City Trash Pick-up Proving Successful

According to Mayor Ned Hogan the newly-inaugurated business district trash pick-up is proving successful. Although the service has been in effect too short a time to tell its true efficiency, it is believed that the service will prove to be satisfactory and will continue on after the thirty-day trial period. Mayor Hogan urges all merchants to determine the approximate time that the truck will be at their respective place of business and have the trash ready at that time. To prevent blowing and to consolidate the trash, it is recommended that cardboard and paper be telescoped or crushed before being placed out for pick-up. Covered containers are also desirable to prevent blowing. It has not yet been determined whether or not a charge will have to be made by the City to pay for this extra service, states the Mayor. But, however, possibly the City could offer a more complete and satisfactory service both in the business and residential districts if a small charge were made on water bills, he states.

"We do not intend to compete with contractors in the matter of equipment," Giles McCrary, local director, said. "We want first to find out the equipment available and then the district will buy the needed equipment."

what's RIGHT with Spur?

Guest Editorial By Lloyd Womack

Often times we hear so much said in regard to what is wrong with our fair little city. It seems so easy to say what is wrong with a person, or town, or even our country, but sometimes it seems difficult to find words to express what is right, or good about a person, a city, or the country in which we live. So I want to call your attention to what is right with our little city of Spur. This is where we live and want to rear our families, and make a living, therefore, what should be our attitude toward a community where we spend three hundred and sixty five days a year? Think of the contribution to our community the public school system is making to our citizenship in an educational way. Let's ask ourselves the question; "Am I receiving from our school sufficient for the amount I am investing?" Spur holds a strategic place in her relationship to other school districts, and if we are not united on an educational program, we would suffer in the tomorrows, for our shortsightedness. You cannot find any school trustees that serve more sacrificially and effectively that ours. When we consider the fact of volunteer service, and the time required, we will appreciate and not criticize our public servants. This is one institution that is right in its relationship to the community. We love to think of what is right with our community in its religious life. We wish it was more religious, but since it is made up of individuals, what ground do I have to criticize if I do not make my proportionate part to her spiritual welfare? Not that we are doing so much, because we are not, and I believe each of us could do more and we doubt if you have ever lived in a community where there was a better feeling between the churches than here in Spur. But with all our church efforts and our many churches, we still have less than fifty per cent of our citizenship in church and Sunday School on Sunday. Think of what is right with Spur from a civic standpoint. The vote of the people here, a short time back spoke her voice in one way, of her civic pride. We wish we never had to vote added taxes or bonds, but how can we make necessary improvements without it? Who wants to live where there is no pride in the matter of sanitation? Who wants to raise their children where their health is endangered every day? Some must take the leadership in this matter, in a town or community, and our city government takes this responsibility. Our paved streets, beautiful yards, with their fragrant flowers, our well kept church grounds, our beautiful little parks and the general appearance of the resident section and business houses are but an expression of the civic pride of our citizenship. Is it right in a community to have law and order? Who is it that would want to live where the law is not enforced? Any time any town fails to have pride in her civic righteousness, this city, town, or community is destined to fail to attract good people who are looking for a place to live. Place in your thinking the quality of doctors we have in Spur. You cannot surpass them in any place. We are congratulating ourselves on being able to have the professional services we as a community have; clean upright doctors, so co-operating in making our little clinic and hospital a real asset to the town and community of Spur. We have heard so many words of praise spoken in behalf of those who render their services in any way in our hospital and our clinic in the little town of Spur. Do you not just love to think of what is right with Spur? Consider the fine and excellent service of the volunteer fire Dept of Spur. The boys who answer the call of the fire alarm at any time of the day or night, who brave all kinds of weather, hot or cold, snow and ice, endangering their own lives in order to help protect my property, and your property, and also the lives of my children and your children. Our hats are off to the volunteer fire Dept of Spur. Again let me say, do we not think of what is right with Spur? Think of the fine civic clubs and organizations of Spur. The wide awake alert, and roaring Lions Club, and the many fine deeds they have done, and are still doing in our little city of Spur and joining communities. Also the wonderful and splendid Rotary Club, and fine service they have rendered and are still giving to make our little town and community a better place in which to live. Now may we make this appeal: Keep your chin up, fight for the things that are constructive and right, pull together and watch our "stuff."

Bulldogs Beat Rails; Prep For Lockney Game Friday

The mighty Spur Bulldogs baseball team brought their regular season to a close Wednesday afternoon in Rails by turning back a fighting club 2-0. Friday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. the Bulldogs meet Lockney at the district 3-A play-off. The two teams will be in Spur for the second of the two-out-of-three series Monday, May 8. In the event the play-off goes three games, the site of the third will be determined following Monday's game, states Coach Sam Hawkes. Playing against the best team and best pitcher yet to be encountered by the powerful Spur nine, the Bulldogs managed a run in both the second and seventh innings to keep their record clean. Billy Hoover knocked in both runs, yet didn't manage to get a safe hit. Blagg, pitcher for Rails, did considerable damage to many Bulldogs batting averages by holding the local boys to but four hits. Nine went down swinging. Joe King, star pitcher of Spur, allowed but one safety and struck out 12 batters. Spur made three errors to Rails' 5. Hits were chalked up by Clyde Blair, Dean Watson and Wayne Smith. Smith managed two singles while the other two boys got one single each. ### Insecticide To Be Useful In Future College Station, May 4. Some-day farmers may put insecticides in the soil at planting time and forget about insects.

That's probably a long time off, but last year three USDA entomologists, E. E. Ivy, Wm. Iglinsky, and C. F. Rainwater, in laboratory tests at Texas A. & M. found cotton plants would take up poison from the soil and that the treated plants killed cotton aphids and red spider mites. If they used enough poison, they got the flea-hopper, too.

Scientists have long dreamed of getting plants to pick up insecticides from the soil. They even had a name ready for it—systemic entomology. But the plants would never cooperate until 1947, when it was found that corn roots would take up parathion and that the leaves and stalks of treated plants were toxic to the corn borer.

Parathion is one of the new organic insecticides. Plants won't absorb the others, such as DDT and BHC; but parathion is a phosphorous compound and phosphorous in the form of superphosphate is one of the three main plant foods elements used as fertilizer.

Parathion didn't get the job done on cotton insects in 1948 soil tests at A. & M. but in 1949 another of the many new phosphorous organic insecticides, octamethyl pyrophosphoramide, showed a lot of promise in tests run under a Research & Marketing Act project. Among other things, as little as one-fifth of a pound per acre applied to cottonseed at planting time took care of aphids and red spider mites for two months.

WITH U.N. IN NORTHERN GREECE—II:

Jeep Convoy, Labelled OHE, Means U.N. Is Paying a Call

By a Special United Nations Correspondent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following eye-witness report by a United Nations correspondent is the second of a series, telling how the U.N. Special Committee for the Balkans [UNSCOB] carries on its watch-dog duties in war-ravaged northern Greece. The previous article told of the problems faced by UNSCOB observers in the fields.)

ATHENS—The approach to Edessa on the road from Salonika is an unforgettable sight. In early spring, the rich farmlands along the road are dotted with blossoming almond trees. But what drew the eyes of the dozen delegates and staff members of the United Nations Special Committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB) on a recent, week-long, 600-mile survey of the northern frontiers of Greece, was the town itself.

Edessa, one-time capital of ancient Macedonia, is perched on a lofty cliff-top, which forms an imposing backdrop for the mountain-ringed plain below. At one extreme, a spectacular waterfall plunges down the cliff-side. At the other, a sharply winding road scales the height.

At noon on one day during March, a long string of UNSCOB jeeps in convoy, with a baggage truck bringing up the rear, wound its way rapidly up the road. In a country which within the last ten years has suffered two invasions and a bitter civil war, such a sight might have given cause for alarm. But the townspeople knew better. They could see not only that the occupants were unarmed but also that above the jeeps' front fenders fluttered familiar, blue flags and the letters OHE were displayed on the white-painted bodies of the jeeps. In Greek, OHE stands for U.N.

When the convoy reached the top of the cliff and rattled through the dusty streets of the picturesque old town, boys and girls of all ages, singly and in groups, appeared from all sides cheering and waving. As the jeeps drew to a halt in line and the UNSCOB party climbed out, it was quickly surrounded by a surging crowd of jostling, friendly youngsters. A chant, which rapidly became a swelling chorus, was soon taken up. The meaning of the chant was learned through the interpreter: "Bring us back our brothers..."

The problem of the return of Greek children, taken from their homes during the heat of civil war and returned to bordering countries, is not one which directly concerns UNSCOB; it was assigned by the U.N. General Assembly to the International Red Cross and Red Crescent societies.

What is technically known as the "terms of reference," or scope of work of UNSCOB, as laid down by the Assembly, however, includes not only observation tasks but also efforts to bring about resumption of normal relations between Greece, on the one hand, and Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, on the other.

During their tour of Greece's northern frontier areas, UNSCOB members were faced again and again, as in Edessa, with the problem of the return of the children and its possible international repercussions. It was this experience, as well as the constant campaign waged in the Greek press for the return of the children, that led Sam L. Atyeo of Australia, UNSCOB chairman for March, to declare at a press conference at the tour's end:

"If there is any one thing which can be singled out as an obstacle to the resumption of normal relations between Greece and her northern neighbors, it is this vexing and terrible question."

H. D. Week To Be Observed

College Station, May 4. Home demonstration clubs in 56,000 American communities will join in the observance of their fifth annual national week. Their national theme for the week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" and their meetings, tours, achievement days, radio programs, exhibits and articles in the press will all feature the theme, says Gladys Martin, acting vice director and state home demonstration agent of Texas A. & M. College.

From a small beginning in 1913, the home demonstration program of the Cooperative Extension Service has grown to the point where more than 3 million women are now participating. According to Miss Martin, approximately 43,000 women were enrolled in home demonstration work in Texas last year. Helping the county home demonstration agents spread information on nutrition, food production and preservation, home management, use of equipment, family relations, clothing the family, community activities, consumer buying and many other interests of rural families is being done by the thousands of volunteer leaders in the local clubs. Miss Martin reports that some 9,400 leader training meetings were held in Texas last year by local leaders.

Home demonstration work was conducted last year in approximately 170 Texas counties and 122 local home demonstration clubs. In the United States, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska, there are home demonstration agents conducting programs with homemakers in about 2,500 counties. These agents are cooperatively employed by the local county government, state agricultural college and the United States Department of Agriculture.

In Texas, as in other states, the rural homemakers are working to improve their own homes and to keep their families well and at the same time are joining with their neighbors to make their communities more desirable places to live. They are broadening their horizons and developing a better understanding of national and international affairs by actually participating in activities and programs that know no boundary lines.

During the week of April 30 to May 6, Texas home demonstration club members will be busy showing and telling the world just what they have done and what they expect to do. Their activities for the week, says Miss Martin, will be built around their state theme, "Better Homes Make For a Better World."

HEALTH NOTES

Austin, Texas, May 4. "Go in and out the window" is a line from a children's game which thousands of little youngsters have played for years. It may be used to describe something else, too, for flies like to go in and out windows. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer reports that fly infestation will be heavy this year. So, now is the time to kill those early flies, before they have a chance to produce thousands more during the summer.

These pests love to buzz around in uncovered garbage pails, stables, old privies, and in homes around uncovered food. Do you have a metal garbage pail with a tight-fitting lid? Are screens on your windows and doors in good repair? Waste should be removed from stables often, for horse manure is one of the chief breeding places of flies. Children can help to keep flies out of the house by keeping screen doors closed, and swatting the flies that enter the house.

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Hosea, (especially chapters 1-3)
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 121:1-2

Tragedy to Truth

Lesson for May 7, 1950

GOOD PREACHERS are not all of one kind. In listening to some of them, you have the impression that what this man says would be just as true if another man said it; that he is uttering a universal truth that might as well have been written on the sky; he is a voice, only a voice. In listening to other good preachers you have the impression that go other man could have said this as Dr. Foreman well as he; what he says is distilled from his own experience; he is not only a voice, he is a heart, and you hear the man's heart-beats all through his words. Now Hosea was this kind of prophet. You might say that his experience was the text of all his sermons.

And so They Were Married
THE STORY of Hosea is in chapters 1-3. (Experts in Old Testament study have never quite agreed as to the meaning of the story. However, the interpretation which is offered here is the one now held by the majority of scholars.) It is the story of Hosea's marriage to a girl named Gomer. If it was a normal marriage, he loved her with all his heart, and his hopes for the future were as bright as any young bridegroom's could be. In time they had a little boy named Jezreel.

Then came the second child, a girl named Phoenice. In Hebrew, that name means "No-Mercy." What a name for a little girl! But is it possible that Hosea named her for her mother—not for her mother's name but for her mother's character? At all events, things were not well in that home; indeed, it soon ceased to be a home. For when the third child was born, Hosea gave the boy the dreadful name of Lo-Ammi, No-Child.

Files carry germs on their fast-moving wings, in their tube-like mouths, on don their furry legs and feet. What are some of the diseases they spread? Typhoid fever, dysentery, and tuberculosis are spread by these insects who feed on germ-laden filth.

Clean-up campaigns, screening and spraying with insecticides are the best methods for getting rid of flies. There was no use in pretending any more. The home had collapsed, happiness had fled. No experience a man can have is more bitter than this, to know that the one great love of his life has been given to the wrong woman. But Gomer vanished, leaving Hosea, as such a woman would, to care for the three motherless children.

Home Again

HOW MANY MONTHS or years later it was we do not know. But one day, in the slave market, Hosea saw a woman for sale. The price was low (as slaves went in those days); evidently few buyers were expected. A half-price slave would not attract attention from most men, but Hosea looked twice. . . . Yes, it was his Gomer! Where she had been, who had abused her, made her a slave, how many times she had been sold and resold, no one knows. But there she was. Hosea might easily have stood and laughed bitterly in her bedraggled face. It serves her right, he might have thought. The way of the transgressor is hard, she made her bed and now she can lie in it. Justice has been done. I am avenged. And with a parting curse he might have gone his way.

Somehow 'neath all the shame and disillusionment, beneath the bitterness and the pain, still the old love was burning bright. Paying the small price asked, he took Gomer home again. Love had conquered evil.

Long before Christianity, Hosea did that rarely Christian thing. He did good to one who had done him harm. Gomer was unloving, unlovable; yet he loved her in spite of all.

Sermons From the Heart
THIS BITTER EXPERIENCE God turned into a blessing, for Hosea and for his nation and for us. In our study next week we shall see more of what God taught Hosea through these experiences.

But the first thing Hosea learned was that the experience was a lesson, God's lesson. We could even look back on the tragedy of his marriage and see that God was leading him all along, from the very first. God knew what sort of woman Gomer was and would be, yet he wished Hosea to marry her. God intended that he should go through just those years.

Without the tragedy, he could not have arrived at the truth. His sermons therefore came from the depths of his heart. Hosea, like all the prophets, denounced sin; like all the prophets, he could see the fatal effects of sin on his nation.

A "Big Package"—At A Low Price!

Kaiser-Frazer's new low-priced automobile is a "big package" as is demonstrated in the luggage display above. The 17 bags, including a steamer trunk and a foot locker, fit neatly into the sedan's new-type giant luggage compartment, which is formed by folding down the rear seat. And there's room left over for three front seat passengers. With the rear seat upright, the car is a roomy five-passenger sedan. The low, sleek styling of the new model is emphasized in the lower picture.

Gregory Motor Co., Local K - F Dealer, Reveals Details of New Low, Low- Priced Automobile

Willow Run, Mich. Kaiser-Frazer Corp. is announcing its low-priced car—a standard two-door sedan designed to introduce a new "low, low-priced" market in the automobile industry.

First details of the new automobile, which will go into production at the K-F Willow Run Plant on June 30, were made public today in an announcement which said the new car will deliver gasoline mileage upward from 30-35 miles per gallon.

Streamlined and attractively styled, the automobile will be shown publicly for the first time at the Chicago Auto Show Feb. 18 to 26.

With a low, sleek silhouette, the new car has a big interior with full five-passenger seating room and a new-type luggage-carrying arrangement which provides a cargo capacity more than double that of the largest conventional sedan trunks.

The two-door sedan will be offered in DeLuxe and Standard models with customer's choice of two new Kaiser "Supersonic" engines, a four and a six, both engineered for high performance efficiency with economical operation and maintenance.

Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board, said that the new automobile was designed and engineered against a background of seven years of low-priced car study, and the construction of many experimental models.

"Our goal," he said, "has been to achieve the best combination of automotive performance, styling and economy of operation. This we feel we have accomplished with a price which will be within the budgets of millions who have never been able to afford the purchase of a new automobile."

The new standard-tread car, he said, features "outstanding maneuverability in traffic and exceptional roadability on high-speed highways."

Imparting a genuinely fresh beauty and sparkle to the exterior styling are such features as upswept rear fenders and low front fender lines which fade away beneath the body.

The roof ascends in a graceful arc to an overall height of less than 60 inches, curving down to a "swish-back" rear treatment.

Functionalism and safety-styling dominate design throughout, as in the case of the low hood, which gives the driver a commanding view of the road, and a low "waist-line" which enables him to rest an arm comfortably on the window sill.

Costly, ornamental "frills" have been eliminated, and there is no excessive ornamentation inside or out.

An outstanding safety factor is the large expanse of safety glass throughout, particularly in the windshield, which has glass area comparable with that of any car in the industry's current "low-priced" field.

The need for stowing packages and luggage in a trunk which can be reached only from outside the car has been eliminated in the new automobile by a folding rear seat arrangement.

With the rear seat upright for passenger use, there is well over 20 cubic feet of space for luggage. With the seat folded down, the cargo space increases to 55 cubic feet—double that of the largest sedan trunks.

Overall interior space provides plenty of leg room for six-footers.

The new car is yet unnamed. A panel of judges is now going over more than 400,000 entries in the company's nationwide "Name-the-Car" contest which closed last month. The panel's choice will be disclosed at a later date, together with additional detailed specifications of the new car.

COLEEN GRAY and BING CROSBY in a happy, romantic scene from Paramount's "RIDING HIGH," with Charles Bickford.

"Riding High", New Crosby Picture Rated Tops By Movie Critics

Paramount's "Riding High," which opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, is a standout picture in any company and ranks as one of Bing Crosby's best. Produced and directed by Frank Capra, it has just about everything in the way of entertainment—a movie-goer could ask for.

There are sensational performances by Bing, who's in rare form, lovely Coleen Gray, Frances Gifford and Charles Bickford; there's a heartwarming, hilarious story by Mark Hellinger and a quartet of hit tunes including "Sunshine Cake," "Sure Thing," "Somewhere On Anywhere Road" and "The Horse Told Me," all of which you'll be whistling for some time to come.

A race-track devotee, Crosby owns a potential champion in Broadway Bill. However, his fiancée, Frances Gifford, wants him to sell the thoroughbred and take a job with her father. He refuses, to the delight of her youngest sister, Coleen Gray, who's in love with him, and vans the horse to an out-of-town track for a big race.

Unfortunately, there's an entry fee to be paid and Bing can't raise the money. All seems lost when Miss Gray appears on the scene and provides the necessary cash. It would not be fair to reveal the picture's climax for it packs a powerful emotional wallop.

Positively a "must see" on everybody's movie list, "Riding High" features William Demarest, Raymond Walburn, James Gleason, Ward Bond, Clarence Muse, Percy Kilbride and Harry Davenport.

The theme for the year, "Seven Phases of Education", was culminated in an address by Mr. Alfred Walker. In evaluating education Mr. Walker said, "Education is a process for attaining truth." He suggested that members of the 20th Century Club and others, from habits of evaluating information and he said to keep education pure, it must be guarded against, "education by indoctrination."

In a brief business session two members were welcomed into the club. At the close of the business session, the new officers were installed. They were Mrs. O. C. Arthur, president; Mrs. Eric Foster, 1st vice-president; Mrs. J. C. McNeill, Sr. 2nd vice-president; Mrs. B. F. Hale, recording secretary; Mrs. L. D. Ratliff, treasurer; Mrs. O. L. Kelley, correspondence secretary; Mrs. P. C. Nichols, reporter; and Mrs. W. S. Patrick was appointed delegate to the City Federation.

Three members of the 20th Century Club are members of the District Federated Club: Mrs. O. M. McGinty, Mrs. T. H. Blackwell, and Mrs. O. L. Kelley. Mrs. O. C. Arthur as president-elect of the local organization accompanied these board members to the District meeting in Memphis on April 26, 27, and 28. Instructional and inspirational reports were presented by these members. "Honorable mention" was accorded for two phases of the program for the year in the 20th Century Club of Spur and that award of ten dollars was given to the club for work in public welfare directed by Mrs. Cliff Bird during the year.

Miss Faye Middlebrooks presented her all girl chorus in four special numbers for a part of the afternoon program.

Refreshments of punch, lime sherbert, mints, and nut were served to Mesdames, O. C. Arthur, Cliff Bird, T. H. Blackwell, E. L. Caraway, F. B. Crockett, Eric Foster, Henry Gruben, B. F. Hale, E.

Fewer Religions More Religion

By George Peck

What America and the world need today is fewer religions and more religion; fewer tenets, rituals and dogmas and a heap more of the milk of human kindness.

More of the misfortunes of mankind are brought about by the failure of individuals to respect the rights and feelings of others, by their total disregard of the fundamental tenet of all religions.

Many people have the idea that the better qualities of mankind can be cured by government legislation, regulation and handouts. How wrong they are! You cannot legislate decency into an individual; you do not create an upright citizen by government regulation; and government handouts tend to debase rather than elevate the recipients.

Others believe that regularly attending church, or financially supporting a church, ends their obligation to society. Either or both are praiseworthy and are to be encouraged, but, by themselves alone, will not bring about the redemption of mankind. Only by being patient, more understanding, more mingle, can a better America and a better world be achieved. Sympathetic understanding and consideration of our neighbors, our friends, yes even our enemies, will enable us to overlook their real or imaginary faults which so greatly annoy us.

Within the last thirty-three years America has fought two great wars against cruelty and oppression—against the pagan doctrine that any action has the right to force its dictum on another people. Currently we are fighting a cold war with the dictators of another nation whose avowed goal is to subjugate all the inhabitants of the earth.

Did we fight these two shooting wars in vain; are we now fighting a losing cold war? An honest appraisal reveals that we did and are. Unless America experiences a spiritual regeneration; if we do not substitute the words "sympathy, understanding and sacrifice" for "my rights and gimmie," it is inevitable that we will lose the cold war.

There is too much of hatred, brutality and suffering running rampant throughout the world today. As the most prosperous and enlightened nation on earth, it behooves us to set an example for the rest of the world. We must resolve not to add to its woes by any harsh word or overt act. We must be cheerful, more kind, more self-sacrificing in our day-to-day contacts with our fellow-Americans, beginning in the bosom of our own families and fanning out to all with whom we come in touch.

Self-sacrifice is the child of love, and is of the being of God. Yes, we need fewer religions and more religion—less hatred and more love—less nation united in the bonds of mutual understanding and spiritual fellowship.

Pagan Communism can not prevail against a cursing and more prayer—fewer "gimmies" and more giving. First, we must purge ourselves, then material and spiritual victory must ultimately be ours.

Color Film Made Of Game Life

made movie about wild deer, staged in their natural habitat, will be released soon by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, according to the Director of the Department of Publications.

The film is in color, bears complete sound, and has been almost two years in the making. The name is "Master Whitetail." It is a historical and documentary story of the white-tailed deer in

Film Star Enlists in U.N. Narcotics Drive

Actor Gary Cooper is welcomed to U.N. Headquarters at Lake Success, N. Y., by Benjamin Cohen, U.N. Assistant Secretary-General for Public Information. Mr. Cooper visited U.N. to record the commentary for a radio program entitled "Shooting Gallery" and describing the U.N. Narcotic Commission's efforts to control the illegal drug traffic. "Shooting Gallery" will be aired over hundreds of stations in the world's English-speaking countries.

Texas, linking the animal's original and present status with the arrival and advance of civilization.

Tentative plans are to make probably a dozen copies of the movie. Demands on the department's motion picture library indicate a growing interest in wildlife movies. The new cinema is expected to attract even greater attention toward authentic wildlife films made in Texas.

"Master Whitetail" typifies the educational trend in wildlife activities. It emphasizes the crisis to game after man began cultivating the soil on an ever increasing scale. It stresses the restoration efforts of game management forces and above all, explains the indispensability of public cooperation in modern conservation programs. The part set aside for sportsmen is magnified.

"Master Whitetail" begins with a covered wagon scene depicting settlers moving into a land "almost untouched by human hands." It shows how established supplies were left behind. The new arrivals thus had to depend on game for food and at times had to slaughter animals for their furs as a means of income. The story does that one Texas trading post along shipped 75,000 deer hides to New York between 1844 and 1853.

The film traces the first statutory efforts to check wildlife devastation around the turn of the century and portrays the gradual protect wildlife and the kindred necessity for strengthened laws to steps to restore the once limitless, big game herds.

Above all, "Master Whitetail" is woven around the life span of a buck deer, showing him in his wobbly-legged infancy. It vividly pictures how he immediately reacts to danger from predators and takes him through the adventurous and exciting days of babyhood, fawn spots and all, and on into maturity, and with his first antlers.

Most of the filming was done in the Texas Hill Country or Edwards Plateau of Central Texas. The premier of the movie probably will be held in that area but the place and date have not been set. Meanwhile, there will be a preview for the press at a central location.

BRIGHT NEW TOUCH TO A BIG BOLD BEAUTY
See something new here? That's right—the gleaming sweepstreak now adorns the fenders of this ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan. An extra touch of distinction that's yours as a standard item.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboard gravel and weatherpocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflo Drive.*

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by jounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick. You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SPECIAL models.

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

HEALTH NOTES

Austin, Texas, May 4. "Go in and out the window" is a line from a children's game which thousands of little youngsters have played for years. It may be used to describe something else, too, for flies like to go in and out windows. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer reports that fly infestation will be heavy this year. So, now is the time to kill those early flies, before they have a chance to produce thousands more during the summer.

These pests love to buzz around in uncovered garbage pails, stables, old privies, and in homes around uncovered food. Do you have a metal garbage pail with a tight-fitting lid? Are screens on your windows and doors in good repair? Waste should be removed from stables often, for horse manure is one of the chief breeding places of flies. Children can help to keep flies out of the house by keeping screens closed, and swatting the flies that enter the house.

SCRIPTURE: Hosea, (especially chapters 1-3)
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 121: 1-3

Tragedy to Truth
Lesson for May 7, 1950

GOOD PREACHERS are not all of one kind. In listening to some of them, you have the impression that what this man says would be just as true if another man said it; that he is uttering a universal truth that might as well have been written on the sky; he is a voice, only a voice. In listening to other good preachers you have the impression that no other man could have said this as well as he; what he says is distilled from his own experience; he is not only a voice, he is a heart, and you hear the man's heart-beats all through his words. Now Hosea was this kind of prophet. You might say that his experience was the text of all his sermons.

And so They Were Married THE STORY of Hosea is in chapters 1-3. (Experts in Old Testament study have never quite agreed as to the meaning of the story. However, the interpretation which is offered here is the one now held by the majority of scholars.) It is the story of Hosea's marriage to a girl named Gomer. If it was a normal marriage, he loved her with all his heart, and his hopes for the future were as bright as any young bridegroom's could be. In time they had a little boy named Jezreel.

Then came the second child, a girl named Luliani. In Hebrew, that name means "No-Mercy." What a name for a little girl! But is it possible that Hosea named her for her mother—not for her mother's name but for her mother's character? At all events, things were not well in that home; indeed, it soon ceased to be a home. For when the third child was born, Hosea gave the boy the dreadful name of Lo-Ammi, No-Child.

Flies carry germs on their fast-moving wings, in their tube-like mouths, and on their furry legs and feet. What are some of the diseases they spread? Typhoid fever, dysentery, and tuberculosis are spread by these insects who feed on germ-laden filth. Clean-up campaigns, screening, and spraying with insecticides are the best methods for getting rid of flies. There was no use in pretending any more. The home had collapsed. Happiness had fled. No experience a man can have is more bitter than this, to know that the one great love of his life has been given to the wrong woman. But Gomer vanished, leaving Hosea, as such a woman would, to care for the three motherless children.

Home Again HOW MANY MONTHS of 1935 later it was we do not know. But one day, in the slave market, Hosea saw a woman for sale. The price was low (as slaves went in those days); evidently few buyers were expected. A half-price slave would not attract attention from most men, but Hosea looked twice. . . . Yes, it was his Gomer! Where she had been, who had abused her, made her a slave, how many times she had been sold and resold, no one knows. But there she was. Hosea might easily have stood and laughed bitterly in her bedraggled face. It serves her right, he might have thought. The way of the transgressor is hard, she made her bed and now she can lie in it. Justice has been done, I am avenged. And with a parting curse he might have gone his way.

Somehow beneath all the shame and disillusionment, beneath the bitterness and the pain, still the old love was burning bright. Paying the small price asked, he took Gomer home again. Love had conquered evil.

Long before Christianity, Hosea did that rarely Christian thing, he did good to one who had done him harm. Gomer was unloving, unlovable; yet he loved her in spite of all.

Sermons From the Heart THIS BITTER EXPERIENCE God turned into a blessing, for Hosea and for his nation and for us. In our study next week we shall see more of what God taught Hosea through these experiences.

But the first thing Hosea learned was that the experience was a lesson, God's lesson. He could even look back on the tragedy of his marriage and see that God was leading him all along, from the very first. God knew what sort of woman Gomer was and would be, yet he wished Hosea to marry her. God intended that he should go through just those years.

Without the tragedy, he could not have arrived at the truth. His sermons thenceforth came from the depths of his heart. Hosea, like all the prophets, denounced sin; like all the prophets, he could see the fatal effects of sin on his nation. Ford does it again

Ford's the first car ever to receive the coveted New York Fashion Academy medal in two consecutive years

Named "Fashion Car of the Year" second year in a row

All the world of Fashion looks to New York's famed Fashion Academy as an authority on style. So it's no wonder Ford is proud to receive their medal as "Fashion Car of the Year" for the second straight year. Never before was a car honored by two Fashion Academy Awards in a row! Here's proof that Ford has succeeded in bringing style to the low-price field—style even far costlier cars can't match.

Texans Report "Flying Saucers" In Areas of Lone Star State

Austin, Texas May 4. At least 80,000 Texas adults will seriously tell you they have seen "flying saucers."

This estimate is based on findings of a statewide survey by The Texas Poll conducted during the first week of April. No telling how many more have seen the mysterious disc-like objects since then.

Two of every hundred men and women interviewed in the survey claimed to have seen "flying saucers" in the skies over Texas. Their eye-witness reports placed the objects over nearly every part of the state.

Repeated denials from official sources apparently haven't satisfied the general public. A majority believes "flying saucers" are real, according to the survey. Gaining wide acceptance is the story that the discs are a secret development by the U. S. Government.

These findings are disclosed in a survey of 1,000 representatives men and women living in all parts of the state. Trained interviewers asked adults the following questions:

1. "Have you heard or read anything about the flying saucers?"

2. All who had heard or read "flying saucers" or claimed to have seen them were asked: "Do you believe the flying saucers are real, or do you think people who see them are just imagining things?"

3. Each person who said he believed "flying saucers" are real was asked: "What do you think is the best explanation of the flying saucers?"

Persons who insisted they had seen "flying saucers" were quizzed in some detail as to where and when they had seen the objects and what they looked like. Miss Anna Klatt of LaGrange, for example, said she and several others had seen a disc over Weimar last May. "We didn't discuss it much because we thought it was something the army was doing," she said.

Mrs. Floyd Henderson of Matador reported she and her husband saw what looked "like a big star with a long tail" about 15 miles north of Matador on March 5. "It moved swiftly, and would disappear and then reappear again. We watched it about thirty minutes."

Richard T. Jones of San Antonio reported he and several patients in Brooks General Hospital saw what might have been a "flying saucer" east of the hospital on April 5. "It looked shiny like a star, very high and moving fast to the east," he said. "I could see it first from the west and watched it for ten minutes until it went out of sight in the east."

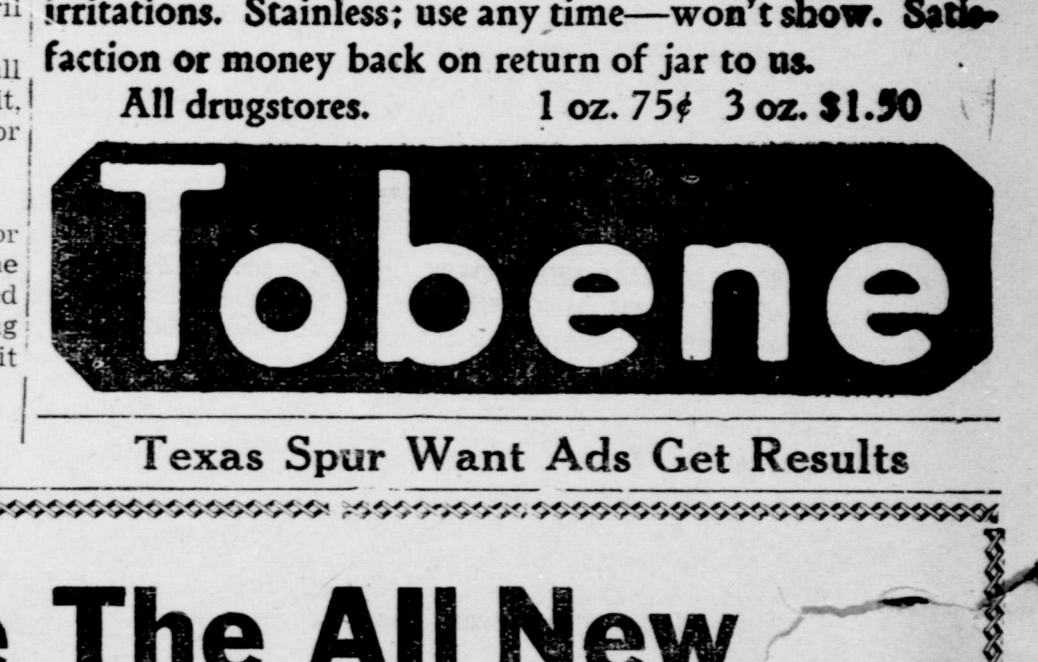

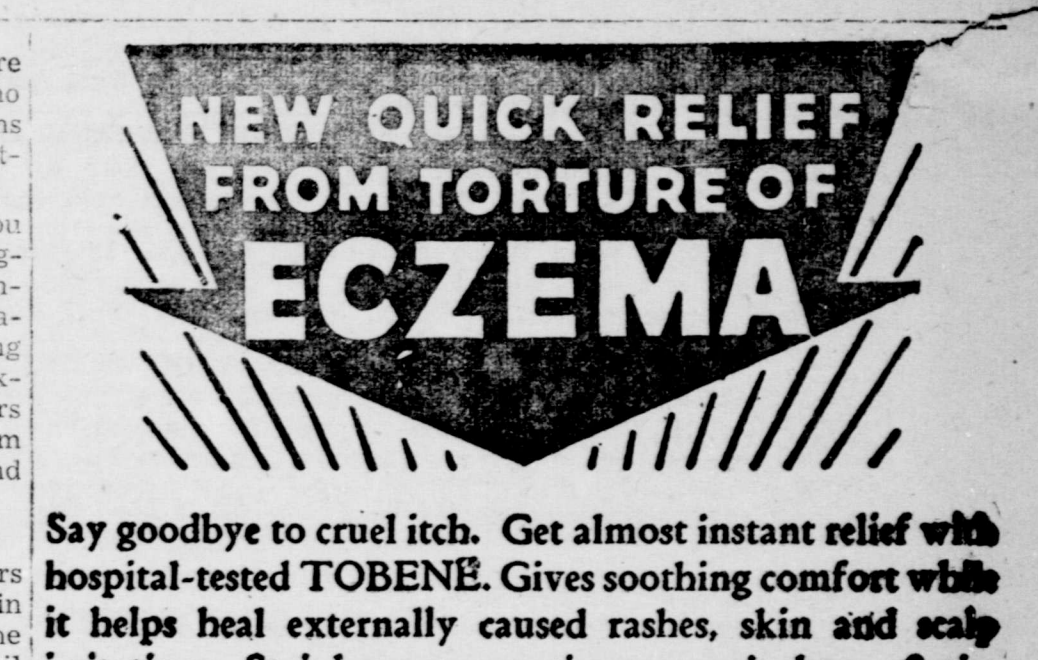

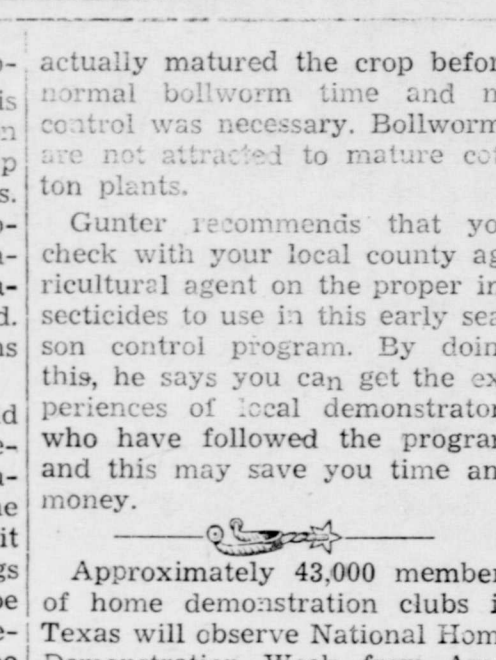

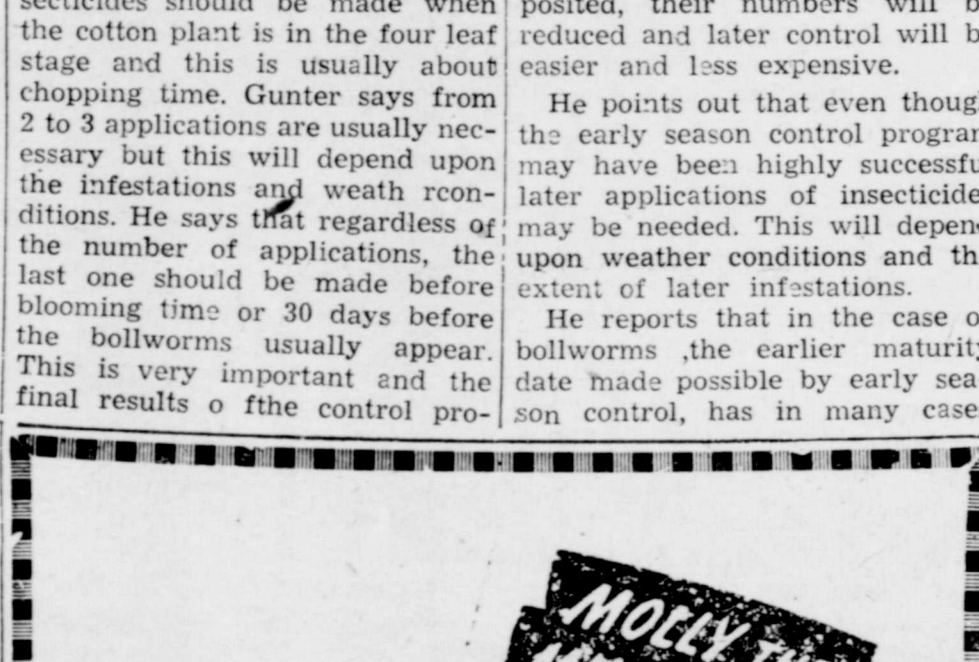

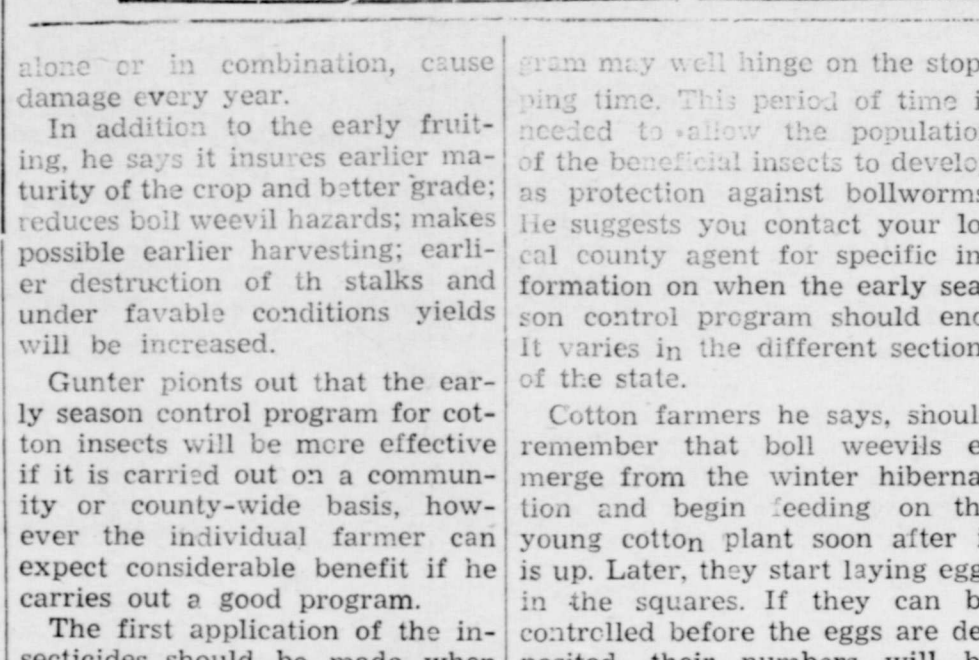

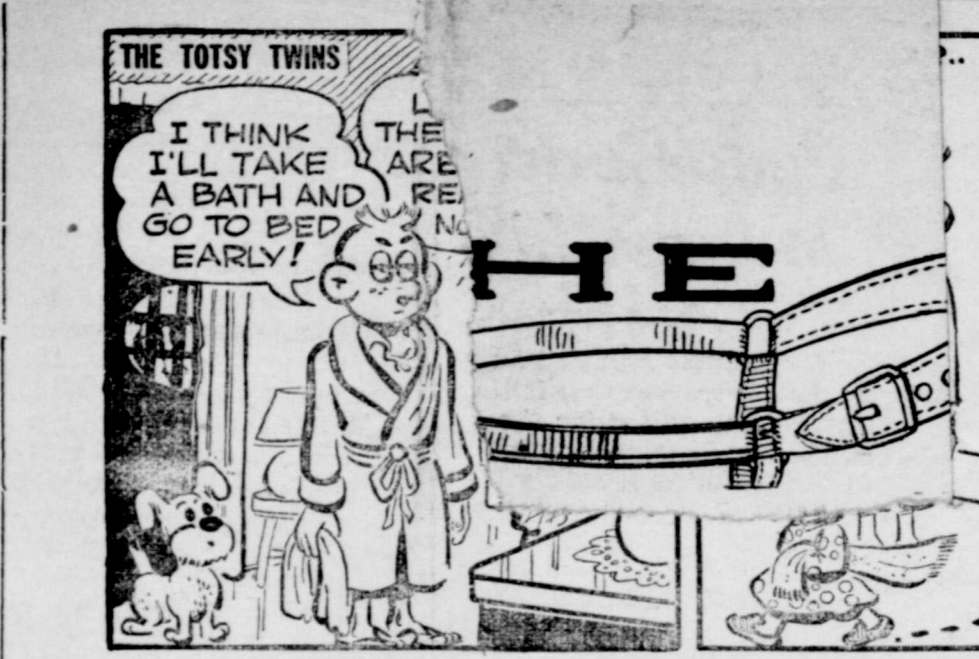

Mrs. Charles Bandy of Lubbock said she and about eighteen others were on a picnic near Seagraves when they saw two flying discs. "They were traveling parallel to each other, very high in the sky," she said. "At times they would turn at an angle, and you could see they were round—just like a kitchen saucer."

Other reports of "flying saucers" came from Houston, Bryan Garrison, Laredo, Austin, Denton, Tyler, Pearland, Winters, and Schulenburg.

The estimate that about 80,000 Texans say they have seen the objects is based on the fact that there are slightly more than four million adults in the state, and two out of every hundred report sightings.
