and THE DICKENS ITEM

VOLUME XXXIII

SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1942

NUMBER 36

To The People Of Dickens County

During the closing days of my campaign for promotion to the important office of District Attorney, I want the help of all of my friends in my home county, and I am addressing this special appeal to you asking for your help now, and your vote on election day. I do not have the financial backing to send you a letter through the mail, and I hope that each of you will consider this as a personal message.

Because of the difficulties in reaching the voters this year, and because the people of my home county know me, and my public record, I have felt that I should spend the most of my time campaigning in the other counties of the district. I know that the fair minded people of this county will understand the situation, and will not be offended if I have not campaigned with you individually. My friends in other counties report to me that my race is receiving very favorable attention by the people of those counties, and I am confident that if the people of my home county give me their support, the race will be won.

Our present District Attorney has been in the office almost six years, having served almost a full term by appointment, and having been elected to the office two times. Two years ago he told me that he would not be a candidate for the office at this election, and I acted on that statement by him. Because he was appointed to the office during my second term as the County Attorney of this county, and because he advised me that he would not be a candidate this year, I have held the office I now hold four years longer than ordinary while waiting for the present District Attorney to serve in the office a reasonable length of time, and to give me an opportunity to make the race. Under the circumstances I believe that I am now entitled to a natural promotion to the office.

Your help in this race, and your vote on election day, will be humbly and deeply appreciated, and if I am elected to the office, I assure you that I shall never do anything to cause you to regret helping me.

At any time that I may help you in any way, please call on me. I hope to see you before the election, but if not, the best of good fortune to you and yours, now, and in the future.

Yours sincerely,

L. D. RATLIFF, JR.,

Last Letters From Mac Watson, Who Is Reported Missing

NOTE — Following are excerpts from letters written to his mother, Mrs. A. W. Watson, and brothers and sisters, before he was reported "Missing in Action" in the Philippines:

Jan. 1940

Dear Folks,

It seems like all of you know exactly what I need most every Christmas. I had just about run out of civies. Of course, we have plenty of uniforms, but you get tired wearing them all the time. We didn't do much here Christmas.

I have been in the Air Corps about a year now, and I got my first hop the other day. I really got some thrill out of it. I had been up once or twice, back in L. A., but it wasn't anything like they fly in the army. The pilot asked me if I wanted to take over the controls for a bit and I shook my head and said "No, thanks." After we came down I wished that I had so that I could tell all you I had flown an airplane. Anyway, I will get a lot of chances in the near future because we are getting a lot of new planes over here.

They tell me everyone is getting all excited about war back there. Before they get too excited about it, they had better stop and think about a year; then maybe we can be ready for it.

Wanda, I am dying to see what Diana looks like. She must be some kid, from what all of you say, and Dad, I hope you are able to keep the east side of Duck Creek on the boom.

August 1941

Hazel, I got your letter saying you would like to see the tropics. But take it from me, I would like to be digging some of that good old Duck Creek sand out of my eyes. This tropical stuff is good in the movies, but it sure makes one lazy. You don't care whether school keeps or not. Sometimes, I wish we could have action to break the lull of things.

September 1941

They are building some new barracks here on the post, getting ready for some new squadrons that are coming next month. We are getting a lot of men over here, but are lacking in modern equipment. I guess we will get it in time, but it will probably be too late. I imagine the radio broadcasts make it sound much better than I do, but you can't fool your own eyes very easy. We don't like to talk about war and if anyone starts talking about it, he soon finds he's talking to himself. None of us like the thoughts of being made cannon fodder of.

LAST LETTER Nov. 8, 1941

I have been so busy the last few weeks I have not had much time for anything. We had to go up the coast to an aerial gunnery camp, and believe me, we had a lot of hard work. All of our equipment was new and none of it seem to work good at all. Most of the pilots had never fired before and hadn't even so much as seen a machine gun; but by the time we left camp they were doing very well. By another month or so I wouldn't like to be the ones diving down on us, and us letting all those guns loose.

Time is moving very fast for us over here now. In no time we will be short-timers. If they stay another year here, I will try to get a 90 day furlough. If things stay as they are now, I think it will be possible, but don't count on it too strong.

Love

Mac

Dickens County Labor Situation

A shortage of farm labor in Dickens County is being anticipated within the near future. To offset this shortage the Dickens County War Board is making a survey of the county and working with Federal and State Labor Authorities in an effort to relieve this shortage in so far as possible.

When you receive your questionnaire in regard to the labor on your farm please fill it out carefully and return it to us so we will have information needed for the securing and distribution of farm labor for the harvesting of our feed and cotton.

Farm Storage Space For Grain Sorghums

Many Dickens County farmers planted wheat land or combine maize or other types of grain sorghums with the intention of harvesting with a combine. This threshed grain will increase the need for storage space on the farm within the near future.

The shortage of building materials and carpenter labor may cause some delay in the construction of bins. Since this is true it would be well for us to begin planning now for storage space. Mack Woodrum, your local county agent can secure plans for different sizes of granaries from the Extension Service of A. & M. College.

Dickens County-Girard Sing-Song To Meet Here Sunday 19th

The Dickens County-Girard Third Sunday Sing-Song will meet at the Spur High School Auditorium and we urge everyone to come and be with us. We will have the new books and also some church books.

We invite the elder people to come and any number they want we will try to sing it.

We are expecting some Crosby County singers and Cottle County singers to come and be with us.

Singing will begin at 2:30 p. m. Everybody come.—President.

Correction

In the recipe given in last week's paper for Invert Sugar, there was a mistake in the proportions, says Fae Bass, County Home Demonstration Agent. The recipe should read: Mix 2 cups sugar, 14 tablespoons water, 1-4 teaspoon tartaric acid. Boil slowly in a covered pan for 30 minutes. By inverting sugar its sweetness is greatly increased.

DOAN'S PILLS advertisement with logo and text: THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging back-ache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

E. C. Nelson

Judge E. C. Nelson is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. This is one of the highest judicial offices in our State, one that demands the most thorough training and the widest possible experience.

He taught school for five years before entering the legal profession, and served two years in the United States Army during World War I, fourteen months of his service being in France.

He has had a well-rounded legal experience. He has been a licensed attorney for more than 22 years. He has practiced law in all of our courts and has been judge of all courts of record up to the Court of Civil Appeals.

Judge Nelson is 51 years old, just the right age to undertake the work of an appellate judge. He is old enough for maturity, experience, and judgment, and young enough for the years of hard work the position requires.

The size of the district has made it impossible for him to see all the people, but he solicits the vote and influence of all our citizens.

RURAL TRENDS

WHAT TO DO WITH MONEY

A few years ago, many of us were asking ourselves the question, "What shall we use for money?" That was during the time those of us with long memories call the Depression.

Now it is different. Everybody who really wants to work can find a job at good pay. It may not be just exactly what he likes to do; many people have had their usual occupations or businesses interrupted by war conditions. But there are jobs for all, and the pay is good. We have lost our unemployment problem, except for the unemployables.

That is the usual result of a war—increased employment and more money in circulation. Twenty-five years ago, we were in another war. Then, as now, jobs were plenty and money was easy. Prices were sky high, but there was plenty of goods to be had. Factory workers wore silk shirts, sometimes to work in.

The main difference between that war and the present one is that now we have a growing shortage of merchandise. That is not going to improve, at least not until the course of the war is pretty well decided, and we can predict about when it will be over.

It's a brand new experience for a good many Americans to have money in their pockets and no place to spend it. We've often heard that advice is cheap, and seldom worth its price. But at the risk of trafficking in that sort of commodity, this column takes its courage in its hand and offers a few suggestions about what to do with money.

The number one thing to do is to buy war stamps and bonds as liberally as possible. That represents money saved rather than spent. It is putting away something for the future, in the safest possible place to put it. And the quickest way to get the war won and paid for is to keep the war chest full.

Next, contribute generously to the war agencies that are not directly supported by the Government, such as the Red Cross and the U. S. O., with a thought for the relief funds of the peoples of other nations less fortunate than we are.

Next, use surplus funds to pay debts. There is a clear net profit in paying up obligations that are costing 5 or 6 per cent, or more, to carry. Paid now, those debts will not be hanging over our heads when money may not be quite so plentiful.

Perhaps the next most important things for which to spend money are education, and the upkeep of the home, so far as materials are available for repairs and renovation.

Beyond those things, it is quite likely that our good old Uncle Sam is going to reach pretty deeply into the pocketbook for higher taxes. We can't begrudge him what he takes. We get more real value for tax money than they do in any other country. For where is there a better place to live than under the Stars and Stripes?

Money is a fine thing to have. We can do a lot with it. But when money is relatively easy to earn and save, we should not forget the values that cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents—good health, good character and good humanity, along with the spirit of mutual helpfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pinkerton, of Rochester, formerly of Spur, spent Saturday here the guests of her mother, Mrs. Susan Loe, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers cordially invite you to visit them at the

HILL TOP CAFE

"Please send me 10¢ worth of electricity—today"

"But, Lady, you don't have to order it—just turn the switch!"

SUPPOSE, though, that you did have to order your day's supply of electric service, say, in baskets like groceries. You'd realize even more how convenient it now is. And you'd appreciate even more how little it costs... and how much it does for you.

Actually, a majority of all West Texas families have good light and operate their many appliances for about a dime a day—or less!

What's more, that dime buys just about twice or three times as much electricity as it did 10 to 15 years ago! And (are you surprised?) it's one of the few household items that hasn't "gone up" as a result of the war.

This bargain doesn't just happen. It comes from our united effort to give you better service at lower cost. It is made possible by practical, efficient business management of an institution built by Americans who invested their savings in an industry dedicated to the public service and regulated by the government.

That's the American way—and it works!

It works so well that even though our country today is pouring record-breaking amounts of electric power into the world's greatest production of planes, tanks, ships and guns—you still get low-cost current in your home... and at the flick of a switch. You don't need to order it... or secure a ration card.

Probably the few pennies a day you spend for electric service bring you more for your money than anything else you buy. For this small amount, would you clean oil lamps, beat rugs, scrub clothes, give up your radio?

Hardly! Electric service is the world's biggest bargain

Clark Forbis And Lasater Hensley Attend PCA Meet

Clark Forbis and Lasater Hensley, of Guthrie, directors of the Stamford production Credit Association, spent two days, July 13 and 14, in Fort Worth at a conference attended by directors of 6 associations which serve 45 Texas counties. Keynote of the sessions was need for care on the part of farmers and ranchmen in taking on debts and the use of educational credit where financing is needed, he said.

The conference recommended a seven-point program for farmers and stockmen to follow under the war-time conditions: (1) produce what America-war needs most and the things you are best qualified to handle successfully. (2) plan your work so that you won't have to use so much hired help. It will be scarce and high. (3) Don't spread too much—you may get hurt if prices should suddenly revert to 1917 levels or worse. (4) Conserve by protecting and repairing machinery, by producing your own living at home, by stopping waste of food, feed, and supplies; (5) pay debts while prices are good. (6) Keep the income tax in mind as part of your expenses; you are accruing a good income. (7) Keep the income tax in mind as part of your expenses; you are accruing a liability for 1942 taxes before you pay for 1941. Just figure that you have two years' taxes to pay out of this year's income. (8) Use credit wisely—make it help you pay debts and build a reserve for the future.

The Stamford Production Credit Association supplied more than $2,112,733.00 of operating money to some 850 members during 1941, Mr. Forbis said. Texas farmers and stockmen are replying too, for 1942 cash payments are showing a substantial increase. The Stamford Credit association is making a special effort to save both tires and time for farmers and ranchmen, Forbis said, and to make its service available "so that food production will not be limited by lack of sound, economical credit."

Christian Church News

There is a close relation between the home life and the church. Life is made up of Home, Church and Business. The better relater these three are, the better is on's life. All are necessary. Life is not complete without either. Life's emphasis must be placed in proper proportion in order to have a well balanced life, which is necessary for happiness. So if your business and your home is not in harmony with your church life, how about trying to make a change by going to some church next Sunday in Spur. You might be surprised in the hours of happiness that awaits you. Spur has an abundance of good churches. They are all teaching the Bible to the best of their abilities. The church is the foundation of all better society. The church stands foremost in all activities for the betterment of mankind. However the Church cannot be any better than you will let it be. God does not force anything upon us, but will give us power to do the best that we can do. Does your feet hold back the Church, or do you push onward? Brother, sister, time is short; let us be up and doing for the Lord.

Next Sunday is Family Day at the Christian Church. Roll call by families. A beautiful Religious picture to every family present. Election of Elders and Deacons. You are needed.
