Community Planning Clinic Nets Active Enthusiasm

Committees Outline Varied Projects For Future Development of Spur

The beginning of better things in nearly every phase of life in Spur was formed here Tuesday evening as 70 citizens met to form a community planning clinic. The meeting was held under the sponsorship of the Adult Education Group, Ned Hogan president, and was conducted by Dr. Per Spensland and G. H. Peters, both with the adult education department of Texas Tech.

The group met in general session and then retired to some eight different committee meetings to discuss goals, problems, possibilities and probabilities in eight different phases of community life and development. These included industry, youth, parks, water, agriculture, hospital, good neighbors and senior citizens.

Bob Johnson led the discussion in the youth meeting. Among the topics discussed were a youth center, scouting, Little League, and the need for adult leadership. The industry discussion was led by J. Fike Godfrey. The group considered briefly industries such as garment factories, feed mills, plastics fabricating, etc., and then outlined a brief and general plan to center a mesquite industry in Spur. Dr. Charles Fisher, superintendent of the Spur Experiment Station, attended the meeting and added to the discussion.

The parks committee, headed by Rex Holder, discussed the proper maintenance of the city's numerous parks, discussing ways of beautifying them. Chairmen for each of the smaller parks were appointed. E. B. Blumberg was leader of the water committee and reported on progress being made on the White River project. The utilization of water for industry, etc. was also discussed.

In the agriculture discussion the leader was Bill Gregory. This committee discussed such topics as agriculture information and education, diversification, water and soil conservation. A return to the old county fair method of displaying the fields of the land was suggested. Mrs. John King, Jr. stressed current needs in her report on the hospital meeting. Linens, building repairs, trained service personnel and local support were mentioned, along with a tribute to the work being done by the NIBS.

Representatives of the colored folks and the Latin-Americans attended the committee discussion on good neighbors, led by Mrs. Horace Wood. Individual citizenship and neighborly understanding were stressed in Mrs. Wood's report.

Ned Hogan reported for the senior citizens' group, stressing the senior citizens' desire for a place in today's progress and today's planning. He mentioned also a desire for educational programs for senior citizens.

The community planning experts from Tech commented very favorably on the meeting, indicating that Spur had taken a big step No. 1 toward making and carrying out a current and a long-range plan for progress.

They suggested a continuation of committee work in the various fields and a "reporting" meeting within a month or six weeks to give the citizenry a picture of the progress, plans and difficulties of the various groups. Mayor Reese McNeill presided over the meeting which was held in connection with a regular city council meeting.

My, my, what a wet country! Spur's official total rainfall for the wet month of February is 2.15 inches. Only five times in the past 47 years has it rained over two inches in February! Recordings of .16, .10 and .07 were recorded at the experiment station on Feb. 22, 23 and 24, respectively, for a total of .33 for the "spell". The average rainfall for Feb. is .76. This January the total fall was .47, to bring the total for the year to 2.82.

Lake Project At Land Option Point

The board of directors of the White River Water Control and Improvement District met in Spur last Thursday to hear a report that work on the lake project has been temporarily delayed while efforts are being made to reach agreements with the land owners from which surface rights will be purchased. The report was brought by M. A. McLaughlin.

McLaughlin added that abstracts from all the land owners have been obtained and that the lawyers are examining them. As soon as examinations are complete the committee will attempt to get releases from leaseholders, mineral holders and others that might be involved in some type of ownership.

At the last Thursday's meeting R. J. Jennings, director, gave a report on the committee's trip to Austin to present the new law creating the water district under legislative action.

The bill will change the name of the district to the White River Municipal Water District and create a board of 12 directors instead of the present five. Engineer S. W. Freese gave a report on the engineering progress and stated that the final plans and specifications will be ready for approval within the next two or three weeks.

The next meeting of the board was called for 6:30 p. m. on March 21 in Crosbyton.

TODAY IS LAST DAY TO SIGN SOIL BANK AGREEMENTS

Today, Thursday, Feb. 28, 1957, is the last day that Dickens County farmers may sign cotton acreage reserve agreements for the 1957 crop year, states W. W. Gunn, county ASC office manager. The final date to sign agreements under the conservation reserve program (five or ten year leases) has been extended from March 15 to April 15, 1957, adds Gunn. Many of the county's cotton farmers have signed their desire to place more acres in the acreage reserve program if more money is available. Gunn reports that these farmers will be notified as soon as word is received from the state office about how much money will be available for the "second go-round".

A newsletter this week states that the county committee has not given any approval for establishing cover on Conservation Reserve land to date. Farmers in this program are urged not to start this work until "you have notice that the county committee has approved your agreement and you have received a cost-share approval".

"EVERYTHING BUT THE TRUTH" IS ROMANTIC COMEDY

Comedy, romance and heart-warming sentiment are skillfully blended to provide what can best be described as "just a swell show" in "Everything but the Truth", the Universal International picture in color which opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre with Maureen O'Hara, John Forsythe and little Tim Hovey as its stars.

The fun and excitement begins when a little boy running for Boy Mayor of his town accidentally exposes the shady doings of the real mayor. When the boy's pretty young school teacher stands with him against the town's big-wigs and goes even further by enlisting the aid of a nationally syndicated newspaper columnist, the fireworks really begin. The climax, at a Congressional hearing in Washington, is hysterically funny and dramatic at the same time.

Maureen O'Hara, beautiful as always, again demonstrates she has a genuine flair for light comedy in the role of the school teacher who won't let her young charge be intimidated by a group of pompous politicians.

Handsome John Forsythe, one of Hollywood's top recruits from the Broadway stage, is both appealing and amusing as Ernie Miller, the newspaper columnist who never can quite figure out how he became so completely involved

Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawkins and Darla Ann and Dean Hastings and daughters, Carol Jean and La Juana of Bovina.

Cotton Diseases Cut Yearly Yield

Estimates place the loss to Texas cotton producers during the past five years from diseases at more than 2,000,000 bales. About 2 per cent of the total is charged to seedling diseases. Angular leaf spot or bacterial blight, root rot, boll rots, fusarium wilt, verticillium wilt, root knot, nematodes and rust, says Dr. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, are other diseases of great importance.

The loss during the last five years amounts to about 10 percent of the total yield but last year's loss was 11.5 per cent, the highest on record for the state. The increase last year is attributed to the widespread appearance of verticillium wilt in the High Plains and Pecos areas and (apparent) increases in cotton root rot in the lower Rio Grande Valley and in the Pecos, Fort Stockton, Bakersfield areas of West Texas. Too, rust was found in South Texas for the first time since 1943 and fusarium wilt in West Texas for the first time ever. Losses to root rot in the Central Blackland area last year were less than usual. This normally ranges from 10 to 25 percent annually, says Smith.

In addition to the direct loss of stands and plants, cotton quality is often lowered because of disease damage. Angular leaf spot and boll rots each are often cited as the reason for lowered cotton grades.

Tim Hovey, surely the best juvenile actor on the screen today, is a growing boy in more than the literal sense, for he seems to get better with every picture. Again he exhibits his remarkable hold on audiences, his persuasive ability to wring laughter or tears from them with equal facility.

Smith urges cotton growers to give more attention to practices which can be used in cutting these losses. These include seed treatment, planting disease resistant varieties, crop rotation and the use of chemicals. Local county agents, he adds, can supply information on the control practices.

The bride wore a blue, gold-figured dress decorated with white pearls and rhinestones. A white hat with veil and blue and white tulle completed the bridal clothes.

The bride kept the tradition by wearing something old—a 1935 and something new—her bridal clothes; something borrowed

Dickens Airman Now At Lackland

Airman Howard O. White, 17, son of Mr. C. A. White, Box 94, Dickens, is completing the first phase of his basic military training at the "Gateway to the Air Force", Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Upon completion of this training, he will be assigned to an Air Force technical training course or an advanced basic training course leading to a specialized Air Force job.

While at Lackland the new enlistee undergoes the transition from civilian to airman through a program which includes processing, aptitude testing, physical conditioning, survival and weapons training, and classroom studies ranging from citizenship to military customs and courtesies.

Like the USAF Officer Candidate and Pre-Flight Schools, also located at Lackland, basic military training lays the groundwork for either an on-the-job assignment or vocational schooling in line with capability of the individual.

Wayland Receives $250 Scholarship

Wayland College is the recipient of a $250 scholarship from the Featherlite Corporation of Austin through Cloyce Harrison, general manager of Texas Concrete Block Company, which has offices in Lubbock.

Instead of giving Christmas gifts to customers, E. G. Kingsbery, president of Featherlite, conceived the idea of making scholarship grants to colleges in the areas served by his corporation. As a result, Wayland Baptist College, Texas Tech, Sul Ross State, Hardin Simmons, ACC and McMurry have new scholarships.

In his statement to President A. Hope Owen, Mr. Kingsbery said, "We want to make an investment in the college youth of West Texas. We feel that much more can be accomplished than through customary Christmas gifts to customers."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor,
I wish to take this means to say "Thank You" to the people who gave the polio immunizations to our school children Feb. 18.

All the doctors in town agreed on this method of giving the shots and agreed that the city and county health officers should give the shots. So to Dr. Hughes and Dr. Williams we of the Spur schools want to express our deepest appreciation.

Bill Starcher worked tirelessly in the March of Dimes program and the supplies used for the immunization were given by the March of Dimes fund. The ladies who so graciously gave of their time to help in the program were, to say the least, a big help.

Mrs. Minnie Lewis and Mrs. O. L. Dewees contributed professional help to the doctors. Mmes. Robert Williams, William Starcher, James Willett, Raymond Powell, Clarence Foreman and Pat Winkler volunteered to assist in any way they were needed, and were on hand all day to help.

Without these people, we could not have had such a program and we feel this is the best way to say "Thank You".

The slick roads prevented us from having church services Sunday morning, but by night they were dry enough to have night services. Douglas McArthur's subject was "And he was a leper."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McArthur and Mrs. Bertha McArthur of Spur drove out for the night services.

Many farmers who take pride in the appearance of their farms have re-roofed their barns, livestock sheds and other buildings with asphalt shingles in a color to match the roofs of their homes. The matching roofs help give the buildings unity, keeping them from looking scattered.

HANDLES
Not until the Fifteenth century did Europeans put much stock in last names. Most had none. If need be, they used their given names, and now and then their fathers' given names (like John John's son) or their home towns or neighborhoods' (like Thomas of Aquinas).

But mostly they went by their given or baptismal names. Some churches today still call their members by their first names (Sister Joan and Brother Albert) like royalty (e. g. Queen Elizabeth). In certain European countries you can register a child's name if it is one of an approved list. High nobility goes by its last name (de Medici, Marlborough), but knights take their given names (Sir Winston).

Since people had little property interests in their last names, English and American law gave them little or no protection. Trade names, of course, are another matter.

But in France and Germany the law gives one a property interest in his name; you may get a court to keep somebody from adopting your name by showing it would harm you. But not as a rule in American or England.

For instance, on the ground that by his writing he had earned a property right in his name, Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) once sued a man for printing a work called "Sketches by Mark Twain". But the court ruled that Mark Twain had no sole right to use either his own or his pen name, except on his own books.

As a rule you can change your name at will even without going to court.

But a court action to change your name puts the public officially on notice that you have a new one, and it saves you endless trouble in collecting debts, identifying yourself, getting credit, inheriting property, selling your home, getting insurance, Social

FERTILIZE PASTURES—IT'S A GOOD INVESTMENT
Every dollar intelligently spent on cultivated pasture fertilization will return from two to ten dollars, says Extension Pasture Specialist E. M. Trew, and he cites a soil test as the smallest one-dollar expense toward fertilizing pastures properly.

Pastures, like all other crops, require adequate plant food, says the specialist. Plant food in a ton of grass hay contains about 30 pounds nitrogen, 10 pounds phosphoric acid, and 30 pounds of potassium, while a ton of legume hay contains about 25 percent more N, P, and K, Trew says.

A soil test is the best means of determining fertilizer requirements, Trew says, and adds that it is not uncommon to double pasture and meadow yields with good fertilizer management. Properly fertilized pastures make it easier for stock to make economical gains, maintain body weight, and avoid calving or breeding trouble, he says.

Trew warns against surface applications of nitrogen without adequate soil moisture and adds that dry fertilizer containing nitrogen causes burning when applied to plants wet from dew or rain. With temporary pastures it's best to band phosphate and potash into soil either ahead of or at planting, but they may be applied during renovation or cultivation in case of permanent pastures, Trew says. Security Benefits, etc.

Some people change their names too much for their own good by using nicknames, middle names, and various ways of spelling the same name. It may cost real money to prove that John Jacob Smith is the same as Jack Smith, Jake Smith, J. J. Smith, or J. Jake Smythe.

Decide on a good name to put on legal papers, checks, contracts, auto licenses. Stick with it unless you have good reason to change it.

Safety Sticker Deadline April 15

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, prevailed upon Texas automobile owners to "do their shopping early" this year in an effort to reduce the last minute rush for inspection stickers at the close of the 1957 motor vehicle inspection period. The deadline is April 15.

On information received from George W. Busby, chief of the department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, the state police director said only one-third of the state's four million vehicle owners have obtained their 1957 inspection stickers to date. He urged motorists to have their cars and trucks inspected now, as a means of saving time for themselves and to avoid a last minute congestion at inspection stations throughout Texas.

Last year, as was true in most preceding years, vehicles overcrowded inspection stations during the last week of the inspection period. More than a million automobiles were caught in the last minute rush, resulting in a loss of even more millions of manhours for the owners of those vehicles.

Garrison called upon the motoring public to adopt a "shop early" policy this year as a means of saving time and to afford better convenience for the vehicle owners involved.

TELEPHONE TALK
by J. C. Oakley, Manager

SHORTENING THE MILES
It used to be that we could keep in touch with our families and friends with a chat over the backyard fence or a wave and friendly greeting from the front porch.

But it seems like people are moving around more these days—from city to city and out-of-state. Some of them settle close enough around Spur that you can get together frequently on weekends. But others pack up and leave for places hundreds or even a thousand miles away.

Today, however, you can forget the miles that separate you—because of the telephone. A Long Distance call can cover the distance in seconds. You can reach friends or relatives in distant cities just as fast as you can set up an over-the-fence talk.

Calling Long Distance is fast, it's personal, and the cost is low. You can call from Spur to any place in the United States for less than $2.00. That's the station-to-station rate, every night after 6 p. m. and all day Sunday.

So when you make your next Long Distance call, remember to call station-to-station—the cost is about one-third less than for person-to-person. And always call by number... it's twice as fast.

JUST REACH WHEN IT RINGS
People tell me from time to time that whenever their telephone rings, it seems they're off in another room, and have to make a dash to answer.

When this happens, they usually reach the telephone out of breath, or maybe with a bruised shin.

There's a remedy to this situation—an easy low-cost remedy that more and more people are discovering. You guessed it—additional telephones that are handy wherever you might be when you hear the familiar ring.

To have telephones so handy you can just reach instead of running, call the telephone company.

The cost for a home extension telephone is low; only $1.00 a month, plus tax and a small one-time installation charge.

READY TO HELP
If you're like most people I know, you'll have no trouble remembering the many pleasures you've gotten from making or receiving telephone calls.

On the other hand, you can probably recall times of emergency, too, when the telephone has played its part.

To me, the important thing is that people rely on the telephone. That's what makes telephone service of real value to you. No matter what happens, your telephone is always right at hand, ready to help.

And nowhere is the telephone more valuable than beside you in your home—helping to protect the security of your family, or to pass on glad news to friends and relatives.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The Cotton Plant That Kills Insects

Cotton plants with built-in protection against insects will be grown this year in Mississippi and Texas. This is made possible by treating cotton seeds before planting with a new insecticide, named Thimel, which stays in the growing plant for up to seven weeks and eliminates two to four early season dustings or sprayings. The cotton plant at right in the photo was protected by Thimel; the one on the left was not and shows typical insect damage.

Thimel, developed by American Cyanamid Company, was recently accepted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It will be marketed in other cotton producing states next season. Cyanamid is also leading Thimel on corn, peas, beans, lettuce, beet, sunflower, and tobacco seedlings. Results, they say, are promising.
