SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1934 NUMBER 42

Whoa, Now!

By Goady Lashley

"It remains to be seen what one can do with just one man who will give himself unreservedly to his will" is the challenge that started Dwight L. Moody on his evangelistic crusade that shook two nations from their lethargy of sin.

Charges fly all around us that the Texas voters who voted for Yarborough were uninformed, ignorant, foolish, etc., while on the other hand, those who voted for Shivers are said to be stupid unaware of the facts, blind to the truth, etc.

If Shivers' charges are true, we should never have allowed such a scamp as Yarborough to so blind and warp nearly half of our voting population. If the charges made by Yarborough are true, we should not only run the governor out of office, but should charge him in court for everything from grand larceny to aiding and abetting criminals.

So, all you wise voters, now tell us just who we are supposed to believe? With few exceptions, the voters of Dickens County decide on who gets their governor's vote by what they read or what they hear. Very few of us know actually first hand and unadulterated facts about either man. We have accepted as facts either what we have read or heard.

Would it be impossible for a candidate for a state office to run entirely on his own merits, conducting his campaign in a Christian, orderly fashion, leaving out all the dirt, slander, etc.?

All us chamber of commerce members are going over the hill Friday week for some good old watermelon and a general get-together.

This will be a wonderful opportunity for those who wonder just what the chamber is doing or is trying to do to find out the answers.

We strongly approve and endorse this type of meetings for chamber members and anticipate a better and smoother program of chamber activity to be the result of it.

Chamber of Commerce Doing Members To Have Watermelon Feast In City Park Friday, August 20

By Homer Hindman, Mgr. The chamber of commerce will have a watermelon feast on Friday, August 20 at 7 p. m. in the city park for all members and anyone else interested in the chamber and its work.

All members are urged to attend this get-together in order that we may have a better understanding among all concerned as to just what the chamber is doing.

Many people seem to have the impression that meetings held by the board of directors of your chamber are for the directors only. We want to say again that these meetings are open to all members of the chamber and every member is welcome to attend.

You can help your chamber of commerce do a better job—get a new member.

We have been told that Dickens County will soon have its first bale of cotton and we are sure all the merchants want to participate in giving some sort of prize as they have done in the past.

We are still hoping that we will get that rain and that we will have one of the biggest cotton crops that we have had in years. We have visited several fields in the past few days and found that the cotton is heavily loaded. Prospects look good if we just get a rain in the next few days.

Will Farming Be Dominated By Labor Bosses?

The time has come when we must seriously consider the effect of a labor dominated State government in regard to the agriculture of this area.

The experience we gained with regard to school age farm workers was a minor difficulty compared to what other states have experienced when labor bosses get control on a state level.

Experience of other states has shown labor dominated State government has meant this:

1. FREQUENT STRIKES OF FIELD WORKERS DURING HARVEST TIME RESULT IN SUCH GREAT LOSSES THAT MANY FARMS ARE LOST.
2. WAGES AND HOURS ARE FIXED BY CONTRACT WITH LABOR BOSSES.
3. UNION MEMBERS ALONE CAN WORK IN THE FIELDS. WHEN NON-UNION BOLL-PULLERS, HOE HANDS AND OTHER WORKERS ARE HIRED, THEY ARE RUN OUT OF THE FIELDS BY UNION GOON SQUADS.
4. FIRING OF INEFFICIENT UNION WORKERS CANNOT BE DONE EXCEPT WITH CONSENT OF LABOR BOSSES.

In 1930 a Plains County wrote and sponsored a resolution declaring against changes in our labor laws and endorsing our present "Right To Work" labor law.

Under the leadership of Allan Shivers this "Right To Work" resolution was passed by the Texas Democratic Convention in Mineral Wells.

Despite the strenuous efforts of the CIO-PAC labor bosses, this "Right To Work" law has remained unchanged until now.

This year for the first time in Texas history union labor bosses have played a decisive role in a Texas election.

Union labor bosses openly boasted that they would defeat Allan Shivers with the vote of Mexican laborers. Allan Shivers was forced into a runoff by the margin of these very votes.

Labor bosses openly endorsed the opponent of Allan Shivers—and that opponent has welcomed their money and their votes.

If you want to prevent the unionization of farm labor and if you want our present "Right To Work" labor law to remain unchanged, then vote for Allan Shivers on August 28.

Ambassador at work

Danny Kaye is about to sample a glass of soybean 'milk.' Dr. S. S. De, nutrition officer for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) in Bangkok, does the honors. The film comedy star has been touring the Far East as Ambassador-at-Large for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). FAO and UNICEF have been working hand-in-hand in promoting soybean milk as a substitute for animal milk to overcome protein deficiencies in popular diets, especially in countries of the Far East.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS
WILSON HARDEE

The hue and cry for Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson's scalp points up fact that anybody who holds this post under present conditions is destined to be a hapless goat, unless supplied with billions of dollars to play Santa Claus.

Benson's defenders state falling farm prices started before he took office. Available Washington records appear to prove this.

Some in Washington hold there is no solution to the farm problem. Others claim that the only solution is free trade so that American farm products can be exported. However, they overlook fact that much food is being imported today from nations whose people need it, wherever a chin is found in the protective tariff laws.

But others have formed a different concept on farm problem.

They say instead of looking to Agriculture Department nation's farmers should look toward Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission for active Anti-Trust Law enforcement.

Housewives are asked but records show independent retailer and wholesaler are not getting rich. And farmers producing food get only a small share of the dollar spent on most items.

For example, the grower is currently receiving less than 4 cents from the cost of peaches, retailing for 25 cents, or more. Processing costs account for a part of difference, but independent.

dent canners are not making excessive profits.

But into a can of peaches goes various materials.

The tin must be bought through a British controlled monopoly. The sugar is bought at prices controlled by world wide agreement. Sales of cans is held by a few. In many other food products a parallel situation exists.

The supply of commercial fertilizer needed to produce most crops is controlled by a very few firms, some of them subsidiaries of major food companies. This same situation prevails with insecticides and fungicides. The gasoline and oil that the farmer must buy is sold on a controlled monopoly basis.

And under the present laxity of anti trust enforcement, there appears to be no remedy.

For example, just before the pickle packing season, packers were informed of a 20 percent immediate increase in the salt price. It was a take or leave it demand because independent competition is lacking in the salt industry.

Stepping back to the days when with tide and flow, he carved out his security, the American farmer has always been a symbol of free enterprise.

But faced with a controlled market for his products, and with controlled prices for what he buys to produce, the American farmer is dropped from the status of a free enterpriser to a captive in a rigged market.

More aid will be voted to farmers. Only a complete and thorough application of the anti trust laws on all levels of the food business, including the supply of materials needed to produce and process farm products will stop need for aid.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Northcutt from Tucson, Arizona visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. McWilliams over the week end. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bennie McWilliams, Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. James Todd of Waco visited Mrs. Holly Harris, Saturday they were enroute to Canada for their vacation.

You'll have a Bigger Car!

Today's Pontiac is the biggest ever built. In fact, no car near its price provides you with the road-hugging comfort and stability of Pontiac's long wheelbase. And Pontiac's size is apparent, too, in its roomy Body by Fisher that lets you stretch out and relax amid every fine-car luxury, appointment and convenience.

You'll have Finer Performance!

Today's Pontiac is the most powerful ever built. Pontiac's big, husky engine puts you in command of more power than you're ever likely to need. You enjoy instant response in traffic, and as you cruise the open road your engine merely loafs along, saving money every mile and greatly prolonging engine life.

You'll have World-Famed Dependability!

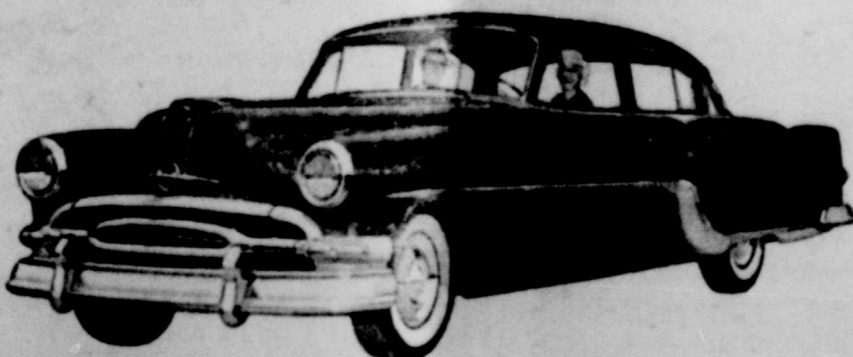

Today's Pontiac is the most dependable ever built. Pontiac's record for long life is acknowledged everywhere. No car at any price will deliver more miles of carefree, economical service. This unsurpassed dependability means you can drive and maintain your Pontiac at amazingly low cost, mile after pleasant mile.

You'll have the Greatest Beauty!

Today's Pontiac is the most beautiful ever, with its distinctive Silver Streak styling. And Pontiac's beauty is more than skin deep: inside you'll find luxurious appointments and fabrics usually reserved for much more costly cars.

You'll have America's Top Value!

Today's Pontiac is the greatest value ever built. With all its fine-car qualities, Pontiac is actually priced right next to the lowest—so low, in fact, that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac. Add to that the fact Pontiac has the highest resale value in its price class and you'll have an unmatched motor car buy. Come in soon.

Something New for the Navy

NEW YORK: Before representatives of the Armed Services industry, engineering colleges and the press, Sylvania Electric Products Inc. recently introduced the tiny "stacked tube," a revolutionary concept of an electron tube.
 Viewing a demonstration which shows that the midget tube withstands temperatures of 1,000°F., are (L. R.) H. Ward Zimmer, President of Sylvania; Don G. Mitchell, Chairman of the Board; Vice Admiral John Gingrich, Chief of Naval Material; and Captain Rawson Bennett, of the Navy's Bureau of Ships.
 The "stacked tube," capable of unprecedented mass-production, is now being made in limited quantities for the Navy by Sylvania's Research Laboratories.

BAPTIST CIRCLE MET WITH MRS. MORRIS

The Baptist Circle met in the home of Mrs. G. B. Morris on Monday evening August 9.
 The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Eaton. The topic of the meeting was "Young People of Destiny in the New Testament." Two chapters were given by Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Hazel. The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Adams. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Adams, Eaton, Whitwell, James, Brooks, Hazel, Morris and Shields.

LOCKETT CIRCLE MET WITH MRS. LANGSTON

The Lockett Baptist Circle met with Mrs. Langston Monday. Marie Gruben opened the meeting with a prayer.
 The topic for the day was the "Story of Daniel." Those present were Mesdames Gruben, James, L. C. Ponder, Sophronie Ponder and Langston.
 Mrs. T. J. Cooper had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Cooper and son. Mr. Cooper held services at the Church of Christ at Giffard Sunday.

TO THE PEOPLE OF DICKENS COUNTY

In my announcement for candidate as county school superintendent I stated that "I had rather lose the race than to lose the friendship or confidence of any person anywhere." The "lost" part I am sure of, but I certainly hope I have not lost the friendship or confidence of anyone.

To those that voted for me I certainly am grateful for your loyal friendship and cheerful support. To those that voted for one of the other men I hope you were not voting "against" me but only voting "for" the other person.

I have the satisfaction of knowing that our campaign has been clean, fair and square and that I was defeated by two fine gentlemen. Your choice between the two on August 28 will be Democratic in Action; a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. I'm sure that either Mr. Williams or Mr. Kelly will be a fine tribute to our schools and to our county.

Born and raised in Dickens County of course it will always be home to me wherever I might be. While living in other parts of the country I learned that West Texas people are the best that can be found anywhere and to me Dickens county folks are the Cream-of-the-crop. I sincerely hope that you are my friend

FAMILY SIZE FARM STILL IMPORTANT SOURCE OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION

Is the family-size farm on its way out? Large-scale farming which came in with mechanized production methods caused many people to give serious consideration to this question. But, says John McHaney, extension economist, the 1950 Census figures show the family-size farm still very much in the picture after more than three decades of farm mechanization.

The 1950 Census divided the nation's 5.4 million farms into two groups, 3.7 million commercial and 1.7 million noncommercial. This last group consists mainly of part-time and residential units and they account for only 2.5 percent of the value of farm products sold in 1949.

Commercial farms were divided according to the amount of sales made, says the economist, and the classes were large, family and small-scale. Farms with sales of $25,000 or more are large-scale; those with sales of from $1,200 to $25,000 family-scale and the small scale were those reporting sales between $250 and $1,200 unless off-farm work or income was enough to class the operation as part-time farming.

Nearly 80 percent of all commercial farms fell into the family-scale class, says McHaney, and they account for about 70 percent of the value of total farm products sold. Mighty strong evidence, says the specialist, that family-size farms are still the backbone of America's great agricultural industry.

Cloude Progresses In Army Med. School

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas—Pvt. Orville R. Cloude, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Cloude, 103 W. Hill St., Spur, has completed the academic phase of training in the Medical Intermediate Course given at Medical Field Service School, Brooks Army Medical Center, and now will receive the applicatory or "on-the-job" phase of training at William Beaumont Hospital, Ft. Bliss, Texas.

The Medical Intermediate Course trains medical and operating room technicians who, upon graduation, are qualified to give bedside care to patients or assist medical officers in surgery. Military training in this course will prove of personal value throughout the student's life and can lead to future civilian hospital and clinical careers.

The Medical Field Service School is one of seven units of Brooks Army Medical Center, the Army's largest medical installation. The Center carries on virtually all phases of professional and technical training in military medicine as well as patient treatment and research.

Air Conditioning For Tractors

A farmer's inventiveness has resulted in a unique machine which in effect brings air conditioning to operators of tractors and self-propelled combines. No longer is running these machines the hot, dusty job of the past. The unique machine, called the Air-Brella, shades, cools and protects the driver from dust, insects, fumes, sprays and dusting chemicals.

Though it looks much like an aluminum umbrella, it mounts an electric fan in the top which draws air and directs it along the inside contours of the bonnet in such a way that it actually puts a wall of fast-moving air around the operator, yet does not blow directly on him.

Mighty Electronic Midget

A tiny electronic tube, no larger than a candy mint, has opened up broad new areas for military equipment.

Developed by Sylvania Electric engineers, and already being made in limited quantities for the Navy, the new tube is also expected eventually to find wide industrial use in such devices as computers, the "electronic brains."

Capable of withstanding temperatures as high as 1,000°F. and enormous shock and vibration, which would melt or shatter conventional tubes, the new tube has a unique "stacked" design, its parts being stacked one atop the other. It can use either a ceramic or glass cap, depending upon the severity of operating conditions, and lends itself to high mass-production.

Educate More Drivers, Teen-Agers Plead

More layouts for driving schools are urged by high school students to combat traffic accidents. Education was named most effective in a nationwide poll sponsored by the Chevrolet Motor Division.

Expressways like this were ranked by 22 cities below such remedies as periodic driver physical and mental safety campaigns and stricter licensing. Regular car checks was second. Tests drew support from youngsters.

H. G. Wells' Thriller Probes Mystery of Outer Space Men

No question has intrigued the curiosity of man more than the unanswered riddle about life on other planets. The 200-inch telescope on Mount Palomar has widened man's horizons in his quest for knowledge of the universe, and has given him an opportunity to look farther into the cosmic unknown than ever before. But still the mystery remains—does life exist on other planets? Are there other worlds beside our own, where some semblance of life as we know it, flourishes?
The fiction writers have attempted conjecture based on scientific knowledge and thus created a vast new field of storytelling. But science-fiction is not new. One of its most imaginative practitioners, and one who predated today's writers in the field, is H. G. Wells who back in 1898 wrote the unforgettable classic "The War of the Worlds." Now Paramount Pictures has taken this astounding tale and has made it into a thrilling Technicolor film. Still retaining the ominous title, "The War of the Worlds," it will open soon at the Hi-Ho Drive In Theatre.
The terrifying tale tells what happens when an object, seemingly a huge meteor lands on the outskirts of a small California town. It is soon learned that the weird hulk is not a meteor at all, but a Martin machine. Soon, to the horror of the scientists who come to view the invader, a deadly heat wave pours from beneath the machine, reducing to ashes everything in its path. Other Martins land, and for a while they threaten to wipe out humanity. Then a dramatic twist of fate turns the tide, and the people of the Earth are saved.
Producer George Pal, who previously handled the production reins for "Destination Moon" and "When Worlds Collide," was the guiding light in the making of "The War of the Worlds." He has now topped all of his other efforts with a film which makes the screen fairly pulsate with excitement.
The enigma of life on other planets and their eventual encounter with Earth's inhabitants is forcibly dramatized in "The War of the Worlds" on a scale never before attempted on celluloid.
Mrs. Amer. Fincher, Gwyn and Bernice have returned from a visit in Sulphur, Oklahoma.

AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT...
The atom will produce power for homes in 5 to 10 years
Full-sized plants will generate electricity from atomic energy without government subsidy

Protective plastic suit enables technicians to work safely. 12,000 G-E employees are assigned to atomic projects.
Biggest question in producing electricity with atomic energy has not been: Can it be done?—but: How can it be done economically on a full-scale basis so that many areas and many people can benefit?
America is now very close to a practical answer.
We already know the kinds of plants which will be feasible, how they will operate, and we can estimate what their expenses will be. In five years—certainly within ten—a number of them will be operating at about the same cost as those using coal. They will be privately financed, built without government subsidy.
Developing the right fuel element is still a problem, but the Atomic Energy Commission, General Electric scientists and other experts are all working on a solution. And real progress is being made.
Atomic power plant of type developed by A. E. C.'s Argonne National Laboratory. Fissionable material serves as fuel to produce steam which powers turbine. For more information from General Electric's Atomic Power Study, write Department W, 2-123, Schenectady, New York.

The hit that's changing the sales standings puts you way ahead 3 ways

THIS year Buick has done what no other car has done in more than a generation.
This year Buick has moved into the lofty circle of America's three top sales leaders—a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three." For today, Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation except two of these "low-price three." And each new month's sales figures strengthen Buick's new sales leadership.
You can't do better—if you want the best buy for your new-car money—than to look into the soaring success that is Buick today. You'll find this glamorous new-day beauty puts you way ahead in three important ways—that's for sure. So drop in on us—tomorrow at the latest—and see for yourself that Buick is the buy of the year, hands down.

- 1. More new car for your money
Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the traditional "low-price three." But these few more dollars for a Buick get you a lot more automobile—more room, more comfort, more V8 power, more ride steadiness, more solid durability—plus the advanced "tomorrow" styling that has taken the country by storm.
- 2. More money for your present car
With our great and growing sales volume, we can offer you a bigger trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. After all, the more new cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So you get the benefit of our great success in the form of a higher trade-in allowance.
- 3. More dollars when you trade
Because Buick's broad panoramic windshield has started a whole new styling trend, you can be sure that today's Buick will keep its modern look for years to come. So you are assured of a higher resale figure when you trade it in later on.

Come see for yourself why—Buick Sales are Soaring!
