The supper is planned in such a manner to eliminate dishes, although Miss Day pointed out that it would be necessary to bring glasses for the beverages.

Asked about food materials that the club members and their families should include in their selection, Miss Day set forth a word-illustration, and stated that "you should plan your picnic basket to contain some of the following things named:"

Meats—Fried chicken, meat loaf or sandwiches. Salad—Fresh whole tomatoes, lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, green peppers, stuffed or deviled eggs, celery, fresh peaches, bananas.

4,738 Acres Entered In Water Facilities Project Here

The Water Facilities and Soil Conservation Project at Spur Texas, up to July 15, 1939, has entered into cooperative agreements with 28 farmers on 4,738 acres of land, including 3,660 acres in cultivation, 1078 acres in pasture and 59 in farmsteads.

Each of the cooperating farms has been planned for a complete erosion control program and a water facility to supply the needs of livestock, household, and for gardens where the water can be used for irrigation.

Water facilities for the 28 farms include 6 loan agreements and 22 non-loan agreements. The six cooperators securing the loan agreements borrowed $1,601.80 for a long period of time and at 3 per cent interest. These loans were financed through the Farm Security Administration. The 22 non-loan agreements were financed by the individual cooperators. The water facilities on these 28 farms consist of 6 wells, 9 windmills, 9 concrete troughs, 5 iron troughs, 3 overhead storage tanks and towers, 8 windmill towers, 9 repair jobs on windmills and windmill towers, and 5 earthen stock ponds. Out of the 28 farms planned, water facilities have been completed on 9.

The Soil Conservation measures on the 28 farms include 174 miles of terraces and 350 acres of contour furrows on pastures. Strip cropping, contour cultivation, and crop rotation will be practiced on all cultivated land. Also controlled grazing for all pasture land.

Cooperators are installing all the soil conservation measures at their own expense, said E. D. Cook, Project Conservationist. The Soil Conservation Service assists them in planning their conservation program and lends them such tools as Fresno and Texas terracers, when they are available.

Motley-Dickens Old Settlers Call Meet For August 4

Forming a session at which time final plans for the program of the two-day celebration will be formulated, officials and the board of directors of the Motley-Dickens Old Settlers Reunion will gather in a called meeting on Friday, August 4, and president C. C. Halle asserts that others who are interested are invited to be on hand. The meeting will take place at the Roaring Springs Old Settlers Tabernacle at 3:00 p. m.

Mrs. M. S. Thacker is secretary of the association. Dates, Halle said, are automatically set by the 4th Thursday in August as the opening day, running through the 25th.

At the meeting at Roaring Springs August 4th, additional plans will be made on the program routine. Usual features are of course already known—Old Settlers dances both nights; dances both nights for the young people; carnival attractions by the Dudley Shows; and it is likely that this year community contests will be featured. This would be a new mark for interest.

Opening feature of the Reunion is the Memorial service, a tribute to the pioneers, conducted by Rev. G. I. Brittain of Plainview, 11:00 o'clock Thursday morning, August 24.

Naming other features, Halle stated that a six-couple group from Jayton would present "The Virginia Reel" for the approval of Reunion goers one night, and possibly both nights. This is termed one of the prettiest dance acts from the old-time group.

A chuck wagon, it was also revealed, would be on the grounds at the Reunion this year, serving food at a nominal fee to the visitors, if present plans were carried out. The additional features will be mapped at the meeting Friday of next week.

FSA Workers Meet, Plan For Better Help To Farmers

Plans for giving more effective service to Texas low-income farmers will be made July 31 to August 4 in College Station at the annual state conference of Farm Security Administration workers, A. A. McKimney, Dickens, Kent and King county supervisor said today.

Theme of the meeting is "Helping Worthy Farmers Help Themselves." Mr. McKimney estimated that 107,500 state farm families are receiving incomes of less than $500 a year, including all feed and other goods produced for home use. "Nearly half of this group had annual family incomes of less than $250," he said, "which means that they are trying to exist on about $1 a week per person, and this dollar is not in cash but partly in home-grown products."

"FSA has made 56,500 small loans in Texas to these farm families to help them buy seed, tools, livestock, canning and other equipment needs to give them a 'toe hold' on the land. A recent survey showed that these farmers have increased their net worth by $266 per family and at the same time are paying off their loans."

"Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has reported," the supervisor continued, "that the program for lending worthy tenant farmers money to buy their farms is beyond the experimental state, that it is ready for a sound and reasonable expansion. In Texas 507 farmers have been helped in the past two years to buy their farms and to date have repaid more on their loans than has become due. An increased appropriation by Congress has recently been announced which will permit us to practically double the number of counties in which farm purchase loans will be made this year."

Every one of these loans is secured by first mortgage on real estate, conservatively valued both by government appraisers and by a county committee of three farmers who are thoroughly familiar with local conditions. Moreover, the loans are repayable over a 40-year period at 3 percent interest.

"This means," the supervisor emphasized, "that in a great majority of cases annual installments, plus taxes and insurance amount to less than the tenant formerly paid in rent for the same farm."

Washington officials attending the conference at College Station include C. B. Baldwin, Assistant FSA Administrator; John O. Walker, director of the resettlement program division; Simon C. Skeels, chief of the collections division and Mercer G. Evans, director of labor relations.

Other speakers include Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M. College; H. H. Williamson, Director of Extension; and E. J. Kyle, Dean of Agriculture.

MILK IS FOOD—NOT A BEVERAGE

By RUTH J. COOPER, Home Economics Consultant
Breeder-Feeder Association

Fallacies continue to come, and will to the end of time, but each one is disproved by science. Milk remains our nearly perfect food.

Few people, comparatively speaking, do not like the taste of milk. A cool or cold glass of milk is more of a "pick-me-up" in the mid-morning or mid-afternoon than any other digested if taken with other foods, it is a good plan to eat a slice or so of buttered bread or graham crackers along with the milk. This snack will not only refresh but "stick-to-your-ribs" longer.

The same reasoning holds for drinking milk with meals. If the milk is mixed in with the other foods of the meal, it stays in the system longer and is more completely digested, enhancing the nutritive value of all.

There are few people who cannot take milk. If they do not like milk the problem is usually psychic and they often imagine that it does not agree with them. The problem is to overcome this phobia so that milk can become the vital part of their diet. Invariably this type of individual needs to be built up and to help correct this phobia, milk to be digested.

To the few who by necessity or choice prefer to have their milk disguised, the milk shakes offer endless variety. They are easy to shake up at home and are liked equally by all ages—from baby to grandfather. These suggestions are for hiding that extra milk in the diet.

Egg Nog

2 egg yolks	2 tablespoons
1 cup milk	whipped cream
2 teaspoons sugar	A sprinkling
Few grains salt	of nutmeg
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg yolks, add sugar, salt, milk and flavoring. Mix well, pour into glass, top with whipped cream and a sprinkling of nutmeg. Serve well chilled.

REAL AID FOR AGRICULTURE

A logical aid to the solution of the problem of agricultural surpluses, is increased consumer consumption. That such aid is practical and possible has been dramatically illustrated during the past two or three years, in the many consumer-producer campaigns conducted on behalf of "distressed" crops by tens of thousands of American retail stores.

The campaigns were inaugurated by the food stores. Afterwards variety, hardware, mail order stores joined in.

Beef, lamb, fresh fruits, canned fruits, nuts, poultry, citrus fruits, beans, dairy products—these are but a few of the products on whose behalf, at the request of the farmers concerned, American retailing has gone to bat. And in most cases it has knocked out home runs. In no case has it struck out. During the campaign periods, ranging in length from a few days to weeks, consumption has been greatly increased at prices fair to all involved.

Furthermore, it has been proven that these drives were effective not only during the campaign time. Consumers discovered new appetites and learned the pleasure of more varied, better balanced meals. And they kept on buying.

When the farmer and the retailer get together, everyone, including the consumer, is benefitted.

Vanilla Milk Shake

½ pint milk	Ice cream (any flavor)
2 teaspoons sugar	2 tablespoons
½ teaspoon vanilla	whipped cream
4 tablespoons	chipped ice

A sprinkling of nutmeg

Place the milk, sugar, flavoring and ice in a fruit jar or shaker and shake for two or three minutes, until foamy. Pour into tall glass, add ice cream if desired, top with whipped cream and a dash of nutmeg.

The variations are endless—use brown sugar, molasses, honey, various syrups, or fruit juices as the sweetening, and accentuate the flavoring extracts or a blend of the extracts such as rose, raspberry, almond, peppermint, lemon, spice.

ORANGE—Add 2 tablespoons of fresh orange juice and a grating of rind or ½ teaspoon orange extract and a few drops of orange coloring.

STRAWBERRY—Add ½ teaspoon strawberry extract and a few drops of red coloring.

GRAPE—Add 2 or more tablespoons of grape juice.

CHOCOLATE—Add 2 or more tablespoons chocolate syrup.

COFFEE—Add 3 or more tablespoons of strong coffee. This with the chocolate syrup makes a delightful flavor.

Orange Milk Shake

1 sup orange juice	½ cup chip ice
1 cup milk	2 t-spoons sugar

Combine ingredients in a fruit jar or shaker and shake for two or three minutes. Serve immediately.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER URGES PEOPLE TO USE SALT

"The beating Texas sun these July days is beginning to take its toll in heat prostrations, from reports reaching the Texas State Department of Health. A simple precaution to help prevent heat cramps and prostration is to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body loses large quantities of salt during hot days.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be used. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramps are characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then various muscles begin to cramp.

Rabies Increasing In Many Parts Of Texas

Rabies is increasing in prevalence in many parts of Texas although it may be controlled and even could be exterminated by intelligent measures, according to records of the State Department of Health. Unfortunately it has been the practice to wait to apply control measures until the disease is widespread.

The dog is the chief source of rabies infection in man, but all warm blooded animals are susceptible. Contrary to a widespread belief, rabies is not a warm weather disease. It occurs just as frequently in the cold months. The most logical procedure in the control of rabies would be to vaccinate all dogs. Where this is impossible the stray dog should immediately be impounded, for the stray dog is chiefly responsible for the spread of rabies.

Public health authorities are handicapped in their fight against the spread of rabies because rabies in humans occurs only frequently. However, it must be remembered that rabies is 100 per cent fatal once the disease has developed. Treatment is only preventive and must be taken in-time.

Do not kill the dog that is behaving strangely or immediately after it has bitten some one. The animal should be captured and kept under observation for ten days to determine whether it has rabies or not. Confinement should be amply secure, for a dog in the frenzy of furious rabies requires a much stronger collar and chain or enclosure than a non-rabid dog.

When the rabies virus is put into the body by a biting dog the virus travels slowly from the wound along the nerves until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. Thus if the bite is on the face the virus does not have far to travel to reach the brain. Consequently bites on the face are the most dangerous and immunization must be started at once.

It is possible to control rabies, but, owing to the large territory included in Texas, it will take extra efforts on the part of public health workers and the cooperation of the people of each town and county to carry on an educational program for this control.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action—Don't Neglect!

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to "ask your neighbor!"

BILLIE BURKE HISEY MARRIES CHARLES BREWSTER AT CORPUS CHRISTI

Pink and white gladioli adorned the altar at the South Bluff Methodist Church Sunday morning for the marriage of Miss Billie Burke Hisey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hisey of Spur, and Charles Douglas Brewster, son of the Rev. C. R. Brewster and Mrs. Brewster. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Brewster. The baskets of gladioli, palms and fever few and shasta daisies were used to decorate the church.

Mrs. E. N. Wood, organist, played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner for the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. She also accompanied Ted Douglas who sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, B. L. Hisey, wore a frock of pale blue chiffon, made with tucked blouse, tucked skirt which flared and trimmed in imported lace. Her hat and other accessories were navy blue and she wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was an antique cameo necklace and she carried a white leather Bible, a gift from the bridegroom's parents.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Robert Hisey. She wore a powder blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. James E. Douglas of El Campo served as best man and ushers were Kenneth Marshall and Earl Cox.

Mrs. Brewster, mother of the bridegroom, wore an orchid lace dress with navy and fuchsia accessories and a corsage of blossoms to harmonize with her costume.

A breakfast was served at the Brewster home following the ceremony and a variety of summer flowers were used for decoration with a white and pink and green theme featured in the dining table. A silver bowl filled with the white and pink flowers centered the table and the wedding cake was placed at one end with the coffee service at the other. The cake was a two-tier embossed confection. Miss Roberta Hisey served the cake and Miss Helen Douglas presided at the coffee service.

Says Garden Day Assured For '40

Dickens County farm families should be glad to have this additional AAA payment on home gardens," said Jean Day, Home Demonstration Agent, "and Home Demonstration Club women may well feel proud of the part they played in Texas in pushing this recommendation toward success."

A Texas born movement to put more food on the farm family table reached national proportions when 100 state farmer-committeemen met in Washington last week to draw up the 1940 farm program, and provided for home gardening assistance by the AAA next year.

Setting up a general outline from which specific provisions for the new program will be drafted, the conferees recommended a $2 allowance for family gardens, and a $2 deduction from payments otherwise earned if the farm family fails to plant a garden, where state agricultural conservation committees are willing.

There was no doubt about the Texas state committee's feelings on the matter, since it was the first in the nation to seriously suggest garden payments.

George Slaughter, chairman, and Charles Thomas, member of the committee, attended the conference with E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator.

"When you realize there are reported to be more than 200,000 gardenless farms in the state, this action is highly significant," Slaughter asserted, on his return to headquarters at Texas A. and M. College. "Federated club women, Extension Service workers and homemakers, members of the Texas Agricultural Association and others who have urged garden assistance are to be commended for their efforts. Two dollars isn't much, but in some cases it may mean the difference between an adequate garden and none at all."

Increased emphasis on soil conservation, more opportunities for participation by small farmers, and greater responsibility of administration in the hands of the farmer committees were other items in the 1940 outline, Slaughter reported.

No major changes in principles or provisions of the program were made he said.

Designed to stimulate soil conservation, and made especially in the interest of small farmers, was a recommendation that a minimum soil-building allowance of $20 per farm be established. Another along the conservation line would enable farmers to earn up to $30 a farm, in addition to the regular soil-building allowance, by planting trees.

Among other recommendations were:

That the program encourage longer rotation of dryland farming, more wildlife protection through established soil-building practices, and return of sub-marginal restoration land to permanent vegetative cover over longer periods of time.

That the special wind erosion area program be dropped, since practices developed under the regular program fill the area's needs.

That no special peanut allotments be set up in commercial peanut counties with 300 acres or less of peanuts for market.

That, as in 1939, commercial vegetable acreage allotments be established in designated commercial vegetable acreage allotments be established in designated commercial vegetable counties normally devoting more than 200 acres to this crop, on farms producing more than three acres. Upon the state committee's recommendation, counties may be exempt where the principal production is for small local markets and there is no tendency to expand production substantially.

SONS OF LEGONNAIRES TO MEET IN WACO AUGUST 26-29

Special to The Texas Spur
By Johnnie Bown

Waco, July 12—One of the big jobs of putting on an American Legion convention these days is providing entertainment and care for an up and coming youth organization known as the Sons of Legion.

It has been conservatively estimated that 1000 members of that branch organization will come to Waco when Legion members hold their convention here August 26-29. They will arrive on Saturday, opening day of the convention, and remain through Tuesday, the closing date.

Col. W. C. Torrence, Waco's city manager, will be in charge of the encampment. The registration fee, to cover housing, care, meals and entertainment for the Sons of Legion corps will be $2 for each member. Any further information needed may be obtained by writing Col. Torrence at Waco's municipal building.

An expert dietician to see after the feeding of the youths and a nurse to care for those who need medical or first aid attention will be on the grounds throughout the convention, it was assured by the convention city corporation here.

Prizes will be awarded to winners of athletic contests and other contests to be held for the Sons of Legion during their stay here. Various other forms of entertainment, including band concerts and participation in the Legion convention parade, are being planned, it was understood.

GREEN LIGHT

On June 5, the Supreme Court of the United States handed down a decision of immense significance to the farmers of America. The decision upheld the constitutionality of a Federal-State marketing agreement, established by the producers of the New York milk shed in 1932, designed to further the development of agricultural marketing cooperation, and to aid the farmer in getting a fair price for his milk.

The fact that the highest court in the land has thus definitely and finally upheld this policy will give the farm marketing cooperative movement a strong impetus. Its importance is not limited to New York—other groups of farmers, in other states, face the same marketing and price problems.

So marketing cooperation, under fair laws, has been given the green light. The rest is up to the farmers themselves—for after all, it will be their own work, rather than political scrawls which will win the day for them.
