Your Church Needs You - Attend Regularly

7 TIMES HOTTER

The Bible constantly uses physical figures for spiritual truth, for we must liken the unseen and the unheard to the things we see and hear. Religion has to do with the things that "eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man" to understand. So the figures for the future of the good and of the evil are taken from the physical realm with which we are familiar. Harps in our hands and walking on golden streets are metaphors for the high privileges that await the servants of God in heaven. Likewise the pit and sulphurous fumes and heat that is "SEVEN TIMES HOTTER" are figures that represent the spiritually intolerable situation in which the wicked shall find themselves in the future life. None of these material figures, not even the molten metal blast furnace scene above, is strong enough to convey the actual situation to be confronted. Think of the two ideas that are conveyed partially in our concept of hell: absence from the presence of God and the remorseful memory of an awakened soul, who has finally come to understand the enormity of the evil which he had committed. To be without God and without hope is the most terrible fate that can befall any man. Do you remember Edward Everett Hale's story of THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY? That will suggest something of the almost unendurable plight of a human soul who has lost all sense of the Divine; no good thing to live for, no dependable order in the universe, no guide to affairs anywhere, a topsy turvy world without sense or rhyme. The mental suffering of such a soul far surpasses anything the human mind can conceive. Then think of the remorse of a man who has finally come to see the far reach of the wicked thing he has done, never to be able to forget, nor to turn his eyes away from the horrible results of his wrong doing. Such is the 'Christian Hell', not something God purposes for any man, but a fate from which the loving God has sought by every means within His power to save us. Surely no thinking person will purpose such a future for himself; God will do His best to save us from it; but man is finally the captain of his soul; and even God cannot save a man from himself and his own future that he chooses; only we ourselves can do that.

Good Drivers Know Traffic Markings

Would you drive with your head tucked under the dashboard of your car?

It's as sensible to do that as to ignore warning signs along the streets and highways. Either one represents a case of flying blind, and cars aren't equipped for flying blind.

The Texas Highway Department is cooperating with the Texas Safety Association in an effort to impress the importance of traffic markers on motorists and pedestrians alike.

Traffic signals and signs and pavement markings cover almost every situation that can be anticipated, yet the regularity with which they are ignored is apalling. A conscientious observance of traffic signs would help greatly to reduce traffic accidents.

Traffic signs are easily recognized by their shapes, even at a distance that makes their lettering invisible. Drivers should increase their own traffic protection by learning what these shapes are.

Round markers are used to indicate approaches to railroad crossings and the familiar "cross-buck" marks the crossing itself.
Oblong signs indicate speed limits and give road directions. Diamond shaped signs warn of danger ahead. Eight sided signs are used only for stop signs.

They also have a meaning and a purpose, and is installed for the protection and guidance of the people who enter study by traffic engineers has established adequately.

Shivers Asks Texans
For Polio Support

George Allan Shivers of Texas is actively supporting the state's polio fund in the Texas
Theatre Polio Fund campaign, scheduled August 11 to 15.

When polio struck Texas like lightning during July—resulting in the state's having one-fourth of all polio cases in the United States—theatre men banded together and took the lead to solve the financial emergency as they always do when humanity is involved.

The campaign released a press announcement giving official support to the movement, saying
"The importance of this human undertaking cannot be overemphasized."

Shivers makes a personal appeal to theatre audiences in a special trailer prepared to precede the audience collections in approximately 1,000 independent and circuit theatres during the week of the drive. He points out the dire need, says "Texas should take care of its own" and introduces Mrs. Kay Garner, 26-year-old polio victim being treated at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation near Austin.

Eight other Gonzales patients
emphasize that "Polio Knows No Race—Creed—Age or Circumstance." They are: Jo Nell Luce, 7, Rock Springs; Larry Chadwell,
7, Kennedy; Joyce Wiley, 16, Austin; Bill Hall, Jr., 18, San Antonio; Janice McIntyre, 11, San Angelo;
Frances Flores, 2½, Poteet; Jessie
Reese (colored), 4, Tennessee
Colony, and Domingo Ornelas, 4,
San Angelo.

Fertilizer Supply Increase Reported

Reports indicate there will be about a 25 percent increase in the amount of nitrogen fertilizers for the coming year; a probable increase of 10 to 12 percent in the production of potash materials and about 15 percent increase in the production of phosphate materials.

This does not mean that Texas farmers will get their proportionate share of these fertilizers. They can if they buy their fertilizer supplier early and hold them until needed, he adds.

There is limited storage space available in the factories and mixing plants and when this space is filled, the plants have to restrict operations. There is also a transportation problem—just so many box cars can be loaded each day—and when the peak shipping periods arrive, every farmer cannot expect to get his share or what he needs when he wants it.

It is suggested that farmers get their fertilizers well in advance of the peak periods. This will spread the load over the entire year and will permit the manufacturers and distributors to maintain an even flow of fertilizers in the various sections of the state.

Fertilizer can be stored on the farm without deterioration. Keep the fertilizer dry and off the floor and it can be done by placing boards under the bags. This will permit air to circulate around the bags and will help take care of the necessary ventilation.

Call Named In Honor of Foreign Exchange Students

CARY, ILL.—A Brown Swiss heifer calf was named Curtiss Candy United Nations in honor of 32 foreign scholarship students who visited the Curtiss Candy Farms, near here, the day she was born. Eugene Woodcock of Tripoli, Iowa, national 4-H champion boy in Holstein breeding, who accompanied the group, introduced her to Claude Ballande of France. Behind them is the calf's dam, Royal's Charmant, of Lee's Hill, who established a world record for the breed of 20,474 pounds of milk and 824 pounds of butterfat during a recent test.

It is another case of where cooperation between the manufacturer, distributor and consumer can result in benefits to all parties concerned.

School Children
Should Be Free
Of All Defects

The month of September brings a return of school days, and thousands of Texas boys and girls will be returning to classrooms for the next nine months.
Everyone of these children should be as free as possible from all physical defects that can be corrected, and prevented, against diseases which frequently spread through classrooms.

A complete medical and dental pre-school checkup is of the utmost importance in making a child ready for school. Eyes, ears, nose, throat and teeth should be carefully examined, and all venerable defects corrected or placed under treatment.

Defects of hearing and vision handicap a child in his class work, and often result in the false impression that he is backward and unable to learn. Such defects can often be corrected, and the child is not only more progressive in his school work, but is a happier, better balanced individual.

Dental defects should be corrected not only for cosmetic reasons, but because good teeth enable a child to chew his food properly and thus promote good digestion and bodily nourishment.

In addition to correction of such defects, children should be protected by immunization against disease. Immunization is safe and dependable and every child is entitled to this protection against disease.

Poll Discusses World Plan

By Joe Belden Director, The Texas Poll AUSTIN, Texas, August 6.—In spite of the fact that the world federalist movement seems to be gaining ground in Washington,

Texas continues to look with a suspicious eye upon the idea of a "one world" government.

The latest statewide survey by The Texas Poll compared with one conducted a year and a half before shows little or no change in the way Texans receive this idea. The weight of opinion is still definitely against world government control of the armed forces by the United States.

hundred House members and some eighteen senators are now backing a resolution to pledge the United States to help develop the United Nations into a world government with enough power to preserve peace.

To measure public acceptance of such an idea, The Texas Poll has twice put this question to a statewide cross section of adults. "Some people say the United Nations should be made into government of the entire world, with power to control the armed forces of all nations, including the United States. Do you think this is a good idea or not such a good idea?"

Table with 2 columns: Response, Jan. July 1948, July 1949. Rows: Good idea, Not such a good idea, No opinion.

100% 100% In rejecting "one world" government, Texans seem to be out of step with the country as a whole. Nationwide polls have discovered that most Americans are favorable toward the idea.

Apparently, then, Texans would not strengthen the United Nations to the extent of giving it power to control armed forces; but this does not mean people think the United Nations, as it is now, is strong enough to prevent war. Consider the answers to this question:

"Do you think the United Nations is now strong enough to prevent war?"

100% 100% Most Texans just haven't been sold on the idea of giving a world government power over American armed forces.

Motor Industry Spends $65,226 Here

Austin, Aug. 11.—(Special)—The motor transportation industry was responsible for the expenditure of $65,226 in Dickens County in 1948 for highways, schools and other governmental functions.

"This was made possible by payment of license fees, motor fuel taxes and intangible tax" said Roy Sanderford, President of Texas Motor Transportation Association in releasing a statistical study of the motor transportation industry's share of the cost of the state and local government.

Sanderford stated that these figures do not include city and district ad valorem taxes, franchise taxes or unemployment insurance taxes.

Total taxes and license fees paid by motor carriers for the entire state amounted to more than $30,000,000.

Dickens County's share of the industry's contribution to government was made up of the following: county portion of registration or license fees (commercial vehicles only), $14,146; State highway construction, $12,866; State county and district road debt County in 1948; surplus in road bond fund distributed to county, $5,426; per capita apportion to schools, $7,922; and intangible tax paid to county, $622.

The above facts and figures prove beyond doubt that the motor transportation industry is paying its full share of the cost of government.

NOTICE—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any individual, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of The Texas Spur will gladly be corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Entered as second class mail matter on the 12th day of November, 1919, at the Post Office at Spur, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879, and published continuously without recess.

For generations we Americans have looked up to the Scotch and the French in the matter of thrift and, just because somebody said so at some time or other, we have been inclined to regard ourselves as prodigal spenders. This is simply not true, and no better proof of the error exists than the record in the recent Opportunity Drive for the sale of the government's Series E Savings Bonds.

The final report of the drive has just been made, showing that between May 16 and June 30 the people of Texas invested $48,353,996.73 in these securities, and achieved 126 per cent of the state's quota. That is a lot of money any way you look at it, and the figure takes on special significance when it is understood that this is just an addition to the savings of the citizens of Texas who now own $1,539,187,000 worth of Savings Bonds which earn a total $42,512,000 in interest each year for their owners.

This represents a tremendous amount of stored-up purchasing power. It is stored-up purchasing power in every hamlet, town and city of the state, and in the great commercial centers. It is the nucleus for hundreds of thousands of Texas, mostly of average means, who have had the foresight to take a little of their earnings and set it aside for future use. The reasons for their savings are almost as numerous as the savers—some save against the possibility of a "rainy day" while others hope to buy a home or farm, take a long vacation, see their children to college, get into business for themselves or provide for old age. Whatever the reason, their savings provide just about as practical an approach as there is to personal economic security.

In addition, the total of savings owned by the people of Texas and the nation help preserve a healthy economy.

The leaders of the Opportunity drive are to be congratulated, for it has been reported that this Savings Bonds campaign has been the most successful since the war—but despite the unselfish work the Savings Bonds leaders have contributed to the undertaking, probably those most deserving of congratulations are the men and women, here and throughout the state, who have demonstrated the good sense to save a part of their earnings by investing in these safest of all securities.

There is no national drive on this month to persuade you to read the Bible, but you can read it anyhow in a free country.

Whenever you get the idea that you really are a big man in the business world, ask your banker how much you can borrow.

About the only time some of the residents of Spur go to church is at their own funeral. This is, perhaps, a bit too late.

Every resident of Spur probably has some idea for its improvement: send 'em in to The Texas Spur, but make 'em short for publication.

Trading in Spur is an exhibition of civic loyalty that every good citizen should attempt to make.

Protect Children From Guns

Boys will be boys but parents can very often avoid tragedy by using more care in teaching them the danger of combustible things.

Not long ago, in Illinois, a small boy tried to start a fire with gasoline. The explosion killed him and seriously injured his 6-year-old brother. Unfortunately, the little boy is dead, but are there parents in Dickens County who permit their children to use oil and gasoline in starting fires? If so, it is not possible to stop the custom, and maybe, save a little life?

It is not unusual to read in the newspapers, that youngsters get hold of firearms and probably, without understanding the nature of their act, kill somebody. In Pennsylvania, not long ago, two little boys got into an argument and one shot the other with a pistol. The killer was only six years old. Who imagines for a minute that the tot understood the effect of his pistol-pointing and that he really had murdered in his heart?

Parents in Spur and everywhere, should be very careful to keep pistols, rifles and shotguns out of the reach of children. Certainly, none of these should ever be kept loaded. Moreover, they should never fail to instruct their children against the danger of playing with such weapons.

Much Left to Be Done When one considers the fact that it would be possible to remake the world through the proper education and physical development of a single generation of children, it is puzzling why some of our most serious diseases do not give more thought and attention to the welfare of youngsters. The people of Spur, like those of other communities, have made considerable progress along the line of child welfare, but much remains to be accomplished.

The prevailing idea in some communities that a modest amount of schooling is sufficient to fulfill obligations of society to childhood is gradually becoming obsolete. More and more every year, the grownups are accepting new responsibilities in regard to the children of their communities.

Spur has no particular reason to hand its head in shame in this respect. We are treating our children about as well as other communities but modern study has revealed so many avenues of activity that it is time for all of us to revise our opinions and make plans for the greater development of all of the children living in our midst.

HEALTH NOTES

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11, 1949.—Among a certain and rather extensive group of self-centered persons symptom hunting unfortunately is rather popular. Because of a too detailed study of so-called health literature of the alarmist type or on account of a recent death in the family, introspection develops to a morbid degree. The result is an entirely unfounded fear for all sorts of disease possibilities. Many becoming victims of this warped psychology develop brain and nerve exhaustion and in extreme cases even become affected mentally, stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Of course, it is entirely proper to have a normal regard for personal well-being. To maintain vitality and to prevent disease is a logical pursuit of every one. But it most decidedly must be kept within bounds. When one becomes obsessed with the subject, concern for health has overstepped the limits.

For all practical purposes, after giving reasonable attention to diet, personal sanitation, sleep and exercise, and assuming that one's bodily limitations as defined by the family physician are appreciated, the average person can dismiss the subject of health. This, plus the annual physical examination should adequately cover the situation.

On the other hand, conditions are bound to arise where actual disease symptoms manifest themselves. It will then be up to the doctor to decide what the trouble, if any, is and for the patient to abide by his judgement.

In short, symptom hunting as a hobby is a dangerous matter. One should stay away from it. It is neither safe nor healthy to do otherwise.

Dehydrated Crops In Farmers' Favor

The dehydration industry as related to forage crops has grown rapidly during the past decade. In 1925 there were approximately 30 forage dehydrating plants in the United States, 145 in 1940 and 600 in 1947.

Alfalfa is the most important forage crop being dehydrated at the present time because it is one of the principal legumes with high protein and vitamin content.

Dehydrating forage crops is applying heat to vaporize and remove moisture from the wet forage. The heat is supplied by burning a fuel. In the process, the wet hay is fed into a dehydrator or drier immediately after cutting or after it has been partially sun-cured. The wet forage is exposed to a hot blast of air ranging from 1000 to 1800 degrees F. At the end of 5 to 7 minutes the forage comes out of the outlet end of the dehydrator in an air stream ranging from 250 to 300 degrees F.

As the forage falls to the bottom of a cyclone separator, the hot, moist air goes out the top. The forage must be chopper before it is fed into the dehydrator and may either be sacked in chopped form, ground into meal, or processed into cubes or pellets.

Miss Barbara Barrow of Lamesa is a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Patrick this week. She is a cousin of Mrs. Patrick.

VACATION! They've picked time and place, and they've planned and saved for months. That's the American way—the way of free choice—so familiar we take it for granted. A man picks his job, leaves it freely for a better one. He chooses the town he'll work in, the house where he'll live. He saves or spends as he wishes. It's not that way everywhere. In some countries, the government puts a man in a city, a house, a job, with no choice in the matter. He can't quit, leave town or move around the corner without permission. If he gets a vacation, he is told where and when to go. The government runs everything, the people nothing. That's what happens when a free people turn over their responsibilities to their government. They also turn over their freedom of choice. Socialism is the result. How does Socialism happen? Not overnight. It is woven slowly, a thread at a time, into the bonds of slavery. Little by little the government assumes powers other than governing—until it finally assumes all power. ### Dublin Rodeo Dates Announced Today

The women's Championship Rodeo will again be shown in Dublin, Texas this year. The dates for this big show will be August 31, September 1-2-3, and all performances will be shown at night.

The nationally famous Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band will again be here to play for all four performances. There will be many other specialty acts, which will be equally famous.

This rodeo is becoming more famous as the years pass. The very best of contestants are available because they are here to catch the big special train for Madison Square Garden in New York City; therefore, this is called the Pre-Madison Square Garden, World's Championship Rodeo.

He Caught On
The young wife greeted her husband affectionately when he returned from the office.

"Poor darling," she said. "You must be tired and hungry. Would you like some nice soup, followed by nice tender chops with golden-brown potatoes and green peas, and then mushrooms on toast?"

"No, darling," her husband answered firmly; "let's save the money and eat at home."

Bobby Neil Smith, Haskell, was a weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Albin.

BETTY FIELD, ALAN LADD and RUTH HUSSEY in a scene from Paramount's "THE GREAT GATSBY," with SHELLEY WINTERS.

"Gatsby" Gives Allen Ladd His Greatest Drama Roll

From what is probably the greatest story written by F. Scott Fitzgerald, Paramount has made an equally great Alan Ladd film drama that adds still another facet to the star's brilliant career. "The Great Gatsby," which arrived yesterday at the Palace Theatre, is based on Fitzgerald's sensational novel about a self-made man who thought that money could buy him anything. It co-stars Ladd with Betty Field, Macdonald Carey, Ruth Hussey, Barry Sullivan and Howard Da Silva and features dynamic Shelley Winters, all of whom brilliantly bring to life Fitzgerald's colorful characters.

It's a great role Ladd has as Gatsby because it not only gives him the opportunity to be his usual strong, forceful self but it also provides him with his most romantic characterization thus far. The story concerns the efforts of Gatsby, a poor young man who has been hit by the society girl he loves, to acquire a fortune so he can win her back. With the few hundred dollars he inherits, Gatsby plunges into illegal activities and within several years has pyramided his money into vast wealth. The girl, Betty Field, is married to millionaire playboy Barry Sullivan. Ladd buys a huge mansion directly opposite theirs and crashes Long Island society.

With the help of Betty's friend (Ruth Hussey) and her cousin (Macdonald Carey), Ladd arranges a dramatic meeting with her and goes all out to win her away from Sullivan. The day he succeeds, however, a tragic accident to the woman with whom Sullivan is having an affair involves them all and builds to a suspense-packed climax with Ladd alone facing the half-mad and vengeful husband of the dead woman.

Elliott Nugent directed excellently.

New Approach Made To Water Problems

ABILENE, Aug. 11—A further examination of the facts of upstream water development in the light of domestic water may change conclusions of the Department of Interior, D. A. Barden, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has written Secretary J. A. Krug.

The statement follows the 38-page letter written by Secretary Krug in transmitting a Texas water study to Senator Lyndon Johnson. In this letter Krug said "It is doubtful that the repayment ability of the water users of many of the upstream developments in Texas will ever be found to be sufficient to equal the reimbursable costs."

This statement was challenged by WTCC.

It called upon Secretary Krug to apply the formula of economic loss to lack of water as well as flood damage to criteria upon which multi-purpose dams may be built by the federal government.

"A further examination of this conclusion, we believe, will produce a wholly contrary result," the letter said.

"You will note in our report several new approaches to and facts on this water resources development problem, which I am sure will intrigue you."

They were listed:

First, that West Texas has wholly insufficient water for domestic and industrial needs, which can only be overcome by upstream development.

Second, a new approach to the water problem in computing the economic loss from lack of water as well as from flood damage.

Third, the possibility of the government obtaining more reimbursable revenue from the sale of domestic and industrial water from small dams on the upper tributaries than under the present multi-purpose dam policies.

Barden also urged Secretary Krug to lend support to the Hoover commission recommendation that domestic water be given priority of use in multi-purpose reservoirs.

Meanwhile the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has continued its hammering for more domestic water in West Texas and is advocating the construction of multi-city dams for the purpose of supplying municipalities with water.

The latest effort is on behalf of Bob Baskin Dam Assn., for the construction of a dam on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos which would supply water for 25 or 30 drought stricken West Texas towns. The State Water Board at Austin has been asked for recovery of some 300,000 acre feet of water from the Brazos River Authority for this project.

A meeting will be held with the BRA in the immediate future to further prosecute this request.

Polio Patients Given Best Medical Care

Every polio patient in Texas is getting the best available medical care, according to a recent survey made of conditions in the major epidemic areas of the state.

Texas chapters of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are doing an outstanding and heart-warming job, reports an official of the foundation. Already, $315,000 in funds have been furnished to local chapters in Texas so far this year.

In addition to money, the Foundation has dispatched 62 nurses, 16 physical therapists, 5 physicians, and 1 epidemic aid team to sections of Texas needing help. Also furnished were 23 respirators, 28 hot pack machines, and hospital equipment.

If serious and widespread epidemics continue to grow more frequent, it may be necessary to procure additional funds through a national epidemic fund drive. These funds would be used only to fight epidemics and not for research.

New Crop Planting Expected Next Year

County agriculture agents report that farmers are beginning to figure on what they'll plant on the land to be taken out of cotton next year because of the acreage allotments. These same reports indicate that many are planning to plant legumes and soil building crops and others expect to put some of this cultivated land into pasture.

The Texas Extension Service

has just released a new bulletin, "Clovers for Texas Pastures," and it is available to you. Charles Taylor, local county agent, can supply you with a copy and he can also give you other information that may be helpful in getting the new pasture started.

"Clover for Texas Pastures" was prepared by R. R. Lancaster, extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College. He says every grassland needs a clover and every clover needs a gram. They just go together most everywhere, and it takes a variety of good grazing plants to make a real pasture.

Cpl. Howard G. Wilson arrived in Spur Friday from Camp Hood. He was discharged Aug. 4, after having served his enlistment period with the U. S. Army. Wilson plans to enter Texas Tech in September.
