Deadline For Names To Go On Honor Roll Board Extended For Few Days

The deadline for turning in names for the Dickens County Honor Roll has been extended for a few days because only about 600 of the estimated 1,200 servicemen and women of this county have been turned in, Charles Fisher, chairman of the memorial board committee, said Wednesday.

Fisher said that the committee wants to get the names up in alphabetical order, but if the names are not turned in within the next few days, those that the committee have will be put up. This may mean that names turned in late will appear under "Z" when they really belong under "A" or "H".

The board, which is being sponsored by the Spur Rotary club and the local American Legion post, has already been erected on the three city-owned lots at the northern end of Burlington, and has been painted.

H. M. Christian, who is painting the servicemen's and women's names, said that he had about 250 ready to be placed on the board.

Christian is lettering in black the names on white masonite panels 2 x 15 inches. These panels will either be screwed or nailed to the board.

Qualifications for having a name entered on the roll include any person, regardless of sex or race, who was reared in Dickens county and/or now considers Dickens county his home, and has worn the uniform of the U. S. military service at any time since Dec. 7, 1941.

Elsewhere on this page is a blank that should be filled in as follows:

1. FULL name (no initial unless initial name) of serviceman or woman. Please state if initial name.
2. Branch of service (Army, Navy, WAC, etc.)
3. State if person died or has been killed while in service.
4. Name and return address of informer.
5. Mail to Memorial Board, c/o Texas Spur, Spur, Texas or give to Charles Taylor, county agent, Dickens.

Spring Football Training

Spring training for Spur high school will end this week with the annual scrimmage between the senior and the undergraduate football players at 8:30 p.m. Friday, in the stadium, Jack Christian, coach, announced. There will be no admission charged, and the public is invited to attend this game to view the 1945 Bulldogs.

New Directors for Rotary Club Named Thursday Luncheon

Five Rotarians were elected to serve on the board of directors of the Rotary club for the new year at the regular luncheon Thursday, April 19, in the Spur Inn.

The men are Spencer Campbell, Jack Christian, E. D. Engleman, Charles Fisher and J. D. McCain. They will take office with the new president, Bob George, the latter part of June. The program centered around five young women, who entertained Rotarians with a variety of piano numbers and a tap dance.

La Nell Brashear, dressed in a brief red dancing costume with matching tam, started the program with a tap dance accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. A. Brashear, on the piano.

Then Charmanj Coe and Jean Arthur played a piano duet, "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers." This was followed by a piano trio played by Ann Hull, Ernest Berry and Miss Arthur. Among other pieces played by the girls were "Stardust," "Gypsy Rondo" and "Canadian Capers."

Ned Baird was chairman of the program.

Carl Murray, Spur, was officially welcomed into the Spur Rotary club as a new member and presented with a pin.

There was one guest, Horace Gilmore, Lubock.

O. M. McGinity, president, presided.

Song 'Keep America Free' Written By Ex-Local Boy

The current version of "home town boy makes good" is the story of Thomas Biddy Hicks, a native of Dickens county now living in California, who recently wrote a song "Keep America Free" that has been published by Nordyke Music Publications, Hollywood.

Hicks, the son of Mrs. T. J. Hicks, has always had a talent for music, but to his mother's knowledge he has never had a music lesson.

At the age of four, Biddy, as his family calls him—much to his dismay—could play by ear, the hymns he heard at church, on an old style organ—the kind that has to be pumped by pressing pedals.

In recalling these occasions, Mrs. Hicks described her son as resembling a small boy attempting to ride a bicycle too large for him.

"Why, he could hardly reach the pedals," she exclaimed.

When he became older, Hicks began playing the guitar, mandolin and piano—all by ear.

Even though he always exhibited an unusual amount of musical ability, his mother said that she was pleasantly surprised to learn that her son had become a song writer. Hicks not only composes the music, but he also writes the lyrics.

In a letter to the Texas Spur, Hicks said that he had been song writing in his spare time for the past two years. The majority of his days are spent working in a ship yard in San Gabriel. He also stated that he had another song ready for publication, but declined to indicate its nature.

As the name may imply, "Keep America Free" is a march—not the forceful "Stars and Stripes Forever" type, but a quieter, less military march with a catching melody. The lyrics pay tribute to our war heroes and make a plea to "Keep America Free."

ago, Hicks was engaged in the tire business. At one time he farmed the old home place at Afton.

He met his wife, the former Martha Patterson, Jayton, while she was working for a business concern in Spur.

The couple now have four children, Rosemary, Cora Lynn, Tommy Patterson and Jerry Neal. Yes, the older ones have already begun studying music—you see, Mrs. Hicks is musical, too.

Hicks has eight brothers and sisters. They are Mrs. Peyton Legg, pur; Mrs. Burnett Haney and Ed Hicks, Afton; Hilton Hicks, Albuquerque, N. Mex.; Mrs. Leon Robertson, Haskell; A. L. Hicks, Higgins; George Hicks, Long Beach, Calif. and Mrs. L. B. Tiller, Dallas.

Though the whole Hicks family is musically inclined, it seems that Tom, as he prefers to be called, is the most talented. Anyway, he is the only one in his family to have a song published!

Get-together Meet By Dickens, Kent Farmers, FSA Men

Sixteen Dickens and Kent county tenant purchase borrowers, with their wives and children, met at 11 a.m. Wednesday, April 18, in the Spur high school gymnasium with FSA officials for the annual get-together to discuss their farm programs for the past year.

In general, the farmers had had successful years and some of them were able to more than pay their obligations on their farms. Naturally, out of this group there were a few farmers who had suffered severe losses, but the average income was good.

Discussions continued throughout the day with R. E. Dickson giving good pointers on the feeding of cattle and O. M. McGinity giving data about water and soil conservation.

A period of about an hour and one-half was taken off for lunch. Each wife present brought a basket lunch. All lunches were spread out together and served cafeteria style. This meant that each diner had a wide selection of choice food.

While the women were spreading out the food, the men gathered around the piano and sang old favorites. During the luncheon, Mrs. Madge Alexander, pianist, entertained the group by playing popular and semi-classical pieces.

Tenant purchase borrowers attending this round table discussion were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ira S. Clower, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Caruthers, Mr. and Mrs. Carndey Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Phifer and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams of Dickens county.

From Kent county were Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Spradling, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Long, Fletcher Rice, Claude A. Neaves, Mr. and Mrs. Durward L. Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. D. Douglas Thompson, Roy Chisum and Cecil Hagan.

FSA officials and guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Neal, R. E. Dickson, O. M. McGinity, Mrs. Agnes M. Marrs, Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Legg, Mrs. Lacey Armstrong, the Rev. Herman Coe, Walter Labay, all of Spur; E. H. Boedecker, Dickens; Sam Weatherall, Paducah; John Barbee, Amarillo; Horace Gilmore, Lubock; Prentis Allen, county agent, Jayton; and Miss Martha Brent, associate state director of FSA, with headquarters in Amarillo.

Stock Show Officials Well Pleased With Exhibition April 14

As a whole, the stock show committee is thoroughly satisfied with the third annual FFA and 4-H club stock show which was held April 14, but the committee would like to see an increase next year in the Jersey (cows and heifers), fat barrow and fat lamb divisions, Walter Labay, reporter, said the committee decided in a meeting held Tuesday night.

The hopes of the committee, Labay continued, are that the fathers will give their full cooperation in making future stock show larger and better by letting their sons feed more stock that can be entered in the shows.

Next year a similar stock show will be held. The some divisions, same system of judging, etc. will be used, Labay stated.

A total of about nine tons of beef and pork was marketed at a collective value of $6,142, from the entries in the stock show, Labay stated. The pecuniary value listed does not include premiums.

Tom Jones, Jayton, Buys Maxor Drug Here This Week

Final papers, involving the sale of Maxor Drug Co., Spur, to Tom Jones, formerly of Jayton, were signed Monday, and Jones took immediate possession.

Maxor Drug Co., which will be renamed Jones Drug Store, was owned by Clyde Holtzclaw, Amarillo, and was being operated by L. S. Ratliff at the time of the sale.

Jones said he had been in the drug business for 22 years and had operated a store in Jayton.

He and Mrs. Jones have temporary rooms with Mrs. Harvey Holly. Their two children, Janice Jones and Tom Lane Jones, will join them in Spur at the close of school. Miss Jones is a student in Jayton schools and her brother is a sophomore at Texas A. and M.

Powell).
Janey's younger sister, Zip (Aline Ball) and Peggy (Lois Johnson) always have a ready plan for Janey; thereby causing several complications.
Madge (Byrdcan Roberson) gives Helen competition for Allen (Donald Delisle); and the coach (Jimmy Draper) throughout the play is a go-between George and the alumni.
(Confidentially, it sounds "confusin' but amusin'").

C. C. Haile for Old Settlers Revival

Below is a plan presented by C. C. Haile, Afton, president of the Dickens and Motley Counties Old Settlers association, to enlarge the activities of the organization by introducing an annual old settler's revival.

"It was nearly 23 years ago that a few of Motley and Dickens counties old settlers came together at Roaring Springs and organized the Old Settler's association. Since that time, it has grown to be one of the outstanding affairs of all West Texas.

"We, the officers, directors and committees, have done our very best to see that everyone from young to old have had good entertainment.

"Now, I think it time to add another feature to our association as our boys will soon be coming home and we should have a better place and better environment for them.

"I am thinking of an old settler's revival (on the order of the old camp meeting) to be held each year at the Old Settler's pavilion, where all the churches can come together and worship together for one Great Cause. A meeting to encourage the revival of religion in the hearts of all Christians.

"This plan has been in my mind and heart for several months, but owing to the restrictions on gas and rubber and to the war, I had not pushed it but now I feel that this is the time for us to come together to do our best to have better christian spirit existing in our country, which would be accomplished by better cooperation of churches and Christians.

"If you endorse this, and will help with your prayers and your personal help in any way, I would like for you to write me a card or a letter that I might know who and how many would like to see and help in this move for annual Old Settler's Revival.

"Let me hear from YOU, and if there is enough interested we will have a meeting called so we can get together and complete the organization.

"Address all letters and cards to C. C. Haile, Afton, Texas."

Lack of Materials Delay Construction Rural Electric Lines

Construction on the Dickens County Electric Coop, Inc. (REA) lines was delayed last week for lack of building materials, Jack Rector, newly appointed manager stated Monday. A shipment of two car loads of poles, though, is scheduled to arrive this week.

Rector said that rural people, who want service from the REA, should turn in their animal units and easements, at once.

He also said he wanted to caution members of REA to wait until the poles near their houses were set before wiring their houses. The wiring of the houses must stand government inspection. If the wiring does not meet the standards set up by the government, it will have to be redone.

Rector stated that this would entail undue expense and advised that each member, before wiring his house, secure the correct specifications and information from him or T. L. Amos, construction contractor.

Each member should make application at his local AAA office for a certificate for materials to wire houses.

Mrs. Johnny Nichols, nee Betty Lynn Brown, spent the week end in Spur.

A. O. Williams and Calvin Hull flew to Sweetwater Friday to attend to some business.

Damon Runyon's "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," the new technicolor musical packed with rough, rowdy, roisterous fun in the heyday of gay Broadway.

GAY BROADWAY AT GAYEST

Hit Film Recalls Razzle-Dazzle Era

Gay Broadway at its gayest—in the razzle-dazzling days just prior to World War One—is the brilliant setting for Damon Runyon's "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," the new 20th Century-Fox Technicolor musical hit opening in Spur at the Palace Theatre.

Starring Monty Woolley, Dick Haymes and June Haver, the tuneful film tells the gay and romantic story of Ernest R. Ball, composer of many of America's best-loved songs including "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "Let the Rest of the World Go By" and "Boy O' Mine."

The film is a nostalgic picture of the voluptuous Broadway of Hammerstein's and the Palace, of the Casino Girls and a Lehr Operetta at the Knickerbocker; the Broadway of Terry McGovern's Bar and of Churchill's Restaurant and Reisenweber's Cabaret. It was the Broadway that sang, hummed and whistled Ernest R. Ball's hits from dawn 'til dawn, and made him a star.

The original story for "Irish Eyes Are Smiling" was conceived by E. A. Ellington. Producer Damon Runyon was particularly impressed with the story because it was about people and places he had known and loved. He engaged Earl Baldwin and John Tucker Battle, two writers who felt as sentimental about the period as he did, to prepare the script. Gregory Ratoff directed the film.

Also included in the cast of the hit are Anthony Quinn, Beverly Whitney, Maxie Rosenbloom, Veda Ann Borg and Clarence Kolb.

Relates Interesting Sights As Seen On Visit To Holy Land

S/Sgt. Paul W. Johnson, who for the past two years has been stationed in Iran with an American engineering corps, recently made a trip to Palestine. In a letter to his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davis, of Spur, he described the numerous show places that are found in that historic city. Below are excerpts from this letter:

"I had a chance to visit Palestine, so naturally, went. . . (en route) I had a short stay in Bagdad, but didn't get to see Babylon. It seems unreal to stand on the bridge over the Tigris river and look at the ancient city of Bagdad. There isn't anything between Bagdad and the Jordan river except about 600 miles of desert. . . and (then) into the green hills of Palestine.

"As you know, Palestine is populated by Arabs and Jews. The Arab settlements look just like . . . Persia, mud huts, primitive agriculture, the people filthy and poverty ridden. The Jewish settlements look like paradise—nice homes, grass, flowers, milk cows. . . healthy well-fed and well-dressed children. . . I could write a whole volume of praise to these people. One long chapter would be devoted to their hospitality.

"In Jerusalem, one is simply staggered by the view. I stood on Mount Scopus. To my left, I could see beyond Jericho to the Dead Sea. In front of me was Bethelhem. On my right and below was the City of Jerusalem. . . There on that hill is Bethany, the place of Christ's childhood. Yonder is the very tabernacle in which he taught. . . Within that ancient walled city (Jerusalem) is the living biblical history of thousands of years. . . There is the Tower of David. . . Rachel's tomb. . . The Mount of

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SETTLEMENT AND STRUGGLES IN CANAAN

International Sunday School Lesson for April 29th, 1945

GOLDEN TEXT: "Be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."—Joshua 1:9.

Lesson Text: Judges 2: 6, 7; 11, 12; 18-23; 6: 11-16.

Following the death of Moses, within sight of the Promised Land, God appointed Joshua to the task of leading the Israelites over the Jordan into Canaan, where the conquest of the land began. Joshua and Caleb, the only two of the twelve spies sent out thirty-eight years before to spy out the land of the Canaanites to see if it could be conquered to bring back a favorable report, were the only Hebrews who left Egypt who lived to enter the Promised Land: all the others were of a new generation.

Joshua went forward courageously, for he felt assured of God's presence with him, for God had declared: "As I was with Moses, so shall I be with thee." God kept his promise to Joshua, for this great warrior, in his last days, as he was making his farewell address to the leaders of Israel, testified that God is a covenant-keeping God: "Ye have seen," he told them, "all that Jehovah your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for Jehovah your God, he it is that hath fought for you."

At Gilgal, across the Jordan, Joshua set up headquarters and Jericho was the first city the Israelites captured. You know the familiar story of how its capture was obtained. Ai, another stronghold of the Amorites, was finally taken. After about seven or eight years in the new land, enough headway had been made in the occupation of Canaan that Joshua divided the Promised Land among the twelve tribes of Israel.

By the time of the death of Joshua the Israelites had made real progress in occupying Canaan and they had been transformed from wandering tribes into a more united people. Homes had been built and villages and cities established in a rich agricultural section. Slow, but gradual, progress was being made under the guidance of Joshua.

After the death of Joshua, however, the picture changed. The people forgot the covenant they made with Jehovah and, without Joshua's spiritual leadership, they fell away from Him. Some of the people intermarried with the idol-worshipping people around them and began worshipping idols themselves.

Every once in a while, there would be an outstanding leader raised up among them, who would be able to unite the people and to bring them to repentance. Gideon was just such a person. Our Scripture passage gives us an account of God's call to him to become the people's judge, or leader. At the time of God's call to leadership, Gideon was thrashing wheat in secret to prevent the enemy from taking his grain. At first, Gideon's faith was very weak. While he had recognized the fact that God had been with his forefathers and had done mighty works for them, Gideon could not but wonder why God apparently had forsaken his people and let all their misfortunes come to them. God made Gideon recognize the fact that the plight of the Israelites was their own fault, the effect of their own disobedience. They had sinned and God was using the Midianites to punish them. God promised victory under Gideon's leadership, but it was necessary for two miracles to be performed before Gideon was convinced that the necessary courage and strength would be supplied. Space does not permit an account of the story of the route of the Midianites by Gideon's three hundred, but it is so familiar that to mention it is practical all that is necessary. It may be found in Judges 7.

In times of crisis in any nation's life, God will provide the necessary leader, if the people ask His guidance. This is just as true today as it was in the early days of the Hebrew race. All through the Bible, from Genesis the Revelation, is evidence of this fact. The book of Judges gives an account of such leaders, who were then called Judges. We have to mention Deborah and Barak, beside Joshua and Gideon, to prove this fact.

When one reads the book of Judges, one cannot help but wonder why God did not cast off the Israelites completely. They were so very much like their heathen neighbors, they so easily forgot the goodness of God and were so disobedient. They were different from their neighbors in only one respect and that was, they knew Jehovah to be their God. While they often forgot Him and even worshipped heathen gods, deep in their hearts they believed in the God of their fathers—the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Through them, the world finally came to know their God.

LETTERS FROM READERS

A BRIGHTER FUTURE

Considering the great chaos in which the entire world has been precipitated by the curse of a global war, many well informed scholars of the present time are expressing their opinions regarding the spiritual, financial and political conditions of the world during the post war period.

Some are predicting the most fatal times in which the world has ever been involved, but we find that most of the complaints are coming from Hoover sympathizers and from Hoover himself.

At a time not so many years ago, Hoover and his friends were instrumental in bringing upon these United States of America, one of the most fatal financial depressions that has ever been recorded in the annals of its history.

Not being satisfied with what he has so fatally done, Mr. Hoover continues to assume that he is some cured pumpkin on the vine, ready for the making of some more of his peculiarly scented pies.

Well, everyone knows that they were so badly tainted with political corruption that many thousands of people and various financial institutions were forced into a state of bankruptcy. To accept the plan of salvation he is now offering for a post war period, would be to accept something that has the awful smell of the last Republican administration of this country.

The Republican party, like the Democratic one, is composed of many good men, and in them however, are many incompetent ones. Often the people at large cast their votes for a lovely sweet scented bouquet instead for one whose principles are based upon good sound political doctrines that will stand the test of adversities and safely bring the ship into a haven of rest.

No men, who have ever held the reins of a government in their hands, have adorned the pages of American history with more honor and benevolence than George Washington, Abe Lincoln and last, but not least, our late beloved and most competent and benevolent Mr. Roosevelt.

The greatest honor that can be bestowed him is to say that he was truly and indeed the most influential administrator of equity and justice for all than any man who ever occupied the President's chair of these United States. It can also be said of him that all nations of the world, except Germany and Japan, except depending upon him for the returning of peace and prosperity. The divine works of our Creator are mysterious and His will to give and to take life is beyond the ability of mankind to comprehend, but we know that all things worketh out for the good of people and nations who love Him and keep His commandments.

And again it was never God's plan that the wicked should have a domineering power over the world, but that the righteous should rule. As long as they loved Him and kept His commandments He would open up the windows of the store house of Heaven and pour out upon them more blessing than they would be able to receive.

Today, mankind looks upon the war as being the most horrible and destructive of anything of like nature that has ever been recorded in the annals of history.

While this is very true, it is also true that God often brings good out of evil. There is no doubt in minds of the best theologians of the present time that this global war is a fore-runner of better things to come; and that it is going to be a thorough cleaning up of the inferior religious and political institutions of mankind which will give to God's chosen people an assurance of better things to come—better people, better government and the acceptance of a pure religion that will unite the world in one Lord, one faith and one baptism—a universal Christianity that will unite the world in bonds of brotherly love.

Hate, malice and a greed for money will vanish from the face of the earth and by 1950, there will be in store the most marvelous times ever experienced by mankind. Those of you who are nearing the end of your life's journey, pray that you may live to witness these marvelous events that are sure to come in the near future.

After God's chosen nations, the allies, have gained the victory and the emissaries of satan are placed under the footstool of the righteous, there will be a long period of peace and prosperity and a wonderful inventive age of medical and physical science that will prolong the lives of mankind many more years. Sin and disease will not stalk the land for victories as it has been done in the past.

Sin is the origin of all disease and when sin is conquered, diseases will cease to curse the body and when all people are blessed with such pure physical and spiritual bodies, there will be a generation of people to inhabit and rule the world according to the commandment of God. Then the Lamb and the Lion will lie down together in peace and a good will towards all men and peace on earth for former things have passed away and a new era of God's way of living will rule the earth.

LAUNDRY SERVICE REDUCES ABSENTISM

Laundries in critical labor areas have been rated "essential" by the War Manpower Commission. This area is not "critical," but Spur Laundry service has been essential to Spur families for years. Today it's indispensable to the army of women in war and home defense jobs. Thousands of hours would be taken from vital war work if these "essential" women had to take time off every week to do the washing. Send your clothes to Spur Laundry-Cleaners.

SCANDAL

Madam Swami

Sees all, hears all, knows all and tells all

Kenneth Carlisle and Jane Brannen are having dates now. What happened to Dewie?

Flash! !! We have two more dream cases in S.H.S. "Mikel" Penn is dreaming of falling in love with "Stud." What is the matter with Donald?

Dean Wright is dreaming of falling in love with Chichi. Better watch out, Dub.

David Jr. and Jean Williams are considered on the steady list.

Lane and Tillie were together the other night; so were "Runt" Moore and Aline. What is this, a trade out? Sounds good if it will work.

Why was Bert running up and down the street, was she trying to catch R. C.?

Pete and Charmian made a cute couple after church, and "Curly" McCarty and Tillie were along too.

Donald bought a $15.00 hat for Inez to wear in the parade.

Why didn't Mary ride to town with Dub the other night after the Dickens-Spur volley ball game? Was it because Chichi was in the car, or did she just want to walk?

We all want to know what has happened to Ned's poetry lately? Lane just can't make up his mind. He was with Robby Scott Sunday night and Mavis Hill the week before.

Jimmie Draper can't make up his mind whether he wants to go with Clark or not.

Calvert wants a date for the Junior-Senior banquet. Girls, there is your chance.

Aline is looking for Dempsey Sims home on a 15 day leave and she has her hooks out to catch him.

Wendell came in on a leave and was Susie glad to see him or was she?

What about Dot Karr riding on Jerry Daniel's horse in the parade last Saturday?

Some of the girls that rode in the parade were so sore that they could hardly walk.

Bonnie Thompson has some very queer reasons for not going with Cleston Pritchett.

Autrey Nell has really been happy. Who wouldn't be, with a Merchant Seaman home?

Dean Wright has been carrying rouge around in his pockets and the funny point is he doesn't know whose it is.

Barbara Young and Jimmie Draper have really been creating a sensation.

J. E. is getting around pretty good these days. We wonder who he is going to ask to the banquet?

It seems Mafoi was seen with Roy Lee on a Tuesday night. Does she get around or does she get around?

Carl and Mavis seem to be getting along pretty good now, and are we glad? ? ? ?

It is getting close to the end of school and close to the Junior-Senior banquet so be careful because I am everywhere and I tell all I know.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

A very good program was given to the student body on April 20 in the gym. Mrs. Baird presented some of music students in a piano recital. The high school students who participated were Jean Arthur, Charmian Coe, Ernestine Berry, Mary Olive Marrs, and Ann Hull. The duets and trios were enjoyed thoroughly, and everyone hopes to hear another very soon.

Jack Christian and O. B. Ratliff were at the assembly in interest of the bond drive. Christian presented his plan to the school which will appear in another column.

The assembly was a very successful one, and it was appreciated by the guests as well as the students and teachers.

PROCLAMATION

To the classes of 1946, 1947, 1948, namely the Freshmen, Sophomore, Juniors will from this hour forward:

1. Address your superiors, the seniors, as Sir and Madam, if at any time they consent to tolerate your nauseating presence

2. Remove your infectious frame from any and all sidewalks when any member of the Senior class appears.

3. You shall cast your slimy carcasses on the ground and pay homage to any member of the fair sex of the Senior class if they should have the misfortune to suffer your foul presence.

4. And lastly, you illiterate, and imbecilic forms, let your anemic bodies serve your Masters and Superiors, the Seniors, until this school year is ended at 12:00 mid-night, May 25, 1945 A.D.

Herein fail not.

Signed,
The Most Honorable and Best Class

The Seniors of 1945.

How's this for class spirit?

ACTIVITIES OF THE SENIORS

The seniors received their invitations last week and were very glad to get them. They are white with a gold bulldog in the upper left hand corner and shaded with blue. With these, they received their memory books which they are passing around in every class and study hall for class mates to sign. They also received their individual cards and thank you cards.

The seniors are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Baccalaureate and Commencement. The baccalaureate will be Sunday evening, May 20 in the high school gym. The speaker will be the Rev. Gantz from Lubbock.

The Commencement will be Friday evening, May 25 in the high school gym. The speaker will be Thomas H. Taylor, president of Howard Payne College.

The Seniors are planning a most enjoyable trip to the Carlsbad Caverns May 9, 10, 11. Martin Turbyfill is taking his truck for the Seniors to go in and they are very lucky to be able to take such a trip during war time.

The Juniors are giving the Seniors a very nice banquet Friday, May 4, 1945 in the Spur Inn. The last week of school will be devoted to Senior Week and will be unto the Freshmen.

We encourage you to attend the next volley ball game. It is a fact that the girls could play better with a large crowd.

SCHOOLS HELP BOND DRIVE

Spur high school is doing its bit to help the war effort. The classes are having a contest to see which one can sell the most bonds for the Seventh War Loan Drive. The class presidents have taken charge of their classes. A party is to be given to the class that sells the most bonds over $7,500. We are expecting a lot from the students and we know that they are working very hard.

THE LADIES, bless 'em . . . so frequently placed on a pedestal themselves . . . are playing a most important part in seeing that the family car gets regular lubrication and maintenance service.

American wives, experts in balancing the family budget, know that the war effort requires careful budgeting of every mile remaining in both cars and tires. They realize that "Care for your car—for your country" is more than a slogan; that it is an absolute must, if the threatened breakdown in homefront transportation is to be prevented.

That is why they so regularly remind Friend Husband to change oil, to check tires, to get regular and complete chassis lubrication.

patriotic part to help make your care and tires last longer and go farther.

His Phillips Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures . . . inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises . . . crisscrossing with the spare every three thousand miles . . . examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary.

Australian Newspaper Correspondent Visits Local A&M Experiment Station

By Mona Hughes

After surveying the Spur Experiment Station last week, Merwyn G. Weston, Australian newspaper correspondent, said that he was "tremendously impressed with the farm, because it's getting down to the roots of agriculture."

Men like R. E. Dickson, W. F. Turner and Charles Fisher have converted their "academic knowledge" into practical application for farmers, Weston elaborated.

A staff correspondent of the Argus, a morning daily in Melbourne, Australia, Weston in on a six months tour of the United States investigating American practices in water and soil conservation to secure data for a series of articles to be published in his paper.

He spent about two days in Spur studying the agricultural practices in this area.

Of medium stature and smartly dressed in a brown tweed suit, Weston is the antithesis of the usual Hollywood version of the sloppy, blasé correspondent. He has brown wavy hair, thoughtful grey eyes and is probably in his early thirties. He seems vitally interested in his research, and inflects associates with his enthusiasm.

Speaking with the typical accent of a "Man from Down Under," Weston said that he was particularly interested in the conservation program from the point of view of the social and economic effects on the lives of the people.

Information regarding soil and water conservation is especially pertinent to Australians at this time, since Australia is reported to be undergoing the worst drought in its history.

Why Weston came to Texas is understandable—the terrain of the plains area is similar to that of Australia. Why he came to Spur and how he found it was a mystery until he enlightened the reporter by saying, "Oh, I heard about Spur in Washington (D. C.) . . . Washington views Spur with a kindly eye."

Australia, like Texas, is also widely known for its cattle and sheep raisers. Unlike Texas cattlemen, however, Australian cowpokes forego wearing cowboy boots, Stetson hats and tight fitting blue jeans—the traditional garb of West Texas ranchers. In fact, by their dress, Weston said, you cannot distinguish them from any one else.

Weston has led what is generally considered the romantic, roving life of a star reporter. He began his journalistic career in 1934 as a sports reporter on an evening paper in Melbourne. The year, 1938 found him in Germany just before the outbreak of World War II. In 1938, he also came to America to cover the Davis Cup tennis matches.

Then—the war, and Weston became a war correspondent covering the savage battles for possession of Buna and Gona on New Guinea. For two and one-half years he was with the Australian and American forces under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

During his career as a war correspondent, Weston accompanied the 112th Texas cavalry on two or three amphibious invasions. He became well acquainted with Texans and liked them.

Weston said that he felt sure that Texans and other Americans like Australians, and predicted that many will return to live in Australia after the war.

As for the Australian girls, Weston described them as resembling Texas lassies in dress, appearance and manner, but stated that they are "perhaps just a trifle more domestic."

To date, approximately 14,600 American soldiers have married Australian girls. Weston presages that 15,000 more G. I. Joes will wed Aussies before the war is over.

Prior to his visit in Spur, Weston explored the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). His comment concerning it was, "If America taps all her river valleys like that, her possibilities are unlimited."

TVA and other conservation projects reveal that America realizes that "the wealth of a nation depends on the soil," commented Weston.

"If any one had told me there was this much conservation in America, I wouldn't have believed it," the correspondent exclaimed.

On leaving Spur, Weston went to Amarillo to study the "dust bowl" region. His tour will also take him to the states of Kansas, Illinois and other sectors in the United States.

Christian church, Olney and interment was in Crowell. Mrs. Foreman returned to Spur Monday.

Mrs. E. L. Adams, who has been bedridden for a number of months, made an ambulance trip to Temple last week to get a physical check-up at a hospital there. It is reported that her condition is improved.

Sgt. and Mrs. Worth Green, Childress Army Air Field, have been visiting in Dickens with Mrs. Jeffie Green, mother of Sergeant Green.

Fighting Mad! Now Let's Do Something About It

It's time to look ourselves in the eye! We're a land of milk and honey.

But we've been given the "Hot Foot" in Germany, pushed into a corner in the Philippines, sunk in the seas off Java—and our own shores. Make no mistake! Germany and Japan want us to keep on sleeping . . . permanently.

So we've got to wake up and get tough . . . or get taken. There's no time to lose! There's no time for work that doesn't help fight the war. or for useless buying. Or slowing up on the job. Or Sunday driving. Or making up our minds to save for our share of U. S. Bonds next pay day.

We've got to get going now! We've got to get tough with ourselves before we can get tough with the Axis.

That means everybody must get tough with himself. THAT MEANS YOU!

8 Ex-A&M Students Hold Muster Meet On San Jacinto Day

In keeping with a fifty-year-old tradition, eight local ex-students of Texas A. and M. conducted a muster meeting on San Jacinto day, Saturday, April 21, at the Pitchfork ranch, as guests of D. Burns, manager and former Aggie.

Back in 1895, the story goes, a group of Aggies, decided that San Jacinto day should be given special honor. They presented the plan to school officials, but it was turned down. Undaunted, this group of Aggies vowed that wherever and whenever two Aggies should meet on April 21, they should hold muster. Since then, this tradition has been observed annually over the world.

Probably the most famous of these muster meetings occurred on Corregidor—just before its fall—when two ex-A & M students got together and observed the usual rites. Undoubtedly, the happiest muster in 1945 was on that same little island—now liberated. After the meeting, the men gathered around the camp fire and ate real chuck wagon chow. Those present were Charles Taylor, Charles Fisher, R. E. Dickson, Walter O'Neal, Bill Kimbrough, Jack Christian, Clyde Horn and Burns. Christian was chairman of this muster.

Wendell Parker and Roy Lee Ball, Merchant Marines who have been visiting in Spur, reported to Galveston for duty last week.

S. W. Bell Telephone Has Large Postwar Rural Phone Program

A goal of 165,000 new farm telephones, to be installed in the five years following the war, has been set by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, according to C. H. Cale, manager. Completion of this program will result in three times as many farm telephones as there are at present in the communities served by the company, Cale added.

This rural expansion is part of the Bell system's $100 million post war plan for adding 1,000,000 telephones on farms and for improving the farmer's present telephone service. The rural service program is a continuation of one which was started several years ago but was interrupted by the war.

One of the most important developments in rural telephony, Cale said, is a means of furnishing telephone service along power lines, but are not near the telephone lines, can get telephone service. Experiments in this method began in 1938 and were actively under way until shortly before Pearl Harbor, when the Bell Telephone laboratories started devoting all its time to work for the armed forces.

Sending telephone conversation over electric wires applies a technique using high frequency currents which has been perfected over many years by the Bell system for other uses. Being of high frequencies, these telephone currents can pass over the power line at the same time the power currents do, without interference.

In power line carrier, a telephone current, traveling along an electric power line, is taken from the power line by means of a "carrier coupler" near a farmhouse. The current is then carried over a pair of telephone wires to the telephone.

To accomplish all this involves the use of electronic apparatus at or near the telephone central office and in the customer's house. The customer's equipment will resemble a small table-model radio.

Power line carriers will give the same type of telephone service as the present wire circuits do. The customer will make and receive calls in the same way that he does now on wire lines. The manager stated that experiments in this system will be continued as soon as men and equipment are available again. He said Bell Telephone Companies are co-operating with the Rural Electrification Administration and with private power companies in working out the power line carrier.

Another improvement in rural service, Cale said, is the use of high-strength steel wire for telephone lines, allowing telephone poles to be placed from 350 to 450 feet apart instead of the former 150 to 200 feet. This method, developed before the war, has been in use even during the war because of the saving in other materials.

Other new methods of giving better telephone service to farmers after the war, Cale said, will include improvements in transmission, in ringing, and in signaling the operator, and cutting down the number of parties on a line where necessary for better service.

Telephone men are now making field surveys to find out the best methods of extending and improving telephone service in different types of farming areas. In order to have the latest information on the telephone needs and desires of farm families, several thousand are now being asked for their opinions and suggestions on particular features of telephone service, Cale said.

Wins Rotary Club Presidency with Hot Campaign Promises

Bob George, candidate for Rotary president whose campaign platform centered on his promise to "banish sack lunches," was elected president of the Spur Rotary club by the preferential ballot system at the regular noon hour meeting Thursday, April 12, in the Spur Inn.

"I think you've made a wise choice," George "modestly" told Rotarians in answer to their cries for "Speech."

Speaking seriously for a few moments, George thanked Rotarians for the honor they had conferred on him and pledged to do his best to make them the best Rotary president they have ever had.

The new president will take office the latter part of June. The other candidates were J. D. McCain and Spencer Campbell.

Rotarians had a special treat at this meeting, they had music while they ate. A quartette of Negro girls and their pianist, Mrs. N. D. Cook, gave a program featuring spirituals and popular tunes. The girls sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Jonah" and "Straighten Up and Fly Right." Mrs. Cook played several piano solos. Among them were "St. Louis Blues," "The Rosary," "Is You Is or Is You Ain't My Baby" and "Twelfth Street Rag."

The quartette was composed of Bernice C. Burrell, Corine Joiner, Norma Gean Bradley, Katherine Thomas and Irene King.

Following lunch, Pete Blakney, Plainview, new owner of the Spur Inn, and his niece, Mrs. Ethel Zadow, were introduced and briefly expressed their joy in meeting the Rotarians. Mrs. Zadow quickly made friends with Rotary members by presenting each with a cigar.

The main program centered around the "Cherry Notes," a band composed of 21 first grade students, under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Dunwoody and accompanied by Mrs. Madge Alexander.

The children, armed with triangles, tambourines, bells and other percussion instruments, gave their version of "When the Circus Comes to Town," "The Rhythm Man," "The Spring Song," and "Swing on a Star." In the last number, Jerry Don McAlpin sang the lyrics.

A reading, "I've Been a Good Boy," was given by Billy Watson. A new member, Ray Karr, was added to the Rotary club roll at this meeting and presented with his pin.

Guests, other than the ones mentioned above, were Jim Holby and Ken Ward, Amarillo; Ray E. Keith, Dallas; Jim Ewin, Fort Worth; Lynn Buzbee, Spur; and Pvt. Billy Ray Barret, stationed at Kingman Arizona.

President O. M. McGinity presided and Ned Baird was chairman of the program, substituting for W. B. Francis.

Pvt. Glendell Dobbs Writes Experiences On Tropical Island

Pvt. Glendell Dobbs, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Formby, Spur, is spending his second year on an island somewhere in the South Pacific. In a recent letter to his grandparents he described a soldier's life on a tropical island. Below are excerpts from his letter.

"This is a Sunday morning here in the Pacific. It is not unlike any of the other six mornings of the week except that there is a church boat that leaves early in the morning for the other side. There are no churches on this side of the island. Anyone wishing to go to church has to catch a boat and ride across the lagoon.

"Yesterday, we had fresh fish for chow. Some of the fellows in the outfit caught them. There are lots of fish in the waters around here. These fellows are always catching some big ones. Sometimes the sharks get to the lines first and then leave only the head of the fish on the hook.

"I don't do any fishing myself. All of the spare time I have, I use for playing baseball. We have a baseball league here in the outfit with four teams in it. . . . if we keep from losing the balls in the coconut logs and the jungles, we have some pretty hot games.

"We get the news of the world as quickly as you can, some times quicker. We have radios here, and news sheets are printed at the different bases. . . . we hear programs from Australia. . . . G. I. Stations in this area. . . . Japanese propaganda."

In Memory of Lee Fry

Lee was just a bud Snatched away from this world of sin and sorrow Of whom we will go home to meet On this glad day of tomorrow

Lee's life was spent in service to others, He was an example for all his brothers To us, Lee is not gone; He is just asleep. For soon in Heaven, him we shall meet.

Our life here is such a short stay Why can't we meet Lee that bright day? Jesus, his master, who called him home, Is calling you, too. Why do you roam?

To his buddies at Camp Hood: Your life may just be a short stay here, But make your calling sure While Jesus is near.

Jesus can call you here, or He can call you abroad. For He is your Master and your God. Your life is in His hands; Your destiny, He can seal, So look to the cross and there kneel.

Look full into his face. Let Him come into your heart. Then if Jesus calls you today, You are ready to depart.

Mother, don't weep for this bud that's gone, For it will brighten that Heavenly Home. Just keep praying the Father to draw the others around the throne. That they may meet Lee in the Heavenly home.

So Mother, Father, Sister, Brother, Just look to Jesus; there is no other. That can take away the sorrow that's in your heart, And go with you when you depart.

Next Stop Berlin

Italy . . . first stirring victory for the United Nations . . . a challenge and a mandate to us all.

We sent those men over. We sent the weapons of war and the food they needed. We collaborated with other United Nations and now, the first victory in this second world war is ours.

That doesn't mean that complete victory is ours . . . no, it means now we must not let down . . . we must send those men ALL THE WAY—to Berlin and to complete Victory!

Today is a fitting day to ask ourselves, am I doing enough? If I met a man who was there, could I look him squarely in the face and say, I did my share?

We must do more to win that complete victory . . . to bring the day ever closer when we can enfold our loved ones into the circles of homes . . . to stop the useless suffering in all the world. We need more tanks and planes and guns . . . and we need them now more than ever because our offensive has really just begun. We can't slow up this mighty drive for lack of tools. It's too late for too little!

Too little is anything less than 10% of our earnings saved in War Bonds. It means sending our boys too few guns and too few bullets . . . it could mean giving the Axis the whip hand, just because we at home became over-confident. We're not going to let that happen. WE MUST BUY MORE BONDS!

Experiment Station Records on Rainfall

"The Experiment Station does not make predictions relative to the weather, but it does keep records," W. F. Turner, an official at the station, said Wednesday.

"From rainfall records for a 34-year period, it is noted that the highest periods of rainfall during the spring and early summer occur during the last ten days in April, the last ten days in May and the first ten days in June," Turner continued.

In view of the above data, Turner suggested that it would be a good idea for farmers to have their land in shape to take advantage of these periods and save as much of the water as possible.

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District NEWS NOTES

RILEY WOOTEN, Chm. OSCAR McGINTY, Sec. WILL WRIGHT TOM MURDOCK A. A. FRY

Several cooperators have been building terraces lately and others have indicated they will build terraces after wheat harvest. Terrace lines have been run recently for Elmer Shugart, Group 55; F. F. Sonnemaker, Group 29; and R. F. Smith, Group 9. A great deal of time has been spent in checking terraces for constructive size and also making detail checks on new terraces. The Soil Conservation personnel will attempt to do this necessary checking before the equipment leaves the field. This will save the vendor a lot of unnecessary moving and insure the cooperator a better terrace system.

Weeping Love Grass plantings have been completed for the present. M. M. Copeland and T. H. Blackwell made plantings for seed production that have not been reported. Copeland planted about two acres, and Dr. Blackwell seven acres. Dr. Blackwell also planted six acres of Sand Love Grass.

Cooperators who are planning summer deferment of a part of their range should provide for plenty of temporary pasture to take care of their needs. The District feels that a summer deferment has the following advantages:

1. Allows better grasses to gain in vigor and amount of growth in pastures on which tobosa, needle grass, wild rye, winter weeds, etc., have been heavily used in spring.

2. Allows buffalo, grammas, little bluestem (sage grass) to reseed.

3. Will provide a better pasture to winter on.

4. Reduces amount of cake and supplemental feed needed. Cuts winter feed bills.

HOW TO DO THE JOB

1. Exclude stock from native pasture when temporary pastures are available, during June, July, August and September. Provide temporary pasture of sudan, Johnson grass, second-year sweet clover or alfalfa when available.

2. Divide the available pasture into three approximately units. Use one for winter, one for spring, a third for summer and fall. Change the season of the year during which each pasture is used from year to year.
