, Erath Warden.

Landowners in the three counties are urged to appear at the listed places on days designated.

ized by the county's farmers ($4,418) from recreational services as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in 1964.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data is needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

Preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of hired workers; and number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

WASHINGTON—

As It Looks From Here

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D.C.—This issue will conclude "As It Looks From Here" until the Congress returns in January to begin the first year of its 90th Session.

My thanks go to those who have responded to these weekly comments and who have lent support and encouragement to it.

Shortly before the next session of the Congress opens individuals to whom this is sent and the newspapers which use it will be contacted to determine if you wish to continue to receive it.

As this Congress closes there will follow appraisals of its accomplishments by writers and news analysts. Evaluations will come from all quarters and the mark given, as usual, will depend on the particular evaluator's point of view.

There is a tendency on the part of many to grade a session of Congress on the quantity, rather than the quality, of legislation enacted. Too often the scoreboard uses the total number of Presidential proposals adopted, as compared with the number requested. On this scoreboard the Congressional Session of 1966 does not rate as high as did the sessions of either of the two immediately preceding years.

One reason for this is that it is an election year, but not a Presidential one, which causes a more independent attitude by members of Congress. Members know they must run on their own record, and it is going to be an interesting election year in many parts of the country to see how well the administration's programs fare. The election should determine if members of Congress truly represent the people who elected them, rather than adhering to a line laid down by a party decree.

Incidentally, in appraising this or any other session, it seems to me that there should also be a score on what the Congress has failed to do, as well as that which it did.

The first session of the 89th Congress (1965) turned down few proposals of the Administration, but a number have been rejected in the session just closed.

Many good and long overdue measures were finally adopted in 1966. Among them is legislation to preserve certain of our natural resources for future generations. The Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act to assist in educating ex-servicemen was highly constructive. Some of the programs, such as Automobile and Highway Safety, have their good intents but, of course, are yet to be approved. The Interstate Highway Program was continued on an advanced level. Continued and expanded were programs to combat air and water pollution and to promote soil and water conservation.

The collective judgment of the Congress is more reflective of the national mood than any evaluation made by pollsters or the expert analyst. The 435 members of the House of Representatives and 100 Senators speak for the people in deciding issues. Whether or not we, as individuals, agree with the majority verdict, it is our system and we abide by it. If the Congress and the administrators of laws passed by it are in accord with constitutional principles, we have nothing to complain about, but rather, to change it if we do not like it.

Our system of government is the best ever devised by man. It is not a clumsy, cumbersome and apparently inefficient, but it is the government and under it are the recipients of the greatest benefits ever known to man. When the Congress is in session, it is usually because there is no clear view as to how the government of the nation feels. When it is divided Congress does not move hurriedly. When the people are previously united behind a program, action comes quickly. Thomas Jefferson said, "It is a duty in those entrusted with the administration of their country to conform themselves to the decided choice of their constituents. In other words, Members of Congress are to be representatives of the people, not trustees of a 'we know best' manner." Ruth and I look forward to seeing our friends when we are home.

Successful applicants receive $397 a month while studying and $453 per month after six-months on-the-job training.

Prospective candidates are asked to contact Abbott or the nearest Parks and Wildlife Field Office, or write to the Personnel Office of the department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin. Completed application forms must be received by November 4.

COUPLE OF THE WEEK

The couple this week is an old one. They can be seen often riding around in a '60 red Chevrolet. The girl is a very cute freshman this year. She is about five feet seven inches tall with blue eyes and long brown hair. She is very popular and is always smiling. Her first year in high school she is an active member of the pep squad and drill team. She represented her class at homecoming at first runner-up for queen. L.W. is her best friend's initials. The boy is a sophomore at Iredell. He plays football on the Dragon team. He is about six feet tall with red hair and brown eyes. His best friend is Walter Dotson. By now you have probably guessed who the couple is, but for those who have not, it is Nancy Davis and Steve Bateman.

CREATIVE CORNER

"Today," by Cathy Cryer

Today has been a day to cherish, as all days should be cherished because we are alive and well. Not only am I happy, but finally I have found my own inner peace. How long this peace lasts no one knows. Now that I have found it, I believe that the reason is that I have worked hard for it. I believe I could have worked harder, but my life's day is not over and there is still much more to accomplish.

Today, as in other days, I have found love—love given freely from those I am in contact with and those to whom I have given love. My day is complete because love has entered into my heart. This is probably not any more than usual, but because I have realized it, love seems more intense.

Today I am happy. I am happy because today I have learned more about myself and why I act as I do. Today has been a self-analysis period; I have confirmed the idea that to live you have to love. Today I am alive.

A GROUP DISCUSSION

In English IV class this last week a poll was taken based on some of the very serious questions that are related to teens in the world today. These questions were mainly concerned with the growing amount of juvenile delinquency. The four main questions and their results are as follows:

1. Should teenage criminal offenders be punished the same as adults?

The class answered the question "yes" by a percentage of about 90 percent.

2. What is the main cause of juvenile delinquency?

Nearly 80 percent said that home life or lack of home life and parental guidance is the main cause. Two students believed that the crowd a person chooses as friends and the influence of alcohol are other main causes.

3. Would the teenage crime rate drop if teens were punished severely?

Some felt that it wouldn't help because a delinquent would probably have such a low sense of morality that he wouldn't stop and think whether it was wrong or not. Such delinquents have been affected mentally by crime. Most of the class agreed, though, that the crime rate would probably drop considerably.

4. What should a parent do if his child gets in with the wrong crowd?

This question divided the group. Over 30 percent thought the child should be his own guide and the parent shouldn't come right out and forbid the child to associate with the bad crowds. They thought also that if a child has been brought up right he would naturally follow the right path. The other 70 percent thought the parents should forbid him to mix with these bad influences.

This discussion made the students seriously think about the growing crime rates and help form ideas about how a child should be taught right and wrong at home.

To keep varnished or shellacked woodwork clean, wash it with a cloth wrung from warm soap or detergent suds. Then rinse with clear water. When dry, rub the woodwork lightly with furniture polish if desired.

It is important to know the proper laundering methods for durable press garments. The durable press "cure" and its subsequent care are compatible processes which work together to assure memory-retaining shape, flat seams, and smooth appearance even after repeated washings. Because high temperatures are required to set the shape of durable press garments, cool wash and dry temperatures are necessary to retain it.

Automatic washers and dryers with special cycles, or wash-wear settings, offer the best answers to durable press laundering needs. They provide correct, controlled, cool temperatures, slow speeds, and tumble-drying to insure wrinkle-free clothes.

Durable press garments should be washed frequently to avoid stain setting. Stains should be pre-treated with a concentrated soap or detergent solution or by rubbing with thick suds. Turn pleated or creased garments inside out to reduce abrasion. Keep loads smaller than normal, because crowding can cause unnecessary wrinkles.

Check the directions on garments' hangtag before using chlorine bleach. Wash water should be cooled down gradually before any spinning action, and rinse water should be cold. Slow spinning action minimizes wrinkles, and adding a fabric softener helps to remove the "cling" from synthetics. Tumble-action dryers, with automatic time and temperature controls, are best for durable press fabrics. It is urgent to remove them just as soon as dry because they develop wrinkles if left wadded in the dryer.

One type of insurance you may have not thought of is insurance against the loss of ability to earn. The insurance I'm talking about is not an insurance policy but a diploma, certificate or degree showing that you have completed high school and perhaps some training beyond high school. Today education provided the best insurance possible against the loss of earning power. See that your young folks have "that insurance" for their future.

Curtains and draperies have been getting more decorative, easier to wash, and more versatile all the time. Now they are safer, too! The latest wrinkle in washable window coverings is a flame-resistant treatment which cuts down on kitchen fire hazards. This is being applied to curtains made of blended natural and synthetic fibers in an open-weave.

New fabrics and new finishes for established textiles, often start with reactions that affect the laundry equipment industry as much as they do the homemaker. The 1967 line of laundering equipment reflects the industry's awareness of new washday techniques required by the wash-wear and durable press treatments that minimize a homemaker's work.

"Daddy, you forgot...every litter bit hurts!"

It happens in the best of families! Dad takes the kids out fishing and forgets that every litter bit hurts... in more ways than one!

• Floating litter is a safety hazard. Litter causes pollution of waterways. Litter causes good fishing spots to be closed down... spoils the natural beauty of America's parks and recreation areas. And that's not the worst of it! • The good citizenship habits you want your children to have go overboard when they see you toss litter away. So, Dad, Mom, everybody—lead the way to the litterbag. Fairy Community News

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

We have had very beautiful fall weather for the past week. If the weather remains pretty for another week or so, chrysanthemums of many beautiful colors will be in full bloom.

We were very sorry to learn of the following deaths: Mrs. Lee Hukel of Dallas passed away recently. Her late husband, Minister Lee Hukel has held a number of summer meetings here and stayed in our home. His wife and daughters would come for the weekend. The last year to stay in our home was in August of 1926.

Mrs. Frank Wolfe of Woodson passed away some three weeks ago. Frank is a brother of the late H. G. Wolfe of Fairy and he too formerly resided here and attended Fairy school.

Mrs. Ava Owensby of Iredell passed away early Monday of this week and funeral services were held at Iredell Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon. She is a sister-in-law of Minister Beck, who has preached here in years past, and the Owensby sisters also attended church here on various occasions.

Rev. Bob Newton Shepherd, 79, of Stephenville passed away in the Stephenville Hospital Saturday after a short illness. He was born in Arkansas on Aug. 15, 1887, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Shepherd. On Aug. 12, 1906 he was married to Miss Kittie V. Howard of Cranfills Gap. He was a Baptist minister for 56 years. Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Baptist Church at Stephenville. Survivors include his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Holtzclaw of Notrees; a brother, Early Shepherd of Hico; 3 sisters, Mrs. Pearl Byrum of Laguna Park, Mrs. Bearlie Gore of Victoria and Mrs. Myrtle Johnson of Cisco; and three grandchildren. Interment was in West End Cemetery at Stephenville. Friends and acquaintances extend sympathy to the bereaved.

Mr. Charlie Jones who resided at the former Hub Wolfe place passed away Tuesday of last week at the Hico Hospital. Funeral services were held at Comanche with burial at Gustine.

Today, Tuesday, we received the sad news that our brother, Printis

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By BILL McCUTCHEON

Frost and freezing weather will soon be widespread and with the change in weather, plant growth is affected. When the growth of all members of the sorghum family, including Johnsongrass, sudan, milo, forage sorghums and all hybrids is stopped by frost, they sometimes develop a high prussic acid content and a hazard to grazing livestock.

Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the prussic acid development. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how soon a veterinarian can get to it.

Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until the damaged plants are as dry as good quality hay or for at least a week after the frost. If it is ready to cut for hay before frost, it may be cut immediately provided adequate curing time is allowed. Silage made from frost damaged plants is safe as soon as the ensiling process is completed.

Young plants or second growth suckers are more likely to cause trouble than older plants nearing maturity. Too, the more luxuriant the growth, the more likely the plants will be dangerous if their growth is interrupted.

The fall and winter season is the time to check and decide whether replacement plants are needed in the home landscape. Maybe a rose bush has died or failed to live up to expectations or there is a gap in the shrub border where a new plant is needed. Was shade adequate in the outdoor living area?

Make a list of your landscape needs and be ready to take advantage of the selections offered early buyers by nursery and garden centers.

The natural inclination is to put off garden work until late spring when everything is greening up and the spring flowers are in bloom. Then suddenly comes the urge to plant trees and shrubs and a rush to the nursery for plants only to find picked-over stock remaining.

Balled or burlaped plants and those grown in containers can be transplanted any time of the year. Many of these deciduous plants, those that lose their leaves each fall, can be more easily handled or transplanted in a bare root condition. For best results, however, bare rooted plants should be set out in the late fall and winter from mid-November through February. Planting during this period gives ample time for good root development before spring growth begins.

For ease of maintenance and to reduce the amount of disease and insect damage, make sure that you select plants which are native or adapted to this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy White of Hamilton were Monday night visitors in the home of Mrs. Grace Bulman. Also visiting in the home Tuesday was Mrs. Golda Scott.

Miss Howard Taking Part in Workshop For Pre-School Children

These activities are being conducted in preparation for a demonstration at the Austin Pre-School Association Workshop to be held at All Saints Episcopal School in Austin.

The eight laboratory workers, all enrolled in home economics at the college, and Mrs. Doris Brown, director of the nursery school, will present the phase of the workshop entitled "What Children Like to Do With String, Wire and Rope."
