

Two Men Being Sought In Kidnaping Of Couple

LAGUNA, N.M. (AP) — State and local police searched the Laguna area of western New Mexico today for two men who reportedly abducted a young couple employed by a Milan motel.

Milan police identified the couple as Ed and Sue Linqvist, in their early 20s, who apparently moved from El Paso, Tex., to Milan only a few months ago.

A Laguna Indian Pueblo patrolman said Linqvist was found alongside Interstate 40 before dawn.

The tribal policeman said Linqvist identified himself as an employee of the Liberty Motel. Linqvist said he and his wife were robbed Wednesday night by two armed men. Milan police said the bandits took about $200.

Linqvist told officers the robbers, who had registered at the motel about 9 p.m. Wednesday, drove the couple to the Laguna area, about 30 miles east of Milan. Officers quoted Linqvist as saying the men tied him up and left him alongside a dirt road.

He told officers the men then left with Mrs. Linqvist in the couple's sports car.

Police said Linqvist told them he freed himself and reached the interstate route where he flagged down the tribal officer.

Police dispatchers said officers were searching for a 1967 light blue sports car with Texas license plates. A state police airplane joined the search.

Senior Citizens Told Midland Needs To Know How They Feel About Life Here

Mayor Ernest Angelo Wednesday told Midland senior citizens the city officials need to know how they feel about life in Midland.

Angelo was addressing the Senior Citizens Center's awards banquet.

"We depend on you to get the word to city officials," he said. "We need input from senior citizens."

Assault Charged Burley L. Morris

Burley L. Morris, 45, of 4309 W. Illinois St. was charged this morning with aggravated assault on a police officer.

He is accused of hitting Patrolman B. G. Johnson in the head about 11:55 p.m. Wednesday when the officer tried to arrest him at Wall and Colorado streets.

Johnson said he stopped Morris because a county court warrant had been issued for him.

The

UTPB Graduation To Be Informal, Open To Public

The first UTPB graduates will receive diplomas May 18 in informal afternoon ceremonies. There will be no lengthy speeches and no ponderous marches, according to Dr. J. Tillapaugh, chairman of the faculty commencement committee.

Planned to honor graduates and their families, the two-part commencement will begin at 3 p.m. on the mesa level of the university's new buildings. It will conclude with a president's reception about 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend both portions.

Approximately 40 students will be awarded diplomas at the initial graduation.

Dr. B. H. Amstead, UTPB president, will present diplomas during a short formal program, which will include recognition of special awards recipients. Edward Clark, a member of The University of Texas System board of regents, will also participate in the ceremony.

"Our graduates are ready to be off-and-running toward their career goals; they don't want to slow down for lengthy ceremonies," Amstead said. "So we will have brief remarks suitable to the occasion, but there will be no formal commencement address.

One element of the commencement will be traditional — graduates and faculty will wear caps and gowns.

After the awarding of diplomas, several informal activities will be held, including tours of the new buildings, movies showing the growth of the university, and gatherings of graduates, the families, faculty and friends of the university.

"The tradition we hope to establish for commencement at UTPB is one of informal dignity rather than of stilted ritual," said Amstead.

"The first graduating class is not large, but the pattern we are laying out is quite adaptable for the future. Next year, several hundred graduates will be receiving degrees, and within a very few years, the list of each year's graduates will be in the thousands.

"The format chosen by the faculty commencement committee — presentation of diplomas and awards, friendly gatherings, and an informal refreshment time — makes graduation a personal event for everyone involved," he said.

FROM RICE UNIVERSITY— Two Midlanders Earn Merit Scholarships

Susan K. Bechtel of Lee High School and Steven N. Tighe of Midland High School have been awarded National Merit Scholarships by Rice University at Houston.

The two were selected scholarship winners by the college. The four-year scholarships may be used only at Rice and will range from $100 to $1,500 per year.

Miss Bechtel, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bechtel, is the winner of the Cohn Merit Scholarship. She is a member of the National Honor Society and the UIL science and slide rule teams. She has won band twirling and French Symposium awards.

She plans to major in pre-medicine.

Tighe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Tighe, won the George R. Brown-Rice University Merit Scholarship. He is a member of the National Honor Society and president of the school National Forensics League chapter. He has participated in speech, drama and debate and was a People to People student ambassador.

He plans to major in engineering.

A third area student, James R. Smith of Odessa Permian High School, won the Preston Smith Merit Scholarship to Texas Tech University at Lubbock. Smith, a member of the school band and National Honor Society, plans to major in accounting.

Connally Sees Era Of Cheap Food Past

HOUSTON (AP) — The American era of cheap food is coming to an end, former U.S. Treasury secretary John Connally said Wednesday.

Connally, a Republican presidential possibility, said food has become the chief weapon in America's balance-of-payments fight. He spoke at the closing session of the Cooperative Food Distributors of America convention.

The twin forces of rising food and fuel prices have triggered the inflation being felt all over the world, Connally said.

"Food is the most important economic weapon this country has to fight with and that's what the American consumer is doing today, competing for food with the rest of the world," Connally said.

"Clearly, more and more of the people of the world are pulling themselves up to the American dinner table. Last year alone, the United States exported $18.1 billion in food-stuffs while we imported $9 billion."

Connally said until recently the American family was spending only 15.8 per cent of its disposable income on food, compared with more than 20 per cent 20 years ago.

In some European countries, he added, 40 per cent of disposable income is gobbled up by the market basket.

"In many cases we are non-competitive in the creation of goods and services," Connally said.

"Food is the one thing we're most efficient in producing."

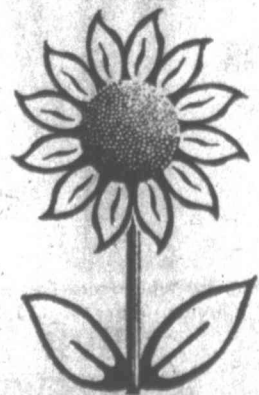

Connally said the Tall Town Toasters toastmasters club completed its speechcraft program Tuesday night with the presentation of certificates.

Those who completed the shortcourse in toastmastering were Doug Wood, Don Eckert, Rick Townsend and Duke Peterson. The sessions were given by members of the Tall Town Toasters over an eight-week period.

Club members and their wives also attended the ceremony in the Coors distributorship meeting room on West U.S. 80.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — What can I use to clean mildew off windows and the woodwork around them so it will not return? — LINDA

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is that our paper does not always print your column in its entirety. Often I miss the answer to a problem I am really interested in and am watching for every day. — MRS. N. E. H.

DEAR POLLY — Bonnie wanted to know how to remove scorch from her navy blue blouse. I always have removed it by hanging the garment in the brightest sunshine possible and find it may take from 10 minutes to a couple of days depending upon the intensity of the sun. — MRS. C. L. M.

DEAR POLLY and Bonnie — If I scorch something I wet the scorched spot all over and cover with cornstarch. Let stand a few minutes and then brush the powder off. — MRS. R. L. W.

DEAR GIRLS — Mrs. A. L. M.'s suggestion would have to be carefully watched when the article is colored but it has long been an old standby for removing scorch from white things.

Severe scorch that has damaged fibers cannot be removed. Peroxide is also a favorite scorch remover but it may affect some colors. Test first. There are two ways to use it. Dampen a white cloth with the peroxide, lay this on the stain and then put a dry cloth on top. Press top cloth with a medium warm iron, always keeping the top cloth dry. The second way is to soak the stains in a mixture of two tablespoons peroxide and one gallon of water for a half hour or more. On dark blue, or any color, testing must always be done first as both color and our many new materials make this absolutely necessary. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Much more dry spaghetti can be stored in a glass container or any canister if the pasta is broken in half. Lay the container on its side as you fill it. The spaghetti stacks, does not fall and also is easier to get out when needed. — JANET.

DEAR POLLY — Everyone knows that baking soda is a good odor remover for refrigerator and sink drains. When ready to pour the soda (taken from the refrigerator) in the sink drain clean the sink and faucets first with it. The soda is less abrasive than cleaners and costs little. It is also more economical to buy a large box of soda and refill the small box in the refrigerator from it. — BETTIE.

Chapter Hears Security Program

Sgt. Fred Johnson of the Midland Police Department presented a film program on security for a recent meeting of the Iota Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the home of Mrs. Frank Flournoy.

Other guests were Mrs. Roy Mauldin and Mrs. Danny O'Grady.

Winner of the special prize was Mrs. Mauldin.

Dear Abby

He'd Like To Exercise Fears Of P.E. Course

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You have got to help me before I do something really dumb. I am a 12-year-old boy and this is my first year in junior high and I have to take physical education whether I like it or not and I just hate it. I am not good at sports, and I am scared to death to play football or basketball and even baseball. I've tried and my coordination is lousy.

Is there any way I can get out of taking P.E. I am a good student but I am what people call a "sissy." I have been thinking that maybe if I accidentally cut off my finger or poked a hole in my ear I could get out of taking P.E. (I wear glasses, but that won't get me off.)

Please help me, Abby, but don't use my right name or school. Thank you.

HATES P.E.

DEAR HATES: Honesty is the best policy. Have a frank talk with your favorite teacher or a counselor at school, and come right out with the truth. It's nothing to be ashamed of. But sometimes the easiest way to get around something is to go right through it. So if you have to take P.E., remember, it's no disgrace to fail if you do your best. At least you'll have tried.

Church Women To Meet Friday

Together with church women across the United States, Christian Women in Midland will continue the tradition of meeting the first Friday in May to emphasize the creative relationships possible among persons. "Explore New Paths" is the theme for May Fellowship Day this year.

The United Church Women of Midland will meet at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel of the First Christian Church. There will be a covered dish luncheon at 11:30 a.m.

A panel, composed of Mrs. Marion Fisher, director of Senior Services of Midland; Mrs. Ed Van Pelt, assistant director of United Way of Midland; Mrs. L. S. Meizer, member of the Women's Auxiliary, Inc., of Midland Memorial Hospital, and Mrs. Ed Lowery, R.N., who is a part-time worker at Midland Memorial Hospital, will participate on the program. The panel will discuss ways in which women today can "Explore New Paths."

Musicians Club Reports Program

The Musicians Club, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, met recently in the home of Mrs. James Huddleston, 2822 W. Dengar St., for a program on nationalism and impressionism in music.

Mrs. Robert Bechtel, program director, presented "Sonata in F Major" by Jean B. Louille, performed by Mrs. Daniel W. Allan, flute, and Mrs. William H. Maitland, piano; "La Plus Quenlet" by Debussy, performed by Mrs. Robert L. Wise, piano; "Romance," "Caprice," "Kuss!" and "The Harp Player," by Sibelius, performed by Mrs. Maitland, piano.

Mrs. Maitland discussed the impressionism in Sibelius' music and showed photographs taken in his home and at a monument erected in his honor in Finland prior to his death in 1957.

Mrs. J. S. Knauer, president, presided. Mrs. Lloyd Haseltine discussed plans for the benefit musicale to be presented May 7 for the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale.

The hostesses were Mrs. R. D. Janssen and Mrs. John P. Hammett.

The guests were Mrs. Erma Underwood, Mrs. A. J. Evans, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Marja Salminen.

Luncheon Fetes Karen Courtney

There were 34 guests for a recent luncheon honoring Karen Courtney, MHS graduating senior. Mrs. Les Cobb, 2909 W. Louisiana St., was the luncheon hostess.

A spring theme was used in decorations. Corsages of white daisies were given to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. B. R. Courtney. A hostess gift was presented.

Special guests were sisters of the guest of honor, Mrs. Steve Meldrum and Robin Courtney.

Teachers' Groups To Meet Monday

The Epsilon Eta and Zeta Xi Chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma, teachers' society, will have a joint Founders' Day dinner at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Furr's Cafeteria.

New officers of both chapters will be installed. Special guests will include Mrs. C. B. Lowrance, state president of the society, and Mrs. A. R. Garcia, state corresponding secretary.

Pieces Of Kissinger's Jigsaw Puzzle Seem To Fall Together In Mideast

By WILLIAM L. RYAN (An AP News Analysis)
The pieces in Secretary of State Kissinger's jigsaw seem to fall together now, and chances for some sort of Middle East settlement are brightening a bit.

The Syrian and Jordanian pieces have been difficult to fit into the picture, but something apparently has been stirring lately. First, Jordan's King Hussein says he's willing to accept a Palestinian state carved from his Israeli-occupied former land on the Jordan River's west bank, even without a plebiscite, if that is the "unanimous will" of Arab countries and if Israel withdraws.

To the north, Syrians and Israelis both have been dragging their feet. But Israel can—and some well-placed sources suggest she eventually will—pull out of Kuneitra, the ruined Golan Heights city. That would be enough to save Syrian pride and permit a disengagement process on that front to get started. It must, or there can be no hope of any settlement at all.

One reason for suspecting something is up is that the Russians began to sound more tractable a short time ago. One Moscow broadcast to the Arabs, for example, included a striking line without qualification, that spoke flatly of "the forthcoming settlement of the Syrian-Israeli disengagement," as if there were no question about it ultimately.

Before long there will be another Soviet-American summit in Moscow. Unless something happens in the Middle East deadlock, it will open under a heavy cloud. The Russians are eager for summit results. They also want to make up for loss of influence in Egypt by producing some sort of Soviet showcase in Syria. Neither is possible without some break in the impasse.

Toxicologist Says Fumes May Have Led To Fall, Death

CHICAGO (AP) — Acid fumes leaking from a storage tank on Chicago's South Side probably caused a mechanic to faint and fall to his death, a toxicologist says.

A high level of acid was found in the blood and membranes of Albert Oezer during an autopsy, Dr. George Christopoulos, chief toxicologist for the Cook County Coroner's office, said Wednesday.

Oezer, 25, of suburban South Holland, died of a skull fracture after falling eight feet from a trailer Monday at the Shell Oil Co. Midwest Distribution Center. The center is about one mile from the Bulk Terminals Co., site of the chemical tank which began leaking last Friday, causing evacuation of thousands of persons from their homes.

Albert Denounces Part Of Transcript As 'Fabrication'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert has described as "a complete fabrication" a statement in White House transcripts that he had ordered a Government Accounting Office audit of Republican campaign practices.

Albert also said Wednesday he had no knowledge of any heat put on him in retaliation, as was suggested by White House aide H. R. Haldeman.

The reference to Albert came in a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation in the President's Oval Office among Nixon, Haldeman and counsel John Dean.

In an interview Wednesday afternoon, Albert said he had just learned of the transcript's exchange concerning him.

"I never talked to the GAO in my life or the comptroller general about doing anything to the White House," Albert said.

"Somebody just misinformed them," Albert said.

No-Fault Auto Insurance Bill Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill directing the states to reform their automobile-insurance systems to guarantee compensation for all accident victims has won Senate approval.

The 53-42 vote Wednesday sent the no-fault bill to the House, where the Commerce Committee has yet to start work on the question.

Carnival Workers Arrested, Booked In El Paso Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two carnival workers were booked Wednesday for investigation of murder in an El Paso, Tex., slaying, police said.

The two men are James William Dowdy, 40, of Sun Valley, Nev., and Larry Wayne Skidmore, 30, of Citronelle, Ala. They were arrested at a motel in the Wilshire district after the manager thought they looked suspicious.

Detectives said the two were wanted in the murder of Quinton Wilburn, 64, El Paso, whose body was found Tuesday at the bottom of a cliff in the El Paso area.

Authorities said Downey worked as a dime coin toss attendant and Skidmore drove a carnival truck. They were awaiting sunset extradition proceedings for return to Texas, police said.

protecting himself and his family against such losses.

Sponsors of the no-fault bill, led by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, claim that when fully implemented, the new system could reduce the nation's annual $8-billion liability-premium bill by something less than one-third.

But more importantly, they say, no-fault would assure quick compensation to accident victims without the time-consuming ordeal of a court fight.

While assuring some compensation for every accident victim, the bill would take away a victim's right to sue the other driver's insurance company. Under the insurance system in effect in most states, a victim can collect compensation only after proving that the other driver caused the accident.

But under the present system there are no benefits available to a victim of a one-car accident or one struck by a hit-and-run driver. No-fault would guarantee benefits for such victims.

Instead of buying insurance to pay medical expenses of occupants of the second car a driver under no-fault would buy insurance covering his own expenses.

Opposition to the bill was based mostly on constitutional objections. Sen. Roman Hruska,

Texas Senators On Losing Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both of the U.S. senators from Texas voted against a no-fault automobile insurance bill which passed the Senate Wednesday in a 53-42 roll call vote.

On the losing side were Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, a Democrat, and John Tower, a Republican.

Former Chief Justice Calvert Discusses Proposed Constitution At Law Day Event

By TOM MORAN
 Although work on a new Texas constitution is not complete, on the whole it is quite an improvement on the present document, former Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert Calvert said Wednesday.
 Calvert was addressing the annual Midland County Bar Association Law Day luncheon.

There is no chance that the 181 legislators who comprise the Constitutional Convention will not submit a proposed new constitution to the people, Calvert continued.
 The delegates cannot go home and tell the voters the revision Commission spent $750,000 and the convention spent $2 or $3 million without writing a new document, he explained.

 "That would be political suicide for every member." No one knows the prospect for adoption because no one knows the content of the final document, he added.
 Before passage of the new constitution there must be an education campaign for the public, Calvert said.
 "I have promised publicly and privately that no one will be misled about what is in the document," Calvert emphasized. "No matter what happens I will be on the stump."
 Because the convention is composed of legislators, the proposed new constitution will be a legislature-oriented document, Calvert said. In some areas the convention is giving the legislature additional powers.
 One example, the former chief justice said, is the governor's veto power.
 The current constitution provides for sending a vetoed bill to the house in which it originated, where it may be passed with a two-thirds vote of those present and voting, he said. The bill then goes to the other house, where it requires a two-thirds vote of the entire membership to become law.
 The Constitutional Revision Commission, which Calvert chaired, recommended a two-thirds vote of the total membership in both houses of the legislature to override a veto. Present drafts of the proposed constitution provide for a two-thirds vote of those present and voting to override a veto.
 "That means that if 21 senators are present and three don't vote, 12 senators can override a veto," Calvert said.
 Calvert also opposes a proposed section which would limit the Supreme Court's power to set rules in civil cases.
 Under present law, the high court sets the rules, which can only be overturned by a vote of both houses of the legislature.
 A proposal backed by the chairman of the Judiciary Committee would provide the rules would not go into effect until the next session of the legislature and could be vetoed by a vote of either house.
 Calvert said the article on the judiciary will create a streamlined unified court system.
 A new circuit would be created which will take over most of the duties of county courts, Calvert said. The courts may operate in more than one county and will have as many judges as necessary.
 County judges will retain their titles but will have only uncomplicated judicial duties, he added. They will still be responsible for presiding over the county commission.
 All judges, from the supreme court to the justices of the peace

Appaloosa Show Slated Saturday

The 11th annual West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club Show will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Nolan County Coliseum.

U.S. Steel Boosts All Prices

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, announced today it will increase prices an average of 5.7 percent on its total product line, effective at midnight.

The increase will affect a broad range of steel products used in everything from automobiles to hobbit pins. No breakdown on prices was given by the company.

The steelmaker said the hikes cover only cost increases incurred since Jan. 31, including provisions in the new labor agreement which went into effect Wednesday.

"The increases are in line with those which would have been allowable under the previous Cost of Living Council rules," U.S. Steel said.
 Federal wage-price controls expired at midnight Tuesday. During Phase 4 of the control program the steel industry was allowed price hikes of 9.2 percent.
 The announcement follows a

Briscoe Appeals For Unity; Sissy Urges Spending Reform

By The Associated Press
Gov. Dolph Briscoe told black leaders in Houston Wednesday he wants to "unify this state" while his principal opponent, Democrat Frances Farenthold, told reporters in Dallas that Briscoe's own campaign emphasizes the need for political spending reform.

"I want to be governor of all Texans, not just of a narrow constituency that might give me 51 per cent of the vote," Briscoe told a black business club meeting arranged by Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston.

"I want to begin my second term with the confidence of all the voters—even those who voted against me," the governor said.

Briscoe headed for San Antonio and Dallas today, while Mrs. Farenthold was to campaign in Arlington and San Antonio.

Mrs. Farenthold, who earlier this year filed a suit against Briscoe over a fund-raising dinner, blasted the governor again Wednesday for his campaign financing.

"Nothing shows more clearly the need for real reform than the report... that 83 per cent of Dolph Briscoe's campaign contributions is his own money," she told reporters at the Dallas Press Club.

"Real reform of campaign financing would be a new and almost bizarre happening in Texas," she said.

Campaign reports Tuesday showed Briscoe had spent $406,546, including $335,000 from his own funds, Farenthold spent $90,902.

Briscoe picked up support Wednesday from Sen. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, who was formerly an ally of Farenthold in the "Dirty Thirty" reform group of the 1971 legislature.

Gammage said "there comes a time in history when dissonance no longer has a useful purpose."

Meanwhile, the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs hastened to qualify a letter endorsing Briscoe. A spokesperson in Austin said the letter was the view of only one member and not the whole federation. The spokesperson said the federation does not endorse any political candidate.

On the Republican scene, gubernatorial candidate Odell McBrayer said he thinks cross-over voting by Republicans and Democrats will characterize the primaries May 4.

In other races, Mack Wallace, seeking a full term as Railroad Commissioner, called for a time of "more statesmanship and less demagoguery."

In the comptroller's race, Democratic candidate Bob Bullcock said if elected he would recruit more minority workers.

Lambert Selected By Toastmasters For District Award

LaDoyce Lambert, managing editor of The Reporter-Telegram, has been selected to receive the 1974 Toastmasters International District 44 Communication and Leadership Award.

Lambert's selection was announced today by District 44 Gov. Ray Laird Jr. of Odessa. The award will be presented Saturday night during the district toastmasters conference at the Holiday Inn in Midland.

Laird said the international educational organization is honoring Lambert for his "excellence in communication and leadership through the journalism profession."

District 44 includes 525 toastmasters in clubs north to Amarillo, south to San Angelo, west to El Paso and east to Brownwood.

More than 200 persons are expected here for the district conference. The communication award will be presented at a banquet Saturday night along with winners of speech contests, outstanding district toastmasters and other awards.

Lambert has been with The Reporter-Telegram more than 11 years. He is president of the Midland Community Theatre, a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, immediate past co-chairman of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Choral, vice president of the United Way of Midland, member of the Human Relations Council and is active in the First United Methodist Church.

Odessa Suits Shifted To Federal Court

Three suits seeking injunctions against Odessa movie houses which run films alleged to be obscene have been removed from state courts to the federal court here.

Some of the defendants in the injunction suits have filed a federal court petition asking that Texas' obscenity and public nuisance laws be declared unconstitutional.

Defendants in the suits are:
— Richard Dexter, Larry Ray Grady and Art Flick Theatre.
— Shirley Franklin, Ernest Franklin and George Anderson, doing business as Lyric Theatre.
— Southland Theatre Inc., doing business as Lyric Theatre.

The suit concerning the constitutionality question of state statutes is styled Southland Theatres Inc. (doing business as Lyric Theatre), Shirley Franklin, Ernest Franklin and George Anderson vs. John H. Green, district attorney of Ector County; John Hill, attorney general of the State of Texas, and Dolph Briscoe, governor of Texas.

This petition also seeks an injunction against enforcement of the state obscenity and public nuisance laws.

They claim the public nuisance law is in violation of the 1st, 5th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, which guarantee the rights of free speech, due process and equal protection under the law and prevent the taking of property without just compensation.

Their petition also states that a movie theater cannot come under the public nuisance or obscenity laws because the films were shown in an enclosed theater where the public was "warned of their contents, minors were not admitted and there was no pandering."

The Southland suit states that the action is a matter for a

IT TAKES A FAT CAT TO SEE HOW THEY RUN

Ask yourself one question.
Who really makes money from legalized racetrack gambling?
Not the state. The truth is that mobsters follow the horses and the cost of police protection against organized crime is always more than the insignificant increase in tax revenue.
Not the good people of Texas who may face new taxes to pay for a brand new bureaucracy to try to control gambling and fight the underworld.
Not you and me. That's for sure.
The truth is that only a few fat cats... and organized crime can make a dime from legalized racetrack gambling.
Let's vote AGAINST Saturday.

Kissinger Returns To Israel In Quest For Heights Accord

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned to Israel today in search of a Syrian-Israeli engagement accord on the embattled Golan Heights, and senior U.S. officials hinted if he failed President Nixon might cancel his trip to the Middle East.

They said the outcome of Kissinger's efforts would affect the "whole atmosphere" in which the Nixon trip was planned, possibly for this summer following the President's visit to Moscow.

Success Chances Slim — Israeli officials said Kissinger's chances of success were slim. Israel is not prepared to meet Syria's demands for a withdrawal from all occupied Arab lands, they declared.

Midland Youth Center Chatter

By KATHY ALLDAY, LISA BROCK and MOLLY UPCHURCH

The time at Midland High for the 1973-74 Seniors is coming to an end. For three years they have worked hard to earn the key to the future, and soon they will open the door. For each student there is a different door and what lies behind each door — nobody knows! We wish to dedicate this Chatter to the Midland and Lee graduating classes and wish them the best of luck in the years to come. "S"upper Seniors!!!

Activities honoring the Seniors coming up in the next week and half are the Junior-Senior Prom and the Senior Breakfast. The Prom will be held Saturday in the Youth Center from 8 p.m. to midnight. Seniors are the honored guests and they will be admitted free. Sophomores and Juniors will be charged $1 per person. Shadotree will be playing and the dress is semi-formal — formal. The Junior Class has worked hard and we know this will be the best Prom ever!! Hope to see everyone there.

The Senior Breakfast is planned for Wednesday. A big time is planned, with ample entertainment. Dubious awards will be presented. Come on, Seniors, this is going to be one of our last chances to be together as a class!

"E" Is For Energetic!!! Our energetic baseball team had an upsetting defeat but still is in the race for district. Tuesday, we played Abilene Cooper there, and this Saturday we play our last game of the second half. It is against the Lee Rebels and will start at 2 p.m. at the Midland Memorial Stadium. Let's make it all the way!!!

Midland High is being well represented in state competition this year. The girl's golf team goes to Austin this weekend and those participating are Ann Wheeler, Pam Scharbauer, Mary Owen, Judy Blaylock, Sheila Greene, and their sponsor, Mrs. Baird. In two weeks the gymnastics team will be represented at state by Karen Rooker and Pam Williams. We're mighty proud of ya'll and wish all the luck!

"N"ice Work!!! This last weekend the MHS Industrial Arts took several honors in the Regional West Texas Meet. Out of 23 divisions MHS won 11 first and second places in the written competition. They will compete in the State Meet in Austin this weekend.

"I" For Intelligent Monday and Tuesday our honor graduates took a Comprehensive Achievement Test to determine the Valedictorian and Salutatorian. Also, all Seniors are reminded to pick up their graduation announcements and cap and gown if they haven't already done so.

Junior Rotarians this week are Shelly Boyd and Doug Rucker. Our Junior Lion is Robert Levine. Congratulations to these fine students!

Drought Cuts Lime Grades In Florida

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dry weather in Florida has kept citrus growers irrigating their orchards and forced the Agriculture Department to withdraw after less than 10 days proposed new standards for limes marketed from that state. The current grade and size requirements for Florida limes, therefore, will remain in effect, a spokesman said.

Interior Official Says Incentive For Oil Firms Essential

By ROBERT C. BORDEN
Storing energy "will never be cheap again," John B. Rigg, deputy assistant secretary for minerals and energy, U.S. Department of the Interior, told more than 225 persons at the annual Lone Star Seal Roughneck Luncheon Wednesday noon. "Incentives that encourage continued exploration and development for new oil... are essential."

areas, and fostering a new international cooperation between the producing and consuming nations within the world community.

of oil spills than many small ones." He continued, "Meanwhile, we shall continue to need all the refinery capacity presently planned for construction and a good deal more, as our requirements for petroleum products continue to expand."

In a statement that brought ringing applause from the audience, Rigg said, "Hopefully, we will be permitted to find them (answers to the energy problems) in the most effective way that has been devised, that is, through the free operation of the private enterprise system." Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr., welcoming the out-of-town guests to Midland, said there is a "malicious, insane desire on the part of some members of Congress to punish the oil industry." He continued, "The survival of the nation as a respected force in the world is dependent on our ability to solve the energy problems."

protect the rights and freedom of the oil industry. Rigg was introduced by John R. Dorr of Pecos, outgoing president of the PBPA. Master of ceremonies was W. H. "Bill" Collyns, editor of The Reporter-Telegram.

Kidnaped Oilman Rejoins Family

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Victor Samuelson, the American oil company executive kidnaped by Marxist guerrillas in Argentina last Dec. 6, has been reunited with his family.

"He is tired from his ordeal and we are attempting to respect his privacy," a spokesman for the Exxon Corp. said Wednesday. The company paid a record $142 million ransom for Samuelson's release.

Samuelson, 36, manager of an Exxon subsidiary refinery at Campana, Argentina, was freed Monday after being held by the People's Revolutionary Army for 144 days.

He joined his wife, Diane, and their three children at a villa at the Hilton Head resort.

About 31 per cent of American homes can receive at least nine tv stations.

The luncheon was held in Rodeway Inn in conjunction with the 12th annual Permian Basin Petroleum Association meeting.

Rigg said the need for these incentives has not been fully recognized by either the public or the government, although President Nixon's administration has listed a five-fold approach to deal with the present energy problem: Creation of a central energy organization in the federal government, a permanent "conservation ethic," development of massive domestic energy resources, a new relationship between government and industry in several key areas, and fostering a new international cooperation between the producing and consuming nations within the world community.

"Like it or not," Rigg stated, "America and a majority of the other members of the world community face a critical challenge, that, if not met, could undercut existing economic and national security relationships."

Rigg said, "At some risk of exaggeration, the energy problems we are now experiencing is a result of mistaken policies of the federal, state and local governments over many years. For a long time we have been sacrificing our own long-term interests to obtain things that in the short-term seemed desirable."

The speaker said more superports are needed to handle larger ships, up to 200,000 ton capacity. "A relatively few large ships create less hazard goods."

He added, however, "Although supply-demand is in balance, in terms of total steel tonnage, there could be specific shortages in individual types, weights, grades and sizes of tubular goods."

LUNCHEON TALK—John Dorr, right, outgoing president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, listens to a point being made by John B. Rigg, deputy assistant secretary for minerals and energy in the Department of the Interior. Rigg was the luncheon speaker during a daylong meeting of the PBPA here Wednesday.

"Clearly The Best Man"

In editorial endorsements, THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THE EL PASO TIMES, THE EL PASO HERALD-POST and THE EL PASO SUN SHOPPER AND NEWS spoke out strongly, calling Judge Max Osborn "clearly the best qualified and most capable candidate" in the race for Judge of the Court of Civil Appeals. As one said: "Judge Osborn's outstanding ability has long been recognized. Most of the credit must be given to him that the docket of the Court of Civil Appeals is current." ... And 85% of the lawyers in this district termed him "best qualified" over his Odessa opponent!

Mayor Alioto Says 'Death Angels' Responsible For Zebra Killings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — To win recognition and get promoted, they must kill. They dress neatly and purport to live according "to a puritanical code of moral conduct." But they educate their young in what they call "martial arts," teaching them the "techniques of killing or incapacitating."

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto described the group Wednesday and said it calls itself "Death Angels." He said it is a nationwide organization "dedicated to the murder and mutilation of whites and dissident blacks."

Alioto says the group is responsible for the so-called "Zebra" slayings of 12 whites and the wounding of six others here since last November. All were shot down by young blacks in apparent unprovoked street attacks.

Alioto says the group may be responsible for a total of some 80 "murderous assaults" throughout California since December 1970.

"The pattern of killing is by random street shooting or hacking to death with machete, cleaver or knife," Alioto said. "Decapitation or other forms of mayhem bring special credit from the organization for the killers."

Law enforcement officials, including the San Francisco police and State Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, said they were unaware of a statewide pattern of murder.

"We have no indication that any of the murders in San Francisco are connected with those others around the state," Younger told newsmen in Sacramento. "We have no evidence of a statewide conspiracy."

The mayor spoke after more than 100 heavily armed officers in bullet-proof vests struck before dawn Wednesday, arresting seven black men in a three-hour period.

"The police have pierced the veil of a vicious ring of murderers called Death Angels. We have the principals involved in the Zebra slayings," said Alioto.

Among those arrested was Tom Manney, 31, a former outstanding football halfback at San Francisco State University from 1960 to 1963.

It was the first major break in Operation Zebra — code-named after a police communications channel — since police began controversial stop-and-search procedures two weeks ago to try to find the killers.

It wasn't the questioning of hundreds of blacks that led to the major break in the case, Alioto said. Instead, it was an informer who may have been enticed by the $30,000 reward put up by organizations and the city.

"I have to assume he was influenced by the reward," said Alioto. He would give no clues as to the identity of the informer.

Nor would police release anything except the names and ages of those arrested. Those to be arraigned along with Manney today were identified as J. C. Simon, 29; Larry Green, 22; Dwight Stallings, 23; Manuel Moore, 23; Edgar Burton, 22, and Clarence Jamerson, 27.

All were booked for investigation of conspiracy to commit murder, said Chief of Inspectors Charles Barca.

Senate Okays Amendment Granting New Economy-Monitoring Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has decided the government needs a special watchdog agency over inflation, but has buried an attempt to restore authority for new wage and price controls.

Acting less than 24 hours after the administration's old controls program expired, the Senate voted 44 to 41 in favor of an amendment giving the administration authority to monitor wages and prices for another year.

The amendment also gives the administration powers to enforce anti-inflation commitments made by several hundred major corporations before the controls program expired.

But the Senate rejected 56 to 32 a last-ditch attempt to renew authority for stand-by wage and price controls for another year. Some liberal Democrats joined Republicans to defeat the proposal.

The amendment granting new economy-monitoring authority was tacked on to an unrelated bill to implement the International Economy Policy Act. Although Republicans succeeded in putting off a final vote until next Wednesday, prospects for final passage were considered good.

The bill would next go to the House, where chances of success are regarded as less certain.

One of the chief backers of the amendment, Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, argued it would be foolish not to keep a mechanism for combating inflation in view of the country's continuing high inflation rate.

The administration said earlier in the day that the Cost of Living Council would do its best to enforce anti-inflation commitments made by businesses in 17 industries, even without new authority, until June 30.

The White House said it might have a statement on the nation's economy today. A statement had been scheduled Wednesday, but was postponed, apparently to await the outcome of the Senate vote, a spokesman indicated.

A partial text of the statement, which was obtained Wednesday, said the administration's Committee on Interest Dividends was being abolished. The committee was charged with controlling dividend payments by corporations and interest charges by banks.

20-Foot Petition Supports Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leslie Dutton of Malibu, Calif., unfurled a 20-foot-long petition of support on the blue carpet of President Nixon's Oval Office.

With Nixon holding one end of the three-foot wide document Wednesday, Mrs. Dutton said most of the signers come from the West Los Angeles area.

"It's a great country," Nixon commented.

"It's the Nixon country," Mrs. Dutton added.

New Fee Policy

HOUSTON (AP) — The City Council Wednesday voted to stop charging governmental agencies fees for parade permits. The council said such groups must still apply for the permits and buy $100,000 in liability insurance.

Transcripts, Dean's Account Of Meetings Compared

By DICK BARNES
WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Dean III's accounts of nearly two dozen conversations with President Nixon about Watergate are confirmed in some respects but contradicted in others by White House transcripts of the talks.

In some cases, the vagueness of comments by both parties leaves the true meaning of remarks open to question.

And for some other Dean assertions, there is no transcript to verify or challenge him.

Dean's versions of meetings are taken from his testimony June 25, 1973, to the Senate Watergate committee. The White House transcripts were released Tuesday.

Here are comparisons of the highlights by date:

Sept. 17, 1972
This meeting came hours after the original seven Watergate defendants had been indicted. Dean said Nixon congratulated him on doing a good job "and the President was pleased that the case had stopped with (G. Gordon) Liddy."

Dean said he told Nixon "that all that I had been able to do was to contain the case and assist in keeping it out of the White House. I also told him that there was a long way to go before this matter would end and that I certainly could make no assurances that the day would not come when this matter would start to unravel."

The transcript quotes Dean as saying: "I think I can say that 54 days from now nothing is going to come crashing down to our surprise." He added: "There will be no continued investigation prompted by the grand jury's inquiry."

Nixon expressed his congratulations this way: "The way you have handled all this seems to me has been very skillful, putting your fingers in the leaks that have sprung here and sprung there."

The transcript does not quote Dean as using the word "contain," a reference he cited in stating his opinion that the President knew of the cover-up. Dean also told of a discussion about other plans to use political muscle against a variety of opponents. The transcript contains a number of such passages.

Feb. 27, 1973

Dean said at this meeting Nixon directed him to report directly to the President on all Watergate matters. Dean said he told Nixon he was not sure the matter could be contained indefinitely.

There was no transcript submitted of this meeting.

Feb. 28

Dean said that after a discussion relating to the Senate Watergate hearings, he told Nixon "why I thought I had legal problems, in that I had been a conduit for many of the decisions that were made and, therefore, could be involved in an obstruction of justice."

He said Nixon "reassured me not to worry, that I had no legal problems."

The passage in the transcript at all resembling Dean's account is fleeting and at the end of the meeting, Nixon observed that the Watergate committee would like to get somebody at the White House such as Haldeman, Colson or Ehrlichman.

"Or possibly Dean," said Dean. "You know, I am a small fish."

"Anybody at the White House they would," said Nixon. "But in your case I think they realize you are the lawyer and they know you didn't have a (adjective deleted) thing to do with the campaign."

March 6, 7, 8, 10

Dean said meetings on the first three of these dates and a phone conversation on the fourth concerned Senate hearings on acting FBI director L. Patrick Gray III.

The White House did not provide transcripts for these conversations.

March 13
Dean said after another discussion on the Gray hearings, "We got into a discussion of Watergate matters specifically."

"I told the President about the fact that there were money demands being made by the seven convicted defendants, and that the sentencing of these individuals was not far off."

"I told the President about the fact that there was no money to pay these individuals to meet their demands. He asked me how much it would cost. I told him that I could only make an estimate that it might be as high as $1 million or more. He told me that that was no problem, and he also looked over at Haldeman and repeated the same statement."

Dean said Nixon expressed annoyance that Colson had mentioned executive clemency to the President. He said Nixon also asked how previous payments to Watergate defendants had been handled.

This conversation does not appear in the March 13 tape, and Dean has since indicated he now believes it took place March 21.

On March 13, however, Dean told Nixon in response to a question that Gordon Strachan, an aide to Haldeman, knew about Watergate.

Nixon: He knew?

Dean: About the Watergate?

Dean: Yes.

Nixon: Well, then, he probably told Bob (Haldeman). He may not have.

Dean: Well, it is a personal loyalty to him. He doesn't want it any other way. He didn't have to be told. He didn't have to be asked. It just is something that he found was the way he wanted to handle the situation.

Nixon: But he knew? He knew about Watergate? Strachan did?

Dean: Yes.

Nixon: I will be damned! Well that is the problem in Bob's case.

March 17

Dean called this a rambling conversation with brief reference to the Gray hearings.

The transcript shows that Dean told Nixon about the Plumbers' break-in to the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

"What in the name of God was Ehrlichman having something (unintelligible) in the Ellsberg (unintelligible)?" said Nixon.

"This is the first I ever heard of this," he said.

March 20 Phone Conversation

Dean said he told Nixon "I wanted to talk with him as soon as possible about the Watergate matter because I did not think that he fully realized all the facts and the implications of those facts for people at the White House as well as himself." An appointment was set.

The transcript essentially confirms this account, quoting Dean as saying he wanted to meet Nixon "to examine the broadest, broadest implications of this whole thing, and, you know, maybe about 30 minutes of just my recitation to you of facts so that you operate from the same facts that everybody else has."

The conversation shifted after Dean's initial account of the problem of money for the defendants. This is clearly the account Dean said took place March 13.

Nixon time and again asks questions that indicate he is interested in a plan to keep the defendants quiet. The President has said previously that his statement in this passage could be misconstrued.

But also in the conversation, Dean says: "I can just tell from our conversation that these are things that you have no knowledge of."

"You certainly can," replied Nixon.

After saying at one point the word "containment" to describe his post-break-in strategy.

"complete disclosure, isn't that the best way to do it?" Nixon later says "it would seem to me that (it) would be worthwhile" to pay the million dollars in hush money.

Nixon followed by saying clemency would not be possible until at least after the 1974 election. "Your point is that even then you couldn't do it," he continued.

Dean: "That's right. It may further involve you in a way you should not be involved in this."

Nixon: "No—it is wrong that's for sure."

Then, later, Nixon suggests: "I would just say to these fellows (the defendants) I am sorry it is all off and let them talk."

Dean said this meeting with Nixon, Ehrlichman, Haldeman and Mitchell "did not accomplish anything. Rather it was a further indication that there would be no effort to stop the cover-up from continuing."

At this meeting, however, Nixon told Dean to go to Camp David and write a report on the entire affair, according to the transcript.

Dean told the Senate committee that Nixon asked him on the 23rd to go, and did not specify that he wanted a written report.

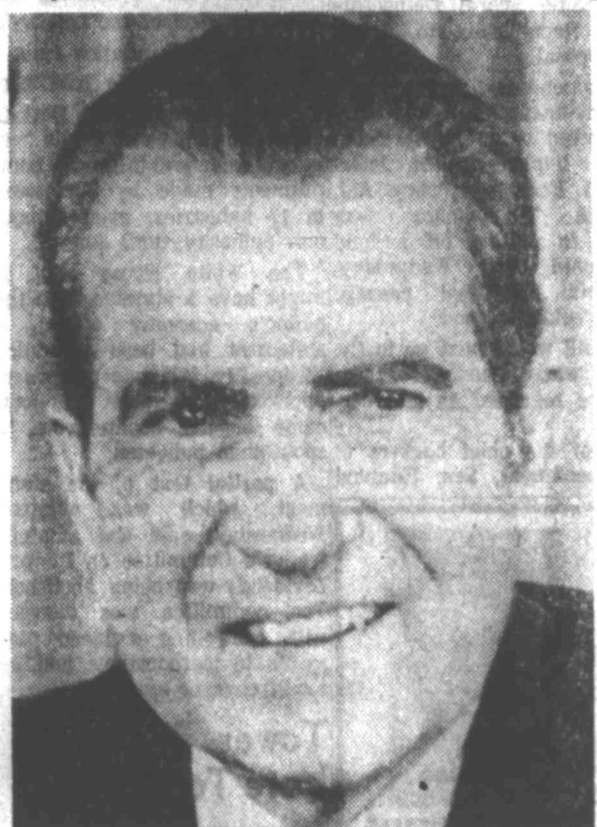

April 15

Dean said he told Nixon he had gone to the prosecutors. He said Nixon told him he had been joking when he said it would not be a problem to raise $1 million for Watergate defendants. And Dean said Nixon "in a nearly inaudible tone said to me he was probably foolish to have discussed Hunt's clemency with Colson."

There is no transcript of this meeting because, the White House said some time ago, the recording machine had run out of tape.

Martin Eyes Derby Win

By ED SCHUYLER JR. LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Trainer Frank "Pancho" Martin, whose Sham finished second to Secretariat last year, will try to win Saturday's 100th Kentucky Derby with Rube The Great, a colt he didn't want.

"We bought Acceptor. We didn't want this horse," said Martin staring at Rube The Great, who has turned out to be a triple stakes winner this year.

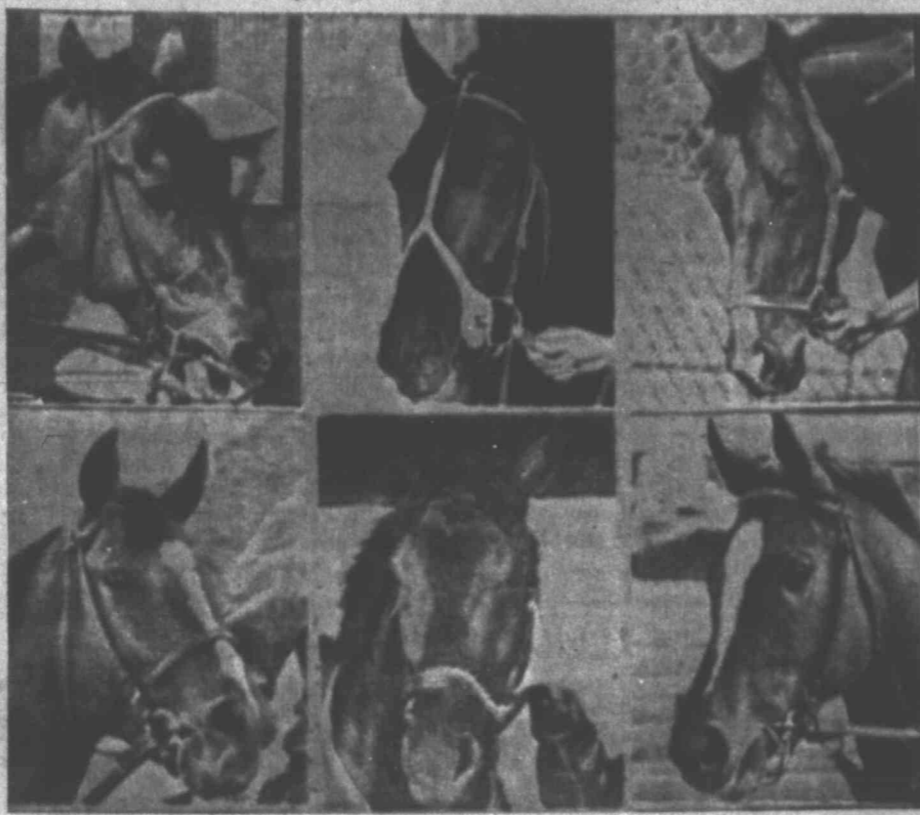

"It was a package deal." In order for Sigmund Sommer, who owned Sham, to buy Acceptor, also scheduled to start in the Derby, from the estate of James Cox Brady, he also had to buy Rube The Great and a filly named Tourniquette.

Rube The Great and Acceptor were entered Wednesday for the 1 1/4-mile Derby at Churchill Downs, as were Judge, Cannonade and Hudson County.

About 18 more 3-year-olds were expected to be entered today by the time the entry box closed at 10:30 a.m., EDT. Post time Saturday is 5:30 p.m., EDT, with television coverage by CBS set for 5 p.m.-6 p.m.

No more than 24 an start in the Derby under a rule passed Wednesday by the Kentucky State Racing Commission. This meant the race cannot be split but put Downs officials in the position of telling an owner or owners they cannot start if more than 24 were entered. That situation was not expected to occur.

The early favorite for the race was the Woody Stephenson-trained entry of Seth Hancock's Judge, winner of the Florida Derby and Blue Grass, and John M. Olin's Cannonade, winner of the Stepping Stone last Saturday.

M-Cubs Nip Giants, 4-3

AMARILLO — The Midland Cubs, back on the winning track, downed the Amarillo Giants 4-3 Wednesday night on first baseman Jerry Tabb's homer in the fifth inning in Texas League action.

Budd Schultz picked up the victory with some superb relief work, pitching six shutout innings in relief of starter Mike Krukow.

Krukow also pitched well, getting out of two jams in the first two innings. Amarillo filled the bases on a walk to Harry Shaunessy along with hits to Mike Eden and Tommy Smith, but Tony Pepper hit into a double play and Rich Stroughter flew out to left. The double play went from Krukow to catcher Steve Haug, back to first.

Lee Remains In Race

David Clingman, Jay Frazier Pace 6-0 Victory

By BOB DILLON Centerfielder David Clingman provided the muscle at the plate and Jay Frazier set Abilene down on three hits to guide the Midland Lee Rebels to a 6-0 baseball victory over the Eagles Wednesday afternoon.

The victory keeps the Rebels in the running for the second half District 5-4A crown with one game remaining on the regular schedule.

Lee and Abilene are both 4-2 to trail league-leader Abilene Cooper which has a 5-1 reading. Abilene and Cooper battle Saturday while Lee plays Midland at the Memorial Stadium diamond. The Rebs must win Saturday and hope that Abilene knocks off Cooper. "We've got to win, but it won't mean anything if Abilene loses to Cooper," said Rebel Coach Ernie Johnson.

Johnson looked up the ruling on playoffs in 5-4A and if there is a three-way or even a two-way tie, a coin toss determines the winner, so it will take the luck of a coin toss to see who meets Permian in a best-of-three play-off series. If Cooper beats Abilene, then the Cougars move into the Permian series without a coin flip.

Frazier handcuffed the Warriors on three singles and his defense was superb. Clingman, meanwhile, slammed a 360-foot homer with Bobby Stevens on base. Larry Tidwell came through with a triple to the 360-foot sign and Steve Koch delivered a double to the 10-hit Lee attack.

In the first inning, Larry Tidwell grounded back to Frazier on the mound and Bill Willis singled sharply off the glove of Frazier, but Bobby Lawson, Eagle starter on the mound, grounded into a double play.

Stevens was safe on an infield hit, a hard smash to deep third. Clingman then knocked in his third run of the game with a single, scoring Blackwell from third and a 4-0 advantage. Abilene got runners as far as third in the fourth and fifth innings, but Lee added single after single.

The final run came in the sixth inning when Koch doubled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Frazier. Lee takes on Midland at 2 p.m. Saturday with a chance to still tie for the second half title.

Palmer Still Has Old Desire

By DENNE H. FREEMAN DALLAS (AP) — Arnold Palmer, golf's first millionaire who stands 84th on the 1974 money list, wasn't rated much of a threat in today's opening round of the Byron Nelson Golf Classic, but he had his own desire.

Palmer said "I guess I have played less this year than I have in 20 years. I haven't played well. But I'm working hard and I'm staying in good shape."

Palmer said "I'm still experimenting with my putting. I've tried everything and every type of putter. The only thing I haven't tried is putting side-saddle style and I'm not ruling that out."

OVER COUGARS— Toronto Takes 3-2 Advantage

TORONTO (AP) — Jack Gibson, Brit Selby and Billy Orr got a little more ice time Wednesday night, much to the regret of the Chicago Cougars.

Each scored a goal to lead the Toronto Toros to a 3-2 triumph over the Cougars and a 3-2 advantage in their best-of-seven World Hockey Association semifinal playoff series.

The sixth game will be played Saturday night in Chicago with the seventh, if necessary, in Toronto next Monday. The winner will meet the Houston Aeros, who eliminated the Minnesota Fighting Saint in six games with a 3-1 decision Wednesday night.

Chastain, Bird Among Grid Picks

AUSTIN — Lamesa's all-state tackle Trip Chastain and Reagan County's star halfback Steve Bird were named Wednesday to the North football roster for the 40th annual Texas High School All-Star football game, which will be played Aug. 1 in Houston's Astrodome.

In the other American League games, the New York Yankees beat the Oakland A's 4-3; the Detroit Tigers nipped the Kansas City Royals 2-1; the Milwaukee Brewers routed the Texas Rangers 11-3 and the Chicago White Sox blanked the Baltimore Orioles 2-0.

Yankees 4, A's 3
Bobby Murcer and Ron Blomberg started the eighth inning with doubles, powering New York over Oakland. Murcer got his first hit of the two-game series, an opposite-field bloop double to left off Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Blomberg, who tied the score with a sixth-inning homer, followed with a double to right. The Yankees battled from behind three times, tying the score 3-3 when Blomberg belted Hunter's first pitch of the sixth inning for his fourth homer this year.

Tigers 2, Royals 1
Lerrin LaGrew's five-hit pitching and Ed Brinkman's two-run single helped Detroit beat Kansas City for the Tigers' fourth straight victory. Al Kaline and Willie Horton started Detroit's game-winning rally in the second inning with singles.

Jerry Moses was walked intentionally, filling the bases. With one out, Brinkman delivered his single that scored Kaline and Horton. The Royals' run was unearned.

White Sox 2, Orioles 0
Jim Kaat and Terry Forster combined on a six-hitter and Bucky Dent and Dick Allen delivered run-scoring singles, carrying Chicago past Baltimore. White Kaat was keeping the Orioles in check, the White Sox chased loser Dave McNally in the fifth inning on consecutive singles by Buddy Bradford, Carlos May and Allen.

HEAD COACH—Bill Shipman, Lewisville.

Milwaukee Tips Texas Rangers

By MIKE O'BRIEN
MILWAUKEE (AP) — It takes more than an eight-run defeat to deter Billy Martin, fiery manager of the surprising Texas Rangers, from preaching his gospel of optimism.

"They've got a good combination of speed and power. That was a big turning point in that first inning when I got that double play. I would have been in a lot deeper trouble."

Dave May slammed a three-run homer and John Briggs and Pedro Garcia contributed two-run blasts Wednesday night as the Milwaukee Brewers, behind Jim Slaton's steady pitching, hammered the Rangers 11-3.

"I could happen. I hope it happens. It would be lovely," he said. "You guys (the Brewers) have a real good chance."

But the Rangers, solid pre-season picks for a repeat last place finish in the American League West, retained their division lead. They had won 10 of 13 starts prior to Wednesday and carried a 285 team batting average into the game.

"Last year you didn't have a Chinaman's chance," he added, laughing. Martin, then managing the Detroit Tigers, had disparaged the Brewers early last season by saying, "If you can win with this club, I'm a Chinese aviator."

"They've got a good hitting club, I'll tell you," said Slaton, who was touched for 11 hits.

The quote was extensively publicized, to the delight of the Brewers' promotion department, which resurrected it on each Tigers visit to Milwaukee. The rewards at the gate were considerable.

"If we're going to do anything we need Don Wilson pitching," Gomez said. "Lee May can go for two or three weeks and carry the club, but pitching is what will keep us in contention."

"I'd give half my salary to go to the World Series," he said. "But if the Astros make it, Gomez figures it'll be with Wilson's pitching and not his pocketbook."

"You can't compare our teams," Martin said. "We have more speed, for one thing. And I think our catcher (Jim Sundberg) can outthrow your catcher. That's nothing against your Darrell Porter, who throws as well as most any catcher in the league, but Sundberg is something else when it comes to throwing."

"Both these clubs give up a lot of runs," he said. "That's the trouble." Briggs, whose fourth homer of the year off loser Steve Hargan (1-3) in the third inning put Milwaukee ahead to stay, agreed.

"They're a lot similar to us," he said. "They're a pretty good hitting club, with a combination of youth and veterans. If Hargan comes through, they've got four good pitchers and they could stay up there all year."

"It would be no surprise. It's all up to their pitchers, same as with us."

ELLIS IN WILD STREAK—

Reds Duck, But Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Dock Ellis mowed them down Wednesday night—literally. Losing all control, the Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher hit Cincinnati's first three batters and not only caused some discomfort but also tied a major league record.

"I've never seen anyone that wild," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson after Ellis' control problems led to a 5-3 victory over the Pirates. "I've never seen anyone hit the first three batters like that."

Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Dan Driessen were struck in the back by Ellis pitches and that tied a record held by eight others. Emerson Hawley did it twice—with St. Louis in 1874 and with Pittsburgh in 1896. The last pitcher to do it was Raul Sanchez of Cincinnati in 1960.

In the National League's other games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 13-8; the San Diego Padres beat the Montreal Expos 5-1; the Atlanta Braves nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-5; the Houston Astros tripped the Chicago Cubs 11-7 and; in the American League, the New York Yankees nudged the Oakland A's 4-3; the California Angels stopped the Boston Red Sox 4-2; the Detroit Tigers turned back the Kansas City Royals 2-1; the Milwaukee Brewers ripped the Texas Rangers 11-3 and the Chicago White Sox blanked the Baltimore Orioles 2-0.

Giants 13, Phillies 8
Doubles by Garry Maddox, Bobby Bonds and Steve Ontiveros sparked a nine-run, fifth-inning rally that powered San Francisco's rout of Philadelphia.

The Giants sent 15 batters to the plate in the fifth, overcoming a 6-3 Philadelphia lead with six hits and six bases on balls.

State District Court Judge Charles Long Wednesday issued a temporary injunction against the WFL after the Cowboys, a National Football League club, filed suit to prevent further player losses.

Three Dallas players—Craig Morton, Calvin Hill and Mike Montgomery — have signed WFL contracts.

The injunction, which WFL attorneys indicated would be appealed, is effective until a trial date on "substantive issues" in the case is set. There was no immediate indication how long that protection period for the Cowboys would last.

The injunction prevents the WFL from attempting to recruit any Cowboy players and also prohibits Cowboys players from doing recruiting among teammates for the WFL.

Prior to issuing the injunction, Judge Long said, "It is to be regretted that physical ability... has become a matter of barter, the kind of purchase and sale in the marketplace today. But reality must be faced." He said it was "disturbing that our sense of values and morals has deteriorated because of a single 'What's in it for me?' feeling."

Two days of hearings and some complicated legal broken-field running preceded Long's ruling. The Cowboys had originally obtained a restraining order against WFL recruiting from District Court Judge Ted Akin. But a federal judge in Houston, upon request of the WFL, in effect restrained the restraining order.

That meant a hearing before Long on the Cowboy action was blocked by the federal court order. But on Tuesday U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals lifted the counter-restraining order, clearing the way for the hearing before Long on a permanent injunction.

San Antonio Wins

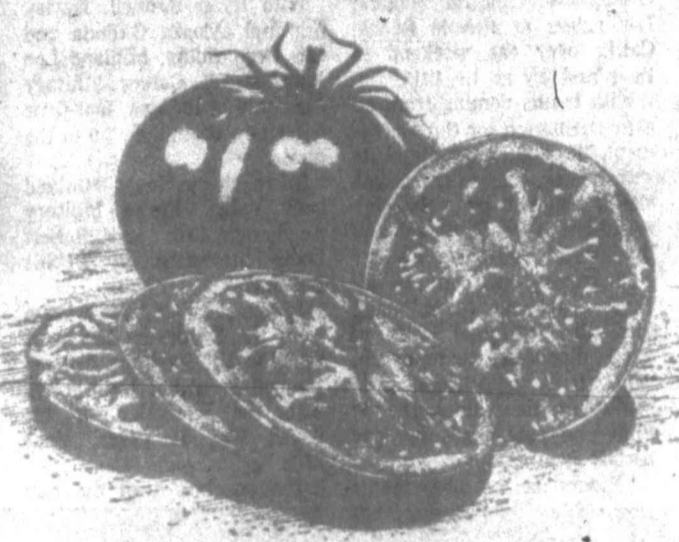

By The Associated Press Gary Ratliff's two-out, top-of-the-ninth homer lifted San Antonio to a 9-6 victory over division-leading El Paso Wednesday night in Texas League play that was otherwise marred by rain.

Transcripts Provide No Simple Answers To Questions

By WALTER R. MEARS
An AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — For all the pages of the White House diaries, all the 33 hours of Watergate conversations they cover, nowhere is there a simple answer to the central question of President Nixon's knowledge and motives when the scandal burst.

The edited transcripts are, instead, like evidence in a trial, raw material to be weighed in seeking a verdict. In yielding them, Nixon made public evidence sure to be used by his accusers as well as his defenders.

Through the 1,308 pages recounting their tape-recorded discussions, Nixon and the men who served him thus could become star witnesses for both the prosecution and the defense of the President.

The White House maintains that the transcripts prove Nixon is innocent, that he knew nothing of the Watergate burglary engineered by men who worked in his 1972 campaign organization, and that he learned of the cover-up only on March 21, 1973.

"Right," the President said. In those transcripts, the President at some points talked of complete disclosure; at others about keeping the cap on the scandal, isolating the presidency from the problem.

The White House said the President at that March 21 session rejected any high money payments to hide Watergate, but the transcript reflects no flat veto — and shows that he questioned whether Dean had any choice but to make one such payoff.

It recounts also Nixon's lengthy conversation with Dean about how money could be raised in cash, how it can be delivered, the drawbacks and dangers, and whether it would work.

The published transcript is what Nixon long ago said it would be: inconclusive. In refusing to release the tape recordings to the Senate Watergate Committee last July 23, Nixon wrote:

"The fact is that the tapes would not finally settle the central issues before your committee ... as in any verbatim recording of informal conversations, they contain comments that persons with different perspectives and motivations would invariably interpret in different ways ..."

Now, delivering the transcripts in lieu of tapes demanded by House impeachment investigators, Nixon has said that they do contain evidence to show that he tried to find and do what was right.

"I am confident that for the overwhelming majority of those who are willing to study the evidence ... those who are willing to look at it fully, fairly and objectively, the evidence will be persuasive," he said.

James D. St. Clair, Nixon's lawyer, said the transcripts need to be studied in full. "The danger of this is to pick out a phrase here or a sentence there," he said.

That is a risk for those who would demonstrate Nixon's innocence as well as those who would allege his guilt.

It is a problem illustrated by the White House brief St. Clair drafted using quotations from the transcripts as evidence of his innocence.

The White House brief quotes the President as saying to Dean Sept. 15, 1972, the day the original Watergate defendants were indicted:

"But the way you have handled all this seems to me his been very skillful putting your fingers in the leaks that have sprung here and sprung there."

The document goes on to say that the statement was made not in the context of a Watergate cover-up as Dean later asserted, but about the politics of the situation.

The transcript shows that Nixon's remark continued: "The grand jury is dismissed now?"

And Dean replied: "That is correct. They have completed and they have let them go so there will be no continued investigation prompted by the quotation ends but the transcript continues.

The White House also noted that at the March 21, 1973, meeting, Nixon tentatively decided to have another grand jury investigation of Watergate with his aides to appear and testify. In context, the transcripts show that discussion involves a way to avoid testimony before the Senate committee. Nixon aides eventually testified there anyway.

The White House brief quotes this exchange:

Nixon: "... I think I want another grand jury proceeding and we will have the White House appear before them. Is that right, John?"

Dean: "Uh huh."

At that point the White House will provide grist for arguments for weeks, months and even years. Nixon said his transcripts are all the evidence needed "to get Watergate behind us and get it behind us now."

The juries are out, in Congress with its impeachment inquiry, and in the nation, among the citizens to whom Nixon really addressed his words.

Envoy Admits CIA Airline Moved Vietnam Prisoners

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Air America, the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency airline, was used to transport North Vietnamese troops captured by South Vietnamese forces in a battle this week, U.S. Ambassador Graham A. Martin admitted today.

Martin denied that this was a violation of the Vietnam cease-fire agreement, which says in Article 4: "The United States will not continue its military involvement or intervene in the internal affairs of South Vietnam."

They reflect Nixon's apparent surprise at disclosures about the burglary and high-level involvement, information that came from John W. Dean III, his former counsel now turned accuser, at that March 21 meeting.

They also record Dean's statement that he had worked on "a theory of containment" to keep the Watergate stain from spreading during the 1972 campaign.

"Sure," said Nixon. "To try to hold it right where it was," Dean added.

That is a risk for those who would demonstrate Nixon's innocence as well as those who would allege his guilt.

Martin made his admission after Associated Press photographs taken in the Mekong Delta showed uniformed South Vietnamese troops loading handcuffed Vietnamese aboard a plane marked Air America.

The ambassador said he authorized the transport of a wounded North Vietnamese at the request of the South Vietnamese government for "humanitarian reasons." He said he didn't know six other prisoners would be added to the flight.

The photographs show that one of the prisoners was wounded in the leg, but he was walking toward the plane to board it after being put on exhibit with the other prisoners before the people of the nearby town of Moc Hoa.

The North Vietnamese were flown from Moc Hoa, 45 miles west of Saigon, to Can Tho, farther south.

Air America came to Indochina as the air transport arm of the CIA's secret war in Laos. Martin explained that while it is now under contract to the four-nation International Commission of Control and Supervision which is supposed to monitor the Vietnam cease-fire, it also is under contract to the U.S. Embassy for purely American business, mostly courier trips around South Vietnam.

"Whenever we can, if we get a humanitarian request, we do so," he said. "But generally we do not deviate from the normal rules of Air America handling only directly related U.S. business."

That is a risk for those who would demonstrate Nixon's innocence as well as those who would allege his guilt.

Former Aide Says He Couldn't Have Happened To LBJ

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — A former aide of President Lyndon B. Johnson said Wednesday it "would have been a miracle of the first order" for a Watergate bugging incident to have occurred without the late President's prior knowledge.

Tom Johnson, now executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald and a longtime aide of LBJ in and out of office, said the late former President maintained too close a check on daily White House activities to be uninformed.

"We all had to hustle each day just to know as much as he did about staff activities," Johnson told a Law Day audience at East Texas State University.

He said President Nixon's address to the nation Monday night was a major effort to avoid impeachment.

Johnson described 1974 as "a year of turbulence" and added, "We must be careful not to let this buffeting shove us to make unwise decisions and draw wrong conclusions."

That is a risk for those who would demonstrate Nixon's innocence as well as those who would allege his guilt.

Freezing Temperatures Chill Northeast States

By The Associated Press
Frosty temperatures crisped the nation's Northeast today, while thundershowers rumbled into parts of the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Under clear skies, readings in northern New England, New York and Pennsylvania dipped below freezing, and a freeze warning was in effect for Lower Michigan overnight. Winds gusted to 35 m.p.h. in portions of eastern Maine, but the winds of up to 70 m.p.h. that raked much of the Northeast Wednesday generally had diminished. A small tornado set down during the night near Idabel, Okla., injuring one person and damaging two house trailers. A funnel cloud also was sighted in North Dakota, but it failed to touch ground. Thundershowers continued from Northeast Texas, already drenched by heavy rains earlier in the week, through Mississippi and Arkansas. The rain also spread into western Tennessee, the middle Mississippi Valley and southwestern Ohio Valley. In the West, more showers sprinkled the northern Rockies and spilled into eastern Montana, while scattered showers and thunderstorms developed in North Dakota and northern Minnesota. Skies were clear over the Southwest and central Plains, but became partly cloudy in the Northwest and along the Middle and South Atlantic Coasts. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 22 at Limestone, Maine, to 90 at Needles, Calif.

Some other reports: Anchorage 48 cloudy, Los Angeles 58 cloudy, age 48 cloudy, Atlanta 64 Louisville 59 rain, Miami 71 cloudy, Boston 39 clear, Buffalo clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 59 35 partly cloudy, Chicago 48 clear, Nashville 62 cloudy, New York 46 partly cloudy, Philadelphia 48 partly cloudy, St. Louis 59 cloudy, San Francisco 37 partly cloudy, Indianapolis 49 clear, Seattle 47 cloudy, 59 cloudy, Kansas City 56 Washington 69 cloudy.

Jaworski Says Schools, Legal Profession, Society To Blame

By ROBERT HEARD
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski blames schools, the legal profession and society as a whole for "a breakdown in the teaching of the root principles of law."
"We have failed to impress upon the very young how the law functions to protect individual rights—how it provides for orderly, democratic change; what the difference is between dissent and violent protest; why individual rights must be balanced with individual responsibility to the total society," Jaworski told a Law Day audience Wednesday.

He reminded hundreds of lawyers, judges and their wives that he could not discuss Watergate because U.S. District Court Judge John Sirica has ordered him not to.
After his speech, he repeated that answer to newsmen asking for comment on a move by President Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, to quash Jaworski's subpoena for 64 additional Watergate tapes.
"He (St. Clair) is not under the same order I am," Jaworski said.

SAYS COMMON CAUSE— Banks, Savings & Loan Firms Give To Patman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the House Banking and Currency committee, has reported raising more than $100,000 for his re-election campaign, the largest single segment of which has come from savings and loan and banking interests, according to the citizens lobby Common Cause.
Reports filed by the Texas Democrat and a fund raising committee with the clerk of the House covering campaign finances through April 12 show Patman had raised $105,205 and spent $81,350 in his campaign.
A compilation by Common Cause shows that $33,945 of Patman's campaign receipts came from savings, loan, mortgage and other banking interests.

In his speech to the San Antonio Bar Association, he quoted from a sermon he heard recently in Washington:
"The old truth remains, you see, that you cannot achieve good by evil means. Apparently nothing is so difficult to understand in our present society."
"The tired old excuse is still that the end justifies the means. It has always been wrong. It is wrong still."
Jaworski did not identify the minister.
An American Bar Association committee has recommended the teaching of courses on law even in elementary schools.
"I commend it to you as the greatest project you could launch in support of our American institutions," Jaworski said.

The largest single items in the reports were a $10,000 loan from the National Bank of Washington and a $10,000 contribution from Texarkana, Texas, attorney Connor W. Patman.
Hudson, himself a savings and loan official, reported raising $18,401 for his campaign, and Glen Jones, the third candidate in the Democratic primary, reported $23,109. The only Republican candidate, James W. Farris, said he has raised $5,550.
The bulk of Hudson's money was a $13,341 loan he made to himself, and Jones loaned his own campaign $12,000.

Patman, who is also chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, faces two challengers in Saturday's Texas primary, including Fred Hudson Jr., whom he beat for the nomination two years ago. He spent only $26,423 in the 1972 primary campaign and won 57.5 percent of the vote. He was unopposed in the 1972 general election.
Individuals and organizations identified with savings and loan institutions have contributed $14,870 to Patman this year, the reports show.

Individuals whose occupations were listed as involving savings and loans gave $4,045 between February and April through a Bethesda, Md., committee called "Friends of Wright Patman." This includes $3,185 from 65 individuals associated with savings and loans in New York State.
The reports were a $10,000 loan from the National Bank of Washington and a $10,000 contribution from Texarkana, Texas, attorney Connor W. Patman.
Hudson, himself a savings and loan official, reported raising $18,401 for his campaign, and Glen Jones, the third candidate in the Democratic primary, reported $23,109. The only Republican candidate, James W. Farris, said he has raised $5,550.

The commonest speech sound is the vowel a (as in the English father); no language is known to be without it.

Ruling On Venue Sought

HOUSTON (AP)—An application seeking to force a San Antonio judge to rule on a change of venue for Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, accused in the Houston mass murders, will be filed Friday, one of Henley's lawyers says.
Ed Pegelow, the lawyer, said Wednesday night that he will file the application for a writ of mandamus in Austin. Originally Henley's lawyers said they would file the papers with the Texas Supreme Court Wednesday, but another trial delayed their plans.
Henley's lawyers will ask the Supreme Court to order District Court Judge Preston Dial of San Antonio to rule now on Henley's application for a change of venue.
Henley is charged in six of the 27 deaths of teen-age youths

SIGNER'S NAME WITHHELD— Mystery Affidavit Declares Connally Took 'Milk Money'

By BROOKS JACKSON
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Early in the bribery investigation of John B. Connally, Watergate prosecutors received an affidavit from a mystery witness who said the former Treasury Secretary was paid $15,000 from a dairy cooperative for trying to get a government antitrust suit dismissed, according to a memorandum filed in court.
Connally has repeatedly denied that he took money from the cooperative, Associated Milk Producers Inc. Now Connally has hired the noted criminal lawyer Edward Bennett Williams to represent him in the case, one of Connally's law partners said.
The court memorandum quotes a lawyer, William N. Carter, as saying that about last Nov. 2, assistant special prosecutor Jon A. Sale read to him from an affidavit without identifying the person who made it and without indicating whether the accusation was based on direct knowledge or on hearsay.
"At any rate, the person who made the affidavit said that $15,000 was paid in cash to Connally for his influence in trying to get the government antitrust suit dismissed," Carter was quoted as saying. In an interview, Carter confirmed that the memo quoted him correctly, and gave additional details.
Carter said Sale "waved the affidavit around" so that he could not read the signature on it. "It was a short name, that's all I could tell," said Carter.
Carter represents the former general manager of the cooperative, Harold S. Nelson. He said that Nelson denies knowledge of the alleged Connally payment.
Carter's story about the mysterious affidavit surfaced among more than 1,000 pages of notes and papers collected by former American Bar Association President Edward L. Wright in an independent investigation of the cooperative's political dealings.
In one memo, dated last Nov. 14, Wright quoted one of the cooperative's lawyers as telling him that the fourth-ranking partner in Connally's law firm in Houston had said that it was "unfortunate that John Connally had received a payment," but that "it was susceptible of explanation."

But the Connally partner, Marvin Collie, denied in a telephone interview that he had said Connally "received a payment." He said he was certain that Connally did not take any money.
Collie, who at first declined to answer questions about the matter, said he had to check first with Edward Bennett Williams because Williams is "running the case" for Connally.

crashed and caught fire. Five or six of the passengers managed to scramble out of the airplane after the crash as the fire started on the right wing and spread rapidly through the body.
The pilot of the plane, Charles Sweeney of Houston, is still listed in critical but stable condition in John Sealy Hospital here and has not been able to answer extensive questions about what happened, hospital officials said. The co-pilot, Phil Charles Hillman of Houston, then "dropped like a brick," was killed.

Investigation Continues On Galveston Air Crash

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—An investigation into the crash of a commuter airliner Tuesday which killed six persons and injured six continued today under the direction of the National Transportation Safety Board.
Frank Schratte of Fort Worth is heading the probe of the Metro Airline twin-engine craft which crashed with 12 persons aboard. Witnesses said the craft gained about 400 feet of altitude after a takeoff on a scheduled flight to Houston, then "dropped like a brick,"

was susceptible of explanation."
But the Connally partner, Marvin Collie, denied in a telephone interview that he had said Connally "received a payment." He said he was certain that Connally did not take any money.
Collie, who at first declined to answer questions about the matter, said he had to check first with Edward Bennett Williams because Williams is "running the case" for Connally.

Two Suspects Arrested In Dallas Slayings

DALLAS (AP) — Police have arrested two men in the slayings of two Ft. Hood soldiers and two Dallas women identified by officers as known prostitutes.

David Kerns, a 29-year-old ex-convict crippled by a sniper's bullet 15 months ago, was held in the Dallas County jail under $200,000 bond.

Police said Kerns shared an apartment with Betty Cannon, 38, and Michelle Walmer, 19, two of the victims.

The women's bodies were recovered from Lake Ray Hubbard near Dallas Tuesday along with those of the other victims—James Cannon, 20, son of one of the dead women, and James Walker, 21, both on leave from Ft. Hood.

All four were shot Saturday and dumped into the lake, according to police.

Detectives apprehended a 36-year-old man, also a former convict, Wednesday on the theory that it would have taken two persons to dispose of the bodies.

Mrs. Cannon "had been hooking 10 or 12 years in Dallas—she was well known to everybody in vice and intelligence," said Lt. Charles Burnley.

Miss Walmer was new to the business, Lt. Mel Southall said, but "we busted her last year on prostitution."

Police theorized the shootings were prompted by an argument at the apartment where the women lived.

Mrs. Cannon apparently was shot first and then, according to police, the others were killed to eliminate witnesses.

"We were told that they begged for their lives," Burnley said.

Officers said the killers then put the bodies in a truck and headed east on Interstate 30 until they reached a bridge over Lake Ray Hubbard.

"They were intending to take the bodies somewhere else, but the truck ran out of gas in the middle of the bridge," said Det. Sgt. Gus Rose. "They couldn't just go off and leave the truck with the bodies so they dropped the bodies over the railing right there."

WHAT WOULD JOSE TOVAR SAY IF HE COULD TESTIFY?—

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THURS., MAY 2, 1974—1D

Parr Defense Invokes Name Of Deceased Official

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Tovar's name is being invoked by the defense in an attempt to knock holes in the government's claims that Parr lied to a grand jury. The question is moot since Tovar, secretary of the Duval County water district and a friend of the Parr family, died about two years ago.

Tovar's name is being invoked by the defense in an attempt to knock holes in the government's claims that Parr lied to a grand jury. The question is moot since Tovar, secretary of the Duval County water district and a friend of the Parr family, died about two years ago.

payments to him were for legal services he rendered. So far, two government witnesses have testified that, in their duties as water district board members, they did not know of any legal services Parr performed for the payments in 1968 to 1970. The witnesses were D. C. Chapa, an elderly cancher, and Heberto Garza, an oil company roustabout. They resigned their water district positions in recent weeks. Both men said it was possible Tovar could have arranged with Parr for legal work they may not have been aware of. Replying to specific questions about Tovar by defense lawyer James Gillespie, both said Tovar handled the management of the water district from day to day. Chapa, whose signature appears with Tovar's on three checks to Parr, said he couldn't remember what the checks were for. He said he didn't know about a water district "special account" to which two of the checks were credited. The defense introduced the minutes of a 1968 meeting which said a $14,000 payment to Archer Parr for legal services was approved by the water district board. As secretary, Tovar would have taken the minutes. Garza, who was shown present at the meeting, could not recall the $14,000 approval. So it may have been Tovar who could have provided testimony about the dealings, unless the government produces a more enlightening witness in the remainder of the trial. The government was to call Leo Sepulveda, a water district bookkeeper, as a witness today.

Dallas Symphony Orchestra Back

DALLAS — The sound of music — symphonic music — will once again be a part of the Dallas scene with the return of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra tonight.

A concert in Dallas' Fair Park Music Hall at 8 p.m. today will be the first since the DSO suspended its current season almost two months ago for lack of funds. The resumption of the season is being made possible by a fund drive conducted in recent weeks, which raised approximately $150,000.

Tonight's concert, which will be repeated Saturday night, will bring a distinguished husband-and-wife duo to the Music Hall stage.

They are guest conductor Kenneth Schermerhorn of the Milwaukee Symphony and New York City Opera soprano Carol Neblett, Mrs. Schermerhorn in private life. She replaces Israeli violinist Itzhak Perlman as featured artist on the program.

The pair of concerts will offer works by Beethoven, Tchaikovsky and Massenet—specifically, the "Leonora" Overture No. 3 of Beethoven, the Tchaikovsky Symphony No. 5 and two excerpts from the Massenet opera, "Thais."

It was in the title role of

"Thais" last year in New Orleans that Miss Neblett attracted world attention by following the opera libretto to the letter and appearing in the nude briefly at conclusion of

Globe To Be Busy Place

ODESSA — The Globe of the Great Southwest here will be a busy place this weekend, with two different productions scheduled to have performances.

First on the schedule is the Globe's presentation of a double-bill of comedies, Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano" and Albee's "The Sandbox." The double bill will open Friday night, with a second presentation Saturday night.

Then on Sunday afternoon, the Globe stage will be the scene of the third and final performance of a new ballet work, "Spirit of Odessa," which was commissioned by the Odessa Arts and Humanities Council as a highlight of the Odessa April Fair, the month-long festival of the arts which closed here this week. The first two performances of the ballet, choreographed by Nikita Talin of Dallas to original music by Ronald Bennett of Odessa, were presented at the Globe this past weekend.

Lyle DeBolt Named American Publisher

ODESSA — Lyle DeBolt Wednesday was appointed publisher of the Odessa American.

He will succeed his father, V. L. DeBolt, who died Saturday. The elder DeBolt served as Odessa American publisher for almost 26 years.

DeBolt, 40, currently general manager of the Kinston (N.C.) Daily Free Press, is a graduate of Odessa High School and North Texas State University.

the first act. She is not expected to repeat that bit of stage realism when she sings two arias from "Thais" with the Dallas Symphony, however.

Originally from California, Miss Neblett came to national attention in her first season with the New York City Opera in 1969-70, when in quick succession she had important roles in such operatic masterworks as "La Boheme," "Mefistofele" and "La Traviata."

Although she has not previously appeared in Dallas, she has performed with the opera companies of both Fort Worth and San Antonio during recent seasons.

Schermerhorn was appointed music director of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra in the 1968-69 season. Prior to that he was conductor of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and music director for American Ballet Theater.

In June 1968, Schermerhorn was invited to conduct the American Ballet Theater at the White House in honor of the prime minister of Australia. It was his third appearance as guest conductor at the White House.

A native New Yorker, Schermerhorn received his musical training at Boston's New England Conservatory. He began his career as an instrumentalist with symphony orchestras, and then began conducting while serving with the U.S. Army in Germany. Later, he won several prestigious awards given to promising young conductors, and studied conducting with Leonard Bernstein the Tanglewood Festival in Massachusetts. He served under Bernstein as an assistant conductor of the New York Philharmonic in the late 1950's.

Duo-Piano Recital Scheduled At HC

BIG SPRING — A duo-piano recital by two members of the Howard College music faculty will be a special event of National Music Week here next week.

The pianists, Mary Skalicky and Harlan Thornton, will be heard in a program consisting of works by Bach, Mozart, Ravel, Milhaud and Moussorgsky at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Howard College auditorium. The event, sponsored by the Big Spring Music Study Club, will be open to the public without charge.

Students To Get Break On Tickets At MCT Tonight

Special ticket rates for students are in effect for tonight's performance of Midland Community Theatre's current attraction, "Of Mice and Men."

The John Steinbeck drama of the 1930s opened at Theatre Centre last weekend and will run through May 11.

Today's performance will have an early curtain — 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday performances will begin at 8:30. A matinee is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Seat reservations for all the performances may be made through the theater box office, 682-2544.

For tonight's presentation, students will be admitted at the special rate of $1. This price for students also will be in effect for the Sunday matinee. Sponsored groups of students may attend other performances at the same special rate, provided reservations are made in groups.

UIL BAND CONTEST— Austin Freshman Wins Sweepstakes

ODESSA — Midland Austin Freshman School Wednesday took sweepstakes honors at the UIL band contest held at Permian High School.

To win sweepstakes, a band must score a I in concert judging, a I in sightreading and a I at an earlier marching contest.

Bands are judged on a scale of I to V in each of the non-competitive events.

Other sweepstakes winners in Wednesday's Class 2C and 3C junior high school contest included Hood, Crockett and Nimitz junior high schools all of Odessa.

Results, with concert scores first, Class 2C schools, Midland Edison Freshman School, II, I; Midland Goddard, I, II; Midland Alamo II, III, 3C schools, Odessa Bowie, II, II; and Bonham, II, I.

In class A high school competition Wednesday, Wink High School won a sweepstakes. Other results include Marfa, IV, IV; Rankin, II, II; Sanderson, III, III; Iraan, III, I; and Clint, I, I. Clint did not win sweepstakes because they failed to make a I in marching competition.

In competition for class C junior high schools Tuesday, Monahan junior high school won the only sweepstakes award.

Other class C results include: Andrews, I, III; Crane, III, III; Odessa Blackshear, III, IV; Big Spring Goliad, II, I; Big Spring Runnels, II, II; and Colorado City, II, III.

Concert judges included D. W. Crain Jr. of Dumas, James Mallow of Brady and Gary Zook of McAllen. Pat Henry of Carlsbad, N.M.; J. W. King of Canyon and Jim Priest of Hereford were sightreading judges.

Charles Nail, Permian high school band director was contest chairman.

'Indian Art Of Americas' Exhibit Opens Friday At Witte Museum

SAN ANTONIO — "Indian Art of the Americas" is the title of an important new exhibition from the Heye Foundation's Museum of the American Indian in New York City, which opens Friday at San Antonio's Witte Memorial Museum.

A preview of the exhibition here Wednesday night benefited the American Association of Museums.

The exhibition is sponsored by matching grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and Philip Morris Inc., on behalf of Marlboro.

The scope of this exhibition is the Indian of the North, Central and South American continents, from the time of the earliest surviving material culture to the expressions of contemporary Indian artists working in various media.

"Indian Art of the Americas" has been selected by Dr. Frederick J. Dockstader, director of the Museum of the American Indian, from the museum collection, to bring new attention to the varied esthetic accomplishments of the American Indian artist ranging geographically from the Arctic to Tierra Del Fuego, and in time from 2500 B.C. to 1970 A.D. The exhibition includes 500 works of art.

"Too often, people forget that 'Indian' refers to all native people of the Western hemisphere," said Dr. Dockstader who himself is of Indian descent. "This exhibition will give the museum visitor a rare opportunity to compare cultural achievements and esthetic forms, similarities and differences, as they have evolved over the last 4,000 years within societies in North, Central and South America far removed from Indo-European and other 'old world' traditions."

Every medium in which these artists worked is represented: wood, stone, metal, clay, textiles, bone and shell. Painted works are included as well as carved and modeled objects, and the range of esthetic skills is well represented from each of the major cultural groups of the Americas along with lesser-known expressions of Indian Art. New areas to most viewers are represented by 35 objects made between 1000-1600 A.D. in stone and clay, from the Southeastern United States.

The Museum of the American Indian, founded in 1916, was established by Dr. George G. Heye whose private collection started in 1896. Its collection is presently the largest of its kind in the world. The use of this fine material in such collaborative programs as this loan exhibition has been one of the Museum's major goals in addition to the usual exhibits, research and preservation functions found in every museum.

Show To Benefit Vienna Travel Fund

Folk songs, popular songs and students, and will be for sale special vocal solos will be in the auditorium lobby before the start of the concert Friday evening.

The 8 p.m. event will be in the LHS auditorium, with proceeds going to the Vienna fund of the Lee High School Chorale. The chorale will travel to Austria in July to participate in the prestigious Youth and Music in Vienna festival.

"The Origin," a select singing group in the LHS choral department, is composed of Loretta Bybee, Marci Hibler, Jodi Kaplan, David Goolsby, Lew Riggan, Scott Hammond and Mike Hill. In some of their numbers in the Friday concert, they will be assisted by instrumentalists on electric guitar, bass, drums and piano.

Folk songs to be presented include "Dixie" and "Shenandoah," and among the popular works programmed are "Get Together," "Country Roads" and "Teach Your Children."

In addition, each Origin member will be heard in a vocal solo, and Henry Sellers, LHS choral director, will sing selections from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess." A humorous skit also will be presented.

Tickets for the benefit event are $1.50 for adults as well as

WTC To Bring 'Charlie Brown' To OC Campus

ODESSA — Drama students at Western Texas College at Snyder will bring their production of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" to the Odessa College campus for a Saturday night performance.

The hit musical is to be presented as part of a current fine arts exchange between OC, Western Texas, Midland College, South Plains College at Levelland, Cisco Junior College and Howard College at Big Spring.

Odessa College theater students took a production to the Snyder college campus several weeks ago.

The Saturday performance of "Charlie Brown" will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the OC Arena Theatre in Dederick Hall. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Father Of Late Screen Star Dies

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Mont C. Carpenter, 96, father of movie star Jean Harlow, died Wednesday. Carpenter, a dentist, outlived his famous daughter of a previous marriage by more than a third of a century.

Rankin Museum's Grand Opening Set

RANKIN — The grand opening of the Rankin Museum will be a Sunday afternoon event here.

The museum occupies the old Yates Hotel. Dedication and ribbon cutting ceremonies are scheduled for 3 p.m., followed by an open house until 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served by the Omicron Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Utah Governor Attends Show, Tell Session

KANAB, Utah (AP) — Gov. Calvin L. Rampton was front and center at a kindergarten show-and-tell session.

A spokesman for Rampton gave this account: Rampton was eating lunch at a Kanab restaurant Tuesday when he noticed a little boy peering repeatedly around the corner. Rampton asked what was going on, and the boy's mother, a waitress at the restaurant, explained that young Ladd Bunting wanted to take Rampton to show-and-tell at his class at Kanab Elementary School.

On Wednesday, Rampton went to Ladd's classroom, and the boy led him by the hand to the front of the room. Rampton answered questions from the children and their teacher, Kathy Pugh.

Sales Tax Guarantee Program Hits Snag

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Many, many insurance companies are refusing to sell small businessmen the required bonds to guarantee the state will get their sales tax collections, an official says.

The crisis induced a closed-door meeting between State Insurance Board officials and representatives of Atty. Gen. John Hill to seek a solution Wednesday.

A 1973 law, recommended by a Senate investigating committee, required new businesses and those with sales tax delinquencies to purchase bonds guaranteeing they will remit their sales tax collections to the state.

If a businessman can't get a bond or post security in cash, he can't get a sales tax permit—a necessity for stores, bars, restaurants and gasoline stations.

Between 200 and 300 insurance companies sell surety bonds in Texas.

"Many, many of these surety companies will not write these bonds," said Fred Russ, head of the comptroller's sales tax division.

"I would say we have had at least 300 or 400 people call and tell us they have tried everywhere to get a bond and couldn't get one," Russ added.

As a result, he said, some entrepreneurs have been unable to start their businesses and others have done so illegally, subjecting themselves to lawsuits filed by Hill.

Russ said many small businessmen don't have the money to post security in cash, and "it's pretty hard to ask a man to come up with $5,000." The amount of bond is set on a case by case basis, and depends on a business' anticipated sales tax collections.

The Surety Association of America recommended the $20 per $1,000 premium, but Russ and insurance board chairman Joe Christie say the companies are complaining the rate is too low.

Hugh Lacy, head of the board's bond division, said that "overall the rate is fair," and some insurance companies won't write a sales tax bond for certain businesses "at any rate."

"Some small business people, their bond may not be more than $100 to $150. They could put up the cash, but they say they don't have that much to put up. An insurance company would be foolish to write a bond for a person like that," Lacy said.

He explained that the insurers assume a businessman with such small resources might be the one who would be tempted to pocket his sales tax collections and bring on a claim against his insurance company.

Lacy said the solution under consideration would be the use of an out-of-state company, at higher rates, to guarantee the sales tax payments of high-risk businesses.

Such a company would not be bound by the standard rate. Lacy said a business that could not get a bond any other way might pay as much as $50 to $150 per $1,000 of coverage. The out-of-state coverage would be provided through the Alliance Insurance Agency of Dallas, he said.

Christie has a personal interest in the problems because he headed the legislative committee that recommended the bonding program.

"We didn't foresee this facility problem. I am still certain, however, that the bonding program is necessary," he said.

He said delinquent sales tax accounts have dropped from 27,000 to 2,700 because of the bond requirement. Russ said $5 million in delinquent sales taxes were collected between Sept. 1 and Jan. 1, the date the bond requirement for delinquent taxpayers took effect.

EPA Regulations Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental Protection Agency regulations controlling sources of air pollution in Houston were criticized Wednesday as being too severe and based on inadequate data.

Charles R. Barden, executive director of the Texas Air Control Board, told the U.S. Senate Environmental Protection subcommittee that the EPA's plan is based on "questionable measurement methods and imprecise data base."

George Alexander, deputy administrator of the EPA region encompassing Houston, disputed Barden's claims, saying Texas incorrectly measured the amount of hydrocarbon emissions in some instances.

Alexander, while admitting the federal rules would cause some disruptions, disagreed that they would be of a severe socio-economic nature.

Barden said under the proposed Texas plan hydrocarbon reductions could be achieved without expensive and disruptive transportation controls called for by the EPA.

Louis Welch, president of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, said the EPA regulations would severely limit city growth.
