

$1,600 Allotted to Local Methodists in World Relief Fund

Methodists of Spur are being called on by the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, minister of the First Methodist church, to take part in raising $25,000,000 for world relief and reconstruction, the first phase of the denomination's nation-wide Crusade for Christ program of post-war service.

The local appeal, for which the goal is $1,600.00 will begin on Sunday, Jan. 21, Rev. Hollowell announced. The Methodist congregation here is part of nearly 8,000,000 members of 41,000 churches in the United States who are participating in the four-year plan, five-fold crusade. Expenditure of the Crusade fund by the regular, general agencies of the church will provide for "feeding the hungry, clothing the destitute and freeing the minds and spirits of the ignorant, the underprivileged, the driven and dispossessed," Rev. Hollowell said. Three-fifths of the fund has been allocated for the "rebuilding and rehabilitation of human life" in foreign countries, nine tenths in war-devastated areas and the rest in other mission fields. The balance will be used for emergency, war-caused needs in this country.

Other phases of the Crusade for Christ program call for continued education in and expression of opinion for "co-operation among nations in the post-war world," renewed evangelism efforts with special emphasis in 1946, education for Christian stewardship of ability, time and money and improvement of Sunday School enrollment and attendance.

"The Crusade for Christ is Methodist's organized response for assuming its part in meeting the unsettled conditions and vast, staggering needs created by the second World War," Rev. Hollowell stated. "Having proved its will to live in the face of all enemies, the church is now ready to give practical and spiritual food to the hungry, both of its own household and others throughout the world without distinction of race, creed or color."

Members of the Crusade for Christ council of the local Methodist church are: Leonard W. Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Payne, H. M. Christian, D. J. Dyess, Mrs. Page Gollihar, W. F. Gilbert, George S. Link, Mrs. C. H. McCulley, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Hober Lewis and the pastor.

Members of the Council are hopeful the entire amount of $1,600.00 will be subscribed and paid on next Sunday morning.

Theatres Mobilizing For 'March of Dimes' Drive Starting 31st

Theatremen of the Lone Star state are mobilizing their forces for the 1945 "March of Dimes" campaign which starts Jan. 25 and continue through Jan. 31, according to J. D. McCain, local theatre manager, who predicts that collection this year will more than double those of 1944.

Last year's collections in the movie theatres of Texas amounted to $214,056.13. In commenting on last year's collections, McCain said that 50 per cent of the money remained with the local chapter of the National Foundation while the other 50 per cent went into the National Foundation for use in epidemic aid, research and education.

Also, McCain said that there are 549,542 seats in the movie theatres of Texas and if $1.00 is collected for every seat, a total of $549,542 will be made available for the fight against the dread polio.

There are 750 seats in the Palace theatre here and McCain hopes to get at least $750.

Louise Rigsby Enters Army Nurse Corps

Miss Louise Rigsby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rigsby of Dickens is to enter the service on Feb. 1 as a Second Lt. in the United States Army Nurse Corps. Miss Rigsby received training at the Hendrick Memorial hospital, Abilene, and graduated in July, 1944. She is to report to Camp Berkeley, Texas for assignment.

DR. W. A. CRISWELL, of Dallas the Baptist Hour Speaker for next Sunday morning, Jan. 21, may be heard over station WFAA at 7:30 a. m. Dr. Criswell, rated as one of the most attractive and effective youth speakers in the nation, is successor to the late Dr. George W. F. Love, of Atlanta Georgia, Director of the Radio Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention states that young people in large numbers on college and university campuses as well as in the churches and homes, are expected to hear his message next Sunday.

Robert W. Wilson Preparing for New Type Pacific War

OCEANSIDE, Calif. — Marine Pfc. Robert W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Wilson of Spur is preparing to go into the Pacific in a new type of warfare.

He and hundreds of other Leathernecks at this huge camp are being trained to operate mobile laundry units which will be landed with troops on Pacific Islands to wage war against the ever present germs which are taking a huge toll on Marine Corps fighting men. Navy medical men have estimated that 30 per cent of the cases in overseas hospitals and dispensaries are traceable to skin diseases caused by soiled clothes.

To Private First Class Wilson being overseas will be nothing new, however, since he already has spent 21 months in the Pacific. He was with the Second Marine Raider Battalion and was at Guadalcanal, Midway, Bougainville, New Caledonia, New Zealand, the New Hebrides as well as Hawaii.

He was born May 29, 1922 in Dallas and graduated from Spur high school in 1940 where he was a member of the school band for four years. He later attended McMurry College in Abilene and enlisted in the Marine Corps Dec. 19, 1941, in Dallas.

Upon graduation from the mobile laundry school, he will be fully qualified to operate, maintain and repair the new mobile units and will be assigned to laundry platoons in the field.

Mrs. Edith Durham Appointed Principal East Ward School

Mid-term examinations were completed at the Spur schools this week. IQ tests were given all high school students for permanent records.

C. F. Cook, school superintendent, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Edith Durham as principal of East Ward school for the remainder of the year and the election of Mrs. Reece McNeill as third grade teacher, to replace Miss Smiley, who resigned recently to accept a position in a Lubbock school.

Cook is requesting that all patrons of the school give their cooperation and assistance to Mrs. Durham to make her position as East Ward principal both pleasant and successful.

Officials have announced that 280 students are now taking lunch in the school lunch room. Lunch room officials are attempting to promote better meals to offer the students, and would appreciate suggestions.

Agricultural Phase GI Bill of Rights to Be Aired Here Jan. 23

Machinery for translating the agricultural phases of the GI Bill of Rights from promises into actual operations will be set up in Crosby, Dickens and Kent counties and throughout Texas within the next few weeks, according to Walter E. O'Neal, Farm Security Administration Supervisor.

Horace D. Gilmore, district supervisor at Lubbock, has called a meeting of the supervisors and committeemen for Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Kent, King and Mott counties, comprising the territory served by the Spur and Paducah FSA offices, at Spur for Jan. 23, at 10:00 a. m. He will outline how the government farm loan guaranty will work. Mr. Gilmore has just returned from Oklahoma City where regional, state and district officials from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico heard from R. W. Hudgens, Washington, FSA Associate Administrator, of the part FSA will play in the GI program.

The law provides that the government through the Veterans Administration will guarantee a maximum of $2,000, but in no case more than 50 per cent of any loans made to veterans by a private or other lending source. The Veterans Administration will guarantee the loan upon recommendation of the Certifying Committee in the respective county that (1) the proceeds of such loan will be used in payment for real or personal property purchased or to be purchased by the veteran, or for repairing, altering or improving any building or equipment to be used in bona fide farming operations conducted by him; (2) that such property will be useful in and reasonably necessary to such operations; (3) that the ability and experience of the veteran and nature of operations contemplated are such that there is reasonable likelihood of success; and (4) that the purchase price asked for the property does not exceed the reasonable normal value as determined by proper appraisal.

In applying for a loan to buy a farm, the Veteran should obtain a Veteran's Administration form No. 1800 which is to be signed by the Veteran and the lender and forwarded to the Veterans Administration. Veterans wishing to receive a loan for the purchase of a farm under the GI bill may contact the Advisory Committee at the County Agent's office for advice concerning agricultural information in the area in which he wishes to locate. The Certifying Committee furnishes facts and recommendations to the Veteran's Administration who approves or rejects the Veterans agricultural loan. The Certifying Committee is presently composed of three men in each county who also serve as the FSA County Loan Committee. The Certifying Committee may be contacted in each county at the local office of the Farm Security Administration.

Federal Land Bank appraisers will appraise all farms purchased by Veterans under the GI guaranty.

Surveys by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that more than one million five hundred thousand men with farm background are now in the armed services and that more than one-third of these will probably wish to return to farming at the end of the war.

James T. Spivey Wounded in Action In Germany Oct. 9

James T. Spivey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Spivey of Maxwell, New Mex., and brother of Miss Bea Spivey of Lubbock and Mrs. Muri Foreman of Spur, was seriously wounded in action in Germany on Oct. 9.

Word was received from him on Dec. 12, stating he was wounded in the right arm and was learning to write again. He is in a hospital somewhere in England. He has been awarded the Purple Heart which has just been received by his mother, along with the citation.

Mr. and Mrs. Spivey are former residents of Spur, and James T. attended the Spur schools.

McMURRY CHANTERS—Pictured above are the twenty-four girls who have been selected from the McMurry College Chanters to appear in the chapel of the First Methodist church of Spur, Thursday night, Jan. 25, at 8 o'clock. The group is touring the state under the directorship of Mrs. Robert B. Wylie, dean of music at McMurry. Miss Louise Spiegelmeier, pianist, is accompanist for the chorus. Members of the group are to spend the night in Spur and are to be served the evening meal by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist church. Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor, has extended a special and very cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Bulldogs to Tackle Lockney Friday in Conference Game

Spur's basketball boys are to play the Lockney team in the Spur gym on Friday night, Jan. 19, at 8 o'clock in the fourth conference game of the season. The Girard girls are to play the Spur girls.

Tuesday night, Jan. 23, the Spur boys will play the Crosbytown boys in the Spur gym.

Last Tuesday night the Bulldog basketballers first string boys defeated Floydada's second string, 28 to 12. The Spur girls lost to Girard, 32 to 13.

Spur's first team boys defeated Floydada last Friday night at Spur, 18 to 10. The second string boys defeated Floydada's second string, 28 to 12. The Spur girls lost to Girard, 32 to 13.

Lt. Max McClure Waits Reassigning At Miami Beach

First Lt. Max W. McClure, 26, has arrived at Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States.

Medical examinations and classification interviews at this point, pioneer of several redistribution stations operated by the AAF Personnel Distribution Command for AAF returnee officers and enlisted men, will determine his new assignment. He will remain at the redistribution station about two weeks, much of which will be devoted to rest and recreation.

Lieutenant McClure, a P-47 Thunderbolt pilot, flew 89 missions during one year in the European Theatre of operations. He was awarded the Air Medal with 10 Oak Leaf Clusters. He is the son of Mrs. Ann B. McClure of 103 E. Hill St., Spur. His wife, Ena, resides in London, England.

Gets Promotion to Private First Class

WITH U. S. ARMY FORCES IN THE NEW HEBRIDES—While serving at the Station Hospital, C. L. Elmore has been promoted from Private to Private First Class. On duty in the Physiotherapy Clinic, he came overseas in December, 1943, and joined his present unit in January, 1944. Private Elmore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elmore of Dickens.

Do You Know How To Nurse Your Own Sick Child?

MRS. LELAND WILSON
Home Nursing Chairman

If you are not sure, now is the time to learn. The Red Cross chapter of Dickens county has sent a nurse to Abilene this week to brush up on how to teach everyone to take care of their own family. Are you interested? As everyone knows, all nurses who can possibly be spared will go to war, saving our boys who are giving their blood and their lives to save this great country of ours.

With more nurses "over there" the better chance your loved ones have of coming back. We must learn to follow the doctor's orders, to keep a chart, and be able to report to him on the progress of our sick. This course will be absolutely free to any person wishing to take it.

The teacher will be Mrs. Martin Pope. There will be five or six classes held in Dickens county. The first one will begin Wednesday, Jan. 24 from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the Red Cross room. Please don't let this opportunity pass you by. It's a course you will never regret taking—only two hours a day for six days. For further information please see or call Mrs. Leland Wilson, or W. F. Godfrey at once and arrange to attend one of the classes that will be held soon.

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore of the T 4 1 Ranch have announced the arrival of a daughter, Dorothy Elaine, born at All Saints hospital, Fort Worth on Jan. 7. Mother and daughter are doing nicely and expect to return home soon.

Pioneer Resident of County Buried Here Thursday Afternoon

Funeral services for Clinton Donald Copeland, who passed away Tuesday, Jan. 16, were held at the First Methodist church of Spur Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor, conducting.

Interment was in the Spur cemetery with Campbells Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Born in Leon county, Texas, Aug. 26, 1870, Mr. Copeland would have been 75 years old on his next birthday. He was one of the pioneer residents of the county, having moved here in 1907. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Pallbearers were Neal A. Chastain, L. D. Ratliff, Penn Shugart, Floy Watson, Jack Christian and J. D. Hopkins.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Copeland is survived by five children. They are Arnold Copeland, Mumfield; Mary Copeland, Austin; Wilton Copeland, Beulah Snodgrass and Marcus Copeland, all of Spur.

Also surviving are three brothers, J. D. and Loyd Copeland of Shannon, and Riley Copeland of Waco; five sisters, Ida Wilson, Abilene; Mrs. Deia Alexander, Coolidge; Mrs. Jennie Motheson, Hedrick, Okla.; Mrs. Ora Belle Nelson, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Olive Stubblefield of California and Mrs. Laura Abbott, Mart.

Dickens Cagers Give Up 2 Games Tuesday To Robertson Teams

The Dickens Basketball Conference season got off to a start last Tuesday night, Jan. 9, when they played the Robertson teams at Ralls. The Dickens basketballers lost both games to the opposing team. Probably the most exciting and interesting event of the evening occurred when Coach Latham sent Hubert Hawley on the court. Hubert did some fine playing.

The second conference game on the Dickens schedule was played in the Dickens gym on Jan. 12, with Jayton offering the competition. The Dickens girls won with a good margin, but the Dickens boys were defeated. On the weekend of Dec. 29-30, the Dickens teams participated in the Aspermont tournament. The girls brought home the second place trophy.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Dickens county Girard Sing-Song will meet Sunday afternoon, January 21 at 2:30 p. m. at the Midway Baptist church. We have some new song books. If you would like the convention to meet in your community, come next Sunday and ask for it.

Jack Christian Is Named Chairman Of Drive in County

Jack Christian has been appointed chairman for Dickens county of the President's birthday celebrations and "March of Dimes" to fight the spread of infantile paralysis. The appointment was announced Wednesday by George Waverly Briggs, Dallas, vice-chairman of the Texas State committee for the fund-raising celebrations Jan. 14 to 31.

Christian has appointed pastors of Spur churches as co-chairmen in the fund-raising drive which got under way January 14 and will continue to Jan. 31 throughout the nation. The local drive in Spur is set for Tuesday, Jan. 30, when an effort will be made to see every citizen and give them an opportunity to participate in this worthy cause.

As in previous campaigns, jars will be placed in the four drug stores and at other locations in the city where those whom the committee failed to see may make their contributions to the "March of Dimes" by dropping them in any of these jars.

Approximately 33 and 1-3 per cent of all funds raised in Spur will remain with the local chapter with the remainder going to the national fund for the use of epidemic aid, research and education. It was pointed out by Christian Wednesday that two local families received aid from the local funds during the past year.

The local campaign will tie in with activities in all Texas counties, now intensively organized. The American Legion, the American Farm Bureau Federation, 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America and other organizations have volunteered full cooperation. Balls, bazars, benefit concerts, sports contests, the March of Dimes and other events are being planned to raise funds for combating the dread disease which crippled thousands of America's children each year.

Christian declared that the 1944 epidemic of infantile paralysis was the second worst outbreak of the disease in the history of the U. S., adding, "Fortunately, through funds from last year's celebrations, we were prepared to meet that attack in all parts of the nation. More than a million dollars—or ten million dimes—contributed by the American people were spent by the National Foundation for infantile paralysis to provide the best modern treatment for all victims of the epidemic. Since no one knows where, or how, polio may strike in 1945, we must again be ready to meet the attack whenever it may come, as well as continue the prolonged treatment still necessary for 1944's victims. Participation in the annual March of Dimes and birthday celebrations is our assurance that no victim of infantile paralysis will go uncared for regardless of age, race, or creed."

Funds from the 1945 celebrations will provide treatment for local children crippled by the disease, and will also help finance national research to discover the cause of the disease and preventive measures against it.

Pfc. Robt. McGaughy Missing in Action Since December 16

Pfc. Robert S. McGaughy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGaughy of Spur, has been missing in action in Belgium since Dec. 16, according to a message from the War Department to his wife, Betty, on January 11.

Before being inducted into the service in March, 1944, at Ft. Sill, Okla., Pfc. McGaughy was employed as manager of the Double Cola Co. at Lubbock. He received most of his army training at Camp Hood, Texas and went overseas as a linesman in an Infantry Unit last October. The last letter his wife received from him was dated December 13.

His wife and two children, Bobbie Jim and Donnie, reside in Lubbock.

MORE EARNINGS FOR ALL

The Senate War Contracts subcommittee, headed by Sen. James E. Murray, has prepared legislation which, in Senator Murray's words, is "a bill to guarantee full employment." It is important that all Americans know now the full implications of the Murray bill, and vigorous discussions are called for both in Congress and out, if we are to have peacetime prosperity.

Both right and left-wing economists agree that a high degree of prosperity cannot be achieved in the country without a high rate of production. They also agree that the problem now facing us is not one of learning how to produce but, rather, of seeing to it that there is sufficient consumption—for without sufficient consumption, the things we make will gather dust and rot in warehouses.

This, then, is the key to post-war prosperity—maintaining a high rate of consumption.

Right now we have the greatest productive capacity in all history. Some of it was built for war and will have to be rebuilt for peace. This can and will be done—in the shortest possible space of time.

In rebuilding it, however, steps must somehow be taken to make sure we shall be able to buy the things our arms and our factories produce.

Some people feel that this can be done through government spending—and the fact is, that it can be, temporarily. The trouble is that such spending would only lead us further into debt—at a time when further debt would put the most severe strain on our economy.

Such spending can only be accomplished through further borrowing money and borrowed money has to be paid back through taxes—taxes that eventually would eat into every pay envelope and so actually reduce purchasing power. As President Roosevelt has said, "Taxes are paid in the sweat of everyone who labors."

Obviously, therefore, it must be done on a more practical basis—and can be done on a basis of far-sighted business policy.

It can be done by using our productive capacity to provide us with more money in the things we buy, so that we can buy more—and so create more jobs and more earnings for all.

Under such a policy, continuing prosperity and a constantly increasing standard of living can be achieved and maintained for everyone in our economy.

"TEAMWORK AND COOPERATION"

In his message to Congress on the state of the Nation, President Roosevelt gave an interesting explanation of the direct attack on Leyte, which shows, as he suggests, "teamwork and cooperation."

In September, Admiral Halsey led naval task forces into Philippine waters to strike heavy blows at the Japanese air and sea blows at the Japanese air and sea plan to approach the Philippines by further stages, taking islands which we may call A, C and E."

Admiral Halsey, however, decided that a direct attack on Leyte appeared feasible and when General MacArthur received the reports from Admiral Halsey's task force, he also concluded that it might be possible to by-pass the islands and attack directly in the Philippines.

As a result, "Admiral Nimitz thereupon offered to make available to General MacArthur several divisions which had been scheduled to take the intermediate objectives." General MacArthur advised Washington that he was prepared to initiate plans for an attack on Leyte and approval of the change in plans was given on the same day.

As the President points out, "within the space of twenty-four hours, a major change of plans was accomplished which involved Army and Navy forces from two different theaters of operations—a change which hastened the liberation of the Philippines and the final day of victory—a change which saved lives which would have been expended in the capture of the islands which are now neutralized far behind our lines."

NOT IN A POSITION TO BOAST

The German Propaganda Minister, Herr Goebbels, says that Germany has survived her "hour of greatest trial," because of the "disastrous mistakes" made by the Allies in making public their plans for dealing with Germany when the war ends.

The German official is not in a position to do much boasting about this. From the beginning of the war against Poland, the Nazis have made clear their purposes and intentions, not by proclamation or by utterances of officials, but by the callous brutality and vengeful inhumanity of their soldiers in the land through which they passed.

The treatment accorded subject peoples by the German military forces has been sufficient to mobilize every man in those countries to resist German domination of Europe. From what happened in Poland and other occupied countries, the people of this country were given adequate notice of the treatment they would receive in the event of a German victory. It should be enough to mobilize every American to the utmost contribution.

When people ask advice, be wise and pat 'em on the back.

If your enemy won't write a book, maybe he'll keep a diary.

What some families need is a five-year-plan, or something.

The best generals, it appears, are writing for the newspapers.

If adjectives could win a war, torials when you agree with them.

Whoever had the idea that horse races, or dog races, were essential?

If adjectives could win a war the commentators would have won it last year.

We find it hard to understand the "patriots" who believe that the way to win the war is to attack the Allied nations instead of the Germans.

FARMER'S FRIEND

Two southerners sat near me in a crowded day-coach recently and carried on a heated and revealing conversation. Both men were farmers, but their similarity ended there. They were not at all alike. One seemed to be about 70 years old. He spoke with a soft "Dep South" inflection. He had attended college, was well dressed and had lived in several big cities.

The other man was nearer 30, spoke with the accent of the delta country and was obviously a practical dirt-farmer with very limited schooling. The conversation was about rice. The older man insisted that rice was not grown in Arkansas. "It would be so foolish," he said scornfully. "So long as Asiatic labor is cheap there will be no money in raising rice in this country."

Young Man Was Right

The old gentleman almost persuaded the young man that he had been calling something rice that was not rice at all. I didn't intrude to say that I drive through miles of rice fields every time I make a trip from Searcy to Memphis, although I hated to see a man in possession of the truth so crushed under courteous language and ideas that have been out of date for 25 years.

Workers in the Arkansas rice fields are relatively well paid, as farm hands are compensated. They earn more than cotton choppers and pickers; draw wages more like a California orange grove worker. Just the same, Arkansas rice is priced right. Our growers could ship it to Japan in normal times and sell it there at a profit in competition to Chinese rice, Coolie raised.

Custom-Built Economy

It sounded quite familiar when the cultured gentleman-farmer explained, "The biggest part of the cost of anything is labor." The statement used to be made often and used to be almost true, but America's volume production by machinery has disputed the idea with success for years; longer than the younger man could remember. Rice in Arkansas, a new industry, is tooled up well.

That's exactly why our rice workers are well paid. They produce a lot of rice per man. An American worker, with modern tools, can produce 50 times as much rice as a China boy with a heavy hoe. Allowing liberally for machinery expense, he can earn 30 times as much as the Chinese, and does. At the same time, the rice costs less per bushel and can profitably sell for less. That's America.

Parent of Prosperity

Shorter hours and higher wages for people who work, lower prices and better merchandise for people who buy, are universally popular ideas. The same people want all four, because working people buy the biggest part of everything that's sold. It is strange however that all four of these benefits come from the same source (investment) which is not a popular idea.

Good equipment costs something. It calls for investment. With good equipment, workers increase production per man and get their pay raised, also increase production per day (or per acre) and shows the investor a profit. Good equipment also increases the available supply per customer and thus lowers prices. What America needs, not to mention China, is to encourage investment.

When a puppy gets into the home, the old man begins to learn about relativity.

Universal Service Means An All-Out War Effort

There has been considerable discussion about the advisability of passing a universal service law, affecting civilians, which would give to the Government the right to determine, among other things, whether workers shall continue at their present jobs or be shifted to more essential industries.

James F. Byrnes, Director of War Mobilization, does not recommend the passage of a universal service law, although he shares the conviction of military commanders that it is needed, largely because he does not believe that Congress would pass a law providing for universal service.

This is regrettable because, in the words of Walter Lippman, there is general agreement among the top-ranking officials that it is impossible to be sure that our two great enemies will be defeated conclusively in the shortest possible time and at the lowest cost in wounds and death without such a law.

This brings us to the observation that the people of the United States, despite participation in two great conflicts that engage our forces throughout the world, continue to believe, for some reason, that the nation can win both wars without committing itself to the thorough and complete mobilization of our resources of men and material.

Our fighting men are now engaging the enemy in full forces and it appears that they will require a much greater volume of supplies, equipment, weapons and ammunition than at first supposed. When we were lightly engaged on the fighting fronts, our troops possessed what was considered to be an overwhelming superiority to the enemy and this undoubtedly saved the lives of many fighting men. Now that we are engaged in massive battles, it is just as important that all of our troops enjoy the greatest superiority possible in weapons and ammunition.

There has been general agreement in the past that our military leaders deserve special commendation for their consideration of the safety and lives of our fighting men. They evidently adopted the policy, at the beginning, that our fighters would be protected to the greatest extent possible by the use of the great industrial capacity of this nation.

Now that the scope of battle has been extended and the task ahead seems to be somewhat greater than expected, it is essential that the nation, if it is to loyally support men in the service, should resolutely devote its complete industry to the prosecution of the war.

While it may be correct that Congress will not pass a universal service law, the facts are that Congress has already passed a service o the nation. Certainly, law requiring millions of Americans to offer their lives in the in view of this fact, Congress should be willing to pass any law necessary to mobilize the full productive capacity of the nation in their support. If men must risk their lives, it's not too much to expect those who reside safely at home to accept necessary inconveniences.

Byrnes Recommends Changes For Congress

In a recent magazine article, Mr. James F. Byrnes proposes carry on his tasks as a legislator. There is nothing wrong with the suggestion, also made by Mr. Byrnes, that the salary of Senators and Representatives be increased to $15,000. In view of the higher cost of living in Washington, the necessity of maintaining two residences and various obvious expenditures which must be made if a Congressman is to retain his position in Congress, the sum of $15,000 is not excessive.

We are also interested in the statement made by Mr. Byrnes, that complaint of executive domination of Congress is unfounded. He thinks that the trouble is of being the sum of all its parts," not with the personnel of Congress but that the Congress, as an institution, "falls too far short

No Treaty Of Peace Will Satisfy Everybody

Joseph C. Grew, Under-Secretary of State, tells the people of the United States: "We must realize that whatever peace structure is created, it will not satisfy everybody." This is an important observation if enough people will believe it. Obviously, if no treaty of peace will satisfy everybody, no treaty of peace will satisfy the people of the United States one hundred per cent.

It is very essential that Americans understand that, in setting up a new world organization, the United States cannot expect to dictate the terms, regardless of what other great powers think. It is perfectly natural for us to prefer our terms, but it is utterly foolish for us to expect every other nation to regard them with the same favor.

The unfortunate tendency to consider that all world problems have been settled by the proclamation of principles continues to work harm. The hesitation of the United States to firmly declare itself in regard to the establishment of provisional governments, instead of hastening the rule of the people in the liberated countries, may actually retard it.

So long as there is encouragement from this country, in the way of statements proclaiming the right of the people to govern, every fraction of any size in liberated countries will attempt to acquire control of their government.

Farmers had net income of more than 13 billions in 1944 after deducting production expenses, according to preliminary estimates. The total was more than 50 per cent larger than all corporation net income, which aggregated about eight billions...

Deposits of 13 billion dollars in mutual savings banks also reflect wartime prosperity. The banks are in the strongest position of their 128-year history. Deposits ors have good-sized reserves to launch them in the post-war era, when industry is pledged to support expanded production, full and free competition, fair wages, and more and better jobs for all.

NEW WEAPON: ROCKETS?

Dispatches from the battlefield in Belgium tell of the use of a new "secret American artillery weapon," which was used against German counter-attacks and "cut the attackers to ribbons."

While details of the weapons were not given, the statement that "it was something the U. S. Navy had developed and which was found to be of great use against ground troops" indicates that it is the use of rockets on a large scale.

It has been announced that the Navy is manufacturing rockets for the use of both services. While less than a million dollars was spent for this purpose in 1943, expenditures for the present fiscal year include $100,000,000 for rockets.

A GOOD HOUSE FOR A GOOD DOG

SPLENDID DOGHOUSE MADE FROM BARREL

Should Be 1 1/2 Times Size Of Pet To Be Used For Gas rationing may have something to do with it, but wherever one goes these days in communities where single-family houses predominate, the kennel is playing almost as important a part in the home as the garage, the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City, finds.

A dog is a better companion, guard or worker for having a place of his own. A box or basket in the bathroom or kitchen may serve nicely for the smaller or more delicate breeds, but dogs of medium or large size, especially those of the heavy-coated varieties, require a separate all-year-round house.

Ready-made houses of varied design and construction are available in many places, but one of the very best is the barrel type house (shown above) developed at the Gaines Research Kennels, and which anyone at all handy with tools can easily make up at almost no cost. Anyone contemplating trying his hand at such a barrel doghouse may have detailed working blueprints without cost by writing to the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

The barrel has so many advantages as a doghouse that it is surprising that more has not been done with it. It is rain and snow proof; warm in winter, cool in summer. Its biggest advantage is that most of the work has already been done. Only three steps need be taken to adapt it for the purpose intended. An opening to serve as a door must be cut at one end, the lungehole must be developed into a ventilator, and a support must be arranged at each end so that the barrel-house does not rest on the ground. The last not only prevents rolling and early decay, but also dampness and drafts—big causes of dog illness. Finish with a good coat of paint to match your home, and you really have a house you can well be proud of.

Almost any type of heavy-duty barrel will do. A wine or vinegar cask which has been thoroughly deodorized by washing with diluted creosote is ideal for the purpose. The size of the barrel should be in keeping with the size of the dog. As a rule, the barrel kennel should be 1 1/2 times as large as the dog and wide enough so he can turn around comfortably. Preferably the house should face the south or east, and it should be placed where the wind does not strike it directly. The best place for this house is where it will get the sun in the morning and the shade all the rest of the day. For additional ventilation, several holes may be drilled in the front and back panels of the barrel house and the holes equipped with suitable cork stoppers. By opening and closing these holes ventilation may be regulated in line with outdoor conditions. The hinged door—leather or metal two-way hinges will do equally well—permits frequent sunning of the house and helps eliminate vermin and odors.

UNEMPLOYMENT SOMETIMES GOOD

Let's be a little careful about "guaranteeing" completely total employment in America.

Last week I went to a show in one of New York's biggest theatres. The orchestra was terrible. Right there were 20 musicians who needed unemployment or the fear of unemployment. But the theatre probably could not fire the musicians no matter how badly they play.

I think industry should be encouraged to employ as many people as possible, and that the government should at times employ a marginal balance—but that there should always be a zone of unemployment for those who are too lazy to do good work.

THE TEXAN'S SHARE in the WAR

Tales of fighting Texan's continue to come back from all fronts where Americans are battling with Nazis and Nips. One of the best is that of Sgt. W. C. Gray, the Texarkana, Texas, boy who had to fight his way through a whole crowd of Japs in order to bury a Japanese general.

Gray was given the task of bringing in the body of a Jap general from a cave, where he had been killed, so that it might be given proper burial under the rules of war. When he got to the cave, however, he found a large group of Japanese mourners on hand.

With a couple of other Marines, Gray waded in. When the fight was over, seven more Nip officers were dead around the general's body. Sergeant Gray removed the body of the Jap general, delivered it to the burial detail and quietly reported "mission accomplished as ordered."

A Dallas pilot was one of several who celebrated the new year with plenty of noise, dropping bombs on Tokyo. He was Lt. Col. H. N. Brandon, who piloted a B-29 that bombed the Japanese capital on New Year's eve night.

His mission helped a bit to repay the Japs for the tortures they inflicted on so many American prisoners. Lt. Roy Russell of Fort Worth and Lt. Harvey Denson of Granger are two of the few men who escaped from an enemy prison ship when it was torpedoed by a Yank sub in the South Pacific. Both are now patients at the army's great McCloskey General Hospital at Temple, recovering from effects of Japanese mistreatment.

Two other Texas fighting men who have written relatives recently from enemy prison camps are T/Sgt. Douglas Behrens of San Saba and Sgt. Cliff Jones of Lampasas. Both are in German prison camps, where they receive help sent by War Prisoners Aid, the National War Fund agency to which Texans contributed when they gave so generously to their County War Chests recently.

THE FIRST DENTAL COLLEGE

The first dental college in the world was chartered in 1840, under the name which it still bears, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Five students were the first to enroll. Instructions began in the winter of 1840-41. The lectures were given in a small room at Hopkins Place near Baltimore street, which has been marked with a tablet as being the birthplace of dental education.

Back in 1840, it was difficult to obtain ideal surroundings for the teaching of anatomy. The young dental college housed its material and gave instruction in secluded stable. Even then there were provolers who nosed into their affairs until wild reports became current.

A negro butcher was accused of having several corpses hidden away on his premises. They probably thought that he was selling the meat for steak. However, after the police had searched the premises without finding anyone excepting the negro, he was apprehended. Then it took the faculty and all of the students to secure the release of the prisoner.

In 1841, only two dentists were graduated, and a year later, only three. But in 1851, 18 dentists were graduated.

According to the charter, any reputable dentist could receive a degree by passing an examination. A number applied, but very few passed, hence were denied the degree of "Doctor of Dental Surgery."

In 1846, the college was removed to larger and more convenient quarters. Here the first dental infirmary was established. The faculty was wide awake and progressive. The courses of instruction were constantly improved, and became more thorough and the number of students increased as the reputation of the school continued to spread. The Baltimore school has exercised a tremendous influence on dentistry. It has been the pattern of all other dental schools established throughout the country and has been the means of bringing about the superiority of the

GAS tronomy HERE'S A HANDY BROILING CHART

Busy farm wives find broiling a highly suitable method for cooking meat because it's time-saving. When properly broiled under a gas flame, meats are attractively browned outside, juicy inside, and have a plump, full appearance.

Point-conscious cooks will use a 350° F. oven for broiling, instead of turning the flame high. Not only do high temperatures shrink the meat, but waste points and precious fuel which has gone to war. If you are using "bottled" or "tank" gas, remember it is doing war work in factories and on the battlefronts.

Here is a time-table for broiling. Set gas broiler at 350° F. and maintain constant temperature throughout the broiling period.

The Main Question
Mr. Newrich—So you've engaged an artist for the concert we're givin'.

Agent—Yes, a good virtuoso.
Mr. Newrich—Never mind about his morals. Can he play?

Rival Studies
"I hear you've been studying for months how to increase your salary. How did it turn out?"
"Poorly. The boss was studying at the same time how to cut down expenses."

Needed!
Marine—You remember when you cured my rheumatism, doc, a couple of years ago and you told me to avoid dampness?
M. D.—Yes, that's right.
Marine—Well, I've come to ask you can I take a bath?

Raincoats or Rubbers?
He—"Look, dear, isn't the rain-bow beautiful?"
She—"Oh, yeah. What's it advertising?"

Madame Ping and Madame Pong
"Sir, my wife said I was to ask for a raise."
"Good, I'll ask my wife if I may give you one."

Triumph of Comfort
"I'm not sure I quite understand those knee-action wheels."
"Why, it's like this—the wheels give. So if you run over a pedestrian you hardly feel it."

Whose Idea Was It?
Little Bay—"Come quick, Mr. Policeman! There's a man been fightin' my father for half an hour."
Officer—"Why didn't you tell me before?"
Boy—"Cause father was gettin' the best of it until a minute ago."

Masking the Truth
"I've got a pretty distasteful job before me," remarked the geologist. "Mrs. Newrich employed me to look up her family tree and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted."
"Why worry about that?" said his friend. "Just write that the man in question occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions."

Womans Missionary Union

Eleven women gathered in the home of Mrs. Albert Bingham last Monday afternoon for a meeting of the Mildred Smith Circle.

The program and Bible study were each interesting and continued until quite late.

During the business session it was stated that Mrs. Aaron Hancock, missionary to the Indians, would not appear in this association next month as had been planned.

It may be that Miss Keith of the Baptist Bible Institute of New Orleans will come to Spur to assist in some meeting just preceding the protracted meeting.

The Locket Circle met in the home of Mrs. J. D. Powell with seven members present.

Those present were Mmes. Ensey, Fannie Sullivan, Ruby Bilberry, Herman Coe, and two visitors.

20th Century Club Meets Tuesday

Twentieth Century club members met in the home of Mrs. E. L. Carraway Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. B. F. Hale as leader of the program.

Mrs. J. M. Foster reviewed the book "The Three Bamboos" by Robert Standish.

Postwar Kitchen Remodeling Will Save Home-Maker Steps

Idea adaptable to many postwar homes are shown in above Story County, Iowa, farm kitchen. Mrs. John Holst pops a pan of bread into electric range oven, while daughter, Mrs. Alvin Bowker, works comfortably at sink.

IN REMODELING a farm kitchen for efficiency and step-saving, there are three work centers to be placed—storage, preparation and cleaning, cooking and serving, according to Marjorie Griffin, Home Editor of Capper's Farmer.

"Sometimes a fourth—planning—is included," she writes in the Rural Home department of the nationally-circulated farm magazine.

The refrigerator, with adjacent cabinet, is the pivot of the storage center. This is advisedly placed near the back door in order that perishable foods can be put away as brought in, without crossing the room several times.

No kitchen plan can meet the needs of all farm families, Miss Griffin points out. The type of farming, size of family, extra help, climate, personal habits, likes and dislikes make it necessary to vary the arrangements.

Following a short business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. Coy McMahan, Mrs. C. F. Cook discussed "Malaria, its Prevention in and About the Home," followed by a talk, "Are Sulfas Safe for Children?"

Refreshments of open-faced sandwiches, stuffed olives, apple sauce cake and spiced tea were served the following members:

Mrs. Agnes M. Marrs, county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on "How to prepare vegetables which are to be placed in lockers," when the Espuela Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. R. C. McMahan on Friday, Jan. 12.

A brief business session was held following the demonstration by Mrs. Marrs. The new year books were introduced and plans made for a club party.

After the business session, a game was enjoyed by the group. Refreshments were served the following: Mmes. Harold Karr, B. F. Crockett, Don Ramsey, W. E. Ball, Ava. Johnson, T. C. Sandlin, Agnes M. Marrs, Loyd Ball (a visitor), R. C. McMahan and Mrs. Pearl Morgan.

CARD OF THANKS It is our heartfelt desire that those who evidenced in countless ways their affection for our loved one should know of our profound gratitude.

The husband of an old friend of mine was passing through town this week and came to dinner. His business is copper, and it seems his job is to find new ways in which copper can help win the war now—and also new uses for peacetime.

THIS BUSINESS OF LIVING BY SUSAN THAYER

"Because," he pointed out, "the thing that is most important to my company—after winning the war, of course—is the same thing that's important to everyone else: seeing to it that Americans have an opportunity to earn more, buy more and have more.

"There's just one way to do it—expand production. That means finding ways to make old products better and more cheaply, so more people will buy them, and new products that will create new business—which means new jobs and opportunities all down the line from manufacturing to retail."

"If every industry did what yours is doing—" I began. "To a very large extent, they are," he replied. "You'd be amazed at the amount of cooperative research that's going on, in everything from poultry to paper."

I was delighted to get that sidelight. It looks as if the manufacturers really mean business. They know people will have to have jobs and money to spend to keep this country running after the war. And they're bound and determined to find enough new products to manufacture to guarantee those jobs.

Mrs. Lou Bass Hostess To Dry Lake Club in First Session of Year

The Dry Lake H. D. club met with Mrs. Lou Bass for the first meeting of the New Year.

Each member enjoyed the educational demonstration given by Mrs. Agnes M. Marrs on "Frozen Foods and Containers." She definitely stressed the importance of air tight and moisture-proof containers to be used in cold storage.

Recreation prize was won by Mrs. Archer Powell and the surprise gift went to Mrs. W. E. Ballard.

A refreshment plate of pimento sandwiches, potato chips, "Jack Horner pie" and cocoa was served to Mmes. Coy Dopson, R. F. Rogers, William Calvert, J. R. Cole, Archer Powell, Agnes Marrs, Ola Miller, Grandma Calvert, Dalton Lelew, W. E. Ballard and the hostess.

The club will meet Jan. 24 with Mrs. Jack Simmons.

1931 Study Club Has Interesting Program For Jan. 16 Meeting

The 1931 Study Club met Jan. 16 in the Ned Hogan home with Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham as hostess.

A very interesting program was presented by Mrs. Winston Brummett, Mrs. Jack Christian and Mrs. Horace Wood. The program was concluded with the reading of the by-laws by Mrs. Bynum Brittain.

A delicious refreshment plate was served the following members: Mmes. Ferril Albin, Bynum Brittain, Winston Brummett, Spencer Campbell, Jack Christian, Ray Dickson Jr., W. B. Francis, Bob George, George Glover, Harold Karr, Hobert Lewis, Agnes Marrs, Robert Simmons, Horace Wood, Walter O'Neal and the hostess, Mrs. Higginbotham.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Powell of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Chambliss and children, Mrs. H. A. Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gibson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Patt Qualls and S/Sgt. Stubbs.

S/Sgt. Stubbs Jr. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stubbs Sr. of Snyder, and the grandson of Mrs. H. A. Stubbs of Spur. He will report to Santa Anna, Calif. for future orders.

Miss Edith Marcy And Overt Williams United in Wedlock

Miss Edith Marcy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Marcy Sr. of Spur became the bride of Overt Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Meridian, Miss., on Saturday, Jan. 6 at 10 p.m. at the Baptist Parsonage at Dickens. Rev. Ennis Hill, pastor, read the single ring ceremony.

The couple's only attendants were Miss Jewel Marcy, sister to the bride, and Bob Inskip of Hamlin, a friend to the groom.

The bride attended school at New Home, near Lubbock, and has lived in Spur the past four years. For the past two years she was employed as night operator at the telephone office. The groom attended school at Medidiam, Miss.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for Hamlin where Mr. Williams is employed in the oil business. Many useful gifts were given the couple on their departure.

Greater Need Now For Waste Fats Than When War Started

"Waste cooking fats are needed more now than at any time since the beginning of the war," Opal L. Wood, District OPA Food Rationing Officer declared this week.

During the past three months, Miss Wood said, the amount of salvage fats turned over to renderers has fallen far short of the amount needed. She went on to point out that waste fats serve hundreds of war purposes, especially in the manufacture of medical supplies and ammunition.

The call from the government to the housewives to renew their efforts to save their waste fats follows the call for more medical supplies and for more ammunition to meet the needs of stepped-up war activities both in the Pacific and in Europe.

Housewives are reminded that two red points will be given for each pound of fats turned in to butchers.

Tri-Community HD Club Meets With Mrs. E. W. Smith

The Tri-Community H. D. club met Thursday, Jan. 11 in the home of Mrs. E. W. Smith, with Mrs. Agnes Marrs giving a very interesting demonstration on preparing vegetables for the frozen food locker.

"You must work fast with your vegetables," she said. "One hour from the garden to the locker."

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Edward Carroll, Pete Gannon, Agnes M. Marrs, Lloyd Johnson, Roy Arrington, Garvie Boothe and the hostess, Mrs. Smith.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 25 at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Johnson.

Mrs. Vera Belle Whitener of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Whitener, and other relatives and friends over the week end. She returned Monday night to resume her job as an employee of the telephone company there.

NEWS of MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

V. C. Smart Jr., RT 1/c, of the U. S. Navy Air Station, has been transferred from Olathe, Kan., to Treasure Island, Calif. His wife will be with her mother, Mrs. Peggy Taylor at Lubbock.

Friends in Spur have received word from S/Sgt. H. F. Collier stating he is now somewhere in Germany.

Gene Vandiver, F 2/c, stationed at San Diego, Calif., is spending a 5 day leave with his mother, Mrs. Betha Vandiver of Spur.

Lawrence Causey, son of W. G. Causey of Spur, is spending a leave here.

S/Sgt. Fred Kinney, USMC, veteran of 18 months in the Pacific Theatre of Operations, is spending a 30 day leave with his wife at Spur.

J. D. Fulcher, with the Merchant Marines, is spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fulcher at Jayton.

Pvt. Billy Pat Winkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Winkler of Dickens, is in a hospital in Southern California after having been wounded in action last October in Belgium.

Alvin Patterson, nephew of Mrs. Nathan Patterson of Spur, has been missing in action over Germany since Dec. 23, according to a message from the War Department to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Patterson of Waco.

C. C. Grantham A/S, son of Mrs. Leonard Grantham of the Red Hill community is in boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Pvt. W. W. Pickens Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pickens, is in basic training with the Infantry at Camp Hood, Texas.

Corp. Lonus Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dickerson of Girard, is spending a furlough with his parents after approximately two years in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

Corp. Howard Oland Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Butler of Spur is in a hospital in Australia.

S/Sgt. Fred A. Morris recently wrote his wife from the Netherlands East Indies stating he was okay and he had received a number of nice Christmas presents, including one from the Red Cross.

Clayford Joiner, S 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Joiner of Spur wrote friends here he had a nice Christmas on the island of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands.

S/Sgt. C. F. Sonnamaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Sonnamaker of Spur, has now arrived in India. He is a Grand Crew Chief with the Air Corps.

Cpl. Roger Sonnamaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Sonnamaker has arrived safely in the United States after 20 months in South Africa and Italy with a combat engineer battalion. He is in a hospital to be transferred to California.

S/Sgt. H. D. Smith Jr., with the LAAF, Lubbock, spent Friday in Spur visiting friends.

S/Sgt. Hulan Welch, after 4 years in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, is spending a furlough with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ford of Spur. At the expiration of his furlough, he is to report to Hot Springs, Ark.

Corp. Floyd Ball, with the LAAF, Lubbock, and Mrs. Ball are spending a 15 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ball.

Pvt. Robert and Glenn Hahn, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hahn of the Hi-way community are in training with the Infantry at Camp Hood.

Pvt. Lee Fry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fry of the Catfish community is in training with the Infantry at Camp Hood.

Pvt. Eldon McClain, whose wife, Mrs. Eldon McClain, lives at Spur, is stationed with the Infantry at Camp Hood.

It would be great strategy to get the swivel-chair brigade to the front lines.

Baylor University Soon to Celebrate 100th Anniversary

WACO—Jan. 17—Baylor university, largest Baptist university in the world and only Texas institution still operating under a charter granted by the Republic of Texas, will be 100 years old, February 1. Inaugurating the celebration of its Centennial on that occasion the university is planning an elaborate Founders Day program that will feature several aspects of its general theme for the year, "Christian Education: Safeguard of Democracy."

Three outstanding speakers will bring addresses on that occasion, while pillars commemorating the services of Judge R. E. B. Baylor's two chief assistants in the projection of the college, Feb. 1, 1845, the Revs. James Huckins and William Tryon, will be unveiled. In addition, live oak trees will be dedicated to the memory of all members of the original board of trustees.

Dr. K. S. Latourette, chairman of the department of religion in the graduate school of Yale University, will speak on "The Place of the Christian College and University in American Democracy." Dr. Frederick Eby, professor of the philosophy of education at the University of Texas since 1909, will discuss on the same program, "The Faith of the Founding Fathers," while Dr. Dixon Wecter, Baylor alumnus, professor of history in the University of California at Los Angeles, and well known author, will speak on "The Second Century."

Another outstanding array of talent is planned for the Centennial Commencement program, May 25-29, when a number of honorary degrees will probably be conferred.

A large number of conventions and conferences plan to honor Baylor by holding their 1945 sessions on the local campus provided the new government ban on assemblies does not interfere.

Working up to the Midwinters

Kitchenette—"Don't you think that movie queen is improving?" Humordians—"Yes, she's marrying a better grade of man every year."

Here Today and Gone Tomorrow "My wife has a genius for cooking." "My wife had one, too, but she only stayed two weeks."

Exchange of Compliments

Professor—"Have I told this joke in class before?" Class (in chorus)—"Yes." Professor—"Good. This will make twice. The third time you will probably understand it."

At Last

Cook—"I'm leaving in exactly three minutes, so you can give me my money." Mistress—"Three minutes? Fine! Put the eggs on to boil, and we will have them right for the first time since you came."

She'd Sell Ice to Byrd

Mother—"What happened when that high-pressured salesman called today?" Daughter—"Oh, I sold him father's old clothes and all the discarded furniture in the attic."

BOOST G. I. MORALE WITH GOOD LETTERS, GIRLS ARE URGED

WRITE the kind of letters that will make your G. I. Joe, service brothers, sisters, cousins, friends say "That sounds just like Jeanie!" is the advice Holly Miller gives 'teen age girl readers of her column in Capper's Farmer.

"You'll be lifting morale and at the same time having yourself a good time," she declares in the nationally-circulated farm magazine.

"The trick is to write as if you were talking to the person. If he or she were there, you'd probably tell how you thought you'd die trying not to laugh backstage when the villain's beard dropped off just as he raised his gun in the second act of the Junior Class play. And how he covered it by saying "That was the quickest shave I ever had."

"Put in a little spice. Give your correspondent the low-down on the latest gossip, if you will, but keep a light unmalicious touch. For a good will bonus, tuck in snapshots, clippings, cartoons.

"As to the actual letter, remember it's the only tangible evidence the receiver has of you. You'll want it to look neat and legible. Use nice paper, V-mail if it's to go overseas. Your special G. I. Joe will probably like the faint scent obtained by sprinkling bath powder or sachet in the bottom of your stationary box."

India Curry Sauce Peps Up Cauliflower

Crown a plump head of cauliflower with teasing India curry sauce containing onion and apple and you'll add unsuspected newness and pleasure to a cold-weather meal.

That's a tip to home-makers given by Marjorie Griffin, Home Editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. Parsley or watercress garnish will give color, she says, while curry powder and tabasco sauce will pep up the blandest cauliflower.

India Curry Sauce

2 tbsp. butter 1 tbsp. curry powder
1 tbsp. minced onion 2 lbs. cauliflower
1 tbsp. diced apple 1/2 cup cauliflower water
1/2 tsp. salt Parsley

Melt butter and add onion and apple; cook slowly until tender. Add salt, curry powder and flour, stirring until well blended. Slowly add cauliflower cooking water, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat about 7 minutes. Pour sauce over a head of cooked cauliflower, garnish with parsley, and serve at once. Serves 6.

"You'll be amply repaid for the time and ingenuity used in planning appetite-whetting dishes such as this," Miss Griffin writes.

Force of Habit

Plumber (pausing on sidewalk to mate)—Well, we've remembered the tools this time, but 'anged if I ain't forgot where we 'ave to go.

Wrong Again

Bob—"You have a hole in your stocking." Bab—"Dummy! I haven't any stockings on. That's my vaccination."

Use the Want Ads!

Getting On "Is your wife having any success in learning to drive the car?" "Well, the road is beginning to turn when she does."

Makes Him See Red "Do you believe in drawing the color line?" "No, but my wife and daughters will use lipstick."

Has To Sailor—"Say, can't you go any faster?" Coxswain—"Sure, but I have to stay with the boat."

"Sure... I Get All the Gasoline I 'NEED' for Farming... BUT I FIGURE IT CLOSE!"

● Because you, better than anyone else, know your acreage, its soil, cultivation problems, crop years, etc., your government has said, "You may have all the gasoline you need for farming."

● But what does "NEED" mean? Today it means only one thing. Gasoline to keep your farm equipment fit—and fighting! To produce the greatest harvest in our history—with which to invade, conquer and win final victory!

● But today a military campaign RUNS on gasoline! And as our armed forces fight on more and more battlefronts in all corners of the globe, we must send them more guns, more food, more ammunition—MORE GASOLINE! Military needs must be met fully—and as they increase, less and less gasoline will be available here at home.

● YOUR gasoline is a public trust. It is given to you for use in raising food. Play fair with it! Get the most out of your share by using it properly—and carefully. Don't use it for personal pleasure. Don't give it away. Don't sell it. DON'T ASK FOR MORE THAN YOU NEED! If you do—someone else won't have enough—someone else a machine will be idle!

Bow Your Heads

THIS is Invasion! Now in the hearts, brains and muscles of our American Youth lies the future of our country.

Bow your heads. Pray with millions of mothers the country over, as their hearts reach out over the seas, each one seeking out her boy, to protect him with the shield of her love.

Believe that in this world there is definite strength in decency and honor. Believe that in our devotion there is moral force. Believe that our will to victory will aid that victory.

Seek and ye shall find!

Let us seek added strength and fortitude for our men in our own sacrifice and devotion.

Let us focus every thought, every action, and every prayer on the boys fighting for us.

And, while each one bends to his task with ever-growing fervor and energy, let us adopt a common symbol as our faith in Victory.

Let that Symbol be War Bonds. Let us pour our money in a gigantic flood of goodwill toward our sons and brothers, as a spiritual shield for them.

This is the Invasion. The lives of our boys are at stake. Let them see that the Soul of America is with them.

The Dumbarton Oaks Proposals are recommendations for a general international organization, agreed to by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, and China and published on October 9, 1944.

The purposes of the organization, to be known as The United Nations, would be to maintain peace and security, to promote friendly relations among nations, and to facilitate international cooperation in the solution of economic, social, and humanitarian problems and the promotion of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

Organs

A General Assembly, composed of representatives of all member states, to meet annually or in special sessions.

An Economic and Social Council, operating under the General

Assembly and composed of representatives of eighteen members of the organization, these states to be elected by the General Assembly for three years.

A Security Council, composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, China, and eventually France, and six nonpermanent members, elected by the General Assembly for two years; in permanent session.

A Military Staff Committee, operating under the Security Council and composed of the Chiefs of Staff of the permanent members of the Security Council or their representatives, with other states participating when necessary.

An International Court of Justice.

A Secretariat, headed by a Secretary General as chief administrative officer elected by the General Assembly.

To Maintain Peace

The member states would obligate themselves to settle international disputes which threaten peace by negotiations between the parties, by mediation, conciliation, arbitration, or by reference to the International Court of Justice. The Security Council could at any time recommend procedures or methods of adjustment.

If these methods fail the parties would be required to refer the dispute to the Security Council, which would have authority to take diplomatic, economic, or other measures and, if necessary, to employ, with the assistance of the Military Staff Committee, armed forces to maintain or restore international peace. These armed forces, including national air-force contingents, would be provided by the member states by special agreements among themselves and approved by the Security Council.

To Promote General Stability and Welfare

The General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council, assisted by expert Commissions, would consider and recommend solutions of international economic and humanitarian problems, including the promotion of human rights and fundamental freedoms. They would recommend coordination of the policies and activities of specialized international organizations and agencies which may be brought into relationship with the general organization.

Screen Treat Due In 'Going My Way'

Promising the finest entertainment to yet reach the screen this year, Paramount's "GOING MY WAY," arriving Sunday at the Palace Theatre, has already been hailed by critics as a truly great motion picture.

Reviewers gave many reasons for their high praise of this heart-warming and tenderly-drawn movie in which Bing Crosby plays Father "Chuck" O'Malley. The cast of film favorites certainly is an outstanding asset for "Going My Way." Seen in splendid characterizations are Barry Fitzgerald, as Father Fitzgibbon; Rise Stevens, a life-long friend of Bing's and now an opera singer; Frank McHugh, as Father O'Dowd, a school-mate of Crosby's; Gene Lockhart, cautious banker; James Brown and Jean Heather, romantic love couple and Porter Hall, neighborhood crank.

Many other roles are handled capably, too, it is said, by such sterling performers as Fortunio Bonanova, Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer and Stanley "Stash" Clements, a pair of young rowdies who are converted to gentleness under Bing's ministrations, and Eily Malyon. An altogether delightful story, "Going My Way" seems headed for top Academy Award honors at this writing with Bing and Barry slated for laurels, too.

The Robert Mitchell boy's choir teams with Bing and Rise on several occasions resulting in some extra fine vocalizing, according to reports. The appealing movie was produced and directed by Leo McCarey with E. G. DeSylva as executive producer. Frank Butler and Frank Cavett wrote the screen play.

Bing Crosby and Rise Stevens are a new hit team started in Paramount's "Going My Way," with James Brown, Jean Heather and Barry Fitzgerald.

company will build factories near centers of consumption to lower transportation charges.

Decisive action of this type must be taken, it is realized, in order to reach the goal industry has set of greater production, expanded economic opportunities and a higher standard of living for all Americans.

The idea that American soldiers are fighting the whole war is "simplified," the same people are in a sweat to understand them.

Two years ago the taxpayers were in a sweat to have income taxes simplified; now they are "simplified," the same people are in a sweat to understand them.

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District NEWS NOTES

RILEY WOOTEN, Chm. OSCAR McGINTY, Sec.
WILL WRIGHT TOM MURDOCK A. A. FRY

The Supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District will meet at Spur next Thursday, January 18, to review agreements on new cooperators within the district and to consider new applications for assistance that have been received since their last meeting on December 21, 1944. Mr. F. E. Tutt, District Conservationist from Snyder, Texas, will attend this regular meeting.

Mr. Lawton Harvey of Conservation Group 9 has done a very good job of re-seeding natural grass on a 5-acre plot on his farm. Before seeding he went over the ground with a disc harrow juts deep enough to kill the weeds. He sowed the seed mixture of buffalo, side oats, blue grama, and little blue stem by hand and covered them lightly by harrowing one time. The work was done in the early part of May, and Mr. Harvey is of the opinion that an earlier seeding might be preferable. He suggested seeding anytime after the native grass starts to green up in the spring. He plans to keep the weeds mowed this year, and feels that he will have a solid cover by fall.

The Soil Conservation Service office at Spur will be closed the entire week beginning January 22, and all employees will attend an orientation school in Sweetwater, Texas.

Inhabitants of small towns, with space for gardens, have an advantage over those who dwell in big city tenements.

FIRST THREE LESSONS IN DOG TRAINING

Getting down on knee will induce dog to come. Dog is always on left side, leash held in left hand. Dog in down position will tend to get up if petted.

Whether your dog is a joy or a nuisance to you and your friends depends largely on one thing—his training, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

Actually, a dog is infinitely easier to train than a child. You will succeed best if you keep certain things constantly in mind. A dog is not a human and must never be judged as such. Words to him are not words but simply sounds which, after much repetition, he comes to associate with certain actions desired of him. If the words are associated with a characteristic gesture, all the better. Words spoken to him loudly or in anger only serve to confuse him. A dog should never be punished unless he is made to understand what he is being punished for, and punishment should follow immediately after his misdemeanor. A dog's training should be handled by only one person, and if he has been properly trained, he will go through the motions for anyone who gives the commands properly.

Below are the first three lessons in obedience every dog must learn if he is to live in civilized society. He must come to you whenever you call him, no matter what else he may want to do at that particular time. He must learn to "heel", that is, walk or trot quietly at your side whenever you are out with him—not run ahead or behind you, trip you up, or get into a fight with another dog. And he must learn to sit or lie down when you stop in the street to greet a friend or pay a visit to a neighbor. The principles in these lessons are applicable to almost anything else you might like to teach your dog. For a list of recommended literature on dog training write to the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York.

"COME!" Fasten a long string to his collar and let him run at will. When he is a dozen or so feet away call out sharply "Come!", while gently pulling the dog toward you. When he is near you, act as though he had obeyed you—pet or praise him, give him a tidbit. Repeat this several times, then remove the rope and call him. Replace the rope if he does not seem to have caught on to the idea. Continue this lesson for 10 or 15 minutes a day, dropping the tidbit reward after a while.

"HEEL!" Place dog on your left side, grip leash above his collar, and commence walking. Should he try to forge ahead, pull him back, the while ordering "Heel!" If he is inclined to drag behind, pull him forward, again with the command, "Heel!" Keep on insisting on the correct heel position, and he will soon learn to maintain it no matter how you turn. Continue the "heeling" lesson until the dog walks as well without the leash as with it.

Nearly anybody can find cause for complaint about the way other men are fighting the war.

At least half of those who demand freedom of the press are not interested in the freedom of the press.

What has happened to the idea that the present administration would be the one of peace?

Some Americans are all for the war program provided the Army doesn't need them and regulations miss them.

Survey Indicates Industry Will Hire 14 Million Plus in Postwar Manufacturing

Record peacetime employment of 14,000,000 to 15,000,000 persons in manufacturing industry, and jobs for a total of 55,000,000 in the United States if other branches of our economy respond to industry's "energizing" influence, are indicated by complete returns on a postwar employment survey by the National Association of Manufacturers. The survey was based on reports from 1,756 manufacturers. Analyzing the figures in connection with industry's "earn more, buy more, and have more" program, the NAM research department says "We may find that a postwar employment level only 13 per cent below the wartime peak in manufacturing will easily provide jobs for every able and willing worker who is available." It is considered possible that demand for 55,000,000 workers, nearly 10,000,000 more than were employed in 1940 on jobs not connected with emergency public work, will create an actual labor shortage, at least in certain areas.

GM to Employ 400,000
The results of the survey are rounded out by statements by the heads of big and small companies that were not included in the NAM questionnaire, and have been cross-checked against industry-wide estimates of postwar employment. Estimating that General Motors Corp. should be able to employ 400,000 persons after reconversion, compared with 250,000 in the best prewar years, C. E. Wilson, president, stated that under those circumstances General Motors dealers should at the same time increase employment from the prewar 170,000 to about 220,000. Other companies not included in the survey also expect to increase employment by from 60 to 200 per cent.

Among the industry-wide estimates rounding out the conclusions of the NAM research department is a statement that the electronics industry expects television sets to furnish 300,000 entirely new jobs after the war. The construction industry expects to build 1,000,000 new homes per year as soon after the peace as personnel and materials can be assembled. Textile mills anticipate production on three-shift basis.

No Undue Restraints
It is believed that the difference between wartime peak employment in manufacturing and the number of postwar jobs in industry will be taken care of by an increased drift into the service trades, back to school, and the return of housewives to the home. The NAM research workers pointed out, though, that the survey indicates what manufacturers intend to do if not blocked by undue restraints, and shortages beyond their control. "The postwar picture is presented by this survey is not a prophesy, because businessmen do not know what kind of framework they will have to work in," it was said. "They do not know how far prices will be controlled. The NAM survey, therefore, represents objectives which manufacturers feel sure they can reach if they are given a sporting chance to do so."

Gives Program For Job Making

Primary consideration for the post-war period is "to provide jobs and opportunities for all so that there can be a reasonably high standard of living," the First National bank of Boston says in a news letter.

"Whether there will be a high level of employment in the post-war period, or does and leaf raking, will depend in large measure upon which policies are adopted," the bank points out. "Creation of jobs depends upon a steady flow of fresh capital into business enterprises for expansion and new ventures.

"Our economy can be thrown out of gear when industry is subject to harassing restrictions and when profits, the mainspring of economic activity, are under constant attack."

Need Good Job "Environment"

Individual business men must assume the responsibility of finding jobs for all who are willing to work, while government must provide the post-war environment to make high-level employment possible. T. G. MacGowan, manager of the marketing research department, of a large tire and rubber company, told an industry post-war conference in Chicago recently.

"WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

Should We Offer Special Peace Terms to Nazi Satellites?

Moderated by FRED G. CLARK, General Chairman American Economic Foundation
As debated by

Dr. Emil Lengyel
Internationally Known Authority on European Affairs.

DR. LENGYEL OPENS: We are putting off the day of our victory by demanding unconditional surrender on the part of the Axis satellites—such as Bulgaria and Hungary. The Nazi propagandists have found a bonanza by being able to tell these countries that unconditional surrender means total extermination. These nations react the way trapped animals do by lashing out against us, and the war is prolonged. Most of these countries fear the Germans and were forced to join them either by high-handed leaders or because of their location in the shadow of the Nazi war machine. We can shorten the war by transforming this anti-German sentiment into pro-Allied action. We should place these satellite nations on parole, so their attitude toward us should determine their lot. Some of them may not yet be in a position to defy the Nazis openly, but all of them can engage in passive resistance and active sabotage, forming a nucleus of a mass underground movement. Thus millions of enemy soldiers would be immobilized. The satellites will do this only if they are convinced that they may redeem themselves with their deeds; they will run no such risk if they feel the Allies have doomed them no matter what they do. As long as we all agree that Germany is our principal enemy in Europe, we must not scorn one of our strongest potential weapons: the hatred the Nazis have inspired among "friends."

MR. HILLMAN CHALLENGES: Holland, Belgium and Greece were also located in the shadow of the Nazi war machine and there was fear of Germany in those countries, yet they chose to fight Hitler. How can anyone raise the fantastic argument that we must give special terms to the satellites because they didn't fear to fight us but did fear to fight the Nazis? Tell that to a mother of one of our soldiers! I see no justification for special consideration to Hungary or Bulgaria for preferring to fight us rather than Hitler. As a matter of fact, they went to war because they hoped for loot. Far from putting off the day of our victory by demanding unconditional surrender, we will hasten it for the satellite nations respect force, not compromise.

DR. LENGYEL REPLIES: Holland and Belgium were as much in the shadow of Great Britain and France as of Germany. But there is no sense in arguing about abstract justice in the midst of a war for the life or death of mankind. If we have the strength to overwhelm the satellites without prolonging the war, I am a hundred per cent for it. But I am just as much concerned about our soldiers' mothers as Mr. Hillman is. I believe that we could shorten the war by organizing an underground revolt of the satellites against their Nazi masters. This cannot be done by telling them they would be hanged anyway.

William Hillman
Military Analyst, Former European Editor of "Collier's"

MR. HILLMAN OPENS: Complete unconditional military capitulation should be enforced on the satellite nations of the Axis powers! Hungary and Bulgaria should not be given special terms of peace in advance as a condition of their surrender. These nations sought territorial gains in the same rapacious spirit of power politics and militarism as did Germany or Japan. To say to these smaller nations, now that they can obtain special advantages if they surrender, is to make a mockery of our effort and justify their calculating nationalism which sees in wars and diplomatic bargaining a means of attaining some of their aims. They must be taught that the era of Balkanized war in which some of the smaller nations have deliberately played into the hands of more powerful and unscrupulous nations for their own and often disguised purposes is definitely at an end. We would strive especially to put an end to the long history of intrigue and provocation some Balkan nations have been guilty of by providing a new basis of international cooperation but no basis of cooperation can be established by compromise with the military necessity of unconditional surrender of their armed forces.

DR. LENGYEL CHALLENGES: Unconditional surrender does not mean merely "unconditional military capitulation" as Mr. Hillman assumes. It may mean anything, even the total extinction of a nation. He is wrong too in assuming that opposition to unconditional surrender means opposition to punishing the Axis satellites. These countries should be punished, of course. They are guilty but there are various degrees of guilt. They are not as guilty as the Germans who unleashed all the horrors of this war and who inaugurated the reign of terror which has already cost millions of non-combatant lives. It would be the height of injustice to mete out the same punishment to the mass murderer as to the sneak thief. Axis satellite Bulgaria, for instance, has defied the Nazis to the extent of refusing to go to war with Russia.

MR. HILLMAN REPLIES: If complete unconditional military capitulation doesn't mean unconditional surrender then words mean nothing. Factually, when opposing armies lay down their arms we are in a position to enforce on the defeated whatever conditions we deem necessary for security both immediate and in the future. Lengyel is worried about the punishment of the satellite nations. Punishment should be based on consideration of the future capacity of the satellites for mischief. In fact, that is the basis on which Germany and Japan should be punished. Punishing the leaders is intended to be a deterrent for the future. Punishment should be preventive, not retentive in character. Hence, no special terms of peace should be given any of the satellite aggressor nations. Unconditional surrender must come first.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

International Sunday School Lesson for January 21, 1945

GOLDEN TEXT: "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Matt. 5: 10.

Lesson Text: Matthew 5:31; 43-48.

Three chapters in Matthew's gospel, in the form of a sermon by Jesus, make up what we know as the Sermon on the Mount. Our lessons for this and next week are based upon these three chapters.

While it is possible that this address may have been delivered at one time, the probability is that the author of Matthew's gospel collected extracts from numerous discourses, using them to make more complete the sermon delivered by Jesus to the Twelve immediately after they had been selected by him.

Luke, in the sixth chapter of his gospel, reports a sermon of about thirty verses, against the one hundred and seven of Matthew. However, in other parts of Luke's gospel there are about thirty-four other verses corresponding very closely to utterances placed by Matthew in the Sermon on the Mount.

Matthew gives this sermon prominence at the beginning of his account of the Galilean ministry and it faithfully summarizes the teachings of the Master at this time.

The impression of the sermon has been profound and has greatly influenced the conduct of men. In it are to be found the principles of much wise legislation and the foundation for the rights of man.

St. Augustine, in the fourth century, gave it its name. Other writers have called it the Magna Charter of the Kingdom of God. Certainly, it is a beautiful statement, in simple language, of the principles which were being actually lived and advocated by Jesus. We are not surprised that, according to Luke, Jesus spent the preceding night in prayer before He delivered this great address.

The sermon opens with a statement of those spiritual principles of difficulty understood by a material and practical world. If verses 10, 11 and 12 are counted as three, there are ten beautitudes. Luke in his gospel has only four. The first, fourth, second and eighth in order, followed by four woes to those who seek to receive their consolation in this earthly life.

The spiritual truths behind the beautitudes were entirely in op-

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

position to the ruling philosophies of the day. Even yet the spiritual development of has not reached the state where they are generally accepted by the majority of the people.

In all ages man has sought his happiness. Some have mistaken transient blessedness for permanent happiness and contentment. Naturally, each man's idea of happiness depends upon his desires and ambitions.

Jesus is setting forth in these strange verses a formula for eternal contentment and happiness. He teaches that happiness is not dependent upon circumstances but upon the individual's relationship to God; it is an inward call unaffected by exterior surroundings.

The Italian Papini in his life of Christ says there are three races. "The first was that of the animal without law, and its name was War; the second was Barbarians tamed by Law whose highest perfection was Justice. This is the race now living, and Justice has not yet conquered War, and Law has not yet supplanted animality. The third is to be the race of real men, not only upright but holy, not like beasts, but like God."

We urge our readers to turn to Matthew's gospel and go through the fifth chapter. After the beautitudes Jesus discusses the influence of His disciples in the world. Then, He shows the relationship between His doctrines and those of the Mosaic Law, illustrating the advances made in the matter of anger impurity, profanity and the treatment of enemies. In this last section occurs His injunction to "love your enemies." Human nature still has much of the primitiveness and imperfect to overcome.

NEW FILMS

"The Princess and the Pirate"
In this technicolor production, Bob Hope plays a vagabond actor who runs afoul of a band of blood-thirsty buccaneers, at the time such cutthroats were paying hob with merchantmen in the Caribbean sea. Virginia Mayo is the Princess.

"Can't Help Singing"
In her first technicolor film, Deanna Durbin portrays a romantic young woman who becomes involved with Robert Paige, in California, during the famous gold-rush days. The music is by Jerome Kern.

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo"
This film is one of the best of the current war dramas, illustrating the experiences of the men in one bomber in training and after they were forced down in China following the attack on the Jap capital. Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Robert Walker and Phyllis Thaxter head an able cast.

Life on the home front can be simple—we know families which would be delighted over a letter from a fighting man overseas.

Urges Private Farm Ownership

Private ownership of farms is highly desirable and essential if our democratic way of life is to be continued, Maine Agricultural Commissioner Carl R. Smith told the State Grange.

"The perpetuation of the family-size farm will result in a real contribution to our country's welfare," he said.

When you check over the things you want to buy with those War Bonds you're tucking away, you'll probably find that many of them are Electric.

Electricity will run the machines that make 'em—and run 'em after they're made.

We had plenty of electric power for every war plant and we'll have plenty for expanding post-war production.

We kept the price of electricity low, in spite of war, and you can be sure it'll stay low in peace. The sooner we win the war the sooner we can all enjoy the comforts of electric living. Let's win the war First.

Freezer Locker Foods Make Zestful Duet

On those "just home from town" evenings, try a baked corn and pork chop casserole, the Country Cooking editor of Capper's Farmer advises housewives.

"It's an appetizing combination of two foods you've frozen in your locker or canned this last season," she writes. "Catsup with corn gives the casserole color and a palate-teasing quality."

Corn and Pork Chop Casserole
5 pork chops 1 c. diced celery
Fat 1 c. soft bread crumbs
Salt and pepper 1/2 c. tomato catsup
2 c. whole kernel corn 1 tsp. salt
corn

Have chops cut 1/2 inch thick; season and brown well. Combine remaining ingredients and place in greased casserole. Top with browned chops, pressing in slightly. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 45 minutes or until chops are done. Serves 5.

Besides adding something temptingly different to the family bill-of-fare, this dish gives a tantalizing aroma and a bright new look to the table, the Capper's Farmer expert points out.

FOR RENT: Farm 6 miles north 1-4 mile west of Dickens highway; 130 acres in cultivation, good orchard, fair improvements, would improve some for tenant. J. M. STEELE, Box 247, Rule, Texas. 12-4tp

Panhandle-Plains Industrial Meeting Amarillo Jan. 24-25

AMARILLO, Jan. 16—Program plans are being completed for the first Panhandle-Plains Industrial Conference which will be presented in the Herring Hotel, Jan. 24-25, to acquaint the people of this region with the industrial possibilities now and for the future. The two-day conference is open to the public and is free.

Sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News on behalf of the entire territory, there will be two full days and one night of elaborate displays and a program featuring more than 20 competent speakers, men and women, who are actually engaged in production, chemical research, or managers of huge industrial projects.

The program has been divided into different phases of possibilities. Representing Agriculture will be such speakers as A. W. Erickson, Minneapolis, Minn.; Alex. Bateman, Hereford; R. E. Karper, Texas Experimental Station; Dr. Floyd Golden, Taylor McCasland, Frank R. Webb, and Bill Hargis, Portales industrialists and research experts; Dr. J. A. Hill, Canyon; Leon Ranson, Floodada. Textiles: C. G. Rook and Miss Lucille Finley, Clays; Miss Dorothy Houghton, Texas Tech Research and Engineering Dept. Dehydration: George Wilson, Plainview. Water: Dr. Edward Taylor, Austin, and Wesley R. Nelson of The Bureau of Reclamation.

Gemology and minerals will furnish displays and speakers such as J. C. Yeaman, Claude, J. C. Estlack, Clarendon, and Earl Ferris, Memphis.

Transportation: Don Pickering, Austin, on aviation; Cecil Kersey, Fort Worth, railway; pur Brundidge, Amarillo, trucking. Synthetics: Jim Richards, plant manager of the Goodrich Synthetic Rubber Co., Borger. Carbon Black: Jack Norrick, United Carbon Co., Borger. Petroleum Inventions: J. Gordon Burch, Borger. Chemical Possibilities: Huber Company, Borger. Meat Processing Plant, Maj. Paul C. Johnson. Arch Hurley Conservancy District: C. V. Beinfuhr, Tucumcari.

Many other exhibits and program highlights are promised from other regions, the speakers yet unannounced. Program discussions begin at 9 a.m. the morning of Jan. 24-25 and at 2 p.m. each afternoon. From 7 until 11 o'clock the night of Jan. 24, a gala Open House will be presented, featuring the exhibits and special entertainment. Arrangements are made whereby school students may visit the exhibits through a conducted tour the first afternoon, so interested has the region become over the first such conference, many predict it will become an annual affair. So unusual are the displays they resemble a Jules Verne vision of things to come. Yet all have been prepared especially to please men, women and children. It is not a technical program but a down-to-earth presentation of what West Texas and Eastern New Mexico have to offer now.

Former Operator At Local Theatre Ends Orientation Course

Second Lt. Leo B. Nugent, husband of Mrs. Marian Nugent of El Paso, recently completed an orientation course at an Air Service Command Station in England designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and combat soldiering against the enemy in Germany.

At this Air Service Command Station, 2nd Lt. Nugent attended a series of lectures given by veterans of this command which included instructions on chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat zone.

His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our advance into Germany.

Before entering the Army Air

Forces, he was employed as an operator by the Palace Theatre in Spur.
