The county commissioners, meeting in called session Monday awarded a bid for $12,000 to the McClure Machinery Company of Abilene for a Allis-Chalmers AD-10 Tractor-Bulldozer.

Machinery Registration Of Youth Begins Aug. 30

Young men from 18 through 25 years of age will register for selective service beginning Monday, August 30, and continue through September 19.

In order to speed up registration, Dickens has been divided into four territories, according to Judge H. A. C. Brummett, Dickens County representative on the Dickens - Kent - Stonewall board, No. 80.

Judge Brummett announced this week that additional registration points have been arranged in Afton and McAdoo. Peyton Legg will be in charge of the registrations in Afton, and John Formby will be in charge in McAdoo.

Registrations points had previously been announced for Spur and Dickens, with Fred Arrington in charge at Dickens, and James Cowan in Spur. Spur registrants will go to the city hall, and Dickens registrants will go to the county clerk's office.

Judge Brummett stated that these designations were not a "must", and if any individual in the county desired to register at some other place, it will be acceptable.

Necessary blanks and information will be furnished those in charge of the registrations this week-end. Registration hours will be from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

A total of 672 are expected to register in Dickens County, according to figures released from Austin.

Eight Amendments To Be Voted On In November Election

Dickens County voters will be given a chance to vote on eight constitutional amendments that will be submitted on the ballot in the November election.

The amendments as passed by the last session of the state legislature are: 1. Provide for a board composed of the Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Land Commissioner, Attorney General and Comptroller to district the state for legislative purposes after each federal census if the Legislature itself fails to do so.

2. Permit the Legislature to provide by law the line of gubernatorial succession when not specified by the Constitution. 3. Authorize the establishment of a judicial retirement system.

4. Authorize counties to provide workmen's compensation insurance for county employees and permit the counties to set up their own insurance plan.

5. Abolish the fee system of paying county officials and provide their pay shall be on a salary basis to be set by county commissioners' courts. 6. Permit division of community property of husband and wife before death to avoid federal inheritance "double taxation" in event of either's death.

7. Abolish the general ad valorem tax for state purposes and permit such a tax levy by counties for flood control and farm road use.

8. General abolishing the state amendments abolishing the state general ad valorem tax so as to preserve the $3,000 homestead exemption when the tax is county levied.

Questionnaires To Give Registrants A Good Workout

Although selective service officials say it will be "quite awhile" before questionnaires will be mailed out, the boys in America still have something to look forward to.

This little something consists of eight pages of selective service questionnaires which have been prepared by the government for American youths who will register beginning Monday, August 30 for the draft.

People who are tempted to slip a little white lie into their answers are helpfully reassured that one untruthful statement could bring imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000 or both.

The prefatory says the boys are required by Selective Service regulations to fill out the questionnaire truthfully and to return it to the local board on or before the date shown. Purposefully failing to do so will result in both fine and imprisonment.

The questions consist of such things as asking whether or not a man belongs to the Communist party member or former member of the armed forces high official of the state or federal government, minister or a student preparing for the ministry and the family status of the individual.

If the registrant is the sole surviving son of a family of which one or more sons or daughters were killed in the war, it is cause for deferment.

George Gabriel, owner, told a reporter for the Texas Spur that everything was in readiness for the people of Dickens and surrounding counties.

We feel that we have it in this new store, and our good friends of this area have made it possible. I would personally like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend our big opening."

Spur's First Bale Of Cotton Ginned

Spur's cotton season took another step forward Monday when the first bale for 1948 was brought in about noon.

Bill Peck, who farms one and one-half miles east of Girard, in Kent County, brought the bale in about 11:30 Monday, to the Farmers Co-op gin.

The bale weighed 435 pounds, and was ginned from 1830 pounds of seed cotton which produced 250 pounds of seed. The bale was gathered over about 12 acres. The cotton was planted in late March and early April.

Peek's first bale was three days later than the 1947 bale, according to Lloyd Hindman, who ginned the first bale this year. 1947's first bale arrived on August 20.

Peek's bale brought 31c a pound and was purchased by the Farmers Co-op Gin.

A premium for the first bale will be given Mr. Peck by the Spur Chamber of Commerce.

New England is responsible for lots of things. Not the least blameworthy of which is the historical bunk their beachiered poets have fostered.

Paul Revere was the most over-rated man the world has ever seen. And Whittier, the Quaker poet, just plain lied about the Barbara Freitchie incident.

Winston Churchill, one of the greatest statesmen of all time, wrote these words in 1906: "I regard him as the biggest and most original mind I have ever met."

He was speaking of an American, Bourke Cochran, whose name perhaps not one in a hundred readers of this column ever heard.

But in his day, Bourke Cochran was chosen as the champion of the gold standard to reply to William Jennings Bryan's free silver speech in New York in 1896.

Old Judge Earle FAMILY COURT

Shall Sarah help Mom with the housework on Saturday? SARAH: "After being in school all week, I like to sleep on Saturdays and then go down to the Teen-Age Club. I think this is a perfect way to spend Saturdays, but Mom keeps saying I should get up early and help with the housework."

MOM: "I don't mind Sarah relaxing on Saturdays, but her idea of staying in bed until nearly noon seems to me all wrong. There's always an accumulation of household jobs on Saturday and I really need Sarah's help."

FINDINGS AND VERDICT OF JUDGE EARLY Sarah and Mom have given the court an interesting case to decide. It's an important one, too. For it brings up the old problem of mental attitudes—right and wrong.

In attempting to turn every Saturday into a luxury day or "picnic of her own making," Sarah is joy-riding on a completely wrong attitude. It is resulting in unnecessary hardships for Mom and against Sarah herself. A lazy and selfish attitude toward housekeeping will be a big hindrance to her in keeping home life happy for her own family some day.

Mom wins this week, but the court recommends organizing the Saturday housework job so Sarah also will have time for her teen-age activities at the club.

Through FHA Vet Becomes Land Owner

Another war veteran has become a farm owner through the help of the Farmers Home Administration. A loan was closed this week, (August 24) under which Mr. and Mrs. Bobby F. Baird purchased the W. A. Smith Estate in Kent County. The farm covers 565 acres with 210 acres in cultivated farm land and 355 acres of grassland. Plans have been completed to modernize the existing improvements and terrace the crop-land. The family's long-time plans call for general farming and livestock enterprise.

Applications for Farm Ownership Loans will be accepted if anyone is a veteran, or a farm tenant, share cropper or farm laborer, or the owner of an inadequate or unimproved unit—provided he cannot get the necessary credit from any other source. Veterans' applications are given preference in this program.

Farms selected should be family-type farms; that is, places a family can operate without using outside help except perhaps in planting and harvesting seasons. The farms should be large enough to enable families to earn a good living, pay operating expenses, taxes and insurance, and meet other obligations while paying for them. The price must not be more than the long-time normal earning capacity of the land—Congress made an exception of this rule for disabled veterans. A veteran receiving a disability pension is eligible to buy, enlarge, or improve a farm which may not measure up to the usual requirements for a family-type unit. But it must be suited to his farming capabilities and provide enough income so that when he combines his earnings and his pension, he will be able to pay his expenses and make the loan payments.

Loan applications are now being taken at the Farmers Home Administration in the Spur Security Bank Building.

Peddy's Former Law Partner Comes Out For Johnson

CHAS. I. FRANCIS broadcast from Austin, Wednesday, August 18.

This is Roy Hofheinz of Houston, friend and supporter of Lyndon Johnson.

I have the pleasure of introducing to you a friend and former law partner of George Peddy. He was an original supporter of Colonel Peddy and was active in his behalf in the recent primary campaign. In this campaign, he is supporting Lyndon Johnson. A former Regent of the University of Texas, twice president of the Texas Bar Association, a nationally known attorney, who has been active in the civic life of Houston, a native Texas with an intimate knowledge of the agricultural and business problems of Texas—Honorable Charles I. Francis of Houston.

MR. FRANCIS: I was a most enthusiastic supporter of my friend, George Peddy, in the first Democratic primary. Colonel Peddy received nearly a quarter of a million votes, about 20 per cent of all the votes cast in this primary. In my opinion, an overwhelming majority of the friends of George Peddy will cast their votes in this campaign for Lyndon Johnson.

I think that the reasons for Peddy voters enrolling under the banner of Lyndon Johnson are obvious. In all essential respects, the platforms of Peddy and Johnson were the same. Both candidates were frank and forthright in their discussion of important public issues. Both believed that the people of Texas were entitled to their candid views and opinions.

Both Peddy and Johnson stood four-square for an adequate defense program. Both were veterans of the last World War in which each was decorated for distinguished service. Both are foes of isolationism, and favor the Marshall Plan for helping our natural allies to resist the threatening waves of Communism.

Both Peddy and Johnson favored a policy of "fair play" as between business MANAGEMENT and UNION LABOR; and both, therefore, favor the essential principles of the Taft-Hartley Act.

In brief, the background, the platforms and the political thinking of George Peddy and Lyndon Johnson are so closely akin that it is logical and certain that the great mass of supporters of George Peddy will join hands in this campaign with the friends of Lyndon Johnson and insure a Johnson victory on August 28th. Newspaper support, published statements of George Peddy leaders, and a volume of letters coming to me from all over Texas convince me that the Peddy-Johnson supporters are joining hands in this campaign in order to insure that Texas has, as our next Junior Senator, Honorable Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City, Texas.

I feel that I have had a fine opportunity to judge the type of senator that Lyndon Johnson will make. I have known him for many years. I have observed his work as a congressman for eleven years from the Tenth District. He is an able, energetic, and forthright representative, who has the esteem and confidence of his associates and the support and loyalty of his Congressional constituents. Johnson now has the honor of being a member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. He is one of the sixteen men in America charged with the responsibility for developing our atomic power and secrets. Johnson is the ranking Democrat on the important Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives where he has served with honor and distinction. The water and soil conservation and the rural electrification programs of the Tenth Congressional District attest his ability as an able representative. The approval of his work in Congress is shown by the vote of his constituents in the recent primary. Johnson will as ably represent Texas in the Senate as he has represented his District and the nation as a congressman.

Of one thing I am certain, Lyndon Johnson will make us a great Junior Senator. He has the energy, the ability, and the experience necessary to properly represent Texas in the Senate of the United States; and he has the vision, the courage and the conviction which are essential qualifications for this important position.

Let's have no more of this political wheezing, this calculating on political trends, this evasion of issues, this clouded thinking about important state and national problems. This attitude of being all things to all men—let's elect Lyndon Johnson to the United States Senate.

Texas Schools Urged to Prepare For More Children Or Lower Standards

AUSTIN, Aug. 17—Texas must adequately prepare for 150,000 more children in its schools in the next decade or lower its education standards.

Charles H. Tennyson, director of public relations for the Texas State Teachers Association, sounded that warning here today. The huge increase in the birth rate during the last few years will add to the enrollment in Texas schools by nearly 82,000 pupils four years from now and by 152,000 in 1957, Tennyson said.

"The vastly accelerated birth rate throughout the United States since 1941 has cheered business men, but it is causing great concern among educators," the TSTA official declared.

"Texas is no exception. From figures on the annual birth rate provided by the United States Bureau of Vital Statistics, we know that birth increased 1,549,601 throughout the United States from 2,362,399 in 1940 to 3,910,000 in 1947.

"Enrollment started increasing throughout the country last year. In Texas is up more than 7,000 pupils. The State Department of Education in this week estimated an additional 8,000 students would enroll this fall.

"This is just the beginning. Enrollment will snowball from then on. The situation will become acute in 1953. An accurate estimate places the hike in enrollment in Texas that year at 81,568 pupils. Nine years from now we will have 152,044 additional students in our schools, or a total of 1,660,004."

Federal and state bureau and insurance company statistics show that nearly 80 percent of the children born each year reach school age. Those experience figures make accurate estimates of future enrollment possible, Tennyson explained.

"An increase of 80,000 pupils in the short time of four years and 159,000 in nine years does not seem so tremendous until it is realized that we will need 2,719 more teachers by '52 and 5,066 more classroom instructors by 1957," Tennyson declared.

"It stands to reason we will have to have that many more classrooms.

"Leaders in school districts and state government should take careful note. The situation calls for planning along practical lines in order that adequate provisions be made for education of these children.

"That is particularly necessary in more than half of the Texas schools in which children are already over-crowded.

"It will call for expenditures of large sums of money. If each of the 5,066 additional teachers was paid only the present minimum salary of $2,000 annually, that would increase expenditures by $10,132,000.

"No one can hazard a guess as to how much additional money must be spent on classrooms and equipment."

A recent survey disclosed that about 50 percent of students in Texas schools are in over-crowded classes. Educators agree that pupils cannot be given adequate instruction when there are more than 30 or 32 pupils in a class.

Some Texas cities have already recognized the impending situation. A recent survey made by Fort Worth school officials disclosed that by 1953 the district will need 367 more teachers and additional classrooms, according to B. C. Shulkey, assistant superintendent.

Austin this fall is adding 15 teachers to ease the over-crowded classroom situation in the capital city.

ACP Open To All County Farmers

The Agricultural Conservation Program is open to all farmers and all farmers should make plans now to use the program next year for their most pressing conservation needs, says Joe M. Rose, Chairman of the Dickens County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The State PMA Committee has received the national outline of 1949 practices and with the help of the Technical Committee is preparing the State program which will be the basis of the program for farmers of Dickens County.

Because some farmers are not aware of the seriousness of the conservation problem and often because they do not understand the purposes and provisions of the Agricultural Conservation Program they are not cooperating to the fullest in the national effort to save the soil, the chairman states.

The locally elected farmer-committee in Dickens County includes Joe M. Rose, Chairman, George L. Delisle, Vice Chairman, and Muri Foreman, active member. The County Office is located at the County Court House in Dickens.

Recent guests in the Roy Stevill home were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spinx of Uvalde, Texas.

Improved Practices Pay Off For Shelby County Farmer

Bryant Harrison, tenant farmer near Joaquin, Shelby County, Texas, has proved that improved practices do pay off. Working under the supervision of the Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor, Mr. Harrison is realizing 7.0 to 7.5 bushels of corn per acre as compared with a county average of about twenty bushels.

Texas Cotton Ginnings Far Ahead of '47

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Texas and the nation are ginning a lot more cotton so far this year than in 1947 and 1946.

The Census Bureau said Monday 544,406 bales of 1948-crop cotton were ginned in the nation prior to Aug. 16, compared with 324,119 in the same period last year and 283,222 two years ago.

Texas had ginned 488,134 bales by Aug. 16 of this year, almost double the 1947 figure of 277,573. Louisiana's figures were 42,965 and 3,274. Round bales were counted as half bales.

Cotton Insect Report

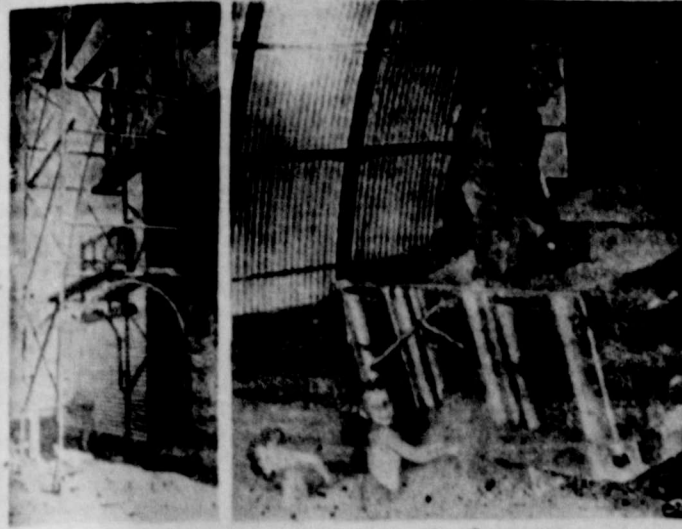

Continued hot, dry weather has reduced boll weevil injury in the early maturing cotton in Central and North Texas. In the late-fruited cotton, heavy damage has been recorded and such fields need protection from these pests.

Cotton insects are doing very little damage in most cotton fields in the West Cross Timbers and northwest areas. Most fields inspected showed a heavy crop of fruit. Although fleaboppers were present in some of the fields inspected, it is believed that this pest will not cause much, if any, damage at this late date in the heavily fruited fields.

In northwestern areas, it is important to continue to inspect cotton for insect damage and to apply control measures when necessary. Cotton leafworms were found in late-planted fields of succulent cotton in Falls and McLennan Counties during the past week. Since most of the cotton in Central Texas is mature, it appears unlikely that leafworms will increase to damaging numbers except in fields of late-planted cotton.

Farmers in Southern and Central Texas should begin now to think about destruction of cotton stalks as a preventive measure for control of pink bollworms and boll weevils. Early fall destruction of cotton stalks is one of the best and cheapest means of reducing damage from the boll weevil.

A new two-page circular entitled "Powder Under Cotton Stalks KILLS COTTON INSECTS... And Enriches the Soil" has just been published and is available through your county agent or the Texas Extension Service at College Station.

Throughout the nation's grain belt, hundreds of buildings like the Quonset under construction near Leoti, Kan. (left) are going up to protect the bumper crop for which there is no elevator space.

A building boom of record proportions is under way on this area's farms in the wake of Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan's appeal for on-the-farm storage of crops.

The increase in new construction in this area is reported by the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in announcing that shipments of Quonset buildings to the nation's farm territories are running 400 per cent greater than a year ago. The arch-roofed steel structures are being used for storage of grain, soybeans and hay.

A proportionate share of the national increase in farm Quonset construction results from popularity of the buildings in the West territory.

The building boom is reported on the basis of Quonset orders from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska during July. A survey of Quonset dealers in South Dakota, North Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon indicated similar building activity developing in these states as harvesting progresses.

Brannan, in his July 27 appeal to grain growers, predicted recurrence of the market glut in future years unless additional storage construction is undertaken, and told all farmers that they "should take prompt steps to put their farm storage facilities in shape" so that they will be eligible for government commodity loans and purchase agreements as a method of price support.

This summer, with the flood of wheat filling all existing storage facilities, the grain was selling as low as $1.60 a bushel. At the same time, the Commodity Credit Corporation was loaning $2 and paying 7c to each bushel of stored grain. With the cost of Quonset construction averaging 22 cents a bushel, the farmer needing storage space netted 25 cents a bushel on this year's crop in addition to paying for the building. Thus he more than paid for the structure, which is suitable for machinery or barn use when cleared of grain.

When putting new elastic in a garment, pin the end of the new to the old. As the worn elastic is pulled out, the new is pulled in.

Keep a stiff brush near the laundry-tub. Before putting garments into wash, turn all pockets inside out and brush. It's also a handy tool for brushing soap on particularly soiled places such as neckbands, collars and cuffs.

The finger of an old glove or a thumb placed over the end of curtain rods helps the curtain to slip onto the rod easily without catching or tearing.

To paint a stairway which must be used while the paint is drying, paint every other step. Then when the first set of steps are dry, the alternate ones may be painted.

When mopping a floor, mix powdered sugar first. This helps frosting to stick to the cake, and not to the paper.

Stick a piece of adhesive tape to the wall before putting in tasks to hold pictures. This helps to prevent the tack from cracking plaster.

Wax applied to the dust pan helps to make dust slide off easily; to the tops and bottoms of drawers, helps prevent sticking; to the bottom of the dust pan, helps prevent rusting.

Person-to-person rates are based on the station-to-station rates. The differential between rates for station-to-station service and for person-to-person service has varied from a minimum of 10 cents per call under 31 miles to an average of over 43 per cent on calls between 31 miles and 150 miles and an average of 35 per cent on calls over 150 miles. The differential will be established with a minimum of 15 cents per call under 45 miles and a uniform differential of about 40 per cent on all other calls. Report charges will be discontinued.

Careless Handling Causes Egg Losses. Five eggs out of every hundred are lost on Texas poultry farms because of poor handling. Hot weather has a lot to do with it, says the extension poultry marketing specialist of Texas A. & M. College. And Texas still faces a long period of hot weather before things begin to cool off this coming fall.

Going back to last year's egg record, Texas poultry flocks laid over 75 million dozen eggs during the hot summer months of June, July, August and September. Now, five percent of this number is more than 3 1-2 million dozen eggs. That's how many eggs had to be thrown out because they weren't handled properly. Looking at the money side of it, that many eggs are worth around a million and a half dollars.

Here are a few ideas for the flock owners that will cut down egg losses. To beat the heat, farmers should collect eggs from the flocks at least three times a day. Don't leave the eggs in the nests too long. Get them into a cool, moist room and leave them there at least 24 hours before packing them.

These are the men who are exempt from the draft. The law passed by Congress automatically exempts war veterans with at least 90 days service between Pearl Harbor (Dec. 7, 1941) and V-J Day, Sept. 2, 1945, or with 12 months service between Sept. 16, 1940 and June 24, 1948, (the date the draft law went into effect).

Also exempt by law are ordained ministers, students studying for the ministry, and conscientious objectors (from combatant service); they may be used in the military services in non-combatant activities if they do not protest.

Automatically deferred by the draft law are high school students up to graduation or the age of 20 (whichever comes first) and college students for the rest of the academic year. However, students must be doing all right in their studies.

The law says the President has the right to defer certain others, and Friday he did, listing them as follows: I-A—Men involved in study research or medical, scientific or other endeavors considered necessary to the national health, safety or interest. The deferments will be for one year or less, and may be changed by the President, or by local boards (if the men change jobs).

II-C—Farm workers or men engaged in agricultural occupation. The same deferment period and qualifications govern this group the same as II-A.

III-A—Anyone with dependents. This can mean a married man who maintains a bona-fide family relationship, or a man whose induction could mean hardship to a dependent.

Dependents are defined as a wife, a divorced wife, a child, a parent, grandparent, brother or sister, a person 18 years of age (or older if the person is physically or mentally handicapped), or, if dead, anyone who depends on the draft-age man for a living or financial help.

Washington Classification On Induction Given

WASHINGTON. — President Truman last week-end set many a mind at rest by officially deferring married men, farmers, all men with dependents and many others from the 21-month peacetime draft.

The deferments are far more liberal than they were during World War II.

Most of them had been predicted long ago, but they were not official until the President announced them Friday in a 36-page set of regulations that also ordered selective service to speed up induction machinery.

This will be accomplished by sending out the all-important classification questionnaires as soon as possible to single, non-father, non-veteran eligibles after men 18 through 25 register at their local boards between Aug. 30 and Sept. 18. (All except 18-year-olds must fill out the questionnaires.)

These forms, which will go to draft-age men 18 through 25, must be filled out in 10 days and returned to draft boards, which will use them to determine classifications. (Youths of 18 are not eligible for the draft, but must be classified.)

The classification forms fall into 13 groups with men available for military service listed as I-A. Actual drafting of I-A men will be by age, with the oldest called first.

There will be no lottery as in the last war. The call to uniform will be determined by classification (set by local board) and by age.

These are the men who are exempt from the draft. The law passed by Congress automatically exempts war veterans with at least 90 days service between Pearl Harbor (Dec. 7, 1941) and V-J Day, Sept. 2, 1945, or with 12 months service between Sept. 16, 1940 and June 24, 1948, (the date the draft law went into effect).

Also exempt by law are ordained ministers, students studying for the ministry, and conscientious objectors (from combatant service); they may be used in the military services in non-combatant activities if they do not protest.

Automatically deferred by the draft law are high school students up to graduation or the age of 20 (whichever comes first) and college students for the rest of the academic year. However, students must be doing all right in their studies.

The law says the President has the right to defer certain others, and Friday he did, listing them as follows: I-A—Men involved in study research or medical, scientific or other endeavors considered necessary to the national health, safety or interest. The deferments will be for one year or less, and may be changed by the President, or by local boards (if the men change jobs).

II-C—Farm workers or men engaged in agricultural occupation. The same deferment period and qualifications govern this group the same as II-A.

III-A—Anyone with dependents. This can mean a married man who maintains a bona-fide family relationship, or a man whose induction could mean hardship to a dependent.

Dependents are defined as a wife, a divorced wife, a child, a parent, grandparent, brother or sister, a person 18 years of age (or older if the person is physically or mentally handicapped), or, if dead, anyone who depends on the draft-age man for a living or financial help.

Some points probably will be cleared up later, selective service headquarters said. As the ruling stands now, it merely says a married man is deferred, and does not set any specific dates for his marriage.

Consequently, men married between now and registration periods would be exempt, draft officials said.

IV-A—A registrant who has completed service, and sole surviving son (A sole surviving son is one of a family of which one or more sons or daughters were killed during the last war).

IV-B—Almost all public officials elected to office, including the vice president, state governors, any official chosen by voters of the entire state (congressmen, for example), a judge of a court of record, a member of the judiciary or possession.

IV-C—Aliens.

IV-D—Ministers of religion or divinity students. This means any duly ordained minister, or students preparing for the ministry under the direction of a recognized church or religious organization.

Corbin Continues Vote Campaign

Kilmer Corbin of Dawson County, who led a field of four candidates in the first Democratic primary election for State Senator of the 35th District, was continuing his campaign this week in an effort to visit every town in the 24-county district before second primary election day, August 28.

Utilizing the radio and his public address system, the Dawson County Senatorial aspirant continued to bring the voters his request for election, on a platform of a "Stronger Voice in State Government for West Texas."

"I appreciate greatly the manner in which my candidacy has been received and will always be grateful for the splendid vote which enabled me to lead the ticket in the first primary election," Corbin said.

"The people of this district are entitled to more and better representation on the floor of the State Senate, and I want the opportunity to serve them by seeing that they get that representation."

Cotton Experts Visit Experiment Station

Visitors at the Spur Experiment Station last week were Dr. R. D. Lewis of College Station, Fred C. Elliott, cotton service expert of A. & M. Extension service, and D. T. Killough of Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, also of A. & M.

Dr. Lewis chief of all researchmentary on the work being done at the Spur Station. Elliott and Killough were here for the purpose of checking the results of the cotton variety test. They expressed themselves as being well pleased with the results of the test made this year.

Consistent objectors opposed to both combatant and non-combatant service and training. (The law says an objector need not serve as a combatant in the armed services, but could as a non-combatant. Today's ruling

Tolerance Declared Big Challenge

The modern-day challenge that Rotarians, as members of a world-wide service organization, must accept with action in terms of good will and understanding is "Live together in constructive thinking and tolerance—or die."

That was the message of Dr. Ira E. Woods, Governor of District 127 of Rotary International, in addressing the Spur Rotary Club on an official visit, August 19.

Rotary, with one of its principal objectives "to encourage and foster international understanding through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service," has a wide influence far greater than its numerical strength, Dr. Woods said.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for the men of the world, regardless of creed, color or government under which they live, to promote and nurture understanding."

He said that Rotary's objective of international good will precludes a provision of the United Nations charter in virtually the same language, and that at the San Francisco conference the leaders included seven Rotarians as well as 39 members of the service club on the staff of consultants.

Endorsing the United Nations Program, Dr. Woods declared, "Even if the United Nations Groups meet only to disagree, they still meet and that is a step which holds hope. Surely, no nation will risk its all to fight the world. The United Nations serves as that check."

Visitors were: Coy McMahon of Spur and W. B. Lee of Houston. Cecil Godfrey reports that all arrangements have been made to give the Rotarians a musical program on September 2.

Richey and Walker Exchange Wedding Vows in Haskell

Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, Jane Richey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Richey of Haskell, became the bride of Alfred W. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Walker of Haskell.

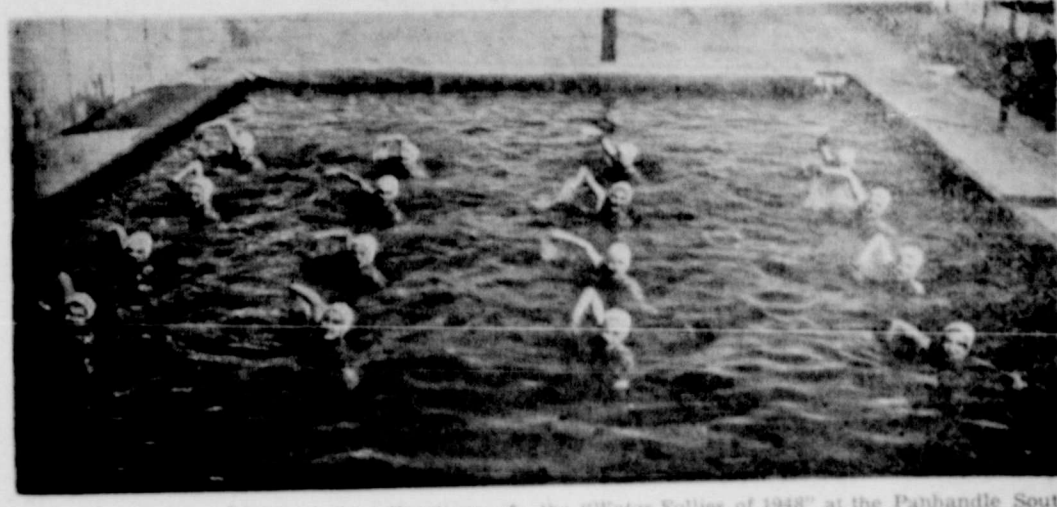

The service was read in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Allen O. Webb, pastor. The white altar was decorated with a lattice of coral and palms flanked with baskets of white gladioli and white candelabra holding white tapers. White satin bows and white carnations marked the pews.

Mary Beth Payne of Haskell and Allen Harrison of Greenville High School, Haskell, were bridesmaids. Colleen Ward of Tulsa played organ music, which included "Ave Maria" and "Through the Years" during the ceremony. Gerry Lemmon of Sulphur Springs sang "Because" and "I Love Thee" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt upon the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of antique ivory moire taffeta. The dress was designed with a small pointed collar and a fitted bodice buttoned down the front with tiny type buttons. The long sleeves were fitted and terminated in deep petal points over her hands. The elongated bodice had a draped penum caught up in the back with a double bustle. Worn over an old fashioned hood, the skirt ended in a cathedral length trail. The bridal veil of imported illusion was attached to a collar of illusion centered with pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white carnations showered with white satin and maline streamers.

Cousins of the bride were her honor attendants. Grace Ann Martin of Houston was maid of honor and Mrs. Don Henley of Waco was the matron of honor.

Mildred Chapman, Catherine Davis, Deen Bartlett and Pat Harrison all of Haskell, and Ellen Ferguson of Brenham were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of Nile green marquisette fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirts finished with deep ruffles caught up in the back with a bustle. Their picture hats of horsehair braid in antique ivory had green streamers. Each carried a nosegay of deep purple gladioli with satin streamers.

Choice Recipes from Spur Scrapbook

Meat Stuffed Tomatoes are Main Course

A stuffed tomato that serves as almost the first whole course of a summer meal would be a boon to homemakers in all climates. Reba Staags, home economist, suggests that this is possible if the tomato is stuffed with a hearty filling meat salad.

Diced cooked meat is an excellent base for salad—you might use beef, veal, lamb, or fresh cooked or smoked pork. Or you might dice some of the canned or ready-to-serve meats: canned pork or veal luncheon loaf, bologna, liver cheese, minced or cooked ham loaves or even diced frankfurters, for these come in the class of ready to serve meats.

To give the meat the spicy overtones of a salad, marinate it in french dressing in the refrigerator for about two hours before serving time. Drain. Combine with diced celery and carrots, and mayonnaise to moisten, then fill a hollowed out tomato. Serve with hot tea biscuits and jam, iced tea and a fruit bowl dessert for a perfect hot-weather meal.

Mrs. Hartye Moore Entertained Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Gilpin and daughter, Shirley Gilpin of Austin, were week-end guests in the home of Mrs. Hartye Moore on the T 41 ranch.

They are attending a family reunion of the Gilpin family and will also attend the Old Settlers Reunion at Roaring Springs. From there they will go to Nashville, Tennessee, to attend a reunion of Mrs. Gilpin's family.

Mrs. Gilpin will be remembered by many Spur people as Miss Lillian Crittenden who made her home with Mrs. Moore in former years.

Lunch Room Gets New Look Inside and Out

Pupils who have their twelve o'clock meal in the lunch room at the High School during the next nine months will walk into a completely reconditioned room inside and out.

New concrete walks have been laid from the lunch room to the high school and band room. Plans and needs for the lunch room include a new walk-in refrigerator and dishwasher. It is hoped the dishwasher can be purchased for this year's use—the refrigerator is one of the future plans.

REA Managers Attend Conference In Amarillo

Brynum Britton returned last week from an R.E.A. Managers meeting held in Amarillo, from Monday until Thursday inclusive. Frank A. Dawes, chief management division of R.E.A., of Washington, D. WAA SURPLUS BLDGS, BE USED FOR STORAGE

All available surplus government buildings in West Texas will be released for emergency grain storage use in answer to requests to the War Assets Administration by a number of congressmen and farm organizations representing six midwestern and southwestern states. It was disclosed today by Colonel Karl E. Wallace, regional WAA director at Grand Prairie, Texas.

Government Sets Curb On Credit

WASHINGTON — The government today clamped controls on most consumer installment credit purchases between $50 and $5,000, effective Sept. 20.

A new Federal Reserve board regulation requires a one-third down payment on automobiles and a 20 percent down payment on most household appliances including stoves, refrigerators, washers, radios, and vacuum cleaners.

A time limit of 15 months is fixed for completing all "easy payment plans of $1,000 or less."

Eighteen months is the deadline for purchases above $1,000 or less.

Eighteen months is the deadline for purchases above $1,000.

The regulation is termed "regulation W" and covers credit carried by the postwar credit rule which expired last November.

The restoration of credit controls was authorized by the Republican anti-inflation act signed by President Truman on Monday, Aug. 21.

The new down-payment rules are less strict in several cases than those formerly applied. But the enforcement terms are stronger, because the controls now have legislative backing instead of the emergency wartime authority formerly used.

The possible criminal penalty for violation is a maximum of $10,000 fine and ten years' imprisonment or both.

The old regulation W covered installment contracts only up to $2,000. Because of the swift increase of postwar automobile prices, the new limit was set at $5,000.

The 20 percent down payment applies to these 11 classes of goods:

Cooking stoves, dishwashers, irons, refrigerators, washing machines, combination ironers, washers, air conditioners, radio and television sets and phonographs, sewing machines, suction cleaners and furniture, and soft-plate typewriters.

Regulation specified 1-3 down for such items as refrigerators, washing machines and ironers; these now are subject to only a 20 percent first payment.

Installment credit controls for home improvements, including those insured by the Federal Housing administration, have

Courtesy Tips To Drivers Given

AUSTIN—You wouldn't rely on another guy to tip your hat when you meet a lady. Neither can you build your reputation as a considerate driver on someone else's courtesy.

That was the statement made recently by George Clarke, Managing Director of the Texas Safety Association, in commenting on the August "safety through courtesy" campaign being sponsored by the National Safety Council and cooperating organizations.

"Make courtesy characterize your driving—then watch your driving record improve," declared Mr. Clarke. "Every motorist and every pedestrian should keep constantly in mind the thought that courtesy does prevent accidents. Courtesy saves lives. You never heard of anyone apologizing for being courteous, but you can be sure that many a driver has been sorry for his recklessness."

He listed these courtesy tips for drivers:

1. Use hand signals to inform other motorists of your intention to turn or stop.

2. Know the lane you should be in, then stay in that lane. Don't take your half of the road out of the center.

3. Recognize a situation where others have the right-of-way, and yield to them.

4. Don't insist on the right-of-way even when it's rightfully yours.

5. Give pedestrians a break. They can't walk or run as fast as you can drive.

6. Use your horn to warn, not to bully.

7. Dim lights for other drivers at night.

8. Remember that the other fellow may be in a hurry, too.

A speculative scheme organized by John Law for paying off the national debt of France was called the Mississippi Bubble.

been left out. But "because of the current inflationary situation," the board said, study is being given to the possibility of reviving control in this field.

Personal loans obtained from a bank or other lending institution are subject only to the maturity requirements; that is, they must be paid off with 15 or 18 months, depending on the size of the loan; and, if over $1,000, monthly payments may not be less than $70.

To eliminate the likelihood that some persons wishing to buy a television set might borrow the money from a bank instead of making a direct contract with the dealer—and thus avoid the down payment—the board spokesman said bank borrowers will be required to state that they will not use the funds to violate regulation W.

First Wax Polishing In 500 Years

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA.—Look at the shine on the shell of this 500-year-old Galapagos Island tortoise. It's the first cleaning and polishing the old boy has received in his lifetime. Note the dull shells in the foreground as contrasted to the one which has been polished with liquid wax. These tortoises are believed to be the oldest in the world. The Galapagos tortoises are desert dwellers in their native islands and do not care for water.

District Supervisors' Meet

District Supervisors held their regular monthly meeting last Thursday with Supervisors Will Wright, Post, C. P. Witt, Kalgary, and O. M. McGinty, Spur, attending. Applications for assistance were approved for four farms and one ranch as follows:

L. E. Elmore, W. L. Cherry, R. I. Wallace, Carl Holloway, and the Spinning Ranch, southeast of Post. Three conservation plans were also approved—T. J. Head, Ben S. Pope, and Thomas Fowler.

Applies Phosphate Fertilizer Hubert D. Smith, cooperating with the Duck Creek Soil Conservation District, is convinced that fertilizing sandy land with super-phosphate is a paying proposition. Before planting his cotton and feed last spring, Smith applied 150 to 200 pounds per acre on 60 acres of his farm west of Girard. Even though his crop was hailed on this summer, the cotton is further advanced and more vigorous than on other farms in his locality.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine" John Langford terraced the 300 acres of farmland on his ranch in 1930. At that time the work took nearly 20 days. It would be completed in three days now, with modern equipment, Langford stated. "It's like the old saying 'a stitch in time saves nine'. If I hadn't terraced then, it would take me 10 years beginning now to repair the damage that erosion would have caused."

Letters of marque were licenses to fit out armed vessels and employ them in capturing enemy merchant shipping.

"RED RIVER" SCORES AS GREAT WESTERN WITH BRILLIANT CAST

Movie fans who like their film fare set against the great outdoors, should have a wonderful time seeing Howard Hawks' great Western, "Red River," the Monterey Production which opens next Sunday at the Palace Theatre through United Artists release. The film is packed with action, colorful characterizations and suspense-packed drama.

John Wayne, whose name at once arouses thoughts of a rugged and vital personality, plays the part of the "heroic" role of Thomas Dunson, a romantic character whose dream of building a cattle empire in the great Southwest forms the nucleus of the film's story.

Young Montgomery Clift, as his adopted son, Matthew Garth, also turns in a performance that is as brilliant as it is different. Clift, who made a hit on the Broadway stage, is a comparative newcomer to films. His one prior appearance, in "The Search," a film made in Europe, earned for him the plaudits of both discerning critics and public alike.

Co-starred with Wayne and Clift are Walter Brennan, playing one of those delightful, crochety characters he has made famous, and a lovely young star named Joanne Dru, who has already made her mark in Hollywood.

"Red River" is a Western saga adapted from Borden Chase's ex-

Farmers Study For Better Production

Small grain pastures, stomach worms, dry pastures, quality milk and sire service make up a list of five things the Texas dairyman can check on about this time of the year.

When it comes to the small grain pastures, plan at least one acre for each cow. And remember, planting time is just around the corner. Talk to county agent, Charles A. Taylor, about the recommended varieties and practices in Dickens county.

Stomach worms don't bother the older cattle much, but the calves and yearlings are sometimes hit pretty hard by them. Symptoms of stomach worms are loss in weight, general weakness, anemia, and a rough hair coat. The animal often develops a "pot belly", and this swelling may later appear under the jaw—called "poverty jaw", or "bottle jaw". Calves and yearlings should be given the best drainage, cleanest pastures, and should be kept off the worm infested areas from 6 to 12 months.

Phenothiazine can be used to a good advantage to cure the worms, but should not be given to lactating cows since it discolors the milk.

Sire service of some of the nation's best bulls is available to Texas dairymen in many sections of the state through the artificial insemination program. County agent Charles A. Taylor can tell you whether or not there is a technician in your county. If not, then there probably is in the neighboring county.

More Vitamins Make Best Tomato Juice

A simple way to make home canned tomato juice equal in value to orange juice is to add ascorbic acid tablets or powder to the jar in canning, says Mrs. Jewel P. Robinson, Dickens county home demonstration agent.

After adding 150 mg. of Vitamin C in ascorbic acid form to canned tomato juice, it has been found the vitamin has retained after six months storage, according to Mrs. Robinson. Plain canned tomato juice offers a little more than one third as much vitamin C as canned orange juice.

The addition of vitamin C was not found to affect either the color or flavor of home canned juice. The acid tablets or powder may be obtained at drug stores and druggists can advise as to the size of tablets or quantity of powders it takes to make 150 mg., says Mrs. Robinson.

Summer Yard Work For Winter Beauty

If you put in a little extra work around the yard about this time of year, you can get things in shape for planting the cool weather flowers and shrubs.

Both bluebonnets and gladioli can be planted until the middle of September, says Mrs. Jewel P. Robinson, county home demonstration agent. She also says that pansies sometimes can be planted now and protected from the sun until cool weather gets here.

Flowers that withstand cold can be planted now in flats, cold frames or frame gardens, and later transplanted along about October. Some of the flowers Mrs. Robinson refers to here are snapdragons, stocks and calendulas. Others that don't quite stand up to the cold as well are petunias, ageratum, sweet alyssum, late cosmos and periwinkle. But they do well if there is a late fall season.

Now is a good time to get the soil ready for planting trees and shrubs in the winter. While you are about it, this is also a good time to underpin your house. This means planting shrubs around the edge of the house to keep the cold winds of winter from blowing under the house. And shrubbery will make the place more attractive all year around, too. Underpinning can also be done by means of bricks or boards. If you like to mix the mortar, put in cement or flagstone walks around the house, suggests Mrs. Robinson.

When the field work slackens up, it's a good time to tighten the clothesline. And a good place for the clothesline is in the service area near to house—not out in public area, says Mrs. Robinson.

Water boils at 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

TURNTABLE TALK

By MARTIN BLOCK

ONE night back around 1935, on my way home from the broadcasting studio, I dropped in a New York night club to hear a new girl vocalist singing with Chick Webb's band. She had been with the band only one week, and she was as nervous as a high school senior making a speech on graduation night. If you want to hear for yourself just how much that shy, awkward girl has developed into a polished finished singer, listen to Ella Fitzgerald's new Decca record of "My Happiness." Yes, it was Ella I heard that night.

The same tune has been waxed by John Laurent for Mercury—and there's an interesting story connected with the record. Because of the Pettilo ban, the orchestral background was recorded in Europe and the master flown here, where Laurent's voice was "dubbed" in. Pretty slick, huh?

Speaking of records made abroad, something really different is a tune called "Jazz Pizzicato," recorded by Ambrose on a London label. Ambrose, who has been playing in England's swankiest hotels for years, comes up with a very listenable combination of swing and strings backed by unusual rhythmic ideas. Another fine arrangement can be heard in Gordon Jenkins' disc of "Dark Eyes" (Decca).

Peggy Lee, the "Manana" girl, has another Capitol hit in "Caravanal It's The Evening (The One I Can't Do)," which features that wonderful pseudo-Mexican dialect of hers. . . . Sammy Kaye's latest Victor offerings are "Pecos Bill" and "Foot That I Am," the first an entertaining cowboy novelty tune and the second a slow, sentimental ballad that is proving very popular with Sammy's regular audience on the Chesterfield Supper Club.

Sammy Kaye, Chesterfield Supper Club star, records cowboy novelty tune.

They're only one man's opinion, of course. You probably have your own favorites among the newest discs. If so, drop me a line and maybe you can convince me your selection is better than mine (remember I said "maybe"). Good listening to you. . . and you. . . and especially to you.

Cotton, Grains And Livestock Show Loss

Cotton grains and livestock showed lower trends this week at southwest markets, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Wheat and corn dropped sharply over the week-end after showing some strength last week. Yellow corn closed Monday 25 cents a bushel lower than a week earlier at $1.15 to $1.30 at Texas common points. White corn lost 25 cents, ending 4 to 7, oats dropped 3 and wheat 4 for the week. Hogs fell 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds.

Some new crop rough rice went to market last week, but prices remained unsettled. Most feedstuffs sold unchanged to lower, although wheat millfeeds showed further strength. Top grades of hay were in good demand, but wet weather lowered quality in many areas. Harvest of early peanuts ended in South Texas.

Cotton netted losses of around $3 a bale for the seven day period. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 30.30 cents a pound at Dallas, 30.50 at New Orleans, and 30.55 at Houston.

Cattle sold around 80 cents to $1 lower for the week at most southwest markets. Common and medium cows ranged from $20 down at Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Wichita Monday and up to $21 at Kansas City. Denver paid as high as $24 for good cows, which spread from $21 to $23 at Kansas City, Wichita, and Fort Worth, and $20.50 to $21 at San Antonio.

Sheep markets tended toward lower levels during the past week. San Antonio turned medium spring lambs at $21.50 Monday, while Fort Worth took medium and good grades at $25 to $26. Good and choice lots cashed at $25 to $26 at Oklahoma City and Wichita and $28.50 to $29.25 at Denver.

Angora goat raisers asked 40 cents a pound for adult mohair and 60 for kid.

Hog prices broke all records at many markets last week but declined later to net only slight changes up or down. Top butcher hogs reached $28 at San Antonio at the high time, and $30 at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Wichita paid as high as $31. Kansas City $31.75, and Denver, $32.25. Sows and pigs showed similar trends.

Better grades of eggs sold a little higher during the past week at some markets. Top quality white eggs brought 45 to 50 cents a dozen at Dallas, with best mixed lots from 42 to 43 cents. Fort Worth paid 47 to 48 for large whites and 40 to 44 for select mixed colors. Ungraded white eggs ranged from 44 to 48 at Denver. New Orleans bought white Extras of 60 per cent. They Grow Big In Texas

This story has a moral—it pays to advertise as C. C. Halle of Afton, and C. B. Boland, who hails from Big Creek, Mississippi, the home of Lespedeza hay, will verify.

Recently Mr. Halle read Mr. Boland's advertisement of a Compressed Hereford Herd bull, in the Poll Hereford World magazine and begin a correspondence which resulted in an exchange of breeding animals here last week.

Boland arrived with his bull in a pickup truck last Thursday, and expected to return the exchange bull in same. It was found the bull was too large, as Boland expressed it "was too much bull", for one truck.

After a visit which covered trips to Lubbock, Plainview and Lockney, where Boland was much impressed with the maize and hay in that section, he purchased a new trailer, which would accommodate an average size Texas bull, and left on his return trip home Tuesday of this week.
