Smith-Doxey Act Applications Are Available to Farmers

Cotton farmers in organized improvement groups are urged to file their applications for benefits due them under the Smith-Doxey Act as soon as they have planted their crop.

"This is necessary because it takes time or all groups to make arrangements for having samples taken and submitted to the classifying office," Mr. H. J. Matejowski, who is in charge of the Abilene classifying office of Cotton Branch Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, said today.

He explained that it takes at least 15 days to process applications and deliver supplies to gins, warehouses, compresses or other agencies approved to take samples.

Groups that file their applications as soon as their cotton is planted will be sure of getting them approved in plenty of time to get their first bales classed.

Cotton is classed without charge for farmers belonging to organized improvement groups under the Smith-Doxey Act.

Applications for this service should be sent to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, PMA, Cotton Branch, Box 2001, Abilene, Texas. Also, they can be secured from this office, the county PMA office, county agent or local ginmen.

City Gets Fog Spray In Action

Spur received a complete spraying this week from the Fogging Machine recently purchased by the City. Generous amounts of DDT 10 per cent solution with chloroform and Dyrithum were used in all parts of the city and surrounding area in Spur.

City Manager James Cowan stated that this week's spraying would be followed up again in about ten days, or sooner, if an unusual amount of insects prevailed in the city area.

The Fogging Machine has been used very successfully in other cities and its effectiveness was demonstrated this week when flies and bugs were found dead in the areas sprayed. Every nook and corner in the city proper and surrounding areas were given a good dosage of the chemical dispensed by the machine.

Continuing their attack of home runs in the second inning, Lloyd Holly and Foy Jackson hit successive homers. Homer Biddy, Paducah fielder homered in the fifth inning.

Rank And File Favor Poll Tax As Requirement For Voting

By Joe Belden
Director, The Texas Pole

AUSTIN, Texas, June 23—The rank and file of Texas adults still tend to favor the poll tax as a requirement for voting, even though feeling among the state's political leaders is that it should be abolished.

Research by The Texas Poll indicates there has been little or no change in public opinion on the poll tax during the past six months. Of a statewide cross section of adults questioned in May, 51 per cent said they thought Texas should keep the tax. Exactly the same percentage voted in favor of the tax in comparable survey last December.

In its latest survey, The Texas Poll asked persons favoring the poll tax why they thought it should be kept. One out of every three said they felt the state needed the revenue. Some of these pointed out that the tax now helps to finance the public school system, and a few were worried that other taxes might be raised if the poll tax were abolished.

Another important reason why people favor the poll tax, they confess, is because it "keeps the poor and ignorant from voting." Only two per cent, however, admitted they backed the poll tax because they feel it keeps Negroes from voting.

Most of those who want the poll tax abolished criticize it generally as "being undemocratic." Their typical comment is that "voting is a privilege everyone should have without paying for it."

In its May survey, The Texas Poll asked these questions:

"In your opinion, should Texas do away with or continue to have a poll tax as a requirement for voting?"

Keep it	51%
Abolish it	42%
No opinion	7%
Total	100%

"May I ask why you say Texas should continue to have a poll tax?" (Asked only of those who favor the tax.)

State needs revenue	34%
Keeps "poor and ignorant" from voting	19%
Paying a tax to vote helps to make good citizens	11%
People are used to it	8%
It puts you on equal rights with everyone	2%
It keeps Negroes from voting	2%
Misc. reasons	13%
No particular reason	11%
Total	100%

"May I ask why you say Texas should do away with poll tax?" (Asked only of those who oppose the tax.)

It's undemocratic	51%
It's an unfair tax	21%
People forget to pay it	3%
Other states don't have it	3%
No need for it	2%
Misc. Reasons	14%
No particular reason	6%
Total	100%

In previous surveys the question was worded merely as follows: "In your opinion, should Texas do away with or continue to have a poll tax?" There was no addition of the phrase, "as a requirement for voting." In spite of this difference, the results of the May survey were exactly the same as those of last December. An earlier survey, however, indicates that opinion used to be even more favorable to the poll tax.

Nov. Dec. May	1947	1947	1949
Keep it	57%	51%	51%
Abolish it	33	42	42
No opinion	10	7	7
Totals	100	100	100

The cross section for this survey included a correct proportion of Negroes as they exist in Texas.

Among the state's political leaders, poll tax repeal has gained support because of the threat of Federal action. Two out of every three members of the Texas Legislature have put themselves on record as being in favor of a proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax. The amendment will vote on this proposed amendment in a special election set for September 24.

The poll tax as a requirement for voting is still in effect in six other Southern States, besides Texas. President Truman is insisting on federal action to kill it.

Texas collected $2,550,000 from its poll tax last year. Two-thirds of this amount was allocated to the public school fund and the rest to the general revenue fund.

Spur FFA Member Named Lone Star Farmer In Texas

Rubeen Waddell, president of the Spur Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, was last week named the State Lone Star Farmer for Texas.

The award was given Waddell at the meeting held in Tyler, Texas. Waddell competed with top ten members of the Lone Star Farmer group representing the 19 Vocational Agriculture Areas in the State. He had recently been named the State Lone Star Farmer of Area 1.

The award is based on project work, earnings, leadership, activities and athletic activities.

For the past four years, Reuben has done outstanding work in his vocational agriculture class. He has steadily increased the number and size of his projects. Vocational Agriculture Area 19, covering a 160 acre farm from Mrs. Willie Smith, Waddell has carried projects in beef, pork, grain, sorghum and cotton production. He served as vice-president of FFA chapter in Spur in 1947-48 and was president of the chapter last year. His other activities include participation in school athletics, entrance in the stock shows and was awarded the Gruben Award last year as the outstanding Vocational Agriculture Student and was winner of a jersey beifer in 1946 for his first year's work.

JEFFREY LYNN and JEANNE CRAIN in a scene from "A LETTER TO THREE WIVES," a 20th Century-Fox picture with LINDA DARNELL.

Occasionally there comes to the screen a story which ideally lends itself to a treatment touching both the heart-strings and the funny-bone. Such a picture is "A Letter to Three Wives."

It has a format and style as slick and fresh as any picture in some time. There is a top-flight cast headed by Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell and Ann Sothern; there is mirth-provoking comedy and wry humor; there is a supporting cast which provides keen competition for the name players: Kirk Douglas, Paul Douglas, Jeffrey Lynn.

Annual Session of Legislature Is Urged By Sponsor

Austin, June 23—Texas needs an annual session of the Legislature for budget-making purposes, Representative John L. Crosthwait said here today in urging adoption of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Representative Crosthwait is author and sponsor of the amendment, providing for a legislative session each "even year" to make appropriations and take care of emergency matters. It will be voted on next September 24.

"The State will save millions when we start making annual budgets," declared Representative Crosthwait, who is an accountant by profession. "It is humanly impossible for the Legislature to foresee what conditions and needs will be 30 months in advance. Yet that is the task set before us in January—to prepare a budget and make appropriations for the biennium beginning the following September."

He noted for examples that the 50th Legislature, in 1947, missed the rural aid needs by $4,000,000; that the Highway Patrol ran $250,000 short because of unpredictable increases in the cost of gasoline, oil, and tires; that other state departments had to ask for emergency appropriations for similar reasons — and yet that state revenues over that period ran some $50,000,000 more than had been estimated.

"We pass laws requiring counties, school districts, cities and other political subdivisions of the State to make annual budgets," Representative Crosthwait commented, "and then we try to play supermen and guess what the State will need two and a half years hence."

Under the Crosthwait plan, the regular "odd year" session would not be changed except as to length. In the added session, only appropriations, emergency subjects submitted by the Governor and other matters brought up by four-fifths vote of the members could be considered.

Another section of the proposed amendment would put legislators on a year-round salary of $3,600, instead of the present $10 a day during the first 120 days of the session and $5 a day thereafter. Crosthwait said he considered this phase less important than the annual session plan, he added that more pay for members is long overdue.

A legislator is required to represent his district in Austin for many things, such as highways, school matters, individual problems of his constituents and so on. Representative Crosthwait pointed out. Even while he is drawing $10 a day, he finds it well-nigh impossible to live in Austin on his pay. Meanwhile he must maintain a residence at home.

The amount of money the State will save through more exact planning and budgeting in annual sessions would be many times the amount required to pay annual salaries to legislators, Representative Crosthwait estimated.

Shirley Nell and La Jaun Smith of Lubbock were guests of Margaret Ann Pierce of Spur during the first two weeks of June. They also visited in the C. L. Lindsey home. Margaret Ann returned to Lubbock with Shirley Nell on the 18th.

Guests in the McGawghy home last week and during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ellis and daughter, Jane, of Dublin, L. G. Dane and family of Lubbock and Miss Lynn McGawghy of Odessa.

Mrs. Joe McDaniel spent the past week in Lubbock with her sister who has been ill.

Fisher Writes On Mesquite In July SW Crop Magazine

Lubbock, June 23—(Special)—
The invasion of mesquite on range pasture lands of Texas and other parts of the Southwest has been progressing for many years, but only in recent years has it reaching a condition that is both alarming and of major concern to livestock raisers, according to an article by C. E. Fisher, assistant agronomist at the Spur Experiment Station, in the July number of Southwestern Crop and Stock.

The article says mesquite is undesirable because it reduces productivity of grassland, and greatly increases the labor and difficulty of efficiently managing and caring for livestock, as well as hindering the use of a desirable range improvement practice.

Citing records showing the mes-quite occurs on 55 million acres of grassland in Texas, Fisher gives reasons for the extreme difficulty of control or eradication of the range growth, lists growth habits of the brush, and discusses progress in control experiments at the Spur Station during the last 16 years.

In recent years, experiments
have been carried on with 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T, with some success when moisture conditions were favorable. Kills were mostly in top growth, however, and vigorous sprouting usually took place 30 to 120 days later. Sprays have been applied by various ground methods, and from airplanes.

Fisher holds out hope that the hormone chemicals—2,4-D 2,4,5-T and other similar ones—“hold much promise as the ideal materials for control of mesquite, but further development is needed to where consistent and lasting benefits may be obtained.”

"DONT'S" FOR SWIMMERS

Something like 6,000 American citizens were drowned last year, many of them because they thought they were perfectly safe.

With the summer bathing season in full swing it might be a good idea to remind all persons, including good swimmers, that the water can be dangerous. There are certain rules to be followed if one wishes to exercise caution in the water.

The “DONT'S” that might save your life include an admonition against swimming alone, swimming in unpatrolled waters or too quickly after eating.
In addition, you are urged not to depend on inner tubes as safety belts and to exercise care in canoes and boats.

These simple rules might save the life of some boy or girl in Dickens County this summer if parents will take the time to call them to the attention of their children. In addition, good swimmers should be cautioned against over-confidence which might lead them to over-exertion.

OPPORTUNITY ON THE FARM

Senator Clinton P. Anderson, of New Mexico,
a former Secretary of Agriculture tells college graduates that they will have no shortage of opportunity on the nation's farms where there exists “a great field for practical endeavor.”

This is an interesting statement because many persons have been under the impression that agricultural activity fails to present opportunities sufficient to attract the younger generation. While there are exceptions in Dickens County and all over the nation, the general impression is that the farmer has a hard life, beset by the perils of weather and with not much competency in connection with financial rewards.

It is encouraging to hear the opinion of Mr.
Anderson. It tends to confirm the belief that agriculture, like other economic enterprises, offers improving rewards for intelligent, hard working and industrious individuals.

A JOB FOR EX-PRESIDENTS

Mr. Herbert Hoover, former President, thinks that it might be well to permit Presidents, upon retiring from office, to become members of the Senate, but without the right to vote.

The suggestion follows long years of speculation as to how the nation can use the experience gained by a Chief Executive. The ex-president would be in the Senate to give information on any subject before that body and through it to the nation at large.

We see no objection to the Hoover proposal, which would, at least, give our ex-presidents a job with a salary. The possibility exists that, if divorced from an idea of a return to office, the advice of the former chief executive might be valuable.

LITTLE THINGS CAUSE TROUBLE

On of the perversities of human nature is that very often individuals blessed with many things in common, disagree violently and unintelligently upon the merits of a relatively minor thing.

There seems to be a trait in many individuals that compels them to be fighting about something all the time. If no major issues appear, they vigorously pump up minor questions, arousing ill-feeling and promoting them into positions of seeming importance.

Much the same characteristic is evidenced in our attitudes toward the institutions of mankind.
Without giving proper proportion to the great and over-whelming good, many of us incline to hunt up minor irritations and in the excitement of the search, we often lose sight of the tremendous good that exists.

99.6 PER CENT O. K.

Everybody remembers the hue and cry raised some months ago about the possible disloyalty of Federal employees and the insistent demand that the Federal Bureau of Investigation take action in connection with loyalty tests.

Now comes the report from the Bureau that it has processed 2,541,770 loyalty forms. Out of this number, 2,531,936 have been returned marked “no disloyal data.” This means that 99.6 per cent are to receive no further attention.

We have no disposition to quibble with the inquiry. It ought to be made. In view of the widespread suspicion, undoubtedly based on rumor and suspicion, it might as well be made certain that none but loyal Americans will receive responsible positions with our government.

WATCH YOUR OWN AFFAIRS

It is a good idea for the average citizen to keep up with national and international affairs, but it is a better idea for him to keep up with his personal affairs.

Among these, one would include business interests and also the development of personality,
which is often neglected by individuals.

There may not be much that an individual can accomplish in solving the great problems that haunt statesmen, but there is no reason why any person cannot accomplish considerable in regard to his, or her, personal advancement. Despite the belief in luck and fate, this is accomplished by hard work, including the abundant use of such intelligence as the individual possesses.

Insects Causing Damage to Cotton in Central Texas

Favorable weather conditions have prevailed for the growth and production of cotton in most areas of the State. Cotton is fruiting rapidly as far north as Corpus Christi. Thrips grasshoppers, boll weevils and fleahoppers, alone or in combination, have appeared in injurious numbers in many fields in the southern portions of the State.

Thrips are causing serious damage to cotton in many areas of Central Texas. There has been a heavy migration of thrips into cotton from weed fields. Cotton in North Texas should be examined regularly for the appearance of this pest or the injury produced. This insect is so small that it is hardly ever seen by the farmer, yet it often does considerable damage by stunting the growth of the cotton plant and delaying the fruiting for several weeks.

Records made at College Station and Waco indicate that adult fleahoppers are also migrating into the cotton. Injurious infestations have been found as far north as Navarro County. Dusting for this pest has been widespread in the Coastal Bend area and many fields should be dusted in Central Texas. This insect is easy to kill with the new insecticides when they are properly applied. In areas where boll weevils were plentiful late last fall and where they found satisfactory hibernation quarters for surviving the winter, weevils are now being found in fairly large numbers on seedling or fruiting cotton. In nearly all areas inspected, except the Lower Rio Grande Valley, weevils are more numerous than they were at this time last year.

Dusting with 20% toxaphane plus 40% sulphur, or with a mixture of 3% gamma benzene hexachloride—5% DDT plus 40% sulphur (3-5-40 mixture) is recommended or control of thrips, fleahoppers and boll weevils. Where only fleahoppers are present, less expensive insecticidal mixtures can be used, such as: 5% DDT plus 75% sulphur, or 10% toxaphene plus at least 40% sulphur. DDT, like calcium arsenate, sometimes produces aphid infestations. The "3-5-40 mixture" is recommended as a "knockout" control for the aphid.

Edith Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Durham and wife of Herschell W. Durham is enrolled in Hardin-Simmons University for the first summer term. Classes will continue thru July 9. The second term starts July 12. Enrollment has reached an all time high of 1165 students for the summer term.

Mrs. Durham is a senior at the university.

Eighteen fields of study are being offered during the summer at H-SU. The courses include those in art and penmanship, Bible, biology, business administra-

the lesson we have for this week. It is the climatic lesson of the entire series — a challenge to those who have studied the life of Jesus to do something about it—to answer the great commission, by putting the teaching and example of Jesus to work in our lives. The eleven disciples (Judas now being dead) and probably about five hundred others (as referred to by Paul in I Corinthians 15:6) gathered on a certain mountain in Galilee, probably three or four weeks after the resurrection, at the time specified by Jesus when he told the two Marys who were at the tomb to tell his disciples to meet him in Galilee. On the mountain top, Jesus gave to the waiting apostles and the other believers gathered there orders as to their course of action in the future. In the beginning, he affirmed his sovereignty. "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." During his ministry, he had shown his authority over disease, demons, and even death itself. He had proved his authority over the forces of nature; he had proved his authority to forgive sin, and now, after his resurrection, he asserts the authority which he has both in heaven and in earth. Then, in the words of Dr. H. C. Moore, "The Master sketched four features for his world-wide and age-long program. The first was enlightenment. 'Go ye therefore and let your light so shine in every part of the world.' The second is evangelism. 'Make disciples of all the nations not only informing every creature about Christ but leading everybody to Christ and to acceptance of him as Saviour from sin to a good life here and the life unending hereafter.' The third is enlightenment. Those who are evangelized must be united in the work and worship of the Lord. Hence the importance of baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost." "The fourth is edification. Having informed about Christ and led to Christ and enlisted for Christ, it is our duty to build up in Christ. Hence the long and invaluable course of training in the knowledge of Christ and obedience to his holy will: 'Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.' Then the Master gives the glorious promise, 'And lo (remember), I am with you always even unto the end of the world.' The task of winning the lost to Christ would be too great for the average Christian, would be well-nigh impossible, were it not for the glorious promise that he will be with us always, strengthening, comforting and caring for his own. The book of Acts opens with the account of the ascension of Jesus. His disciples wanted to know his plans but he promised them power and commissioned them to be his witnesses, both in their immediate community and throughout the world. 'What the disciples asked of Christ was a complete roadway of the future,' says W. J. Dawson. 'We also would like a complete chart of the truth. The reply of Christ is 'It is not for you to know,' and the reply may be interpreted in two ways. It clearly means that this kind of knowledge is not within the competence of man, man being what he is and his mental constitution what it means also that this kind of knowledge is not only unnecessary to man, but it would be harmful to him.' The next picture we have is of the disciples gathered together in the upper room at Jerusalem, a number of those who had been prominently associated with Jesus are mentioned and on the day of Pentecost they received the mysterious power of the Holy Spirit. No one can explain this in natural terms but it brought power and enthusiasm to the disciples. Immediately afterward Peter preached a marvelous sermon. His subject was Christ, and he proclaimed him as the Saviour of mankind, setting forth his deeds and words. In answer to the question of the people he advised them to repent and have faith in Jesus. As a result, 3,000 souls accepted his invitation. The most perplexing feature of modern Christianity is the great mass of believers who have no active urge to personal evangelistic work. Churches, as units, are more active than ever in missionary enterprise, which is fine and creditable, but, of the individual membership, how few are proclaiming Christ to those with whom daily contact is made? How few fully realize they are 'ambassadors on the behalf of Christ' to every unsaved man and woman. Christianity needs the individual evangelism of every fellow Unbeliever and formal acceptants must be reached one by one—the world will not be won in bulk! Nineteen times we have a record of the Saviour himself entering into personal discussions with only one human being for an audience. It has been pointed out that every soul could be saved in two years if every professing Christian reached and converted one unbeliever each year. The need for individual evangelistic work is greater than it ever has been and the responsibility for unsaved millions rests on inactive Christians.

Giles Explains Operation of New Veterans' Land Program

By BASCOM GILES, Commissioner of the General Land Office
The Veterans Land program is now in effect. The idea was born in the hearts of veterans themselves while they were overseas and thinking of home. Their letters to my office asking how they might obtain a home when they returned, inspired me to put the machinery of this program in motion. Last week Governor Jester's signature made the Veterans' Land bill into formal law. The bill was sponsored in the upper House by Senator John Bell of Castro and in the lower House by Representative Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba. The legislation grew out of a Constitutional Amendment adopted by the Citizens of Texas in a special election in November of 1946. At the following session of the Legislature the necessary enabling legislation failed to receive final consideration in the Senate. The 61st Legislature, promptly and without a single negative vote in either House, carried out the mandate of the people, making it possible for Texas Veterans of World War II to own a farm or ranch home of their own choice by making a small down payment with the balance financed by the State at a low interest rate. The Legislature has placed the administration of this program in the hands of the Governor, Attorney General and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. Here briefly are some of the outstanding provisions of the new law: The Board may issue up to $25 million in bonds to finance the program. Land may be purchased from an individual, from the State, or Corporations for re-sale to veterans at cost. (This provision will be more fully explained in a separate article—Editor's Note.) Veterans may select land which they desire to purchase, subject to the approval of the Board. The maximum purchase by each veteran shall not exceed $7,500 to be financed by the State. Veterans disabled by combat service connected disability have 90 days preference right to purchase. Lands may be purchased for a minimum of 5% down payment with 40 years to pay the balance at 3% interest. (This indebtedness may be retired sooner if the veteran wishes.) All money received during the six remaining years of operation shall be used to pay interest on bonds and to purchase additional land for re-sale to veterans. The purchaser shall not transfer or sell lands purchased for a period of 3 years from the date of purchase. The veteran will not be permitted to make more than one purchase. The veteran is not required to reside upon the property. All applications should be addressed to Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Austin, Texas. The second article explains how a veteran should proceed in selecting a tract of privately owned land for his future home.

State Health Officer, says that for taking interest in this work, the responsible parties are to be commended.

However, without year-round community sanitation the ultimate result, which is so important has not always been too successful; in some areas this has given rise to rumors that flies are DDT resistant.

"The Texas State Department of Health heartily endorses a fly spraying program, provided it includes a general clean-up program carried out during the entire year," Dr. Cox said. "For example, why spray a garbage heap that not only invites but actually breeds flies when it should have been removed. Why spray the city dump when it really should be covered. I fear the unexplained spraying program is similar to the application of perfume or toilet water to overcome B. O. or the application of powder to cover dirt."

In a well planned fly control program, Dr. Cox declared, all places where flies gather, such as dumps, rubbish piles, garbage piles, decaying vegetation should be cleaned up by hauling away and burying. Proper garbage and rubbish containers with fly tight covers should be demanded from all. All buildings should be screened. Then, secure a sprayer outfit, preferably with one or more hoses each manned by a skilled operator to spray the areas where flies and other insects will light. It does little good to spray the center of the street, the ball diamond, or the sidewalks. Spray the surfaces where insects light or breed.

A residual spray remains active until the DDT washes off or is covered with grease, dirt or soot. This usually lasts four to six weeks. After that, a second spray is recommended provided the item of clean-up is still being carried out.

Austin, Texas, June 23—In view of the fact that June has been proclaimed National Dairy Month Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that with the more extensive use of milk, both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a good health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking

USE PLENTY OF Genuine* ICE

Did you know that, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates, flies take 66 million dollars out of our pockets every year? That figure simply amazed me, and when I learned that one female fly could produce 5,000,000,000 descendants in a single season, I resolved to keep my home entirely free of these disease carrying pests.

So, last week when I saw flies in my home, I got busy right away. I visited my drugist, and he recommended a DDT solution which, he explained, would keep our home rid of the pests for ever with just one application. He showed me a DDT insect killer in a handy aerosol spray container which I bought and used. It worked like a charm! We haven't been bothered since. I followed directions—closed the room tight, kept the pets and children out, stood in the center of the room and sprayed upward. The handy aerosol has its own spray top, so it was very easy to use.

I know that I'll keep this aerosol spray container handy from now on. Flies and mosquitoes can be terrible pests in the summer time. And when we remember that they carry typhoid, cholera, T.B., diphtheria and a host of other dread diseases, I think all of us hereoverseas will agree that we are very fortunate to have DDT to combat these enemies!
