Lions vs Spur Milk, Hoover-McAteer vs Edwards-Kelley In Stadium Tonight

Whoa, Now!
By Grady Lackey

Sam Hawkes, manager of the Spur swimming pool, confided in us this week that attendance would be better at the pool during the day if so many boys were not going swimming late at night after the pool closes.

And that way they don't have to bother about 'bunglesome bathing suits!'

Sam and yours truly will both agree that such swimming sessions sound like lots of fun, but we should shudder at the idea of dragging a youth's cold body up off the bottom some morning.

We're a lot more concerned about the dangers of night swimming in an unlighted pool than with a little trespassing to keep from paying a whole 25c for a safe, sunlit swim.

Sam even went so far as to state that he would rather let these lads in free during the day than to have them risk their necks for a midnight swim. Of course, though, they would be required to wear a suit during their free afternoon swim.

Have you noticed the little pony-drawn cart trotting around over town with a Gregory lass at the reins? We understand that the rig belongs to W. F. Gilbert and is offering gay times for a bunch of kids these summer days.

Lions vs Spur Milk, Hoover-McAteer vs Edwards-Kelley In Stadium Tonight

The Spur Lions club softball team remains undefeated and at the top of the standings as the Spur league winds up the first third of its schedule.

Foy Johnson led the Lions to their third straight win Tuesday night, dumping Hoover-McAteer 8-5. The Lions gathered seven hits off the Hotrods' Wayne Hoover, while Johnson allowed safeties to only three H-Mc. batters. Johnson struck out eight and walked four. Hoover struck out three and walked three.

Last Thursday Spur Milk slipped past City Drug in a 7-6 thriller. Pinky Rainbolt, winning hurler, allowed only four hits, struck out four and walked nine. Don Hindman, Glamour Boy pitcher, let nine hits, struck out five and walked five. Pugh and Bass both collected two hits each for the winners.

In the nighttime Thursday the VFW got into the win column at the expense of the Edwards-Kelley nine 12-10. Fred Price, Farmall pitcher, allowed eight hits, walked seven, and struck out two. Rip Garney, winning hurler, permitted seven hits, got seven strike outs, and issued nine passes. Garner also sparked the veterans at the plate with three hits in three trips up. Billy Jack Pitts got three for five for the losers.

In the second game Tuesday night, City Drug drubbed the veterans 9-5. The Glamour Boys collected five hits off Rip Garner, while he struck out three and walked eight. Winning pitcher Don Hindman allowed only three hits, walked nine and set eight batters down on strikes. He was relieved in the seventh by Ra-dell Gilcrease.

Two Games Tonight

Tonight will match the two top teams, Lions and Spur Milk, in the opener at 7:30, to be followed by Hoover-McAteer and Edwards-Kelley.

Next Tuesday the Lions take on City Drug at 7:30 and the Hotrods and veterans will play the second game.

Sam Hawkes, chairman of the league commissioners, reports that the league is just barely holding its own financially. He states that the league has always functioned satisfactorily on free-will donations to defray the equipment, lights and officials' expenses, but that this year donations have been fewer and smaller.

The chamber president concludes that the board will not necessarily hire a manager at tomorrow's meeting, but plan to consider applications at that time.

Hail, Hoppers Do Slight Damage To Cotton

DRY WINDS DELETE BENEFITS OF LIGHT RAINS OVER AREA MON.

Grasshoppers, hail and hot winds have caused anxiety among county cotton farmers this week as isolated and limited damage by all three have been reported.

The squall line that brought light rains over the area Monday, also dropped considerable hail on farms in the Arton and West Spur areas. County Agent Charles Taylor reports that several farms in these areas will be replanted, probably this week. Several other farms around Spur will also probably be replanted because of poor stands.

Several isolated cases of damaging jumbo grasshoppers over the county have also been reported by the county agent. He reports that poison bait is the most effective control for these large insects. He adds that there is very little danger of a general spread of the hoppers and that control should be affected before too severe damage is done.

Yesterday's 102 degree weather accompanied by considerable wind left the young cotton looking pretty droopy and dry, reports Taylor, but that so far no serious damage has been done by the heat and wind. He adds, however, that a prolonged siege of 100-plus temperatures could damage the young plants considerably.

According to Dr. Earl Burnett

Swimming Class Enrolls 25 Here

Free swimming lessons started this week at the Spur municipal swimming pool with 25 enrolled.

Sam Hawkes, pool manager, states that the class is made up of youths from six years old through juniors in high school.

The next class will start on Monday, June 28, and Hawkes states that it will be an all-adult class if enough adults wish to enroll. He adds that he will hold an all-adult class for as few as ten, but would prefer from 15 to 25. Adults interested in such a class should contact Hawkes right away so that plans may be made.

Ladies Day is observed at the pool each Friday morning for the pool reserved for ladies only.

An agreement has been made with the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce for Crosbyton swimmers to use the pool each Tuesday and Thursday morning. Last Tuesday 84 came down for instruction and free swimming. This is a part of the summer recreation sponsored by the Crosbyton chamber and directed by Crosbyton coaches.

Hawkes reports that attendance has been good recently at the pool. As a safety precaution, he reminds swimmers and visitors that no breakables are allowed in the pool area.

'HOPPER POISON AVAILABLE AT CO. AGENT'S OFFICE

Jumbo grasshoppers are damaging cotton in isolated areas over the county, observed Charles Taylor, county agent, recently.

Taylor states that poison bait is the most effective way to control these hoppers.

Bran, cottonseed hulls, saw dust, mixed with poison and water makes a good bait, he reports. Four pounds of sodium floricate with each 100 pounds dry mix or one pound foxaphos or one-half pound chlordane or two ounces aldrin will get the job done.

There is a supply of sodium floricate available to farmers at the county agent's office in Dickens should they desire to use some in making the poison, Taylor states.

Acreage Allotments For New Wheat Farms Available

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for all of the years 1952, 1953 and 1954 may apply for a 1954 wheat acreage allotment, according to Joe M. Rose, chairman of the Dickens County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of these years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by June 30, adds Rose.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office in Spur for use in filing requests for allotments.

"HONDO", SAGA OF A WESTERN HERO, OPENS HERE SUNDAY

With John Wayne starring in the title role, "Hondo," Warner Bros. new drama which will also serve to introduce Broadway star Geraldine Page, arrives on Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

Produced by Wayne-Fellows in WarnerColor, "Hondo," adapted from a recent novel by Louis L'Amour, is the story of a man who kills an outlaw and then must travel to tell the man's widow. Filmed on location in the wilds near Camargo, Mexico, "Hondo" is said to contain at the same time some of the most awe-inspiring scenery and fearsome living conditions ever confronted by a film company. Over 110 degrees temperatures were not uncommon in the land where snakes, Gila monsters and floods were part of everyday life.

With such authentic backgrounds, director John Farrow and his stars, Wayne and Geraldine Page, put together a film reported to be the best in a long list of hits for the "Duke," No. 1 U. S. boxoffice star. Grim, two-fisted action is the keynote although romance is present in large part.

Miss Page, the slender, blonde actress making her starring debut in "Hondo" has the enviable record of being the only woman in the cast, which numbers hundreds of men in some of the climactic scenes. Miss Page is a product of Chicago drama schools and the New York theatres. Roundly applauded for her performance in the Broadway hit, "Midsummer," Miss Page was tested and signed to appear in "Hondo" by producer Robert Fellows on the recommendation of John Wayne.

Wayne, having recently been seen in such hits as "The Quiet Man" and "The Sands of Iwo Jima," wears the crown as the nation's number one boxoffice star. As co-producer of "Hondo," he personally selected the site for the filming of this, the latest Wayne-Fellows production for Warner Bros.

The story is a strong yarn about a grim man who must fight in a gun battle not of his choosing. When he kills the outlaw, he takes off through desert and mountain wilderness to reach the man's wife who had been deserted in hostile Apache territory. How he finds her, falls in love, and then must tell her of his deed is the line of the powerful story fashioned first as a best-selling book by Louis L'Amour, later adapted for the screen by James Edward Grant. ### Duck Creek Soil Conservation District News Notes

C. P. Witt, Chairman      Giles McCrary, Sec.
E. F. Shugart, Vice-Ch.      Joe Hunnicutt      Clark Forbis

Cities and industries have been asking whether soil conservation carried out by thousands of farmers and ranchers through soil conservation districts will reduce the amount of water available for municipal and industrial uses.

H. N. Smith, State Conservationist for Texas, says that for all practical purposes the answer seems to be "no". The Soil Conservation Service has been studying this problem at the Blacklands Experimental Watershed project near Riesel, Texas, since 1940. The studies include measurements of rainfall and runoff from two similar watersheds. They are still in progress.

Similar farming practices were being followed on both watersheds at the beginning of the study. Conservation practices were established on one of the watersheds in the spring of 1943. These practices included changing part of the cultivated area to grassland; the use of improved crop rotation; and the construction of terraces on land in cultivation. No change was made in the farming practices on the other watershed.

During the first five years rainfall was slightly above normal and the runoff-producing rainfall average 17.4 inches annually. The following five years, 1948 through 1952, were drouth years and the runoff-producing rainfall average only 4.8 inches yearly. The total rainfall during the drouth period was two-thirds the amount for the normal five years, but most of it fell in such small amounts or at such a slow rate that it produced no runoff. For the normal rainfall period there was almost no difference in the runoff from the untreated and treated watersheds. Mr. Smith reported. The annual average was 10.3 and 10.4 inches, respectively. During the drouth period the average yearly runoff from the untreated and treated watershed was approximately 1.4 and 0.9 inches.

The fact that there was a difference of one-half inch in the annual runoff from these two years is not the significant point, watershed during the drouth said Mr. Smith. This difference in rate, even over a period of several years, would amount to so small a volume of water that it could not be considered in the planning of a dependable municipal water supply. The important point is that the TOTAL runoff from the untreated watershed during the five drouth years was only about two-thirds of the average runoff for ONE year during the normal rainfall period.

Mr. Smith emphasized that because runoff during drouth years may be very small, water supply reservoirs must have enough capacity to catch the water during years of normal to high runoff and store it for use during drouth periods. A city cannot depend on the runoff during a drouth to maintain its water supply. This is a fact which needs to be widely understood.

Although soil conservation practices on a watershed will not have significant effect on water yield they can help greatly in protecting water supplies from loss of storage space by sedimentation. Conservation practices reduce erosion and the rate of reservoir sedimentation. By slowing down the rate at which reservoirs are filled with sediment, Mr. Smith said, more storage capacity will be maintained in which to store water for use during drouth years.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell entertained the young people of the community with a Weiner and marshmallow roast Thursday night. Those present were Joe Don and Wayne Davenport, Joe Copeland, Ronnie Cloude, Jennings Long, Leneir Foster, Weldoe Stanley, Gene Hairs-grove, Janice Powell, Mary Nell Grogan, Ineta Kidd, Deanie Moley, Nancy Powell, Ann Reagan, Shelly Williams, Sue Birmingham, Ray Don and Larry Powell.

HIGHWAY Community News

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Estep visited Mrs. Sally Williams Saturday. Mrs. Ray George is on the sick list this week. We wish her a speedy recovery. Most of the farmers in this community have finished planting and the crops are looking good. Walter Stanley was among a group of young folks that went to Roaring Springs Sunday.

Espuela Club Makes Semi-Annual Report

The Espuela Community is one of the oldest in Dickens County and the Home Demonstration Club was one of the first clubs organized, some 25 years ago. The club has maintained an active membership from the first meeting that were attended in buggies and on horse back. Many of these first members are still active in the club and the community.

The Espuela Club is made up of Mrs. John Sharp, Harold Karr, W. E. Ball, Don Ramsey, Pearl Morgan, Frank Adams, Darrell Grogan, Alton Delisle, Wilbur Delisle, Bob Dixon and Dalton Lebew.

These club members reported in the semi-annual report the following accomplishments:

Eight have vegetable gardens, one has berries and peaches; fifty percent produce the family meat supply, beef, pork and chickens; five members are making a cook book; ten have improved food habits through preparing meat dishes to conserve vitamins and minerals; 98 new garments have been added to the wardrobe of five families and women in this club have also sold 1330 dozen eggs this year.

GIN TRASH IN STEER FATTENING RATIONS

Ground gin trash versus cottonseed hulls in steer fattening rations recently was the subject of investigation by the El Paso Valley Agricultural Experiment Station. The tests show the financial advantages of feeding the two cotton by-products to be dependent upon the relative price of available roughage and the seed content of the gin wastes.

Feedlot gains by animals fed gin trash and ground alfalfa hay averaged 2.11 pounds daily. Steers on cottonseed hulls and alfalfa hay made 2.19 pounds of gain per day. Warm carcass weights averaged 667 676 pounds for the two groups, respectively. Hull-fed steers also showed a slight advantage in carcass grades.

One and seven-tenths pounds less roughage was consumed by the gin trash-fed animals. Feed costs per 100 pounds of gain ran $28.01 and $30.40 for the gin waste and hull-fed steers, in order.

Since the material may harbor pink bollworms all wastes from cotton gins, under current regulations, must be burned or ground to destroy all insect life.

Depending upon season, area, maturity of cotton, harvest method and other factors the physical and chemical composition of the trash varies widely, the test shows. It also indicates that gin trash with the highest percentage of seed is the most valuable for feeding.

Immature lint in the wastes caused some difficulty in grinding and feeding.

Complete results of these studies are given in Progress Report 1950, which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

If a company's name or product were removed from its trade mark, how many products do you think you'd identify? We made a game of it the other evening and it was amazing how many of us were familiar with and recognized the labels yet couldn't name the product. From this the conversation got around to names of the emblems. One, for instance, I thought interesting. This particular company's label is derived from the designs of two coaches used by Napoleon Bonaparte—one at his coronation—the other for his marriage to Marie Louise. The combination is as famous as its product—recognize it?

RULES FOR JUROR CONDUCT EXPLAINED

Thousands of Texans are called each year as prospective jurors in our many state and federal courts. When chosen to serve, very few of these violate their oath with intentional misconduct. But honest mistakes have all too frequently brought the sincerity and ethics of an individual juror into question. Usually such errors arise from his misunderstanding of his function as a judge—for the jury is judge of the facts in the case before it.

Like Caesar's wife, the juror not only avoids wrong, but must also avoid any appearance of wrong. Otherwise, his integrity and honor may be brought into question by actions which are actually innocent but appear censurable to those who view them. By observing the following simple suggestions, the juror may be sure he is maintaining the highest of ethics, in which no possible fault may be found by others:

Hold yourself aloft from all persons (except other jurors) in any way connected with the trial of the case. That means that you should not mingle with nor talk to the lawyers, witnesses, parties, or judge, even though the discussion is wholly unrelated to the trial.

Do not discuss the case nor permit others to mention it to you or in your presence during the trial. If anyone insists upon talking about the case after you have explained to him that you are a juror and must not listen, report the matter to the judge immediately.

Do not commence your deliberations until you have heard all the evidence from both sides, the argument of the lawyer, and the court's charge. You should not mention the case except in the jury room when all other jurors are present.

Do not become a private investigator. All properly admissible evidence will be brought before you. Do not try to search out additional facts you believe to have been omitted. Do not even guess or speculate about facts not in evidence.

Be attentive to the evidence as it is presented. If you are to properly aid the other jurors in settling the fact question, it will be necessary to listen carefully to avoid evidence presented.

Do not guess at the judge's opinion of the facts. You are the judge of the facts. He is not allowed and will not try to invade your province. His rulings on admissibility of evidence reflects no ideas or opinions on any fact question.

You should not mention or discuss your own personal experiences, or any knowledge that you may have of similar transactions. If you should disclose such information to others serving on a jury, the court would have to grant a new trial.

Accept no favors from and bestow no favors upon any person interested in the trial. However innocent the conduct may be, it will raise doubt in otherwise undoubting minds, and may even be subject to more serious insinuations and charges.

When in doubt ask the judge. If you are in doubt about your rights or duties as a juror, you should not ask anyone but the judge for information.

What Was This Call Worth?

"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call—a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week—a total of 30 calls covering 133 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. "I was amazed," she reported, "at how little my telephone service cost for all the convenience and happiness it delivers." SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY... Students of Mrs. Lois Karr Present Colorful Dance Revue Here Friday Night

In lovely costumes of every color and design, the children who lived in a shoe danced and delighted a full house Friday night in the Primary Auditorium. Forming the background for the evening's entertainment was a large shoe house, surrounded by trees, shrubs and flowers.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Guy Karr, Betty Dyess, assistant director and Mrs. Madge Carlisle, piano accompanist, began with a polka. These came three Chinese boys with their own version of Chop Sticks. Mary Jane Conner and Eunice Kay Alexander charmed the hearts in the audience with a song and dance routine.

Barbara Martin, dressed as Red Riding Hood, seemed unaware of any bad wolves as she danced her solo number.

A breathtaking number was lovely Hula Hands, with the hula hula girls costume glowing in the dark. One of the most colorful and delightful dances to the children in the audience was the Indian Boogie.

Feature solos was given throughout the program by Betty Dyess, who was dressed in lovely costume of net, satin, glitter and rhinestones.

The closing number was Cinderella, featuring Charles Soloday as the prince and Janie Sharp as Cinderella, with Cinderella being fitted with the silver slipper after their solo number.

Then--the much too soon Grand Finale with each child returning to the stage to receive a lollipop from the young woman who lived in the shoe.

These are just a few of the 33 different dances which made this revue stand out in Spur's entertainment lists.

Mrs. Karr wishes to express her deepest thanks to Madge Carlisle, Helen Dean Bingham for the artist work, Mrs. Clyde Bingham for the stage arrangement, the grandmothers of the students for the lovely basket of goodwill to decorate the stage and most of all to the mothers for their cooperation and untiring effort and patience.

"The revue would not have been possible without your efforts and wonderful support," Mrs. Karr concludes.

A repeat performance by request of the parents will be given Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the East Ward Auditorium. Admission prices will be reduced to 10 and 25 cents.

Nylon Demonstration Given HD Leaders

Nylon, one of the newest and one of the most versatile fabrics of the man-made group, has one disadvantage that has disappointed almost every buyer. That is, its affinity for absorbing color and becoming dingy or greyed.

A successful home bleach for white nylon is a formula of water conditioner, like Colgon, used as directed on the package, and one half as much bleach as directed by the manufacturer, using enough cold water to soak the nylon garment good. Measure the above softener and bleach to the amount of cold water needed.

These and many other hints were given to home demonstration club leaders from five clubs Friday, June 11.

WILSON HARDER

In one of the strangest moves ever undertaken in American business history, discount houses, through an organization they have set up, are asking the Federal Trade Commission to force legitimate wholesalers and manufacturers to sell to them. FTC is now investigating.

The first action is directed against Mack, Inc., of New York, wholesalers of electrical appliances and hardware items following announcement it will not sell to any discount houses.

A series of such actions is understood planned by discount house operators. This is perhaps the most blatant display of brazenness ever released to fool both government bureaus and public.

Nation's Better Business Bureaus scores heavily practices of so-called discount houses.

Ethics and honesty, not for self-protection, but for protection of the public is a traditional principle of American business.

That is why many independent, locally made and sold products on the market today are bought with public confidence in product integrity, and belief in event of any defects adjustments will be made. But that system depends on strong links: a manufacturer of integrity, wholesalers of integrity, retailers of integrity.

However, this traditional American system, largely unknown elsewhere, is being threatened by so-called discount houses which unhand a lot of junk on the public. But people do not willingly walk into a store handling only junk merchandise. There must be some bait.

Discount houses fight for brand merchandise to use as bait.

But even so-called cut price advertising by these discount houses is wide open to question.

A common advertising practice is the "was and is" method. A fictitious high price is listed as the original selling price of the article to compare with the discount house price.

And often so-called cut prices are on old, obsolete models, inferior to be current models.

There is still a further public delusion. If a chef cooked in the same pot the carcass of a single rabbit with that of a horse, called it rabbit stew, he would be questioned.

Yet discount houses constantly refer to their stocks of nationally advertised merchandise, when in fact the preponderant part of their stock is unknown. But by labeling the stock with a few brand name items they throw the cloak of respectability over cheap stock.

Thus the public, attracted by the bait of well known names, is induced to buy other merchandise, paying an exorbitantly high price for it.

This situation cannot continue. Despite efforts of some independent manufacturers, too many, often combine subsidiaries, shut their eyes to the situation.

However, independent retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers, working together, could by full publicity and self-policing, solve the problem. And it appears high time to advise the public these manufacturers and wholesalers who are seeking to carry water on both shoulders.

Nancy Holbrook SUGGESTS

A juicy, succulent steak needs no embellishments in order to cause a mouth watering reaction, but its flavor can undoubtedly be enhanced with just the right vegetable. What could be more tempting than a steaming bowl of plump, white onions served in a delicate mushroom cream sauce? Here is the suggested recipe from the Best Foods consumer test kitchen.

- 6 sliced onions with mushrooms
  - 6 tablespoons vitaminized margarine
  - 1 1/2 pounds small white onions
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon sugar
  - Several lettuce or cabbage leaves
  - 2 tablespoons cream
  - 1/2 cup sliced canned mushrooms
  - 1/2 cup mushroom liquor
- Place margarine in saucepan. Add sliced onions and sprinkle with salt and sugar. Rinse lettuce in cold water and cover onions completely with leaves. Cover pan and cook over low heat 20 to 30 minutes. (When done, onions will be firm but tender.) Discard leaves, add cream, mushrooms and liquor. Heat until mushrooms and sauce are hot. Serves 6.

Stop Taking Harsh Drugs for Constipation

Avoid Intestinal Upset! Get Relief This Gentle Vegetable Laxative Way!

For constipation, never take harsh drugs. They cause brutal cramps and griping, disrupt normal bowel action, make repeated doses seem needed.

When you are temporarily constipated, get relief but gentle relief—without salts, without harsh drugs. Take Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative contained in Syrup Pepsin. The extract of Senna in Dr. Caldwell's is a one of the best natural laxatives known to medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative tastes good, gives gentle, comfortable, satisfying relief of temporary constipation for every member of the family. Helps you get "on schedule" without repeated doses. Even relieves stomach sourness that constipation often brings.

Buy Dr. Caldwell's Money back if not satisfied. Mail bottle to Box 280, New York 18, N. Y.

LOST

LOST: One white-faced rearing, weight about 600 pounds. If found, notify Herman Bostic. 24-2tp

A rigid sanitation program is a must in the fight against flies. The use of insecticides alone will not do the job, but if used in combination with sanitation, flies can be whipped.

Wallace Day, the Plumber SEZ:

"I really get around! I've done lots of plumbing 'round town! I do the kind of work people like... the kind of work inspectors pass!"
