VOLUME 48 THE DICKENS ITEM AND DICKENS COUNTY TIMES ABSORBED BY PURCHASE SPUR, DICKENS COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1957 NUMBER 21

AN EDITORIAL— AN EMERGENCY EXISTS

An emergency exists. Three vacancies will arise on the Spur Independent School District board of trustees — March 27 is the deadline for filing for the election and as yet no one, not even any of the incumbents, has filed or indicated publicly his or her intention to do so.

The most important industry in Spur is our school. Its operation, administration and supervision call for the best from us all. The position of School Board Member is a challenge to citizens who want to see our schools forge to the front—who are willing to give of themselves in time and service to work with others for better educational opportunities for our boys and girls. It is a challenge to men and women who have foresight and vision and good sound judgement and are broad-minded.

We have men and women in Spur who measure up to these qualifications. Modesty may be preventing you from filing. Maybe you are waiting to see who else is going to run. Maybe you are afraid you might get defeated. Could be, you fear not being able to please all the patrons and think you might be criticized for things you would have to pass on.

None of these things should prevent you from doing the thing that you should do.

Come on, let's have a good number of incumbents and new-comers announce and file for these three open places, and we feel sure you will have a feeling of accomplishment even if someone else gets elected.

"Better to have tried and failed than never to have tried."

(Editor's note—Since this writing, Wednesday morning, T. B. Watson has agreed to have his name placed on the ballot as a candidate.)

244 Visit School During Last Week

One of the best visitation weeks in years was enjoyed by parents and patrons of East Ward school, as a total of 244 observed the work and visited in the rooms of their children.

No special "day" or event was put on—just regular school work and activities were on the schedule so patrons could see just what is being done in their school and the comments were quite flattering.

Many of the parents ate lunch with their children in the lunch room and were well pleased with the food and service as well as the moderate prices.

While no special program was given the various grades did have exhibits of their work in different units on display. The first and second grades displayed work done on their Farm Units, the third grade showed their "Texas" unit work, the fourth grade has been studying Africa and displayed work from that unit, the fifth grade displayed art work and wire sculpture and the sixth grade rock collections and art work were on display.

H. M. Allison, principal, and the entire faculty join in expressing their thanks to all the visitors and the many kind words given for the efforts being put forth on behalf of the children.

An added attraction to the three-day tournament will be two performances by the Lubbock Mounted Quadrille, precision riding group of nation-wide fame.

The fast and fancy riders will perform at 7:30 p. m. Saturday and again at 1:30 p. m. Sunday.

The City of Spur is donating the first-place trophy. The second and third-place trophies are furnished by the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs, sponsors of the tournament. Balls for the meet are being furnished by the Volt Rubber Co. of California through the cooperation of J. W. Duckworth of Holt's Sporting Goods company in Lubbock.

TELEPHONE TALK
by J. C. Oakley, Manager

"You'll want to have the entire family around the television set on Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p. m. when the second of our science spectaculars is shown on Station KDUB-TV, Channel 13.

"This hour-long show will be "Hemo the Magnificent", a dramatic story of the blood and its circulation.

"If you saw the first of these science spectaculars—"Our Mr. Sun"—you'll probably agree with me that they are indeed wonderful television shows... programs that every member of the family enjoys.

"That master showman, Frank Capra, is director and producer of "Hemo", just as he was for our first program. His talents in motion picture and television direction are already so well known that I can't add many more "bouquets" here.

"Starring in this picture will be Richard Carlson, perhaps best known for his movie roles and television series, "I Led Three Lives", and Dr. Frank Baxter. You'll remember Dr. Baxter from our first science show, "Our Mr. Sun."

"Sharing the star roles with these two are a host of wonderful cartoon characters that the youngsters will really get a kick out of seeing on your television screen. They include a turtle, a deer and a squirrel.

"And, the real star—blood—will be characterized by a terrific cartoon character, "Hemo", himself. You'll pardon my pun if I say that the cartoon of blood as personified by "Hemo" is a very warm one.

"The cartoon characters were created for us by Shamus Culhane Productions of Hollywood, masters of the drawing boards.

"The story of blood is really a fascinating tale and our program will range from showing how the heart would fill the gas tank of your car in ten minutes to illustrating what happens to a boater's blood and circulation when he "takes one on the chin."

"The program will have enough scientific fact to interest the most learned science professor and enough humor and farouth to fascinate Mom and all the youngsters.

"So be sure and turn that television dial to Channel 13 at 8 p. m. on March 29 for a very entertaining hour.

"By the way, we'll make a print of "Hemo the Magnificent" available to schools in 16 mm. color film after the nationwide telecast."

"Court of Love" Featured At Annual Sweetheart Banquet At Baptist Church

King Ensey and Queens Louise Williamson and Connie Ryan reigned over the annual session of the Royal Court of Love on the evening of Thursday, February 21st, at the First Baptist Church at the Training Union Sweetheart Banquet.

The coronation of the royal monarchs took place following a feast for all subjects of the Intermediate and Young People provinces of the Training Union Kingdom.

The invocation was led by Gary Whitmore.

The candle light hall was decorated in colors of gold, white and red combining the royal and sweetheart motifs. Clusters of red roses with golden leaves lined the center of each table with sequined place cards marking individual places. Gold bases held white candles over which were placed etched crystal chimeys, gold and sequin trimmed.

The throne was a large red satin heart before a background of white. The throne bench was of red with satin cushions of red and gold.

Majestic melodies were presented for the pleasure of the subjects preceding the coronation. These included a vocal solo, "If You Were the Only Girl" by Max Gabriel. A quartet "Tonight You Belong to Me" composed of Marilyn Hagins, Sharon Middlebrook, Gary Scott, and Jim Gabriel. A mixed quartet composed of Lois Ann Callan, Judy Bragg, Eddie Don Hagins and Curtis Patterson, singing True Love.

Mrs. Ed Engleman was presented with a dozen roses from the group as a tribute expressed in words by Mrs. George Gabriel and in song with the singing of "Give Her One Dozen Roses" by Mrs. Gabriel and the group.

The presentation of the royal party was introduced by fanfare on the trumpet by Miss Susan Shugart and the announcing of its members by Mrs. Bob Blackshear, Training Union Director.

Members of the royal party and their escorts were: Jane Fitzgerald and Driver Francis representing the S.O.S. Union, Sharon Middlebrook and Ralph Carlisle, representing the BYKOTA Union, all from the Intermediate Dept.

Spur Students Express Needs Of Community

By Mike Mairgrove

When we think of improving our city, we should think of how it looks to an outsider. Is this the kind of community I want my children to grow up in? he would probably say. Taking all things from the beginning, he would start with the sanitation, lighting conditions, and the streets. The streets should be wide enough so that there is a minimum traffic problem. Well placed signs and lights would add to its attractiveness and make for easier driving.

In our rapidly changing civilization, there is more and more demand for an education. In our present school system, only the bare essentials are taught. The demand for better teachers and more advanced school work make it even harder for someone to learn more than the essentials in our small independent school district. We have adequate school rooms now, but in a matter of a few years, we will have to build larger and better schools. We should not be satisfied with the meager knowledge our children will have when they finish high school. In the business world those people who have better advantages go farther and have a better knowledge of competition, from training and instruction they received in a more privileged school. Higher standards of learning make for a better community. When one goes to a college he has a hard struggle because of the limited foundation he has received in our school.

In our city we need to make our school system more attractive by better salaries and working conditions so that we might be able to keep efficient teachers. With living conditions as they are now, and because we, as a school system pay only the minimum salary, it is very difficult to retain well trained teachers.

A very difficult job and it is our duty as citizens to cooperate in every way we can to make ours a better city in which to live. Fewer conscientious officers could keep to a minimum reckless driving and speeding in the city. Fewer accidents would happen and less money would be spent for fines and jail sentences.

The youth of Spur need a wholesome, Christian youth center, so that the parents, children, city officials, and everyone else should stand for his or her own convictions. If they do not, our democracy has failed. The city and county band-together for the various charities, and this year bought the Salk Polio Vaccine for all of its youth. If churches, laymen, neighbors, and friends can do so much together, why can't we get together and build a youth center?

A youth counselor for Spur would be a good thing. Of course, the ministers of our town are busy, but I am sure if each one of them came to school once a week, our youth could and would thrash out their special problems.

Finally, I think that our city would be better if we would strive to make it a city of individuals. If everyone each day would telly up his deeds for that day, and actually strive to do better tomorrow, this city would not only improve and grow, but our differences would become as one, with more mutual understanding and kindness, and there would be a brighter future for Spur.

By Judy Bragg

It has been said, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." I believe that this pertains to the community as well as to a person. Our community is well noted for its moral cleanliness, but I think that its physical cleanliness could be much improved. There are many old, eyesore buildings in prominent places, as well as some downright filth. Also, in the Negro quarters some terrible conditions exist. There are many weeds, places where water stands, and others which could prove to be a real health menace.

I believe that such conditions can and should be corrected. As many of the larger cities do, Spur could have a wholesale cleanup campaign once a year. The whole city—every citizen, young or old—should do his utmost on the day specified to make his clean, shining city. There should be inspection committees, parades, speeches made, and prizes offered. The project should be given publicity and a lot of it. It should have a slogan such as, "Clean, camouflage, or can." During the campaign this slogan should be on every one's lips; and clean, clean, clean should be in every one's mind. If Spur would do this and set the example, perhaps in a few years other small communities would do likewise, and our city could compete in a league for the cleanest city. If Spur would do something like this we would have a really bright, shiny city, and one that could hold up its head to anyone.

Two other fields in which our fair city is somewhat lacking are streets and water. One street which everyone seems to notice is Burlington, or better known to the younger people as "the drag." It is much too narrow, and this has proved to be dangerous. It seems to me that this could be remedied quite simply, just by requiring parallel parking. This shouldn't inconvenience drivers, for all with licenses are required to be able to parallel park. This seems to be a bad problem which has a simple and easily accessible answer, which should prove quite effective.

Some other street problems are those streets which badly need paving. Especially do we high school students notice the streets leading to our high school. They are very rough and exceedingly hard on cars, as well as being dusty and dirty. Also in wet weather the roads are very muddy, and there is danger of sticking. These are streets that are used as much or more than any in town, and I believe it to be important that they be paved. Again in the Negro section, there are no paved streets. I think that they deserve to have as good conditions as white people do, for they pay taxes. There certainly are many streets in Spur that badly need improvements.

The other problem, which it is the one of water, is one which really concerns each and every one of us. The women are concerned, because they fear it may discolor their children's teeth. Also, the hard water is hard on clothes, appliances, and just about everything with which it comes in contact. It effects the men by being harmful to machinery and other things, thus costing them much money for needless repairs and replacements. These, if averted, could be used for many desirable luxuries, and in some cases, necessities, which are being done without. We use so much water than any other thing, and we pay for it without it we could not live. Since we must have it, I think we should be provided the best possible.

Our city government is now working on the White River Project. I believe it to be our duty to get behind this, and to help in any way that we can to have it realized and in use. This seems to be the best and only way out of our water problem, and I think we should grab it while we can. It will probably make taxes a little higher, but it will actually be cheaper in the long run. I think it is a good deal, and the answer to our problem.

Here I have mentioned three of what I believe to be our community's worst problems: cleanliness, streets, and water. There are many others, I am sure. However, in any case, we should do our duty as good and proud citizens to right the wrongs we see, and to have the best little city anywhere.

By Lyndal Womack

For the past eleven years of my life, Spur, Texas, has been my home. Of course to me it's the greatest little city in the west but there are several things that would improve our city if we all worked together to acquire them.

To begin with, the most urgent matter for discussion would be a youth center. Almost any night of the week you can go out and find students and young people driving up and down Burlington Avenue simply because there is no other place to go. Perhaps they have already seen the movie or do not wish to. Besides this, there is nothing else to do except drive around or go home. A youth center would solve a great percent of these problems. For example, it would give the kids a place to go and also furnish them with clean, educational fun and a chance to mix with other kids besides their own little group. I think this project would give students who had never been able to mix with other kids the chance to build their personality through contact with students on their own level. I do not think this project would be terribly expensive and surely it would reward us by the knowledge that we are doing something to help the growth of our future generation.

The next topic for discussion that I would like to bring to our minds is providing recreation for our older people of the community. Spur is graciously blessed with natural settings for parks and golf courses. I know that our council is doing a fine job with these items—and yet there is still some improvement that needs to be made.

For example, the road that goes through the park and to the golf course and swimming pool is in terrible condition at the present. For a road that handles as much traffic as it does, I think that it would be a great improvement if the city could find some means of keeping this road in good condition. Our parks are improving every day, but our local golf links is another item which needs much improvement. I know the course is a self supporting organization but a little help from the city would surely be appreciated and would help the course considerably. The city has the equipment and with a little man power could do wonders with this course.

As we all know, Spur, Crosbyton and Post are working together to build a lake in this community. I think this is a project that has needed attention for some time and I am glad to see our city working so nicely with the other towns to acquire this lake. I hope that we all do our part and help obtain something which will be good for old and young alike.

The last matter I would like to discuss is the general attitude of our community. I believe that in a town the size of Spur we should be friends and that we should all try to get acquainted with each other. If we are acquainted with each other we can work together and obtain greater goals for ourselves and our community.

IT'S THE LAW

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

"Negotiable Instruments"
The average person does not often use the term "negotiable instruments" in his everyday conversation, and the words may not mean much to him. Actually, it is just a mouth-filling term used in law to describe certain important pieces of paper that we normally call by simpler names.

Even though we seldom use the words, we deal with negotiable instruments all the time. Every check we write to pay the gas bill is a negotiable instrument, and so is your paycheck or pension check. The note you sign to buy a new car, the money order you purchase at the bank or post office, or the traveler's checks you

By Beverly Pickens

The improvement of a community depends on one main factor, the people. It is true that there are other problems, but if the people of the community want something badly enough, they will work toward that certain goal until they obtain it. One person alone cannot do all the work by himself. He has to have the cooperation of others. It has been proven that slums can be turned into respectable living districts if the people of that town work together to improve it. These things apply to our town, too.

The paved streets and dirt roads all over the country could use some improvements. The streets in town which were just "hot topped" have big chug holes and ridges in them. I am referring mainly to those leading to and from our schools. Nearly everyone in the community has to use these roads to take their children to school. The school buses even run over them. It would indeed be a good change if the faults in the streets were corrected. This includes the roads all over the community. There would be much less soil erosion if there were more bar-ditches and culverts. If the people would stay in their own fields instead of using the community's roads for turnrows, our roads would not wear away as fast as they do. When they are used for turning around, the dirt loosens up, then wind and water finish the job. I think that when roads are improved, the people should appreciate it enough to keep them that way.

Sometimes I hear of a community "get-together", but it's very seldom. People do not have the fun now that they used to have at box suppers and other various community meetings. I guess that television is taking that away. I really think they should try to have a little fun, and not wear their eyes out. They could try wearing out their tongues for a change talking over the "good old days".

Litter-bugs are very common all over the country. If people would deposit their trash in containers instead of on the highways and roads, the community would be much nicer looking. A blade of grass or a flower might grow in place of an old tin can that was pitched out of an automobile. So if everybody (including myself) would think before he tossed that one lone article out of the window, litter-bugs would soon be extinct.

The young people growing up are the ones that have nothing to do on Saturday nights. Older people can be satisfied with just sitting and talking to someone. But after seeing the show, there is nothing for the younger people to do except go up and down "the drag". We need a center for kids, where they could go and listen to records, dance, play checkers and have other inside activities to do. We cannot have these unless the kids want it, and will come to take part and associate with each other.

It takes leadership, hard work, and good people to build up outstanding communities. There is not a single place anywhere that cannot be improved, if the people want it improved.
