Whoa, Now!

Diagonal parking continues to loom as a need in Spur. A newcomer to Spur, who incidentally has a new car, was a victim this week of a diagonal parker. Another citizen tangled with a bus in front of the Bell Cafe.

Our main street is wide enough to take care of our traffic if we could utilize its full width. We are advocating parallel parking in Burlington, and more merchants parking behind their places of business to give more space for their customers.

The column on "What Spur Needs" last week concerning recreational facilities is causing wide comment. It expressed a real need in our city—one that should be considered thoroughly by civic organizations and individual citizens.

A week from tonight the business and professional men of Spur will gather for the big Chamber of Commerce Barbecue. According to President Eric Swenson, plans for the big occasion are well along and a near 100% attendance is expected.

We've all been hollaring for an active chamber for Spur and here's our chance to really get one going. The newly elected officers and directors have the betterment of Spur in mind and indicate that they are going all-out to make the new organization a success.

The only way a chamber of commerce can be a success, however, is for all businesses to be behind it and be members of it, according to Raymond Johns of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who recently attended a directors' meeting in Spur. We'll each have to give both of time and means to make it work.

Even if we see it wise to hire a full-time secretary-manager, it remains that the people of Spur must make the Chamber of Commerce of Spur.

Spur Automobile Dealers Warn Of "Automobile Bootlegging" In Area

Texas citizens were warned today by the Automobile Dealers, Assoc. of Spur, Texas not to become victims by purchasing new cars from others than factory authorized new car dealers.

Spur dealers who are members of the Dealers' Association and who are backing this warning are: Godfrey & Smart, Spur Motor Co., Spur Auto Co., Jones Motor Co., Reagan Motor Co., Rickels Motor Co., and Edwards-Kelley Implement Co.

Allegedly new automobiles are being offered for sale now in many places by unauthorized dealers but those who buy from these sources learn to their sorrow that they have sacrificed not only the manufacturers' warranties but all the maintenance service and protection to which a new car buyer is entitled.

"The established, traditional distribution of new automobiles through the years has been made by local authorized dealers franchised by the manufacturer," A representative of the Automobile Dealers said. "When cars or trucks are not purchased through these legitimate channels, buyers may well be getting a 'pig in a poke'."

"Even though a car may appear new, unless it carries with it a manufacturer's warranty, and has been given the recommended pre-delivery service, the purchaser may find he has made a sad and costly mistake when he goes back to the seller of the car for service. Authorized dealers give this service to their customers as a part of their fundamental philosophy that the sale of a car is merely the beginning of their efforts to provide service and satisfaction to all with whom they deal."

Electric Co-Op Meeting March 4

The members of the Dickens County Electric Co-operative will meet in Spur, March 4, 1939 at 1 p.m. to elect nine directors to serve one-year terms.

The following men were recently chosen by the nominating committee appointed by the present board:

Shot Victim In Critical Condition

Don Teague, 21 year-old Snyder man, remained in critical condition at the Snyder Hospital yesterday as a result of an accidental pistol wound suffered Feb. 16.

Hospital officers said that Teague's condition was about the same as it was when he was first brought to the hospital a few minutes after the incident.

Police officers said that Teague apparently shot himself accidentally in the right temple with a .38 caliber pistol. He was in his trailer house at 1011 25th Street in Snyder at the time.

Parents-Teachers To Have Game

The P.T.A. wishes to announce a ladies basketball game between the parents and the teachers of East Ward Schools Friday night March 3rd at 8 p.m. in the High School Gym.

OIL NEWS... "A Half-Acre Of It!"

Pictured above is an aerial view of the Lohman well 23 miles south of Spur. The "Shadow" on the north side of the well is oil that blew over the top of the derrick and covered approximately one-half acre. The oil was found between 6500 and 7000 feet. The exploration venture is now drilling in shale below 7765 feet.

The rig, known as a "lucky rig" in that it has hit far above the average for wildcats, will be moved to the Ted Wiemer No. 1 Swenson in block 2, survey 17 in Garza County probably next week. This site is 17 miles south-west of Spur.

Governor Shivers Marks 7th Month

Austin, Texas, Feb. 18—Governor Allan Shivers entered his seventh month as head of the state government riding a high wave of popularity.

In a statewide survey by The Texas Poll, seven out of every ten voters approved of the way the governor was handling his job as he faced his first important test of leadership. The poll was timed to measure his popularity just before he convened the Legislature in special session to provide for care and treatment of mental patients in the state's hospitals.

During the latter part of January, six months after he had assumed office, the youthful governor was still enjoying the "political honeymoon" period: less than one out of every ten voters bared thumbs down on his administration.

It was about the same feeling that The Texas Poll had found two months before, in November 1949, after Shivers had been governor only four months. The only significant difference is that a few more voters expressed opinions in the latest survey.

These questions were put to a representative cross section of the adult population in both surveys:

"In general do you approve of disapprove of the way Allan Shivers is handling his job as governor of Texas?"

|             | Nov. 1949 | Jan. 1950 |
|-------------|-----------|-----------|
| All Adults: |           |           |
| Approve     | 62%       | 66%       |
| Disapprove  | 6         | 7         |
| No opinion  | 32        | 27        |
| Voters:     |           |           |
| Approve     | 68%       | 72%       |
| Disapprove  | 6         | 8         |
| No opinion  | 26        | 20        |
|             | 100%      | 100%      |

Results of the November poll were analyzed by classifying as "voters" all persons who had poll tax receipts or exemptions for last year. In the January survey, "voters" included all persons who said they would buy poll taxes before the January 31 deadline.

The latest poll was conducted by a staff of eighty-six trained interviewers in all parts of Texas. A total of 1,000 men and women was interviewed.

Comparable surveys in coming months will show how well the governor is able to retain the public's good-will. If his popularity index follows the same pattern as that of preceding governors it may decline as he makes known his decisions on various matters that arise and as political opponents begin their campaigns to unseat him in this year's elections. How much of a decline he may experience remains to be seen.

Gardens Important To Texas Welfare

COLLEGE STATION, March 2, 1950.—A look at last year's annual extension report on horticulture shows how important home gardens, truck crops and orchards are to the state. According to associate extension horticulturist, J. E. Hutchison of Texas A. & M. College, county extension agents reported that 513,047 home gardens were planted and used last year. Of this number 308,444 were farm gardens, 191,967 were city and urban gardens and 18,168 were 4-H club gardens.

Production was good, he said and some of the increase can be traced to the improved practices that were used. Inoculation and seed treatment practices were used by 19,000 more gardeners in 1949 than in 1948. About half of all the gardeners used commercial fertilizers in accordance with recommendations that came from Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Truck crop demonstrations were conducted in 143 Texas counties an unnumbered 12,154. Principal crops involved, according to Hutchison, were tomatoes, watermelons, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, onions, cucumbers, cantaloupes, spinach, carrots, beets and peppers. Special training schools held at agricultural experiment stations in all sections of the state were used to bring truck growers and county extension agents up to date on the latest methods of production and the new varieties of truck crops.

County agricultural agents conducted 895 plant bed preparation demonstrations and 686 demonstrations were used to introduce better strains of sweet potatoes. The Portorican No. 5 variety was widely used. County extension agents also conducted 271 demonstrations showing improved practices that could be used in the production of cucumbers for pickling.

More than 3,200 commercial orchard demonstrations were conducted in 142 counties during 1949, says Hutchison. Principal fruits were dewberries, blackberries, figs, peaches, plums, apples and pecans. This was an increase of 25 percent over the totals for 1948. County agricultural agents reported working in 1,498 different communities of the state and they trained almost 2,500 local leaders who in turn passed the information on improved horticultural practices on to others in their respective communities.

Home orchards came in for their share of attention. 41,263 demonstrations were conducted in 228 counties of the state. County extension agents, says Hutchison, reported that more than one million four hundred thousand fruit trees of all types were planted in home orchards. In addition, about the same number of blackberry, dewberry and strawberry plants were set. More than 300,000 fig and grapes cuttings were set by demonstrators working under the supervision of county home demonstration agents, he adds. 4-H club members were busy too. They conducted more than 10,500 farm fruit plot demonstration that involved the planting and maintenance of home orchards of one acre or less in size.

All of this work resulted in more and better fresh fruits and vegetables for the home table, with the surplus being canned, stored in the home freezer or freezer locker or sold. Concludes Hutchison, it all adds up to better balanced diets and improved health for rural Texans.

Farmers and ranchmen are urged to be on the alert for possible grasshopper outbreaks this spring. Get them during the hatching season and before they leave the egg beds.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for their kindness and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our father and husband.

Sincerely,
Mr. J. A. Blair and children

Mrs. B. J. Whitener of Guymon, Oklahoma underwent a operation in the Memorial Hospital at Lubbock two weeks ago.

Before returning to their home in Guymon Mr. and Mrs. Whitener spent a few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson of Spur.

513,047 home gardens were planted and used by Texans last year. 191,967 were city or urban the balance were farm or 4-H gardens.

This has had many illustrations: let us take Ephesus for one. Put yourself, in imagination, back to the first century. Ask yourself: Where can we locate a church where it is certain to be heard of?

As your eye ranged over a map of the Empire, you would have lighted on Ephesus as the very place. It was a true capital, not a merely political one.

Probably the last buffalo killed here was in August, 1883, at about the location of what afterward was the J. L. Karr farm. This buffalo was shot by the boys know as Billy ("the Kid"), who worked for the Triangle outfit.

According to W. L. Hyatt, the Causis boys were among the first to hunt buffalo here, and they were Moore, Crill and Patton (for whom Patton Springs in Dickens County is named). They hauled the buffalo hides to Fort Griffin. The only time "Uncle Bill" Hyatt ever "cut my rope off anything in my life" was in the Spring of 1883, when near here he roped a buffalo in the roundup. "As he came through the drive I roped him. He went to the end of the rope and turned over. They are natural born fighters and of course my horse it scared him, and the horse broke and the buffalo right in after him, and he just worked his horns right in that horse's tail for a quarter of a mile, and he was going right into a slant, and the boys behind me kept saying stay with him, Hyatt: I knew if he ever struck that alkali bed and turned I was gone and I got out my 'Bill Dokey' and cut my rope."

The last white person here captured by the Indians was Lee

WON OPPORTUNITY—TOOK ADVANTAGE OF IT

In 1946 these boys won the first Opportunity Awards at the A. and M. College of Texas—four-year scholarships for outstanding Texas high school graduates who would otherwise be unable to attend college. This year they are graduating from Texas A. and M. with college records which prove they took advantage of the opportunity.

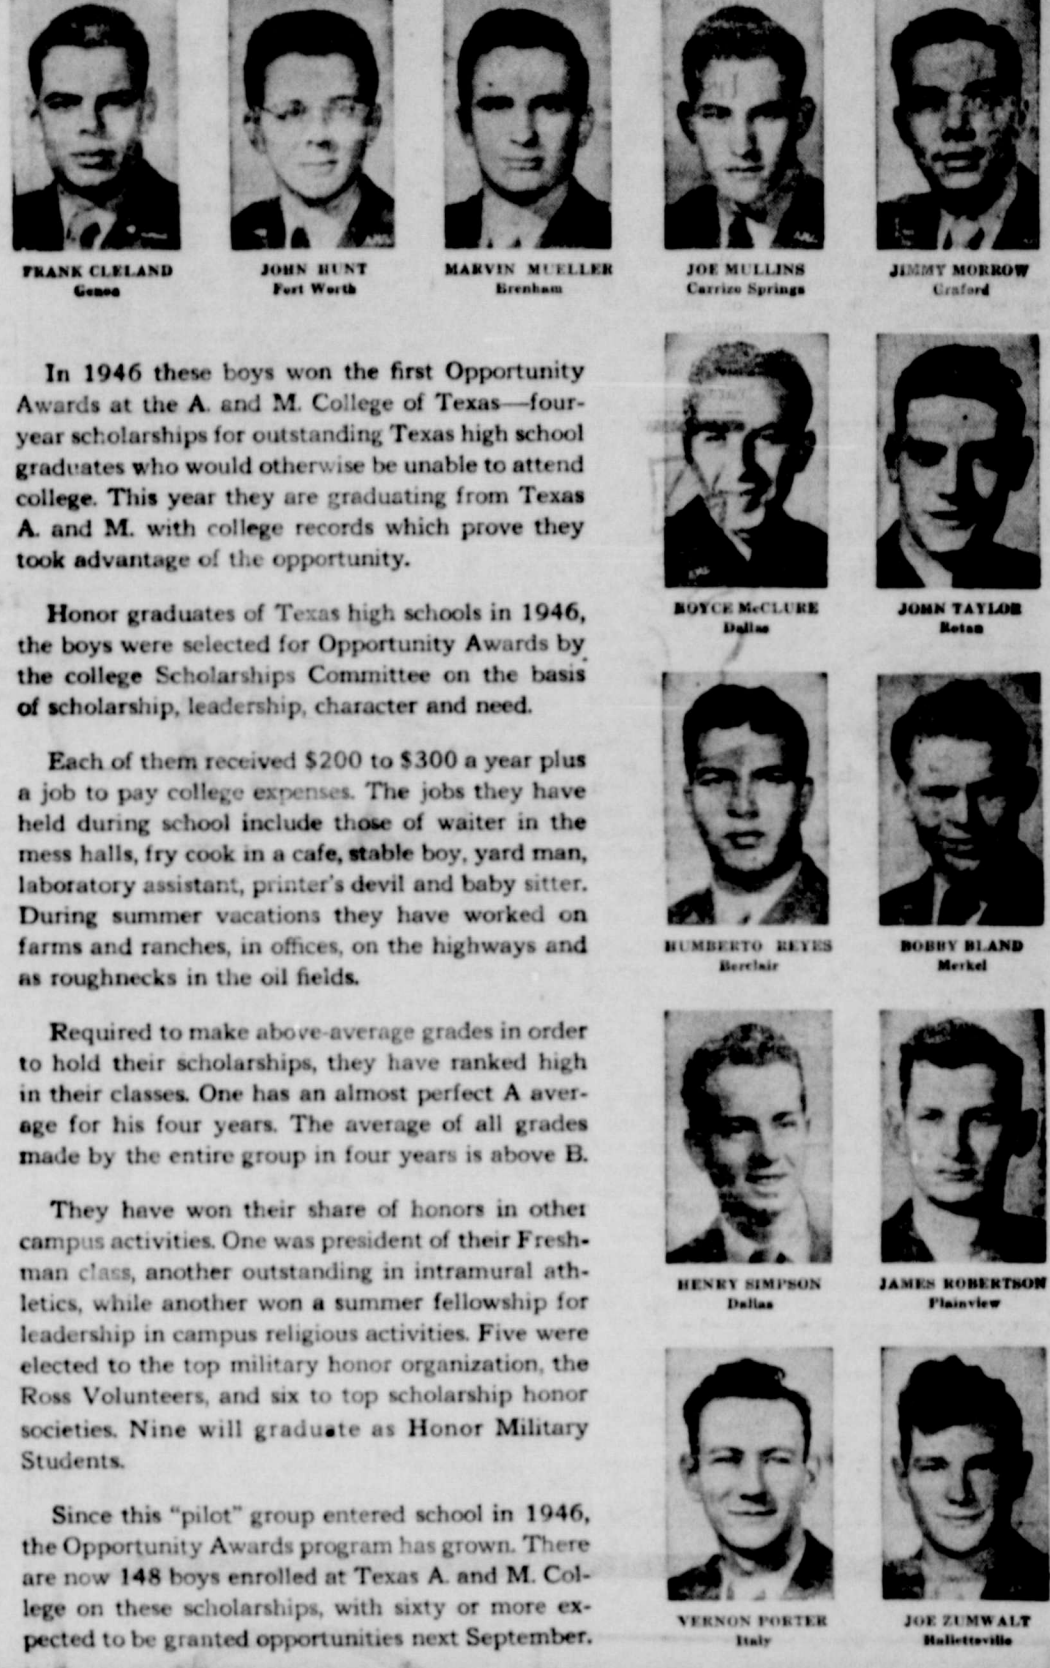

Honor graduates of Texas high schools in 1946, the boys were selected for Opportunity Awards by the college Scholarships Committee on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and need.

Each of them received $200 to $300 a year plus a job to pay college expenses. The jobs they have held during school include those of waiter in the mess halls, fry cook in a cafe, stable boy, yard man, laboratory assistant, printer's devil and baby sitter. During summer vacations they have worked on farms and ranches, in offices, on the highways and as roughnecks in the oil fields.

Required to make above-average grades in order to hold their scholarships, they have ranked high in their classes. One has an almost perfect A average for his four years. The average of all grades made by the entire group in four years is above B.

They have won their share of honors in other campus activities. One was president of their Freshman class, another outstanding in intramural athletics, while another won a summer fellowship for leadership in campus religious activities. Five were elected to the top military honor organization, the Ross Volunteers, and six to top scholarship honor societies. Nine will graduate as Honor Military Students.

Since this "pilot" group entered school in 1946, the Opportunity Awards program has grown. There are now 148 boys enrolled at Texas A. and M. College on these scholarships, with sixty or more expected to be granted opportunities next September.

Let's make him count in America's Future!

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief—what's your guess about this young fellow's future?

Of course, a lot will depend on the kind of world he grows up in. And that will depend, to a great extent, on the answers you give when the Census-Taker calls.

Census facts and figures are used by leaders in industry, business, labor and civic groups to plan such things as new schools, parks and playgrounds; new housing and hospitals; new roads and safety regulations; a better distribution of services like telephones, electricity, gas and water.

Even your voice in the Government—the number of Congressmen your state is entitled to—is determined by the Census.

All personal information you give the Census Taker is confidential—under law—so answer his questions quickly and accurately. It's one way you can make sure your children count in America's future.

Like other American business firms, we believe that business has a responsibility to contribute to the public welfare. This advertisement is therefore sponsored by

National 4-H Club Week March 4-12

College Station, March 2, 1950
More than 1,850,000 4-H club members in the United States will observe National 4-H Club Week March 4-12. They will be joined in their activities by the 225,000 volunteer local adult leaders, the 12 million former members, their parents and friends. According to the state 4-H leaders of Texas A. & M. College, the 113,514 4-H members in Texas will strive to increase their membership during the week and at the same time will show what their membership during the year, they have accomplished during the past year.

A summary of the reports from the county extension agents in the state show how important the 4-H program is to Texas. 4-H members grew crops on nearly 51,000 acres of land; everything from cotton and corn to soil improving crops; they planted and cared for more than 10,000 acres of home orchards, home gardens and truck crops; they carried out soil and dwater conservation practices on 29,300 acres and conducted pasture improvement demonstrations on 27,300 acres.

They owned 58,893 head of livestock and they sold more than 22,000 head for approximately 2 1/2 million dollars. They exhibited nearly 22,000 head of livestock and poultry at 212 livestock shows and fairs and sold $272,000 worth of poultry and eggs from their demonstration flocks.

They were just as active in home economics work. In home improvement, they modernized almost 9,000 rooms and made about 26,000 articles that could be used in the home; 31,703 girls planned a lot of meals for their families and friends, 432,492 to be exact and they served a lot more—519,190; they preserved food too, 15,742 girls canned 504,406 quarts and froze another 80,936 pounds of other foods; 37,397 chose clothing for their demonstration and during the year they made more than 108,000 garments and remade another 27,366.

You might think that 4-H members do nothing except work but that is not true. They believe in doing the job first, but they also have their fun and recreation programs. They camp, attend meetings, state 4-H Round Up at Texas A. & M. College, the State Fair, visit the major stock shows, send their representatives to all meetings and for the past two years they have been represented in the International Farm Youth Exchange Program. Any good 4-H member will tell you there is a time and place for everything, and they know how to mix things up.

4-H boys and girls are trained in leadership. They are a cooperative group for they know there is strength in numbers and unity of purpose and they are good citizens because they practice democratic procedures in their meetings and participate in community affairs.

4-H members in every section of the state invite you to join with them in the observance of their national week. Visit a member, a local meeting or one of the special affairs they have planned. You'll be glad you did for here is a group that is leading the way to better living for a better world.

HEALTH NOTES

Austin, Texas, March 2, 1950.
Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in the State of Texas this year if residents fail in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside. Typhoid fever, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that flies are kept away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Most Texans Favor Idea Of Two-Party Government, According To Poll

Austin (Texas), Feb. 25.—While the Democrats have a virtual monopoly on political power in Texas, the weight of public opinion in this state tends to favor the idea of two-party government.

Nearly four out of every ten voters believe our state government would be better if we had some Republicans in the Texas Legislature. Less than half as many think our state government would be worse.

This is a finding of the Texas Poll in a recent statewide survey in which 1,900 men and women were asked:
"Do you think our state government in Austin would be better, worse, or about the same if we had both Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature?"

| Qualified Voters | All Adults |
|------------------|------------|
| Yes              | 70% 69%    |
| No               | 25 23      |
| Don't know       | 5 8        |
|                  | 100% 100%  |

One of the top aims of Texas Republicans leaders this year is to elect a member to the Legislature to provide the party a sounding board for its policies. This, they think, may be the first big step toward making Texas a Two-party state.

The Republicans are making their strongest effort to recapture the 85th district, comprised by Gillespie, Llano, Blanco, and Kendall counties. This district was normally Republican before New Deal days. The last Republican in the State Legislature represented the 85th district until 1935.

A deep-seated prejudice against the GOP is apparent among many voters throughout the state. Twenty-five per cent of the voters interviewed in the latest Texas Poll indicated they would shun anyone labeled "Republican," no matter how well qualified. Seventy per cent said they would favor a Republican if they were convinced he was better qualified than the Democratic candidate.

Large covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."
Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

1948 FIGURES SHOW RISE IN HEART TOLL

The toll of heart disease is on the increase. Figures for 1948 from the National Office of Vital Statistics show that deaths from diseases of the heart and blood vessels increased nearly 2% over the 1947 total (from 624,176 to 637,679).

Cancer deaths increased about 4% over the 1947 total. The other four leading causes of death in the U. S. showed a decrease—nephritis (kidney disease) deaths went down 3%, pneumonia and tuberculosis dropped nearly 5%, while deaths from accidents declined 1 1/2%.

The toll of the heart diseases continues to be greater than the next five leading causes combined.

113,514 rural boys and girls were members of 4-H clubs in Texas in 1949. In the United States, more than 1,850,000 boys and girls are 4-H members.

Dry Lake Community News

By Mrs. Jack Gordon

The pretty weather continues but the farmers are in great need of rain. Some are listing and some find the ground still has plenty of moisture.

The school is progressing nicely. All of the children are over their vaccinations and are feeling much better.

We had our neighborhood meeting Wednesday night and we had the best crowd ever. The election of new officers was held. They were as follows, Coy Denson, Chairman; Mrs. Buck Ballard, vice-chairman; Jerry Caldwell, vice-chairman; Jane Holloway, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Lloyd Hindman secretary.

Remember our meeting dates the 2nd and 4th Wednesday in each month. Everyone is cordially invited.

The Junior boys of Dry Lake Baptist Church met at the church Friday night for a party and weenie roast. A most enjoyable evening was reported by all. Several of our women met with the H. D. Council to try to learn more about a program until we can get an agent. Our District Agent Mrs. Hodge was there to help us.
A group of boys spent several hours fishing Sunday evening in Grappa Hindman's tank. They

THE FUMBLE FAMILY

By H. T. Elmo

And the Covered Wagon Rolled Right Along

Who said the days of the old west and the covered wagon were gone and forgotten? At least that is the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Addison and their small daughter, Joyce, from Roaring Springs, Texas. The family is on its way from Roaring Springs to Jasper, Texas, a distance of 530 miles, and in a covered wagon, mind you. They are moving to a farm in Jasper. "We left Roaring Springs February 22 and at the rate we are going now we should make the trip in about 20 days," Mr. Addison said on his stop here Monday morning. "We had planned on making the trip in about two weeks but we have had a little trouble along the way."

The two horses, Nellie and Delie to you, had a little foot trouble trip thus far in fine shape." The Addisons have two sons who are to follow the family later in a truck with the rest of their belongings.

"We expected this to be like the covered wagon trip that we made 23 years ago," Mr. Addison continued. "But we seem to be causing a lot of excitement long the way. I don't think that we have passed a house that we didn't cause just a little disturbance—either by scaring the dogs and chickens with our covered wagon—or by attracting quite a bit of attention and comment from the people themselves. I guess what we are doing is kind of rare nowadays."

When asked how she liked the trip, Joyce, the eleven year old daughter making the trip just as much as any one else. (Probably a little curious about reporters.) "It's a wonder we don't cause trouble or even a wreck on the road," Mrs. Addison commented, for cars and even school buses slow down real slow when passing us—and you never saw as many surprised faces in your life. We don't mind though for we are really having a time!" The covered wagon is painted a dark green and is covered with

The Addisons do not travel at night in their covered wagon, not that they don't have the light. The wagon is equipped with lanterns.

"After about 30 to 35 miles of traveling each day we stop, make camp and have a good time," Mr. Addison said. "At this rate, we'll make it in 20 days."

The family has been having a difficult time in finding water for the team along the road but so far have always managed to find a watering place before making camp.

The family isn't exactly making the trip alone either for sitting up beside Mr. and Mrs. Addison and Joyce in the front of the wagon are their two dogs, Poochie and Toughie—who seemed to be enjoying the trip just as much as any one else. (Probably a little curious about reporters.)

"It's a wonder we don't cause trouble or even a wreck on the road," Mrs. Addison commented, for cars and even school buses slow down real slow when passing us—and you never saw as many surprised faces in your life. We don't mind though for we are really having a time!"

a brown tarp and is being pulled by a black horse (Dollie) and a white one (Nellie). Mr. Addison said that he found the horses in Roaring Springs and liked them so much that he got the idea to take them to Jasper with him. "This was just about as easy a way as any to take the team, the wagon and a lot of household goods to Jasper," he said. "So here we are—and we are going to make it fine!"—Stamford Leader.

Texas Wild Life On Eastern Screens

Austin, Texas, March 2. The action story of Texas wildlife is being shared by Lone Star State residents with vast numbers of outsiders. The Executive Secretary reported that departmental motion pictures have been provided other states for several years but that recently requests for Game Department films has increased because of television use in many Eastern states.

Those stations have obtained films from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission files to make their own copies for TV treatment. Copying is usually necessary because color films must be changed to black and white for TV transmission. Meanwhile, Texans are availing themselves of the Game Department's wildlife film library. Each week both sound and silent films are mailed in increasing numbers to sportsmen's organizations, civic clubs, schools, churches and to other groups. Films are sent express prepaid, from the Commission's headquarters in Austin with the primary requirement that they be handled carefully and be returned express prepaid, immediately after they have been used.

The film library comprises an authentic record of Texas wildlife. All pictures are informative and educational. Many are exciting since the subject matter ranges from somber portrayal of nesting birds to wilderness combat between a rattlesnake and a roadrunner or chaparral bird. On-the-scene movies include bass fishing, wild turkey trapping, waterfowl hunting and antelope trapping. For the sportsman who knows his field and stream, there is practical treatment of hunting dogs, gun safety and care, fly-rod usage and general equipment demonstration.

The Game Department's film library is at present somewhat limited but production on several new movies is scheduled to start soon and others are nearing completion. Among the available movies are closeups of the much sought after wild game birds. Other pictures include generous footage of turkey gobblers strutting and carrying on in the privacy of their natural habitat. Use of staking technique plus telescopic lenses enabled the cameramen to invade the wild birds' hideouts. For action, the battle to the death between the road runner and rattler apparently has the most appeal.

Warning Issued As Snake Season Nears

Texans are cautioned about poisonous snakes and advised what to do if bitten in an article in the February issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH, official departmental publication. The author, John E. Werler, Curator of Reptiles, San Antonio Zoological Society, writes that more persons die from snake bites in Texas than in any other state and adds that the Lone Star State has at least 18 varieties of poisonous reptiles. He says that keeping premises clear of rubbish is one good way of keeping snakes away from homes. The trash of-tertimes attract mice and rats which snakes feed on and also provides cover for the reptiles.

YOU MEET SUCH INTERESTING PEOPLE

by Robt. K. Christenberry
President of the famous Hotel Astor

"Why do you have to do things differently?" Carolyn fumed at me.

"That's what makes us individuals," I politely answered her as we both began to smile broadly.

Of course she was right. Carolyn usually it. You see, I have the habit of occasionally scattering so many papers on my desk that the important ones get lost among the insignificant ones. Somehow, Carolyn, my secretary, seems to feel that it reflects upon her work. And every now and then I get a lecture from her.

"This time I'll clean the desk," I said to her as she sat down to enjoy the situation. "You know, a lot of people have noticeable manners or habits," I began. I was trying to convince her to tolerate my desk-habit.

"For instance?" asked Carolyn.

"That's all I needed, for I was loaded with ammunition. Carolyn," I began, "did you know that Perry Como who was once a barber won't let a barber shave him? ... Jimmy Roosevelt is the only executive I have ever met who stands up like a gentleman when his secretary enters the office. ... Once when W. C. Fields was bedded in the Hotel Astor with a broken leg, he had all his girl friends visit him dressed as nurses to pass the scrutiny of the house detectives (we let him think he was fooling us). ... Cary Grant's hats all come from England. He buys the narrowest brimmed chapeaux in London, then trims a quarter of an inch off the brim before wearing the hat. ..."

I glanced at Carolyn from the corner of my eye and she was smiling with interest. I feel happy when Carolyn smiles because her disposition is so contagious. I continued as I cleaned:

"Did you know that West Virginia hillbilly Sammy Sneed, the Golfer of the Year, had to be forced to put on a pair of shoes for his first major golf tourney? ... The late Jimmy Walker despised the word 'charity.' He used to say, 'Charity is where somebody gives you your health at the expense of your soul.' ... When Danny Kaye first entertained at a small Catskill Mountain hotel, a clause in his contract stipulated that he also make mixed-green salads for the customers. Now he likes to make them for his guests. ... The reason Charles Boyer has that odd mannerism smoking a cigarette is to prevent the smoke from getting into his eyes. ..."

Carolyn leaned forward a bit. She was no longer watching me clean the desk. She was listening attentively.

"Did you know," I continued, "that Belle Baker, Fanny Hurst, Myrna Loy and Lily Pons like dogs more than people? ... If you take a peek inside Bob Hope's closet you'll find a checkered coat and straw caddy—relics of his early days in small-time vaudeville. ... The thing that bewilders you when you play ping pong with Eddie Cantor is that he opens those banjo eyes so wide you can't tell which of the three is the ball. ... June Haver always asks reporters not to mention she's Gypsy Rose Lee's sister. She doesn't want to ride on Gypsy's tea wagon."

Carolyn laughed out loud for the first time and I was quite sure now that hereafter she would let me enjoy the luxury of a messy desk. I was almost finished cleaning as I continued:

"Did you know that Kay Kayser, who can afford dollar stogies, prefers to puff away on 2 for 15 cent Bunsen burners? ... Mr. Justice Tom Clark pens most of his mail in his own hand. ... John Hays Hammond, inventor of the Hammond Organ, has a duplex trailer with a Hammond Organ installed in it. ... Vincent Lopez hasn't had a drink, a smoke, or a steak since he studied for the clergy. ..."

I finished cleaning the desk. Carolyn rose. She looked impressed by my job. I think that I had completely convinced her to tolerate my desk-habit.

"Okay?" I asked her as she finished the inspection.

"Okay," she answered, as she started out of the office, "but the next time Dan Walker or Ed Durling or Louis Sobol drop by, I'm going to give them a bit of a lowdown on Robert K. Christenberry. It'll read: 'His desk always looks like the Lost & Found Dept.'"

Peace America's No. 1 Objective States Mahon

The preservation of peace should be the number one objective of Congress and the American people. Congressman George Mahon, Representative of the 19th District, said this week in Washington.

The statement followed a series of meetings of top military leaders with the Committee on Military Appropriations of which Mahon is chairman.

"Despite the fact that within recent months Russia has developed an atomic bomb and overrun China, the over-all Military Program for this country has not been greatly changed," Mahon continues. "Our whole problem of national defense should be re-examined in the light of these events. It is true that the Military Forces of this country on land, sea and in the air are in a better state of readiness for immediate combat now than at any time since the demobilization following World War II, but our forces are smaller than last year."

On account of the inadequacy of funds and on account of the impact which a large military establishment would have upon the economy of the United States, this country is not undertaking to maintain a large military force in being that could wage sustained warfare, according to the Congressman. Yet the findings of Mahon's committee show that unless the rate of airplane procurement requested in the budget this year is increased in succeeding years, the United States Air Force and naval air arms will become less modern at a rapid rate.

At the request of Congressman Mahon, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, military expert and President of Columbia University, came down from New York to counsel with the Committee. General Eisenhower feels that the budgetary requests of the President for the Army, Navy and Air Force are not fully adequate to place the United States in a state of readiness for war. But he does not advocate an increase, as he feels that the United States cannot afford larger military spending and that certain "calculated risks" must be taken.

At this time one third of our tax dollars are being spent directly on the Army, Navy and Air Force. In commenting on defense spending, Mahon said: "The Military people have never won any medals for economy but there is less waste and more economy in our military programs now than in any time within a decade. Further progress in efficiency must be made."

The Congressman indicated that the top military leaders do not think that an outbreak of war with Russia is likely within the next couple of years. Their fears, based on the fact that Russia is feverishly building up her submarine fleet, navy, air force and army, seem to be that we will inevitably have trouble with Russia at a later date unless some way can be found to establish good will between the United States and Russia.

Among those appearing before the Committee in recent meetings are General Omar N. Bradley, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Louis Johnson, Secretary of Defense; the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force; and the members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Democratic members of the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee are Representatives Mahon, Chairman, Harry R. Sheppard of California and Robert L. Sikes of Florida. The Republicans on the Committee include Representatives Albert J. Engel of Michigan and Charles A. Plumley of Vermont.

The Committee handles all appropriation measure to the House for consideration about April 1.

The week of March 4-12 is National 4-H Club Week. The theme that 4-H members will follow is "Better Living for a Better World."

Texas 4-H members last year exhibited about 22,000 head of livestock and poultry at 212 livestock shows and fairs.

Eggs can be frozen and stored successfully in the home freezer or the freezer locker.

GALE STORM watches AUDIE MURPHY move into a gun fight in Universal-International's "THE KID FROM TEXAS," in color by Technicolor.

'Kid From Texas' Rousing Story of Billy The Kid

The first semi-documentary story of Billy the Kid ever to reach the screen is told in Universal-International's Technicolor "The Kid From Texas," showing at the Palace Theatre, Sun, and Mon.

Three previous filmizations, allegedly manticized versions or out-and-out Hollywood dream-ups, in the opinion of researchers identified with this newest production.

Audie Murphy, most decorated hero of World War II, has the role of Billy in Universal-International's semi-documentary, co-starring with Gale Storm and supported by such sterling actors as Albert Dekker, William Talman, Frank Wilcox, Robert Barrat and others.

Murphy is ideally cast for the role, being the same wistful type that research showed Billy to be and possessing incredible ability in the handling of guns.

Probably the last buffalo killed in Dickens County in August of 1883 was killed by Billy

(the Kid). A boy who use to work for the old Triangle outfit.

The film, despite its tragic ending, is refreshing in its honest narration of his refusal to succumb to Hollywood's fondness for the boy-and-girl pattern. There is action galore and excellent acting, especially by the top principals.

The story opens with William Bonney, better known as Billy the Kid, becoming involved in the notorious Lincoln County range war of the late '70s and losing his heart to the lovely Gale Storm, who is the young bride of the middle-aged Albert Dekker. Billy's unrequited love never comes close to fruition in the story, and his eventual realization that Gale's world can never be his leads to his death before the gun of Sheriff Par Garrett, played by Frank Wilcox.

Billy snuffs out the lives of twenty-one men in the picture—the exact amount claimed by his blazing guns in real life. He finds a true friend in an Englishman named Jameson, played well by Sheppard Strudwick who gives The Kid a job and a chance to live peacefully. When Jameson is murdered by trail tramps Billy goes berserk in a mad quest for vengeance and kills in wholesale lots.

When at length Billy is trapped and laid low, Sheriff Garrett is heard to express wonderment that the Kid didn't even try to draw. A few minutes before his death Billy had seen the light of his life dancing with an Army officer and had given up hope.

Kurt Neumann did a splendid job of directing for Producer Paul Short, who has taken Audie under his wing and plans full-fledged stardom for the war veteran. The photography by Charles Van Enger and his Technicolor aids is of top quality. All in all, "The Kid From Texas" is four-star entertainment in any reviewer's log book.
