

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

Eddy Field Confirmer Is Assured

Monsanto Co. No. 2 Burton Flat Deep Unit, has assured production as a second well and one-mile northeast extension in a recently opened Morrow area of Eddy County, N.M., about six miles northeast of Carlsbad.

It flowed natural through perforations at 11,215 - 11,350 feet, making gas at the rate of 573,000 cubic feet daily on a 24-64-inch choke, and increasing to the maximum rate of 12,047 million cubic feet per day on a 48-64-inch choke. No time was reported.

Operator was preparing to calculate absolute, open flow potential.

Location is 1,275 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 2-21s-27e.

The discovery, Monsanto's No. 1 Burton Flat, finished Nov. 5, 1972, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 37.5 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 11,308-11,458 feet.

Monsanto was drilling below 423 feet in anhydrite at No. 3 Burton Flat Unit, 1/2-mile south, west offset to the discovery, 700 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 3-21s-27e.

Ector Pool Re-Opened

Wolfcamp, North production has been re-opened in the Fasken field in north Ector County with re-completion of Amoco Production Co. No. 1-AV Midland Farms, a former Pennsylvania oiler, 20 miles northwest of Odessa.

It was completed to flow 223 barrels of 40.2-gravity oil and 10 barrels of water on 24-hour potential test, with gas-oil ratio measuring 422-1.

Production was through perforations at 8,242-8,324 feet, which had been acidized with 10,500 gallons.

Drilled to 10,638 feet, where 4 1/4-inch casing is seated, the plugged-back depth is 8,980 feet. Top of pay was picked at 8,240 feet, under ground elevation of 2,044 feet.

Wolfcamp, North pay, opened in the field in 1956, has become depleted.

Extension Finals In Pecos Sector

The Pecos County portion of the El Cinco multipay field gained a one-mile southwest and southeast extension to Wichita-Albany gas production with completion of J. M. Huber Corp., Midland, No. 6 ARCO, about eight miles south of McCamey.

It finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 4.2 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-condensate ratio and liquid gravity unreported.

Production was through perforations at 4,378 - 4,521 feet, which had been acidized with 11,000 gallons.

Drilled to 5,611 feet as an offset to the Huber (detrital oil) pool, it was plugged back to 4,570 feet, in 4 1/4-inch casing set at 4,607 feet, after unsuccessful tests in the detrital.

Heavy Snow Hits Texas Areas

Legislature Pays Tribute To Johnson

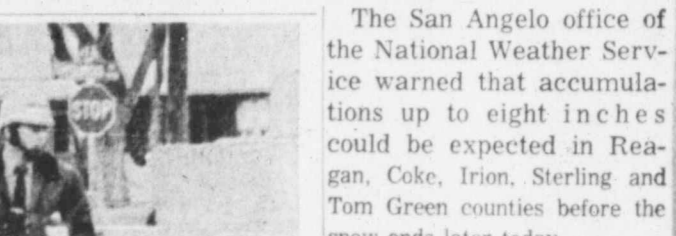

By GARTH JONES
 AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — One of the nation's best friends paid tribute to him today as a great humanitarian and a master politician. "He also was the most superb domino player I've ever known," said Judge Homer Thornberry of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. "I give personal testimony—I never won a game." Thornberry, who was a legislative page to Johnson's father and succeeded Johnson in the U.S. House of Representatives, addressed a joint session of the Texas Senate and House. Following the morning memorial service many of the 181 legislators and many state officials and employees were driving to Stonewall, 65 miles west of Austin, for interment services. "Lyndon Johnson was one of the most thoughtful persons I ever knew," Thornberry said. "He understood what it meant to be a good neighbor. Lyndon Johnson was his brother's keeper."

Accumulations To Eight Inches Are Predicted

Heavy snow warnings were issued for broad areas of Northwest, North Central and West Texas today as snow fell steadily, sometimes mixed with freezing rain, to glaze the highways and snarl traffic. The Texas Highway Department reported three to four inches of snow in Scurry County and two to three inches in other areas west of Abilene.

Capital Says Farewell To Departed President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital said farewell today to Lyndon B. Johnson in a ceremony that drew thousands of people to the Capitol grounds. "The years will be lonely without him," eulogized a close friend, Marvin Watson, minutes before the coffin was carried off for interment in the Texas Hill Country. But first, in radiant sunshine, it was borne from the halls of his beloved Congress to four bursts of "Ruffles and Flourishes" and "Hail to the Chief" as the Congress he served for 23 years and the church he attended as the 36th President. Then, at the National City Christian Church, came a final tribute from Watson, the late President's appointments secretary, and the rector, Dr. George Davis. Watson spoke of Johnson's "devotion to his country" and his "restraint in the uses of power," while Davis, said "for him, religion was life."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland today announced it will participate in the international commission to police the Vietnam cease-fire with Hungary, the other Communist member.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger must send word to Harvard by Feb. 5 on whether he wants to return as a professor or a search will be launched for a successor, a university official said today.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — University of Oklahoma football coach Chuck Fairbanks said today he will accept the job of head coach and general manager of the New England Patriots in the National Football League if contract terms are okay.

U.S. Perfects Plans For Viet Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today swung into advance contingencies on the high-level diplomatic talks leading to a Vietnam cease-fire that goes into effect Saturday night.

All sides hurried preparations for implementing the complicated peace settlement, including a stop order at the Pentagon on virtually all American GIs previously ordered to Vietnam.

Only some soldiers with special skills are to travel to Vietnam during the final three days of direct U.S. involvement in the fighting.

Separate Sessions For Rogers
 Also in Washington Secretary of State William P. Rogers slated separate sessions during the day with Canada's foreign minister, Mitchell Sharp, with Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik and with U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim.

Canada and Indonesia are two of the four countries supplying contingents for the international control group supervising the Vietnam cease-fire. Waldheim is to take part in the 12-nation international Vietnam peace guarantee conference due to be held within a month after the Saturday signing.

Under the peace agreement, U.S. troops are to be pulled out of South Vietnam over a 60-day span and the Communists are to free American prisoners. Medical Evacuation Teams
 U.S. medical evacuation teams were poised to fly into Hanoi to evacuate the first batch of POWs as soon as they get the green light following the cease-fire.

U.S. negotiator Henry A. Kissinger says the prisoners are to be brought out in roughly equal-size groups during each 15-day period of the 60 days while American forces are coming home from South Vietnam.

DRIVER DEAD — James Sewell Johnson was dead on arrival shortly after his car rammed this fence at Illinois and F streets Wednesday afternoon. Johnson apparently suffered a heart seizure before the automobile went out of control and hit the fence.

Seizure Claims Midlander While Driving Car In City

James Sewell Johnson, 56, back of the car seat and the auto lurched forward across the street, ramming a tile fence at 1301 W. Illinois St.

Johnson seemed to be having trouble breathing and emergency measures were taken at the accident scene. However, he was dead on arrival at Midland Memorial Hospital, where he was taken by a Thomas Funeral Home ambulance.

Johnson had a history of heart trouble and had been to the Memorial several times recently, each time complaining of chest pains, Wicker was told.

Funeral services have been set for 2 p.m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Forrest K. Whitworth, associate minister, officiating. Interment will follow at Resthaven Memorial Park, under direction of the Newmie W. Ellis Chapel.

Johnson was born Feb. 26, 1916, at Pecos, where he was reared. He served with the U.S. Navy in the Pacific Theater during World War II. (See SEIZURE Page 8A)

Hey, Big Daddy, Do You Dig?

PENTAGON SLANG DICTIONARY TO WISE UP RETURNING POWS

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
 WASHINGTON (AP) — "Hey, big daddy," says a Pentagon pamphlet for returning prisoners of war, "when your young son or daughter comes to you and says, 'Do you dig?' you can say, 'Lay it on me dude, and right on.'"

The pamphlet is a dictionary of slang expressions to help POWs—some of whom haven't been home in eight years—understand the language of today's youth. The head of a household, advises the pamphlet, is "big daddy." Being high on either drugs or alcohol is "blasted," while to focus attention on something is to "tune in."

"This is a part of the language and the slang being used by the youth of today—your sons and daughters," says the pamphlet. The POWs also can be expected to be unaware that Americans first landed on the moon July 20, 1969; that Richard Nixon was elected in 1968 and re-elected in 1972, or that

The San Angelo office of the National Weather Service warned that accumulations up to eight inches could be expected in Reagan, Coke, Irion, Sterling and Tom Green counties before the snow ends later today.

Three Inches At Big Spring
 Although snow was melting as it fell in Midland, Lamesa, Rankin, Andrews, Big Lake and Odessa, accumulations at Big Spring had reached three inches by noon today.

"We're on the western edge of the low pressure system which is moving through the San Angelo area . . . where we've had reports of five inches of snow and still snowing," said a National Weather Service observer at Midland Air Terminal.

He said the official forecast for the Midland area calls for occasional light snow, possibly mixed with rain this afternoon.

Warming Trend Friday
 Partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures appeared likely Friday, and the outlook for the weekend was for a warming trend Friday and Saturday before another cool front arrives Sunday.

Forecasts said showers and thundershowers might occur here Friday, however.

Precipitation probabilities were pegged at 70 per cent this afternoon, 30 per cent tonight and 20 per cent Friday.

Temperatures—which ranged from a Wednesday high of 43 to a low today of 33—were expected to remain in the middle 30s this afternoon and fall, near 30 tonight before warming into the middle 50s Friday.

Travel Advisories
 Travel advisories warned not only of the snow accumulations in some areas, but also of the icy glaze expected on area roads tonight as the moisture freezes.

There were four inches on the ground in the Ballinger area. Temperatures were in the 30s and the snow was expected to turn to rain there by afternoon.

Colorado City and Gail reported two to three inches of snow by noon.

It was raining over the eastern half of the state.

In general the snow belt stretched across the Edwards Plateau from Del Rio to San Angelo, westward to Langtry and Midland and northward to Lubbock. It caused special warnings to motorists along and east of the Pecos River and across the western portion of the Hill Country.

Far West, Panhandle Dry
 Rain fell almost everywhere else across the state toward the east and north, sometimes at rates up to one inch per hour.

Only the areas of the state farther west remained dry. It was partly cloudy here and there in the Texas Panhandle and elsewhere in that section.

As much as four inches of snow was expected to accumulate at other points before the day's end.

"The cause of this adverse and unusual weather," the National Weather Service said in a special advisory, "is a complex upper level low pressure system just south of the (Texas) Big Bend in Old Mexico. Moisture is spreading northward into the Panhandle from South Texas and Old Mexico . . . mostly rain to the south but change to snow as colder temperatures are reached."

Observers predicted the nasty weather would linger from the Pecos River eastward and from the Rio Grande northward into the Panhandle until this weather-producing system moved to (See SNOW Page 8A)

Janet Moore Four

Top Performers Will Appear At League's Ball

The Les Elgart Orchestra will play for the Junior League of Midland, Inc., 22nd Invitational Charity Ball to be held at 8 p.m. Monday in Midland Country Club.

Les Elgart is the youngest of the Big Band leaders and his talent runs from sophisticated swing to today's modern sound. Over the years of his career, he has been voted the Number 1 band by "Variety," "Cash Box" and "Billboard." His distinctive style has evoked such comments as, "The Les Elgart band goes beyond the usual criteria for dance bands... it has a fresh sounding and imaginative beat" ("Down Beat") and "A great sound and fine arrangements. Like having the records in persons" ("Billboard").

Appearing in the Grill Room will be the Janet Moore Four, also known as the Janus, a popular rock group from the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Versatility is the keynote to the quartet's success, bringing a fresh approach to the music of yesterday and a new interpretation to the music of today.

Teddie Sullivan will bring her special musical talent and unique humor to the Tavern Room. Miss Sullivan has appeared at Pat O'Brien's in New Orleans, La., the Domino Club in San Francisco, Calif., and the Crystal Palace in Chicago, Ill. She currently is appearing at the Noisy Water in Ruidoso, N.M. where her family lives. Her repertoire is diverse and includes the music of past years and the music of today, as well as folk and western music.

Dear Abby

There's Another Side To Hitchhiking Problem

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please warn girls against hitchhiking rides with men. Girls who get into a car with a strange man are just begging for trouble, but there is another side to it which few people consider.

My husband has a problem he has been trying to overcome for six years. It's a compulsion to expose himself to young women. He is not a rapist, he only does this to get a thrill from their reaction. He has never touched a girl, though many have encouraged him to go further. One of these girls reported him to the police and he is now facing the possibility of having to leave me and our three small children for a jail term on a charge of indecent exposure.

I am not condoning his actions, but he has finally faced his problem and is getting psychiatric treatment. He is a good husband and provider, and the children adore him and so do I. I plan to help him through this crisis, but I need help from everyone else of my sex.

Abby, please ask girls not to hitchhike with strange men. They may be giving someone who is trying to go straight an opportunity to stray again, and the price is paid by his family.

DEAR WORRIED: I agree, hitchhiking is a risky business for all concerned. While I appreciate your understanding attitude and your empathy to your husband, he cannot shift the responsibility for his compulsion to the girls who are foolish enough to hitchhike with him. He is doing the right thing in facing up to his problem and getting psychiatric treatment. But public sympathy is more on the side of the hitchhikers than the man with such a problem.

DEAR ABBY: My husband sleeps all over the bed. He rolls on top of me or pushes me off the bed in his sleep. He sleeps so soundly it's impossible to wake him up. If I ask him to please roll over, he does — on me!

The next morning he doesn't remember a thing. All his life he's had a full-sized bed to himself, and he's accustomed to sleeping that way without giving anybody else a thought. We have been married for two years and I haven't had a good night's sleep yet.

We are buying new bedroom furniture and I want twin beds. He says he isn't ready for that yet, and he wants a king-sized bed. What is your advice?

SLEEPY TIME GAL

DEAR GAL: Compromise. Get the twin beds with a single headboard. That way you'll each have your own mattress.

And if you can get the kind that "swing" apart, by all means do. I have an idea you may need them.

DEAR ABBY: Another miserable holiday season has passed and I made a New Year's resolution that rather than be in the middle of another power struggle between my parents and my in-laws, my husband and I are going to take a trip somewhere and not spend Thanksgiving and Christmas with either.

We started to "alternate," spending one Thanksgiving with one set of parents and Christmas with the other. The biggest problem was my mother. She felt that if she couldn't have all her children with her every holiday, she was neglected. My in-laws were willing to accept the every-other-year decision.

Last Thanksgiving was the last straw. After driving 300 miles to spend Thanksgiving with my mother, she said, "I wish you'd come for Christmas, too. Next year I may be dead, and then you'll be sorry you didn't."

Now, how could I go to my in-laws for Christmas and enjoy myself with that kind of goodbye?

HAD IT IN IOWA

DEAR HAD IT: I don't know. But why punish your in-laws because your mother is selfish?

DEAR ABBY: I sure hope that lady who said she and her husband didn't have any sex relations for more than 12 years doesn't find out (like I did) that SHE was going without, but her husband wasn't. My husband was being "served" by a waitress for six years, and all the time I felt so sorry for him. I thought he lost his manhood because he had had a prostate operation. We're divorced now, so it doesn't matter anymore, but some wives can be too trusting.

'Cookie Pusher' Connotation Different In Girl Scouting

The term "cookie pusher" has taken on new definitions this year for Mrs. Pat Turner, a 23-year veteran of world travel as wife of a Foreign Service officer who in December became Midland's field adviser for the Permian Basin Council of the Girl Scouts of America.

The expression, when applied to the foreign service, is a slur implying that its members "do nothing but attend tea parties," Mrs. Turner says. Now, in her new position with the Tall City's Girl Scouts, she has learned that the words also describe any Scout in the midst of the annual cookie sales, scheduled to begin here Saturday.

"For years, I've been accustomed to thinking of the term 'cookie pusher' as derogatory in the Foreign Service, and now I find myself an honorary one," she said.

Prior to her arrival in Midland, the new field adviser became involved with Scouting after a few years of globe-trotting with her husband, the late Allen R. Turner who was a vice consul at the time of their marriage in China. They lived in Shanghai one year after the Communists came into power.

"In China, we were isolated by the fact that we couldn't read the press or speak Chinese. You couldn't go to anybody for any help because the Communist government didn't recognize us (the United States) and we didn't recognize them."

"It was a year of trying to work with the Communist regime — day after day and month after month of tension and anti-American feeling until it became apparent that we couldn't work, and then getting permission to leave," Mrs. Turner said.

She added that when she and her husband were allowed to leave several months after the initial request, they took a train to the north China port of Tientsin and then were transported three miles on a small Chinese vessel which had previously carried chickens out to a passenger ship.

The next stop was Tokyo where the couple's first daughter was born, then on to a three-year stay in Antwerp, Belgium, where the family was joined by a son. Another daughter was born in the United States, and a second son, Bruce, who is currently attending Midland High School, was born during ing a three-year tour in Windsor, Ontario.

One year after Fidel Castro came to power in Cuba, the Turners were sent to Havana where they spent one-tumultuous year. "As it became apparent that some of the things we had seen in China when the Communists took over were repeating, it became a very tense place to live," Mrs. Turner remembers.

"When Castro announced that they (the Cuban government) would start supervising the private schools as well as the public, I took the children to live in Clearwater Beach, Fla. — a lovely place to be a refugee — so that I could be as near as possible." Mr. Turner stayed on in Havana until diplomatic relations between the two countries were broken.

After an assignment in Washington, D.C., the family had a three-year tour with the Department of State and was then assigned to the embassy in Caracas, Venezuela, five years. There, "where I met so many oil people that I decided they were nice, friendly people," Mrs. Turner became involved in TOFS (Girl Scout Troops on Foreign Soil), a program for American Scouts who live abroad.

Midland's new field adviser describes the organization as serving "a very real purpose in helping girls make the adjustment to foreign living, particularly in a non-English speaking country. It gives her an area that she's familiar with and it really does help some homesick kids." She served as a junior troop leader, and then a program director.

Her Scouting endeavors were continued in London, England, where her husband was head of the American Embassy. "I considered London a reward for 20 years good behavior in the Foreign Service. It's a wonderful country. You have a sense of having seen it before, and yet it's new."

"TOFS in England is also part of the North Atlantic Girl Scouts, a branch of the Girl Scouts of America set up at the request of the American Department of Defense to provide a youth service for dependents. North Atlantic Girl Scouts are located in all the servicemen States, and their families are stationed who is currently attending Midland High School, was born during Kingdom, Iceland and Norway, serving as the volunteer representative on the board of the North Atlantic Girl Scouts for all adult volunteers in those three countries. We had around 2,000 girls and adults in the United Kingdom," she explains.

In her official capacity, Mrs. Turner visited air bases and naval installations in England and Scotland, meeting with volunteers and working with the Girl Scout field adviser stationed in England. One of the most interesting aspects of her job was serving as liaison with Girl Guides, the English counterpart to the American Girl Scouts under the parent organization, World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGS) which is headquartered in London.

"TOFS in England are especially lucky," according to Mrs. Turner, "in that every troop can have joint Girl Scout and Girl Guide activities without language barriers or vastly different programs."

"I helped with the work at Olave House, one of the four world centers owned by the World Association. It was an opportunity to meet girls from all over the world."

"The greatest privilege was to meet Lady Baden-Powell, world chief guide and widow of Girl Scouting's founder. She is a remarkable woman in her 80s and very active, and until the last two years has traveled all over the world."

"She lives at Hampton Court in what is called a Grace and Favor Apartment given her by the queen. She delights in welcoming people from all over the world for coffee or tea or just talk. She really is a tremendous woman and was very kind to me when I was there."

Last year, she was also presented, as a representative of the American Girl Scouts in England, to Princess Margaret, head of the Girl Guides Association, club held a well-attended

Following the June death of her husband while still in London, Mrs. Turner was faced with the necessity of building a new life for her own and decided to return to the United States.

"Since Scouting had been such a vital part of my life for some 10 years, I decided to apply for a job in executive Girl Scouting," she says. Her decision was followed by a trip to a National Council meeting, a round of interviews, and finally a November trip to Midland when she met with Jody Morrison, executive director for the Permian Basin Council based in Odessa, and with Mrs. Richard Slack of Pecos, the volunteer council president.

"I liked what I saw and the people I met. I like the Scout program which is a very active one and I was impressed by the volunteers I met," Mrs. Turner says. "I decided it was a good place to put down some roots and a good place for Bruce and me to live."

She and her son moved to Midland in December, and they are currently "camping" at 1005 Boyd St. waiting for their furniture to arrive from London.

A long-time Girl Scout herself, Mrs. Turner will be going through her first round of cookie sales this year. In Venezuela, she says, the girls raised money in other ways, such as having stationery printed and selling it. She added also that several women design and donate a portfolio of prints for TOFS sale.

In England, cookie sales are a recent innovation, so Saturday "when hordes of girls in green start pushing cookies" will mark still another new experience for Mrs. Turner who this time won't mind being called a "cookie pusher."

New members of the Midland fit bridge party Jan. 23. It was when the club's board of directors met Monday in the club-house.

A Mexican supper and game night, to which the public is invited, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 22, it was announced by Mrs. Jack Samples, president.

Special prizes were won by Mrs. R. E. Kinsey, Mrs. Billie Gilbert, Mrs. Jess Williamson, Mrs. Hoy Harrison, Mrs. W. E. Shapp, Mrs. Marvin McCree and Mrs. John Carrigan, when the club held a well-attended

Economist Offers Today's Tested Dishes

By ANN ENGLAND

Last week's food column featured Mexican recipes submitted by Mrs. Terry Williamson, home economist for Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Other columns have featured recipes from school home economists, Texas Electric Service Co. and the Midland County home demonstration agent.

Each of these programs is designed to aid in better nutrition, to instruct in proper preparation of all foodstuffs and in many instances offer suggestions for economical practices in food preparation, as well as attractiveness in serving.

In addition to the above services Mrs. Williamson will assist in meal planning, quantity cooking or laundry problems. She will give exciting and informative demonstrations for church or club groups the year around.

Mrs. Williamson is one of seven home economists who test the recipes published monthly by Pioneer. Her area of responsibility includes Coahoma, Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

Today's recipes were tested by Mrs. Williamson last year.

and top with the crisp bacon. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Great with barbecued meat and salad. Makes four servings.

Apple Cheese Crumb Pie

For a cheese pastry crust sift into mixing bowl: 1 cup all purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cut into mixture with pastry blender:

1/3 cup shortening 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese and add tablespoons cold water

Stir until all particles are wet and mixture forms a ball. Roll out on floured surface. Lift carefully and place in a 9-inch pie plate, fitting gently into plate contours, fold under excess pastry even with edge of pie plate, flute edges as desired.

Filling

1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) sliced pie apples 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine in mixing bowl and pour filling into unbaked cheese pastry crust, press down gently and sprinkle with 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese.

Topping

1/2 cup soft butter or margarine

1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed 1/4 cup sifted all purpose flour

Combine in mixing bowl and blend with fingers until crumbs are formed. Sprinkle evenly on top of pie. Bake pie at 400 degrees for 35 or 40 minutes or until pastry and crumbs are golden brown. Cool; dust generously with confectioners sugar. Yields six to eight generous servings.

1 RIB ROAST — Unexcelled for tenderness and flavor, easy to prepare, carve, and serve, this is the favorite for company fare. It can be oven-roasted for maximum tenderness, juiciness, and flavor. Because it has a rather large proportion of bone and fat, you will need to allow at least one-half a pound of rib roast per person. For company meals, you may wish to allow up to a pound per person. Buy it at least two ribs thick for proper cooking. Frequently called: Standing rib or prime rib (even though not graded USDA Prime). Roast at Least 300° to 325° oven temperature for approximately 30 minutes per pound for a medium cooked roast.

2 BONELESS ROAST (Rump) — This is a very flavorful cut, but it is less tender than the rib. It can be oven-roasted. Allow at least a third of a pound per person for boneless rump. At 300° to 325° oven temperature, roast for approximately 30 to 35 minutes per pound.

3 SIRLOIN TIP ROAST — This is a boneless roast, with very little waste. Despite its name, it is not as tender as a Sirloin Steak. But it has good flavor and in Prime and Choice grades is tender enough to be oven-roasted. Allow at least a third of a pound per person. At 300° to 325° oven temperature, roast for approximately 30 to 35 minutes per pound.

4 BONELESS ROAST (Chuck) — An economical roast, with excellent, full beef flavor, this one can be oven-roasted in the Prime and Choice grades, although it has several muscles that vary in tenderness. Makes an excellent Pot Roast. You'll need about one-half pound per person.

5 ARM ROAST — Cut from the Chuck with a small amount of bone. Same well developed flavor as other chuck cuts. Makes an excellent Pot Roast. Allow one-half of a pound per person. A three to five pound roast should be braised 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 hours.

6 BRISKET — Often cured and sold as Corned Beef, the brisket is also sold fresh, usually with bones removed. Definitely a less tender cut, it must be cooked with moist heat (Pot roasted) in all grades. Allow at least one-half of a pound per person.

Priddy Challenges Chamber Directors

Midland Chamber of Commerce president Charles Priddy called on chamber directors and members Wednesday to speak up "with your ideas on how to make the chamber a more viable and useful organization... truly representative of this community."

The comment climaxed a chamber board meeting also highlighted by:

- Announcement that chamber director Harry Keegan has resigned in light of his transfer to Los Angeles by Union Oil Co. of California.
- Election of Pat Fletcher of Atlantic Richfield Co. to fill the two remaining years of Keegan's term on the board.
- Appointment of Gerald Helm of Gibson's and attorney James L. Pardue to special one-year terms on the chamber board.
- Election of H. D. "Rocky" Ford, Col. H. D. "Doug" Sutterlin Jr., Robert R. Truitt, Ed Runyan and Clarence Scharbauer Jr. to the board of directors of the Industrial Foundation of Midland.

Announcement that the chamber completed 1972 with a $1.374 carry over of funds — the first time in more than five years the chamber has completed a year "in the black," which executive vice president Fred Tyler is attributable to a growth in chamber membership and a revision of the dues structure during 1972.

Announcement that Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr., public school trustee James Winget, county commissioner Durward Wright, Midland College trustee Robert Leibrock and Midland Arts Council chairman Ray Herndon will represent the respective organizations as ex-officio members of the chamber board during 1973.

Wheelchair-Bound Defendant Draws Life For Murder

HOUSTON (AP) — William Johnson Jr., 24, has been sentenced to life in prison for shooting to death a woman he said caused him to be permanently disabled.

The wheelchair-bound Johnson pleaded no contest on a charge of murder in the Nov. 15 pistol slaying of Carolyn Ann Venters, 28.

District Court Judge Joseph M. Guarino directed a guilty verdict Wednesday.

Mrs. Venters was shot to death just after she left a courtroom in the Harris County Criminal Courts Building where she was on trial for the shooting of Johnson. She had been charged with shooting Johnson at her home June 30, 1971. She said he came at her with a tire tool.

No Americans Killed in Action

SAIGON (AP) — No Americans were reported killed in action in Indochina fighting last week but four fliers listed previously as missing were changed to killed in action, the U.S. Command said today in what should be its next-to-last weekly casualty summary.

Six U.S. servicemen were reported wounded, none of them seriously, and two deaths from nonhostile causes were reported.

Command spokesmen said the four fliers were lost over Laos. The spokesmen said they did not know when.

The South Vietnamese command reported 358 government troops killed in action last week, 1,481 wounded and 32 missing, about the average since the beginning of December. The command claimed 1,643 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed.

Methodists Asked To Offer Thanks For Peace Sunday

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The president of the United Methodist Council of Bishops, O. Eugene Slater, has asked his 10.6-million-member denomination to observe Sunday as a thanksgiving day for the cease-fire in Vietnam.

Bishop Slater sent a telegram to active bishops in his church asking worshippers Sunday be led to pray, "that this may lead to genuine peace, not only in Vietnam, but in all Indochina, and that it may not only be peace with honor but also peace with justice."

The bishop's telegram asked that prisoners of war and those missing in action be remembered in their prayers.

Bishop Slater also asked for rehabilitation and reconstruction in war-ravaged areas.

Red Shore Guns Hit U.S. Vessel

SAIGON (AP) — Communist shore guns slightly damaged a U.S. Navy frigate off the coast of South Vietnam's Quang Tri Province Wednesday, the U.S. Command reported.

The command said the 515-foot frigate Preble was hit by four near misses. There was damage to three antennas and some torpedo tubes but no casualties, the command said.

Public Hearing Set Here For Textbooks

The Midland Independent School District Textbook Committee will conduct a public hearing Feb. 8 to hear protests and commendations regarding textbooks being considered for adoption for the 1973-74 school year.

Parents and other interested citizens may view or check any of the books to read by making an appointment with Bill Cormack, coordinator of textbook adoptions, at 702 N. N St., phone 682-8611.

Anyone wishing to express feelings about adoption of a certain book may do so by appearing at a public hearing scheduled on Feb. 8 in the Sam Houston Elementary School Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Cormack explained the citizen should notify the superintendent of schools, Dr. James Mailey, in writing, of his desire to appear before the textbook committee by Feb. 2. The written notice of intent to appear should state whether the citizen wishes to commend or protest adoption of a specific textbook. If a protest is to be made, a written description of the book sections to be protested, together with the page number and paragraph, should be submitted with the notice.

Citizens appearing before the committee to protest adoption of a textbook should confine their discussion to the particular book segments contained in the written descriptions which they presented to the superintendent of schools, Cormack added.

The subjects for which books are being considered include graphic arts trades, French IV, German III, health education and advanced physiology, typing I, advanced typing, business education, homemaking, high school; trigonometry; economics, high school; world geography studies, high school; civil government, grade eight; civil government, high school; American history, grades eight and nine; history, grade five; basal readers, grades four and five; and supplementary readers, grades four through six.

Ft. Clark Man Recruiting Old-Time 'Horse Soldiers'

By WAIN MILLER

Looking like either a living number of another era (as he is called) — or like "the biggest Boy Scout I ever saw" as a secretary construed his uniform — a First Memorial Cavalry recruiting sergeant visited Reporter-Telegram Tuesday.

He came, he said, to issue an invitation for interested Midland residents to join the unit he is putting together "because I figured there should be 120 men around West Texas who wouldn't mind putting on a Cavalry uniform to help bring a glimpse of the past through Ft. Clark at Brackettville."

The "recruiting sergeant" is a real estate salesman Ben McManis of Brackettville, whose suggestion that Brackettville put together a mounted cavalry troop instead of a plain of Col. MacKenzie and his famous rifle's posse has grown into plans for a statewide organization which probably will make nationwide appearances in parades, bowl games and similar productions.

"We might even get into the movies," he added, noting "the folks who come to Texas to shoot pictures say they have been having a heck of a time rigging up Cavalry units for their scenes."

"After all," McManis said, "Ft. Clark was an Army horse cavalry post continuously from 1852 to 1946 and once was known as 'the proving grounds for generals.'"

"When I moved there a year ago, it just seemed a shame not to call more attention to how this place was so rich in history.

"Our unit will drill on the same field used by Gen. U. S. Grant... Gen. Sherman... Col. MacKenzie and his famous rifle's posse has grown into Gen. Wainwright and then — Col. George S. Patton . . .

"We will wear authentic 1870 Cavalry uniforms — which are being made for us by the company which makes the majority of the period costumes for Hollywood . . .

"And our headquarters will be in one of the original buildings at Ft. Clark," McManis said.

"We would like to have members from throughout the state," he continued.

"All that is required is that they have a horse and the money to buy their outfits . . . and some time to have some fun.

"We're hoping for about 120 members so that we will be able to put together 30 or 40 for any given appearance.

Address Given

"Anyone around here who is interested in joining our First Memorial Cavalry Regiment, Troop A, Ft. Clark Springs, can write: Ben McManis, P.O. Box 345, Brackettville, Tex. 78832.

"I'll send them all the information . . . but they had better do it soon, because it looks like we will fill up pretty fast and then we'll have a waiting list."

"Once we get our full contingent together, we'll elect a commanding officer and get things rolling.

"We'll be the only such mounted group that I know anything about, except for the last remaining honorary U.S. Army mounted unit at Ft. Carson, Colo.

"For all practical purposes, the horse cavalry was replaced by mechanization in about 1942," McManis noted.

"Ft. Clark was one of the three largest Cavalry posts . . . it usually had 6,000 men and 5,000 horses until the war, when it went mechanized and there were 30,000 stationed there.

"Of course, now it has been developed into a recreation area, and we figured it would be a good way for family fun to pull people in for a drill periodically.

Responsible For Pool

"Gen. Wainwright, by the way, was responsible for the big 275-foot swimming pool being there.

"They say he was offered a choice between getting an 18-hole golf course and the pool for the fort. He was known as 'the enlisted man's general' and since not many of the soldiers had golf clubs, he chose the pool, which we still use."

"Gen. Wainwright's last state-side assignment before he went to Corregidor was as commander at Ft. Clark — he was over Patton, who was a regimental commander there at the time.

"Patton came there in 1937 as a lieutenant colonel and left as a full colonel in 1938.

"Retired Maj. George Wyrick, who served under Patton at Ft. Clark, will be the drill instructor for our First Memorial Cavalry."

"Ft. Clark has changed from the days when Gen. Robert E. Lee came there four-times a year to conduct court in a courthouse built in 1854, which still stands.

"They say that it was Gen. Sherman who said that if he owned title to both Ft. Clark and hell he'd rent out Ft. Clark and live in hell," McManis continued.

"Being sent to Ft. Clark . . . so far from civilization back then . . . was like being in the French Foreign Legion."

'Sergeant' Ben McManis

Pot In Overturned Truck

PIPE CREEK, Tex. (AP) — The driver of the truck, which had a permit from McAllen on the Texas-Mexican border, talked for a moment with a man who rushed out of the general store at the intersection of Texas 16 and Farm-to-Market Road 1283 at late Wednesday.

Miller said he believes the weed, which was contained in 37 sacks under the sacks of cabbage, "was headed north" perhaps for Chicago or New York. He said he believes it originally came from Mexico.

"That much marijuana, we wouldn't have that kind of thing here," he said, when asked if it was possible the weed was destined for his Texas Hill Country area.

Disputes Spawned By Vietnam May Not Die Quickly

By WALTER R. MEARS
(An AP News Analysis)
WASHINGTON (AP)—Through a tortured decade, America's political dialogue in Congress, in election campaigns—and at times in the streets—has been shadowed by the issue of war in Vietnam. It has been a factor in the making, and the unmaking, of presidents. It has etched upon Congress divisions at times sharper than those of party affiliation. Hawk and dove sometimes became labels more meaningful than Republican and Democrat. It was behind what came to be called the credibility gap between government and the people. It was the stated reason that thousands upon thousands of demonstrators paraded in Washington, wrought turmoil at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago five years ago, rallied almost on the eve of settlement as President Nixon was inaugurated to a second term. In a sense, it was the issue that shaped all the others, from the dispute over whether a nation could afford the guns of war and the butter of the late Lyndon B. Johnson's Great Society to the current controversy over the powers and prerogatives of the White House and of Congress. With the settlement that is to be signed in Paris Saturday, the issue of war appears to be done, but the disputes it spawned will not go away. There is likely to be a lingering debate about the terms and the timing of peace. There is some talk in Congress of legislation to bar any re-entry of American forces. And there is legislation, supported by a majority of the Senate, to define specific programs, has been intensified by the waning days of the campaign had Humphrey begun to pry himself away from the bit-terly disputed war policy of the Johnson administration. The Democratic party was divided over the war and the turmoil of its Chicago convention. President Johnson, challenged for renomination on a war issue, had renounced candidacy for a second full term. Only four years before, he would do so. He won narrowly over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, vice president. Not until publican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. In that campaign, Johnson had said he was not about to send American boys "to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves." That produced a bitter reminder of the great debate. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., I voted for Goldwater we'd have a half million men in Vietnam. I did and we do." Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee Nixon defeated in 1972, was course saved the world from events that could have led to nuclear war. Johnson died Monday night on the eve of Nixon's settlement announcement. And in Wednesday's eulogies at the Capitol there was still another reminder of the great debate. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., I voted for Goldwater we'd have a half million men in Vietnam. Midland Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY SELF,
SHERRY KADING and
LEANN HOLLAND

Hi, all you Bulldogs! Well another week has passed and that is one week closer to the end of school. Just keep on working until that time.

Last Friday night our mighty Bulldogs really scored the points against Abilene Cooper. We beat them 58-39. Our Junior Varsity really fought it out to the end against Cooper, but lost with a disappointing 96-95. They played five overtimes and it really was a great game. Over the weekend, our sophomore team won the consolation championship in the Seminole Junior Varsity Invitational Basketball Tournament, by beating Snyder J.V. 74-56. Midland defeated Morton in the semifinals 64-57 in order to let them play in the consolation finals.

Fantastic Game
Tuesday Night our purple Bulldogs played the Lee Rebels. The gym was packed with plenty of supporters out to watch the game. After a really tough and fantastic game, the Rebels ended on top 58-55. This makes the Bulldogs end the first half with a 20-3 season record and No. 2 in first half play. The J.V. really battled it out until the end but lost 66-52.

Friday night the Bulldogs open up the second half of district play against Permian in the MHS gym. We are out to beat them and really show them who is best, so everybody come out and support our team. ALL THE WAY DOGS!!!!

Season Opener
Coach Houdek's netters really did a good job in their season opener. Saturday the tennis team played Odessa High and beat them 21-4. The team was beating Permian High by a score of 4-1 when the weather forced them to cancel the rest of the matches. The boys team won every match played, and the girls also played really fantastic. This Saturday the tennis team faces Andrews here.

They are playing on the Midland courts, so everyone go out and watch the tennis team BEAT ANDREWS!!!!

Our swimmers also are swimming in a meet this weekend. The Junior Varsity Team competes in Odessa and the Varsity is traveling to San Antonio. The swimmers are having a really fine season, so swim fast and bring home another trophy. We are behind you all the way.

"Tank Talk"
"TANK TALK," featuring Tank Harrison, is being sponsored by the MHS Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This will be a series of informal rap sessions for every student who wants to attend. There are three rap sessions. The first one will be a supper at the Trinity Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. today. Cost is only $1, so please try to come. The second rap session will be a devotional in the boys' gym Friday at 7:30 a.m. The third rap session will be Friday night after the basketball game against Permian, in the Youth Center. Refreshments will be served. This is a wonderful opportunity for everybody.

Spaghetti Supper
Friday night the MHS Choir is sponsoring a spaghetti supper preceding the Permian game. It is to start at 5:30 in the cafeteria, so everyone come eat spaghetti and then go see Midland beat Permian.

The Midland High Band and the Lee High Band are hosting a chili supper on Feb. 3 from 11 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. at the MHS patio and cafeteria. There will be bands playing all day and so we urge you all to come out and listen to the bands play and eat some good chili.

We want to congratulate Doc Dodson on receiving the outstanding Young Man of the Year award from the Midland Jaycees. We are real proud to have Doc at MHS and feel that he deserves a big CONGRATULATIONS!!!!

The Junior Rotarians for this week are Jane Wells and Mike Tillman. Congratulations.

The Senior Class is sponsoring its annual Senior Class Talent Show Tryouts are Jan. 28 and Feb. 3 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. We need lots of people for this, so everyone try out and make the talent show a success.

Another Movie
There is another movie being shown at the Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. today. The movie is "Bullitt" starring Steve McQueen. The movie really is good and it only costs 50 cents for members and $1 for non-members. Please come.

Those celebrating another birthday this week are: Judith Smith, Leatha Shelton, Carolyn Poole, Renee Pomeroy, Susan Beck, Tommy Childers, James Davidson, J. L. Christman, Jessie Granado, Leola Cooks, Cleo Cooks, Rae Stark, Nona Smith, Meg Griffith, Steve Green, Steve Meldrum, Pat McGhee, Mary Jean McDaniel, and Lindy McCaskill. Happy Birthday.

ARRIVE FOR SCHOOL—Four youngsters from Brazil arrived in Midland Wednesday to go to school under the auspices of Youth For Understanding, an international exchange student organization. From left are Luiz Trindade, unassigned; Roberto Diaz, who will live with the Harlan Michael family here; Norma Semeghini, who will go to school at Lovington, N.M., and Rebecca Rischer, who will live in Midland with the Bill Collins family. Other students will arrive next week and most need homes. Anyone in the West Texas area who would like to host an exchange student until July should contact Mrs. Guy Saunders, 684-7649 Midland.

MC Trustees To Visit Colleges

By WAIN MILLER
Midland College trustees will travel to six Texas cities during the next three weeks to see work of eight architects in hopes of selecting one on Feb. 20 to design MC's campus.

And board president Reagan Legg and college president Dr. Al G. Langford may also go to Washington, D.C., to put in a personal plea — at the suggestion of U.S. Rep. George Mahon — for high priority on the college's request for a federal interest subsidy grant on the $5.1 million bond issue approved by voters here last month.

Trustees approved the trips Wednesday night in a variety-packed session in which the board also:

• Board Of Development — Directed the committee on philosophies and goals for Midland College to also make recommendations for establishment of a "board of development" for MC, which would involve leaders of the community in "raising money for special programs and facilities" and other activities to further the new community college.

• Formally entered into a $19,135 contract with Rauscher Pierce Securities Corp. to handle all details of the sale of the campus construction financing bonds on a date yet to be designated.

• Adopted a $45,300 tentative budget to cover expenses expected during the remainder of the current fiscal year which are not chargeable to the former Permian Junior College System and therefore will be financed through a short-term loan from a Midland bank. The funds will be repaid when MC starts receiving its own revenue Sept. 1.

• Seal, Colors, Mascot Tabled — Tabled action on selection of school seal, colors and mascot pending further study.

• Selected Commercial Bank & Trust Co. as the depository this year for college funds, but postponed action on selection of an auditing firm (for which a committee was appointed to make recommendations next month).

• Called for further study before making decisions on whether the college will provide Social Security or a private annuity program for employees, and regarding what type of liability coverage to buy for the college, its employees and trustees.

• And, adopted a set of "Policies of the Board of Trustees" patterned after operating guidelines used by other junior colleges, with committee chairman Murray Fasken suggesting that the board study the nine-page statement and suggest any needed amendments at the board's March meeting.

• Architect selection committee chairman Jack Huff told the board the college had received applications from 14 major architectural firms for the contract to design the new MC campus.

Because the college offers the rare opportunity to design a complete campus at one time rather than the usual piecemeal program over a period of decades, the project has brought applications from some of the nation's top architectural firms, Huff said.

The committee has narrowed the list down to eight, he said. "We want this to be a decision of the full board, and as far as I am concerned the committee has finished its screening and chain shop at Conroe High the full board should see work of all eight of those remaining on the list . . . hear presentations from all of them at our meeting on Feb. 20, and then make the decision." Trustees approved the following schedule for tours of facilities, (with architects also listed):

— Jan. 30-31: Brazosport College, Freeport (Caudill Rowlett Scott); Rice University, Houston (Pierce, Goodwin & Flanagan); Trinity University, San Antonio (Ford, Powell & Carson), and, The University of Texas, Austin (Jessen & Associates).

— Feb. 10: Texas Tech University, Lubbock (Stiles, Roberts, Messersmith & Johnson).

— Feb. 15-16: Tarrant County Junior College - South Campus, Fort Worth (Parker - Croston Associates); American Airlines

Stewardess College, Arlington (Preston Geren Associates), and Eastfield College-Dallas County Junior College, Dallas (Ernest J. Kump Associates).

A representative of each firm will conduct the tours, then representatives of each firm will appear at the college board meeting in Midland on Feb. 20 to make a formal presentation "to show why they think they can do the best job for the college," Huff said.

Board chairman Reagan Legg said he had asked Congressman Mahon for assistance in seeking approval for Midland College's application for a federal grant which would pay bond issue interest costs in excess of three per cent per annum.

"He suggested it may be helpful for Dr. Langford and I to go to Washington (tentatively Feb. 5-6) and let him introduce us to Housing and Urban Development and Health, Education and Welfare department officials to try to speed things up and answer any questions they might have," Legg said.

The board authorized the trip "if Mr. Mahon confirms the meetings."

being named technical-vocational dean in 1967.

He is active in numerous professional organizations, Lions Club and Masonic Lodge.

Bliss, 30, was graduated from Southeast High School, Kansas City, Mo., and received his associate degree at Kansas City Junior College, his bachelor of science degree in math at Central Missouri State College and his masters in education administration at the same college.

He served as school business management intern through The University of Texas at San Antonio after teaching math at a Kansas City high school and serving as purchasing agent for the MISD.

He now is nearing completion of his doctorate from UT.

There are 865 species of trees registered as native to the continental United States.

Bliss will assume duties Feb. 1, and Box on March 1. Burks will move to Houston Feb. 15.

Upon recommendation of MC president Dr. Al G. Langford, salaries were set at $17,500 per year for the business manager and $16,500 for the technical-vocational dean.

Previously, business management services for MC were provided through the former vice chancellor for business affairs for the former Permian Junior College System.

Dr. Box, 51, was graduated from Westover High School and Howard County Junior College. He received his bachelor of science and masters degrees from North Texas State University, and his doctorate from the University of Northern Colorado following other graduate work at Sam Houston State University, University of Missouri and University of Arkansas.

A Navy veteran of World War II and a former roughneck, welder and machinist, he began teaching welding and machine shop at Conroe High School in 1954 and was named chairman of the industrial education department at HCJC in 1955, the position he held until

Staff Members Chosen By MC

Midland College trustees approved contracts Wednesday night for a new business manager and a dean of technical and vocational education for the college.

James O. Bliss, 30, of 4403 Humble St., Midland, a former purchasing agent for the Midland Independent School District now in his fifth year as business administrator at West Texas Education Center, was named the first business manager for the college.

And Dr. Marshall Ray Box Sr. of Big Spring, technical-vocational dean for Howard County Junior College since 1967, was named technical-vocational dean.

Dr. Box will succeed Lester Burks, vocational dean here since September, 1972.

Burks has accepted a position with the recently created Northern Harris County Junior College as the second administrator to be selected by the new college near Houston.

Bliss will assume duties Feb. 1, and Box on March 1. Burks will move to Houston Feb. 15.

Upon recommendation of MC president Dr. Al G. Langford, salaries were set at $17,500 per year for the business manager and $16,500 for the technical-vocational dean.

Canada To Help Police Cease-Fire For Trial Period

OTTAWA (AP) — Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp said Wednesday Canada will help police the Vietnam cease-fire for a 60-day trial period but wants to know more before committing itself to a permanent supervisory role.

He said the first part of an estimated 290-member Canadian observer force would be ready to leave for Vietnam immediately after the agreement is signed Saturday.

Sharp told the House of Commons the Canadian government expects to study closely the agreement between Washington and Hanoi before deciding whether to participate for more than 60 days.

Canada also will base its decision on the lessons of the trial period, he added, during which the government will test its "serious doubts" about the cease-fire provisions.

Basin Operators Schedule 12 Exploratory Tests, 70 Field Sites

Projected drilling activity for oil and gas in the Permian Basin had an increase of 19 over two weeks ago, with 82 new locations being filed with the Texas Railroad Commission and New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission last week.

A total of 12 ventures and 70 field sites were filed last week. "RRC District 7-C headquarters in San Angelo, reported seven wildcats—up five from three weeks ago, when three were staked—and 17 field wells, an increase of 13 over the four previously reported.

District 8, Midland, had two probes reported, with 45 field applications slated, while Southeast New Mexico had one wildcat and six field wells, and District 8-A, Lubbock, reported two probes and two field projects.

In District 8, Ector County led all counties in field activity with 30 projects filed for last week, of which 28 were scheduled by Amoco Production Co. in its Cowden, North drilling program.

Men Wearing Shorter Hair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The reign of the mane is on the wane.

Men have begun to wear their hair shorter, say barbers and hair stylists from cities like New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta and Denver. Not short-short. But a lot shorter than a year ago. And many stylists believe short hair is now "in" for women, too.

Shears to Ears
"All of a sudden the men who were letting their hair go below their shoulders have begun putting the shears closer to the ears," says Phil Angelo, president of the American Society of Men's Hair Stylists.

At an international coiffure convention in Crans, Switzerland, last week, Paris coiffeur Robert Guery predicted that super-long manes for males are definitely doomed and that hip-length hairdos for girls are also on the way out.

Acting as spokesman for the convention, Guery said 1973 will see different lengths of hair, but none of them "excessive." Moderate lengths already are in among males, he said, "and those sporting them keep their hair very well groomed."

Easy To Manage
Why shorter hair? It's easier to manage, say the men, who are tired of struggling with hand dryers and split ends.

Also, hair doesn't go with the trend to neat, natty fashions. Besides, long hair isn't a shock to the older generation anymore. In fact, they've followed suit, in a moderate way.

Short hair abounds around film studios, boutiques and art galleries in Los Angeles. Hair cutters in celebrated Beverly Hills salons report 60 to 90 per cent of their clients—men and women—are going in for shorter hair.

Among the recently shorn, more or less, are Steve McQueen, Mick Jagger, Kirk Douglas, Tony Randall, Suzanne Pleshette, Elvis Presley, Paul Lynde, Elliott Gould, Tony Franciosa and George Segal.

However, the 1970s short cuts are not the old, skinned rabbit look of previous decades. Instead, they are often styled with no side part, an exposed ear and an over-all short, flat, layered effect.

The elegant look in man's fashions has pushed the trend along.
"We're doing a promotion of the Gatsby look. It's more groomed and cleaner. We're getting away from the scraggly look," says Jackie Rogers, whose customers include actor Michael Caine and singer Tom Jones.

Barbers serving college campuses say more students are going the shorter route — at UCLA, the University of Minnesota, Emory University and Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta and the University of Colorado at Denver.

Bumper Stickers Might Confuse Some Travelers

Religious Leaders Urge Healing Of War's Scars

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
 NEW YORK (AP) — "If you now must face responsibility for repairing the damage inflicted in Southeast Asia and overcoming the bitterness engendered at home, you shall be called Rebuilder of broken walls and Restorer of houses in ruins."
 That Biblical passage, from Isaiah 58, was cited by officials of the United Presbyterian Church as it and other religious leaders Wednesday urged new national measures to heal the scars of the Vietnam war.

agreement, they said America prayers of thanksgiving for the war's end, "penitence for our complicity" in it and intercession for its victims both in Southeast Asia and the United States.
 John Cardinal Krol of Philadelphia, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, urged that "Americans, so sorely divided by this conflict, now join together" to build lasting peace.
 He cited an appeal by Catholic bishops for "generous pardon" to conscientious resisters to the war. Amnesty for them also was asked by Protestant and Jewish leaders as part of the task of post-war reconciliation.

Court Strikes Down Texas Welfare Rule

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The federal appeals court in New Orleans has ruled that Texas cannot deny aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) simply because a youth in the family has income greater than state-defined needs.
 In Wednesday's decision, Leonor Rodriguez had appealed to the court here objecting to several sections of the Texas Financial Services Handbook.
 "The regulations being challenged in the case deny AFDC grants to families in which the child has income in his own right which is greater than his own state defined recognizable needs, even where such income is less than the recognizable needs of both the child and his caretaker relatives," the 5th court said.
 Mrs. Rodriguez said the sections are inconsistent with the

They also urged massive efforts to rebuild war-battered Vietnam.
 "Let us now wage peace with a whole-heartedness which the war could never bring," said the Rev. Dr. Gene E. Bartlett, of Newton Centre, Mass., president of the American Baptist Convention.
 Urges Restitution
 Declaring the war had served no rational purpose, Rabbi David Polish, of Evanston, Ill., president of the Central Conference of American rabbis, urged contribution for the war and restitution for its damages.
 The Rev. Dr. C. Willard Heckel, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church, and Dr. William P. Thompson, its chief administrator, cited the Isaiah passage in a letter to congregations and said:
 "We have done wrong. No matter that others have done wrong as well. Their guilt is no excuse for our own. We must face the God of history, not the face of weakness to admit our wrongs and repent of them. It is a sign that we honestly seek a future different from the past."
 The peace agreement brings a "time of critical moral decision," the letter said. It urged major U.S. aid to restore war-blasted Vietnam, and announced plans for a church "fund for reconciliation" to help do it.

Regional English Workshop Set For Feb. 3 At HCC

BIG SPRING — Regional English teachers are reminded of a new meeting date for a district workshop, according to Mrs. Susan King, English instructor at Howard County College.
 The new date for the workshop is Feb. 3. HCC will host the Joint English Committee for School and College in Big Spring.
 "The date change was made so that more area teachers can attend," Mrs. King says. "JECS is the only organization on the district level that is intended for all teachers of English from kindergarten through college. Many teachers attend each year from all over West Texas."
 The district includes Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Ward, Crane and Upton counties.

Tv Station Says Shootout Involved Only One Sniper

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police officials have concluded that only one sniper was involved in the Jan. 7 shootout at the Downtown Howard Johnson Hotel in which six persons were killed and more than a dozen wounded, a television station reported Wednesday night.
 WVUE said officials decided that only Mark Essex was involved, on the basis of physical evidence at the scene, interviews with witnesses and a monitor of tapes made of police radio broadcasts during the turmoil.
 A monitor of the tapes showed Essex had enough time to set the various fires on three different floors of the hotel without aid, WVUE said.
 A spokesman for the police department, officer Carol Gorman, said, however, she had no information on any such conclusion.
 Essex was killed Jan. 7 by police fire directed onto the hotel rooftop by a military helicopter.
 Police had thought there was a possibility of a second sniper, and even possibly a third.

Great Society Dying With LBJ?

By STERLING F. GREEN
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of what remains of the Great Society of Lyndon B. Johnson may not long survive him.

Many of the domestic programs and agencies by which the 36th president hoped to abolish poverty and rebuild the ghettos are sentenced to death or dismemberment under President Nixon's budget ax.
 Government sources said privately the Office of Economic Opportunity, conceived by Johnson as a major weapon of his "war on poverty," would be broken up and its remaining functions shifted to other agencies if Congress concurs.
 Nixon's fiscal 1974 budget message, ready for delivery to Congress on Monday, reportedly will call for total outlays of around $268 billion or $269 billion.
 That would be a relatively small increase from this year's $250-billion target, considering economic and population growth and the fact that defense spending may rise despite the peace agreement in Vietnam.
 Holding down the budget is made possible, officials said, by Nixon's heavy ax work on funds for housing, health, education and social programs, subsidized public-service jobs, work training and community services.
 Some of the targeted programs, such as the Rural Electrification Administration, date back to Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal, but many of the housing and urban programs are legacies of the "Great Society" hopes of the man who was being buried today in his native Texas.

 An 18-month moratorium on new approvals of subsidized housing for low-income families was announced Jan. 5 by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The budget reportedly will provide no funds for new approvals in fiscal 1974, starting July 1.

Officials said the budget will reflect a theme of the President's inaugural address last Saturday, that Americans henceforth can expect less from their government: "Let each of us remember that America was built not by government, but by people—not by shirking responsibility, but by seeking responsibility."
 Science, technology, space and atomic-energy programs also reportedly are due for paring. The White House Office of Science and Technology is being abolished; its functions will be moved to the National Science Foundation.
 The rise in federal financing of civilian research and development, which was a priority item a year ago in Nixon's 1004.59. It was the sharpest decline since Aug. 3, 1971, when pettiveness in world trade, is expected to level off or decline, a steel strike scare.

Achievers Group To Elect Officers

The Achievers Association of Junior Achievement of Midland will adopt bylaws and elect officers during a meeting at 7 p.m. today in the J.A. Business Center.
 Thirty-eight members of J.A., representing 19 miniature companies make up the association. The group also will view a slide presentation concerning the "Trade Fair" scheduled in the Dellwood Plaza Mall in February.

Sen. Mathias Visits New Delhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — Sen. Charles M. Mathias Jr. of Maryland has arrived in New Delhi for an official visit which will include talks with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and other government leaders.
 The Maryland Republican, who arrived Wednesday, will also view India's Republic Day parade on Friday as a guest of the government.

Horton Best Speaker At Toastmasters Meet

Jim Horton was chosen best speaker at a meeting this morning of the Tall Town Toastmasters. Jim Beck and Omer Roberts tied for most improved speaker. Dan Miller was best evaluator and best tabletopics award went to Terry Smith.

Market Nosedives Despite Viet News

NEW YORK (AP) — Investor concern over inflation and Phase 3 drove stock market prices lower Wednesday, more than offsetting the psychological impact of the Vietnam cease-fire announcement.
 After a brief rally in the first few minutes of trading, which brokers called an emotional response to the peace news, the Dow-Jones industrial average began dropping and by the end of trading was off 14.07 to 1004.59. It was the sharpest decline since Aug. 3, 1971, when the Dow fell 14.89 points during a steel strike scare.

ODESSA — Talented young vocalists and instrumentalists from Odessa College, later transferring to Baylor, where she is a senior with major in music education. She is a member of the Baylor orchestra.

Lili Kraus, distinguished pianist and faculty member at TCU in Fort Worth, and was accepted for study with her, the youngest student ever accepted by Madame Kraus.

The young pianist, who attends Cleburne High, is a member of the school band and also plays cymbals, oboe and flute. She enjoys swimming, boating and ice skating.

The two-day event, sponsored by the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Chorale Inc., will open Friday afternoon on the campus of Odessa College and continue through late Saturday. There will be no Sunday finals this year.

Among the more than 80 young contenders from colleges, universities and high schools throughout the country are several student musicians from West Texas and other parts of the state. They include Brenda Cason of Wichita Falls, a student at West Texas State University Canyon; Maria Martinez, El Paso, a student at

The Friday night lecture, sponsored by the Senior High youth department of First UMC, will be open to the public; tickets are $1.50.

Pickwick Players Auditions Slated

Annual midwinter auditions for the Pickwick Players, the young people's producing and performing company of Midland Community Theatre, are scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday. According to MCT's Edward Graczyk, a number of vacancies exist for 8th through 10th grade students.

Persons should come to the auditions prepared to present a short reading of one to two minutes in length. Additional information the auditions and requirements for membership in the Pickwick Players is available from the theater office, 682-2544.

Special Art Classes Set

Special art classes for young people will begin next week at the Museum of the Southwest, and registrations now are being accepted in the museum office. A course in acrylic painting, to be taught by Mrs. E. V. Mathys, will meet for the first time at 4:15 p.m. next Tuesday. The seven-week course is open to all secondary students.

Another of the popular "Fun With Clay" courses for students in grades one through six also will begin Tuesday. To be taught by Stan Jacobs, the course will have Tuesday class sessions for six weeks. Class time will be 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Additional information on the upcoming courses is available from the museum office, 683-2882.

Remington Exhibit At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — An exhibition covering the life and work of Frederic Remington, the artist whose name has become synonymous with the Old West, will go on view Friday at the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art here.

Assembled by the museum from sources throughout the United States, the retrospective show will offer a preview of a book on Remington by Peter Hassrick, the Carter Museum's curator of collections. The book will be published later this year by a New York firm.

The new exhibition contains more than 80 major paintings by Remington as well as bronzes, photographs of the artist, and memorabilia.

"Among the dozens of creative men and women who chose to elevate the glories of our American West none was more singularly devoted, more overwhelmingly prodigious nor more enduring in his effect than the artist Frederic Remington," Hassrick notes in his catalog for the show. "Although he received national recognition for his pioneer work in the presentation of many phases of American civilization, it was to the frontier theme in particular that he dedicated his life."

Hassrick's book quotes Remington on the birth of his ambition soon after he went into the West in 1881 at the age of 19. He found that the Old West was rapidly disappearing:

"I knew the derby hat, the smoking chimneys, the cord-binder, and the thirty-day note were upon us in a resistless surge. I knew the wild riders and the vacant land were about to vanish forever, and the more I considered the subject the bigger the Forever loomed," Remington once stated. He set out to capture as much of the Old West on canvas as possible. The remaining years of his life were directed toward that goal. In many ways, Remington was singularly equipped for his career.

Born in upstate New York in 1861, he was the son of a journalist who became a cavalry officer during the Civil War. From his earliest years, Remington was an enthusiastic fan of the outdoor life, the military, and riding. Throughout his boyhood, he reveled in his father's tales of Western adventure during the military campaigns in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas. His schoolmates and family later remembered that from boyhood he showed a talent for drawing, depicting the scenes of soldiers, desperados, Indians and the frontier life that fired his imagination.

Remington's father returned to journalism after the war, and no doubt hoped that Remington would follow in his footsteps. But when Remington entered Yale University in the fall of 1878, he enrolled in the School of Fine Arts. When his father died in 1879, Remington left Yale for a clerical job in the governor's office at Albany. His energetic nature found that task even more boring. His friends here later recalled that he spent his time making pictures of fellow employees, while his clerical work lay neglected.

When Remington's first chance to go West came in 1881, he needed no urging. And he soon knew he had found his life's work. He pursued that work until his death at 48, in 1909.

The exhibition will continue through March 18. Also on view in the museum's mezzanine galleries are two exhibitions from the museum's permanent collection — a selection of California focusing on the 1849 Gold Rush, and the illustrated letters of cowboy artist Charles M. Russell, "Paper Talk." Museum hours are from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from 1 to 5:30 p. m. Sundays. Next Monday, the museum will be open to accommodate stock show visitors.

Truth In Sportscasting Too Much?

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Bouton, the former major and minor league baseball pitcher, once may be brought before the casting fraternity on charges of heresy and having a sense of humor.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Bouton, the former major and minor league baseball pitcher, once may be brought before the casting fraternity on charges of heresy and having a sense of humor.

There are dog days in sports news, but he was one of the few to admit it. He had admitted it once before, but on this occasion he told his viewers he would have to modify his stand.

This, he said, was because tonight the producer said, "You gotta have something better. We're being preceded by a Dean Martin movie."

His sports report, in its entirety, was: "Bob Hite, defencive coordinator and line coach late-night sports man for 2½ years. He got the job despite himself."

After "Ball Four" came out, WABC executives called him and asked if he'd like to go into television. At the time, he was pitching for the Houston Astros, and the team was doing well.

"I said, 'Quit the Houston Astros. You must be crazy. Hardly Walker's about to lead this team to the pennant, and I'm free going to win the final game,'" he said.

"They said, 'We'll pay you a lot of money.' I said, 'Listen, I'm playing baseball. Are you kidding me?' I told them, 'A couple of years from now, if I get released or sent to the minor leagues, I'll give you a call.'"

That was it. Bouton was just putting into practice what he felt for some time.

"When I was growing up, I used to watch tv, and it always seemed the sports guy would take three minutes, no matter what was happening," he said. "Big news, no news, it made no difference."

Bouton, an admirably free spirit who wrote the best-selling "Ball Four" while on and between teams, has been WABC's lot of money.

I said, "Listen, I'm playing baseball. Are you kidding me?" I told them, "A couple of years from now, if I get released or sent to the minor leagues, I'll give you a call."

COMMITTEE POST — Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, left, hands a gavel to Midland State Sen. W. E. "Pete" Snelson after Hobby appointed Snelson vice chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

Andrews To Host Math, Science Meet Saturday

ANDREWS — The science and mathematics departments of Andrews High School will hold their eighth annual Mathematics and Science Conference Saturday at Andrews High School.

Sponsoring the event will be Tau Mu Kappa, local chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, national organization for high school and junior college mathematics students, under whose auspices the contest is being conducted.

The conference is scheduled to begin with registration at the 7:30 a.m. in the dome area of the high school. Entries have been received from over 50 schools. Some 600 contestants are expected to participate, including many of the state's most outstanding mathematics and science students.

Scheduled events include contests in slide rule and number sense to be directed by Don Boles, a mathematics teacher under the direction of Leon Barbee, a science teacher supervised by A. W. Shoffit, and the Student Congress, which will be directed by Kenneth Williamson. Judges for this year's Student Congress will be Dr. Charles Robinson of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Dr. J. A. Amburgey of Angelo State University in San Angelo, and Lyons Lockhart of Midland College.

Individual awards will be given to students winning first through fourth place in veteran, novice and freshman divisions in the slide rule and number sense contests. In the science contest, awards will be made to the first four place winners in both veteran and novice divisions.

In the mathematics contest, awards are given in four divisions — senior, junior, sophomore and freshman — with top three being given trophies in the senior and junior divisions, while the first two place winners will be given trophies in the sophomore and freshman divisions.

The first four place winners in the Student Congress will receive trophies. In each of these five events, a trophy will be awarded to the team with the highest score. Sweepstakes and Runner-Up trophies will be given to the three schools whose students score the largest number of overall points.

All contests consist of University Interscholastic League-type tests and will be scored according to UIL rules.

The awards assembly will be conducted in the Little Theater at Andrews High School at 2:30 p.m.

Mennonite Families Seek Cheaper Land

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The high cost of owning and operating a Lancaster farm is driving a number of Old Order Mennonite families westward in search of cheaper farmland.

Some 30 Lancaster Mennonite families are already in central Missouri, and a dozen more are planning to make the move by next spring.

The high cost of land in Pennsylvania, according to a Mennonite bishop, is the prime reason for the "go West" movement. Land here costs from $1,000 to $3,000 an acre compared to $400 and down in Missouri.

Most of those leaving are connected with the Groffdale Conference, the horse and buggy Mennonites, whose present farms are in Earl, East Earl and Brecknock townships in eastern Lancaster County.

"There's no danger of them all leaving," says Bishop Aaron Z. Sensenig. "In fact, we don't feel the difference" (meaning the loss of numbers).

In addition to the land cost, there are those other factors for the migration:

- Overcrowding of the churches.
- Dangers that motor vehicle traffic presents to the horse and buggy.
- Smaller population in Missouri and less pollution.

Reuben L. Zimmerman, who plans to leave his 100-acre spread near Terre Hill for a 160-acre farm near Jefferson City, Mo., complains, "It's impossible to own one around here."

His farm and that of another relative, Phares H. Zimmerman, will be taken over by relatives.

This move westward is not sight unseen. The Mennonites have gone to Missouri and found the hills and valleys not much different from Lancaster County.

Neighboring Mennonites are joining in the migration.

Titus R. Martin, a minister of the Weaverland Mennonite Conference of nearby Berks County, is leading a delegation soon to Missouri. "We are concerned about the young people," Martin says. "The Mennonite families have better control of young people on the farm than they would have in the cities where evil influences of the environment run counter to their beliefs."

That may be, but it's not Reuben Zimmerman's reason.

Austin Sets Law Seminar

AUSTIN — A law enforcement seminar here Feb. 2 will attract defense lawyers, prosecutors, judges and law enforcement representatives. District Judge Perry D. Pickett of Midland said today.

Pickett is chairman of the State Bar's special committee on law enforcement problems, seminar sponsor. He will preside.

Purpose of the program, Pickett said, is "to bring about a better understanding of the proper roles that law enforcement agencies, the judiciary, the prosecutors and defense counsel play in the administration of justice."

The meeting will be held at the Joe C. Thompson Center of The University of Texas. Speakers at the opening session will include Bar president Jim D. Bowmer of Temple, Col. Wilson Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety; Robert O. Smith, district attorney of Travis County, and Austin attorney Frank Maloney.

The afternoon session will feature District Judge Mace B. Thurman Jr., Austin, and Judge Truman E. Roberts of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Texas Cattle Losses Said Not Worst Yet

By ROBERT E. FORD Associated Press Writer
 Severe cattle losses this winter in Texas and in areas surrounding the Panhandle sent some western history fans searching for comparisons. They discovered—if they didn't already know—that one can say a certain spell of weather is the "worst." It is combinations of weather that cause all the harm—length, coldness, wind, wetness, snow depths.

And then you get into the amount of development and economics, and where the "worst" begins and ends can't really be determined. For instance, the Panhandle region's bad spell ending in mid-January this year after two and a half months was not the coldest and did not produce the deepest snows.

100,000 Cattle Died
 Yet 100,000 cattle died in the Panhandle and upper South Plains by estimates of Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White and Orville Howard of the Amarillo Globe-Times and News who is an expert on the region.

This is bad enough, but not as disastrous as it sounds. There are 1.6 million cattle on feed at all times in the upper South Plains and the Panhandle, with thousands arriving daily and other thousands leaving the feed lots. And the deaths occurred not in one "storm" but over 75 or 76 days.

If you must know about "possibly the worst," historians are bemused by the 1886 norther and with good reason. Among those writing about this blizzard are Louis Nordyke in his "Great Roundup," which a dealer says is in the "rare book" class although published only in 1955 and Wayne Gard's "Rawhide Texas."

'Great White Rain'
 Nordyke starts the story on "the last day of 1885 at the foot of the Black Hills in South Dakota. The norther—the author called this one "the Great White Rain"—hit suddenly.

A Texas cowboy who owned a small herd in the Black Hills related that he tried to turn his cattle but the snow was so heavy he couldn't see his horse's head.

Despite the severity of this blizzard, Gard says it didn't reach the upper Panhandle until Jan. 7 of 1886.

The National Weather Service notes that this particular storm resulted in death from freezing for 20 persons in Iowa and from 50 to 100 in Kansas and unknown numbers elsewhere.

Cattle turn tail to the wind and drift south when a norther hits. This happened so often that early-day cattlemen built a "drift fence" for 175 miles along the top of the Panhandle to keep out the weather-driven cows. This was in 1881-82.

Patience Goes Unrewarded

Inside tiny, stuffy MHS gym things were pretty well organized, but some of the fans who stood in line the longest failed to get into the Midland-Midland Lee basketball game. Lines began forming outside the gym an hour and a half before the doors were open. One fan, who could have pulled a few strings — and legitimately so — to get in, arrived at 5:20 and obediently stood in line.

"No, I didn't get in and I noticed parents of some of the players didn't get in either," he said.

"What happened was that late arriving fans milled around in the streets outside the doors and instead of being directed to the back of the line, they were herded up on the sidewalks in front of the door. In effect they were being pushed to the front of the line."

He went on. "When the doors finally opened, everybody just broke for the entrance and those closest got in."

Standing in line, one could here some interesting comments, such as, "How come Odessa High built a gym 40 years ago and it's still better than anything we've got here?"

And the answer, "Yea, but did you ever play that country club course over there?"

The observation about the OHS gym is all wrong. It wasn't built more than 25 or 30 years ago.

With the mob that wanted to see Tuesday's game, not a gym outside Abilene could have accommodated the crowd.

In fact, the crowd at MHS gym wasn't even the largest for a district game Tuesday night. A disappointing 2,500 turned out for the Abilene-Abilene Cooper struggle for last place while only about 1,500 saw the Midland-Lee game. The big difference was that the Eagles and Cougars played at ACC's Moody Coliseum and pre-game estimates were that 4,500 would show up.

Only One Can Be Champ

Midland Lee pulled a mild upset primarily because it beat Midland on its home court, 58-55, but it was a game that could have gone either way.

During the fourth quarter it was either team's game for the taking.

Speculation before the game was that Lee would try to cope with Midland's speed with a slow down game, but Coach Paul Stueckler didn't detour too far from his normal game plan. Lee actually just did a good job of executions.

Lee had a 49-43 lead midway through the second half before it slacked the pace and displayed extreme patience and selectivity before launching a shot in an effort to lure the Bulldogs out of their zone.

Coach James Cagle's Purple Pack doesn't have anything to be ashamed of in defeat. After Lee jumped in front 5-0 and 14-3 in the early stages, the Bulldogs regained their composure and battled back to a 23-23 tie at half.

Again in the fourth quarter, things were desperate when the 'Dogs fell six back and Lee slowed down the pace, but again Midland battled into a challenging position, twice creeping to within two points of a tie.

The real tragedy of it all is that the Tall City has two teams capable of representing District 5-4A with elan in the state playoffs, but only one will get to go.

As the second half of district play opens Friday, both teams are faced with challenges. For Lee, it will be to fight any tendency to relax after registering its biggest victory of the season.

For Midland, the remainder of the season becomes a test of character and resolution. The Bulldogs aren't out of it yet, by any means, but their course the rest of the way is charted in a straight-line with no room for detours.

Lions Talk With Don McCafferty

DETROIT (AP) — Will Don McCafferty be the next coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League?

The Oakland Press reported in Wednesday's edition that McCafferty, former head coach of the Baltimore Colts, has the inside track.

Bruno Kearns, sports editor of the Pontiac, Mich., paper, said McCafferty had a lengthy talk in Detroit on Monday with Lions' general manager Russ Thomas.

"I can't say anything," said McCafferty, when contacted by phone at his Baltimore-area home. "I talked to a lot of people and I know nothing about having the inside track or anything else."

Later he admitted speaking with Thomas and said, "I think it would be a good job up there."

Joe Schmidt resigned as Detroit's head coach Jan. 12, saying the job wasn't fun anymore and that he wanted to spend more time with his family.

Although Thomas was not available for comment, a Lions' spokesman said: "I do not know who we talked to. We are not mentioning who we're talking to or not talking to."

"We think it's bad to say who's on the list because when we pick someone that makes the others look bad. Even after we name the new coach we don't intend to reveal the names of the candidates who we considered but did not pick."

The spokesman said he is "hopeful that a new coach will be named within the next week, or even closer."

The list of candidates he said has been narrowed to five names.

Others reported as being considered include Charlie Winner, Ernie Staunier, Dick Stanfel, Ted Marchibroda and Tommy Prothro.

Spahn Glad For Dad

Warren's Father Taught Him 'Picture' Delivery

By HUBERT MIZELL

NEW YORK (AP) — A Hall of Fame twinkie appeared in Eddie Spahn's 77-year-old eyes. He taught his boy how to pitch and now Warren was headed for Cooperstown.

"That twinkie was reward enough," said Warren.

Spahn pitched heroically for the Braves of both Boston and Milwaukee, winning a left-handed record 363 games with 13 seasons of 20 or more victories.

"It was almost midnight Tuesday when the call came," he said. "We were at my dad's house in Buffalo, N.Y. Suddenly I was in the Baseball Hall of Fame. I almost cried."

Spahn was an overwhelming choice with 316 of 380 votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America. A 75 per cent approval was needed, and he had received 83 in his first year of eligibility.

Ford

"The emotions flowed and I couldn't take my eyes off my father," he said. "He was the one who taught me to pitch instead of simply throw ... the high leg kick, the style ... everything."

The 51-year-old Spahn will be enshrined next summer at the Baseball Hall in Cooperstown, N.Y. "Right up there with Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Walter Johnson," he said.

Whitey Ford, one-time clutch left-hander of the New York Yankees, fell 29 votes short of the required 284 in his first shot at the Hall. By chance, he ran into Spahn at a restaurant after Wednesday's announcement. "Nice going, Spahn," he said. "Maybe Mickey and I can make it as a two-man entry next year." Mickey Mantle, the old Yankee slugger, becomes eligible in 1974.

Spahn is bald, but athletically trim at age 51. He pitched in the major leagues until he was 44 and still wins a few in batting practice for Cleveland as the Indians' pitching coach.

Bill Meyers, a scout for the Boston Braves, signed Spahn to an $80-a-month contract to play for Bradford, Pa., of the Pony League in 1940. Two seasons later, he was called up to Boston for the end of the season.

World War II horned in, taking 3½ seasons from him, and Spahn didn't win his first major league game until 1946 at the age of 25.

After that, it was gangbusters. Spahn was a 20-game winner 13 times in a 17-year stretch and wound up with a record of 363-245 plus a bushel of personal records.

Tiny Austin Peay Bulges Out Of Gym

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Austin Peay basketball gymnasium seats only 2,305 and it used to be enough for home games until this year.

Now, they miraculously squeeze 1,500 more fans into the postage-stamp arena and the overflow carries into the school cafeteria to watch on closed circuit television.

The big attraction is the "Super Fly."

The nation's leading scorer, James "Fly" Williams, continued to pack them in and continued to throw them in Wednesday night with 38 points that helped Austin Peay beat North Carolina-Charlotte 85-76.

"Fly hasn't yet hit as well as he's going to hit from the field," said Austin Peay Coach Lake Kelly.

Perhaps not, but he's not doing too badly so far. He had a 33-point average going into Wednesday night's game. That was almost two points better than runnerup Raymond Lewis of Los Angeles State.

And his charismatic presence has juiced up the home attendance. The line outside the gym usually starts forming about four hours before game time.

In other action Wednesday night, ninth-ranked Alabama trimmed Florida 82-74; No. 14 Providence turned back Massachusetts 91-78; 15th-ranked St. John's, N.Y., crushed Seton Hall 107-77; Dayton stopped Miami, Ohio 68-61; Duke clipped Richmond 70-66; Boston University beat Holy Cross 75-66; Buffalo edged Cornell 72-69; Fairfield defeated Boston College 69-65; Morehead nudged Marshall 81-80; Fordham clouted Army 77-68; St. Joseph's, Pa., withstood Georgetown 70-59; St. Bonaventure breezed over Canisius 68-58; Clemson drubbed the Citadel 72-54; Temple blasted Pittsburgh 71-50 and Penn notched a 57-45 decision over LaSalle.

The "Fly" scored 14 of his points in the last four minutes to help Austin Peay pull away from North Carolina-Charlotte. The sensational freshman came through with two free throws late in the game to break a 67-67 tie and get his team untracked. Alabama used only six play-

Rentzel Says He's Innocent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wide receiver Lance Rentzel of the Los Angeles Rams, after pleading innocent to charges of possessing marijuana and codeine, is scheduled to go on trial next Wednesday.

Rentzel, 29, entered his plea Wednesday in Superior Court before Judge James G. Kolts. He was free on $2,500 bail after his Jan. 10 arrest and subsequent indictment by the county grand jury.

Also arrested in the case, in which authorities said one-half pound of marijuana was seized from Rentzel's apartment, was movie producer William S. Blassco, 38. He pleaded innocent Monday to charges of possessing marijuana and cocaine and his trial was set for next Tuesday.

UT Star Flunks

AUSTIN (AP) — Freshman Bobby Littlefield of Baytown, one of the state's top schoolboy hurdlers last year, failed to make his grades during the fall semester and will not be able to run for the Texas Longhorns this spring.

PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS, PROBLEMS — It seems as though Midland High and Midland Lee athletic teams can't play a game these days without drawing big lines of people. It's a problem athletic department folks haven't had to contend with quite so often in the past. In fact, Athletic Director Thurman (Tugboat) Jones is all for it, but sometimes he just wishes he had a place to put them all. The above crowd is the early stages of the gathering for the Lee-Midland basketball game at MHS gym Tuesday night.

Stanton, Coahoma Locked In Tie For 1st

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
The first half of the District 7-AA cage race came to an end last Tuesday night, and things couldn't be more undecided than they are at this point.

Stanton's Buffaloes, leading the league from the very beginning, stumped its toe against the Ozona Lions Tuesday which left the loop with a two-way tie between Coahoma and Stanton. Both teams ended first half action with 4-1 district marks and Ozona is only a step back at 3-2.

The second half kicks off Friday with none of the leaders meeting each other, so things may end up the same after Friday's contests.

Reagan County hosts Coahoma Friday while Crane travels to Stanton and Ozona takes on McCamey in a revenge bout.

While that district is in the midst of a "who wants it the worst" conflict, the area's two AAA districts are progressing in predictable fashion.

The Andrews Mustangs of District 2-AAA murdered Seminole 91-67 Tuesday to take a 1-0 record in the second round of that loop. Andrews won the first half championship with a sparkling 6-0 record, and a two game edge over second place Odessa Ector. The Mustangs travel to Monahans Friday in what appears to be another easy outing. Monahans dropped its first game of the second round to lowly Kermit, and appears to be out of the second half race. Odessa Ector gets back into loop warfare Friday against Kermit while Seminole hosts the unpredictable Fort Stockton Panthers.

Lamesa's Golden Tornados defeated Colorado City 71-61 last Tuesday to go 1-0 in the second half of District 3-AAA after winning the first half crown with a perfect 6-0 mark.

The Tors may face their most stubborn test Friday when they host the Lubbock Estacado Matadors. A victory over the Matadors would give Lamesa a large edge in the second half race. Both teams are 1-0 in the second round. Estacado finished third in the first half race with a respectable 4-2 reading.

Other 3-AAA games include, Lubbock Dunbar at Colorado City and last place Lake View at Sweetwater. Brownfield, who finished in second place in the first half, is idle.

The District 6-A air cleared a bit last Tuesday when Rankin's surging Red Devils posted a 60-48 victory over Clint that league.

Rankin, 7-1, travels to last place Wink Friday in an easy contest while Clint, 6-2, faces a tough assignment against Marfa, 3-4.

Sanderson hosts Balmorhea in the other 6-A engagement while Imperial hosts Iran in a non-conference battle.

Rankin Seizes Top Spot In 6-A Cage Race

Beck... Life Can Be Beautiful

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Byron Beck never won a game in Louisville. That is until Wednesday night.

Beck was a key factor in the Denver Rockets 98-87 American Basketball Association victory over the Kentucky Colonels.

Beck has been with the Denver franchise since its inception, and had not won a game in Louisville. "It's beautiful," he said. "This has haunted me for quite some time. It's almost like a goal you set in life. Every time we come to Louisville the losing streak is in the back of my mind. It's almost like a defeatist attitude. Maybe now I can start from scratch."

Alen Hannum, coach of the Rockets was also pleased with the victory. "The win snapped a six-game losing streak for us. Maybe this will give us some momentum."

Warren Jabali paced the Rockets with 26 points, followed by Beck with 21. Kentucky was led by Dan Issel with 24 points and Artis Gilmore who had 23 points and 18 rebounds.

The loss pushed the Colonels three games behind the Carolina Cougars in the battle for the lead in the East Division. Denver evened its record at 26-26.

in the ABA, the Utah Stars blitzed the Dallas Chapparals 111-103. Ron Boone scored 25 points to pace the Stars followed by Willie Wise and Zelmo Beaty with 20 each.

Dallas, next-to-last in the Western Division, was paced by Rich Jones with 34 points and Larry Jones with 19.

There were no games scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

Burges Runs Streak To 13

El Paso Burges ran its winning streak to 13 in a row and its season record to 21-1 by beating Eastwood, 76-57, in District 1-4A. Earlier in the week Eastwood had served El Paso Austin's 13-game winning streak.

Over in New Mexico, Roswell Goddard handed Hobbs a loss in its league opener, but Carlsbad beat Hobbs, so all three are tied for first place in the standings.

Spring Branch defeated Houston Memorial 44-35, which doesn't sound like much of a trick for a team that's 27-1, but it was the first time the Bears had beaten Memorial in nine years. Also in the Houston area, Yates, 24-4, beat Jones 103-87 to share first in 17-4A with Wheatley, which went 27-1 with its 23rd over-100-point performance.

District 5-4A's champion meets the 6-4A winner and going into this week's play Richland and Haltom were 5-1 with Trinity 4-1. Haltom is 19-5 and Richland 18-5 for the year. Arlington and Irving are 5-0 in 7-4A, but Irving looks like the tough one. No one in league has come within 18 points of Irving and the two victories last week were by 34 points. Irving's Tom Wielert is averaging 21.0 per game. Guard John Coulter is Arlington's scoring leader, but Allen Winder, a 6-8 sophomore, also is producing big games for the Colts, taking the heat off 6-6 Craig Bishop, 20.4 average.

Bob Arnold's 30 points kept Highland Park at the top of the 8-4A heap with a close 65-61 win over South Garland. And in 11-4A Coach John Paul Fultz had Spruce running out in front after an 81-63 win over Thomas Jefferson.

Borger knocked off Amarillo Palo Duro Tuesday to claim sole possession of first in 3-4A with a 2-0 record. The Bulldogs are 18-3 for the season and balanced scoring is the key to their success. Pampa, 13-8, the No. 2 team in the league, lost to Amarillo Tascosa, 44-41.

Top-Ranked UCLA Shoots For Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-ranked UCLA's seemingly invincible Bruins tonight launch an historic two-game Midwest invasion which should give them already phenomenal dynasty with collegiate basketball's longest skein of consecutive victories.

Against Chicago Loyola in the finale of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader, Coach Johnny Wooden's six-time NCAA champion Bruins are heavily favored to rack up their 60th straight victory since 1971 and match the record set by Bill Russell-led San Francisco from 1955 through 1957.

The West Coast wonder club, 14-0 this season, Saturday afternoon presumably will try for record-breaking No. 61 at South Bend, Ind., against Notre Dame the last team to defeat UCLA with an 89-82 triumph on Jan. 23, 1971, on the Irish court.

Notre Dame (6-7) is also on tonight's Chicago Stadium card, facing Illinois (7-4), the club which gave UCLA its toughest tussle to date this season, bowing by only seven points, 71-64, in the Sugar Bowl tournament.

Wooden sent the Bruins through a brisk-hour workout at De Paul University's gym after deplanning from the West Coast yesterday afternoon.

UCLA will face both Loyola and Notre Dame without guard, Tommy Curtis, who failed to make the trip because of the flu.

However, Bruin kingpin, 6-11 All-American Bill Walton, practiced snappily and showed no effects of a slight ankle sprain suffered Saturday night as UCLA made it No. 59 in a row with a 101-77 waltz over Providence.

Curtis will be replaced by Greg Lee, whose 4.9 point average is slightly under Curtis' 5.7.

WOLFPACK LEADER—North Carolina State's 5-6 guard Monte Towe drives in recent game while wearing a face mask to protect broken nose and a splint to protect broken left wrist. He says his father told him, "I had to be aggressive or the big guys would run all over me." The Pack ranks No. 2 and is undefeated. (AP Wirephoto.)

Rebs Seek Encore

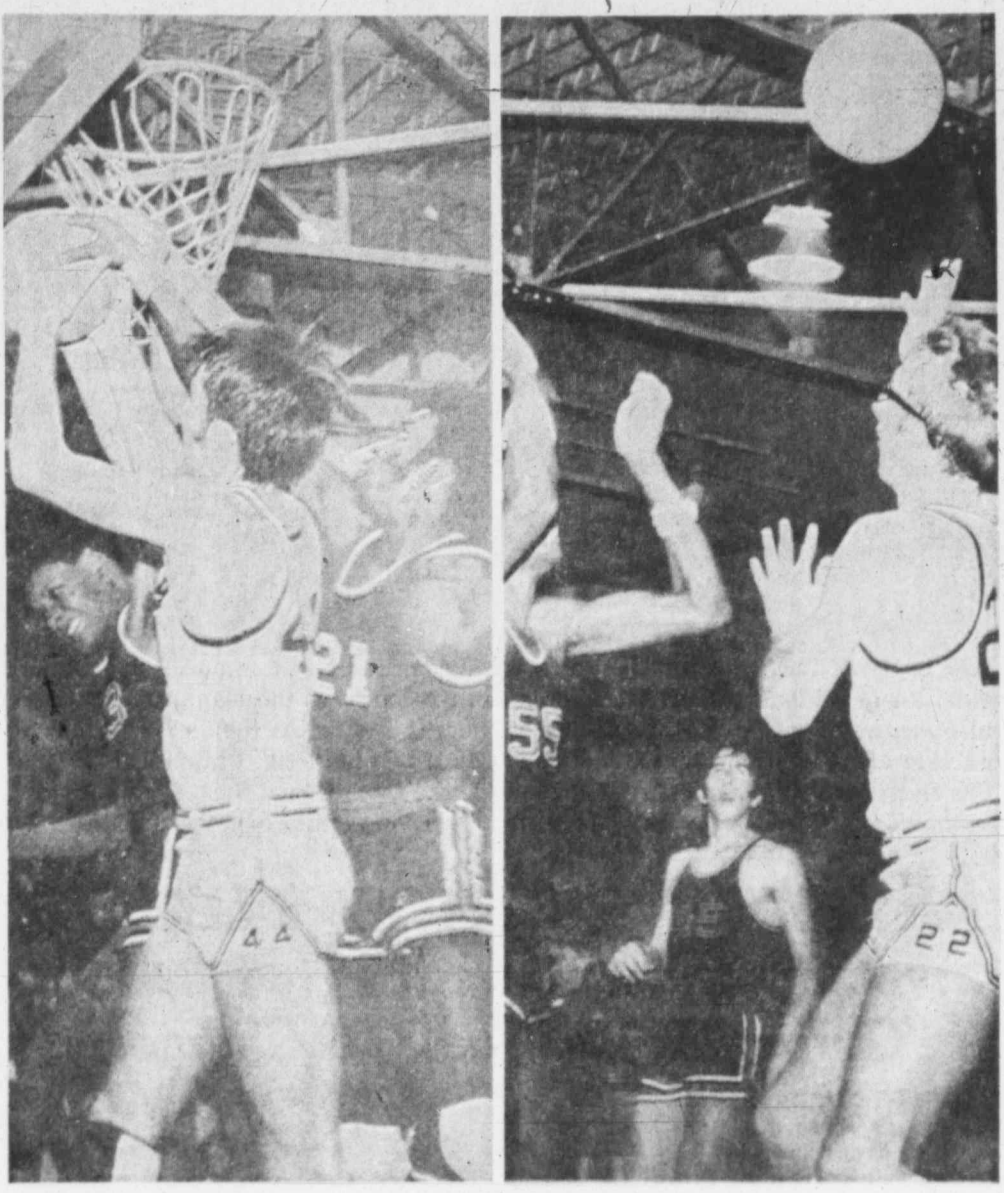

IN SECOND HALF

In the wake of the elation over Tuesday night's 58-55 first-half title clinching basketball victory over crosstown rival Midland High, Midland Lee awoke to a sobering thought Wednesday.

Namely, they're gonna have to do it all over again.

Of course, that's a lot better than the prospects facing the other seven District 5-4A league members. For them, it's now or never... do or die... California or bust... but at least they do have hope, which is what the two half race is all about.

By breezing through the first half in 7-0 style, Midland Lee clinched a place in any post-season playoff and even

SPAGHETTI FEED SET

A spaghetti supper is scheduled from 5 to 8 p.m. Friday at the MHS cafeteria and Midland High and Odessa Permian basketball fans are invited to attend the feed.

The $1 per plate will be used to send the Midland High Acappella choir to the Texas Music Teachers festival in San Antonio.

a tie for first in the second half means a spot in the state AAAA playoffs for the Rebels.

Lee is 24-1 for the season and has a 22-game winning streak going as the Rebels head into Friday's game at Odessa High. The Bronchos have Coach Paul Stueckler's Maroons trouble the first time around before losing 56-48 and are in an enviable position to do it, catching Lee coming off the big win over Midland.

While Midland High finished in second with a 5-2 record, the Purple Pack is 20-3 for the year and Coach James Cagle's squad still harbors ambitions of a third straight District 5-4A title.

However, Friday's home date with Odessa Permian represents a turning point for the Bulldogs. Midland, like Lee, is coming off a big emotional binge Tuesday night. Permian has the kind of size that gave the Bulldogs trouble, but Midland will be out to avenge a 53-51 loss to the Panthers in Odessa.

Tickets for Friday's game in MHS gym are expected to be less scarce than hens' teeth, the term used to describe the availability of ducks to Tuesday's game.

Elsewhere in district, Abilene Cooper and San Angelo tangle while Abilene meets Big Spring.

With half the league season gone, 6-2 Don Bradley zoomed into the individual scoring lead with a 21.7 average. Midland's 6-10 Ronald Taylor is second, 12 points back, with 20.0 per game.

The point scoring race should be a two-player chase down the stretch, but with both teams title contenders the scoring, title is pretty small pickin' in comparison.

Lee's 6-6 Steve Cromwell has a 15.4 average for fifth place, but the senior is even more valuable on defense. Midland's Mike Tillman is

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS of sports writers and broadcasters. Stephen F. Austin had and once-beaten Stephen F. Austin will collide this Saturday night in Nacogdoches, Tex. to decide who is the No. 1 college division basketball team.

Sam Houston remained No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, with Stephen F. Austin in the No. 2 spot. Earlier in the season, the positions were reversed, with Stephen F. Austin on top and Sam Houston in the runner-up spot.

The teams also will meet Feb. 7 at Huntsville, Tex., Sam Houston's home court.

In the latest balloting, Sam Houston received nine of 15 votes in parentheses, season first-place votes and 284 points in balloting by a national panel.

SEIZE WHA LEAD— Selwood's 55-Foot Goals Spurt Whalers By Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS New England Whalers to a 6-1 World Hockey Association victory over the Winnipeg Jets.

Brad Selwood did something Wednesday night that hockey defensemen normally don't do. He scored two goals from just inside the blue line to pace the World Hockey Association victory over the Winnipeg Jets. Selwood's two goals traveled 55 feet each and caught Jets' goalie Joe Daley flatfooted both times.

The victory moved the Whalers into a first place tie with the Cleveland Crusaders in the WHA East Division.

It was the third meeting in six nights for the two clubs who split a pair of games in Winnipeg last Friday and Sunday. Bobby Hull, Winnipeg superstar, went through the three-game series without a goal.

In the only other game scheduled in the WHA, the Philadelphia Blazers defeated the Quebec Nordiques, 6-4 behind Johnny McKenzie's three-goal performance. McKenzie's third goal of the game, at 9:36 of the third period, proved to be the winner.

'Garbage Can' Goes To Chargers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Matte the "garbage can" running back, says he's undecided on whether to report to the San Diego Chargers or retire from pro football.

"I'm mulling it over," Matte said Wednesday after being traded to the Chargers by the Baltimore Colts for an eighth-round choice in next week's National Football League player draft.

It was the second deal in three days between the two clubs involving a veteran player. On Monday, the Colts swapped legendary quarterback John Unitas to San Diego for "future considerations."

Unitas also has indicated reservations about reporting to the Chargers.

Like Unitas, Matte had complained openly last fall about the tactics of Baltimore's new General Manager Joe Thomas.

After starting the first four games of the season, Matte was sidelined by a hip injury against San Diego. He missed the Dallas contest the following week and on Oct. 22 was deactivated after suffering a recurrence of bleeding ulcers.

At midseason, he called a news conference to complain about the delay in his reactivation and criticize the Colts' youth movement under Thomas. Matte was returned to the active roster Dec. 9 and performed on the special teams club without showing a flashy during the last two games. But style.

Chaps' Center Not Tough On Defense

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (AP) — Bob Netolicky says if the Dallas Chaparrals want a super defensive center he can tell them where to go to get one.

"I can't block shots like Artis Gilmore so let 'em go get Alcindor (Kareem Jabbar)," says Netolicky, the center of the American Basketball Association Chaparrals, who has been maligned recently for his defense.

Netolicky came to Dallas from the Indiana Pacers in the off-season and the 6-foot-9 former forward was switched to center. He was benched for a game last week by Coach Babe McCarthy because Netolicky wasn't clogging up the middle.

"I think I've done pretty well," Netolicky says. "If they want to bitch about my defense just look what the opposing centers have done ... They haven't torn me up."

"I've been playing forward so long I'm not used to playing center yet they expect me to defend everybody coming in the middle. When you are in the limelight, people can always find fault with a lot of things."

Netolicky says "I don't think I'll be picking up too many splinters on the bench because what Babe did wasn't justified."

He says the difference between the basketball climate in Dallas and Indiana is startling. "Boy, at Indiana you've got 10,000 fans pulling for you and here you play in front of maybe a thousand ... it's a shame," Netolicky says.

Netolicky is on the first year of a three-year contract.

But he's not sure what the future holds for him here. "I really don't know what I'm going to do because I'm happy with my contract," Netolicky says. "But you hear all kind of rumors ... like Dallas is going to move ... and sometimes pride means more to you than money."

Netolicky says Dallas, which is next to last in the ABA West, is a young team and not very deep. "You can't expect miracles overnight ... it's easy to find fault with a loser," Netolicky adds.

Stengel Tells Why Check Went To Detroit Fund

DETROIT (AP) — Missouri-born Casey Stengel, former baseball manager of New York's Yankees and Mets, chose Detroit's United Fund as the recipient of a $10 contribution so a San Mateo, Calif., industrial psychologist could give his autographs to charity.

Preston E. Smith, 29, said in a phone conversation he saw Stengel at Los Angeles International Airport and asked for his autograph.

"I knew how Ted Williams used to give autographs on checks," the industrial psychologist said. "Then he told people to send checks to charities."

He made the offer to Stengel and Stengel accepted.

But why did it wind up in Detroit?

"Billy Martin, he played for me, and the owner of the ball club, I would say in Detroit is a very good friend of mine, and I used to manage years ago in Toledo for six years, and when I was in the major leagues, why Detroit on numerous occasions were the Yankee's best rivals because of the fact they had Red Rolfe running the club at one time, and also had some very prominent players," said

Netolicky says he believes his problems with defense have been "blown out of proportion. You never see some of the local writers in the dressing room unless something dumb happens. I know this—it seems like we've already already played a season. After playing for a winner five years, I guess you have to expect that."

ers to beat Florida. All six scored in double figures, led by Wendell Hudson's 17. Florida guard Tony Miller led all scorers with 25 points.

Providence went on a 16-4 scoring binge midway through the second half to beat Massachusetts. During that game-breaking span, Kevin Stacom scored seven points for the Friars.

St. John's took the lead after the opening minute and had an easy time with Seton Hall. The Redmen dominated the game at both ends of the court, shooting 54 per cent from the field and out-rebounding Seton Hall 56-39.

Ragin' Rangers Rough Up Bruins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
"We played a perfect hockey game," decided Vic Hadfield, captain of the New York Rangers.

Armed with that piece of information, it shouldn't surprise you that the Rangers whipped Boston 4-2 Wednesday night, stretching their National Hockey League unbeaten streak to eight games. Perfect hockey will do that for you.

Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday night, Montreal's Wayne Cashman's third-period goal narrowed the gap for the New York Islanders as Pittsburgh slugged Toronto

5-2, California defeated Atlanta 5-2, Chicago tied Vancouver 3-3, and St. Louis downed Los Angeles 7-5.

In the World Hockey Association, it was New England 6, Winnipeg 1; and Philadelphia 6, Quebec 4.

Jean Ratelle got the Rangers an early first-period goal after Johnny Bucyk tied it for the Bruins. New York used goals less than two minutes apart by Brad Park and Bill Fairbairn to take control.

The Canadiens used four second period goals by Chuck Leakey, Guy Lapointe, Henri Richard and Jacques Laperriere to hit an empty net in the final minutes to clinch the victory.

"We controlled the play and ground it out, just like a football team grinds out yardage," said Hadfield, who contributed a pair of assists, reaching 500 career points.

The victory moved the Rangers four points ahead of third place Boston in the NHL's East Division. New York regained seven points back of first place Montreal which thumped the Islanders.

The Canadiens used four second period goals by Chuck Leakey, Guy Lapointe, Henri Richard and Jacques Laperriere to take control against the Islanders.

Gerry Hart had New York's only goal as rookie netminder Wayne Thomas, filling in for injured Ken Dryden and Michel Plasse, earned his sixth consecutive victory for the Canadiens.

Bryan Hextall scored two goals as Pittsburgh downed Toronto.

The Penguins and Maple Leafs swapped first period goals before Hextall put Pittsburgh in front for good early in the second period.

Atlanta dropped its third straight game as California broke a second period tie with goals by Ivan Boldirev and Stan Weir and then added two more in the final period by Reg Leach and Hilliard Graves.

Jim Pappin's goal with less than three minutes left in the game gave Chicago its tie against Vancouver and moved the Black Hawks five points ahead of idle Minnesota at the top of the NHL West.

Mike Murphy and Floyd Thompson scored two goals apiece, leading St. Louis past Los Angeles.

Peace In Indochina!

The firing will cease at midnight Saturday in Vietnam! It will be a glorious and memorable occasion.

Most Americans undoubtedly bowed their heads in a moment of silent prayer and thanksgiving Tuesday night as President Nixon made his historic announcement over television.

It had been a long time in coming, but at long last, peace was in the making in Indochina . . . and Americans were delighted at the development.

The President, who quite naturally appeared relaxed and in excellent spirit, said that Dr. Henry Kissinger had initiated a Vietnam peace agreement with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho.

There wasn't the spontaneous reaction—the jubilant celebrations, parades and other festivities—which normally have followed similar announcements as other wars drew to a close.

Also welcomed was Dr. Kissinger's Wednesday announcement that he expects a formal cease-fire soon in Laos and Cambodia.

Especially heartwarming was the President's revelation that all Americans "held prisoners of war throughout Indochina" will be released within 60 days.

Mr. Nixon also outlined other major points of the agreement, as follows:

—The withdrawal of the remaining 24,000 U.S. forces in South Vietnam within the same time frame.

—"The fullest possible accounting" of all those missing in action.

—A guarantee that the people of South Vietnam will have "the right to determine their own future without outside interference."

Thus the 11-year Vietnam war, the longest in U.S. history, is being brought to a generally satisfactory, just and fair conclusion.

No one person has worked harder to end the war on a just and fair basis than has President Nixon, even though he has been condemned time after time by outspoken critics.

He was quick to point out, however, that cease-fire is only the first step in building a lasting peace.

Americans listening in also were pleased that President Nixon praised in such a sincere and dignified manner the sincere efforts of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson in striving for world peace.

It is time now for all Americans to join hands in presenting a unified front, leading to the building of a better United States of America.

And Our Compliments To The Chef

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Albert and Mansfield lose patience with Nixon.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Speaker Carl Albert and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, both the mildest of men, are losing their patience with President Nixon.

The speaker, sounding more like a game cock than the lame pullet his critics claim, is scathing in his criticism of Nixon. "As a lame-duck President, he seems to feel he doesn't need to worry what he does," Albert told us caustically.

The milder Mansfield, whose gentle manners are but the moss on a character of granite, is more restrained in his language but equally firm in his resolve. He talked to us of the "unwarranted powers" of the President. But Mansfield suggested quietly that Congress, itself, was mostly to blame for "abdicate its power to the presidency in the nuclear age."

Albert is preparing to invite the nation's top constitutional lawyers from leading universities and law firms to advise Congress what steps can be taken to restore its authority. He is seeking legislation which would restrict the President's power to wage undeclared wars and "impound funds" but which would stand up in the Supreme Court. "I have thought about this more than anything else," he told us.

Mansfield has urged his colleagues in the Senate Democratic caucus to stand up to the President. The lean and leathery man from Montana never speaks without long and deep thought, never rushes into any action. His strong stand inside the caucus, therefore, is evidence of his anger.

He is dubious, however, about the ability of Congress to stand up to the President. "It is almost impossible to reverse the process which Congress has acceded to and for which Congress must take the blame," he told us. "All I can do is to say the words. In caucus, there is general agreement. The problem is to get the senators to implement the words."

The attitude of these two lions of Capitol Hill is all the more surprising and significant because the White House had counted on them to help heal the rift with Congress. Both leaders have been courted by the President, who invites them over to the White House once in a while for a private tete-a-tete.

tv station just for political reasons would come close to being a crime."

Footnote: In defense of the President, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott told us: "Congress is full of machismo, but Congress can't win a showdown with the President." He said President Nixon had tried to cooperate with Congress, had invoked executive privilege only three times in the last four years, and would require his cabinet officers to testify before Congress if given "reasonable and reasonable notice."

At the White House, a source told us the President will work more closely with Congress once the Vietnam war is out of the way. He doesn't want to endanger the settlement by confiding too much in Congress. But after the cease-fire, he'll cooperate with Congress.

The main goal of the House this year, he said, will be "to try to reestablish the position of the House and the Senate in the government, because I think every other problem hinges on how effectively we are able to do that job."

Albert spoke acidly about the President's refusal to let members of his White House staff testify. "What good does it do if we don't get the information from those who really have the basic information, the basic contact with the President and the basic authority?" he asked.

To compel the Nixon men to testify, Albert said, "a lot of thought is being given to making it a violation of the law for individuals not to appear on a congressional summons."

The speaker, who has gotten more than his share of grape-shot from the press, also attacked the President's anti-press policies. Congressman Wolf, a former broadcaster, told of "veiled threats" to radio-TV stations if they don't "go along with the executive line."

Albert cut him off in mid-sentence. "Of course, that's dictatorship!" he snapped. "The renewal of licenses for a radio or

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS
After a civil war or revolution, an act of amnesty is usually granted by the victorious side with a promise of immunity from prosecution if the defeated side abandoned its unlawful activities. Following the American Civil War, Congress passed an Amnesty Act on May 22, 1872, which restored civil rights to all citizens of the South except its former Confederate leaders. The World Almanac recalls.

BRUCE BLOSSAT—Mystery, Surprise Have Not Vanished From Life

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Does man need to explore to sustain himself in life? Does he need the prospect of surprise and mystery?

Some scientists and historians gathered here recently under the wing of the Smithsonian Institution seemed to agree that exploration, from the broadest reaches of space to the tiniest corners of the human cell and the atom, is necessary to both man's material well being and the lifting of his restless, ranging spirit.

In the long view of man, this is, of course, a far from settled matter. Today, as for centuries, there are many who argue that such exploration, if not all, is for a handful of adventure-seekers, that ordinary folk are too caught up in their daily concerns to care much about plunging into the unknown.

Probably history runs against this argument. The great Age of Discovery, when brave voyagers first found the real expanse of the earth and its oceans, fired the imagination of whole populations. A good part of mankind was captivated by America's leap to the moon.

Even in those times when the world's "average" millions (now billions) seem not to have been attending closely, the men who have chosen to place themselves at the edge of the unknown have not been dissuaded from exploring the mysteries of the stars, the make-up of the earth, the workings of mind and body, the great seas.

Yet, at the Smithsonian discussion table, doubt was raised here and there that any great mysteries or surprises remain to stir men in general. The conquest of space, the sweep of technological advance, the compounding of scientific discoveries have, it is said, combined to persuade men that anything and everything is possible.

Thus convinced, the argument runs on, men turn quickly from the footprints of a murder suspect in a television detective show. Smothered with difficulties in a problem-ridden world, taking new discovery for granted but finding little in it that is heartening, men no longer scan the horizon hopefully for its challenging mysteries.

I was a mere layman in that company of scholars. Still, I dared to doubt the doubters, and found some support. Two things: I don't believe for an instant that mystery and surprise have vanished from life, even in this age when the "over-communication" provided by television wears man's doings in almost every field down to a blunted stubble.

Secondly, so much is happening so fast that, for all the pretensions and the overkill of the communications world, many intriguing tales of solved mysteries are going untold. Some of these, properly grasped, could add a sense of continuing excitement to the lives of millions who, in affluence, say they find only boredom at work and at home. Some of these stories already have or soon may have direct bearing on the daily concerns of many people.

Not only does mystery still exist in abundance, but it is crucial to mankind's future on this planet that it does. Vast areas of sea and land are still largely unexplored. In the perous matchup between swelling numbers of people and earth's resources, there remains much hope. In substantial part, however, that hope rests in the tireless probings of adventurous men seeking new and old materials, finding out more about the earth works and how we can preserve it as a safe abode for man. Nor is it some cheap publicist's folly to argue that observations made from space can play a big role in this quest.

GLOBAL VIEW—Japan's Productivity Up 10 Per Cent A Year

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If President Nixon wants to meet foreign competition at home, sell more abroad, achieve a favorable trade balance, raise national income and cut unemployment, there's one key Japanese statistic he should study most carefully.

In Japan, national productivity in real terms has gone up an average 10 per cent a year for the last decade. In the United States productivity has increased 2.6 to 2.7 per cent a year in that same period. In the decade, wages in Japanese factories have improved 15.2 per cent a year — well over two times the advance in American wages during that period.

Thus, however low Japanese factory worker earnings were in the early 1960s, they have been growing steadily less competitive. Cheap labor is not the key to Japanese gains.

A number of studies now suggest the rapid growth in Japanese productivity is due to five programs: —A heavy import of scientific and technical knowledge from all over the world. —A first-class series of laboratories which adapt these U.S. and other foreign technical discoveries to Japanese industry. —A vigorous program of original Japanese scientific and technical research.

Energetic government bureaus and trade associations which make certain that Japanese firms are acquainted with major technical developments. —Strong government inducements for major manufacturing companies to adopt the most profitable of the discoveries. As a result, in real terms Japan's economic growth has averaged 11.3 per cent a year in the last 10 years, double the U.S. rate. Per capita income is now over $2,500. Unemployment (in part due to the fact that employees seldom change employers) is down to less than 1.5 per cent.

The increasing Japanese interest in science applied to industry contrasts with the slowdown in the growth of U.S. federal research and the personal frustration of some able men connected with the program. This problem was brought out dramatically recently with the resignation of Dr. Edward E. David Jr., the president's highly respected science adviser.

Readers should not come to the conclusion that all is rosy in Japan. Inflation continues at a hefty pace. Consumer prices

Dear Editor:

Something called the "work ethic" is being widely talked about these days. This high-level chatter has to do with how come people would rather loaf than work.

In an earlier day, when it was uncouth for idiots to go to college and get degrees, work was not a controversial subject. You either did or didn't.

People knew there was an alternative to work, but few liked it and most worked, and able-bodied non-workers were called parasites, bums or loafers. Now they are called disadvantaged, self-hunters, or holiday-addicts.

Onassis Orders Doctors To Let Injured Son Die

ATHENS (AP) — "His brain was destroyed and his features completely disfigured." So Aristotle Onassis told the doctors not to keep his only son alive for a few more days.

Alexandros Onassis, 24, died Tuesday of injuries suffered when his new amphibious plane crashed as it was taking off from Athens airport. A battery of surgeons declared him beyond recovery although his heart was beating faintly, but they said he could be kept alive for three or four days.

"We decided it was in vain," the Greek shipping magnate told a news conference Wednesday night. "We weren't killing him. We were just letting him die. There is no question of mercy killing here."

Onassis said even if his son had lived, he would have been "dead as a human being." His brain was destroyed and his features completely dis-

Judge Says Bugging Deplorable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The judge presiding over the Watergate trial has called the breaking in and bugging at Democratic party headquarters last summer deplorable, and says Republicans have no right to spy illegally on Democrats.

"The Republican National Committee is just another political organization," Judge John J. Sirica said Wednesday. "They don't have all the rights in the world."

"What do you think they would be saying if the Democrats did it to them?" Sirica asked in an exchange with defense attorney Gerald Alech. The jury had left the courtroom and did not hear Sirica's remarks.

Judge Is Republican

"Any decent American, whether you happen to be a Democrat or a Republican, deplors this kind of conduct," Sirica said. "I know it and you know it."

Sirica noted that he is a Republican.

The Republican National Committee is not directly involved in the trial, although defendant James W. McCord Jr. was a security consultant to the committee at the time he was arrested June 17 during the break-in at the Democratic headquarters at the Watergate complex here.

Alech, who represents McCord, had taken the position that the political snooping—even the admittedly illegal aspects—was justified because McCord was acting out of concern for the safety of people connected with the Nixon campaign, for which he was security chief.

Dismisses Contention

Alech has said the intelligence gathering was aimed at protecting Republicans, up to the President himself, from radical groups he says were associated with the Democrats.

But Sirica dismissed this contention Wednesday during oral arguments on Alech's motion for permission to pursue this defense. Sirica said all McCord had to do was call the duly constituted law enforcement authorities if he felt there was a threat.

McCord and G. Gordon Liddy are the only two defendants left. Former White House consultant E. Howard Hunt and four other men, who were captured at gunpoint with McCord inside the Watergate last June 17, have pleaded guilty.

The trial will resume on Friday.

'Finance Department Store' Aids Business

Many said it should be done, and a Chicago man finally did it. He organized a "Department Store of Finance," called Scheer Financial Corporation with more than 50 offices across the country. Holding the franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico area is Chancellor Enterprises, 200 W. Texas St., here in Midland. And the area representative for SFC is John R. Braue, who will be continuing a career he began in Midland in 1961.

With SFC only two years old, Chancellor is in on the "ground floor" with the combined expertise of financial experts available for the benefit of their clients. And at no cost to the client, these experts will come to Midland from Chicago in an advisory capacity.

The management at SFC is made up of a group of highly skilled, professionally competent insurance and financial executives whose combined talents make SFC a full service financial corporation. The basic products are life and health insurance, mutual funds, and a highly competitive "funding" program. Leasing to qualified companies, Chancellor can offer you through SFC new sales opportunities and new sources of income.

Chancellor Enterprises is proud to be able to make available to insurance agents in the Permian Basin area, the mass marketing of all types of insurance. And they will be equally happy to offer to their clients the many advances planned by SFC for the near future including equipment leasing, tax shelter real estate programs, a finance company, fire and casualty insurance, personal financial advice, mortgage-banking company, and a chain of savings and loan associations. By 1974, SFC plans to have 200 offices offering these services across the nation.

For an unparalleled financial opportunity, see Braue at Chancellor Enterprises.

New Members, Officers Named By Basin Oil Museum

The boards of Trustees and Executives of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame elected new members and officers at a joint meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Co. Building.

Members of the two boards also heard that construction plans for the museum are progressing on schedule and that construction contracts are expected to be let by mid-summer.

Emil C. Rassman, prominent Midland attorney, civic leader and president-elect of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman of the Board of Executives for 1973, succeeding John P. Butler.

Other officers named include Maurice R. Bullock, first vice president, Frank Stubbeman, second vice president, and William L. Kerr, secretary, all of whom were re-elected.

Elected to five-year terms on the Board of Executives were C. W. Chancellor Sr., Tom L. Ingram, Stanley C. Moore, James P. Boldrick, Rufe Bynum, Thornton Hardie Jr., Tevis Herd, Harvin Landua, William H. Malone, Robert Moran, Earl Morris, Rassman and R. E.

Throckmorton Jr. All are of Midland except Ingram, who is of Roswell, N.M., and Morris, Hobbs, N.M.

Named to three-year terms as trustees were Ford Chapman, Richard Donnelly, Hamilton E. McRae, Robert C. Tucker, Martin L. Allday, Conrad E. Coffield, Watson W. LaForce Jr., Sid Lindley and Tom Welch, all of Midland, and Charles R. Perry of Odessa.

George T. Abell, founder, charter president and guiding force of the museum from the beginning, was elected to the new position of chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Russell Ramsland, also of Midland, was named president.

Other officers are Homer T. Fort, executive vice president; Chapman, first vice president; Paul L. Davis, second vice president; Donnelly, secretary; John Younger, assistant secretary; Tom Fowler, treasurer, and K. M. Jastrow, assistant treasurer.

The nominating committee for the Board of Executives included W. H. Collins, L. Roy Prescott and C. W. Barclay.

H. W. Davidson, Donnelly, Tucker, Fowler and Deane Stoltz constituted the nominating committee for the Board of Trustees.

pressing appreciation to both Butler and Abell for their years of service to and leadership in the museum project. They also received special tokens of appreciation.

Both men said they are delighted with the progress of the museum to date and both pledged their continued service.

Service awards for leadership in the museum's recent "Give for Greatness" campaign went to Prescott, Rassman, Davidson and Lindley.

Overall construction plans were reviewed by Abell, who said "real progress" is being made. He said dirt-moving should be under way at the building site in South Midland within the next two weeks and that building contracts should be let by mid-summer.

The Phase I building program calls for the construction of two wings and a large central area and basement. Exhibits and exhibit space also were talked.

"We are determined that this will be a top-notch institution in every respect," Abell said, "one which will benefit the community, the nation and the petroleum industry. It will be something really wonderful."

The financial report was given by Fort, who said that a total of $981,184 in spendable money is available in the building fund.

This amount, plus additional funds which may be received soon, will finance building construction, exhibits, furnishings and auxiliary items.

He said the building as proposed will have approximately 32,000 feet of usable space.

Resolutions authorizing museum officials to proceed with the actual construction program also were adopted.

Mrs. Bludworth's Rites Set Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Morris (Bess Scharbauer Elliott) Bludworth, 76, of Dallas, formerly of Midland and Odessa, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel here.

Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Bludworth died early Wednesday in her home in Dallas, following a long illness.

A native of Midland, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott Sr., pioneer residents of Midland and Odessa.

She moved from Midland to Odessa with her parents in her girlhood years. She later resided for a time in Tucson, Ariz., and upon returning to Odessa, she married Mr. Bludworth. They operated the Elliott and Elite Drug Stores in Odessa for years before moving to Dallas in 1946. They operated a drug store in Downtown Dallas for a number of years.

Survivors include a brother, George W. Elliott of Fort Worth, who formerly operated the Elliott Hotel in Odessa. He also is a former state representative from this district.

Fisher Elected TOMA President

Dr. Allen M. Fisher of 111 W. Wall St. in Midland has been elected president of District Four of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association.

Dr. Fisher has been practicing for more than four years in the Tall City. He received his education at Albright College in Reading, Pa., and at the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Des Moines, Iowa. His hospital training was received at the Still Osteopathic College Hospital in Des Moines and as a preceptor in surgery at Aransas Hospital, Inc. at Aransas Pass. He has been practicing 20 years in Texas.

District Four is one of the largest geographical districts in the association with Abilene as its eastern boundary and Del Rio as its southwest boundary. It has eleven physicians as members.
