Tribute Paid Wade Grimland in Burial Service Saturday

Many Friends Mourn Passing of Young Business Man

Final tribute was paid the memory of Wade Grimland, 30, in funeral rites and burial service conducted Saturday afternoon. As a strong wind whipped sand high in the air, scores of friends of the former Sonora boy gathered at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grimland, for a final mark of respect to the young man who had an enviable business reputation, and who had planned to be married on the date of burial.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. E. P. Neal, pastor of the Sonora Methodist church, were simple and brief, with a few songs, and a brief word of tribute to Mr. Grimland and a short review of his activities.

A large procession of relatives and friends accompanied the body to the Sonora cemetery for burial. A quintet composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Caldwell, Mrs. Roy Aldwell, Miss Dora Petmecky and J. C. Norris sang, and the Rev. E. P. Neal gave a brief prayer in concluding the service.

Mr. Grimland was born in Sonora thirty years ago. He completed public school work here. (Continued on page 4)

SAVES DOG FROM CAVE; REQUIRES AID IN TURN

Tuesday occurred an incident on the Dock Friend ranch in which the rescuer got in trouble and had to be rescued.

Mr. Friend lowered himself into a vertical cave estimated at 75 or 100 feet in depth to bring out a dog which had fallen into the hole the day before. The dog was reached and raised to the surface; and when Mr. Friend started upward the trouble began. Struck with a cramp he was unable to climb, and had to ask for help.

Aid was summoned hastily from nearby ranches by his assistant in the dog rescue and soon half a dozen cars of neighbors arrived. Mr. Friend was brought to the surface without delay.

Sonora Wool and Mohair Marketing Corporation Issued $77,630 on 123,868 Animals

The Sonora Wool and Mohair Marketing Corporation has advanced $77,630.75 on 123,868 sheep, or 62.8c per head, it was announced this week when the National Wool Marketing Corporation disclosed that its total pre-shearing advances of $432,065.90 to Texas sheepmen have been issued on 711,412 head of sheep.

The sum of $14,441 has been advanced by the national organization on New Mexico goats, and pre-shearing advances have been made on 37,200 head of goats in Utah.

The co-operative has tied up in Texas about 5,700,000 lbs. of wool. No advances have been made on mohair in this state, but the sheep advances are further divided in Texas as follows:

Lone Star Wool and Mohair Co-operative Association, San Angelo, $199,234.65, on 325,015 sheep; the American Wool and Mohair Association, Uvalde, $28,021 on 49,555 sheep; Mid-Texas Wool and Mohair Association of Menard, $80,655 on 133,035 sheep; Southwest Texas Wool and Mohair Association of Del Rio, $45,494.50 on 79,939 sheep.

Shearing Now in Full Swing; Mohair on Hand Is 200,000 Lbs.

Wool is coming in fast at the Sonora Wool and Mohair warehouse this week, with about 75,000 pounds now in storage. Most of the early wool is from mutton lambs, which are being sheared in order to get ready for market. The wool is unusually fine this year and a light shrinkage is expected.

Shearing crews are busy all over the sheep and goat country. Goat shearing is finished, and main sheep shearing season is well underway. Mohair on hand here totals 200,000 pounds, with a considerable portion of this area's production yet to be received.

MYSTERY BLOCKS FOUND UNDER SMALL CULVERT

An absorbing mystery was brought to light here Thursday when Sheriff B. W. Hutcherson, acting on a tip from Paul Smith, removed a carelessly wrapped package from a culvert just north of Sonora on the San Angelo highway.

Unwrapped, the contents of the package was found to be 24 identically patterned wooden wedges, covered with rubber bands cut from inner tubes. About 2 inches wide and 7 inches long the wedges are 2 inches thick at one end and taper off to half-an-inch at the other. Six of the blocks were gilded on the portion not rubber covered, and the balance were painted green.

Theories as to the nature and uses of the blocks were varied. Some observers thought them to be door-stops, while others claim that they were used by bootleggers to keep liquor bottles still in transit.

State to Survey Route for No. 55 from Rocksprings

Advance Word Says Project Would End Near Sonora, Probably on Highway No. 30

A survey for an extension of Highway No. 55 from Rocksprings north to a point near Sonora will be started soon, according to word received in Rocksprings last week from W. B. Hodges, resident engineer of the Uvalde division of the highway department. Highway No. 55 now connects Uvalde and Rocksprings, and if extended north, would likely intersect Highway No. 30 a few miles south of Sonora.

Concerning the survey, and possibility of construction of the road, the Rocksprings Record last week carried the following:

County Judge J. L. Johnson is in receipt of a communication from the engineering department of the State Highway Department, Uvalde division, that W. B. Hodges, district engineer, will in a short time make a survey for an extension of Highway No. 55 from Rocksprings to a point near Sonora.

Judge Johnson, in company with Commissioner R. H. Earwood visited Uvalde recently, and while there were assured of a survey for new route of Highway No. 55, and the letter just received is a confirmation. (Continued on page 4)

Clean-Up Work Is Still in Progress

Truck Has Been Working 8 Days—Drive Declared Successful

The city-wide clean-up campaign inaugurated last week carried over into this week, and a truck is still hauling rubbish and old junk from the city to the dump ground.

About 50 old automobiles scattered about town were hauled away last week. The truck began running Thursday, and is still busy hauling off collected trash from all parts of town. The exact number of loads hauled has not been determined, but is thought to exceed one hundred.

The drive has been declared the most successful in the town's history. Civic clubs, health organizations, and the city administration have been active in sponsoring the drive. In the western part of town the work has been particularly thorough, largely through influence of the L. U. L. A. C. organization.

School Census Shows Total of 653 in the District

The Sonora Independent School District showed a gain of 71 scholastics this year over 1931, according to a census now being completed. The total count this year is 653, the largest ever secured. Last year's total was 582.

The increase will be of great value to the school, since it will bring to Sonora an additional $1136 of state school aid funds. The gain in enrollment was gratifying to the board of education and to R. S. Covey, superintendent. Most of the work was done by Woodrow Norris.

The district which supports the Cedar Hill school in the east part of Sutton county, is not included in the total. Figures for that district are not yet available.

During the last few years the state has allowed $17.50 for each scholastic registered. This year the figure has been tentatively set at $16, according to announcement by S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent. The gain of $1136 for Sonora was estimated on this basis.

All children who will be 6 years old and not more than 18 on September 1 are eligible for listing.

Sonora's total aid for next year would figure $10,448.

Ozona Wins in Game Here Last Thursday

Errors by Broncs Give Visitors Big End of 8-1 Count

The Ozona high school nine captured what had appeared until the sixth inning to be a shut-out for the Sonora Bronchos until four errors in the sixth inning gave the visitors a big margin in a game here last Thursday.

Raul Castillo had pitched an airtight game for the locals, and his mates had been able to do a little stick-work, enough to score a run. With a 1-0 advantage the Bronc defense blew up in the sixth, and before the next two innings had ended, Ozona had scored eight runs.

For Sonora, Archer, and both Raul and Gilbert Castillo got hits. Coach A. L. Smith changed his plans in regard to attending the invitation track meet at Ozona Saturday, letting his men rest and train for the San Angelo district meet this week-end.

A second baseball game was scheduled with the Ozona nine here Thursday afternoon of this week.

as Wednesday adopted a strict eight-hour day. Formerly highway employees worked nine hours.

The pay scale will remain the same on an hour basis.

Jury Still Out in Fuller's Trial at 6 p. m. Thursday

Man Charged in Death of Rutledge Claims Self Defense

The jury was still out at 6 p. m. Thursday in the case of Charles B. Fuller, on trial in San Angelo this week charged with the murder of Hugh Rutledge, Sonora cafe owner, in McCamey May 2, 1929.

Self defense was the principal grounds advanced by the defense counsel and brought out by Fuller's testimony. Rutledge was shot three times in the rear of a McCamey house, Fuller claiming that Rutledge had made a motion toward his hip, as though to draw a gun.

The case was tried in district court at Rankin, the county of jurisdiction, resulting in a mistrial. It was later set for trial last fall in San Angelo in the 119th district court, but Fuller was not present. (Continued on page 4)

Women Figure In Arizona Ranching

One Cattle Grower Shows Unusual Business Ability

Mrs. J. M. Keith, secretary of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association, tells the following story about an Arizona cattlemaster, whose name she withholds because of the modesty of the subject of the story: "Last fall the cattle from this woman's ranch were sold, without a forfeit. The cattle were rounded up preparatory to starting the following morning on the 40-mile drive to the shipping point, when word was received that the buyer had gone back on his contract and would not take the cattle. This was in the evening, and you can imagine the consternation because they could not turn the steers loose, and besides they needed the money.

"Now this ranch is located several miles from a wagon road, but this cowwoman said: 'Well, I'll go and find a buyer.' She saddled her horse and rode several miles to where they kept their car. She then drove 35 miles to the nearest town. It was 7:30 in the evening by then, but she got busy with the telephone and telegraph, and by 11 o'clock she had a buyer on the line who said: 'If you can guarantee the cattle to be what you say they are, and the number I want (several head more than were gathered back home), I'll take them.'

"She guaranteed this and went back home, reaching the ranch at 3 a. m., having made the round trip alone. At 5 o'clock that morning they rounded up the pastures and started with the cattle, as they had originally planned, but to an entirely different buyer but at the same price.

7,634 Sheep Used in Soremouth Test

Entire Group Vaccinated; Station Men Check Results Monthly

Veterinarians at the Ranch Experiment Station, Dr. W. T. Hardy and Dr. I. B. Boughton, have recently vaccinated 7,634 head of sheep for soremouth, and are now checking results each month. Dr. Boughton, in Sonora Monday, stressed the fact that the work is entirely experimental, and is not being done as a commercial venture.

In their work with bitterweed the veterinarians have definitely established the ratio of bitterweed necessary to kill a sheep. Their repeated tests show that consumption of 1.3 per cent of a sheep's weight in young seedling bitterweed will prove fatal. They are working now to determine the relative degree of poison in weeds of varying ages.

'Gold Rush' May Go To Kerrville Assayer Reports

Kerr County Ore Found To Yield 1-3 Ounce to the Ton, According to Chemist's Analysis

"Thar's gold in them hills, stranger."
 Gold-bearing ore has been discovered in Kerr county and there is a possibility that the Hill Country may witness the stirring scenes that made history in the Klondyke region.

A sample of a formation taken from a water well being drilled on the 40-acre farm of J. A. Jackson, in the vicinity of Johnson Creek, 12 miles northwest of the city, in tests made by the Custom Assay Office at El Paso showed one-third of an ounce to the ton of ore.

The analysis report of the assay chemist was received Tuesday by Jackson, who sent the samples to El Paso.

The metal-bearing formation was taken from the well at a depth of 270 feet. Other tests to be made of the formation further down in the well will show an even greater gold content, Jackson believes. The ore has an outcrop on the surface at the Jackson farm and on other tracts in the vicinity. It has drawn comment from geologists engaged in petroleum research.

The Kerrville business man was elated at the assay report of his sample. He is making plans to have his tract developed at an early date, and when this is done it will mark the beginning of mining operations in this section of Texas.

Based on the report of the assayer, the newly-discovered Kerr county ore will pay in excess of $6 per ton when mined commercially, it has been estimated. According to reports, many of the larger Canadian mines yield less than this figure per ton.

Indications of rich mineral deposits have been found in Kerr county at different times; but heretofore no effort toward development has been made.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

DRAMATIC CLUB DISCUSSES ONE-ACT PLAY TOURNEY

The Thirteen Dramatic Club, meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Joseph Trainer, club president, was authorized to write to the neighboring towns which would be concerned, outlining the plan.

The idea of the tournament would be to include community dramatic groups, rather than school organizations. Details of judging, prizes, and other matters were discussed Monday night, but no definite action can be taken until communication is established with the other towns.

When Federal Liquor Agents' Guns Spat Death

"I find that a decent and law abiding citizen has been ruthlessly murdered." That is the statement of William McCraw, district attorney in Dallas, following investigation of the shooting to death of Marion McGlothlin, Dallas county country grocer, and the wounding of his wife by Federal Prohibition Agents L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton. McGlothlin's country store was a rendezvous where the officers, posing as customers, were to meet a bootlegger and buy liquor. Mrs. McGlothlin says that their actions led her to suspect they were robbers. When she withdrew her pistol from under the counter, it was shot from her hand. McGlothlin then got his shot gun and was shot to death by the agents. McGlothlin is shown upper left; his wife, head bandaged where one of the officers struck her with his pistol, is upper right. Below is the scene of the tragedy.

The Scout Trail

Troop 19 opened its meeting Tuesday night with 15 members present. After opening formalities we played "Leap Frog," "Steal the Bacon," "Over the Top" and "Tug of War." Then each Scout was provided with a short rope and we had a knot-tying contest, won by the Cowboy Patrol, (formerly the Rancher's Patrol). The name of this patrol seems about as changeable as the weather. Next we had a short signaling instruction period and contest, won by the Beaver Patrol. After building pyramids, which event was won by the Cowboys, we dismissed with the Scout Laws.

The hike last Thursday night and Friday morning was a success! Nine Scouts and two leaders, Bud Smith and Jack Earhart were present. Six of these Scouts passed tests and all of them declared they had the best time ever.

Hidden Copper Mine Is Sought Near San Saba

Ancient Shafts Indicated By Rock Arrows Found in the District By Two Prospectors

A. L. Parr and G. I. Watkins, of Ballinger, departed last week for San Saba, where they hope to make a final discovery of a buried treasure in two old mining shafts they believe are in the San Saba lost mining district. Two shafts were only recently found, following a search by the two prospectors with Jim Star, of San Saba, for several months.

Parr displayed rich copper ore purported to have come from within one of the shafts, and seemingly chiseled old flat round rock believed to have served as a covering for some hidden hole, in support of his conviction that the hunt nears a successful close.

The men were led to the two shafts by a series of signs found in the district, rock arrows pointing to a direction where further signs indicated a purpose, and an apparent hole dug into solid rock showing years of age.

In a nearby creek, two complete circles sunk into solid rock, now crumbling, and a ladder cut into the hard surface, proved a beneficial indication, Parr said.

Parr and Watkins have been conducting a series of hunts in areas surrounding Runnels county, other than in the San Saba search, and are making their first amateur experience a profession. They discovered two old shafts believed to be old mines on the Hartgrove ranch near San Angelo, and have several other prospective locations to investigate. Parr has silver ore samples said to have come from one of the places.

The two prospectors classify mineral rods and other such devices for searching, as "bunk." They search for both ore and lost treasures, following signs and indications altogether.

Scenes of Flat Iron Double Murder in East Texas

Like a true detective thriller reads the story of how an aged well digger, George Brimberry, and his wife, were clubbed to death with a flat iron, and robbed of what little they had. Above is the two-room cabin near Arp, Texas, which was their home. In the lower left hand corner are Mr. and Mrs. Brimberry in front of their home. Scrawled on a peculiarly fitting page of a magazine the cryptic message at lower right was found. "A negro killed me," it said. Officers thought the clue false. Within less than 20 hours after the killing, Smith County officers arrested a white man and charged him with the crime, his shoes fitting footprints found near the scene and his pants bearing blood stains.

WOOL GROWERS INVITED TO SUBMIT SAMPLES TO EXPERIMENT STATIONS FOR SCOURING, GRADING FLEECE

(By J. M. Jones, Chief, Division of Range Animal Husbandry, Texas Ag. Experiment Station.)

Since sheep shearing season is again at hand, it might be well to call the attention of Texas wool growers to the wool grading and scouring services offered by the wool scouring plant of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A. & M. college at College Station. A number of progressive wool growers have not had an opportunity to study wool grades and shrinkages, since such a knowledge is important in connection with efficient fine wool sheep production, we are taking this opportunity to announce that representative samples, drawn in accordance with instructions from the wool scouring plant, will be scoured in regular order as received for Texas wool growers who desire to take advantage of this service.

The shrinkages of Texas wools, as published by the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, in the Annual Wool Review, by years for the period 1914 to 1930 inclusive, have been estimated as follows:

Texas Fine Wool Shrinkages
Year	Per Ct.	Year	Per Ct.
1914	.64	1923	.63
1915	.63	1924	.63
1916	.63	1925	.65
1917	.65	1926	.62
1918	.67	1927	.61
1919	.67	1928	.61
1920	.65	1929	.61
1921	.65	1930	.61
1922	.65

During the period 1921 to 1931 inclusive, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has scoured numerous samples of fine wool for Texas growers. Average shrinkage on these scoured samples, for this 11 year period, averaged 61 per cent. The average annual shrinkage of samples scoured during this period is as follows:

Texas Fine Wool Shrinkages (Texas Ag. Experiment Station)
Year	Per Ct.	Year	Per Ct.
1921	62.09	1927	61.68
1922	61.62	1928	61.86
1923	58.82	1929	61.36
1924	60.34	1930	59.94
1925	63.48	1931	62.41
1926	62.20	Av. 11 years	61.03

It will be observed that the figures as presented by the National Association of Wool Manufacturers in the Annual Wool Review during the period 1926 to 1930 are in very close agreement with the average shrinkages obtained as a result of scouring representative wool samples at the Agricultural Experiment Station wool scouring plant during the period of its operation.

S. P. Davis, wool and mohair specialist, will spend a few weeks in the field this spring and will be glad to interview growers interested in submitting samples for scouring.

Growers who are interested in submitting a few fleeces for both grading and scouring are invited to address their communications to the Division of Range Animal Husbandry, Wool and Mohair Scouring Plant, College Station, Texas. Upon receipt of such communications, complete instructions covering sampling and shipping will be sent to them.

COMMUNISTIC COLONY ON LLANO RIVER FAILURE 85 YEARS AGO

Eighty-five years ago the most recent communistic effort in West Texas failed.

It was down on the Llano River, between Mason and Llano, which in 1850 had only 32 residents.

German students from the University of Heidelberg, and from the University of Geissen, 40 of them, led by Gustav Schleicher, after whom Schleicher county was named, agreed to land 200 families in the Llano country for $12,000.

The students formed a communistic colony, just one mile below the town of Castell, and where Elm Creek flows into the Llano. They were given wagons, tools, provisions, but made only 2000 bushels of corn the first year. The boys laid around in the shade of the pecans, fished, read philosophy, thought of their university degrees and did not prosper to any great degree. They lived in log cabins covered with reed grass. The next year the group had moved to the farms around New Braunfels or gone home. Schleicher stayed on, was later elected to Congress and when he died in San Antonio 15,000 persons attended his funeral.

The Sonora High School orchestra, directed by Professor Henri Rogers, and assisted by several adult musicians of the town who play regularly with it, is in readiness for its first complete concert of the year this evening in the high school auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

The orchestra has been in demand to furnish music for plays and similar productions throughout the school year and has attained proficiency through these appearances.

This evening's program will consist of solo and ensemble instrumental numbers aside from selections by the full orchestra.

STAMFORD PLANS THIRD ANNUAL COWBOY REUNION

Stamford, April 14.—The third annual Texas Cowboy Reunion will be held again in Stamford the latter part of June, according to W. G. Swenson, president.

Mr. Swenson says there will be a number of new and finer features and that the program on the order of that of previous shows would be followed this year rather closely. Professional contestants will not be permitted to compete at the show in connection with the cowboy reunion.

Attend Birthday Celebration
 Alfred Schweining, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary, and his niece, Miss Erna Schweining, of Fredericksburg, who has been visiting here for several days, attended a birthday family reunion honoring his mother in Goldthwaite Sunday.

APPRECIATION

We take this means of thanking our many friends for their kindnesses extended during our great sorrow in the loss of our son and brother.

It is such a consolation to know that we have so many friends ready to share our sorrow and make burdens so much easier and lighter.

Words are almost meaningless at this time, and we can only say that we are very grateful, and wishing for all God's blessing.

MR. and MRS. J. E. GRIMLAND and FAMILY.
 MISS OLLIE BELL.

Experiment Station at Spur Announces Its Breeders' Day

Ranchmen Invited to Inspect the Results of Experimental Feeding on April 22

The Spur Experiment Station for the past fifteen years has been active in improving the feed crops of West Texas and in determining the feeding value of grains when fed to cattle and sheep. It has been determined through a long series of experiments that the sorghum grains have approximately the feeding value of shelled corn.

Last October 100 yearling steers were divided into ten equal lots to study:

- (1) Comparison of chopped and unchopped milo, kafir and feterita bundles.
- (2) Comparison of chopped milo, kafir, feterita, hegari and red top bundles.
- (3) Comparison of cotton seed and cottonseed meal as a protein supplement for fattening steers.

This test will close on April 22, at which time a general West Texas breeders' meeting will be held at the Spur Station. Cattle feeders, county agents and newspaper men throughout West Texas have already expressed their intention of being present. There will be also a number of representatives from the A. & M. college, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, agricultural agents of railroads, vocational agriculture teachers, and bankers present.

A very short speaking program will be held, and most of the time will be given to viewing the feeding and other experiments being conducted at the station and a general swapping of experiences by those present.

These experiments and the field day are for the benefit of those interested in farm feeding of West Texas feed crops. A day spent at the Spur station should be both interesting and profitable. Every farmer in West Texas is invited to be present.

three men now in the East negotiating a sale for the fleece. The pool controls the big end of the 1932 spring clip. It was formed last fall, and at that time sold its accumulation to the National Wool Marketing Corporation.

A tentative contract between the Texas Warehouse Association and the co-op by which the spring clip was to be taken at last fall's prices, was voided by the co-op, after serious breaks in the mohair market, and because of a huge surplus on hand in the co-op's warehouses.

The three men, L. A. Schreiner, Kerrville, Fred Horner, Uvalde and C. C. Belcher, Del Rio, have been in Boston, New York, and Washington for several weeks seeking to sell the entire clip. They have asked for additional time once, and stated that they expect an advantageous sale to be announced today.

Last week a sale of 75,000 pounds of hair by the Rocksprings Livestock Loan Association was reported as having broken the pool, but since the Rocksprings company was not in the pool it remains intact.

Sales in scattered parts of Texas and in small quantities have been reported at 7 and 20 cents a pound, for adult and kid hair, respectively. Last fall's advance by the co-op was 15 cents for the grown hair and 35 cents for the kid fleece.

Announcement as to the amount of advance to be made on spring wool is expected from the co-op soon.

work. Pledges signed at the luncheon and secured later totaled $22.50 per month for carrying on the Scout work. Mr. Draper, in his talk praised the work being done by Mr. Aldwell and by Jack Earhart, assistant Scout master who has been directing work of the local troop.

H. V. Stokes, chairman of the highway committee for the club, announced that the improvement of Highway 30 north from Sonora 10 miles to the Sutton-Schleicher county line would be sought by H. L. Taylor, maintenance head of this district for the state highway department. The road would be widened, new shoulders constructed and an additional surface treatment made.

J. B. Rutland, Austin, vocational agriculture supervisor for the state department of education, was a guest of R. S. Covey, and spoke briefly of the value of work being done in Texas in vocational subjects. Mr. Rutland stated that Texas had one-seventh of the vocational agriculture departments in public schools in the entire United States. Ten thousand boys are learning farming and ranching in Texas schools, said Mr. Neal, who formerly taught in Ozona.

Entertainment for the day was in charge of a committee headed by the Rev. J. O. McMillon, and composed of the Rev. E. P. Neal and W. R. Nisbet. Musical selections, a vocal duet, "Lonesome, That's All," by the Misses Helen Joiner and Marie Watkins, with Miss Watkins at the piano, and a vocal solo by E. J. Thomas, "Vale," with accompaniment by Miss Watkins, provided entertainment.

Mr. Thomas suggested the formation of a men's chorus for Sonora, and volunteered his services in directing and assisting such a group.

Guests for the day were, in addition to Messrs. Thomas, Rutland and Draper, H. P. Pickrell, Turner D. White, M. M. Stokes, Sonora, and Bob Crowther, San Angelo.

The members of next week's program committee are: Miss Doza Petmucky, and J. M. and M. C. Puckett.
