

"WONDERFUL" IS WORD FOR "THE GLENN MILLER STORY"

"Wonderful" is the word for "The Glenn Miller Story" which opens at the Palace Theatre Friday August 27 for a four day performance.

Everything about Universal-International's glorious Technicolor production of the great band-leader's life-story comes off in terms of superb entertainment.

You'll hear praise for a story stamped with honesty and crackling with electric excitement, for performances by stars James Stewart and June Allyson that are infectious with humor and warm with affection, and for that magnificent Miller music as alive today as it was when Glenn rendered it "in person."

"The Glenn Miller Story" is essentially a love story, always tender and sometimes a little wild—a love story that maintains an intimate mood while it builds a broad scope through Glenn's tough years and good years and the exciting years of World War II that eventually took his life at the peak of his fabulous success.

"The Glenn Miller Story" is also the story of the wonderful music that enthralled dancing American's millions. Nine of the all-time Miller masterpieces, played in the style established by the distinctive Glenn Miller arrangements. They include the signature song "Moonlight Serenade," "String of Pearls," "Pennsylvania 6-5000," "Tuxedo Junction," "In The Mood," "American Patrol," "St. Louis Blues March," "Chattanooga Choo-choo" and "Little Brown Jug." Other song-hits that through the years were musical moments in Glenn Miller's emergence are well represented.

Guest-stars giving extra zest to "The Glenn Miller Story" include Frances Langford, Louis

The amazing likeness between James Stewart (below) and the real-life Glenn Miller (above) is a remarkable feature of Universal-International's Technicolor production of "The Glenn Miller Story" in which Stewart and June Allyson are co-stars.

Armstrong and Gene Krupa (in a brilliant "Basin St. Blues" jam-session), Ben Pollack, The Archie Savage Dancers and The Modernaires

James Stewart is remarkable in his portrayal of Glenn Miller, amazing in likeness even to the rimless glasses he wears and the trombone he handles with a sure touch. And June Allyson has done nothing to equal her Helen Miller—at once exasperated with the man she cannot resist and exhilarated by the drive in his life.

To the script of Valentine Davies and Oscar Brodsky, approved by Miller's widow and associates, and to the direction of Anthony Mann must go unreserved plaudits for making the story so much more than a musical cavalcade. The musical direction by Joseph Gershenson, sound recording by Leslie I. Carey and Joe Lapis, camera work by director of photography William Daniels, and period decoration by Russell A. Gaustman and Julia Heron are contributions, moulded brilliantly into a whole which makes "The Glenn Miller Story" one of the grandest entertainments experiences of our time.

"PLAN FALL AND WINTER GARDEN NOW"

"Why not grow a fall and winter garden for your 4-H project?" Josie Cyert asked her fellow club members. "Now is the time to get started and to get the seed in the ground." Turnips, beans, black eye peas, okra, squash, radishes, onions, cucumbers, and the winter type of vegetables such as collards, cabbage, sweet potato and many others may be planted and harvested before the late frost comes. Light frost will not kill many of the fall garden vegetables.

Tomato plants may be cut back to one good strong shoot and given water and fertilizer. It will produce again.

Chas. Taylor and Lou Jeffers, your county agents may be of help to you in planting this fall garden. Ask them for bulletin No. C-59 Fall and Winter Garden and No. C-121 Frame Garden Suggestions.

DUBLIN RODEO QUEEN—Pretty Jo Ann Henderson of Dublin, Texas has been chosen Queen of the Pre-Madison Square Garden Rodeo to be held in Dublin on September 1, 2, 3 and 4. The 17-year-old Miss will lead the parade which precedes each nightly performance. A feature attraction on September 1 and 2 will be the personal participation of Gene Autry, star of radio, stage and screen—his horse Champion—and the Cass County Kids—in specialty acts. The 21-Member Sheriff's posse of Harris County will present a spectacular lighted torch act at each of the four nightly performances.

DRY OR WET -- PLANTING OF WINTER PASTURES ADVISED BY AGENT

If livestock could talk, they'd be asking for lots of good winter grazing and promising more meat and milk at lower costs.

Winter pastures, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, supply needed green grazing when summer pastures are dormant; provides vitamins and proteins; make possible a rest period for permanent pastures which improve their vigor; and mighty important right now, will cut the cost of wintering livestock. A study made in central Texas by the Experiment Station shows that without pasture the cost for supplemental feed for wintering a ewe went up about $10 and for a cow about $24. Trew recommends the planting of at least one acre for each animal unit on the farm.

From the standpoint of soil protection and improvement, winter pastures are a paying proposition. They provide a cover for the land and prevent washing and wind erosion and the roots and residue add organic matter to the soil.

Regardless of moisture conditions at planting time, Trew says, plant. Dust the seed in if necessary for you'll be ahead when the rains come. Those dry plantings last fall, says the specialist, got earlier grazing and thus were able to save on winter feed bills. Don't fail, emphasizes Trew, to use fertilizer. If it doesn't rain, the plant food will not be lost but can be used by the succeeding crop.

The specialist likes to use a combination of grasses and a legume. The combination gives greater total production, the forage is higher in protein and minerals and the grazing season lasts longer. Generally, the small grains, oats, rye, barley and in some areas wheat, are the best bet for winter grazing. Italian ryegrass does well in east Texas, the Gulf Coast region and in the Blackland and Grand Prairie areas. Vetch, crimson clover, Hubam and Madrid sweetclover are among the legumes which can be grown successfully in combination with the grasses.

Trew suggests that the local county agent be contacted for information on the best combination for a particular area.

The legume seed should be inoculated before planting. The cost is small compared with the returns of more production and nitrogen-fixing bacteria on the roots of the plants.

Trew suggests that soil samples be taken from the areas to be used for winter pastures, and sent to a soil testing laboratory. He describes the dollar spent for this service "as the best fertilizer dollar you can spend." The analysis will show whether fertilizers are needed and if so, the type and amount required to make the winter pasture tops.

Finally, he says, why not use winter grazing crops to lower meat and milk production costs?

cut labor requirements for handling the animals; and build and protect the soil.

Mrs. Tom Johnson, Mrs. Bill Andrews, Mrs. R. R. Wooten and Mrs. Fred Jennings, are spending this week in Ruidoso, N. M.

Dr. and Mrs. Elton Cook of Temple, Texas visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Kelley this week. Dr. Cook is associated with the Black Land Experiment Station in Temple.

Moyne L. Kelly

Candidate for County School Superintendent Dickens County Democratic Run-Off August 28, 1954

To the CITIZENS OF DICKENS COUNTY AND THE GIRARD INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

PLEASE! PLEASE! BE SURE TO GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE! -- August 28!

The long, tiresome, costly county campaigns for office will soon be over, and the good people of Dickens County will make their selection from the remaining candidates in the several races.

In this race for County Superintendent, Robert Williams and Moyne Kelly have done their best to contact EVERY HOME and EVERY VOTER in Dickens County and to offer their services for the next (4) years. Both men have sought to keep the race clean and on a high and friendly level. WIN OR LOSE, no friendships will be broken, no alibis will be offered, no ill-will or bitterness will be harbored, and no vengeance will be wreaked upon anyone; for both of us have taught and lived GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP too many years not to close out this final campaign on the same level.

ROBERT WILLIAMS has a good, clean record of character and service wherever he has lived and worked. He has nothing to be ashamed of and nothing to apologize for in his services rendered during his working years. WIN OR LOSE, he will still remain a good, solid, substantial citizen of Dickens County.

MOYNE KELLY has a good, clean record of character and service wherever he has lived and worked. He has nothing to be ashamed of and nothing to apologize for in his services rendered during his working years. WIN OR LOSE, he will still be striving to be a good, solid, substantial citizen of Dickens County.

Office of County Superintendent

The office of County Superintendent is one of the most important offices in the County.

This office has unlimited possibilities in the matter of rendering service to ALL OF THE PEOPLE in the County.

Education is a never-ending process and it does not begin nor end in the school-room.

Education goes on in the Home before the School Years and continues in all phases of our life-work after we have finished the school-room contacts.

Ordinarily, we think of the Office of Education as being, primarily, the champion of School Operations; but if the above facts are true, would it not be logical to think in terms of the Office of Education as being also a champion of Pre-School and After-School operations?

If education is a continual process in the life of every individual and every progressive, human movement, would it not be worthwhile for the County Office of Education to serve a bigger and broader purpose?

Would you like for your County Office of Education to put on a progressive, educational program that would really give value and power to all groups and activities within Dickens County?

MOYNE KELLY visualizes such a program, and needs only the opportunity to put it into operation for the children and adults of Dickens County!

GIVE MOYNE KELLY A CHANCE TO PROVE HIMSELF IN THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE!

Give Moyne Kelly a CHANCE TO GIVE OF HIS BEST TO HIS COUNTY!

The Present Situation

The people of Dickens County have been good to Robert Williams. They have given him eight (8) years of leadership in the County Superintendent's Office and have supported him in carrying out his Program in this office.

Within those eight (8) years, Robert Williams has drawn a good salary and has been able to establish himself and his family in a good home on one of the best irrigated acreages in the County.

Robert Williams has already given HIS BEST to the County in the Office of County Superintendent, and Dickens County has given its BEST to Robert Williams.

TIME FOR A CHANGE!

A vote for Moyne Kelly would not be a vote against Robert Williams, but only a vote for a NEW PROGRAM in the County Superintendent's Office. Progress occurs, in a Democracy, only when changes occur.

No two people think or act alike on any subject or in regards to any one position played in the game of life.

Moyne Kelly has some new, practical ideas, a new approach, some New Drive and Push, and a new touch to put into the County Superintendent's Office that will help the WHOLE COUNTY.

Moyne Kelly wants to help pull Dickens County back together again, and to help all parts of the County to function properly and profitably in a finer and stronger mutual relationship.

Moyne Kelly wants to help every school in Dickens County to get all that is coming to it, and to lend his support in making each of them bigger and better in every way.

Moyne Kelly is strong for the Veterans' Schools, the F. F. A. and F. H. A. Programs, Extension Service Work, County Health Program, etc.

GRAIN DRYING AND RANGE PLANTS SUBJECT OF NEW BULLETINS JUST RELEASED

Almost every problem encountered by Dickens County farmers in storing grain traces back to moisture. Excessive grain lead to insect, heat and moisture conditions in stored grain for most of the difficulties, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer and J. W. Sorenson, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

These engineers are authors of L-201, "Drying Small Grain," which is a short condensed publication. It is available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, in B-236, "Range Plants of Texas," outlines by areas the good, fair, poor and low value range plants of the state. He says the kinds of grasses differ as much as types of cattle, sheep or goats. As in livestock, some plants are pure-breds, others good doers and some scrub or culls. In fact, he adds, a combination of well-bred animals on the best kinds of forage man and nature will let grow on a native pasture to net the most returns.

Walker cites as main reason for the deterioration of Texas rangelands -- overstocked, poor distribution of livestock on the pastures, lack of water facilities and poor management plans. The prevailing drought has added to the difficulties.

This new publication is also available at the office of local county agents or from the Agricultural Office, College Station.

Energy sales of rural electric systems financed by REA are now running more than a million dollars daily. A 10-fold increase in the last 12 years.

GEORGE D. HOLLAND
Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist

- WHO IS GEORGE D. HOLLAND?
He owns the Maico Hearing Center, Lubbock's most modern and best equipped hearing aid office, located at 1512-19th Street for the past five years. Before entering the hearing field he was a school teacher and superintendent of schools in Texas for 15 years. He is a graduate of Texas A. and M. College.
- CAN HE FIT HEARING AIDS PROPERLY?
Holland is a Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist, having passed the examination required by the American Society of Hearing Aid Audiologists. He is the only man so certified in Lubbock. His wife, Agnes Holland, who runs his office in Lubbock in his absence, is also a Certified Hearing Aid Audiologist.
- WHAT HEARING AIDS DOES HOLLAND DISPENSE?
Maico, the most trusted and respected name in the hearing aid field. Over 80% of all hearing tests made in the world are made on Maico instruments, including every Ear Specialist in Lubbock and West Texas, ninety-two schools in the Lubbock-South Plains area including Texas Tech in Lubbock and West Texas State College in Canyon. Hundreds of hard of hearing persons in this area wear Maico hearing aids.
- DO MAICO HEARING AIDS REQUIRE BATTERIES?
No. Maico hearing aids are transmitter instruments, using tiny energy cells the size of a dime and operate for less than a week at about $5 per year. Maico aids are the world's smallest, weighing only an ounce, and are worn in a lady's hair, with no cord on the neck, and positively no clothing noise, or as a man's tie clip.
- ARE MAICO HEARING AIDS SOLD ON TERMS?
Yes. Your old hearing aid will serve as the down payment, of an extremely small down payment will suffice. Monthly payments run about the same as your telephone bill.
- CAN HOLLAND MAKE EVERYBODY HEAR?
No. Many kinds of hearing people can't be benefited by hearing aids. He will test your hearing and will tell you to what extent you can be helped by a hearing aid. But wearing aids must be fitted for one to understand. Trying to hear on an aid that doesn't fit is like trying to see with someone else's glasses.
- DOES HOLLAND CHARGE FOR HEARING TESTS?
No. He will test your hearing without cost or obligation. If a hearing aid won't benefit you, or if you decide you don't want to wear it, we'll try to high-pressure you into buying an aid.

If you can't meet Holland at the time and place indicated above, fill out the coupon below and mail to him and he will call at your home for an examination of your hearing. Stop your frustration and embarrassment with good hearing. A hard of hearing person is a lonesome person and is often a problem for his family.

THE STRANGE CONTRAST

In his 20 years in State office, the present Governor, Allan Shivers, has said a great many things, and has done a lot less than he had said he would do. His promises of 1954 can be gauged by Texans who want to vote with care, by his performances of the past. Mr. Shivers, a very effective exponent of the trade of saying one thing and doing another, has written his own record, which can be given in many instances in his own words, and by that record he richly deserves to be judged.

ON PARTY:
"I will support the Democratic nominees. I make that pledge without reservation."
—Shivers to Credentials Committee, National Democratic Convention, July 18, 1952.

ON WATER:
"Eighty percent of the flood waters in Texas was wasted . . . 50 million acres . . . have lost one-fourth of their topsoil . . . We must do something about it."
—Shivers radio speech May 10, 1950, quoted in Dallas Morning News.

On Old Age Assistance:
"Certainly we must continue an even better pattern in the great field of human relations . . . this field includes public welfare—sufficient aid to our splendid elderly men and women."
—Shivers in radio speech, Texas State Network, 7 p. m. Aug. 3, 1949, shortly after he became governor.

"I shall continue to advocate making available to our deserving aged citizens . . . sufficient funds to carry them through the evening years of life."
—Shivers in campaign radio speech, 8:45 p. m. July 15, 1952.

"This basis of all propoganda is the misleading statement which has the ring of authenticity, whether it is used by the village busybody or persons in high office attempting to promote 'the big lie.'"—Article entitled "They Say . . ." by Allan Shivers, in This week, Nov. 23, 1952.

ON TEACHER PAY:
"I'm not against the $600 pay raise . . . but we are forced to decide what we can afford."
—Signed article by Gov. Allan Shivers, Dallas Morning News, Feb. 19, 1953.

ON PARTY:
"I have no intention of voting any other ticket than the Democratic ticket."
—Shivers in Statewide radio speech, July 17, 1952 (just before the primary election).

ON HONESTY:
"The honesty, efficiency and integrity of your State government have not been questioned."
—Shivers in radio campaign speech, 8:45 p. m. July 15, 1952.

"Gov. Allan Shivers' call for a cost-of-living salary raise for teachers drew applause today . . ."
—Dallas Morning News, Oct. 5, 1952, reporting speech to schoolmen in Austin.

ON FEDERAL AID:
"I will not sign the bill for the Canadian River Dam unless Federal Aid provisions are eliminated."
—Shivers to delegation of Panhandle leaders, May, 1953.

"I intend to vote for the Republican candidate for President and Vice President."
—Shivers at Press Conference, Oct. 2, 1952.

"We must work out a program to save our soil and water."
—Shivers in campaign speech, June 10, 1954 Still just talking four years later.

"I'm not sure that I can support the old-age assistance amendment. I'm not sure what it means."
—Shivers at press conference in October, 1951, just before old-age assistance increase was defeated at the polls.

Fact: The ceiling on old age pensions, for which Shivers voted as a senator in 1945, has remained in effect to this day, throughout Shivers' three years as lieutenant governor and five years as governor.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Q. Weeding the garden, a turn about the golf course, tennis, beaches and similar strenuous activity all crammed into one weekend, and by the time Sunday rolls round, my family are exhausted, unburied, aching and disagreeable. Do you know of some "pop-up" treatment, something to rejuvenate, soothe, relax aching muscles, and tingling skin?

A. Yes, here's a simple recipe to relieve distress from weekend occupational hazards: relax in a tub of tepid water to which you've added 1/2 pound baking soda. Baking soda, which is pure mild bicarbonate of soda, relaxes tired muscles, relieves the itch and sting of dry and burning skin, soothes, refreshes! And gentle soda is a mild alkali, so it neutralizes fatty acids on the skin surface, leaves skin wonderfully sweet, fresh and clean.

I AM MY BROTHER'S KEEPER

Accidents like these, involving children at school crossings and playgrounds, are happily getting fewer every year. But accidents that involve two or more motor vehicles are not. We believe there is a unique reason for this - a reason that lies deep within human nature itself.

Almost every motorist feels a strong personal responsibility for the safety of children. It is instinctive for any man or woman to protect the life of a child even at the risk of personal danger. Most of us are extremely careful when we see a little boy or girl in or near the street.

But tens of thousands of motorists feel no such personal responsibility for their fellow drivers. To the man at the wheel the person in the other car is often an enemy or a fool. He views him with impatience, suspicion and latent hostilities. He is ready to cuss him out at the drop of a hat.

If you doubt this, why not check your own behavior at the wheel of a car? Have you never cut past another car too closely for safety because you felt it was hogging the highway and wandering all over the place? Have you never hugged the center line on the road - just because the stubborn driver approaching was doing the same thing? Or committed any number of other impatient and dangerous violations of good traffic manners and safety rules?

These are the things that cause bad accidents.

Safety experts and students of human behavior say we could eliminate the causes of many such accidents merely by thinking of the fellow in the other car as a friendly human being instead of as a foe bent on our own destruction. They remind us that the truly mature person feels a sense of kinship with every other person. They also remind us that when we feel friendly toward someone our acts bear us out. They are friendly, courteous and reasonable, too. And finally, that a courteous action usually begets a courteous response.

Tests have proved it, over and over again. The man who gives the other fellow a break in traffic almost always gets a friendly wave and a thank you. Try it today yourself and see.

For his own safety - and the safety of everyone on the road - the good driver keeps telling himself "I am my brother's keeper." He feels a continuing sense of personal responsibility for the welfare of every other motorist and every pedestrian he meets.

Try giving the other motorist a break because you think he is a good guy and because you like him. You will deserve the thanks of everyone. And your actions and thoughts will make you a happier person.

Your Next Governor of Texas??

Do you have a definite choice of candidates? If not, note the following facts:

Many people in Dickens County are wavering in their decision as to which of the two candidates is the better fitted to serve Texas.

It is reliably estimated that not more than a dozen people in all Dickens County have a personal acquaintance with either of the two aspirants.

The remainder of us must, of necessity, form our opinion and base our choices on material coming to us largely by way of the press, radio, and television.

The material obtained in this manner has been so controversial and degrading to both candidates that the fundamental issue have been so clouded that the intelligent voter has been left both perplexed and confused.

Under such circumstances we deem it wise to heed the good counsel of a tried and proven public servant, well known to us all for his dependability, honesty and integrity, - namely Marshall Formby.

Marshall is highly respected over the state for his past and present efforts in behalf of all the people of Texas. He is familiar with the problems that now confront the State of Texas. His views are deserving of deliberate consideration.

From his vantage point he has endorsed the reelection of Allan Shivers as being the best man to guide the destinies of Texas for the next two years. Marshall knows and has worked with both candidates. We do not believe that he would recommend anyone less than the best for this highest elective office in the state.

Marshall is now a member of the Texas Highway Commission and holds one of the highest and most important appointive offices in the state. He is doing a good job as he has always done whenever and wherever he has been called to serve.

We believe that Governor Shivers made an excellent choice when he selected Marshall for this office. Marshall is the only Dickens County product ever to be selected for such a responsible position in the history of the State.

We believe that Marshall would be greatly pleased if all Dickens Countians rolled up a heavy vote for the candidate responsible for his appointment in Saturday's election. No nicer tribute could be given to a home county boy in appreciation of his many years as a faithful public servant in the interests of Dickens County and West Texas.

IT'S THE LAW

HOMEOWNERS MAY BE LIABLE FOR ACCIDENTS ON PREMISES

Can a homeowner be held responsible for accidents that happen to other people while they are on his property? Lawyers say it is difficult to state a hard and fast rule about liability for such accidents because the facts differ so much from case to case. However, some conclusions can be drawn by noting how the courts have decided in specific cases which have been brought before them.

A postman delivering mail slipped on a child's roller skate one morning. He sued the homeowner for damages. The court held the delivery of mail is for the benefit of the homeowner and that he must take care to remove any conditions on his property which would make delivery of the mail dangerous.

Then there was the case of the meter-reader who slipped and fell on the basement steps and the courts held the owner responsible because the steps were defective.

On the other hand, a guest sued her host because she slipped and fell when she stepped on some beans strewn about the owner's living room. The host's children had been playing with with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Power, Kay and Kenneth Neely.

Raye and Gary Dickinson have returned home after a visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Story of Sundown.

L. A. Meeden of Tribby, Okla. is visiting in the home of his daughter, the J. F. Dickinsons.

Mrs. Lee Parker of Girard visited Friday with her sister, Mrs. Ellis Power. Betty Parker returned home with her mother after a visit here, while Bobby remained for a visit.

bean-shooters on the day she chose to visit. The court held in this case that the host was not liable for her injury.

Similar cases where social calls resulted in a disaster involved a guest slipping on a small scatter rug, and another overnight guest who slipped and fell in a shower. Both cases were decided in favor of the homeowner—not the visitors.

From these cases it may be seen that the law is usually more strict about accidents befalling tradesmen and others who enter your premises in the line of duty so to speak—postmen, laundrymen, meter-readers, delivery boys and the like—than it is in the case of those who enter your home for purely social reasons.

This does not mean that a homeowner is absolved of all responsibility for injury to his guests. If he knows a dangerous condition exists, he has a duty to correct it and can be held liable for accidents which might happen if he doesn't. For example, a rotted tree branch fell to the sidewalk, injuring a passerby. The general rule here is that the owner was responsible because he knew of the defective condition and should have remedied it.

Fortunately, not everyone who falls down the front steps gets up and rushes off to sue his host. However, a substantial body of law has grown out of this type of negligence case. This is not surprising when you realize that more fatal accidents occur in and around the home each year than from traffic accidents on the highway.

(This column, based on state and federal law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Fire is a constant threat during the cotton harvesting and ginning season. Farmers and ginners can help each other by the farmer keeping fire hazards out of the unginned cotton and the ginners by maintaining adequate fire controlled equipment in the gin, training employees to handle fire emergencies and keeping the gin plant reasonably clean.

Beef is the featured food on the USDA's plentiful list for September. It gets top ranking because supplies are heavy and prices make it a good buy.

PLENTIFUL FOODS LISTED FOR SEPTEMBER

Beef is featured on September's plentiful foods list. It gets top ranking because supplies are heavy and prices are about the lowest so far this season.

Best, however, will not be the only major food on next month's list for at least 15 others are listed by the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in the southwest.

Homemakers will find plenty of medium and small eggs; milk and other dairy products; turkeys; hens, broilers and fryers; honey and rice; peanuts and peanut butter; fresh and processed lemons and limes; salad oils and vegetable shortenings when shopping in September.

If the old adage, "Variety is the spice of life" be true, then grocery shoppers next month by taking advantage of the "best buys" should be able to give the family a pleasing and nutritious variety of good eating.

The Khapra (capp-r)a beetle, a native of India, Ceylon and Malaya, has been found by USDA entomologists in California, Arizona and New Mexico. It's small and brown and looks much like some other grain-feeding bugs. Uncontrolled, it could become a serious pest of stored grain and grain products. If an unfamiliar bug shows up in your stored grain, report it to your county agent.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDEE

Current Federal Trade Commission investigations into coupon practices, brings up an interesting question which may require Justice Department action.

The question: "Are big corporations using coupons to wreck independent manufacturers, violating laws regarding issuance of money?"

The U.S. Constitution is specific on this matter, some claim.

Section 8 provides Congress shall have power to coin money, to regulate value, and to regulate value of foreign coins. Section 10 prohibits states from coining money, or making anything but gold and silver legal tender.

In other words, no sovereign state can demand, for example, its citizens to accept shoe buttons or any other item, in exchange for goods and services. It must be in legal tender prescribed by Congress.

Thus it now appears to many that some corporations are operating as super-sovereignty exceeding power of any state.

While coupons are not claimed to be currency but merely an offer to pay, it is being found in actual practice they have the full force and effect of currency.

A housewife receives a coupon that tells her to take it to her grocer, buy the product being pushed, and the grocer will knock ten cents or some other amount off the price.

The grocer can legally refuse to honor the coupon. If he refused a genuine U. S. dime for a dime article, he could be deprived of his ability but while refusal to accept the coupon will not deprive him of his liberty, it will deprive him of patronage.

But law interpretation is often based on actual practice as well as technical wording. In this case, through actual practice, coupon issuing corporations are exercising right of printing currency, which is restricted to Congress.

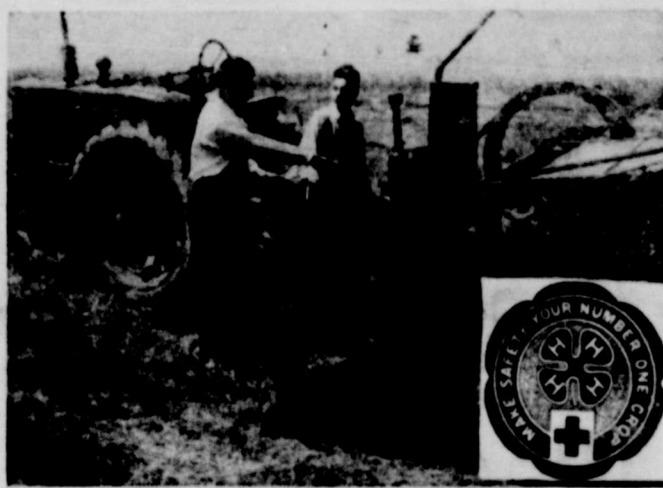

Many housewives do not read or understand fine print on coupons. Many save coupons until they have around a dollars worth, and on their next trip to the grocer, use them as currency, because in their minds they accept in good faith that coupons have a definite monetary value.

So with all good conscience, and with good faith, the housewife literally blackjacks the independent grocer into accepting these coupons, regardless of whether he handles some of the products, or whether or not the coupons have expired. He cannot afford to antagonize customers, so some compulsion exists as if grocer were handed lawful currency, even though he never collects from the corporation.

The chains do not have this problem. If coupons are obsolete, or for any other reason not acceptable to the corporation, if turned in by an independent grocer, a big chain, by virtue of its mass buying from the corporation, compels the corporation to accept coupons. Again, element of compulsion enters.

So coupons, which from a technical legalistic standpoint are bogus currency, become through the elements of practice and compulsion, as valid as legal tender. The only difference is that while independent grocers are compelled to accept them as offered in good faith, they lack the power to compel redemption by the issuing corporation.

Nation's 4-H'ers Seek to Cut Death Toll of Farm Folk on Rural Highways

Look out, young fellers!

CHICAGO—(Special)—"Make Safety Your Number One Crop," the slogan of several million rural boys and girls throughout the nation since its introduction in 1945, continues to be fostered by more than 615,000 4-H Club members. They are taking part in the 1954 National 4-H Safety Program being conducted in 46 states for the tenth consecutive year.

Participants receive training in farm accident and fire prevention, which includes checking and removing hazards of every conceivable nature.

These surveys are credited by safety experts as being a valuable contribution to the nationwide campaign to reduce the tragic annual toll of 15,000 lives and 1,225,000 disabling injuries to farm folk.

In conducting their surveys, the 4-H'ers look for such safety hazards as loose or floppy clothing worn about moving farm machinery, cluttered stairways, oily rags, frayed electric cords, broken ladder rungs and sharp tools.

What is becoming an increasingly serious item is that accidents to farm people caused by motor vehicles now account for nearly one-fourth of all deaths and injuries that occur on rural highways. Also, 700 of the fatal farm accidents reported last year involved wheel tractors. One-third of the fatal tractor accidents reported involve persons under 20 years of age. One case in ten was a child under 5.

To help correct this problem, the 4-H'ers are giving highway safety demonstrations before farm groups and over local radio stations, as well as putting window displays in town stores and booths at county fairs.

The 1954 National 4-H Safety Program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. As incentives for outstanding records in the program, General Motors provides medals of honor which are presented to four county winners, and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago to the state winner. Eight of the latter will be selected as national winners, each receiving a $300.00 college scholarship.

She kept a diary of her telephone calls

HOW VALUABLE IS YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE? Recently we asked a group of telephone customers to help answer that question by keeping a record of all the calls they made and received for a week. Like others in the group, Mrs. Felicia Littlejohn (above) was genuinely surprised at how much she depended on her telephone service and how it helped her through busy days. Altogether, Mrs. Littlejohn made and received 58 local calls in the seven days and she estimates that they covered a total of 345 miles... all for a few pennies a call.

JACK SIMMONS TRANSFERRED TO JAYTON U.S.A. OFFICE

Jack Simmons, engineer for the U. S. D. A. Soil Conservation service is at this time working out of the Jayton office.

Mr. Simmons has been working out of the Spur office for the last ten years, doing engineering and conservation work for the U. S. D. A. He has made many friends, since he has been working with the people of Dickens county. Many of the co-operators of the district called on Mr. Simmons to help solve their farm problems, and get technical assistance in applying Soil and Water conservation practices on their land.

It is with regret we lose a man like Simmons out of the Spur office who has the knowledge and the willingness to work with the people as he does. Signed: a Cooperator of the District.
