Vocational Ag. Class Honors Fathers

The members of the Vocation Agricultural Department of Spur High School honored their fathers Monday evening with a chicken barbecue at the stadium. The FFA Chapter was opened in due form with Boyd Ball, the president, in charge. As soon as the chapter was opened, he announced that it is time to eat, and everybody was asked to get in line and fill their plates.

After the feed the boys introduced their Dads, and then the chapter took up the work of initiating two Green Hands into the work. These were Lane Ericson and Lawrence Ward. The secretary of the chapter was asked to recite the FFA creed which he did. Troy Boothe then gave his address to farmers, being the same address by which he won at the regional meet at Lubbock a few weeks ago.

Cecil Ayers, director of the work, introduced the boys who were in the First Year Chapter Conducting contest, and who won first honors for Spur. The District honors is as far as these boys may go. Mr. Ayers also introduced the Senior team which won both the district honors and the regional honors this year. This team will contest for state honors at Marshall in July.

The dairy judging team was introduced. This team placed twelfth with 54 teams in the contest. Marvin Blair was the outstanding boy in dairy judging. Members of the cotton judging team were introduced. This team placed fifth in the regional contest against 12 schools. Glenn Hahn and Lester Smith were high point men in the contest.

The meat judging team placed fifth in the regional contest. These boys were presented and announcements were made. The dairy products judging team was introduced and announced that it placed third in the regional contest. Jimmy Vernon tied for high place in the contest. Jimmy was also high point man in poultry judging. The team made a good showing.

In the Horticulture contest and grain judging contest Spur teams showed up well. Harland Weaver was high point man in grain judging. Mr. Ayers made some announcements about the spring projects show. This was made up of boys in FFA Chapters and 4-H Clubs in both Kent and Dickens counties. Mr. Ayers stated that of all the blue ribbon places, Spur boys lost only four places. He asked all first place winners to stand and there were 13 boys who had secured from one to three first place honors who stood up.

Jimmy Vernon was awarded a prize as being the outstanding member in the first year class. He is to receive a gift a little later in the summer. Jim Draper was announced the winner of the second prize in this work.

Harland Weaver was awarded the prize for being the outstanding FFA boy in the school. This was close since Boyd Ball was a very close second. This award was a gold plated plaque of an ear of corn, an emblem of the FFA fraternity.

The speaker of the evening was Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the department of Agriculture at Texas Technological College. Dean Leidigh made his talk short, but expressed some very profound principles in regard to success in life. He stated that in order to succeed boys must set a standard and work to accomplish it. His talk was enjoyed very much by all present. Dean Leidigh is a good speaker and a deep thinker and is capable of making any subject interesting.

The members of the Homemaking Department assisted the boys in serving the dinner. There was plenty of good eats prepared in good country style. Miss Ethel Green, Homemaking Department instructor, directed the work. Girls who assisted her were: Mildred Neaves, Maxine Moore, Cecil Boothe, Gillene Elkins, Margie Elizabeth Ramsay, Robbie Hoover.

It was a great event for both the boys and their Dads and for all other guests present.

Miss Beatrice Darden, of Waco, spent a few days here visiting her aunt, Mrs. Lucy R. Cowan the last of the week.

Will Vote on Wheat Program May 31

The wheat farmers of Dickens County will vote on wheat quotas Saturday, May 31. The main question is whether the farmers want the government wheat program to continue.

County Agent Mack Woodrum, Secretary Charles Taylor Joe M. Rose and Elmer Shugart, members of the county committee, Robert Butler, performance supervisor, and Roy Arrington, range inspector, were in Plainview Monday and Tuesday receiving special instructions on the wheat program and the compliance on the 1941 program.

Any of these men will be glad to assist the farmers in any questions they may not understand.

Receives Carload of Servel Electrolux

C. H. Elliott, local dealer, has received and just unloaded a whole carload of those famous refrigerators, Servel Electrolux. Mr. Elliott started in at the beginning of the introduction of the Servel Electrolux, which is either a gas or kerosene refrigerator, and he has grown more enthusiastic about them as his sales have increased.

This type of refrigerator seems to be very economical since it is accompanied with an iron-clad guarantee of ten years and it has been proven they will stand up even longer than that. There are no wearing parts to a Servel Electrolux. Mr. Elliott announces that a big six cubic feet Servel box is now going on the market at $196.50, and that with the above guarantee and the economical method of operation, should make this a very attractive job.

This is the fourth straight carload of these refrigerators Mr. Elliott has shipped in recently and he is very anxious, to show people the merits of this wonderful refrigerator. It has proven its worth and is no longer an experiment.

Dr. Callan to Return

Word was received by friends here from Dr. Callan to the effect that he will return the last of this week and reopen his dental office. Dr. Callan, who is an officer in the Army Reserve Corps, left two weeks ago for examination to enter service. It appears that he has been released from the call.

A. W. Watson Seriously Ill

A. W. Watson, who lives east of Spur a few miles is in a very serious condition. He is suffering of heart ailment and went to Wichita Falls to consult with Dr. Walter B. Whiting, who is one of the best authorities about heart ailments. Mr. Watson seemed to improve and returned home. He was stricken Friday and his condition is pronounced serious.

New Oil Test for Crosby County

The report is out that new test well will be drilled on the south side of Crosby County about 30 miles west of Spur. A lease of 6,500 acres has been secured and a test well of 3,200 feet is being arranged. George Callahan and C. L. Wagner are to be the operators.

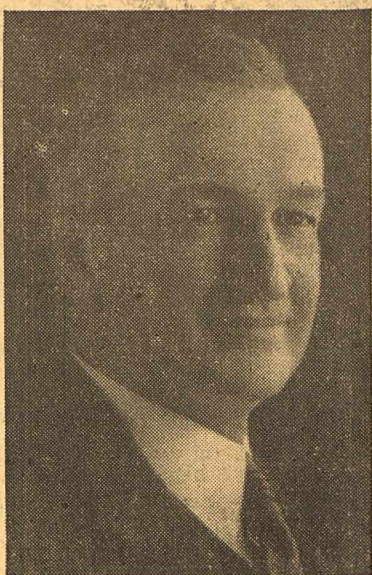

Callahan is a contractor and producer, having drilled wells in most of the fields of Texas. At present he has operations in Cuba.

The location has been staked out and machinery will start moving to the Crosby County location within the very near future.

Board of Equalization in Session

The County Commissioners' Court convened Monday and are still in session as the County Board of Equalization. The report is that a very few adjustments in the county renditions will have to be made. After notices will have been sent out, the board will reconvene at some future date to hear evidence on these cases.

Dr. Hardie Opens Evangelistic Meeting

Doctor James F. Hardie, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth, and leader of the largest Presbyterian congregation in West Texas, opened the evangelistic services of the First Presbyterian Church, Spur, Monday night. He was greeted by an excellent congregation for the first night. Cap McNeill directed the singing and Mrs. P. A. Clemmons presided at the piano.

Monday night Dr. Hardie spoke from the subject "An Apostle of Jesus Christ" and on Tuesday night from "Gods Expectancy." On Thursday night his subject is "The Compassion of God" and on Friday night it will be "God's Universal Salvation." He speaks each morning at 10 o'clock. His subject during the entire week will be Paul's Epistle of Philippians. The congregation is asked to bring Bibles, notebooks, and pencils and they are invited to read before coming, sections of the four chapters.

On next Sunday, May 18, the subjects of his sermons are for 11 a.m., "The Great Court Trial" and for 8 p.m., "Tardy Ministrations." Other subjects he will likely preach on during his stay here, since the meeting will continue through Thursday, May 22: "Jesus Beholding Us," "We Beholding Jesus," "The God Who Meets Every Need," "A Three-fold Attitude of God," "For The Thirsty," "The Good Man, The Happy Man," "Like a Lost Sheep," and "The Rich Young Ruler."

None should miss hearing him. Dr. Hardie comes with a rich experience in both the business world and from the pastorate. He is intensely practical, gripping in his applications, and deeply spiritual and loving in his inspirational expositions of the Word. Seldom if ever has the Presbyterian pulpit of Spur had such a preacher of righteousness. The public is therefore cordially invited to hear him.

Pupils Making Toys

The first year students in the high school homemaking department are making toys at this time for the pre-school children. The materials they are using are old inner tubes, tin cans, apple and prune boxes and scraps of materials from their homes. This is part of the child guidance program in the first year work. The pupils have made some very nice toys and will have completed several before the week closes. They find the work very interesting.

The bridge on the Double Mountain river was washed out by rains May 3 and it has just been rebuilt to where trains can get through. The engineer stated the grass on the right of way has grown so high that the train almost failed to get through.

The house will be called to order about eight o'clock in the evening.

Bring The Old Hen Saturday

Again we want to tell you that your old hen is worth a dollar subscription if you will bring her to the Times office Saturday of this week, May 17. We are introducing this plan as a starter for a poultry day with the Dickens County Times, and it will give you a very fine opportunity to pay up your subscription or start as a new subscriber to the Times.

If you prefer to bring a fryer of the big breed type weighing around two pounds, we will let you have the Times a whole year for just one of them. Two old roosters, which possibly now are worthless to you, will get you the Times for a whole year if brought in Saturday.

Bring your poultry to the Times office where arrangement have been made to take care of the chickens. If you want to swap farm poultry, now is a good time to begin. This offer will be made only once this year. If results are good we will try it again next year, but only one day this year. Bring us 500 chickens on this offer and we will appreciate it.

Surplus Wheat to Be Destroyed by May 20

The Department of Agriculture has ruled, that due to so much rain, farmers who have not had an opportunity to plow up surplus wheat acreage, may do so by Thursday, May 22. Wheat and barley mixtures will be inspected, and if the inspection reveals that the other crops in the mixture have failed, the wheat remaining will be classified as seeded wheat unless the wheat has been disposed of before reaching maturity and in no case later than May 20 of this year.

Should wheat mixtures reveal that more than fifty per cent is wheat, then it should be disposed of before the inspection.

Six Terms of County Court Annually

The County Commissioners' Court Monday passed a decree that there will be six terms of County Court at Law each year instead of four terms as has been in the past. This means that County Court will be in session every other month, and all sessions must remain open until the next session begins.

The next term of County Court will be in July at which time all cases filed before that date will be taken up.

There is to be no additional cost for these extra terms of County Court.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATION MAY 26

The Grammar School will have a very large class of graduates this year, according to a statement by Robert Williams, principal. Teachers have not yet been able to tell just how many pupils will be ready for high school since the examinations have not been given, but there will be between 55 and 60 in the class. Billy Joe McCombs is the high honor student and will be the Valedictorian of his class. Jackie Jean Rector is also a high honor student and will be the Salutatorian.

The speaker for the evening will be Wade Banowski, high school principal at Dickens.

Spur Band Places in National Contest at Waco

The Spur High School Band which was in the national contest at Waco the last of the week, made a very commendable showing. The band was in second place in marching and was in third place in concert playing and was third honor in sight reading.

They were in competition with bands from Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and all parts of Texas. When it is to be considered that they went up against the best school bands in all of these states and then made that fine a showing, it is something to be proud of.

Spur was the only little town band in the contest, and was the only school band in the contest that is not municipally supported. All other bands were backed up with a small band tax which gave them sufficient funds to carry on in their work. Spur Band is to be complimented for its fine showing and it placed Spur on the map in a glowing manner.

Texas Tech Reveals New Feeding Values

An experiment just completed by the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological College reveals that steers can be fattened for market profitably using feeds commonly grown in West Texas. This experiment, involving the feeding of 50 grade Hereford steers obtained from the Spade ranch near Lubbock, was completed on April 23, 1941, at the close of a 140-day feeding period, and the results of the experiment were made public at the Third Annual Feeders Day program held by the department April 25.

Two objectives were sought in the experiment. One was to determine the value of cottonseed hulls in replacing silage as a roughage when supplemented with two pounds of alfalfa hay to fattening yearling steers, the second to determine the effect of various levels of cottonseed meal in rations containing cottonseed hulls or sorghum silage when supplemented with two pounds of alfalfa hay in rations of fattening yearling steers.

The steers were divided into five lots of ten head each and the following procedure was followed. Milo head chop was fed at the same level each period in all five lots. Lots I, III, and V received silage; lots II, and IV received cottonseed hulls. Lots I and II received four pounds of cottonseed meal, lots III and IV three pounds, and lot V two pounds per day to each steer to insure an adequate supply of vitamin A in all steers, and block salt was available to all steers at all times. The sorghum silage and cottonseed hulls were fed in the respective lots according to the appetites of the steers. The quantities of all the other feeds remained constant throughout each period. The 140-day period was divided into five 28-day periods, and records were kept of average daily gains and rations by periods, based upon the amount of feed consumed.

Lot I was very erratic in its rates of gain from one period to another while lot II was very consistent and its rate of gain in each successive period declined less rapidly than the rate of gain in lot I. Although the average feed cost per 100 pounds of gain was higher for lot II than lot I, lot II produced the cheaper gains in periods 2, 4, and 5.

The feeds required to produce 100 pounds of gain in both lots I and II were practically the same, and there was no significant difference in the rates of gain between the two lots. This indicates that cottonseed hulls can satisfactorily constitute the roughage portion of a ration for fattening yearling steers when supplemented with four pounds of cottonseed meal and with two pounds of alfalfa hay supply vitamin A.

The milo head chop, alfalfa and cottonseed meal required to produce 100 pounds of gain in lot IV was higher than that required to produce 100 pounds of gain in lot III, and also higher than that required to produce 100 pounds of gain in lot II. This indicates that the higher level of cottonseed meal is advisable when cottonseed hulls are the roughage.

Lots I, III, and V which received four, and two pounds of cottonseed meal daily, respectively, were fed the same amounts of milo head chop and alfalfa. As the level of cottonseed meal decreased, the amounts of the other feeds of the ration required to produce 100 pounds of gain increased but the cost of 100 pounds of gain decreased.

Of the hull lots, lot II produced the greater gain and required less milo head chop, alfalfa, and cottonseed hulls per 100 pound of gain than lot IV. The gain in lot II was also produced much more economically. The apparent increased digestibility of the ration of lot II as shown by the more efficient production of gains in this lot over lot IV because of the higher level of cottonseed meal more than the cost of the additional pound of meal.

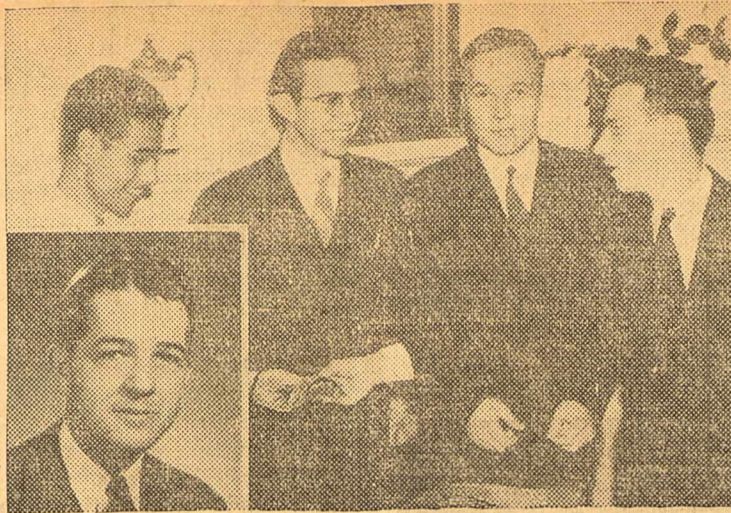

Lot IV produced the most economical gains on a higher proportion of roughages to concentrates than any of the other lots.

Roughage consumption was consistently high throughout the experiment in all lots.

It was noted on weighing dates when the weather was unfavorable that the steers fed cottonseed hulls greatly outgained the silage steers indicating that the hull-fed steers are less affected by weather.

Under the system of feeding in this test that of a limited grain ration,

MANN AWARD PRESENTED

Winners of the Gerald C. Mann award at the annual May banquet of the Rusk Literary Society of the University of Texas were, left to right, Alfredo Vasquez of Austin, first place; Bill Darden of Holliday, third place, and Paul Cheatham of Burnet, second place, pictured with Gaulvin Parker, toastmaster. For years the late Senator Morris Sheppard contributed this award, and with this banquet the award becomes known as the Gerald C. Mann award, to be presented each year at the Morris Sheppard memorial banquet. Inset shows Mann, a candidate for the United States Senate seat left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard.

AUSTIN, MAY 12—As one of its most illustrious members, the late Senator Morris Sheppard was mourned by an entire nation, the Rusk Literary Society of the University of Texas prepared for its annual banquet.

Each year at this May banquet, prizes are awarded for the best after-dinner speeches as a contribution by Senator Sheppard. Members of the society this year considered public and private figures throughout the state and then unanimously invited Attorney General Gerald C. Mann to perpetuate the award for the society, oldest literary organization on the University campus.

The award will hereafter be known as the Gerald C. Mann award, to be presented annually at the Morris Sheppard Memorial Banquet of the Rusk Literary Society.

J. P. Luton, Jr., representing Attorney General Mann, who is a candidate for the United States Senate seat left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard, presented the contribution, and Gaulvin Parker, toastmaster, awarded the prizes. First prize went to Alfred Vasquez of Austin, second to Paul Cheatham of Burnet and third to Bill Darden of Holliday.

The Rusk society was founded shortly after the opening of the university in 1883 and named after the celebrated Texas pioneer and statesman, Thomas J. Rusk. Work of the society consists of intra-society practice in all forms of public speaking and active participation in all inter-society contests.

The democratic spirit of Rusk society, which is open to all male students, and the benefits to be derived from membership have attracted each year the best high school inter-scholastic league speakers and many others.

Selective Service Machinists to Be Used in Industries

General J. Watt Page, state selective service director Sunday put the machinery of the system into motion under telegraphic orders from national headquarters to comb the selective service rolls of the state to insure that every man skilled in the operation of a defense production machine be engaged in that capacity.

The telegram received by General Page from General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, reads:

"Your attention is called to the President's announcement of May 2 that because of the critical situation which confronts our Nation and the new 24-hour, 7-day machine production schedule, the rolls of the army and of selective service and the manpower of the Nation as a whole will be combed to insure that every man skilled in the operation of a defense production machine be engaged in that capacity. Direct that you call the attention of all selective service agencies in your state to the President's announcement and take immediate action to again recheck the lists of Class I-A men and men awaiting physical examination to assure conformity with our policy as emphasized by the presidential announcement. The burden of making the necessary determination is on selective service, and reluctance of an individual or his employer to claim deferment must not be allowed to defeat the paramount national interest. Proceed without delay to carry out instructions herein."

Many People Watch Paint Demonstration

Those in charge at the Brazelton Lumber Company stated Monday that about 600 people visited their paint demonstration Friday and Saturday. People were there from far and near and each one who registered was given a nice can of enamel or varnish of the BPS quality.

Harvey Cooper, factory representative and demonstrator, was present and showed the people how to make many types of colors and blends with BPS paints and varnishes. He stated the people were the most attentive of any people he had ever worked with, and many folk asked him a number of questions about certain blends and colors.

People are becoming more interested in paints than in former years. There is nothing that adds more beauty to a home, either a farm home or city, than a nice treatment of paints.

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

I Give You Texas

by Boyce House

Arkansas Traveler!

The names of the district highway foremen are posted on signs beside the road . . . As you approach a curve or sharp turn, there is a marker that tells you the top speed that it is safe to make . . . Odd name: Sell-a-Million filling station . . . Driving through a forest, guess what the Guerdon picture show is advertising? "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Honest.

Approachign Hot Springs, you see a roadside in wich proclaims, "Wisconsin cooking" and I always thought it was cheese that state was famous for . . . A poet must have named "Green Pasture Camp."

Hot Springs is a picturesque city, the business district (with a very long main street) nestling in a valley with steep hills on all sides. There is a Hollywood sort of atmosphere: here is an old Indian with long, plaited hair; there are two young men with bushy whiskers, and watch out for that cripple in a wheel chair which he propels along the sidewalk at a fast rate with two canes which he uses like a pair of oars.

The row of bath houses is impressive. People with folding metal cups get drinks from the fountain of hot water on the street. A man is sitting on the steps of a bath house and is resting his arm on a sign, "Do not sit on these steps."

Hot Springs is a city of huge hotels, Happy Hollow where children ride burros, lace and jewelry shops, sight-seeing busses, shooting galleries, instantaneous photo stands.

You never need lack for something to do in Hot Springs—climb the hills or drive through miles of scenery, boat on Lake Hamilton and dine at the cafe built in the form of an old stern-wheel river steamer, play golf, go to a night club, see wrestling matches or boxing and, during the month of racing, watch the horses run at beautiful Oaklawn Park.

Viewing the "sport of kings" is E. H. Crump—you know, Mister Crump, the political "boss" of Memphis, Tennessee. Rosy-faced, his once-red hair now powdered with gray, he has had a song and a race horse named for him.

And that chap with the old cap twisted around so far that it looks like a beret is one-eyed Connelly himself in person. He's been crashing gates since he was nine years old and the harder it is to gain admittance, the better he likes it. He has posed as prize-fight "second" or has borrowed a Western Union cap and a yellow envelop and once he had to buy a few sandwiches and put them on a tray—(that was at the Dempsey-Carpentier fight where he tried 15 times before he made it).

The races draw thousands of visitors to Hot Springs and they fill the hotels, cafes and stores to overflowing and spend millions of dollars, which benefits all lines of business. Many Texans (unable to see racing in their own state) are in the throngs.

A young man from the city was sent to take an inventory of a farm. He hadn't had any experience in this type of work, but he managed to make a list of all the chattels and stock until he came to an animal which he was unable to identify—a goat.

So he phoned his boss and said, "What do you call this thing that's around here with a rough coat that's worn out in spots, a beard, and a long sad face?"

"That, you fool, is the farmer!"

"Mr. Anti-Fair Trade," as he is frequently called, was happy the other day: "The bill's supporters have now admitted officially before a Senate committee that it will repeal the anti-trust law. My ambition was to expose the seriousness of the bill. If Jim Hogg's greatest contribution to Texas is to be wiped off the books, the people are entitled to know about it. 3. Readiness to help as directed by the administration of federated clubs in the recreational life of the soldiers in the training camps in Texas.

IN MEMORY OF BILLY ADAMS

Yes, Billy is gone beyond our reach,
From this world of joy and sorrow;
Gone over the sea to the Savior's reach

He was here today, but gone on tomorrow.

Though we can't understand now
Why his young life was taken away
It wasn't meant for us to know any how
We'll understand as we meet over the way.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
For he shall always have the love
Of ones so close and dear to him,
And we hope they will meet him above.

We pray that God shall lead them on
To that beautiful home of love,
Where they'll meet Billy at God's throne,
And live happily with him above.

Report of School Supervisor on Spur Schools

The report given by the District Supervisor in regard to Spur schools seems to be very complimentary. It appears that Spur schools are gradually making progress every year, and this seems to be outstanding for the present year. We reproduce the report of the supervisor below and we hope people will enjoy knowing the progress of our schools from an official report.

State Department of Education, Division of Supervision, Austin, Texas, Report of School Supervisor on Spur High School, Superintendent O. C. Thomas, Date: April 3, 1941; President of Board: Ned Hogan; Supervisor: Anthony Hunt.

The work of classifying and accrediting the public schools of Texas is under the direction of the State Committee composed of twenty-one members representing the elementary and secondary schools and colleges of the state. This committee, by establishing educational standards, determines the conditions upon which high schools are classified and accredited and is interested in encouraging schools to attain these standards and in certifying those that have attained them so as to facilitate the transfer of students to any other school or college.

The regulations as prescribed by this committee are administered by the State Department of Education through high school supervisors. In the visit of the supervisors and in their reports to school authorities, recommendations are offered in the spirit of cooperation and helpful suggestions, with the earnest desire that all school authorities will join with the State Department of Education in their efforts to maintain the necessary standards of secondary education in Texas.

In order that the schools may be properly certified it is essential that minimum requirements be met. To that end the supervisor who recently visited your school makes the following report:

Credits added: C-AA-BB.
Credits dropped: CA-CL.
Corrections: Algebra 2 instead of Algebra 1½.

I. The philosophy of this school is well defined. Subject-offerings are in line with the stated objectives and are well distributed and practical.

II. The pupil activity programs are well organized in the Spur school system. The daily program is well planned and very democratic.

III. The English teacher is in charge of library materials and is assisted by student NYA helpers. WPA help is used to organize and care for library materials. The organization and administration of the library is efficient. Library materials are very satisfactory.

IV. Some excellent classroom teaching, in the grade school and in the high school, was observed by the supervisor. Exhibits and other materials on file also give evidence that some very fine work is being done by both pupils and teachers.

V. The teacher-pupil ratio is very well balanced in all teaching units. The teaching staff is very well trained; all have degrees except four. All non-degree teachers are making satisfactory progress toward securing a bachelor's degree. Faculty members are teaching in major and minor fields of college preparation. The superintendent, and his principals make up a capable and efficient team.

VI. The school buildings are modern, adequate and well equipped. The new high school building is a monument to the progressiveness of the community.

VII. Some very fine work has been done in the guidance field this year. The high school principal heads the guidance staff. Ability tests, are given and individual records kept on pupils.

VIII. The courtesy extended the supervisor was appreciated.

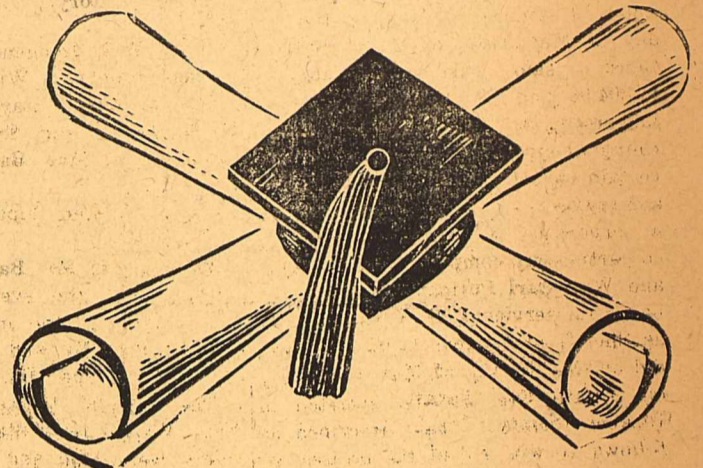

ANTHONY HUNT,
Supervisor of District No. 3.

Huge Cotton Tent to Cover Dam Site

SEATTLE, WASH.—What will be one of the world's largest cotton canvas tents is now being constructed in Seattle, the National Cotton Council reports. The tent will be spread over the site of the Mud Mountain's dam in Washington State serving as a protective covering for workers on the project.

The tent will require 13,000 square yards of ten-ounce waterproof cotton canvas. Weighing 30,000 pounds when dry, the tent will be suspended over the work site by a network of steel cables. A foot of snow will increase the weight to 640,000 pounds. A total of 29,000 feet of rope will be used in the manufacture of the tent.

Jim McArthur, of Red Mud, was looking after business affairs here Saturday.

Miss Mowl and Dr. Barrett Marry

Miss Audrey Mowl and Dr. Clinton D. Barrett were married Sunday morning at ten o'clock at Emporia Kansas. The ceremony was in the home of the bride's parents, and was a single ring ceremony read by Rev. Reddell, pastor of the Methodist Church in Emporia.

The bride wore a white suit with a corsage of orange colored roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Morene Mowl. The groom wore a dark blue suit and was attended by his brother, C. W. Barrett of Stamford. The ring bearer was little Miss Pauline Mowl, 6 year old sister to the bride, who carried the ring in a white lilly.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mowl. There were about fifty guests present, all relatives to the contracting couple. Lunch was served at twelve o'clock to members of the immediate families.

The bride received her education at the schools in Emporia and for the past three years has been working for a large mercantile firm at Prescott, Arkansas.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barrett of Spur, and has spent most of his life here. He is a graduate of Spur schools and of Texas A. & M. College where he received his Doctor's Degree. He is a First Lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps, and for the past eighteen months has been working for the Federal Government with headquarters at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barrett of Spur, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barrett and Norton Barrett of Stamford were among Texas friends who attended the wedding ceremony.

Watch Your Camp Fires, Matches, Smokes

With the added out-of-doors activities of late spring and early summer, State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall warned that camp fires should be completely extinguished after using, that lighted matches and burning cigarettes should not be discarded carelessly and that camping places and picnic grounds should be kept clean of loose paper and rubbish.

Commissioner Hall stressed the fact that Texas' place as a tourist attraction could be jeopardized by forest fires. In one year in another state, discarded lighted matches were responsible for $35,000,000 loss in forest fires in a single year.

New Cotton Hose for National Cotton Week

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Cotton belt merchants were urged today to place increased emphasis on sales of new type cotton hosiery during National Cotton Week, May 16-24.

At least three nationally known hosiery manufacturers are now producing hosiery types designed by the Department of Agriculture as a part of its cotton utilization program.

Cotton Stalks Now Bring Cash to Farmer

TOLEDO, OHIO—National Cotton Week, May 16-24, will be a period of celebration for cotton farmers in Sunflower County, Mississippi. A company in Toledo has just signed contracts for 11,000 tons of cotton stalks to be used in the manufacture of cellulose.

Long a complete waste, the cotton stalks will afford the Mississippi farmers an added income of $80,000. Farmers are paid $7.50 a ton for baled stalks delivered to gins. The average stalk yield per acre in Sunflower County is two tons, with the cost of gathering and hauling running about $3 per ton.

Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 3, 4, and 5

The most elaborate program in the history of the Texas Cowboy Reunion is assured by the list of attractions tentatively adopted by the directors for the twelfth annual round-up in Stamford on July 3, 4, and 5.

New events will be added to the thrilling show in the arena of the world's biggest cowboy rodeo. For the first time this year, the cowgirl sponsors from various towns and ranches will participate in every afternoon and night rodeo performance of the three days. A bare-handed bull-fighter who uses no cape or weapon will engage the ferocious Brahma steers imported for the steer-riding contest.

Luke J. Pasco of Chicago will return this year with his champion sheep dogs which proved a popular attraction at the 1938 reunion. A new group of trick and fancy riders and ropers are being signed for the arena shows, as well as an outstanding rodeo clown.

These special events are in addition to the cowboy rodeo contests in bare-back bronc riding, wild-cow-milking, steer-riding, calf-roping and saddle-bronc-riding in the arena each afternoon and night. Less elaborate programs are provided for the morning matinees. The annual cutting-horse contest will be held on the morning of July 5. The special calf-roping contest for oldtime cowboys has been eliminated due to sentiment against the risks which the elderly men take in this event.

Besides the arena shows, numerous other attractions will round out the reunion program. Oldtime dances will be held at the Coombes Roundup hall every night and sponsors dances at the Reunion pavilion. The annual old-fiddlers contest will take place on the morning of July 5. The Quarter-Horse Show, inaugurated last year, will be repeated, sponsored jointly by the American Quarter-Horse Association and the Texas Cowboy Reunion. The grand parade will be held on the opening day and smaller parades on succeeding days.

Names in the news—

Headline makers last week—The Senate refused to confirm Dr. Bradfield, Methodist Minister of Dallas, to the Liquor Control Board. Also to feel the displeasure of the upper body was Joe Kunschic, Labor Commissioner. Corridor gossip has it that Dr. Bradfield was refused confirmation account of his physical condition that kept him from attending duties of the Board. Some wets, however, interpreted his turn down to mean that the Board was going easy on them—but their glee was short lived, when on Monday morning the Governor sent up the name of Thomas B. Love, militant dry crusader of Dallas. Love, former speaker of the House and member of the Texas Senate is one of Texas' foremost dries. Kunschic because of the hostility of organized labor. Mentioned for post of Labor Commissioner is Representative Clinton Kersey, Bridgeport, a former R. R. brakeman. Kersey is very close to the Governor and his appointment was predicted by Paul Yates, editor and columnist of the Austin Tribune, which paper is known as the administration paper.

The Senators Race—

At the close of last week the names of new entries came pouring in until the list of hopefuls may exceed the number (19) that were willing to be Railroad Commissioners in 1940. Platforms varied from "all out aid to Britain," affected by many to the reported platform of another one-time candidate, Guy B. Fisher, San Augustine, whose slogan, as reported by one of the wire services is in part "Original Roosevelt bolter, against all 'isms, unfair to organized labor."

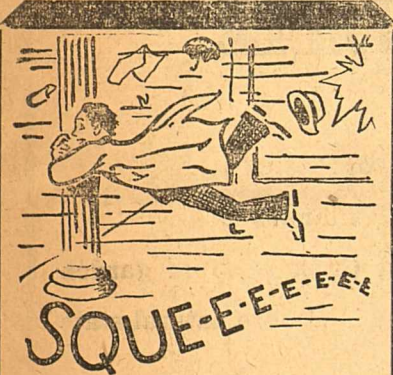

Lyndon Johnson, youthful congressman from the Austin district, got away to an auspicious start by being invited to address a joint session of the Legislature on "world affair." Quick to call the turn, however, was the Austin-Tribune, who styled the speech as a "preview to announcement." Johnsons formal announcement came from Washington.

From the deep South where he is on a lecture tour, "The Voice of Temperance," Sam Morris, Del Rio minister, announced that his formal opening date had been definitely set for May 15th, at Abilene, in which city is located Hardin-Simmons College from which Morris graduated and where later, he acted as Field Secretary for that institution. Morris has stated that he will use the state-wide networks and will conduct a strenuous campaign. He will pattern his platform along the lines of the late Morris Sheppard who was planning the cleanup of liquor and vice conditions in the army, navy and marine training areas. "Health is as vital to National Defense as any other factor," will be his plea.

Did you ever notice that a man to whom time means absolutely nothing is always late for an appointment.

Legislature Repartee—

This happened, dear reader, in the Hall of the House of Representatives. Whether it should take its place alongside the Lincoln-Douglas or Hayne-Webster debates is for you to decide.

SQUE-E-E-E! That's the best we can do in print to represent the sound of a high wind. But the best thing you can do, as a property owner, is to protect your property with Windstorm Insurance—NOW!

Damage done by high winds reminds us that there are also related forms of protection, such as Public Liability insurance, Plate Glass insurance and Personal Accident insurance.

This agency will be glad to explain which of these coverages would best suit your needs.

"Judge, will ye yield for a question?"

"Yes, I'll yield"

"Now Judge, air ye shore they aint no further restriction in this here bill?"

"Yes, I'm sure they aint".

"Now Judge, another question, ye aint in earnest about this here amendment air ye?"

"Yes, I'm in deadly earnest."

"Judge' I declare ye can have the ignerentest idears I ever seen in man as smart as ye air."

Thus we see the Texas House is really and truly a cross section not only of the people but of "English as she is spoke."

The House of Representatives has 41 standing committees. The only member outside of the Speaker, who is not a member of some committee is R. Emmett Morse of Houston, former Speaker.

The Lieutenant-Governor's Race (1942 Edition)—

Friends of Homer Leonard, speaker and McAllen Publisher and Printer is being boomed by fellow members to try for Lieutenant-Governor in 1942. Leonard, is one of the most popular Speakers that ever served. Quite beside his personal popularity, however, is the fact that Leonard is one of the fairest to all factions and in an expert parliamentarian and is able to expedite business.

Liquor and Legislative Lobbying—

The 47th. Legislature affords abundant proof that "Old Man Booze," is getting to be "Persona Non Grata," even among politicians. Despite the glowing accounts of certain papers of liquor flowing like a river along Congress Avenue, the very reverse is true. Lobbying with liquor is a losing game as witness the Tax Bill. Out of a certain group, some lobbyists have literally kept open house where all who thirsted might find succor. In the same brackets is a certain other business that did not and does not use liquor as a lure. Result—the dry contingent got off a lot easier under the new tax burden.

The late Jeff Strickland, one of the most successful of all who came to Austin in the interest of the companies he represented never reorted to booze, in fact he was abstainer but—he always got results. A few weeks back certain interests allied with the alcoholic traffic "threw" a "Bacchanalian barbecue" for in a few days some bills might be coming up—certainly there were bills already in committees that could hurt them—hence the booze-barbecue. Result;—when Dallas Blankenship introduced his House bill through that makes the dry counties drier, the House passed it by an overwhelming majority and beat down all amendments seeking to pull some of the teeth from the bill.

In the early twenties it was sometimes thought cute and clever to drink—having a "private" bootlegger was regarded by some as a mark of social distinction. But,—no longer. Industry has outlawed liquor and business men take it as an affront when the caller has had sufficient for him to "smell the difference."

That Prohibition will probably be the paramount issue in the race for the place of Senator Sheppard is a foregone conclusion. Many of the candidates out in front are professed dries and when Sam Morris, "The Voice of Temperance" gets underway, Texas is liable to see a re-incarnation of the old Wet-Dry issues which is what the Wet do not want. The appointment of Tom B. Love may mark the beginning of the end for "Old Man Booze" in Texas.

She May Have Missed Her Calling—

In the House of Representatives is a little lady whose historic ability would have carried her far afield had she chosen the stage instead of the class room. She is Miss Rae Files, Waxahachie. A gifted mimic she can imitate in voice and gesture all those who thunder their platitudes, personality and statesmanship over the House microphones.

FISH NOT BITING? DON'T PULL THAT ALIBI

A trout is always hungry and will take whatever he can get with the least effort, but "you have to find out what he is eating as his regular diet when you are calling on him," declares "Dick" Miller, world champion distance flycaster, in the current Rotarian magazine.

Experiment with "tame" fish show that they will rise to a lure the same as they are eating at the time, but will ignore one that differs in color or general appearance. And trout are pretty pernickety, so fit the fly to the feeding habits, so fit the fly to Miller.

"Improve your casting, and you'll improve your fishing," Miller asserts. "No mater what your present ability may be, you can double your catch!" Yep—but if you are already catching the limit, look out for the warden!

Eggs for Defense and Profit

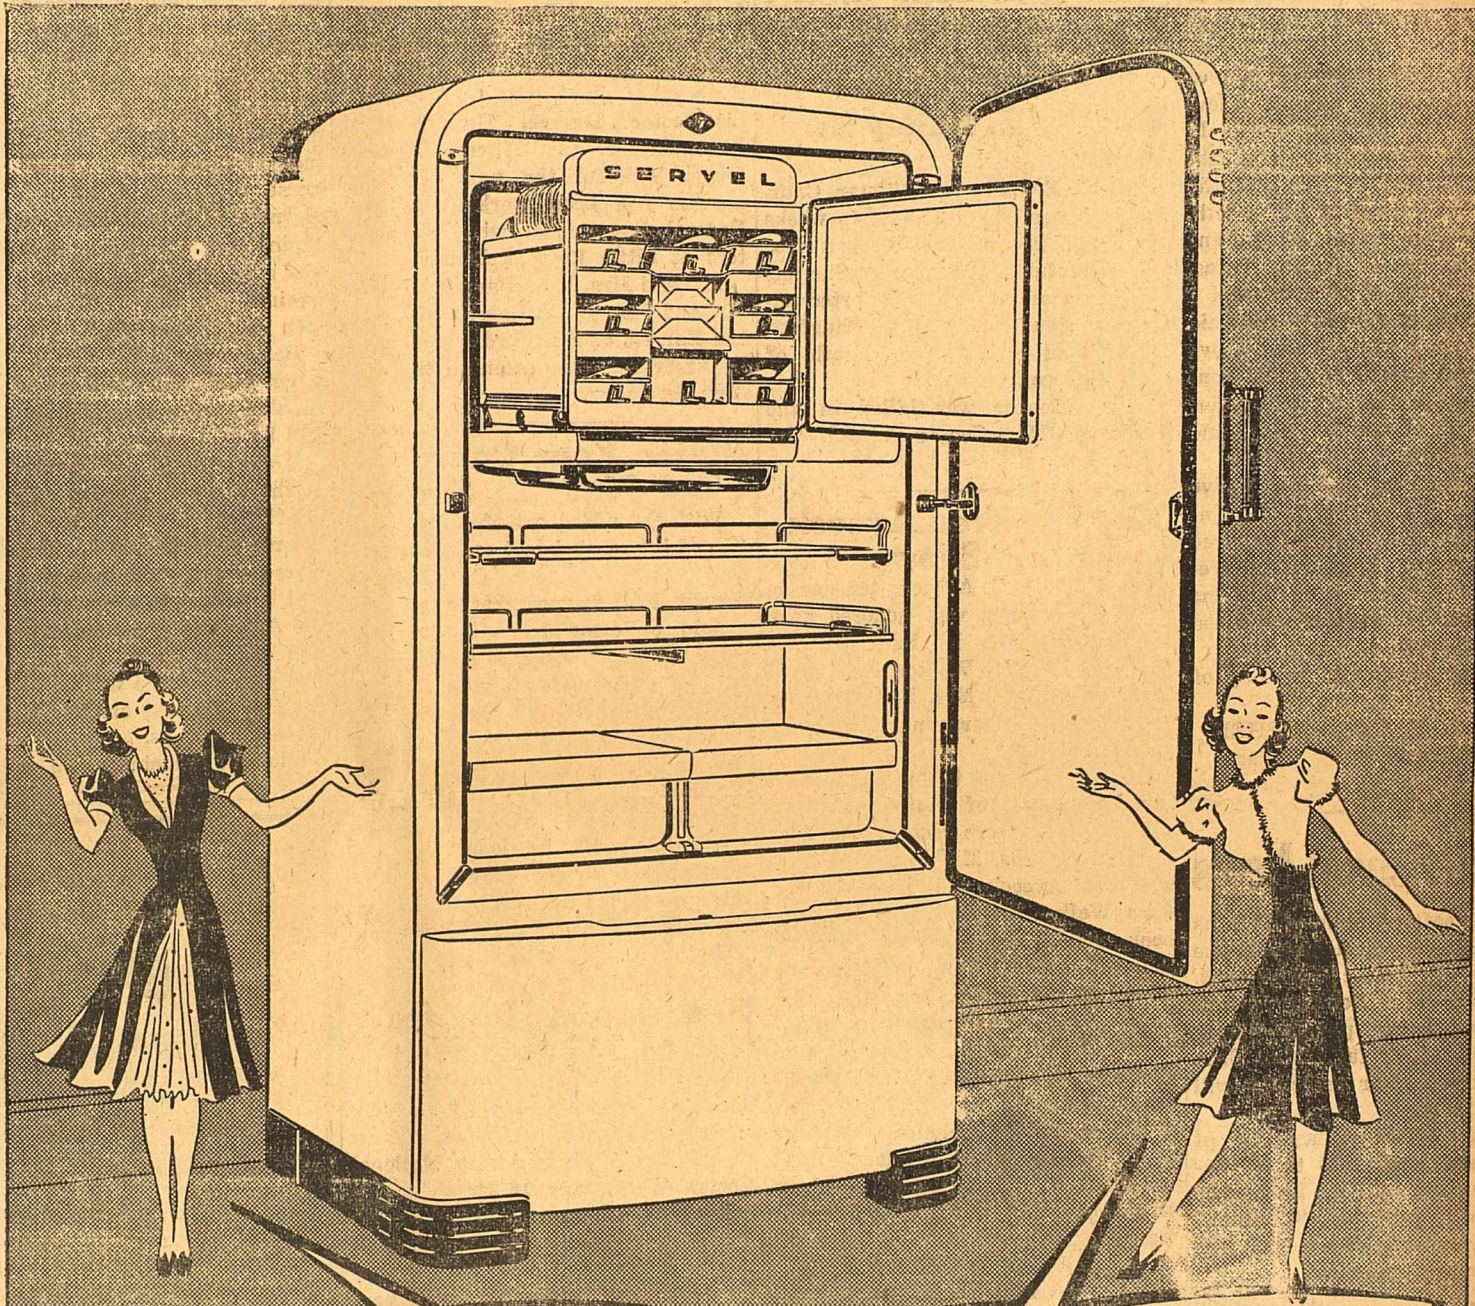

Feeding chickens for more eggs is a real opportunity for farm families to aid defense and add to their incomes, extension service workers are telling rural people, following announcement of a Department of Agriculture plan for supporting the market price of eggs during the next two years.

Jennie Camp, extension specialist in home production planning has pointed out that plenty of feed for farm poultry flocks means more eggs, and more eggs help assure ample food supplies for this country, Great Britain, and other countries resisting aggression. She says since commercial poultryment already are feeding their flocks to get most possible eggs, extra eggs must come from special feeding of farm hens. Here are some tips George McCarthy, extension poultry husbandman, gives farm families on their expansion of poultry flocks. "Feed plenty of mash, either home-mixed or commercial, and all the grain the hens will clean up at night," he says. "Keep fresh, clean water where the hens can get to it easily at all times. Wet mash is an excellent appetizer.

It should be fed in a crumbly state, and once started, must be kept up. Extra eggs will pay for the additional work." Both specialists explain that eggs are an ideal means of turning ever-normal reserves of feed into defense foods, and that increased production can be maintained by better feeding. Their advice is: "Give the hens all they'll eat this spring. Don't make them rustle for their feed."

Syrup Pan Terracing Developed at Spur Experiment Station

In sections where lack of rainfall is a problem, the construction of syrup pan terrace systems becomes an important part of the complete conservation system. This system of level terraces, which sends the water back and forth across the field from the top to the bottom of the slope, was originated at the experiment station at Spur, Texas. The flow of water is directed by opening alternate ends of the terraces. The end of the terrace at the left is open, thus allowing excess water to flow into the area protected by the terrace shown at the right. The end of this second terrace is open at the opposite side of the field. By allowing the water to travel back and forth across the field in this way more of it soaks into the ground. Water from stony rough areas is often diverted onto more useful lands and run through this syrup pan system of terraces that force it into the ground. The syrup pan terrace system is especially adaptable to areas having deep, porous soils with a slope of two per cent or less in a rainfall belt of 15 to 25 inches annually. At the experiment station, this type of terrace system increased crop production from 15 per cent in wet years to more than 300 per cent in dry years. In areas of greater annual rainfall, terrace systems drain the excess rainfall from the fields. Farmers cooperating with soil conservation districts in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas have terraced nearly 100,000 acres.

This surface reservoir supplies all the water for home use as well as the livestock on the small ranch of John W. Langford in Kent county.

Before securing the services and financial aid of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Water Facilities Program, Mr. John W. Langford was having a difficult time keeping sufficient water for home use and his small herd of cattle, but since drilling a deep well and installing a large steel and concrete storage tank he has not been without water.

Anyone interested in obtaining information regarding the water facilities program should contact their County Agent, the Soil Conservation Service, or the Farm Security Administration.

94 Fort Worth NYA Boys Obtain Aircraft Jobs

94 young men previously assigned to the NYA Airport Project set up at the Fort Worth Municipal Airport have obtained jobs in aircraft industries, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator.

Through the cooperation of the Texas State Employment Service 21 of these youth have gone to work for the War Department at Hicks Field in Fort Worth, eleven for commercial airline companies, 23 for private flying schools, four for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, eight for the Fort Worth Municipal Airport, two for the Wichita Falls Engineering School, nineteen for the Duncan Field Army Air Depot near San Antonio, two at the Corpus Christi Seaplane Base, and four for Randolph Field Air Corps Flying School.

The seventy boys now assigned to the Fort Worth NYA Airport Project are receiving work experience in assisting government meteorologists in compiling weather data and weather reports; in helping radio technicians with radio communications; in aiding in the operation of the airport traffic control; in helping regular paid city employees in aircraft servicing and storage; and in assisting in the inspection of airplane and airplane motors and in making minor motor repairs.

Four hours each day the boys are engaged in actual production work for which they are paid by the NYA. Optional related information and training for the young men includes blueprint reading, meteorology, metallurgy, and airport organization in which each day another four hours may be spent. The teachers of these classes are provided by the Fort Worth Public Schools and by the State Department of Education.

Mr. Lindbergh Under-estimates The Cause

With an attitude to want to dictate what shall be done in world affairs, Mr. Charles A. Lindbergh took a wide step the last of the week in his radio address when he said America cannot win the war against Germany. As a matter of fact, Mr. Lindbergh's ancestry goes back to that country and strangely to say all of that blood has a strange feeling for the Old Country, just as most of the English decent in America has a strong feeling for England. The Germans have had but one vital point in view for centuries, and that is to destroy England at whatever it may cost.

Two years ago Mr. Lindbergh tried to tell English diplomats that they should prepare for a war against Germany. They did not see his point of view and naturally Mr. Lindbergh has no sympathetic feeling for them at this time. We agree with him that if we can stay out of this war, it will be much better that we do. But there are certain national relationships which must be upheld and respected by all nations, and Germany does not seem to care to cooperate in these principles.

Again, Mr. Lindbergh underestimates the revived morale that would come should our country have to go to war. England would take on new life and new zeal and there would be a different attitude on the part of the English people with the United States as an ally. This was the result in 1917 when our forces entered the World War. Both England and France fought with different purposes than that for which they fought before our entry into the war. Let's stay out of war, if we can, but when a roving emperor is going about to be ruler of the world, there may be a lot of nations who do not care for his sovereignty and might want a chance to defend those principles which a free people enjoy.

Another thing, if Mr. Lindbergh can stall America off from helping Great Britain, he will be doing Hitler one of the greatest services that can be done for him. If Hitler can keep America quiet until he downs England then he can tell us what to do and make us do it. He has a craze to rule and persecute. Hitler has done nothing for the countries he has conquered except as those things which enhance his desires. And Hitler will do nothing for anyone except as it will please Hitler.

Will the C.I.O Support Johnson

Some of young Johnson's friends were somewhat disturbed over the receipt of a letter by a man prominent in state affairs, from a man high in the councils of the C.I.O. telling him that Johnson was acceptable and soliciting his support to help Johnson. Some figure that the support of the C.I.O. high council could be embarrassing in Texas.

L. A. Grantham, of Red Hill was looking after business matters here Saturday.

Seek Cooperation of Local Citizens for Cotton Week

Making a direct appeal to the citizens of Spur and the surrounding territory for full support of National Cotton Week, President Oscar Johnston of the National Cotton Council said today that "this great cotton merchandising event offers one of the keys to the solution of the cotton problem."

"During the past fourteen years National Cotton Week has proved to be a valuable adjunct in the campaign to increase cotton consumption. I am glad to say that through the increased cooperation of citizens of Dickens County and other Cotton Belt communities, Cotton Week has met with everincreasing success," Mr. Johnston said.

Double Effort Necessary
"Now more than ever is the cooperation of every community in the Belt needed. The probability of the greatest surplus in history at the end of the current crop year makes it doubly necessary that every effort be made to increase domestic cotton consumption."

"It is increasingly apparent that if the cotton problem is to be permanently solved, the solution must be arrived at through the intelligent and united effort of all cotton people. National Cotton Week, sponsored jointly by the National Cotton Council and the Cotton-Textile Institute, is a part of that effort.

"During this cotton sales event the merchants of every community in the Belt will offer quality cotton articles at bargain prices. Here is an opportunity for you both to aid cotton and to boost your own buying power.

"Cotton people can work out their own salvation. Most of us already know that, but knowledge and theory are worthless unless we put them into practice. National Cotton Week is our Number 1 opportunity of 1941."

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. King and children, of Girard, were in our city Saturday trading and meeting friends. J. E. Sparks and son, Jimmie, of Highway, were in town Saturday looking after business affairs.

Home-Made Fun for 38,851 Girls

Food in tons and millions, beauty and comfort, and fun home-made—that's the story of 38,851 girls enrolled in Texas 4-H Club in 1941. This work, explains Onah Jacks, state girls' club agent, is carried on with rural girls by the A. and M. College of Texas and the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperating.

The average age of these girls is 12, but despite their youth Miss Jacks says, "they are certainly busy at the job of improving the health of themselves and the folks about them." For example, last year they canned over 2,400 tons of food. And that does not include the vegetables used fresh out of 18,520,530 row feet of gardens they grew. In addition, they are preparing to "make a dent in the country-side" with 111,167 fruit trees and vines and 12,443 ornamental plants they have rooted from seeds and cuttings.

A great many 4-H Club girls in Texas reported clothing themselves for the year on about $17. They kept their own records to find out about this. The fact that they made 86,791 garments themselves and improved their methods of selecting and caring for clothes made that $17 expenditure possible, Miss Jacks said.

While their 4-H records don't show great money profits, the girls spent $68,620 on home improvements to bring "comfort, conveniences and beauty to more people even than their own families."

These girls worked in 2,076 clubs in 191 counties. While they did most of their own planning and carried out their plans, each club had an adult sponsor who is a volunteer local leader.

Truck Drivers in Dallas May 22

Texas' second annual truck drivers "Rodeo" will be held in Dallas May 22, and the event will be open to any truck driver holding a license from the Texas Railroad Commission, provided there is not more than one contestant from any one fleet, Lynn B. Shaw, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, announced today.

The "Rodeo" will be held in conjunction with the eighth annual convention of the TMTA, and the champion driver will represent Texas in the national "Rodeo" to be held in New York. Competition will be in tractor and semi-trailer class only.

To qualify for the event, a driver must certify that he is a resident of Texas and that he has not had a motor vehicle accident during the past twelve months. Drivers will be tested on their knowledge of all phases of the truckman's job—truck handling, safety and regulatory rules, first aid, appearance and courtesy. The state winner will be sent to the national contest with all expenses paid.

Business Firms Asked to Cooperate in Safety, Beauty

Spur and Dickens County merchants are being enlisted in a statewide movement designed to improve the appearance of towns and cities. Mrs. Ralph Houston announced that the Citizens Committee, of which she is Dickens County Chairman, is sponsoring the movement in cooperation with the State Highway Department.

Special attention is given at this time to advertising signs. Bearing in mind the purpose of all signs is to create business, it is pointed out that simplicity and beauty in advertising achieve the best results. Sponsors of the program believe that many of the signs now displayed actually hurt the business of an establishment by giving it an unsightly and "cluttered-up" appearance.

A cafe or drive-in stand which sells cold drinks, cigarettes and candy need not have signs on the outside of the building advertising each brand sold. People know that such places handle standard brands. A small sign listing "cold drinks, cigarettes and candy" would be more effective than a great number of signs advertising each brand since the appearance of the establishment as a whole would be more attractive to a prospective customer.

Obviously everyone knows what items and services may be secured at a filling station, what can be bought at a roadside stand, what articles a drug store handles, or what they might expect to buy at other types of establishments without numerous signs advertising the various brands of items sold.

In the beautification of highways, simplicity has not only added to their beauty, but to their safety and usefulness. Appearance has been improved by eliminating, rather than adding to the features of the road.

For instance, wire mesh fences tacked to the guard fence posts were once considered necessary for safety. Yet, it was observed that posts without the fences served the purposes of safety better than with them, and at the same time made the road more attractive. Deep ditches along the highway were eliminated in the interest of safety and appearance of the road was greatly improved thereby.

Highway marking signs that are not absolutely necessary have been eliminated, not alone for the sake of beauty, but because too many signs are confusing to the motorists.

The principle is being called to the attention of those operating business establishments along the highways and elsewhere. It is believed, also, that in a general way the principle of simplicity will be helpful in solving the problem of unattractiveness throughout the city.

Martin Dies Fights Against Enemies Within U. S.

By Garland Adair

Before the phrase "fifth columnist" was coined, and even before the war in Europe began, Congressman Martin Dies was exposing the vast "fifth column" in the United States. As a result of the work of his committee, the United States is more advanced in one important phase of National defense than was any overseas democracy when the second world war began. The American people know about subversive organizations, their leaders and their designs. Progress has been made in breaking up the or-

Skilled Workers Needed by Uncle Sam

In the past eight months of intensive effort to locate qualified skilled machinists and shipbuilding workers for arsenals, army air depots, and naval shore establishments, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today, over 10,000 highly skilled munitions and shipbuilding workers have been put on the job at establishments where, because of the labor supply or geographical location, these skilled positions are particularly hard to fill. This number of placements does not include those in localities where little or no difficulty in recruiting has been experienced, and it is but a small fraction of the total number of placements made in the War and Navy departments as a whole, where the figure for the 8-month period is over 270,000, including various grades of skilled, unskilled, and professional positions in both field, depart service.

The needs of the various National Defense Agencies for skilled workers have increased rapidly. For example, 135 shipfitters are urgently needed at the navy yards at Mare Island, Calif., Bremerton, Wash. Philadelphia, Pa., Charleston, S. C., and Portsmouth, Va., although in the past 8 months over 1,400 shipfitters have been put on the job at these and other navy yards.

Over 400 machinists are now needed at the arsenals at Watervliet, N. Y., Rock Island, Ill., Philadelphia, Pa., Watertown, Mass., and Edgewood, Maryland, and at the navy yards at Philadelphia, Pa., Washington, D. C., Mare Island, Calif., Boston, Mass., Charleston, S. C. and at Bremerton, Wash., as well as at the Naval Station at Key West, Fla. In the past eight months well over 4,000 machinists have been put to work at government arsenals and navy yards.

Over 300 qualified toolmakers are needed at the arsenals at Watervliet, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., Dover, N. J., Watertown, Mass., and Springfield, Mass., and at the navy yards at Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Pa., Charleston, S. C. and Bremerton, Wash. Approximately 775 toolmakers have been appointed at these establishments in the past eight months.

Several tool and gauge designers are needed at the Watervliet Arsenal and Washington (D. C.) Navy Yard. Applications for any of these positions at a navy yard should be filed with the Labor Board at the navy yard where employment is desired; or for positions at an arsenal, with the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the arsenal in which employment is desired.

At Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, over 450 skilled aircraft and maintenance mechanics have been appointed since January 1, 1941, yet at the present time there is an urgent need there for over 450 additional aircraft mechanics, electricians, engine mechanics, and wire-workers. Aircraft maintenance and repairment are also needed now at the Naval Air Stations at Jacksonville and Pensacola, Fla.; at Alameda and Sacramento, Calif., and at Corpus Christi and San Antonio, Texas.

organizations, and many of the leaders have been convicted of violations of law. Also, Congressman Dies has become known, not only in his own country, but across the seas, as the arch foe of the fifth columnists.

Hence, the coming election to fill the Senate vacancy left by the death of Senator Morris Sheppard is a matter of more than statewide, and even more than nation-wide interest. Many considerations will enter into decisions reached by Texas voters, but few will be clear to observers beyond the state's borders. The latter is likely to consider the outcome a verdict on the anti-subversive activities of Congressman Dies.

If the practically unanimous belief of National leaders that preparedness against enemies within the country is no less important than preparedness against enemy fleets, armies and aircraft, is well founded, Martin Dies has deserved the promotion he seeks. He was foremost among American statesmen, in seeing and attempting to combat fifth column dangers. Because this is so, his election will be regarded internationally as proof that his fellow countrymen approve his work, while, inevitably, his defeat will be taken in many quarters as evidence of disapproval.

Dallas Banker Raps Labor Troubles and Remedy Needed

The labor situation is the most disturbing element on the national horizon and there must be some modification before the defense program can move at its peak, Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank of Dallas, said there Friday afternoon. Mr. Adams was visiting in Lubbock for the day and attended the marriage of Miss Mary Katharine Underwood to Wayne Prather Friday night.

"There must be something done so that the man who wants to work can be protected the same as the striker," Mr. Adams declared. "They tell us we have free speech in America but at the same time an employer faces a $10.00 fine and six months imprisonment if he talks with employees while any labor racketeer in the country can call them into a meeting and talk to them as long as he likes . . ."

Charlie Thompson, of Clairemont, was here Saturday meeting friends. He is one of the early settlers of West Texas and a former county official of Kent County.

"These workers ought to be as patriotic as these boys serving in the army," he declared. "If they're not patriotic, something ought to be done about it."

Mr. Adams has been president of the Dallas institution since 1924 and has been a resident of Dallas 52 years.

Bernice Bilbery, stationed with the army at Brownwood was in Spur over Mother's Day visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Young wants to thank their many friends for the cards and greetings sent them upon the return of Mrs. Young from the Wichita Clinic Hospital, where she had gone for an operation. She is now recovering and doing nicely.

O. C. Bailey of Lockney was in our city Saturday attending to business matters. While here he visited his mother, Mrs. A. E. Bailey of Red Mud community.

S. R. Peak of Afton was in our city Monday greeting friends. Mr. Peak stated that he hoped people would not think he is trying to "high-hat" his old friends when he passed them up. He stated his eye-sight is growing so dim that he cannot recognize his most intimate friends when meeting them. He has been in this country more than forty years.

Misses Ruby and Emily Cowan, students at TSCW, Denton were here the last of the week visiting their mother, Mrs. Lucy R. Cowan. Miss Jane Hurt, of Van Horn, was a guest in the Cowan home during the week end.

Miss Sammie McGee, a student at Texas Technological College, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McGee, and her grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Kelsy.
