Mrs. Givens Lawrence, of Matador, was fatally injured in a two-car crash two miles north of Spur on the Dickens highway, about 10:30 last Friday night.

The remainder of the occupants suffered cuts, bruises and nervous shock.

Food For Freedom Stepped-up By Soil Conservation

Food for Freedom needed for the Army, Navy, and Allies, is essentially the same compact, ship-saving foods first announced over one year ago—dairy, poultry, and pork products, canned fruits and vegetables, especially tomatoes and peas, dry edible beans. Stepped-up American production and lend-lease shipments of these foods have already helped prevent our defeat by providing a margin of strength for the British people, during the period before we entered the war.

The people of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District are doing their part in the production of food. They are making applications for a complete program of soil and water conservation which will enable them to produce more food.

The past week, soil and water conservation plans were completed on the following farms: J. W. Vickery, Leonard Clements, W. C. Hunsucker, Albert Powers, James A. Gallagher, J. T. Russell, T. J. Perkins, J. B. Morrison, E. Ray Dunlap, F. O. Bural and A. Q. Smelser.

The Board of Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District met on June 18 and approved conservation plans on the following ten farms and ranches: C. C. York, O. M. McGinty, Tom Murdock, W. R. Gannon, T. B. Yeates, W. G. Jones, Willie Williams, D. E. McKenzie, E. H. Hairgrove and T. H. Rigby. Twenty-eight applications for soil and water conservation work were also approved by the Supervisors.

If you want to make application for soil and water conservation work, see your County Agent, Vocational Agriculture Teacher, Home Demonstration Agent, Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District (R. R. Wooten, O. M. McGinty, A. A. Fry, Tom Murdock and L. W. Dalby) or come to the Soil Conservation Service Office in Spur, Texas.

Farm Workers Are Asked To Register With County Judge

Dickens County farmers who anticipate a shortage of farm workers are requested to advise persons that do this type of work to register with County Judge, Edwin H. Boedecker, who will maintain a list of available farm workers as well as the names of farmers who need workers.

This is a service that should be used by all Dickens County farmers and workers for it provides a medium whereby a person seeking employment either temporary or permanent may be advised whom to contact with respect to securing employment as well as affording the farmers information to whom he should contact when in need of additional farm labor.

If we meet our "Food for Freedom" production goals it is necessary that we utilize all available farm labor to the best advantage. Farmers and laborers alike are requested to cooperate in this program. For further information please contact Judge Boedecker or your Dickens County War Board.

Writing fits to a long and useful life, death came with little warning at 5:30 p. m. Friday, June 19, 1942 to M. A. Lea Sr., retired business man, farmer and city resident 19 years. Mr. Lea had spent the afternoon in a social gathering with friends at the Spur Hotel.

A native Texan, Murray A. Lea, son of Captain J. Horace Lea, a Civil War Veteran, and Molly Connor Lea, was born October 17, 1868 at Sherman, Texas. It was in this home that their six children were born, three of whom predeceased their father in death.

Mr. Lea was converted in 1896 and for seven years affiliated with the Presbyterian Church membership, later joining the Methodist Church with Mrs. Lea and also was a Royal Arch Mason.

In 1910 he bought an interest in a general mercantile store at that place and of which he eventually absorbed the entire interests.

In 1920 Mr. Lea sold his general store to enter a partnership in a Ford Motor Agency with his son Robert Lea and three years later the Leas disposed of the Ford Agency and purchased the interest of W. A. Grogan in the Spur Light and Power Plant owned and operated by W. A. Grogan and Roy Stovall. They came to Spur June 23, 1923. Four years later the Spur Light and Power Plant was sold to West Texas Utilities Co. and Mr. Lea retired from active business other than supervising small scale farming operations.

Masonic Funeral services were held at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, June 21st at the Spur Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. H. L. Thurston, pastor, and Rev. J. E. Harrell, of Hamilton and a former pastor of Spur.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Navy Cruisers are built in two classes, light and heavy, the latter displacing about 10,000 tons. Our navy has about an equal number of light and heavy Cruisers, the 10,000 ton Cruiser costing approximately $20,000,000. Many Cruisers are under construction and many more are needed.

To pay for these speedy and powerful ships with their heavy guns and armament we must buy War Bonds. Citizens of a large town or a given community, working in unity, could buy one of these ships for the Navy if they put at least ten percent of their income in War Bonds every pay day.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like.

For instance, I like the part where... after all the writin' and the routine is done... I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)

Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

After all... when you stop to think about it... beer is a simple, natural thing. I read somewhere that all it's made of is good, wholesome farm grains and water and a little yeast... with hops for flavor. Nature's process of fermentation and the age-old art of the brewer does the rest.

I guess that's why beer is so wholesome. It really is the beverage of moderation. You just can't imagine anybody getting into trouble drinking a few glasses of beer.

Usually, when I get to thinkin', I send down for some beer. Seems a glass of beer not only touches the spot but it also sort of helps the thinkin' mood along.

It's such a peaceful, friendly beverage. Sort of honest and human. And it tastes good.

I like to hold my glass of beer up to the light and look through it. That beautiful, golden-amber color kind of fascinates me. Reminds me of the sunny barley fields where beer gets its start.

Well, here I am... going on and on thinking and talking about beer. Probably could go on for hours. That's the way I am when I set back and get to thinking about things.

And by the way, taking it easy and "just thinkin'" is fun. Try it sometime... quiet and comfortable like.

WHAT IS CHEMURGY?

That new coined word CHEMURGY has begun to appear with considerable frequency in the agricultural press. We see it every day. To many of us it is just a word that sounds technical and scientific. Perhaps this would be a good time to get down on paper a simple understanding of what the word means to agriculture, and what it promises for the future. Simply defined, the word Chemurgy embraces three goals or objectives, as follows: 1—Growing new crops in place of continuing to plant excess acreage in crops of which we already have a surplus. 2—Finding new industrial and manufacturing uses for BOTH new and old crops. 3—Finding profitable uses for the waste products of the farm, such as straw, stalks, hulls, etc. That sounds like a big contract, and it is. But the way the scientists are trying to solve it is the perfectly logical way in which all structures, however big, are built—one brick at a time. How important Chemurgy is may well be pictured by a single example. For generations we have been importing all of our silk from the Far East. We haven't worried much about it, except perhaps the price. The supply seemed assured. And then along comes a world-wide war, and we don't import any more silk. Chemurgy has been preparing for that event for a long time. We have learned how to make rayon and nylon and other entirely synthetic fibers that do very well as alternates for natural silk. And we make them largely from cotton and other products of the farm as raw materials. If we never are able to import another pound of silk from foreign countries, we shall not suffer more than a temporary period of inconvenience, while our own "silk" manufacturing plants are being enlarged. That is just one of the important developments of chemurgy—the science of applying chemistry to improve the products of the farm, or to adapt them to other uses. Nature takes air and sunshine and water, and combines them with a very small percentage of the minerals in the soil, to grow them, as plants, into things that are useful to us. Chemurgy takes these things and carries on the job of making them into still other useful things. It is the inspiration behind the already large fibre-producing industry, and behind much of the promising plastics industry, which is still in swaddling clothes. Looking ahead, our general supply of minerals may some day become exhausted. It does not replace itself in a few short years. But our supply of sunshine and water is without end. That limitless asset, aided by chemurgy, may become the greatest line of defense for our civilization—our way of continuing to live up to our own standard of living. Some day we may be able to get the raw materials we need to get food, for clothing, for machines, and for fuel to run them—all through Chemurgy.

Hamp Collett, of Lubbock, arrived in Spur Tuesday to visit with relatives and friends for several days.

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action—Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, and, what keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and sometimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Uncle Sam Has More Electric Power than All these Three Together!

POWER

...after 6 months of WAR...

TALK of a "power shortage" has died down. But if an uninformed person listened to occasional blasts from socialistic individual groups in Washington, he would conclude that the future of America's war effort depends on spending more billions of tax dollars for socialized electric power projects.

The truth of the matter is just the opposite.

In fact, Adolf, Hirohito and Benito probably are spending some sleepless nights because they know that this Nation's great and growing war production must inevitably turn the tide against them.

America can do it because America has the electric power to drive the machines that make tanks, planes, ships and guns . . . more power than the three uneasy dictators and all their conquered countries combined . . . five times more than we had in the last war!

Companies like this, under business management, publicly owned through millions of small stockholders, and regulated by the government, are generating and distributing over 90 per cent of all the country's commercially produced electricity.

They have met war needs, plus your normal needs, with perfect efficiency.

The increase alone in power demand within the last year equaled the total output of the entire industry 25 years ago. Electric companies absorbed this increase without undue strain. The tremendous new wartime loads were met with the industry's total generating capacity working only 50 per cent of the time.

Expansion and improvement programs are being carried on to meet the greater demands of the future.

Your attention is called to this remarkable achievement because constant socialistic political attack, over many years, hindered normal expansion.

After six months of war, it can be said that there will be no serious power shortage in this country if the government gives the electric industry the same degree of cooperation it gives to other industries on which the war effort depends.

The needed power will continue to be distributed where it's needed, when it's needed, and without added cost to the taxpayers.

The experience and training of the men and women who operate your electric company are dedicated today to making Uncle Sam so power-full that the Axis dictators soon will be nothing more than three busts in the Hall of Infamy!
