SPUR SCHOOLS HAVE INTERESTING OPENING EXERCISES

With the opening of Spur schools Monday started another year of preparation for the youth of Spur country. The Senior High school and the Junior High school held their opening exercises in the same auditorium, the two schools being on adjacent blocks. The East Ward school held exercises in the auditorium of that building.

R. B. Neilson, principal of the Senior High School, took charge and started the program. Mrs. McKnight and Miss Curby, had charge of the music and the assembly sang "America". Rev. R. C. Brown, pastor of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation. There was a large representation of parents present.

Rev. Brown was asked to address the meeting. He stated that the purpose of school is to train people to think. He said, "Something is wrong if you have not learned to think when you go from school." He emphasized the advantage of using the material which you have at your command. He stated, "It will make no difference what opportunities you may have unless you prepare yourselves for the opportunities that may come tomorrow. Grasp the opportunities that you have in order to be big enough that you can accept willingly that which will come later on."

The schools were favored with a vocal solo by Mrs. Gerald Wadzeck, accompanied by Mrs. Bulloch Tillotson.

Mrs. McGinty read three short poems which were greatly enjoyed. Coach G. E. Wadzeck made a short talk on football. He stated the boys will show what they can do. The twelfth man on the team is the backing of the citizens. Then he said, "The business men seem to be behind the team this year." Then the football boys lined up and were introduced by Captain Bostick. About 30 boys are in training for football this year.

Supt. Hall made some announcements. He said that classes will begin promptly at 8:30 each morning. The chapel services will be held the second and third periods two days each week. He stated that typing will be taught during the term if enough students enroll for the course.

Mr. Hall stated that Spur High school is a Democratic school and asked that the students assist all new students in finding their locations and to give them all the consideration possible. Last year there were 300 students in Spur High and 100 of them came from outlying districts. A committee of students was appointed to see that courtesies are shown all new students in the school.

Mrs. McKnight gave a group of solos, accompanied by Mrs. Sam Z. Hall.

Teachers were introduced and various assignments announced and the work began.

East Ward School

The East Ward school enjoyed a very lively opening exercise Monday morning. The song "America" was sung by the student body. Mrs. Zachary acting as leader and Miss Jane D. Wilson presiding at the piano. Rev. E. L. Yeats, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

O. L. Kelley, the principal, made a short talk outlining the workings of the school. He stated that school will open each morning at 8:30 o'clock, and when the children arrive they will go to their respective rooms and study instead of playing on the grounds. He said that children living in town need not reach the school building before 8:15 each morning. He admonished parents to co-operate with the teachers in this plan.

Rev. Yeats was asked to speak to the assembly. He emphasized the importance of working steadily in order to accomplish things. He related a story about the rabbit and the weasel, stating that the rabbit is quick in its action, but the weasel always accomplishes what it starts out to do. He stated that the boy or girl who keeps at the task always gets something done.

Mrs. Weaver, president of the P. T. A., made a short talk asking that parents take an interest in their children and that there is no better place to do so than becoming a member of the P. T. A. She stated it gives the parents and teachers an opportunity to get together in a common interest and to create a better understanding of each other.

The faculty assignment in this school is as follows:

First Grade—Miss Annie Mae Lassiter and Miss Alice Wright.

Second Grade—Mrs. Dan H. Zachary, Miss Ruby Rae Williamson and Miss Alathia Yeats.

Low Third Grade—Mrs. F. G. Collier and Miss Charles Hayes.

High Third Grade—Miss Jane D. Wilson.

Local Stores Give Tips On School Lunches

The Safeway Stores tell of some interesting ways to vary school lunches this week in their Family Circle Magazine, the weekly periodical that these stores give away to their customers every week. Ida Bailey Allen, homemaker authority, is the author of this article.

With school season starting, mothers are already beginning to wonder what to pack in school lunches. Wise mothers have learned that these lunches must be tempting and tasty as they are nourishing, and many a plain sandwich has been thrown away, after the sugar or jelly has been licked off.

This week marks the second anniversary number of the Family Circle, which is now given away by food stores to 1,300,000 people every week. Irvin S. Cobb has written a special fiction story, illustrated by Tony Sarg. Thirty famous actors, authors, and artists have sent personal messages to the Editor, Harry Evans, famous movie critic, and these are reproduced.

Copies may be obtained by asking at any of the Safeway Stores.

Melvin Landers Buys Interest In Grocery

M. H. Costolow, who has been associated with the firm of Costolow and Johnston, sold his interests to Melvin Landers last Thursday and severed his connection with the business. Mr. Landers has another store in Kansas, Irvin S. Cobb has written a special fiction story, illustrated by Tony Sarg. Thirty famous actors, authors, and artists have sent personal messages to the Editor, Harry Evans, famous movie critic, and these are reproduced.

Mr. Costolow at present is working for Bailey's Food Store, and probably will be with that firm permanently.

BANANA PEEL CAUSES BROKEN HAND

B. D. Jawley, city, fell Sunday evening on the sidewalk and broke some bones in his left hand. He stepped on a banana peeling which threw him down, and it was only by throwing his hand down that he saved his head from striking the pavement.

Dr. John T. Wylie set the fractures and Mr. Hawley seems to be getting along all right except he is suffering a great deal of pain at this time.

Banana peelings are not very safe when thrown on the sidewalks.

McADOO PEOPLE TO ENJOY PLAY

The Epworth League at McAdoo are sponsoring a play which will be given Friday night. The name of the play is "Windy Willows" and has much humor in it. It is a good lively play with a good moral conclusion which any one will enjoy.

CALLED TO NEW MEXICO CHURCH

Correspondence received this week stated that Rev. and Mrs. W. T. North formerly of Jayton, have moved to Texico, N. Mexico. Rev. North, who has been pastor of the First Baptist Church at Jayton, has been called as pastor of the First Baptist Church at Texico. They write saying, "Please send the Times to us here." Rev. and Mrs. North have many friends in Spur country who wish them much success in their new field.

Roy Ackerson, of Elton, was greeting friends and attending to business here last night.

M. A. Sedwick, of Duncane Flat, was transacting business in our city Tuesday. He stated he was not hurt much by the hail doing damage in just a few places on his farm.

Low Fourth Grade—O. L. Kelley. Mr. Kelley requested that if any of the students should have any costumes which had been used in plays or entertainments of any kind, to please, take them to the school in order that they may be used again and save the expense of buying new costumes this year should any be needed. He stated there will be different programs during the year in which costumes will be needed, and we should try to economize on this as much as possible.

Dry Lake School To Start Monday

The school at Dry Lake will begin its regular 1934-35 session next Monday, September 17. There will be three teachers in the Dry Lake school this term. C. C. Baker is principal of the school, and Mrs. C. C. Baker and Mrs. E. D. Engleman are teachers.

Dry Lake is a fine community and always co-operates with the teachers for a good school. The high school students in the community attend the Senior High school at Spur.

RITZ TO RE-OPEN

Manager Everts of the Palace Theatre announces the re-opening of the Ritz Friday with Tom Keene in "Ghost Valley". The theatre will be operated on Friday and Saturday of each week with selected programs headed by well known Western Stars. Admission prices will be the same as in the past, 5 and 15 cents for the matinees, 10 and 25 cents for the night programs.

Changes are to be made in the policy of the Palace effective Sunday, September 23rd. Programs will be shown as follows: Saturday night preview, Sunday Matinee, Monday Matinee and night. A new program will be shown Tuesday matinee and night, and Tuesday will be known as Bargain Day, instead of Wednesday and Thursday. The admission on Tuesday will be 10 cents to everyone. A new program for Wednesday and Thursday at the regular admission prices and a change of program for Friday and Saturday.

It is the aim of the theatre management in making these changes to give the patrons the opportunity to select their entertainment from a variety of feature pictures from every major producer in the business and at a price everyone can afford.

Mr. Everts especially calls attention to the ten cent programs for each Tuesday starting September 25th. The pictures will be especially selected for their entertainment value and their selection will not be governed by price.

WILEY VAUGHN DIES AT LOCAL SANITARIUM

Wiley William Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Vaughn of Afton, died at a local sanitarium Friday. He had been suffering from tonsillitis and came to Spur some days before and Dr. Alexander lanced his throat to relieve the suffering. The doctor advised him to remain in the sanitarium where he could look after the trouble daily, but he went home the next day. He returned Friday for further treatment and died with a short time after arriving at the sanitarium.

Funeral services were held at Afton Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. Rev. A. T. Stokes reading the funeral rites. Interment followed in Afton cemetery. Webber Williams acting as funeral director.

Young Vaughn was born May 18, 1918, and was 15 years of age last May. He is survived by his parents and brothers and sisters, and a great number of friends who appreciated him greatly.

Sunday School at ten o'clock. Morning Worship at 11 o'clock. Evening Worship at 8 o'clock.

There will be no mid-week prayer service on Wednesday, September 19th due to the meeting of the Fort Worth Presbytery in Weatherford during that week and the necessity of the pastor's attendance upon that meeting.

The goal for next Sunday, Sept. 20, will again be 300, and every member is urged to be present and bring someone with him. The teacher attendance last Sunday was practically 100%.

Bro. Sidney Cox of Jayton filled the pulpit in the absence of the pastor. He spoke to enthusiastic assemblies at each service and brought a good message each time.

Heavy Rain In North Part County

Heavy rains, accompanied by hail in spots, fell over the north part of Dickens County Sunday night. A strip about three miles wide across the north side of the county suffered heavy damages from hail. This strip extended north from about Afton to the county line including the communities of Duncane Flat, Glenn, north part of Afton, Prairie Chapel, and a portion of Chandler Flat.

The rainfall was estimated from one inch in places to two inches and better in other places. The hail practically destroyed the cotton and feed in places.

The rains Sunday night covered a large territory in West Texas and Oklahoma. Heavy rains fell from Seymour to Wichita Falls and north and east. Heavy rain and hail fell at Altus, Okla., and hard rains accompanied by heavy wind visited Frederick County. Rains in Dickens County extended from Dickens north, and included Roaring Springs and Matador. No rain at Spur.

I. G. Van Leer Dies At Home Here

Isaac G. Van Leer, a pioneer citizen of Dickens County, died at his home at 825 North Miller Avenue about 3:20 o'clock Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held at the First Christian Church at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. R. C. Brown, the pastor, officiating. Interment followed in Spur cemetery. Webber Williams acting as funeral director.

Mr. Van Leer, although advanced in years, had been very active until just a few weeks ago. He suffered a sunstroke during the hot days and had been in ill health since. He seemed to be making some improvement until about a week ago when his condition changed for worse, and it seemed nothing would overcome the trouble.

Mr. Van Leer was a native of Tennessee and was born February 1, 1851. He was 83 years of age last February. He came to Dickens County September 12, 1899, and established a home at Dickens, having lived in the county 35 years the day he passed away. He moved to Spur at the opening of the town in 1909. He retired from business some years ago and spent his time at his home since.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Van Leer; one son, Wayne Van Leer, of McAdoo; two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Rhodes of Eastland and Mrs. Irene Rogers of Post; one brother, Dr. S. E. Van Leer of Hot Springs, Arkansas.

He became a member of the Christian Church when about 29 years of age and has lived a devoted life since. Coming to Dickens County just a few years after the organization of the county, he has done much toward the upbuilding of the county and his influence as a Christian man meant much to the county.

RELIEF MEETING HELD IN SAN ANGELO

A meeting of various relief workers, both state and national, was held in San Angelo Tuesday. Among those present was Col. Lawrence Westbrook who is a member of the coordinating committee, and who at one time was head of the relief work in Texas.

Charges were made by persons present that West Texas had been discriminated against, and hope was expressed that the government would give more consideration to this section of the state. C. B. Metcalfe, of San Angelo, said that the government should permit the distribution of edible meats from condemned cattle which are being killed over the state. He said much of this meat is being burned or buried when it should have been saved to relieve the hunger.

Carl Blasig, of Brady, offered a resolution asking for reduced freight rates on as the low freight rates went off September 5th. He asked for this on feedstuff into the drought stricken areas and on cattle being shipped out of dry areas.

CHARLIE GYR BURNS HAND SEVERELY

While making a preparation of floor dressing last Saturday, Charlie Gyr, three miles north of town, incurred a severely burned hand. The preparation contained some gasoline which he was heating over a burner, and in some manner a portion of it was spilled over the top of the vessel and was ignited by the flame. Mr. Gyr realizing the danger grasped the vessel with his left hand and carried it to the outside and dumped it. In so doing his hand was burned painfully and deep.

Dr. Wylie is treating the injured hand and it seems to be getting along fine. However, Mr. Gyr is suffering great pain and it will be some weeks before he can reasonably expect much improvement.

"The General Motors Corporation has declared an extra dividend. Three hundred and fifty thousand persons located in various parts of the country will thereby receive $22,000,000 on September 12. Twenty-two million dollars is represented in another news item. Within about 10 days that amount in back salaries is to be distributed among Chicago school teachers as a result of the loan Mayor Kelly and the school board secured from the RFC. If $22,000,000 can act as a business stimulant spread over the whole country that sum concentrated in one city should have a powerful effect."—Chicago Tribune.

Spur Football Team Opens At Levelland

JEP. CRAIG
The Spur High School Bulldogs open their 1934 football season Friday afternoon at Levelland, according to an announcement of Coach Gerald Wadzeck the first of the week. The coach plans to take almost his full squad of players to Levelland with a large number of others accompanying them.

Levelland has just returned from a three weeks football camp and has one of the huskiest teams on the plains this year. Playing championship football last year, almost the same team will take the field for the opening game of Spur Friday. Spur will be considerably outwitted and will play a team much more experienced. It looks like the Bulldogs will get a good wallop to open the season on.

The local squad broke its Fair park camp Saturday morning following a practice game. Monday afternoon practice was resumed at the high school practice field after classification that morning. Coach Wadzeck is still devoting most of the practice sessions to fundamentals with a light scrimmage on the last. The physical condition of the boys is excellent, but the Coach does not seem to be pleased at all with the way the squad plays football. In fact, he is more pessimistic than Gene Taylor was in '29 and '30. Slaton, time honored opponent of Spur in football, will bring his Tigers to open the home season for Spur, September 21.

Democrats Hold Harmonious Meeting

With the election of Vice President Garner as National Committeeman and a complete endorsement of the Allred policies, the Democratic State Convention at Galveston Tuesday enjoyed a very harmonious day. The only ripple came at the close of the day when there was opposition shown against Gerald Mann of Dallas and Ed Downs of San Benito as becoming members of the executive committee.

The convention endorsed the submission of repeal to constitutional prohibition and to the repeal of the state law legalizing wagering on horse racing, and opposition to the federal control of oil. The Allred platform was adopted, and the convention proved to be an Allred meeting. All members are strictly pro-Allred which lines up the party regulations in favor of the gubernatorial nominee, J. O. Jones, of Lubbock, was named a member of the executive committee from the 30th Senatorial District.

DALLAS GETS TEXAS CENTENNIAL LOCATION

At a meeting of the Texas Centennial Committee Monday Dallas was selected as the meeting place for the 1936 Exhibition. There are many advantages in Dallas for the Texas Centennial. It is centrally located with plenty of hotel and tourist camp accommodations. It has the state fair grounds and pavilion which can be used in the meeting.

The only thing Dallas lacks is the historical setting for the Centennial. There was not a single event leading up to the Texas Independence that occurred in or near Dallas. However, there will be special expeditions to San Antonio, Goliad, San Jacinto and other historical points of interest by which the people will be accommodated. Dallas can reproduce a number of historical scenes and thus in a measure bring to the public those things of interest.

It will mean much to Dallas commercially Dallas is the center of markets for all north and northeast Texas. It will give the merchants and manufacturing industries a great opportunity to show Texas what is being done in Dallas.

"We are going to proceed to gain new ground in spite of every malign influence and the three great assurances of success are the righteousness of the cause, the courage of the leader and the steadfastness of the people."—Frederick, Okla., Leader.

Mrs. Magnolia Ellis left Friday for Palo Duro where she will teach school this year.

Government Cattle Buying Stopped

A telegram to County Agent Grady Lane Wednesday from Geo. W. Barnes, First Assistant State Drouth Relief Director, stated that all buying of cattle by the Federal Government is stopped. Whether this is a permanent decree is not known, but until further notice is given there will be no more buying of cattle by the government. Mr. Lane states that should anything more open up that he will be glad to inform the people. But for the present the buying program is off.

J. H. Hooper Passes Away

James H. Hooper, 73, passed away at his home in Twin Wells community about 4:30 o'clock Tuesday morning after an illness of about three weeks. Funeral services were held at Dickens Wednesday, Rev. J. V. Bilberry conducting the services. Interment followed in Dickens cemetery. Webber Williams acting as funeral director.

Mr. Hooper, who was well known in the community, has been in failing health for some time. About three months ago his strength began leaving him and he gradually lost ever since. About a week ago he became so weak that he had to be helped all the time, and nothing seemed to revive him.

He was born at Bright Star, Arkansas, December 7, 1861. He came to Texas in an early day and moved to Dickens County about 1910, settling on a farm near Dickens. He moved to his home at Twin Wells about 1915 and has lived there since.

He is survived by his widow, seven sons, four daughters, one brother and one sister. The sons are: W. S. Hooper of Fort Worth, Lester Hooper of Pampa, Chester Hooper of California, Clarence Hooper of Beaumont, Preston Hooper, Carrie Hooper and Raymond Hooper all of Spur. The four daughters are: Mrs. T. T. Childers of New Mexico, Mrs. Ross Culpepper of San Angelo, Mrs. Katie Conners of Wilson Draw and Mrs. Rex Carlisle of Steel Hill. One brother, E. S. Hooper, of Fort Worth, and one sister whose location is unknown to the family survive.

School Children Clothing Week

Local Chapter Red Cross To Campaign for Second Hand Clothing For School Children

The people of Dickens County are asked to co-operate with the local Red Cross Chapter in helping supply clothing for hundreds of school children in this county now out of school for the lack of a few simple clothing needs.

The week of September 17 to 23 has been designated as second hand clothing week especially for school children in Dickens County.

The Red Cross chapter is putting on this drive in cooperation with the County Superintendent of Public Schools, Mrs. Madge D. Twaddell, and the teachers over the County.

The room in the Bryant-Link Company implement building on Harris Street in Spur, next door to the Chamber of Commerce building has been designated as headquarters, assembly and dispensing room.

Bundles of second hand school children clothing will be accepted at this headquarters any time during or after this week.

Parent-Teacher Associations, church societies, churches, schools and organizations of all kinds are asked to cooperate in this drive to help put hundreds of children in school now.

No clothing will be given out during the week of the drive or until such time as the clothing can be assembled and prepared for use of the children.

Special emphasis is placed on the need for clothing for school children. Shoes, hose, stockings, underthings, trousers, dresses, coats, caps, hats, or in short anything that can be made useful. Please do not bring things that are so badly damaged or worn that it cannot be repaired at all. If whatever you have can possibly be repaired or might make repair material it will possibly be useful.

Unless the more fortunate people of this County respond to this call a great many little children who ought to be in school will be forced to stay at home with broken hearts.

WIDOW OF SOLDIER OF TEXAS REVOLUTION STILL LIVING

Mrs. Mary Berry, a great aunt to Joe Clark two miles south of Dickens, is the widow of a soldier who fought in the Texas Revolution. Mrs. Berry lives at Baird and is the only person who survives the Texas Revolution. Until recently there was another widow of a soldier of the Texas Revolution, but she died in New York not long ago.

Ed Murphy, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Arkansas, returned Wednesday and reports that he is feeling much better. He underwent an operation in July and was in very critical condition for a time. Miss Lillian Rape, of the Nichols Sanitarium, returned Saturday after spending a week visiting relatives and friends in Plainview, Lockney and Floydada.

1891-SEPT.-1934

Forty three years ago I left my boyhood home It was then my wild oats I did sow I then began to roam.

I came to the wild and woolly west And got a job of work I put forth my very best My duty did not shirk.

I hired out on the cotton farm, I worked from place to place, I worked in weather cold and warm. It was not a disgrace.

We did not have a fixed price, We worked for wages high or low, They did not think us very nice If we refused to go.

I was not here so very long, I met a blue eyed maid, Who turned my heart To loves sweet song And offered me her aid.

We pledged to each our love and trust And took that solemn pledge, And promised that we'd do just what we must From then clear on down till now.

I've made a many grave mistake She's never make but one, And that's the one that most girls make, Her choice when she begun?

But then we came on down the line, We've gotten us a home, We have not done so extra fine, But we never had to turn.

And maybe if we hold out to the end And continue hard to try We will have enough with the help of friends To bury us when we die.

—Farmer Doo-Little.

"HERE'S HOW WE GROW RUBBER" FIRESTONE TELLS DAWES

Pointing to one of the rubber trees which has been transported from his famous Liberian plantations, Harvey S. Firestone, pioneer rubber manufacturer, explains the process of gathering rubber to Rufus G. Dawes, president of the World's Fair.

Tinged with the romance and mystery of the Dark Continent, this reproduction of the Firestone plantations in Liberia is one of the most interesting features of the enlarged Firestone Factory and Exhibition Building at the 1934 World's Fair. Life-like native figures depict the steps in gathering rubber in a setting of jungle life, its isolation disturbed only by wild bird calls and native chants.

HAGINS REUNION

Sunday, September 2, was a day enjoyed by many at the Hon. and Mrs. A. J. Hagins home near Jayton where the Hagins descendants held their annual get-together.

The crowd began gathering Sunday morning, greeting each other, talking and having a good time in general. At the noon hour everyone was invited to the big shade trees on the creek, there was a short and impressive talk made by the Hon. A. J. Of Course You Want Your Boy to Win

If any one told you that you were making it needlessly hard for your boy or your little daughter to get on in school you wouldn't believe it could be true.

But are you giving your child, or your children, the good light they need for their home studying?

In many of the schools light is still poor, so it is especially important to provide good light where children's home work is done.

See that the lamps they use are of sufficient wattage to give plenty of light and that there can be no glare in their eyes, either direct or reflected.

Poor light makes concentration difficult, brings on fatigue and drowsiness quickly, is damaging to young eyes, and is often responsible for faulty posture, which is a danger to be guarded against.

Let our home lighting consultant tell you how to light your home for your children's benefit and for your own comfort. This is a free service. You have only to write or 'phone us to obtain it. Take advantage of this service before school begins. It will pay dividends in higher grades.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

Shirt Frocks Hold Chief Attention
For Smart Summer Wear Everywhere

The new shirt frocks, with the upper half following quite closely the design of men's shirts, are sweeping the country this year. It would not be surprising if their popularity continued into the winter, with new models worked out in heavier materials. They are almost universally becoming, and they are so easily cared for that it is no wonder girls and women have found it possible to have a number of them in their wardrobes.

One of the girls shown here is wearing a shirt frock of striped seersucker. The other outfit is Kiltie plaid seersucker with a Tyrolean front on the shirt, tabs buttoning across below the throat, and a swing or "action" back, for freedom of the shoulders in sports. Such styles can be bought for very little in the stores, or can be made at home by anyone moderately skilled with the needle. Tossed into the family washing machine, they quickly are as spic-and-span as ever, ready for wear once more. That is one of their greatest advantages, the ease with which they can be freshened at home in the washer.

Often in these frocks, the shirt ends in shorts so that the skirt can be removed when one golfs.

COTTON STALKS WITH NEW LEAF GROWTH ARE AN ABUNDANT SOURCE OF GOOD FORAGE

By A. D. JACKSON

As an emergency forage to meet the feed shortage arising from drought attention has been called to the cotton plant as one of the widely distributed and abundant forage possibilities even though its use is not ordinarily general. An enormous amount of cotton plant forage is often available in the late fall, especially when new top growth follows the fall rains but which is so late it cannot mature much, if any, fruit. There are several ways of utilizing this forage, the most economical of which is to graze it off before frost. When the grazing cannot consume it all, the remainder can be mowed and cured and then stacked and baled. The hay resulting is excellent feed and when very leafy is almost or quite as good in feeding value as alfalfa according to the chemical analyses that have been made at the Experiment Station. The stalks are not so good but they do have some feeding value. If the plants are to be mowed it should be done when the leaves are fresh and green as the maturing leaves are likely to shed and the feeding value will not be so high. This material can possibly be ensiled, but an attempt at ensiling about 12 tons of cotton stalks on the Station last year was a complete failure. In case it is necessary to harvest the cotton stalks in rainy weather it would probably be best to put the whole mass into a trench silo as any attempt to cure such forage would lead to mouldy hay that would not be usable.

The potential cotton forage crop is very large this season and much of the feed shortage may be supplied by it. Of a normal crop of some 17 million acres there is at this time probably around 15 million acres in Texas, most of which can be depended upon for emergency livestock feed. Some of this will yield more than a ton of hay to the acre. Where grazed, the crop will be even more effective in meeting the emergency than if it were mowed and cured.

New Committee Aids In Cattle Buying Program

Cattlemen of the state will have a large share in the buying and movement of cattle in the government's Texas program, it was announced at Austin last week by Adam R. Johnson, state relief director, after the appointment of a coordinating committee at Houston.

The committee includes Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde, past president of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers association; E. J. Spiller, Fort Worth, secretary-manager of the same association; Grover B. Hill, Amarillo, regional drought relief director in Texas; Dr. H. L. Darby, inspector in charge, Bureau of Animal Husbandry; R. D. McCrum, cattle movement supervisor, Texas Relief Commission and J. C. Weaver, livestock agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

This committee, Johnson said, will study and approve all contemplated changes in the quota buying program, adopted last week to prevent congestion at pens and processing plants. The new committee already has approved a plan whereby counties where government canneries are located will not ship purchased cattle out of the county but will process them at the home cannery.

This arrangement will allow additional shipments above the 450 per week quota from counties where cattle are in a more distressed condition than in other parts of the state. In all such cases, this committee will have the final word in determining what areas will be designated for the additional shipments, Johnson said.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

RED, ripe tomatoes, big and meaty, are plentiful and cheap. Luncheon and supper menus should be built around them. With bread and butter and milk or cheese, they make a simple, satisfying and inexpensive meal. Cheese at its present price offers more nourishment for the money than almost any other food.

Fruits and vegetables in variety are fairly cheap and abundant. Beets, carrots, onions, turnips and carrots, eggplant, green beans and summer squash are all good choices. Boston and Romaine lettuce, green peppers and cucumbers are also low in price. Iceberg lettuce is less expensive than last week.

Peaches are already less plentiful, and fresh prunes are replacing plums. Bartlett pears are inexpensive, and with bananas, cantaloupes, grapes and oranges are the best fruit choices. The Quaker Maid suggests these menus:

Braised Veal with Carrots
Onions, Turnips

Jellied Fruits
Tea or Coffee Milk
- Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Lamb Yams or Potatoes

Is Women's Place In Hotel Kitchens?

MISS CHARLOTTE FIELD, CHIEF OF THE HOTEL, LEXINGTON

Mr. Rochester Says "Yes" and Proves It.

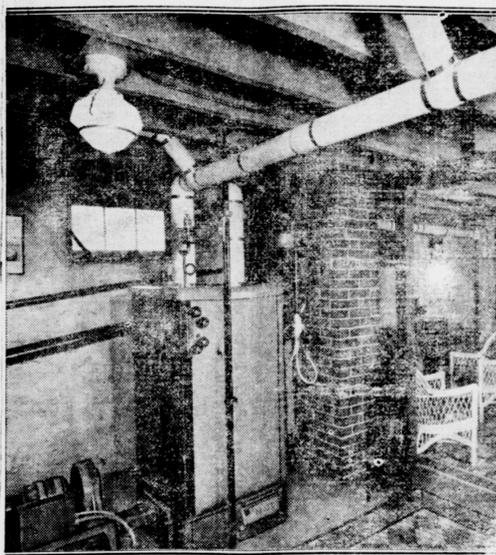

By L. JAY STEVENS

Modern electrical equipment has banished the ancient drudgery of the home to such an extent that millions of women nowadays take pride in doing their own kitchen work and still have time for a multiplicity of social business and educational activities.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW

About your Telephone

THOMAS A. WATSON, the young electrician who helped Bell invent the telephone, made with his own hands the first instruments. But the demand soon grew so big that Watson alone could not meet it, and licenses were given to four other manufacturers.

By 1880 the telephones made by these manufacturers varied as greatly as did the women's fashions of that year. Uniform quality and operation is essential to successful telephone service. To gain this uniformity, these companies were consolidated in 1881 as the Western Electric Company, manufacturing and purchasing agent for the Bell System.

Without the aid of the Western Electric Company, the men and women who furnish your telephone service here could not do their job so well.

Today, as a proven fact, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company buys from Western Electric at a cost lower than it would pay in the competitive market.

For more than 50 years, such savings have contributed to our policy of good service at a fair cost to telephone users. This policy has been chosen deliberately. It is based upon the belief that what is best for the telephone user will in the end bring us the surer, more enduring success. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Fashion Marches On Clever Coats for Autumn
Charming on Larger Woman

by Mmc. LANE BRYANT
 Noted Fashion Counselor

NEW YORK—Fall is in the air—the fall of lively smart coats rather than of dying leaves. For this is the month in which New York fashion stylists bring out their new creations for crisp Autumn.

The Larger Woman should have no difficulty this season in choosing her coat. Both fur-trimmed and plain models display those little saving graces that make a size 46 look size 42.

Chests have a broad look, and hips a narrow one, as should be. The new sleeves are full at the upper arm for ease, and taper off gracefully at the wrist for slender necks. Clever panels in the back, and graceful seams that lead the eye away from the hip, do their share in making the short woman look tall and slender.

Cloths, too, have that slenderizing look. Bark crepe for dress coats promises to be a season favorite. Its vertical, tree-like markings emphasize height. And tweeds, for all-round coats, come in reliable herringbone patterns, or subdued flecked designs, which are always right for the Larger Woman.

can be had now at a very moderate price in wool monotone crepe, silk-lined, in black or dark brown. It has a flattering collar of dark skunk, and the all-important tapering sleeves. The back is shaped with slenderizing panels, and the coat may be worn with a belt, or without one by the woman who needs added inches to her height.

The second coat illustrated is an all purpose-coat, in herringbone tweed. The scarf is adaptable, and can be worn over one shoulder, ascot fashion, or loose and open—three ways to suit three moods.

Practical shades that have little chance of being left behind in the march of fashion dominate the autumn color chart. These include black-and-white, and brown or gray mixtures for tweeds, and black and dark brown for unpatterned materials.

If you would like to know more about these coats, or if you have fashion difficulties which this article does not answer, I will be happy to help you any way I can. Write me: Mme. Lane Bryant, Fashion Bureau, 6 East 45th St., New York City.

ATTEND CHURCH REUNION AT COMSTOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Williams returned the last week from the Rio Grande Valley where they attended a church reunion at Comstock. The church was organized 35 years ago with ten members and Mr. and Mrs. Williams were charter members and Mrs. Williams was the first church treasurer. The first clerk of the church was C. H. Phillips who at the time was 16 years of age. He served as the first Sunday School Superintendent, also. At present he is with the Intermediate Credit Bank at Houston. Rev. Frank Mars, a missionary in the Valley, organized the church.

Mrs. Williams stated that at the time there were only seven white families living in the village. Mr. Williams was lease land agent for the Houston & Texas Central and the Texas & Pacific Railway companies at the time. Col. C. C. Gibbs, who was Railroad Land Commissioner for the Texas & Pacific Railroad Company, donated two lots in Comstock for the first church building. A building committee was appointed with Mrs. Williams as chairman, and funds were started for the erection of a church building. A building 24x40 feet was erected and equipped and paid for in less than one year.

At the reunion, which was held Sunday, September 2, there were six of the charter members present. Two others live in Idaho and two have passed on. Many interesting accounts were related by the different charter members during the meeting.

There are 148 members in the church today. The building has had to be enlarged since the church was organized, and plans are being made to enlarge it again in order to take care of the growing congregation. 48 of the members are non-resident and drive in from 40 to 60 miles each Sunday for services. The B. Y. P. U. director lives 22 miles from the church and is on time every Sunday. Rev. J. W. Mason is pastor at this time.

Comstock is located in a ranch country. It is located 90 miles from Sonora which is the greatest mohair market in the world today. It is dry there as no rain has fallen since the flood two years ago. Very few people live in the country and people think nothing of driving 75 to 100 miles to church or to visit friends.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

THE household marketer should find it easy to provide her family with a varied diet and yet keep within her budget these days.

Meats are relatively low in price. Especially low even compared to last year is fowl for fricassee. Fish are not so plentiful nor low priced when the weather is cold or stormy as it is in summer but supplies are adequate.

Vegetables continue to be plentiful and moderate in price. Spinach and string beans offer outstanding values. New cabbage and potatoes are beginning to come into market. Tomatoes are more plentiful than in recent weeks.

Strawberries are here. Grapefruit, oranges and apples, however, dominate the fruit market.

The Quaker Maid offers these three dinner menus.

Impression of continuation, and therefore make it appear longer than the lower line, which is actually the same length.

In Illusion 5, both pencils are actually the same length, but, because of the angles and the impression of perspective thus created, the pencil at the left appears to be longer.

Often, in the case of hysteria or overstrained nerves, the illusion is due to physical causes. Look intensely at a small black spot on a white piece of paper; then glance up at a light colored wall. You will see the same spot in light gray, but the wall itself will seem a darker gray. This is because you tired out the nerves on the retina in staring at the white page, so that the white of the wall was dulled when you looked at it; but the area of the retina which received the image of the black spot was under-stimulated, since black reflects no light, and that portion was consequently ready to receive the white light from the wall. The red spots that appear before your eyes after a protracted period of concentrated reading can be similarly explained. Such conditions mean that your eyes need more rest, or glasses which will help them to perform their work without tiring or straining.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 1/2 of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes. When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomato, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. Home Owners May Secure Repair Loans

The federal government has added a new service to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, the duty of furnishing means whereby a home may be reconditioned. There is no need of anyone living in a home which needs repairs for such repairs can be financed by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and reliable home owners may have a newly remodeled home if they desire.

I. The Law

An act of Congress approved April 27, 1934, authorizes the Home Owners' Loan Corporation to make loans for repair, remodeling, and modernizing to the following groups of home owners:

1. Those who have already secured loans from the Corporation.
2. Those who are eligible to have their mortgages taken over by the Corporation.
3. Those who own their homes clear of any mortgages and cannot get reconditioning loans from any private lending agency.

II. Should You Recondition Your Home

Every home needs some reconditioning every year. But reconditioning is easy to put off. In the past four years of financial strain, home owners generally have postponed repairs. Surveys made in several cities by the Department of Commerce indicate that three out of five American homes now need extensive reconditioning. Your home may be one of them. If so, the Corporation will not refinance your mortgage unless the essential repairs are made. This rule is necessary for your own protection. The safety and comfort of your home depend upon it; the protection of the savings you have invested in your home demands it.

If Your Home Is Worth Borrowing On, It Is Worth Keeping Up.

III. How Much Should You Recondition?

The amount of reconditioning, beyond essential repairs, which you should seek to have done depends largely upon your ability to repay the loan. If you can afford it, you should do all desirable reconditioning now. You have the opportunity to spread payment for the reconditioning over 15 years at a low rate of interest. Through the Corporation you will have the benefit of disinterested technical advice on what to do and what not to do. You will have assistance in getting reliable builders and workmen. Supervision of the job done by the Corporation's inspectors will serve as an additional check against poor workmanship. At the same time, the reconditioning work you provide will promote business in your community. Local merchants will supply the material; local labor will do the work. Reconditioning includes three distinct operations:

1. Repair and Maintenance. Under this heading comes all work designed to restore a house to its condition when new, such as repainting, pointing of masonry, caulking of doors and window frames, reroofing, replacement of gutters, downspouts, floors, screens, plumbing, and other outworn equipment.
2. Remodeling. This involves structural changes, such as any enlargement of the dwelling, the addition of a bathroom, a porch, a window, the rearrangement of rooms, or any other alteration in the design of a house.
3. Modernizing. This involves the installation of new equipment, such as insulation, heating plant, electric lights or running water.

Of these three classes, repair and maintenance are the essentials of upkeep. All homes that are to be kept fit to live in must be put in good repair periodically. Repairs made often need not be expensive. They will generally add enough value to a home to permit a higher appraisal and a larger loan.

Some types of remodeling and modernizing, such as the addition of a bathroom or the installation of running water and an indoor toilet, are likewise essential to the American standard of living. However, they are usually more expensive than basic repairs and may be impossible to borrowers in financial distress. Before a borrower from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation applies for a loan to remodel, enlarge, or modernize his home he should consider the cost very carefully and get advice from the Corporation on the following points:

1. Can he really afford to make the larger monthly repayments on his loan necessitated by an expenditure for remodeling and modernizing? Usually a home owner should not spend more than 25 per cent of his normal income in payments on his home.
2. Does the neighborhood justify the expense of remodeling? A $5,000 home in a $3,000 neighborhood is a poor investment.
3. Will an expenditure for remodeling tend to extend the life of a house which is irredeemably bad because the lot is too narrow, some rooms must be blind, or the like?
4. Is the proposed remodeling sound from architectural and engineering points of view? Remodeling should never be undertaken without competent architectural or other technical advice.

Remodeling and modernizing free from criticism on these grounds must be sound, and, if sound, they will prevent obsolescence and make for a higher standard of living. The home owner can make no wiser investment.

IV. Technical Advice and Supervision
Expert advice is essential in remodeling and often desirable in repair. Home owners have frequently suffered from the lack of such advice. The Corporation is providing free to you as borrower the advisory and supervisory services of experienced builders and architects who are employees of the Corporation. They will advise you on the need, desirability, and probable costs of reconditioning your home. Where extensive reconditioning requires the services of an outside architect, the home owner will have to pay the fee.

Subject to the modifying rules and regulations of the Corporation, bids for the work will usually be asked from two or more qualified contractors selected by the home owner. Although the home owner selects and engages his contractor, it is necessary for the protection of its own interest that the Corporation investigate the responsibility of the contractor and his qualifications to perform the work called for. If the home owner's selection is disapproved by the corporation, he will be at liberty to select another contractor. The Corporation does not lay down any hard and fast eligibility rules for contractors. It does, however, seek to establish a model advisory service for home reconditioning which will reduce the danger arising from incompetent and irresponsible contractors.

V. Financing Terms and Costs

Practically all loans for reconditioning made by the Corporation will be in addition to loans for refinancing. Except in very rare instances, all loans will be incorporated in a single first mortgage. The total amount of all loans made by the Corporation to any one home owner cannot be more than 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property nor total more than $14,000.

The mortgage held by the Corporation as security for all advances usually runs 15 years. The borrower pays back the loan, principal and interest, by monthly installments. The rate of interest is 5 per cent. The monthly payment covering both principal and interest is $7.91 for each $1,000 loaned.

The Corporation makes no charge for the services of its employees. The home owner is required to pay fees for all outside services (such as those of appraiser, architect, and recorder) necessary and incidental to the making of a loan. If advances for reconditioning are made at the time the mortgage is refinanced and are added to the amount of the loan, there will be little or no extra cost. If the owner already has a loan from the Corporation and now applies for a reconditioning loan, he may have to pay a new appraisal fee and the costs of making and recording the additional mortgage. These costs will be kept to a minimum.

VI. How To Obtain a Reconditioning Loan

The only place to apply for a reconditioning loan is the local office of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation within the District in which your home is located.

If you are applying to the Corporation to refinance your mortgage, the Corporation will advise you when to apply for a loan to recondition your home. A special form for this purpose will be provided. If you already have a refinancing loan from the Corporation, make separate application for a reconditioning loan.

Applicants will be notified as soon as possible concerning their reconditioning as well as their refinancing loans.

"The candid observer will admit that many signs point to a favorable outlook. The National Statistical Survey has gathered reports far and wide which show five out of seven business men predicting an improvement in business this Autumn."—Trenton, N. J., Times-Advertiser.

ABSTRACT OF ADDRESS OF EDWARD A. HAYES

NATIONAL COMMANDER, THE AMERICAN LEGION, IN MINERAL WELLS, TEXAS, THE FORENOON OF AUGUST 28, 1934

Mineral Wells, Texas, Aug. 28.—The safety of our government and the preservation of liberty are the responsibilities of every citizen, and the particular duty of every veteran who fought to uphold those ideals, Edward A. Hayes, national commander of the American Legion, said here today.

The National Commander addressed the department conventions of the Legion of Texas.

"We of the American Legion who served our country in time of emergency have a responsibility to see that the constitution of our republic is not made a joke or a mere scrap of paper," he said.

"The men and women who fought to preserve our government, must continue their efforts in peace time against the inroads of radical elements which are teaching strange tenets and advocating a tearing down of those fundamental principles upon which our nation has progressed, and which, if preserved, guarantee an equal opportunity in life for every American."

Advocates Universal Draft Act

Mr. Hayes said that common responsibility for all citizens is embraced in the measure which the Legion seeks to have enacted into her law known as universal service in time of war.

"It is a principle of individual obligation to our constitution of the United States that brings into sharp contrast the action of certain groups in this country today that are opposed to the just and proper care of our disabled veterans, as one illustration, and a sharp contrast with the teachings of communism as another illustration.

"The American Legion position on the subject of citizenship duty is clear-cut and consistent. It applies with equal logic to the sponsorship of justice for the disabled, to loyalty in support of the constitution and in the determination that every element share an equal burden of supporting our government, whether it be in war or in peace.

"The Legion is not attempting to place the veterans upon a pedestal in a class by themselves. The veterans have been placed in a class of handicap by reason of their service to the flag. The Legion seeks only to bring them to the level of those who did not serve in the great war."

Statement Being Prepared

The national commander said that a tentative statement is being considered by the various department conventions and will eventually be taken to the national convention in Miami, Florida, October 22-25.

"This statement deals specifically with the Legion's stand regarding disabled veterans," he said, "but, it goes still further and looks to a more basic declaration of individual responsibility to our government. It declares that the responsibility for the medical care of the civilian group of our country is in the community, but that the responsibility for the care of the veterans who fought for the whole people is vested in the federal government. The statement declares that the inequalities that existed in the world war, which are reflected today in the organized opposition to giving proper care to the disabled shall not be repeated in any future war. The correction is to be found in the principle of universal service in time of war. Only thereby can the inequalities of the burden of war be reduced as between those who serve with the armed forces and those who serve in civilian capacity.

"When we enact into the law of the land the principle that every element, industry, capital, transportation, natural resources, as well as manpower, must serve equally, and without privilege and profit, we will then have established in the United States of America an individual responsibility for each and every citizen which will awaken in them a realization of their citizenship duties. When that time occurs, there will be a greater individual interest taken in the guarantees of liberty that are provided in the constitution."

The national commander explained that the principle of universal service in time of war will not cost anything to enact into law, and that it would never be used unless war is declared. Upon declaration of war, he pointed out, prices would be frozen and regulations authorized to insure the elimination of profit and the equal service of all our citizens and elements.

"It will be a guarantee of peace," he said, "because no man or group of men would seek to foster war in the hope of making plain money out of it. It also will bring home to every individual in America a responsibility in the affairs of his government. A selfish or dishonest citizenry will find no satisfaction in that law. A deeper appreciation will be had of the principles of Americanism, of freedom and democracy upon which our government was founded. There are none who can justify the assertion that America was intended to become a commonwealth of individuals who cultivate a strong sense of their own rights but not a duly proportioned sense of the rights of others."

Communism Spreading

Mr. Hayes declared that "the Legion is working to preserve for the children of today, and for future generations, the high ideals in representative form of government for which our forefathers and our comrades fought and died. Guard jealously the constitution of the United States which guarantees those ideals."

"The Legion," he said, is not hunting a 'red' behind every bush, but it does recognize a very definite communistic movement in the United States, and in making war upon the radical teachings that exist, the Legion is taking the leadership in the thing for which it was organized, and is a bulwark of protection to America against the communistic menace."

The national commander declared there can be no partisan politics in either the question of upholding the constitution of the United States, in the care of our disabled veterans, or in placing the responsibility of government and citizenship upon every person.

"We in the Legion have been trying to be fair," he said. "We are going to continue to be fair. There is not now, and there never will be so far as this national commander is concerned, any partisan politics in anything he says or does now or at any other time in the Legion. We are only interested in telling what we know to be the truth. We will be careful not to say anything regarding which there is any uncertainty in our minds."

"If we are to be truthful, if we are to recognize things that we believe to be detrimental to our government, then we cannot ignore the fact that in our schools, in our colleges, in our churches, and our social organizations—even in government circles, strange tenets are spreading. If we are able to read the English language, if we understand the basic principles of our constitution, then we can find no place in America for these radical teachings."

"From California to New York, we have experienced admitted communistic problems. In California some time ago, before the trouble out there attracted nationwide attention, the American Legion clashed with a set of communists in one of the beautiful valleys of that state. Traveling rapidly across the country, we find in the state of Texas the students of a university in a quarrel with the Legion because of propaganda inimical to the welfare of our government. This propaganda has its source, we are convinced, in organizations whose objectives are to get America entangled in the League court and with the further motive of cancellation of the war debts."

"There in Texas, we found a student leader advising the older boys conference along lines easy enough to trace beyond the borders of the United States. He declared, among other things, that only fools fight wars for a rotten kind of leadership. He said it would be far better to be called yellow and a coward than to go to war."

"Then, one of the professors stated that he would rather see his two hands cut off than to be a member of the forces of any nation, including the United States of America, in the event of a war in the future."

"Traveling a little further, we found this same destructive menace in the University of Ohio where some of the young fellows rebelled against military training. We had no difficulty in tracing that movement to a certain leadership in New York."

"Then, in New York, we find several hundred students of the great Columbia University adopting a resolution in which they said that under no conditions would they comply with any edict of the war department in the event of another war. "Does this not make you realize why our citizenry should exercise its intelligence in support of the old-fashioned patriotism which we call Americanism?"

Mr. Hayes referred to what he called a subversive article published in the Epworth Herald and written by the secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service. The article, he said, gave young Christians a suggestion that they could join the army in the event of war and commit sabotage.

"Such persons as the one who wrote that article," he said, "do not represent the great mass of good people within the Methodist Church, but having an official title, the damage they do is just as great as though they truly did represent them."

"I do not wish to be misunderstood. We of the American Legion have no desire to disparage any religion. We of the American Legion have no desire to criticize any religion. There wasn't any question of whether we were Catholic, Methodist or Jew when we were ordered to go over the top. But, when an official publication of the Epworth League publicized by printing in black type the things that were suggested in that article, it is time the American people should know about it."

Mr. Hayes said he could not believe the report regarding this article when his attention was brought to it at National Headquarters at Indianapolis. He said he insisted upon seeing a copy of the publication. This was furnished him, he said, and he read with astonishment that in the event of war the young folks of the Epworth League were told they would have four choices, as follows:

"No. 1 was called the honorable way of patriotism, and to be honorable it was pointed out, one must be cannon fodder and be shot, dismembered, or gassed.

"No. 2 pointed out that one could be a conscientious objector with what was called high courage.

"No. 3 advocated that the youth join the forces and after getting into combat sabotage to destroy machinery and not carry out orders. It stated that if that appears against moral principles, if that is to lie and deceive, that the youth need have no qualms of conscience because one lies or deceives anyway if he engages in any war."

The article goes on to say that if those three choices do not suit, then there is a fourth which really is a further development of the third. It calls for sabotage but with a deliberate intent to get rid of the present economic system of which she says war is a part. The article advises that if the youth will make this choice, to make it now and to begin to meet with others of like purpose. It says this means knowing what selfish capitalism is like and a new social order. "Now, does that not have the ring of communism? Well, we looked up the author of this article, this secretary of the Methodist Federation of Social Service, and found her listed in connection with communistic activities."

The national commander declared it is not the duty of any one group to carry alone the burden of protecting our government. "Each and every citizen who enjoys the protection afforded by our government, and our institutions, if he is honest, will be willing to share the responsibility of upholding and defending the nation that makes these things possible," he said. "It is the duty of all equally."

Planning To Use Prickly Pear Region For Relief Purposes

The wide cactus-covered expanses known to the Southwest Texas ranchmen as pear flats may be invaded this winter by relief roll clients seeking sustenance for drought stricken livestock.

The prickly pear, rid of its small sharp stickers, is a choice bit of vegetation upon which ranchmen have been known to fatten their herds during winter for many years.

Relief commission officials are considering a plan whereby an army of relief roll clients will go into the flats with pear burning machines, singe the stickers from the plants, and make the pears safe for consumption by the hungry herds.

Meanwhile, officials are seeking thousands of acres of pasturage for cattle in acute need, most of them in the extreme western part of the state. Federal Surplus Relief corporation has urged that up to 200,000 head of cattle be pastured but it is doubtful that sufficient acreage for that number can be found in the state, according to C. Z. Crain, head of the surplus commodities department, in charge of the cattle program.

"I want it made clear," Crain said, "that the Relief Commission will not go into competition with the ranchmen in the matter of leasing land. If there is available sufficient pasturage at a price we know to be right, we will take it, but if owners begin to raise prices in anticipation of competition between the government and the private livestock owner also seeking pasturage, then we will get out of this program."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

AN Indian summer salad season seems to be in store as iceberg lettuce is more plentiful, of better quality and cheaper than it has been in six months. A salad with plenty of good salad dressing is enjoyed by most families every day in the year. There is a plenty of excellent celery at reasonable cost.

Spinach is back in the markets in abundance and the price is low. Cauliflower offers unusually good value even for October. Grapefruit is available in generous supply. Oranges are slightly more expensive than they have been and lemon and limes less so. Bosc and Anjou pears are replacing Bartlett and Tokay grapes the Concord.

With pumpkin, squash and sweet potatoes all very plentiful, pies seem indicated. A very rich, smooth pumpkin pie can be made with evaporated milk.

Here are the menus from the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

Low Cost Dinner: Meat Loaf, Scalloped Potatoes, Browned Parsnips, Bread and Butter, Apple Betty, Tea or Coffee, Milk.

Medium Cost Dinner: Roast Lamb, Browned Potatoes, Buttered Cauliflower, Mint Jelly, Bread and Butter, Squash or Pumpkin Pie, Coffee, Milk.

Very Special Dinner: Seafood Cocktail, Chicken Fricassee, Boiled Rice, Green Beans, Tomato Apple, Salad Dressing, Raisin and Butter, Snow Pudding, Custard Sauce, Milk, Coffee.

Rev. and Mrs. Victor Crabtree left Wednesday for Pleasant Valley, Ariz., to be gone about three weeks. Rev. Crabtree will be in a meeting for 15 days while away and may be asked to conduct a second meeting. He spent a month in that state last year. He stated that he had spent 75 days in revival work this summer.

"Perhaps the highest praise that can be rendered the New Deal is the ironic fact that it meets its chief opposition from extreme conservatives and ultra-radicals. In the field of journalism the doggedly Republican New York Herald-Tribune has joined with the Daily Worker, Communist organ, in daily assaults upon the administration. On the political platform, Ogden Mills has clasped the hand of Norman Thomas, the former criticising Mr. Roosevelt for his liberalism, the latter for his conservatism. The New Deal deadens the hopes of both factions."—Asbury Park, N. J., Press.

Let's Talk About Clothes

By a "Young Modern"
Shall we get out and walk? Of course not if you don't want to, but have you ever decided just why it is that you don't particularly care for that exercise that brings the "roses to your cheeks." Maybe it's your shoes!

Dame Fashion says walk for your health, walk for your figure, walk for fun, but walk in comfort, and Texas State College for Women (CIA) coeds readily agree. Several years ago it was with some reluctance that college girls "walked in comfort" for the existing patterns in "comfort shoes" weren't just the thing to be seen in on the campus. But now the new low heels, so attractive and easy on your feet are the smartest being shown to wear with tweeds and new fall dress fabrics.

Designed in light colored elk effectively trimmed with dark brown calf, perforated designs or a pebbly looking grain calf which gives two tone effects, the ever-popular oxfords and rhillie ties will help you "get on to your stride."

For more formal dress the latest fall shoes are designed in alligator and reptile skins cut to a high lance in either pump or oxford styles. Let them be conservative but attractive, neat and most of all harmonize with your new fall ensemble.

With an eye to "glamour for the evening" college students select a frivolous sandal in silver or gold for
