MWJ Seeking To Re-Open Pecos Area

MWJ Producing Co. of Midland will attempt to re-open Glorieta oil production in the Abell, East field of Pecos County with the re-entry and plugging back to 3,100 feet at No. 3 C. O. Hobbs, formerly a Clearfork oil producer in the J. K. S. multipay field.

It was completed Jan. 24, 1972, by J. Keith Somerville of Midland, to pump 82 barrels of 39-gravity oil and 33 barrels of water daily, with gas-oil ratio of 550-1, through perforations at 3,918-3,922 feet.

Location is 1,960 feet from northwest and northeast lines of section 6, block 3, H&TC survey, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Imperial. Glorieta pay was opened in the field in 1961 at about 3,094 feet.

Winkler Oil Area Producer Finaled

The Pat Bishop (Queen sand) oil field of Winkler County gained its third producer and a location south extension with completion of Joseph I. O'Neill Jr., Midland, No. 2-A Sealy-Smith, 10 miles north of Monahans.

It finished to pump 19 barrels of 35-gravity oil and 133 barrels of water daily, with gas-oil ratio too small to measure. Production was through perforations at 3,155-3,214 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

Scheduled as a wildcard, it was drilled to 3,275 feet and plugged back to 3,269 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 3,272 feet.

Location is 1,960 feet from south and west lines of section 29, block A, G&MMB&A survey. It is a south offset to the firm's No. 1-A Sealy-Smith, which also was scheduled as a wildcard, but completed as a conformer to the lone Queen oil well in the field. No. 1-A also tested through Yates perforations at 2,510-2,540 feet, for completion attempt to re-open Yates gas pay in the field. Those perforations are now shut in.

Pecos Prospector Pumping Oil, Load

Exxon Corp. continued production tests in the Pennsylvania detrital at No. 1-1 South Howe Oil Unit, Pecos County wildcard, 17 miles southwest of Monahans.

Through perforations at 10,606-11,564 feet and a 20-64-inch choke, it flowed 24 hours, making 54 barrels of oil and five barrels of load water.

Stated as an 18,650-foot Devonian and Ellenburger gas wildcard, it was drilled to 19,133 feet and has been plugged back to 11,619 feet. It earlier tested perforations at 10,606-10,694 and 11,341-11,564 feet separately, with a bridge plug set at 10,814 feet.

Location is 8,700 feet from south and 1,320 feet from east lines of section 22, block 8, H&GN survey.

Completion Slated At Eddy Searcher

The Petroleum Corp. was waiting on cement after hanging a 3 1/2-inch liner from 10,507-11,802 feet, on total depth of 11,803 feet, for completion attempt at No. 1 Parkway West Unit, Eddy (Continued On Page 5B)

Operations In North Halted

Cease-Fire May Come This Week, Saigon Sources Say

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The United States suspended all offensive military operations in North Vietnam today amid increasing speculation that secret peace talks with the North Vietnamese may have resulted in an agreement on a cease-fire.

Nixon acted as reports in Saigon suggested that compromises have been reached on the issues that have been blocking a settlement. There was speculation that a full cease-fire might even be declared sometime this week.

Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., who has been President Nixon's intermediary with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, was en route to Saigon and expected to arrive early Tuesday.

South Vietnamese sources said Haig was carrying the revised draft of a peace agreement. Sources also indicated that the outlines of the agreement already have been conveyed to Thieu by Ellsworth Bunker, the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam.

Thieu, meanwhile, met with his National Security Council, his closest group of senior aides. Official sources said the meeting lasted eight hours, the longest the council has ever held.

An estimate that a cease-fire might occur "as early as this week" was reported by a CBS television correspondent in Saigon, Richard Wagner, who said it was obtained from "highly reliable palace sources in Saigon."

Well-informed sources in Saigon told The Associated Press that there was a possibility of a said Haig was carrying the re-

Four More Watergaters Plead Guilty

Continuance Of Trial Seriously Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four more of the Watergate political espionage defendants pleaded guilty today, leaving only two of the original seven defendants at trial.

The guilty plea was entered by a new court-appointed attorney of Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez, Frank A. Surgis and Virgilio R. Gonzalez, all from the Miami area.

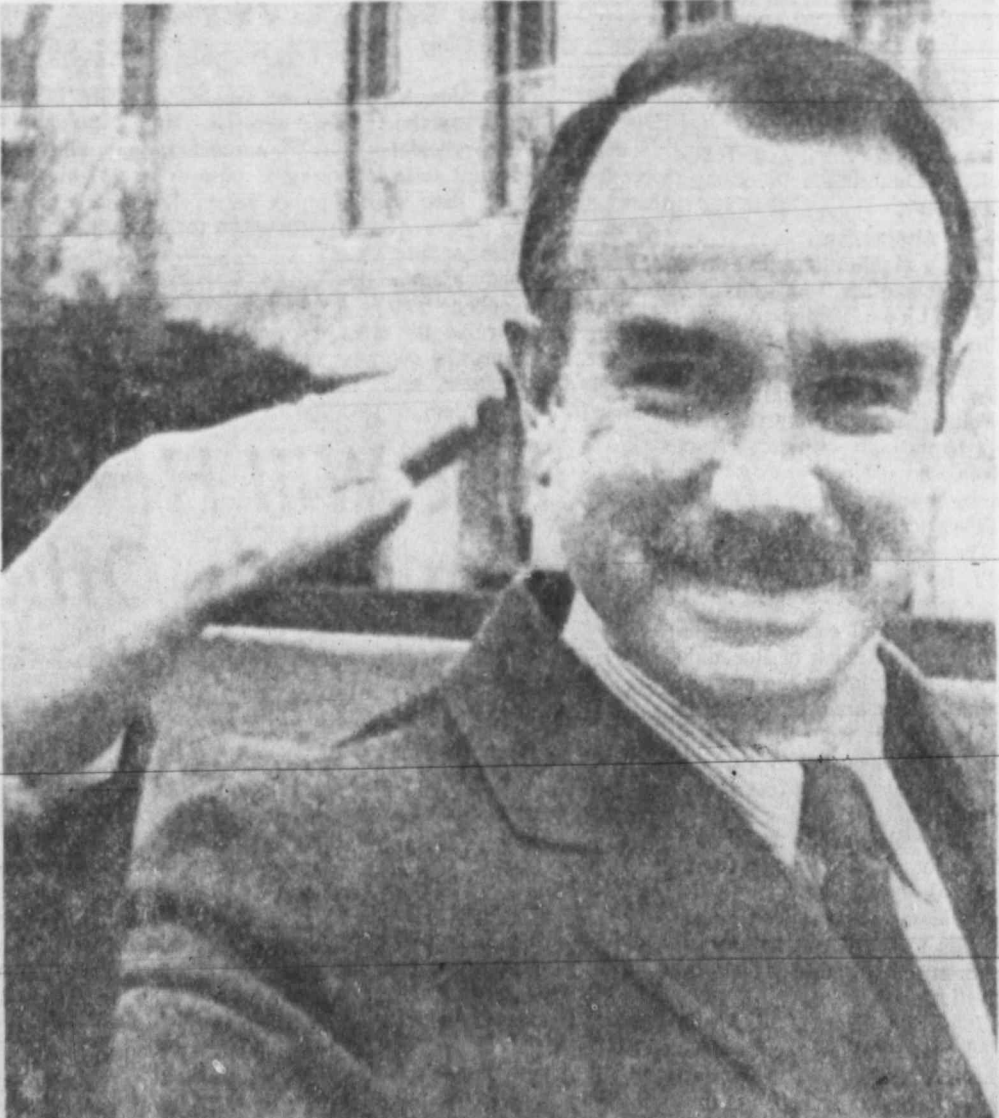

The plea brought to five the number of defendants who have withdrawn from the trial since it opened a week ago. Last Wednesday, former White House consultant E. Howard Hunt pleaded guilty to all four had been under intense pressure to plead guilty and avoid a full airing of the charges against them, stemming from the burglary of Democratic party headquarters here last summer. The withdrawal of five of the seven defendants makes it unlikely that the full evidence in the case will be made public, at least in this trial.

Before the guilty pleas were announced, U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica revealed that the Miamians had written a letter last Friday firing Rothblatt as their lawyer because of his refusal to change their plea to guilty. At their request, Sirica appointed New York lawyer Henry B. Rothblatt, who had represented the four through the first week of trial but had refused to have them plead guilty.

Lake Hunt, the four were required to plead guilty to all of the counts against them. All four were charged with seven counts of an eight-count indictment and face maximum possible prison sentences of 55 years each. All four have CIA backgrounds dating from the Cuban Bay of Pigs invasion. Sources close to the defense

Court Will Rule On Consolidation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to rule on the proposed consolidation of the mostly black schools in Richmond, Va., with two adjoining white suburban systems.

The review will begin this spring with a hearing. Appeals have been filed by Richmond school officials and the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

The controversial consolidation was ordered last year by U.S. Judge Robert H. Merhige Jr., but he was reversed later by the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond. Appeals from that decision had been pending before the justices since early October.

The same month the court heard argument in a major school case in Denver and there was some question that the justices would take on the Richmond dispute until the Denver case was settled.

Meanwhile, working its way to the high court is a Detroit school case. In its order granting review, the justices' sole comments

Talks Progress Prompts Nixon To Take Action

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—President Nixon ordered a halt today to all offensive military operations in North Vietnam "because of the progress made" in Paris peace talks, the Florida White House said.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's order took effect at 9 a.m. CST and includes "bombing, shelling and any further mining of North Vietnam."

Spring On Menu

Texas skies dawned mostly clear again today and promised mild temperatures in the afternoon for the third straight day.

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal forecast fair skies and slightly warmer temperatures today and Tuesday for the Permian Basin.

The high today should be near 70 degrees with temperatures on Tuesday climbing to the mid-70s. The low tonight in Midland will be in the mid-30s.

Sunday's top reading was 66 degrees. The overnight low was 50 degrees. The temperature at noon today was 60.

The fair skies near dawn were marred only by dense fog along the Coastal Plains and parts of Southeast Texas. But the soupy skies in these areas dissipated before noon.

Palacios, Beaumont-Port Arthur, Victoria, Corpus Christi and Brownsville were listed by the National Weather Service as having foggy skies before early Sunday morning dawn today. A few other South Texas points had some clouds, but the rest of the state was clear. The Associated Press reported.

Early temperatures generally were in the 30s and 40s. On Sunday, afternoon highs reached springlike levels. Maximums ranged from 59 at Corpus Christi and Amarillo up to 73 degrees at Del Rio.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies to continue in the state, with little change in temperatures.

AKINS PLEADS GUILTY—

Osorio Faces Trial Alone Now

A MARILLO (AP)—

The former executive vice president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. pleaded guilty today to one of four criminal counts stemming from the Texas stock fraud investigation.

Donald Akins entered his plea shortly before he and two other former NBL officers, John Osorio and Sam Stock, were scheduled for trial in the case.

Judge Halbert O. Woodward told Akins during the brief hearing in U.S. District Court he would delay sentencing until the end of this trial.

Since Stock previously entered a guilty plea in a federal court in Dallas, only Osorio will stand trial here.

The former Texas Insurance Commissioner is accused in a four-count federal indictment of misapplying money from the insurance company's pension fund.

Akins' guilty plea involved an alleged conspiracy to misapply funds of Dallas Bank and Trust Co. and embezzlement from the NBL pension program.

Stock's lawyer said his client previously pleaded guilty to filing a false annual report for the pension plan.

Senators Fight Bitterly For Places On Committees

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — When senators seek committee assignments, a lot of things are more important than a desire to shape national policy on the crucial issues of the day.

The amount of foreign travel, the number of staff positions and a senator's home-state interests often are of greater consideration.

An aide to Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., expressed disappointment that Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., had invoked seniority to take a spot on the Foreign Relations Committee that Brooke had wanted. But the aide's disappointment didn't stem from Griffin's support of Nixon administration policy on the Vietnam war, which Brooke opposes.

Rather, he said, "There's a lot of good travel there." There also would be some good exposure for Brooke, who has expressed interest in running for president.

When the chairmanship of the Space Committee, one of the Senate's least active panels, became vacant, Senate Democrats were thrown into a tizzy.

Sen. Lawton Chiles of Florida, a mere youth by Senate standards, offered to take it. Someone else wanted to abolish it.

Finally, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield prevailed on Sen. Frank E. Moss of Utah to accept the post.

One reason: Moss would then have to surrender the chairmanship of the minerals subcommittee of Interior, making it available for Mansfield's colleague, Sen. Lee Metcalf of Montana. That's a key post for a senator from a large copper-producing state.

When Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., returned to the Senate two years ago, he expressed an interest in the then-vacant chairmanship of the District of Columbia Committee.

Afraid that the staff allowance for a senator from Minnesota would be insufficient for a man of his stature, he was reportedly interested in the extra spots available to the D.C. chairman.

However, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, already on that panel, chose to take that job.

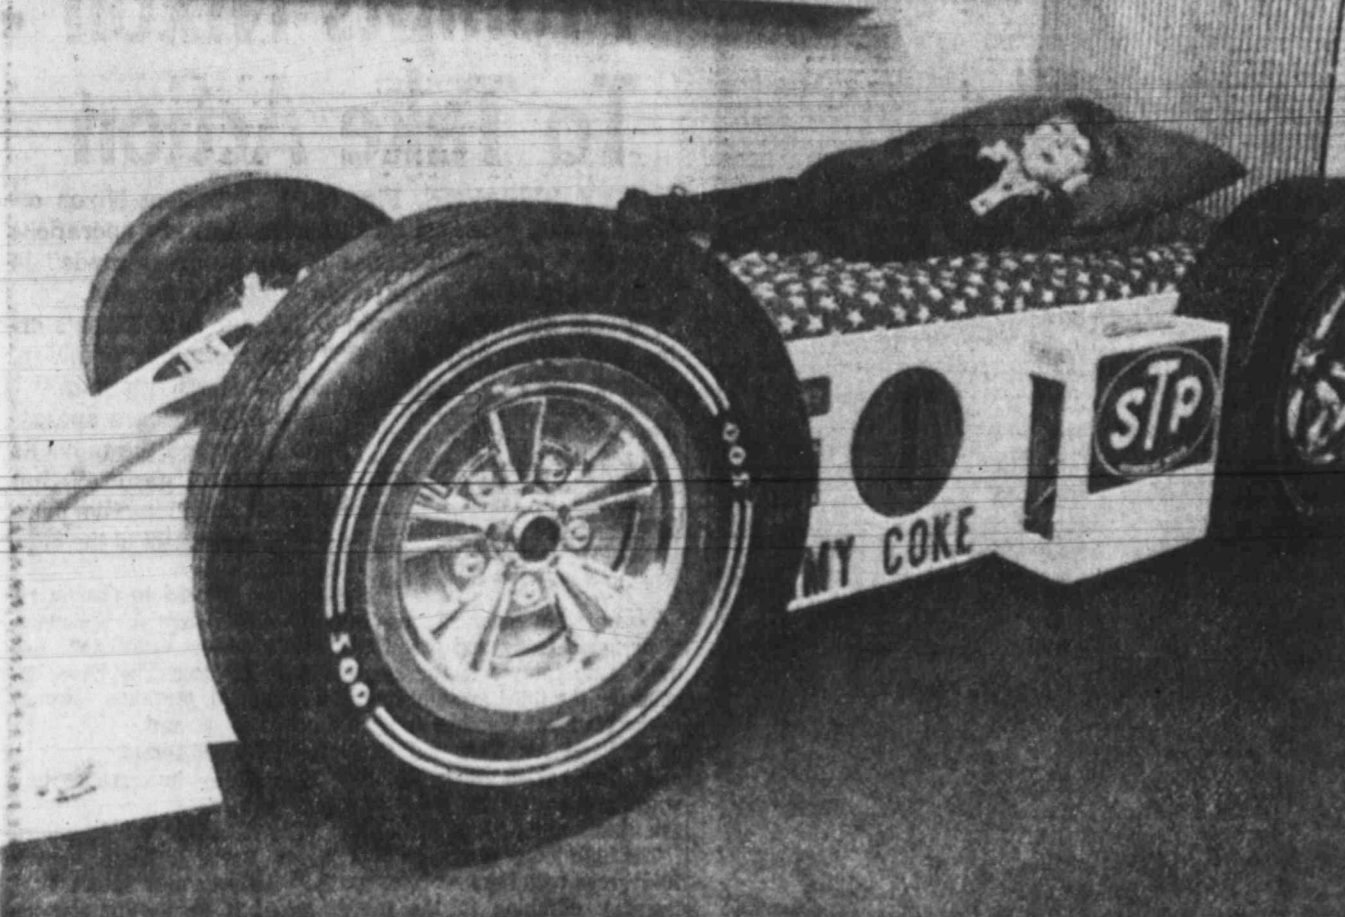

This year, Humphrey was involved in a flap when the Senate Democrats listed him above Sen. George McGovern in assignments to the Foreign Relations Committee.

McGovern complained, noting that Humphrey had lost seniority to him during his time in the vice-presidency. McGovern won.

At the same time, Sen. William Hathaway, D-Maine, protested his assignment to the Agriculture Committee. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., agreed to make a spot on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee available, if he could go to Commerce.

The result was that one Republican on Commerce had to go, unless an agreement was reached to expand that panel.

The unlucky man was Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., bumped because he was the low man in seniority.

IN NORTH VIETNAM— U.S. War Planes Halt All Bombing

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes and warships halted all offensive military operations in North Vietnam tonight, the U.S. Command announced.

Acting on orders from President Nixon, all bombing, shellings and mining of North Vietnam ended by 11 p.m. — 9 a.m., CST.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a White House spokesman said Nixon ordered the halt "because of the progress made" in Paris peace talks. The White House described the move as "a unilateral gesture" that followed an exhaustive assessment of the negotiations by President Nixon.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that mines already placed in North Vietnam's major ports including Haiphong "will remain in place" and be discussed in future Paris talks.

The U.S. Command, asked if reconnaissance missions would continue over North Vietnam, declined comment.

The decision on a bombing halt was announced after the U.S. Command issued its daily communique on bombing operations in Vietnam.

The communique reported that 10 B-52 missions, or 30 strikes, were flown in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam below the 19th parallel during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

This was the lowest number of B-52 missions in North Vietnam since the aerial blitz against Hanoi and Haiphong was launched Dec. 18. And, since the blitz was suspended Dec. 30, the northern limit of the U.S. air attack had been placed in North Vietnam's major ports including Haiphong.

The U.S. Command also said its fighter-bombers flew 100 strikes against North Vietnam from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. today. It said they destroyed 12 railroad and highway bridges between Thanh Hoa, just below the 20th parallel, and Dong Hoi, 45 miles above the demilitarized zone.

The command also reported that a Navy F4 was hit by anti-aircraft fire over North Vietnam Sunday afternoon. It said the two crewmen parachuted and were rescued about 25 miles southeast of Thanh Hoa.

U.S. sources acknowledged today that American planes bombed an area southwest of Hanoi early this month after the bombing halt above the 20th parallel but said it was part of an unsuccessful attempt to rescue a downed flier.

The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry charged at the time that U.S. planes bombed "many populated areas" in Hoa Binh Province, where the flier was downed. The U.S. Command denied that it had resumed bombing operations north of the 20th parallel but refused to discuss reconnaissance or rescue operations.

Heavy Raids

In South Vietnam, meanwhile, the U.S. Command reported more heavy B-52 raids 35 miles northwest of Saigon where a substantial buildup of North Vietnamese troops and supplies has been reported.

U.S. officials said nearly 50 of the big bombers dropped more than 1,200 tons of explosives along the Saigon River infiltration corridor. The strikes preceded a division-sized South Vietnamese operation which the Saigon command announced. There was no report of any major contact.

Just before midnight Sunday, Viet Cong gunners fired 10 122mm rockets at Da Nang Air Base, the Saigon command said. Seven of the shells hit the base, and three others landed in an adjoining village. The command said one Vietnamese civilian was killed and five were wounded. A twin-engine C-47 and four buildings were damaged, field reports said.

No U.S. casualties were reported.

The sources said the compromise would involve a "tacit understanding" on withdrawal in the peace treaty itself, with provisions spelling it out placed in an accompanying technical protocol.

CBS' Wagner said his sources reported "tacit recognition" by Hanoi of the Saigon government, acceptance by Hanoi of a "temporary military and political demarcation line in Vietnam at the 17th Parallel, and agreement on a larger control commission to supervise a cease-fire.

Queen, Husband To Visit Parents Of Anne's Intended

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip reportedly will visit the parents of Mark Phillips, the cavalry officer romantically linked with Princess Anne.

The Sun newspaper reported today that the royal couple probably will call at the Phillips' 16th century country home at Great Somerford in southwest England when they visit the Royal Air Force base at nearby Lyneham on June 15.

The Sun also reported rumors that the Queen had asked her 22-year-old daughter to wait a few months before announcing her engagement to the 24-year-old Phillips.

It is traditional for members of the royal family to go through periods of separation to test the strength of their feelings. Phillips last week left for a two-year tour of duty in West Germany with his regiment, the Queen's Dragoon Guards.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu was fully informed in advance about Nixon's decision, Ziegler added.

The President has dispatched Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., to Saigon to consult with Thieu about the Paris talks. Haig had a lengthy talk with Nixon and Kissinger prior to his departure.

Ziegler said Haig would "discuss the current status of negotiations with President Thieu" and with leaders of Thailand, Laos and Cambodia.

Haig made the same circuit just before Christmas, after the Paris talks were temporarily broken off and the United States launched the heaviest bombing raids of the war against Hanoi and Haiphong. The raids in that section of North Vietnam have been suspended while a renewed search for peace continued.

Corona Trial Resumes Today

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — With his trial on 25 charges of murder still in the hands of a jury, Juan V. Corona remains hospitalized today as he recuperates from an apparent heart attack.

The 38-year-old farm labor contractor was reported "very comfortable, without pain and feeling quite well" Sunday at the state medical facility in nearby Vacaville. He was hospitalized Friday night after complaining of chest pains.

Hereford School Damaged By Fire

HEREFORD, Tex. (AP) — Fire badly damaged part of the vocational training center at Hereford High School this morning, forcing dismissal of the school's 1,000 pupils.

No injuries were reported in the blaze, which firemen brought under control with seven fire-fighting units.

A school district spokesman said the fire was caused by a faulty water heater. Two rooms were heavily damaged in the vocational center while six other rooms had extensive smoke damage.

The fire broke out around 10 a.m. and school was dismissed for the day.

Texas Lottery Bill Proposed

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Jim Kaster of El Paso has submitted two legislative proposals authorizing the state of Texas to conduct lotteries, saying it would raise about $69 million for the state through 50-cent tickets and weekly drawings.

A constitutional amendment permitting a state lottery was formally introduced and referred to the House State Affairs Committee Friday.

Kaster also filed for future introduction—probably this week—a bill creating a Texas Lottery Commission to conduct the lottery.

Viable Alternative

"It's a viable alternative to a state income tax," he said.

Another proposed constitutional amendment, sponsored by Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez of Hidalgo, would require a referendum every 10 years on legislators' salaries, with voters given a choice among pay scales ranging from $4,500 to $15,500 per year.

The entire state constitution will be up for revision next year when the lawmakers sit as a constitutional convention.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale filed a bill delaying the start of a mandatory quarter system in public schools from the start of the 1973-74 school year to 1975-76.

Kaster filed a bill prohibiting the use of automobiles with cracked, sandblasted or holed windshields, and added windshields to the list of items covered on annual state vehicle inspections.

Rep. Don Cavness of Austin filed a bill allowing insurance companies to set their own rates for auto and home coverage and taking from the State Insurance Board the power to set such rates. His bill is basically the same as the competitive rating measure that was passed by the House dur-

"Health care, the common schools and the environment are surfacing as high priority concerns in the legislatures of nearly every state," said Glenny, director of the Center for Research and Development in Higher Education at the University of California in Berkeley, Calif.

College Will Have Trouble Getting Funds, Official Says

With universities no longer enjoying a high priority among legislators who control state and federal funds, Glenny predicted students, faced with paying for more of their education, will avoid two and four-year colleges.

"Students seem to be finding it cheaper for them to attend a proprietary institution for training in secretarial, data processing or other career skills," Glenny said.

"They prefer to go on an intensive basis for a year or less in such institutions than to go to the community college for two years and end up with less skills directly applicable to job entry."

"The degree itself may come to mean little, as a person acquires a series of lesser certificates which indicate his specific capability to conduct certain kinds of tasks," he said.

Duke University President Terry Sanford told the meeting private and public colleges should insist on increased federal funds because "the money is not available anywhere else."

But he added that colleges should oppose federal efforts to affect curricula or rules in exchange for financial support.

"At the same time that we insist that the federal government take on its fair share of that new support, we must resist any corresponding effort at increasing federal influence or direction in our policies and practices," Sanford said.

Blake Nominated UPC Moderator

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, former general secretary of the World Council of Churches, has been nominated moderator of the three-million-member United Presbyterian Church.

Blake, 66, of New Canaan, Conn., was nominated at a meeting here of the San Gabriel Presbytery. He has been a member of the presbytery since he was pastor of the Pasadena in 1966.

Blake — who has served as stated clerk, or chief executive, of the denomination — is regarded as the likely sentimental favorite for the one-year, honorary moderator position. Delegates to the church's General Assembly will vote on nominations for the post in May at Omaha, Neb.

Blake was elected general secretary of the world council in 1966.

Guerrillas Kill Three Officers In N. Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas killed three police officers in Northern Ireland Sunday night, climaxing two days of the heaviest bombing in the province in months.

At least eight bombs exploded, and British army experts defused two others. One blast wrecked a Belfast tavern frequented by Roman Catholics Saturday night and wounded 25 persons.

Two more bombs went off in the center of Belfast today, but the armed men who planted the bombs gave ample warning so that no one was hurt. One wrecked an auction room and the other a news stand.

The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army was blamed for most of the bombings, but Protestant extremists were believed responsible for at least two of them, including the Belfast tavern blast.

One policeman was killed by a mine that exploded under his truck on a lonely country road 25 miles west of Belfast. Another policeman with him was badly wounded. The army said the 100-pound mine was detonated by guerrillas hiding in bushes 200 yards away.

Two hours later, two other police officers were killed and two critically wounded when a 20-pound booby-trap bomb under their car exploded outside police headquarters in Londonderry.

The deaths raised the confirmed fatality toll in the province's 3 1/2 years of communal violence to 687, including 20 police officers.

The Provisional IRA command in Londonderry said the booby-trap bomb outside the police station was a warning to the provincial police "who rigorously uphold the British constitution and who play a large part in the torture of the internees."

Sniper Fire

Snipers peppered army posts in Catholics areas of Belfast but no casualties were reported. Troops arrested three men in the Catholic Ballymurphy quarter when they spotted them burying a rifle and 100 rounds of ammunition in a backyard.

The army had trouble from the Protestant militants of the Ulster Defense Association, too. Soldiers disarmed 40 masked UDA men armed with clubs in Belfast Saturday night. Late Sunday night, the army said, a group of UDA men jumped a police-army patrol in southeast Belfast and wounded one policeman.

Crop Earnings Up 7.7 Per Cent To $370.6 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher crop earnings increased the value of the nation's farming industry by 7.7 per cent last year to $370.6 billion as of Jan. 1, preliminary figures by the Agriculture Department show.

Even counting a further upward spiral in farm debt, totaling $70.1 billion at the beginning of this year, farmers in 1972 increased their equities in holdings to a record $298.2 billion, a boost of $25.9 billion last year.

The new figures were compiled by the Economic Research Service in USDA and were released to newsmen today as "only preliminary" estimates.

Livestock on farms as of Jan. 1 was valued at $29 billion, up 6.1 per cent from a year earlier, but crop inventories jumped 26.6 per cent to $15 billion.

Farm real estate showed a record jump in value of $22.8 billion from Jan. 1, 1972, an increase of 7.3 per cent. Total value of all farm real estate was put at $251.4 billion.

Farm debt at $70.1 billion on Jan. 1 was up 7.6 per cent or $3.2 billion from the start of 1972, according to USDA records. In 1971 debt rose a record for one year of $5.8 billion.

Dear Abby

Ex-Bunny Should Hop Back Into Her Wifely Role

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a former Playboy bunny. We've been married about a year. I realize that she met a lot of men while she worked as a cocktail waitress at the club—which is where I met her, but she still gets calls asking if she'll have a drink or dinner with them.

She asked me if I "minded" if she saw some of her old favorites. I really never thought it was right for her to go, but I said I didn't mind because I didn't want her to think I was jealous.

She goes out about once a week. Am I being a chump? If I took my secretary—or anyone else out, my wife would throw a fit.

Even though I said it was okay at the beginning, I've changed my mind. So how do I tell her now that I "mind" without looking like a jealous husband?

CHANGED MY MIND
DEAR CHANGED: What's wrong with looking like a jealous husband if that's what you are—and with good reason. Tell your former Playboy bunny that her cotton-tail past is behind her now, and it's time to a physician. In our community we have a medical group. I suppose you could call it a "clinic." I started going to a physician, there who was arrogant and generally unpleasant. I wanted to switch to another doctor but didn't know quite how to do it. My problem was solved, however, when he went on vacation and one of his colleagues treated me instead. The substitute physician was wonderful, so I kept booking him for my treatments. (I get an inoculation once a week.)

Yesterday at the clinic I ran into my first doctor, so I smiled and said, "Good morning."

He replied sharply, "Who's treating you? Whoever he is, he's doing a lousy job. You look like hell!"

Abby, I was so shocked I couldn't even respond. I just walked away.

Was this ethical? I mean, downgrading one of his own colleagues that way? How would you have handled it? Should I report him?

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN READER

DEAR READER: Probably just as you did. Either that doctor needs a doctor, or he needs some lessons in tact, self-control and manners. Yes, report this incident to the administrator of the clinic.

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly shut-in and have not attended a wedding in 16 years. I sent one couple a beautiful and expensive pair of pillow cases. I had them wrapped in ribbons and bows and thought it would make a lovely gift.

After going to all this trouble, a friend tells me that this is out-of-date today. Now they put out a large tray and everyone deposits money, starting at about $10. She said at the last wedding she attended, the bride couple took in over $2,000!

Abby, I was shocked. I had heard of giving money to family, but to every bride and bridegroom, I can't agree. Is this the new style now?

SHOCKED IN N. Y.

DEAR SHOCKED: I imagine it has been done, but wedding gifts are still very much in style. (Cash seems crass.)

Licenses For Car Pool

By BETTY CANARY
Newspaper Enterprise Association

I've often wondered why the state, which requires a chauffeur's license for truck and bus drivers, a separate test for snowmobilers and boaters, does nothing about special licenses for car pool mothers.

As an experienced driver, I am prepared to help the officials devise tests, including maneuvering in heavy traffic while eight kids beat 16 feet in unison, pound the seats with tennis racquets and render school cheers.

Car pool mothers undergo much tension and strain during their hours of service. Therefore, a psychological examination would be an excellent idea before they are allowed to begin work.

Sample questions to be included:

1. Would a boa constrictor wrapped around your left leg cause you to forget to activate your turn signals?
2. Would being hit in the back of the head with a jelly doughnut cause you to take your eyes from the road?
3. Would the sight of a coat sleeve flopping from under your front fender induce you to jump a traffic signal?

A rigid health examination would be in order before issuing a special license. A woman engaged in transporting children should not only have good reflexes, a quick eye, nerves of

Computer Code Catches Crooks

MIAMI (AP) — Lochard Gracely and his team of self-styled "paper policemen" catch crooks with a computer code.

How does GACHA work? For example, take the gold-tooth file, which was inspired by an 18-year-old girl who got a traffic ticket. The policeman who pulled her over noticed she had a gold front tooth. He remembered that a female robber who had helped hold up four Miami finance companies also had a gold front tooth and was at large.

It turned out to be the same tooth and the same girl, Gracely said, and the CIC staff started thinking seriously about denoting a picture of a criminal member that another bandit.

'Bighorn' Exciting Film

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — A beautifully photographed special about the endangered bighorn sheep of North America starts appearing this week on various television stations in major U.S. cities.

The sights alone might make you determined to do battle with the army of yahoos who mess up the wilderness each year with pop-top cans, transistor radios and all the other bilge of civilization.

For that reason, it might be safe to watch "Bighorn" for 15 minutes to get the drift of things, then turn off the sound and let the beauty of the animals and the Canadian Rockies sink in.

Denver is a guy who sings at Electric's Monogram series and the drop of a guitar pick, which features singer-composer John is okay in coffee houses and Denver, who has six albums recording studios. He also is a dedicated environmentalist, which is better.

But when he takes his guitar into the wilderness as part of a study of the proud bighorn sheep, he winds up making the sheep share the bill with his new album, "Rocky Mountain High."

A saving factor in the show is his guide, a former Vancouver policeman named Tommy Tompkins, who turned his back on big city life a number of years ago to take up life in the wilds.

Tompkins comes across as a quiet, knowledgeable man, the sort of bush guide who speaks low so as not to disturb the animals — or, for that matter, the beauty of the Rockies.

I wish he had done the entire show. He might have limited the musical accompaniment to the opening and closing parts and let us hear the sound of the Rockies the rest of the time.

There are parts when the music goes off and we hear the awe-inspiring sound of two bighorn sheep banging heads during the mating season. But moments like these are all too few.

The program covers all four seasons and primarily was filmed in Canada's Jasper National Park and in Wyoming. It's a good look, both at an en-

Woman Bullfighter, 63, Dies In Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled today for former Mexican bullfighter Maria Cruz Zapfen.

Mrs. Cruz, who was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, died Friday at Phoenix-Memorial Hospital. She was 63.

A former resident of both Nogales, Ariz., and Miami, Mrs. Cruz was Mexico's third woman bullfighter of the century.

Following mass at St. Anthony's Church, burial was to be at St. Francis Cemetery.

In 1931, Mrs. Cruz, then 23, was living in Miami, where her father was a shoemaker. She was accused by immigration authorities of swearing to a false statement in claiming to have been born in El Paso, Tex. Both she and her father were deported to Mexico.

For three decades she attempted to return to the United States, and to that end chose one of the world's most dangerous professions, if she became famous and wealthy, she believed, her chances of returning to the U.S. would be enhanced.

The slim torera, called "La Rubia" by her admirers, stepped into the bullring in Tereon, Mexico, a year after deportation and killed her first bull.

She soon was fighting two and three times a week. And unlike some women bullfighters, she refused to fight from horseback and often placed her own banderillas in the bull.

She retired in 1945, after 13 years in the ring.

"I quit for my mother's sake," Mrs. Cruz was once quoted. "All my brothers were overseas with the American forces, and she had enough to worry about."

Nixon Liked Game Despite His Team's Loss

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon says the Super Bowl was great, even though his favorite team lost.

"That was a fine game," Nixon was quoted as saying Sunday after Miami won the world professional football championship with a 14-7 victory over the Washington Redskins.

"The people of Washington and the people of Miami can both be proud of their teams," Nixon said. "They played well."

The chief executive watched the game on television with his close friend and neighbor, C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo, a Key Biscayne banker.

Aides said Nixon was expected to telephone the coaches of both teams today.

Parr Probers Meeting Today

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury was to meet today and Tuesday in what at present are the last two scheduled sessions involving an apparent investigation of South Texas political kingpin George Parr and others.

Although Parr evidently has not been a witness in the lengthy proceedings, court records indicate he is involved.

Dawson Receives Revenue Checks

LAMESA — The City of Lamesa and Dawson County recently received their second revenue sharing checks totaling $128,573.

The city received a check for $57,202 and the county received $71,371. Both checks were down slightly from the first amount which totaled $133,990.

Both city and county officials have expressed the opinion that local governments should not become dependent upon the federal funds. Consequently no new services have been planned for funding by the revenue sharing monies. However, when the first checks arrived, Mayor Lloyd Cline stated that the revenue sharing funds would postpone a city tax increase which would have been necessary to replace much of the city's aged and worn out equipment.

With the first revenue sharing check the city paid a $42,099 note on five new pickups, three tractors and three shredders which were purchased when the federal monies were assured. Money which would have otherwise been used to pay for the equipment was at that time designated to pay off the remaining note on fire department equipment.

The remaining $17,513 of the first check was designated for the purchase of five more new pickups and a small station wagon for various city departments. Foremost among future priorities for the revenue sharing funds is a new garbage collection system.

To date, the county has spent approximately $23,060 of its first $74,378 check on various projects. An estimated $5,028 was designated for payment of two new cars for the sheriff's department which were purchased recently. Some $17,687.89 was paid out of revenue sharing as the final payment for the courthouse remodeling which was completed recently.

Rap Brown Goes On Trial Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Black militant H. Rap Brown and three codefendants went on trial today on robbery, attempted murder and weapons charges stemming from a social club holdup on Manhattan's West Side.

After court delays and postponements for 13 months, jury selection began in State Supreme Court in Manhattan before Judge Arnold Fraiman.

Brown, 30, and three men from St. Louis have been charged with the attempted murder of five policemen in a shootout that followed the robbery Oct. 16, 1971 at a New York City lounge.

Three-Day Search For Horse Rider Is Called Off

SAN ANGELO — A three-day search for a missing horseman was called off Sunday by the Tom Green County sheriff's office.

Officers had been searching since Thursday for Leonard Sandgren who left San Angelo Tuesday to travel to Arizona by horseback.

Sandgren had been traveling across the U.S. from his home in Great Barrington, Mass. When he reached San Angelo by car he decided to continue his journey to Arizona by riding a horse.

A pack horse purchased Tuesday by Sandgren returned to the stable four hours later. Thursday afternoon the horse that Sandgren had been riding was found behind a restaurant near the stable.

Sheriff Odell Wagner concluded that Sandgren "is just not out there," referring to the North Concho Lake area where his deputies had been searching since Thursday.

Nationwide Rally Asked In Protest Of REA Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rural Electric Cooperative Association says it has called a nationwide rally of borrowers to protest Nixon administration changes in the loan setup in the Rural Electrification Administration.

Robert D. Partridge, executive vice president of the organization, says "key leaders from virtually every state" have been invited to the meeting Jan. 23-25.

The Agriculture Department announced this month that REA henceforth will use private investments to finance loans to electric and telephone borrowers. The agency, since it was formed in 1935, had been making direct loans from federal money.

Interest rates to REA customers also will go up to 5 per cent from a 2 per cent rate in effect since 1944.

"We have one immediate objective and that is to restore the direct loan program, which has served rural America and the entire nation so well," Partridge said in a statement. His organization represents more than 1,000 rural electric systems which use REA financing.

DWI Indictment Served In Case

One more of the 28 indictments returned by the Midland County Grand Jury last week has been served and 13 remain to be served. Mrs. Ava Lee Fultz of the sheriff's department said this morning.

The latest notice was given to Carlos Bueno Salinas, indicted in a felony driving while intoxicated case.

Perry D. Pickett, judge of the 142nd Judicial District, set Salinas' bond at $3,500.

The grand jury met Tuesday and Wednesday and returned the 28 indictments, two no-bills and passed six cases.

Antiwar Protesters Removed From U.S. Consulate In Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Forty young men and seven women protesting the Vietnam war occupied the U.S. Consulate for an hour and a half this morning before riot police led them to police vans.

A police spokesman said they would be charged with breach of the peace and probably would be released after questioning.

Indians Say They're Under Police 'Siege'

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — Indian leaders claimed today they are the victims of a vigilante assassination plot and that police have the group's headquarters here "under siege."

Police denied the charges, but confirmed that the building was being kept under close observation because weapons were seen there Sunday.

Dennis Banks, national field director for the American Indian Movement (AIM), said in a statement from Salt Lake City, Utah, that there is a wholesale attempt by Nebraska vigilantes to assassinate leaders of the movement in Scottsbluff.

"About 70 police and state troopers have sealed off the community action building," Banks said.

People Being Searched
He reported that people were being allowed to come and go but were being searched and required to identify themselves each time.

"This is developing into a very critical situation and I feel that we are going to have to meet force with force," Banks added.

Policeman Jim Gaspers confirmed that police were keeping an eye on the building.

"We have extra cars on duty but they're all on a routine patrol," Gaspers said. "There is no actual surveillance there but we are keeping a close watch on the place because of some kind of disorder."

Asked if the Indians could be inside the building, Gaspers replied: "Sure, we're not holding them."

The charges and denials came following the arrest Sunday of Russell Means, 38, the leader of the Porcupine, S.D., chapter of AIM. Means, a leader of the recent takeover by militant Indians of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington, said he was the victim of police brutality after his arrest early Sunday on charges of disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, intoxication and carrying for peace in Vietnam. Leaders from 18 countries also said they "deplore and regret" last month's bombing of Hanoi and the Canadian council of the United Auto Workers also condemned Nixon as a "20th-century barbarian" because of the bombing of North Vietnam.

They hung banners from consulate windows reading: "Nixon on war criminal," "Nixon sign peace now," and "Occupied." About 250 other Dutchmen gathered outside the building protesting President Nixon's Vietnam policies.

A spokesman said the invasion of the consulate was the first of a series of protests against U.S. participation in the war.

A consulate security officer said the only damage was broken glass in one door.

Two American officials and a Dutch employe were trapped in the building during the occupation. They were not molested.

Meanwhile, police in Bonn, Germany, clashed on Sunday with scores of demonstrators in what otherwise was a peaceful Vietnam protest by about 20,000 persons from all over the country.

No serious injuries were reported in the disturbance in front of Bonn's city hall, police said, but three persons were detained briefly.

Demonstrators returning to Frankfurt from Bonn smashed windows of American, Spanish and Israeli airline offices and several banks in downtown Frankfurt.

The Frankfurt organization of Chancellor Willy Brandt's Social Democratic party called another Vietnam demonstration this afternoon.

The conference of international Socialist leaders in Paris issued an appeal Sunday for peace in Vietnam. Leaders from 18 countries also said they "deplore and regret" last month's bombing of Hanoi and the Canadian council of the United Auto Workers also condemned Nixon as a "20th-century barbarian" because of the bombing of North Vietnam.

Police Chief Jim Teal said he could not verify Means' charges and told him to file a formal complaint. Means said he planned to do so when his lawyer arrived from Denver.

About 50 Indians were reported to be inside the building.

Mr., Mrs. Dyess
To Speak Here

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dyess of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be special guests Tuesday night at a fellowship meeting of the Midland chapter, Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International.

The 8 p.m. event will be at Regal 8 Inn on West Wall St.

Mr. Dyess, who attended public schools in Lubbock and later attended Texas Tech University, is a Methodist evangelist. His wife Joyce, a graduate in music from McMurry College, has been a teacher and guidance counselor. The couple will present several musical numbers at the Tuesday night meeting, to which the public is invited.

Welfare Reform Due Only Minor Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare reform, a thorny issue on Capitol Hill during President Nixon's first term, is slated to get only minor attention in the 93rd Congress.

While President Nixon may submit some new welfare proposals this year, tentative schedules of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees leave little time for a major attempt to change the system.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Finance Committee chairman, said in an interview he hoped to approve some relatively minor legislation on welfare early in the session.

But any big bill would have to originate in the House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., succeeded in getting that chamber to pass Nixon's welfare-reform plan in the last two Congresses, but each time the Senate killed it.

This year Mills has indicated he will have his hands full with tax reform, reciprocal trade, national health care, and reform of private pension plans.

Mills has said also he sees little to be gained from another battle over welfare reform in view of the frustrating results of his two previous efforts.

Administration officials say, meanwhile, their new welfare proposals probably will contain some of the features of Nixon's Family Assistance Plan (FAP) first submitted in 1969.

The two principal provisions of FAP are a guaranteed annual income of $2,400 for a family of four and benefits for the working poor.

The Finance Committee has six new members in this Congress, but its conservative-liberal balance is the same.

New Findings Show Nonsmokers Hurt Too

CHICAGO (AP) — There are additional findings that somebody else's smoking may be hazardous to your health. A physician writing in the Jan. 15 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association deals with the possibility in response to a question from another physician.

Dr. Donald A. Dukelow of the AMA's department of education was asked:

Support For Concern — "Is there evidence to support recent claims that a nonsmoker with an all-day exposure to a smoke-filled room inhales as much smoke as though he himself had smoked a pack of cigarettes?"

Dukelow told the inquirer his "concern about the hazard of exposure to a smoke-filled room is supported" and cited several studies of the effects of cigarette smoke on nonsmokers.

One study cited found that smoking cigarettes in a closed room soon makes the concentration of nicotine and dust particles so high that the nonsmoker inhales as much harmful tobacco byproducts as a smoker inhales from four or five cigarettes.

Another study found that smokers' children are ill more frequently than nonsmokers' children, usually because of respiratory disease; another showed that "the smoking environment's effect upon the children in an environment is similar to the cigarette smoke's effect upon the smoker on a reduced scale."

Another found: "Smoke from an idling cigarette contains almost twice the tar and nicotine of smoke inhaled while puffing on a cigarette."

Dukelow concluded: "It is becoming increasingly apparent that the nonsmoker who must be present in the traditional 'smoke-filled room' characteristic of many conferences and social gatherings has an exposure to tobacco by-products quite similar to the exposure of the smoker."

Pope Quickly Scotches Rumor Of Change In Mideast Stand

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Tradition of soft-spoken diplomacy. Pope Paul VI received Golda Meir in the first visit of an Israeli premier to the Vatican today, but he made clear the Vatican stand on the Middle East, Palestinian refugees and the Holy Land is unchanged.

Mrs. Meir and Pope Paul conferred for about an hour in Holy See's private library.

While they were meeting, a high-ranking Israeli official in man Federico Alessandrini said, "I make you note that it is not a gesture of preference or an exclusive one."

The audience was granted on a request by Mrs. Golda Meir who took the opportunity of her trip to Paris and it has not been the subject of previous conversations or planning.

The Israeli official who arrived unexpectedly was Meir Mendez, deputy director general of Israel's Ministry of Religious Affairs. He declined to discuss with newsmen the purpose of his visit to Rome. He described it as private.

Vatican sources said the discussions between the Pope and Mrs. Meir centered on the Middle East as well as the status of Jerusalem. The informants also said the Vatican may have decided to play a role in the search for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

The Pope has maintained strict neutrality between Israel and its neighbors, and some quarters view the Vatican as a possible behind-the-scenes mediator. The Italian government put up a heavy security screen for Mrs. Meir's visit to ward off attacks by Palestinian terrorists. About 500 armed police ringed Fiumicino airport for her arrival from Paris Sunday night, and the plane stopped on a remote section of a runway a mile and a half from the terminal.

Extra guards were detailed to the premier's quarters, the Israeli Embassy, the synagogue and other Israeli offices.

Mrs. Meir's schedule also included talks with President Giovanni Leone and Premier Giulio Andreotti.

Western Nations Present Security Meet Agenda Draft

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Western nations taking part in the preparations for a European security conference presented today their draft for an agenda.

Delegates from 34 nations, including the United States, resumed the preparatory negotiations and there were predictions they would last a month or more.

The draft agenda, officially coming from the nine states of the enlarged European Common Market but also accepted by members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, included all three major points presented earlier by the Western states: military security, economic and environmental contacts and human contact.

The Western draft was presented by Belgium, concentrating on the economic proposal; Italy on security, and Denmark on human contacts.

Soviet Ambassador Viktor Maltsev did not comment on the Western draft.

On security, the Western countries proposed the creation of two subcommittees: one studying the principles guiding the relations between the nations and the other studying appropriate measures, including military ones, for building confidence among the participating states.

Exchanges Proposed — On economic and environmental questions, the West proposes studies on the development of commercial exchanges, on industrial cooperation including the resources of energy and raw materials, on other areas of economic cooperation and environmental questions.

The most crucial question of these preparatory talks is the East-West dispute on human contacts, meaning increased freedom to travel and the exchange of ideas and information between East and West.

The West laid out a principle that "different social systems should not prevent states benefiting by mutual contacts."

Diplomatic sources here said it might still be some time before the Eastern countries are ready to give their final response to the Western draft.

The United States and the other Western nations want to give priority to human contacts.

Moore of Clovis, N.M.; three sisters, Mrs. Nellie Rayford of Abilene, Mrs. E. V. Epperson and Mrs. Rene McFarlin, both of Tyler; a brother, Roy Huddle of Tyler; seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Childers, San Angelo, Dies

BIG SPRING — Mrs. Willie L. Childers of San Angelo, 56, formerly of Big Spring, died Sunday at San Angelo after a long illness.

Mrs. Childers was born Sept. 20, 1916, at Mason. She attended public schools at Coahoma and Lubbock before graduating from Brady High School. She married Jack T. Childers in 1935 at San Antonio.

Mrs. Childers had been employed in the medical records department of Medical Center Memorial Hospital here 14 years. She retired Nov. 16, 1971 and moved to San Angelo.

She was a member of the Coahoma First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a brother, Ray Massey of El Cajon, Calif.

By BRUCE LOWITT
LOS ANGELES (AP) —

"Welcome to the Super Bowl Fish Fry," said the bedsheet banner in the massive Memorial-Coliseum. However, it was the Washington Redskins who got neatly sauteed by pro football's unbeatable underdogs, the Miami Dolphins.

"Washington's Championship Menu: Filet of Dolphin," said another homemade paean to Coach George Allen's Over-The Hill Gang. However, it was Miami quarterback Bob Griese who feasted on the tasty gaps in the Redskins' defense.

It was bullish Larry Csonka who gobbled up the Coliseum turf. It was Manny Fernandez who chewed up the Washington quarter game. It was Jake Scott who speared the Redskin aerial attack like a hungry interloper amid trays of hors d'ouvres.

And when the banquet was over on Sunday, the Miami Dolphins, with a victory in Super Bowl VII far more convincing than the final 14-7 score, had become the National Football League's first team to munch their way through an entire season without so much as a tie to blemish their record.

With the American Conference's top offense and equally supreme defense, they had barreled through the year with a 14-0 record. Then, in a pair of come-from-behind efforts, they'd nudged past Cleveland 20-14 and Pittsburgh 21-17 for the AFC title.

And finally, as underdogs of anywhere from one to three points, they marched into Super Bowl VII, silently determined to shove into the background their 24-3 humiliation at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys in the championship game of a year ago.

They didn't just push it into the background. They obliterated it.

"I don't know what I'm gonna tell these guys in training camp," Coach Don Shula said in the jubilant Miami locker room, "except maybe, 'we got-ta win the College All-Star Game."

"There was always the empty feeling of not having accomplished the ultimate," said Shula, who twice had taken teams into the Super Bowl and twice had come away a loser. "This is the ultimate."

The Dolphins had come with one busted field goal attempt in the waning minutes of becoming the first shutout victor in the Super Bowl.

And, with their 17-0 record, they moved within one victory of the Chicago Bears' twice-achieved record for the NFL's longest winning streak.

The scoring statistics are simple: A 28-yard Griese-to-Howard Twilley touchdown pass with one second to go in the first quarter and a one-yard Jim Kick plunged with 18 to go in the second. But that hardly tells much of a story.

Washington's scoring is a bit more complicated—and it tells an important story. It was the defense, helped by a frenzy of

Crampton's 20-Foot Putt Wins Phoenix

By BOB GREEN

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "There is no substitute for victory," Australian veteran Bruce Crampton said after his dramatic triumph in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

"I really don't feel I deserve to win," he said, almost apologetically, after sinking a 20-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole to break a multi-man tie for the top spot in the second tournament of the year on the pro tour.

"I made a lot of mistakes," he continued, "I feel there are a whole lot of times I've played better and didn't win. Several times last year, in fact."

Crampton, 37 and now in his 17th season on the pro tour, failed to win last year but still collected over $100,000—much of it off second place finishes in both the U.S. Open and Masters.

"You can't advertise second place," the stocky man with the curly hair said after his 11th tour triumph. "You could finish second every week out there and make a lot of money but deep down inside you would still be trying to achieve victory."

DEFT THEFT TURNS TIDE—West Whips Pistol Pete

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One thing about Jerry West. He never acts his age. Another thing: The Los Angeles Lakers are mighty glad of it.

"I don't see West slowing down one bit," says Herm Gilliam of the Atlanta Hawks. "There's no sign at all that he is."

Gilliam got to see the Lakers' "old man" first-hand Sunday and the 34-year-old West looked as good as ever in leading a 102-100 National Basketball Association victory over the Hawks.

West took the momentum away from Atlanta in the waning minutes when he stole the ball from Pete Maravich. West later got a basket on a goal-tending call to break-it open.

"I try to contribute what I can," said West. "Maravich has a tendency to put the ball out front. I just happened to reach for it at the right time."

In the other NBA games, the Milwaukee Bucks beat the Chicago Bulls 100-95; the Baltimore Bullets dropped the Phoenix Suns 95-94 and the New York Knicks tripped the Seattle SuperSonics 86-84.

In the American Basketball Association, the Carolina Cougars turned back the Memphis Tams 104-100 and the Kentucky Colonels nipped the San Diego Conquistadors 100-97.

Saturday's results in the NBA included: Boston 111, Philadelphia 95; Cleveland 123, Houston 115 and Phoenix 116, Golden State 110.

'THUMB NOSE' AT NATIONAL ANTHEM--

E. Michigan 'Commies' Booted

By BERT ROSENTHAL
UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP)—The scene had overtones of the 1972 Olympic Games at Munich when U.S. track medal winners Vince Matthews and Wayne Collett did not stand at attention during the playing of the National Anthem at the medals ceremony.

slouched on the floor, disdaining the flag. "I don't know what they were doing, but they weren't protesting," insisted Eastern Michigan Coach Bob Parks.

The crowd of 8,551 did not agree with Parks' interpretation, nor with the athletes' stand—or lack of it—and booed them lustily.

Even some athletes who had competed earlier and had taken seats in the stands, disagreed with the apparent protest by the Eastern Michigan runners.

"Get those Commies out of here," shouted a group of athletes. The Games Committee did not take kindly to the action by the Eastern Michigan athletes, and disqualified them from the relay. One meet official said that the timers and judges had agreed to walk off the track if the Eastern Michigan team was permitted to compete. "They should not have been thrown out," said Parks.

This time, it was not international competition, but the Knights of Columbus Indoor Meet at the Nassau Coliseum. The athletes were not Olympians, but from Eastern Michigan, and the incident did not occur at an awards ceremony, but during the playing of the Anthem, prior to the mile race—one of the late events on Saturday night's program.

The Eastern Michigan mile relay team, scheduled to run in the final event, was gathered in the infield of the track as the Star Spangled Banner was being sung. Instead of standing, some members of the group which included three blacks—Carlos Woods, Willie Sims and Stan Vinson—and one white—Mark Timmons—remained Hat's Off To Jaycees!

"We Believe: That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise; That government should be of laws rather than of men; That earth's great treasure lies in human personality; And that service to humanity is the best work of life."

This is the Jaycee Creed . . . a statement which gives real meaning to the Jaycee movement and which inspires Jaycees on to greater and greater accomplishments.

Midland Jaycees live by their organization's creed as they strive continually to discover and train individual leadership through community betterment.

The result of their efforts in this regard is tremendous. Many of the city's top leaders today received their training as Jaycees. And when one recounts the achievements of Midland Jaycees through the years—all leading to community betterment—it is a fantastic revelation. It goes without saying that the Tall City stands much taller today as a result of the work and accomplishments of Midland Jaycees during the last 32 years.

Midland Jaycees are not afraid to tackle a project or program which needs attention. And neither are they afraid of work. They never have been. This is what makes their organization great.

Jaycees get the job done . . . and their fellow Midlanders are glad that they do. Back in 1940, when the Jaycee movement came into being here, sponsors said, "Let us do the leg work in civic affairs." They still are doing just that.

And what better time to let the dynamic Jaycees know how much they are appreciated by a grateful community than right now . . . during National Jaycee Week!

Thanks, congratulations and all best wishes are directed to the Midland Jaycees on this, their own very special, meaningful week.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: More information revealed on Watergate case. WASHINGTON—We now can shed more light on the backstage efforts to persuade the Watergate defendants to plead guilty and save the White House the embarrassment of a public trial.

On Dec. 26, we reported that the Justice Department discreetly had sounded out some of the defendants about entering guilty pleas. The prosecutors were cautious in their conversations with defense lawyers. But more direct messages were relayed through E. Howard Hunt, the former White House aide and CIA veteran.

At first, the defendants held out for a softening of the charges. The five who were caught inside Democratic headquarters, for example, wanted the break-in charge reduced to illegal entry. This would have made their offense a simple misdemeanor.

Any cutting back of the charges, however, would have looked like a fix. So instead, the mystery men behind the scenes used pressure and persuasion. They also alternately stopped and resumed the cash payments that had been promised to the defendants.

In return, the defendants hinted they might make some embarrassing revelations if they were abandoned. Some indicated they might write books about their experiences, telling all.

Hunt agreed to plead guilty, apparently with a tacit understanding that he wouldn't have to spend too long in jail. He urged the other defendants privately to follow his example. CIA Visitors

Some of the defendants, who had been involved with Hunt in the Bay of Pigs operation, also received private visits from some of their former CIA comrades. The visitors brought expensive money and also offered to make regular payments to the defendants' families. A $1,000-a-month figure was mentioned.

Our sources could not, or would not, identify the men behind the scenes. We can report only that most of the money for the defendants was funneled through Hunt. He delivered part of the cash to Bernard Barker, who distributed it to the men he had recruited for the Watergate misadventure. Hunt's wife was carrying $10,000 in cash when she was killed in a Chicago airliner crash.

Footnote: At the outset of the trial, the prosecutors made a remarkable agreement not to introduce the most damning evidence the FBI had dug up. This was a detailed diary that one of the defendants, Eugenio Martinez, had kept. As a minor functionary for the CIA, he was required by the CIA to keep a record of his activities. Those who have had access to the diary, however, tell us Martinez in true CIA fashion, used code names to identify all his contacts and associates. Nevertheless, the diary provides an excellent record of the espionage operation at the Watergate. PENTAGON PIPELINE

PENTAGON CENSORSHIP—The Pentagon has acknowledged that orders went out on Dec. 30 to all personnel, civilian and military alike, to keep their mouths shut about military ac-boost morale, the Army Materiel Command recently held a contest to name its new national headquarters. More than 524 names were suggested, and the AMC's official Contest Committee to Name the New Building solemnly studied the offerings. At last, Maj. Gen. Charles T. Horner, the AMC chief of staff, announced with pride: "The name of the new AMC building is the AMC BUILDING." The lucky winner, Francis Sikorski, received $100 in appropriated monies for his shrewd suggestion.

He may have gained crushing re-election by behaving in a "presidential manner" in the foreign field he loves so much. Yet, against a rival who struck U.S. voters as "presidential" in no way, the President's triumph may have been deceptively easy.

True, he won't be standing for election again, and won't have to take any personal heat if he, too, fails to deliver on the home front.

But we are not today in a time of foreign crisis such as marked Harry Truman's regime and is persuading many to overlook Truman's serious domestic failures. We have a more balanced mix of problems, and Americans unmistakably want some kind of real movement at home.

Thus Mr. Nixon may risk more than some observers think if he does not apply strong influence in such areas as welfare and tax reform. Why? For one thing, historians surely will see that the mix is different, and judge Mr. Nixon across the board. For a second, the President owes allegiance to the "system," not just to his image in history.

The time may not be right

BRUCE BLOSSAT—Signs Of Fresh Hope Not Visible In Washington

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A kind of dismal pall hangs over this capital as a new Congress gets to work and President Nixon prepares for his second term. January, symbolically, is the month of fresh hope. Yet the signs of it are not visible.

Even the renewed prospect of a Vietnam war settlement doesn't help much. It has been anticipated for so long that, when it finally comes, we will very likely find that it gives us very little lift at all.

Liberals who have argued for years that Vietnam stood in the way of virtually all home front progress will be placed, uncomfortably in the bright glare.

Over-promisers without equal, they will be stripped of all excuse and asked to deliver. But deliver what?

The massive health care program the nation seems so badly in need of? Sen. Edward Kennedy, a chief proponent of such a program, sees no hope for passage by Congress this year, though he has been actively trying to build pressure for it for at least two years.

The rebuilding of the cities? Here the gibbers of the liberals has really entrapped them. The phrase rolls easily off the tongues of the romantists. But the fact is they don't have the vaguest idea how to accomplish the task.

Even a superficial tour of half a dozen of our largest cities is quickly sobering. Housing is deteriorating. Streets are pocked. Ordinary services are performed erratically at best. The response to crime has been to convert many homes, apartments, stores and other living and working places into minor fortresses under constant guard.

Rebuilding the cities, in body and spirit, looks like the task of a half a century rather than half a presidential term, as Sen. George McGovern appeared to be suggesting in his campaign. But if the liberals' barrenness of fresh thought is near to being exposed in early 1973, what about Richard Nixon?

But you're thinking in terms of today's $600. How many 20-year-from-now dollars does that equal?

Well, the people in charge of such things are talking about getting inflation down to around 3 per cent. Some economists believe more inflation, rather than less, may be in the cards the next two or three years—but let's assume an average of 3 per cent.

Does that give you the figures for an easy answer to our question—3 per cent times 20 years equals a 60 per cent increase in the cost of things.

Sorry, no. Although a 60 per cent price rise sounds scary enough, it's even worse than that, because yearly inflation results in a compounded increase. Just as your money earns compounded interest in a savings account, so it loses value at a compounded rate through inflation.

At 3 per cent, an item costing $100 today would cost $103 next year, $106.09 in two years, $109.27 in three years—and in 20 years, not $160 (a 60 per cent increase), but $180.61.

So the bad news is that, given 3 per cent inflation, the style of living covered by $600 a month in 1973 would require $1,084 a month, 20 years from today. The other insidious feature of inflation is that twice as much inflation is not merely twice as bad, but more than twice as bad. You might guess that if 3

Dear Editor: I see where some federaleptic judges get disturbed when the kids in a school are almost all one color, so they command taxpayers to buy and operate vast fleets of buses to alter pupil color or schemes to suit judicratic whims.

Next orders to come out may outlaw one-color families, or one-color individuals.

But it would be cheaper and handier if people were led to live, work and go to school wherever it is most convenient, and use paint guns to make each of us black, white or polka dot, as necessary to suit the color-conscious judges.

PERSONAL FINANCE—Here's How Inflation Gnaws At Today's Money

By CARLTON SMITH NEW YORK (NEA) — Effective financial planning, for the family or individual, requires some understanding of the mathematics of inflation.

Today's dollar is not tomorrow's dollar. Fail to take that into account when you buy insurance, set your savings or investment goals, or make any decision concerning future dollars, and you're simply feeding wrong numbers into your calculations, and getting wrong answers.

Having to live with those wrong answers can be inconvenient, to say the least. Let's say you devote a good deal of thought to the matter of retirement income and conclude that $600 a month would be the minimum you'd need. That is, your circumstances 20 years from now should be such that if you suddenly found yourself in them today, you could get along—just on—$600 a month.

Well, the people in charge of such things are talking about getting inflation down to around 3 per cent. Some economists believe more inflation, rather than less, may be in the cards the next two or three years—but let's assume an average of 3 per cent.

Does that give you the figures for an easy answer to our question—3 per cent times 20 years equals a 60 per cent increase in the cost of things.

Government To Check For Drugs In Urine Of Grade School Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration wants to look for traces of drugs in the urine of high school and grade school students.

Elvis' Special Beamed Around World On Sunday

HONOLULU (AP) — Elvis Presley, moving from strenuous rock 'n' roll hits to tender ballads and back again, was beamed into millions of homes during a concert telecast via satellite to 36 countries around the world.

King's Birthday Marked By Many

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Observances today marking the birthday of the late Martin Luther King Jr. include a variety of memorial services and public school closings in a number of cities around the country.

Both city schools and city hall offices were closed today in Atlanta, Ga., where Mayor Sam Massell declared the day a legal holiday.

School closings also were scheduled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Seattle, Kansas City, Buffalo, N.Y., Newark, N.J., Oakland, Calif., Hartford, Conn., and a number of smaller cities.

King, who would have been 44 today, was assassinated in April 1968 in Memphis, Tenn. Today in Atlanta his widow, Coretta Scott King, will place a wreath on his crypt.

Then she will attend memorial services at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, which King headed. Speakers include King's father, Martin Luther King Sr., and his son, Martin Luther King III.

Today's observances, Mrs. King said, were "to involve people meaningfully in the celebration of my husband's life and the perpetuation of his work and teachings."

In New York, Mayor John V. Lindsay attended a memorial breakfast sponsored by various business leaders and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King founded.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, a former aide of King and now head of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) was to address a meeting of the all-black Baptist Ministers Conference of Greater New York.

Widespread business closings were expected in the Harlem section of New York.

City offices in Newark were closed with the schools. Memorial events include a Youth Day sponsored by Kawaida but the child refuses, the student will be put in a "peer-group discussion" to explain his refusal to his fellow students, Alston said. If he still refuses "we let him alone," he added.

Alston said the test school, Frederick Douglass Intermediate School, has 1,700 pupils, and that parents of 1,000 already have agreed to testing.

He said he believes the school itself is relatively free of drug addicts. Alston said the program is intended to find and treat pupils who are experimenting with drugs before they can become addicted.

Critics of the screening program say drug users won't volunteer for tests that will reveal their secret, and that compulsory testing would be regarded by the public as an invasion of privacy.

By RAY DE CRANE — CLEVELAND (NEA) — They have 80 million potential customers, but the income tax preparer companies have serious misgivings about the outlook for the upcoming tax filing season.

Internal Revenue Service cracked down hard on the fly-by-night operators in 1972 and threatens to be even more vigilant in 1973. The good companies suffer along with the bad in this type of atmosphere.

H. & R. Block, whose very name is synonymous with income tax, has seen the value of its stock drop almost 60 percent from its high mark in 1972.

In a nationwide spot check of returns prepared by private firms this year, IRS complained that fully 50 percent of the returns were completed in an "unacceptable" manner.

The IRS complaint was not that the work was careless or inaccurate, but that deliberate cheating seemed to be involved.

IRS Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters said the returns checked showed the private preparers had shaded the tax by an average of $235 a return.

Commissioner Walters feels that it is partly IRS' fault that the tax preparation business has mushroomed so in recent years. Chiefly because the forms and instructions have been so confusing that individuals feel they can't do the job themselves.

More than half of all returns filed last year were prepared by someone other than the taxpayer.

At an average cost of $16 per return, IRS determined, the 40 million returns so prepared made this a $640 million business.

The fees paid are tax deductible. That's another reason for Walters' concern. IRS missed out on the tax that otherwise would have been paid on that $640 million.

This year IRS is determined

Committee Formed To Support B52 Pilot

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A committee is being organized here to protect the interests of Capt. Michael J. Heck, the B52 commander who has refused to fly further bombing missions over North Vietnam, a spokesman says.

Burton Jones, operator of a San Diego County theater chain, said on Sunday that the committee had sent a cable to Heck at his air base in Thailand offering to obtain and pay for "the best civilian counsel" obtainable.

Heck, 30, of nearby Chula Vista, had flown 175 combat missions. After his last mission Christmas Eve, Heck submitted his resignation and said he would seek noncombat status as a conscientious objector.

The commander's mother, Mrs. John Heck of Chula Vista, said she had talked with her son Saturday by telephone and he expressed appreciation when she told him of the committee's efforts.

Mrs. Heck said her son told her he still hopes the Air Force will accept his resignation but there was no new information on his case.

She also said the Military Defense Committee in Washington had offered its legal services and that a committee attorney was flying from Japan to see Heck.

Northeast Texas Touted In Paper

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Economic growth here and in the surrounding Northeast Texas area was spurred in 1972 by a balanced program of development of new and expanded industries, according to the Longview Morning Journal's 38th annual East Texas Industrial Progress Edition.

The 242-page Sunday supplement said 1972 was Longview's best year of development on the basis of expanded industry. Building permits totalled $19 million, second best in history.

Troop Strength Drops To 23,800

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troop strength in Vietnam dropped 200 men to a total of 23,800 last week, the same level as in January 1965, the U.S. Command reported today.

The total does not include about 100,000 U.S. servicemen involved in the war effort on ships of the 7th Fleet and at bases in Guam and Thailand.

Income Tax Preparers Worried to make the preparation of the annual income tax return a "do-it-yourself" project.

Where professional help is sought, IRS is going out of its way to try to hold down the fee.

Generally, when a tax preparer has to itemize deductions he charges a bigger fee than if he uses the standard deduction.

As one final thrust, IRS is demanding that the outside experts not only sign the return, as they always have been required to do, but additionally list their Social Security numbers.

In this way a preparer suspected of cheating can have all of his returns pulled by IRS computers.

Panel Recommends Major Criminal Justice Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national advisory commission on criminal justice has recommended a maximum prison term of 25 years for all crimes except murder and a maximum of five years for those committed by persons who are not a danger to others.

Other major changes recommended Sunday by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals include full access to legal services and the news media for those in prison, an end to the practice of defense and prosecution agreeing to a guilty plea for a lesser crime, only a single appeal for convicted criminals and decriminalization of "simple drunkenness."

The commission's recommendations are strictly advisory and have no formal support from the Nixon administration, nor do they form the basis for any legislative program.

At a news briefing, the commission chairman, outgoing Delaware Gov. Russell Peterson, and Jerris Leonard, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration which provided the nearly $2 million for the year-long study, said the commission's report contains controversial material such as possibly putting criminals in residential treatment homes instead of prison.

But they said it was not the purpose to get into many of the most controversial issues of the day. The report sidesteps discussion of capital punishment, gun control, marijuana, wiretapping or the rights of courts as opposed to newsmen's rights to protect their confidential notes and sources.

"It was not our purpose to get into extremely controversial policy issues," Leonard said at a news conference unveiling the report. He described the commission's recommendations as a "reference work."

"We're hoping the professionals can use this study as a blueprint for action," added Peterson. "Many of the standards are a compilation of things already being done. What the commission has done is to bring the variations together."

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst announced the convening of the first National Conference on Criminal Justice on Jan. 23 to review the major findings of the new study.

One of the scores of recommendations calls for a shift of emphasis from prisons to community-based corrections programs where rehabilitation of offenders can be carried out much more effectively. Another recommendation calls for substantial new rights for inmates.

Montoya's Brother Killed In Accident

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — State Sen. Alfonso Montoya, 44, next in line for chairmanship of the powerful Legislative Finance Committee, died Sunday in a one-car accident on Interstate 25 at Algodones, 19 miles north of Albuquerque.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

Montoya, representing Sandoval County and a portion of Bernalillo County, was third in seniority in the state Senate.

Montoya was the brother of U.S. Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M. He had served in the state Senate since 1961 after having been in the New Mexico House of Representatives in 1959-60.

Something for menthol smokers to think about.

There are menthol cigarettes and there are menthol cigarettes. And if you're a menthol smoker you certainly know by now which one you really enjoy smoking.

So what makes us think we'll ever get a crack at switching you? Well, we're going to try. Because if you're like a lot of cigarette smokers these days, you're probably concerned about the 'tar' and nicotine stories you've been hearing.

Frankly, if a cigarette is going to bring you flavor, it's also going to bring you smoke. And where there's smoke, there has to be 'tar.' In fact, in most cigarettes, the more flavor, the more 'tar.' Except for Vantage.

You must know that Vantage cigarettes have a special filter which reduces 'tar' and nicotine without destroying flavor.

What you may not know is that Vantage is also available in menthol. Not surprisingly, what separates Vantage Menthol from ordinary menthols is that Vantage Menthol gives you all the flavor you want, with a lot less of the 'tar' and the nicotine that you probably don't want.

Now Vantage Menthol is not the lowest 'tar' and nicotine menthol you'll find. It's simply the lowest one you'll enjoy smoking.

Since you're the best judge of what you like about menthol cigarettes, don't just take our word for it. Try a pack of Vantage Menthol and then you'll know for sure.
