Bulldogs Host Lockney In District Showdown

SPUR OVERTAKES, THEN HOLDS POST FOR 14-13 DISTRICT WIN

By Bob Johnson
The Spur Bulldogs came from behind at Post last Friday night to win a ball game that the Antelopes thought they had in the bag. Spur took advantage of every break and hung on tenaciously to take the measure of a ball club that had been touted very highly.

Not long after the opening kick off, the Antelopes had rung up a tally of six points. Max Gabriel blocked the try for extra point very effectively, which proved to be one of the deciding factors in the game—plus the fact that James Gordon's toe was in fine kicking order.

After the TD, Post started some drives that looked as if they were going all the way, but the Bulldog line dug in, bolstered by the fine defensive play of Randall Gilcrease, David Morgan, Allen Kisinger, Gordon, Gabriel, Royce Bilberry and Glenn Hairgrove, to hold the determined Post eleven. Just a few minutes before the half ended, the Bulldogs held the Antelopes for no gain and started a drive that undoubtedly was destined for a TD, but a fumble on the keeper play fized the march with about two minutes left on the clock.

As second-half play began, it wasn't long until Eddie Hagins, who had been bullying his way for gain after gain, went over for the Bulldogs' first TD. Gordon came in to kick the extra point which made the score 7-6. Dwayne Green was elected to carry the mail in the fourth quarter when he went over for the tally from eight yards out. Gordon again booted a perfect extra point. Everything looked pretty cozy then, with the Bulldogs leading 14-6, but Post went into the old TCU spread and started passing. They kept that formation until the end of the game and made a touchdown on it in the waning moments.

With seconds left in the game Post kicked off to Spur. It was a short kick and was fumbled by Spur. Post had time enough to get off two passes, the second of which was intercepted by Gabriel and there the game ended. Final score: Spur 14, Post 13.

The Bulldogs whipped a team that had lost a week previous to a supposedly strong Lockney team by a score of 6-0. The thing that stood out most in the game was the determination and the short time that the Bulldogs stayed in the huddle. They were out of the huddle and back up to the line ready to go in just a few seconds, not giving the opposition time to take a breather. Consequently, it is this reporter's observation that more plays can be run in a given time by using this method.

Coaches Bill Henry and Jim Eddins are to be highly congratulated for the way they have taken a comparatively green and inexperienced team and brought them thus far to three wins and one loss in district play. The Bulldogs have won over Tahoka, Slaton and Post. Their lone loss was to Abernathy.

For the season, Spur has won four, lost three and tied one. So you can see that the Bulldogs have improved considerably since the Matador game.

LOCKNEY HERE FRIDAY
Looking ahead to the Lockney game at Jones Stadium tomorrow night, Spur again has a rough row to hoe. It is our guess that Coaches Henry and Eddins will have that hoe sharpened by game time.

Lockney has gone undefeated since the season began and they won't want to begin losing this late in the season. But the Spur Bulldogs have shown the fans this year that they can come through in the clutch. Without a doubt, most sports writers will pick Lockney to win this one, but we pick Spur to beat Lockney by two TD's. Everyone wants Spur to beat Lockney, so let's show it by being at the big Pep Rally Friday afternoon at the high school gym. The time is 2:30 p. m. The attendance at these weekly pep rallies by townspeople has not been very good, so let's show the Bulldogs that we are really behind them by showing up at the rally tomorrow.

We think it would be a fine gesture to let the players' fathers again occupy the seats along the sideline for the Lockney game. Several of the dads have voiced their desire to do so. It would give the boys that little added incentive to play harder as it did in the Slaton game.

Should the Bulldogs win over Lockney and then go on to take Floydada, they would represent the district in bi-district play. Max Gabriel ranks third this week in area scoring in AA ball with 54 points. Hagins is 16th in the area with 42.

Ag Agencies To Set Conservation Plans For ACP, Soil Bank

The Dickens County ASC Committee and representatives of the other agricultural agencies in Dickens County will meet the first part of next week to set up the various practices for Soil Bank and regular ACP programs, states Bill Gunn, local ASC office manager.

The group will also set tentative prices to be applied to the different practices. For the Soil Bank conservation reserve program, the group will set up fair rates on these practices and then the Soil Bank contracts will call for the ASC to pay 80 percent of these rates.

Gunn again reminds farmers that Nov. 30 is the deadline to sign agreements on 1956 conservation reserve acreage.

The ASC office reports good attendance and very keen interest at the Soil Bank meetings held over the county last week.

Gunn reports that 1957 cotton allotment acreage for Dickens County farmers should be ready to mail by Nov. 20.

County Approved for Surplus Commodities

Judge W. H. Hindman announced this week that Dickens County has been approved for Surplus Commodities through the USDA for distribution to needy.

Judge Hindman states that anyone in the county not making or receiving from other sources a total of $60 per month may apply for receipt of these commodities. He adds that the program is primarily beneficial to the aged, disabled, blind and dependent children.

The county has already received approximately 8,800 pounds of foods including butter, cheese, dry milk, beans, rice, flour and corn meal. Distribution will be made from Dickens twice a month with the first distribution set for Nov. 7 and 8.

Judge Hindman points out that at present while there is plenty of work available on farms, it will not be likely that any physically able person can qualify.

1.11 Rain Recorded During October

Nice showers fell over the Dickens county area Monday night to bolster wheat prospects and add a general brighter outlook for the farmer, rancher and businessman.

The Spur Experiment Station recorded an official .44 of an inch. Dickens got an estimated half inch and the Afton area reported from a quarter to three-fourths in that vicinity. Glenn reports .41 and about a quarter fall at McAdoo.

The near-half inch at the Spur station brought the total for the month up to a dripping .11 in. Frost has already hit the car tops and tractor hoods over the county, but no killing cold has yet reached the county. For the month and season, a 33 degree reading on both Oct. 26 and 27 was the coldest. Yesterday morning it was 34.

Area Farmers Must Pay Minimum Wage

As of Oct. 22, Dickens County farmers were paying $1.50 per hundredweight for cotton pulling, states B. T. O'Connell, manager of the Texas Employment Commission in Lubbock, which is .05 below the minimum for Mexican nationals.

Dickens County farmers are reminded by O'Connell that they must by law pay Mexican nationals a minimum of $1.55 or the prevailing domestic labor rates if the prevailing wage is more than $1.55.

O'Connell also reminds area farmers that the Mexican nationals are a reserve labor source and are to be used only when domestic labor is not available.

ELECTION CARRIES 1,544 to 53; BOARD RESUMES WORK NOV. 15

The voters of Spur, Post, Crosbyton and Ralls overwhelmingly approved the creation of the White River Water Control and Improvement District by a total vote of 1,544 to 53.

The election, held simultaneously in the four cities last Saturday approved the action taken by the State Board of Water Engineers in creating the district and opened the way to further development of plans for the 2.5 million dollar project. The election also verified the district's board of directors composed of Lynn Buzbee of Spur, P. J. Jennings and Tom Bouchier of Post, Robert Work of Crosbyton, and M. A. McLaughlin of Ralls.

Spur mustered the largest opposition to the project—36 of the 53—but the present ample water supply kept the need of the lake from being felt as strongly as in the other cities. Post, the city with the most desperate current need of additional water, led the favorable vote with 552 for and 4 against. Spur totaled 323 for. Ralls voters favored the district 299 to 6 and Crosbyton voted 370 to 7.

It is reported that the topographic maps of the site will be ready for the board's consideration at the Nov. meeting. Also, the board will canvass the election returns.

All members of the 12-man citizens committee who worked on the project up to the election, will continue to meet in an advisory capacity with the official board, states Buzbee.

The next election in the project—that of approving the bonds—is tentatively set up for March of next year. However, Buzbee states that it is hoped that the entire project can be kept on a 30-day-ahead-of-schedule basis.

The board of directors of the district will meet in Crosbyton on Thursday, Nov. 15 to get plans rolling again toward the ultimate lake and water supply. Buzbee reports that a contract with the consulting engineers Freeze and Nichols, will be considered and work will begin on obtaining options on the land to be included in the lake.

General Election Tues.

Polls Open 8 to 7; Voting Place Changed For West Spur Precinct

The voters of the nations will turn out next Tuesday, Nov. 6, to cast what has been predicted to be one of the largest votes in history.

With the two parties winding up their bids for the notice and support of the individual, Americans will feel their individual importance in a re-newed sense of belonging as they put candidates in public office all the way from constable to president.

In Dickens County there will be no contests on the local scene but local voters will be anxious to cast their ballots for presidential candidates, and possibly write in a candidate or two.

The voting place in West Spur has been changed, states election official Raymond Powell, from the Dickens County Electric Co-op office to the showroom of Chastain Implement Co.

Along with the presidential election, of interest to Texans are the constitutional amendments.

On the local scene efforts are being made to get voters to consider amendments 3 and 4. No. 3 deals with altering the laws governing the Permanent University Fund to make wider use of the revenue from it for state school buildings and experiment station

'AWAY ALL BOATS!' REAL SAGA OF PACIFIC WARFARE

Like the great sweep of the South Pacific itself, Universal-International's "Away All Boats!" the saga of an amphibious war seen through the eyes of one skipper from the deck of one attack transport, smashes across the screen of the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The skipper is Jeff Chandler, and the battle-scarred ship is the U.S.S. Belinda of the best-selling Kenneth M. Dodson novel which comes to the screen with all the dynamic grandeur that VistaVision and Technicolor can give it.

In a long career of hard-hitting roles Chandler has never been better suited to a portrayal than that of Capt. Jebediah Hawks, the rugged veteran of a dozen ocean campaigns who builds a raw crew of officers and men into the toughest and most efficient amphibious team in the South Pacific.

There is not space enough to tell of the many pulsating performances in the giant cast, but outstanding among them is George Nadar as Boat Group Commander. In "Away All Boats!", Nadar takes another big step toward top stardom in he-man roles.

A close second to Nadar are three portrayals which will be long remembered as the Belinda fights its way from Pearl Harbor across danger-ridden South Pacific waters. These are Lex Barker as Chandler's executive officer, Richard Boone as a ship's lieutenant, and Keith Andes as a surgeon.

The lone female of the cast is Julie Adams playing the role of George Nadar's wife. Miss Adams brings to the part all the poignancy of a sailor's wife, hoping through a long war that her man will return safely to her.

IT'S THE LAW

"Your Honor, I Object . . ."

Second guessers and Monday morning quarterbacks always have brilliant hindsight. How well they pinpoint the boobos the coach made last week!

So it is with the trial in a law suit. After the jury brings in the verdict people can tell you how your lawyer should have conducted the trial.

But as with football, it's somewhat harder to look forward into the swirl of maneuvers and predict in advance how a particular move will make out. The future holds many surprises.

Our system of justice rests upon the "adversary" theory of a trial where both sides fight for real stakes in dead earnest.

Our U. S. Supreme Court, for example, will not give an "advisory" opinion to anybody—neither the President or Congress—as to whether a proposed law would be constitutional. The court decides that point only in a real law suit with real people fighting for real stakes.

Our courts have an aversion to deciding a point of fact or law where each side does not present its views on the merits with skill, vigor, and good faith. They know how plausible one side can sound until the adversary has his lining.

So, during a trial the pressure is on. Each side tries to present the facts favorable to its cause and prevent the other side from presenting matters which are not properly admissible under the rules of evidence.

To make matters worse, unless your lawyer acts at once, when the other side offers a piece of testimony, he loses the right to get the court to strike it from the record at a later time.

Fully to protect you, your lawyer must plan your case so that if things go against you, he can take your case "on the record" higher court if he feels that the trial court has erred. But alas, often he cannot claim the error unless he made a point of it at the proper instant during the trial.

If you ever sat on a jury, you may have wondered why some son, father of Mrs. N. L. Fox of Petersburg, are former McAdoo residents.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Edwards and granddaughter, Jana and Mrs. Hardy Edwards of Lubbock stopped for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nickels, Friday. They were enroute to Ft. Worth to return Jana to her home following a visit with her grandparents, in Lubbock and the Nickels here.

The Youth of the Community will meet at the Methodist church Monday night October 29 at 7:00. They will Trick or Treat for C. R. O. P. and then return to the Church for refreshments following the drive. All youth of the community are invited to take part. Your contributions will be appreciated.

Norman Earl Hardy spent the week at Crosbyton with Frances Ann and Elaine Taylor.

lawyer always objected to every little thing. He ought to have known, you think, that he was making the jury angry with him. Well, this is why: If he had not, for example, moved to "quash the indictment", or objected to certain evidence, the higher court might not let him raise the point on appeal.

So even if he antagonized everybody in the court, the lawyer by the rules of our system of justice, still had the duty of "protecting the record" so that if need be he could also protect his client in the higher courts.

At every stage of a lawsuit, your lawyer must remember to make points against the possible duty that a panel of thoughtful appellate justices will sit down calmly to review what was done in the excitement of a trial.

Final date for farmers to enter into Conservation Reserve contracts under the Soil Bank for this year, 1956, has been extended from October 15 to November 30, 1956, the U. S. Department of Agriculture made the announcement.

Texas wheat growers signed 12,116 agreements and placed 919,985 acres under the winter wheat Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank through October 5 the final date for signing agreements. A. B. Wooten, extension economist, says if those who signed agreements comply with the requirements of the program, they will be eligible for a maximum of $14,067,075 in Acreage Reserve payments.

Plains Growers Back Producer

Directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., last week voted to contribute $5,000 towards expenses of West Texas cotton producers involved in a suit with the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee over 1956 cotton allotments.

George Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice-President of the Plains Cotton Growers, said the organization believes the West Texas producers are right and want to see court case to a conclusion.

Pfeiffenberger said the Plains Cotton Growers Directors also voted to contribute another $5,000 if it be needed in this fight.

The Directors voted this action at the regular October Board of Directors meeting, held last Tuesday (October 9) in Lubbock.

At the same time the directors of the Plains Cotton Growers endorsed Amendment No. 3 which will be on the November 6 ballot pertaining to letting state institutions re-invest money in other approved state programs such as experimental agricultural research stations.

Pfeiffenberger said the PCC Directors were interested in getting more state funds available for agricultural experiment and research work.

The Plains Cotton Growers are sponsoring a short staple cotton conference in Lubbock November 1 and 2 at which technical experts in all phases of the cotton industry have been invited.

High Schools To Receive Mason Book

Every public high school in the Eastern Plains Scottish Rite Area will be presented with a copy of the new volume, "Masonry in Texas", by James D. Carter, Ph. D., of Waco, who spent years of research on the project. The Eastern Plains Area is composed of Childress, Cottle, King, Knox, Dickens and Motley Counties.

Plans to make an official presentation of the volumes to the school libraries on behalf of the Dallas Scottish Rite Bodies were announced today by C. L. Wright, of Paducah, Director of the Eastern Plains Area Scottish Rite Membership Committee, and Carroll Robertson, Associate Director.

Director Wright said the new volumes would be formally presented to the following schools in Dickens County in the immediate future:

Dickens High School, Girard High School, McAdoo High School, Patton Springs High School, and Spur High School.

Mr. Marion L. Jordan, prominent Dickens County Scottish Rite Mason, will be in charge of local distribution.

"Masonry in Texas" is credited with being of great historical significance and a valuable contribution to Texas history, Director Wright said. Dr. Carter has explored every legend and tradition in which any lodge or Masonic personnel is purported to have any connection with the history and development of Texas during

DESTROY COTTON STALKS WHEN HARVEST IS OVER

Conditions are ideal for destroying cotton stalks and boll residue because of the early harvest brought on by the drought. Extension Entomologists F. M. Fuller and C. F. Garner say the practice should be stressed for it is one of the best for controlling pink bollworms and other cotton insects.

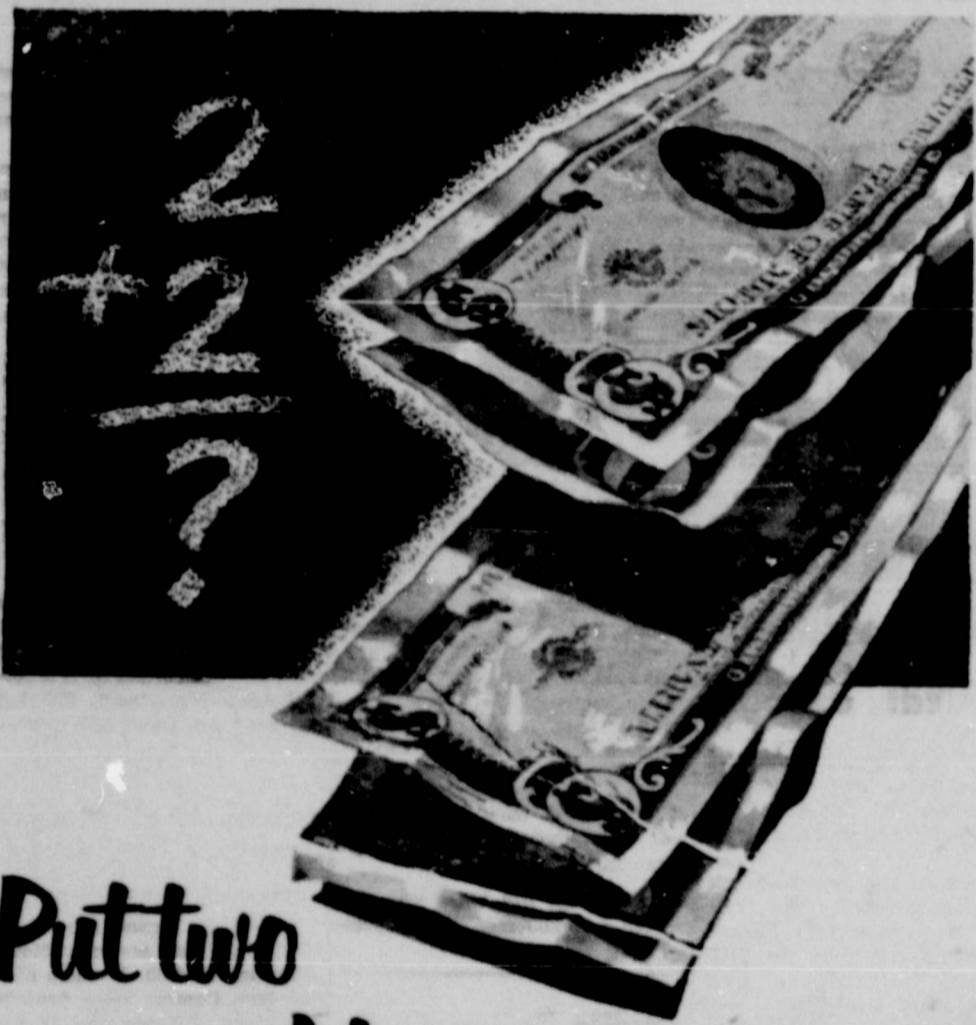

The use of stalk shredders is highly recommended since these machines kill many of the pink bollworms left in the field after cutting but that when the shredded material is spread thinly over the ground, hot sunshine and soil temperatures will kill many of the dreaded worms.

Most dryland cotton, in areas where stalk destruction is recommended, has or is now being harvested and the specialists again emphasize that stalk destruction should immediately follow harvest. They point out too, that in years such as this one, all cotton insects are attracted to late irrigated fields. The farmer, they say, who attempts to produce a top crop on late irrigated cotton will encourage a tremendous population of boll weevils and pink bollworms. The earlier the stalks are destroyed the longer will be the starvation period for the insects.

Your answer depends on what you're adding. Two apples plus two apples always equal four apples. But two dollars plus two dollars soon become MORE than four dollars when you put them in your savings account. The difference (in your favor) is the interest that is added, as earned, to your original deposit, and compounded regularly. This accumulating interest, combined with your own systematic savings will steadily add up to that new home, that college education for your children . . . or whatever else your dreams are made of. Several areas that by their very nature course conflicts among parents, teachers and pupils. The one getting the most attention was the grading system of the public schools and the reports to parents over the state. It appears that these two items are not satisfactory, and the recommendations are to study all phases of the question and open them for discussion at public meetings, in order that both sides or all 3 sides (parent, pupil, teacher) may be studied.

Other things a P.T.A. can do is organize study groups for parents and maintain better family living by fostering recreational activities as scouting, play schools, readiness schools, camp fire girls, P.T.A. organizations etc.

Mr. H. M. Allison, principal, Mrs. John Floyd, Mrs. Judon Rickels, Mrs. Everett McArthur and Mrs. Horace Wood were the others attending the clinic.

The East Primary school fosters a healthy situation and practices some healthy mental hygiene by having a mid-morning drink, pop-cicle, milk etc. for the children who want it and at the same time a "coffee break" for teachers.

Mr. Allison says, "We encourage the fellowship of teacher with teachers with child. It is most wholesome we think."

We think so too.

Miss Donna Rae McLaughlin of Canyon visited over the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Aston and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Adrain Rickels in Spur. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wright and girls, Wanda and Barbara, attended M.Y.F. and church at Dickens Methodist Church Sunday night.

Tex Says He's No Expert But He Believes Ike Is

The other night a bunch of us were sitting around in the drug store after the football game, drinking coffee and talking. You know how it is after a game in a small town, especially after the home team loses. Nearly every man in the crowd had a theory as to why we didn't win the game. Most of them, of course, blamed the coach. I couldn't help remembering that before we consolidated the county schools we didn't even have enough boys to make up a football team. And these same football experts who were saying what Rockne or Bud Wilkinson would have done, up until a few years ago they didn't know a football from a watermelon.

But that's the way it is in a small town (and in big ones, too, I understand). I guess there's no real harm done, although sometimes it's pretty rough on the coach.

I guess we have a right, in this free country, to be self-appointed experts in any line we want to pick out. It seems to me that most people choose either football or politics.

Take this presidential election coming up next Tuesday: During the last few weeks I have heard so many stories and theories from so many different political experts that I nearly get confused sometimes. I have to stop and think that the fellow who is talking probably doesn't know any more about it than I do, and that helps me keep straightened out.

In fact, I guess I have had my mind made up all along. I like Ike. He's a man you can always look up to and respect—the kind of man you'd be proud to point out to any person, from any country on the face of the globe, and say: "That's our President!"

About Adlai, now, I'm not so sure. Of course, if he was elected, he would be my President, too, and I would hope he'd do a lot better than most people around here seem to think he would. This is something I don't think we need to worry about, because from all I can hear and read, Ike is going to win it again.

It seems to me that if Adlai ever had a chance around here, he threw it away when he came out with that H-bomb business. Now, the folks in our town don't know much about H-bombs, except that they don't want any personal dealings with them. Our scientific knowledge of H-bombs is about on a par with our football knowledge, I reckon. But we do know one thing: We don't want some misguided, inexperienced fellow fooling around with our national defense. When it comes to trusting what Bulgravin says or what Eisenhower says, I'll take Ike. So will the rest of the country, if I don't miss my guess.

Just before we broke up the other night Doc Brown came into the drug store, and somebody asked him: "Hey, Doc, how's Ike doin'?" (Doc's a big Eisenhower man.) Doc said: "Well, it's a busy campaign for the medical profession. Last week he went and got his heart examined; and I understand that this week Adlai is going to get his head examined."

Yours truly,
Tex

SHELLY WILLIAMS, FORREST ESTEP EXCHANGE VOWS HERE OCT. 27

Miss Shelly Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, became the bride of Forrest Estep, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Estep in a double ring ceremony read by Rev. Raymond Smith Saturday, October 27th in the Bethel Baptist Church.

The ceremony was performed before an orb of fern and large bridal bouquets of white gladioli. The brides chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in the floral arrangement.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was Bridal Blue and Faile with a short blue veil of tulle caught in a tiara of seed pearls. Her shoes were of black suede. She carried a white pearl bible topped with white rose buds.

Mrs. Charles Collins, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue dress-makers suite and blue accessories with a white corsage.

Best man was David Estep. The ushers were Bob Williams and Don Estep.

Miss Judy Braug played the traditional wedding music. Miss Ann Reagan sang "Because" before the ceremony.

Mrs. Russell Williams, mother of the bride, wore a brown sabbatine dress with a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Cecil Estep wore a brown checked suit and a white corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith. In the receiving line was the wedding party.

The table was laid with blue net over a blue cloth. A large floral arrangement of white carnations was circled by white net with blue trim.

The two-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. A crystal punch bowl completed the table decoration. White napkins inscribed with Shelly and Forrest were placed in the center of the table.

The cake was served by Miss Alice Arnold and Miss Denise Mobley. Miss Jo Ann Foreman presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Nancy Powell was at the guest registrar.

The couple went for a short wedding trip in West Texas after the reception. For traveling the bride wore a black-checked sheath dress and black accessories. Her corsage was white rose buds.

After the trip the couple will be at home in Seminole.

State Draft Quota for Dec. Set At 877 Men

The state draft quota for December calls for 877 men. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The quota of 877 for Texas compares with a call of 858 for November, previously announced. The December quota is the biggest monthly call received in a year.

The December quota is the state's share of a national call of 17,000 men, all for the Army. At the same time he announced the November induction quota, Colonel Schwartz also announced a December call on approximately half the state's local boards for 1,491 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations for future calls.

He said that the boards not receiving a quota for these examinations already had been called upon to furnish men for examination in November. Local board quotas for the December induction and pre-induction examination are scheduled to be called from state Selective Service headquarters by November 1. The December quota will be filled with men who are 22 years of age or older on December 1, with the exception of delinquents or volunteers, who may be younger.

FHA to Handle New Feed Freight Rates

Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director, was advised today of the designation of Farmers Home Administration to execute certification forms in connection with reduced freight rates recently worked out between the President and railroad representatives to further assist farmers and stockmen in drought-stricken areas. This revised tariff provides for a reduction of 50 percent in the freight rate of hay forwarded to destination due to the drought, and applies only in connection with hay purchases of individuals who are entitled to assistance under the Hay and Roughage program.

Farmers Home Administration is authorized to execute certificates in behalf of farmers and ranchers only. Details of the program and forms required may be obtained from local county Farmers Home Administration offices.

FB Seeks Surplus CCC Feed Grains

The Texas Farm Bureau has asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson to permit farmers and ranchers to buy surplus feed grains from the Commodity Credit Corporation at the same rates that now apply to dealers.

In a telegram to Benson, TFB President J. Walter Hammond also requested that use of drought relief certificates be permitted as part payment for grain in the same manner now used in the drought roughage program. He also requested that eligible farmers be permitted to use the certificates to buy feed grains from any source.

"There is considerable dissatisfaction and disappointment among the farmers and ranchers regarding the administrative procedures for distributing drought relief feed grains," Hammond told the Secretary of Agriculture.

At present, eligible livestock producers must buy feed grain from dealers. Farmers complain that this makes the price higher, thus nullifying some of the beneficial effects of the federal drought relief program.

Widening Duck Creek Bridge and Spade Draw, approximately three miles northwest of Dickens and approximately 13 miles south of Dickens is expected to take 100 working days, according to Palmer Massey, District Highway Engineer at Childress. The awarding of the contract to this firm is subject to the concurrence of the Bureau of Public Roads.

Algie Groves, Resident Engineer at Matador will be in active charge of the project while under construction.

1957 FORD SMASHES 458 RECORDS AT BOONEVILLE

A 1957 Ford has traveled more than 50,000 miles at an average speed of more than 108 mile per hour on the Bonneville, Utah Salt Flats to capture all records from one mile up to 50,000 miles for a total of 458 national and international marks. This totals more records than ever have been held by any other stock car, Godfrey Motor Company, Ford dealer at Spur announced today.

Mr. Godfrey said that the same type of 1957 Ford may be test driven by Spur residents, and he issued an invitation to the public to try America's most rugged car.

"The Ford's Bonneville run began at 1:50 p. m. September 9. In the next 19 days the car traveled a distance equivalent to more than twice around the world at more than 108 miles an hour," Mr. Godfrey explained. "This was the greatest durability and performance achievement in the history of the automobile," he added. "The reason for this endurance run came from Crew-Chief Danny Eames who said: 'We don't want people to go this fast. What is more, no one should go this fast—except racing drivers—and then only on race tracks.'"

"This kind of test is designed strictly to improve the breed of cars... to test their durability. We're not after mere speed. The big thing is to torture the engine, the chassis, the body and all the thousands of parts with high speeds for tremendous distances. Here we've got an all-new car, a new kind of Ford, and we wanted to prove to ourselves, as well as to the American people, just what we had."

The Bonneville Salt Flats is one of the deadliest deserts on earth. Nothing can live on it, and nothing grows on it. Daytime heats range up to 100 degrees, while at night the thermometer plunges down to 50 degrees.

"The first day at Bonneville, the Ford knocked off all records up to 24 hours by running at an average of better than 120 miles an hour including time for pit stops and changing or drivers. After breaking the one-day records, the endurance run continued for 19 more days breaking further records almost every hour. A team of eight professional race drivers took turns keeping up the punishing test," Mr. Godfrey explained.

The second annual Texas Rescue Training School will open at College Station November 11. It was announced today by William L. McGill, state coordinator, division of defense and disaster relief.

The school is sponsored jointly by the defense division and the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association, and is conducted by the engineering extension service, Texas A&M College. It is part of the Texas Firemen's Training School, Henry D. Smith, chief.

"This year for the first time basic instruction will be given in radiation effects and monitoring instruments," McGill said. "The instruction will afford general familiarization with the hazards of radioactive contamination and the use of instruments required to detect and measure radiation."

McGill said the need for this instruction had become evident with the increased use, storage and shipment of radioactive materials.

"With this new training, fire and rescue workers will be able to evaluate radiation hazards and protect operating personnel working in and around contaminated areas," he added.

Texas wheat farmers signed 12-116 agreements and placed 919,985 acres under the winter wheat Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank through October 5. The figures were released by the state office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation to A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Wooten said if the farmers who have signed agreements comply with the requirements of the program, they will be eligible for a maximum of $14,067,075 in Acreage Reserve payments on the acreage pledged.

Aimed primarily at reducing price-depressing surpluses of wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, the Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank is available only to producers having acreage allotments of these crops or a Soil Bank corn base acreage, said Wooten. Program details for 1957 have been made available so far only for winter wheat seeded this fall for harvest next year.

STATE COTTON ACREAGE AND MARKETING QUOTA

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced the 1957 state acreage allotments for upland cotton; the national allotment for extra long staple cotton and set December 11 as the date for a referendum on marketing quotas for the 1957 cotton crop. The total allotments available for distribution in the states were set by the USDA at 17,565,463 acres. The total allotment for Texas was set at 7,547,503 acres which includes 10,974 acres as Texas' share of the national reserve. The Agricultural Act of 1956 provides that a national acreage reserve of 100,000 acres be apportioned among States on the basis of the estimated needs of each State for additional acreage to establish minimum farm allotments under the act.

The marketing quota for the 1957 crop upland cotton was announced on August 31 as 11,014,493 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. The marketing quota for extra long staple cotton, just announced, is 76,565 bales, and the national acreage allotment was set at 89,357 acres for the 1956 crop. At least two-thirds of the cotton producers voting in the December 11 referendum must favor the marketing quotas if they are to be effective on the 1957 crops. Whether quotas are approved or disapproved, 1957 cotton acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition of eligibility for price support.

The USDA announcement said that the state allotments would be apportioned among counties and the county allotments among farms according to provisions of the law and regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture. Individual farm acreage allotments will be mailed to operators of cotton farms prior to the referendum.
