This Week's Scripture Verse

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. Ecclesiastes 12:13

Whoa, Now!

By Gaudy Lashley

Oil and the business it brings to cities like ours can be a curse. We feel that we are definitely in line for a considerable amount of oil business in the days ahead and whether it proves to be a blessing or a curse depends entirely on us, the present citizens.

We can do one of three things with this additional business and population when it gets here—First, we can all jack up the prices of our property, services and commodities to make our city very undesirable and unattractive to newcomers. If this course is chosen, after a few months we won't have to worry any more because all the business will be gone elsewhere.

Second, we can scare any additional business away by failing to stay abreast with an increase in business activity. We can fail to offer the necessary facilities needed to accommodate these oil field employees. By closing our eyes to immediate needs of our city to absorb and comfortably carry a larger population, we can slip in the bad any prospects of becoming a larger, more diversified city.

Third, we can welcome the additional business and population which comes with oil production with the friendly welcome our city is known for. We can strive to meet the needs of a larger population by wise business and real estate dealings. We can open the doors of our churches, homes, civic and service organizations to members of the oil business and their families. We can show by our every-day actions that we recognize them as fellow citizens and human beings and not just a potential dollar in our pocket. By our own actions we can show any newcomer to Spur that we're a law-abiding, peace-loving West Texas town where anyone welcome mat out to anyone willing to help us keep it that.

We're proud of our little city and most of us intend to raise our families here—oil boom or no oil boom. As we consider the possibilities of a nearby oil field, we'll all keep a level head and give no man reason to say that Spur was a fine little town BEFORE the oil boom.

It's very difficult and possibly unethical for us to criticize the news coverage of another publication, but at present we feel that a criticism is in order. We realize that Spur is located in the outer rim of the Lubbock Avenue news scope of coverage and that there are many, many other towns our size in their vast coverage area.

However, we feel that possibly our friends up there could have devoted more than an inch and a half of space to our championship basketball game this week.

One observer noticed that a chess game in a college dorm received more space and a better position than did the District 6-AA championship basketball tilt. Coach Sam Hawkes boys seem to have their eye on that Regional championship to be determined next week end, however, so maybe they'll notice little us then.

Our being a member of the local Lions Club plus our being on the front line in the can-can number, we just can't keep from plugging the coming Lionzapoppin Show. We, or anyone else, could never describe just what it will be like or what patrons can expect (that, no one knows), but we can safely state that it will be something the like of which you've never seen before!

GRAND WINS OVER PEACOCK IN BASKETBALL MONDAY

The Girard boys' and girls' basketball team played the Peacock boys and girls Monday night, February 16. Scores for the game were in Girard's favor with the girls' score 23-13 and the boys' score 41-26.

The Girard grade school team will enter the tournament at Cleburne this week end.

Bulldogs Win District Championship Friday

END DISTRICT PLAY UNDEFEATED GIRLS ALSO TAKE DISTRICT CROWN

The Spur Bulldogs are the 1933 District 6-AA basketball champions. The title was won Friday night as the locals roared over Tahoka 48-43.

As an aftermath to winning the district championship, the quietest polished off Post 61-50 Tuesday night to finish the season with an unmarred district record.

For the entire season the Bulldogs sport a 13-5 win-loss record.

The champs will enter the regional tournament in Lubbock next week and will vie with seven other AA teams for a spot in the state tournament. Coach Sam Hawkes states that the regional affair will be a single elimination tournament.

Throughout the 23-game schedule the Bulldogs have scored a total of 1113 points to average 48 per game. Joe Bell led in individual scoring with 303 points. Even before the district championship.

The Spur high school girls basketball team is sharing the limelight with the boys by being named winners of the girls 6-AA district championship.

Coach Billy Hahn's girls met with defeat at Post Tuesday night for their first district loss. However, the Post girls have reportedly decided to accept a berth in the Texas league's tournament rather than play off the tie with Spur for the spot in the interscholastic league tourney. Coach Hahn and Supt. C. F. Cook both state that the forfeit by the Post team leaves Spur the sole possessor of the championship.

As a matter of record and reason and not as a excuse, Coach Hahn reports that four of his starting team were on the sick list down at Post. Spur defeated Post by some 19 points in their first encounter.

The girls will go to the regional tournament in Lubbock the first week end in March. Coach Hahn states that the team will match one or two games before that time but not before the ailing players are back up to par.

Rotary Program Is Given By Boy Scouts

E. A. Brashear was program chairman at the noon meeting of the Spur Rotary Club Thursday, February 12.

C. F. Cook introduced the following visiting Rotarians: Judge Alton Chapman, Fred McGinty, Bill Hardin, Oiles McCrary of Post and Lewis Herrin of Post. Visitors introduced were Joe Hunkel, Charles Witt, Howard Collins, Walter Fedford.

Brashear introduced Cecil Fox local Scoutmaster, who led the program. Fox told of his career in Boy Scouting, and he and the Scouts repeated the Scout oath and laws together. Following this, the club and the Scouts stood and quoted the Pledge of Allegiance.

A group consisting of five sang "For Me and My Gal," "Bill Grogan's Goat," "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane." Jerry Whitmire gave a few examples of First Aid with his brother, Gary, acting as the victim. Laddie Pierce reported briefly on his trip to Philmont Scout Ranch last summer.

The club meeting was dismissed after announcements were made.

OIL FOUND 10 MI. SOUTH OF SPUR

NO. 1 G. F. SMITH TO BE COMPLETED AS COUNTY'S FIRST PRODUCER

Oil has been found in Dickens county and attempt is now being made to complete a discovery well at the Pacific Western Oil Co. No. 1 G. F. Smith prospect located ten miles south of Spur.

The originally scheduled 7,400 foot wildcat is located just north of the Dickens-Kent county line 1,800 feet from north and 600 feet from west lines of Section 108, Block 1, H&GN Survey.

Oil talk and activity here in Spur took on new highs since Francis' failure, north of town last year. At the present there are no producing wells in the county.

Although the extent of production anticipated by leaseholders and the extent of the deposit located cannot be known, the discovery has met wide acclaim among oil men over the state and is looked toward with much fond anticipation by local land owners and businessmen.

Unverified but reasonably reliable sources locally indicate that at least three offsets will be started within the next 90 days, probably to the north, east and west of the discovery.

Minerals of near-by property started selling at $50 per acre early Monday morning, soon after the discovery was known, and had reached $100 and more by late last night. Unverified reports are that some of the near-by property owners are flat refusing to sell minerals at this time while others are asking prohibitive prices.

A local source indicated yesterday afternoon that it will take two or three weeks to determine the true potentiality of this find and could possibly take a deeper well to insure any long-time production in the county.

However large or small the discovery might be, though, it marks a new era in oil activity in the county. The additional exploration work and development work necessitated by this one discovery will definitely be of favorable consequence for Spur and the county.

Reports released yesterday afternoon indicate that the total depth of the well is 4,534 feet in Lower Permian sandy lime. The section, previously had been reported to be a sand section of the Pennsylvanian. Casing will run to the total depth.

The casing will be perforated between 4,375-4,425 feet where the project yielded free oil on a drill stem test.

The first test was taken on that interval. Tool was open for 3 hours. Gas came to the surface in 43 minutes, however, there was no report of gusher or estimates of volume. No fluid came to the top.

Recovery was 3,900 feet of free oil and 300 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut drilling mud, which was 50-75 per cent oil. Gravity of the oil was 36 degrees. There was no formation water.

Open bottom hole pressure was 1,240 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 1,648 pounds. Operators then drilled ahead to 4,458 feet and took another drill-stem test from 4,415-4,456 feet.

That test was open for one hour and 46 minutes. Recovery was 180 feet of drilling mud plus 3,711 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil of gas. This section, which showed water, will be shut off.

The pay section, a sand, was tentatively topped at 4,410 feet. The project is being drilled under the supervision of Skelly Oil Co., as Pacific Western does not have a drilling division.

There is no nearby production.

Death Claims Father Of Eric Swenson

A. J. Swenson, 69, pioneer West Texas and father of Eric Swenson of Spur, died at his home in Stamford Saturday, February 14. He had been bedfast for several years.

Born November 18, 1863, in Nassjo, Jonkoping, Sweden, he came to the United States at the age of 18. He returned to Sweden in 1887 expecting to stay but returned after one summer during which he became engaged to Selma Augusta Anderson.

They were married in New Sweden, Texas, in 1899, two years after he had left Sweden. They moved to a place near Anson Mr. Swenson had acquired before the marriage. Mrs. Swenson died in 1934 at Stamford.

After five years near Anson, the couple moved to the Ellerslie ranch, a part of the SMS ranch northwest of Stamford. Mrs. Swenson became superintendent of the SMS holdings in 1897. The Ellerslie ranch, where Mr. Swenson made his headquarters, developed purebred Hereford and shorthorn cattle, making a name for the ranch in the Southwest.

Judge Coombes made the following statement about Mr. Swenson when he presented him with the Most-Useful-Citizen Trophy in 1940: "If the man awarded the trophy as Stamford's most useful citizen has any faults, I have never been able to detect them. His honesty is proverbial. He is honest as well with himself as with others."

He is survived by three sons, J. E. (Eric), manager of Emery Ranches, Spur; W. G. (Bill), manager and vice president of Swenson Land and Cattle Co. and president of the Texas Cowboy Reunion; and M. ### SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON HARPER

American admen are reputed to be the world's greatest creators of clichés and slogans designed to sell a bill of goods.

Yes, London slogan makers do very well when the stakes are high.

London has come up with a new dandy in "Trade-Not-Aid."

It's a catchy slogan in the best Churchillian style, commanding attention.

The C. W. Harber United States should eliminate import tariffs so British goods can flood the American market, replacing U. S. business output and U. S. employment.

In the November election returns, the British realized American voters registered a protest against the continuation of vast tax-wasting inflation-causing foreign give-away programs.

Therefore, British policy makers launched this slogan.

Among the first to sound the alarm in Washington was Sen. George W. Malone (Rep., Nev.)

"Workingmen and inventors of this nation," he states, "have been abused and mystified by the flood of biased editorial articles in national magazines and one economic world columnist's mounting with surprising similarity the trade, not aid catch phrase."

It is now clear, the Senator says, "that the bombardment for the division of the markets of this nation with the low wage being standard labor of Europe and Asia is being directed by the sterling bloc countries led by England using Marshall Plan funds."

British policy makers consist of National Federation of Independent Business

ently refuse to recognize why the American market is by far the world's richest.

In Britain and all Europe, widespread ownership of automobiles, television and radio sets, mechanical refrigerators, and other conveniences is unthinkable. Vast monopolies, or cartels, control the markets. In doing so, they make it impossible for mass ownership of goods, but at the same time they prevent any independent firms from entering any given industrial field and taking a share of the volume away from the cartel in control of that field, even though new employment and wealth would be created.

In Washington a substantial group takes this attitude. It was thought American dollars would help Britain and Europe to prosper. Despite billions spent the job was in vain. Now Europe wants to flood the American market with cheap, foreign goods. That, too, would fail.

This group believes there is only one solution to the British and European problem. That is for them to adopt the very same American anti-trust laws that they, allied with U. S. internationalists, have been feverishly working to tear down.

Years ago General Douglas MacArthur said "America is a rich storehouse that any nation would like to plunder."

General MacArthur did not distinguish between friendly or enemy nations. Today, so-called friendly nations are engaged in a drive to plunder America, with the excuse their own survival depends upon it. Yet, they have never tried to adopt the free enterprise system that has made America wealthy.

Failing to do so, they are now in the position of saying "Let's all commit suicide together."

BAPTIST CIRCLES

The Baptist Circles of the First Baptist Church met in a group meeting at the church Monday, February 16.

Mrs. C. P. Scudder presided at the business meeting. Mrs. O. R. Cloude was elected as young people's secretary.

Those having part on the program were Mrs. Tommie Allen, "Right Way to Salvation" and "What Southern Baptists are Doing Among the Mormons." Mrs. Wilson, "The Mormons Believe and the Organization of Their Church." Mrs. Joe Long led the closing prayer.

Approximately thirty people attended the meeting.

Easy Recipes to Brighten Lenten Meals

Golden pineapple with shrimp makes a delicious and satisfying salad for meatless days.

Ever thought of combining fish with fruit? This idea is particularly timely now during Lent when meatless dinners are in order and you'll find that the fresh, exciting flavor of golden pineapple will lend new and appealing interest to your menu. Pineapple is universally popular and so versatile it is a perfect flavor-mate with any fish; fresh or frozen halibut, sole, bass or any of the canned varieties such as tuna, salmon, shrimp or crab. You can use pineapple rings or chunks as an accompaniment for broiled or fried fish, or as a stuffing for baked fish, and a colorful topping of pineapple tidbits will lend inviting flavor to fish canapés. In main-dish salads, which are especially important during this Lenten season, the addition of pineapple will make them doubly appealing to the eye and more satisfying to eat.

PINEAPPLE SHRIMP SALAD
2 cups fresh or canned shrimp or crab
1 cup pineapple tidbits or chunks
1/2 cup French dressing
1 cup sliced celery

Combine bread crumbs, melted butter or margarine, salt, celery and pineapple. Toss lightly to blend. Place 1/2 inch of stuffing on each fillet, roll and secure with a toothpick. Arrange in a shallow baking pan. Add sauce to white sauce and stir until blended. Pour over fish. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

So This is HOUSEKEEPING

Having just won a signal victory, I'm prepared to state that some simple experimenting in typist work will save many precious hours trying to persuade a husband to go somewhere, do something, buy something!

As a mute testimony to my point, our house is now graced by a new Whirlpool clothes dryer to match my automatic washing machine in a beautiful spot!

Over a period of days as opening wedges I tried: "My dear, this is the weather. It's too hot to wear your heavy clothes. You can look forward to this year as I can't hang out the clothes and your shirts won't get done."

Jeff: "Doggone it, I've got to have a shirt tomorrow!" (Only a few men will see the point without further prodding.)

Flattery: Me: "You're so much smarter than I am, explain something to me. One of the features of the dryer I'd like to get is that it automatically shuts off both the heat and tumbler when the door is opened accidentally or on purpose. That's an important safety factor but I don't know how it works."

Jeff: "Sorry, I don't know either." (Some mechanically-minded men will jump at this opportunity.)

Practical Approach: Me: "The new dryer I have in mind has all sorts of wonderful advantages like an ultraviolet lamp to keep clothes air-fresh, capacity of 20 pounds of wet clothes, an automatic safety thermostat, a smoother tumbler surface that's gentle on clothes, only two dials to operate..."

Jeff: "That's nice." (Practicality is the thing a number of husbands can't resist.)

Feet and Figures: Me: "Whirlpool Corporation is the world's largest manufacturer of home laundry appliances and they say that a clothes dryer actually saves 250 hours over clothesline drying. I needn't go into detail but it's the Feet and Figures that paved the way toward convincing my type spouse. Now that I know the format I won't waste time with hints, practical approaches or flattery. As I say, once you have him, you've got the rest in case!"

Bogart Due In "The African Queen," John Huston's Thrilling Technicolor Drama

Humphrey Bogart, Katharine Hepburn and director John Huston, three of Hollywood's outstanding artists, combine their talents in a strikingly unusual adventure drama, "The African Queen," which has its premiere at the Palace Theatre on Sunday through United Artists release.

Filed in Technicolor on location in Africa it is the result of a ten-week trek of 6,000 miles which took the director, the stars and crew to the dangerously exciting interior of the Belgian Congo.

A starkly realistic film, "The African Queen" is based on the thrilling novel of the same title by C. S. Forester, author of "Hullabaloo" and "The African Queen." It stars Bogart and Hepburn as a romantic team, and they emerge individually in characterizations which hit new heights of excitement and tenderness, emotion and charm that have already won them widespread critical acclaim as the best performers of their talent-filled career.

Extraordinary, too is Huston's direction, marked by a spicy humor that reveals yet another facet of his all-around brilliance in relating a tale of suspense and high drama.

"The African Queen" was produced by S. P. Eagle as an Horizon-Romulus Production, from a James Agee-John Huston screenplay. It tells the story of a tough little river-boatman, played by Bogart, and the prim, straight-laced sister of an English missionary who finds love in a wild adventure which takes them down a danger-crowded African river in a small boat with the self-planned mission of destroying a full-armed German gunboat in World War I.

Those attending were Mrs. Mmes. Clarence Foreman, Pat Soloday, Joyce Gilinson, Loyd Robertson, Vivian Gibson, Andy Hurst, Leonard Wilson Sr., Van North, Walker, O. D. Thompson, Raymond Beadle, Wilburn Ball, Neitha Campbell, J. D. McCain, James Cowan, C. O. Fox, Miss Will Hampton, Rev. and Mrs. Call Wright and the hostesses, Mrs. Hurst and Mrs. Henry.

New Notes in Cooking

Easy on the cook—easy on the budget. Ac'cent'-seasoned corn (with chopped green pepper and onion for flavor) baked in a shallow dish with little pork hams on top. The sausage flavor bakes into the corn—the whole affair smelt in tantalizing—the same cuts so hearty. Wonderful one-dish supper.

Now's a flavor tip for pot-roast. Rub a little powdered ginger on roast just before you dredge the meat with flour in preparation for searing and browning.

Two accompaniments to hearty soup will warm—a bowl of sour cream and a bowl of dry sausage balls (poached in water until done). Spoon some of each (into the soup bowl according to taste).

Fold cooked spaghetti, ground cheese and a bit of chopped onion and tomato, toss together, season with the ingredients, and well blended. Arrange on your plate (into glass or ceramic bowls) and garnish with a little Ac'cent' hot sauce.

If dried chicken needs a quick wash, try hot water (boiling) with a dash of lemon, soaked with white doves or "laced" with strips of pineapple.

Large onions, peeled and packed with heavy tender, fish baked in cream of mushroom soup (the cream of mushroom soup is the best) and a dash of lemon juice de luxe—even de luxe when you sprinkle buttered crumbs or crushed potato chips on top before baking.

JESS... That old, but still unanswerd question "Which comes first, the chicken or the egg?" is being argued in Washington. The question is: "Should we cut taxes now, or balance the budget first?" There are two camps within the republican party. President Eisenhower has told Congress to cut taxes until the budget is balanced. But Congressmen... The end of controls should reduce the payroll to some extent, but there is a feeling in Washington that more severe pruning could save billions in taxes per year. But it is a vague sort of feeling. We can know just exactly where to start cutting. In the meantime, independent businessmen are generally heartened by Administration's recognition that present tax laws are unfair to small business. Independent businessmen generally believe that no business can stand still and survive. A business either grows or perishes. The owners of small businesses do not seek a tax advantage which will increase their personal incomes at the expense of other groups. But in order to continue in business, and to create more employment which will be needed to take up the slack when war industries end, does require a tax revision to permit them to invest more of their earnings into expansion. Since Korea, many huge corporations were granted a special war emergency tax relief amounting to billions of dollars to build new facilities for use in defense work now for civilian operations later on. But independent businessmen feel now is the time to grant tax relief for the coming peacetime emergency. As always, independent business must furnish the majority of the employment if a depression is to be avoided.

If you like rice, you'll love this! Heat 1/2 cup margarine in a skillet till bubbling; add 1 1/2 cup rice, stir constantly till it turns yellow. Add a chopped onion and cook till rice is golden brown. Add 1 1/2 cup boiling bouillon and continue cooking over medium heat. When liquid has evaporated, add more in small amounts. Cook 20 minutes or until done. This recipe serves 6.

Always thought that water should be dabbed on any clothing spot and quickly! But I learned my lesson the other day when I spilled sauce on a print. My cleaner told me it was the wrong thing to do and cautioned me to leave the spot and let him take care of it. Frequently "home methods" set the stain and then there's nothing a cleaner can do at all.

Isn't it depressing how shoes begin to look this time of year? But you know if you give suedes a good polishing, then steaming they look amazingly wonderful. And, of course, a good wax-polish or liquid polish is a "must" for calf skin or other leather shoes. Seems to me there's nothing better looking than a well polished shoe.

Some of the prettiest Spring hats have a picture book look. Some are large and some are small -- it's the lace, chiffon or satin folds that give the felts and straws such lady-like airs.

Well, January white sales are over and many of us have piled our linen closets high with pretty new sheets, pillow cases and towels. Now, just a word of advice about caring for linens. Remember to reverse sheets and put the wide hem on the bottom frequently also to rotate sheets.

Don't use pillow cases as laundry bags--strains them too much. And, don't let damp articles remain with dry sheets and towels in the hamper as this causes mildew. Do mend snags and tears before laundering.

Quite love a choice of spreads for their breakfast. Here are three: One: Mix 1/2 cup vitaminized margarine with 4 teaspoons mustard-with-horseradish. Two: Mix 1/2 cup margarine with 4 teaspoons anchovy paste. Three: Mix 1/2 cup margarine with 1 teaspoon onion.

Looks as though the men are going to be able to get along with their favorite hats. Just read a story the other day about suit clothes having a "dimensional look" with a "sub-by touch."

Nice to serve with tomato juice or soup are crackers topped with a real mayonnaise, then broken up in hot oil and served brown. Add chopped onion, parsley or chives for flavor variations. Dressings with pineapple, "anchovy" for Washington's birthday.

Texas Farm Bureau To Sponsor State Wide Queen Contest

The Texas Farm Bureau will give recognition to the beauty, charm and refinement of farm and ranch girls this year by sponsoring a state-wide Queen Contest, according to President J. Walter Hammond.

Top prize for the winner who will be selected in May, at the annual convention in Mineral Wells is an all-expense paid trip to the national convention in December in Chicago. The Farm Bureau will also pay the expenses of a matron escort.

The board announced that the contest will be an "honest-to-goodness" Queen Contest and not just a bathing beauty competition. The entrants will be judged on three main points: (1) appearance, (2) poise and (3) personality. The purpose of the contest is to give the young ranch and farm girls and other young people an opportunity to become better acquainted with the principles of the Farm Bureau organization.

After County Farm Bureau Queens are chosen they will compete in district elimination. One girl from each district will compete in the state convention for state beauty crown.

Here are the rules as approved by a special Queen Contest committee: To be eligible a girl must be: (1) daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member, (2) single, (3) sixteen years of age by September 1, 1935, and not over 22 on September 1, 1935. Counties must have over 25 Farm Bureau members, and must sponsor a contest before a girl from the county can enter the district elimination.

Daughters of state directors, employees, county officers and county directors are not eligible to enter this contest.

District winners will receive beautiful watches and an expense-paid trip for the girl and attendant to the state convention. The state Queen and her matron escort will be allowed $500.00 expenses to attend the national convention.

Mrs. A. Freeman of Grand Prairie visited with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cooper Tuesday.

Mmes. Clyde Davis and Jack Davis and son, Ronny, visited and attended to business in Lubbock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Henson have returned to their home at Glenn. He is some improved in health.

The Texas Certified Hybrid Corn Growers Association in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service is again sponsoring the statewide Texas Hybrid Corn Production Program. Local agents can supply detailed information on the program.

Certified planting seed may cost slightly more than other seed but the added expense gives assurance of purity, higher germination and better yields at harvest time.

Despite the continuing drought, homestead improvement demonstrators last year planted nearly 200,000 trees for windbreaks and shade and 50,000 shrubs. More than 3,000 lawns were also sodded.

Sweetclover Can Be Planted in Spring

The dry weather last fall prevented the planting of sweetclover, but the job can be done now. Farmers are urged to include spring planting of the sweetclover adapted to their areas.

W. B. Coke, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says Hubam and Madrid are two of the best sweetclover varieties and can be planted, where adapted, from now until April 15. To insure a successful planting, Coke recommends that a soil sample from the area to be planted be sent to a soil testing laboratory for analysis. The analysis will show what fertilizers are needed and in what amounts. Generally, says Coke, from 200 to 400 pounds of superphosphate per acre is recommended for the blackland and other heavy soils of the state. Better results are obtained in the blackland area when the phosphate is applied in bands instead of broadcast, says the specialist.

Sweetclovers are deep-rooted legumes and for that reason, have a decided advantage over other soil building crops. They increase the production of crops which follow them by adding nitrogen to the soil; increasing organic matter in the soil; improving soil aeration; increasing the water penetration and holding capacity; decreasing erosion and by helping to break up clay hardpans. When sweetclovers are planted on land for the first time, the seed should be inoculated.

Plant food, says Coke, can be returned or added to the soil by using fertilizer, but organic matter, such as manure, should be returned to the soil in the form of animal manure. Organic matter makes the soil porous and holds a very desirable amount of water.

Nutrition experiments and demonstrations show that it pays to include sweetclover in the crop rotation. At the Temple station, Coke says cotton following Hubam, which was harvested for seed, over a period of five years produced 316 pounds of lint an acre as compared to 166 pounds per acre on continuously cropped cotton. In the Brazos bottom near College Station, corn following corn produced 28 bushels an acre while corn grown in a 2-year rotation with sweetclover produced 78 bushels an acre.

Cotton yields in the blackland almost yearly takes a beating from cotton root rot. The best method so far developed for reducing these root rot losses, says Coke, is to use sweetclover in the crop rotation plan.

Finally, he says, sweetclover may be planted alone or with oats. When planted with oats, the oat crop can be harvested by windrowing and then combining. The sweetclover will continue to grow and can be utilized for grazing or seed production and soil improvement.

Research and field experiments dealing with the yellowing problem in grain sorghums and other crops are being continued.

A workshop for training homestead improvement demonstrators and others will be held at TS, C.W. Denton, on March 12 and 13.

Anniversary Celebrated By The Women Marines

Two years ago many a hard-bitten Marine fighting in the Pacific thought of the news that upon returning to the U. S. he might have to take orders from a "chick" wearing a shirt and high heels.

For on February 13, 1943, the Marine Corps announced the birth of the Women's Reserve, an organization whose ranks would replace the now Marines who could be better utilized in combat.

Thousands of male Marines were released from their jobs as administrative clerks, photographers, truck drivers, and even mechanics by a comely Lady Leatherneck in all 23,145 women served in the Marine Corps during World War II.

Since that time, the magnificent job done by the Women Marines has earned them the respect of the world, including their male counterparts. A Woman Marine officer receives the same snappy salute rendered a bemuddled Leatherneck male officer.

During the present Korean conflict, as during World War II, Women Marines are performing man-sized jobs in order to release men for duty in the field. Today there are more than 2,500 women serving in the Marine Corps.

Until recently, all Women Marines were assigned to Leatherneck posts in the United States. However, the Marine Corps now maintain a number of Women Marines in Europe and Hawaii. Approximately 100 are serving in Hawaii, and a much smaller number are attached to the staff of the U. S. and Allied Commanders in Europe.

Women Marines today enjoy a wide variety of duty assignments, with all the privileges, promotion, pay and veteran benefits recorded male Marines. They are truly a part of this nation's defense organization.

CARD OF THANKS

In the beginning it would take days, weeks and maybe months to express our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the many friends of our loved one, but may we just take this means of expressing our thanks to each and every individual who helped to comfort us in any way, for the floral offerings, the food and your presence. If it were not for the many friends and loved ones we could have never made it.

Molasses Hot Breads Atival Dessert

HOMEMADE molasses and steamed all brown bread... hot and fragrant with molasses and spread with butter... are enough to make a person pass up dessert. Fresh-from-the-oven breads somehow give a special touch to an otherwise simple meal.

Cereals from the pantry shelf plus that old-time sweetener... present themselves now as hot breads. Brae molasses and brown bread, simple to make, offer both eating enjoyment and a good nutrition score. The whole grain and enriched cereals provide significant amounts of the B vitamins and iron and help out with protein. Unsulphured molasses claims wonderful flavor and iron.

A food must be eaten to count toward good nutrition. Molasses hot breads by flavor and interest of looks go right "down the hatch."

4-H Aims At Four-Square Development

It was not long after the first demonstration was established at the turn of the century that Extension workers realized farm youth was important to extend its values. According to Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the first boys' club was organized in Jack county in 1908 and the first girls' club in Milam county in 1912. Since that time thousands of club members have completed demonstrations, become leaders and have taken their places in homes and communities.

As a phase of the Extension program, Mr. Lynch says 4-H club work offers opportunities to all Texas young people between the ages of nine and 21 to "learn to do by doing" and aids their growth and development for abundant living to "help them help themselves."

The 1953 Texas club work in 4-H aimed at four-square development of its 117,000 members through the training and use of the head, heart, hands and health. By the mental, spiritual, physical and social growth of these members, 4-H club work produces useful citizens through the coordinate efforts of the 4-H club team. This team is composed of 4-H parents, local adult leaders, county Extension agents and interested 4-H club members. Donors and sponsors of the 76 4-H awards programs support the team.

Through demonstrations in agriculture, homemaking and related subjects, 4-H club members are learning to become the citizens of tomorrow. Believing, however, that life's greatest principle is sharing -- "Our most valuable possessions are those which can be shared without lessening -- those which when shared multiply," each of the 117,000 4-H club members has more than tripled his efforts. Since 4-H club work is based on the developmental needs and interests of 4-H club members as well as the needs of the community to which they belong, members have a useful part of the world's work to do and, in doing it, they grow mentally, socially, and spiritually. They feel that they are an integral part of the community or county Extension organization and have definite responsibilities in improving their communities.

Increased membership is hardly a criteria of work well done. Enrolling more and more 4-H members is, of course desirable but what happens to the 4-H member is more important. More important also, are 4-H club members with ideals and aspirations.

Organized efforts are important in furthering 4-H club work. The individual club offers each member opportunity to grow in a democratic organization; the county, district and State 4-H Council are demonstrations in government.

Increased interest in 4-H club work is made possible through voluntary 4-H adult leaders of whom there are over 10,000 in Texas.

 CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick ROADMASTER even greater.

For this automobile -- the greatest Buick in fifty great years -- has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepower can be delivered as usable power -- since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling -- now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

And there's the amazing new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow bringing quieter, jet-fast getaway to complete and utter smoothness.

Why not come in and see for yourself just how great the greatest Buick in half a century really is?

Duck Creek Soil Conservation District News Notes

C. P. Witt, Chairman
Giles McCrary, Sec.
E. F. Shugart, Vice-Ch. Joe Hunnicutt
Clark Forbis

The District supervisors' meeting in session in Spur last Thursday compiled a report of accomplishments in the district during 1952. Chas. P. Witt, board chairman, in releasing the report stated that overall conservation applied to the land during 1952 was 50% greater than in 1951. Witt further pointed out that 81% of the farmers and ranchers in the district were cooperating in applying complete conservation programs to their lands. 301 new cooperators received assistance from the district during the year. "These accomplishments were made in spite of one of our most severe droughts in many years, further states Witt.

A breakdown of conservation practices applied to the land during the year shows: contour farming, 11,310 acres; cover crops - 549 acres; stubble mulching - 1,276 acres; range improvement - 4,651 acres; seeding range and pasture - 765 acres; farm and ranch ponds - 104 each; terraces - 411 miles; diversion terraces - 10 miles; irrigation land preparation - 83 acres; improved water application - 1,243 acres and riparian hay and pasture - 96 acres. "The assistance and cooperative effort of Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to our district, County agriculture agent, vocational agriculture teacher, and financial assistance," farmers in applying measures by P. M. A. has contributed greatly to our success in 1952," said Witt.

Terrace construction is still the number one activity among cooperators at the present time. Those building terraces are C. L. Lindsey, S. C. Reynolds, R. L. Benson, G. B. Morris, F. L. Benson and the Beggs Ranch. Carl Horne of near Lubbock who purchased part of the S. T. Battles' farm northeast of Spur, developed a conservation plan on his farm last week with the aid of S. C. S. technicians J. H. Taylor and Joan F. Moore. Horne's plan for 1953 calls for building three miles of terraces, one stock tank, and seeding 68 acres to Blue panic grass. Horne is a cooperator with the Lubbock County Soil Conservation District and firmly believes in the value of treating his land in accord with its needs and capability.

Guar seed, the promising summer legume for this area, appears to be on the shortage list this spring according to Reese McNeill, local dealer. Supervisors urge that cooperators advise them of McNeill's needs at an early date in order that arrangements be made to purchase the seed well in advance of planting time.
