BAILEY DENOUNCED BY WILSON SUPPORT

RECONCILABLES SAY TREATY IS AGAIN DEAD; WILSON IS RETICENT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The move to bring President Wilson actively into the peace treaty compromise negotiations got such a setback at the White House today that the irreconcilable opponents of ratification again pronounced the treaty dead and gave notice that they would move Monday to bring the debate speedily to an end.

Officials close to the president declared that democratic senators already were fully advised of the attitude of the executive and that compromise proposals should be addressed, not to Mr. Wilson, but to Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader in the senate.

It was not revealed whether the president would grant the requested conference with Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, representing the senate democrats in a final effort at compromise but the White House officials intimated that they thought further efforts to inquire the president's views would be superfluous.

This caused disappointment among republican and democratic senators, working for an eleven hour compromise, but it did not put a stop to the negotiations. Some on both sides openly declared the only course left was to the effort at agreement and that if the ratification was accomplished, let the president decide whether he would accept or reject it.

Article 10 Monday. Among the irreconcilables, however, it confidently was asserted that no agreement ever could be reached on an uncertain basis and that if the separation of the White House officials reflects the views of the president, further delay of the ratification vote was only so much time wasted. The notice of their intention to force final action was given in the senate by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, who said he would move Monday to take up at once the knotty problem of article 10, which had been put over in the hope that a compromise on it might be secured while the senate worked its way through the long list of collateral resolutions.

Borah Ready. Senate-Borah proposal was endorsed by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the democratic leader, who said he and his colleagues were ready to vote "at an early date" and that it was "unnecessary" to seek the views of the president before taking final action. Senator Lodge, however, suggested that the quickest way now to reach article 10 was to proceed with the program as it now stands.

Six Remain. Six reservations besides that relating to article 10 remain to be disposed of, the senate having acted during the day on the seventh of the list of 14 adopted last November. The reservation adopted on was that exempting the United States from paying expenses of the League of Nations without congressional action and it was re-adopted 46 to 20 after a proviso had been added, excluding from the stipulation the office expenses and salary of the secretary general, Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, offered the proviso, which had been agreed to in the bipartisan conference and it was accepted 55 to 27, with both republican and democratic senators supporting it.

MARY PARKS WINS HIGH SCHOOL REP OF MOST POPULAR

Miss Mary Parks was elected the most popular girl student of the Cisco high school in an election contest which brought to a close the elaborate carnival which the students of the school staged at the city hall Saturday evening. Up to the stroke of 11, when the polls were closed, there was a frantic purchasing of votes among a ring of students and their friends and faction fought faction with dollars until the final moment.

The leading returns were as follows: Miss Mary Parks, 7150; Miss Mabel Tucker, 6620; Miss Edna Webber, 4400; Miss Julia Shepherd, 3470. The three highest will be honored by having their photographs published in the high school annual.

Paul McCarty was elected the most popular boy student by a total of 500 votes. Cecil W. McAfee was second, with 310 votes, and Eugene Ames followed next, with 300. Herbert McCandless was fourth with 248. Each vote represented one cent. The proceeds from the contest netted $231.40.

Despite a cold wind and chilly weather which interfered seriously with all open air arrangements, the (Continued on Page Three)

'Movie' Bandits Get $5000 Through Ruse Worked at Houston

HOUSTON, Texas, Mar. 6.—The automobile bandits who disguise like movie-melodrama actors, held up and robbed the American State Bank of Harrisburg, a suburb of Houston, of $5000 at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, were still uncaught late Saturday night. The bandits' automobile was traced from descriptions of it obtained by the police to the business district of the city and there the car was found in the mass of automobile traffic.

WILSON INTERCEDES, STOPS SALE OF CAR

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Mar. 6.—President Wilson, by executive order, today stopped the sale here of an automobile seized by federal liquor officers and commanded that the car be restored to its owner.

CALIFORNIA NAMES 25 NATIONAL DELEGATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 6.—Twenty-six candidates for delegates to the national convention were selected at a meeting of the democratic state central committee here today. If the candidates named today are successful at the primary in May, they will go to the convention unopposed.

RATIFY TREATY OR BUILD GREAT NAVY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Three provisional naval building programs, dependent on senate action on the peace treaty, were laid before the house naval committee today by Secretary Daniels. If the United States ratified the treaty and became a member of the League of Nations, Mr. Daniels said, he would recommend new construction only to "round out" the fleet now built or building, if the senate rejected the treaty and the United States definitely decided not to join the league, he said he would urge duplication of three year program of 1916, with some modifications with a view of making the fleet "incomparably" the greatest in the world.

In case the senate took no final action on the treaty at this session of congress, the secretary said he would present a 69 ship program for construction as rapidly as possible in order that the United States might not lose ground in competitive naval building. Choose One of Three. Secretary Daniels told the committee it must choose between the three proposals. The 69 ship program, he said, would cost about $195,000,000. He gave no estimate of the cost of a new three year program.

HOUSE COMMITTEE HAS NO SOLUTION UPON AIR REPROTS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—After four hours' discussion of American aviation efforts during the war, the house, sitting as a committee, reported today to the whole house that it "had come to no solution" on the conflicting reports of the special investigating committee made after prolonged inquiry into the air program and its results.

Even this announcement by the committee of the whole did not pass unchallenged, republicans and democrats disagreeing as sharply as they had during debate on the investigating committee reports. The disposition made, however, was true to the program of republican leaders. Their spokesmen, during the debate, declared the only purpose was to make known the facts of the war-time aviation "failure."

NEWBERRY'S MANAGER TESTIFIES AT TRIAL

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Mar. 6.—Why the Blair report of Newberry's senatorial primary campaign receipts and expenses was incomplete, was discussed on the witness stand today in the election conspiracy trial by Paul King, campaign manager. He told of the orders he had given that every outstanding obligation of the committee be included in the document filed with the state on September 6, 1919, and then of the strenuous but futile effort of his subordinates to meet that order.

SWEDISH CABINET OUT, TO FORM NEW MINISTRY

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 6.—The Swedish cabinet has resigned. Premier Eden was asked by the king to form a new ministry. It was expected the socialists would form a new government with Hjalmar Branting, the socialist leader, as premier. This is still possible, as it may prove difficult for Premier Eden to form a liberal cabinet.

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL LAUNCHES HERE TONIGHT

The Rev. Dr. W. B. Gray, of Brownwood, will inaugurate tonight at the First Presbyterian church, the first revival meeting of the year for Cisco. Reverend Gray has announced a series of topics for this week which deal with the lines that should be followed in modern life.

LYNCH ELECTED OVER SENATORIAL OPPONENT

HOUSTON, Tex., Mar. 6.—Lynch Davidson was elected to fill the vacancy in the 16th senatorial district by a majority over Charles Murphy of 103 votes. Murphy Saturday night admitted his defeat. The unofficial count Harris and Fort Bend counties went to Lynch and Waller practically so. Davidson, 4,958; Murphy, 4,855. The third candidate is 2,000 votes behind.

Four Gubernatorial Aspirants to Fight New Faction. PUT ASIDE STATE ISSUES

Unofficial State-Wide Conference of "Woodrow Wilson" Democrats Plans Solid Delegation. DALLAS, Mar. 6.—Democrats of Texas supporting the administration of President Wilson today picked up the gage of battle hurled down by the anti-administration faction of state democrats led by Former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey.

Meeting here in unofficial state-wide conferences, these "Woodrow Wilson" democrats laid plans for an energetic campaign to send to the national convention at San Francisco a Texas delegation that will stand "solidly and unreservedly in approval and support" of the Wilson administration.

State issues, it was decided, will be set aside until after the precinct conventions, May 1, when delegates will be chosen for county conventions the following Tuesday, which, in turn, will elect the personnel of the state convention of May 25, when the Texas delegation to the San Francisco convention will be chosen.

Four candidates for governor, Pat M. Nef, Waco; R. E. Thompson, El Paso; B. P. Leoney, Greenville; Dwight L. Wellington, Dallas, agreed to confine their campaign activities until May 1 to the local issues, with a view to defeating the efforts of the Bailey faction, which seeks to control the state convention and send to San Francisco an anti-Wilson delegation.

Endorse Administration. A resolution adopted by the conference unequivocally endorsed the national administration, and a telegram was sent to President Wilson informing him of this action and acquainting him with the purpose of the campaign the conference had decided on.

Thomas H. Ball, of Houston, chairman of the conference, soon will appoint a state democratic administration state central committee of 31 members. County and precinct chairmen are to be named throughout the state. By volunteer subscriptions, $5,448.79 was raised at the conference for a campaign fund.

Ballay Scored. Many speakers at the conference bitterly scored former Senator Bailey, who recently announced his gubernatorial candidacy on a platform opposing the "progressive democratic" administration of Woodrow Wilson and urging a return to the principles of Thomas Jefferson.

Ballay a "Stalking Horse." Cullen F. Thomas, of Dallas, branded Mr. Bailey as "a stalking horse of the republicans" and said he and James E. Ferguson "got their heads together" to elect to fight the democratic party without and the other within. Former Governor Ferguson headed the group of democrats who withdrew from the state party.

Governor W. P. Hobby, who has announced his candidacy for selection as delegate at large to the San Francisco convention, referred to the Bailey movement as one of "broken down politicians" with "more leaders and fewer followers" than any other political organization ever known. He declared the purpose of the movement was to destroy the prohibition amendment and bring back liquor.

CHICAGO EXPRESSMEN CALL STRIKE; CITY IN THROES OR RIGID EMBARGO

CHICAGO, Mar. 6.—An embargo today was placed against all express shipments except newspapers and funeral equipment by the American Railway Express company, following the strike of "insurgent" railway express clerks, who demanded an increase in wages of $35 a month.

The strike called by R. E. Shepherd, chairman of the Chicago and Western Lakes division of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, is without the sanction of the international officers. More than 2500 men responded to the strike call, Mr. Shepherd said. District Attorney Cline today began an investigation of the walkout to determine whether it was a violation of the new transportation act. If evidence warranted, he indicated, the first test of the new law would be made. He telegraphed to Washington to ascertain how far his authority extended.

A. F. Stedman, vice president of the American Railway Express company, who announced the embargo, said the strike had hit the company hard. He said that although the terminals were chiefly affected, some office employees had joined the strikers.

MEXICANS FOUGHT FOR U. S. FLYERS WHO CROSSED LINE

Aviators Were Jailed in Room Where Floor Was Flooded; Court Martial Has Been Ordered. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Mar. 6.—After being prisoners of the Mexican government for nearly a month in the state of Sonora, since February 2, Lieutenants George R. Usher, and Leroy Wolfe of the 12th Surveillance Squadron, air service, Fort Bliss, Texas, will be tried by court martial under instructions sent to their squadron commander by Col. J. E. Fechet, southern department air service officer, it was learned at department headquarters at Fort Sam Houston today. The aviators will be charged with neglect of duty in flying into Mexico in violation of specific orders of Major General Joseph T. Dickman, department commander, providing that no aviator shall fly into Mexico under any circumstances.

One Is Ape. Further light was shed on the case today when Lieut. Arthur E. Easterbrook, ace with six German planes to his credit, who was recently transferred back to the line and is now commanding company 1, of the 9th infantry at Camp Travis, made public a letter he received about a week ago from Lieut. Usher. Lieut. Usher said he and Lieut. Wolfe were flying from Columbus, New Mexico, to Douglas, Arizona, and were taking a high altitude in order to avoid running into a mountain, when they lost their way. When they believed they had reached the railroad running north to Douglas, they descended and followed a railroad which led them into Mexico. The rough border country, much alike on both sides of the international line, made discovery of their mistake impossible until they had gone far enough that they knew they had not sufficient gasoline to return.

Upon landing, both the inhabitants of Nacozari and a smaller town to the south claimed them as prisoners, he said, and had started to fight a pitched battle for their possession, when they were rescued by Col. Manuel Mesa, commanding the 32nd, Mexican cavalry, with a detachment. They were first placed in the jail at Nacozari, with their feet in chains of water on the floor but were later transferred to a hotel when the representative of a copper company offered to stand good for them.

GRAPPLE WITH LABOR IN INDIVIDUAL SHOP

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The proper place to grapple with the labor problem is in the individual plant, the second industrial conference will tell President Wilson in its final report. The conference adjourned today after having held eighty sessions since its first meeting, December 1. Its report, adopted unanimously, will go to the president next week and will be made public within about fifteen days.

Specific recommendations regarding hours of work, wages, women and children in industry, unemployment, and similar problems have been made, the conference announced, and a definite stand on collective bargaining, the rock on which the first conference came to grief, has been taken.

ST. JOHN WILL BUILD UPON RESIDENCE SITE. W. E. Spencer has purchased the R. M. St. John residence, Broadway and Avenue E, and will move it in a few days to property adjoining the Spencer home at Fourth and Avenue I. This is the preliminary announcement to plans made by the St. John interests for the erection of a modern building on the lots thus vacated.

"We have several plans in mind," said Postmaster St. John, Saturday. "My sons will join with me in putting up a pretentious building, that so far we have not contracted to lease. We will build to suit the man who rents it. We have an offer for a hotel building that would require at least four or five stories, and offers for other purposes, one being two stories, 75 by 125 feet; two stories for a hardware store."

The plans for the St. John building have not been drawn, the house will not be moved for some weeks, unless Mr. St. John agrees to vacate before the purchaser's delivery date is set.

Oppose Teachers' Union. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Mar. 6.—Opposition to organization of teachers into affiliated branches of the American Federation of Labor is expressed in a resolution passed unanimously today at a meeting of the directors of the Oklahoma education associations.

BULLETIN

LAWTON, Okla., Mar. 6.—Lieut. Fred E. Utley was instantly killed and two privates injured, one probably fatally in attempting to make a forced landing in an airplane this afternoon at Apache, Oklahoma, near here. Utley, whose home is in Michigan, and Privates Vagie and Carvin had started from here today on an extensive recruiting trip by airplane and had reached Oklahoma City when they encountered a snow storm and turned back. They were attempting to land when the accident occurred.

Utley's body was brought to Lawton and is being held for relatives. The privates are at a post hospital, where physicians tonight said both would have to undergo an operation and that Carvin probably would die.

NEW YORK RETAILERS IN BATTLE ON PROFITTEERS

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—The National Retail Dry Goods association opened its campaign against profiteers today by placing large posters in all buyers' offices in New York, urging its members to resist price advances and insist on deliveries. The merchants are asked to report "all unfair manufacturers and wholesalers" to the department of justice.

ISLANDS REFUSE TO ENDORSE SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION

MANILA, Philippines, Mar. 6.—Prohibition and woman's suffrage bills failed of passage in both houses of the Philippine Island territorial assembly today.

MORE CENSUS FIGURES OUT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Population announcements for 1920 issued by the census bureau tonight: Toledo, Ohio, 243,109, an increase of 74,612, or 44.3 per cent over 1910. Charlotte, N. C., 46,318, an increase of 12,304, or 36.2 per cent. The population of Charlotte, N. C., increased 80 per cent during the 10 years from 1900. Toledo showed an increase of 27.8 per cent in the same time. Toledo had the larger growth in the 20th census, having increased 61.9 per cent in the 10 years from 1890 to 1900 with Charlotte's increase was 56.5 per cent.

DANIEL HOTEL LEASE AGAIN CHANGES HANDS

The lease on the Daniels hotel changed hands Saturday morning when J. S. Hood, prominent hotel man of this city, took over the property from Charles B. Milliken and Milliken's brother-in-law, Jefferson P. Hartnut, of Weatherford. The deal is an important one, in that it indicates that Hood senses the gigantic proportions which the hostelry business here is rapidly taking on. He leased the Daniels property to Milliken and Hartnut December 1 of last year for $50,000 covering a two-year contract. Milliken has been conducting the hotel for a little more than three months and has turned over his lease and entire possession for $75,000.

Milliken is undecided as to his future plans. It is quite probable that he will continue to conduct the Daniels, which is enjoying an overflow business. Hood is building a five story hotel adjacent to the Daniels on Broadway, which will bear his name. Plans for an extensive addition to the Daniels are under way.

MAY BUILD HOSPITALS FOR NEGROES IN TEXAS

ROANOKE, Va., Mar. 6.—Provision has been made in a budget adopted by the Inter-Church World Movement for the erection of general hospitals for negroes in Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Texas, it was learned here today. According to a communication from Richmond, headquarters of the Inter-Church World Movement in this state, $3,100,000 will be expended for the hospitals. The communication points out that a recent survey of the south reveals there are only three hospitals for negroes in southern states. These are in Nashville, Jacksonville and New Orleans.

SEER HELPS FAKERS GET INVESTORS TO GIVE UP

TOPEKA, Kan., Mar. 6.—Many novel schemes in the promotion of "wild cat" oil development companies have been suggested by investigators working under the "blue sky" division of the state banking department, but what investors claim to be the prize winner of these was recently disclosed at Pittsburg, Kansas, in which the leading role was taken by a "seer." Following the decision of the "seer," it is said, $150,000 has been invested in oil leases and well digging in the Texas field.

The proposition as promulgated by the "seer" has been very successful from the standpoint, financially of the "seer," who is said to have been remunerated handsomely for his guidance to investors of the "seer," said an agent of the department, who recently investigated the "seer's" enterprises. "He had had a number of trances which resulted in generous investments by the faithful. He would go into a trance in which he claimed to see a chance to buy the exact location of certain lands in the Burkhardt field in Texas on which oil could be found.

"Trance No. 1 resulted in the purchase of a lease on two acres for $30,000. Oil was found on this tract, which was in proven territory. The "seer" later had four more trances, each specifying land on which oil could be found. The agents of the "seer" in each instance procured leases on the designated lands and they let a few of their friends, about 50 in all, in on the "road to wealth." But some of the investigators became skeptical. They appear to have strayed from the road to certain wealth, and want their money back.

"The department still has the matter under advisement as to future action."

NEW YORK OIL MEN VISIT CISCO

Sergeant Bouvier and R. P. Harrell, of New York, directors of the Harbert Producing & Refining company, were in Cisco this week, guests of the Eaton. They came to look over Texas properties of the company, and while here, took occasion to look into the growth of Cisco.

Mr. Bouvier, who formerly lived in Cisco, and represented the Harbert company here, was much surprised at the growth of the city during his absence. He predicted many fine things for the city's future, due to the development of oil in this vicinity.

The Harbert company owns some fine acreage near the Hibbard well, and they think a lot of it. They also have some fine stuff in the Deodonia section, and look for a well in the next day or two on the Thurman property, near the Cornuth lease.

While here, they got the additional good news of a 40,000 barrel well on Ribheart at Tampico.

CAN GOODS CONTINUE OPMOR OIL MAN STILL ILL

H. M. Anderson, prominent oil man of this city and superintendent of the Texas company's division headquarters in Cisco, is still ill at his home. Mr. Anderson was stricken with influenza about two weeks ago. While he is nearly over this illness, he is at present in a state of almost complete speechlessness as the result of an attack of bronchitis.

Oil Products Free Into Mexico

JUAREZ, Mex., Mar. 6.—A decree by President Carranza, recently issued, exempts from duty benzene, petroleum ether, gasoline and kerosene imported into Mexico, beginning Jan. 1, 1920, according to reports received at the American consulate here. These products were formerly dutiable at the rate of $1.13 per 100 pounds.

DEFENSE OF REALM ACT FREELY USED IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Feb. 18 (By Mail)—The defense of the realm act, adopted for purposes of the war, is being freely employed in the government's struggle with the Sinn Fein. It was under the powers delegated to the government by this act that the Freeman's Journal was suppressed. In accordance with this law, many cases of alleged sedition which ordinarily would be tried in civil courts, now are heard by courts martial. Deportations of suspected persons are made under this act and it is charged that leading Irishmen are kept in prison in England without the necessity of bringing charges against them any specific offenses.

The government, however, does not confine itself to the exercise of its war powers under the defense of the realm act, but many prosecutions take place in the ordinary way before police magistrates. This is quite usual in Dublin, where the police magistrates are regularly appointed without official list and are paid in the provinces where the magistrates are unpaid.

Apart from the instances of the government's conflict with the Sinn Fein, the life of the country proceeds as usual. Regular courts of law sit every where and Sinn Feiners appear before the civil courts as defendants and on rare occasions they refuse to recognize the

PROFITEERS WORSE THAN HIGHWAYMAN

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—"I have some respect for the highwayman or footpad, for they at least take their lives in their own hands in robbing the public, but the profiteer takes no chances in his petty pilfering by taking advantage of people who are hungry," said Police Judge Houghton Brownlee recently in assessing a fine of $40 against a local baker who had been convicted of selling short weight loaves of bread.

SENATOR OWEN FOR PRESIDENT.

WE READ in the Morning News that Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma has opened headquarters in Washington, where he will boom his candidacy for president.

Senator Owen is one of the substantial men in national affairs, who qualifies for such a high place. Not only has he made a wonderful record as a member of the senate, but for more than a quarter of a century he has been closely associated with national affairs. Senator Owen has been intimate with the men who have handled the world's affairs during much of this time, and his opinions and deductions have been sought by the financiers and statesmen of this country and Europe.

His most constructive work has been with financial affairs. As one of the authors of the law creating the financial system under which the banks of the nation operate it is one of the most constructive things he has accomplished.

Senator Owen really measures up as presidential timber, and the democrats could make a fine campaign with a man of his character as their leader in the coming presidential election.

NOW we have it Leeray is to start its career with a bank. All they will need to make a regular town is a picture show—and a railroad.

"BOMB exploded under U. S. Embassy."—Headline. The last bomb placed under a section of the state department was set off by President Wilson.

ANOTHER PAPER RAILROAD.

THE prediction that there is to be an era of railroad expansion in the United States this year and next bring again to the mind of many West Texas citizens the possibilities of an extension to the south of the Cisco & Northeastern, now building. A glance at the map shows the possibilities of such a line, which is especially desirable at this time because of the development of oil in the vicinity of Rising Star and Sipe Springs. A line to the south connecting the Brownwood North and South railway, a 20-mile stretch towards Cisco's territory is a possibility. Such an extension would give Cisco an outlet to the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, and the Frisco lines.

Developing the possibilities of the Cisco & Northeastern further, but extending the proposed line to the north to Newcastle, it would make another Katy connection, or to Graham, where there is a Rock Island branch, which would give an outlet to the north, direct to Kansas City and Chicago.

The territory tapped by the line north is virgin. Many acres of valuable land could be brought into complete development, and all of Texas would benefit thereby.

The total proposed line would not exceed 100 miles on an air line, and the men who would build it would not only profit in a financial way, but would render to the state a great service.

POLITICAL DANCES.

CATCHING the woman voter's attention and making her part of the political organizations of the country is a problem, and the men who play practical politics and win elections are making a study of the best methods to employ. The woman vote is going to be more or less of a factor in county, state and national elections in the future, and many of the fair sex have no political affiliations.

One or two candidates have been reported as having passed boxes of chocolates to the women voters in their particular territory with telling results. But it took the republicans of St. Louis to develop the best idea. They are giving political dances, where politics and jazz music mingle. Candidates running for office invite all the voters in a precinct or neighborhood to attend the social function, where they mix medicine.

"I'm going to vote for Mr. Smythe," one of the guests might say. "He's the loveliest waltzer I've ever danced with. I'm sure he'd make a good alderman."

"I just hate that candidate for the school board," another might say. "He stepped on my new dress and tore three inches of the lace off the flounce. Think of putting the schools of our city in the hands of a man like that!"

Dancing as a political argument may grow in favor, now that the women are into the game. They certainly will have more appeal than a torchlight procession or clam bake

Mr. Lansing was born in Watertown, N. Y., on October 17, 1844, of very distinguished parentage. He entered Amherst college and was awarded his degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1866 and was admitted to the bar of New York in 1869.

In 1890 he married Miss Eleanor Foster, daughter of John W. Foster, a former secretary of state in the cabinet of President Harrison in 1892-3.

His first opportunity to act as counsel for the United States government came in 1892-3 when he appeared as associate counsel in the Behring sea arbitration case.

Following this, Mr. Lansing was appointed American representative in the Behring sea claims commission in 1896, and continued to act in a legal and advisory capacity for the government until he relinquished his duties as a member of the Hague arbitration in 1910.

On April 1, 1914, he was appointed counselor for the department of state and was appointed secretary of state, following the resignation of William Jennings Bryan, June 9, 1915.

While the United States was passing through one of the stormiest periods of her diplomatic career, Mr. Lansing was counselor of the state department and was frequently consulted by the president and Mr. Bryan on points of international law relative to the submarine policy of the imperial German government.

The tense diplomatic relations existing between the American government and Germany were brought to the breaking point when Mr. Bryan refused to sign the note of protest which the German government demanded for the ratification of the peace treaty and did not approve of the league of nations. OPEN OPINION

"To 'Liberty Lover,' Care Cisco Morning News.

"Dear Sir:—Your letter addressed to the 'Pastor of the Baptist Church' has been left at our office and can be delivered to the pastor when he arrives in the city. I note the address of the writer on the face side of the letter, and direct this letter to the address thereon given. I take it that your letter was not written by you but by your secretary, since the name of the denomination written on the envelope is 'It reads 'Baptist.' No doubt your secretary has never learned how to spell; and yet it is hardly conceivable that any person who has ever attended school, even through the fifth grade would not know how to spell the word which you instructed your secretary to place upon the envelope containing your letter, evidently intended for the pastor of the Baptist Church. Or it may be your secretary has never attended school, but by mixing with refined people has managed to learn how to write 'print letters' to some extent and to spell even fairly well. Yet—pardon the suggestion—it would be a good idea for you to scrutinize the addresses of letters of special import before allowing them to be mailed.

"You see the pastor of the Baptist church, elected not long since, has never visited Cisco; but will do so very soon—it may be next Sunday. Say, shall I forward your letter to his address at Paris, Texas, where he has lived for the past 12 years? Or shall I hand it to him when he arrives? Or shall I return the letter to you, that you may correct the spelling on the envelope? Or will you call at our office and make the correction? Or would you have me make the correction?"

"Of course, though, the envelope would not look good with erasures and interlineations upon it. Really the letter being left at our office has created an embarrassing situation. If we should pigeon-hole it it might be forgotten and fail to reach the pastor on his arrival—no doubt it might be forgotten and fail to reach the pastor on his arrival—no doubt it contains matter of great import, even something the new preacher ought to know before he gives the church his final answer as to whether he will accept the call to the pastoral care of the church here. But if the letter should be allowed to remain on the desk in the office with the address exposed, the bad spelling excite criticism, and any friend of yours would be deeply pained that you had been victimized by an illiterate secretary. But if the face side of the envelope were exposed, a friend of yours seeing your name thereon, would turn the letter over and be the more deeply pained at the sad plight of the super-scription.

Unless otherwise instructed, it may be well for me to hand your letter to the pastor when he comes. No doubt it like many other letters which he will find awaiting him, contains words of welcome—telling him what a genuine pleasure it would afford you, should he see fit to accept the call to the church here. Then when he comes you could explain to him how you had been 'worked' by an ignorant secretary. "Yours truly, "OLIVER SCYTHE Secty."

SPECIAL RANGERS TO TRACE AUTOS ARE RECOMMENDED

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 6.—The recent meeting here of the executive committee of the Texas Law Enforcement association adjourned without definite action to await decision of the attorney general upon recommendations of the committee submitted to the governor.

The committee recommended the organization of a special company of rangers to enforce traffic and automobile registration laws and creation of a special department in the state highway commission to trace stolen motor cars.

A sub-committee appointed to request an opinion on the proposal from the attorney general reported back to the main committee, that it had been given an unofficial opinion that rangers should not be appointed to enforce special laws, but that the governor has power to enlarge the ranger force in cases of emergency, and that the adjutant general may direct activities of the rangers as he sees fit.

The attorney general's department requested additional time to prepare an official opinion on the recommendation.

The executive committee of the law enforcement organization voted to endorse a bill pending in congress proposing the establishment of federal automobile registration bureaus and a federal "clearing house" and theft bureau for the identification of stolen cars.

The committee also went on record as favoring state legislation to make the suspended sentence act less lenient, to increase the bond required in automobile theft cases, to make possession of an automobile with a defaced or mutilated engine prima facie evidence that the car has been stolen, and to place licensing of automobiles in the hands of law enforcement officers, instead of leaving that duty to tax collectors as at present.

The association, through its executive committee, issued a warning to all persons not to purchase automobiles without "satisfying themselves that the car had not been stolen and to require the original bill of sale.

Helen Keller, Famous Blind Woman, Wins Vaudeville Audiences With Personality; Eyes Deceptive to Most Stage Gazers

NEW YORK, Mar. 6. (Special)—For exemplification of the power of the human mind over material obstacles the incidents cited, and theories expressed by Sir Oliver Lodge and other scientists and psychics, seem to be mere piquant farce compared with the demonstration of Miss Helen Keller on the vaudeville stage.

Many of the lecturers have audiences that go to a lecture to hear their own theories encouraged. That makes it easy for the lecturer.

Helen Keller, making up in her dressing room.

cently, after a clever act of what is termed "sidewalk patter" was finished and applauded, the electric program announced "Miss Helen Keller."

Probably every one in the audience had heard, some time or other of Helen Keller, blind, deaf and dumb from the age of 19 months, who after battling with the impossible for years, has learned to speak. But it was only a dim, far off story, read in magazines or newspapers, years ago. When Helen Keller was eight, the fact that she was was blind, although she has large, bright blue eyes, which have the deceptive appearance of being unusually strong and clear. It was Helen Keller, a vigorous, healthy looking woman. Her companion, Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, who has been her friend and teacher since Miss Keller's childhood, explained the difficulty in teaching her to speak and the patience, cleverness and will power and faith displayed by Miss Keller, which really seems almost supernatural.

Unable to hear the voices of others, Miss Keller learned to talk by feeling of the throats and lips of others, and after years of effort, mastered by this mechanical toil what others have as a divine gift, easy as breathing.

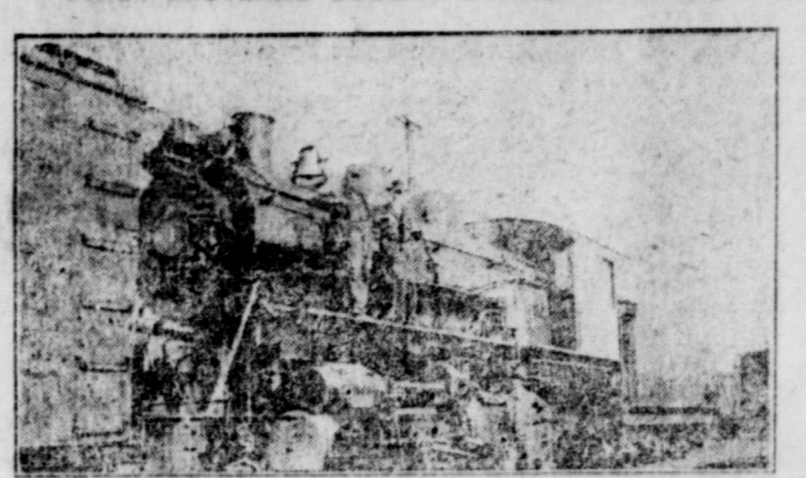

Such intensity of interest has rarely been seen in the theater as shown by those audiences last week in the big vaudeville theater. The difficulties conquered and the intense human striving of this woman seem to strike the audience in a great wave of sympathy. For a few moments they were perplexed by her strange, carefully articulated manner of speaking, but this, too, only added to the realization of Miss Keller's triumph. Then the beholders saw that before them was a woman who seemed supremely happy, and that added to the wonder. But she has been on the stage two minutes. Helen Keller has conquered again, and the Monday afternoon audience at the Palace, one of the most critical and opinionical in the world, was hers.

Miss Keller's talk is, of course, slow and difficult, but it does not seem to tire her to talk. Indeed, she gives the impression of great vitality. She recently had been appearing on the lecture platform but the theater is vastly different and seemed to provide her with much mental stimulation. In her happiness Miss Keller displayed a pretty wit and in reply to some question asked by the audience "game back" several times with a quickness and good humor that the keenest of experienced monologists might well have envied. The girl, who though deaf and blind, took the regular course in Radcliffe college, starting at the age of 19, was smart enough to get the idea of vaudeville before she started in it.

FIRST EASTLAND COUNTY OWNED LOCOMOTIVE FOR FIRST EASTLAND COUNTY-OWNED RAILROAD LINE

The picture shows Walter C. Downing, former secretary of the Cisco chamber of commerce, on the running board of the first engine to arrive here from the Schenectady branch of the American Locomotive works, for the Cisco & Northeastern railroad. At Downing's right is a road hardened guardian of moguls who for 30 years, he told Downing, has done nothing but deliver locomotives. The picture was taken by Charles M. Gibson, local architect, while the engine, that bids fair to make history for Eastland county, stood in the yards of the Texas & Pacific before being placed upon C. & N. rails.

GISCO AND EASTLAND JOINED FOR A DANCE

Eastland came to Cisco to dance Friday night. It was a glorious affair up at the Elks' hall, with about 25 couples from the city to the east in attendance and also some many more local folks and their ladies.

Jack Gardner played his second night stand and put as much pep and jazz into his music as though he had just come back from a vacation. The orchestra played about six dances during the evening—one hour each on an average. They wouldn't let them quit. Coffee and sandwiches were served at midnight and the dance continued until shortly thereafter. The floor was just conveniently filled, with a few along the side lines.

High Bidder Got Cheated.

Although Smythe was permitted to kiss Miss Garrett's hand only, he maintained even that privilege was "worth the money."

AMERICANS SWARM INTO COPENHAGEN AFTER RUSS TRADE

COPENHAGEN, Mar. 6.—Representatives of American commercial interests and those of other countries are gathering in Copenhagen and Stockholm as well as in Baltic ports, attracted by the lure of trade with Russia. They think the day is near when the Russian markets will be opened to the world.

As there is scarcely a commodity that Russia doesn't need, the demand for every kind of manufactured article, from hairpins to locomotives, will be prodigious. In the opinion of business men with whom the correspondent has talked, it will take years to satisfy Russia's needs. Owing to Russia's financial and credit conditions and the fact that the people are represented by a government with which the allies say they will have nothing to do, the difficulties of dealing with that country would appear great.

But trade experts in the Baltic states do not regard the situation as hopeless. In Finland a committee of business men has just been formed to study the question with the object of hitting upon a possible basis of trade.

It is generally believed that when trading with Russia is resumed it will be along the primitive lines of barter. Russia is known to have on hand immense quantities of hides and furs which she wants to swap for food stuffs, raw materials and manufactured goods.

Estonia has an ambitious program, headed by the proposed Riga-Moscow railway, to become the world's gateway for Russian trade. It hopes also to set up factories to manufacture many of the articles Russia requires. Before the war manufacturing plants in Latvia and Estonia employed the best of Russia's skilled labor for working up imported raw materials.

The memorials recently were distributed throughout the country by the American Legion.

Only fourteen legion posts in the country are shown as having received more memorials for distribution than the John W. Low Post of Dallas.

BUSINESS LURES BY WOMEN OFTEN USED

From London Mail.
A man of my acquaintance is making quite a nice income by running several "little shops" for the sale of hats, blouses and clothing and fashions generally.

You know the sort of shop?—vieux rose or orchid mauve curtains inside the windows with trifles of crepe de chine and georgette displayed on two-guinea cushions, interspersed with turbans on sticks, and some fanciful name lettered across the window or above it.

This particular man has several such "trade names" though no outsider connects him with the charming women who sell the charming wares. He owns the shops in question, finances and supervises all the business transactions, but his position is as shadowy as it is substantial. To all intents and purposes, the shops are run by women, and their turnover is probably much greater because of this little misunderstanding on the part of the buying public.

The lure of the woman in connection with business is forceful and productive of trade, and is "worked" to a far greater extent than most people imagine. In this respect things have changed very much during the last few years. A house agent tells me that whereas it used to be regarded as a speculative matter to let premises for a business under a woman's name, today success is considered even more assured for a shop run by a woman—in truth or in appearance—than for a business which is unquestionably masculine.

There is a grocery store in a busy suburb which hardly paid its way up to the time a clever man bought it, four or five years ago. Very few know that it belongs to a man—most people think it is the property of the two discreet women in charge, and you often hear remarks from those who "like to support the Misses X, because they are so nice and obliging and so clever to run the shop all alone."

They are good business women, of course, but the chances are that they would fall without the controlling power of the man behind. They are among the "luring ladies" who can manage finely but who could not stand so well alone.

Light luncheon shops and tearooms are regarded as being mostly a woman's job, and it would astonish some folk if they knew how many of such shops are owned by men. Women work the shops, but do not own them in such cases; they draw salaries and commission but carry no personal monetary responsibility. One experienced woman who advertised for a tea-shop partnership was approached by three business men with offers on such lines—the one asked for result of one small advertisement.

It is fairly certain that many women make a much better job of a business in which they are free from direct responsibility, than when they hold all the reins in their own hands. Moreover, many women have the experience and ability without having the cash to embark on personal ventures, and to such this form of pseudo-proprietorship is a godsend.

One woman who has tried both ways says that she is happier and actually better off financially as a "man's manager" in a business which most folks think is her very own, than if she was in a concern which really was her property.

CASHING IN W. S. STAMPS.

Texas People Withdrawing Loan to U. S. $150,000 Weekly.
AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—An average of $150,000 worth of war savings stamps are being cashed by holders in Texas each week, according to information obtained at the Austin postoffice, through which all this business passes. This is much below the rate a few months ago, said C. E. Huddleston, assistant postmaster. Then an average of $50,000 a day was maintained.

The postoffice of Texas are planning to launch a campaign to stimulate the sale of stamps of this year's issue, and they hope to more than counteract the cashing in totals.

REFUSE PASSPORTS TO REDS.

DALLAS, Mar. 6.—Anarchists, bolsheviks and other agitators will be refused passports to enter Mexico, according to L. R. Sanchez, inspector of Mexican consulates, with headquarters here. He announced receipt of the following circular letter from his foreign minister at Mexico City:
"You are hereby directed to refuse the issuance or visa of passports to all persons, with the exception of Mexican citizens, who intend to enter Mexican territory, when such persons profess dissolvent principles or are anarchists, social agitators or harmful elements of any kind."

POWERFUL MOTOR CAR COMBINE WILL SOON BE FORMED.

Biggest Car-Manufacturers May Be Expected to Get Together.

Colliers Weekly.
The forming of a powerful oligarchy, at any rate, the domination of the motor car world by a few enormous combinations of financial Goliaths, is certain.

Already several names stand out conspicuously in this connection. The huge General Motors, headed by W. C. Durant, is gaining power, size and prestige by the hour. John N. Willys seems to add strength daily to his already enormous resources in the Willys-Overland company, the new Willys corporation and the still more recent connection with the Republic Truck company. Charles W. Nash, one of the greatest organizing geniuses in the motor car world, formerly president of General Motors, not content with the gigantic plant at Kenosha, Wis., where the Nash cars and trucks are brought into the world and the new factory at Milwaukee, built to produce the new Nash four, has started expanding in another direction by becoming president of the newly formed LaFayette Motors company at Indianapolis.

Then there are the DuPont interests. Their advent into the actual motor car field was signalled by the appearance of the first DuPont car at the New York show. Rollis-Royce, with its completed plans for a great American plant capitalized at 7 million dollars also may be a factor.

And what of Henry Ford? Not long ago he bought out his partners and today the big mill is controlled entirely by Mr. Ford and his son, Edsel. It is doubtful if he would enter any combination unless forced to. And it is doubtful if anything is going to force him to, unless the only car which seems to be encroaching on Ford's field, the new Overland four, proves a thorn in his side.

DEATH CHEATED THE LAW.

Three Arrested for Murder of Ranger, Ole Natural Deaths.

SHOWVILLE, Mar. 6.—Death has stayed the progress of law connection with the indictment of three brothers for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Frank Martin, a former Texas Ranger, at Xocles, in 1917. A fourth person, named similar indictment, Tiburcio Gonzalez, still is under arrest and will be tried alone.

Jesus and Juan-Guerrero died of pneumonia, shortly after the former had been released from jail on habeas corpus proceedings recently, 10 days separating their deaths. A brother previously had been killed in Mexico.

CISCO AND THE OIL FUND

How City Has Grown in 18 Months as Told by Walter Downing in Encyclopedia for Texas.

In response to a request from the Texas Development bureau at Dallas, which is compiling an encyclopedia of Texas, for an article concerning Cisco, Walter Downing, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, has submitted the following:

Eighteen short months ago 3,500 people comprising the citizenship of Cisco, Texas, were struggling along in an effort to exist during an extended drought when, like a bolt out of the clear blue, came oil.

The trading in leases took the place of regular business, making Cisco of Cisco rich who had never dreamed of prosperity except in terms of a few dollars per day.

The oil field trail blazers came, immediately drills were put in action and oil gushed from the earth as if by magic, resulting in the greatest oil field being uncovered which has been known.

Today, Cisco fig a herself with ten thousand live bustling boosters whose slogan is "Cheer The Queen City of the North Central Oil Field." When oil was found in Eastland county, Cisco already had a modern water works and sewer system with an adequate supply of water for all purposes for a city of twenty-five thousand people. Additional water and sewer lines are being laid as rapidly as possible in order to keep up with the enormous demand of the many new citizens arriving daily.

Located on the main line of the T. & P. and the M. & T. railroads, with a third, the Cisco & Northeastern now building, with an altitude of 1710 feet and with the best school system between Fort Worth and El Paso, Cisco is securing the best element of the oil interest who insist on obtaining all of the comforts of life and the every best school facilities for their children.

Conservative oil operators estimate ten years as the time required to develop the Eastland county oil field, and on this basis Cisco by that time will unquestionably be the possessor of 100,000 population.

DEATH GREATLY EXAGGERATED

Negro, Sent to Morgue, Objected to Undertaker Taking Liberties.

DALLAS, Mar. 6.—It was short after midnight, the body of a negro, stretched out on a slab preparatory to embalming, slowly raised to a sitting position. Then "it" spoke:

"Man, I'm cold. Give me mah clo'hes!"

One minute later the city emergency hospital saw this call from the undrinking establishment:

"Rush the ambulance over here. There's a dead man come to life, and if you don't hurry here quick, all my help will be gone."

The ambulance surgeon found that Dan Clay, 48 years old, pronounced dead of influenza and taken to the preparations, had "come to life" after reclining on a marble slab for two hours.

SALARY DOES NOT WORRY HIM NOW

Bob Harmon Is Said to Have Made a Fortune in Oil Game.

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 6.—Walter Schmidt, veteran oil broker, says that Bob Harmon, who pitched in the National league for many years, has made a fortune out of oil. Both Harmon and Robert Colver, invested in oil properties and both are now independently wealthy.

"Harmon still belongs to the Pirates," informed Schmidt. "And Bob recently wrote to Deeyicks that he would come up and pitch a game or two for him this summer without compensation just to show that he can still put a winning ball."

The total annual income of weekly wage earners in Texas is $100 million more than in the rest of the country.

COLD WATER BEST FOR CLEANING CAR BODY

The engine of a car can be mistreated frequently before it begins to complain, but the finish can be mistreated once or twice—then there is no finish left to mistreat. The lack of washing and the essential knowledge of not knowing how to wash a car will go far toward ruining the appearance. The varnish of a new car is benefited and hardened by washing with clear, cold water, but mud that is allowed to dry upon the body takes the oil from the varnish and leaves the finish mottled and streaky. Dirt is not the only enemy, to grasses from the garage and even the atmosphere of some towns attack the finish of the car that is not frequently washed.

Begin by cleaning the top. Take a good stiff brush and remove the dust, then either sponge it or use a soft cloth with warm water and pure soap. A chamomile kept especially for the purpose will tend to harden the riding, and the top must not be polished until it is thoroughly dry.

The upholstery of cloth is best cleaned by sponging with water containing a little salt and alcohol. If of leather, a woolen cloth dipped in clear water to which a few drops of ammonia has been added is best.

In cleaning the body be sure to remove the mottles of the hose and flow the water over every part of the body. This will serve to wash off most of the dirt and also loosen the mud. In cases where the car is very dirty it is best to do this and let it stand for a few minutes before going over again with the hose. Then take a soft sponge and follow the hose over every part of the body. This will serve to wash off most of the dirt and also loosen the mud. In cases where the car is very dirty it is best to do this and let it stand for a few minutes before going over again with the hose. Then take a soft sponge and follow the hose over every part of the body. This will serve to wash off most of the dirt and also loosen the mud.

The road oil and grease that collect on the running gear require different methods of removal and also other tools. Special brushes will get in the grease in inaccessible corners. In the case of the wheel hubs care should be used to prevent water and grit working into the bearings. The Chamomile used on the body should never be used on the running gear, a separate chamomile being kept for this purpose. A heavy accumulation should never be taken off by dusting. It should be made to flow with the hose.

FOREST CAMOUFLAGE FAILED.

Attempt to Dodge Immigration Laws Failed Through Artful Scheme.

EL PASO, Mar. 6.—The "forest camouflage" is the latest means of attempting to violate the immigration laws here, according to federal officials.

Remedios Telles is under $750 appearance bond charged with trying to work the "camouflage." According to the charge, Telles brought four aliens "not duly admitted by immigration officials" across the Rio Grande near El Paso and concealed them in bushes. Later, under cover of darkness, it is alleged, Telles "camouflaged" the aliens by binding tree branches to their backs, and smuggled them to a Texas ranch house. Here they were discovered by immigration officials.

PORTO RICO HOOKWORM A MENACE TO ISLAND

SAN JUAN, P. R., Mar. 6.—There is more hookworm in Porto Rico today than in any other country in the world, with the possible exceptions of India and Ceylon, according to Dr. Victor G. Heiser of the Rockefeller Foundation. Dr. Heiser has offered the co-operation of the Rockefeller Foundation to the government of Porto Rico and the commissioner of health in combating hookworm in the island.

"Hookworm is probably the most serious economic problem which Porto Rico faces today," said Dr. Heiser. "I have asked cane planters why they did not pay more wages and they said because the laborers could not earn it, and probably they are right."

Dr. A. Ruiz Soier, commissioner of health, said that probably the government would accept the offer of assistance from the Rockefeller Foundation and that a campaign against anemia would be undertaken. Dr. James B. Grant, also of the Rockefeller Foundation, who has been here for some weeks making an investigation of health conditions in the island, will remain for some time and will, with the co-operation of Dr. Soier, prepare a plan for attacking the hookworm problem.

Anemia, which during the Spanish rule was believed to be due mostly to malnutrition, now is attributed to a great extent to infection. It is believed that the disease was brought in with the early slaves and thus spread uncontrolled throughout the length and breadth of the island.

The government has spent altogether $27,000 in bringing relief to the unfortunate sufferers. A survey recently made by Dr. Grant shows that 90 per cent of the population in rural areas harbor hookworm infection. Even light infection with hookworm is said to cause mental retardation. Defective mentality thus produced renders the children incapable of assimilating instruction.

STATE DEPOSITORY ACT FINDING SET PRECEDENT

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 6.—In addition to upholding the constitutionality of the state depository act on February 25, the opinion, written by Justice J. W. Brady in the third court of civil appeals, in the case of H. S. Lawson vs. the state depository board, established what is declared to have been a precedent in Texas concerning injunctions against public officials, which, if upheld by the supreme court, will probably have considerable weight in future litigation of a similar nature.

In discussing Lawson's right to maintain a suit to enjoin the depository board from exercising duties delegated to it by law, Justice Brady said in part:

"From these decisions of our own courts (the quoted decisions) it seems also to be the recognized rule in this state that before a complainant may maintain a suit in equity against public officers, acting under color of authority, to restrain their action, he must show damages special to himself and different from those suffered by the public at large. This seems to be true whether such public officers are acting merely ultra vires or under void and unconstitutional laws.

"The plaintiffs' case here, instead of showing some injury peculiar to himself in the operation of the law sought to be nullified, shows a benefit. There is neither an actual or threatened loss to the state or him-

LONDON-COPENHAGEN LIMITED ADDED TO EUROPEAN AIR LINES

The plane which made the first trip; Mrs. Trygve Gran, at left, and Mrs. Steward Meisterling, Major Gran, with helmet, and Captain Meisterling.

The rapid strides European countries are making in aerial navigation, along passenger as well as commercial lines, is indicated by the recent inauguration of passenger service between London and Copenhagen. A giant Handley-Page plane made the first trip, piloted by an English and a Danish pilot. The wives of the two men were the passengers taken on the first trip.

PROHIBITION OFFICERS ARE ASSIGNED TO TEXAS

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—Clifford G. Beckham has assumed active duties as federal prohibition enforcement officer for Texas and has established headquarters at Austin.

Five inspectors will be assigned to Texas to work under Mr. Beckham. These inspectors and their headquarters include: Merris A. Moore, at Houston; Aubrey T. Stell, Texarkana; and Alley Bailey, Dallas. The other two have not been announced.

Mr. Beckham will issue all Texas federal permits for the purchase, transportation and prescribing of intoxicating liquors. He will also approve all applications for permits to use, sell and manufacture fixatives.

ADVOCATES SKYSCRAPERS AS A NEW FAD IN LONDON

LONDON, Feb. 16 (By Mail)—It is time that London grew up," declares the London Evening News, a new convert to the idea that it is time for London authorities to consider seriously whether taller buildings would not be an improvement on an ever widening ring of suburbs.

"Well built skyscraper flats and office buildings would be a boon to Londoners and there is no reason why we should not be as happy as them as New Yorkers are in theirs," adds the paper.

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—The parent-teachers' club and the student body of the Austin high school plan to erect a memorial tablet in honor of students of the school who served in the world war. The tablet, to be bronze, is to be placed upon a granite boulder near the pecan tree that was recently planted as a war memorial.

self alleged as a result of which any burden would be placed upon him, but his petition shows that a profit to the state would result, which would benefit plaintiff in decreased taxes, rather than burden him with increased taxation. ***

"The strong current of authority in this state, as well as elsewhere, sustaining the view announced, impels me to yield acquiescence to the decision (of the lower court) upholding the validity of the depository act. However, if it were an open question, I would consider that when a taxpayer and citizen seeks to enjoin the alleged misuse of power by public officials, through a void and unconstitutional law, equity should grant him relief from circumstances, even though he does not show an injury special to himself, or the invasion of some property right. I know no constitutional provision or statute which specifically makes it the duty of any officer or person to bring such a suit. In other words, there does not appear to be in Texas any general guardian of the public interests. If it might be assumed that the attorney general, by virtue of his great office as chief law officer of the state, may and should in proper cases assume that duty, it might well be replied in the instant case that the attorney general himself is made a member of the state depository board, and is not free to bring action."

AMERICAN MADE DYES HELP RESEARCH WORK

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 6.—Medical research libraries in this country, in their search for a tuberculosis specific or cure for any other disease, are no longer dependent upon German made dyes. "Made in America" dyes are now being used. They give us good results as did imported dyes used before the war.

This announcement was made to the Henry Phipps Institute where laboratory experiments developed that certain dyes localized themselves in tubercusis tissue. Efforts are being made to modify these dyes with other chemical agents that will kill the tuberculous germs.

Trypan red dyes have been found to give the best results. As many as modifications of this dye have been used in experimentation. Other red and some blues have also been used. The staining qualities act as a guide to the localization.

MARIE DORO TO SHOW IN FEATURE AT JUDIA

Over 900 feature pictures are made every year in the United States to supply the demand of 14,000 motion picture theaters. These theaters in turn cater to 8,000,000 people every day. To please them all is a gigantic problem. The management of the Judia theater in its efforts to get the very best feature possible for his patrons has had the good fortune to secure for two days beginning Monday, Marie Doro in "Twelve-Ten" in six reels, directed by Herbert Brenon.

Mr. Brenon, after having scored an enormous success with "Neptune's Daughter," "A Daughter of the Gods," "Empty Pockets," "War Brides," and "The Fall of the Romanoff's," determined to add another triumph to his career by going abroad and making pictures with a background of the historical spots of England and France. His first step was to secure a star who had by her work on the screen earned an unquestioned position in the very front rank. With the whole picture world to select from, he chose Marie Doro, who, before becoming identified with the screen, had been starred by Frohman and other famous theatrical producers. Mr. Brenon's next step was to secure a story that had every element of success. He picked a human document that had that quality of suspense that made it impossible for screen patrons to visualize the finish at the end of the first reel. The solving of the enigma gave to the story that grip that has made of mystery plays the dramatic vogue which has never been duplicated by any other kind of play or picture.

The presentation in this play of "Twelve-Ten" should disclose one of the most notable pictures of the current season.

Mary Is Marguerite.

If you go to see "A Girl Named Mary" at the Victory theater during the first part of next week, you'll discover that her real name is Marguerite. There's nothing confusing in that when you learn that Mary is just the name which dainty Marguerite Clark has in her new picture. It's all about a little girl's mother whose heart has been touched by the vain search of a rich lady for her only daughter who had disappeared several years before. What is her surprise to discover that she herself is the missing girl. Her first emotion is dismay, for she has been living for years with a lovable old lady whom she had always considered as her mother. But it all turns out happily.

Upright wrinkles between the eyes arise from worry and study, and will usually be seen on the faces of students.

WITH APOLOGIES TO "SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD," WE'D SAY THAT BATHING SUITS ARE FADING FAST AWAY

The evolution of the bathing suit.

Years ago the bathing suit for milady was a heavy dress-like affair that weighed about fourteen pounds when wet. Then came the tight skirt—quite daring. Followed the semi-form-fitting suit with shorter skirt and stockings, and the dress reformers got busy. Then the style fixers shortened the skirt and ruled out the stockings.

Then the legs were shortened a bit more. Mercy. And new milady wears a skimpy one-piece form-fitting suit, sans stockings and shoes.

ALL AMERICA WANTS REFINEMENT, DECLARES FRENCHMAN, PREPARING FOR TOURIST CROPS

Demand of Refinement Comes Not Only From Rich.

PARIS, Feb. 27 (By Mail)—The forthcoming tourist season is expected by France to have considerable effect toward ameliorating the unfavorable condition of French exchange on America. Nevertheless, the question of providing transportation and hotel accommodations here are causing some qualms, and hotel keepers generally are bewailing the limited means of bringing visitors to France.

Dal Piaz, director of the Transatlantic company, has expressed his opinion that the number of Americans desiring to visit France in the coming season will far surpass the transportation facilities, but that this will be relieved by the putting into service of passenger vessels now under construction, principally in England, before the French hotels have been organized to receive the expected influx of foreign visitors.

The warning that Americans "are terribly exacting" as regards comfort in hotels and as to their management, is given by Victor Cambon, an engineer who knows America well. He says: "It is not only the rich who desire refinement in hotels but all Americans." Mr. Cambon asserts that, outside of Paris and resorts like Vichy, Nice and Deauville, it is impossible to find five good hotels in all France, even if you take Lyons, Marseilles and Beaucaire included. "Ample," he adds, "do not want luxury; all they ask is perfect cleanliness, no funny smells, comfort and hygiene. Where can you find that among us? Nowhere is there very much of it, but everywhere there is one thing, our cooking. That is certainly much, but, frankly, it is not enough."

More than forty millions of tickets are issued each year by the automatic ticket machines on the underground railways of London.

ASYLUM CASE CARRIED TO FIFTY-THIRD COURT

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—Contest of the temporary injunction granted by Judge G. C. Calhoun in 3rd district court, to restrain the board of control from interfering with the board of managers of the southwest insane asylum in the discharge of their duties will be carried to the third court of civil appeals as soon as a transcript can be prepared, according to W. A. Keeling, assistant attorney general, who is representing interests of the control board.

Judge Calhoun did not hand down a written opinion in granting the injunction recently, and there is uncertainty in the minds of some officials as to whether the board of managers of other institutions, who resigned when the board of control act became effective may also secure a similar injunction under the decision. Judge Calhoun stated from the bench that he was deciding only the question concerning managers of the Southwestern asylum. At times in the case will not venture an opinion as to the possible result of the decision.

Attention of the attorney general's department to appeal directly to the civil courts, is expected, however, to bring about early settlement of the question.

FINE TIRE BUSINESS

Salesman's Wife Fined—Husband Tells Judge His Fine Tires Will Make Speeding Business Fine.

EL PASO, Mar. 6.—Justice of the law up to the minute demonstration of modern salesmanship. After finding a woman for "speeding," the justice received the following letter from the woman's husband, who is an automobile tire salesman:

"Dear Judge: The Amicus tells me we have $11.55 to make up some way. The best way I know of is to sell more tires.

"I therefore take this opportunity to ask you to remember—three next time you are needing any for your car.

"These tires, in addition to being long wearing, are speedy. Your business would be better if all the El Paso car owners used these tires. The officer who made the arrest uses them. We will let you judge by what he says."

"I'll use 'em if I need any," remarked Justice Wright, who does not own a car.

MADAGASCAR LIMA BEANS WILL SOON REACH STATES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Lima beans from Madagascar soon will be reaching the United States for consumption. Practically the entire exportable surplus, the American vice-consul at Tananarive has reported to government officials here will be shipped to the United States, as several American firms have had buyers on the markets there to pick up the entire crop, if possible. He reports the crop will amount to about 27,226,000 pounds.

To War on Rabbits. CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 6.—War on rabbits has been declared by the truck growers of Nueces county, as the little animals are making serious inroads into the winter cabbage crop being grown here. Recently rabbits destroyed four worth of cabbage in one field between twilight and dawn. The farmers report the rabbits to be in greater numbers this year than ever before and a serious menace to the vegetable crop.

Marie Doro —IN— Herbert Brenon's Supreme Production "Twelve-Ten" A mystery you cannot solve. MARIE DORO, the world's greatest star, charming, winsome and compelling in Herbert Brenon's masterpiece.

Today and Monday Today and Monday JUDIA Alice Brady in "The Fear Market" From the play by Amelie Rives (Princess Troubetzkoy), Directed by Kenneth Webb REALART PICTURES SHE was young, she had been brought up in the most exclusive circles of New York's beautifully gowned self-satisfied society. A summer in Italy, soft Mediterranean skies and the softer voice of a famous opera tenor; allowing herself to be carried away by the ardent and persistent love-making of the singer, Sylvia rashly consented to elope with him. But the marriage he proposed was repulsive to her. She escaped and returned to New York only to become involved in the meshes of a net, woven by her own father who unknown to her was the owner of the scandal sheet, "Town Tattle." Alice Brady plays the part of a New York society girl with the charm, grace and drama for which she is famous. The ending is a dramatic and pleasant surprise. Today and Monday JUDIA THEATRE Today and Monday ADDED: A Mack Sennet Comedy. One of Sennet's New Ones, "UP IN ALF'S PLACE." IN THE ANNEX ROBERT WARWICK, IN "ADVENTURE IN HEARTS"—TO-DAY AND MONDAY.

THE FEAR MARKET' IS ALICE BRADY'S LATEST

rarely, if ever, does one see on the screen the combination of a strong, virile story, acting of a calibre fine as to call it exceptional, and mes and sets that blend beautifully with the action of the story and the characters portrayed by the actors. In 'The Fear Market,' an adaptation of a story by the same name written by Agnes Tregubetzky, and which was made with the speaking stage four years ago, with Edmund Breece and Sidney Hill in the principal roles, scoring a remarkable success, and which is now presented on the screen of the Judia theater, this trinity is found. The story unfolds, the spectator transported to sunny Italy, the land of sweet music, poetry, and dreams. It tells the balladness of the air, the fragrance of the flowers, and the wonderful voice of the famous Italian tenor Forni, and becomes more of it and him as does Sylvia (Alice Brady). Following the fortunes of Sylvia Stone through the beautiful Italian gardens to the village inn where Forni, after wooing her most ardently, induces her to elope with him, she forgets everything but what she beholds and seem to tread the path of life with the heroine, Alice Brady, and the evil eye! A feeling of gladness is evoked in one's breast when Sylvia Stone informs Forni, when she realizes that his intentions are not honest, that she is possessed of the evil eye, working on his superstitious nature and makes her escape. It all seems so real—the self-delusion of Mrs. Hill, Sylvia's friend and confidant, who is blackmailed for $500 by a society scandal sheet, which she could not pay; and seeing in the story of her innocent escape and knowing that her husband had seen it, her leaving a note for Sylvia explaining the reason for the act, Sylvia's determination to avenge the death of her friend by discovering the unknown editor of the scandal sheet, and bringing him to justice. Sylvia's trip to America, her father, Oliver Stone, Oliver Ellis, millionaire owner of the Morning Post, the cooperative daily of the East, the attack by Ellis in the columns of his paper on the unknown editor of the scandal sheet, Madcap Milly, Ellis' sister Carson, the villain—all the characters so realistically enacted hold one bound. And when the unknown editor is discovered and proves to be Sylvia's own father, the emotional act of Miss Brady is called into full play—suppressed, tense, emotions which carries conviction of genuineness. 'The Fear Market' is a motion picture drama of a different kind because of the symphonic harmony of the story, the settings, and is so big and broad scope that it appeals from many angles. This picture is shown at the Judia theater Monday.

DENIES HE IS HIMSELF

Man Arrested in Juarez, Mexico, and Charged With Swindling Claims Parents Are Wealthy French.

JUAREZ, Mex., Mar. 6.—A man held in jail here as "Alfred Rochill," charged with swindling, declares he is not the man wanted, identifies himself as "Max Freeman," and admits at the same time that he is withholding his correct name. The prisoner, whose case recently was given considerable publicity in Mexico, declares he is an exile from his European home as a result of youthful indiscretions at Monte Carlo where he says he signed his father's name to papers for a large sum of money he lost in gambling. "Police here declare, on the other hand, that he is Alfred Rochill, a Cuban of German descent, wanted in Mexico City on a charge of defrauding Calixter Stefanni, an Italian out of 20,000 pesos. Officers here say the man recently was deported to Mexico from the United States. The arrest of Rochill was ordered by Raoul Garate, chief of police of Mexico City. The description of the man wanted is said by police here to tally with that of "Freeman," except to the finger prints. It is alleged that through his ability as a "prestidigitator" Rochill has carried on systematic swindling operations in Mexico. Professing his ability in multiplying any sum of money by ten, through the art of jugglery, it is alleged the man frequently secured large sums and then disappeared. "I am not the Alfred Rochill reported in newspapers to have been arrested here in connection with swindling an Italian in Mexico," the man declares. "I never heard of Rochill or Stefanni until I read the story in newspapers. "I am not Max Freeman, either; that is not my real name. Out of respect for my father I do not divulge that. My father is a wealthy Polish banker and my mother is French. They live in Paris most of the time. "Freeman" says he went to Monte Carlo when 15 years of age and lost a large sum, which his father eventually paid. Since that time the man says he has travelled all over the world. He gives his age now as 25.

COURT CONTEMPT CRIMINAL INSTEAD OF CIVIL, RULING

AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 6.—Contempt of court has a civil instead of a criminal nature, even though the contempt arises from violation of an injunction issued to restrain a defendant from criminal action. So decided the court of criminal appeals recently in dismissing application for writ of habeas corpus made by ex-parte Lucile Houston of Bear county. She had been fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail for alleged violation of an injunction restraining her from permitting illegal use of premises she controlled. The criminal appeals court held it had no jurisdiction and that relator must seek remedy in the supreme court. Several previous opinions by both the supreme court and the court of criminal appeals were cited to support the decision.

Home For University Head.

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—A residence situated near the campus has been bought by the University of Texas for $17,000 and will be used as the residence of the president of the institution. Twelve lots of land adjoining the athletic field also was bought at a cost of $14,500. The use to which this property will be put has not been announced. Several days prior the university bought another nearby residence which is being used as a girl's dormitory for $32,500.

CONFEDERATE WAR WIDOWS ARE ENTITLED TO PENSION

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—Widows of Confederate soldiers who were married prior to January 1, 1890, are entitled to a pension provided they meet other requirements of the pension law, despite the fact that the last pension regulating act declares that the marriage must have occurred prior to March 1, 1889, according to an opinion by the attorney general. The date—January 1, 1890—is fixed by the constitution, the opinion declared, and the section of the new act seeking to change the date is inoperative and void. London has 563 theaters, music halls and motion picture houses.

NOW COMES CHINK IN MOTION PICTURE GAME

The Morning Bell Theatrical Society Plans An Invasion Into Flicker World—All Chinese Actors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Mar. 6.—The Morning Bell Theatrical society of San Francisco, a Chinese dramatic and educational organization, plans to enter the motion picture field soon, according to its officials. This would mean its theatrical activities, which are now limited to a "season" of about one week each year, when a series of modern dramatizations of ancient Chinese legends are presented. The proceeds from these performances go to the maintenance of the Morning Bell Chinese school—a free night institution for Chinese children who attend American public schools in the city. Special teachers are brought from the Far East to impart to them the language, customs and traditions of China. The Morning Bell playhouse is hidden away in the heart of San Francisco's Chinatown in Hangah street, a blind alley so small and insignificant that it is not mentioned in the city directory. The actor's lines are in Chinese; their gait that of their native land. Most of the music is produced in Chinese instruments, although during the recent "season" the audience was entertained between acts by selections of American popular music, played on an accordion. The audience is drawn from all portions of San Francisco's large Chinatown; the bejeweled wives of wealthy silk, tea and curio merchants sit near the wives of laborers; and bankers mingle with coolies.

HEARSAY EVIDENCE FAILED.

State Board of Education Passed on Right to Attend School.

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—The state board of education was recently called upon to decide whether a local school board was correct in debarring certain children from white schools upon the allegation that they had negro blood in their veins. Considerable testimony to the effect that the great grandmother of a number of children was a negro was offered, but the board held that this testimony was all hearsay and that the children were entitled to admission to the schools. Reports reaching Austin were that there was strong local feeling in the matter. Eight of the children involved were brought before the educational board. They were fair skinned, had straight hair, clear eyes and Caucasian features.

Announcing A Theater Policy

THE MOTION PICTURE is and has been for some time, the Great American Institution. Cisco has a vast population of lovers of the film theatre, and to those who want and demand the best, the management of the JUDIA will appeal. The best productions in the market are bought for the JUDIA. Every picture the great producers offer, the JUDIA is in the market for, and those that especially appeal to the class of patrons who attend the JUDIA are immediately contracted.

- FEATURE ATTRACTIONS AND SUPER-PRODUCTIONS We recommend as an example of the class of pictures to be shown at the JUDIA: METRO CLASSICS— May Allison in "The Walk-Offs" Alice Lake in "Should a Woman Tell?" Bert Lytell in "Right-of-Way" (from Sir Gilbert Parker's book) All-Star Cast in "Best of Luck" PARAMOUNT-ARTCRAFT ATTRACTIONS— Vivian Martin in "The Third Kiss" Enid Bennett in "Stepping Out"

- Chas. Ray in "Egg Crate Wallop" Robt. Warwick in "In Missouri" Ethel Clayton in "More Deadly Than the Male" BIG SUPER-PRODUCTIONS— Rex Beach's "Girl From Outside" Basil King's "Street Called Straight" Henry Savage's famous "EVERYWOMAN" (to be shown for three days, that everyone in Cisco may see it) Allan Dwan's Special "Luck of the Irish" Thos. Ince's personally supervised special, "Behind the Door" The famous feature of New York's life, featuring Mae Murray in "On With the Dance" (by Hugh Fitzmaurice) McLean and May in "23 1-2 Hours' Leave"—one of the truly big pictures of the season Nazimova in "The Heart of a Child" All-Star Cast in "Why Change Your Wife"—(procured at a higher rental than ever paid for Cisco presentation heretofore)

Manager Davis' personal announcement to the Cisco public: THE PRESENT OWNERS OF THE JUDIA THEATRE HAVE COME TO CISCO FOR PURELY BUSINESS REASONS; REASONS, HOWEVER, THAT BENEFIT THE WHOLE, AS WELL AS THE INDIVIDUAL. AS FAR BACK AS LAST JULY MANAGER DAVIS OPENED NEGOTIATIONS WITH MR. JUDIA WITH A VIEW OF BUYING THIS THEATRE. AFTER MONTHS OF NEGOTIATIONS—WATCHING CISCO AND ITS PROGRESS, ALL THIS TIME—THE INTERESTS REPRESENTED FINANCIALLY BECAME CONVINCED THAT CISCO HAD "ARRIVED"—WITH THE RESULT THAT THE THEATRE WAS TAKEN OVER A FEW DAYS AGO. WHILE THE THEATRE NAME WILL BE RETAINED, THE GENERAL MANAGEMENT AND THEATRE POLICY WILL BE ALONG DIFFERENT LINES. NO VAUDEVILLE OR THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS WILL BE BOOKED FOR THE JUDIA, BUT THE VERY CREAM OF BIG SUPER ATTRACTIONS IN MOVING PICTURES WILL BE THE RULE, RATHER THAN THE EXCEPTION. WE POINT WITH JUST PRIDE TO THE REALLY BIG PICTURES MENTIONED ELSEWHERE IN THIS SPACE, SOME OF WHICH HAVE HERETOFORE BEEN HELD UP ON ACCOUNT OF THE ENORMOUS PRICE DEMANDED FOR THEM. AND, LASTLY, LET IT BE KNOWN THAT IN THE PUBLIC PRESS—IN OUR ADVERTISEMENTS—WE WILL ONLY RECOMMEND THOSE PRODUCTIONS THAT JUSTIFY BROAD STATEMENTS AS TO THEIR MERIT, THAT WE MAY WARRANT YOUR CONFIDENCE. WE ARE HERE TO BE A PART OF YOUR CISCO, WHICH SHOULD SHORTLY BE OUR CISCO, AS WELL—AND WE WELCOME YOU TO "THE HOME OF REFINED ENTERTAINMENT." F. K. DAVIS.

BRITISH ADRIATIC EXPEDITION LEADER HAD THRILLING EXPERIENCE IN DEEP ICE CREVICE

Hung Three Hours Over Bottomless Pit, Ice Walled.

LONDON, Feb. 18 (By Mail)—John L. Cope, leader of the British Antarctic expedition, which is setting out in June in the course of a lecture told the following story of a thrilling experience he had while a member of the Shackleton expedition, marooned on Ross island, in 1916.

"While leading three men over a dangerous glacier, I failed to notice a crevice which was almost covered with snow. Suddenly I felt the snow give way beneath my feet, and fell headlong. Happily my comrades saw me disappear and promptly started to pull on the sledge ropes.

"These held, and I found myself suspended over a bottomless pit. I was about 20 feet down, and was being held by the sledge harness, which was caught my chest and shoulders. I dangled helplessly.

"About 10 feet below my feet, the opening suddenly widened until I could not see the sides of the crevasse. These columns of ice, many of them of the weirdest shape, were sticking out, some blue in color, others of a whitish pink tinge.

"I tried to look down, but below me, as far as I could see, there was nothing but ice and darkness. Now and again the roar of ice falling down the sides of the crevasse reached me, sounding like distant thunder.

"After what seemed hours of waiting, I heard a voice calling me from above, and looking up saw the face of one of the men of my party. 'Are you all right?' he asked, peering over the edge of the crevasse.

"Yes," I replied, but I cannot get up. I'm hung here. 'Hang on then,' he shouted, 'we'll make a rope ladder.' And while I continued hanging there, the two men on the ice above set to work to make the ladder.

"While I was thus suspended my mitts fell from my hands, and very soon I was half frozen. I watched the pits falling, glancing off columns of ice, till they disappeared from sight. At last the ladder was lowered down, but my hands were so frozen that I could feel nothing.

"I swung about till my feet touched the rope, and I caught hold of it. But my sense of touch was gone, and I had to look to see if I was clutching the rope before I dared trust myself to start climbing.

"Swinging backwards and forwards over the pit, I climbed higher and higher, and, as I neared the top, the harness which had held me up fell from my shoulders. If I slipped, nothing could save me from being dashed to pieces on the ice.

"I shouted to the men, asking them to lower the harness to reach me, for I was so cold that I could not climb further, and my legs would not stretch far enough to reach the rungs of the ladder.

"They lowered the loop of my harness till I was able to push my legs through it, and half sitting on this, and gripping the rope ladder, I was literally hauled over that bottomless pit for three and a half hours."

PREACHER WENT TO DANCE, MADE JAZZ LOSE FLAVOR

PHOENIX, Ind., Mar. 6.—The "town wag" mailed an invitation to the Rev. Edward Roeder to attend a "select dance" at Clay City recently. The minister caused a sensation by accepting, and, including in the program much more than was expected.

Accompanied by his wife, the Rev. Mr. Roeder paid his dollar entrance fee and passed into the dance hall. He then attacked dancing and after his address had been read, he would offer prayer for the "sinners" if they would kneel. Several did kneel and the minister prayed.

Following the prayer, the Rev. Mr. Roeder gave the dancers another short sermon and declared it an insult to send a minister an invitation to a dance. After the service the dance went on, but it was abandoned, soon with the customary excitement.

A Fire of Honor, Only $10.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Mar. 6.—Postman Howard Sinton came into the police station here with a small pig and a gallon jug of brandy under one arm and with the other he was holding Al Roeder, a member.

Roeder had been trying to sell the pig for $10 and as a premium had offered to include the jug of "home brew" Sinton said.

German to South Texas?

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 6.—A copy of 500 to 1000 families from Germany is anxious to emigrate to south Texas, according to a letter to a local newspaper from George C. Felsch, dated at Norderweiss, Saxony, Germ. He requested detailed information concerning this section of the United States.

"Millions of people will have to leave here," said the letter. "Those wishing to go to Texas are all good men, who wish for a peaceable life in the states."

BUSINESS BETTER IN MEXICO, SAYS BANKER

BUT PREJUDICE AGAINST AMERICAN GOODS CONTINUE—OPPORTUNITY FOR BUSINESS MEN OF THE UNITED STATES.

BUYING FROM GERMANY

"Americans should extend short time credit to Mexican business men. Such risks are very good on large firms. Salesmen sent into the southern region should not only be able to speak the Spanish language, but they should be men who understand the Mexican people. The right man can get business."

EL PASO, Mar. 6.—Business conditions in Mexico are slightly improved, and industry is moving forward nicely, according to Edgar W. Kayser, El Paso banker. He attended the mid-February trade conference in the Mexican national capital, called by the American chamber of commerce in Mexico City.

Some Mexican industries are suffering from lack of raw material. Mr. Kayser said, adding that American trade should be found a "reasonable prejudice" against American-made goods, but not against the people of the United States.

"England, France and other European nations are going after the business in Mexico and we will have to hustle to get our share," Mr. Kayser continued. "I talk of to one crockery merchant in Guadalajara, who said he had a supply of goods coming from Germany."

"Americans should extend short term credit to Mexican business men. Such risks are very good on large firms. Salesmen sent into the southern region should not only be able to speak the Spanish language, but they should be men who understand the Mexican people. The right man can get business."

Mr. Kayser said trains were running on schedule out of Mexico City, although the rolling stock was somewhat depreciated. The capital, he said, extending for an epidemic of influenza, was as lively and gay as ever.

VETERAN CAMPAIGN MANAGER WILL DIRECT WOOD FORELS

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—John W. Wood, of New York, former postmaster general, who managed the campaign of William H. Taft for the republic presidential nomination in 1908 and Charles E. Hughes' campaign for the nomination in 1916, will devote his entire time from now until the republican national convention to the campaign of Major General Leonard Wood. It was announced today by Col. William Gagner Proctor, chairman of the Wood campaign committee.

New Officer Installed.

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—Dr. W. H. Morgan has assumed his duties as assistant state health officer, to succeed Dr. Douglas Lazen, recently resigned, to accept appointment as director of the bureau of communicable diseases, the state health department. Dr. Morgan previously was connected with the public food drug department.

Call Road Meet.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 6.—The Texas division of the King of Trails association will hold a conference here on March 15, according to information received from the international secretary. The King of Trails extended from Winnipeg to Mexico City.

One hundred million wood boxes were required to pack last year's output of the canning industries in the United States, estimated at 8,000,000,000 cans. Taking into account the power already used or proposed to be used, it is estimated that the total water power in Japan will reach over 8,500,000 horse power.

"THE GOLD STANDARD OF VALUES"
"We Have A REO For You!"
THIS "REO" SPEED WAGON
With These Attachments Solve Every Hauling Problem

The prime requisite for this type of vehicle is a sturdy, made, dependable under body. Examining this Reo Low Express Body and note the extra heavy reinforcing everywhere. One notable feature is the pressed steel brackets that form, at the same time, the sockets into which fit the several attachments. These pressed steel members make a body many times stronger than the old method of extending the wood sills, mortising through them for the upright stakes and then bracing the sills from the base outward. In this Reo body all projections are done away with and at the same time greater strength and rigidity are secured. In a word, the body is Reo-developed, Reo-designed and Reo-made, which is to say its quality is in keeping with that wonderful Reo "Speed Wagon" chassis on which it is mounted. Briefly, here is the principle on which this Reo convertible body is built: On a basic body of stoutly reinforced construction, and which of itself forms a type of body applicable to a multitude of hauling problems, may be mounted one or several interchangeable attachments. The attachments shown herewith are all standard and may be had from any Reo dealer. In the beginning you may, if you choose, buy only the basic low express body—without even a windshield or top. Then, at any time, your Reo distributor can furnish you any additional attachments. Or—you may have duplicates of these or special types, made by your local builder, to fit into the same sockets. Frankly, we do not care whether you buy these attachments from us or have them made elsewhere. To put a price on them that would be profitable to us and buyers. The Basic Body is Reo-Made—that is the vital point.

Built by the greatest corps of engineers in America. Every Reo must first meet the test of Reo himself. If it is offered to you, you have the assurance that it is mechanically perfect. Watch them pass you on the road.

JUDGE HILL OF EASTLAND CREDITED WITH PRESIDING OVER NATION'S BUSIEST COURT

More Than a Thousand Criminal Cases Are Now Pending.

A contest was started to locate the busiest man in Texas, the prize probably fall to Judge Ed A. Hill of the district court of Eastland county. He presides over the most congested section of the state of Texas, if not in all the United States, has a docket that is as long as a moral law—and growing every day.

He has the biggest court, because he is said to have more criminal and business than any other court in the United States. There are more than 1000 criminal cases now pending in Eastland county. The docket is not only as large, but it involves millions of dollars and concerns people from all over the state.

Very naturally the position he occupies and the character of man he presides over are matters of very general interest and concern. He was born on a farm in Weakley county, Tennessee, 54 years ago. When he was a little boy his father died and "Ed," the oldest boy in the family, was left to plow early and late. He received his education from the common schools and from private tutors and trained in the law with his father, a woman of noble character, practical judgment and strong practical ability. Few men have struggled through more privations and against greater hardships to achieve achievement and distinction.

He has followed the simple but exact plan of doing his duty as a lawyer and being honorable, fair and just with his fellowman, whether in relation as a private citizen, a great jurist has said: "It takes a great lawyer to be an absolutely fair impartial trial judge, for those are the true measures of real greatness." And a very prominent attorney of this district, when asked by a judge what kind of a judge presided over the Eastland county district court, replied: "A judge who never occupied the bench."

Judge Hill went to Eastland in 1855 and began reading law in the office of Davenport & Conner, major and senator was then a state senator in the West. Judge Truman Conner, a brother of Judge Earl Conner of Eastland, was for several years a noted district judge and is present chief justice of the court. Hill appeals at Fort Worth, has been a member of that court for many years. Judge Hill was admitted to the bar in Eastland in 1888 and was elected county attorney the same year, being then only 22 years of age. He was re-elected in 1890. He voluntarily retired from office in 1895 and resumed the practice of law in 1906. He was elected county judge, continuously filling that position for eight years, voluntarily retiring from that office in 1914. He was re-elected to that position in 1918, in 1919 he defeated his opponent by carrying every box in the county and was re-elected in 1920.

When he retired from the office of county judge, and as he then had, permanently from office, he engaged in active politics, he again resumed the practice of law. And in 1918 he was elected to the office of judge of the district court of Eastland county. This was surely a non-merit but very responsible position, from which the judge voluntarily retired in 1919. When the judicial district, composed of Eastland county, the district having previously consisted of Eastland, DeWitt, Callahan, Shackelford and Garza, was created in 1919, it was Governor Hobby to appoint a judge for the Eastland county district. There were several applicants, but the able lawyers and excellent gentleman, Judge Hill was in the opinion of his friends an excellent applicant. His friends urged him to make application for appointment. The only party who would take in the matter was Hill would take in the matter to finally agree that if Governor Hobby should tender him the appointment he would accept it and the appointment was very promptly tendered to him.

He has been signally successful as a candidate and has filled two offices for which he never held the offices of mayor and district judge. He is a steward of the Baptist church and a Royal Arch member. He smokes medium-priced cigars, wears hand-me-down clothes, has a refined sense of humor, enjoys a good joke, knows everybody and everybody he knows; is a man of broad views and liberal thought, a behind-the-scenes gentleman with a personal and official record as a judge and an able jurist who has the interpretation of a law to every phase of civil and criminal law and procedure. Judge Hill is a candidate for the office of which he was appointed where he has been giving most able and satisfactory service. The support of numerous friends in this district.

"LEARN ENGLISH"—PERSHING.

Chinese Refugees Presented General With a Case—Told to Americanize.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 6.—During the visit here of Gen. John J. Pershing, a committee of eight, representing the Chinese colony of 400 members, which Pershing brought out of Mexico, appeared unheralded at the general's hotel and presented him with a handsome snakewood writing case.

Speaking through an interpreter, the committee explained the gift was in appreciation of the general's action while the American punitive expedition was in Mexico, in not only bringing the colony to safety, but in "rescuing" some 2000 Chinese from threatened massacre. General Pershing thanked the committee and said the Chinese refugees should learn to speak the English language so they could become good American citizens in event of their being permitted to remain in the United States.

The 400 Oriental refugees here pay their own expenses by working as laundrymen and cooks for soldiers and doing other civilian work for the government at the various local military reservations. They had been friendly to American troops who followed Francisco Villa into Mexico after the Columbus raid. When the punitive expedition was withdrawn the Oriental were brought to the United States, immigration restrictions having been waived because the Mexicans threatened the colony for its friendship toward the Americans.

The Chinese are, in effect, held in bond, but have complete freedom of movement about military camps here. What final disposition will be made of the colony is not known.

PRUSSIANS GRABBED ALL BEFORE LEAVING DENMARK

COPENHAGEN, Mar. 6.—The Prussian authorities when compelled to evacuate Schleswig in preparation for the plebiscite there "tried to grab whatever could be grabbed up to the last minute," H. P. Hansen, minister from Schleswig to Denmark, to the Associated Press correspondent.

As late as January 17, they sold the victory memorials on the Dybbol Hill and on the island of Als to a new German company in Kiel, (Dybbol was a famous battlefield of Denmark's war with Austria and Germany in 1864). Not only the Dybbol memorial erected above the two Danish trenches there, but the ground itself was sold to a private company," declared the minister.

"This is a case of the sale of Prussian state property, which is absolutely forbidden by the conditions of the armistice of November 11, 1918. I have protested against the sale to the representatives of the allied and associated powers," he says. "I sincerely hope that they will aid us in our endeavors to take away from the Prussians their last foothold on the Hills of Dybbol."

The enormous Danish flag, the gift of Danish-born Americans, was hoisted on the fortifications of Dybbol on the day when the first plebiscite was held to decide whether Schleswig should remain German or be restored to Denmark.

CAPE MAY NAVAL STATION PREPARES FOR DIRIGIBLE

CAPE MAY, N. J., Mar. 6.—The English dirigible balloon, R-34, which the United States navy purchased from the British government for $3,500,000, will be housed at the Cape May navy yard air station. Work has been begun for the erection of a large hangar which must be completed within the next two months. A railroad line is being constructed to the site of the building in order that the 600 tons of material necessary for the hangar shall be placed on the ground speedily.

AMERICAN OAT CROP IS BEING INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—American farmers are not reducing their acreage of oats because of the rapidly increasing use of automobiles and trucks, on the theory that the horse and mule are being made a back number, according to a report by experts of the department of agriculture. They have made a special study of the situation and say:

"The number of horses and mules on farms, if decreasing, is doing so at a rate so slow as to have little or no effect on the oat crop. Furthermore, statistics show that American farmers are not cutting down the total oat acreage but are actually increasing it. A great number of American farmers, particularly in the corn belt, are justified in making extensive sowings of oats each year."

Complaints of Unions.

LONDON, Mar. 6.—Mrs. Henry Fawcett, a widely known suffragist, complains that the trade unions constantly are opposing and thwarting the employment of women, notwithstanding the fact that women stand for equal pay for equal work. She told the women's institute that the women workers have been urged not to undercut the men who were their comrades in industry. She urged women to continue their support of the most enlightened members of all political parties for aid in making women free in industry, as they had been in politics.

The first patent was granted in the United States for a gas compression engine for propelling road vehicles, on Nov. 5, 1879.

IT DOESN'T TAKE ONE-PIECE SUIT TO PROVE BATHING GIRLS ARE BEAUTIES

Miss Harriet Hammond.

The Mack Sennett bathing girls deserve their name of "Bathing Beauties" because they are beautiful no matter what or how much costume they wear. This is the opinion of Mr. Sennett himself, and he ought to know. Just to prove what he says is true, he gives this picture of Harriet Hammond to illustrate and the vote is unanimous that Mr. Sennett is right. Miss Hammond, according to Mr. Sennett, can't act as well as pose, and that is what every bathing girl must be able to do. Here is what Mr. Sennett says about beauty and he thinks his girls fill the bill. "Beauty can never entirely be persuasive and complete if intelligence is lacking and the really beautiful girl is the girl with gray matter beneath her blond or brunette curls."

ORGANIZE PECAN GROWERS.

Department of Agriculture to Foster Edible Nut Industry. AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—The Texas department of agriculture, through its division of edible nuts, has undertaken to perfect a pecan growers' marketing organization in the state, and this will be taken up at the next annual meeting of the national nut growers' association, which will be held at a date to be determined later.

J. H. Burkett, director of the division of edible nuts, said that pecan growers of Texas lost two million dollars last season because of the lack of an efficient marketing agency, and that from 30 to 40 per cent of the crop was permitted to waste, which if gathered and sold would have added another million dollars to the state's income. Bankers and merchants are invited to co-operate with the department and growers in this move.

COMPANY IN ENGLAND TO PRODUCE FOR U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 18 (By Mail)—A new company has been formed to arrange the manufacture of American goods in Great Britain for British and empire markets. It is stated by the American chamber of commerce in London.

With the growth of the movement for preferential tariffs and other preferential arrangements among the countries making up the British empire, many American manufacturers already have considered it desirable to establish factories in Great Britain. The new company is working, however, on the presumption that the advantages of a factory in Great Britain are greater.

The American chamber understands that the new company will encourage and assist American manufacturers of successful commodities to establish plants in Great Britain, but where the American manufacturer is not interested in doing so and is willing to sell his manufacturing rights, the new company will undertake to find British or French manufacturers who will take over these rights. Similarly it will introduce into America goods which have proved successful in Great Britain or France.

The new company is understood to have received many inquiries from manufacturers on both sides of the Atlantic who are anxious to have their goods produced in the other country. The function of the new company is to bring such manufacturers together, in profits arising out of a percentage of the royalty or a lump sum payable for the patent or the process.

ENGLISH WOMEN RECEIVE VALUE OF COLLEGE DEGREE

LONDON, Mar. 6.—The young women of this country who desire to enter the well-paid professions have suddenly come to the decision that there is cash value in a university degree. As a result the women's colleges at Oxford and Cambridge are being bombarded with applications for admission. Somerville and Lady Margaret's at Oxford, and Newham and Girton's at Cambridge, cannot begin to accommodate all those who wish admission, it is stated.

This growing popularity of the woman's college is said to be due largely to the number of excellent positions which have recently been secured by university women. Despite previous prejudices employers have discovered that a modern university education is a business asset. One commercial man recently stated publicly:

"The Oxford woman writes a good clear letter and has more common sense than a score of ordinary clerks. And what is more, in these days she is not afraid of work."

The university women are also finding employment in all sorts of welfare work, and as inspectors in establishments where women are employed. Officers of work as inspectors are being recruited from America, it is stated, and good salaries are offered.

Dog Located Master's Body Grieved. BRAWLEY, Cal., Mar. 6.—Carlo, a dog, owned by D. A. At last he found his friend's body and lay down to grieve.

LARGE NUGGET OF GOLD FOUND IN DUCK GIZZARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 6.—A wild duck was being prepared for a dinner here the other day when from its gizzard dropped a 20-karat gold nugget. The duck was shot in the vicinity of Woodside and immediately a gold rush ensued, the creeks adjacent to Woodside were panned for the precious metal.

Identified by Dental Work. AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—The body of A. B. Clarkson, who was missing for months after the Corpus Christi storm, was positively identified by his dentist who went from Austin to Corpus Christi recently and examined the teeth of the dead man.

SUGGEST LAWS FOR FARMER INSURANCE

United States Department of Agriculture Prepares Tips to Cover Farm Equipment in Case of Fire.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The department of agriculture, in co-operation with mutual insurance companies, has prepared suggestions for a state law providing for the organization of farmers' mutual fire insurance companies to meet the needs of states whose laws make no suitable provision for such companies.

The value of these companies, the department of agriculture says, is demonstrated by the record of approximately 2000 such organizations in the United States that carry a total insurance exceeding $6,000,000 on property valued at more than $7,500,000,000 or more than two-fifths of the value of all insurable farm property in the 48 states.

The suggested law is designed to make it easy for 20 or more qualified individuals to organize a farmers' mutual insurance company. At the same time, provisions are included to guard the financial integrity of such companies.

The average cost for this form of protection for the country as a whole is only 35 cents per $100.

NEW MOTOR LENSES CONFORM TO RULES

Kansas City Police Board Adopts Type of Headlight that Eliminates All But Six of the Many.

From The Kansas City Star. A new order in regard to bright lights on motor cars was given out yesterday at a meeting of the police commissioners. The order prohibits the use of any form of patent lenses on motor car lights, except six, which are named in the order. The order will not be put into effect until the latter part of the week.

The order was issued following a report from the Automobile club of Kansas City. A committee recently was appointed by the club to investigate the bright light situation and to determine which of the patent lenses now on the market were constructed in accordance with the law in regard to bright lights. This committee made a written report of its decision to the police commissioners yesterday, and recommended that as all patent lenses, except six, did not conform to the law in regard to bright lights, that all but these six lenses be prohibited from use in Kansas City.

The commissioners endorsed the letter of the commission and concurred in the recommendations. Instructions were given the chief of police to order the arrest of all motor car drivers using other than the six patent lenses "Ground" lenses are within the law, and drivers using that form of lenses will not be affected by the new order.

The commissioners, in endorsing the report of the Auto club's committee, gave out a statement to the effect that bright lights were one of the most dangerous traffic evils after nightfall and that complaints had been made to them repeatedly that numerous patent lenses that were being sold in Kansas City did not remedy the blinding of pedestrians and other motorists.

FREIGHT TRUCKING TO 65 KANSAS TOWNS

A New Industry Sprung Up Out of Kansas City Almost in a Day—Railroads Lose $3 Tons Day.

From the Kansas City Star. Discontent among shippers, caused by the railroads requiring several days in transporting freight to towns less than 75 miles away, has brought a new industry, almost in a day, to this section. The use of the motor truck for country delivery has grown so rapidly in the last year that at present it is estimated the truck is taking $3 tons of business away from the railroads a day in a radius of forty to 49 miles of Kansas City.

Sixty-three motor truck express lines are operating regularly on established routes out of Kansas City. The total mileage covered every day is 650 miles and the truck lines are serving 65 towns and 11 is a one-day service, too.

Truck express here has been fostered by the Firestone Tire & Rubber company. I. J. Fredman was sent here by the Firestone factory some two or three years ago to develop, if possible, a ship by truck program. He encouraged one or two men in small towns near Kansas City to start a motor truck express in competition with the railroad service to the town.

The plan "took" at the outset. Small town merchants who had been waiting from days to weeks for shipments from the city, obtained their dry goods, groceries or other merchandise in a day. One of the men formed a company, the Suburban Motor Transfer company. He now has nine routes out of Kansas City and each route is giving regular daily service.

Rain or shine, the trucks make the trips. Loads of merchandise go out from the city and produce, milk, butter and eggs come in from the country. Regular service is maintained even as far away as St. Joseph and Atchison.

At the outset, the Firestone building, 17th and Grand ave., was used as a depot by the truckmen. Shipments were sent to the building by dealers here for distribution in the country. The service grew and truckmen began to call at the shippers' doors for the loads. Now most of the express lines have regular customers who supply them with plenty of business.

Planting Oats in Coke County. ROBERT LEE, Mar. 6.—Wheat and oats are now being planted in some parts of Coke county. On account of the excessive rains during the fall and winter, there will not be a large acreage planted in grains this season, leading farmers say. The principal crops of 1932 will be cotton and feed. The prospects in Coke county at present are excellent for a record harvest.

HOW'S YOUR PEP WHEN YOU GET UP

Are You Full of "Win, Wigor, and Wit"—You Can Tell Whether You Are By Way You Feet.

J. D. Barry in Pacific Commercial Advertiser, Honolulu.

How do you feel when you wake up in the morning? Do you feel refreshed? Or do you feel more tired than you felt when you went to bed?

Do you feel happy or unhappy? Are you glad to be conscious of being alive again or are you sorry? The way we wake up is a test of our living. Those who wake up happily, glad to be alive, are likely to be in good physical and mental and moral condition.

Those who wake up tired or depressed or unhappy are certain to have something wrong in their living and they are certain to be wrong themselves. The most wrong minded man that I know says that when he wakes up he groans at the thought of another day to be endured. He needs a doctor. And even more, he needs to learn to be a doctor to himself.

Unfortunately there are many like that man. Sometimes they express their feelings in such despairing words as: "When I go to bed at night I wish that I might never wake up again."

No Standard Requirements of Sleep. Nearly always the cure is within reach. Often it is within easy reach. But most of us have a way of looking for cures far from the source of the trouble which, in nearly every instance, lies within ourselves.

One reason why many people wake up feeling wretched is perfectly simple: They haven't gone to bed early enough. All they need is more sleep. In regard to the amount of sleep required, there is an astonishing difference among sleepers. The minority, and the small minority, including active temperaments, like Napoleon and Edison, can get along with five hours' sleep a night, or less. Most people require at least seven hours' sleep. Many require nine or ten.

Those who make a bad start in the morning, in nearly every instance, are physically un sound. Often their condition is related to a false mental or moral attitude toward life or to both. And nearly always the persistent curtailing of sleep is associated with the use of stimulant. The stimulant may be of a kind none the less powerful because it is what we call intoxicating.

But for the use of stimulant Nature would have an easy time with most of us in making us take the sleep we require. The Way To Health. We all know of cases where, for long periods, sleep has been regularly curtailed. Often the condition is still maintained by main force, and forces them to lie in a deathlike trance, till they have been at least partially restored.

Another reason for a bad morning start is bad air in the sleeping room. In spite of all the admonitions of doctors on this subject, there are still multitudes who are afraid of fresh air and particularly afraid of what they call the night air. So they wake up poisoned by their own breath. For people of this kind are likely to be those who eat altogether too much for the amount of work that they do for the amount of exercise they take. Valiantly, but against odds, the system tries to eliminate the waste and the intestinal poisons.

A vast number of people could obtain immediate relief from their ill if they would only eat less, take moderate exercise, enough to make the skin help in the process of eliminations, and if they would avoid too much covering both by day and by night, and take plenty of sleep in fresh air.

CHINESE WANT AMERICANS FOR MEMBERS IN SOCIETY

SHANGHAI, Feb. 3 (By Mail)—The Returned Chinese Labor association of China, composed of the workers who saw service in France in the war, are sending to America Dr. Teh Yi Hsieh as a delegate to confer with American labor leaders to find ways and means to ameliorate the labor conditions in China. The association hopes to have a membership of 100,000 when all the Chinese workers have been repatriated from France.

SKELETON OF PREHISTORIC DEINODON FOUND: SAID TO HAVE LIVED MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO

Extinct Before Earliest of Cave Men Existed; Twenty Feet Long.

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—The skeleton of a prehistoric deinodon, calculated to be 60,000,000 years old, has been installed in Dinosaur hall at the American Museum of Natural History. The deinodon which is also known as "terrible tooth," is described as perhaps the most swift and powerful creature of its time. The skeleton stands 11 feet 5 inches high and measures 20 feet from the nose to the tip of its tail. It is supposed to have weighed several times as much as the largest mammoth today.

Dr. W. D. Matthew, curator of the museum's department of vertebrate paleontology, says that our prehistoric ancestors perhaps did not have to contend with the deinodon, which "likely was extinct before the earliest caveman." The deinodon lived during the cretaceous period of the age of reptiles, according to calculations based on the alteration of radio-active minerals.

The skeleton of the deinodon was found three years ago by Charles H. Sternberg in the canon of the Red Deer river in Alberta, the richest repository of dinosaur skeletons yet discovered. The geography and climate of that region was far different 60,000,000 years ago, perhaps warm and marshy as the broad interior sea, once stretching from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic ocean, was gradually receding and filling up with swamps and tropical growth.

Reptiles roamed the earth in those days, and save for tiny opossum-like creatures in the trees, there was none of the higher quadruped or mammals. It has been suggested that the tiny tree-dwellers helped bring about the extinction of gigantic reptiles by sucking the eggs deposited in the swamps.

TO WRECK SHEEPSHEAD BOWL

The King of American Speed Courses Will Be Dismantled.

New York.—Unless immediate steps are taken to save it, the great Sheepshead bay speedway, king of the American speed bowls, will be dismantled, and lost forever to motor racing before the spring season opens. For some time it has been known that the speedway was a "white elephant" on the hands of its owners, principal among whom is the estate of the late Henry S. Harkness, millionaire sportsman. Although records have been smashed there and many great races have been run, the course has never been a paying proposition. The sole reason for dismantling the course, according to C. J. Sullivan, counsel for the Harkness estate, is the great financial drain that the huge plant has been on the estate. Bids for the wrecking of the bowl and the sale of the material are being solicited.

Although built at a cost of nearly three quarters of a million, the Sheepshead Bay speedway is now said to represent an investment of 212 million dollars, including the land it occupies. There have been various rumors as to what the land is to be used for, when the course is removed, principal among which has been that it is to become the center of a great home building operation. However, the counsel for the Harkness estate stated that the land is to be surveyed for this project. Manufacturers of motor cars interested in the maintaining of the speedway for testing purposes and racing enthusiasts, are talking about a plan to save the speedway by taking it over and guaranteeing the Harkness estate the full expenses of its upkeep and a fair income on the investment.

PRINCE OF WALES ACTIVE IN ENGLAND PUBLIC LIFE

LONDON, Feb. 16 (By Mail)—Since his return from America, the prince of Wales is playing such an active part in English public life that it is believed his name will soon be officially moved up higher on the list of guests at state ceremonies and public banquets. Hitherto he has been fourth on the list, the king, the queen and queen Alexandra preceding him.

A high official of the royal household stated that the king has given his sanction to a rearrangement whereby names of the King and queen are moved in one toast and the Prince of Wales will come next.

A Series of Articles Entitled "Motor Trucks And Their Work In The Texas Oil Fields"

Written by B. S. Huey.

NOTE: In view of the unusual conditions surrounding us in this Oil Field, and also due to the fact that we have recently taken on a Distributor's Franchise for the well-known Gramm-Bernstein Trucks, I feel obligated, Mr. Truck Buyer, to lay before you some facts which should govern your purchase of a Motor Truck. These articles will be in the form of an open letter to the public, and will appear each Sunday in the Automobile Section of the Cisco Morning News. I am sure you and your many friends will find these articles both interesting and instructive.

ARTICLE I.

WHY I WENT INTO THE MOTOR TRUCK BUSINESS.

Undoubtedly never in the history of our country have we seen or encountered such unusual transportation conditions as now obtain in the man's oil field. The oil field is here all right, but the roads are most emphatically not. These roads give both automobiles and trucks the worst punishment in the world, and right here we come to the crux of the whole situation, namely, the imperative need of the right kind of a service policy to stand behind whatever trucks are sold in this country.

It is the consensus of opinion amongst motor truck manufacturers, that the backbone of the industry today is service. They all realize that the industry can not survive without service. How much more, then, with these frightful road conditions which surround us, is service of the right caliber demanded in the oil fields.

Up till now this word, at least in this country, has been one of the worst abused words in the dictionary, and we feel that the time is opportune for us to declare what good service really is from our own viewpoint.

1. In a specially designed parts room we carry a complete stock of Gramm-Bernstein parts.
2. Gramm-Bernstein trucks carry the famous Northeast ignition and Exide special truck type battery. We are dealers for this equipment and carry the parts in stock.
3. We have an electrical department, including an oxyacetylene welding outfit in charge of experts. We can weld anything from a connecting rod to a truck frame or a locomotive drive shaft.

4. Gramm-Bernstein trucks run on Goodyear tires. We operate a complete Goodyear service station with all sizes of solids and pneumatics in stock.

5. We have a complete repair shop with a Gramm-Bernstein factory expert in charge.

6. If you break down in the fields telephone in and "Eetsy Jane"—the trouble truck—will come out to you.

Now here are a few more facts which I want you to digest:

We are the oldest automobile house in Cisco, and here to stay.

We are direct factory distributors for Gramm-Bernstein trucks. The factory demands from us a stock of parts and a service policy second to none.

No truck in this oil field, no matter how costly or what reputation it may have is any better than the service which stands behind it.

In selecting the Gramm-Bernstein we have selected wisely. This truck has behind it 19 consecutive years of manufacturing experience and a reputation without parallel. This truck has many exclusive features which make it stand out from ordinary trucks and which make it peculiarly adaptable to the work in this country.

The Gramm-Bernstein truck, we know, is more truck for your money than you can find anywhere in this country.

Friends, if you're thinking about buying a truck, come in and see me. I want to meet you. Come in and see me anyway. Make this place your headquarters.

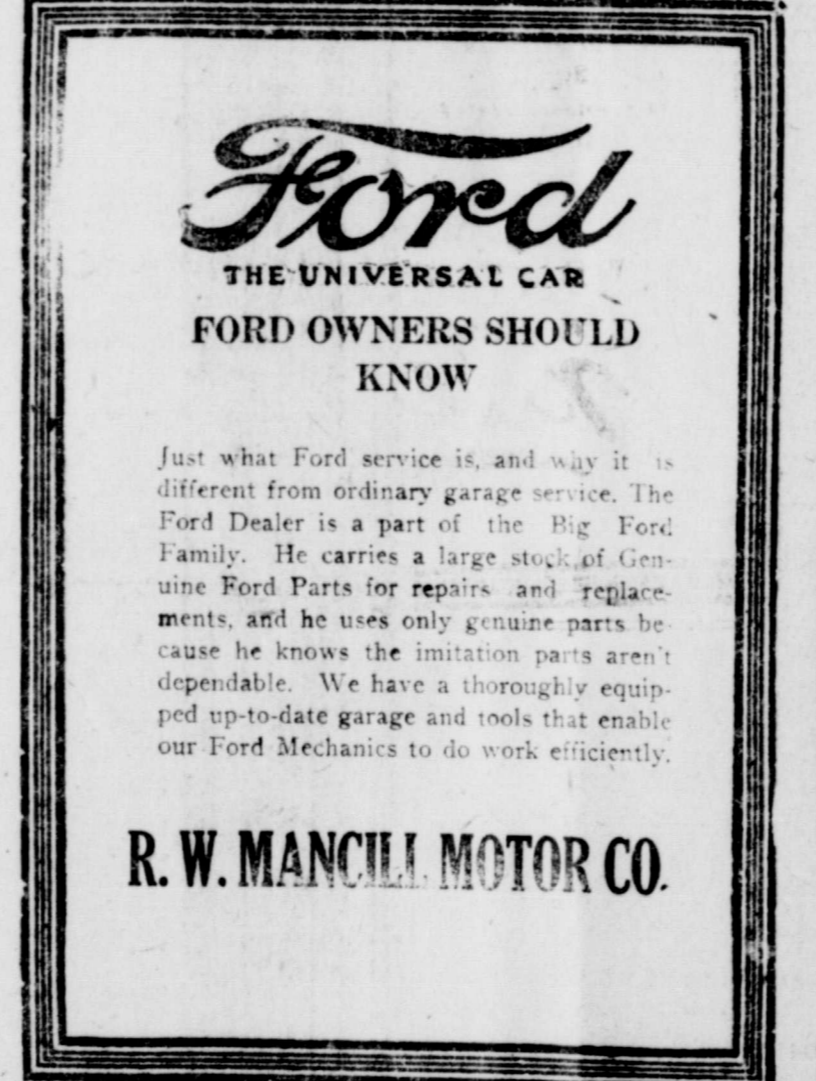

Let us forget, there will not be enough G-B trucks this year to go around. Better bet yours now.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

A direct result of Mrs. Hast's direct and valuable advice as to marriage "by beginning right" is one thing for me already. It is to start in on me. I thought Charles Belton dined with me and Jim announced that they had opened their New York office in New York. I will have to go there a day or two to get things in order, said Jim, as I served coffee, and as we went an apartment for Jim, while I'm there.

armed peace. In such cases both the enormous self-satisfaction out of the fortitude and self control they display. But some work capably, unselfishly and energetically at the job and make a great success of it.

It is past midnight. I have stolen from our room to work off some of my spiritual thrill in this little book of mine.

Christmas Eve! If I were a believer in the mystic I should think all sorts of necromancies were in the air tonight. I feel electric currents coursing through my body and my soul.

I can beside myself with the joy of going to New York. We leave day after tomorrow. I am standing at one of life's corners. Presently I shall turn round it into a new road, full of unknown possibilities, adventures—troubles, perhaps, but certainly experiences that will enrich our whole existence.

Jim has been dearest to me for the last few days. He has unhesitatingly lent to me into his confidence regarding our income and has voluntarily accepted me a regular allowance.

He and Belton, it seems, are equal partners in their engineering and consulting business, each to have a drawing account of $50 per week to begin with. That seems a heap of money to me!

I am to have $25 to run the house on and buy my personal things. He is to draw the check for the rent—and I shall see to it that we do not pay more than $45 a month for our apartment.

The only fly in my ointment is the unmistakable fact that I owe this whole arrangement to Charles Belton. If it had not been for that discussion at dinner the other night Jim would never have granted my prayer to know the exact income we have and have given me a regular allowance.

It puzzles me that Belton has so much influence over Jim. The man is and always has been repugnant to me. And now I am actually under obligation to him!

He even called my attention to a veiled way, saying: "You see, Lovely Lady, that the lion can be tamed, though it may take an ogre to do it."

However, I shall make myself unhappy. He may be as fine a man as Jim thinks him.

I cannot sleep tonight thinking of how life is opening before me! New York! I love merely to write the name, and sit and gloat over it as standing for my future home.

I shall not be absolutely without friends there, either. Mrs. Hast has promised to help me find a home. And there is my old schoolmate, Reta Sterling, who lives in Brooklyn, which I understand, is just across the river from New York.

Oh, the thrills that course through me as I picture the great choice of activities in the huge metropolis I have always dreamed of!

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

- MENU HINT. Breakfast. Coffee. Baked cakes. Baked Apples (or other fruit). Luncheon. Pea Soup. Lettuce and Bacon Salad. Cocoa. Bread and Butter. Dinner. Veal Steak. Mashed Potatoes and Turnips (combined). Baked Corn. Lemon Cake. Pie. Collee. Cook five minutes. Combine 1 and 2. Remove onion before serving. To use with the soup make croquettes by toasting in the broiler cubes of buttered stale bread. This is a nutritious, tasty dish, and it is a good way to use "left-over" peas (used in the same proportions). This is a purée rather than a soup, and very filling. Baked Corn. One can corn, one egg (yolk and whites beaten separately), one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon flour, one tablespoon butter, one cup milk. Mix flour with milk as a thickening. Combine with other ingredients, folding white of egg in last. Turn into buttered glass dish and bake in slow oven for 30 minutes, or until firm. TASTY SALADS. Lettuce and Bacon Salad. Cut lettuce leaves in strips. Take three fresh, crisp fried, cut in small bits, scatter over lettuce; make a hot vinegar sauce by combining one-quarter cup hot vinegar, one-half teaspoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt. This is a pleasing, inexpensive salad. Apple Salad. Pare and chop 12 large apples, one-half cup of raisins, one-half cup hickory nuts, whip one and one-half cups of cream, add enough maple syrup to sweeten; pour whipped cream over; pour over bacon while hot, fore serving. Waldorf Salad. Pare and chop and cut in one-half inch cubes, tart, juicy apples; add half as much celery, washed, scraped and cut into cubes; wash and seed one cup of Tokay grapes and use one-half cup of nuts; mix with mayonnaise dressing and serve on a bed of lettuce.

AT THE CHURCHES

First Presbyterian Church. Preaching by the pastor. Subject for morning sermon: "Conditions for a successful revival." Subject for the evening sermon: "God's appeal to men to forsake sin." The revival begins today. The hours are 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. During the week the hours will be 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Dr. W. B. Gray, Brownwood, will do the preaching. He announces the following subjects: Monday night, "The model church"; Tuesday night, "The model Christian"; Wednesday night, "The model work"; Thursday night, "The model method." All the members of the church are urged to attend and co-operate to the fullest degree. We also invite to co-operation of all christian people. Every body is invited to come and help in this good work.

Nazarene Church. Revival meeting begins Friday night, March 5, at the Nazarene church. The meeting will be conducted by Evangelist Mrs. Nora Gehres of Paducah, Ky. We extend a cordial invitation to you to attend these services.

Mrs. Travis Buried Here. Mrs. Mary Grace Travis, aged 31, died at her home nine miles south of Cisco Thursday, from influenza. The body was brought to Cisco Friday afternoon and buried in the local cemetery.

First Christian Church. Bible school at 10 a. m.; preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Christian endeavor, 8:30 p. m. The morning subject will be "A Worth-While Life" and our young people are especially invited to be present. Strangers and visitors are cordially invited and welcomed.

First Methodist Church. (Worshipping in city hall) "What are you getting out of life?" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday night at the Methodist services in the city hall. The mind and heart of this age are losing peace and contentment out of the human heart. The sermon Sunday night will discuss such things as this and will treat of the things that make life worth living. At the morning service we will follow the beautiful ritual of the Methodist church. The service of the day will be as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning service, 11 a. m.; sermon by the pastor; story hour, 4 p. m.; story by Mrs. Stuckey.

Intermediate league, 5 p. m.; Senior league, 6:45 p. m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m.; sermon by the pastor. Strangers, visitors, oil men and everybody welcome. Lewis N. Stuckey, pastor.

NATIONWIDE SHOE PROBE MAY BE LAUNCHED BY U. S. WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The department of justice took action today to determine the margins of profit taken by shoe retailers in this city, and which may develop into a nationwide investigation.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The department of justice took action today to determine the margins of profit taken by shoe retailers in this city, and which may develop into a nationwide investigation. Howard Figg, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of the price reduction campaign, would not say, however, to what extent the department planned to go in calling for the shoe dealers' business statements. The local dealers' committee will present detailed figures upon which the department will determine whether there is profiteering. Mr. Figg said: "Local bakers also were department officials today and were denied the right to increase the price of bread two cents a loaf."

Galveston, Mar. 6.—In an effort to keep the port of Galveston clear of plague-bearing rats, the board of city commissioners has increased the bounty from five to 10 cents per animal. One expert rat catcher is employed by the city.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a woman 39 years old and have known a young man 28 years old for the past nine months. I went with him a couple of months and then I did not hear from or see him for about four months. After that he came back and we became engaged. The other day I received a letter from another girl saying she had known him and been keeping company with him for the past two years. He was very ill last spring and sent for her. It was the four months I knew nothing about him. Then he came back to me and treated her very kindly and finally broke off with her entirely in spite of the fact that she had been a loyal, loyal friend and very much in love with him. She was especially good to him when he was ill. She said he told her that he and I had quarrelled and that I was very anxious to get married, which is true. She says that he has been seeing her regularly up to the present time and she does not think he treated either of us fairly. What do you think of him, and do you think I ought to break my engagement with him? The other girl wrote a nice letter and I believe she told the truth. It is better to remain single all one's life than to marry a man who is faithless and brings only unhappiness. You yourself will be the best judge in this matter. Talk to the man and see what explanation he offers. If you believe that he is sincere and loves you, and that the other woman has overestimated his affection for her, remain engaged a few months more, taking time to test his character further, and, if he proves true, marry him. From what the other woman says you have reason to feel discouraged. Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 21 years old. I have a lot of friends and a good job, but I am not satisfied. My mother and father are both dead and so I have to stay with some relatives. They are always telling me that I am a good girl, but they treat me coldly and I know that they do not want me, although I do everything I can to please them. Sometimes I think of going to the Y. W. C. A. to stay, but if I went they would talk about me and say I had gone astray. I don't want to do anything that would cause people to look down on me. I have a boy friend 21 years of age whom I dearly love. At times he seems to think a lot of me, but sometimes when he tells me he is going to call he calls up another girl and I don't hear from him. Often he goes for a week and doesn't ask for a date, but when he does come he tells me where he has been. He asks me to kiss him, but I refuse. Anything you can tell me will be appreciated. I believe you are right in wanting to live at the Y. W. C. A. Your relatives may be doing all they can to make their home your home, but nevertheless you are an outsider and do not belong to the family. At the age of 21 you should feel free to make your own decisions and when in your judgment a thing is right, thought should not be given to what people will say. Your method of living after you leave your relatives will be sufficient evidence of your character. When in doubt try to decide what advice your mother and father would give you, were they alive, and in this way you will almost always be helped. If you lead a clean and right life people will admire you and not condemn you. The young man you mention is too young to have serious intentions. Regard him as a good friend, refuse to kiss him, and be satisfied with the relationship for a few years.

YOUNG RUSSIAN IN PITTSBURGH TRANSFORMED BOLSHEVIST SOCIETY INTO CLASS IN ENGLISH

Pittsburgh, Mar. 6.—More than 200,000 foreigners who live within 20 miles of the Pittsburgh court house are being Americanized through the education of women and children by trained workers who speak their home tongue and are acquainted with their home customs. These workers are selected by church boards from among the foreign population, and after being educated in cooking, nursing and the essentials of Americanism are sent among the people to carry out a system by which the foreigner may be lifted to the level of his American neighbor. For religious purposes they have the active assistance of clergymen who speak the language of immigrants from Southern Europe, and who are in sympathy with the people. The Pittsburgh Presbytery of the movement, has 32 educational stations scattered in Allegheny, Westmoreland and Allegheny counties, 42 trained foreign workers and 14 ministers. It also publishes four weekly papers having a combined circulation of almost 100,000 and the leaders of the movement estimate that fully 20,000 foreigners come under the influence of its workers every day. The plan is simple. Foreigners coming into the district usually collect in groups, each nationality living in its own section of the community, where the men are employed. Colporteurs, speaking many languages, are sent among them to spy out the land and lead them into the schools. These men gain the confidence of the people, and in time begin the distribution of literature printed in the language of the particular group. This includes short stories depicting American life and sketches of men who have done much to make America great. Gradually the foreigners show added interest, and when the women and children come over the colony is ready for the woman worker from the Presbyterian training school. The care of children, how to prepare American meats and vegetables, and the best methods to keep their homes clean are gradually taught the women, who, finding themselves addressed in the speech of their childhood, freely give to the young workers their full confidence. There is little trouble with the children. They gladly seize upon the opportunity afforded for Americanization, and are eager to learn the language and customs of the country. It often happens that they are not content with the learning they obtain in the public school, but crowd the summer schools conducted by the presbytery. They learn quickly, and after a few months sewing is taught to the girls and manual training to the boys. They are surrounded with cleanliness, moral and physical, and made to feel that if they are to become real citizens of the country they must learn and follow the mental and physical lessons taught to them by the young women workers. Results have been most gratifying, say leaders of the movement. Reaching the man from Southern Europe is perhaps a little more difficult, but when once reached, authorities here seldom go back either to his former mental state or his native land. Patriotism is the first theme of the workers, not meaningless platitudes, but practical lessons in the advantages of living in America. Often these lessons are turned to good account, as in the case of a young Russian, who recently transformed a bolshevist so-

PATRIOTIC MISSIONS FOR FOREIGNERS FOUND TO BEAR FRUITS

Pittsburgh, Mar. 6.—More than 200,000 foreigners who live within 20 miles of the Pittsburgh court house are being Americanized through the education of women and children by trained workers who speak their home tongue and are acquainted with their home customs. These workers are selected by church boards from among the foreign population, and after being educated in cooking, nursing and the essentials of Americanism are sent among the people to carry out a system by which the foreigner may be lifted to the level of his American neighbor. EL PASO, Mar. 6.—The second death of a soldier under mysterious circumstances within 26 hours, was discovered here today when the body of Private John A. Burns of the First Provisional Airplane department at Fort Bliss was found in a stairway in the business district. Private Earl Vayneau, Ninth engineers, died yesterday from a blow on the head delivered by an unidentified assailant. The police are investigating.

APPLICANT TO COACH INVESTMENT

WICHITA, Kan., Mar. 6.—C. O. (Abe) Applegran, right guard of the University of Illinois championship football team for three years all western player and a member of Walter Eckersall's second all American football team in 1919, is the new coach of athletics at Fairmont college here. Announcement of his appointment has been made by the athletic committee of the college. Applegran is an all round athlete and will coach all branches of athletics at Fairmont.

PREDICTED "WET GROUNDS" FOR ST. LOUIS NATIONALS

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Mar. 6.—When Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Nationals picked Brownsville for his spring training camp, many "stove league" fans in the north grabbed a map of Texas, hunted up the location of this city, in the extreme south of Texas, and predicted: "Rickey will have his hands full with that gang down next to 'wet' Mexico." But Rickey didn't give that angle much thought when he signed for the spring workouts here. The usual club discipline will be enforced.

REFINERY AT TEXAS CITY

TEXAS CITY, Mar. 6.—Construction of a new 15,000 barrel refinery here will begin immediately, it is announced. The new refinery will be the fifth largest in the United States and will give employment to about 2,000 persons.

SHOES, $1.25 A PAIR

AMARILLO, Mar. 6.—A store keeper's ledger dating back to 1840 is in the possession of H. M. Osbourne, of Amarillo, showing the prices that obtained in Vicksburg, Miss., at that time. Osbourne does not presume anyone would be interested in knowing it, but an entry shows that five quarts of whiskey were sold at that time for 79 cents—and the purchaser was given credit on the deal too. "Ordinary" leather shoes were sold for $1.25 a pair.

RATS WORTH A DIME EACH

GALVESTON, Mar. 6.—In an effort to keep the port of Galveston clear of plague-bearing rats, the board of city commissioners has increased the bounty from five to 10 cents per animal. One expert rat catcher is employed by the city.

SUB CHASERS IN TEXAS WATERS

GALVESTON, Mar. 6.—Two subchasers, No. 323 and No. 324, respectively, the latter of which saw fighting service in the Mediterranean, have been turned over to the coast guard service here by the navy department. The unit to which the 324 was attached is credited with having accounted for two enemy submarines.

Bar Jazz Music

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Mar. 6.—Santa Monica has decided not to entertain with jazz music those who seek her beach and its amusement devices.

City officials have voted against the maintenance of a jazz orchestra, as was done last summer, and have decided that one band, whose programs shall contain nothing more than "popular" music, shall be financed. To Attract Negro Tourists. GALVESTON, Mar. 6.—A proposal has been laid before the Galveston board of city commissioners and referred to the city engineer for a report, to build a $60-room bathhouse, with dancing pavilions, soft drink stands, restaurant, postcard stands and other features, exclusively for negroes. It is planned to attract colored tourists.

ONE T. U. BASKETEER ON ALL-SOUTHWESTERN

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—George McCullough, of Waco, is the only player on the University of Texas basketball team to be named on the all-southwestern basketball team of 1920 by Barry Whittaker, basketball coach of the university.

McCullough served his second year on the Organs and White quintet and played at left guard. He is one of the 12 three-year letter men of the university, having letters in basketball, baseball and football. Besides his work on the basketball team, McCullough was named on the 1920 all-state team in football and on the 1919 all-state basketball team. He will play second base for the university baseball team this season.

The team named for all-southwestern honors by Coach Whittaker is as follows: McQuillen (A. & M.) and Wilkerson (Phillips) forwards; Forbes (A. & M.), center; Hartung (A. & M.) and McCullough (Texas) guards.

Leonard in a Benefit Bout.
 LOS ANGELES, Cal. Mar. 6.—Ben Leonard, lightweight champion, boxed two exhibitions at a benefit for the Los Angeles post of the American legion. His opponents were Alex Trambitas and Frankie Callahan. James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, was referee.

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—The state industrial accident board recently approved a settlement between an insurance company and Tastianno and Fermina Aronjo, Mexicans, parents of Pancho Aronjo, who was killed while working in a Fort Worth packing house. The parents received $3000 insurance and immediately departed for Mexico.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Mar. 6.—The University of Pennsylvania will challenge the University of Chicago to a post season series for the national collegiate basketball championship, it was announced tonight. Chicago, it was stated, has won the western conference championship and Pennsylvania clinched the inter-collegiate league title in the west last night.

Printers Will Play Ball.
 ST. PAUL, Minn., Mar. 6.—Preliminary arrangements are being made by St. Paul printers for the union printers national baseball tournament to be held here this summer. A fund is being arranged to defray general entertainment expenses. The local printers' team will start practice as soon as the snow melts. Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, New York, Cleveland and Washington, D. C., are among the cities to participate.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

Just because Babe Ruth was purchased by the New York Yankees for the largest sum ever paid for a ball player, a report has been in circulation that Owners Ruppert and Houston would make Babe captain of the team. This is a mistake, however, for Roger Peckinpaugh will again be captain of the Hilltoppers. Peck has held the job for several seasons now and has been a big success.

Another thing, Kover is very popular with his old teammates and they probably would insist that he be retained as captain in preference to Ruth or any other man. But the Big Babe has no ambitions to be captain of a ball club. Give him an outfield berth, the privilege of swiping his old war club four or five times in every game and a nice fat paycheck every two weeks and the Tazan of baseball will be well satisfied.

President Comiskey of the White Sox, who possesses one of the best freak pitches in Cicotte, recently said when interviewed concerning the proposed ban on freak ball deliveries:

"They may legislate against the things a pitcher can do with his hands and feet, but they can't legislate against his thinking. They'll have to take the brains away from some of those boys to stop their success."

LONDON, Feb. 19 (By Mail)—struck were the congregation at church here with an illustration by the minister that they doubled his stipend.

The minister was preaching on the high cost of living and exhibiting a basket with 48 eggs in it he said: "This is what a predecessor of mine got for a shilling 75 years ago."

Next he showed another basket containing two dozen eggs. "This" he said "the next minister purchased for a shilling 35 years ago."

"Today," he went on, "I get two eggs for my shilling."

INTERNATIONAL SUFFS WILL HOLD CONVENTION

MADRID, Feb. 18.—Delegates from at least 12 nations are expected to attend the congress of the International Women Suffrage Alliance to be held here early in May. These nations are the United States, Great Britain, India, France, Switzerland, Portugal, Sweden, Finland, Iceland, Germany, Rumania and Serbia.

Since the last congress was held at Budapest, seven years ago, 13 countries have extended the franchise to women and thus, for the first time, the congress will have behind it the majority and weight of large bodies of enfranchised women. Spain, however, remains unconverted. Mrs. Sarajev, Nisava, poet and orator, is expected to be among the delegates from India.

UNUSUAL QUIET ON ALL NEW YORK COTTON TRADE

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Today's cotton market was unusually quiet even for a short season, owing to the storm, many brokers were absent, while orders from out of town were also restricted and the business consisted chiefly of Liverpool trading, or the execution of overnight orders. Under these circumstances, fluctuations were irregular and irregular, with mid-morning declines under realising followed by rallies on covering. May contracts closed at 55.82 with the general market being steady net four points higher 15 points lower.

Sugar Unchanged. NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market today and no fresh business was reported. The under tone, however, was in and offerings were light. Prices for 10 1/2 for Cuban cost and freight, equal to 11.54 for Centrifugal. One refiner was said to be allocating moderate amounts at 14 1/2 for fine granulated, while others were pretty well sold up with prices generally ranging from 14 to 16 for fine granulated. There was a little more interest in a future market and prices were firm for the later positions on scattered buying which was credited to outside interests. At the close, May was 15 points lower while other positions were 5 to 25 points higher with sales of 300 tons.

COTTON FLUCTUATES ON NEW ORLEANS BOARD

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 6.—The price of cotton ranged today from net advances of 10 to 15 points down to declines of 10 to 15 points. May contracts were bid at 36.55 and at the west at 36.20. Cold weather in the north was the main sustaining influence against values was the tendency toward holders of long contracts to realize profits. In some measure the upward reaction in sterling exchange was used against the market. On the close the market had no decided tendency and last prices were 20 points higher to seven points lower net the session. The weather map showed up dry and for the entire cotton region, with a breeze over a large area. The forecast called for continued fair weather with a further lowering of temperatures.

WHEAT NEW UPTURNS FEATURE CORN TRADE

CHICAGO, Mar. 6.—Sharp new upturn in the value of corn took place today largely as a result of proposed sales to Europe on credit. The market closed strong, 2 1/2c to 3c net with May $1.44 1/2 to 3/4 and July $1.38 1/2. Oats gained 1/2c to 3/4c. In provisions the outcome was a black of 7 1/2 to 8c. All deliveries of corn except May, to the topmost figures yet this season. May went to the highest since last August. Commission men were persistent buyers and there was no important selling other than from long, who were taking profits. Corn rose with corn although lagging what owing to cancellation of export purchases that were replaced with Indian oats at 5c discount. Provisions lacked any aggressive

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTINUES ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Foreign exchange continued to advance today in face of denials from foremost London foreign interests of any immediate prospects of European gold inflow in moderate volume. Morgan and company, financial of the British government here, said they were without knowledge of a movement. Advices from London also pointed to the slight probability of pending gold shipments to New York. There were further accessions to the movement to South America, but authorities believe exports to that country will soon cease. Several of the imports of the metal from London were said to be without bearing on the reported Anglo-French agreement in British bills during the week as quite extensive, with only a few transactions in French exchange. Operations were characterized by speculative and partly in the face of short covering. The height of $3.75 for demand bill, London rate was 12c to the pound over yesterday's maximum and above the minimum recorded on any day. After the close of the market offerings of bills on London were the price back to $3.65 1/4, variable reactions in French and quotations.

TIAJUANA WILDEST TOWN IN WEST, SAYS EL PASO MAN

EL PASO, Mar. 6.—The "wildest town in the west" is Tijuana, Mexico, just across the California line, according to Julius Wild, a local citizen, just returned from the west. He denied frequent statements that Juarez, opposite El Paso, is the wildest open town in North America.

"If anybody thinks El Paso is situated adjacent to a little Gomorrah, it would pay to take a look at Tijuana," Mr. Wild said. "Tijuana has a gambling hall ten times as large as any in Juarez. The sports from all over California come down there to drink and gamble. Of course there are lots of nice people there just as there are in Juarez."

"Permanent passports to Tijuana are obtainable for 25 cents" Wild added. "Ten day permits are free."

In New York City it is proposed to place a fine of $10 on "jay walkers," with the option of 10 days in jail.

SPANISH TREATIES ARE INTRODUCED INTO COURT

ENID, Okla., Mar. 6.—Treaties signed with Spain in 1819 and with Mexico, were offered as evidence at a hearing of suit of the Judsophia Development association against Sam Sparks and others regarding ownership of the Red River oil lands in dispute between Oklahoma and Texas, before Judge Frank A. Yeomans in federal court here today.

The case was taken under advisement by Judge Yeomans, who said he would give a decision soon, and that a restraining order issued by Judge John C. Pollock in federal court would remain in force while the matter was under advisement.

Raised Turkeys on Town Lot.

From the Breckenridge (Ky.) News. Mrs. W. B. Gardner of Stephensport sold fifteen turkeys during the holidays for $91.44. The remarkable part of Mrs. Gardner's sales is that she raises all of her turkeys on a small town lot.

The Chinese obtain a curious anesthetic by placing a frog in a jar of flour and irritating it by prodding it. In these circumstances it exudes a liquid which forms a paste with a portion of the flour. This paste, dissolved in water, is found to possess well marked anesthetic properties. After the finger has been immersed in the liquid a few minutes, it can be pricked with a needle without pain being felt.

"A very distinguished soldier, much decorated, says all his ribbons are worth sixpence"—and we should say less than that. But that's a poor way of appraising these decorations—the ribbon is but the symbol of the deed. If this soldier—he's a Britisher, wearing "the king's uniform," values what these ribbons represent so little, that would mean that he is conscious of the worthlessness of the service rendered by which he gained them, he should be like Sims and refuse to wear them.

The Cisco Morning News is being used in the history classes of the local high school for the purpose of instruction along the lines of current events, according to E. Buford Isaacs, principal of the school. Each student is supposed to read the News thoroughly in the morning before attending school and to be prepared to discuss the happenings of the day. Local news, or the occurrences in Cisco and its environs, is first taken up. This study is then followed by state news and finally national news. Professor Isaacs, who was formerly in the newspaper game, is teaching the classes.

Keeping Step With Cisco

IS SOME JOB AND REQUIRES A LOT OF "PEP" But, there is one institution here that is about two paces ahead of the town—and it is built on faith in the future of Cisco. That institution is the CISCO MORNING NEWS. Besides publishing "West Texas' Greatest Newspaper" it has the best equipped job-printing plant west of Fort Worth. All new type and machinery in the Job Department with experienced printers in charge. Only the best grades of paper and ink used in all work that goes out of this office. Prices that are fair to customer and producer; no discrimination between customers, and small orders receive the same care as large ones. Estimates, prices and assistance cheerfully given. Glance over this list and check the items you are in need of:

INTENSE INTEREST
FEATURES VOTE ON GERMAN TERRITORY

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 15 (By Mail)—No election in history has ever offered so stupendous a bribe to voters as do the Schleswig plebiscites, say Copenhagen observers. These plebiscites are to decide whether a great part of Schleswig is to remain German territory or to be restored to Denmark.

Denmark's interest in the outcome of the election in the three zones runs to fever heat on the approach of the date for the plebiscite in the first zone, the strip nearest Denmark. This was won by the Danes by a vote of three to one.

Intense interest centers in the result of the plebiscites soon to be held in the second zone, of which Flensburg is the chief city and there the fight is fiercest. Despite the fact that the city is preponderantly German, only about one-tenth of the people are Danish, but the Danes are by no means discouraged.

Owing to the depreciation of the German mark, its value now is infinitesimal as compared with the Danish krona. It is asserted that if the election goes Danish, with the resultant accession of Danish currency, property in Flensburg will be worth 16 times its present price.

No less weighty is the effect upon the citizenship of the inhabitant. A government official told the Associated Press correspondent that Denmark would not discriminate in Schleswig between Danes and "converted" Germans; that if the Danes won the plebiscite the Germans automatically become Danish citizens. Thus, they would not have to share in paying Germany's enormous debt.

But there are many Danes who fear to recover Flensburg if there is any chance of the contest turning on a question of the selfish interest of a small element of the electorate. The government official wore an anxious look as he discussed this possibility.

"We want Flensburg," he said, "but not against its real sentiment. We must not have in Denmark a German irredenta."

LAST WORD SPOKEN FOR ASSEMBLY SOCIALISTS

ALBANY, N. Y., Mar. 6.—The last word in behalf of the five socialist members of the state assembly, who have been under investigation by the assembly judiciary committee, was spoken today.

"You take your chance in presenting your views to the people," said Seymour Steadman, their counsel, in concluding his summing up before the committee. "We take ours, feeling that the mass intellect of this country, with all the facts before it, will ultimately arrive at the correct solution. That is the faith of the socialist—the faith in ideals of Americanism—deep, solid and heartfelt. That is what we believe in. And gentlemen, that is what you believe in, and it is in that belief that we have our hopes and our just expectancy for the seating of these assemblymen."

POLICE RAID FAILS TO UNEARTH LIQUOR

Acting upon various reports that there was bootlegging going on in the living quarters of a South Main street cafe, Chief of Police Hitson and Assistant Chief J. T. Stamps, raided the place early Friday evening but found no evidence of anything amiss.

Chief Hitson, finding the front door locked, kicked it in while Stamps broke through the rear. No one but the proprietor was found and there was no evidence of liquor except an old pint bottle which had accumulated the dust of months on top a wordrobe, according to the officers.

PERMITS ISSUED HERE FOR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

Contrary to the impression gained from the account in the News this week to the effect that permits for import of carload and less than carload lots of household goods and office fixtures over the T. & P. are now available, merchants are not at liberty to ship goods into Cisco at random.

Permits must be obtained as a formality. Only the practice of issuing permits from the office of R. M. Seale, at Dallas, has been discontinued and permits are issued from the Cisco office.

K. U. Beats Sooners.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Mar. 5.—The University of Kansas basketball team tonight defeated the University of Oklahoma five, 33 to 28. Oklahoma led the scoring in the first half, but Howard Miller, sent in as a substitute for Kansas, shot four baskets in quick succession, and later added two more baskets to his string, putting the local team into the lead.

Break Boat Records.

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 5.—Two world's records in power boat racing were made here today in the mid-winter regatta. Hoosier V, covering the 10 mile race for express cruisers in 19 minutes, 3 seconds, and Miss Nassau, owned by C. E. Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio, making two miles against time in 2 minutes 49 1/2 seconds.

Name Bankhead's Successor.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Mar. 5.—Braxton Bragg Comer, of Birmingham, former governor of Alabama, tonight was named United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death Monday of Senator John H. Bankhead. He will serve until a successor is chosen in a special election to be called by Governor Kilby.

Explanation

CEPTAIN BIBBY WE PRICE TWO OR MORE FOR 19c, OR HALF A YARD OF GOODS FOR 19c. THIS DOES NOT MEAN THAT YOU ARE LIMITED TO THIS AMOUNT. TAKE WHAT YOU WISH, BUT IN ORDER TO PUBLISH A 19c PRICE THIS IS THE ONLY WAY TO DO. IT IS FAR EASIER TO INTEREST A HUNDRED PEOPLE WHO HAVE 19c TO SPEND THAN IT IS TO FIND TEN PEOPLE WHO HAVE $19.00 TO SPEND, AND WE OBTAIN THE SAME RESULTS. BECAUSE:

WE CATER TO ALL TASTES, AND ALL INCOMES.
THE BUYING PUBLIC HAVE PATRONIZED THIS STORE VERY LIBERALLY THE PAST YEAR, MAKING IT, AS WE BELIEVE, A POPULAR STORE. WE HAVE REASON TO EXPECT THIS PATRONAGE AS LONG AS WE DEAL FAIRLY AND HONESTLY. OUR STORE POSITION IS THAT OF A PUBLIC SERVANT. IF WE EARNESTLY ENDEAVOR TO PLEASE THE PUBLIC, AND GIVE GOOD VALUES, OUR POSITION IS SECURE, BUT IF WE NEGLECT OUR DUTIES, AND DO NOT DEAL SQUARELY, THEN WE LOSE OUR JOB.

We Mean To Hold Our Job
