It's Later Than You Think-

Saturday is Deadline To Register to Vote

With so many issues at stake. can you afford to be without a voter registration certificate in 1970?

If you think you might want to vote for somebody-or against somebody-then don't let Saturday, January 31, get past without making the proper application. After that date it will be too late to have a voice in any issue that might arise during the year.

But if you don't want to take an active part in electing local, county, state and federal officials, then sit there on your complacent seat, and let "Joe" do it for you. Joe knows how you would have wanted it done. And the first time an elected official does something that isn't just exactly to your liking or way of thinking, then you don't really have the privilege of bad-mouthing the official. Because you didn't help elect

Voting and taking an active part in elections is indeed a privilege-but it is one that you must qualify for.

It once cost a buck seventyfive for the right to cast a ballot, but now the only consideration is a mere two or three minutes of your time.

In Hico it's as easy as "falling off a log" to register for your free vote. Five sub-stations here offers the convenience of registering without going to the county seat, and you don't even have to mail the form in. People at the sub-stations will see that they get to the proper source, and that you will in turn receive your registration certificate.

Registration forms may be filled out at the City Hall, Barrow-Rutledge, Hico News Review, Petsick Insurance, and Community Public Service.

At least two of the places-The News Review and Barrow-Rutledge-will be open all day Saturday to take your registration, and personnel will be available to help those who need it in completing the forms.

You have two more days, so tie a string around your finger as a reminder.

Grass Specialist Will Speak at Hamilton Young Farmer Meet

M. J. "Shorty" Norris, grass specialist at the Texas A&M Experiment Station at McGregor, will be speaker at the Young Farmer's meeting Monday night, Feb. 2 at 7 o'clock in the Hamilton High School Vocational Agriculture room according to Bomer Harris, program chairman for that date.

Norris will speak and give a color slide program on Kleingrass 75, TAM Wintergreen Hardingrass, and other grasses adapted to this area. He has worked and selected these grasses for the Central Texas area over a long period of time, and both grasses have proven to be adapted to Hamilton County.

The Hamilton Young Farmers invite all land owners and anyone interested in grasses to attend this meeting.

The Review Club met January 22 at the Homemaking Cottage with Mrs. O. C. Cook as hostess. A dessert plate was served.

After a brief business meeting, the members and guests reconvened in the school auditorium. There, Mrs. Johanson's homemaking students enacted an emotionpacked dramatization, "Our World -A Growing Heritage."

To prepare the audience, Barbara Baley emphasized the need to care for someone or something to the point of experiencing love. She challenged her listeners to love so greatly that one's love would affect the community, the nation, and even the world.

The curtain on the stage was then raised, revealing girls in various poses, with a ladder in the Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mayfield center. One girl (Sandra Patterson) holding a microphone, announced that now is the crucial be married June 19th in born Wednesday, Jan. 27, at 11:33 moment for people of youth, cour-Heights Baptist Church in a.m. in Hico City Hospital.
