SHIVERS BEST GOVERNOR TIMBER TEXAS POLL REVEALS

By Joe Belden
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Texas, April 28 — State School Superintendent L. A. Woods has said he may run for governor next year if the legislature abolishes his job by passing the Gilmer-Aiken school reform plan.

The question arises: What would be Woods' chances of winning the governor's race against the other possible contenders?

In a recent statewide survey, The Texas Poll found Woods to be better known among voters than any of the others who have been mentioned as possible candidates for governor. Of every hundred voters questioned, 45 could identify Woods as head of the schools. Only 44 per cent could identify Lieutenant Governor Allen Shivers, and 34 per cent Attorney General Price Daniel.

Cast in the role of a candidate for governor, however, Woods today does not rate as high as Shivers or Daniel. Shivers placed first in a trial heat conducted by The Texas Poll, with 17 per cent saying he would make the best governor, Daniel, the second, with 8 per cent Woods, third, with 5. More than half of the voters questioned had no opinion.

The survey was based on two questions put to a cross section of qualified voters in all parts of Texas:

1. "The men listed on this card may run for Governor of Texas next year. Will you try to identify each one by telling me what he does, or anything else you may know about him?"

Correct identification scores:

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| L. A. Woods  | 45% |
| Allen Shivers  | 44% |
| Price Daniel   | 34% |
| Olin Culberson   | 33% |
| Bascom Giles   | 21% |
| Home Garrison  | 21% |
| William C. McGraw  | 18% |
| Caso March   | 16% |
| 2. "Which one of these men do you think would make the best governor?" |     |
| Allen Shivers  | 17% |
| Price Daniel   | 8%  |
| L. A. Woods  | 5%  |
| Olin Culberson   | 4%  |
| Home Garrison  | 4%  |
| Caso March   | 3%  |
| Bascom Giles   | 2%  |
| William C. McGraw  | 1%  |
| No Opinion   | 56% |

100%

Probably not everyone mentioned as a candidate will run. Others not now in the picture may emerge later. Woods, of course, may not decide until the Legislature finally acts on the Gilmer-Aiken school reorganization bill. Shivers, Daniel, and March are in most certain contestants. March recently resigned as law professor at Baylor University to prepare for his third successive race for governor.

Others who may be listed as "probable" candidates are Culberson, member of the Railroad Commission and Giles, state land commissioner. Garrison, head of the Public Safety Department, and McGraw, former attorney general who now commands the American Legion in Texas, have been mentioned as "possible" candidates.

No one knows how future developments will affect a candidate's chances. The lead which Shivers holds in today's standings should be considered only as an early advantage. He may or may not hold it. Someone else, because of superior planning and effective campaigning, may overtake him.

The job of waging a successful campaign for governor is vast and complicated. It takes a lot of planning and campaigning, and a lot of money. Too. All that has to be done cannot wait until the last few months. The importance of this early survey by The Texas Poll is that it gives a glimpse to each hopeful and his backers of the job they face, in plenty of time to do something about it.

Clark Forbis, Secretary
Chas. Witt

Two cooperators of the district are giving more attention this month to old cultivated fields that have become unproductive. Dr. T. H. Blackwell and Bud Smiley, both of whom own land north of Dickens, are attempting to put such fields on their places back to grass.

About 15 acres on Dr. Blackwell's ranch has been seeded to King Ranch Bluestem this spring. Last year Dr. Blackwell made a trail planting of this grass on an old cultivated field which was largely shinnery sand, and found it to be a drought resistant grass as well as a good forage producer. This year more of the same field has been seeded and a portion of the area seeded last year, on which the grass was killed out by heaving of the ground during the cold weather, was reseeded. Part of the seeding was accomplished by spreading King Ranch Bluestem hay, which had seed on it, over the area and some was seeded in rows.

Bud Smiley has made a trail planting of Blue Panic grass on 18 acres of sandy land. Smiley seeded the grass in 40 inch rows with regular planer equipment, and for protection from wind he left last years combine stubble on the ground.

Spring moisture and favorable weather has brought out new growth on a 20-acre field of Western Wheat grass and Canada Wild Rye on Wallace Hinson's place at Red Mud. This mixture

Gay "Every Girl Should Be Married," Brings Big Star Cast in Film Frolic

With Cary Grant, Franchot Tone, Diana Lynn and the new "find," Betty Drake, in the stellar roles, Don Hartman's production, "Every Girl Should Be Married," for RKO Radio, offers a brightly entertaining comedy-romance to theatergoers. Miss Drake plays the heroine, a modern maiden with a conviction that the conventional system, under which a girl is supposed to sit around meekly until some man asks her to marry him, is utterly unfair. Accordingly, she decides she'll pick out the man she wants and go after him, and she does. Her victim is a prominent doctor, and she plans a careful campaign of enticement, including a scheme to arouse his jealousy.

CARY GRANT gets a light from BETSY DRAKE in this scene from RKO's hilarious hit, "EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE MARRIED."

Weekly Swings at Southwest Farm Markets

Both gains and losses appeared in the price picture of southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports. Some products showed little change. Egg and poultry prices changed hardly any since a week ago. Current receipt eggs remained at 40 to 41 1-2 cents a dozen in North Texas, 41 to 44 in New Orleans, and mostly around 39 at Denver. Fryers sold around 30 cents a pound at the farm in northwest Arkansas, 32 to 33 at Fort Worth and Dallas, and 31 to 35 elsewhere.

Cattle eased slightly at Fort Worth but gained a little at Oklahoma City, as other southwest markets showed steady or mixed trends. Stockers and feeders increased in numbers. Mediums and good stocker calves changed hands from $20 to $22 at San Antonio and Fort Worth. Oklahoma City moved good and choice stocker yearlings and steer calves at $25 to $26. Denver paid $23.50 for good stocker steer calves. Hogs recorded net losses of mostly 50 cents to $1 at Denver and Oklahoma City but sold steady to strong for the week at Fort Worth and San Antonio. Prices fell during the week to the lowest levels since the end of price controls. Monday's closing top was $18 at Oklahoma City, $18.25 at Fort and San Antonio, and $18.60 at Denver. Dressed pork lost $1 to $2 for the week at eastern markets.

Sharp gains at lamb markets Monday brought the week's advances to $1 to $2. Prices of dressed lamb were $3 to $5 higher for the week and sheep receipts at Texas and Oklahoma markets were vastly reduced. Good and choice spring lambs sold at $28 to $30 at Fort Worth.

while medium and good lots reached $26.50 at Oklahoma City. Goats changed little. Most kids sold from $3 from $4.50 each at San Antonio.

Good 8 to 10 month Texas wools sold in Boston this week at an estimated cost of $1.20 to $1.25 a pound, clean basis. Mohair trade was very quiet. Carrot shipments of Arkansas strawberries got under this week. Markets held firm light demand. Very slack demand lowered strawberry prices at Hammond, Louisiana. Rainy weather practically stopped onion harvest in south Texas onion districts for most of the week. Potatoes found slow sale in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Prices dropped 50 to 70 cents a sack for the week, and most shipments went to the government under the support program. Carrots held steady.

Oats and barley lost around 3 cents for the week, but other grains sold unchanged to slightly higher. No. 2 white oats closed Monday at 86 87 cents a bushel in bulk at Galveston. No. 1 wheat sold from $2.38 to $2.45 at Texas common points. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.72 to $2.77 per hundred pounds.

Cotton lost 75 cents to $1.50 a bale at most markets. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 33.05 to 33.15 cents a pound in Texas and Louisiana, and 32.60 at Little Rock.

Jesus, which took place in Jerusalem during the Passion Week. Last week we witnessed Jesus and the disciples on their journey to Jerusalem, and considered his conversations along the way. In Jericho, Bartimaeus, the blind beggar, restored his sight through faith in Christ. Zachaeus, the chief publican, was honored by a visit to his home, resulting in his salvation through repentance and restoration. At Bethany, Mary anointed Jesus with costly ointment, arousing the resentment of Judas, the treasurer.

Close to Jerusalem, Jesus sent two of his disciples to secure a colt and bring it back to him for his entry into the City. Many think Peter and John were the two disciples who attended to this detail. They were instructed to reply to any who questioned their act, "The Lord hath need of him." Following the directions received, these disciples found that this statement smoothed away all objections and, they carried the colt to the Master.

There are many professing followers of Jesus today who have not yet learned the meaning of submitting their own property and resources to the advancement of his cause. In a countless number of ways, demands are made for support of his purposes today and many are refused through selfishness or indifference.

Jesus, riding the colt and followed by a vast throng of pilgrims, moved toward Jerusalem only to be met by another crowd which came out from the City to see him. These latter turned about, forming the advance of the triumphant crowd, which attended his enthusiastic entry into the City. He was greeted with fervor. Garments and branches were spread before his pathway. For these few hours Jesus enjoyed the approbation and acclaim of the multitude and his disciples shared in the reflected glory.

The procession was somewhat different from what many had expected, as can be understood from a selection in Lew Wallace's great book, "Ben Hur." "I beheld the possession descend the mountain bringing him," said the Egyptian to Ben Hur. "I heard them singing. They were beautiful with palms in motion. I looked everywhere among them for a figure with a promise of royalty—a horseman in purple, a chariot with a driver in shining brass, a stately warrior behind an orb shield, rivaling his spear in stature. I looked for his guard. It would have been pleasant to have seen a prince of Jerusalem and a cohort of the legions of Gallilee. Instead of a Caesar, helmeted and sworded, I saw a Man, riding an ass' colt."

The Jerusalem crowd expected momentous events to follow the arrival of the Messiah. They wanted a Messiah cast in the mold of their own desires and expectations. When this failed to materialize the fickle multitude became anathetic and some hostile.

The ovation which greeted his coming was not the prelude to a proclamation of his temporal rulership, nor did it signalize the time of some gigantic miracle. The crowd discovered without understanding, that the Kingdom of God was not of this world. When nightfall came Jesus went back to Bethany with his disciples; his hour of popular glory had come and gone.

As we study the stirring events of this far off week, we shouldn't detach it from our present every day living. As the Jerusalem multitude abandoned Jesus because it did not fully grasp his truth, so we may be in danger of losing our acceptance of him in a maze of surrounding dogmas and doctrines which obscure his divine purpose and his revealed mission.

May we not in our loyalty to him be as insincere and superficial as were these people who enthusiastically acclaimed him as their king, only to reject him within the week? Do we carry our loyalty into every activity of our lives? As far the individual is concerned, the fate of Jesus in Jerusalem nineteen centuries ago is not so vital as his acceptance or rejection by each heart in this modern day.

McClurkin's Show New Silver Plate Pattern This Week

As a special feature of the nationwide launching of the new "Spring Garden" pattern in silverplate this week, McClurkin's, Jewelry, Spur, is offering five o'clock teapots in the design at an introductory price of $1.89 for a set of four.

"This offer of fine quality Holmes & Edwards silverplate in the lovely new pattern is made on a limited first come—first served basis, and we cannot guarantee to fill the demand for any extended period of time," Mr. McClurkin pointed out today. "We consider the special set of spoons in 'Spring Garden' to be one of the best values we've offered in many years, and we hope that local homemakers will come in and see the new silverware while these sets are still available."

Veterans' pension foes call Rankin's cost estimate too small.

Spur Girl Crowned Queen of V. A. At Lubbock, April 21

Miss Mildred Neaves was crowned Queen of the Veterans Administration Employees Association at the third annual Queen coronation and dance at the Lubbock Hotel Thursday night, April 21.

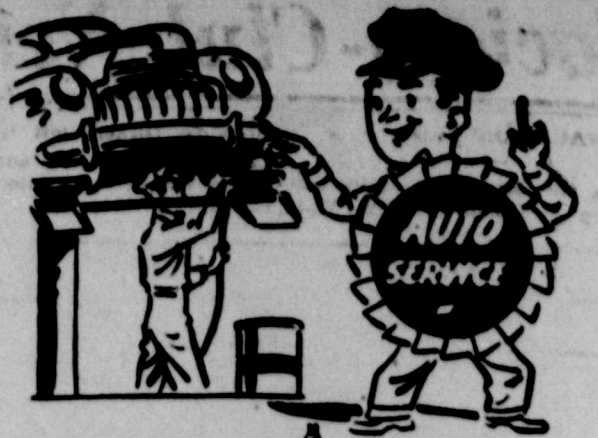

Bonnie J. Arthur, last year's queen, crowned Miss Neaves with a crown of American Beauty roses and presented her a corsage of roses. She was presented two lovely pieces of luggage, the Employees Association's gift, by Jim Claude, president of the Association.

Miss Neaves represented the Medical division of the V. A. and was chosen by popular vote of the employees.

The runners-up in the contest, who were her attendants or princesses, were: Estelle M. Simek, Loan Guaranty; Frances P. Steele, Finance; Nelva J. Holbert, Administration; Patricia J. Marquis, Adjudication; and Claudia M. Buster, Vocational rehabilitation and Education. Approximately 300 people attended the affair.

MOVES TO MIDLAND

Oldest and possibly affording the most interest of the collection were: an old family bible, originally from London, which has been in the J. W. Elliott family since about 1768; a hand-woven bedspread and the old spinning wheel from which it was woven, belonging to Mrs. O. C. SAVES PROSPERITY CAN LAST

Despite the signing of pacts and the passage of legislation, the one question that occupies the minds of business leaders in the United States is whether the nation faces a serious economic slump in the next few years.

Because every economist realizes that what the public thinks about the future course of business is a factor to be measured in connection with predictions of the future, there is much interest in the statements made by those who predict a recession and those who assert that it is not inevitable or even probable.

A West Coast banker, W. Walter Williams, thinks that prosperity can be maintained because our economic system has a much greater capacity for more stability than ever before, with built-in stabilizers, such as unemployment compensation and farm price supports, which tend to restrain any run-away downward movement.

The banker believes that the people of this country have determined "not to have another serious depression" and that there are monetary and fiscal policies that "can be used to prevent another serious depression."

In addition, the banker wants a two-sided understanding between business and government in the common interest of maintaining stability as a free enterprise system. He suggests that business and labor must recognize the need for increase of consumer's real income but that an attempt to increase this income beyond the growth of productivity will lead to inflation or unemployment.

Mr. Williams says that many businesses need to learn that the war is over, that the sellers' market is gone and that they must price and market their products to promote sales. Since the number of persons employed in trade is lower in relation to manufacture and employment than before the war, he thinks it would be advisable for a larger proportion of our national effort to be devoted to selling.

In addition to the foregoing the federal budget should be used to help stabilize the economy and there must be no hesitation in using "to the full the instruments which the government has in its monetary and debt policy for preventing depression." In this latter field, the Federal Reserve System has taken two steps, the relaxation of installment credit controls and of margin requirements, but there are other available steps, if needed, including a reduction of reserve requirements and an increase of bond purchases by the Federal Reserve.

We present the views of Mr. Williams who speaks with the backing of the Committee for Economic Development, of which he is President. He may be right and he may be wrong but the only way to prevent another depression is for the people of this country to give some thought to the steps necessary to prevent a run-away on the part of our economic machine.

HOW ACTION IN POLITICS

When statesmen and leaders forget principles in order to placate noisy complaints, they abrogate much of the stability of their governmental machinery.

It is fast getting to be a habit with minority groups to organize demonstrations, including heckling and egg-throwing, not as an argument but as a warning to those concerned with making decisions that they might as well settle with the malcontents or face worse trouble.

Consider a governmental official, or board. Faced with a difficult decision, certain to discipline some elements of the population, they are confronted with a well-organized group putting on a demonstration with the idea of making it appear that there is great popular clamor for whatever they want. These groups are usually arranged synthetically and represent nothing but the clever manoeuvring of professional propagandists.

The fact that, at times, Congress has yielded to pressure tactics and lesser legislative bodies have done likewise, encourages the demonstrators and those who, like them, seek special consideration. It is part of the tactics to claim to represent a large group of people and to allege that if these people are not satisfied they will wreak vengeance for failure on the part of the politicians to take care of them at the expense of the general public.

There is only one way to answer these tactics which are being exploited by the Communists, as well as other groups without such affiliation. This means a determined stand upon fundamental principles, regardless of the apparent spontaneous demonstrations that are so carefully staged. It takes some courage on the part of legislators but unless the nation can find them, in sufficient quantity, the republic is in for serious trouble.

MAN'S WORST ENEMY

Among man's worst enemies are the insects. Insects are the most numerous and versatile group in the animal kingdom and can be found practically anywhere on earth where life exists.

They can live in water, on land, above the ground or under the ground. They can feed on all parts of a plant above the surface or attack the roots of a plant below the ground. They can find lodging in the heart of the largest of tree or between the surfaces of a leaf or within a tiny leaf stalk.

Every housekeeper in Dickens county knows the scourge of certain insects. Roaches can make life miserable for the woman of the house, while moths may destroy the most valuable clothing in the wardrobe, if proper precautions are not taken.

White ants attack dwellings of other structures and may continue their depredations unknown to anyone until the building is ready to collapse. Flies, with their disease-bearing proclivities, are not only a nuisance, but are a menace to the health of human beings.

The farmer sustains an average annual loss of not less than ten per cent of the value of his crops if he takes no measure to control or check the ravages of these insect pests. Weevils, worms, grasshoppers and the like take their annual toll of the profits of the farm.

The fight goes on continuously. Precautions should be taken by everyone to control those insects with which they come in contact and thus help in the general control of such pests.

IF YOU CAN

If you can understand the following you have a pretty fair knowledge of present scientific progress.

A photograph, magnified twelve hundred and fifty times, becomes a photo-micrograph. The one we saw reproduced a two-minute bombardment of carbon atoms with protons in a cyclotron.

During a two-billionth-of-a-second life-time, a meson traveled along the molecules of a photographic emulsion. It struck an emulsion atom and exploded. Thereafter, all that the film shows is the course of a proton.

Two Billion In Federal Revenue Is 14 Per Cent Gain

Federal internal revenue collections in Texas for March, amounting to $210,259,756, jumped 14 per cent over a year earlier, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Income taxes totaling $192,385,224 in March, showed a 22-per-cent gain over a year ago. During the same period, withholding taxes fell 24 per cent and employment taxes slipped 4 per cent.

Second District (North Texas) presented a 26-per-cent advance in March over March 1948, with income tax collections during 30 per cent over the yearly period.

First District (South Texas), though recording a smaller gain percentage-wise, 6 per cent, registered larger money collections. Employment collections, amounting to $141,910, climbed 38 per cent in March over a year earlier, while income taxes advanced 16 per cent to $106,499,765 in March 1949.

Federal internal revenue collections in Texas from July 1 to March 31 rose 9 per cent over the like period of last year. Collections went up 10 per cent in North Texas and 7 per cent in South Texas.

HEALTH NOTES

AUSTIN, Texas, April 28.—Emphasizing the importance of proper sanitation standards in public eating establishments, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the patrons of such establishments to insist upon cleanliness in the preparation and dispensing of foods.

The health authorities cannot maintain daily inspection of cafes and other food handling places, and if the public is careless in accepting insanitary conditions, dozens of infectious diseases can be transmitted to the public from insanitary food and utensils.

"Food handlers schools are being taught constantly throughout the State," Dr. Cox said, "and every cafe owner should take advantage of these schools to see that his personnel is trained in the sanitary methods of preparing, storing and dispensing food to the public. If that is their profession, they should qualify themselves to do the work safely. This is the restaurant owner's responsibility to his patrons."

The public should insist upon a safe being free from roaches, flies and other insects; cracked dishes should never be used; tables and linens, as well as dishes and silverware should be scrupulously clean, and milk should be served in the original container, with the cap intact. They should note whether or not a cafe displays a placard stating that its standards of sanitation have been approved by local or State health officials.

"Obviously the best in sanitation can be had only through through close cooperation between the public and health officials. As long as the public approves and accepts insanitary conditions in eating establishments, they will continue to exist," Dr. Cox warned.

NOTES FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

There seems to be quite a lot of excitement in the use of DDT for Dairy cattle. This is primarily a precautionary measure to safeguard the milk supply. It is not intended to eliminate the use of DDT on other livestock or on farms etc. For the dairy cow her self use the chemical Methoxychlor. It will control the flies.

This week PMA will be gathering information on cotton and other crop acreages for the past several years. Every farmer should get this information in as soon as possible.

Geo. S. Link Jr is spraying wheat with 2-4-D kill young weeds. Results indicate a good job. This chemical may eliminate the hoe.

Be on the lookout for young grasshoppers. If they appear in any degree of numbers justifying poisoning they can be controlled by spraying or dusting with Toxeophene, chlordane or benzene hexachloride.

Sis and the Goat

Our four-year-old friend, Sis, was visiting us one night. She was telling us that her father had brought a goat home for her and her brother.

"Sis," I said, "do you ever play with the goat?"
"Yes," she replied. "Sometimes me and the goat put our heads together and push each other back and forth."

"Goodness," I said, "isn't that dangerous, Sis?"
"Uh huh," Sis replied. "It's a brave goat."

Both courses are for advanced and graduate credit. Don't tell a soul! "Every girl should be married," is the gayest, freshest pursuit to romance ever filmed.

HARD WORK . . .

Most of us endure plenty of it to earn the necessities of life. And whatever our jobs we give them dignity by doing them well and using our earnings wisely. For the hard working individual as well as for the heir to great wealth, paying by check is the dignified, business-like way to enjoy good credit.

NOTICE TO FARM OWNERS!

It is necessary that we get in the next few weeks a report from each farm in the county of the production of all crops for the years 1941 - 1945 - 1946 - 1947 - 1948 and 1949, planted or intention to plant.

We must get this information from the best available sources. If we do not know the production history ourselves we should ask our neighbors or someone who may know the past crop acreage for the farm.

This information is important because from it will be calculated the allotment of the farm for cotton and wheat.

We urge the full cooperation of each producer and land owner in assembling this information.

Hockley County Courthouse To Be Dedicated In May

Hockley County Judge LaVern I. McCann announced this week that plans are underway for dedication of the new courthouse annex on May 30.

In addition to the building dedication, Leveiland's Wm. E. Evans post of the American Legion will decorate graves of veterans in the local cemetery.

A wreath will be placed on the Memorial Marker on the courthouse lawn by Jack Thomman, past district commander and a past Fifth Division commander of the Legion. Mr. Thomman was division commander at the time the memorial marker was erected as a memorial to William E. Evans, for whom the local Legion post was named.

A memorial service is scheduled in the County Library in the new building for Gold Star parents, wives and relatives.

Dedication of the courthouse annex is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. The Commissioner's Court and American Legion have secured services of the Fourth Army Band of Fort Sam Houston for the occasion. Honorable John Winters of the State Department of Public Welfare has been invited to be the main speaker.

Mr. Winters is well-known to Hockley Countians. He was commissioner and later county judge from Potter County before his appointment to the Welfare Department.

The Memorial Day program sponsored by the American Legion is being arranged by Sam Blair and Burnie R. Carraway.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The City of Spur Water Department is placing into demand operation booster pumps to increase the water pressure primarily for fire fighting purposes; when in operation the water pressure will be increased to the extent that some safety valves on hot water heaters will pop off; other piping in bad condition will fail.

The City of Spur recommends that installations not capable of withstanding this additional pressure be corrected. Call your plumber and have him make the necessary repairs or adjustments. It is intended to test these pumps on the distribution system shortly after the first of May. If your equipment needs checking please have it done in the near future.

Cotton Markets
Active Past Week
 Trading in spot cotton continued moderately active this past week in Texas markets, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Prices held firm and demand was good for most qualities. Export inquiries were more numerous, but prices failed to attract many offerings.

Mill demand continued quiet during the week. Some inquiries were made for small lots covering a wide range of qualities. Farmers offered practically no cotton and trading in loan equities was very quiet.

Total sales at the county's 10 spot markets reached only 92,300 bales this past week compared to 115,500 the previous week and 105,500 a year ago.

Cotton closed Monday about $1.50 per bale higher than the previous Monday with quotations at 33.05 cents per pound at Houston and 33.10 at Dallas, the highest prices at these markets since mid-July.

However, at this time last year cotton was quoted around 37.50 cents per pound, or about $20 to $22 per bale higher than it was Monday.

active April 27, marking the second time the board has relaxed credit controls in less than two months.

The new 24-month time limit replaces the 21-month limit that has been in effect since March 7. The 10 per cent cash down requirement also in effect since March 7.

In addition, the board exempted from control requirements furniture, radios and refrigerators and other now-control items costing less than $100. Previously, the only exemption was for article costing less than $50.

Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the board, declared that any increase in credit which may result from this new relaxation "would not under present circumstances be a significant element in rewriting inflationary pressures."

The other regulated items are cook stoves, dish washers, ironers, refrigerators, washing machines, air conditioners, radios, television sets, phonographs, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, furniture and rugs.
