Eddy Gets Discovery

A Canyon oil discovery, three miles southwest of an undesignated dual Canyon gas and Atoka gas discovery, has been completed by Yates Petroleum Corp., Artesia. It is the No. 1-DF State.

On a 24-hour potential test, it pumped 10 barrels of 40.7-gravity oil and 246 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 13,380-1.

Production was through perforations at 6,595-6,750 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

A re-entry, it was originally drilled by May M. Wilson as No. 1 State to 8,269 feet.

Yates then set 4 1/2-inch casing at 8,191 feet, and plugged it back to 8,000 feet.

Well site is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 35-17S-24E, 10 miles southwest of Artesia.

Confirmer Finaled In Eddy

El Paso Natural Gas Co. has announced completion of No. 2-D Rocky Arroyo, 1 1/2 mile northeast of the Canyon opener and lone producer, from that pay, in the Rocky Arroyo field of Eddy County, N.M.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 5,209 million cubic feet of gas per day, plus 13.4 barrels of condensate and 3.48 barrels of water, through perforations at 7,342-7,348 feet, after the section had been acidized with 500 gallons. Gravity of the condensate was not reported.

Slotted as a 9,400-foot Morrow test, it was drilled to 9,325 feet, with 5 1/2-inch casing set at 9,083 feet.

Production site is 1,900 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 4-22S-22E, 20 miles southwest of Lakewood.

The opener, El Paso's No. 1-C Rocky Arroyo, was finished August 29, 1973 for 65,264 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 7,292-7,347 feet.

Wildcat Set In McCulloch

Evans & Davenport, Kingfisher, Oklahoma, have made plans to drill No. 3 Algie H. Hill, as a 1,900-foot wildcat in McCulloch County.

It is 1,782 feet northwest of the firm's No. 2 hill, a recent undesignated Pennsylvanian gas discovery.

Located three miles west of Fife, it spots 660 feet from north and 2,076 feet from west lines of Heirs of Anton Fink survey 1177.

The No. 2 Hill was completed March 1, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1.96 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 1,414-1,420 feet.

Runnels Gets Venture Site

A 4,500-foot probe has been staked 3/4 mile southeast of the depleted Beddo, East (Serratt), and the same distance northeast of the depleted Benoit (Serratt) (Continued On Page 3B)

Price Increases Slow Somewhat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp declines in farm and food prices slowed the rise in wholesale prices in April to its slowest rate in six months, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices increased seven-tenths of one per cent seasonally adjusted and five-tenths of one per cent unadjusted.

The increase was still high by normal standards but considerably below increases recorded since November.

April's rise compared with adjusted increases of 1.3 per cent in March, 1.2 per cent in February and 3.1 per cent in January.

Despite the slowdown in farm and food prices, there was no hint that the inflationary surge was abating.

Industrial prices, regarded as one of the surest barometers of inflation, jumped an adjusted 2.3 per cent in April. In March industrial prices climbed 2.9 per cent.

Farm products, processed foods and feeds declined for the second consecutive month, dropping an adjusted 3 per cent and an unadjusted 3.7 per cent.

The Agriculture Department predicted Wednesday that food prices would begin to level off during the second half of the year and possibly even decline in the final quarter.

Wholesale prices rose 18.8 per cent in the past 12 months. Changes in wholesale prices usually are reflected later at the retail level.

April's increase lifted the government's wholesale price index to 155.3. That means it cost $155.30 to buy the same volume of wholesale goods that $100 purchased in 1967.

The big rise in industrial prices reflected in part the dropping of price controls from various industries.

Metal products accounted for almost one-third of the total increase. Iron and steel scrap

House GOP Leader Suggests Nixon Reconsider Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader John Rhodes of Arizona suggested today that President Nixon reconsider the possibility of resigning, although Rhodes said he was not recommending that Nixon quit.

A participant in a breakfast session Rhodes held with a small group of newsmen quoted him as saying a reassessment of Nixon's position should be dictated by the impact of public release of some of his edited Watergate transcripts.

Rhodes said the transcripts are "devastating" and have drawn a heavily unfavorable public response.

Top High School Graduates Named

Valedictorians and salutatorians at the city's two high schools were named Wednesday.

John Edward Bishop, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bishop, is the Midland High School valedictorian, and Susan K. Bechtel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bechtel, earned salutatorian. His grade point of the school debate team and recently placed second in the honor at Lee.

Steven Nixon Tighe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tighe, is the Midland High School salutatorian. He has a 4.11 grade point average.

Lewis G. Raymer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Raymer, is the Lee High School salutatorian. His grade point of the school debate team and recently placed second in the honor at Lee.

Bishop maintained a 4.50 regional UIL informative speaking grade point average to earn the honor. He plans to major in chemistry at The University of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

Bishop is a native of Houston and moved to Midland four years ago. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Key Club, the National Forensic League and the Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Club.

His brother, Eugene Bishop, was valedictorian of the 1971 Midland High class.

Miss Bechtel's grade point average is 4.353.

She is a National Merit Scholarship winner and will attend Rice University at Houston where she will major in pre-medicine.

She is a member of the National Honor Society and has won three academic awards. She also is a member of the school band and a twirler.

Last summer she was selected to participate in the National Science Foundation Summer Science program—and received the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute medal for math and science.

15-Year-Old Arrested In Brothers' Deaths

HOUSTON (AP)—Sheriff Jack Heard said today a 15-year-old boy has been arrested in the mutilation slayings of two young Houston brothers.

"The same person is under confinement in both cases. He lives in the vicinity of the Elliott family but he is not related to them," Heard said.

Heard said he could not lawfully divulge details of the investigation except to say, "The subject was in our office last night when the arrest was made."

Heard held a news conference after Harris County deputies found the body of Kenneth Elliott, 11, in woods in the eastern part of the county.

Heard said the youth in custody will be examined by sociologists and psychologists and a juvenile court referee will be asked to certify the youth as an adult.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Don Lambright said such certification will take several weeks.

Heard would not say if the youth had made a statement or if any weapons had been recovered. He said he was restrained from discussing the investigation because of provisions of the new Texas Family Code dealing with juveniles.

Young Kenneth had been missing since Tuesday.

The boy had been decapitated. A long, deep cut ran from the boy's neck to his pelvic area. There also were slashes on his back and buttocks.

Kenneth's brother, Ronald, 12, was found in the same area last Nov. 20, after a four-day search. His stomach had been slashed open and he had been sexually mutilated.

The parents of the two boys, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Elliott, were placed under sedation at a local hospital.

Their surviving sons are Jimmy, 24; David, 20; Michael, 16; Walter, 17; and Steve.

Steve Elliott is the estranged husband of Deborah Cobble, the former wife of Charles Cobble, 17, one of the victims in the Houston mass murders case last August.

Both of the dead Elliott boys were special education pupils at a nearby elementary school.

Walter Elliott said Kenneth came home from school Tuesday and talked about going to a convenience store two blocks away. "I told him no," Walter said. "We've been careful since Ronnie died. But he got up again and walked toward the school."

Rain Seen For Texas

Rain seeped into state forecasts today as a weak ridge of high pressure in Southeast Texas and a trough of low pressure along the New Mexico border combined forces.

The trough should move eastward this evening and Friday, triggering scattered showers and thunderstorms in the west half of the state.

National Weather Service forecasters at Midland Air Terminal say the Tall City could come in for some of those showers or thunderstorms today. They set the precipitation probability at 30 per cent this afternoon and 20 per cent tonight.

The high today and Friday will be near 90 and the overnight low will be in the mid-60s. Wednesday's high was 91 and (See RAIN Page 8A)

AT WILDCAT COMMITTEE RECEPTION— Action Against Oil Industry Branded Socialism

Howard H. Hinson of Dallas, president and chief executive officer of Texas Pacific Oil Co., said in Midland Wednesday night actions by Congress against the oil industry are leading this country into socialism.

"Let's get out in the open and call it what it is — socialism. The punitive measures being taken in Congress against oil is the first step in taking over all industry — and that most certainly is socialism," Hinson said.

Hinson and other Texas Pacific officials were in Midland as guests at a reception hosted by the Midland Wildcat Committee in the Midland Country Club.

Hinson had several remarks to make about the picture that is being painted by congressmen, with the help of the news media, about the profits of oil companies.

"Take the top seven major U.S. oil and gas companies, and the fact is that their 1973 domestic profits over 1972 were only 6.4 per cent.

"Certainly our profits are not in excess of what is required to find the oil and gas and develop alternate sources of energy so badly needed by this country.

"Our public image and the results of our good public service for many years has been destroyed.

"The destruction was primarily by those congressmen wanting quick votes, quick publicity and wanting to blame the oil companies to keep the blame for the energy crisis from justly falling on them," Hinson said.

In blaming policies for much of the oil industry's problems, Hinson said it has been good politics for many years to falsely find something wrong with the oil companies and then cure it with punitive legislation.

"This could not be done without public support. The communications media must take their share of the blame through their need for sensationalism to spread to the public in biased doses of 30-seconds wisdom," he pointed out.

Hinson took the case of Occidental Petroleum Corp. as an example of inaccurate reporting and not telling the public the whole story.

"Recently, it was spread by the news media that Occidental made an 817 per cent profit for the first quarter of this year.

"I personally telephoned the financial vice president of Occidental and asked him to bring it to," Rodino said.

His remarks opened the first House committee hearings to consider whether a president should be impeached since 1868.

Those hearings resulted in the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, but the Senate acquitted him.

Rodino, whose remarks were carried over national television, said the committee would begin its hearings by considering materials relating to the question of President Nixon's responsibility for the Watergate break-in and its subsequent investigation by law enforcement agencies.

Immediately after Rodino and Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., ranking Republican member, delivered their brief addresses, the session was closed to the public for the presentation of evidence.

The presentation will give committee members their first look at the material gathered in the last four months by the impeachment inquiry staff.

A key part of that evidence is expected to be the briefcase full of grand jury evidence that was turned over to the committee by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica.

Rodino said Wednesday the closed sessions probably would continue through next week, after which a decision will be made on opening them.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said today "we are stumped" in the kidnaping investigation of Patty Hearst.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration has announced a 10.4 per cent increase in daily gasoline supplies for May with a forecast that gas shortages beginning next month are anticipated for the rest of the year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John B. Anderson, a member of the House Republican leadership, said today it would be best for the country if President Nixon resigned and predicted Nixon will be impeached if he does not step down voluntarily.

Panel Opens Impeachment Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee opened its historic hearings on the evidence gathered by its impeachment staff today with a pledge from Chairman Peter Rodino that the panel would meet its "high constitutional responsibility."

Rodino said the presentation of evidence on the possible impeachment of President Nixon would be conducted in a spirit recognizing that the integrity of the nation's institutions rests on the trust and confidence of its people.

"I don't need to stress again the importance of our undertaking and the wisdom, decency and principle which we must bring to it," Rodino said.

His remarks opened the first House committee hearings to consider whether a president should be impeached since 1868.

Those hearings resulted in the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, but the Senate acquitted him.

Sharp Earthquake Kills One, Injures 23 In Central Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A sharp earthquake jolted central Japan this morning, killing one woman and injuring 23 persons over a wide area of the Izu Peninsula, 70 to 100 miles southwest of Tokyo, officials said.

Twenty-nine persons, caught in a landslide, were still unaccounted for.

Police said the quake, which registered four on the Japanese scale of seven in the hard hit areas, destroyed 54 houses, including five in a fire that followed the tremor, and damaged 231.

Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Friday in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Brunson was born Aug. 14, 1893, at Abilene. She was a graduate of Midland High School.

(See BRUNSON Page 8A)

Scientists in Honolulu said the quake registered 6.2 on the Richter scale. The quake that hit San Francisco in 1906 registered 8.3.

The quake hit shortly after 8:30 a.m. and lasted for several seconds.

The Meteorological Agency said the center was in the Pacific, 22 miles off Cape Irozaki, where it registered five.

Seismographs measured four in Shimoda, Mishima and Shizuoka, all on Izu Peninsula, officials said.

The quake also registered four in Yokohama, 20 miles south of Tokyo, and three in Tokyo where buildings swayed and subways and commuter trains were momentarily stopped. No damage, however, was reported in Tokyo or Yokohama.

Police said rains and landslides which blocked roads in Izu were hampering rescue operations.

Officials said 83 aftershocks were recorded in 10 hours and the shocks were continuing.

Kissinger Seeks Saudi Arabian Support For Truce Agreement

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew to Saudi Arabia today to talk to King Faisal about American technical aid for the economic development of the desert kingdom and to seek the monarch's support for a disengagement agreement between Syria and Israel.

In an unusually warm welcoming statement, Foreign Minister Omar Saqaf said the Saudi people "cherish nothing but amity and friendliness for the people of the United States." But he added that the American people should know that the Saudis are a religious Moslem people who "will not be swayed."

After seeing Faisal, Kissinger was flying to Cairo to brief President Anwar Sadat on the progress of his negotiations with Syria and Israel.

The secretary is counting on both Faisal and Sadat, as well as Algerian President Houari Boumediene, to influence the Syrians to settle for only a partial Israeli withdrawal from the Golan Heights.

Meanwhile, both Americans and Israelis reported some progress in Kissinger's talks with the Syrians and Israelis.

It was the first time Israeli sources reported progress in the negotiations to separate the warring forces on the Golan Heights. American officials said a disengagement agreement was "a little more likely." But one American source cautioned that an agreement was "far away."

Kissinger traveled to Damascus on Wednesday with new Israeli proposals and returned to Jerusalem with the Syrian reaction. "The discussions have now reached a very concrete stage," said Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban after a three-hour meeting with Kissinger.

An authoritative Israeli source said the Syrians did not completely reject the Israeli proposals. The source said Kissinger brought back a series of proposals.

New Tea Kettle Gives Bad Taste

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — My mother has a new colored aluminum whistling tea kettle and water boiled in it tastes like strong medicine and tin. Coffee or tea does not change the taste. I hope someone can give us some idea as to what we could do about this. Now the tea kettle is useless. — D.H.C.

DEAR POLLY — I love flowers and my Pet Peeve is with those florists delivering potted plants who forget to include a card giving the name of the flower and instructions for caring for it. I recently called a florist to ask the name of one sent to me. All I got was an answering service and later when a friend identified it I realized I had been giving the plant improper care so the poor thing had seen its best days. — ELEANOR.

DEAR POLLY — Like Mrs. G.K. we, too, have hard water stains build up on our bathroom fixtures and were told by the people who lived here before to use a wet sandpaper. It is almost smooth, is used under water and really does a fine job. — ANNA.

DEAR POLLY — and Mrs. G.K. — A former maid of mine who had worked for a hotel chain taught me to scour the tub and basin, including the faucets, and to POLISH them dry. Each day this is done, shining the faucets and mirrors in the process. It is water left standing that causes the mineral deposits to dull or discolor the fixtures. To cut the scum and soap film a commercial cleaning foam, kerosene or vinegar are a few of the things that can be used. We always use bath crystals or a bubble bath water softener in the tub to eliminate bath tub rings. — LOU.

DEAR GIRLS — A manufacturer who read Mrs. G.K.'s problem sent us information concerning their new pumice scouring stick that is for such a situation. It is safe around children, kind to hands and cleans off stubborn stains and deposits we were told. This can be bought at hardware stores. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Garlic salt costs too much for my budget so I put garlic cloves into a box of iodized salt, shake, let it stand for several days and have a whole box of garlic-flavored salt. I also have the benefit of the iodine and all for a small cost. I use this to flavor soups, salads, meats and even chicken. — ELSIE.

Betty Bledsoe Complimented

Betty Jean Bledsoe, who will be married June 1 to Robert Earl Lathan, was complimented recently with a pre-nuptial shower by Mrs. Adolphus R. Titus and Mrs. Samuel Gibbs. The Gibbs home at 1416 E. Chestnut Lane was the setting for the party.

Arrangements of spring flowers in yellow and green were used in the entertaining rooms. Miss Bledsoe was given a daisy corsage.

Ford's Price Hike Blasted

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has raised prices on its 1974-model cars and trucks an average $163, becoming the second auto maker this month to draw the ire of the federal Cost of Living Council.

Council Director John T. Dunlop blasted Wednesday's increase as "unwarranted" and charged it was a violation of the firm's voluntary agreement last December to limit price boosts.

But Ford insisted the hike was needed because of "unprecedented cost increases."

"The company's price increase is totally cost-justified and is consistent with commitments made last December to the Cost of Living Council," said Ford Vice President John B. Naughton.

When the council lifted controls on the auto industry in December, Ford, General Motors and American Motors agreed to limit wholesale price hikes to $150 for the remainder of the model year, barring "unforeseen major economic events."

A council spokesman said Wednesday that GM had notified the council it also plans a new price increase but that details were not available. GM, which has raised wholesale prices an average $301 a vehicle since September, declined to elaborate.

Chrysler, which refused to join the voluntary commitment, boosted prices an average $122 on May 1, also drawing criticism from Dunlop. The increase brought its total increase since September to $416 a vehicle.

American Motors, which has increased prices $234 since September, said Wednesday it had "no intention of raising prices at this time."

Ford's latest price boost, its fourth since September, included $113 (2.4 per cent) on the base sticker price and $50 (1.1 per cent) for optional equipment made standard.

Excluding the change for options, Ford has increased prices an average $404 a vehicle since the end of the 1973 model run.

Ford said that even with the latest increase it still is left with unrecovered cost increases averaging $96 a vehicle.

The cost council currently lacks authority to curb prices, but one council source in Washington said the Ford move could affect pending legislation to give the council such authority.

In a telegram response to the council, Ford said the firm's cost increases since Nov. 1, 1973, are "more than double the projections at the time of the decontrol commitment. We do not understand how our action can be interpreted as not conforming to this joint agreement."

Auto sales are off 26 per cent so far this year from their record 1973 pace, with first-quarter profits off sharply. The automakers said soaring costs were largely to blame for the earnings decline.

Midland Youth Center Chatter

MOTHER'S DAY will be observed Sunday and for this special occasion we dedicate this Chatter column. We hope word that everyone will remember their Mothers on Sunday with warm thoughts. Do you REMEMBER YOUR MOTHER WHEN:

SHE SUPPORTED YOU IN YOUR SPORTS ACTIVITIES, YET NEVER UNDERSTOOD THE GAME? Our 1973-74 Mighty Baseball Team finished the 74 season Saturday with the Rebels defeating their 7-3. Cooper borrowed the district title this year, but our Dogs will win it back next year.

With spring training in football under way, MHS had its first scrimmage last Saturday morning. Coach Reddell was very pleased with his future team and we wish them luck next year!!!

SHE CONGRATULATED YOU ON YOUR ELECTIONS AND MADE YOU FEEL REALLY GREAT EVEN THOUGH YOU RAN UNOPPOSED AND SHE HAD WRITTEN YOUR SPEECH? Student Council recently elected '74-'75 officers. Tim Blonkist will preside as president, Peter Scherer as vice president, Vicki Throckmorton as corresponding secretary, Holly Heard as recording secretary, and Riley Barton as treasurer. Congratulations and lots of luck next year!!!

Those SONS and DAUGHTERS celebrating their birthdays this week include: Pam Farmer, Gwyn Hill, Allan Hunt, Brenda Ray, Lisa Rhodes, Elvis Seewald, Mike Timmons, Tommy Turner, Lupita Valadez, Lynn Williams, Terrace Hill, Jenette Lambdin, Billy Bledsoe, Joe Cavallos, Cody Grinstead, Neal Hill, Debra Jolst, Linda Aguilar, Relinda Martinez, James McCullough, Gerald Monroe, and Lorrie Vaughn. The Senior Breakfast was held Wednesday morning, starting off bright and early at 7 a.m. Distinguished awards were presented and entertainment was enjoyed. Sure was good food! Seniors are reminded to turn in their WILLS to the Bulldog staff members by next Wednesday. The cost is 2 cents a word and they will be subject to censorship.

Rotating Radials Different Job

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Presumably, one of the reasons you bought those expensive radial tires was to save gas. To get the most out of them, says Goodyear, rotate them every 6,000 to 8,000 miles — and unlike conventional tires, don't crisscross them. Radials stay on the same side of the car and are switched front to rear.

Ford Concedes Watergate Has Built Basic Distrust

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford said today that though "much remains untested and unproved" in the wake of Watergate, "what has taken place up to now has created a diminished confidence in our public officials, basic distrust of their motives."

Other omissions in the transcripts, released last week, were marked by (explosive deleted), (inaudible), (unintelligible) and (material unrelated to presidential actions deleted).

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER—Sara Moore, a Midland High School junior, is the winner of a Pan American Student Forum scholarship to study in Guajuato, Mexico, this summer. While in Mexico, she will live with a Mexican family. She is a member of the National Honor Society and the Spanish National Honor Society.

The House Judiciary Committee has informed President Nixon that providing of the edited transcripts fails to comply fully with the panel's subpoena for the actual White House tape recordings for its impeachment inquiry.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Eastern Illinois University, Ford said the federal government is beset by "a crisis in confidence" which has produced "a grave situation."

Pentagon Planning Military Emergency Supply Stockpile

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a nation, tanks, weapons, spare parts and other equipment, the Pentagon is planning a special stockpile of military equipment to meet emergency needs of allies anywhere in the world.

This special contingency stockpile is expected to cost "a proposed new stockpile evolved from the experience of last October, after Egypt and Syria attacked Israel. On short notice, the United States dipped into the war reserve stocks of American forces to supply Israel with about $1 billion in military hardware."

"In some cases there was an undesirable impact on U.S. force readiness to cope with potential worldwide contingencies," the Pentagon said.

The aim of creating the special stockpile for allies is to enable their quick resupply without harming the readiness of American forces, officials said. They said the emergency stockpile for allies and friends "could be used whenever, wherever and as future U.S. interests might dictate."

The material will remain in U.S. depots "unless and until a conscious presidential decision, with the appropriate congressional consultation, is made to release such stocks for support of a specific ally," the Defense Department said.

Rain—

(Continued From Page 1A) The low this morning was 64. The high pressure ridge should continue to spread warm moist air to feed isolated thunder showers in the eastern part of Texas.

Nearly all of the state reported clear to partly cloudy skies at dawn except for cloudy sections of South Texas and some light fog along the coast.

Temperatures generally hovered in the upper 60s and low 70s at daybreak, according to The Associated Press.

No major temperature changes were predicted through Friday.

McKinnon said the shadow loomed over his car like a giant insect. Seconds later, an airplane landing gear pierced his windshield and broken glass was strewn around the car.

"I didn't even get scratched," he said, though visibly shaken.

The damaged Cessna 150, a two-place, single engine airplane, made a belly landing at White Rock Airport after it undershot the runway.

"I never saw the car until I was right on top of it," said pilot Marvin Quillen, 18, who also was not injured.

McKinnon said after the incident he summoned a friend by telephone. "What's the problem?" queried the friend.

"I've just been run over by an airplane," McKinnon said.

Speaker Assails Congressional Actions To Penalize Oil Industry As Socialism

Hinson said there are many other inequities in reporting profits by companies. "Actually, what is important is the amount of return on the investment, and the oil industries return on investment is lower than the industry average."

"For the past decade and a half, the net income of the petroleum industry has been too small relative to its capital needs."

"Because it was not able to invest enough in the past, the petroleum industry is now faced with an enormous task. Not only must it try to satisfy the world's growing needs in the future, but it must also overcome the deficit created in the past by under investment."

"Clearly, in terms of the world's current and future needs for petroleum, the industry's earnings positively are not excessive—on the contrary, they still are subnormal. And, unless they can be improved in the years ahead, the world is faced with the prospect of a devastating shortage of petroleum," Hinson warned.

"In 1954, there were almost 40,000 independent oil producers. Today, there are under 10,000. If the oil industry has been so profitable, where did those 30,000 independents go?" Hinson asked.

Hinson said the cure for our energy problems is simple, physically, but if we are to assure ourselves of enough energy there will have to be a complete reversal of the political trend which is legislating the oil industry.

Other Texas Pacific officials accompanying Hinson to Midland were Al Hrubetz, R. M. Brackbill, Claude Dodger, Ted Ashford, Bob Slingerland, Joe Clark and Joe Womack.

Brandt Says He Feared Spy Scandal Would Involve Private Life

BONN, Germany (AP) — Ex-Chancellor Willy Brandt says he quit because he feared the political scandal caused by the presence of an East German spy on his personal staff would involve his private life.

The former chancellor denied, however, that he resigned because the confessed spy, Guenter Guillaume, blackmailed him by threatening to disclose details of Brandt's private life unless Guillaume was handed over to East Germany.

West German newspapers claimed that Brandt was confronted by such a blackmail threat. The right-wing magazine Quick charged that the government intelligence agency paid hush money in 1969 to a woman who allegedly had an affair with Brandt after World War II, and that Guillaume could have used this to blackmail the chancellor.

Brandt in a television appearance Wednesday night made no direct reply to Quick's allegations. But he declared: "Whatever may yet be written about it, it is and remains grotesque to hold a German federal chancellor to be open to blackmail. In any case, I am not."

Brandt said he resigned "to prevent my political and personal integrity from being destroyed." He said he had "cause to believe" that his personal life would be "dragged into speculation" over the spy controversy.

Guillaume served almost two years as Brandt's personal aide for political and party affairs. A former East German, he came West in 1956, worked his way up in Brandt's Social Democratic party, and went to work for the federal chancellery in 1970.

Brandt said he resigned to assume "political and personal responsibility for negligence in the spy affair." He was negligent, he said, in letting "secret papers go through the hands of the agent during my vacation in Norway last year."

It was the first time Brandt had admitted the charge by members of the Christian Democratic opposition that Guillaume had been privy to sensitive information. The admission cast doubt on earlier statements that Guillaume had been identified as a spy 10 months before he was arrested on April 24 and was kept on Brandt's staff to allow government agents to complete their investigation.

Postal Minister Horst Ehmke joined Brandt in retirement from the government Wednesday because of the spy scandal. Ehmke, who was chief of the chancellery office in 1972, said since he appointed Guillaume to be Brandt's political adviser, he would not be a candidate for the cabinet Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt will form after the Bundestag elects him chancellor on May 16.

A public opinion poll of 1,412 voters taken Tuesday, the day after Brandt's resignation, showed only 27 per cent would vote for the Social Democrats if elections were held now. Sixty-two per cent said they would vote for the conservative Christian Democrats and 7 per cent named the Free Democrats, the Social Democrats' junior partner in the government coalition.

Transcript Purchasers Have Varied Reactions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Sauers took up President Nixon's invitation to read the edited transcripts of his private Watergate conversations, which Nixon said "will tell it all."

Sauers, one of the first to buy the blue-bound volume, doesn't think it does. Other first day purchasers think it does. "It's a survival effort," Sauers concluded Wednesday after reading the critical March 21 conversation when then-White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon of the full proportions of the Watergate break-in, conspiracy and cover-up.

Sauers, 33, a research analyst from Birmingham, Mich., and his 8-year-old daughter, Laurie, were visiting Washington last week when the edited transcripts went on sale at the Government Printing Office bookstore. They were among the first in line when the doors opened at 8 a.m.

"The March 21 conversation convinces me... hush money to (Watergate burglar E. Howard) Hunt was approved," Sauers said in a telephone interview from his home. "It does no more than re-enforce what I already believed... These things (transcripts) hurt him."

A check with tourists, businessmen, housewives and lawyers who purchased the instant best-seller the first morning it was on the market indicates that many of them think the conversations raised more questions than they answered; most think the six-pound volume is worth the $12.25 it cost. All have read at least portions of the transcripts. None finished the entire volume.

"I've read some of the significant meetings," said Joshua Davidson, a customs lawyer from New York City who purchased the volume while in Washington on business. "I think I'm in apparent agreement with a good many legislators in Congress who feel it hasn't helped the President one bit. In fact, it's been the reverse."

Tom Gallian, owner of a McDonald's Hamburger franchise in Dunn, N.C., disagrees. He took time off from a Chamber of Commerce convention in Washington last week to pick up several copies of the edited transcripts.

After getting "about half through," he said, "I voted for him (Nixon), and probably would do so again. I think it's a comedy of errors the President got into. I have no conclusions yet whether he's guilty or innocent... I think he should turn over the tapes... So he swears a lot? What the hell? We all do."

Mrs. Marjorie Hooper, an English teacher in a Washington high school, said after reading about 400 pages of the transcripts, "I think he (Nixon) warrants impeachment. There was definitely a cover-up after March 21. After he was informed, the whole group entered into a conspiracy to obstruct justice."

"I've been floored by the depravity of the whole situation."

Former Envoy Says Nixon Should Quit

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Charles W. Yost, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations under President Nixon, says he thinks the President should resign "as the quickest way out of the country's agony."

Yost, U.N. ambassador from 1969 to 1971, said in an interview Wednesday night that aside from domestic considerations, other nations "don't know where they stand" with the United States.

"The Russians, for example very much want to proceed with détente with us," he said. "However, they are uncertain whether Mr. Nixon is strong enough domestically to enter any agreements that Congress will support."

AT FUTURE UNLIMITED BANQUET—

Junior Achievers Given Numerous Awards

Midland's Junior Achievers received numerous awards and heard an inspirational address urging them to defend and maintain the free enterprise system as the American way of life, at their 12th annual Future Unlimited Banquet Wednesday night.

The function, which attracted approximately 350 Achievers, adult advisers, officers of Junior Achievement of Midland, Inc., representatives of sponsoring firms and special guests, was held at Ranchland Hills Country Club.

Roy Gould, banquet chairman, served as master of ceremonies, and the invocation was voiced by the Rev. Ben Verbugge of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

Robert H. Meyers, president of Midland J.A., extended words of welcome, with the response being given by Achiever Janet Belden of JAMCO, one of the J.A.'s 17 miniature companies.

Miss Belden, in her remarks, voiced the J.A. viewpoint which she cited benefits derived from participation in the program.

"We now have a better knowledge of the business world," she said in explaining that it all adds to "our formal education. We know what the business world is like."

Dr. Richard Keist of Odessa, executive director of student services at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin, was the guest speaker.

Lashing out at those persons who think that being in business and making a profit is immoral, Dr. Keist made it clear that making a profit is fundamental in the free enterprise system.

Answers Charges

He said there are those today who say that free enterprise is wrong because it doesn't give an equal share to everyone, that free enterprise can corrupt a company, people, and ultimately destroy a society.

He answered each of the charges in easily understood language, explaining that the easiest way to destroy a people is to take away their obligations of responsibility, thereby destroying their initiative.

He said that government does have a role in seeing that the free enterprise system stays within established guidelines, but the excessive, burdensome restraints created to restrict a few corrupt individuals can destroy free enterprise.

"More and more government controls are steps toward our economy," Dr. Keist said. "Too many controls can destroy the very things which have made this country great."

He pointed out that these persons who cannot help themselves should have assistance, adding that no people and no society have ever made such strides at eliminating poverty as has the United States, going beyond national boundaries even to help other people.

He urged his listeners to watch for warning signs against private enterprise in America, citing the disastrous results which have occurred in countries which did not note or heed warning signals.

Referring to the overall benefits of the free enterprise system, he told the Junior Achievers, "You will have much to say about whether free enterprise prevails in the future."

The various awards to the Achievers were presented by Dr. Douglas W. Brown, William S. Bachman, John P. Butler and W. H. "Bill" Collins.

Miss Kelli Taylor, secretary of OCONOC, counseled by Continental Oil Co., was recognized as the Achiever of the Year.

White House Seems To Be Trying To Drown Watergate With Words

By WALTER R. MEARS

An AP News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP) — After futile efforts to dam up Watergate, the White House apparently is trying now to drown the scandal in a deluge of words.

That's half the strategy. The other half is to stonewall it against further disclosures of White House tape recordings demanded by Congress and the special prosecutor.

Public release of the edited Watergate transcripts, and the series of White House analyses, speeches and comments that have followed, add up to an intensive campaign to get across the President's version of the story.

One assumption in that effort has to be that, however many Americans take the time to read the 1,254 pages of edited conversations about Watergate, almost everybody will know that the President made them public.

Crucial Step
In that campaign, the act of releasing the White House transcripts was itself a crucial step, whatever reading they get and whatever construction is put upon their ambiguities. It was unprecedented, and it put the White House in a position to say that the President, by his own decision, had revealed "the whole story of Watergate."

The President and his men are stressing two themes: That the transcripts, for all the scars they may put on Nixon's image, show him innocent of knowledge of Watergate or its cover-up, and that everything relevant to the case has now been made public.

The key is relevance and the fact is that the White House de-cidied what fits that description. House impeachment investigators do not agree that the whole story is out. Furthermore, they want to judge for themselves what is relevant, not only in the transcript tapes but in other recordings of White House conversations.

Broadcast Series
The edited tape transcripts are a book, and a long one. A Washington radio station is broadcasting hour-long, nightly readings of the transcripts—a series that is to continue for 36 nights.

Unyielding Now
The President says he will yield no more on Watergate, but left room for negotiations on evidence in the other areas.

Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski seeks tapes of 64 presidential conversations, including 20 covered in the edited transcripts.

The Senate Watergate committee, saying it doesn't trust the transcripts, still is battling in court for five Watergate tape recordings—which the others already have.

So while the President has released a pile of transcripts, it is only a fraction of what is being sought. His lawyer, James D. St. Clair, says the demand would be never-ending if Nixon yielded more.

And there is another question mark, too: That of public and congressional reaction to the substance of the transcribed conversations Nixon released.

The White House maintains that they prove the President "never engaged in a criminal plot to obstruct justice," and carried out his constitutional duty to enforce the law. There is debate about that now between Nixon's critics and his defenders.

Seamy Side
But in any event, even in expurgated version, the transcripts show the seamy side of the Oval Office.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott has described the discussions as shabby, immoral and disgusting. The House GOP leader, Rep. John J. Rhodes, said he wouldn't quarrel with that.

At one point in the transcript for March 21, 1973, Nixon said:

"I don't give a damn about the publicity. We could rock that through if we had to let the whole damn thing hang out, and it would be a lousy story for a month. But I can take it.

The point is that I don't want any criminal liabilities. That is the thing that I am concerned about for the members of the White House staff."

now is with the battle over impeachment, and that involves the President, not the staff.

Alcoholism Week Offers Assistance, Information

The Midland Council on Alcoholism is sponsoring Alcoholism Week which ends Saturday in an effort to inform residents of the problem here and the availability of help for the problem drinker.

The Midland Council, which is funded by the United Way, is an education and referral organization with a board of 21 persons of different races, religions and susceptibility to alcohol.

Mrs. Lynne Stoner, executive secretary, staffs an office which is open to persons seeking help for an alcoholic and to those who wish to find out more about the disease.

There is a round-the-clock telephone service available to provide help at any hour.

Mrs. Stoner refers persons for help to several agencies, including Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center, Alcoholics Anonymous, Family Counseling, Park Place halfway house here, Clover House halfway house at Odessa, the state and Veterans Administration hospitals at Big Spring, Pastoral Counseling Service and private hospitals.

But the calls do not always come from the alcoholic. Sometimes it is his family who wants information on how to obtain welfare, how to get a divorce or how one goes about getting a court commitment for an alcoholic.

Because of this, the council also has contact with the courts, the county attorney's office, the Legal Aid Society, the welfare department and other agencies whose functions do not deal directly with alcoholics.

The referral work comprises

Longley Resigns C. Of C. Managership At Andrews

ANDREWS — Lloyd Longley Jr., Andrews County Chamber of Commerce manager, has announced his resignation, effective June 1, to become manager of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

He has been in chamber work six years and prior to that he was associated 16 years with the Boy Scouts of America, seven of them in Midland.

While in Midland, from 1953 to 1960, Longley was an executive with the Buffalo Trail Council. The first three years he was a counselor for Andrews, Winkler, Ward, Reeves and Loving counties. The next four were spent as counselor for Midland County.

After leaving Midland, Longley became an executive with the Yucca Scout Council at El Paso.

Before coming to Andrews, he was with the Stamford Chamber of Commerce almost three years.

"I am proud to have had a part, through the activities of the Andrews chamber, in the recent growth of Andrews," Longley said.

"The chamber here has a great board of directors and very capable officers. They are a fine bunch of people who are top notch community workers," Longley added.

"I have watched these men play a big part in bringing Kirby-West Manufacturing to Andrews. They also played a big role in school and hospital growth. At the present, an Andrews County Community Center is nearing completion. It will be opened some time in September.

Longley pointed out that three years ago there were 200 vacant houses in Andrews and today there are none.

Longley's successor will be announced within the next few weeks.

Chicago Paper Urges Fast House Action On Bill Of Impeachment

CHICAGO (AP) — President Nixon has only two roads open: Resignation and impeachment, the Chicago Tribune said in its Thursday edition.

"And since he has rejected resignation, the Tribune said, 'We urge the House to act quickly on a bill of impeachment.'

The newspaper has supported the President strongly in the past. But it said that since he made the transcripts public, "There can no longer be a charge that he was railroaded out of office by vengeful Democrats or a hostile press ... filling in the gaps in the transcripts can only make the case against the President stronger."

The editorial added, "We saw the public man in his first administration and we were impressed. Now in about 300,000 words we have seen the private man and we are appalled.

"He is humorless to the point of being inhumane. He is devious. He is viliating. He is profane. He is willing to be led. He displays dismaying gaps in knowledge ... His loyalty is nonexistent."

The President's greatest concern, the Tribune said, "is to create a record that will save him and his administration."

Though the transcripts may clear him of direct complicity in the Watergate burglary and early stages of cover-up, "nobody of sound mind can read them and continue to think Mr. Nixon has upheld the standards and high dignity of the Presidency," the Tribune said.

As the impeachment process progresses, the newspaper said, "as public opinion becomes clear, and as Mr. Nixon sees support dwindling in the Senate, he will have to reconsider his stand and recognize that resignation will spare the country the ordeal of a trial."

The country "must return to the day when people can shiver with pride instead of shudder with embarrassment when they see the flag or hear 'Hail to the Chief,'" the paper said.

Cardinal Manning Says Watergate Undermines Nation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Timothy Cardinal Manning says the Watergate scandal is having a domino effect that excuses lying, even down to the youngest children, "if you don't get caught."

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles said this type of moral skid could be the ruin of the United States.

"I'm worried about the country. Very worried," Cardinal Manning said Wednesday. "I have a feeling that something is going to happen."

"The great tragedy of it is the raising of the 'great lie,' that it's all right to do it, but 'don't get caught,'" he told a news conference.

"The only way out is to restore a return to conscience," he said. "You cannot legislate morality."

He said the parallel was evident between the decline of ancient Rome and the situation in the United States.

Cardinal Manning made his remarks during an annual regional meeting of Roman Catholic bishops.

Gen. Brannon Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Air Force Brig. Gen. Earl W. Brannon Jr., 53, a physician who served on the medical support team for the first U.S. manned space flight died Friday. A member of the teaching staff at Los Angeles Orthopedic Hospital, Brannon served 27 years in the armed forces.

The first fleet of motorized taxis in the United States made its debut in 1907.

Telephone (505) 785-2233 for reservations.

The park entrance fee is $3 per carload for private non-commercial vehicles, and $1 per person for commercial bus passengers. Annual Golden Eagle and Golden Age passports are also honored at the park.

Veteran Olympic Champ Dies At 82

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — Fred W. Kelly, 82, a hurdles champion at the 1912 Olympics in Stockholm and a pilot who once buzzed a ship carrying President Woodrow Wilson, died Wednesday. The buzzing incident, which occurred while he was an Army Signal Corps flier, got Kelly grounded for two weeks. He retired as a pilot for Western Airlines in 1946.

Lawyer Says Three In Zebra Slayings Will Plead Innocent

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three men charged with first-degree murder in three Zebra street slayings plan to plead innocent in court today, their lawyer says.

Attorney Clinton White of Oakland said Wednesday his clients also would seek bail when they appear before Municipal Court Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith.

Larry C. Green, 22; J.C. Simon, 29, and Manuel Moore, also 29, were among seven young blacks arrested in police raids May 1 in connection with the string of apparently random murders and assaults of white persons in San Francisco during the last six months.

The other four men were released for lack of evidence.

Thirteen persons have been killed and seven wounded in the Zebra case, given that name from the police radio channel used in the investigation.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has said he met with an informant during the night of April 28 who told him the slayings and non-fatal attacks on whites were carried out by a murder cult called the Death Angels.

The informant reportedly testified Tuesday night before a grand jury probing the slayings. The jury is expected to conclude its deliberations next Monday.

Judge Smith has issued a gag order in the case, barring comment by attorneys, police and Alioto.

Eight Face Kidnap Charges Connected To Marijuana Theft

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Eight persons are under criminal charges today in connection with the abduction Wednesday of a man who the kidnapers said was the father of a man who stole marijuana from them.

Albert Arguijo Sr., 59, was rescued by police as his son, Albert Arguijo Jr., 22, met the abductors on the promise of a payoff. The victim was unharmed although he had been "slapped around some," police said.

Charged in the court of Peace Justice Mike Westergren were Maria Anna Rodriguez, 19; Luis Salinas Govea, 50; Esteban Urias Jr., 29, and Robert Lugo Ramirez, 27, all of Corpus Christi; Francisco Salazar Rangel, 32; Robert Jimenez Sr. 48, and Leo Bardo Gonzalez, 30, all of McAllen, and Luis Trujillo DeLuna, 25, of Mission, a Mexican national.

Officers flooded the area and a helicopter hovered overhead. Three kidnapers arrived and were arrested at that time, and the others were arrested later.

High Bonds
The charges were for aggravated kidnaping, Westergren said. Bond was set at $100,000 each except for Miss Rodriguez and Urias, whose bond was $50,000 each.

The district attorney's office said Ramirez already is on probation for possession of cocaine and papers would be filed to revoke that probation.

Corpus Christi officers told this story, in part quoting Arguijo Jr.:

The younger Arguijo said he received a phone call at 10 p.m. Monday saying his father had been kidnaped and demanding $54,000. Otherwise, they said, they would kill the elder Arguijo or take him to Mexico.

Arguijo Jr. said the callers told him that he had stolen their 800 pounds of marijuana and they wanted $84,000 for it.

Murder Charge Against Aging Ex-Rodeo Star Favor Dropped

BENTON, La. (AP) — A 10-year-old murder charge against former Texas rodeo star Jack Favor, 64 years old and seriously ill after major surgery last week, has been dropped.

Favor was charged with the slayings of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richey during a 1964 robbery attempt at their Haughton, La., bait stand.

A jury convicted him of the slayings in 1967, but a federal appeals court ordered a new trial in the face of evidence that Bossier Parish officials may have conspired to elicit testimony against him.

His second trial — on a charge of murdering only Mrs. Richey — ended last month with an innocent verdict.

Kilgore Resident Drowns In Lake

WHITE OAK, Tex. (AP) — Billy Ray McCarty of Kilgore drowned Wednesday at Lake Meil about four miles south of here.

The Gregg County sheriff's office said it was notified at about 3:15 p.m. that a boat had overturned in the lake and the body was recovered four hours later.

"Wild Bill" Wellman In Spotlight

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Most motion picture directors are a little screwy. I know that fliers are, and I have been both, to draw your own conclusions."
The writer is William A. Wellman, whose 75 movies included "Wings," "Public Enemy," "Call of the Wild," "A Star is Born," "Nothing Sacred," "Beau Geste," "The Ox-bow Incident," "Story of G.I. Joe" (his favorite), "Battle-ground" and "The High and the Mighty."
Also such bombs as "Lady of Burlesque," "The Next Voice You Hear," "Westward the Women" and "Lafayette Escadrille" (his last, in 1958).
He wrote: "A bad picture is like a frightful birthmark on your face — it never leaves you, first run, second run, reruns, tv prime time, late time, lousy time; it's always there for people to stare at unbelievably or turn away from or worse still turn off, or should that be better still?"
"It's your eternal badge of embarrassment."
During his 38 years as a director, Wild Bill Wellman earned his name, laughing, bawling and bawling his way through 75 movies, five marriages, countless feuds and many friendships.
Now 78 and as feisty as ever despite a long battle with arthritis, the director is enjoying a belated spotlight.
Wednesday night marked the start of a 39-film Wellman festival at the Royal Theater in West Los Angeles, organized by the director's actor-son, William Jr., and sponsored by Tom Laughlin ("Billy Jack"), who was hired by Wellman for "Lafayette Escadrille."

Hawthorne is publishing Wellman's memoirs, "A Short Time for Insanity," a remarkable confessional that ranks among the best books about Hollywood.
It is not easily read. In parts it is as circuitous as "Pinnegan's Wake." This is because Wellman chose to write it during a drug-laden recuperation from serious illness, and his fantasies mix with past reality. But Wellman is a superbly irreverent storyteller, as anyone can tell from a list of his screen credits.
Wellman is toughest on himself, but he saves some barbs for fellow workers during his studio years. He relates a long binge by Spencer Tracy, whom he describes as "freaky — the bottle never made him high, it always made him miserably low."
Louis B. Mayer, the autocrat of MGM studios, reminded Wellman of a praying mantis, which "feeds upon other insects and clasps its prey in forelimbs as if in prayer."
Wellman's fifth marriage, to Busby Berkeley dancer Dorothy Coonan, in 1933 took. They have seven children and 12 grandchildren. In recent years Wellman has spent his time enjoying his family, enduring constant pain (he broke his back in a World War I plane crash) drinking only beer ("I was not drinking only beer" — "I was not Disgracefully.")

He's already working on a second memoir, "Growing Old Disgracefully."

what you'd call a good drinker, and writing.

Annual Southwestern Area Art Show Opens Friday

The eighth annual Southwestern Area Art Show opens Friday in the Turner Memorial Gallery of the Museum of the Southwest, 1706 W. Missouri St.
Winners in the popular regional competition will be honor guests at an invitational preview of the show tonight. Following its official opening Friday, the exhibition will remain on view through May 31. The show is sponsored jointly by the Museum of the Southwest and Midland Arts Association.
Don O. Strel, curator at the Museum of Fine Arts in Santa Fe, was a Midland visitor recently to judge the 71 entries in the show. Fifty-one artists from a wide sector of West Texas, including Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene and intermediate points, are represented with works in the exhibition.
Strel selected works by the following artists to receive awards of $100 each:
— Suzanne Klotz of San Angelo, for "La Grange," a 4½-foot-tall "doll house."
— Linda Morris, Lubbock, for "Drawing 1."
— Dennis Pickett, Lubbock, for an oil, "Clouded Surface."
— Robert Venn, Lubbock, for a metal sculpture, "Milonautilus."
Awards of $50 each went to Hugh Gibbons, Lubbock, for "Parading Formations"; Donn Hedman, Abilene, for an untitled drawing; Mike Mosely, San Angelo, for a mixed media painting, "Cowboy's Pain," and Dorothy Peterson, Midland, for a mixed media "Self Portrait."

Honorable mentions have gone to Glenn Busch of Lubbock for a bronze sculpture, "Leaping Lady"; Linda Morris for a photograph, and Steve Reynolds, Lubbock, for his sculpture, "Daphne Alter."
The annual purchase award of the Midland branch American Association of University Women, has gone to Mary R. Griffith of Midland for her lithograph, "Aeromotor."
Strel, following completion of judging of the show's entries, observed that "it is pleasing to note the high quality of the works submitted, which demonstrates an active art community. In judging this particular exhibit, the intent was not to identify works which reflected a particular trend but to select artists' statements which were somehow unique in the art community."
Works such as Susan Klotz's "La Grange" or Robert Venn's "Milonautilus" at once offer the viewer an uncommon image and also provoke the intellect with the question, "How do these works reflect the present social, intellectual and moral state of our time?"

Black Press Radio Shows To Air Soon

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Although such shows as "Meet the Press" have long been major news attractions for Sunday audiences, few of the issues discussed on these shows have directly concerned black life in the United States.

But two radio networks serving a predominantly black audience say they hope to remedy this shortcoming this month and the next when each starts a half-hour Sunday news show.

One network, the New York-based National Black Network, says it's starting its new "Meet the Black Press" series this Sunday with a panel interview of Rep. Charles B. Rangel, D-N.Y., a black member of the House Judiciary Committee.

The Washington-based Mutual Black Network, part of the Mutual Broadcasting System, says its Sunday news show, "The Mutual Black Forum," will start in June at a date that hasn't yet been decided.

Both new shows will be taped in advance, network officials say. Mutual's show will be moderated by MBN newscaster Glen Ford, who'll be helped out each week by a different Mutual newscaster and occasionally by a third reporter from outside the network, Mutual said.

The National Black Network's Sunday show will be moderated by newsman Ed Shannon, with two newscasters from outside the network brought in as guest panelists, NPN officials said.

The two networks now serve 157 radio affiliates with a basic daily diet of black-oriented news and sports items. What prompted the new shows?

"We simply felt there was a need to bring black — and white — social, political and economic leaders to a forum in which questions are raised in terms of the black community," said NBN president Eugene Jackson.

A similar reply came from Ralph Featherstone, general manager of the Mutual Black Network.

The reinstatement of the season concerts in the Fair Park Music Hall here was made possible when more than a thousand community-spirited citizens raised almost $50,000 with trustees of the orchestra contributing an additional $100,000.

For the balance of the season, Louis Lane, principal guest conductor and artistic advisor, will conduct Horacio Gutierrez, pianist, will perform tonight and Saturday night on May 23 and 24. Stanislaw Skrowaczewski will conduct the orchestra with violinist Isaac Stern as featured artists.

Last week the Dallas Symphony Association announced the appointment of a new acting manager, Lawrence Kelly, who also served as general manager of the Dallas Civic Opera.

The Dallas Symphony is one of the six oldest major orchestras in the country. Its beginning dates from May, 1900. The orchestra is the oldest of Dallas' artistic and educational institutions. It now performs 120 concerts annually to an estimated total attendance of 525,000. These concerts include three regular subscription series, youth concerts, park concerts, special events, and annual tours.

The largest debt was $20,201.81 owed to Modern Sales & Service Co. of Dallas. The smallest debt was $2 owed Lion Dog Advertising of Atlanta, Ga.

Among the five-theater chain's assets was $75 in popcorn.

Cinema Arts operates the Woodlawn, Laure, Texas and Josephine theaters in San Antonio and the Bowie theater in Fort Worth.

No date was set for hearing of the petition.

Odessa Pulls Out Of Permian Civic Ballet

The Permian Civic Ballet henceforth will be a Midland-based and Midland-sponsored performing arts organization.

In formal action taken recently at a meeting of both Midland and Odessa directors of the parent organization — the Permian Civic Ballet Association — Odessa directors elected to withdraw their official support of the area dance organization — which, in effect, served notice that Odessa was severing all ties with it.

In subsequent action, Midland board members voted to assume responsibility for the continued operation of the organization, with no changes in its basic aims and objectives. By so doing, the Midland contingent acquired not only all assets of the organization, such as costumes and sets, but also all liabilities, including financial obligations.

Just prior to the withdrawal action taken at the meeting by Odessa directors, the board had voted against a proposal submitted by Charles D. McCally, managing director of Odessa's Globe Theater, for Permian Civic Ballet to be moved to the Ector city and placed under management and jurisdiction of the Globe.

Permian Civic Ballet, organized in the late 1960s under the leadership of Robert Mann, then music director of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorus, presented its first program in the spring of 1969, and has since presented winter and spring concerts each year in both Midland and Odessa.

Midland members of the Permian Civic Ballet Association include Mrs. J. A. McClatchy, Mrs. Jack Hall, Mrs. Thurston Dean, Mrs. William Shaw, Garland Casbler, Sikes Johnson and Everett F. Bingham.

The Midland directors have announced that they plan to honor all existing commitments of Permian Civic Ballet, such as the two-week summer ballet workshop planned for June 17-30.

Ron Sequoia, a professional dancer-teacher, already had been signed to conduct master classes for senior and junior dancers in the workshop, to be held at Roderhiser Hall at Midland Air Terminal. Sequoia presently is forming a new dance company at San Antonio.

All qualified dancers in the Permian Basin are eligible to attend the workshop. Additional information on it is available from the ballet association at P.O. Box 5261, Midland, 79701.

'Mayfair' To Have Music For All

Music to please every taste is planned for the big "Mayfair" event Saturday at the Trinity School of Midland.

Mayfair, a day-long event, will offer a carnival, an arts and crafts fair, food, games and a variety of special entertainment — including the wide selection of musical presentations.

"The Treefrogs," a Midland rock group under direction of Tom Schwisow, will be among the featured entertainers. They will get things going at 10 a.m. Saturday, opening time for the fair.

At 11 a.m., vocalist Janis Johnson will sing selections from Broadway musicals as well as a group of popular songs.

At 12 noon, "The Origin," a barbershop quartet, will sing a group of close-harmony numbers. The quartet is composed of Bill Drummond, Mike Robards, James Coldeaway and Troy Barrington. All are students at Midland High School.

Beginning at 1 p.m., the "Comets," a group of young twirlers under direction of Diane Mays, will present their skilled specialty routines, and at 2 p.m., the "Once More Four," the Grand Squares Club of Midland will provide entertainment. Their caller will be Roger Fleckenstine of Stanton.

The Treefrogs will provide the music for two dances scheduled Saturday. The first will begin at 5 p.m., and a second at 7:30 p.m. Members of the Treefrogs include Schwisow, Doug Erwin, Nathan Thane, Donny Bollinger and Malcolm Campbell.

All Mayfair events Saturday will be open to the public.

Lilies Descended From Oriental Plants

KANSAS CITY (AP) — White lilies, symbolizing purity, have long been used to decorate church altars and homes at Eastertide. According to researcher Sally Hopkins of Hallmark Cards, many of the trumpet-shaped Easter lilies grown in the United States today are descended from plants brought here from Bermuda, China and Japan.

The lily family, says Miss Hopkins, also includes garlic, onions, leek and asparagus.

Utah Topples Nets, 97-89

Boone Paces Star Victory

By JACK STEVENSON
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "We lucked out in the third game and made too many mistakes in the fourth," declared New York Nets' rookie Coach Kevin Loughery, who now must rally his forces.

Injured Ron Boone proved the decisive factor Wednesday night in the Salt Palace as Utah's Stars escaped oblivion with a fourth-quarter rally and a 97-89 victory over the Nets in their American Basketball Association championship series.

Although New York leads the best-of-seven series, Loughery has problems.

On Monday night here, a last-second three-point shot by Brian Taylor knotted the count at the end of regulation play and the Nets went on to win 103-100 in overtime.

Boone suffered an unusual injury in the second game of the championship playoffs. His left hook caught Taylor in the teeth and severed a tendon in Boone's left hand.

He plays with the fingers taped and bandaged and on Monday scored only two points. "I had a little less padding on my hand and the shots were just falling for me," the five-year pro veteran from Idaho State said. "We gained a lot of confidence."

The Stars also have an improved Zeimo Beatty and the 6-foot-9 pivotman kept Utah in the game with 14 points in the third quarter as New York outscored the home club 34-24 and took a 76-74 lead. He had 18 for the night.

Midland's Cubs gained a split in rhubarbs, but wound up a 6-2 loser to San Antonio's Brewers in a Texas League game at Cubs Stadium Wednesday night, ending the brief three-game homestand.

Will Aaron, a cousin of Atlanta's Hank Aaron, tripled home a couple of runs in the fifth and singled home another in the seventh to pace the Brewers' attack. He also had a single in the second to set up a run as lefthander Ron Saylor posted his fourth win without a loss.

Saylor had to leave as a result of a shoulder injury in the sixth and that precipitated a rhubarb that saw the Cubs finish the game under protest.

Ken Pape had beaten out an infield hit and with two out, Bill Huisman reached first on an error. Shortstop Ken Szotkiewicz' third hit, a single to center, scored the run.

Saylor threw to first to check the runner and then grabbed his shoulder. Manager Woody Smith came out to check the injury. After Saylor threw two balls to Bill Droegge, Smith called in Luis Penavter, who had choked off the Cubs in the late stages of Monday's game.

Midland Manager Walt Dixon, citing rule 8.06(c), protested that a manager or coach is prohibited from making a second trip to the mound while the same batter is at bat. And when he received no satisfaction, announced the game would be played under protest.

After the game, umpire Scotty Harris said the first visit did not count against Smith, since he came out to check the physical condition of his pitcher and did not confer with him on strategy. His second visit was to remove the pitcher.

The issue will go to President Bobby Bragan's desk for a judgment.

In the eighth, with two out and none on, Jim Norris was hit by a 1-2 pitch and waved to first by plate umpire Dick Nelson. Dixon again charged in to protest that the batter was in the act of swinging when hit. Harris agreed when Nelson asked for his view. So instead of trotting to first, Norris trotted to left on the side-retiring strikeout.

You can imagine Smith's reaction . . . loud and verbal to the point of maybe a little liquid spray . . . but it was to no avail.

But by the time the vocal jousting enlivened things, Midland was out of it, although they collected 12 hits, including three by first baseman Jerry Tabb.

Behind 3-1 in the fifth, Midland loaded the bases with two out on singles by Droegge and Tabb and a walk to Tyrone, but Jose Ortiz grounded into a force play.

After Aaron's two-run triple knocked starter Dyal, Frazier out of the box in the fifth, Midland had one run in and the bases loaded in the sixth, but Penavter got Tabb on a force play at third.

Midland was ahead only once in the game, in the first when all singled for a 1-0 lead. San Antonio tied it in the second on Luis Isaac's run-scoring single and went ahead in the third on Gary Ratliff's first of three hits.

Ken Pape, drafted from the University of Texas last summer, is glad to be back in Texas "where it's warm." He had been playing for the Texas Rangers' Eastern League AA club at Pittsfield, Mass., where, "it's not only cold, but they've still got snow on the ground."

Szotkiewicz continued his batting rampage with eight hits in the series 20-for-30 in his last six games, a .667 pace.

Sports Award Fete Set By Chamber

The third annual Sports Awards Luncheon, sponsored by the Sports Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will be held at noon May 21 at the American Legion Hall.

Tickets will go on sale at the Chamber office Friday. They are priced at $3.50 per person.

Guests will include outstanding high school athletes and their coaches. A special guest will be Texas Tech's head football coach, Jim Carlen.

"This luncheon is an opportunity for the community to recognize those students who have been outstanding in athletics at Lee and Midland High during the past year," noted Sports Committee Chairman, Harrell Feldt.

The luncheon will recognize those teams which have won district titles or higher, along with individuals who have won district titles or better, or have been named to all-district first teams.

Holbrook Signs $180,000 Pact

CLEVELAND (AP) — Right-winger Terry Holbrook has signed a three-year, $180,000 contract to play professional hockey for the Cleveland Crusaders of the World Hockey Association, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported in its Thursday edition.

Their names are John Curtis and Jim Lonborg—although a lot of hitters are probably using more picturesque names today.

Curtis silenced Cincinnati's potent bats with a three-hitter Wednesday night, hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-0 triumph over the Reds.

Lonborg went him even one better.

The former American League Cy Young Award winner manhandled San Diego, checking the Padres on two meaningless singles and pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-0 victory.

In Wednesday night's other NL games, the New York Mets beat San Francisco 4-2, Los Angeles defeated Montreal 6-3 and Houston belted Pittsburgh 8-6 in 12 innings. Atlanta at Chicago was rained out.

Cards 2, Reds 0
Curtis allowed only Andy Kosco's third-inning double and singles by Johnny Bench in the fourth and seventh. Reggie Smith, meanwhile, managed to get two hits of his own for St. Louis. And they were big ones—run-scoring doubles in the sixth and eighth innings.

Smith played for Boston in the American League last year—where both Curtis and Lonborg used to pitch.

Philis 4, Padres 0
Lonborg's shutout Wednesday was the first of the year by a Philadelphia pitcher and his first in the National League.

held the Padres to singles by John Grubb in the fourth inning and Willie McCovey in the seventh.

Mets 4, Giants 2
Jon Matlack pitched a four-hitter for the Mets—one of the hits a Bobby Bonds homer—and Jerry Grote and Felix Millan drove in two runs apiece to beat San Francisco.

Dodgers 6, Expos 3
Steve Garvey hit a two-run double in a four-run first inning that gave Andy Messersmith all the runs he needed to turn back Montreal.

Home runs by Ron Cey in the fifth and Jimmy Wynn in the seventh gave the Dodgers their other runs. Ron Fairly belted a two-run shot for the Expos.

BOSTON (AP) — The forward emphasized passing to Abdul-Jabbar and getting the forwards more involved in the offense.

Costello said it is too late to radically change tactics, either on offense or defense.

"What we have to do is hope for good performances from key people," he said. "There is no doubt in my mind that if we run the stuff we talk about, we can win."

"There is no way, no way they can stop that stuff if we get movement and execute," he said. "It's that basic. It's amazing we've done as well as we have, not getting the things done that we should have."

"We've got to get a lot from Dandridge because he's more involved than others," he said. "We've never pressed like this before. It's phenomenal," Celtics' center Dave Cowens said. "Most of the time during the regular season we played a better press. But this is a different ball game now."

Permian Has Edge

ODESSA — Coach Gene McCannies' Odessa Permian Panthers can nail down the District 5-4A baseball championship Friday when they entertain the Abilene Cooper Cougars in the second of a best-of-three playoff games on the Permian diamond at 1:30 p.m.

Permian won the first game in Abilene Tuesday on Ray Nunez' eighth-inning home run, 4-3.

Cooper, the second half winner of the 5-4A race with a 6-1 mark, must sweep two from the Panthers Friday in order to move into bi-district play against Wichita Falls, 6-4A champions.

Permian won the first half in 5-4A with a 7-0 reading and after finishing 4-3 in the second half, the Panthers are back on the winning track with four straight wins.

McCannies will start Nunez in the second game. Nunez is 7-1 on the year and went 6-0 in loop play. If a third game is necessary, Alex Kager (10-3) and the winning pitcher in Tuesday's game, will throw against Cooper's Alan Lakatta (5-6).

Don Lawson, 6-1 in loop play and 7-3 on the year, will face Permian Friday.

Permian takes an 18-4 season mark into Friday's action while Cooper is 13-12 on the year.

Pacing the Permian attack are Mark Chelette, Rusty Breazeale, Bobby Inzer and Kager. Chelette is hitting at a .479 clip in 22 games and recently won the 5-4A batting crown with a .488 average. Breazeale is hitting .406 and Inzer .385 while Kager is hitting an even .300. Nunez has a .292 average for the Black Cats. Breazeale has knocked in 23 runs for the Panthers while Nunez has 18. Chelette and Kager have 17 RBIs each.

Cooper is sparked by Chuck Nall, who is hitting at a .420 clip, followed by Steve Kennedy and Alan Lakatta with 400 and 360 averages, respectively.

Memphis Blocks WFL Bid

By ROBERT SHAW
MEMPHIS (AP) — A suit dashed their hopes for a franchise.

Bassett, a Toronto businessman, went ahead Wednesday afternoon and signed the five-year lease, starting with the WFL season opening July 10, but it still lacks the signatures of the park commissioners.

Their attorney, Thomas Prewitz, has signed but said he advised the commissioners not to sign until after the court hearing.

Despite the absence of the commissioners' signatures, Bassett's Memphis attorney, J. Alan Hanover, said the lease is a legally binding agreement.

He said of Lynn's suit, "Personally, I'm embarrassed for the city of Memphis."

Hanover said Bassett had deposited with the commission Wednesday a $75,000 check as a guarantee on the lease.

Bassett wants to field his team in Memphis because of a threat by the Canadian government to keep it from playing in Toronto and competing with the Canadian Football League.

Lynn's suit maintains that the commission, in granting the WFL team performance on playing dates in the stadium, had approved an agreement giving exclusive control on the stadium, effectively denying all other professional teams stadium use.

Bassett said he sympathized with NFL supporters who had obtained $3,000 binding agreements for season ticket purchases if the NFL located in Memphis, but hoped for a warm reception for his own team.

Of the suit, he said, "If they run us out of town, I guess they'll run us out of town."

Rangers Lose, 4-2

Mayberry Belts Home Run For KC

By HOWARD SMITH
 AP Sports Writer

Kansas City slugger John Mayberry didn't have to call his own shot Wednesday night against Texas ace Ferguson Jenkins. His manager did it for him.

"Just before John went up to the plate I cautioned him about trying to pull Jenkins' sliders and curves down the line," said Royals' skipper Jack McKeon. "I told him just to aim for the 370-foot sign... and that is where the ball went."

Mayberry's fifth homer, a two-run shot in the eighth inning, carried over the 370-foot sign in right field and gave the Royals a 4-2 victory over the Rangers, snapping Jenkins' personal five-game win streak and extending the Rangers' losing streak to four.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox blanked the New York Yankees 4-0; the Oakland Athletics whipped the Baltimore Orioles 7-3; the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels 3-2 in 11 innings; and the Chicago-Detroit and Minnesota-Milwaukee games were rained out.

Despite the loss, the Rangers hung on to first place in the West by a half-game over California.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 0
 Bill Lee shackled New York on five hits and Carl Yastrzemski contributed a two-run single for Boston. Lee, who evened his record at 3-3, was helped by four double plays. Dick McAuliffe and Dwight Evans drove in the other Red Sox runs with singles.

Athletics 7, Orioles 3
 Lefty Vida Blue recorded his first victory after four losses as Oakland snapped a three-game losing streak. Reggie Jackson, Bert Campaneris and Gene Tenace drove in two runs apiece for the A's. Earl Williams clubbed a two-run homer for Baltimore.

Indians 3, Angels 2, 11 innings
 Cleveland tied it in the ninth on John Lowenstein's sacrifice fly and won it two innings later when George Hendrick doubled and Ossie Blanco singled him home. The surging Indians have won 10 of their last 12 games and have beaten California six straight times this season. The Angels scored one run while Cleveland was completing a double play and the other on an error by Tribe catcher Dave Duncan.

IN 12 INNINGS—
Astros Top Bucs

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Manager Preston Gomez won't complain about third baseman Doug Rader getting only one hit in six at-bats Wednesday night.

Rader saved his fireworks for the bottom of the 12th inning when he blasted a three-run home run to vault the Astros to an 8-6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Houston took a 5-0 lead with four runs in the first and one in the second but had to come from behind to win it when the Pirates tied it in the seventh and went ahead 6-5 in the 12th.

Rader, who also drove in a run Tuesday night when the Astros' Tom Griffin pitched a one-hit, 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh, said in one sense it was the biggest homer of his career.

"Bigger home runs for me?"

he asked in response to a question. "Yeah, probably, but not for a ball club like this one. This is a contending team, not one 15 games behind... or one that will be 15 games behind. In those terms, I've never hit a bigger homer than this one."

Bob Watson's two-run double and a two-run homer by catcher Cliff Johnson gave Houston four runs in the first. Ollie Brown's solo homer made it 5-0 in the second.

Pittsburgh rallied with four runs in the fourth on a single by Rickie Zisk, double by Manny Sanguillen and sacrifice flies by Frank Traveras and Richie Hebner.

Al Oliver tied it in the seventh with his second straight triple of the game.

Dave Parker clubbed a 400-foot home run over the centerfield fence in the 12th to give the Pirates a 6-5 lead.

Then came Rader's blast.

Boy Wonder Heading World Net Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — He's just 17, too young to shave. He has a mop of unruly blond hair that flies like a pony's tail. He looks like a kid who has been separated from his mother at the supermarket.

But don't let Bjorn Borg's callow youth fool you.

"If you don't take him seriously he will murder you," says the veteran Rod Laver. "He's mature and he's very good."

Laver should know. He lost to Bjorn 6-1, 6-1 in the semifinals of the WCT tournament this year in Barcelona.

"He could be the best 17-year-old tennis player who has ever lived," says Arthur Ashe. Ashe's career record against the youngster is 2-3, losing twice this year.

Ashe and Borg clash in one of the remaining opening matches of the World Championship of Tennis tonight at the Moody Coliseum. It's Borg's first appearance in the pros' $100,000 Wimbledon.

Bjorn Rune Borg of Sweden is the new wonder kid of tennis, acclaimed the greatest teenager to reach the big time since Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad toured the world for Australia in 1952.

"I don't miss school much," says Bjorn, who dropped out after his first year in high school. "I don't know what I could learn in school to make more money than I make now."

The good-looking Swede earned $49,100 on the pro-circuit last year. So far in the young 1974 season he has picked up $55,145. A victory in the WCT finals here—a long shot but possible—would net him another $50,000.

"We have heads of companies in Stockholm who don't make that much money," Bjorn explains realistically.

Bjorn grew up in Sodertalje, a community 10 miles on the outskirts of Stockholm, where his father ran a grocery store. His dad was an expert table tennis player.

In one table tennis tournament, the elder Borg won a cheap tennis racket. He brought it home to his son, 7, an only child. Bjorn began hitting sponge rubber balls against a barn.

"Everything came naturally," young Borg says. "At nine, I was playing in junior tournaments. At 13, I was playing against men and winning many matches. I was 15 when I made the Davis Cup team."

The world became aware of young Borg last year in the French Open when he beat Cliff Richey, Pierre Barthes and Dick Stockton in succession in the French Open.

At Wimbledon, he gained the quarter-finals before losing a hard five-setter to Britain's Roger Taylor. He became the hero of giggling, screeching teeny-boppers.

"They swarmed all over me, waited for me at the hotel and kept ringing my room," Bjorn says. "It was distracting. I like it better here where I can watch television in peace."

Bjorn drives a courtesy Cadillac here, as do all other competitors, but his coach, Lemnart Bergelin, is always at his side. He's still too young to let out of sight.

Rangers Belatedly Join Major League Scene

A couple of Sundays ago up at Arlington, the clouds were so low, you could almost reach up and touch them. The out-of-towner standing in the ticket line 15 minutes before game time didn't have to.

The clouds saved him the trouble of weeping in a soaking torrent. The visitor stood there and took it like everybody else rather than lose his place in line.

Once inside the ball park, a guy couldn't be sure whether he'd paid to see a baseball game or a remove-the-tarpaulin-drill.

After a 56-minute delay, The Minnesota Twins and Texas Rangers finally appeased impatient fans by getting the game underway. Through nine innings it alternately showered and misted and it was a tribute to dogged persistence that they got the game in.

What's more amazing, about 15,000 fans suffered through it and seemed to enjoy the farce. Remember, this was Texas Stadium, home of the Rangers, who certainly in two previous seasons hadn't added any dignity to that legendary name.

In fact, 15,000 fans represented a three-Sunday ration at Arlington a year ago, providing the weather was good . . . not too hot, not too cold or not too threatening . . . If the weather had been nice that day, Ranger officials figure they would have drawn 20,000 to 30,000.

The transformation has been so dramatic, that the static Rangers envision a season's gate of well over a million. They may even surpass last year's 650,000 before mid-season.

The Rangers may make so much money that they can afford a roof for their ball park.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Some say the fact that Owner Bob Short, who brought a shoestring operation from Washington to Texas and operated on hope for two years, sold out to financially stable Texans is responsible for the interest in the ball club.

More likely the Ranger's emergence as a genuine, true-to-life, Texas-size major league franchise had its beginning back in Chicago last summer.

After six 20-victory seasons, Ferguson Jenkins wallowed through his worst season, losing games, throwing bats and hearing for the first time those unaccustomed boos.

Fergy announced he was unhappy in Chicago and no longer could win in the restraining confines of Wrigley Field. He requested a trade, saying that with the kind of support he received in Chicago, he couldn't win.

When it was announced that Jenkins had been traded to Texas, the inclination was to smirk and observe, "If he thinks it was tough winning for Chicago, wait until he tries to win for the Rangers."

Well, it hasn't turned out that way. Fergy not only has won, but impressively and it's no coincidence that Texas' belated arrival in the American League has coincided with Jenkins' arrival in Texas.

And who knows, The Rangers just may bring a pennant to Texas before the long-struggling Astros.

TEXAS LEAGUE

Amarillo Tops El Paso, 7-4

By The Associated Press
 Mike Minster is starting a baseball habit that is sending Texas League pitchers into a cold sweat.
 Minster slammed his second grand slam home run in four days Wednesday night in a seven-run Amarillo first inning, and the Giants went on to a 7-4 victory over El Paso.

San Antonio took a one-game lead in the West with a 6-2 triumph over Midland, Arkansas maintained its 2½ game East Division lead with a 3-2 decision over Alexandria and Victoria slammed Shreveport 8-0 in other TL games.

Amarillo scored its seven runs on a triple, five walks and Minster's homer in the first inning and Rob Dressler won his first game in four decisions for the Giants, although he allowed 11 El Paso hits. Only two of those were in the last four innings, however.

Will Aaron and Gary Ratliff both had three hits and a total of four RBIs for San Antonio in its victory over Midland, which gave the Brewers a single-game margin over Midland and El Paso and a two-game bulge on Amarillo. Ron Salyer won his fourth game against no losses for San Antonio.

Victoria stopped a six-game losing streak at home with its easy defeat of Shreveport. Nardi Contreras and Rick Baldwin combined for a six-hit shutout for Victoria, while Brock Pemberton's three RBIs and Randy Trapp's three hits led the Toros assault.

Arkansas continued to get clutch hitting as shortstop Danny Loomer brought the Travelers from a 2-2 tie to victory with a two-out single in the ninth inning against Alexandria. Joe Lindsey had two hits, two runs scored and an RBI for Arkansas.

Tonight's schedule has Amarillo at El Paso, Midland at San Antonio, Shreveport at Alexandria and Victoria at Arkansas.

Peter Pan Steals Playoff Show

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
 HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Aeros and Chicago Cougars have been cross-checked more often by "Peter Pan" this season than they have by their World Hockey Association opponents.

"We've taken to rooting for Captain Hook," Aeros President Jim Smith joked, discussing the scheduling problem created in both cities by their road production of the fantasy play.

The Aeros had problems arranging dates here for their WHA World Cup championship series with the Cougars because the play was staged in Sam Houston Coliseum where the Aeros play home games.

Peter and his gang, including Tinker Bell and the hungry crocodile, didn't vacate Chicago's Amphitheatre in time to install new ice so the championship series will begin Sunday in a 2,700-seat arena 20 miles from Chicago.

"This is just a part of growing up," Smith said. "We have eight new arenas planned for the future so we won't always be confronted with this problem."

The second game of the series will be Wednesday, also at the substitute Cougar facility at Mount Prospect, Ill. The series shifts to Sam Houston Coliseum for three games May 17, 19 and 20. A sixth game, if necessary, would be in Mount Prospect, May 22 and a seventh here May 24.

"I know it's a problem," Smith said. "But wherever we play, it will be good hockey."

Besides Peter Pan, the Aeros will be battling something of a fairy tale season in the championship series against the Cougars, who barely made it to the playoffs as the fourth place team in the WHA's Eastern Division.

Aeros Coach Bill Dineen is reminding the Aeros not to be struck with moon dust.

TORRES HAS .311 MARK

Javier Torres, junior outfielder at Midland Lee, wound up the season with a .311 average, going 14 for 45 at the plate as the Rebels wind up with an 18-8 season record.

Torres' average was left out of the final city baseball stats in Wednesday's paper.

Javier hit three doubles, three triples and a homer while knocking in seven runs this season.

Laver Loses Out In World Tennis

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

DALLAS (AP) — The World Championship of Tennis finals is becoming the same graveyard for Australia's Rod Laver that the U.S. Open became for golfing great Sam Snead.

Asked about the parallel in futility after he was ousted from the WCT finals Wednesday night for the fourth consecutive year, the drained millionaire replied "It does seem I'm destined not to win it."

The 35-year-old red-haired Laver who has won the grand slam twice and is considered one of the greatest ever to play the game added "I'll still have plenty of chances. After all the tournament is only four years old. I have a lot of my best tennis behind me, but I still have some ahead of me, too."

Laver, one of the favorites entering the quarterfinals, was soundly thrashed 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5 by defending champion Stan Smith.

In the other quarterfinal before a record crowd of 8,877 in Moody Coliseum, No. 1 seed John Newcombe of Australia defeated Tom Okker of the Netherlands 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in straight sets highlighted by 17 Newcombe aces.

"I just don't seem to have much success in certain cities and Dallas is one of them," said Laver who has lost in the finals here twice to fellow countryman Ken Rosewall, Smith defeated Laver in the semifinals last year.

Laver struggled with his serve from the outset. He came into the match primed for Smith, saying "I'm playing some of the best tennis of my life."

"I was so anxious I rushed most of my shots," Laver said.

Smith, who has played poorly since claiming the $50,000 first prize in Dallas last year, said "Rodney inspires me. I played better than I have all year."

There was some brief beefing over an electronic line calling er-

Driver Wants No Sympathy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Salt Walther appreciates the sympathy, but he wishes people would stop feeling sorry for him. He just wants to race.

"Yes, I do get a little tired of people feeling sorry for me," he admitted Wednesday. "So many people come up to me and say 'Gee, that was a terrible accident you had; what a recovery you've made.'"

"It's nice to have people so concerned, but I begin to wonder if people know me because of my driving talents or just the wreck," the 26-year-old driver from Dayton, Ohio, added. "If anything, I hope people remember me because of my comeback, not the accident."

Walther spent 2 months in a hospital, recovering from disfiguring burns suffered in a flaming 12-car accident at the start of the 1973 Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Nine months after the crash, he was racing again. He piloted his new blue and white McLaren—once driven by the late Peter Revson—to an eighth-place finish in his first outing, a 100-mile qualifying race at Ontario, Calif. He performed well in two other races, one in which he received superficial burns during a pit fire.

Quarry Cops KO Victory

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Joe Frazier's mouth was open. Madison Square Garden boxing promoter Teddy Brenner's mouth was open. Charlie Quarry's mouth was open.

They and several thousand others were staring at Jerry Quarry, sitting in the middle of the ring as a result of a left hook thrown by Joe Alexander.

Quarry got up Wednesday night in the fight at the Nassau Coliseum, but for a moment that left hook severely shook Quarry's fighting future.

Asked what he was thinking about after he was knocked down, the No. 1 heavyweight contender replied, "I knew I was on my butt, that's what I knew. He hit me with the sweetest left hook you'll ever be hit with."

But Quarry got up and knocked Alexander out in the second round to keep intact his June 17 fight with former champion Frazier at Madison Square Garden.

Frazier and Brenner, president of Garden Boxing Inc., were on hand for what almost turned into a horror show for both. Frazier is guaranteed $400,000 to fight Quarry, who is to get $225,000, and the Garden figures to pick up a very nice piece of change from the closed-circuit telecast of the fight.

"It's a good thing you have a big Irish behind," Charlie Quarry, a stunning blond, shouted at her husband in the dressing room.

Quarry quickly recovered from the knockdown and knocked Alexander down twice in the second round. The second knockdown left the Sumter, S.C., fighter sprawled in his corner and he was unable to beat the count which, under New York rules, continued after the bell sounded.

"If I was really in shape, you would have seen a victory," said Alexander, who hasn't fought since he upset Jose Luis Garcia 14 months ago with a one-round knockout.

Portuguese Worker Finds Some Things In Life Are Changed Since Military Coup

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Manuel Fernandes Videira is a plasterer, a man on a scaffold, who still reaches, bends, coughs in a sea of white dust nine hours a day for the equivalent of $25 in a brown pay packet at the end of the week.

He still takes the same overcrowded trolley bus downtown to work and his wife still packs him the same lunch of fish sandwiches. But for the plasterer, life has changed since April 25, when a military coup overthrew the authoritarian regime that had ruled Portugal for 48 years.

"It has to do with the boss," says Videira. "He's gotten very quiet all of a sudden. He's not stepping on my toes any more. He's promising raises, but there's a bigger change. It's in the way he talks. Before it was always work more, work harder. Now it's just do your job properly and do it well."

More than just a regime, the military coup that the Portuguese call "our revolution" overthrew a relationship between people—one which involved a sullen acceptance of authority and an assurance that power at any level would always go unchallenged.

The plasterer's wife works at the Lisbon University canteen, and she and the other women there felt free enough after the coup to complain about working on Sundays. As a result they got weekends off.

"You could say that we are a bit of a revolutionary couple," said Videira jokingly.

Life has changed, too, though not materially, for some of the privileged class—like Maria Fernanda Portugal Ribeiro, an elegant woman with two grown sons and a husband who commands a navy training ship. Her cleaning woman still comes to her town house, and her mother-in-law still worries that she is too outspoken. But Mrs. Ribeiro says she is no longer ashamed of her country.

"I used to live here in constant irritation," she explained. "I was always nervous. When I tell you I hated to live in this country the way it was I am telling you the truth. I always wanted to get out. Now I feel jubilant. I want to stay and see what happens."

She said that the biggest change was in her attitude toward Portuguese men.

"I used to feel a lot of contempt for them. I used to think they were worthless, incapable of attempting anything noble. I know many other women who felt this same way. A friend called me up the other day and said the biggest surprise of the whole thing was to find out there are some men in Portugal."

But the coup also brought sadness and fear to some lives, and the victims of the excesses were not always the agents of the now dismembered political police.

The first days after the government's overthrow were anguish for Joao Martin Simoes who has a popular restaurant in Cascais, a fishing village turned tourist haven near Lisbon. One day a newspaper article identified him as an informer for the political police.

"It was the saddest day of my life," he recalls. "You think, 'What can you do about something like that?' How powerless you are to say, 'No, I am not an informer.' I could imagine being called any name but not that."

Ultimately Simoes was cleared and the newspaper published a retraction. He put advertisements in other papers showing his photograph and a statement that said he never had anything to do with politics or the police.

But the damage had been done, and amid the general jubilation over the new political climate, Simoes is deeply wounded.

"I hope it won't hurt my business," he said. "I'm 42 years old but it seems like I've been working for 60. I'm going to sue the paper. If I shut up about this, some people would take it as an admission of guilt."

USDA Estimates Indicate Wheat Crop To More Than Make Up For Low Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spring, predict a spring-wheat crop of 560 million bushels, which would bring the total to 2.172 billion bushels.

That compares with the total 1973 crop of an estimated 1.71 billion bushels.

The carryover stocks when the new wheat season officially begins July 1 are now expected to be 170 million bushels, roughly 30 per cent of the annual amount used in the United States for food purposes.

The department's Outlook and Situation Board said earlier Wednesday that it still expects domestic and export to fall off by about 10 to 20 per cent from the 1972-74 season.

Total exports are expected to reach by June just more than 1.2 billion bushels for the second consecutive extraordinarily high year.

If the production actually reaches the levels now anticipated and demand does fall off, economists foresee a carryover a year from now in the neighborhood of the 527 million bushels.

The board, in its regular report on crop conditions as of May 1, also said that:

—The southern peach crop this year is now expected to be, at 351.1 million pounds, the lowest in a decade after unfavorably mild winter weather and a late-March freeze. That production would be 21 per cent below 1973.

—Prospects for the total citrus crop remain at a level 5 per cent below last season, which saw a new record for oranges.

—The 1973 cotton crop was, at 13 million bales, 5 per cent above 1972.

—Estimated harvest of winter vegetables in the first quarter was 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

About $30 in cash was taken during a Wednesday burglary at the Goodwin Service Station, 1809 N. Big Spring St.

Lots Of Sharing Funds

Federal revenue sharing dollars seemingly are not among the nation's shortage items.

In fact, Texas, during the next fiscal year, will receive $9 million more than this year.

You understand, of course, that the federal dollars represent a PART of the tax dollars Texas have sent to Washington. There yet is no such thing as a free lunch.

Anyway, new federal revenue sharing funds totaling $294,045,044 will be distributed to state, county and city governments during the next fiscal year. Allocations for this year total $285,228,345 for all units of government in the state.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said recently that state government will receive almost $3 billion more for the 1974-75 fiscal period beginning July 1 than the 1973-74 allotment. State government's part is $98,081,488 compared with $95,283,690 for this year.

The allocation, incidentally, is based on a formula including consideration of population, per capita income and tax effort. Hospital district taxes now will be considered in the total county tax effort instead of city.

The Texas Press Association's State Capital Highlights and Sidelights reports that next year, six Texas counties will receive larger federal revenue sharing allocations while some cities within the counties will get smaller amounts.

Harris County, for instance, now receives $6.87 million. Next year it will get $9.65 million. Houston will receive slightly less than this year—$17,366,689—compared with $18 million under the existing formula.

The Dallas County total will increase from $3.58 million to $5.2 million. Neeces County's share will increase from $1.7 million to $2.3 million; Bexar County's from $2.6 million to $5.2 million; El Paso County's from $1.2 million to $1.9 million, and Tarrant County from $1.8 million to $3.25 million.

The City of Dallas won't receive quite as much cash—$13.1 million—compared with $13.6 million. Corpus Christi's total will decline from $3.66 million to $3.4 million; San Antonio's from $9.6 million to $9.3 million; El Paso's from $6.1 million to $6 million, and Fort Worth's from $5.26 million to $5 million.

Midland County this year got $194,224 in sharing funds, while the city received $564,396. Both the units expect approximately the same amounts for 1974-75.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: ITT case was prelude to Watergate.

WASHINGTON — While the big guns concentrate their fire on the Watergate coverup, a House subcommittee quietly is looking into the earlier ITT coverup. For the Watergate crimes were but an elaboration of the basic approach used during the ITT preliminaries.

Ex-White House counsel John Dean was the stage manager for the ITT coverup, just as he was for the later Watergate coverup. Last year, he was called behind closed doors to testify about his ITT role.

We now have obtained a transcript of his secret testimony. He calmly related to the Special Subcommittee on Investigations how his office had collected for safekeeping all White House documents dealing with ITT.

"One of the things they had done was collect — I didn't do it personally, another member of my staff did — all the documents in the White House, any documents dealing with ITT," testified Dean.

"To the best of my recollection and knowledge," he added, "those documents are still in a file in my former office. There were sensitive documents among those..."

"What kind of politically sensitive documents are you referring to?" asked chief counsel Daniel Manelli.

"Just names of individuals at the White House having correspondence with various people at ITT," replied Dean. "I can't specifically tell you of any one document right now, but I can recall during the hearings the man in the office who did collect them, Fred Fielding, saying, 'Boy, you ought to see the one we caught today,' and him relating what it was."

Not until long after the Senate ITT hearings had ended did we learn that suppressed documents linked former Vice President Spiro Agnew, Treasury Secretary John Connally, Attorney General John Mitchell and even President Nixon himself to the controversial ITT settlement.

Manelli questioned Dean about this. "There was a column by Jack Anderson some time back saying... Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Connally and, I believe, Vice President Agnew were involved in the politically sensitive files. Does that at all refresh your recollection?" asked Manelli.

"It doesn't," said Dean who was unable to recall any specific documents.

In dozens of particulars — from the shredding of incriminating documents to the perjured testimony — the tactics used by the White House crowd to wriggle out of Watergate had been fully rehearsed during the ITT siege. This appeared to be a rather standard operating procedure.

Even the cast of characters was the same: John Dean, Charles Colson, E. Howard Hunt, G. Gordon Liddy and James McCord, not to mention other faceless White House aides. Dean directed the ITT coverup, taking his instructions from H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, who remained Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W. Va., extracted testimony from Dean that former SEC Chairman William Casey had kept politically sensitive ITT documents away from the subcommittee by delivering them to the Justice Department.

"Did Mr. Casey suggest to you that the documents should be kept away from the subcommittee until after the election?" demanded Staggers.

"That was the general gist," acknowledged Dean. "That was the way it came up, if they go to a committee of Congress, it is likely they will go into the public domain from there."

"Then, you gathered, they should be kept away from us until after the election?" asked Staggers.

"That is correct..." agreed Dean.

"Whose idea was it," pressed Staggers, "that these files should be sent over to the Justice Department?"

"I believe it was Mr. Casey who came to me..." Dean testified.

Other sworn testimony also identified Casey as the official whose backstage maneuvering kept the enlightening ITT documents out of congressional hands. Subsequently, Casey was rewarded with a promotion to be undersecretary of State.

The first one cashed his second high heart and led the queen of clubs. His play was to force East to play diamonds for him. East obliged by playing king and another. West took his ace and led a third diamond.

BRUCE BLOSSAT Impeachment Box Score Said To Be Hefty 70-30

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Inevitably, the preliminary nose-counting of 100 U.S. senators on a possible impeachment vote has begun with respect to President Nixon. It does not bode well for him.

The reporter should emphasize at the outset that, with the exception of a few senators who by one means or another openly telegraphed what they probably will do, any early counting does not constitute a poll in the normally understood sense. Most senators simply aren't talking for the record, or privately.

With exactly 67 Senate votes required for an impeachment verdict removing the President from office, I can, today, see a vote running at least 70 to 30 against him.

I arrived at this rough count by going carefully over the Senate roster in consultation with people who know many, if not all, of the diverse factors that will affect the final decisions these 100 men will have to make.

To categorize the senators with any clarity at all requires, of course, an assumption that the House this summer will vote with reasonable decisiveness for at least one or two major articles of impeachment, with the charges centering on obstruction of justice through attempted coverup of Watergate, buttressed perhaps by gross misuse of campaign monies.

If the evidence as developed in House proceedings seems heavily riveted, the count against the President in the Senate might go higher than indicated, leaving only a modest-sized cluster of rigid supporters standing against the verdict.

On the other hand, should the evidence behind a House pro-impeachment decision appear to allow for varying interpretations, Senate support for Mr. Nixon's removal could fall away to a level just a little below that needed.

Whereas a month or two ago, that level was being placed by some close Senate analysts at a top of 60, it is figured today at 64 — only three short of removal. Another six senators are judged to be likely leavers against the President, hence the calculation of 70 to 30.

But that total of 30 includes possibly no more than 18 senators whose opposition to impeachment looks pretty stout at this time, with the other 12 probably disposed to follow that line. One source would rate all these 12 truly as "undecided."

His reasoning is that, in a big sweep founded on compelling House evidence, the 12 would wind up voting against Mr. Nixon and that even some of the 18 rigid hold-outs might break.

How the calculations were arrived at:
One underlying assumption is that, no matter what they say publicly, many more Democrats than Republicans will be voting with a strong strain of partisanship. This will include some Southern Democrats, even though the President clearly retains considerable backing in the South.

With 58 Senate Democrats, even leaving out a few, obviously gives you a strong base for the needed 67 impeachment verdict. Certain well-tagged liberal Republicans, some highly vocal against Mr. Nixon, must be added to the base.

Beyond this level, the figuring grows complex. Some senators will be weighing not their own or their area's political complexion but the effect of a change on their own power.

OUR MODERN VANDALS are giving the original Vandals a bad name.

The tribes who sacked Rome in the fifth century presumably didn't know any better when they destroyed so much of that city's art and literature and monuments. What excuse is there for those whose dismal handiwork is found in every city.

TIMELY QUOTES

CONGRESS STILL NEEDS YOUR TWO CENTS WORTH — EVEN NOW THAT IT COSTS 70 CENTS TO MAIL IT.

Dear Editor:
It seems to be the custom nowadays for us American voters to elect a President and then elect a mess of congressmen to spend their time harassing him.

Which is an expensive sport, considering the high wages and vast expense accounts all of these actors draw and live grudgingly upon.

But this system may cost us less in the long run than if all of these people were working together full time at finding more rat holes to pour our hard-earned money down.

DON OAKLEY The Solzhenitsyn Case Far From Being Closed

NEW YORK (NEA) — The expulsion of dissident author Alexander Solzhenitsyn appears to have been a brilliant stroke by the Kremlin. Western intellectuals note with chagrin that the wave of outrage that swept the world in the wake of the action has ebbed as quickly as it began. Diplomatic repercussions seem to have been nil.

More adverse publicity may be in store for the Soviet regime when translation of Solzhenitsyn's exposé of Stalinist terror, "The Gulag Archipelago," comes out in the West. Even so, it will have gained very much and lost very little — at least in the short run — by ridding itself of a prominent figure who was attacking the very ideological underpinnings of the Soviet style of socialism.

This should not be surprising. Bold lightning strokes have sidled off for the Kremlin in the past — the quelling of the revolution in Hungary in 1956 and the ouster of the revolution in Czechoslovakia in 1968, in both cases by massive armed invasion. Compared to these brutal events, the exiling of Solzhenitsyn and his family appears positively benign.

Yet it all mounts up. Each exposure of the true face of communism in Russia has cost the Kremlin dearly. Today, only the most radical or naive socialists outside the Soviet Union still look to it as the "motherland" or model of Marxist revolution. It is seen for what it is, a dictatorial, nationalistic power even more repressive of human freedom than was Russia in the days of the czars.

In the Soviet Union itself, bootleg copies of "The Gulag Archipelago" reportedly are fetching fantastic prices in Moscow and are being worn out by intense circulation among intellectuals and young people.

By physically removing Solzhenitsyn, the Kremlin may have solved its immediate problem. But the man's ideas and the truths he proclaimed continue to have a life of their own, and an influence on the younger generation of Russians whose effects no one can foresee.

Society today is not only being held hostage by the political pryorists who kidnap and bomb and extort. More and more, the great mass of decent, law-abiding citizens, along with the ritual artifacts that are the birthright of civilization, are at the mercy of the barbarians among us who dance, destroy, wreck and ruin.

107 Oil, Gas Projects Staked In Permian Basin

Applications for new oil or gas tests filed with regulatory bodies governing the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin last week totaled 107.

Permits were sought to drill 16 wildcats and 91 development wells.

The count was down 12 from the 119 projects slated two weeks ago.

Both District 8 of the Texas Railroad Commission, with offices in Midland, and District 7-C, with offices in San Angelo, recorded five wildcats. District 8-A at Lubbock had two.

Southeast New Mexico recorded four wildcats and nine development wells.

Topping the list in projected pool development was District 7-C, with 37 applications.

66 Nations Slate Joint Study On Global Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sci-entific armada is being readied to study one of the weakest links in science's understanding of how global weather and climate is produced. More than 4,000 scientists and other personnel of 66 nations will undertake the study of a vast sun-drenched land, sea land-based weather observation stations deployed throughout or above a 20-million-square-mile land and sea area constituting one-third of the earth's tropics. Their objectives are to: —Help find means of forecasting the weather at any spot on earth a week or more in advance—compared with only a few days at best right now. —Seek information to im-prove hurricane and typhoon forecasting. —Explore theoretical possi-bilities for large-scale modification of the weather. The venture also is expected to help explain the great drought still prevalent in parts of Africa and to help determine whether, and to what extent, man's pollution of the atmosphere affects global climate. The project, outlined at a news conference Wednesday called by American govern-ment and private weather sci-entists, is called GATE. That's short for "Global At-mospheric Research Program-

Atlantic Tropical Experiment." Dr. Robert M. White, admin-istrator of the government's National Oceanic and Atmos-pheric Administration (NOAA), told newsmen GATE shapes up as "perhaps the largest and most complex international sci-entific experiment ever under-taken." NOAA is coordinating and directing U.S. participa-tion. White and other scientists said the task force will study the tropics because the tropics receive half the solar energy striking the whole planet. GATE will be carried out from June 15 to September 23 in an area extending from the eastern Pacific Ocean across Latin America, the Atlantic Ocean and Africa—to the west-ern Indian Ocean. Taxicabs in Athens some-times sport lace curtains, vases of flowers and icons.

AFTER NO CONFIDENCE VOTE Canadian Political Parties Preparing For July Election

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's political parties began preparing today for a general election in July after the toppling of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's Liberal government. Inflation was certain to be the major campaign issue.

By a 137-123 vote, the House of Commons adopted a motion of no confidence in Trudeau's minority government. The 54-year-old prime minister said he would call on Gov.-Gen. Jules Léger today to ask him to dissolve the lower house and call an election.

Election day is expected to be July 8. Meanwhile, Trudeau and the Liberal cabinet continue in office as a caretaker government.

Trudeau said in a telecast after his defeat that he welcomed the electoral fight but considered the interruption of parliament while the country faced inflationary problems "unfortunate and unnecessary."

Trudeau was brought down by the New Democratic Party, Canada's third largest political faction, whose support had kept him in office since the Liberal majority in Commons was reduced to a minority by the 1972 election.

After siding with the government on 19 previous no-confidence motions, the 31 New Democrats joined the 106 Conservatives to bring down the government with a motion condemning the budget submitted on Monday. With one Liberal absent, Trudeau mustered 108 votes from his party and 15 from the Social Credit Party.

The decisive vote came on a New Democratic amendment to a Conservative motion of no confidence charging that the budget failed to provide effective remedies for the 10 per cent inflation Canada now suffers.

The New Democratic amendment charged that the budget failed to provide help for pensioners and others on fixed income, failed to deal with the housing crisis and did nothing about the "glaring inequalities of the tax system."

The government's overthrow had been a certainty since the introduction of the New Democratic amendment Tuesday night.

Thundershowers Soak Broad U.S. Areas

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms and showers soaked a broad stretch of the eastern third of the nation today ranging from the lower Great Lakes to the Deep South.

Rain which began in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys during the night spread to the eastern Great Lakes and into Alabama and Georgia before daybreak.

Thunderstorms of lesser intensity continued along a front over the Central Plains, and showers were scattered across the Central Plateau and Rockies.

Isolated showers sprinkled southern Florida and sections of the Washington coast.

Fair to partly cloudy skies prevailed from the lower Mississippi Valley through the southern Plains and over many Western states.

Unseasonably chilly weather clung to much of the Midwest and Great Lakes region where readings in the 30s and 40s were common overnight.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 28 at Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich., to 83 at Needles and Daggett, Calif.

Some other reports: Atlanta 62 light rain, Buffalo 45 cloudy, Chicago 41 cloudy, Cincinnati 54 cloudy, Cleveland 54 cloudy, Dallas 71 clear, Denver 66 partly cloudy, Detroit 42 light rain, Honolulu 75 light rain, Indianapolis 46 light rain, Kansas City 47 cloudy, Los Angeles 61 cloudy, Louisville 51 cloudy, Miami 73 cloudy, Minneapolis-St. Paul 40 cloudy, Nashville 61 clear, New York 51 clear, Philadelphia 50 cloudy, Phoenix 81 partly cloudy, Pittsburgh 56 light rain, St. Louis 48 cloudy, San Francisco 52 clear, Seattle 49 partly cloudy, Washington 56 cloudy.

Still Popular. One of man's earliest and most reliable forms of transportation, the ferry boat, still draws eager customers from the coast of Alaska to the Bering Sea.

Weather, Air Affect Mental Health

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

DETROIT (AP) — Weather conditions, air pollution and news headlines all play a role in mental health but each has a different effect, a University of Pennsylvania research team reports.

The researchers said their findings were based on a study comparing such variables with fluctuations in numbers of persons seeking psychiatric help for different kinds of emotional crises.

The least linkage was between psychiatric emergencies and news headlines, Dr. John H. Valentine of Philadelphia told the American Psychiatric Association today.

However, headlines conveying bad or unfavorable news "may be implicated in the worsening of neurotic and family conflicts and a tendency to act out the conflict" in either self-destructive ways or behavior damaging to others, Valentine said.

"Favorable headlines may encourage bravado" and thus indirectly lead to fatal accidents, he said.

The study was conducted by a team in the department of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Valentine said the group was seeking reasons for the marked variability noted in the types and frequencies of "psychiatric emergencies" bringing people into contact with psychiatrists, or sometimes leading to homicide.

The study covered 879 persons during the summer of 1973 in Philadelphia, he said.

Among weather effects, the researchers found high barometric pressure was associated with more people seeking help for depressions, while days of low pressure brought on more cases of intoxication.

Days with more sunshine witnessed fewer homicides, Valentine said.

He said higher levels of carbon monoxide brought more contacts from people suffering various types of organic brain damages.

He said that in this respect, "We may have demonstrated another indication for rigid control of auto exhaust emissions."

Perjury Case Against Archer Parr Nears Jury Stage

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THURS., MAY 9, 1974-1D
Commonest Ailment
 The commonest illness in the world is coryza or the common cold.
Longest Vein
 The largest vein in the human body is the cardiac vein known as the vena cava.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal court jury today receives the government's case against Duval County Judge Archer Parr, the second member of a South Texas political machine to be prosecuted this year.

Testimony in Parr's perjury trial concluded Wednesday. The trial began a week and a half ago.

U.S. District Court Judge D. W. Suttle scheduled final arguments for this morning, meaning the jury would receive the court charge and begin its deliberations thereafter.

$121,500 Payments Involved
 The jury must decide if the government proved Parr, 48, lied in testimony given to a grand jury in 1972 and 1973 about $121,500 in payments he received in the late 1960s from the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District.

Two former district board members and the district office manager testified for the government that they could not recall any legal services Parr performed for the district since its formation in the mid-1960s.

In trial testimony and in the grand jury testimony which precipitated his six-count indictment, Parr claimed the money was for legal services. He testified in his trial that he served the district as a private attorney and not in his capacity as county judge.

His defense centers around contentions that he arranged with the district secretary, Jose Tovar, for the legal fees. Tovar, the government emphasized in questioning, is dead.

U.S. Atty. William Sessions, cross examining Parr on Wednesday, asked about personal benefits Parr's uncle, George Parr, received from district coffers and Archer Parr said he knew "only what I read in the newspapers. George Parr, 73, leader of the Duval County machine, is appealing a conviction and five-year prison term given him in Corpus Christi on federal income tax evasion charges. Archer Parr's grand jury testimony which led to his indictment was during an investigation of George Parr.

Defense attorney James Gillespie objected to Sessions' questions on Wednesday, saying, "This is Archer Parr on trial, not George Parr." However, Suttle permitted questions about George Parr. The government also tried to undercut two of Archer Parr's character witnesses, who are fellow prominent Democrats along with the defendant. Frank Erwin, University of Texas regent, and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White both denied prosecutors they were appearing on Parr's behalf because of past political debts. Watergate played a small role in the final day's testimony.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Clark got Erwin to concede he was prominent in Texas Democratic circles and then asked whether Erwin advocated truthfulness in public figures. "I think we found out recently it applies to all parties," said Erwin. Gillespie jumped to the attorneys lectern and asked if Erwin would advocate one political party bugging another and if he would advocate the highest public official in the nation evading income taxes. Erwin said he would not. Outside the courtroom, Parr has charged the Justice Department's prosecution of the Parr machine is a Republican-inspired vendetta.

Daley Receives Get-Well Gift

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard Daley, undergoing treatment for high blood pressure and diabetes, has received a get-well present from the city council.

The council voted Wednesday 48-0 to give Daley a $25,000 raise, bringing his annual salary to $60,000. The raise has been in the works for some time and was not connected with the mayor's illness.

A Daley spokesman said the mayor also is undergoing tests and it's uncertain when he'll be released.

Granddaddy Sand Storms Don't Blow Here Any More

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

It came to our attention recently that there are young people in Texas, even West Texas, who never have seen a granddaddy dust storm.

We're not talking about one of those piddling little things that starts with a touch of red in the sky and finally creates a minor haze in which you can see as far as half a block.

This shocking lack of education among our young was brought forcefully to mind when we started passing around a new book, "One Short Sleep Past."

It is by David L. Nail and published by the Staked Plains Press in Canyon.

It is "A Profile of Amarillo in the 30s," as the subtitle suggests. It centers heavily on the suffering of the Depression and the Dust Bowl of that period although the two were not related.

Yet, "occurring as it did during the great Depression, the Dust Bowl added insult to injury," writes Nail, who grew up in Amarillo and now is assistant dean of students at Texas Tech University.

Nail includes some pictures of an honest, man-sized dust storm.

These did not begin as haze. You saw them first as a black, low cloud on the horizon.

As they moved toward you, they rose to a little height, but not until they were upon you did they fill the sky.

It was like a wall of earth moving forward at a great pace, and when it struck it felt like it.

It blotted out objects a few feet away in an instant. Bright days turned into midnight in the blink of an eye. People choked and coughed. Some got lost as if in a dense fog.

Nail tells with a straight face a story about a cockfight under way when a dust storm hit. One rooster was blown into the next county, thereby voiding all bets.

The other contestant had all his feathers stripped off.

People told of passing a prairie dog town during a particularly stiff breeze and finding all the earth blown away from the burrows and the holes sticking straight up.

Some people found a cowboy hat on the ground and picked it up. They found a cowboy's head under it. They asked the cowpoke how he was and he said all right, but he figured the horse he was sitting on was getting restless.

The housewife suffered as well as men in open fields. No home was proof against the dust and sand. A walk across the living room or hall or anywhere in a house resulted puffs of dust from footsteps.

Dust streamed through unseen cracks around doors and windows.

Some persons reached the relative comfort and safety of their homes by guiding themselves hand over hand along barbed wire fences.

One of the heroes of the Depression and dust days was Gene Howe, editor and publisher of the Amarillo Globe who is widely quoted in "One Short Sleep Past."

Howe wrote a column called Old Tack, a shortening of his literary pseudonym, Kernel Erasmus R. Tack. But everyone knew who Tack was.

Howe looked on the brighter side of dust storms by declaring it was a scientific fact that they contained vitamin K, which had the miraculous power to make people robust.

Certainly anyone who lived through a few of the bad ones was robust. If he wasn't he died.

The editor once wrote, according to Nail, that "the sandstorm we had Tuesday afternoon was an old timer. The dust was sort of clean and sandy and it didn't stick."

"Personally," Howe wrote, "I really enjoyed the sandstorm ... and stayed out in it all afternoon."

Probably the current world authority on dust storms or sandstorms—most people use the terms interchangeably—is D. W. Fryrear of the Agricultural Department's Big Spring, Tex., Field Station.

Called him to find out why we don't have any or many real granddaddy dust storms any more.

The question has been nagging at him, too.

He hasn't determined the cause scientifically yet, Fryrear said.

But he has a theory. He said he believes that the bad ones were clouds of mostly fine particles.

And over the years, a large part of these fine particles have blown away.

"As I look at our soil, that is very possibly what has happened," said Fryrear.

"It takes a long time, many, many years, to build the fine particles back up," he said.

"This land has been subject to erosion for 50 years. It is quite possible we have lost a large percentage of fine material out of the soil."

Earlier this year, Fryrear used scientific formulas to predict that Texas will have 78 days of blowing dust this season.

As a couple of weeks ago, he had counted, 31—including a stretch when there were seven storms in eight days. He still believes we probably will reach our goal if we really put our hearts into it.

When America sends its first men to Mars, they had better send some real oldtimer West Texans who know how to handle themselves in a little dust.

They have some biggie dusters on that planet. That sounds reasonable when you find that winds reach 200 miles an hour there. West Texas hasn't matched that yet, but we're working on it.

Jesuit Priest Says President Acted Honorably

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Jesuit priest on President Nixon's staff says the White House Watergate transcripts show that Nixon acted honorably in dealing with a "feted episode ... a dark footnote on his administration."

Defending his boss against rising criticism from Democrats and Republicans alike, Fr. John McLaughlin said of the President's actions as disclosed by the recently released transcripts:

"The conclusion that they are amoral or immoral is erroneous, unjust and contains elements of hypocrisy."

At a news conference, Father McLaughlin said: "The President acquitted himself throughout these discussions with honor when you consider the circumstances ... the total context ..."

He said Nixon's morality should be judged not by bits and pieces of recorded conversations but by "the extent to which he has produced a climate of charity in the international community and at home."

McLaughlin, who joined the White House staff in 1971 as a speech-writer, now describes himself as "an adviser, fact-finder and presidential spokesman."

Blatchford has been a member of the Badger Band all four years, making Region Band two years. He also served as sergeant-at-arms of the band his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society four years and the Future Teachers of America Chapter four years, serving as historian one year and vice president one year. He was a member of the Spanish Club three years and member of the Junior Historians one year. He served as treasurer of the Junior Historians.

Garcia was a member of the Badger Band four years, serving as sergeant-at-arms his senior year. He was a member of the National Honor Society all four years and member of the Future Teachers of America Chapter four years, serving as president his senior year. He was in the Spanish Club for three years. He was a member of the Junior Historians his senior year, serving as president. He served as secretary-treasurer of the Junior Honor Society his sophomore year. He made All-Region Band his senior year.

Other honor students are Craig Branham, Sarah Harris, Cody Johnson, Eva Sandstrom, Eva Velasquez and Leanne Waddell.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class will be at 8 p.m. Sunday in the McCamey High School auditorium. Fifty-five seniors will participate in the services.

Cotton

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher as much as $1.50 a bale in early trading today. Some of Wednesday's late demand was a carry over, brokers said.

Some of the buying attracted after recent declines, was thought to be by export interests, market sources said.

The average price for middling 1-1/8 inch spot cotton was 61.06 cents a pound Wednesday for the 11 leading markets. Midwestern prices were 63 cents, to $1.50 a bale higher than the previous close, July 59.96, Oct. 59.96, and Dec. 59.96.

During April, mining and industrial users took 700,754,114 gallons, representing a gain of 37.02 per cent. For the year to date they have taken 6,613,292,402 gallons, an increase of 31.33 per cent. Of the April deliveries to oil and industrial users, some 87,000,000 gallons was in brackish water. This figure usually is substantially higher, but for part of the period CRMWD was delivering Lake Spence water to Texas Electric Service at Colorado City, necessitating use of the line normally employed to transfer water from the diversion works side storage at Colorado City to oilfield users. The TESCO contract quantity to Lake Colorado City has been satisfied for the year.

McCamey Fly-In Breakfast May 26

McCAMEY — The McCamey Chamber of Commerce has announced that the annual Fly-In Breakfast will be held on Sunday, May 26. The breakfast will be from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Tom Waddell will make homemade biscuits again this year. The price for McCameyites attending the breakfast will be $1.25, due to the rise in cost of groceries. Those who fly in are guests of the chamber for their meals. Last year the chamber hosted one of the largest crowds ever.

Watergate Staff Report Says Break-In Had Mitchell's Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee is considering a staff report that concludes evidence exists to support the view that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell approved the plan that led to the Watergate break-in.

That and other conclusions plus a list of legislative recommendations are included in a 170-page draft prepared under the direction of Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel.

Sources close to the committee said there is considerable disagreement among the seven Watergate senators and the panel's staff over the form and content of the report.

The draft report, due in final form May 28, reaches these major conclusions:

"The committee finds that the weight of evidence tends to establish that Mitchell did approve the Liddy intelligence plan with a quarter-million-dollar budget in Key Biscayne on March 30, 1972." Convicted Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy is alleged to have used large sums of money from the Committee for the Re-election of the President to finance the break-in and wiretapping at Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate complex.

"The weight of evidence can only support the conclusion that ... payments (by high White House officials) were made for the purpose of keeping the Watergate defendants silent as to the involvement of other persons in the Watergate break-in or other activities embarrassing to the White House."

"The committee finds no legal justification for the Ellsberg break-in on any national security grounds. The committee finds it difficult to accept John D. Ehrlichman's claim that the Ellsberg break-in was not carried out with his express knowledge and authorization."

Ehrlichman, formerly the White House domestic adviser, has pleaded innocent to a charge of complicity in the break-in at the office of the psychiatrist-treating Pentagon Papers figure Daniel Ellsberg.

The draft report also makes several major legislative recommendations, including the creation of a permanent, independent, court-appointed and Senate-confirmed public attorney to probe future charges of corruption in government.

In other Watergate-related developments: —U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell indicated he believes that if foreign affairs were involved President Nixon may have had the authority to order the investigation that resulted in the Ellsberg break-in.

Gesell added that if the President did order the break-in under those circumstances, the case against six men charged in the incident may have to be thrown out.

"The White House acknowledged there may be gaps in some of the Watergate tapes as transcribed and edited for the Judiciary Committee, but said "all the words which could be heard are reflected in the transcripts."

CRMWD Delivery Up By One-Third Over Last Year

BIG SPRING — Through the first four months of the year, the Colorado River Municipal Water District has delivered one-third more water than in the same period a year ago.

Production records showed 6,174,768,402 gallons have been delivered through April, according to Paschall Odum, assistant general manager, up 35.14 per cent over a year ago.

Municipalities have taken 30.93 per cent more water during the initial four months due principally to heavy demands in March and April. For April they were up 38.03 per cent.

April deliveries of 1,868,615,114 were well above the previous record in 1972 when 1,685,990,000 gallons were delivered.

For the month Odessa took 438,924,000 gallons, up 50.35 per cent; Big Spring 271,956,000, up 38.48; Snyder 84,013,000, up 50.53 per cent; Stanton 10,680,000, up 70.20 per cent; Midland 308,600,000, up 73.59; San Angelo (which was out of action most of the month due to a pipeline leak) 52,688,000 down 51.37 per cent.

Slack 'Co-Dean' Of Texas House

AUSTIN — Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos and Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi will be the "deans" of the Texas House of Representatives when it convenes next January.

Rep. Merton Murray of Harlingen, who has 26 years service in the House, decided not to run again this year, and Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins, who will complete 24 years in January, was defeated in Saturday's primary elections.

This makes Slack and Hale, each with 22 consecutive years in the House, as "co-deans" of the legislative body.

Hale's service covers a longer period, but it is not consecutive. He was in the House in the 1939-40 sessions, but was one of those marked for defeat by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel because they opposed his general sales tax proposal. After 12 years, Hale returned to the House in 1953, the same year Slack arrived.

Hearst Says Reward Offered Because All Else Has Failed

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Randolph Hearst says he is offering a $50,000 reward for the safe return of his kidnapped daughter Patricia because everything else has failed.

"We've tried everything, the People in Need program, the $4 million, and our daughter still isn't back," Hearst said Wednesday after the reward was announced. "Hopefully this will bring out some concerned citizen who has had contact with her."

The People in Need program was a $2 million food giveaway Hearst set up to meet demands of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army, which claims it abducted Miss Hearst Feb. 4. Later, the Hearst Corp. promised to donate $4 million to the poor if she were released by May 3.

In her two latest taped messages, Miss Hearst condemned her family, stated she willingly joined the SLA and said she took part freely in an SLA bank robbery April 15. Her family says they believe she either was forced to make the remarks or was brainwashed.

"At this point, we're going to try to get her back any way we can," Hearst said at his suburban mansion 15 miles south of San Francisco. "If in the process the SLA would be arrested and convicted, I would be delighted."

"We haven't done it earlier than this, because we thought at one time the SLA would return her," he added. "They made it perfectly clear they won't."

Hearst said the $50,000 from his personal funds was deposited in a trust account and "will be paid to the person or persons who provide authorities with information leading to Miss Hearst's safe return to her parents' home."

HE SWEARS BY IT—Dr. Reinhold Aman, a professor of medieval German literature at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, leans on a stack of foreign language works he pores over in his studies of swearing in different cultures and languages. He claims to be the world's top expert on cursing. (AP Wirephoto.)

Expert On Swearing Eats Up Transcripts' Salty Language

By TIMOTHY HARPER
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Reinhold Aman takes a different view of the Watergate transcripts than the pastors and politicians who have criticized President Nixon for the salty language used in the White House.

"I just eat it up," said Aman, a professor of medieval German literature and an expert on swearing who can give 'em hell, damn and thousands of other expletives in 50 languages.

Aman, who teaches at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, sees swearing as a necessary means of letting off steam in almost every language.

"I don't advocate swearing," he said. "I don't encourage my children or students or friends to swear. I personally swear because there are so many things that bug me. That's why everyone swears, and almost everyone does."

Far from being shocked at the language in the White House transcripts, Aman finds it lacking in the very words he's interested in.

"Most of the time they are omitted, although you can sometimes predict what should be there," he said. "I've been sort of trying to fill in what it can be."

"I wish I could get all the expletives. That would be like winning at a lottery or something."

Aman, 38, has plenty of experience in dealing with non-deleted expletives. He has published several scholarly works on profanity patterns throughout the world and compiled dictionaries of curswords to help explain the background and meaning of cursing.

"Swearing is a means of letting off steam, to keep from getting ulcers and from keeping frustrations bottled up inside," said Aman.

"It should be used properly," he cautioned, adding that most people don't appreciate the finer points of cursing.

He said the unsophisticated curser aims insults at a foe's physical characteristics rather than gauging his cultural and educational background before using the verbal rapier.

Only a low-brow swearer relies on ethnic slurs, he said. Americans are among the least refined cursers, largely because their profane vocabulary is 25 or fewer words, Aman said.

Among his favorites cursers are Yiddish's "May all your teeth but one fall out so you can get a toothache," the rhymed insults of the Turks and the singing exchanges between Eskimos.

"Tell me what swear words you use and I will tell you who you are," he said.

Mass Drug Raids At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police swept through this city today seeking 44 persons charged with narcotics violations, including delivery and possession of heroin and LSD.

At dawn, officers had netted 27 persons and seized four ounces of heroin. The arrests followed 60 sealed indictments.

Officials said the arrests came after almost two months undercover work by Leonaldas Baitey, 31, the first rookie and black assigned such work here.

Constitution Writers Vote Lawmakers Greater Powers

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A legislative article that gives lawmakers greater power and flexibility and presents voters the option of four-year terms for House members has been approved by the Constitutional Convention.

The legislator-delegates recessed Wednesday until Monday afternoon after approving 117-26 the article setting out the duties, powers and limits of the legislative branch.

Also approved was the one-paragraph non-controversial article dividing state government into executive, legislative and judicial branches.

Separate Vote On Terms
Before approving the legislative article, the convention decided to let the people vote separately on whether House members' terms should be doubled to four years.

Earlier in the day, they reversed a decision made April 4 and placed a legislative salary commission in the body of the new constitution. Voters will have the separate option of simply putting an $8,750 salary for lawmakers in the constitution. Previously, the convention had placed the fixed salary in the constitution while offering the voters the separate alternative of a pay commission.

The article is subject to revision on third reading later in the convention, but any changes required a two-thirds vote.

Several Major Changes
In its present form, the legislative article makes certain major changes from the existing constitution:

—Instead of the present 140-day legislative sessions every two years, there would be a 140-day session in odd-numbered years and a 90-day session in even-numbered years.

—Lawmakers could call themselves into special sessions by a petition of two-thirds the members of each chamber. This is a prerogative reserved for the governor.

—The House would be divided into single-member districts, eliminating the last vestiges of at-large countywide representation.

—Local laws no longer could get through the legislature under the guise of general bills limited to areas within certain population brackets. Notice of such a bill would have to be published in the area affected. The city or county must be named in the bill.

—All legislative sessions must be open, including the traditionally closed Senate meetings to discuss the governor's appointees before voting to confirm them.

—The legislature would have the power to limit the number of terms a House speaker could serve—something Atty. Gen. John Hill has ruled the present constitution does not allow.

—Attempts to require statewide election of the speaker, instead of leaving his selection to the House, and to limit the terms a House Appropriations Committee chairman could serve failed in Wednesday's debate.

Rep. E. L. Short, D-Tahoka, succeeded, 79-64, in an attempt to place on the November constitutional election ballot a choice between continuing House members' present two-year terms or doubling them to four years.

If approved, four-year terms would go to half the House members elected in November. Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, failed, 76-61, to delay the effect until 1977 so no members of the convention could benefit immediately from the longer terms.

Rep. Bill Hollowell, D-Grand Saline, said four-year terms would take a "tremendous financial burden" from the shoulders of representatives "who don't get lobby money" for their campaigns.

Paso, said the longer terms equal to those of the Senate, would give the House greater "continuity of experience."

"I think it is a serious mistake to grant ourselves special privileges first," argued Rep. Bob Davis, R-Irving.

"Nobody is granting themselves anything here. We are just giving the people the right to make the decision," Hollowell replied.

If the four-year terms proposal is rejected, representatives would continue to serve two years. If approved, they would get four-year terms regardless of whether the entire new constitution is approved.

Southern Baptists Outnumber Other Groups In Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The chances of passing a Southern Baptist on most Texas streets are better than two to one.

And, according to a national church membership study released today, if you don't pass a Southern Baptist you're next most likely to pass a Roman Catholic.

The study conducted by the National Council of Churches, the Glenmary Research Center and the Lutheran Church, is considered the most comprehensive work of its kind in 20 years.

The researchers said more than 50 per cent of the population in 137 of Texas' 254 counties are Southern Baptists. Baptists also predominate in another 44 counties with between 25 and 49 per cent of the population claiming membership in that church.

Methodists are not a majority in any county, but they are strong in one Central Texas county and in two Panhandle counties.

The study was conducted in 1971 but released by the researchers today.

Costa Rica Has New President

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Daniel Oduber, who 26 years ago joined a revolution over an annulled election, has gained some fruits for his effort.

Oduber, 51, was inaugurated as president of Costa Rica on Wednesday, and promptly issued a warning to foreign investors. He said his government would issue a ruling to limit foreign investment to minority ownership of companies.

Oduber, a lawyer, was elected president over eight other candidates.
