SERVING A RICH FARM CROP, STOCK AND POULTRY RAISING TERRITORY OF WEST TEXAS.

The Dickens Item and Dickens County Times Absorbed by Purchase
SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY MARCH 11, 1954 NUMBER 20

Whoa, Now!

By Grady Lackey
Our thanks and a year's subscription to Mrs. J. R. Nance for a tip on a good news-feature article. Due to a delay in getting photographing and engraving work done in time for this issue, the story and picture suggested by Mrs. Nance will appear in next week's issue.

In case you missed it last week, here's our offer again—we'll give a one year subscription each for the best three news tips about happenings in our county that we don't already know about. Not necessarily a complete story—just a tip.

Here our chamber of commerce banquet is upon us and Norton reports only 75 tickets sold! Possibly some misunderstanding just what this is—it's the annual get-together of Spur business men, professional men, employees, farmers, etc., and, of course our wives. Norton promises no long speeches, no collections, no formalities—just a lot of good fun and food rubbing elbows and informally discussing the welfare and betterment of our community.

One of the highlights of this annual meeting that we look forward to and heartily endorse is the naming of our city's outstanding citizen for the previous year. We believe such gestures make for a better town—not by more active workers in civic affairs, primarily, but by recognizing those who have rendered service with no personal award in mind.

Go up and buy a couple of tickets—you'll be glad you did!

Girl Scouts Hold Court Of Awards

Miss Virginia Burgess, member of the National Field Staff of Region IX of the Girl Scouts presented the awards at a Court of Awards held Tuesday night in the First Presbyterian Church here. Attending the special meeting were 122 Girl Scouts, leaders, parents and other guests.

Preceding the meeting Miss Burgess conducted a clinic for troop leaders and assistants. The county board members also attended this clinic.

PALMETTO POLO WORKOUTS are common events over at the gin lot now-days as the riders of the Dickens County Sheriff's posse polish up for the big game at New Smyrna Beach, Florida in a couple of weeks. The group will leave here to represent Dickens county and the rest of Texas at the Florida Cowboy Frolics on Sunday, March 21. Riders shown battling around the beach ball are Martin Turbeville, L. B. Jones, Buck Thompson and Doug Hinson.

Chamber Banquet Tuesday

By Norton Barrett, Mgr.
Final plans are being made for our annual banquet to be held in the high school gym Tuesday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m. Cecil Green has told us that he has the program all set ready to go. Mrs. D. J. Dyess has also told us that she will have everything ready for us to eat.

We are trying our best to find out how many will be present. Our ticket sales have been a little slow. To date some 75 tickets have been sold, but we hope by Saturday noon to be able to tell Mrs. Dyess how many plates to fix.

If you plan to attend the banquet, try to get your tickets by Saturday noon. If no one has been around to see you about tickets, call 488 and tell us how many you need. We'll see that you get them.

County Red Cross Drive Shy Goal; Reports Still Coming In

The Dickens County Red Cross drive reached $131,463 here this week with several volunteer workers' reports still not in, reports Homer Hindman, county drive chairman.

The goal set for the county by the local committee is $2,000,000. However, the goal recommended by the National Red Cross for Dickens county is only $1,710,000. "We raised our goal because we sincerely believed that the two thousand mark could be reached," states Hindman. Last year the county went over its $2,300,000 goal by $300.

The drive will continue in the county throughout the month of March.

Hindman states that he and his committee still hope to reach the $2,000 goal and that it is practically assured that the $1,710 mark will be reached.

Choir To Present Concert Here Tonight

The Spur High School Choir, under the direction of Cecil Green, will present its first formal concert of the year in the high school gym tonight, Thursday, March 11, at 8 p. m.

The choir will consist of 42 young ladies in formal attire, and 26 young men, all singing a variety of songs in a variety of styles.

The choir has previously appeared in Jayton, Girard, Crosbyton and Ralls, at meetings, at assemblies and on television. The next home appearance will be next Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Green has expressed the desire of the choir for a large attendance at this first home concert. There will be no admission charge.

Vehicle Tags on Sale in Spur March 19, 20

Sheriff Cleo Rogers states that all types of motor vehicles may be registered at the Spur justice of the peace office between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. on Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20.

Last year's registration receipt and certificate of title are required when registering vehicles.

To date, Sheriff Rogers says that only about 400 of the county's 2,000 vehicles have been registered. He urges that owners register their vehicles as soon as possible to prevent a last minute rush. The deadline is April 1.

County Farm Bureau Advocates National Price Control Aims

"The Farm Bureau is for balancing production with high level market demand," states D. E. Souley, service agent for the Dickens County Farm Bureau. (See advertisement, page 3.)

The general statement of the organization's stand on current farmer programs and problems emphasizes that present price support programs must be revised to permit farmers to earn a fair share of the national income, and must recognize that different commodities require different programs of supporting their price.

Farmers know that their income depends on the amount of products sold multiplied by the price, minus the costs of production and marketing.

Obviously fixed prices, government controls, high costs and low efficiency will not enable the farm bureau article.

Farmers' Emergency Loans Available

In Dickens, Kent and King counties, 133 farmers are now using funds from the emergency loan program of the Farmers Home Administration, John E. Quattlebaum, FHA county supervisor at Spur, said today.

These loans are available to farmers who have suffered substantial losses due to unfavorable farming conditions brought on by the prolonged drought.

Applications for any type of loan cannot be approved by the FHA if a farmer's needs can be adequately met with credit from private or cooperative lenders, concludes Quattlebaum.

Record Entry Due For Annual Show; Winners To Enter South Plains Show

Over 100 Dickens county FFA and 4-H youths are expected to enter over 250 animals in the 12th annual Dickens County Fat Stock Show here Saturday, March 13.

The show will be held at the John Deere tractor lot across Harris Street from Chastain Implement company.

Entries in the show will include fat calves, riding horses, sheep, chickens and rabbits, swine and dairy animals.

The program will open at 9:30 a. m. with the judging of the swine. T. E. Linder will do the judging. The division is subdivided into both fat and breeding hogs.

Starting at 11 a. m. the dairy cattle will be judged by James H. Gray. Both dairy heifers and dairy cows will be judged.

The sheep division judging is scheduled to start at 10:30 with Gray judging. Special prizes in this division include a grand and reserve champion fat lamb and a prize for the best trained lamb.

At another location on the lot the chickens and rabbits will be judged. Jackson East is judge.

Preceding the afternoon judging, a big parade will be held up Burlington Avenue. Show animals and youthful cowboys and girls will be included in the parade.

Considered the main event, the fat calf division judging will get underway at 2 p. m. D. Burns of the Pitchfork Ranch will be the judge. This division includes fat calves, light weight calves, pen of three calves, best trained calf, beef breeding class and breeding cattle (commercial).

Robert McAteer will judge the riding horse division, beginning at 4 p. m. Both boys and girls classes will be judged.

The prize money and other expenses for the show have been donated by Spur and Dickens county businessmen and other individuals. The Spur Rotarians will present special awards for the grand champion dairy female.

Bill Gregory, Spur ag teacher, states that winners in the county show will take their animals to Lubbock next week to enter the South Plains Livestock show.

Other Spur FFA boys will take their animals to Fort Worth after the show to sell them and to visit livestock production and marketing techniques there.

C. E. Fisher, superintendent of the Texas Agriculture Experiment station here at Spur is general superintendent of the coming show. His assistant is Gregory. Other county men aiding in the show are division superintendents and in other capacities include Forest Keith, Raymond Eldredge, Paul Marion, R. L. Peters, Charles A. Taylor, Henry Harris, and R. L. Peters.

The complete program, prize list and judges appear on page 6.

Baptist To Hold Pre-Revival Prayer Meetings Next Week

Prayer meetings for the coming revival will be conducted at the First Baptist Church beginning Monday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m., and continuing each evening through Saturday, stating the pastor, Rev. Tommie Allen.

The revival will begin March 21 and continue through March 28, with Dr. P. D. O'Brien of Big Spring preaching, and Joe Trussell, well-known evangelistic singer, directing the music.

Mrs. Joe Trussell, State Training Union Worker, will also be present to conduct a conference for the intermediates preceding each evening service.

The following schedule will be followed, with those named in charge:

Monday, R. A. Gilcrease; Tuesday, (7 p. m.) Dr. Earl Burnett; Wednesday, Mrs. C. P. Scudder; Thursday, Mrs. E. C. Clink; Friday, Grady Lackey; and Saturday, George Stanford.

The prayer meeting Tuesday night will begin at 7 p. m. for the convenience of those who will attend the chamber of commerce banquet.

The church will be left open during the day for those who wish to come to pray, states Rev. Allen.

Highway Community News . . .

The Highway Progress meeting was held Friday night at the community house. A business meeting was held and plans were made to complete the signs in the community and to make a locked box to take care of the play ground equipment at the community center.

Refreshments of fresh fruit and cocoa were served. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Thomason and Lynette were guests.

In displaying her hobby on "Hobby Day" in the community center, Mrs. Forrest Martin showed a collection of odd flower planters she has collected through the years.

From a discarded kerosene lamp, rooted lengths of color splashed cobwebs grew and made an attractive background for green leaves of a lovely potato, the cluster of heart-shaped growing in an old white cream pitcher, flanked by a pair of ivory and brown jugs with lengths of soft green dew plants growing out of them.

A footed goblet of ruby glass held a gold splashed devils ivy. An old ivory shave mug, displayed three shades of green-cobalt plants. To complete the picture, a small glass perfume bottle held tiny-leaved ice plants balanced by a pair of clear glass sugar bowls of green and pink colors and wine colored wandering jew.

Mrs. Jimmie Hahn helped Mrs. Earl Thomason paper her living room Thursday.

Tom Williams had a supper for Mr. and Mrs. Lem Walden and Clarke Morgan Wednesday night. After supper they played cards.

Keley Putman and Clarke Morgan took up donations for the Red Cross Sunday. They collected $19.50.

Ann Putman was one of the FFA girls that went to Lockney and Canyon for an area meeting. She reported that the girls in Lockney showed them a grand time.

Ford rides on a Ball-Joint cushion

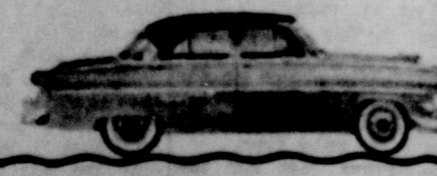

...and it handles with ball-bearing ease

It's the GREATEST chassis advance in 20 years. And only the '54 Ford in its field has it! It pays off with the smoothest ride you've ever experienced in a low-priced car... easier handling... fewer service worries... and many, many other advantages.

And besides this revolutionary advance, Ford offers two brand new deep-block power plants: the 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the 115-h.p. I-block Six. You'll also find a new stronger frame... a beautiful new Astra-Dial control panel... new styling inside and out... plus all the other fine-car features that have already established Ford as America's "worth more" car!

Drouth-depleted ranges, under good management, will make a satisfactory recovery if as much as 15 percent of the native, key grasses are still on the range. Reseeding in some cases may be necessary but deferred grazing and proper stocking are cheaper methods of recovery. Adequate rainfall is needed in any case.

SCIENCE and your Health

MOTION SICKNESS By Science Features

To millions of sensitive travelers, life on the bounding main means just one thing, seasickness. And these same unlucky travelers will often be subject to other forms of motion sickness such as air and road sickness.

The symptoms of motion sickness—and it is actually quite a serious condition—are well-known to most of us. The stomach begins to churn like the sea itself, the face becomes pale and breaks out in a cold sweat, there is dizziness and often nausea and vomiting.

These unpleasant sensations result from the stimulation, by constantly repeated motion, of certain of the body's sense organs. In the past few years science has developed several drugs in the hope of counteracting this stimulation in queasy travelers.

The most recent, and apparently the most effective, of these drugs is one called Bonamine. Tested by the Army, Navy and Air Force, Bonamine proved to give 24-hour protection against air and seasickness with just one tablet, in contrast to the repeated dosages necessary in other such drugs.

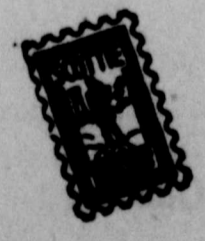

Army doctors gave Bonamine to 115 soldiers on a troopship crossing the Atlantic and found that it protected against motion sickness in 100 of the cases. When 302 paratroopers were given the drug 97.4 per cent suffered no symptoms of air sickness.

One Application

Lice and ticks on livestock may be controlled by the application of two insecticides in combination.

Lice and ticks present the year-round and ticks are generally a seasonal problem and appear about this time. When they're both on livestock, that's the time to let go with both barrels, says F. M. Fuller, Jr., assistant extension entomologist. Such a combination, Fuller continues, effectively controls both lice and ticks and it means a saving of labor and materials.

Every attorney performing legal aid services is conscious and aware of these serious and important obligations. The demands of the job are great, but so also are its rewards. Nothing is more gladdening than the appreciative handshake of a grateful client, the only reward of his possession to give. The Legal Aid attorney knows the deep satisfaction of seeing justice secured. He knows that a vital tenet of democracy is being fulfilled, justice to all regardless of poverty or wealth. Through his services, democracy rests more secure.

Information regarding the availability of legal aid in all Texas communities may be obtained by contacting a local attorney.

Chlordane is not recommended for dipping and should not be used for more than three or four applications during a season.

Fuller recommends for beef cattle a spray combination of 5 percent toxaphene and 0.3 percent lindane or gamma BHC; another double-kill combination, he adds, is 5 percent DDT and 0.3 percent lindane or gamma BHC. Single treatment of 5 percent toxaphene and 5 percent chlordane also helps control ticks and lice.

Designed especially for the beauty-loving and the practical-minded homemaker, this "silent hostess" coffee table is an asset to any home or apartment.

Simplicity of line is contrasted with a dramatic use of wood and wood-grained formica surfaces. As a labor-saving piece, the sliding top panels reveal two compartments; one holds the beverage service and the other is lined with cork for storing additional refreshments. Space-saving, this coffee table also plays "mother hen" to four sturdy tables which can be used for seating or serving. No need for coasters on these, either. They're formica topped.

law. His poverty prevents him from securing the legal assistance and advice needed for the protection of his rights.

In providing these professional services, the Legal Aid attorney serves the highest social obligation, that of securing justice to those who under the law should have it but who otherwise might not obtain it.

This function places special and serious obligation upon the Legal Aid attorney. In the first place, his duty is to accept the client who is financially unable to employ private counsel. He cannot reject a client for personal reasons or contradictions of because the case may be difficult or uninteresting or disagreeable. It is to close the only door of justice and to defeat the very purpose for which the legal aid organization he represents was created.

Legal services to the indigent. In other towns, legal aid services are provided by each private practitioner; as worthy cases are brought to his attention.

The Legal Aid attorney performs a vital function in our social order. To understand his role, we must begin with the basic fact that a legal aid client does not seek charity. The late Associate Justice Wiley B. Rutledge of the U. S. Supreme Court once said: "Equality before the law in a true democracy is a matter of right. It cannot be a matter of charity, or of favor, or of grace, or of discretion."

The legal aid client, therefore, is asking for what is his right—that he be given the justice to which he is entitled under the

by Don McGinty

Spur, Dickens County, Texas 1953 Santa Fe Award Winner

During the past ten years, 4-H Club work has extended an ever-increasing influence of my thinking, planning and living. This force has reached its culmination in my recent trip to the 1953 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Ten year ago, when I started my first 4-H project in the barnyard of my rural home in Dickens County, Texas my understanding of what 4-H really means was limited. As my projects grew and my club activities expanded, it has dawned slowly on my thinking that 4-H reaches beyond my family and my home to the community, my country and the world.

My years in 4-H have been good years. Beyond the confines of my home, nothing besides the Church and the school has influenced my life as much as the 4-H Club program. Now a senior in high school, with ten years of 4-H adventure behind me, I believe I can best express my concept of 4-H by comparing it to the ripple on a pool of still water caused by throwing a stone into the middle of pool. As the motion of the water reaches out until it breaks on the banks of the pool, so have my club activities expanded until they have reached the dream of my club life, a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago.

Travel by rail is novel experience and holds thrills for me. This was my second trip—my first time by Pullman. Surely, there is nothing quite like it. With two cars of 4-H Club passengers from Texas, we got to know each other well, visiting and eating together as we traveled.

Our arrival at Dearborn Station in Chicago was an impressive experience as was our reception at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. None of us who were guests in that hotel would deny its claim as being "the largest and the friendliest hotel in the world". To a West Texan, Chicago buildings, most of them looked black and sooty; and they were. But the contrast between the exterior and the interior made the Conrad Hilton all the more pleasant. We were received and treated as honored guests in our "home away from home", the Conrad Hilton. I believe the last one of us left with feelings of regret after the six day of residents there.

Perhaps the impression from the Congress that will stay with me longest is that of meeting the international delegates to this Congress. I made a conscious effort to meet personally as many of these delegates as possible and to converse if possible about the delegates and their homelands. Conversation was not always possible because of the

Do It Yourself

Sparking the "Do It Yourself" products that are sweeping the country and proving so popular with homemakers are the easy to apply, quick drying, interior paints based on synthetic latex, a notable development of the chemical industry.

Homemakers are finding that even the roughest amateur can do a good job with these paints as they're easy to apply with either brush or roller. Brush or lap marks do not show, so if you miss a spot just go back and fix it in.

The latex paints dry to the touch in a matter of minutes, doing away with the damp cloth brush or roller are quickly washed clean when you're redecorating job. And no longer do you have to "air" the rooms—there is no painty odor. Therefore, redecorating can be done comfortably in any weather.

Any drip spots on floor or woodwork can be simply wiped up with a damp cloth. Brush or roller are quickly washed clean when you're redecorating job. And no longer do you have to "air" the rooms—there is no painty odor. Therefore, redecorating can be done comfortably in any weather.

Considering that labor represents a major percentage of the cost of any paint job, it is no wonder that these latex paints are turning the whole family into "Do It Yourself" fans.

language barrier. On our tours throughout the city, I found opportunities to meet many of these delegates. During our plenary session, these delegates heard the same speeches that we heard, sometimes through interpreters and ear phones, but always we were at one with them in spirit through these days in Chicago. As I shook hands with 4-H Clubbers from our forty-eight states and all the continents of the world, I know that we are all brothers under the skin whether we come from Austria, Canada, Germany, Alaska, Hawaii, or Puerto Rico.

We all subscribe to the 4-H's in the 4-leaf clover and to the ideals of the 4-H pledge. No where have I seen Wendell Wilkie's concept of One World more vividly portrayed than in the coming together of the 4-H Clubs of the world. And so the most meaningful phase of my recent experience is my realization that what I have been doing is just one drop in a mighty stream of international effort and understanding. I know now that the great 4-H movement is just myself made international.

As I look back on our days in Chicago, I feel that those who planned our entertainment diet for this Congress paid us a high compliment when they arranged for a concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. It was evident beyond question that every one of that assembly enjoyed and appreciated the artistry of that magnificent ensemble the Chicago Symphony. We felt a warm glow of self-satisfaction that two of our members should receive positions of guest artists of this occasion.

Again it was gratifying to us that the honorable Ezra T. Benson, Secretary of Agriculture in the Cabinet of the President of the United States, considered us of sufficient importance in the agricultural economy of the nation that he would come to us in Chicago and address our assembly. In this speech, Mr. Benson showed that he and his co-workers are making an honest effort to clear up the existing upheaval in the agricultural consequence when the leading industrial institutions of the nation paid us homage. They did not send us obscure members of the firm, we were honored and impressed repeatedly to know that the president of a great industrial empire had considered us worthy of his time and attention and that his speech had given to us a cut in its budget. It was Mr. Thomas E. Wilson of Wilson and Company, who said to us, "I am genuinely proud to be considered as your friend."

My collection of plate favors from the banquet, luncheons, and breakfasts are the most tangible evidence that I have of the good things that were mine. Some of these might be considered museum pieces, which I hope to keep for my children as a souvenir of one of the greatest events of my life.

I am now being called upon to speak to both adult and juvenile groups in my commu-ity concerning my trip to the Congress. I consider such opportunities a privilege and I shall accept all such invitations that I possibly can fulfill. We never reach the peak of pleasure in our experience until we have shared that experience with others. My satisfaction will grow as I have the opportunity to tell other people about the Chicago Congress. I hope to be instrumental in helping others in my area to achieve a similar award.

For the earliest years of my recollection, my attention has been called each year to the gathering of the 4-H Congress. It has been a star to which I have "hitched my wagon". My parents showed me the goal and have shared my ambition. My County Agent has been constantly alert to new opportunities for me. For this award that made this trip possible, I am indebted to the Santa Fe Railway System. The sign of the Santa Fe will henceforward have a new and deeper meaning for me. It has furnished me "The Time of My Life." I shall not forget.

Through the contacts I have made with these 4-H Delegates, I have a new consciousness of World Friendship and Understanding. No longer are people from other continents strangers who I cannot trust. Now I know that we all working together to "Make the Best Better". If all of the 1700 of us in Chicago pledge our Heads, Heart, Hands, and Health to the betterment of our own clubs, communities, and countries, then the whole world will achieve clearer thinking, greater loyalty, larger service and better living.

FARM BUREAU is for... Balancing Production With High Level Market Demand. FARMERS KNOW that their income depends on the amount of products sold multiplied by the price, minus the cost of production and marketing. Obviously fixed prices, government controls, high costs and low efficiency will not enable the farmer to get the income his labor, investment and management skill deserves—full parity.

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

Be A Lamb—But Not About Your Food

Would you be a lamb—just to play follow the leader? "No, indeed," you say, yet you may permit your eating habits to be influenced by the talk-of-the-day.

Conversations over American dinner tables frequently come around to calories. Too often, good foods are rejected solely on the basis of their reputed calorie count learned through hearsay. Other times, the estimation of calories is mere guesswork. This confusion causes essential foods to be called "high energy or high calorie" foods which mistakenly are condemned as fattening.

Products which supply protein, minerals or vitamins are more than "energy" foods despite their calorie content. Only those foods which are primarily sources of calories, such as sugar and certain fats, should be thought of as "high energy" foods.

One does not consider milk as a "high energy" food even though a glass of milk furnishes 165 calories. About one-fourth of the solids of milk is protein and milk is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin. Likewise, one should not think of bread as a "high energy" food just because a slice of enriched bread furnishes 63 calories. Enriched bread provides protein and in addition calcium, iron and the three B vitamins—riboflavin, niacin, and thiamine.

It is revealing that calorie-wise, varieties of bread are not so different. Enriched bread, rye, whole wheat and various specialty breads all contain nearly the same number of calories, ounce for ounce.

Selection of foods should be on as functional a basis as are many of the other choices made in modern living. This thought applies to those who are concerned with reducing the total number of calories in their daily diet. They should limit those foods which furnish nothing but calories more readily than foods such as milk, enriched bread, eggs and meat which furnish a good cross section of the various needed nutrients.

Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, whose comedy adventures in the made them the most popular "I Love Lucy" series have an enduring couple in show business, now join forces on the screen in M-G-M uproaring Anaco Color picture, "The Long, Long Trailer," showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday.

Arnaz and Miss Ball again are seen as husband and wife this time as Nick and Tracy Collin, newlyweds who embark on a cross-country bark in a trailer. Their adventures, comic mishaps, semi-tragedies and countless crises, as they start out from California to Nick's engineering job in Colorado, are punctuated and punctured with one calamity-howling situation after the other in their valiant attempt to set up house-keeping in their dazling but dangerous mobile mansion.

It begins when Tracy decides that, since her husband's job takes him to all parts of the country, it would be more economical to live on wheels. The young couple are soon disillusioned about the economy part when what starts out as a $1,700 investment proves a $5,345 one plus extras. But this is only the beginning of the headaches, backaches and heartaches.

Nicky's nerves are frayed right at the start by the hazards on maneuvering the trailer in traffic, to say nothing of parking it. There are the problems of packing all their possessions in the confined quarters, of cooking, taking a shower, maintaining their equilibrium on rocky roads. Their wedding night is ruined by the exuberant hospitality of fellow trailerites. At one point a cloudburst almost washes them away. They back over a rich, sun's prize rose bush. They're fired by a trailer-hating judge. It all reaches the climax of climaxes when Tracy's collection of rocks (she keeps them as sentimental souvenirs of the spots they've visited) overloads the trailer to the point where they are barely able to make the treacherous ascent of a mountain road. It is at this point that it seems as though the honeymoon will be short-lived one, with Tracy running home to Mama. But all ends happily in the end, and Tracy and Nick once again hit the road, wagging their trailer behind them.

Although Texans produce a little of everything, their chances for helping solve the present coffee squeeze are remote. The coffee tree just doesn't adapt itself to the climatic conditions of Texas.

Beef producers can put extra weight and finish on their calves—faster and more efficiently—by creep feeding.

Furniture Fashions

Although this chair is from the "Cambera" group, it easily could be nicknamed the "Longhorn" chair. A smart combination of wood, fabric, and leather, this chair leaves little to be desired in styling, construction, and durability. It is a perfect accent piece of furniture for your living room and has maximum comfort.

This chair is a prime example of the many refreshing fashions in furniture that are available to the homemaker this Spring. The new materials and its versatile gathering are beautiful. Utility, too, is an outstanding feature of the new designs.

Farmers Fight, Win Grass Growing Battle In Sand

Matador — Three farmers spent five years and $5,000 trying to get grass to grow in a low-sand field then gave up not knowing they had won the fight.

Albert and John Turner and O. C. Campbell fought the sand on 7 1/2 sections six miles east of Lansing Springs. Four years ago they bought an irrigated farm near Krebs but kept on trying to make the sandy land produce.

They tried several kinds of grass. They tried planting in the fall and in the spring. It did not grow.

Two years ago they bought a quantity of sand love grass seed which D. A. Savage, Oklahoma agronomist, had spent 17 years perfecting.

They hired a special equipped plane to sow 900 acres. Before the job was done, a 40-mile-an-hour wind blew in, followed by a heavy sandstorm. John Turner said he believed all the seed had blown into the Tongue River.

In 1952, the farmers found little trace of grass in the field. In 1953, they gave up and drought set in hard and hot.

During the summer, the owners figured the little grass about ground would die. But rain fell in July and the grass began to grow. More rainfall hurried it along. The land was seeded and the grass began maturing.

Now they've harvested 4,960 pounds and have customers waiting to buy it at one dollar a pound. Besides that, they have a pasture of grass which John Turner says will easily support one cow on 10 acres. (Avalanche-Journal)

NEW SPARKLE FOR YOUR TABLE

By Penny Baker

Stainless steel flatware is capturing young America's heart! For busy modern brides—excuse to set a gracious table—the inspired design and enduring, lustrous beauty of stainless flatware make it the ideal gift.

The reason you see more and more fine stainless flatware in the better stores and homes is easy to understand. There is a selection of designs to suit every taste. Stainless requires only simple soap and water washing to keep its original sparkling beauty, requires no polishing, re-plating or lacquer. That means extra hours of leisure for homemakers. And stainless is like platinum in its resistance to time, wear and corrosion.

Whether you need place settings for only two, or want a complete twelve-place stainless set in a handsome chest, your community jeweler or leading department store can help you in your choice, and engrave it for you.

SCIENCE and your Health

OUR USELESS SINUSES

By Science Features

The body is called one of the most efficient machines but some of its parts could be done away with for they have no other function except to cause us trouble. The sinuses—cavities in bone or tissue—are the chief offenders.

There are eight sinuses set in pairs in the forehead, the forehead under the eyebrows, under the bridge of the nose and in back of the nasal passages. Lined with mucous membrane, they all have drainage holes into the nose.

The trouble starts when the sinuses become irritated, infected and congested up from colds, smoke, dust and other irritants. City folk working in poorly ventilated rooms suffer more than country dwellers.

Usually all the sinuses are affected and the slow drainage discharge of mucus is blocked. The breeding place for microbes and raising pressure that results in splitting headaches and a nasal and post-nasal discharge or "drip."

The disease, called sinusitis, is recurring and sometimes is used in the treatment. Dr. P. A. A. L. L. L. conducted a series of tests in 1953. A series of tests in 1953. A series of tests in 1953. A series of tests in 1953.

McGinty Named Winner With "Time of My Life"

COLLEGE STATION, MARCH 8 -- (Sp) . . . Don McGinty, son of Mrs. O. M. McGinty of Spur and a 1953 delegate from Texas National 4-H Congress, Chicago, was today named a winner in the "Time of My Life" program. Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader, says Don is one of 10 in the nation and will receive a watch from the Elgin National Watch Company, sponsor of the program.

Delegates to National 4-H Congress were eligible to participate in the program which is handled through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Inc. of Chicago. McGinty was a Santa Fe Educational award winner and has been a 4-H member for 10 years. In 1950 he won the state 4-H public speaking contest; in 1951 the individual demonstration contest in soil and water conservation and in 1952 the $2,000 First American Insurance Company of Houston scholarship to Texas A. & M. College. This scholarship was won in connection with the beef calf scramble program of the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Under the "Time of My Life", delegates write a narrative covering their trip and experiences to National 4-H Club Congress. "Ten years ago," Don writes, "my understanding of the meaning of 4-H was very limited. As my project increased and activities expanded, I have come to realize that 4-H reaches beyond my family and home to the community, state, nation and world. Beyond the confines of my home, nothing besides the church and school have influenced my life as much as 4-H work. I know now that the great 4-H movement is just myself made international."

McGinty encourages every 4-H member to do his or her best in order that they may enjoy many of the experiences which 4-H gives them the opportunity to share with others.

Girl Scouts

Miss Virginia Burgess, an official from the National office, arrived in Spur last Monday, March 8, and attended a Girl Scout local Board meeting. Later in the week, Miss Burgess will preside at a Court of Awards. Two new Brownie Troops will be recognized, second class badges will be presented and proficiency badges will be awarded for various projects and Scout work in general.

TROOP VIII
All members of the Brownie Troop VIII met at the usual time on Monday, March 8. Most members of the troop were in uniform, to honor Miss Burgess. During the meeting, the Brownie Promise was repeated and the Brownie secrets for the week were discussed. One secret was drawn for the next week. Work was continued on the Surprise Secret.

TROOP VI
The Girl Scouts of Troop VI met on Wednesday, March 3, at the regular time. Projects were checked for badges to be presented at a Court of Awards on March 9. Plans were made for a buffet supper on March 9 honoring Miss Burgess. This troop will not meet at the regular time on March 10, but will meet on Wednesday, March 16.

TROOP X
The new Brownies of Troop X met in the Little House on Wednesday, March 3. Plans were made to attend a Court of Awards on March 10 when this troop and Troop XI will be recognized as "full fledged" Brownies. Songs were sung and threading a needle was discussed and practiced. The Scout laws were read. The next meeting for this troop will be on March 16.

TROOP XI
The Brownies of Troop XI met at the regular time and place on Wednesday, March 3. All members were happy that their leader, Mrs. Smith, was able to return to the troop after being absent because of illness. Plans were made to exhibit the scrapbook and other material on March 9, when this troop will be recognized as a regular troop.

TROOP IV
For several weeks the girls of Troop IV have been sharing civic responsibilities with the local service clubs. They have helped by cataloging new books and keeping a file in the Public Library. Some members of the troop have scanned books for the writing of a publicity review. During this project the members have met in the library.

TROOP VII
The members of Troop VII met on Thursday, March 4 and presented written reports on projects prepared for Second Class badges. Several members of this troop have been absent because of illness.

Shining Tools Need Washing

The interest of health, neatness, and beauty, it's wise to gather daily brushes and combs for a scrubbing at least every week or so. In a easy, step-saving way is to collect them in a bag or basket during morning bed-making rounds. You'll probably end your clean-up in the bathroom to put out fresh towels and straighten up after the morning rush. With beauty tools in hand, it's simple to put them in the basin for a hot sudsy bath.

Since soap and hot water have a disinfecting action, everything can be dunked together just like the family wash. Even though no one should use another's brush or comb, it's quite safe and much easier to wash these at the same time.

Don't neglect complexion, mascara, lipstick, or clothes brushes. Once a while, persuade the menfolk to leave their pocket combs for a scrubbing and, of course, do all the combs from your own and other pocketbooks.

Washing is double-quick if you work with both hands—letting brush and comb work soapsuds into each other. When everything is clean-as-new, rinse in hot water and shake to remove the excess. Dry brushes with bristles down so that water drains from the tuft holes.

SKIERS from all parts of the world are attracted to the new Marmot Basin ski country in Jasper National Park, Canadian Rockies. Skimobiles whisk enthusiasts in no time at all the 12 miles from Jasper village to the "Basin," which is probably one of the last great skiing bowls of the world to be developed. Here are open slopes and trails. And here, too, is some of the loosest deep powder skiing in North America.

The emblem of the Future Farmers of America is significant in every detail. It is made up of five units—the plow, the rising sun and the owl and the cross section of an ear of corn, which is mounted by the American eagle, National bird of the United States of America.

The owl is a symbol of knowledge and wisdom; the plow stands for labor and tillage of the soil. Without labor, neither knowledge or wisdom could accomplish much. The rising sun is a token of a new era in agriculture, the cross section of an ear of corn represents nationally common interests in farming, as corn is native to America and is grown in nearly every state; the eagle is indicative of the National scope of the organization.

This emblem is worn by all members on their belts, jackets and rings.
